"AN ORGANIZED ATTEMPT.

the report of the Toronto Globe, from

The following paragraph appears in their special correspondent in this city, who is understood to be a member of The Advertiser staff: "Saturday was a day that will be long remembered in London, when the strike of the electric railway employes reached a climax in a riot that had to be quelled by troops. Since Thursday an organized attempt to work up a strike among the present employes of the company has been going on among the strikers, and this morning two of the leaders. John Tuke and Charles Wrightman, went around the factories to warn strikers and sympathizers to assemble at noon in London East." We are authorized to say the regular London correspondent of the Torento Globe never sent the above dispatch. Two reports of Saturday's disturbance were sent to the Globe-one by the regular correspondent of the paper, in the interests of accuracy and fair reporting; the other, evidently prepared in the interests of the Company, with a view to influencing outside opinion against organized labor. As to the disturbance (much exaggerated), we believe it to be a positive slander to say it was planned, if by anyone, by organized labor. At all events, it was the other side, not organized labor, that was likeliest to think it stood to gain by fomenting disturbance, and thereby getting a pretext for bringing in outside volunteers, and passing silly, bombastic resolutions in the City Council.

There is nothing like precedent, and it might now be in order for the City Council to pass a resolution somewhat as follows: "To you it is commanded, citizens of London, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image. And whose falleth not down and worshipeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning flery fur-

Wealthy Corporations and Their Methods.

The Free Press quotes from the New York Journal a paragraph written by Hon. John J. Ingalls on labor troubles, and adds: "These are the sentiments a noted American statesman." "Noted statesman," indeed! Ingalls is an anti-British fire-eater, a notorious tail-twister, a man who was turned out of the American Senate by the legislature of his own State, who has lost all influence in his own party, and is reduced to making a living by writing for the yellowest newspaper in the United States. It is not a compliment to apply the dictum of either Ingails or the New York Journal to the city of London. Canadians are not likely to look to the United States for models in the relationship of capital and labor. In the United States the agglomeration of Courts and legislatures, and members of municipal bodies, have been proved "The following is a paragraph from to be in the pay of these gigantic corporations. In Canada, fortunately, we are free, as yet, from some of the worst vices of the trust system, a capital and labor have not been divided into hostile camps. Yet there are corporations, even in Canada, which, if they could have their way, would regard not only municipal councils, but those charged with decisions, and the administration of law, as simply so many agencies to work in their interests and carry out their behests.

Everyone who was down town Saturday night knows that the spirit of riot was not in the air; that the vast majority of the so-called "mob" was composed of eminently respectable citizens, who were only there as spectators, and that the stone-throwing was done by a mere handful, who took shelter in the skirts of the crowd. If the citizens drawn there by curiosity had not unintentionally screened the disorderly element, the latter would have been scattered like chaff by the police. Law-abiding citizens should be careful not to assemble in large numbers in times of excitement

He is the worst enemy of law or order who fails to respect and obey the police. The police of London are a fine body of men, and will compare favorably with any force on the continent. With one or two exceptions they are in hearty sympathy with the strikers; but they will and must obey official orders. It is incumbent on every citizen to give them moral aid and support in doing what to them is a disagreeable duty.

CLIMBING THE SPIRAL STAIRS

Strange Sight as Michigan Convicts March to Chapel,

Jackson, Mich., July 11.-It's quite a novel and interesting sight to those who attend Sunday service at the prison to see the 800 prisoners mount the 50-foot spiral iron stairs to the chapel. The convicts are formed in single file on the lower stone floor of the prison, which is some feet below the surface of the earth outside, and then march nearly into the top part of the center part of the prison.

For 15 feet or so the up-going men in stripes are in full view of all the people waiting to go into service. There are long 2-inch iron gratings between the stairs up which the prisoners are climbing, and the waiting crowd. The noise of the clanking on the old iron stairs made by the heavy nailed soles of the convicts keeps up a ceaseless clang, clang, clang for the hour, and those waiting for service watch the convicts climb like strange-looking acrobats. Some have clean crothes, others wear mere dirty stripes. Some are pale-faced and come from punishment cells. The rule is that all convicts, not sick, or in strict punishment, must attend "divine worship." Occasionally a man's suit shows broad bands of white and black. This indicates that he is in disgrace among his fellows. When the prisoners are seated the doors at the side of the guard room are thrown open and the 100 or 200 visitors admitted.

THE MEN ASK ARBITRATION

Statement of Their Grievances Against the Company.

Charged That Seven Clauses of the Agreement Were Violated Repeatedly by the Company.

The Employes Ask for a Full and Fair Arbitration - Sub-Committee Appointed to Try to Bring This About.

The strike committee of the city council, together with the advisory committee of citizens, met this morning to consider the employes' list of grievances. The document was read, but not considered in detail. The present situation was freely talked of, and the committee adjourned till tonight at 7:30, when they will receive a report of a sub-committee, consisting of the mayor, Chairman Parnell and Mr. A. B. Cox, appointed to interview the men and the company. Ald. Parnell (chairman), Rumball, Wilkey, Graham, Carrothers and Douglass, and the mayor represented the council; Messrs. A. B. Cox, J. Mattinson, Dr. Roome, Wm. Hunter, the citizens' committee. Mr. A. B. Cox considered that it would be better if the committee met with closed doors. He feared that some statements might be made which would inflame one side or the other. The chairman stated that he had received no request from anyone interested in the preparation of the document, that it be withheld from the pub-

Mr. Cox explained that it was his intention that the document be ultimately furnished the press, but that the discussion be carried on privately. There was a danger of statements being made which might be detrimental instead of tending to a settlement. He moved that the reporters be excluded during the discussion. The mayor moved that the session be chairman's vote THE GRIEVANCES.

The following statement from the men was then read by City Clerk King-The grievances complained of by the striking employes of the London Street

Railway Company are: That the spirit and intention of the agreement made between the London months mentioned therein, that the of the favored ones eighty cents only? ber, 1898, was continually broken or evaded by the company and its manager during the six months of its ex-

Clause 2 reads as follows: "All employes of the company shall have full liberty to affiliate with any lawful association or club, and shall not be required to sign any document abridging their full rights under this agreement," and was intended to give employes the right to affiliate with the union if they saw fit; but the manager systematically prevented that by questioning applicants for positions upon the street railway as to whether they thought they could be loyal to the company and to the union whilst in the company's employ, and then requesting the applicants who stated they were willing to be loyal to both to call again, only to find that their services were not required; whilst others, who promised not to join the union, were given employment by the

Clause 3 reads as follows: "All conductors or motormen in the employ of the company to be marked upon the blackboard in accordance with the time they were hired; the spare men to get spare work, which as far as practicable shall be equally divided among them," and was intended that spare work should be divided equally amongst the spare men in the company's employ; but the members of the union did not get their fair share of the spare work they had a right to expect under Clause 4 reads as follows: "All conductors and motormen shall report at the car barns fifteen minutes before their run goes out, and anyone fail-Ing to do so, his place shall be filled by the first man on the spare list, and any motorman or conductor failing to report or send word within four hours after his run goes out, shall lose the next day also, unless his services are required." Union men who failed to report fifteen minutes beforehand, but who otherwise properly reported under this clause were time and again compelled to lose two days' work instead of one; whilst non-union men who failed to observe the requirements of this section were often given work con-trary to the intention of the cause, and to the exclusion of the union employes. Clause 6 reads as follows: "No conductor or motorman shall lose his own time to look up accident reports, when he is requested to do so by manager or superintendent, but in such case his pay shall go on at the regular rates." The company created a grievance thereunder when their officials informed union employes that they were required to look up evidence in accident cases, and would not be paid for the time they would be off duty obtaining the evidence the company required for its own purposes.

