called. LONDON, Aug. 8 .- The World, formerly edited by the late Edmund Yates, today says that Major-General Herbert may possibly be ordered to vacate the command of the Canadian militia and return to his regimental duties with the Grenadier Guards. This is consequent upon Col. Ricardo's promotion to command of a battalion. If Major-General Herbert does not return he will forfeit his right to the command of the battalion. The opporunity thus presented by the promotion of Col. Ricardo would afford Major-General Herbert a convenient opportunity to vacate the unpleasant consequences of the Powell incident, and it is said here that for this reason Herbert may return to his old

BERLIN, Aug. 8 .- Chancellor Von Caprivi

has issued a special notice prohibiting the exportation of munitions of war from maritime towns of Germany to China or The Pope's Significant Encyclical.

ROME, Aug. 8 .- Under the appearance of a merely scholastic and religious letter to the Brazilian bishops, the Papal encyclical is possessed of an evident political signifi cance. It is a congratulation and an encouragement addressed indirectly to the Government of Mar al Floriano Peixoto, which has defeated the monarchical rebellion directed against the new Brazilian republic. Leo XIII. was anxious to indicate to the Royalists of Brazil, as he had done to those of France, that they could not rely upon the open or secret support of the Vatican, which is no longer the traditional and stubborn ally of monarchists in their attacks upon a republican form of government. At this moment, when President Peixoto is reorganizing his country according to the constitutional prescriptions, the Pope is anxious to urge his clergy to help the Republican Government in its task, and the best means is to propagate instruction. But here Leo XIII. clearly indicates in what direction such assistance must be given by pointing to the American College at Rome as the source from which should be drawn the religious instructors of the Brazilian people not yet provided with such instructors, The Pontiff is ware of the intimate alliance between the United States and Brazil, and he gives one more evidence of his approval of the friendship uniting the two greatest republics in the new world by informing the Brazilian bishops that the priests and missionaries

CALEDONIAN GAMES.

The Muscular Men of Kincardine Disport Themselves.

KINCARDINE, Aug. 8.-The Caledonian games, under the auspices of Camp Mc-Pherson, Sons of Scotland, of Kincardine, was one of the most successful meetings ever held in Western Canada. The great attraction outside of the athletic events and Highland dancing was the playing of the Forty-Eighth pipers, of Toronto, under command of Pipe Major Ireland. There was keen competition in every event.

Great interest was manifested in the hose reel racing contest between Wingham and Kincardine hose reel teams. The race was 300 yards in all. 200 vards to hydrant. lay 300 feet of hose, take out the third length of hose and replace with the sixth length. Wingham ran first and the work in 63 seconds. SOMETHING MUST BREAK.

The Tariff Tension at Washington Cannot Last.

A Senate Querum Cannot Be Kept Together Any Longer-Something Must Be Done.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.-The tension of the taritt situation is so great that something must break within 48 hours. The strain cannot be longer continued. This is admitted on all hands by the friends the bill and its opponents by the hopeful adherents of the Wilson Bill and the cautious framers of the Senate compromise. All those who are best informed are the most doubtful of the outcome. It is not the combination of the Louisiana Populist sugar-growing senators that is most feared. They can be held in effective check, it is believed, by the threat of free sugar, which could be carried in the Senate, and would receive an overwhelming vote in its favor in the House. It is other interests, the advocates of iron, coal and woolen duties that are feared. Any of these disaffected elements uniting with the Republicans and Senators Hill and Irby in a motion to indefinitely postpone could carry the day.

It is admitted that a quorum of the Sente cannot be kept together many more days. Something has to be done with the Tariff Bill immediately or nothing will be done at all.

It is said the House conferees went into conference this morning with their position somewhat stiffened by message received today from the White House, Mr. Cleveland is said to have urged the House conferees to hold out a little longer in the hope that he might secure both coal and iron free. The Senate conferees appeared to be firm

STARTLING ACCIDENT

To a Steamer While Descending the Long Sault Rapids.

While the Richelieu and Ontario steamer Algerian, Capt. Dunlop, was passing through the Long Sault Rapids this afternoon on her way down from Toronto one of the paddlewheels was smashed in and the crashing timber smashed a large hole in the steamer's side. The water poured into the vessel, flooding the dining room and baggage room. There were several hundred passengers on board, and an exciting time ensued, many of the passengers believing that the vessel had been wrecked. Capt. Dunlop and his men managed to restere confidence, and succeeded in bringing the steamer down to Cornwall, where the steamer Rocket was chartered and conveyed some of the passengers to Montreal. Many passengers took the Toronto express at Cornwall to Mentreal, having had quite enough of the river for one day. The passengers all arrived safely here to-night, one the worse for their thrilling experience. The damage to the Algerian is con-

Longinus, the Roman Soldier, Who Was Alterwards Converted.

Christ's side with the spear while he was the legendary lore of the church as granted the extradition of Jabez Spencer Longinus. This man was one of the Balfour, the central figure in the Liberator soldiers appointed to keep guard at the cross, and it is said that he was converted by the miracles which attended the crucifixion. The legend even goes further, declaring that he was one of the company of watchers set to guard the sepulchre, and that he was the only one who refused to be bribed to say that the body of our Saviour had been stolen by the disciples. For his fidelity to this great truth Pilate resolved upon his destruction. On this account Longinus left the army to devote his entire time to spreading! the Gospel; but he did this without first getting permission from the Government of Judea or from Rome. He, and two fellow-soldiers whom he had converted, retired to Cappadocia, where they began to preach the word of God. At the instigation of some of the leading Jews, however, Pilate sent out a detachment of soldiers, who surprised the deserters at a place where they were holding a Christian meeting, and where they had three crosses set up as an illustration of the great tragedy which had occurred but a short while before at Jerusalem. All three were killed and beheaded, and their heads nailed upon the crosses and carried in triumph back to

of a Drunken Man. DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 8 .- The village of Charlton, near here, was the scene of a horrible tragedy this morning. At 10 o'clock W. D. Jenkins, night baggageman of the Burlington road at that place, entered the home of his betrothed, Miss Julia Murphy, and after a bitter quarrel drew a revolver and shot her. He then turned on her sister. Mrs. Josie Towns, and fired, killing her almost instantly. Mrs. Murphy, mother of the girls, rushed into the room, only to meet with a bullet from the revolver held by the apparently insane man. Her injuries are such that the physicians have little hope of her life. Jenkins then turned the weapon on himself and fired a bullet into his brain. He died an hour later. Jenkins had been drinking heavily for several days, and it is believed the murder and suicide were the outcome of words between himself and Miss Murphy over his intoxicated condition. The women were highly respected and in good circumstances. Dame Experience Has convinced many that to use any of the substitutes offered for the only sure-pop and painless corn cure is attended with danger. OUERIES ANSWERED. INGERSOLL. - A works a farm belonging to B on shares, A to have one-third and B implements, A to do all the labor on the farm. Nothing is said in the writings about the threshing and marketing of the grain and produce. Does A have to pay for the machine for the threshing, as well as find all labor, or does B pay for the machine and pay his two-thirds of the expenses in marketing and A one-third, or has A to pay all? Ans. - Upon the facts as stated B should pay for the machine and provide the horses and carts necessary for marketing if the marketing is done by A, but if not then the expenses should be borne rateably, two-thirds by B and one-third by A. The Chicago Corn Pit Excited. CHICAGO, Aug. 8 .- For two hours today the corn market was in a highly fermented state. The wild scenes of yesterday were re-enacted, with this difference, that prices were going in a different direction. Strange to say, no failures are reported. The range of prices in September was 82 cents and on May 6 cents, the former closing 31 cents under yesterday and the latter 21 cents under that day. Wheat and oats lost much of their advance, but less excitement was apparent in that trade.

