For "Richer, For Poorer"

It was sweeping day and Mrs. Bernard, warm, tired and discouraged, sank down on the top step of the stairway to rest a moment before attacking the upper rooms. The view of the lower rooms, even from this lofty point of view was discouraging. With the rage up and the pieces of furniture pulled away from their accustomed places, the pitiless sunshine showed clearly every break in the carpet and every soiled spot upon the wallpaper.

"What's the use of trying to clean up, cover up and pretend any longer?" Mrs. Bernard said bitterly.

"I believe that good things, when they do begin to show the effects of long and rough usage, look worse than cheaper ones, but if they hadn't been good I don't know what they would have done, for we've never been able to replace anything," she sighed as she looked at the expensive furniture, now marred and scratched, and at the carpets bravely holding to rich coloring, although worn almost through bare.

Her gaze could not reach the dining-room, but she knew that the beautiful but fragile glass and china with which she had so proudly started house-keeping had dwindled sadly, and the costly linen was patched and darned in many places. The bedrooms, still awaiting the attack of her broom were all needing supplies.

"It's the old story of flying before we learned to walk. Here we are, careworn and old before our time, and in such straits that we hardly know which way to turn, and think of the start we had our little fortune was a curse instead of a blessing, for it gave us a taste of a life of ease, then left us to be common drudges. If John had only known how to manage, or if he could only learn to manage like other men, we might get even with the world," she murmured, but I don't see much hope. If I had a daughter I'd educate her so that she might be able to support herself and teach her to let married life alone. What right has any man to persuade a happy, care-free girl into making her happiness into his hand?"

The town clock struck ten and Mrs. Bernard rose wearily, picked up her broom and adjusted the towel that was wrapped about her head. The rooms must be put in order before the noonday. She had many tasks to perform and yet in the lower part of the house. The postman's whistle sounded at the front door and she went down to receive from him two envelopes, one addressed in the same handwriting. It was a wedding invitation and the other a letter.

"Why, it's from Una, my little Una!" exclaimed Mrs. Bernard as she read: "Dear Aunt Una—I am not writing letters to send with all my invitations. I wanted to tell you many things and you that you must come to my wedding. It would not be complete without you. You know my first experience in church weddings was when I was a young girl at your wedding and I have never attended one since that was half so pretty, nor have I ever been so impressed by any other ceremony as I was by that, young as I was. I want my wedding to be just as nearly like yours as it can be, and Oh, Aunt Una, the strangest part of it is, I am to marry a John, too. You will remember John Nelson. He was such a dear gawky boy, and I never dreamed that I would marry anyone I had always known, but when you see him you'll say he's a perfect dear. Of course you will not think him half as handsome as your John, and I know I shall not be half so lovely a bride as you were, but we're very much in love and so happy! It will spoil all my pleasure, though, if you fail to come. I want you so much."

"YOUR LITTLE UNA."

"Why, she's only a child!" Mrs. Bernard said, as she folded the letter. Then as she thought of the fifteen years that had flown since her namesake had been a flower girl at her wedding, she realized that the second Una would be an oldie bride than she had been.

The letters had miscarried and had been on the road for some days. The wedding was to take place on Wednesday evening of the next week, and this was Friday. How she would have to hurry to get ready for it! She must begin hurrying right away and she went tripping up the stairway like a girl.

She saved the letter and the invitation for a little surprise at the table, and was so eager to read them aloud to her husband that she did not wait to eat, but when she paused at the close of the reading, her husband only

BAT ORANGES

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP WELL

Careful tests have proved beyond question that orange juice has clearly defined medicinal virtues. Those who suffer with indigestion—are compelled to "diet"—find that after eating oranges regularly for breakfast there is no distress, no palpitation.

Where there was a tendency towards constipation, the eating of oranges regulated the bowels.

In skilful tests, those who began the morning meal with an orange were noticeably improved.

There is, however, a quicker way to get better results. This is to take one or two "Fruit-atives" tablets at bedtime in addition to the juice of an orange before breakfast the next morning. "Fruit-atives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes, in which the medicinal action of the fruit is concentrated and many times intensified by the special way of combining them. Valuable tonics are then added.

