STEAMERS FAILED IN SEARCH FOR COLUMBIAN'S THIRD BOAT BUT HOPE NOT YET ABANDONED

For Seventy-Two Hours Occupants Have Been Practically Without Food and Water—Number of Survivors is Increased to Twenty-Seven.

Canadian Press Despatch. BOSTON, May 6.—Search by several steamers in the waters south of Sable Island today and tonight had failed, up to a late hour, to add to the list of 27 known survivors of the burned liner Columbian. The total of known dead remained at three.

Somewhere in or near the westbound transatlantic steamer lane probably is a small boat with the chief and second officers, and from 17 to 24 men of the crew. At midnight, 72 hours had elapsed since the boat cast off from the blazing steamer. Its crew left hurriedly with little food or water, and some were suffering from burns. This boat was still the object of search tonight.

Others Picked Up. Occupants of the two other boats which put off from the Columbian were safely aboard other vessels. The steamer Manhattan, bound for Antwerp, picked up Capt. John McDonald and 13 men today. The Cunard liner Franconia, which has on board 13 other survivors, will land them here tomorrow morning. The story of their experiences preceded them to port in a narrative sent by wireless by Capt. Miller of the Franconia.

The steamer Haverford searched all day for the missing third boat of the Columbian, without success, according to a message by wireless from Capt. Mendus tonight. His message said: "Six p.m.—Have searched everywhere in the vicinity where No. 1 and No. 2 boats were rescued, also where Columbian was abandoned. Sorry to say saw nothing of No. 3, nor of Columbian. Several steamers still searching."

Free Excursion to BUFFALO on the Holiday MAY 25th

By Elbert Hubbard

I first arrived in Buffalo on May 10th, 1875. I was nineteen years of age, and had been earning my own living since I was twelve.

In my own mind I was considerable of a mat. I wore spring-bottom pants, a warm vest, a dinky derby, and had a fairly good opinion of myself.

Buffalo at that time had a population of about one hundred thousand. Since 1875, when I landed in Buffalo, to this second day of May, 1914, I have never been sick a day, never consulted a physician, never lost a meal, and life on the whole has been one of the most delightful I have known.

In fact, Erie County is good to every one who will get out and hustle. In Buffalo there are over a thousand factories, representing over two hundred lines of manufacture—peculiar, separate, useful commodities.

Look 'em up in the Encyclopaedia. The point is that with such a diversity of industries, business in Buffalo never suffers a slump. If things are a little dull in one line, the others are booming.

In 1896, '91 and '92 Buffalo had a real estate boom. All went land flurry in the alfalfa. Since then things have been getting back to normal.

I've watched Buffalo grow for thirty years. I've seen big fortunes made by men who bought and held on. And it seems to me that, of all times, now is the time for Buffalo-folks to hold on to their real estate holdings.

Buffalo can never go back. Buffalo cannot stand still. Therefore, Buffalo must go ahead.

Buffalo is on the verge of the greatest real estate boom in its history—every part of Buffalo property at present prices should double and treble in value in a short time.

I have written a little booklet telling in detail of the growth of this great city, and of a wonderful investment opportunity—namely, lots on the fringe of the City in BUFFALO INDUSTRIAL ANNEX.

some other representatives of the building trades advocated an application to the city council for a specific minimum wage to be placed in the contracts by the departments' heads at the city hall in issuing specifications.

This was opposed by a number of employes from other lines. One speaker said it was all very well to say it did not matter what wages contractors paid for, it came out of the public anyway.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

By Leona Dalrymple
Author of the new novel, "Diary of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

Petty Busybodies.
The young doctor who attended my lame foot was a most affable, pleasant chap, and Mary and I took a tremendous shine to him. Thereby hangs a tale.
I remember when my foot was convalescing how cynical he was one morning.
"Hunt," he said, "you can't imagine what a hard road a doctor has to travel. If his patient is pretty and feminine, he's accused of visiting there twice as often as he needs. He never gets through life without a scandal. When he gets him a wife, she's invariably jealous. If she isn't at first other women see to it that she's jealous of her. I never go into a house where the man is away but what I feel pretty sure that all the windows of the street are studded with eyes and I'm being rigidly checked up as to the time I spend indoors. If I stay too long, I'm certainly making love to somebody. I ought not to. If I come away too soon, I'm neglecting my professional duties in order to get to the next place, which is supposed to hold more attraction for me."
I didn't realize how true all this was until Mary became the centre of intense neighborhood interest.
It happened very simply.
The young doctor had merely stopped his car one morning and run in for a