Cost of Food Per Head in Europe. A French scientific journal gives some statistics of the annual cost of food per head of various European nations. The Englishman is at the head, and the Russian at the bottom of the list, and between them come, in the following order, the French, the Germans, the Spaniards and the Italians. In the consumption of flesh food the Englishman is at the top, and the Italian comes last. The Frenchman is second and after him is the German, then the Russian. then the Spaniards. In the matter of bread the order is remarkably changed. In runs as follows: Russian, German, Frenchman, Spaniard, Italian, Englishmen. To the Englishman, apparently the term 'staff of life," as applied to bread, is a pleasantry. He replaces it largely by potatoes. The small consumption of bread by the Italian is accounted for by his partiality for other forms of cereal food, such as polenta from maize, and the divers preparations of wheaten flour paste, spaghetti, macaroni, etc. On the whole the Englishmen pays most and gets the least .- [Country Gentle

Not a Dead Language Yet, To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In your issue of to-day you state that Doily Pentreath, of Monsehole, who died in 1788, was the last person who spoke the Cornish language. One would be sorry to see the old lady displaced from the pedestal zen! of half-informed individuals like Prince Lucien Bonaparte, Barrington and Baines; but it is certain that she was by no means the last. I have myself | borrow $5,000 with which to build a fire and seen a letter written in Cornish, bearing date 1827, in which the writer states shat while at sea with his father and brothers he did not hear a word of English for the very oldest residents of Downie in the weeks together. The language lingers around even today, and many pure Cornish words are in everyday use. I was taught myselt, as a child to count and say the Lord's Prayer and the Creed in Cornish (and I am not 35 years old), and from personal knowledge I am sure that there is many a youngster Mrs. Samuel Arthur, at whose residence in West Cornwall who can count in Cornish | she died; Mrs. Robt. Henry, of Ellice; Mrs. as readily as he can in English. Even in John Dunseith, of Downie, and Mrs. Wm. my native city (Truro), which is probably the most Anglicized spot in Cornwall, I can name several people who learned Cornish as THE INEVITABLE FAILURE OF THE their mother tongue. Yours faithfully,

ESSEX. Mrs. Alex. Crawford and James S. Kenning, the collector of internal revenue, of Windsor, have applied to the courts to have the estate taken from the control of the Toronto General Trust Company, and given under the charge of the petitioners. The estate embraces the Crawford House and a number of other valuable properties in Windsor, and when Alex. Crawford died he named two executors. From them it was given to the trust company, and the petitioners allege that their management is extravagant and will soon ruin the estate. Some time ago Joseph Maisonville of Windsor, purchased twenty Brahma chickens and placed them under the charge of Peter Menard, of Maidstone. Chicken thieves have of late been reaping a harvest in that township, and the other night they stole thirteen of the Brahmas. On Tuesday warrants were issued for the arrest of Jacob Sharran, of Walkerville, and Wm. Aggothy, Wm. Blanchette and James Palmer, of Maidstone, charging them with the theft of the chickens. Sharran was arrested by Constable Lappan and peached on the gang.

HURON. M. Grealis, employed at the Stapleton salt works, Clinton, was suddenly killed Tuesday night at 11 o'clock. Deceased was wheeling salt into the storehouse, and having dumped the load, by some means lost his balance and fell backwards, a distance of about twelve feet, to the floor beneath. In falling he dragged the jigger with him, the wheel of which struck him on the head, causing concussion of the brain, resulting in instant death. The deceased was an army veteran, having served for over eighteen years in the Ninety-eighth, the Twentyfourth and the Royal Canadian Rifles. He was a sergeant in the Twenty-fourth under Sir Henry Havelock, and took part in the storming of Delhi.

Their five children were all present, rendering the occasion an extremely pleasing one. and Mrs. Mills were presented with an address, to which Mr. Mills feelingly replied. Mr. Mills, on behalf of the children, was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane, and Mrs. Mills with a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles. After partaking of the elegant repast provided, an evening of rare social enjoyment was participated in by those present. Mr. and Mrs. Mills are of fame to which she was elevated by the old and respected residents of the village, and hold the esteem of its citizens.

The lessons of the great strike cannot be laid down with any dogmatism. The principal actors have all been scolded and repa robated to the full extent of the vocabularies of many modern languages. There will be official investigations into causes and methods, and it is not necessary to pros 30th becoming for her midnight of the 31st, nounce hasty judgment. To the calm and experienced observer there was never a moment when the inevitable failure of the strike was not as clear as noonday. Strikes are always cruel and barbarous, and always inflict great harm on unoffending parties. a Week. But sometimes, under circumstances which compel sympathy to rally around a strike, borne in patience.

The least possible injury to the unoffending public, the greatest possible amount of find the parable of the prodigal son without sympathy from a candid and disinterested world-these are the conditions requisite to success in a strike. And any aggressive strike measures that injure the public chiefly and that injure the objective enemy only secondarily, will promptly destroy those conditions. The fact that Pullman cars form a part of the train service on more than 100,000 miles of American railroads, did not in the least justify a strike of railroad mer. The American Railway Union was entitled to bestow just as much encouragement and financial aid upon the strikers in the Pallman shops as it pleased. But nothing whatsoever in the circumstances afforded the slightest ground for the extension of the strike outside of those shops. From the point of view of militant Labor, it is conceivable that the fight in the town and shops of Pailman if kept concentrated, and if supported by a tithe of the money that was squandered upon the outside sympathetic strikes, might in the end have succeeded. But when Mr. Debs, as autocrat of the new American Railway Union, adopted the policy of extending the strike and of attacking the unoffending railway corporations and the still more spotless inoffensive world of traffic and travel, he made it necessary that the strike should

KINGSTON, Aug. 8 .- Mayor Herald and Grand Master Oliver welcomed the Daughters of Rebekah on behalf of the members of the Independent Order of Oddfellows Monday afternoon. CANADIANS IN BUFFALO.