Take the juice of an orange before breakfast—take "Fruit-atives" at night—and you will quickly be rid of indigestion, stomach troubles, constipation and biliousness. "Fruit-atives" are sold by all dealers at 50¢ a box of 12. Send no receipt for price by "Fruit-atives." Limited, Ottawa.

Neglected coughs often develop serious conditions, and when you are getting one that will cure your cough, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always cures. Price 25¢ and 50¢ a bottle. For sale by W. W. FATAL COASTING ACCIDENT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 11.—Twenty-seven persons were injured, two probably fatally, in coasting accidents in Greater Pittsburg during the past twenty-four hours. Twenty-one of them were in one accident on the north side and five in another accident in the same direction. Twenty-five boys and several girls started for Brighton Road down the Marshall Avenue on a four-board sled about fifteen feet long last night. The weight of the sled and the grade of the hill carried the sled at an uncontrollable speed. For over three hundred feet it dashed, and when George Becker, the guide, tried to drop his chain it refused to work. There is a curve at the foot of the hill. Here the sled took a sudden turn crashing into a telegraph pole. Ten of those who occupied the front part of the sled were hurled clear to the car tracks, fifty feet away. Two were injured so seriously that they may die. Others sustained broken limbs, cuts, and other minor hurts.

REPORTED DROWNED

LUNenburg, N. S., Feb. 7.—The happiest people in Lunenburg today are George Blair and family. A letter received at noon by Mrs. Blair, dated Feb. 1, reads thus:

"Dear Mother—No doubt you have heard of my being drowned. Don't believe it. I am very much alive. I shipped with others to go to Mexico, but didn't go. She hasn't been heard from. Will write you later.

Yours, "BERT"

On Tuesday a Key West despatch to Gloucester parties reported that five Nova Scotians were drowned off that coast, among them being the young man above named. The despatch was published and commented on in an obituary notice.

Boy King of Portugal Afraid of Assassination

With the church bells tolling continually, the bodies of the murdered king and crown prince, in two golden chariots, shrouded in black velvet and drawn by eight hooded horses, were escorted by a glittering funeral pageant across Lisbon to the Portuguese pantheon and laid to rest beside their ancestors of the Braganza dynasty. Seven hours elapsed from the time the funeral procession and the special ambassadors of all the powers gathered at the palace for the ceremony there, until three salutes of twenty-one guns and three volleys of musketry, reverberating over the terraced and sun-bathed hills, and answered by the British warships in the harbour, announced that the last rites were over.

Not a single untoward incident marred the last act of Portugal's tragedy. The vague forebodings proved baseless and there is a general feeling of relief tonight that all passed well. In view of the political turmoil, the great outpouring of people along the line of procession was noteworthy. They packed the pavements, crowded the sidewalks, and shaded the streets. While evidences of deep and popular sorrow seemed to be absent, many stood with uncovered heads as the funeral corte passed, and nowhere was actual disrespect witnessed.

Troops guarded the streets and were massed in numerous parks and plazas along the route; all shops and cafes were closed and shutters covered the windows of the ministerial buildings in the Praça do Commercio where the king and prince were assassinated a week ago.

It was a grief-stricken palace, and strong men were shaken at the scene in the private apartments where the infant Fernando, in addition to verbal condolences, presented personal letters from their sovereigns to the king who was greatly touched at these messages. Tears that were almost constant in his eyes several times overflowed.

When the members of the court and the special representatives of foreign countries, entered the chapel for the last rite service, the king remained behind. Neither he nor the two queens followed the cortege to the cathedral. The widow, she, of his father, it is explained, absolved King Manuel from conforming to the tradition of walking behind the dead to the grave. Nevertheless, his absence and the absence of Queen Amelie and the Dowager Queen has caused unusual comment, being generally attributed to other reasons.

MAX SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, DUE TO PERSISTENT COUGH, RIFLED FOUND AT LAST.

"For several waters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvellous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared, and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by

S. A. Capt. Giamble Reports Successful Immigration Work

(Special to the Sentinel.)

