EVIDENCE OF FOUL PLAY IN JACQUET RIVER MAN'S DEATH

Body Exhumed By Order of Attorney-General—Doctors Find Goodin's Skull Fractured and Other Evidence Of Victim Having Been Beaten Badly—Investigation Being Continued.

The result of the post-mortem examination of the remains of James Goodin, whose body was found last week under the Jacquet River bridge, was mailed to Attorney-General Syme yesterday by Doctors McKenzie and Coffey, of Bathurst, who were the physicians instructed by the Attorney-General to have the body exhumed and the examination made.

The report of the doctors bears out the opinion of the people of Jacquet River that the unfortunate man met his death as the result of foul play and states that, although the body was badly decomposed and the doctors could form little idea of external injuries, they, nevertheless, examined the head and brain and found that the nose was badly broken and the skull fractured.

An examination of the brain disclosed the presence of clots of blood both in the front and in the back, which would confirm the evidence of fracture. The man's injuries, they classified as severe and such as could be the result of a bad beating.

Up to this morning no further evidence has been found to assist in clearing up the mystery of the man's tragic death but the Attorney-General's department is continuing its investigation and it is probable that several men who were seen with Goodin on the night of his death and who were said to have been drinking and quarrelling with him, will be called upon for an explanation.

After the body was found an inquest was held and the jury returned an open verdict. Members of the jury are quoted as saying that they were not satisfied with this result and the circumstances were reported to the office of the Attorney-General, who ordered an investigation. This was started by Inspector Joshua Gammon.

WINDING UP UNITED FARMERS

Legal Action Being Taken to Enforce Payment of the Amounts.

Fredericton, Sept. 26.—Maritime United Farmers co-operative limited will soon be finally wound up by the order of the court, who are in charge of the affairs, according to persons familiar with the operations.

The amount of the indebtedness,
which originally reached large proportions, has been materially reduced and lately there has been made an offer for a compromise settlement of outstanding amounts which, it is believed, will be accepted by creditors.
Meanwhile legal steps are being taken, as predicted some time ago,
to collect unpaid portions of stock subscriptions by members of branches in various parts of New Brunswick.
Five members of a branch in South hampshire, York County, have been used for unpaid portions of their stock subscriptions and yesterday in Woodstock the case of Harding, Crane, Bath, a test case from that branch, was tried before Judge Carleton in the Carleton County Court, and decision was reserved.

First payments on stock subscriptions consisted of fifty per cent, the balance being payable upon the call of the directors. The call for the payment of the second fifty per cent.
was made in October 1921 and today
it was said that all remaining unpaid amounts would be immediately paid.

DRIVE ORGANIZED FOR JAPANESE FUND

Citizens Will Be Asked to Contribute to the Cause Monday and Tuesday.

Under the auspices of the Campbel-ton Red Cross Committee a public meeting was held in the Town Hall last evening to consider ways and means of raising funds for the Japanese sufferers.

His Honor H. F. McLatchey was chosen chairman.

The chairman said that lack of interest displayed by the very small attendance seemed to indicate that the citizens were not interested in this worthy cause, but he had no doubt but that Campbellton would do its duty. The cause was one which should appeal to our hearts and sympathies.

H. B. Anslow was appointed secretary of the meeting.

Dr. Murray suggested that the meeting name a committee, said committee to be authorized to name collectors and allot districts in which to work.

Mr. J. L. Macdonald said that as the appeal had come through the Red Cross it was not possible to have the Red Cross look after this work.

Dr. Thant explained that the Red Cross Committee was a very busy body.

The chairman explained that there were two courses which could be adopted: to have the collections made through the churches, or to appoint c canvassers to work the whole town.

After discussing the matter thoroughly it was decided to appoint committees from each ward, which committees would canvass and present a thorough canvass.

The following committees were named:—
Ward I.—Dr. L. G. Pinaut, H. M.
Armstrong and Mrs. David Marquill.
Ward II.—Hon. H. F. McLatchey, H.
Samson, Jas. Craig.
Ward III.—A. Ferguson, Dr. Murray, B. J. Collier.

The committees were authorized to proceed with organization and have everything in readiness for the drive which would be held Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 1 and 2.

FINE NEW STORE NOW OPEN

Up-to-Date Furnishing Store
Of Comeau & Co., Opened
Last Saturday.

With the completion of the new store of Comeau & Co., situated at the corner of Subway and Roseberry Streets, a fine, modern, mercantile establishment has been added to Campbellton's long list of up-to-date business houses.

The new store, which is a fine brick structure of prominent and pleasing appearance and located in the heart of the town's busy district, was opened to the public on Saturday afternoon of last week and since the opening of the doors the building has been the scene of a steady influx of patrons.
The new store will operate under the firm name of Comeau & Co. Ltd., and will carry a complete line of ladies and gents furnishings and a stock of general dry goods as well as all kinds of children's clothing. The new firm is understood to be the successors of V. E. Stevens who, some time ago, acquired the business of the late M. P.
Moore.

The interior of the new store shows it to be spacious and well laid out. In addition to the ground floor which carries a splendid array of new fall and winter stock, there is a second storey, the full size of the building to which a wide staircase gives access.
The finishing is not only attractive but expensive, being of quartered oak throughout. Besides adding to the appearance of the interior this is emblematic of the thoroughness and fine tone of the building's fittings.

Fine Stock

On visiting the new store prospective shoppers will find much to appeal to them. Although new things is daily being added to the present stock there is to be found a most attractive display of all the season's latest and best in the way of ladies and gents furnishings. The windows of the new store also are a feature that have attracted much attention as they have been especially designed for extensive and varied display.

SURE STOP TRAIN SIGNAL

Invention of Geo. Metzler is Given Successful Try Out
At Halifax.