Proceedings in the Case of Newsome, Who Engaged a Toronto Typewriter. BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 8 .- Miss Learrie, former stenographer in the employ of the Yost Typewriting Machine Company, was the only witness called in the hearing of the case of United States vs. Newsome. who was before Commissioner Fairchild this morning. Miss Learrie testified that when Mr. Newsome took charge of the Yost office he informed her that he would not require her longer in the capacity of stenographer, as there was a young woman in Toronto, a friend of his family, whom he desired to employ, as he had kept her from two positions in that city. He didn't mention the young woman's name, but after the arrival of Miss Flannigan she was given to understand that Miss Flannigan was the person referred to. She knew that Mr. Newsome was possessed of commutation tickets, and was given to understand that Miss Flannigan had used one of these to come to Buffalo, as it was cheaper than paying full fare. After cross-examination Mr. Secord, the attorney for the defense, rested his case with the

When Will It Begin?-Explanations of an Interesting Event.

In view of the near approach of a new century considerable uncertainty appears to have arisen in the minds of many persons concerning the precise time when the nineteenth century will come to an end. That interesting event will occur at midnight on Dec. 31, 1900. An instant later. according to the civil calendar, Jan. 1, return their rolls forthwith, and that if this 1901, will have opened, and the Christian world will have entered the twentieth century of its history. But the astronomers singular to say, will be half a day late in crossing the threshold of the new century. This is because the astronomical day begins at noon on the civil day of the same date. So, during the entire forenoon of Jan. 1, 1901, while the world is ringing with its welcome to the twentieth century, the dving age will still breathe in the observatories, and not until the sun has crossed the noon mark will the astronomers have beheld its end. And, as they are the chief conservators of time, there is perhaps poetic justice in thus permitting them to enjoy the last sunbeams of the nineteenth cen-

> Along the line where the day begins, i.e., the 180th meridian from Greenwich, would run through the Pacific ocean, it would be possible either to lengthen or to shorten the nineteenth century by one whole day. Suppose two ships to meet upon that line at midnight, one coming from the east and the other from the west. To the eastbound ship Dec. 31, 1900, expires just as she reaches the line. But as she crosses the line toward the east the new century which she was about to enter flees before her like an ignis-fatuus, because her reckoning of time must go backward 24 hours; and whereas it was the close of Dec. 31 when she reached the line, now that she has crossed it, it is, for her, again the beginning of Dec. 31, and she must wait another entire day before Jan. 1, 1901, will dawn upon her, ushering in the twentieth century.

> In the meantime precisely the opposite thing is occurring on the other ship. When she reaches the line it is, according to her reckoning, midnight of Dec. 30, 1900. If she should stay on the eastward side of the line she would have to wait one whole day before the twentieth century would begin. But upon passing the line toward the west she instantly gains a day, midnight of the and thus she, to whom a moment before the new century had been 24 hours in the future, enters that century at once, while the other drops back to her farmer place in the calendar .- [Garrett P. -Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appended in print will be published in these columns. Neither the writing nor the publication of anonymous letters can be justified.

-The chances in favor of soon passing a reasonable good compromise bill at Washington are now considered promising.

-The Michigan Prohibitionists are running their own candidate for Governor. They declare in favor of a non-partisan tariff commission, in order to get the tariff out of politics.

-The Canadian Manufacturer-albeit we seldom agree with it-is a capable, well-edited paper. Here is what it says about the sugar monopolies on either side

"It is somewhat remarkable that the sugar tariff question in the United States ministers, their widows and children, and excites almost as much interest in Canada as it does in that country. The general character of the tariffs of the two countries is almost identical, the only difference being that while the American duty upon refined sugar is only $10 per ton, the Canadian duty was, until quite recently, 60 per cent higher, and is now at the rate of $12 80 per ton. Refined sugar can be manu. factured in Canada quite as cheaply as in the United States, yet with a lower rate of duty the American refiners are making an $30,000,000 a year above a fair profit. It is a grand thing to be a sugar refiner in either the United States or Can-

-Here's a New York druggist kicking like a steer against the hard times because it makes people too healthy. "When money came easy to people they lived too high, they ate too much, and spent more money in drink and tobacco than they ought. The result was derangements consequent on such excesses and a lively demand for drugs to remedy them. Now workingmen are on short commons. They eat plain food, and not too much. The diet is as good as medicine and conducive to health. Of course, if the times were so hard as to cause actual privation, the inevitable result would be poorly nurtured bodies, disease, and a bigger demand for drugs. I have studied the present condition very carefully, and am satisfied that we are very healthy just now, and are so because we have not the ready money to waste in excesses."

-Scottish politicians are noted for their clear-headed views on economic questions, for the good reason that they are usually inclined to trace effects to their original causes. To remove the cause of evils is deemed with many of them "practical politics," rather than merely dealing with results. In a recent address before the East Fife Liberal Association, Mr. Saunders, of Dundse, paid particular attention to the social condition of Dundee at the present time. He declared that the condition of many of the people was truly appalling. There are no fewer than 28,000 people in that city living in houses of but one room. Many of them are very destitute of both clothing and food. In consequence families are growing up familiar with poverty, idleness and crime. One great cause of all this, he declared, was the existing licensed liquor traffic. There is now twice as much money expended each year on liquors as on tent, and to solve the problem of poverty and crime it is necessary to deal with the liquor problem.

-A prominent American, Mr. Addison Porter, in a recent address, contended that half the political troubles of the United States grow out of political indifference, MORAL DANGERS OF PROTECTION. and that the chief blame rests not with the snewy night and their wives persuade them able. The real source of the diffi-and no deference is shown to them. Their servants are better known and more influential than they are. 'Politics,' they say in their chagrin, 'is no business for gentlemen,' and they are even inclined, by their personal experience, to believe that Dr. Johnson was more than half right when he said in his cynicism and disgust at place hunters, 'Patriotism is the last resource of scoundrels." • • Remember that it is not a government mastered by ignorance; it is a government betrayed by intelligence; it is not the victory of the slums, it is the strength of the schools; it is not that bad men are politically shrewd, it is that good men are political infidels and cowards. We believe that a considerable portion of the evils above enumerated would be cured by making the exercise of the franchise obligatory. This would not only be a reminder on the specific point, and check to the corruption usually involved in 'getting out the vote," but would be an educative admonition as to what the State has a right to expect from the citizen along the whole line of civic duty. The pulpit, too, ought to do a great deal more than it has yet done in the way of inculcating the plain duties of good citizenship.

