PLEASANT SEND OFF TO YOUNG MEN.

Merry gathering at Waverley Hotel Last Wednesday

THE SUPPER.

Presentations and Speeches, Made a very Pleasant Evening Pass Quickly.

A number of Newcastle citizens learning that Messrs. Wm. and E. Hubert Sinclair, R. T. D. Aitken and Everett Miller intended leaving for Nevada Wednesday evening hurriedly got up a supper in their honor at the Waverley hotel last Wednesday evening.

About forty guests were present and a most enjoyable time was spent. Copeland's orchestra furnished music.

About eleven o'clock the guests entered the dining room, where Mr. Pallen had prepared a most sumptuous repast.

The following is the menu:—

MENU.

Tomato Soup.
Boiled striped Bass. Butter Sauce.
Oyster Scallop.
Celery. Beets.
Sweet Pickles, etc. Cold Ox Tongue.
Cold Ham.
Roast Brant.
Black Current Jelly.
Roast Black Duck.
H. B. Cranberry Jelly.
Roast Chicken. Cranberry Sauce.
Mashed Potatoes.
Creamed Corn. Fruit Jelly.
Trifle.
McLaren's Imperial Cheese.
Crackers.
Fruit Cake. Plain Cake.
Sweet Biscuit.
Oranges. Apples.
Tea. Grape. Coffee.

After ample justice had been done the good things provided, Mr. S. W. Miller who acted as chairman called the assembly to order and in a brief speech made the presentation to the guests of the evening.

Mr. Miller said in part that he regretted very much that he had been selected to perform the duties incumbent on one who sat at the head of the table and would very much rather witnessed it being performed by some other person but as the time was short for speech-making he would be as brief as possible, notwithstanding the fact that very much could and should be said of our friends who are about to take their departure from among us.

This country can ill afford to lose such men for it is the young men on whom this, as well as all other countries must look forward to to build up and carry to success its industries and its welfare and I know that I voice the true sentiment of the public in general when I say we deeply deplore the removal of these young and energetic men from our midst.

In the removal of the Sinclair Brothers, the business faction of this country suffers the loss of two of its leading members, for they have not only kept intact a large industry but have enlarged and improved it very much and have clearly demonstrated to us all that they are progressive and capable men. In Mr. Aitken's removal we lose a clever and promising member of the Legal Fraternity, one who will be very much missed, as on every occasion he made his appearance in our courts of law he clearly proved to us that he was no light weight in that profession but was fit to take his place in its front ranks.

The other member is somewhat different in many ways as he is a young man who is not leaving an established business like the others but one who is ready to face the advantages and set-backs of a new and strange country on his own resources, and gentlemen being nearer related to me than the others I don't think it is up to me to say any more, but will leave the matter to yourselves.

In conclusion let me say that they have all been very intimate and sterling friends of mine and I personally very much regret their departure for no person will miss them more than I; and often and often shall I long to be with them, and can only say that when they reach this land of eternal youth and sunshine whose opportunities are so numerous, may the riches of this world pour upon them as never did the snowflakes on the Miramichi, which snowflakes I believe to a great extent, have been a potent factor in turning at least some of our friends' minds to a warmer and brighter climate, and may they long live to enjoy health, wealth and prosperity.

The gifts from the citizens took the form of handsome gold Knight Templar jewel charms. Messrs. Sinclairs, Aitken and Miller responded, thanking the citizens for their kind expressions and gifts and assured all that Newcastle and the Miramichi would always hold the best place in their recollections, and they all hoped in a few years to return and settle down here permanently.

As by this time it was nearly train time, the meeting broke up after a few words by other gentlemen present, all expressing regret at the departure of four of Miramichi's best young business men.

Quite a number of friends went to the station to bid farewell to young men, and Messrs. S. W. Miller, and R. H. Gremley accompanied them to Quebec. At Quebec they were met by Mr. John McKen, formerly of this town, who treated them royally.

MANY LIVES LOST IN STEAMER WRECK.

Two Steamers Collided and One Sinks in a Few Minutes.

Saltic, Wash., Nov. 19.—The steamer Dix, Capt. P. Lerman, bound from Seattle to Port Blakeley with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki Point shortly after 7 o'clock last night after having collided with the steamship Jeannie, Capt. P. H. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Co.

Forty-three passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing and thirty-six were saved. The Dix is a total wreck. The Jeannie was not injured at the least. The master of the Dix was saved. The collision occurred while the Sound was almost as smooth as a mill pond and after the boats had been steaming within sight of each other for a quarter of an hour.