Clause 9 reads as follows: "The company to have the right to make such rules or regulations as may from time to time be deemed necessary, but not inconsistent with this agreement." As a matter of fact, the rules and regulations issued by the company during the six months this agreement was in existence seriously conflicted therewith, so far as the union employes were concerned.

Clause 11 intended that union employes who went out on strike on the 27th day of October, 1898, should be allowed to return to the company's em-ploy, and should not be discharged except for other and good cause; but union employes have repeatedly been suspended and discharged by the company without good and sufficient cause under this agreement, and in violation of the intention of this clause. Clause 12 intended that an employe who was not satisfied with the manager's decision against him, on any charge, could appeal therefrom within three days thereafter to the president and directors, and that the appeal would be heard, and in case it was found that the employe suspended or dismissed was not at fault he should be reinstated on his former run with full back pay. On the 20th day of April, 1899, a proper committee of employes met Manager Carr in connection with certain grievances of employes, which Manager Carr that day decided against the employes, and the committee notified Mr. Carr that day that they would appeal to the president and directors against his decision. Mr. Carr requested that the appeals should stand until he returned, as he was leaving the city, and on the 27th day of April last, after Mr. Carr's return, the appeals of eight of the employes were presented to him, and he accepted them, and from that day to this not one of the eight appeals have been heard or acted upon, as far as the union employes can ascertain.

The above are the grievances arising from the violation of the spirit of the agreement, and serve to show the necessity of a fuller and clearer agree-ment. The treatment of the employes prior to the agreement was such that the individual employes found it necessary for their protection to unite together. It is unnecessary to repeat the grievances existing before the agreement, as the same were thoroughly ventilated at the time before the public, and the subsequent trifling with the public. The amendment carried on the terms of the agreement only serves to show how the individual employes would, without any agreement, be at the mercy of the company. The striking employes were informed by his Worship Mayor Wilson and others acting with him before the agreement dated the 11th day of November, 1898, was signed, that it was made for six months only, and they always understood that unless a new agreement was obtained at the end of the six whole of the employes might be dis-charged by the London Street Railway Company at any time thereafter that the company saw fit to do so. The new agreement presented to the London Street Railway Company by the union employes on the 9th day of May last for the company's consideration, with the amendments thereto in the heading and clause 2, requested by his Worship Mayor Wilson and certain aldermen, and assented to by the striking employes, they consider to be a fair and workable agreement to be entered into between the London Street Railway Company and themselves, and the said striking employes hereby offer now -as they have done before-to leave all matters in dispute of every nature and description whatsoever, between the London Street Railway Company, and themselves, to be arbitrated, the company and striking employes to appoint one arbitrator each, and the two arbitrators so appointed to choose a third, and the decision of a majority of the said arbitrators, after hearing the sworn evidence produced before them, to be accepted and adopted by the London Street Railway Company and its striking employes, as a final settlement of the matters in dispute between them and each of them.

More Plague Cases in Alexandria-Five artillerymen Killed by an Explosion.

London, July 11 .- A correspondent at Odessa writes that considerable comment was caused last week by the mysterious proceedings of one of the volunteer fleet of steamers. She embarked a battalion of inlantry and six machine guns and sailed mysteriously in the middle of the night for a secret destination. The wildest speculations were started, in the midst of which three days later, the steamer wurned with the troops and guns still These were subsequently aboard. This presumably precipitated events, for the Italian governor at Massowah, rushed a couple of companies of native troops there, and, as it turned out, anticipated Russian occupation by only a few days. The news of the governor's coupe reached St. Petersburg just in time to recall the steamer to Odessa, for, of course, perseverance in the enterprise would then have involved war with Italy. This is by no means desired, even to obtain a strategic position in the Red Sea, which is more or less a thorn in England's side. It is probable that Italy will now abandon the shadowy suzerainty and boldly annex Raheita. WON'T ARBITRATE.

PLAN OF THE POPE. The August number of the Catholic World Magazine will contain an ar-ticle which claims that Leo XIII., and not the czar, was the original pro-poser of the peace conference, and that, had not the Vatican's representatives been excluded, through the in-fluence of the Italian Government, the results of the conference would have been far greater than they are.

I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated, and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Samaria Prescription and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more and also at supper. [Special to The Advertiser.] Guelph, July 10 .- Today the Londons were defeated in a somewhat featureless game, partially attributable to Price's wildness in the box, allowing no less than nine passes to first. Cogswell, on the other hand, proved somewhat of an enigma, though in one inning he was hit freely. Cope's errors were costly, likewise McFadden's. Grimshaw singled to Jones, who let the ball pass him, advancing the running a base. Lafleur's safe hit tallied both. Miles walked, and Cogswell reached first on Cope's error! Warner flew out to Reed. AT HAMILTON. The fastest fight that has ever been pulled off in Hamilton was the "go" Saturday, between Harry Lemons, Niagara Falls, and Mike Donovan, of Rochester. The men fought hard from the start. In the first six or seven rounds Lemons had the better of the rounds Lemons had the better of the go, honors being even from that round to the 19th round, when Donovan landed several hard one in Lemon's wind. In the 20th Donovan floored the colored man. The referee gave Donovan the decision.

DRAW.

Tommy Sullivan, of Brooklyn, and Johnny Richie, of Chicago, fought 20 fast rounds to a draw in New York Saturday night.

TRADE IN CANADA

Wholesale Business Moderately Active Good Reports From Manitoba Wheat Fields.

Bradstreet's Review says: Wholesale trade at Montreal has been moderately active for this time of the season, but the midsummer period is now about reached, and business may be quiet for some time. Holiday-taking is interfering somewhat with business, but a great many orders are coming forward, both for present and future requirements from the retailers. Country remittances are reported to be more satisfactory, and that is regarded as a very favorable feature, as it indicates larger sales by retailers throughout the country and a generally sound condi-tion of business. Values of all domestic and imported manufactures con-tinue very firm. The market is quiet, but rates are steady.

Reports from the wheat fields of Manitoba show a satisfactory progress of the growing crop, and on the whole are favorable. There has been abundance of rain. Business at Winnipeg is very fair for this season. There is a marked activity in the lumber trade, and the building trade, and all that pertains to the latter is very active. The sales of drygoods and boots and shoes for the fall trade have been large, as retailers throughout the province expect a large increase in business over previous years. There is a good demand for provisions and groceries, and the hardware and metal trades and the implement business are very active. Payments are fair.

Business for the week at Toronto shows a large volume of trade for this time of the year. Last month was a very good one for many wholesale lines, and the sales were generally much larger than for the same month last year. Crop reports from Ontario are fair. A good many wheat fields indicate a thin yield, but the crops of coarse grains will be large. Values in all staple lines continue very firm, and as the fall business is being pushed, retailers find that they have to pay large advances for many goods, especially fine woolen goods. Business conditions are in a healthy shape for the fall. There have been but few failures lately, remit-tances are very satisfactory for this time of the year, and the wholesale trade have but few accounts that give them any anxiety. The local money market is steady at previous rates. There is a good demand for funds for business purposes, but the amount of business done in call loans is quite normal.

