RUSSIA FACES SEVERE CRISIS IN INDUSTRIES

Only Miracle Can Now Save Country From Economic Ruin. MEN WANT TOO MUCH Demand Exorbitant Wage Increases, Sometimes in Excess of Profits.

Petrograd, May 28. (via London, May 28.)—The industrial crisis in Russia is so acute that, according to a recent utterance of the minister of finance, M. Shingareff, only a miracle can save the country from economic ruin.

An investigation of the present conditions in Petrograd leads to the conclusion that unless the government soon finds a means of adjusting the present differences most of the industrial enterprises working for national defence will be compelled to close within a few months.

PARTYISM MUST BE SUBDUED DURING CRISIS, SAYS BALFOUR

Points in Balfour's Address. The entente allies have staked their last dollar on democracy, and if democracy fails will be bankrupt, indeed. Democracy can best all the autocracies in the world, but only if it is prepared to forego those divisions which, in a sense, are the very life-blood of a free, vigorous and rapidly developing community.

GERMANS PILLAGE FRENCH CEMETERY

Huns Break Open Vaults to Rob Bodies of Dead. DESPOIL COUNTRYSIDE. Kaiser's Ghouls Plunder Graves, Wreck Buildings, Ruin Orchards.

London, May 28.—The Hun returned from a journey of many miles in the district where Hindenburg made his "voluntary" retreat. Sir William Robertson has told us to what extent this retreat was really "voluntary," and if we wanted any further assurance on the point we have had it in the result of the last few weeks' fighting.

After what I have just seen in the country which the Hun has vacated I am prepared, to accept the Hun leader's assertion that his forces went back at their leisure. No need for me here to support testimony already offered, of how churches, cottages and farm buildings, after being pillaged, each received its portion of gun cotton, of how orchards and gardens were laid off, how the remains of the last degree of desolation. Having wreaked their fury to the full on the dwellings of the living, it might have been thought that the Hun would have passed over a few acres devoted to the dead. Let me tell, therefore, of a French country cemetery where, apart from the usual twilight of a recent lovely evening, Hun Desecrates Cemetery. This cemetery had for generations been the resting place of the French. Besides the graves, many raised above the remains of humble folk, there were vaults with imposing monuments. Evidence of the place having been sacred for many years was to be found in plenty. The Hun, who knows perfectly well that his enemy will not recklessly shell a cemetery, so afforded his troops the opportunity of protection he had built himself a series of deep dug-outs on the borders. Amongst the trees bordering the burying-ground, the Hun had erected an elaborate observation post. The thoroughness of these preparations for a stay of indefinite duration, furnishes evidence that the Hun had intended to "voluntarily" retreat.

With colossal impudence the Hun had laid to rest in this country the "rob" several of his own officers. Their graves were thrust in at the side of the French dead in who had passed away in the same manner. It will give the German his due—every one of these graves of officers was recently cared for. The vanished wooden crosses were replaced by a considerable taste in design. The German yet living received his "voluntary" order to retreat. Before executing it, he bestowed himself on the dead French people among whom he had put the bodies of his own officers.

Vaults Broken Open. I did not see one vault in that cemetery which had not been violently broken open. In nearly every case the covering stone was broken up—the work of a heavy mallet. In the entire breadth of the cemetery there was not one shell hole, so the destruction of the vaults was caused by this means. The coffins which had been inside the vaults had all disappeared, so had the contents. It is believed that the bodies of some of those officers were taken to the German officers buried close by. There is not a doubt, that the main object underlying this orgy of desecration was to loot the rings and jewels upon the fingers and around the necks of those who entered upon their last sleep in yonder charnel of far-remembered days.

There was a shrine in one corner of the graveyard. The door had been wrenched off, the interior robbed of all but a few little ornaments of the Virgin brought in pieces. All this wanton devilry committed in a country burying-ground, under the fact that there are so few officers who are now interred there. The graves of those men remain unmolested. May they continue to be so. Ever may the deeds of these men be put on record and remembered.

PHEZ. The new loganberry drink in the prohibition states on the Pacific coast. The Teck Hotel has a consignment of it that will arrive in about a week. Fewer Convicts in Penitentiary Than for Past Forty Years. Special to The Toronto World. Kingston, May 28.—There are at present 382 convicts in the penitentiary, the lowest number confined in the prison in the last forty years. The fact that there are so few convicts as compared with other years has given rise to talk about making a cut in the staff of guards. For some years the enrolment reached over 500 and at times it was close on to the six hundred mark. It is stated that the cutting out of the sale of liquor in hotels is largely responsible for the great falling off of crime.

