TWO PICTURES.

This is what the great Edmund Burke says of the duty of a Representative. We want Mr. Snowball and his friends to read it:—
'It is the duty of your Parliamentary representative to sacrifice his repose and his pleasures to yours, and above all, to prefer in all cases OUR INTEREST TO HIS OWN.'

CROWN LANDS.

Now and again in certain quarters a large amount of space, and a great deal of verbiage is used to misrepresent the management of our Crown Lands. The very vagueness of the charges made prove how futile they are. After nearly four years management of the office the present Surveyor-General is to be congratulated that the only charges against him are so flimsy and puerile. He is accused of raising too large a revenue, just as another minister is denounced for having a surplus.

The great charge against Mr. Adams is something he has done in connection with a certain lumberer—Geo. McLeod, Esq. There is no doubt but Mr. McLeod is entitled to the same consideration as other lumber merchants. Every man should be treated alike, and no favor should be shown. But, it is often necessary, in order to protect the interests of the country that some men should be stringently watched, and if they are found to be scheming to manipulate the peoples property to their own advantage, it is only right to draw the reins tight. Mr. McLeod's charges against the Surveyor-General were in the hands of the Opposition last session. These men were on the spot and could easily learn all about them. If they could prove them they would damage the Government, who are responsible, and would undoubtedly have strengthened themselves. If they could prove them they would have brought them forward. But they only reason for their not doing so must be, they know that the Surveyor-General was prepared triumphantly to meet them. He asked them to formulate their charges, and he would demand a thorough investigation. But they would not do so, and the public can easily judge what weight to attach now to those grievances which Mr. McLeod's friends would not bring before the House of Assembly.

The charges about the hemlock lands are of a similar character. There is the same persons connected with them. The sale of these lands will not interfere except favorably, with the interests of settlers or with the lumber interests of Kent. The Messrs. Miller are too well known here to require any eulogy. Their connection with Kent County will be as beneficial to it as it has been to ours, and the establishment of a bark factory there, will be of such benefit to the county that the people will soon recognize the benefit of the late sale of hemlock lands.

The calling of hard names is the "last ditch," and when it is reached it proves that galled jade is beginning to wince. When a man gets excited he generally betrays his true inwardness, and lays open his true inwardness. Although he may cloak himself with a thin robe of respectability, yet sometimes the old Adam will break through. The calling of a person a "foot-pad" or a "highwayman" only shows that the last ditch has been reached and that for want of argument it is necessary to abuse the opponent. It shows too how thin is the robe of respectability which shrouds the offender and how naturally, when excited the lessons of his early years come to his assistance.

We quite agree that our lumber interest is of vast importance second only to the agricultural, and should be properly protected. For doing so from certain individuals, the present Surveyor-General has earned the confidence and esteem of the great majority of the lumberers of the Province.

THE WANTS OF CHATHAM.

The town of Chatham is the second port in this Province, with a large population of working men whose sole means of gaining a livelihood for themselves and families is by working in the ships and mills during the summer, and on the approach of winter they have either to remain idle in town or leave their families and repair to the lumber camps in the woods and take just such wages for their labour as the precarious and fluctuating deal trade will allow the merchant to give them. But when we consider the vast quantities of logs that have been cut in our forests during the last ten or twelve years as well as the increased distance that the operator has now to travel to procure them, but one conclusion must be come to, and that is in a few more years lumbering will be anything but profitable to either operator or merchant, owing to the poor quality of the logs and the constantly increasing cost of getting and bringing them to market. Now when we look around us and see towns and villages that are neither as wealthy nor as populous as our own, establishing manufactures of different kinds which not only return a handsome profit to their enterprising proprietors but give remunerative employment to large numbers of their labouring population, we are surprised that some of our men of capital and enterprise have not embarked in some manufacturing enterprise long ere this. Neither Moncton, St. Stephen or Windsor are as large, populous or wealthy as Chatham, yet their inhabitants have started manufactures of different kinds, which by giving profitable employment to their inhabitants, not only retain them in the country but keep the money in their own midst that would otherwise have to be sent abroad to purchase the very articles they now manufacture at home. There is no town in the Dominion that has better facilities for carrying on manufactures than Chatham, and we do not know what is to prevent their establishment in our midst. We have both the means and the enterprise to successfully accomplish all that the inhabitants of Moncton, St. Stephen or Windsor have done in that direction, and we feel confident that if some of our prominent and leading men were to take the matter in hand they would speedily succeed in the accomplishment of the object they had in view. What is there to prevent the erection of a spool factory that both summer and winter would not only give profitable employment to a large number of hands but return the proprietors a handsome profit for the money invested by them in the enterprise. A Furniture Factory could also be erected, and as the best qualities of beech, birch, maple and ash are to be found in our forests, we see no reason why its proprietors could not carry on an extensive and profitable business which would give employment to a large number of hands at fair and remunerative wages.