The Jeannie was backing when she collided with the Dix and the impact was great. The Dix was struck abait of the amidships on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first. There was hardly time to launch life rafts or boats before she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into the water; women screamed and officers and men called orders that could hardly be heard above the din. The passengers from the Dix who could swim made their way to the sides of the Jeannie and were dragged aboard.

O. J. LEBLANC FOR SENATOR.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 19.—O. J. LeBlanc, M. P. for Kent is in the city today. In discussing with friends his prospects of a senatorship he states he has what he regards as positive assurances he will be one of the senators to be appointed very soon for New Brunswick. Friends of the member for Kent here say there's no doubt about his appointment and they regard it about as good as made.

COUNCIL MET MONDAY EVENING.

Report of the Police Committee With Information in Scott Act Matters.

TO PUBLISH DEFAULTERS.

Council Decided to Put Section of Act Passed Last Session into Force

A meeting of the Newcastle Town Council was held in the Police Court room Monday evening. There were present: His Worship Mayor Belyea, Allison, T. A. Clarke, Mavor, Hennessy, and Aids, Dan John Clark and Williston.

A communication from Wm. Casey asking the town to build a road from the highway was read and laid on the table until the next meeting.

Ald. Desmond read a report of the Public Works Com. recommending a number of bills. The report was received and bills ordered to be paid.

Ald. Belyea from the Finance Committee and Ald. J. Clark from the Park and Fire read reports recommending accounts to be paid. These were passed.

Mayor Hennessy said that some time ago a bill from Magistrate Jones had been received and laid on the table. This matter should be taken up at once. Mr. Jones had been engaged to try the case and if their predecessors acted foolishly he thought there was no reason to keep the magistrate, constables and witnesses out of their fees. Mr. Jones even threatened to enter suit for the amount.

Ald. J. Clark was of the opinion that the bill should be paid. The work had been done and the town was morally bound to pay for such work. As far as Mr. Jones' legal claims he did not think he had any, as through his error in going outside his jurisdiction to try the case nothing could be done to force the County to stand by the magistrate's decision.

Ald. Desmond said that he had received some new information in reference to the bill from Ald. Clark's remarks. If the Magistrate through his error made a mess of his action, then he should be taught a lesson. He was of the opinion that the bill should be referred to a committee.

Ald. T. A. Clarke moved that Mr. Jones' account be handed to the Finance committee for report at next meeting. Carried.

Ald. Williston from the Water and Light committee recommended for payment a number of accounts which were passed.

Ald. T. A. Clarke of the Police committee read the following report:—

To His Worship The Mayor and Members of the Town Council, Gentlemen:—The Police Committee beg leave to make the following report, re Scott Act enforcement.

So far this year thirty informations have been laid and twenty convictions secured. Nine cases have been dismissed and one is now before the court. The total collections amount to $1050 with $200 yet to collect.

We are not prepared at this stage to say what the expenditure amounts to, but as careful estimate as we can make places it in the neighborhood of $475.

Re application of policeman Hill for an advance of salary. Your committee recommends that he be granted an addition of ten cents per day, said increase to date from the first of November of this year.

Town Marshall Gallah makes application for a new overcoat. Your committee recommend that this application be granted.

This report was received and after discussion adopted.

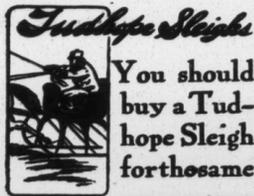

Ald. Desmond drew the attention of the council to the section of the act passed last session in reference to defaulters.

Ald. Williston thought that the section referred to should be published in the local papers and notice that it would be carried out given the ratepayers.

Ald Allison reported that the committee had purchased a new horse for the town team at $150 (Continued on page 5.)

TELLS PEOPLE OF GREAT BRITAIN OF NEW BRUNSWICK'S ATTRACTIONS

Maritime Provinces' Splendid Field for Intending Settlers Writes Correspondent in Canada, the London Weekly—Plea for More Fully Settling Out That this Province has to Offer.

A communication in Canada, recently on the lack of information in the immense body of literature being sent to Great Britain and elsewhere, concerning the maritime provinces, to mind, "hit the nail on the head" writes a New Brunswick correspondent, and I, like many others who live here, have often wondered why it was that some more active interest was not taken in making the advantages of these maritime provinces more fully known. While one may perhaps be justified in finding some fault with the federal government for the very small reference made to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, it seems to me our provincial legislatures are decidedly more to blame in this matter, and that they have not in the past done their duty, and it is to be hoped they will shortly become more enthused in the matter, and give their agent-general a wider scope, and provide them with facts, statistics, dates, etc., so that many of the people of England, Ireland and Scotland may learn that it is not actually necessary to go thousands of miles west of here to find land and honors for themselves and their families, while chances innumerable are to be had in the maritime province.