FACES TWO CHARGES. Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, May 28.—John O'Connell, 38 years of age, appeared in the county police court today on charges of having secured $115.20 by false pretences, and of being a party to the same. The defendant was admitted to bail of $1,000 to appear in a week's time. ELMIRA CARRIES TWO BYLAWS. Special to The Toronto World. Elmira, May 28.—The ratepayers voted on two industrial bylaws today for a loan of $15,000 to the Elmira and Transmission Co. of an inducement to erect a large addition to their plant and the other inducement to the Phenixa Co. of Canada, to commence operations in the Interior Woodwork Co. building. Both bylaws carried by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Paris, May 28.—Former Premier Clemenceau, in an open letter to President Wilson, printed in his paper, L'Homme Enchaîné, appeals to the president to send over Colonel Roosevelt and "his companions." M. Clemenceau says: "I invaded France at the present hour there is no name which presents, by I know not what force of intuition, the beauty of America's intervention—it is that of Roosevelt. You are too much a philosopher not to know that great popular leaders have influenced men out of all proportion to their own real value." The intangible atmosphere of legend which, with or without their assistance, has formed around them. "Whatever may be the reasons, and without attempting to analyze the phenomenon, I yield to the impetuous need to tell that the name of Roosevelt has in Europe, at this time, a legendary power. It will be an enormous error to neglect a force which

WAR SUMMARY THE DAYS EVENTS REVIEWED

CROSSING the Timavo River, the Italians have occupied the village of San Giovanni, on the Carso Plateau. Their effective artillery preparation also enabled them to carry further strong positions east and southeast of Jamiano. They captured in this region nine almost new six-inch guns. Their strong defence beat off two successive violent attacks of the Vodice sector and on the heights near Trieste and the naval dockyards at Pola. The evacuation of Trieste, which is proceeding, will take on a new burst of speed, lest the Italians cut off a large portion of the enemy's supplies. It will be interesting to observe whether the enemy destroys the city or leaves it intact.

In their converging movement on Duino along the coastal road and the railway the Italians have managed to get within close striking range of this important point. Duino lies where the Carso Plateau descends from its usual high level to the level of the sea, and its further stretches present few difficulties west of Trieste. The Austrians, it appears, must make their last stand in the Duino region, where the sea and the naval dockyards at Pola. The evacuation of Trieste, which is proceeding, will take on a new burst of speed, lest the Italians cut off a large portion of the enemy's supplies. It will be interesting to observe whether the enemy destroys the city or leaves it intact.

Champagne was the chief sensitive spot on the French front yesterday. The artillery was firing on all sides, and in the neighborhood of Teton the rival combatants engaged in grenade fighting. All the preceding night the fighting had furiously proceeded. The Germans thrice attacked the French and they were three repulsed. The cannonading still keeps fierce in the Verdun sector. The Germans appear to expect French activity on a large scale and their gunners are keeping quite alert. The siege of Verdun, last in recorded time, do not yet the longest. The old mediaeval castles used to hold out for ten years. All chance of a German reduction of this town, it seems, has passed. The action here has virtually turned from a German siege of the French to a French siege of the Germans.

Except for the heavy artillery action the British front is quieter these days than it was even in mid-winter. The infantry is doing little but raiding. The British, in a raid east of Vermelles, north of Loos, brought in a few prisoners. The artillery activity is focused south of the Scarpe and in the Ypres salient. The British aviators had one of the best days yet this year yesterday, when they destroyed twelve German machines and drove down two others, one of which was a Zeppelin. British anti-aircraft guns shot down another. The British report only three aircraft missing.

News of another miserable failure of the German army and the German calculations has leaked out from the contributions of Paul Schweder to the German press. This person, who styles himself "imperialist," "imperialist" war correspondent, tells the grotesque story of an unsuccessful Turkish-German advance from Hebron across the Sinai Peninsula to the Suez Canal. As the British fleet commanded the Mediterranean shore, the expedition had to proceed by forced marches across 200 miles of terrible desert, harassed by locusts, sandstorms, and every necessity. It was not even mapped. The Germans found the native Bedouins, for the most part, loyal to Great Britain and cold toward the idea of a holy war. The scheme to stir up a holy war among the Mohammedans generally proved a rank failure. The Bedouins, won over by "other means," proved, apart from occasional scouting service, quite useless. Schweder winds up with a fierce attack on what he calls German newspaper scribes and bluestockings. These pretended to know all about the country, but their information turned out to be utterly misleading and damaging to the cause. The reason for the publication of this frank confession of failure remains concealed, but it is probably intended as a preparation of the public mind for the British advance into Syria.

In France the allied authorities are proceeding with the formation of a Polish army to fight against the Polish fleet. Not only Polish residents of France will make up this force, but Polish residents of allied countries will serve. The United States alone, it may be said in passing, can furnish many thousands of these men for this army. Such a force will counteract, the allies plan, the force which the enemy is raising by compulsion from the inhabitants of Poland.

In the eastern theatre of the war the Russians, according to Vienna, have developed increased artillery firing. The strong appeals to the soldier, made by every faction except the extremists of the ultra left, to attack the enemy will not pass without their effect, for revolutionary zeal as a rule effectively kindles martial zeal. The Russian army, like any other army, when under public control, is subject to the public opinion. Even the most violent revolutionists and revolutionaries, it is said, when placed under discipline, will obey orders and fire on civilians with whom they sympathize. A Russian army, it is said, has done this thing in the past.

On the Russian front, according to Petrograd, calmness prevails in the northwest, southwest and south, and rather intense action in the Caucasus. The Turks, who are on the offensive, appear to be conducting general attacks against various strategic points. The latest fighting is proceeding in the Baneth region, near the Persian border. Insufficient details have come thru from either side to show how the campaign is going.

Chile will follow Brazil in recognizing a state of war with Germany. Like Brazil, her chief help will consist of the providing of special facilities for American warships and of patrols for the southern seas. It is expected that soon all of South America will make war on Germany. The value of this action will principally be the withholding of good markets from Germany after the war, for it will require oceans of propaganda for Germany to remove the stigma brought on her name by the piratical deeds of her U-boats.