(Halifax Chronicle)
One day last week Mr. George A.
Metzler gave a satisfactory test of his "metzler sure stop signal" at the Round House, Fairview. The only feature of this invention which did not meet the approval of the commissioners was the lever which it claimed might be operated by heavy snow.
The signal apparatus consists of a sketch of a frame made of 1 1/2 inch iron, 30 inches high, weighing about 8 pounds, side clamped to ball of rail thumb-screws and can be adjusted by flagman in less than a minute, in winter as well as summer. The frame is snugly disposed toward the advancing engine. The red flag is placed on it in daytime and a red light at night. On the pilot of the engine a valve is placed on train line with a horizontal lever 25 inches above and directly over the rail, which comes in contact with frame, causing the air-brake to function, and stopping the train, the frame being thrown to the side of the track. This portable train stop is an addition to the flag and torpedoes, and in foggy or stormy weather, it is claimed, will prevent accident when other signals fail to give warning. It would be carried by all train stations, section men, and be used in all cases of flagging
to stop trains.

Thank you, doctor. Now tell me the scientific name for it. I shall have to tell my wife what you said.

Chocolates

For Korea!

A few days ago a package of 5 lbs. of Bull's Chocolates was sent to the office of the Graphic around the globe. The package was 100 lbs. but after all that was only a small price to pay for bringing some of the happiness of the old home to an exile.

Perhaps you too have friends abroad. Bull's Chocolates are delicious little sandwiches that melt in the mouth. They are the most popular of all chocolates and are sent in an air-tight tin which keeps them good for months.
There are different kinds of Bull's Chocolates in the FIRE OCCASIONS LOSS OF NEARLY $70,000 AT KEDGWICK

Four Stores and Five Dwellings Completely Destroyed On Tuesday Morning In Blaze That Threatened Whole Village—Very Little Stock or Furniture Saved—Insurance Light.

The village of Kedgwick, on the International Railway line between here and St. Leonard's narrowly escaped being annihilated by fire which broke out there about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Four stores with almost their entire stock and five dwellings were destroyed in the blaze and it is estimated that the total damage will aggregate to nearly $70,000.
According to insurance brokers the insurance carried was light compared with the losses sustained.

Village Threatened.
Details of the fire were secured here this morning. The blaze originated from a deserted dwelling near the residence of Andrew Savoy. It appears that this old building was being used for some purpose on the morning of the blaze and a fire had been put on in the cook stove there. How the fire spread to other buildings is not known but the flames made rapid progress and for a time threatened the entire village. It was some little time before any fire-fighting apparatus could be got to the scene and when this was finally got into action a hard fight was experienced before the blaze was under control. All available help was called to the scene of the conflagration and but for this the ultimate damage would have been much greater.

Four Stores Burned.
Owing to the proximity of the buildings in the immediate vicinity of the fire, some nine buildings caught fire before any assistance arrived.
The four stores of H. Boulay, Rivard
Bros., J. H. Gosselin and Leonard Martin were destroyed together with almost the entire stock. Besides his store, Mr. Martin lost his house, a barber shop, a motion picture hall and all its equipment, some of which was quite valuable.

The owners of the burned dwellings were unable to rescue any considerable amount of their furniture or household effects owing to the rapid progress of the fire. Several of those destroyed were new buildings, including Andrew Savoy's residence which was a fine large building only recently completed.

Record Adjustment.
In connection with the recent fire
the Graphic reporter disclosed, this morning what is obviously a record in promptness in the transaction of fire insurance business relative to the adjustment of claims. Several of the heaviest losers in the Kedgwick blaze were clients of Mr. P. M. Shannon, a local insurance broker and thirteen minutes after his telegram to the insurance company notifying him of the losses, had arrived at their office.

MRS. BUDGE SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Restored Her Health

River Desert, Que.—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing, but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it, too, as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby, and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. Budge, River Desert, Quebec.

If you are suffering from the tortures of a displacement, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or a pain in the side, you should lose no time in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write for it to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass. This book contains valuable information that every woman should know.

SALMON EXPORTS
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 22.—Canadian exports of canned salmon for August were a little heavier than for July and the business for the twelve months showed a very satisfactory increase over the previous similar period. Canned lobster exports, however, registered a considerable falling off as recorded by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

SALMON, 6 FEET LONG, HANGING ON TREES
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 19.—Hal Graham, a mining man of this city who has just returned from visiting gold properties at the foot of Salmon Glacier in British Columbia, twenty miles north of Hyder, Alaska, relates that he saw fish hanging on trees. The river had been swollen and when it receded many salmon four to six feet long were left suspended from limbs he avers.

gladly issue a duplicate, and some hard-working postal employee will not be suspected of stealing it. If you must put the cash in—register it.

10. Don't put inland revenue stamps on your letters.

11. Pack your parcels properly, address them with ink, use old thick wrapping paper and twine.

12. Buy your postage stamps at the local post office.

Postmaster's pay depends on his stamp sales, and the more stamps you buy from him the better service he can afford to give you.

13. Don't grumble at the regulations, they are made for your benefit and protection. Mr. Robert Elmer did not make them, he is just doing his duty in carrying them out strictly. Try to help him do it right, and make things pleasant for everyone.

14. If you forget to do your business at the post office between eight in the morning and seven at night, don't worry the post office employees to see if they will give you your mail or write a money order for you after hours. They are entitled to a little time off, and the best tempered people in the world are liable to get snappy sometimes.

4. If your child call for the mail, let one of them do it. It is not necessary to have the whole family call one after the other.

5. If you should send to a mail order house, don't expect to get your parcel next morning. Give them time—when the parcel arrives the postmaster won't forget to give it to you. He doesn't want it. There is no need to ask four or five times if your order has come.

6. Don't ask them not to hand your mail to anybody but yourself. Post office employees only have human feelings and a box and keep the key yourself.

7. Never send a parcel without insuring it. Three cents will insure it up to five dollars and it is a mighty poor parcel that is not worth three cents.

8. Put your name and address on the upper left hand corner of every letter you write and the stamp in the upper right hand corner. Better still, use printed envelopes and have your box number printed on them.

9. Don't put money in a letter, buy a money order or a postal note, then if it gets lost the post office will

RANCHER PRINCE ENJOYS WORK

Princely Brawn Used With Effect When Lord Renfrew Dons Old Suit.