The province of New Brunswick has an area of 28,200 square miles and the population at last census taken was 331,003. Nova Scotia has an area of 20,600 square miles, with a population of 459,116. Prince Edward Island has an area of about 2,000 square miles, and a population of 103,258. The totals of the three make an area of 50,800 square miles, and a population of 893,337. Considering the advantages they possess, from agricultural, fishing, lumbering, mining and industrial standpoints, the question arises, Why should they not have a much larger population? Recently, at an important meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade held at Amherst (N. S.), this question came up, and it is highly probable some more energetic action on the part of our provincial legislatures will be in order at an early day. In fact, it cannot come too quickly. In these three provinces are thousands of acres of rich, fertile, well-wooded, well-watered lands, that will make homes for many thousands of emigrants who wish to try their fortunes in Canada and secure homes for themselves and their families.

In two days can they do this: The men with some fair amount of capital can purchase in hundreds of places in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, farms of one hundred acres and upwards, with buildings thereon, at moderate prices, provided they know their own business, and work faithfully and well. On the other hand, in New Brunswick especially, thousands of acres of crown or government lands await the advent of the settler of moderate means, while in a few cases land now held by corporations can be had at a fairly reasonable price per acre, and no better, fertile arable lands,

Dear Mother
Your little ones are a constant care in Fall and Winter weather. They will catch cold. Do you know about Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, and what it has done for so many? It is said to be the only reliable remedy for all diseases of the air passages in children. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to cure or your money is returned. The price is 25c. per bottle, and all dealers in medicine sell.
SHILOH
This remedy should be in every household.

British emigrant is only four or five days from home, and practically in quick touch with those he may have left behind.
The early settlers of the maritime provinces, apart from the French element, who were practically the first comers, were of good old Loyalist stock. Englishmen, Scotchmen, Irishmen and their descendants are numerous in these provinces, so that new settlers from Great Britain, if they locate here, are coming among their own people and they will be made warmly welcome.

Good Showing for Four Months of Present Fiscal Year.

Bowel Troubles of Childhood

It is impossible to exaggerate the value of FRUIT-A-TIVES as a medicine for children. They contain no alcohol—no morphine or cocaine—no dangerous drugs of any kind.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices—concentrated and combined with the most valuable tonics and internal antiseptics known to medicine.

Fruit-a-tives are free of calomel, cancar, scum and the host of violent purgatives that simply act by irritating the bowels. Fruit-a-tives are made from fruit and tonics and are pleasant to take, and so mild in their action that they never gripe or pain.

During the summer, when children are so apt to eat improperly, mothers should have a box of Fruit-a-tives always handy.

At the first sign of Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Headaches, Biliousness, Peevishness, Vomiting—give Fruit-a-tives according to directions. These splendid fruit liver tablets will instantly correct faulty digestion—clean and sweeten the stomach—regulate the bowels, kidneys and skin—and so invigorate and strengthen the whole system, that the little ones can quickly throw off the temporary illness.

The "Jolts" and "Jars" of Life are what use people up. Most people live pretty well up to the limit of their powers, and so long as everything goes smoothly that is apparently all right, but a "jolt" or a "jar" in the shape of business worries, domestic anxieties, or an attack of La Grippe, Pneumonia, Typhoid, or other wasting disease, suddenly reveals the fact that there is a sad lack of reserve force to meet these contingencies and the result is serious, often fatal. A wise man will see to it that his system is fully fortified against sudden attack. To attain this result nothing is so sure and effective as

BAILEY, Editor of the News, Chapin, S. C. These tablets are for sale by R. C. Vye.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in the back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— (First Letter.) "I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, have dizzy spells, chills, headache and backache, and as I have heard that you can give helpful advice in my condition, I Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes Sick Women Well.

am writing you."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— (Second Letter.) "It is with the feeling of utmost gratitude that I write to you to tell you what your valuable medicine has done for me. When I wrote you in regard to my condition I had consulted several doctors, but they failed to understand my case and I did not receive any benefit from their treatment. I followed your advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now healthy and well, and all the distressing symptoms which I had at that time have disappeared."—Matilda Borman, Farmington, Iowa.

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of woman's ills, and it will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of cures of female ills of any medicine that the world has ever known. Why don't you try it?