METHODIST SUPERANNUATION. The Methodist Quadrennial Conference at its last meeting appointed a committee to make a thorough investigation of the subject of the superannuation allowances to Methodist ministers. The committee, making the Methodist world its field of inquiry, has acquired a large amount of information. It is ascertained that the average allowance to British Wesleyan superannuates is $320 a year, exactly the average in Canada. Australia has the strongest fund, which permits an annuity of $480, or 50 per cent more than in Great Britain or the Dominion of Canada. Having epitomized the replies of some 2,000 circuit superintendents, the committee thinks the Canadian system leaves little room for amendment, and will recommend to the General Conference to be held next month in this city that no change be made in the scale of superannuation payable to that the amounts collected from circuits, societies and ministers remain practically

THE RESOURCES AND DEVELOP-MENT OF THE SOUTH.

The Hon. Hoke Smith, United States Secretary of the Interior, has an article in the last North American Review on the latent possibilities of the Southern States. lope, buffalo and varieties of smaller game. He alludes to the great fertility of the soil, which enabled a country drained almost to its last penny, ravaged and demoralized by civil war in 1860, to produce 60 per cent of the world's cotton and $6,000,000 worth of fruit and vegetables from Norfolk alone not 30 years later. The Southern States show a percentage of increase during the time considered, in the true value of real and personal property and in the value of manufactured product's nearly twice as great as that of the Eastern and Middle States, and yet only one-fifth of the land is in cultivation; 4,000,000 acres yet remain uncleared, three-fourths of which are suitable for cultivation. The gross product from agriculture in the South for 1890 was 24.1 per cent on the value of investment; while in the other States of the Union it was 13.1 per cent ! Mr. Smith points out what an opportunity the South offers to homeseekers. They will find land cheap and the people ready to receive them with hospitality. Political affiliations no longer affect social relations in the South. The land is most varied in its uses. The lofty elevation of the Piedmont region furnishes a climate similar to New England, while the low lands of the Gulf States are suited to semi-tropical products. Between these two can be found every character of soil, and the farmer can choose the locality and grow what he pleases. Locations can be found in which wheat, corn, cotton and fruit can be successfully cultivated in the same field.

It has been pointed out that the Southern States have made a remarkably good showing since the financial pressure commenced, and the fact has begun to attract the attention of investors from the North and West. A great deal of capital has been already placed by shrewd operators like Gould, Vanderbilt and others in Alabama, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina and other Southern States. Space will not permit of a quotation of Mr. Smith's description of the vast timber limits, the unlimited supply of iron ore, and the coal fields of the Southern States, which indicate a great commercial future for the country south of Mason and Dixie's line.

Whatever may be the outcome of the perversences of the poor, but with the sel- tariff-struggle now going on in the Amerifishness of the rich; not with the activity can Congress, Canadians will be dull of the ignorant, but with the lethargy of pupils, indeed, if they do not lay to heart the well educated. The people ne longer rule. It has so-far availed nothing that a great majority of the most intelligent and most industrious citizens have become convinced that the system is unjust and ruinous, and ought to be reformed. Their utmost efforts, resulting in a great victory at the polis two years ago, have so far proved powerless to secure the reform legislation to which the victorious part v was most solemnly pledged. The trust, the monopoly and the money have thus far proved too strong for the will of the major. ity. We may hope to soe the freedom. loving instincts of the people eventually triumph, but the nation is being rent and half ruined in the contest. Surely every thoughtful Canadian can draw the moral. -[Toronto Week.

THE SYMPATHETIC STRIKE. In a sermon recently the Rev. William E. Barton, of Boston, said that a sympa-thetic strike reminded him of the old woman who was unable to persuade her pig to jump over the stile. So she commanded the dog to bite the pig. When the dog refused she commanded the stick to beat the dog. Then, as refusal followed refusal, she ordered the fire to burn the stick, and the water to quench the fire, and the ox to drink the water, and the butcher to kill the ox, and the rope to hang the butcher, and the rat to gnaw the rope, and the cat to catch the rat. Here, by reason of the old-time animosity of the cat against the rat, she succeeded. The cat began to catch the rat, and the rat, to save its life, began to gnaw the rope, and the rope, to escape destruction, began to hang the butcher, and the butcher, to save his neck, began to kill the ox, and the ox began to drink the water, and the water to quench the fire, and the fire to burn the st ck, and the stick to beat the dog. Thereupon, the dog proceeded to bite the pig, and the pig jumped over the stile, and the old woman went on her way rejoicing. That was the first sympathetic strike on record.

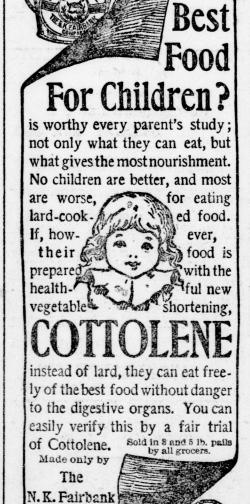

Grover Broke His Neck.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The big buffalo oull Grover Cleveland, belonging to Austin Corbin, is said to have broken his neck on Sunday at Mr. Corbin's game preserve in New Hampshire in attempting to demonstrate his superiority to the other memhers of the herd. He is believed to have had a fierce battle with another bull and in charging put his head too low, struck his horns in the ground, turned a somersault and thus ended his life with a broken cervical vertebra. Mr. Corbin has a large game preserve in Sullivan county, New Hampshire, called the Blue Mountain Forest. It is stocked with elk, moose, ante-

THE TRUE RELIEF

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is safe, reliable and effectual because of the stimulating action which it exerts over the nerves and vital powers of the body, adding tone to the one and inciting to renewed and increased vigor the slumbering vitality of the physical structure, and through this healthful atimulation and increased action the cause of the PAIN is driven away and a natural condition restored. It is thus that the READY RELIEF restored. It is thus that the READY RELIEF is so admirably adapted for the CURE OF PAIN and without the risk of injury which is sure to result from the use of many of the so-called pain remedies of the day.

In using medicines to stop pain we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Ether. Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception when the patient loses the power of feeling. This is the most destructive practice: it masks the sprome, shuts ur, and instead offremoving trouble, breaks down the stomach, light and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time. kills the nerves and produces local or gen paralysis. There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RAD-WAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least difficulty in either infant or adult.

A CURE FOR ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS, DYSENTERY, DIARRHEA.

CHOLERA MORBUS. A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a flannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure, A half to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will in a few minutes cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulencey and all internal

MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE CONQUERED.

Radway's Ready Relief Not only cures the patient seized with this but if people exposed to it will, every morning on getting out of bed, take 29 or 30 drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water and eat, say, a cracker, they will escape attacks. This must be done before going out.