High River, Alta., Sept. 18.—Lord Renfrew, the Prince of Wales, partook of his first dinner, awaiting for him on his arrival, as an Alberta rancher on his own ranch on Sunday.

After that he took a walk about the farm buildings, inspecting them and talking with the men employed regarding the work, the care of the stock and the details of the life on the ranch. In this respect he early developed the usual daily instincts of an old-time rancher and became acquainted personally with those on whom he relies for the commercial success.

He started in at once to learn the business and to meet personally those who were in his service and to establish himself firmly in their esteem, the Western formula for co-operation.

He returned to the residence and retired early in anticipation of a busy day ahead. He rose at 7 a.m., yesterday after a good night's rest, donned some working clothes and, after a satisfying breakfast, started out to the sunflower patch which had already been cut and was ready for the silo.

He then and there in brain and brawn demonstrated his ability as an active manager.

He brought up a wagon and personally loaded it with the large stacks of sunflowers and green oats, and anyone who knows what loading sunflowers and green oats is will agree that it is no job for a workman. He completed the wagon-load himself and then followed it to the silo and himself fed the sunflowers into the cutting machine and the blow which carries the chopped feed into the silo.

The succulent sunflower plant is already appreciated in this country as an excellent cattle feed and the E. P. ranch is one of the early properties which have adopted its use, thanks to its manager, Mr. Carlyle.

Stooking Oats.

This work occupied the rancher prince most of the forenoon, the help being spent in riding his Dartmoor stallion. For a country gentleman, unaccustomed to hard labor, the outside work has been sufficient for the day, but not so with Lord Renfrew.

He returned to the ranch, partook of a hearty lunch and again proceeded to the fields. This time he was trapped to a 20-acre field of oats and took a hand in stooking. Stooking is a familiar and well-understood job to the farmers of Canada, but for those who are not so informed, it means the gathering of the large bundles of grain as they are deposited on the ground from the binders, in piles of about seven to ten bundles, where they are left until ready for the threshers. It is not an enviable job these hot, sunny days, and many have been the men who have quit their jobs because of its hardships. This year the bundles are heavier than ever owing to the great growth and the heavy crops, and there are instances of even the Indians quitting and demanding more pay for the work.

The Prince, however, was equal to the occasion, and although somewhat slight in build, surprised his fellow-workers by his ability to stand up to and really enjoy the work.

HOW YOU CAN

HELP POSTMASTERS

Did you ever give a moment's thought to the hours of duty that are put in daily by the local post office staff and the hundred and one things that have to be thought of and attended to correctly and quickly to give you the good service which you expect? There are so many ways in which you can assist the post office to give you that service and they are all so small and easy that everybody can do them with out the slightest inconvenience to themselves. Here is a list of some ways to remove the wrinkles from the postmaster's or postmistress' forehead:—

1. If there is a vacant box in the post office, rent it. The cost is about fifteen cents a month. If your time is worth anything at all, you will save money by not having to wait at the wicket for your mail.

2. If you lose your key, buy another the first time you are in the post office. Don't keep asking for your mail to be handed to you in the hope of finding your key some day.

3. Put your box number on every letter you write, or if you live in the city, your correct street address. There are lots of Browns', Smiths' and Robinsons everywhere, and it is very annoying when someone else opens your letters.

4. If your child call for the mail, let one of them do it. It is not necessary to have the whole family call one after the other.

5. If you should send to a mail order house, don't expect to get your parcel next morning. Give them time—when the parcel arrives the postmaster won't forget to give it to you. He doesn't want it. There is no need to ask four or five times if your order has come.

MURDER DISCLOSED AFTER 50 YEARS

Note Near Slayer's Skeleton in Nevada Contains Painful Confession.

Baltimore, Sept. 15.—Stained and brittle from perhaps forty years of resting in its niche, subject to the elements, the confession of a murderer, Lee Singleton, native of Crisfield, Md., a former resident of Hagerstown, Md., some fifty years ago, was found on a crevice between the logs of a cabin in Culver Canyon, near Eureka, Nev., by James Thornton, a surveyor, according to word received in Hagerstown.

In a cabin bunk was a man's skeleton, a gold watch engraved with the initials "L. B. S." and a watch chain from which hung a large silver nugget fob.

Following are large portions of the confession as could be deciphered.

"After fourteen years of wandering I am back in the cabin which I built six years ago. Surely these six years of hell should go towards the final reckoning. I wonder if any one will ever read this or will it rot beside me?"

"Seems as if I could lie down easier if I wrote out that which I could not dare whisper since I done it. My name is Lee Singleton, born in Crisfield, Md., enlisted in the southern army, was wounded twice and served until the close of the war, when my parents died.

"I landed in Eureka in 1871, where I went to work as a feeder in the Richmond furnace. My companion was one John Murphy, an overbearing man. He insulted me on several occasions, being much stronger and bigger than I. He struck me one day. Murphy signed his death warrant then and there.

gladly issue a duplicate, and some hard-working postal employee will not be suspected of stealing it. If you must put the cash in—register it.

10. Don't put inland revenue stamps on your letters.

11. Pack your parcels properly, address them with ink, use old thick wrapping paper and twine.

12. Buy your postage stamps at the local post office.

Postmaster's pay depends on his stamp sales, and the more stamps you buy from him the better service he can afford to give you.

13. Don't grumble at the regulations, they are made for your benefit and protection. Mr. Robert Elmer did not make them, he is just doing his duty in carrying them out strictly. Try to help him do it right, and make things pleasant for everyone.

14. If you forget to do your business at the post office between eight in the morning and seven at night, don't worry the post office employees to see if they will give you your mail or write a money order for you after hours. They are entitled to a little time off, and the best tempered people in the world are liable to get snappy sometimes.

4. If your child call for the mail, let one of them do it. It is not necessary to have the whole family call one after the other.

5. If you should send to a mail order house, don't expect to get your parcel next morning. Give them time—when the parcel arrives the postmaster won't forget to give it to you. He doesn't want it. There is no need to ask four or five times if your order has come.