There is a good demand for general supplies at the coast. The building trade at Vancouver is active, and builders supplies are moving freely. British Columbia mills are sending large quantities of lumber to North China, and getting good prices. Some large business blocks are being erected at Vancouver, and a good many houses are being built, but owing to the large number of new arrivals, houses are still scarce. Values of general staple drygoods are firm, and a large movement for the fall is expected. Business with the north country is still very good, and the arrival recently of parties with liberal takes of gold encourage traders in the belief that business with the northern gold fields will continue brisk for a long time.

A Well-Known Farmer

Of New Glasgow, P. Q., Says:

"Paine's Celery Saved My Life."

Mr. Dunbar Had Been a Sufferer for Fifteen ars.

Hespital Treatment and Patent Medicines Failed to Cure Him.

Six Bottles of Paine's Celery Compound Made Him a New Man.

Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal. Gentlemen:-After fifteen years of terrible sufferings from that most miserable of troubles, dyspepsia, I have been completely cured by Paine's Celery Compound, and I am delighted to make my experience known for the good of sufferers who have not yet found the great dyspepsia banisher.

During my long years of agony, doctors in St. Jerome and St. Lin prescribed for me and attended me, and for a long time I was in the Montreal Hospital, but all the best medical aid failed to meet my case. I had also used a great many patent medicines, but they failed to give the results they promised. A friend who had successfully used your Paine's Celery Compound advised me to give it a trial, and I now thank Heaven for my deliverance from a slow death. After using six bottles of your wonderful medicine I am perfectly cured, feel younger, stronger and more active; I can sleep, eat and do ail my work now with pleasure. Paine's Celery Compound certainly saved my life. Yours sincerely,

The Ticket of Leave System. One of the most important of the measures brought before Parliament at Its present session is the bill submitted by the Minister of Justice for the conditional liberation of penitentiary convicts. As explained by Hon. Mr. Mills, on the second reading, the measure provides a needed reform in the treatment of offenders against the law, especially those who are convicted of a first offense. Under the act a prisoner may be liberated by the Governor-General in Council and granted a ticket of leave, or license, as it is called in the bill. Then he is bound to report to the sheriff or chief of police of the county or city to which he may go, and he is immediately under surveillance in respect to his good conduct during the period for which he has been sentenced, no matter what part of Canada he may live in. If at any time before the period for which he has been has elapsed, he is found guilty of improper conduct-if he hould at any time spend his time idly, associate with those who are known to be disreputable persons-he is liable to have his license revoked, and to be committed to the penitentiary to serve out the balance of the time for which he has been sentenced. If he is guilty of crime at any time before his sentence expires, he may be convicted of the offense with which he is charged, and the period for which he is sentenced will be added to the period of the time his original sentence has to run, and he may be committed to serve out the balance of one sentence and the whole of the other in the peniten-

The principle now about to be introduced into the law dealing with criminals has been found to work satisfactorily in Great Britain, and also in those of the neighboring States in which it has been tried. It will not be applied to old offenders, who are habitually disposed to crime, and who have not the necessary self-will to restrain themselves, when opportunity offers, from committing crime. Such persons under the operation of the new law; but young offenders-those who have committed offenses for the first time, and especially where those offenses are not of a serious character-may be liberated upon license being granted them, and upon subjecting themselves to the conditions imposed upon them by their license. They will be constantly acting under restraint during the whole period for which they have seen sentenced, and so acting, having an abiding knowledge that good conduct will be of the greatest value to them in maintaining their liberty, an opportunity will be afforded them to form better habits, and to become better members of society.

The system will have a tendency to reform the sentenced person at the time when reformation is easiest, and most to be expected. It is a method which those who have studied the criminal classes hold to be highly beneficial in reclaiming the juvenile criminal before he has long associated among those who are hardened in wrongdoing. In other words, what is to be tried is the reform of the youthful prisoner, where at all possible, outside the penitentiary walls, and apart from contact with the very vicious, which has hitherto been far too frequent,

The question of saving expense to the taxpayer has also been considered by the Minister of Justice. The cost of maintaining the penttentiaries is not now so great as it was prior to the advent of the present Government, and the population in prison has considerably increased. But it is to be expected that as the population is added to, the criminal population will also Increase, unless some change such as is here outlined takes place. It has been proposed-the present as well as the late Administration had the matter under consideration-that there should be a better classification of prisoners in the penal institutions, but such a classification would entail a very considerable increase in the cost of maintaining the convicts. So far, old offenders, whose lives have been steeped in iniquity, and those who are committed for the first time, have been herded together. The opportunities for reform under such conditions are very Cew indeed, especially among those yet in their teens, who have been convicted of offenses punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. It is to give this latter class a chance to retrieve their good name, and to begin a law-abiding tife at as early a date as is possible, that the new license system has been introduced, and we have no doubt that it will prove a decided step in the right direction.

The Legislative Tour.

The famous Algoma legislative tour is now a matter of history, and the tourists have returned to their homes, but it will be long before the benefits thereof, both to the participants and to the district visited, will cease to have their effect. The country through which the trip was taken is as little known as any part of the province, for even those whose business it is to know the country, the legislators who make its laws, and the press men who write its history, found that their knowledge was superficial and inaccurate.

For nearly two weeks the party traveled by rail and water over hundreds of miles of territory, through districts containing thousands of acres of splendid agricultural land, and hundreds of square miles of mineral country, holding millions of dollars' worth of many of the most valuable products of the mine. Instead of a barren desolate waste of rock and muskeg (or swamp), where nothing of service to man could be produced, they found vast tracts of country, capable of growing wheat, hay and vegetables in abundance, and fawith a climate exactly suitable for their production. Dotted along the route in districts where ice and snow is popularly supposed to hold undisputed possession almost the year round, they found thriving homesteads and prosperous farms. Here the hardy and industrious pioneer settler was living in comfort and contentment, while interspersed with these were rich tracts of mineral land, where the mining shaft had been sunk, and the busy stamping mill was wresting the precious metals from mother earth.

All this was being done in spite of almost insurmountable difficulties-but difficulties which arose, not from any incompleteness in the work nature had done, but in the lack of enterprise on the part of man to take advantage of that work. In that country of immense distances, far removed from the centers of commerce, there are little or no means of transportation; the widely separated settlers and the far removed mines are without means of communication, one with another, and with the outside world. Railroads and are not likely to receive any license highways are wanted, rivers need The country is there, teeming with possibilities, but it is out of reach. The cause of the neglect to provide all this is, primarily, lack of knowledge of the necessity. The purpose of the tour was to remove this ignorance, and now that the legislators know the facts and the press are enabled to disseminate that knowledge among the people, there is good hope that much of the needed work may be undertaken, slowly and by degrees perhaps, in comparison to the great need, but still it can be commenced, and an immense impetus given te the development of as rich a section of new and comparatively unoccupied territory as exists in the Dominion to-

The excursion was happily conceived and admirably carried out, and the weather from start to finish was all that could be desired. The choice of route was well made, in view of the purpose for which the trip was undertaken. At Sault Ste. Marie, which was the practical starting point, the tourists obtained some idea of the necessity of a railway to open up the country running north towards James Bay; the trip to Silver Mountain mine, back of Port Arthur, gave a peep into the mineral resources of that district, while north of Fort William the rich agricultural stretches of the Slate River Valley afforded many magnificent object lesson of what industrious and intelligent farming could do, and this was repeated at Dryden on the way to Rat Portage. The second week of the trip, spent in the mining districts of the Lake of the Woods and Rainy River, and among the farms skirting the Canadian banks of that noble stream, was a revelation as startling as it was gratifying. The more detailed story, however, must be left for another time.