There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other Malarious, Bilious or other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILLS, so quickly as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

DIRTY BALL-PLAYING. PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—Patsy Tebeau came nearly being mobbed after today's game. He had to wait under the grand stand until the crowd left the park. In the ninth two of the Cleveland men were out, when Tebeau commenced to abuse Hoagland for certain decisions, and wanted to put on the gloves with the umpire. Hoagland was willing to accompany Tebesu to the club house and have it out, but the crowd was so mad at Tebeau that he had to be hustled out of their reach. O'Conner also exhibited his tough qualities by grabbing the ball out of Hartman's hands and throwing it out of the grounds. Beckley was also guilty of dirty ball-playing. He interfered with Fatty Childs while he was running to first base, and as a result Childs turned two or three somersaults, fracturing his collar bone. It may have been accidental, but it surely could have been avoided. Tebeau was hit in the face on his way from the grounds to the hotel in the 'bus.

THE AMERICANS WERE OUTCLASSED. After making all due allowances for the change of climate and other foreign conditions it seems pretty plain that the Americans were outlassed in the running contests, which constitute the best part of athletics. Their pre-eminence in hammer throwing and weight putting, although gratifying in its way, is scarcely a satisfactory equivalent for their everthrow at all distances. As for the heavy track, that was as fair for one side as the other, but it may be pointed out that English athletes are generally trained with a view to eventualities of this kind, and as a rule are not as fine when they come to the post as college champions in this country are wont to be. There is a belief in Great Britain that a little flesh is likely to afford the reserve of strength which is needed so desperately in a punishing finish. This may account partly for the success of the the relative equality of college-athletes in the two countries, neither team being in any sense representative .- [The Evening Post, New York, THE TURF

Zimmerman won also the ten mile scratch race in the Birmingham tournament today. Time, 27 minutes 47 3-5 seconds. POOR OPINION OF HAMILTON.

The party of cycling tourists who arrived here yesterday morning from Detroit resumed their journey eastward this morning. The beach and the mountain furnished some amusement for the wheelmen, and several took in the afternoon sail to Toronto. The party is composed of a lot of jelly fellows who would have liked nothing better than to assist some of the Hamilton wheelmen to "make things hum." Although there are two good bicycle clubs here, both with large memberships, not a wheelman called on the visitors or endeavored in any way to give the strangers a good impres-sion of the hospitality of Hamilton cyclists, and this oversight was the subject of considerable comment among the visitors. Over 70 members of the London clubs rode out seven miles to meet the party last Sunday morning, and gave them a uniformed parade around the city before they left. In St. Thomas and Leamington the tourists were well received by the home clubs .-[Hamilton Times.

Conditions in the New York Corn Eing Reversed

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 .- The conditions were reversed in the corn ring on the Produce Exchange this afternoon. Today the bears wore the smile, while the bulls saw the market slip away from them by quarter and half cents. Country specu-The Colborne street nine defeated the lators especially felt the effects of the break, as they have been bulls on corn some time. This morning, however, the local traders, who have steadily sold corn in the face of the great rise, getting squeezed in the operation, piled in fresh offerings in big blocks until September corn, which opened at 64 cents, broke to 59h cents, and at Chicago was driven from 611 cents, the opening price, to 53 cents. All this happened within half an hour, amid a great uproar of excited traders.

Wheat opened weaker, advanced a trifle, and then, feeling the giving way of corn, dropped 11 to 12 cents a bushel.

The big break in corn was the result of too" much pressure of corn on the market and inability of the bulls to support it any

HYPNOTIZING BUFFALO BILL.

How the Grim Old Indian Fighter Gave in to a Superior Will. A good story at the expense of Buffalo Bill is told by Major Moses P. Handy. The major obtained it from a preminent physician, and he has no doubt of its accuracy. "Only a few weeks ago," said the doctor, "I was traveling from Washington to Chicago on one of the limited trains. In the smoking car-parlor smoker, as it is called -where I sat was a lively after-dinner party, and among them were two well known men, Gen. Lew Wallace, author of Ben Hur,' and Col. Wm. F. Cody, who is everybody's acquaintance as The Oxford victory proves nothing as to The conversation was very animated, when one of the passengers was observed to drop his head, evidently fast asleep. 'Lock at that fellow, said Cody, going to sleep like a baby, with all this talk going on.' All sorts of remarks aimed at the sleeper failed to waken him, and finally somebody suggested that he must be hypnotized.

"'He is hypnotized,' said a gentleman who sat by him, 'and I did it.' "Everybody was curious, but skeptical, on this announcement, and Cody was not only skeptical, but contemptuous. He said that nobedy but a fool or an idiot could be imposed upon by such nonsense, much less be really hypnotized.

"Well,' said the man who claimed the hypnotic power, 'l'il bet you $25 that I can hypnotize you. "Done, said Cody. 'I'll go you for $25,' and he pulled out a great roll of bills and put up the money. "The operator went to work, and to the surprise of everybody who knew the customer he had to deal with, he had the mighty hunter and Indian tamer at his mercy in a shorter time than it takes to tell the story. "Then ensued," continued the dector. "the most laughable scene I ever saw. That fellow made Cedy to the most ridicu-lons things, and he did them all with a gravity and earnestness that were as amusing as his actions. I will not tell them all. It is enough to say that he was made to take off one article of clothing after another. The grand climax was reached when, amid shouts of laughter, in obedience to a suggestion from the opertor, Bill opened a ball, his partner, being an arm chair, to which he paid the most gallant and delicate attention. "Bow to your partner!' 'Advance! 'Half promonade !' 'Swing corners !' The familiar calls came in swift succession, and Bill, with his arms tightly clasping the chair, and lavishing killing looks upon it, responded with the same zest and abandon which made him so many fair admirers in the drawing-rooms of two hemispheres. He was loth to stop; but when the joke had gone quite far enough the master mind broke the spell with a peremptory order, and there was a scene of a different character. Bill is amiable, however, as he is brave, and he acknowledged the joke gracefully. 'Boys,' he said, as he put on his coat and waistcoat, 'the joke is on me. Just say nothing about this, and I will pay for all you can and will drink and smoke between here and Chicago.'

Unpacked His Trunk. This portrait of a masculine specimen who settled down at Asbury Park the other day is furnished by the correspondent of a New York paper: A magnificent looking bachelor, with big eyes as black as mulberries and a fierce mustache that completely dressed him for the part of a 'comic opera brigand chief," to quote one of the pretty girls, arrived at the Coleman House one day this week. He registered, found he was just in time for luncheon, and went to his room. Immediately he sent for the chambermaid. The chambermaid he sent for a sheet. When the sheet came he opened his immense trunk, larger than that of any belle in the house, and tray by tray dumped its contents on the sheet. "Now," he remarked with complacency, "my trunk is unpacked, and I want you to leave things alone. If you bother them I'll get all mixed up, and I'm down here to rest. There's no sense in going into a trunk like a woman for every little fool thing that you want." The chambermaid, zealous creature that she is, has been spreading this "propaganda" everywhere. Converts she may not have secured; she has certainly impressed upon many a feminine heart that man's need for

The Professional Lobbyist.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.-The professional lobbyist has provoked the anger of the Populist Senator from Nebraska (Mr. Allen), to the extent that a bill was introduced in the Senate today by him imposing a penalty of fine and imprisonment in the common jail upon any person "who habitually attempts to influence the legislative action of Congress by soliciting members."