6. Don't ask them not to hand your mail to anybody but yourself. Post office employees only have human feelings and a box and keep the key yourself.

7. Never send a parcel without insuring it. Three cents will insure it up to five dollars and it is a mighty poor parcel that is not worth three cents.

8. Put your name and address on the upper left hand corner of every letter you write and the stamp in the upper right hand corner. Better still, use printed envelopes and have your box number printed on them.

9. Don't put money in a letter, buy a money order or a postal note, then if it gets lost the post office will

N. B. LEADER OF PROVINCES

Premier Veniot Declares That Capital And Optimism Is What We Now Need.

Fredericton, N. B. Sept. 18.—Exhibitions and what they do for the development of the community spirit in effectively placing before the people the natural resources of the country and the possibilities of their development, if for no other reason, were well worth while, Hon. P. J. Veniot, Premier of New Brunswick, declared in his speech at the Provincial Exhibition, yesterday afternoon, when Hon. W. F. Todd, Lieutenant-Governor, declared the fair formally open.

Premier Veniot told his audience that what New Brunswick needed now is capital for the development of its resources, and a revival of the spirit which was so evident during the war period, from 1914 to 1918. New Brunswick, he said, had come out of the period of depression following the war better than any other Province.

Evidence of a spirit of optimism was what the whole country needed, and about all it needed to bring about an industrial and commercial revival, which would put us back upon a solid footing as in 1914.

Quoting figures, the Premier compared New Brunswick's position with that of other provinces, as well as with the neighboring New England States, to show that its agricultural development was making favorable progress. This Province's growth of population, had been at the rate of 15 per cent, while that of two of the neighboring States of the American Union had been at the rate of 7 1/2 per cent.

Comparing New Brunswick with Nova Scotia, the Premier pointed out that the products of Nova Scotia's coal fields were not within $2,000,000 of the products of New Brunswick's forest resources.

The Premier predicted extensive development during the next year of the coal fields of the Province, as a result of the construction, under way, of the Canadian National Railway's branch line from Chipman to the mines at Minto, and the American Union had been at the rate of 7 1/2 per cent.

Regulating the Sale of Certified Seed Potatoes

(Experimental Farms Note).
During the past few years a favourable reputation has been acquired by certified seed potatoes of Canadian origin, not only throughout the Dominion, but also in many parts of the United States and the West Indies and it is incumbent upon all growers of certified seed to do everything possible to maintain this reputation.

As is now fairly well-known, the Dominion Department of Agriculture issues certification tags and attaches one of such tags to every bag, barrel or other container of seed potatoes which, as a result of two inspections made in the field and two made of the crops after harvesting, have been found to measure up to the standards set for certified seed. However, it has been found that from time to time attempts have been made by dealers to copy in part at least, the certification tags issued by the Department. This practice has had a misleading effect and has also been the cause of a good deal of complaint and misunderstanding, so much so that the Department recently found it necessary to make application for some legal enactment in order that such practice might in future be dealt with according to law.

For the information of all growers, dealers, shippers and buyers concerned, it is desired to give full publicity to a clause in the revised Destructive Insect and Pest Act regulations, which will take effect from September 1, 1923.

"An inspector shall have the power to inspect before export to any foreign country, or shipment within the Dominion, any plant, and to grant a certificate according to the requirements of any country demanding such, or for domestic purposes."

"All certificates so issued must bear a copy of the official seal of the plant or insect pest inspection service carried on under the Act."

"In the case of potatoes for which such certificates are required no person shall be allowed to sell or offer, or to transport, or to hold in store, for sale, for seed purposes, any potatoes in any manner or form described or designated as inspected, registered, selected, or disease-free seed potatoes unless such potatoes are contained in sacks, barrels, or other containers, to each of which shall be durably attached a certificate stating that any such potatoes contained therein have been inspected in the field and after harvest by an inspector under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act and have been found sufficiently vigorous and free from serious diseases, other pests, foreign varieties, mechanical injury, or other blemishes to warrant them being classed as Extra No. 1 Certified Seed Potatoes. All such certificates shall bear the grower's name or number as well as a copy of the official seal of the Plant Disease Inspection Service of the Department of Agriculture, Canada."

"It is recommended in this connection that all persons concerned in the growing, purchasing, or distribution of certified seed potatoes make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the appearance of the official certification tag. A print of this tag is being published in the annual report of the Division of Botany for the year 1922, copy of which may be obtained in the near future, by application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa."

It is also desired to emphasize the following conditions, which are printed on the back of each and every certification tag, from which it will be seen that the grower of certified seed potatoes, in accepting certification tags, undertakes certain responsibilities which he will in future be required strictly to live up to:

"This tag is issued for one container of potatoes, and is to certify that satisfactory evidence has been given that the contents have been grown by the person whose certificate number it bears, and that they have been inspected in the field and after harvest by an officer of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and have been found to be sufficiently vigorous and free from serious diseases, other pests and foreign varieties to warrant them being classed as GRADE EXTRA No. 1 SEED POTATOES."

"This tag is issued on the express condition that the person to whom it is issued and whose certificate number it bears, undertakes to grade the potatoes for which it is to be used so that they shall be practically free from rot or otherwise seriously injured or blemished tubers, free from all foreign or off-type tubers and so that no more than five per cent by weight shall be below three ounces or above twelve ounces in weight, and on the further condition that the said person assumes entire responsibility for the contents of any package to which this tag may be attached by him."

GREAT MARKET FOR POTATO GROWERS

Supply of P. E. I. Seed is Altogether Inadequate to Meet Demands from South.

(Charlottetown Guardian)

"Growers of certified Island seed potatoes should realize that they have absolutely an unlimited market for their stock and that if they do not cultivate this market in quantity as well as quality, they are liable to lose the big opportunity that is knocking at their door," declared Mr. C. W. Banks of the Southern Produce Association, Norfolk, Va., in an interview with the Guardian yesterday.