DOMINION EXHIBITION.

The formal opening of the Dominion Exhibition at Halifax took place on Tuesday last. The day was fine, and long before the hour for opening had arrived the building and grounds were crowded with visitors from all quarters of the country. Lieut. Governor Archibald occupied the chair while surrounding him on the platform were Lieut. Governor Haviland, of P. E. I., and a number of the most prominent men of the Maritime Provinces. Owing to illness, Mayor Tobin was not present and the opening address was read by Professor Lawson, the manager of the Exhibition. Lieut. Governor Haviland, of P. E. I., Hon. Wm. Wedderburn, of New Brunswick, Hon. Mr. Holmes, Provincial Secretary of Nova Scotia and Mr. M. H. Ritchey, M. P., delivered brief addresses, after which Governor Archibald briefly declared the Exhibition opened and the occupants of the platform dispersed to inspect the show. The number of visitors present during the day was estimated at about six thousand, and the general opinion of all was that it was a splendid show and compared most favorably with any that has preceded it. It is impossible for us to give even a brief sketch of the articles exhibited, enough for us to say that during the past week the Halifax and St. John papers have been filled with lists which embrace every kind of machinery, and manufactures of every sort and description. On Thursday the city was crowded with strangers and in addition to the attractions of the Exhibition there was a grand review and a sham fight on the Common during the morning and a successful programme of athletic sports on the Exhibition grounds in the afternoon. In the evening there was a brilliant pyrotechnic display together with the electric light which was shown from H. M. S. Northampton and Georges Island, is said to have been one of the most magnificent sights ever witnessed in Halifax. Yesterday the Exhibition closed.

GLoucester Silver Mining Company. We have received a neatly printed pamphlet containing the Prospectus of the above company which was incorporated under the laws of the Province of New Brunswick on the 10th September last. The officers of the company are well known to our readers, and consist of: R. R. Call, President, John Sadler, Vice-President, W. A. Hickson, Treasurer, John Stovewright, Secretary, Samuel Adams, General Manager. The general office of the company is in Bathurst. The property of the company is situated on the Niagara River, in Gloucester County, about sixteen miles from Bathurst, and about six miles from the Intercolonial Railway. It is easy of access at any time, and can be worked at any season of the year. The capital of the company is $250,000 divided into 50,000 shares of $5 each. The company has secured a tract of 640 acres of land, lying in the Quebec group which is the great metalliferous formation of North America. The geological reports of the northern section of the Province contain evidence of the importance of this district for many purposes, and it is beyond doubt that a quantity of wealth lies hid in the bowels of the Niagara district. A company composed of shrewd and successful business men, such as constitute the "Gloucester Silver Mining Company," are sure of success.

GRIT TARIFF NOTES.

The only industry that the Grit lumber-merchants of the country with the Dominion Government to protect their own, and while they speak in opposition to the Government levying a protective tariff on foreign goods coming into the country to encourage home manufactures they are in their demands upon the same Government to protect them in their business by giving them a drawback of 60 cents a thousand on the lumber they export. Consistency is a jewel, but it is not to be found among our Grit lumber merchants when there is anything to be gained by pursuing an inconsistent course.

Sir Leonard Tilley in Albert.