In Russia it is just one trouble after another. Just when the united voice of the people, outside of the extreme anarchists, has about succeeded in inducing the army to fight, it comes out that the workmen in the munition and other factories, interpreting the Socialist doctrines literally and in good faith, are making demands for such high wages that they are going to ruin the industries of the country and to compel the closing down of the factories. The annual increased wages which the workmen asked exceed the total capitalization of many industries, together with nearly all the profits as well. In some of the works the owners offered to give all the profits to the workmen, but these did not equal the demands. Attempts so far at conciliation have not succeeded as a rule.

BRAZIL REVOKES HER NEUTRALITY

Only Three Votes Against Paving Way for War Declaration. WILL JOIN ENTENTE. Declarations of Political Leaders Received With Enthusiasm.

Rio Janeiro, May 28.—The Brazilian chamber today passed the first reading of the government measure revoking Brazil's neutrality in the war between Germany and the United States. The vote was 134 to 3. The measure under consideration by the Brazilian chamber was drafted by the committee on foreign relations. It recommends the cancellation of the former neutrality, reactionary and in violation of the neutrality of Brazil in the war between Germany and the United States.

Under this bill President Braz is authorized to take the necessary steps to make the measure effective. The leaders of the principal political factions declared that they would vote for the proposed project because they felt confident that parliament, by completing the revoking of the declaration of neutrality, would declare itself in sympathy with the entente allies and thereby permit Brazil to take sides with the entente. Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Clegg, said that this declaration brought forth enthusiastic applause.

The tie sale keeps right up in interest, and it will grow more so every day now. The tie sale to the good old summer days and men wish to get into negro high dress, for there are thousands of beautiful new and exclusive effects in the bow ties which are being sold. These are particularly suitable for summer wear, and were specially selected as such. The generous discounting of the regular prices applies to these since winter prices began as well.

RUSSIAN MONKS CALL FOR VOTES

Great Professions of Revolutionary Zeal Now Made in Monasteries. DOCUMENTS BURNED. Bonfires Are Made of Literature Betokening Revolutionary Tendencies.

Petrograd, May 28, via London.—The inmates of Russian monasteries in access of revolutionary zeal, are demanding equal political rights with the laity population, including the vote, which until now has been forbidden by precedent. In order to prove their fitness for citizenship, the monks have set about eradicating all traces of their former autocratic, reactionary and in particular anti-semitic leanings, destroying their stores of anti-literature which was supplied to them by the police "security" department, now abolished.

The monks of Russia's biggest, richest, and most famous monastery, the Monastery of the Holy Trinity, is historic owing to having witnessed two sieges by Polish armies in the seventeenth century, made bonfires last week of the autocratic literature in the monastery courtyard. One report says that the monks danced round the flames. The father superior of the monastery, however, has condemned all autocratic propaganda literature, and has forbidden its use even for the wrapping of parcels.

Big Change at Kiev. Still great revolutionary enthusiasm, real or feigned, has been displayed in Kiev's celebrated Pecherera monastery, in the bones of hundreds of saints of the orthodox church. This monastery is particularly notorious for the pogromist agitation in which it took an active part in the massacre of the Jew Bells for ritual murder. The monastery authorities have now strictly forbidden reactionary agitations, and a committee of monks has been formed to obtain political equality.

At Kazan, in East Russia, a committee of workmen's and soldiers' deputies declared that a large number of inflammatory pamphlets were stored in a convent. The committee threatened to raid the place, and the nuns, horrified by the prospect of intrusion on their inviolate sanctuary, sent an undertaking to destroy the pamphlets themselves.

Chatham Mayor Will Instigate Proceedings Against Colleagues. Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, May 28.—On charges of conspiracy criminal prosecution will be instigated against Aldermen F. E. Exter, F. H. G. Macdonald, and Cotesworth, the three councillors who were found guilty in a judicial investigation, held recently in this city, of having collected $5,000 from officials of the Chatham Gas Co., for which they were to obtain from the company their opposition to a proposed deal between the city and the gas company. The report of the crown attorney was submitted to the city council tonight, embodying the legal opinion that criminal prosecution would lie against the three men charged, and further advising that in the event of their opposition to a proposed deal between the city and the gas company, they would be tried by a jury. Mayor Kerr stated that in view of the persistence of the council in maintaining their seats, he was, as mayor of the city, laying the information against the aldermen.

NO DEALING IN CHEESE. Utica, N.Y., May 28.—The Little Falls Falls Cheese Market, which the slump which hit the other dairy centres during the week, and today's session saw no sales made and no prices fixed. The factory men prefer to keep their cheese until the market is more stable.

DIES AGED NINETY-FIVE. Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, May 28.—Mrs. Wilcox, widow of the late Henry Wilcox, died today at the residence of her son-in-law, Wm. F. Luton. Mrs. Wilcox was 95 years of age. She possessed until ten days ago, when she fell and fractured her hip. She was born in Fallbrook and spent all her life in this vicinity. One son and two daughters survive her.

FOOD PRODUCTION AND THRIFT

Drop of Dollar a Barrel In Winnipeg Flour Prices. Flour is Down With Wheat in the Montreal Market.

Winnipeg, Man., May 28.—Winnipeg millers reduced the price of flour a barrel today. Best patents are selling at $13.10 a barrel, the lowest figure since winter prices began to advance several months ago.