Light and Shade.

As long as a citizen who offers to pay all his just taxes is regarded as eccentric, the gospel of human perfec-tion will never make much headway.

A paper published in Paris recently contained the following unique advertisement: "A young man of agreeable presence, and desirous of getting married, would like to make the acquaintance of an aged and experienced tleman who could dissuade him from taking the fatal step."

"How foolish of you to tell those young men that you knew how to swim," said the girl in blue as they strolled along the beach.

"Why?" asked the girl in white. "Why!" repeated the girl in blue, scornfully. "Well, it's evident you've never been to the seashore before. You miss all the fun of having them try to teach you."-Boston Herald.

Servant (from next door) — Please, mum, missis sends her compliments, and will ye let your daughter sing and play the piano this afternoon?" WHAT THE PRESS THINKS Outside Opinions on the London Disturbances.

"Some One Has Made a Fool of Himself,

Says the Woodstock Express-The Company Generally Criticised-The City Authorities Blamed.

Popular Hostility to the Company. [Hamilton Herald.]

Fortunately for the reputation of the London street car strikers, that riot in London on Saturday cannot be laid to their charge. So far from taking part in it, several strikers did what they could to save the company's property and disperse the rioters. was a very regrettable outburst of popular hostility to the street railway It was not creditable to company. It was not creditable to London, but it served to show how deeply the company has got itself hated in the community which it is its business to serve.

A Hint to the Mayor. [Hamilton Herald.] London's mayor should also read the riot act to the London street railway company.

Bad Arrangement.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.] The railway strike in London and the lamentable results incident to it illustrate the danger of giving away valuable civic franchises. These are usually given in the first place to men whose interests are at but they often fall into the hands of outside capitalists, as in the present case, who have no local interests, and whose sole object is to swell their dividends. The wealthy Americans who own the London street railway seem to have managed things very badly. They have had a very serious strike in Cleveland, and their treatment of the men in London has brought about a state of things almost like civil war. If the city had been running its own railway would probably have been doing so at a large profit; and there would have been no such strike as has now brought disgrace on the city, and blighted its business interests to a very serious ex-

Someone Has Blundered. [Woodstock Express.]

Someone has blundered in London, and has made a fool of himself, and a laughing-stock of the whole Dominion of Canada. London is only a small place after all, and the number strikers and rioters cannot possibly be very great. The forces available in the city should be more than amto keep the peace, if those in authority knew enough to use them properly, instead of falling into a panic and sending out a wild alarm and call for more troops from all parts of the military district.

The means at hand for dealing with a little disturbance like this are follows: The Seventh Battalion, 400 strong; the London Field Battery, of six guns and 120 rank and file; a cavalry troop and a company of regusoldiers at the barracks, about 50 strong, not to mention the regular police force of the city. In the face of all this the district commanding officer has, without excuse and in excess of his authority, called out one or more companies from most of the battations in his district, and ordered them to report for duty at London to help put down the rioting. add to the idiocy of his whole conduct, he has ordered them to come without arms, as they are to receive the new Lee-Enfield rifles in store don, which, if ever used on the streets of that unfortunate city, will kill more innocent people a mile or two away from the scene of action than Baby's Skin Red and Raw. Doctor's Medicine was Painful and Useless. A Stranger Advised CUTICURA. Cured in a Month, with Skin Smooth and Fair.

My little daughter, when six months old, brokeout with Eczema. I took her to a decter and he pronounced it "Moist Eczema," and prescribed for her. She screamed when I put the medicine on her, and I stopped using it. It was indeed very painful. Her skin was all red and raw, and moisture coming from it all the time. A perfect stranger to me advised me to use Curioura remedies. I got Curi-CURA SOAP and CUTICURA (ointment), and they entirely cured her within a month. She is twenty-three months old to-day, and her skin is like a piece of silk, and fair as a lily. MRS. E. J. KANE, 815 Ohio Ave., Kansas City, Kan.

PIMPLES OUR CUTICURA SOAP I commenced to get pimples and blackheads when I was fifteen years old. My face was covered. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicine, etc., but they never did me any good. I used CUTICURA SOAP for two weeks, the pimples and blackheads began to disappear, and it only took three cakes of Cu-TIOURA SOAP to cure my face of those homely pimples. JOSEPH B. CLAMER, Sept. 21, '98. 327 Court St., Elizabeth, N. J.

My face was covered with a pimply, rup-tured, and itching skin. After using Curr-CURA SOAP for six weeks, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet. H. CROME, 222 Melrose St., Chicago, Ill.

Itching humors, torturing, disfiguring eczemas, and every species of itching, burning, scaly, crusted, and pimply skin and scalp diseases, with dey, thin, and falling hair, insteadly relieved by warm baths with Curreura Soar, gentle aucintings with Curreura, purest of emollient skin cures, and mild doses of Curreura Resouvers, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, when all else fails.

The street car strike, from the very beginning, has been fomented and turned into a riot by the criminal weakness of the city authorities and police, and the want of tact of the company. Like all weak men, those in authority have jumped from one extreme to the other, and now seem to want the streets swept with grape-shot and dum-dum bullets. This unfortunate affair will greatly injure the city, and the whole country, in the eyes of the outside world. It seems as if the inmates of the big lunatic asylum in the east end of the city had assumed control of its civic affairs, and were reveling in a debauch of insane excitement and deviltry.

> A Foolish Act. [Guelph Herald.]

The Lendon trouble, it appears, was precipitated by a non-union conductor drawing, or attempting to draw, a revolver on the crowd, which had gathered near the street car barns. This foolish act seems to have acted like the spark to the magazine, and from that hour, 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, until well on into Sunday morning, London was given over to the mob. Let us hope that order will be quickly restored, and that the difficulties to which the present outbreak is an unfortunate climax, may be amicably settled.

> History of the Trouble. [Guelph Mercury.]

The trouble began at London last winter, when the men formed a union, which they demanded recognition by the company and increased wages for the members. These demands were not met, and a strike was instituted. After it had been in progress for several days, during which the company were boycotted very generally by citizens, a settlement was reached, part-ly through the intervention of the mayor and a committee of the council. The men returned to their places and continued to work until a few weeks ago, when the trouble was renewed. The men claimed that the company had failed to live up to their agree-ment; they were unable to secure what they asked for, and again they went out on strike. Since then the cars have been in charge of non-union men, but do not seem to have been very liberally patronized by the public. The strikers established a line of busses in ers, owing to the invariable trick of a fairly paying business. Beyond that shooting high that all green troops the incidents of the strike were the holding of labor meetings, at which the situation was discussed; the holding of some labor processions, and a rather acrimonious controversy in the local press. Up to Saturday, when the rioting took place, nothing of a violent character took place, excepting the illusage of a non-union conductor during the strike last winter.

The Mercury, proceeding to quote a paragraph from the London Free Press, takes care to explain that the sympathies of the Free Press "lean in favor of the company." The Mercury adds that the Free Press unfairly blames some of its local contemporaries for inciting trouble by passionate appeals.