In response to an invitation Sir Leonard Tilley visited Albert, on Tuesday last, where he received a warm and enthusiastic welcome from a large body of the electors of that county. At 3 o'clock he was presented with two addresses at Powell Corner, and the Moncton Times gives a lengthy report of his speech which is a lucid and convincing defence of the policy of the Liberal Conservative Government. Owing to our being unable to give a full report we give the following which we have condensed from the Times. After referring to the flattering addresses that he had just received he made a graceful and pathetic allusion to the lamented death of the late President of the United States. He next gave a history of the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States, its abrogation by that power and the unsuccessful efforts that have since been made by the Dominion Government to have it renewed. For thirteen years they taxed Canadian goods 30 per cent, while theirs was admitted into this country duty free, but in 1878 Canada reciprocated with them in taxes since they would not give her any other kind of reciprocity. Her Government had asked an obtained power to take off taxes on certain products whenever the United States would do likewise, but so long as they will not do this the Canadian Government feel that home industries must be encouraged and they intend to shape their policy so as to foster such manufactures as can be carried on to advantage in the country. This policy, the opponents of the Government say is for the benefit of the few and the oppression of the many, and to prove this Mr. Blake made his Maritime tour, but in his opinion, Mr. Blake is wrong and the Government is right. Mr. Blake had said that $600,000 was lost to the revenue by the change in the sugar duties, but he was prepared to show that there was $600,000 more received last year than for the average under Sir Richard Cartwright's tariff. He stated that the people were now buying Moncton Sugar cheaper than it could be imported under the old tariff. There however was a grievance and that was the refinery had made large profits. But what of this if sugar is cheaper and the revenue derived from it equally great, and he would ask them if they were not better satisfied that the profits on refining should go to Moncton in place of Scotland and the United States. One million dollars less had been sent out of the country last year for sugar than in previous years. Now where did this amount go to? Our opponents say that it goes to the refiners, but the truth is it goes largely to give employment to vessels, barrel makers, mechanics and others. In the five refineries in Canada we have 800 men employed, representing a population of 3,000 to 4,000 people. These people hire horses, buy goods and in other ways help to circulate money and make a market for the farmer. In regard to cotton goods the tax is only 20 per cent (the increase being 2 1/2 per cent only) but in the coarse cottons are made in Canada they can be brought here as low as they can in the United States or England. Woolen goods are sold here cheaper today than ever before, and made from our own wool. But while our policy thus reduces the cost of the working man's clothing which can be made here, and is made here, what did our opponents do when Mr. Blake was in power? How did they show their sympathy for the working man about whom they are now so anxious? We had taken the taxes off tea and coffee (which could not be produced here and on which the duty must be paid by the working man) and Mr. Blake and his friends put it on again. Mr. Blake did not tell his hearers of this nor did he tell them that while his Government had put 17 1/2 per cent duty alike on cottons and silks, the present Government had made a distinction and taxed silks 30 per cent, thus making a real distinction between the goods consumed by the rich and poor.

With respect to agricultural implements the woe of Canada is now enjoying as a market for these articles and the result is an enormous increase in the numbers made (one firm having increased the number of machines manufactured in one year from 1800 to 4000). By thus giving the Canadian market to Canadian producers, they greatly increase their sales, and in consequence are enabled to sell at lower prices, because in all manufacturing work the larger quantity can be made at less cost than the smaller. Almost no agricultural implements are now imported and no one complains of the prices being too high, the prediction of opponents in this particular, as in so many others, having proved groundless. And what is true of agricultural implements, cottons, woollens, sugar, etc., is true also with respect to a great variety of other articles, the effect of the N. P. being to stimulate their production, keep our money at home and lessen the cost to the consumer. But it is complained that flour is higher; the formally open coasters could do so the duty has to be paid. But there is no ground for this complaint, the fact being that Canadian flour is being held in bond in Boston and New York, and anyone who sends his products to the States can get Canadian flour back without paying any duty. The trade in bonded flour through American ports had indeed become so great that Sir Charles Tupper found it necessary to reduce the freight rates on the Intercolonial in order to secure the traffic for the railway. The cry of hardship, therefore, in connection with the im-

WATERLOO BATTLE.