Montreal, May 28.—Flour went down another dollar this morning on all grades, spring and winter wheat alike, following the wheat market, which declined heavily all last week. Spring wheat first patents are now $12.50 per barrel and winter wheat, 90 per cent, $8.30 to $8.50 a bag. Retail prices are still unchanged, for the most part at 65c per seven-pound bag, and 1.25 per 14-pound bag.

SORRY THEY HELD OUT. Special to The Toronto World. Chatham, May 28.—Local millers today quoted the price of wheat per bushel at two dollars and thirty cents, and certain Kent County farmers, who are said to have refused to sell recently at three dollars a bushel, are experiencing some misgivings.

Hamilton, Tuesday, May 29.—The first important local movement of troops for Camp Borden will take place this morning, when the officers and men of the 25th Machine Gun Depot will leave to spend the summer under canvas. The brigade staff will leave Monday, and from now on the headquarters of No. 2 military district will be Camp Borden. The only soldiers will be about 250 members of the Canadian Mounted Rifles under command of Lieut. Brooks. Premier Borden's announcement of selective conscription had its effect on local recruiting last week. There were 74 applicants, and 88 fit. The mobilization centre secured 33 recruits, making a total of 102 recruits who offered themselves from Hamilton and adjoining counties.

VETERANS CAN FIGHT BATTLES O'ER AGAIN

Will See Familiar Scenes in Great Film Coming to Regent.

WORK OF AUSTRALIANS

Screen Record of Spring Actions in Which Canadians Fought.

Many soldiers now in the city, men who have done their bit, will be particularly interested in the new film which The Toronto World, in association with Messrs. Jule and Jay J. Allen, is presenting at the Regent Theatre next week.

This is the film record of the battles of last spring, and the series of attacks which culminated in the surrender of the important strategic points of Bapaume and Peronne.

The film takes its title from the fall of Bapaume, but it gives a very comprehensive idea of the whole campaign leading up to the decisive retreat last March from the old established and strongly fortified line to the positions from which they are being driven at the present time.

The Canadians arrived on this front, it will be remembered, last September, when the battle of the Somme was raging, and they took part immediately in the advances then under way.

The objective of the British in that series of engagements was Bapaume, and the battle of the Somme came to a victorious end with the capture of this place and the neighboring point of Peronne.

There are in Toronto many soldiers who took part in these battles and struggles. Some of them are contemplating from wounds, some of them will never be whole again, but all of them will feel the glow of pride in witnessing the heroic scenes repeated to the very life of the present time.

It is also a matter of pride to the British people all over the world to recognize the good work of the Australians, the big fall meet of our patriots first. It was the Australians who dominated the Bapaume and Peronne, finding those places merely ruin and devastation.

The retreating German had done their spiteful work as well that hardly a wall was left standing whole.

With the first soldiers in their entry of those towns went the ubiquitous moving picture cameras, and authentic records of the German manner of retreat is forced upon them that demonstrates beyond question of what the Hun is capable.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

Men Who Have Been Honorably Discharged After Enlisting Want Some Recognition.

The first meeting of the "Provisional Association of Honorably Discharged Soldiers" was held last night in Central Y.M.C.A. hall.

This association has been organized by those men who have enlisted and been partially injured, and discharged in Canada, and they have organized with the object of securing an official button, a pension, employment and other classes of soldiers.

Last evening's meeting was taken up with the enrolling of new members and formulating plans for the completion of the organization. Over one hundred were present, and it is anticipated that there are approximately about 6000 men in the city eligible for membership.

Serg. G. Meredith of the Great War Veterans' Association, who was present, explained that the G.W.V.A. could not meet the wishes of the new association in making them full members until the Great War Veterans hold their convention next year, and it was decided that under these circumstances, organization work would be continued under the permanent name of "The Honorably Discharged Soldiers' Association of Canada."

As it was stated that the Hon. A. B. Kemp, minister of militia, would be in the city next Friday, a committee consisting of the executive and the standing committee, with the addition of W. E. Stevenson of the Trades and Labor Council, was appointed to wait on him to place the views of the association before him.

A resolution was adopted endorsing conscription, not only of the manhood but of the wealth and resources of the country as well, and the meeting adjourned very plain that should any emergency arise in Canada due to this enforcement, the association will be ready to the last man to offer his services.

WOULD VOID SALARY VOTE.

Asking for a declaration setting aside a resolution at a meeting of the shareholders of the Toronto Construction Co. in March, 1916, by which T. R. Hinds and G. S. Deeks were voted $11,000 as salaries for managing the business, of which they were directors.

Andrew B. Cook, of Helena, Mont., opened his case against T. R. Hinds, G. S. Deeks and G. M. Deeks. The defendants allege that the voting of the salary was done at a meeting of shareholders, and that the sum is not excessive.

MOTOR LICENSE CHANGES.

The terms of the reciprocal motor licenses with the states across the border have undergone a change which limits the motorist's stay in this province to thirty continuous days in one year.

WORK BOWLING PROGRAM.

The York Bowling Association, composed of clubs in the western part of Toronto and York County, will hold the first of the annual tournaments on August 4 and 6, at Parkdale, High Park and Riverdale greens.

AIRMAN BADLY HURT WHEN MACHINE FELL.

Lieut. Gerald A. Maclean Lost Control at Height of Four Hundred Feet.