Mr. Banks who is making his yearly visit here in connection with Coblentz seed shipments for his organization was emphatic in stressing the necessity of greatly increased output. At the present time it is impossible to get nearly a sufficient quantity of Island seed potatoes. Last year his organization purchased sixty per cent of Island certified seed of the Coblentz type. This year they have taken all they could get, and it will be necessary to purchase some 20,000 sacks in New Brunswick or elsewhere. Other growers are met with the same difficulty in securing an adequate supply. If this continues the trade will be discouraged as quality alone will not induce them to come here, when the quantity is so unsatisfactory.

The organization which Mr. Banks represents was one of the very first customers of the P. E. I. Island Potato Growers' Association. Four years ago as an experiment they bought 30 sacks of Island seed potatoes. Next year, they increased their order to 200 sacks. On the following year 1,600 sacks were taken and as already stated, they are now buying all they can get and almost begging for more. They are willing to make a five year contract with Island growers at good prices. They have been boosting the quality of Island stock everywhere and last year Mr. Banks, when on the Island stressed the urgent need of greatly increased output.

"We were the first to appreciate the quality of your stock. We tried out our first supply at our Experimental Station in Norfolk at a time when your potatoes were unknown. Now you have such an active demand that you cannot give us anywhere near what we want. You have got wonderful possibilities if you will produce as intensively as you can."

The seed potatoes purchased here cost the Virginia association between $5.50 and $6.00 delivered at Norfolk. They pay 85 cents duty to get them into the States—about the price of table stock. Then there are cold storage expenses as the potatoes must be kept in storage until the planting season. They are planted early and dug up when quite green and many of them are shipped back to Canada as far east as St. John and Halifax.

The Southern Produce Association covers seven countries and includes 2,700 growers. The Eastern Shore Virginia Exchange is an even larger organization but they do not use as much Island seed. Between us we could handle between 40,000 to $50,000 sacks of your potatoes each year if we could get them," Mr. Banks stated. "That is about ten times what you are producing. Don't you see that if this difficulty continues we will be forced to look elsewhere for a supply that will be adequate? We don't want to do this, because your certified stock is the best that we know of, and it is practically free from disease."

Mr. Banks believes that growers are awakening to their opportunity at last and that next year will see a largely increased crop. When the difference between the price paid for table stock and certified seed is considered, it would well seem that the extra care needed to produce the latter is abundantly repaid. He was interested to hear that not only in Virginia but in South Carolina and other parts of the States Island seed is being eagerly bargained for.

Free Tuition Offered Farmers

MacDonald College Extends Privileges to Farmers and Farmers' Sons.

In order to stimulate interest in the study of agricultural subjects and to make better farmers for Canada the Board of Governors of McGill University has granted an extension of the privilege previously limited to the Province of Quebec and will accept students in agriculture tuition free for a period of two years. This is done with the realization that agriculture is the backbone of Canadian industry and that everything possible should be done to encourage the pursuit of farming.

The lifting of the tuition fee places before farmers and their sons an unparalleled opportunity to participate in college life and all its activities and obtain a thorough education in all agricultural subjects as well as those kindred studies which are sure to be of benefit to the farmer. The low cost of board at MacDonald College—$6.50 a week for board and room—places before the prospective student an opportunity to obtain a college education at little more than it would cost him to live at home. Other fees are almost nil.

The removal of the tuition fee and the fact that the railroad fare to MacDonald is lower from Eastern Ontario and the Maritimes than to any other college of similar standing is expected to result in an increase in enrolments.

The removal of the tuition is also being applied to the Winter Short Course in Agriculture, which gives the farmer an intensive training in agriculture, from Nov. 15 to March 15, the period when his time is least needed at home.

FREDERICTON MAN WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Goes to MacDonald College For Further Education in Agricultural Subjects.

Robert C. Parent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Fredericton has been selected as New Brunswick nominee for a $500 post-graduate scholarship in scientific agriculture tenable at MacDonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue. Every province but Quebec will have one representative at the special post-graduate course for which these scholarships were offered. Quebec, owing to the bilingual situation, will have both an English speaking and a French speaking representative.

Mr. Parent, who represents New Brunswick in this post-graduate course, received his early education at the county school at Douglas, York Co. In 1919 he was graduated from the Fredericton High School and then went to Truro Agricultural College, finishing his course there in 1921, and receiving the Scholastic Diploma and the Governor General's medal for highest standing in the second year. In 1922 he was graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College with his degree of B. S. A. He received first class honors on his thesis prepared for graduation. For the last two years he has been engaged in experimental work at the Dominion Experimental Station, specializing on cereals and forage.

SAILOR STARTLED BY IMMENSE METEOR

New York, Sept. 18.—As he peered ahead into the dim quiet reaches of the Atlantic in the early dawn last Wednesday, Second Officer H. H. Lancaaster of the Royal Mail Steam Packet liner Orizaba, was shocked from his post on the bridge when the heavens suddenly broke into a canopy of brilliant, blinding light.

For five minutes he held spell-bound while an immense meteor, the sailor's "ball of the heavens" shot from horizon to horizon, leaving a luminous, greenish vapor in its wake, suffusing a supernatural atmosphere. The meteor was recorded as flashing at 5.50 o'clock, Greenwich time. It was about four times the size of Sirius.

FARMER CO-OPERATION

New Brunswick farmers find that co-operation is of great value in getting fertilizer, seeds, feeds and other supplies. The Nova Scotia fruit growers' have like experience in marketing and buying. In Maine a Potato Growers' Exchange is proving of much benefit. A Caribou letter says: "The Maine Potato Growers' Exchange made first shipments of Irish cabbages September 4, commencing with occasional deliveries by members. Harvesting has progressed until at present loading for shipment is general over the entire area. The Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, Inc., has established offices in Boston to handle the sale of the entire table stock output of the Maine Potato Growers Exchange. Recent developments in the potato market have demonstrated the value of the distribution service which the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers may render through their two hundred established connections throughout the markets of North America. Four hundred cars of Maine potatoes remained unsold on the track in Boston Tuesday night. The Maine Potato Growers Exchange did not have a single car in this number unsold. Thus far every car shipped by the exchange has moved into the market for immediate

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Is advertising as potent a force as its advocates claim? Is the lack of consistent and carefully executed advertising a weakness in retail trade? Let the following answer: According to Herman Rosenfield, advertising manager for Sears, Roebuck and Company, the big Chicago mail order house, this firm has one bureau employing several persons whose duty it is to read every week the country newspapers from all over the United States. "There is not a paper of any consequence in our trade territory that our bureau does not get," Mr. Rosenfield recently stated. "This bureau looks over these papers carefully, and whenever we find a town where the merchants are not advertising to any great extent in their local papers, we immediately flood that territory with our literature. This always brings results that are far in excess of those obtained by the same efforts in territory where the merchants advertise."