Captain Giamble of the S. A. Immigration Department, and Assistant Staff Capt. Jennings, was in Bridgetown this week, interviewing the heads of manufacturing establishments and farmers in the interests of the Immigration Department and says: "The Salvation Army is meeting with good success all through the country on the Immigration work."

"Last season the Army brought out 17,000 settlers to Canada and this season will bring out 20,000. The Steamer Kensington is the first of the Army chartered boats. It will arrive at Halifax, Feb. 28th, with 1,400 on board. These are all for British Columbia. The greater portion of the second steamer is for the Maritime Provinces. Ten chartered ships in all will arrive this year. Out of these five or six will arrive at Halifax. A portion of the immigrants will settle in the Maritime province, but the greater portion will probably proceed West."

All Army immigrants are guaranteed farm labor, but in many agricultural districts, etc. are found work. I am taking a tour all through Nova Scotia, and at Lunenburg, Anson, Truro, Campbellton and other places and have got many contracts of work from employers of skilled labor. The demand for domestic servants is enormous and that the Army is able to fill only a small percentage of the demand. In cases where servant girls are required the applicant usually advances part of the fare and I am pleased to say that very few of these ever break faith."

"Most of our experienced Canadian Army men are leaving on Canada through the British Isles. Officers are also on all the boats. The immigrants are given to understand thoroughly that we do things somewhat differently in this country, and if an immigrant wishes to succeed he must adjust himself to our way."

The Army immigrants consist of English, Irish, Scotch and Dutch.

Should anyone be in need of help this coming season, kindly apply to Staff Captain Jennings, Box 477, Halifax, N. S.

Old age pensions at $3.00 a week, would take $40,000,000 yearly from our Canadian revenues, so Mr. Fielding said in the Commons that we were hardly in a position to pass an Act. A special committee was appointed to look into the matter.

A bag or barrel—it's all the same. The same choice Ontario and Manitoba wheat—milled the same—and blended in exactly the same proportions.

HER DIAGNOSIS.

A servant girl was brought to a cottage hospital suffering from an overdose of poison.

When questioned as to her motive for taking it she replied, "I wasn't feeling well, and I went to my mistress' room to get some medicine from the chest she has there. The bottle I got was marked, 'Three drops for an infant, six for an adult and a tablespoonful for an emetic.' I knew I wasn't an infant. I wasn't sure about an adult, so I thought I must be the emetic and I took the spoonful."

A weak stomach, means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It is a pity that sick ones continue to drag the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoon's Bestoria live has, and is promptly helping so many as one. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth, and see.

THE SPEAKER ON THE WRONG SCENE.

It so happens that by the side of a certain portion of an Illinois suburban railway stands a fertilizer factory, which gives out a particularly offensive smell. A lady who was obliged to travel on this line quite often carried with her a bottle of lavender salts. One morning Speaker Cannon took the seat beside her. As the train passed the factory the lady opened the bottle of salts. Soon the car was filled with the horrible odor of the fertilizer. The speaker put up with it as long as he could, then addressed himself to the lady, whom he saw holding the bottle to her nose, he said: "Madam, would you mind putting the cork in that bottle?"

A Marooning from the H. & S. W. would relieve the anxiety of this community.

Our young folks had a sleighing party on Tuesday evening, as far up as Mr. John McCormick's at Granville Centre.

Mr. Ramsay's saw mill has been removed from here a few miles further down, where they expect to have several weeks work.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Willoughby Connelly, who died very suddenly last week. The funeral took place on Sunday.

Bridgetown Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Monday evening, Feb. 17th, a match basket ball game will be played between the Rose and Thistle.

So far the Rose are the better team, but if they mean to hold their place, they will have to play their best on Monday evening, for the Thistles are practicing and are determined to win. So we expect a swift game.

The junior boys have quite made up their minds to recover the money they lost to the girls in the last relay race, but the girls are not afraid.

As usual the evening will be rendered more enjoyable by the music of the band.

Don't miss this game. It begins at 8 o'clock, and the admission is only 15 cents.