How to Breathe Correctly

By Maggie Teyte
We really should learn to breathe with our brains as well as our lungs. That means we should understand why we breathe and how to breathe, and the best way to fill our lungs and purify our blood with fresh air.
Instead of breathing in the mechanical way that we are always taught, we ought to make our breathing a conscious function and direct it by the brain. There is no waste of time in breathing. It is an exercise which need not interfere with the regime of the busiest life. And there is nothing we can do which will pay so sure and generous a dividend. There is always time for ten or a dozen full, deep, well directed breaths in the morning before an open window. That empties the lungs of the accumulations of overnight poisons and begins the day with fresh air.
When we go out in the open, there is the chance for thousands of miles of fresh air. It will drive away any latent

The Value of Home Life

By Leo Slezak
If you would sing well, or flash your fingers across the pianoforte keyboard with effectiveness, see to it that your home life is pleasant. The musician who wears a grim smile away from his own friends, but who sulks and finds undue fault when in the bosom of his family, is not the one who usually succeeds to an unusual degree.
Playing with the baby on one's knees may not be precisely dignified for public practice, yet it is good for tired nerves of the greatest singer, pianist or violinist. There is something in this. I understand that the late E. H. Harriman loved his home and that his invariably, rule was to quit business at 4 in the afternoon that he might be among those who meant more to him even than his thousands of miles of bright railroad tracks.
Distinguished musicians, artists, novelists and statesmen, whose names stand forth conspicuously as men of upright character, were all men whose home interests were not subordinated to their business. It is all very well to say that to succeed in a superlative degree one must be "wedded to one's art or business," but the statement needs qualifying. Relaxation is essential to every man who labors hard, and this comes most

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE
Dear Annie Laurie!
I have been getting with a very dear boy since the first of the year. We have known each other much longer than this. Some of my girl friends have asked me to give him up; they say we can never be happy as I am a couple of years older than he is. Do you think that the difference will see can make any difference in our feeling for each other in after years, as we both care very much for each other now?
UNHAPPY.
OES a difference of age make any difference about marriage? Well, that depends upon the age and upon the marriage.
Two years isn't enough to make any difference at all, it seems to me—not if your husband, or the man who wants to be your husband, is a person of any sense or cultivation.
What sort of a chap is this that you

HIGH AIMS HELP TO SUCCESS

"Fear Our Worst Enemy," Says Kathleen Howard

By ELEANOR AMES
AM for the clouds, and you may at least attain unto the mountain peaks. Strive for the mountain heights and you may land in the tree-top. But whatever you do, in whatever place you find yourself, let your aspirations soar—then work with all your might to catch up with them.
In other words, "He shoots his arrow that threatens the moon than he who aims at a tree."
Kathleen Howard gave me that motto and told me it had been a constant help and inspiration to her.
She is a splendid example of what high aim will do, if backed by ability and directed by hard work. She has sung her triumphant way in opera from Paris to Germany, to Norway and Sweden; to London and thence to her native America, and the end is not yet. She has sung many a time and oft before royalty, by "command," and among the appreciative gifts she treasures the imperial arms of Russia, enclosed in a wreath of laurel which the Czar of Russia gave her after he heard her sing in Germany when he was the Grand Duke.
"I believe more girls fall from lack of high aim than from lack of ability," said Miss Howard. "Fear is the arch enemy of success. It so many times keeps us from aiming high. Why should one fear until she has failed, and even naturally with wife and children. A line of chess checkers after dinner is the most natural thing in the world for the average successful merchant. That their wives and children can win at the games they enjoy.
On the nights when I sing I always want to have my wife and son and daughter near me before going to the opera house or concert hall. I could not do myself justice if their strengthening influence were denied me. Somehow my voice would stick in my throat in the event of any domestic misunderstanding. The very fact that I have three souls near me to work for, spurs me on to do better things. During my big scenes I see their faces and almost hear their words of encouragement. There is nothing like that in all the world, not even the plaudits of the multitude.
Scores of men who have gained fame in opera and concert feel precisely as I do, and they follow the same lines in much the same way. One pianist, whose dazzling technique is always a matter for favorable critical comment, once fumbled the keyboard as the result of a squabble at home just before the concert. The inevitable moral is plain—keep cheerful at home and play with the family and the music one makes will be sweeter.