Yes; Arbitration Would Be Better. [Brantford Expositor.] The street car strike resulted in most unfortunate riotings in London the Less on Saturday. Stones were thrown, revolvers were produced, and militia aid had to be summoned. There is something radically wrong in such a condition of affairs. There should be some better way of settling labor struggles than resorts to mob vio-

WHEAT PROSPECTS

The Mark Lane Express Summarizes the Situation in Europe.

London, July 11.-The attendance of buyers of wheat during the week has again been on a small scale, and only a limited demand has resulted, being still confined to immediate wants. Operators in the face of ample supplies on spot and coming forward ap-

American Markets. CHICAGO, July 10 .- Anticipation of a bearish government crop report was the chief factor in a decline in wheat today of 1/4c to 1/4c. It also had the effect of greatly restricting trade. Corn showed sympathy to the extent of 1/4c decline. Oats declined 1/4c to 1/4c. Provisions were firm, and closed un-changed to 5c higher. September wheat opened easy, %c under Saturday's closing price at 72%c to 73c; ranged from 72%c to 72%c to 73%c, and closed at 73c. The usual anxiety over the approaching government crop report was evident at the beginning, and put a damper on trade. Primary receipts were $60,280 bu, as compared with 163,-304 last year. Duluth and Minneapolis receipts were 599 cars, Chicago 13 cars, 8 of contract grade. The market showed considerable weakness during the $4 22½ t early trading and lowest prices of the $4 25; rol day were recorded during the first to $3 20.

hour. Besides the apprehension of a bearish government report, the market was depressed by lower England and continental reports and by favorable weather throughout the wheat belt. The constantly increasing world's visible supply was not at all encouraging ible supply was not at all encouraging to prospective buyers. The increase last week was 422,000 bu. World's shipments were 7,669,000 bu. After the mar-ket touched 72%c to 73c a better feel-ing manifested itself. Shorts bought moderately and a slow advance took place, the price getting to 73%c before the demand ceased. Shorts apparently had a good deal of confidence in their position, and support from that source was more or less prominent on every decline. The market ruled very dull during the afternoon, and gradually declined to 73c. It was bringing that price at the close.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY.

New York, July 10.—The statement of the visible supply of grain in store and afloat on Saturday, July 8, 1899, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange, is as follows: Wheat, 34,016,000 bu; increase, 384,000 bu. BIG ADVANCE IN FREIGHT Grain Rates Raised 3 to 5 Cents Per 100 on East Bound Lots From Chicago.

Chicago, July 11.-After considering the matter four days the presidents of all the big railroads between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard have agreed that on and after Aug. 1, Chicago shippers must pay from 3 to 5 cents more on the one hundred pounds for the transportation of their grain to the eastern markets. More than this, the chief executive officers of these roads say that with the new tariff there will be no more secret deals with big consigners, that the man with a carload grain must be given the same rate as he who can promise a train load, and these rates must be the ones printed and posted for public inspection. The new tariff on wheat, oals and flour from Chicago to New York city will be 17 cents per 100 pounds, compared with the present rate of 111/2 from 101/2 to 15 cents. For export cents. On corn the advance will be shipments from Chicago via New York the advance in corn will be from 101/2 to 11 cents, and on oats from 101/2 to 13 cents. For wheat, snipped to the European markets, the rate will be 17 cents per 100 pounds, the same as now. On provisions, both export and demestic, rates will be 25 cents, an increase of 5 cents in the export rate. Between now and August 1, when the new rates will go into effect, the lacal agents of the eastbound roads have been instructed to clean up all cut rate contracts.

D. McNicoll, of the C. P. R., says no change has been made in the relations between his road and the New York Central.

The Wabash, from Andrews to St Louis, is now laid with new steel rails, weighing 80 pounds to the yard, and next year the Detroit division will be laid with a heavier rail. The free chair cars on the Wabash

Steamer Portia Lost-Passengers and Crew Saved.

Halifax, N. S., July 11.- The Red Cross steamer Portia (Capt. Farrell), from New York, bound to Halifax, with 75 passengers on board, was wrecked last night on Flinn's Island, off Sambro, a point 15 miles to the eastward of Halifax.

The disaster occurred during a thick fog. Everybody on the steamer, 117, all told, was landed on the island in safety and all are being well cared for. They will be transferred to the mainland, only a short distance away, as soon as possible. Capt. Farrell, with a boat's crew, has already reached Sambro, whence he sent advices of the wreck to Halifax. The Portia is full of water and will prove a total loss. She had a large cargo on board for Halifax and New-foundland. The passengers are nearly all summer tourists.

The magistrate commited her for trial at the next assizes, November 14.

Another All Night Session-Estimates Discussed and Disposed Of.

[Special to The Advertiser per C. P. R.] Ottawa, July 11.-The House of Commons has been in session since 3 o'clock yesterday, discussing the militia estimates, and making very little progress. It was a sure case of obstruction on the part of the opposition. It commenced in the afternoon on the redistribution bill, and was continued when the estimates were taken up.

At 4 o'clock this morning the item of $400,000 for annual drill was under consideration. Of this amount the minister expected to use only $300,000 at present, but that would depend upon the time the militia was called out next year. Finally the item was passed. Dr. Sproule moved at 4:45 a.m. that the committee rise.

This discussion is kept up until 5 a.m., when the motion was declared lost, and the item of $60,000 for salaries was taken up.
At 8 a.m. Mr. Taylor moved again that the committee rise and report pro-Dr. Sproule was reading extracts from the auditor-general's report, when Dr. Russell said that Dr. Sproule was suffering from a diarrhea of words or some similar disease. This item was also passed, and the discussion then proceeded on the item of warlike and other stores, $45,000. There was no objection taken to the item, but the talk on it was kept up by Mr. Bergeron and others until noon. Sir Charles Tupper arrived at 11:30. At 12:30 p.m. it was agreed to adjourn at 1 o'clock on suggestion of the leader of the opposition, who said that if this were done they would pass some

The chairman stated that the document read was all he had been handed.
Ald. Wilkey contended that the statement which the men had furnished was all the committee had a right to ask.

Ald. Rumball—There is nothing in those grievances that either party should object to arbitrate upon.

Ald. Douglass held that the grievances submitted to Mr. Carr, and which the employes complained of not having been brought before the board of directors, should be before the commit-

Mr. Hunter contended that the men's statement showed they had grievances. He believed they would back their statement up with conclusive evidence. The company should submit them to arbitration.

Ald. Wilkey-They are grievances ander the old agreement. are they not? Have not the company offered to arbitrate under the old agreement?

Mr. A. B. Cox said that so far as he had been able to learn the company had not yielded anything yet. What would be the value of the committee finding after deliberating on griev-ances if it would not be accepted by parties? Unless the company would yield something, how could the committee effect a settlement, he asked. He held that the committee should send a sub-committee to wait upon Mr. Everett and endeavor to get some concessions. If none could be got, the committee might as well adjourn. Ald. Rumball understood that the company had yielded all but two points -recognition of the union and the taking back of the men.

Mr. Cox-Would the company under any circumstances take back the bulk of the men? Ald. Rumball—There's the deadlock.

The chairman said they were c'oser than that. The men would endeavor to meet the company on the question of the union if proper safeguards were Ald. Douglass suggested that negotiations be resumed.