While making an exhibition flight on Sunday afternoon at Monck Camp, near Deseronto, before a large crowd of spectators, Lieut. Gerald (Jerry) A. Maclean, the well-known Ontario aviator, lost control of his machine at a height of 400 feet and crashed to the ground, sustaining a fractured jaw and severe bruises to his legs.

Lieut. Maclean, who was celebrating his 25th birthday, had been in the air about 15 minutes when his machine was seen to tip sideways and immediately fall to the ground. He was unconscious for some time after and was rushed to hospital.

His father, W. B. Maclean, of the Concor Lumber Co., Ltd., left yesterday morning for Kingston, and the young aviator will be brought to his home at 82 Highland avenue about the end of the week. It is expected that it will be six weeks before he has completely recovered.

Lieut. Maclean will be remembered for his remarkable flights at Long Branch and the Exhibition last summer, when he was engaged as an instructor with the Curtiss Aviation School. On the occasion of the Duke of Connaught's visit to Long Branch the airman accomplished many wonderful flights, and was complimented by the governor-general on his attainments.

Early in the war he enlisted with the Eaton Machine Battery, but later joined the Royal Navy Air Service, and was discharged after an injury sustained while flying in England. Returning to Canada he joined the Curtiss Aviation School as an instructor, and later entered the Royal Flying Corps. Three weeks ago he left for the eastern camp as an instructor.

HEARD INTERESTING ADDRESS ON CHINA

National Students' Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Addressed Broadview Branch.

That the queue is no longer a characteristic of the Chinaman and that millions of them were out following the revolution in 1911, in which Chinese people were the victors, was the declaration of W. E. Taylor, national students' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in China, who is visiting Toronto in an address at the annual meeting of about 50 members of the Broadview Y. M. C. A. last night.

Chinese people were armed with scissiors, he said, and as Chinese farmers came to the town their queues were severed from their heads, despite the protestations.

The annual meeting opened with a supper, followed by the annual report of Secretary H. J. Barker, which was an interesting statistical bearing on the association. The total membership is 1,507, consisting of 491 men and 1,016 women, and a total membership of 1,381 a year ago.

Of the 400 members whose names are on the honor roll, 15 have been killed in action, and 100 are in military hospitals. He said that greater attention was being given the boys as the future leaders of the Dominion.

Every phase of the life of the Chinese was reviewed by Mr. Taylor in his address, which was delivered with interest and vigor. He said the Chinese were not a fighting nation, but were mortally afraid of Japan and the powerful military nation. In stating that the United States colleges were training 1,400 Chinese, while Canada has only one student in a college here, Mr. Taylor announced that in a recent conversation with Premier Borden, the Conservative leader promised to bring down a bill permitting a limited number of Chinese to study in the Dominion.

He cited instances of government officials as well as influential Chinese accepting the Christian faith and returning to their native land. They are giving their money freely to the work of the Y. M. C. A., which is appealing strongly to the educated Chinamen as to other classes of missionary can. Even non-Christians, the speaker said, recognize the value of the association and are assisting it, eventually accepting Christianity.

DEATH OF JACK SCHOLFIELD

Killed in Accident at Oxford Where He Was Studying Aviation.

News was received in the city yesterday of the accidental death of Jack Scholfield in Oxford, where he was studying aviation. He was the son of H. C. Scholfield of Highland avenue, ex-M.L.A., South Wellington, and nephew of the late G. P. Scholfield, general manager of the Standard Bank. Young Scholfield was a St. Andrew's boy, 21 years of age, and prior to going overseas was a bank clerk in the city. He went to England in the A. S. C. as a private and was rapidly promoted to quarter-master-sergeant.

COUNCIL SUPPORTS PREMIER BORDEN

Vote on Resolution Favoring Conscription Is Quickly Rushed Thru.

DISCUSSES FOOD COSTS

Asks Government for Food Controller and Storage Plant Control.

Without discussion and with Ald. Ramsden as the sole objector, the city council yesterday adopted a resolution presented by Aldermen Ball and Rydman calling upon Sir Robert Borden to introduce and pass conscription into law without a reference to the people.

While the resolution was being sprung upon the council, no one voted against it, but Ald. Ramsden demanded that the question be debated. His requests, however, fell upon deaf ears, and immediately the vote was taken, and no opposition offered, the mayor declared the question "carried unanimously." At the session of the Trades and Labor Council, the government was again asked to take over the cold storage plants of the country, appoint a food controller and reduce the price of wheat on the stock exchange. The council also approved the nationalization of railways.

While the session was the briefest since the new year, it was remarkable for the time wasted on personal and trivial matters and the wastefulness with which important business was transacted. After discussing the Cherry street pavement for one hour and a half the council discovered it was out of order, as the matter had already been decided, and so valuable time went for naught. For more than fifty minutes Mayor Church insisted that the council be put in order, but he persisted until finally the minutes convinced them of their error. In this discussion there was a protest against the mayor, who charged that there was lobbying in favor of reducing local improvement charges against the British American Oil Company. Ald. Beamish particularly resented the remark, and told the mayor that he was "shooting a lot of hot air."