Neckwear Models to Be Copied at Home

By MADGE MARVEL
WOMEN are judged by their collars when the stylistic looks them over. The right kind of neck fixing will redeem a suit which has been better days or a gown that is not quite up to the mode.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Your First Duty in Life Is to Be Physically Fit

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

HAVE you done your duty to Mother Health? How can you know whether you have done your duty? Do you know what a duty is?
A duty is a moral obligation. It is your liability to another's right. For every right there is a corresponding duty. There is a correlative, reciprocal, complementary obligation placed upon you by a supreme law to do your duty and respect the rights of others.
Plainly, then, each individual has his rights to look to his duties to perform. When you do not do what you ought to do, you are backsliding and pigeon-holing your duty.
On the other hand, when any self-anointed, self-delegated authority, individual, body, club, society, association, so-called power, or government, oversteps forgotten limitations and infringes upon your rights, you are in duty bound to protect them. Every man has a threefold duty to perform. These are, for my part, duties to a Supreme Being, duties to your neighbors and duties to yourself.
Paid secretaries of the uplift often one last, Utopians of the academic sort disregard the second one entirely.
You may take unto yourself the wings of golden dawn and inhabit the antipodes as well as Calvary, yet these threefold duties violated or performed well-being is intimately trusted and swathed in the sympathy of your duties to God and your neighbor.
"So high is grandeur to our dust, So near is God to man, When Duty whispers low, Thou must not, When Duty whispers low, Thou must, The youth replies, I can."
Suppose, as a horrible example, you deliberately avoid doing your duty to yourself by refraining from vaccination? Imagine the argument. Here are also typhoid fever.
Evidently your duty to the Creator is to not take your own life. You must serve His ends first. Again your duty to others is not to murder, or take their lives consciously or unconsciously.
Most obviously, you are in duty bound to check the string and improve the temper. If you, through some acrobatic or gymnastic twists of information or free thinking, conclude that you do not need to avoid typhoid and smallpox by two different types of vaccination "because it poisons you," then you still are to gain your only future reward by fulfilling your duty to God and man.
As a matter of fact a flock of one hundred crows does not make a winter, nor does a dozen nocks of bluebirds make spring.
Four-tenths of 1 per cent of prejudiced persons do not prove that vaccination is a "poison" or a "menace." Furthermore, the case against the anti is a full and unanimous verdict by the jury best qualified, without pride or bias, to judge.

Answers to Health Questions

FRANK S. Philadelphia—Even though I retire at 9 o'clock and sleep until 7 or 7 1/2 my legs feel tired in the morning. Can this be cured?
Evidently you do not have enough air in your room at night and you lead too quiet a life by day. You should exercise by dancing, skating or otherwise cease your muscles.
J. R. Philadelphia—What is the cause of dark puffiness under the eyes? I've had them since a spell of scarlet fever 40 years ago.
Often, but by no means always, a puffiness under the eyes after scarlet fever means that some trouble has been left in your kidneys. Have the kidney fluids honestly analyzed by some pathologist.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

By Ann Marie Lloyd
Mice are especially fond of taking up their abode in a piano, and once they have contracted the habit it is difficult to persuade them that they have nothing in common with the instrument. Many suggest placing sulphur all along the back, as they dislike the smell. One correspondent having found nicely baited traps of no avail against the charms of piano key felt finds that the only thing that keeps the vermin away is a thick line of cayenne pepper along the edge of the back frame. Another plan, if there are no small children or domestic animals in the house, is to smear the traps with phosphorus paste. Another suggests a drop of oil of peppermint on cotton wool placed in the lower part of the case.
A weak solution of chloride of cobalt makes a satisfactory "invisible" ink. On being exposed to heat the "ink" becomes green and visible.
Starch cannot possibly be made at home. It is a technical preparation requiring special appliances and special knowledge. A polishing iron is like an ordinary iron with an oval surface of polished steel. The size is a matter of personal choice.
Oak floor stain mixed with varnish can be procured ready for use so cheaply that it seems hardly worth while to make the stain at home. However, here is a recipe: Mix some Yandys brown with liquor ammoniac, dilute with water to the required depth of shade, and add a little Bismarck brown. Stain twice. When quite dry varnish.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH
FLUFFY, the little feathery ball of a chick, who had found a home under Mrs. Speckle's comfortable wing, awoke one morning and pecked out of her new found home.
"Peep, peep! Peep, peep!" began the little one. "Are you awake yet?"
"Yes, my dear, I am awake, but I did not stir for fear of waking you," replied Mrs. Speckle. "Get right out from under my wing and we will go out and get some breakfast."
"Yes, Mother," said Fluffy.
Soon they were out on the grass, under the Crabapple tree. One by one the little leaves of the blossoms were loosened by the wind and fell to the ground.
"What are those white things?" asked Fluffy.
"They are the petals of crabapple blossoms. As you leave your tiny shell and come out a chick, so the little crabapple leaves the budding flower or the flower leaves the fruit and a crabapple comes on the tree," explained Mrs. Speckle.
"Did I grow on a tree?" asked Fluffy, with wide-open eyes.
"No, my dear; you came from a tiny egg. You see, March is a windy month because then the buds and flowers are on the trees and the wind shakes the flowers from the trees so the apples, peaches, pears and other fruit can come out."
"And did the wind blow me out of the egg, too?" asked Fluffy.
"Of course not, my dear," began Mrs. Speckle. "You pecked your way out when it was time. Come, here is a dainty worm for you."
Fluffy ran after the worm as fast as she could and soon it disappeared.
"Here are some little blades of grass for you," said Mrs. Speckle as she began to scratch the earth. "You see the little blades break the earth and come to the sunlight."
"Does the grass come from eggs, too?" Fluffy looked up at Mrs. Speckle inquiringly.
"No, dear, grass comes from seeds. Now, don't ask any more questions; my head is tired," said Mrs. Speckle.