Ald. Rumball held that the matter should be submitted to arbitration. It the arbitrators found that the men had sufficient grievances to strike, the company should take them back. If not justified, the company might take back whom they liked. He was hopeful of arbitration being agreed to on this basis. If the men were to be taken back it should be under an agreement which provided for arbitration, and also against any interference with the employes joining a union if they desired

Mr. Cox wanted to know what would be sufficient cause for a strike. That was a question which the arbitrators could not well decide. The committee should ask the company to admit, for the sake of getting a settlement, that the statement by the men shows grievances, which, if established, would be sufficient reason for a strike. The question for the arbitrators should be as to whether or not the grievances alleged

Mr. E, T. Essery Protests Against the Procedure of the Police-A Street Row and a Liquor Case.

All the prisoners arrested in connection with the trouble of Saturday last were committed for trial and released on bail at this morning's session of the police court, Magistrate Parke presiding. Mr. E. T. Essery appeared for six of the prisoners and Mr. F. Love for two.

Mr. Essery said ne wished to protest against respectable men being hunted down by police officers in the night, when bail could not be secured until next day. He had gone to the police station as counsel for some of the prisoners, and nad to telephone and get Cnier Williams' permission before he was permitted to see them. This was not fair to the prisoners, as their counsel had a right to see them and prepare a defense.

Magistrate Parke said he was glad Mr. Essery had raised the point. Wm. Neison, for assault; bail fixed at $300 personal and two securities of Charles Talbot and Fred Simmons were charged with being disorderly and fighting on the public street on Friday night last.

C. Darville saw the prisoners scuffling and ran over and arrested them. He saw Talbot put his hand to his hip pocket, as if to draw a pistol. He did not see the row start. Freeman Talbot, a brother, was with Charles on the night the row occurred. He swore that Simmons shoved a large card bearing the inscription, "Supposed scabs. Nit! We walk," in his brother's face, and the latter hit

Charles Talbot told about the same story. He did not deny having had the revolver. He said he was attempting to get it out to hand it over to brother so that it would not be found on him when arrested.

Thomas Jones, an employe of the G. T. R., was standing in the doorway where the row occurred. He swore that Talbot came up and struck Simmons without a word. He was positive that Simmons did not shove the card in his face. A man named Dee-han, who was standing with him, went over to separate the fighters, when the other brother, Freeman Talbot, attacked him. Witness saw a revolver in the hands of Charles Talbot, and told him to put it up.

Mr. Frederick Deehan, corroborated the evidence of the former witness. Fred Simmons, the prisoner, denied having put a card in Talbot's face. Talbot struck him, and said, "I'll fix you," and then drew his revolver. He (Simmons) called for the police, and said he wanted to lay a charge of assault against Charles Talbot. He never knew Talbot before the assault.

Talbot was discharged and Simmons bailed to appear on Tuesday next for sentence. Simmons was, previous to this, out on suspended sentence. Charles Talbot is not conneced with

It was a strange, sad rite-strange and more melancholy than burials usually are. The bride's gaze never left the shrunken face and closed eyes that rested among the pillows, and her assent to the interrogations put to her was so slight as to create a passing doubt in the mind of the catechist as to whether she had given any. The mountain storm burst overhead in thunder, wind, and rain, as the bridegroom spoke his reverent and steadfast response, and when the benediction was pronounced, Jessie stooped to kiss her father, apparently forgetful that Roy's was the paramount right to the token of affection.

"Dear papa! It is your little Jessie!

The cry sounded in the ear deadened by the death stupor as a faint and far-off call. Mr. Kirke's eyelids quivered without rising, and the muscles of the mouth were moved. Then the gray calm settled down again upon his countenance.

"He must speak to me! I must be sure that he hears me—that he understands that I have obeyed him!" said Jessie, frantically. "He must!" to the physicians who advanced to the bedwith restoratives.

The lips were parted, the throat did not contract. Dr. Winters shook his head despairingly and turned from his old friend and pastor, the untasted glass of brandy in his hand. "He does not see or hear me!" cried the daughter, throwing up her arms in a passion of despair. "I did it for him, and he will never know it."

She sank to her knees beside the bed, and buried her face in the coverings. Roy leaned over her and whispered something the rest did not hear. He might as well have addressed her father with words of consolation. When he touched her to recall her attention, she shivered violently, but gave no other sign of consciousness of his pres-

Mr. Kirke died at midnight. He had noticed no one, and said nothing since his feeble rejoinder to Dr. Baxter's query whether the marriage should proceed, until half an hour before he breathed his last, when those about him saw a change in the face that, in beauty, re Greek mask. Jessie perceived it first; was quick to take advantage of the tinge of color, the tremor of features.

"Papa!" she prayed, raising his

"You do know me-do you not?" said his daughter, breathlessly. is it that is speaking to you?" All present heard the reply.

CHAPTER XVII.

The "breaking down" predicted by Dr. Winters, took the form, not of hysterical emotion, as he had anticipated, but of physical languor and spiritual apathy, which were more alarming. Jessie moved, spoke, and thought like one in a trance; acquiescing in every proposal made by her sister and Roy; obeying every request without demur or inquiry. If left to herself she asked nothing except to be allowed to sit or lie passive for hours together; her great eyes closed or blank; her countenance set in the gloomy weariness that had marked it from the moment her hand had left her dead father's forehead—a look that plainly said she had henceforward nothing to hope for or to fear in this world. Few husbands would have had tolerance with this excessive grief for the loss of a parent, however beloved, and worthy of filial attachment. One might search far and long without finding a man whose sympathy with the demonstration of this would incite him to warmer love and fonder care for her, who, for the time, overlooked his claim to supreme regard in her devotion to a memory.

"You could not mourn more bitterly for me!" I once heard a man say in impatient reproach, upon surprising his wife in tears within a week after she had committed an indulgent and dearly loved parent to the grave. He was a good man, and an affectionate husband, but he could not en-sensitive and exclusive type, it would have been chafed threadbare before the honeymoon was one-tenth wasted. The new bond between them she ignored entirely—not, it was evident, in willfulness or shyness, but because it had no place in her thoughts; was a matter of no moment in comparison with the event that steeped her whole being in despondency. It was well that neither he nor Eunice had any knowledge of the continuous warfare of the summer, the fiercer struggle of that early September day, the morrow of which had brought a fresh sorrow in her father's illness. Had they com-prehended all this, superadded to their fears all the three weeks' watching and its finale had seriously affected her nervous system, they would have had small hope of the curative power of Nature and Love. She was, in reality, insane for the three days immediately succeeding her marriage, if lack of feeling, thought, and connected memory signify mental aberration. In after years, this period was almost a blank in the retrospect, a confusing, dissolving view that defied her scrut-Whilst it lasted, it was a nightmare from which she had no strength to awaken.

When she was led by Roy to take a last look at her father's face as he lay in his coffin ready to be transportto the church, her eyes were vacant

When Eunice bent weepingly to kiss the frezen lips where still lingered the smile of ineffable peace with which he had named his wife, Jessie eyed her with a mixture of wonder and perplexity; and remarking again, "Very natural! almost life-like!" turned away with the air of one who had said and done all that could be required

In an agony of alarm, Roy sought Dr. Winters, who had called to inquire after the health of the family, and to see if he could be of service in their Eunice had taken charge of her sister at night, and reported that what little sleep had visited the latter had been won by the use of ano-dynes. Had the physician asked the bridegroom-a sedative, potent enough to induce slumber for several hours, the after effect of which would not be increased cerebral excitement? Come what might, Jessie must not witness the obsequies appointed for that forenoon. Her mind seemed, to him, to need but a touch to complete its overthrow. While the two gentle-men held counsel, Eunice entered with the welcome news that Jessie had, on leaving the parlor where the remains lay, gone voluntarily to her own room

"The only hope for life and brain!"