Ald. Beamish and Thomas A. Stevenson headed the deputation from the Trades and Labor Council and asked the council for prompt action. Mr. Borden stated that the government for the province of the country, as operated at the present time, were a menace to the distribution of the necessities of life. The police in that British which was subject to the submarine blockade, bread was cheaper than in Canada, and blamed the federal government for the high price of foodstuffs. He declared that during the coal crisis last winter many locomotives in the country were idled because of the low rate of wages paid the engineers. The railways should be taken over by the government and operated in the service of the country, he said. The council approved the principle of the resolution and referred it to the board of control for presentation to the Dominion Government.

Oil Company Protests. After the bylaw providing for the construction of a concrete pavement on Bedford Park avenue and a granite curb pavement on Cherry street had been passed, S. R. Parsons, president of the British American Oil Co., protested against the cost charged against the property of the company. The entire cost of the work is estimated at $41,846, of which the city pays $18,474, and the property owners $23,372, split over a period of ten years.

Mr. Parsons stated that the charge of $2.02 per foot frontage against the property was an injustice. His firm was willing to pay $1 per foot. Mayor Church pointed out that the council was out of order in discussing the matter, as it had already been decided upon and declared his strong opposition to any reduction whatever. The company, he said, was a rich corporation making huge profits out of the war and was willing to pay. He ventured to say that there was no business in Canada making more out of the war than that dealing in oil and gasoline.

If the pavement was to be part of the harbor improvement plan, Ald. Ball thought the commission should assume the share of the cost. He advocated a standardized system of pavements for Toronto and was confident that if adopted it would save the city many thousands of dollars. The charge against the oil company he considered unjust and favored the appointment of a special committee to report on the matter.

Mayor Talks Straight. Ald. Beamish put up a long fight against the cost to the property owners, but immediately he sat down he was told by the mayor that if a poor man were looking for a reduction he would not get such support. More than one hundred properties in the east end had been taken over from the owners because they were unable to pay their taxes. To him the alderman appeared to hold a brief for the company. There was far too much lobbying going on in the matter. He never saw so much in his life before. At home and in his office his telephone had been busy all the time trying to get him to favor a reduction.

The resolution is simply sponging on the City of Toronto," he said. "It is making enormous profits out of the war, and it comes here and asks for a reduction of the rate. It is a mean piece of business, and I hope that the aldermen from ward one who have some backbone in them will make this company pay."

Ald. Beamish protested against the remark that the company was sponging on the city and the charges that he had a brief for the company. He had prepared his own statement, he said, on facts which he had obtained himself. He was not in the habit of sponging on the city like Mr. Mayor.

"This matter has dragged on for a year," said Controller Shaw, "for a poor man, beggar man or other, to perpetrate an injustice. But that can't be done before a body of honest men like this council. The question of rich and poor men, beggar man or other, does not enter into the matter. I stand for the settlement of this matter on a fair and honorable basis." He urged the council to pass the resolution for the construction of the Cherry street pavement be struck out and that a special committee make investigations.

Controlled by Aldermen Archibald, Hiltz and Maguire continued the discussion, and Mayor Church insisted council was out of order until City Clerk Lajoie produced the minutes and convinced the members "they were talking to no purpose."

Conscription Without Delay. The resolution introduced by Ald. Ball and Rydman declared that conscription was necessary in order to keep the fighting forces at the front up to strength, and expressed his strong sympathy with Premier Borden. "Council having full confidence that legislation will be passed without delay and without reference to the people," it said, "authorizes all loyal subjects to give prompt and ready response to the call of the premier and to stink all differences with the object of placing the ranks at the front in the most efficient numbers at the earliest possible date."

Ald. Ramsden, calling for an opportunity to discuss the matter, said the council was placing itself in a ridiculous position. Just recently it passed a resolution urging the disfranchisement of the colored people, and he wanted to know if conscription passed would they be exempt. He was not given an answer.

The resolution Bradshaw recommended the introduction of bylaws providing for the raising of debentures amounting to $9,191,671.88. The commissioner stated that he could carry the rest of the year on approximately $1,250,000. After hearing explanations on different expenditures council passed the recommendation.

Ald. Ramsden gave notice of motion "that all standard hotel buildings used and occupied as such be exempt from taxation for a period of three years. If, however, during such period any such hotel loses its license for any cause whatsoever then such exemption immediately terminates, and the whole property shall be assessed as under the then existing assessment act."

SUPPORT LABOR COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the Lady Furriers' Union, Local 65, in the Forester's Hall, last evening, a resolution was adopted to the effect that the union will support the district labor council in any move it may make towards solving the question of the high cost of living. Reports submitted by the concert committee showed that the receipts from the recent concert amounted to the sum of $175. The chair was taken by the president, Mrs. Hollock.

FOR THE EMPIRE

Capt. Arthur H. Ardagh, killed in action May 10, was the only son of Dr. A. E. Ardagh, of Oshawa. He went overseas with a Toronto battalion in August, 1915. He was 23 years of age, and before the outbreak of war held a commission in the Canadian militia.

Lieut. S. P. Benson, 137 Cowan avenue, previously reported wounded and missing, has been killed in action at the battle of Vimy Ridge. He gave up a jewelry business to enlist. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Liberal Club of Winnipeg. He was also connected with the Y.M.C.A. He was born in Toronto 25 years ago. A sister resides with her mother.

Lance-Corp. H. E. Fivash, who enlisted with a Winnipeg battalion, was killed in action May 23 according to word received by his wife at 52 Dundas street. Pte. PALESTINE JEWS IN URGENT NEED Cable From Foreign Office Tells of Their Fearful Sufferings.