Hamilton, Aug. 8 .- S. Spicuzza, an Italian who has been in the wholesale and retail fruit business here for the past five years, has left the city, and it is believed he has returned to Italy. Spicuzza did a big business, and it is estimated his liabilities are about $9,000. He owes three Hamilton firms $3,700, and a Buffalo and a New York firm $2,000 each. He also purchased $100 worth of jewelry from a King treet jeweler and neglected to p ay for it.

to the Paris observatory, have (our corres-

This was done by means of photographs of the moon's surface, done in sections which fit into each other like the different parts of a map. When the component parts are placed together they form a circular image, having a diameter of one metre 50 centimetres. There is, besides, a negative on glass, of wonderful perfection, and having a diameter of 50 centimeters. The latter bears examination with a magnifying glass of high power. The images on it are of astona millimeter or the thousandth part of a marked augmentation within the last sixmeter represent an area of 1,600 meters. Were there forests, towns, rivers, they would be perceptible. It is possible to measure the heights of lunar mounin the mountains, and are sinuous, but different in aspect from those of this planet, which are beds for watercourses. Meeting of the Oddfellows' Grand Lodge at Kingston.

Good Pregress Made by the Order-The Grand Master's Report.

KINGSTON, Aug. 8. - The Grand Lodge of Oddfellows of the Province of Ontario opened here this morning with a large attendance of delegates. Previous to the business session Mayor Herald, on behalf of the citizens, welcomed the visitors, and Ald. Meek performed similar service on behalf of local members of the order. Grand Master Ofiver reported the order in a most satisfactory condition, in numbers and in interest. Twelve new lodges had been instituted during the year past. Twenty years ago the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows met here. Since that time the lodges have been We don't want to make donbled and the members' list trebled. The grand master reversed the decision, holding that if the brother had been drinking to excess they did wrong in first electing him to the position of N. G. when they knew he was an habitual drunkard. The brothers should have at at once charged him with conduct unbecoming an Oddfellow and not left it until the brother became incapable of answering for himself. The decision is

The benefit and you will buy whether you relief afforded reached $37,192 19. Fourteen veteran jewels were issued and a jewel for membership in a Rebekah Lodge for fifteen years, prepared as well as an honorable veteran jewel for long and faithful service. The year's receipts were $23,-020 55; expenditures, $13,047 56; balance on hand, $9,992 99.

The grand jurisdiction of Ontario was referred to as holding a unique position in the preparation of the special tables.

C. Packart, Stratford, one of the grand auditors, reported in regard to the Relief Association, into whose affairs he made an exhaustive inquiry. His report showed the association to be in all details economically and efficiently managed. The Grand

Than Men. Statistics prove that, taking the world as a whole, the number of men and women is about equal-the best argument against polygamy; but this relationship varies greatly when individual countries are considered. According to the last estimate of the world's population, made up from the censuses in single States, Norway and Scotland are the countries with the greatest relative number of women. In these countries there are to every 100 men respectively 107.5 and 107.2 women. The excess in women is also large in Sweden, there being 106.5 to every 100 men; in England, where there are 106; in Denmark. with 105.1, and in Switzerland, with 105.6. The countries of the north in general show a larger population of women.

Of the lands with a more temperate climate, Austria has 104.4 women to 100 men, Hungary 101.5 to 100, and France

100.7 to 100. Further towards the South, men become the more numerous. Spain, almost alone of the Seuthern European countries, numbers more females than males, the proportion beind 104 to 100. Rumania, Servia and Bulgaria are more masculine, so to speak, there being for every 100 men respectively 96.4, 94.8 and 96.5 women. In Italy the percentage is almost equal, the relationship being 99.5 to 100 in favor of the women. In the United States, say the authorities, the older States show a small excess of women, and the new ones an excess of men. There are in the Atlantic and Eastern States 100.5 women to 100 men, while in some of the 720. Pacific and Western States there are only 69.8 women to 100 men. In new countries there is invariably an excess of men-a fact natural and easy of explanation. The promised land of women is still Australia, where even in the oldest colonies the stronger sex far outnumber the weaker. In Victoria, New South Wales and South Australia the relationship is respectively at cost price. 90.6, 84.9 and 92.1 in favor of the men. In West Australia there are only 63 women to 100 men. In India, in every place except the Government of Madras, the men outnumber the women.

Uncle Sam and Hawaii.

Representative McCreary (Kentucky) was preading over the committee of the whole this grand opportunity. in the House this afternoon he was notified that Secretary Greshan desired to see him in the speaker's room. It was subsequently learned that the secretary had notified him that the republic of Hawaii had been officially recognized by this Government. The official announcement of the recognition will probably be made tomorrow. The Rainfall at Jerusalem.

James Fairplay. - No, James, you would not be justified by law in killing the dog catcher. According to a recent decision of Judge Meredith that would be entirely uncalled for. The decision in question is now recognized as a precedent and involves a chancery suit. Chancery in this case does not mean a tedious delay, as in "Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce," but consists in getting the dog underneath the arm and squeezing tight. If two dogs, use both arms and give two Equeezes. Then give the dog catcher a haughty stare, and if possible induce the dog to bark once just as an expression of disapproval. To completely bewilder the dog catcher and render pursuit impossible, walk off whistling, "Daddy Would Not Buy Me a Bow-Wow," and interlard a few bars of "Sweet Marie."

What Came of It.

The following morning, when they had gone for a drive with their aunt, Dolly took her knitting, and sat down under the awning on the beach. It was a lovely day, not quite so hot as yesterday; the sun shone on the sands, but it was tempered by a breeze that blew over the sea. Children were playing about, young men and women stroited by the rocks, picking up shells and seaweed. Out at sea, a few white sails glittered in the sun; a distant steamer passed smoothly along, seeming to touch the horizon. A dainty yacht was making towards the little landing-place; some fishing-smacks were putting out. It was a charming picture of life at the seashore; a life which is healthy because it is pleasant, and pleasant in that it is lazy.

"Oh, how delightful it is!" breathed Dolly aloud, when she had gaz d long at the scene. "If I could but see it always! If we did but live near the sea !"

"Sometimes the sea is gloomy and rough," said a voice at her elbow. "How would you like it then, Miss Krane!" He came into view from behind the awning, and sat down, the Baron De Fierreville, startling Dolly. She had seen him go off by an omnibus after breakfast, and did not know he was back again. "I think I should like it always," she answered, with deprecation. "Rough or smooth, the sea must be always beautiful.

We cannot have fair weather every day, and must take the bad with the good."
"Ay; that's philosophy. How is it that you have run away from me of late?" Dolly blushed to the tips of her busy fingers. "I have a good deal to do for Aunt Hamlet; she wants me to read to her, and to give her my arm when she walks,' answered Dolly.
"Wher are your cousins this morning?"