Price Frederick of the Netherlands, whose death was lately announced, was one of the soldiers of Waterloo. During the battle he was stationed with 18,000 men to cover the Duke of Wellington and protect Brussels in case any sudden turn that way should be made by Napoleon. There are not many survivors of these days now. The Emperor William of Germany is one. He took part in the campaigns against France over 40 years ago. The Emperor who has just died, the Emperor was in the field in 1813, and entered Paris in 1814 with the conquering allies. He is a month or so younger than Price Frederick of the Netherlands, and both were born in 1797.

CORSET FACTORY IN QUEBEC.

A late number of the Quebec Chronicle gives an interesting account of a new corset factory which has been in operation since July last. It employs over sixty persons, mostly women. The encouragement received is such that the proprietors intend to increase the number of looms. The manager, formerly a Parisian manufacturer, says he could easily reach a yearly production of 300,000 corsets. In this instance we see where the N. P. is doing for women. It is enlarging their sphere of labour, giving them work to do, and making them feel that they have a place in this world.

DESTRUCTIVE HURRICANE.

An Elmira, N. Y., despatch of the 25th says: A hurricane struck the city at 4.30 this afternoon, accompanied by a severe storm. A vast amount of damage was done in about two minutes time. The Bathurst house was unroofed; the spire of the Methodist church was blown across the street into a yard and about three tons of brick were deposited in the organ. The First Presbyterian church and several brick buildings had holes blown clean through them, scattering the bricks in all directions. The river bank is full of debris of roofs blown from buildings, including chimneys. Immense trees were snapped at the roots like pipe-stems. Hardly a street is now passable from the number of trees blown across them. Workmen are busy with axes and teams clearing away the ruins and the firemen have been called out to care for endangered buildings. S. A. Macarwan was blown from his buggy and seriously injured. The spire of the Colored Church was blown upon a house adjoining and crushed it, but no one was injured. The roof of the palace carshop was blown clear over the Post Office several hundred feet. The streets are full of people and the greatest consternation prevails. The storm was preceded by an earthquake and now there is a perfect calm. The rain fell so heavily that the pipes were insufficient to carry off the water and immense damage was done by this means. It is impossible to estimate the damage, but in the city alone it will reach thousands of dollars.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE THE PRESIDENT.

A Washington despatch of the 28th inst. gives the following startling intelligence: It is reported a plot to assassinate President Arthur has been discovered. Later.—The rumor that a plot to assassinate President Arthur has been discovered arose from a sworn statement filed in the Police Department by a man named Bayley, an attaché of the Army Medical Museum of the Surgeon General's department to the effect that while lying in bed at his room, on Monday night, he heard two men standing in front of the house plot the assassination of President Arthur. One asked the other if he would swear to do it; the other answered he would kill him within a month. Bayley says he saw the men as they walked off and can fully recognize them. No arrests have been made.

Mr. John Haviland, harness and collar maker of this town, forwarded to the Halifax Exhibition samples of driving and working collars. These collars have been highly spoken of by the press, one paper saying that they are considered by experts in harness as among the most creditable manufactures in the Exhibition. Well done Chatham.

Drowned.

A man by the name of George Basted, from on board of the tug boat "Gladstone" disappeared on the Tuesday evening of last week. It was supposed that he had fallen into the river as he was attempting to get on board of the tug, as a walking stick belonging to him was found on the wharf the next morning. On the afternoon of Tuesday last his body was found floating in the river off Mr. Muirhead's wharf, when it was brought ashore and placed in one of the buildings on the Hon. Mr. Muirhead's wharf. Dr. Pallen, one of the coroners of the county being notified he summoned a jury and after viewing the body they adjourned until the next morning, when they met and returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased who was 35 years of age belonged to St. John and had a wife in Newcastle with whom he had not lived for several years.

On the afternoon of Tuesday last his body was found floating in the river off Mr. Muirhead's wharf, when it was brought ashore and placed in one of the buildings on the Hon. Mr. Muirhead's wharf.