Upon the receipt of a London cable from W. H. Walker, under-secretary of state for external affairs, addressed to the governor-general at Ottawa, asking for immediate aid in the way of relief funds to help the destitute Jewish population in Palestine, the Toronto Zionist Council at once issued an appeal for money, and on Sunday they secured the sum of $5,200. It included $2,700 from the members of the University Avenue Synagogue, and subscriptions amounting to $2,500 from a group of prominent Jews, who last night gathered in the Holy Blossom Synagogue to organize a city-wide campaign. They chose Edmund Scheuer treasurer of the fund, and are asking the general public to subscribe liberally to this needy cause, subscriptions for which will be received by Mr. Scheuer, 30 Yonge street.

The campaign for funds was decided upon by a special committee of the Zionist Council of Montreal, who received the despatch from Ottawa, and have already instituted plans for starting a campaign throughout Canada. How critical the state of the Jewish population really is may be gathered from the foreign office telegram, which is in part: "During Passover the entire Jewish population of Jaffa was expelled to the wood north, with the homes and property sacked and population in flight. They were treated with pillage and those remaining are wandering helplessly on the roads like a starving colony at Jerusalem is resulting in increasing misery and disease. Masses of young Jerusalem Jews were deported to a destination unknown, and the forcible evacuation of the colony is imminent. British authorities favor the founding of a special mission on the roads to give relief of Jews, whose plight is lamentable."

The funds gathered will be forwarded to London where the British Government will look after their disposal through the proper channels from the general headquarters at Cairo. British Government and the active intervention of the governor-general that contributions are allowed, and it is hoped that the Jews and Christians of this city will heed the appeal.

CONSCRIPTION WILL NOT HIT INSURANCE

No Change Is Necessary in Existing Policies and Provision Made for Future.

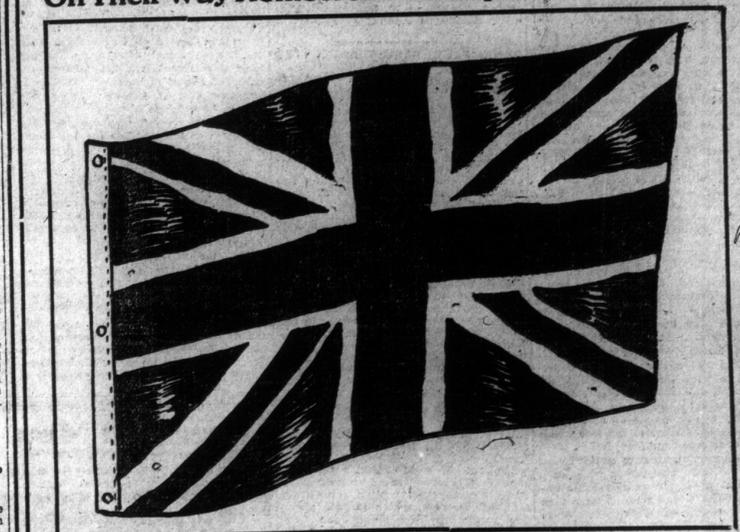

With a conscription law probable in the immediate future, many of the men who might be affected by such legislation have been speculating in regard to their life insurance policies and wondering what possible changes in the amount of their premiums might be made by the companies in the event of their going into active service. A canvass of the companies in regard to the matter by a reporter for The World elicited the information that it is very unlikely any change in the present contracts and policies. The general feeling seemed to be that the method of dealing with the first 400,000 men will not be altered for the last 100,000. With one or two exceptions the life insurance companies of Canada at the beginning of the war waived any clause that was in their policies previous to the war. On policies issued since 1914 it was found necessary to incorporate a war clause increasing the premium per thousand dollars in the amount of the policy holder going on active service. This increase varied from $25 to $150 on the premium per thousand dollars in the amount of the policy holder going on active service. D. E. Kilgour, honorary secretary of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, and actuary of the North American Life Assurance Company, when asked if any changes were likely in regard to general policy in Canada in the event of conscription, stated as follows: "It is not supposed that the new conscription law in whatever form it may appear, will in any way affect the existing contracts of the life insurance companies, or their practice in so far as the acceptance of new business is concerned. "At the commencement of the war it was more or less generally assumed that existing policy holders would not be affected and that the companies would assume the war risks on the old policy owners. With the business insurance companies the practice in adopting this practice, have acted in the most generous spirit, and as a result have incurred heavy losses, there is no reason for supposing that their present practice will be altered."

Shock Upset The Nerves

Could Not Sleep at Night or Work By Day— Had a Peculiar Trembling Sensation in the Stomach.

Barrie, Ont., May 23. — Sleep is Nature's restorer of the nervous system. When you are well the nervous energy, which is wasted by work, worry and the activities of living, is replaced during sleep. But when the nerves become weak, exhausted and irritated you cannot sleep, and the loss by day is not made good by night. Consequently nerve force is continually expended and never replaced. In other words, your nervous system becomes bankrupt, and serious results are sure to follow. Sleeplessness is one of the surest signs that the nerves are exhausted and that you are in need of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. S. N. Hurst, Barrie, Ont., writes: "About thirteen years ago, owing to a shock I had received, my nerves simply got the better of me, and I could not sleep at night nor work in the day time. I suffered from a trembling sensation in my stomach, which kept up continually for a year and a half without getting any benefit. Then someone advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did so, and at first was nearly discouraged, but as I was finishing the first box I found I was getting a little better. I then continued the treatment until I had taken six boxes, and during this time seemed to be getting stronger and better as time went on. The trembling in my stomach ceased, and I was able to eat and sleep without any difficulty. I am very grateful for having been advised to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, as I had about given up hopes of ever getting any relief. Therefore, gladly recommend the use of this treatment to anyone suffering from nervous trouble of any kind."