A WRINKLE FOR CAKE-MAKERS.

If you are your own cake baker and surely you are-you perhaps have noted the difference there is in flour. There are two principal constituents in flour-starch and gluten. All wheats contain both, but in varying quantities. Ontario fall wheat is rich in starch, while Manitoba spring wheat contains a large percentage of gluten. By combining the two kinds of wheat scientifically a flour is made that gives delightful results, whether for cake, pastry or bread.

Flour-makers have given Blended Flours exhaustive tests, and they are one in the opinion that no other flour can make such white, light, wholesome cake, pastry and bread.

Housekeepers will find Blended Flours without equal, both for making dainty foods and substantial baking and they will find Blended Flours so economical, too.

THE PERSONS.

A son pleading for his father. Father, with one arm (the other lost in railway service), stands with tears streaming down his cheeks as he tells his story in the doctor's office, Muskoka Hospital.

"I have been a railway conductor. I have been turned out of my boarding-house, where I lived for seventeen years, because I had consumption. Then I had to leave the hotel for the same reason. The hospital of my town refused me. I have travelled for two days to reach here. For God's sake, doctor, let me stay. I have got money to pay for all I want."

If this was the story of a poor fellow with money, what about the hundreds who are seeking admission to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, with their money all gone in the struggle with this dread disease?

The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives has never refused a patient because of his or her poverty.

It now cares for seventy-five patients. It would care for three hundred if the needed money was forthcoming.

It has no endowment, except in the kind hearts and the generous gifts of the people of Canada.

His Excellency Earl Grey has shown his interest and sympathy in this great work for the needy consumptives by accepting the position of Honorary President of the National Sanitarium Association.

Your golden dollars may be the Angels of Mercy this Christmas to bring the glad tidings of Good Will and Returning Health to some poor fellow seeking admission into his only refuge, the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A last word-will you help to care for these whom others do not want?

Faithfully yours,

H. J. Fay

Mr. Arthur Tension, 88 London Street, Toronto, writes editorially of the merits of Psychine for all stomach troubles.

"For seven years I have had indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried scores of remedies. My room resembled a drug store with nostrums which I had bought. Eventually I used Psychine, and every dose brought permanent relief."

All throat, lung and stomach troubles quickly cured by Psychine. It is the prescription of a great specialist. At all drug stores, 50c and $1.00, or Dr. T. A. Secum, Limited, Toronto.

Port Wade

Cordwood is very scarce here selling quickly at $4.00 a cord.

We hear the H. & S. W. people have a new time table out for this road which calls for a daily service.

Anniversary Division, No. 916, is holding some very interesting sessions this winter. A visit from sister divisions would be appreciated.

Two "Ten Cent Teas" have been given at the homes of Mrs. E. Kearnes and Mrs. S. Snow, realizing the sum of eight dollars and fifty cents, in aid of new parsonage.

Wm. Ramsay has moved his saw mill down on the mountain opposite this port. The people here are putting in a large cut for Frank Mills, who will ship the lumber from this port for Messrs. A. D. Mills & Sons, Annapolis.

Many of the fishermen of this place and Victoria Beach suffered quite severely by the recent storm. The tide being the highest ever known. Small wharves were carried away and tops of larger ones were hurled into fishing vessels and boats all along the shore, driving large logs into them and completely destroying the small craft, also a number of fish houses were carried out to sea.

With regret we record the death of Willoughby Connelly, which occurred on Wednesday the 5th, inst., at his home. Although being subject to hemorrhages for some time past his sudden death came as a great surprise to all. He leaves a widow and little boy, 10 years of age to mourn the loss of a kind husband and affectionate father, beside a large circle of relatives and friends. Funeral took place on Sunday the 9th, at 3 o'clock Rev. Mr. West officiating.

Smith's Cove

Because of the storm on Sunday last there were no church services here.

Those who stood up with ice for summer use, are now busily engaged harvesting the crop. Great ice this year!

Miss Annie Anderson of Digby, spent a few days this week with her cousin, Miss Lillian Winchester, at Winchester Castle.