near San Luis Potosi, which is 300 miles north of Mexico City. This is the southernmost point which the constitutionalists have reached in Central Mexico, and with the army now attacking Tampico, they declare that the general advance on the Mexican capital is to be made within a few weeks from three sides.

Funston to Extend Lines

Aside from the notable constitutionalist successes, the chief military development of the day was the authorization to Gen. Funston to extend his lines at Vera Cruz as might be required for defensive purposes, without, however, undertaking any aggressive operations. A report also came from Gen. Funston that he could secure no definite information as to active movements by the federalists near Saltillo, but he construed what they were doing as being merely defensive. No reinforcements have been ordered to Vera Cruz, and it is believed that no sign of Gen. Wood moving to the front is shown in reports from Rear-Admiral Badger as to the Atlantic coast points, and from Rear-Admiral Howard as to conditions on the Pacific coast. Gen. Funston stated that sharp fighting had occurred between Mexican federalists and Tampico, and he added that rumors reached him that Admiral Mayo had secured between federalists and constitutionalists a truce to elements about Tampico.

BRITISH PRESS SCOFFS AT ROOSEVELT'S FIND

LONDON, May 7.—Some of the London morning papers today express skepticism in regard to Col. Roosevelt's discovery of a hitherto unknown river in the interior of Brazil, and they indulge in good-humored editorial shaft at the expense of the former president.

The Standard publishes an interview with Sir Clements Markham, former president of the Royal Geographical Society, who is somewhat incredulous about the discovery and says he is inclined to think Col. Roosevelt traced the Canoma River, an affluent of the Madeira, farther south than it can be traced. Col. Roosevelt discovered a new river 1000 miles long.

Rutherford's destiny in military art shown in so great a variety that the selection of a hat to wear with any costume can be easily made at the reasonable price of five to ten dollars, 542 Yonge street.

The juvenile amateur contest at the Park Theatre last night was a great success. The contest was put on as good as the older performers, and proved to be of a very high order. Grace Beattie secured first prize with her little girl with the big, strong voice. The Long Sisters secured second prize, they are excellent entertainers. The contest was taken by Master Douglas, with a wee bit of Scotch. The rest of the program was of a very high order. It is a great pleasure to attend the amateur contests, as the very best of order is maintained. No "hook" was allowed at this theatre. The managers deserve the highest praise for bringing this about.

How I Lost 18 Pounds of Fat and Regained My Good Figure By a Simple Rubbing Process

"Three weeks ago I read in a newspaper of a lady who found that a simple mixture of herbs could be rubbed on fleshy places, and that this would gradually dissolve excessive fat. I was sorely in need of just such advice, so I obtained from a druggist one drachm of quassia chips and a 3-ounce bottle of Arsenone. After taking them home, I put the quassia chips in a pan and poured over them a teacupful of boiling water. After standing about one minute, I strained it through a cloth and added the Arsenone. Then I poured the mixture into a bottle and applied it freely every night and morning with my hands for about ten minutes, using a circular movement. The fat just seemed to melt away each time that I rubbed it on, and I never dreamed of it being so easy to get slender. I was so amazed at the improvement in my appearance that I had introduced 18 pounds of fat from my hips and abdomen, and I look 16 years younger. Now I feel like a new woman. Every fat woman I see and telling her how I did it."

NOTE.—The above prescription is not a new one by any means, but is so widely known as it should be. Hence, Drug Store, 117 Yonge street; Leggett's Drug Store, 167 Yonge street and 224 York street, and Moore's Limited, 380 Yonge street, all state that they will be glad to furnish very frequently. Some remarkable reductions in weight have been reported from its use, and the mixture is entirely harmless.

MCMASTER COLLEGE

CONFERS DEGREES

Thirty-Two Graduates in Arts Received Diplomas From Dean McKay.

ANNUAL CONVOCATION

Ex-Chancellor Burwash of Victoria Received Honorary Degree.