NEWCASTLE, NOV. 21, 1906.

For the first time in history New England has a Roman Catholic governor, governor-elect James H. Higgins of Rhode Island being of that denomination.

The report of the assassination of the king of Spain was, fortunately, unfounded. The Spanish people must learn that such violent removal of monarchs will not improve their condition or hasten the day of their freedom.

The American Federation of Labor, now in convention at Minneapolis has endorsed the action of its executive in entering politics as an Independent Labor party. There will soon be as many parties in the U. S. A. as in Germany and Britain.

It is reported that a million dollars of the San Francisco earthquake relief fund is missing. People who could steal from such a fund must be hardened indeed. In the United States—and some other places—the golden calf seems to be the chief deity worshipped.

Manitoba municipalities convention has declared for a municipal telephone system, and at next session the Manitoba government will introduce legislation to that end. The telephone monopoly is evidently doomed in the west. It cannot too soon be ended in this province also.

Step by step Ireland is gaining from the British parliament all that she has so long contended for, and is gaining it in a peaceable and friendly manner. The Irish tenant is now better off than many of his class in Britain, and the government is building model cottages for the landless laborers.

The evils of civil war are now showing themselves in the shape of famine in many of the provinces of Russia. The Russian government will not yield a parliament so peaceably as the British did long ago; and rebellion, massacre, and famine stalk over that great empire.

The U. S. has kept its word to the Philippines, as far as arrange for an island parliament to meet next year. The proposed constitution is fairly liberal. But the Islands will be only a territory—not a State. Yet poor Puerto Rico is not a territory, let alone a state. It is only a province.

Rapid changes of temperature are hard on the toughest constitution.

The conductor passing from the heated inside of a trolley car to the icy temperature of the platform—the canvasser spending an hour or so in a heated building and then walking against a biting wind—know the difficulty of avoiding cold.

Scott's Emulsion strengthens the body so that it can better withstand the danger of cold from changes of temperature.

It will help you to avoid taking cold.

In Wales, where over three-fourths of the people are not members of the established church the people are crying out for church disestablishment, their claims being pressed by Mr. Lloyd-George the famous Radical member of the British government. In this country churches seem to thrive without government assistance and so would they in the old land.

A very important convention met in Philadelphia last week, when a representative gathering of lawyers, clergy and others professional men, met for the second time this year, to deliberate on a uniform divorce law for the republic. They have drafted an act, which vastly improves some of the state laws, which they will seek to have adopted by every state as soon as possible. Such a uniform law has long been needed.

The women of Great Britain are calling loudly for the political franchise. Recently eleven prominent ladies were sent to prison for disturbing the sessions of the House of Commons by a suffrage demonstration. They are evidently inspired by the example of Finland, the women of which country were, a few months ago, granted equal political and parliamentary privileges with men. Finland is the first and only state so far, that has granted women the right to sit in parliament, as well as to vote.

The honesty of the Chinese in business is well known. Recently, in the settling up of insurance claims after the San Francisco earthquake and fire, it was found unnecessary for the commissioners to contest a single Chinese claim, while the whites and Japanese had to be watched. And it is said to be over 900 years since a Chinese bank failed. At that time a bank failure was investigated and found to be due to misconduct on the part of the President and the directors. A law was passed, under which, when a bank fails again, its officers shall lose their heads. As this law still stands, there have been no failures since. Many losers in this country have a high opinion of Chinese Justice.

There is trouble in Cape Breton between the Dominion Coal Co. and the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. The former, which employ about 7000 men, has tired of supplying coal to the latter at the price agreed upon, and wishes a new agreement. The latter, which employs about 4000, wishes to hold the Coal Co. to its bargain, claiming that an increase in price will ruin it. There have been fears of the Steel Co. having to shut down as several powerful business men are in both companies they will probably unite in the near future, as the rival telephone companies of N. B. did lately. It will be more profitable to both to amalgamate than to destroy each other.

The United States government—which is Roosevelt—has begun legal proceedings against the Standard Oil Company, for conspiracy. The people insist that something be done to the great Trusts, and the Republican party has decided that, if it would win in 1908, it is necessary to yield, or appear to yield, to the popular demands. Although the vote of the regular socialist parties showed a decrease this year in Massachusetts, Illinois and some other states, yet enough of the socialist platform was embodied in that of the Independence Leagues of New York, Massachusetts, California and Illinois to make the latter a distinct menace to incorporated wealth. Roosevelt has two years the start of Hearst and Bryan, and a good majority in both houses of congress.