"They are gone out for a drive with my

"Was there not room for you?"
"Not any," said Dolly. "I should have made five. It would have crushed their new cambric dresses." Dolly's dress this morning was a simple cotton with pretty blue sprigs upon it. The baron sat in silence for a few moments ooking at her, so unpretending, so fresh and fair, with her clear, pleasant face haded by its beautiful hair.

"Do you like your cousins?" he asked.

"Oh, very much. They are truly kind, and they give me a great many things. Did you notice—but of course you did not. How foolish I am!"

"Now please tell me what you were going to say, Miss Krane. Did I notice Dolly blushed again. "You must forgive me; I spoke without thought. It was only whether you happened to notice a new silk dress I came down to dinner in yesterday. Julia gave it me. It was hers, and she said I might alter it for myself, for people must be tired of seeing me in the gray. Oh, they are very kind, very nice; you would like them better and better the more you knew of them.

They are rich, I suppose?" "Well, yes: rich, at least, as compared with me. Aunt Charlotte says they are giddy and takk too much," added Dolly, hoping to offer an excuse for the young ladies' behavior to her hearer. "But they will remedy that, you know, as they get

The baron laughed. "You young ladies don't put old heads on your shoulders yet awhile, do you, Miss Krane? Why I supsose you are not more than 19?"

Dolly looked up in surprise. I am 22. He suppressed a smile. "Is your father a clergyman?" he asked after a pause. 'Yes. He is the rector of Stagbrook." "The Reverend Abel Krane?

"Yes," repeated Dolly, wondering.
I thought it might be so; the name, Krane, is not a very common one, you see. I believe I know him. Rather more than a year ago he was doing duty in Switzerland. I was staying there, and made acquaintance with him."

"It is quite true!" said Dolly, her face beaming with delight. "Papa had nearly broken down with the home work, and somebody kindly got him a chaplaincy abroad for a month, and he went there with mamma. And I am sure now that I have heard him mention you. I thought the name was familiar to my ears. How

Dolly could not have defined why she was glad; partly, perhaps, at meeting some-one who knew her father; partly at the conviction this brought her that Miss Hamlet's doubts were without found ation, that the baron was what he appeared

"And now you will no longer be afraid of me, or look upon me as a five-tailed bashaw," quoth he smiling.

Dolly blushed hotly. "Did you see much of papa?—did you like him?"

I liked him, indeed; but I did not see much of him. I was at the place but a week or ten days.'

"Halloa, De Fierreville! Won't you come for a sail? It is a glorious day for it." The interruption was made by some of the gentlemen staying at the hotel. The baron rose, said good-morning to Dolly, and went to them.

Dolly found herself quite at liberty now to stroll out when she would, and to talk to the baron, if he chose to talk to her; her cousins no longer interfered to prevent it. Very often indeed, when she was sitting on the beach, or under the rocks, or strolling on the sands to pick up shells for the young ones at home, did he join her; and somehow

Dolly grew to love the meetings. One evening at sunset a yacht put in. Its owner, Captain Close, came to the hotel and found his friend the baron. After dinner, when Miss Hamlet was sitting out of doors in the soft twilight, a fleecy white shawl on ther shoulders, Captain Close, throwing are cured. Although now 79 years of age away the end of his cigar, chanced to sit I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and down in the next chair.

You are not with the dancers, sir," said Miss Hamlet, wishing to be sociable. "Not to-night, ma'am. The young ladies might hardly care to dance with a man in a rough pilot jacket. I only came up to find De Fierreville, and did not put myself shipshape."

All in a moment it struck Miss Hamlet that she could not do better than question this sailor, with the frank speech and honest, weather-beaten face, about the baron. And she did so.

"Is he what he passes for, would you ask?" repeated Captain Close, in much surprise, when he had listened. He is George, Baron de Fierreville just as surely as that I am Richard Close, commander in her Majesty's navy-for I am not captain yet, worse luck, though people give me the title on shore. Why, what else did you take him for, ma'am?"

Miss Hamlet made a few apologies, explaining a little that cautious people did not, as a rule, put absolute trust in barons such gentlemen lived by their wits; and she street.

"That's as may be; people's notions on riches differ, you mut know, ma'am," said the sai'or. "The Fierreville estates bring in £2,000 clear yearly; and that's an uncommon good income for France, though it might not be thought much of here at home. Added to that, there was a great deal of money that had accumulated between the late baron's death and this one's coming of age, which is placed, as I chanced to know, in good securities. Oh, yes, he is well off; wish I had half as much. "You appear to know him well, sir." "I do; ma'am; have known him ever since he was in petticoats. There was some distant relationship between my people and his late mother, who was a Close before she married; though I'll be shot if I know what it was; and I've often stayed at Chateau Fierreville. It's a fine place."

All this was gennine truth; and Miss

Hamlet, wishing to be just, informed her three nicces, before going to bed, that she found she had misjudged the baron, who was a real baron and not an adventurer. The young ladies threw their heads into the air. "All the same," they said to one another, "he is doing Brightwater under abominably false colors."

Early the next morning Captain Close's yacht went out, carrying the baron with it.
And he never condescended to take leave of anybody! "Just the manners that might be expected of him!" exclaimed

A Grand Feature Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imveins full of richness and nearth, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are espelly subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the harts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are

"Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."—Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy my general health is good. I am wellknown in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case." The armadille is the mouser of South American families.

CHASE'S CHAPTER

1. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are : combination of valuable medicines in concen trated form as prepared by the eminent Physician and Author, Dr. A. W. Chase, with a view to not only be an unfailing remedy for Kidney and Liver troubles, but also tone the Stomach and purify the Blood, at a cost that is within the reach of all. The superior merit of these pills is established beyond question by the praise of thousands who use them—one Pill a dose, one box 25 cents.

2. When there is a Pain or Ache in the Poll, the Vilgers and problems of troubles.

Back the Kidneys are speaking of trouble that will ever increase unless relieved. We have the reliable statement of L. B.

Johnson, Holland Landing, who says: I had a constant Back-Ache, my back felt cold all the time, appetite poor, stomach sour and belching, urine scalding, had to get up 3 or 4 times during night to urinate, commenced taking one Kidney-Liver Pill a day; Back-Ache stopped in 48 hours, appetite returned, and able to enjoy a good meal and a good nights sleep; they cured me. 3. Constipation often exists with Kidney Prouble, in such a case there is no medicine that will effect a permanent cure except Chase' combined Kidney-Liver Pill, one 25 cent box will do more good than dollars and dollars worth of any other preparation, his is endorsed by D. Thompson, Holland Landing, Ont.