Mrs. M. H. Dowley has arrived from Beaver River, where she spent several weeks, and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Potter.

The management of the Dominion Atlantic Railway will be positioned to have the Flying Bluebonnet train stop here next summer.

Quite a number of citizens spend most of their time talking about their neighbors. After all, perhaps, this is a hopeful sign, for we are told that the nights are not long enough. It takes all kinds of people to make a world!

In winter weather a great many complain of the shortness of the days. Others are of the opposite opinion. The only fault they have to find is that the nights are not long enough. It takes all kinds of people to make a world!

Rev. W. L. Archibald of Wolfville, spent Sunday here, the guest of Deacon Jonas Rice, Mr. Archibald, who has been collecting for the Acadia College fund is now on his last lap and has about cleaned up all the outstanding amounts that were pledged.

Because of the financial stringency and the consequent business depression in the neighboring republic, there is a belief that many well-to-do Americans, who have in the past been summing abroad, will find it necessary this year to seek recreation nearer home. It is expected that Smith Cove will be one of the places to benefit by this change, and the hotels and boarding houses will prepare for bumper crowds.

The Editor of the Yarmouth Herald in reproducing our story about Leonard Hunt and the lizard, speaks "of a wink of the eye." There is a wink, which we recommend and to which we are very partial as the ladies are aware. But it is to be hoped that the Editor of the Herald is not given to another wink, that indicates a threat for something stronger than water. If he is he should profit by the experience of the lizard.

Postmaster Potter found the weather too inclement this week to carry the mail between the station and the Post office. His son-in-law, Capt. Austin has performed that duty for him. Mr. Potter, who is 88 years old has been carrying the mail for upwards of half a century, and this is the first winter he has had to lay by. It is a hard mile from the Post office to the station, quite a walk in heavy weather for any man loaded down with mail bags.

Another Fine.

These are dark days for the Standard Oil Company. While it is yet appealing against the fine of $29,210,000 imposed by Judge Landis, of Chicago, the District Attorney is preparing to have the remaining 4,900 cents (just) also before Judge Landis. It is quite possible that the corporation may be fined another $80,000,000.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

An Opportunity to Carry Gladness to the Suffering and Needy

Toronto, Can., Dec. 11th, 1907

Dear Friend:-

A Christmas message, "Peace on Earth: Good Will to Men," was sent to this old world long ago to bring gladness.

Was this poor fellow included?

The Place. Not Africa or Pagan India, but Christian Canada.

The Persons. A son pleading for his father. Father, with one arm (the other lost in railway service), stands with tears streaming down his cheeks as he tells his story in the doctor's office, Muskoka Hospital.

The Farmers at Antigonish

(Halifax Canadian Recorder.)

The meeting of the County Farmers' Association in the enterprising little town of Antigonish County, has been a success in every way. The statistical reports of the society shows a constant increase in membership and in public attendance at their gatherings. Judging by the brief reports received, the papers presented were of a high order and extremely practical. Dr. Staudish, using a shorthand pony for illustrative purposes, gave more information in fifteen minutes upon the subject of "defects in horses and how to detect them," than could be gathered from listening to mere written or spoken discourses for a lifetime. Mr. Percy J. Shaw's paper on "Birds" was in its way unique. The wild inhabitants of the air have usually been looked upon by the farmer as enemies to be ruthlessly destroyed whenever opportunity offered. Mr. Shaw showed clearly that the birds were friends and allies whose services are almost invaluable in the domain of agriculture, and especially in fruit raising. If this fact were made clear to our farming population, the feathered songsters which give life and melody to the waste places of the land would be saved from much needless and brutal destruction at the hands of those who have hitherto looked upon them as destructive plagues. Mr. F. W. Foster delivered an address upon a subject which is deserving of more attention than usually falls to its share, and it would be in the interest of the province to have the matter taken up and discussed further by the public prints. The speaker made a number of comparisons between agricultural possibilities of Nova Scotia and the North West. Here we have neither droughts nor cyclones, summer frosts nor winter blizzards, and the moisture of our climate is especially favorable to the growth of those crops which make the best hay. This is not only in general farming, but especially in the matter of dairying. Nova Scotia offers advantages equal to those of the West. Then why should not our young men stay at home and take up the abandoned farms which are scattered so abundantly over the land? But the lure of the West at present seems irresistible, and apparently the fertile areas of our province must be taken up and occupied by people from the Old World. What is being done to attract new settlers, formed the theme of Captain Jennings, of the Salvation Army, who showed what was being accomplished by Barnstead, who described in full the methods now being actively pursued by the Murray Government to make good the loss in the population of rural districts by planting these districts with suitable persons from the British Isles. The speaker dealt with so familiarly with Messrs. Jennings and Barnstead is of great importance to the future advance and welfare of Nova Scotia. We have a narrow rim of settlements around our coast, and a scattered population in our river valleys in the interior, while the whole heart, geographically speaking, of the country is almost an unbroken stretch of unutilized forest and pasture land, whose fertility is unobscured. With nearly three times the area and more than three times the resources of the State of Massachusetts we have only about a sixth of her population. With a density of population equal to Prince Edward Island, 20 to the square mile, Nova Scotia would boast of 2,500,000 inhabitants, and her resources developed would with ease support them all.