In his speech at Rothesay last Wednesday, Attorney-General Pagsley made the welcome announcement that the Central railway, now owned and operated by the province, is paying. Thus he is justified in his stand in the House of Assembly against giving the road over to another company. He also announced that after the completion of the International line in Restigouche and Madawaska counties, no subsidies would be granted by the government to any railway in N. B. We heartily agree with him in this also. What the province pays for, let it hereafter own and operate. The Attorney-General and his confederates having secured $130,000 additional income for the province from the Dominion, are now hopeful of finally securing a share for N. B. of the Halifax fishing award.

There is a lively dispute going on between Japan and the U. S. A. over the determination of the San Francisco authorities to compel Japanese pupils in that city to attend separate schools. This, Japan claims, is a violation of her treaty rights in the U. S. A. and as Japanese residents are openly insulted on the streets of San Francisco the feeling between the two nations is growing bitter. The American government has promised to remove the cause of dispute, but California persists in her course. Some ten or twelve years ago, Italy failed to get satisfaction for the murder of her citizens in New Orleans, although there is a clause of the constitution giving the central government control of a state in such cases. Japan stronger than Italy, demands her rights, and China, who also has questions to settle with our neighbors is rapidly rising in strength. It will not pay our yankee friends to be too strict with the yellow man.

SUCCESSFUL CLOSING OF CRUSADE.

Tennyson Smith Drew Crowded House on Closing Night.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 16.—Tennyson Smith's temperance campaign closed in the curling rink, which was filled to overflowing. It was probably the largest audience ever assembled in this town. A judge, jury, court clerk, crier and sheriff were present to try alcohol on the charge of robbery and murder. Witnesses were brought by Mr. Smith, the prosecuting attorney, to prove the charge. J. T. Reid gave testimony of a man being once in a prominent position, and drink brought him down to poverty and he died in the poor house.

C. W. Anslow said one of his regiment in South Africa went through several engagements of the war and, coming home, got drunk, fell beneath the railway car, and was killed.

Dr. Murray, mayor of the town, showed the scientific effects of alcohol on the stomach, brain and heart. He stated that it was a scientific fact that the injury to the moderate drinker was greater than that to the man who goes on a periodical spree.

Design Campbell and George Cooper also gave testimony of their personal knowledge of deaths and misery wrought alcohol.

Mr. Trueman, for the defence, cross-questioned the witnesses to bring out the evidence that alcohol, when left alone, was not harmful, and that it was still prescribed by the medical profession, and called one witness to prove that it still had its place in the arts, mechanics and sciences. Mr. Trueman then addressed the jury and made a strong plea for acquittal on the ground that it justifies its existence. If left alone it would not harm anybody and that it was legalized.

Mr. Smith then made a telling speech. In regard to the plea that it justified its existence for the purposes of the arts, sciences and mechanics, he admitted there was some weight but even now they were beginning to look for something else to take its place. It was shown by a witness that although he never tasted liquor, it had robbed him of his father and early advantages in life. That it was legalized was perfectly true, but so were slavery, child labor, the use of rotten vessels for carrying freight, until the public arose and said it should not be.

The jury returned a verdict of "guilty," and the sentence that the prisoner's neck be broken (which was a bottle of ale) pronounced, and the prisoner was executed forthwith amid the hearty applause of the vast audience.

TOWN COUNCIL MET MONDAY EVENING.

TRAIN HELD UP BY CARIBOU.

Herd Crossing Track Near Rogersville Made Train Slow Up.

Near Lakeland, a station this side of Rogersville, on Monday a herd of seven caribou crossing the track directly in front caused the north bound day express, in charge of Conductor Corbett, with driver Donald at the throttle, to put on brakes. Rounding a turn the driver sighted the herd of animals browsing the grass and bushes which skirt the track and as the train drew nearer the caribou started to cross the track, walking in a leisurely manner. Repeated blowing of the whistle had no effect, other than to cause some of the caribou to stand stock-still in the centre of the track. As the train came nearer and nearer, however they abandoned their dangerous positions and gracefully cleared the fences which bordered the railway, vanished into the forests, but not before the passengers had had an opportunity of witnessing the rather remarkable sight.—Transcript.

KENT COUNTY NEWS.

HARCOURT.

Harcourt, Nov. 19.—Robert N. Reid of Beersville has not found it necessary to go to Boston to be treated for appendicitis; and it is hoped by his friends that he will not have to go.

Miss Forbes of Moncton spent Sunday with Mrs. J. B. Champion at the Parsonage.