WOMAN'S NEED

Women suffer unspeakable tortures from muscular weakness, caused by impaired nerves and poor blood. Uric Kidney acid poison, unsuspected, weakens the nerves and poisons the blood. By and by, if the Kidneys do not properly purify the blood, then comes prolapsus, retroversion, etc. Blood 75 per cent. pure is not a nourisher—it is a death breeder. Delicate women need not be told how much they would give to get and STAY well. If their blood is free from the poisonous ferments of the Kidneys and Liver, they will never know what "weakness" is. The blood is the source and sustainer of health it cannot be kept pure except the Kidneys and Liver do their work naturally. Something is needed to insure free and natural action of these organs, one 25 cent box of Kidney-Liver Pills will prove to any sufferer they are a boon to women, can be used with perfect confidence by those of delicate constitution. One Kidney-Liver Pill taken weekly will effectually neutralize the formation of Uric Acid in the blood and prevent any tendency to Bright's Disease or Diabetes. For purifying the Blood and renevating the system. especially in the Spring, one 25 cent box is equal to $10 worth of any Sarsaparilla or Bitters known. Sold by all dealers, or by mail on receipt of price, EDMANSON, BATES & CO., 45 Lambard Street, Toronto.

FOLLOWING THE MASTER.

("Amber," in Chicago Herald.) They were lifting her very tenderly out of the car. She was as white as snow, and her eyes had the look of one who sees quite through the intervening veil that floats between this life and the other. The bonnet on her head was a blue poke, and by that token I knew that she belonged to the Sal-

"Is she very ill?" I asked one who stood "Oh, very; we hardly expected to get her as far as this. That's her husband who has her in his arms, and it just seems as if he couldn't let her go." "What is the matter with her?" "Quick consumption, most likely, leastways that's what the doctor says it is, but I guess it's overwork and confinement in a bad neighborhood. She's been slumming all summer, and she wasn't very strong to

"What do you mean by 'slumming?" "Going down where the very poor live and camping alongside of 'em. Eating what theyeat, breathing the same air they breathe and sleeping on the damp floor with them. That's what killed her, but she wanted to do it. There isn't any compulsion in it, but now and then we get hold of a soul that's enough like Jesus to do his work his way. She was a true soldier, that girl was, and now she's going home it just makes me want to shout 'glory!' all the time to think what she's going to find. Her rosy cheeks again and her plump arms and her pretty ways as they were before she laid em all aside to work for Jesus." The sick woman vanished in the crowd, held close in the arms of the man who loved her; the voluble talker moved onward with her, while I mused a bit by myself as I strolled alongside.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life," etc., etc.

FRUIT BUYERS MEET

And Pass Important Resolutions-Officers Elected.

TORONTO, Aug. 8 .- The first annual meeting of the Canadian Fruit Buyers and Ex porters' Association was held yesterday in the parlor of the Albion Hotel, and in attendance were many well-known fruit men from all parts of the country. The following resolution was carried: Resolved, that the practice that has existed in the past, and which has become so general, of engaging assistants in buying and packing on commissie should be discontinued, and in future all assistants or help shall be paid by salary, by the day, week, month or season, as can best be arranged, and any member of the association found violating the same in the future shall be subject to the censure of the association. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, W. Dixon, Hamilton; vice-president, A. E. W. Peterson, Cobourg; executive committee, J. M. Shuttleworth, Brantford; J. C. Smith, Burlington; David Cantelon, Clinton; Sam. Nesbitt, Brighton;

Thomas Seldon, Ingersoll. It was resolved "That we, as members of this association, pledge curselves not to purchase apples on the plan known as 'so much and the rise,' or to give what is catled a bonus, and to use, so far as it lies in our power, the form of contract adopted by the association."

ried: "That the members of this association faithfully agree not to accept any 'shipper count' or 'more or less' bill of lading when shipping apples, but to insist on receiving clean bills of lading."

Another matter of some importance decided on was that the farmer should be torced to supply barrels.

A main feature of the evening session was the reading of crop reports from all parts of Ontario on apples. That crops will be large and prices low is the prospect. There will be very little export to the United States, the crops in New England being also very plentiful.

"Jack, the Giant Killer,"

The child's story of "Jack, the Giant Killer," furnishes a striking illustration of the efficacy of small agencies towards the suppression of great evils, when judiciously used. The daring exploits of brave little Jack remind us, in their resuits, of the wonderful achievements of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in battling with the giant, Disease. Relatively, the proportion between the youthful here and old Blunderbore is apparently not greater than that between the little "Pellets" and the relentless monster which preys upon the vitals. Yet, the "Pellets" comes off conqueror of conscipation, sick headache, bilionsness and kindred ailments every time. If you are suffering from either acute or chronic disorder of the digestive organs, try this sure solarometer, the invention of Lieutenant

a little telescope about three inches long,

Bound for the North Pole.

Another North Pole adventurer has come to light. Hugh Macdonald was on exhibition in the police court cage this morning, and told the magistrate a nice yarn. He said that he had come from Halifax, N. S., and had worked his way to London. The North Pole was his destination, but here he landed in another sort of "cooler." Macdonald was trying to replenish his provisions for the trip by making a house-to-house visit when the law put his James Dodds: Dr. Guthrie once paid a iron clutches on him. P. M. Western Fair Balloon Races. These balloon races are a decided novelty in Canada, never having been produced in this country, and should not be confounded with the ordinary paracaute leaps. At the fair a lady and gent will go up in the same balloon to a height of several thousand feet, and at a given signal cut loose on separate parachutes and race to the earth. The excitement incident to the balloon ascension will be greatly increased by the addition of the race to finish up with. These races will be conducted by the celebrated Grace Shannon Balloon Company of Atlanta, Ga., and the participants in the contests will be Melle Ruby De Veau, the "Queen of the Clouds," and Prof. Ed. R. Hutchinson, the "King of the A'r," forming a royal combination that cannot be surpassed. Their engagement is for each day of the fair and for three evenings, when they still add to the entertainment by using fireworks in the ascents. By his death the Quebec Liberals lose one of their trusted leaders. Hon. Mr. Geoffrion was elected for Vercheres to the Canadian Assembly in 1863, and represented it until 1867.

Some Historical Lies. There was probably no such man as Romulus. The first historian who mentions him lived at a distance of time so great as to throw extreme discredit on the story as told by him.

Alexander the Great did not weep for other worlds to conquer. There is reason to suspect that his army met with a serious reverse in India, a fact that induced him to retrace his steps.

The crew of Le Vengeur, the famous French ship sunk by an English man-ofwar, did not cry, "Vive la Republique?" They bawled for help, and the English boats were sent to their asssistance.

The immense burning glasses with Archimedes burned the ships of the beseigers of Syracuse at ten miles distance were never manufactured, and it is now known that they could not have existed. Pitt did not use the expression, "The atrocious crime of being a young man." The words were used by Dr. Johnson, who was not present, but wrote a report of the