Attended by 600 McMaster students, their parents and friends, the annual commencement exercises of the college were held last evening in Castle Memorial Hall. The graduates in arts numbered 32, which is rather larger than the average of past years. The honorary degree of L.D., which was bestowed on David Hooper and Albert H. Newman, was received in person by the latter, as Mr. Hooper is presently engaged in a very important botanical expedition in India. Dean McKay of the faculty of arts presented the graduates with their degrees.

Prof. Smith, in his address, told the graduating class that the major part of the learning which they received during their college course would soon be forgotten by them. What they should retain was the power to express, which was, after all, the greatest asset which they could get from a college course. The speaker dwelt on the importance of the most valuable thing which they had gained, the power to express, and said that the knowledge thus gained of the literature of their language was one of the most valuable things they could acquire. The appreciation of true art was also spoken of, and an aesthetic development was said to be a necessary part of a true education.

The close relations between the Methodist and the Baptist churches was remarked by ex-Chancellor Burwash of Victoria College, in acknowledgment of the honor of the degree of D.D. which McMaster conferred upon him. The amount of controversy and difference in principles had decreased between the two denominations, said Rev. Mr. Burwash, after thanking the college for the honor which he received at its hands.

HOSPITAL AUTHORITIES CENSURED BY JURY

"We wish to censure the hospital authorities for inconvenience of the crown and relatives when making proper enquiries concerning the deceased." This is a rider attached to the verdict of a jury under Coroner J. J. Thompson in the morgue last night at the inquest into the death of Peter Houle, who died in the General Hospital on Saturday after being sent there from No. 5 Police Station shortly after midnight Friday.

Albert Houle, a brother, when he went to the hospital after his brother's death, was refused the right to view the body by the hospital authorities, and the coroner had considerable difficulty in obtaining the necessary information at the institution.

Peter Houle had been in the habit of drinking and had been on a drunk for some days. The post-mortem examination showed that death had been caused by pneumonia, followed by heart trouble, which was primarily caused by alcoholism. The verdict also gave this as the cause of death and freed the police department from any blame.

ASK WILSON REASON FOR SUPPORT OF VILLA

Canadian Press Despatch.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Congress again came into the Mexican situation today, when a caustic debate occurred in the Senate over the resolution of Mr. Lippitt of Rhode Island, asking President Wilson for information as to his reported support of Villa as the next ruler of Mexico. The resolution was finally tabled by a vote of 50 to 40, but not until Senator Lippitt had discussed the administration's support of the "Villainous Villa," the landing at Vera Cruz, and other incidents.

Mexico also crept into the debate on the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption act, when Senator Bradley of Kentucky declared that the republic was to purchase immunity for a continuation of watchful waiting in Mexico.

MARRIOTT INQUEST WAS ADJOURNED A WEEK

Delay in Completing Inquiry Taken at Request of City Legal Department.

Because the legal department of the City of Toronto is going to take action at the inquest into the death of Alex. Marriot, which was jolled from his wagon on Woodbine avenue on May 4 and died the following day, the inquest under Coroner Clendinning, which was opened at the morgue last night, had to be adjourned till next Tuesday, when the coroner was in a position to finish the enquiry.

In the meantime the jury will view the portion of the road where the accident took place. Dr. H. Mason, who acted as medical examiner, said that death was caused by having a portion of his neck dislocated and by the shock.

How to Destroy the Dandruff Germ

That dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and itching. It is a well-known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of an agent that will destroy its power.

How I Lost 18 Pounds of Fat and Regained My Good Figure By a Simple Rubbing Process

"Three weeks ago I read in a newspaper of a lady who found that a simple mixture of herbs could be rubbed on fleshy places, and that this would gradually dissolve excessive fat, so I obtained from a druggist one drachm of Aremone. After taking them some I put over them a teaspoonful of boiling water, after standing about one minute I strained it through a cloth and added the Aremone. Then I poured the mixture into a bottle and applied it freely every night and morning with my hands for about ten minutes, using a circular movement. The fat just seemed to melt away, and when I rubbed it on, and I never dreamed that it would be so easy to get slender. Friends are asking me the name of the medicine in my appearance. I have reduced 18 pounds of fat from my hips and abdomen, and I look 15 years younger. Now I feel just like a young every fat woman I see and telling her how I did it."