Dr. Winters had pronounced, and the dictum was repeated far and near with awed looks and subdued breath.

Within the manse, all was hushed and dark. Eunice sat with the sleeper while the service at the church went forward. "Do not separate us this morning!" was her petition to Roy, who would have taken the post himself. "I have nobody left but her."

She interpreted correctly the meaning of the imperfect sounds that penetrated her seclusion—the funeral psalm, the dull tramp of many feet from the front to the back of the church; the awful pause—like no other upon earth—that told the coffin was sinking to its place—the voice of prayer—the brief, reverent utterances with which the dear dust was committed to the keeping of the Lord of Life, through all the coming ages of Timethen, the muffled tumult of departure. She sat quiet until the end; restraining sob and sigh that the beloved living might not be disturbed; staying her heart upon the Father of the fatherless, the God whose goodness expiring saint had charged his children never to forget.

The girls in a Kentucky town have formed a society that have for their motto: "The lips that touch liquor shall never touch ours." There is a big demand for straws in that vicinity just now.

The greatest danger to life in the city is not the car with its clanging gong, but those silent invisible foes, the germs of deease. The prevalence of consumption in cities is stated to be largely due to the frequent expectoration of diseased persons, whose dried sputa mixed with the dust and blown into the air, is inhaled by some luckless man or woman. Sanitation may minimize these perils but can never obliterate them. The essential thing is to educate every person to the knowledge that the germ can find no permanent lodg-ment in a healthy body. Keep the blood pure, the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition in sound health and you are practically germ proof.

This disease resisting condition is obtained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, and heals the lungs. Even when there is obstinate cough, bronchitis, spitting of blood and other conditions, which, if neglected, lead to consump-tion, the faithful use of Golden Medical Discovery will, in almost every instance,

"I was taken sick in July last year, and was not able to do any kind of work until November," writes Mr. Noel W. Orvin, of Langley, Aiken Co., S. C. "Had been coughing up small, hard himps of phlegm for about a year before I was taken down. I then called on a doctor, who said that one-half of my left lung was gone, and advised me to leave my home and go to the country. I wrote to you for advice. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; which I sincerely believe has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken." effect a cure.

KILLED AT A CROSSING. Montreal, Que., July 11.—Thomas Mohun, 65 years old, met with a frightful death at the Charlevoix street crossing of the Grand Trunk Rallway at Point St. Charles yesterday. Stead, a farmer, of Guilford, died today as a result of being mowed down by his father, in charge of a machine. Mr. Stead was running a mowing machine in a field near his home yesterday, when his little son left the house to meet him. The father did not know of the child's presence in the grass until he uttered a scream falling before the knives, which severed one of his legs.

Springing from the machine the fa-ther caught up the little mangled form and hastened to the house. A physician was quickly summoned, but before he arrived the child had suffered such a loss of blood that he died soon after the amputation was per-formed by the physician. The father is nearly prostrated by the death of

All Expectations.

Tho G. T. R. Agreement-Capadian Canal Competition Feared.

Ottawa, July 8.-The government has decided upon an important amendment to the Intercolonial-Grand Trunk agreement, which will entirely remove whatever appearance of justification there may have been for the criticism that the proposed 99 years' lease would give the Grand Trunk and its American connections practical control of the Intercolonial for that period, to the de-triment of all Canadian competitors. As was pointed out last week the real source from which the objection emanated laid it open to considerable suspicion, but even that apparent ground for objection-more imaginary than real-will now be removed. The proposed amendment will empower government to terminate the freight transfer arrangements at any time by giving twelve months' notice to the company, though it does not give the same power to the railway. It may not be altogether desirable to give a government power to terminate an arrangement which has been so generally recognized as greatly to the advantage of the country, inasmuch as it will always leave a weak government open to the influence of the lobbyist at any time competing interests may desire to upset the arrangements. Unfortunately Canadian parliamentary history contains too many instances of the pernicious influence of the lobby, and the trend of legislation should be to lessen its power rather than the reverse. However, there is no immediate danger, at least while the present government is in power, and it is wiser to make a partial concession than run the risk of having the entire agreement thrown out by the action of the senate.

EXCEEDING EXPECTATIONS. Although the reduced postal rates have only been in operation six months there are already indication, not only of the benefits accruing to the community at large—which were never seriously questioned—but also of the accuracy of the postmaster-general's predictions that the increase in business which would follow would very materially reduce the threatened exceas of expenditure over receipts, if indeed it did not wipe it out altogether, The Toronto World, a Conservative journal, thus refers to the working of the new rates under the caption, "Two-Cent Postage a Success:'

"It will undoubtedly be found, after a year or two's trial, that a two-cent rate for letters will produce as large a revenue as the former three-cent rate. The receipts under the new tariff have already exceeded the estimate of the postmaster-general, and the probabilities are that the deficit caused by the reduction will be entirely wiped out in the course of a cople of years.'

OUR DEEPENED WATERWAYS. The opening of the Soulanges Canal next month will complete the deep waterway down the St. Lawrence River and reduce the cost of carrying wheat from the western field to the seaport just about one-half. The value of this to Canadian shipping interests cannot be over-estimated, for as one Chicago paper declares, "the cost of transporting lake freight to tidewater will be reduced beyond the possibility of St. Louis; Miss Helena English, St. profitable competition by any other exprofitable competition by any other existing route." It is generally recognized in the markets of the world that the price of wheat is fixed at Liverpool, and consequently all that is saved on cost of transportaion goes into the producer's pockets. The statement is made that the added returns to the farmers of the Northwest for the single item of wheat alone would annually amount to $6,000,000, of which our own farmers would secure their share. The wisdom of the government, therefore in hurrying on the work, which had dragged along so many years under their predecessors, needs no argument to establish. AND NOT DEAD YET. A Kansas paper tells of a Sante Fe section foreman who sent in the following report to the roadmaster: "Mac-Whorter's bull struck at the long sid-ing and killed. We found him alongside the track and as he was not quite dead then I borrowed a gun and shot him three times, killing him again Dennis Sullivan then struck him another blow on the head and finished The bull is now dead." Comhim. menting on this exciting anecdote the Toronto Globe remarks: "This resembles the terrible carnage that has attended the attacks on Mr. Sifton. Sir Hibbert killed him when he collided with him in his first speech. Sir Charles killed him again at Sher-brooke and Sir Hibbert finished him on Tuesday night. There is a slight difference in the two cases, however, Mr. Sifton is till alive.'

BALLAD WRITER DEAD. New York, July 11 .- Charles Graham, the ballad writer, is dead in Bellevue Hospital. He is said to have died penniless. One of his greatest successes, "Two Little Girls in Blue," erford, with its contents, was burned brought him only $10. Corner Stone of the New St. James' Presbyterian Church Laid.

Rev. Dr. Fletcher, of Hamilton, Officiates-Some 300 Members and Friends Present-Interesting Addresses.