The Credit Men's Journal is the organ of an organization, the object of which is to preserve the prosperous and sound state of retail business, and the journal's comment upon it, but no town will advance under high taxation.

The town's bonded debt, including the money borrowed under the housing act, and the two new issues of this year for streets and water extension—over a million dollars. Isn't it time to cry a halt on expenditures?

Id closing I can truly say we owe much to the People's Paper the Graphic, which has always pursued a moderate course, and has at all times backed the town and county.

I trust you will find space for this letter. Thanking you in advance, I remain, unloading and distribution into the channels of trade."

It is further announced that shipments are made as far west as Ohio and as far south as Tampa, Florida, and that the returns received from shipments thus far this season are satisfactory. The value of co-operation in the agricultural field has been so well demonstrated in different provinces and states that the outlook is at a loss to understand why the system is not more generally adopted.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Sept. 21, 1923
To the Editor of The Graphic.

Dear Sir:— I notice in a recent report of the Town Council meeting that "if funds can be arranged for through the Royal Bank" that work will be started on the fourth dam. Estimated cost of the trenching some seventeen to twenty thousand dollars. Purchase of farm lands and old buildings, nearly five thousand dollars more. The cost of 20 inch main, reservoir, and right of way and water rights of the other property owners was not made known to those who pay the bills. Evidently the thin end of the wedge is started.

One would have expected that some mention would have been made of the millions of gallons of water which go to waste through the millways, spring and fall, through the failure of not completing the concrete dam at the reservoir when constructed or since. The heavy expenditures that are being made for permanent streets by outside contractors, (the highest bidders by nearly $9000 accepted) notwithstanding we have quite an extensive outfit for such work, means that we will have to practice strict economy. In this northern part of N. B. seven commercial lines in operation. The same authority reports a great commercial and military aviation programme in Russia under German supervision. Dutch, French, German and Italian planes are used. There are eight schools of aviation established. German experts and German pilots are employed. The Soviets, moreover, recently ordered 200 planes for the Red Army. In Italy alone 100 were recently purchased. The full programme calls for about 5,000. "Russia" says Colonel Guille of the Italian general staff, "if she is to be associated with a European country, will form a re-approvisioning with her neighbor Germany." Nothing could appear to be more reasonable. Cooperation is in the interests of both. They are close neighbors. Their enemies they have in common. Russia has resources, Germany has the technicians whom Russia needs. Russia has man power but needs of ficers while Germany has the leaders whom the former lacks. Germany can strike a swift blow; she is highly concentrated energy. Russia lacks communications and is slow, but has staying power, which Germany has not.

In Italy alone 100 were recently purchased. The full programme calls for about 5,000. "Russia" says Colonel Guille of the Italian general staff, "if she is to be associated with a European country, will form a re-approvisioning with her neighbor Germany." Nothing could appear to be more reasonable. Cooperation is in the interests of both. They are close neighbors. Their enemies they have in common. Russia has resources, Germany has the technicians whom Russia needs. Russia has man power but needs of ficers while Germany has the leaders whom the former lacks. Germany can strike a swift blow; she is highly concentrated energy. Russia lacks communications and is slow, but has staying power, which Germany has not.

MOVEMENT OF HAY INTO NEW

BRUNSWICK—Sept. 15th, 1923. Mr. J. King Kelley, Secy. Union of N. B. Municipalities, 108 Prince William St., St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:

Your communication of August 20th, addressed to Toronto. We have had some advice as to a shortage in certain localities, but we also were aware that there is a large surplus of hay in Southern New Brunswick, also in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

We have got as yet received from the Department of Agriculture of the New Brunswick Government that there would be any distress in the territory during the coming winter, but possibly you have some information and had to match and fitch scarf, a gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Rev. E. J. Shaw performed the ceremony in the parlor under a bower of maple leaves and sweet peas.

After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served and Mr. and Mrs. MacIntosh left by auto for a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York.

On their return they will reside in Bathurst.

GENERAL FREIGHT AGENT.

Yours truly,

MacINTOSH—McNEISH
Point La Nin, Sept. 25.—A quiet and pretty wedding took place Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacIntosh, when their eldest daughter, Margaret Olive, was united in marriage to Harold James MacIntosh of Bathurst. The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a suit of navy duvetyn and hat to match and fitch scarf, a gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Rev. E. J. Shaw performed the ceremony in the parlor under a bower of maple leaves and sweet peas.

After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served and Mr. and Mrs. MacIntosh left by auto for a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York.

FAMOUS WAR TUG TO GO COASTING

Purchased By O. J. Klein Transportation Co. For Use in Pulpwood Trade.

The famous war tug Gwineth, formerly a Canadian mine sweeper, has passed into more peaceful and commercial pursuits with her delivery to the O. J. Klein Transportation Company, the head office of which is situated here where also the president of the corporation, Mr. O. J. Klein, makes his residence. The Gwineth left her berth at Victoria pier in Montreal harbor on Wednesday last bound for ports on the Bay Chaleur. Employed in the pulpwood trade she will ply between ports along this coast and St. John, P. Q.

During the war years the Gwineth was a Canadian mine sweeper running out of Halifax and did very notable service in this respect, being the first to pick up mines in Canadian waters and was employed in this dangerous task until all Canadian waterways and harbor entrance were declared safe.