CANADA HAS LOWER YIELD STANDARD

Old, Worn-Out Soils Give Much Better Returns Than Virgin Soils. Considering the vast potentialities of the fertile Canadian soil, it is interesting to compare home standards of production with the amounts taken from the soils of Europe, that have been cropped for centuries. There is surely room for improvement in Canadian methods, it may be said. Canada is producing about 20 bushels of wheat to the acre; Germany 29, Great Britain 33, and Denmark 42. In oats Canada is producing 35 bushels to the acre, Germany 51 and Great Britain 44. In barley Canada produces 27 bushels per acre, Germany and Great Britain each 35. The average yield of potatoes in Canada for the last 15 years has been 116 bushels to the acre. Germany produced over 200 bushels to the acre in Canada for the last 15 years has been 116 bushels to the acre. Germany produced over 200 bushels to the acre. For every bushel of potatoes the Dominion grows Germany grows nearly 22.

ROADS MOVEMENT FORGING AHEAD

Motor Survey Will Be Started in Early Part of Next Month.

PREPARING LARGE MAP

Provincial Highway Engineer Now Receiving Reports From County Officials.

No-time will be wasted by the provincial government in planning the re-organization of good roads of older Ontario. Arrangements are already completed by which the motor survey promised in the commissioners' report will be under way in the early part of June, and bands of competent engineers will study the whole road system from all practical standpoints. This was a summary of a statement made by Provincial Highway Engineer McLean yesterday.

It was stated in addition that a dozen draftsmen will be placed at work in the near future on plans of county and township systems. Large maps of every district will be prepared and the stages of construction will be noted, so that at the end of the working seasons the engineers will be able to check up the amount of work performed and have a practical knowledge of what the market and traffic demands of each locality will call for.

In each case the opinion of the municipalities will be gained, before any decision is made as to the character of the building material and the extent of the undertaking.

RY. BOARD WILL GO TO FORT FRANCES

Commissioners Postpone Hearing of Power Company's Appeal Until Mid-June.

Fort Frances came yesterday before the Ontario Railway Board seeking a vindication of the assessment revision court decision concerning the leasing of the Minnesota Power Company for $400,000. In the same connection permission was asked for the right to extend the municipal boundaries to the international line. Both matters were held over till June 16, when the board will go to Fort Frances to investigate.

LONDON, May 6.—The question of the rights of private property in naval warfare came up for discussion in the house of commons today when Philip Edward Morrell, a Liberal member, moved:

"In the opinion of this house it is desirable that the government should negotiate with the other leading maritime powers with the view of obtaining such a revision of the laws of naval warfare as would secure immunity to all private property except in the case of ships carrying troops for war or attempting to violate a blockade."

METROPOLITAN TO BUILD TERMINALS

Plans Out for Large Station, Car Sheds and Other Improvements.

Plans are out for a large terminal station for the Toronto and York Radial, fronting on Yonge street, from Burnham to Woodlawn avenues, and the car sheds to be built just north of the C. P. R. tracks. When the railway purchased its right of way to the west of Yonge street, which was abandoned after a ruling of the privy council, considerable frontage on Yonge street, from Burnham avenue south to the C. P. R. tracks was included in the deal, and with additional purchases the Metropolitan's holdings are practically by half of the frontage on the west side of Yonge street to that section. Several large purchases have also been made on Birch avenue and other streets running west of Yonge street.

NEARLY ALL HOUSES AT ISLAND RENTED

"Practically all the available houses are rented," said E. A. English in reply to a query yesterday by The World, regarding the number of houses vacant on the island. "There are only three or four left," he continued. "The demand started in earlier than usual this season, and before the first of the year a large number of tenants had paid the necessary fee to secure houses."

Lessees and Lessors Getting Together on Building at Corner Church and Colborne

Contrary to the usual arbitration procedure when a lessor wishes to purchase a building from the lessee of the land, McWilliam & Everist and the Toronto General Trust Company have come together and appointed architects to decide on the value of the four-story building on the northwest corner of Church and Colborne streets. McWilliam & Everist secured a land lease of a twenty-one-year term from the Toronto General Trust Company's trustee, and this lease expires July 1.

A delightful outing was given the delegates to the I.O.D.E. Convention and their friends at the close of the afternoon session yesterday, when automobiles and carriages were drawn up before the Foresters' Hall, and, after preliminaries, about two hundred stowed themselves into the vehicles and were conveyed to the Preventorium, situated some miles up Yonge street.

Surprise and delight were expressed on every hand as the cars ran around the circling paths and under the broad overhanging trees of the spacious lawn fronting the house. Hospitality in the shape of a charmingly appointed tea-table laid in the open on two verandas met one even at the door. Other tables waited with their generous store within.

While some did justice to the viands prepared others inspected the house and admired its work, admiration being mingled with praise for the generous donors and founders, Colonel and Mrs. Gooderham.