Saturday night, Harcourt Division, No. 438 S. of T. received two new members:—R. Elmer Black of Lower Trout Brook and Mr. Jno. Lamkey of Mortimore. A very interesting debate was held on the question: Resolved that the effects of gambling are worse than those of intemperance. The affirmative was vigorously led by Ernest E. Buckerfield, who sharply scored the stock exchange, and the destructive competition by which the big firms and individuals run the smaller out of business, as well as what are more commonly considered the ways of gambling. The speakers were about evenly divided, but the deciding vote showed a small majority for the negative. Mrs. Adam Black of Lower Trout Brook was here Saturday.

W. W. Cummings of Norton spent Sunday with his family here.

SELLING LIQUOR TO THE RED MEN.

Determined Effort to be Made to Punish Men Selling Liquor to Indians in Westmorland Co.

Moncton, Nov. 17.—Aroused by the death of Abraham Surpre an Indian who while intoxicated perished in the woods near Moncton a couple of weeks ago, the Indian Department intends prosecuting the liquor dealers of Moncton who are suspected of having violated the act regarding the sale of liquor to Indians.

W. D. Carter of Richibucto was in the city this morning and laid five informations against local dealers, two against one and three against three separate dealers. The cases come up Friday next in the local court and is likely to provide another sensation in Scott Act circles. Several Indians have been summoned to testify regarding the sale of intoxicants to red men.

Mr. Carter, who is Indian Superintendent for the north-eastern section of the province, said that immediately on hearing the circumstances connected with Surpre, he communicated with the department at Ottawa and later received instructions to proceed against the dealers who are supposed to have supplied the dead Indian with liquor, which indirectly led to his death. Papers will be served today.

Sheriff Freeze, New Canada, Queen's County, passed through this morning in charge of a young man named Humphrey, who was sentenced to two and a half years at Dorchester for the theft of a horse.

CURED HER BOY OF PNEUMONIA

Newmarket Mother is loud in her Praises of the Great Consumption Preventative

"My son Laurence was taken down with Pneumonia," says Mrs. A. O. Fisher, of Newmarket, Ont. "Two doctors attended him. He lay for three months almost like a dead child. His lungs became so swollen, his heart was pressed over to the right side. Altogether I think we paid $140 to the doctors, and all the time he was getting worse. Then we commenced the Dr. Stocum treatment. The effect was wonderful. We saw a difference in two days. Our boy was soon strong and well."

Here is a positive proof that Psychine will cure Pneumonia. But why wait till Pneumonia comes. It always starts with a Cold. Cure the Cold and the Cold will never develop into Pneumonia, nor the Pneumonia into Consumption. The one sure way to clear out Cold, root and branch, and to build up the body so that the Cold won't come back is to use

TROUT Mezzowork

The undersigned have received from Mr. Nash of Maine the agency for New Brunswick for his famous trout mezzowork. A trout mezzo is one half the fish as mounted upon a convex elliptical panel as to stand the fish out in bold relief, giving the effect of an oil painting or whole mounted fish, with the real thing to show in true colors. The process of preserving fish in this artistic way was discovered by Mr. Nash in 1903, and patented in this country.