HUMORING THE ILL.

Not all the fear that ever man or woman had will create a miracle, but fear will so weaken the nervous system that the body becomes an easy prey to microbes. Not all the faith that ever man had will change the character of a brain of a man, but if a sick person is firmly convinced that a bread pill will cure him, it may do him a world of good because of the effect of his faith upon his nervous system. Hence the wisdom of always speaking confidently to the sick about their recovery.

TWO FAMILY TRAGEDIES

Two tragedies by which, through the burning of their home, two families have been wiped out of existence, have been reported this week. One of these calamities occurred at Grand Caspella, N. B. The father of the family returning home with a load of wood, found his home in ruins and only the charred remains of his wife and two children and his father, Andrew Campbell.

The other tragedy is reported from North Bay, Ontario. On Sunday morning when the father of the family, Hickey, rose early and built a big wood fire and then went to the stable, returning a little later to find the house in flames and his wife and five children, one of them a two-day-old babe, to have perished in the flames.

FRESH AIR FAD KILLED BABY.

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 2.—An Aurora couple, who are devoted to fresh air, slept soundly last night while their girl babe, 4 weeks old, was chilled to death by the rigid atmosphere which came in by way of an open window.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gross, a young husband and wife living on North Broadway are the parents. A coroner's jury, which was summoned today found that the cause of the infant's death was exposure.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross retired last night at 10:30 o'clock after wrapping their sleeping infant in warm blankets. To protect it from the cold as it lay in its cradle.

They slumbered deeply until early this morning, when Mrs. Gross was roused by a foreboding that all was not well with her little girl. She jumped out of bed and struck a light, and her first glance was arrested by a sight of the baby rigid in death.

Horried, she awakened her husband and sent him racing after a physician while she worked frantically to bring the victim in peristol motion. She is prostrated, and is under the care of her physician.

HARD TIMES IN NEW ENGLAND

The financial outlook is much brighter in the United States, but the industrial situation, especially in New England, is not reassuring, as many mills are either shut down or operating on a reduced scale in New England.

Another curtailment by many large cotton mills is expected within the next two months. For the benefit of Canadians looking for employment, it might be as well to state as emphatically as possible that the United States is a resource of the State of Massachusetts we have only about a sixth of her population. With a density of population equal to Prince Edward Island, 20 to the square mile, Nova Scotia would boast of 2,500,000 inhabitants, and her resources developed would with ease support them all.

BURNING STEAMER SIGHTED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The hull of the steamer St. Cathar's, which was wrecked off Cape Sable with the loss of a dozen lives, was sighted about 6 a. m. last Tuesday by the steamer Statenland, which arrived here today. The wreck was wrapped in flames from stem to stern. The Statenland circled around the blazing steamer for half an hour, but finally determined that nothing could be done and then proceeded. At that time the St. Cathar's was about 20 miles southeast of Cape Sable.