Uptables in a large, beautifully-lighted room, fifty-one children were gathered in charge of their teacher. Most of the little ones looked so well that it seemed hard to believe they had a tendency to any disease. In response to a request they went thru various physical exercises with the precision of little soldiers. None of the little ones in this institution, who range from three to fourteen years in age, are infected with any considerable extent. They are simply predisposed to tuberculosis. They are usually discovered thru means of the different X-ray and other medical examination apparatus are passed on to the institution,

Physical training is given most attention. The coats are mostly placed on covered-in verandas, the glass fronts of which may be lowered or raised to suit circumstances.

Beautifully Clean. Everything is beautifully clean and white, the furnishing being most sanitary and hygienic. The board room was equipped by Mrs. Ross Gooderham.

An endowment of $50,000, seven thousand of which is already secured, is the thing now desired. The outside infirmary and gymnasium in another part of the grounds, which will be later fully equipped, were also inspected by the visitors. So satisfactory was the whole survey that it was easy for the delegates to substantiate the statement that the Preventorium, tho it can only do a small part of the work of a city like Toronto, is nevertheless the finest institution of its kind on the American continent.

In the case of firms the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fails to complete the work contracted for. If the tender is not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tenders.

By order, R. C. DESBROCHERS, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, May 5, 1914.

EWEN MACMILLAN DEAD

CORNWALL, May 6.—Ewen Macmillan, formerly of Finch, died today at the home of his brother, J. H. Macmillan, postmaster of Cornwall, aged 78. He was born in Finch Township, and was a son of the late Ewen Angus Macmillan. When a young man he went to British Columbia and for forty years was a resident of Vancouver and Nanaimo, B.C., being extensively engaged in lumbering and mining. About seven years ago his health began to fail and he came east and made his home with his brother, John Macmillan, who is now 80 years old. Ewen was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and was a very successful business man. He was a native of Scotland, and came to Canada in 1840.

Foreign news lacked definiteness and all the many regard this as a factor in price making, others are assured that it is public disgust with securities that is at present responsible for the absence of a buying power.

Random Notes on the Mining Stocks.

Quite a number of prospectors and property holders are now starting work in Kirkland Lake in the Township of Teck and Lebel. Considerable work is to be done on the Syracuse and Sargenta Mining Company properties, held in Beattie-Munro gold district.

Preliminary arrangements have been completed by Lee W. Steele of Dawson and Colonel J. B. Saunders, commissioner of public works of Edmonton, and their associates to organize a holding and development company, the largest of its kind in the world, to explore and work 21,000 acres of dredging leases in placer gold ground in Alaska and the Yukon Territory.

Alfred A. Ames, the broker who led the fight against the Chambers-Ferland-Addin deal on behalf of the minority shareholders of the Ferland deal, is now in Montreal, having returned from the meeting. He wanted them to defer the deal for six months and to let the Chambers-Ferland deal be completed in the meantime. He took exception at the meeting to the Aladdin property claiming the Silver Queen lease as an asset, since, on the authority of Mr. Cecil, a director, their operation of the lease the past year gave them a net loss of $20,000.

BEST PURCHASE IN LIST

Now that Peterson Lake has been made a dividend payer, it is essential for holders to have the stock put in their own names if they expect to get the dividend checks. We will have this done for any holder free and return the stock without delay. Too much significance should not be paid to the fact that the stock did not sell higher yesterday. There may be reasons for holding the price down, but in any event, we still consider this the best purchase in the whole mining list. Peterson Lake has large speculative possibilities as well as a 16 per cent. return on the present investment.

FARMING, LIVE STOCK, HORTICULTURE AND EVERYTHING OF FARM INTEREST

SOILING SYSTEM PREFERABLE WHERE LAND IS SCARCE AND DEAR

Cutting Green Feed and Hauling It to Cows is Usually Too Expensive Where Farms are Moderately Priced—Most Feasible in Europe.

The farmer has been repeatedly shown that he can keep more cows per acre by a soiling system, that is, if green feed is cut and brought to the cows, rather than use a pasture, but few farmers have adopted this method. The farmer is concerned with profit for his work, not with entertaining the greatest possible number of cows. A soiling system is feasible in Europe, where labor is cheap and land very expensive; it is not feasible in America, except on a very few farms with entirely unusual conditions. The United States Agr. Farmer's Bulletin 242 gives a description of one of these farms.