The Adventurers

By E. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

He certainly showed no signs of fatigue or faintness in his handling of the oars, but rowed like a sailor—a little stiffly, but with plenty of force, and we cut the water at a fine pace. Presently Sheppard, who had taken Sercombe's place in the bows, tapped me on the shoulder.
"Here's the Ray, Ned," said he.
"So much for the first stage then," said Sercombe, who heard him, and he leaned on his oars. The current took us with a gentle wash into the bosom of the larger stream. The clouds congregated solemnly and, to my fancy, with an aspect of sullenness. The air was still, and the sweat broke out on the rowers. We changed again, and under the fresh impulse the tub ran down the Ray.
"We may pick them up any moment now," remarked Sercombe, and I observed him, in the stern, loosen his coat and feel in his pockets.
"The boat's leaking," said Montgomery in my ears. I stopped rowing and repeated his words to the others. Here was a dilemma. Sercombe paid no heed. He was staring, as I could just perceive—staring out upon the river over our heads.
"Do you see anything?" he asked. No one answered him.
"Stay on your oars!" he commanded, and I no longer recognized the soft voice of our old enemy, but something stronger and imperious. It sounded of Chile and Peru. We ceased rowing. "What do you hear?" he inquired.
"Nothing," came from Montgomery.
"I'll trust your ears, lad," said Sercombe. "Drive on."
The river opened wider, and the banks fell away on either side, sloping softly up to great black heights, and now a current from the sea came humming over the river bar and met us, striking the tub's beak with a dull splash. She swung and twisted, groaning in her sides.
"That's the estuary," said Montgomery.
Sercombe leaned forward. "And we've not caught 'em," he said musingly. "Hood must have had a notion. Well, you see, he was bound to push on."
Our changes had taken place with punctuality, and now I lay across the bows and had my ear to the channel. The wind came up and blew gently about my face. "Good," sighed Sercombe, "that's refreshing. I thought I should stifle."
Sheppard, who was a yachtsman, cast a glance over his shoulders at the black horizon, but he said nothing. The current throbbled under the belly of the boat, and she rose and fell upon the waves.
"I suppose we're out now?" asked Sercombe.
Darkness environed us, and I could see nothing forward or upon the left. A gloomy mass of shadow lay upon the right hand.
"We're hugging the right bank," I said. "I think we're in the estuary. I can see nothing."
"Well, keep her in close," said Sercombe, jerking his rudder. "That wind's coming up a bit."
A flaw sailed out of the night and played upon us sharply. With that current drawing below her and under the stress of the gust she reeled and hung. Then she began slowly to creep along the water. Sercombe jammed the boat close to the shore. Then out of the abyssal darkness the wind brought a new sound to my ears.
I turned to the others. "They're in front," I murmured.
"What's that?" called Sercombe from the stern.
I spoke louder.
"Give me the sculls," said Sheppard. "Confound your hulking form, man! She'll fill if we give her the hap'orth of a chance. Keep under the lee of the shore, and we'll run her along."
"Go double, boys," urged Sercombe. They bent to their work with zest, and the boat spun along in a lull of the wind. The sound of oars dipping in water grew clearer.
Sheppard dropped his scull. "It's all right," he declared. "We can catch them. I've no doubt of that. Let's think. What are we going to do?"
"Why, catch 'em!" cried Montgomery.
"We must strike somewhere and some time," said I. "The question is shall we do it now?"
Sercombe sat considering, and I think we all unconsciously were awaiting his decision. He pulled the rudder strings suddenly with resolution.
"We'll get a bit nearer anyhow," he remarked, "and the wind will keep our news from them. But I fancy this has got to be settled on terra firma."
"I agree with you," I assented.
"Pull on, then," he replied and himself prepared for action.
As Sheppard and Montgomery dipped their oars a swell of the tide struck her on the broadside, whither she had fallen away. Simultaneously a capful of wind darted upon us. The tub rolled over and kicked till the gunwale lay under the water. We flung ourselves to the farther side, and she righted, the sea pouring in a cataract across her bows. Her nose sank deeply in the trough, and I felt the boards slant away from me toward the stern.
"She is sinking!" said Montgomery.

The dingy sank slowly.

"Give way! Give way!" called Sheppard sharply. "Put her head up!" And the two drove the sculls through the masses of foaming water. The dingy took a jump forward, broadside on to the water, and under the brisk strokes of the rowers leaped a second time. Then her bows went down, and, rolling her head to one side like a wounded porpoise, she sank slowly with a gurgling and a churning of water.
When I saw that a wreck was inevitable I dropped into the sea and struck out for the shore. Three or four strokes brought me into my depth, and I stood waist deep in the tossing waves and looked for the others. I called to them loudly, and one by one they emerged out of the darkness of the foam. We stood together dripping on the flat shore.
"This is a good thing," was the first thing Sercombe said as he wrung out the wet from his coat. "I said we should have to fight it out ashore. You see, we aren't to be risked the treasure afloat."
There was sense in this, but it struck me comically at the time.
"They'll certainly never make for open water in that boat tonight," said Sheppard.
"We'll catch 'em at Portagee," remarked Montgomery cheerfully.
"Well, we all seem agreed that we are in luck and that nothing better could have happened to us," I said, with a laugh.
"There's one thing I'm going to do before I go a yard farther," said Sercombe, "and that is to clean my pistol and put in a fresh cartridge."
"Amen," said Montgomery.
We followed the example, and then we all set out along the margin of the estuary, running at the first to make up for lost time. But Hood had the tide and the wind against him, and he made way slowly, so that we soon came near enough to the boat for our purposes. The night was so thick that we could discern very little, but no one doubted that we were within striking distance of our enemy. So we kept along the shore until the lights of Portagee came into sight.
It was by now somewhere near 2 in the morning, and the village, which was a collection of poor cottages on that barren and exposed shore, was wrapped in sleep. Only a lamp or two shone from the windows of the houses and some lights of the little craft riding in the road. Waste land, scattered with furze and low growing bushes, lay at the back of the village, and here we halted to decide upon our action.
"I'll have got to find out what Hood's after," I said. "He'll be in Portagee shortly. We must watch him."
"That's the only course," agreed Sercombe. "We can do nothing till we know that. And see here, this is no business for a party, but for a picket. I'll take that job myself. Give me half an hour, and I'll engage to fix the business."
To that we agreed, and the captain departed, moving cautiously toward the village, while we three threw our selves upon the ground in our damp clothes and waited with what patience we might summon.
It must have been fully half an hour later when I perceived Sercombe approaching. He walked quickly and as one under excitement.
"Well?" we asked in a breath.
"I've done it," he said, "though I take back my words about terra firma. Hood's going to sea."