The Gwineth passed the steamboat Inspector last week and signed on a new crew. She was originally a Dutch ship, built in America and registered as the "Zander Zee" Captain Emile Plant, of Quebec, has taken charge. Her registered tonnage is 119.

Solving the Problem of the Movable Sunday Feast

Sunday, unfortunately, is not always a day of rest for the busy housewife, for while she may have provided amply for the regular family meals, it is the "extras" that mix up her schedule.

With a later and heartier breakfast than usual, she counts on a sort of informal "hand-out" luncheon of cake, fruit and a sandwich to tide over until the hearty dinner. Or if the dinner is served at noon, then an informal supper is provided, consisting for instance, of a simple salad, tea, cake and fruit. However, the family may be seized with desire to run off on a motor ride, or some other emergency may bring forth the question, "Can't we have dinner at night instead of noon?" or "at noon instead of night?"

One mother gave her ultimatum recently. Now her dinner is a movable feast because it is cold. There may be a large chicken, a half ham or tongue boiled or a piece of meat roasted on Saturday to be served cold on Sunday. A dessert is also made and moulded, salad materials are obtained and plenty of bread, butter and plain cake are provided the day before. The result of this plan is peace and satisfaction all around. Potatoes boiled on Saturday with cream or make a salad. Pies canned are a matter of a few minutes, and corn cooks very quickly. So in one family at least worry over the Sunday dinner is sidetracked.

Meat cooked to be eaten cold requires a little different cooking from that required when it is eaten warm. The following receipts give hints needed for such cookery: A vegetable salad, like the one suggested, can be made to take the place of hot vegetables.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

A wind came up out of the sea, And said "O! mista make room for me."

It hailed the ships and cried "Sail on, Ye mariners, the night is gone."

And hurried landward far away, Crying, "Awake! it is the day."

It shouted through the belfry-tower "Awake! O bell! proclaim the hour!"

—Langfellow.

My message might be summed up in the one word "Awake." Sometimes when we read the story of the disciples in the Garden, we wonder at their sleeping at such a time, and we wonder still how they felt at that gentle of rebuke: "What, could ye not watch with me one hour?" Yet two thousand years later we are sleeping as soundly as those disciples slept, and with less cause, for they were without doubt weary of mind and body.

So in the hour of supreme need, THEY SLEPT. They could not do much anyway you say? Perhaps, and yet "They also serve who only stand and wait."

So we, too, sleep, sleep, sleep while a waiting, restless world is waiting for the dawn of a new day.

It needs faith and hope and charity, as perhaps it never needed them before, to ease its unrest, and chase away the shadow of night and doubt and sorrow.

"So many worlds, so much to do, so little time, such things to be,"—yet we sleep.

I would carry the figure of speech a little further, at the risk of becoming tedious it may be. I would apply right here to our Society as a whole, to every committee in the society, to every member. We are all asleep, more or less, and I would cry "Awake, awake, awake!" for there is work to be done, and there is joy in the doing, there are cares to be lifted and sorrows to be soothed, wrongs to be righted and battles to be fought, and peace to be had in the accomplishing of these things, and inertia brings neither peace nor rest, nor any other worthwhile reward.

I would have each one of us responsible for a certain measure of good in our own lives, responsible to each other, in order to bring out the best in each. Anxious for the good of the Society as a whole rather than any selfish desire for our own glory, that the work may go on, at least as wholeheartedly as it has ever gone on in the past, and I trust more so, I would like to make it plain that so far as my time permits it is at the service of the society, but no one person can accomplish the impossible—no one person can keep a society running smoothly. That can only be done with the co-operation of each and every member, but perhaps that spirit might be greatly encouraged by the several committees of the Union.

If each committee would realize that its work is of real importance to the progress of the Union, I believe much would be accomplished throughout the coming year, for a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, and I would have no weak links in our Union, and willing service you will find will be accomplished much, in the strengthening of that chain. I would earnestly request that the convenor of

Cleopatra Washed Her Face This Way

She used Palm and Olive oils, the same rare oils which are blended in Palmolive. She knew that to have a fresh fine skin, thorough cleansing was necessary. The crude combination of Palm and Olive oils which was the best that even royalty could then obtain is now brought to perfection in Palmolive.

The girl of today, if she would be beautiful, follows Cleopatra's practice. Every day she cleanses the skin thoroughly with mild Palmolive Soap. Never does she scrub cold cream, rouge and powder to accumulate and clog the pores of the skin. She knows that this starts irritation and blackheads, pimples and other blemishes result.

Palmolive with its mild creamy lather is lotion-like in its action. It freshens, revives and stimulates and leaves the skin delightfully fresh and rosy.

Thus a great luxury may be enjoyed at the price of ordinary soap. You can pay more, but you can't get a finer, milder cleanser.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

Before closing, I would thank you, the President of the Union for the coming year, that they may become familiar with their work, if they are not already so, and if they are already familiar with it that they will endeavor to bring us some new ideas and good-fellowship may reign throughout the year, and blessings

WOMEN MUST COVER NECKS

The Pope Strengthens His Edict Against Immoral Dress of Women.

Rome, Sept. 25.—As a result of the recent sensational incident when 150 women, forming a part of a deputation to the Pope, were turned back from the Vatican because their dresses were low cut at the neck and had short sleeves, the Papal majordomo has issued a new set of regulations for dress when being received by the Pope.

Women must wear dresses covering the arms to the wrist and the neck to the chin, says the regulation. The dresses must be made of thick material and not transparent and be long enough to reach down to the ankles of the wearer. Dresses giving undue prominence to the figure are discouraged.

Gloves must not be worn and only wedding or engagement rings may adorn the fingers of intending visitors to the Vatican, who are now submitted to three examinations, viz., first at the door, second at St. Dun's Court yard, and if they pass these points their invitation card is crossed with a blue mark. The third examination is made in the Papal ante-chamber, where successful candidates receive a red cross on their cards.