Our Utmost Efforts to Win

It seems strange that Canada, so alert, so forward and prompt, so progressive and energetic in almost every field of action, should be so backward in politics.

Officers Held Back.

Some censure has been directed against colonels and majors of battalions which have gone overseas and been detained in England or returned to Canada without seeing service at the front.

Labors True Demands.

Representations were made to the city council yesterday by local labor men with the object of having the views of labor on the question of regulating the prices of food and the appointment of a food commissioner presented to the government.

WOULD RESTRICT RIGHTS OF POWER COMPANY

Provincial Government Demands That Municipalities Have Control of Their Streets.

ATTRACTIVE DINING CAR SERVICE.

Probably nothing helps more to make a railway journey really enjoyable than a visit to the "Dining Car," especially if it be a Canadian Pacific Dining Car.

ZONE SECRETARIES APPOINTED

Will Have Charge of Y. M. C. A. Summer Farms and Social Gatherings.

BOYS WORKERS MEETING

W. R. Cooke, of the national council of the Y.M.C.A., together with Taylor Statten and P. H. Rogers, of Toronto, and J. Bradford of Montreal, have just returned after visiting New York in connection with a convention of boys' workers.

U. S. BOYS TO FEED PRISONERS.

A new scheme is being prepared by the American Y. M. C. A. to raise 100,000 boys, who will each send $10 with which to buy one million 51 packages of food to be sent to prisoners of war in Germany.

control, the regulation of prices, the nationalization of the railways and shipyards, and other similar pressing needs. The nation has a right to these things and labor should demand them as a right—not as the price of blood.

The best labor, the really independent labor, labor that thinks and reads and listens, knows that it never can act in the cowardly way these few unscrupulous leaders advise.

"COME OUT AND LET'S SEE WHO YOU ARE"

Newspaper Comment on the Cabinet Reconstruction

The World this morning presents the latest news that can be gathered from any source in regard to the political crisis at Ottawa; it is idle to deny that there is a crisis.

The World not so long ago declared that the only way out of the clash that has since developed would be a new party or a national or coalition government or a reconstructed one.

Whether the grain growers of the west, the organized labor of the Dominion, are to get recognition in any cabinet reconstruction is unknown.

It is believed there will be great satisfaction so the it may with speed be taken up by the cabinet.

Next the railways are all concerned and all active; the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern that they are not taken over by the state and that they are given further assistance.

Then there is Baron Graham of the Montreal Star, who created and financed the Nationalist party in Quebec to make trouble for the Liberals.

Tomorrow may be—probably will be—the day when the cabinet will be reorganized.

They have recognized how hard the task has always been, and for the most part they have done it well."

Hint on Conscription

"If some portions of Mr. Balfour's speeches were read aloud from the government benches from the opposition, it was because they were interpreted by some to favor conscription. It is not a question of opinion; it is a question of fact. It is a question of the whole world, that we Canadians stand today prouder of the British allegiance than we were three years ago."

"I am most gratefully thankful," said Mr. Balfour in conclusion, "for your having listened to me. I shall carry back from this meeting the message which has been sent to me by the speaker of the house of commons and the speaker of the senate. And I shall do more, for I hope, however imperfectly, to convey to the people of the motherland the tidings that the spirit that animates their children here is not less ardent, not less resolute, not less firmly devoted to the achievement of a free and just society than that which animates themselves."

Why Empire is Strong

"Foreign politicians," Mr. Balfour went on to say, "might well be excused for thinking the British empire incapable of united and effective action. They know that the parliament of the United Kingdom had no power of taxation over the dominions, and had no power to raise even one penny in the dominions of Australia or New Zealand, and in short, there was no power to be reckoned with except the power of the foreign politicians, namely, the power of affection, sentiment, common aims and common ideals."

Why Empire is Strong

"Gentlemen, I do not believe that anything more unexpected to the outside world has ever occurred than the enthusiastic self-sacrifice of dominions have thrown themselves into this great contest. The calculation of the ordinary foreign politician, and especially of the German politician, was that the British empire was but a fair weathered edifice, very imposing in its sheer magnitude, in the sheer surface of the globe which it occupies, but quite unfit to deal with the storm and stress of war, and destined, therefore, to tumble at the first attack, like the house built on the sand, to fall into great ruin. I do not think myself that that was nearly so foolish a calculation, so obviously idiotic a mistake, as some of those in whom our German enemies have indulged. On the face of it, to those who are ignorant of the inner spirit which animates the British empire from one end to the other, it will be impossible to conceive of a great state which apparently was less well-fitted to deal with the stress of war. Take up the map and you see large tracts of the world colored red. They are separated by vast oceans. They encircle the globe, and the fact that the sun never sets upon the British empire may be proof of its magnitude, but it is no evidence of its strength."