IN MEMORIAM

MYRNA.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller Underhill who died September 18th 1906. Aged 3 yrs. 3 months, 21 days.

BY MICHAEL WHELAN. "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not for such is the Kingdom of Heaven."—OUR DIVINE LORD JESUS.

Beautiful Myrna, angel child All innocence, sweetness, heavenly, mild, Now in the heavens, beyond the stars, Where all are happy, where no grief wars The blessed joy of the truly blest, Forever and ever and ever at rest. Sad, O sad are her parents hearts, For one sweet joy with their child departs But still they know she is happy there, Where all is perfect and pure, and fair, Wearing forever the glorious crown God gives to children. And looking down On the kind true hearts she has left behind Their angel Myrna will bear them in mind.

And looking up to the God of Love Who reigns supreme in His home above, Will surely ask him to guard and bless The parents and brothers whose fond cares.

To this angel daughter and sister was given Reneous River, North Co. N. B. Sept. 1906

A Discovery of Great Value.

Because a Cure was Found for Inflammatory Rheumatism.

There are many types of rheumatism, but none worse than inflammatory. It was the kind that almost killed Mrs. Edw. Warman, of Kent Jct. N. B.

Every known remedy she tried, different doctors gave their advice, but the disease increased. Weak and despairing, she was at her wits' end when the remarkable cure of Thos. Cullen was published. This gentleman was cured of rheumatism by "Ferrozone". Consequently Mrs. Warman used the same remedy. Here is her statement:

"For years I have been rheumatic. I tried various forms of relief without success. The disease increased, settled in my joints and muscles; these swelled, caused excruciating pain and kept me from sleeping. My limbs and arms stiffed, my shoulders were lame and prevented me from working. Week by week I was losing strength and despaired of finding a cure. It was a happy day I heard of Ferrozone. Every day I took Ferrozone I felt better; it eased the painful joints, gave me energy and a feeling of new life. Ferrozone cured my rheumatism, cured it so that not an ache has ever returned. Even damp weather no longer affects me."

Ferrozone has power to destroy Uric Acid, neutralize and enrich the blood, and therefore does cure the worst cases. Mrs. Warman, is statement proves this.

By removing the cause of the disease and rebuilding up a reserve of energy Ferrozone is certain to cure Sufferer, isn't it about time to top experimenting! Ferrozone is a cure! We guarantee this. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name—"Ferrozone."

"So you are the gentleman who's run. Hints to the Home Gardener said the fair dealer in the newspaper office. "Do you obtain your material from experiments in your own garden?"

"Oh I haven't any garden," replied the sallow young man with the pen behind his ear. "I live in a flat."

"You don't say. Well perhaps the gentleman who writes Hints on Renting Flats could give me some good advice from his experience in apartment houses?"

"Oh, he doesn't live in an apartment house. He lives in the country."

"Did you tell your father I was a humorist?" asked the tall young man with long hair. "I did," replied the pretty girl, "and he laughed."

"Laughed? Why, I thought he used to say writing jokes was hard on the brain."

"So he did; but he says he never heard of you writing any jokes."

I. C. R. CONDUCTOR HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Fredericton, Nov. 15.—On Wednesday as the east bound accommodation train was pulling into lacville station, conductor Henry in alighting from the moving train slipped on the platform and fell between the platform and the cars. He barely escaped being run over and crushed beneath the wheels. The conductor, who did not sustain a scratch, is to be congratulated on his narrow escape and the agility and presence of mind he exhibited in keeping clear of the wheels until they passed him. If he had been a larger man by a couple of inches, he would have been caught and his escape may be said to have been miraculous. This should be a lesson to trainmen and others who make a practice of jumping off trains in motion, as many a life is sacrificed in this way. If a man must jump off a train in motion then let him do so from the rear of the train.