Make-up of any description is strictly forbidden. Hair dye is tolerated provided it is not of the conspicuous peroxide tint.

Oysters in Tomato Curry.

Take a quart can of tomatoes or a dozen fresh tomatoes, cut up and add to them a sliced onion, a half bud of garlic mashed, a few leaves of stalks of celery cut up, four cloves, half a bay leaf, a heaping teaspoonful of curry powder, pepper, salt, a quarter cupful of sugar, a thin slice of bacon and a dessert-spoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Let this mixture simmer gently for a half-hour. Strain it, thicken it slightly with a tablespoonful each of butter and flour rubbed to a fine paste, and, when smooth, add the oysters, which have been drained and dried. Have ready a rice ring on a hot dish, and turn the curry into the centre.

A local merchant upon whom we called recently gave us a first class talk upon "buying at home." We certainly agreed with him in all he said, and more too. The Graphic has always preached this doctrine, and lived up to it.

But what of our local merchants? A genial solicitor for wrapping paper, paper bags, etc., had induced him to order his counter check books from him, "just to make up a good sized freight shipment."

Our local merchant clean forgot that our local printers could supply these counter check books at the same price. He sent out of town for them.

But its a poor rule that won't work both ways.

"Why, it's in the papers; he was murdered last night over in Jersey City—stabbed through the back in an automobile. You saw it, didn't you?"

"H—! that guy? He was a Chilean captain, or something. Yer don't think that maybe George bumped him off, do yer?"

"No! I know he didn't; Harris was with me all last evening."

"And you haven't any notion who did?"

I shook my head negatively. Costigan sat for some moments, his chin cupped in his huge fist, his pipe extinguished and his forehead creased in thought. Then he looked up suddenly, a strange light in his eyes.

"Say, Daly," he asked in a hoarse whisper, "you know if there was a Russian Jew mixed up in this affair anywhere?"

CHAPTER VIII.

A Friend at the McAlpin—The Dag-ger Heist.

His unexpected question startled me. In a way it was an odd echo of the vague suspicion which had been pursuing me ever since the early afternoon. Somewhere there was a mysterious hand operating—but whose hand?

"A Russian Jew?" I questioned.

"Well, I'll tell you. Maybe it don't amount to nothin' at all, but it's a damn good idea."

A fellow they call 'Sly' Levy—he's a cheap thief, a dip mostly—blew in here last night with a note for Harris. He left it with one of the night barkeepers, and seemed to be in a hurry to get away. I delivered the note. It was sealed, but it wasn't sealed in the way we don't address on it either. So I didn't think it was too penitentiary sentence to pry it open, using a bit of steam to loosen up the flap. But I didn't get much out of it, only two lines spelled out in print letters. "Where you met K. eight tomorrow. Don't fail; it's important. L. W. T. That's all."

"Do you make anything of that?"

"I don't," I said honestly. "It's part of this job. I'll explain after a bit. What did you do then?"

"Sealed it up, an' gave it back to Joe. I didn't see no harm in it. He says he knows who this 'L. W. T.' stands for."

"I can make a mighty good guess, Costigan—a Russian Jew, all right; Ivan Waldron."

"The Jew on his face remained fixed; evidently the name was unknown."

"Don't know the fellow? Likely enough; he doesn't operate in your line, but he is a crook just the same. I never saw him myself, but I've heard about him for a long while—never anything good. He's an agitator, an anarchist, a revolutionary orator; one of those bugs who fight society and government, and hate every body but themselves, a loud-mouthed nuisance."

Costigan's mouth was open.

"Say," he interrupted, "what's that kind of guy got to do with George Harris?"

"He's got to do with him—he's out after the coin. He saw or heard of some money, and naturally reached out for it. He was the first one to get onto this particular game. They were using him, this Chilean rascal, to pull their chestnuts out of the fire, and that's how he tumbled to this bunch of money floating about, begging somebody to pick it up. He had worried himself inside, and knew it was coming. But he didn't have sense enough to tackle the game alone. He wanted somebody else to run all the risk, and he turned over his share. Do you get it now?"

"Sure; he blew the thing for Harris."

"In a way—yes. He sent for him to come back from England, but without explaining just what his graft was. On the way over Harris picked up another end of the same net, and went after it himself. He wasn't any obligation to Waldron, but he preferred to play his hand alone."

"And the Russian has found out that?"

"That's the way I'd read the cards, Costigan, silent a long while, and I lit a cigar and watched him, his great hands closing and unclosing, as he slowly reviewed the situation."

"Say, this guy what was humped off—did he ever do it, get anything?"

"His pockets were rifled, the papers say—all but a little change."

"Are you sure this fellow Alva didn't have that bunch of money along with him?"

"No! I'm not sure, of course, but Harris had been shadowing him for a month. Still, come to think, Alva was with Krantz the same night. He might have touched him."

"With who?"

"Krantz—Adolph Krantz—the banker. Kulb, Krantz and Company, over in Wall street," I explained.

"Is he the same guy that 'K' stands for in the letter?"

"No doubt. He and Harris had an interview at 247 Le Comte street."

"Le Comte, hey! I wonder who lives there?"

"Well, I can tell you—it's Ivan Waldron."

His fist came crashing down onto the arm of his chair.

"H—! That's all clear enough then. He and George are up to some deal together. Say, I believe this Russian guy is the buck who got Alva."

"Do you think so? Well, I am not so sure of that. But, anyway, what shall we do?"

"Wait until George comes back. There ain't any cause for us to butt in yet. This is his game, as I see it. If it was you, Mr. Daly," he added grimly, "you wouldn't thank nobody to shove in uninvited—would yer now?"

I was unconvinced by his argument, yet knew of no way of answering it. He must have seen my predicament in the expression of my face.

"Let come out all right, Daly," he volunteered. "I know George, an' he ain't the kind to be outwitted by no Russian Jew. Let's have a drink an' we'll call it off for tonight. You leave me your telephone number an' if anything happens I'll let you know."

"I'll be home in half an hour," I promised.

"All right, but don't forget to call me up. I'll be home in half an hour."