Yesterday was an auspicious day for the congregation of St. James' Presbyterian Church. It was the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of their new edifice at the corner of Oxford and Wellington streets. The interesting and impressive ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. Dr. Fletcher, of Hamilton, in the presence of some 200 members and friends. Among the clergymen present were Rev. Dr. Talling, the former pastor of St. James', who resigned to continue his studies for degrees; Rev. Jas. Little, of Birr; Revs. D. C. Johnson, Dr. Johnston, J. G. Stuart, W. J. Clark, Walter Moffat, and J. A. McGillivray, the energetic pastor of St. James'. On the platform also were Messrs. Neil McNeil, W. Webster, T. A. Rowat, James Gray, G. McLean, and W. Brown, of the robitott Matthews mittee, and Architect Matthews.
Rev. Messrs. Little, Stuart and Clark conducted devotional exercises, and the chairman, Rev. Mr. MacGillivray, then introduced Rev. Dr. Fletcher, to lay the corner stone. The laying of the stone took but a few minutes, as it was already in position. In it was a jar containing copies of the various Presbyterian magazines, published in Canada, copies of the London daily pa-pers of yesterday, a historical record of St. James' Church, a copy of the Bible, the current Canadian coins, a copy of the W. C. A. organ, containing a photogravure of Rev. Dr. Fletcher, and a scroll, on which were inscribed the names of the building committee, the managers, trustees and session of the stone well and truly laid as he struck it three times with a silver trowel pro-vided for the occasion.

After an appropriate prayer was dedress: "We have laid the corner-stone of this building, to be erected to the honor and glory of God," said the use of the city hall Wednesday morn-speaker, "in which the Gospel of the ing and of Queen's Park on Wedneschurch in apostolic days, what overquestion that presents itself to-day is, Does the world need the gospel? Cannot men get along well enough without it? Cannot men by wise legislation and the enactment of good economic laws improve their circumstances and purify the human heart? Nations can improve themselves a great deal by wise legislation, but the wisest legislation cannot change human nature, cannot change human hearts. The gospel alone can do that.' In closing the speaker said it was his earnest prayer "that this shall be a house in which the gospel of the grace of God shall be preached, and that it shall be the birthplace of many souls; that the ministry of this gospel here shall be found to polish many jewels for the diadem of our Lord and Saviour." Rev. Mr. Talling also spoke briefly, expressing great pleasure at being present at the corner-stone laying. congregation had done nobly in the old church, and he trusted that it would do still more nobly in the future.

The pronouncing of the benediction then brought the meeting to a close.

The police made seven more arrests yesterday in connection with the disturbance on Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Taliaferro, a printer, living on High street, South London, is charged with rioting, and with taking part in the assault on non-union Motorman Rigney. Mr. Taliaferro denies the charge, and says he has been mistaken for some other person. He has been employed with The Advertiser for fifteen years, and has always borne an excellent reputation.

Wm. Nelson, of Francis street, East London, is charged with having assaulted County Constable Spicknell. Nelson is said to have thrown stones at Spicknell while the latter was on the roof of a car, flxing a trolley pole. Fred Goodacre, one of the striking conductors, is charged with interfering with the free operation of the railway, and also with rioting before and after An elderly man named Wm. Hayes who lives at the corner of Adelaide and Elias streets, is charged with rioting.

Hugh Day, another striker, is charged with the same offense. James Sherlock, of Cheapside street, is charged with having assaulted non-union Motorman Rigney.

The particulars of John Dare's arrest were given in yesterday's Advertiser. Policeman Egelton is the complainant in the majority of the cases. P. C. Downs and Detective Nickle executed the warrants.

Again Refused to Reconsider the Question of Debentures.

Satisfied With the Purchase of the Weld Gravel Pit-Interesting Notices of Motion-Sewage Disposal Works Not Discussed.

At last night's meeting the city council again refused to recognize the claims of the board of education, and voted down Ald. Parnell's motion to reconsider the question of debentures. Reconsideration of the purchase of the Weld gravel pit was also sought without success. Only routine matters were dealt with. The only member absent was Ald. Greenlees.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP. Chairman Omar Hazelgrove, of Section London, Socialist Labor Party of Canada, forwarded a lengthy resolution bearing on the street railway trouble. The section held that the present trouble and public inconvenience caused by the strike of the street railway employes, had been forced on the citizens as a result of "the foolish profitseeking policy of capitalism"; that the private ownership of the railway was the "root cause of the disgraceful treatment of the wealth-producing wage-receivers on the railway"; that so long as the railway remained the property of private capitalists there was no guarantee of justice to the emplovers or against further disorder and public inconvenience. The party asked the council "to give the company due notice of the cancellation of their charter, with compensation for value of local assets, based on the company's own valuation at the last assessment"; to "proceed at once to lay plans for the future public and democratic ownership and management of the railway"; also to "carry the case to the privy council if such policy is made necessary by opposition."

Ald. Douglass pointed out that the difference between the tender accepted and McNeil's tender was nearly $200. Mr. McNeil was a responsible citizen, and his check was deposited with the committee. It looked fishy.

Ald. Douglass said he knew Mr. McNeil could get the coal and make a

Ald. Carrothers thought that if the tender was too low it would be the tenderer's funeral, and not the city's. The lowest tender should be accepted. Ald. Pritchard agreed. Ald. Rumball was opposed to voting for the lowest tenderer in this case, because of "ancient history."

Ald. Winnett stated positively the quality of coal tendered for by Mr. McNeil could not be purchased at the price tendered. Ald. Jolly twitted Ald. Winnett for representing the combined "local coal dealers," and Ald. Winnett warmly retorted that there was no coal exchange of coal dealers in the city, nor had there been one for three Years.

The consideration of the sub-committee's report recommending the adoption of the septic tank system of sewage disposal was deferred. The chairman was complimented for the work he had done in the matter, but several of the aldermen said they had not had time to fully consider the re-

AFTER THE BALANCE OF THAT $7,500.

Ald. McPhillips would not move the adoption of the committee's recommendation that the unexpended amount of the money granted by council last year from the sewer debenture fund to repair streets broken up for construction of sewers, be used for like purposes this year, and that the committee proceed with the work at once. Ald. Parnell was strongly opposed to the motion, and said that when the bylaw was passed by the council it was distinctly understood that the contractors should put the streets in

The mayor asked why the clause permitting it was in the bylaw.

Ald. Parnell—If that clause is there it was not the intention of the council nor of the citizens who voted it. Ald. Pritchard was positive that the clause was not in the bylaw when it was passed. "It must have been pasted there later," he said. (Laughter.)

The mayor referred him to the city auditor and solicitor. On being appealed to by Ald, Douglass the mayor ruled that a two-thirds vote would be necessary to re-scind the action of last year's council in appropriating the money.

The amount originally appropriated was $7,500, and the unexpended balance The clause was adopted. Ald. Jolly presented the report of the hospital committee, and the tender of the Rogers Electric Company to do the wiring to connect two motors in the ganized labor to take over the management of the London Street Rallway. "As a member of organized labor," said Ald. Plant, "I wish to emphatically deny that statement. Organized labor had nothing to do with it."

(Applause from the audience.) He went on to state that the committee having in charge the arrangements for the labor demonstration announced to take place that evening, had shown how desirous they were no disturbance should take place when they decided to postpone the holding of the demonstration, because of the excitement prevailing. He wished to hurl back the statement in the Mail and Empire at the man who made it.