Kept Two Head an Acre.
The farmer had fifteen acres of land near a large city in Pennsylvania, and by a soiling system raised all the roughage for thirty head of stock, seventeen of which were cows in milk. The milk was sold to a state institution for $1.00 and rarely sold for as much as $1.00 per acre. With more than double the usual price of milk and with land worth ten times as much as that on most dairy farms, a soiling system was the only logical system. The owner developed a city-lot type of farming, excellently adapted to his conditions, but absolutely out of place on farms that sell milk at usual prices. If he had sold his milk at usual prices he would have lost money. The balance was called "An Example of Model Farming," and many persons thought that this furnished a model for farmers who sell milk at a high price, a quart instead of 3-4 cents. Because of his success under these very unusual conditions, this farmer sold his farm for a high price and was hired at a high salary as manager of another farm. Here the attempt to establish

MUCH MONEY LOST IN FARM BUILDINGS

Rule to Invest Only Tenth to Fifth of Capital in These.

Little can be said about the proportion of the capital to be invested in farm buildings because the prices of land and lumber change so rapidly. It is said that the city worker ought not to spend over twenty per cent. of his salary in farm buildings, but not over ten to twenty per cent. of the capital should be invested in the farm house. Farms for stock should rarely cost over $50 for each cow, and a barn should not cost more than $100 for each cow. Money invested in a barn would not be looked upon as a very attractive investment if it did not pay a least eight to ten per cent. a year. This amount has to cover interest, repairs, depreciation, insurance and taxes. If one invested $1000 in a dairy barn to house twenty cows, the annual rent that the cows would pay would be $30, or $4 per cow. If butter sells for thirty cents a pound this would require thirteen pounds of butter from every cow to pay her barn rent.

Nearly all persons from the cities who go to farming invest too much in farm buildings. There are many cases where the barns and milk rooms cost as much as $1000 for every cow housed. Each year the farmer pays $1000 for the privilege of living in such a palace. These cow palaces are often built by misguided wealthy men, who feel that they are building a barn that is to be a model for farmers.

But farmers, it is said, are far from falling into the same error of over-investment. Many times a farmer finds that he has money enough to build a new barn and starts out to do so, but when he has to build a new barn, he usually justifies such a barn or not, but the cost of a hen house ought not to exceed $100. If a comfortable house can be built for less so much the better. This cost would make the yearly charge about fifteen cents per hen.

ASPARAGUS GOOD TO GROW IN TOWN

One of Best Vegetables and of Considerable Medicinal Virtues.

EASY TO PREPARE LAND
Four Years Required to Produce First Crop—Then Supply Assured.

Any type of soil that is good, deep, rich, and well drained will grow asparagus, and if in addition such should have a southern exposure it will grow asparagus early if well cultivated and properly attended to.

Preparation of the Land.
Choose a piece of land that has been well cultivated for several years and dig or plow into it a heavy dressing of well-rotted barnyard manure. Harrow the land thoroughly, or, in the case of a small garden plot, rake it well.

Garden Culture.
For garden culture, make a bed about four feet wide and of any length desired, and set the plants in it 18 inches apart. For field culture, plow trenches four feet apart, run a mow north and south. Put the plants in the trenches at 18-inch intervals. The furrow should be some 3 inches deep, and the roots should be covered with soil to the full height of the plants. Plant any time before the middle of May.

First Three Years' Treatment.
Do not cut any shoots the first year, but allow the plants to come to the full growth, and in the fall cut off the branched shoots and rake them up. In the second year, cut and rake tops and the roots should be some good shoots, but allow the plants to come to the full growth, and in the fall cut off the branched shoots and rake them up. In the third year, cut and rake tops and the roots should be some good shoots, but allow the plants to come to the full growth, and in the fall cut off the branched shoots and rake them up.

BULK OF CITY APPLE CONSUMERS BUY FRUIT PACKED IN BARRELS

Boxes Best to Pack Finer Qualities for Dessert Use—Shortage of This Class Constantly Reported—Growers Advised to Try Boxes.

With the development of fruit-growing in Canada and the resultant competition between the various fruit-growing areas, the question of packages has become one of singular importance, and at many recent meetings the advantages and disadvantages of the box and barrel have been carefully weighed. There are conditions affecting the use of either of these packages which render it impossible to answer categorically the question, "Which is the better package, the box or the barrel?"

B. C. Growers Favor Boxes.
In British Columbia the growers have decided in favor of the box package and use no barrels, and it is the will of the Ontario packers to woo the western trade, they must needs do likewise.

There are, however, a number of factors which the grower must consider before adopting a package in which to market his fruit.

1. The varieties. 2. The experience of the packers. 3. The trade to which the grower will cater. 4. The cost of packages and packing. 5. The cost of transportation.

Varieties Adapted to Boxes.
There are certain varieties of apples which are adapted more particularly to the box package and others which are adapted more particularly to the barrel package. The former are those which are not so easily bruised, and which are not so easily damaged by the rough handling to which they are subjected in the market. In its principles and cannot be applied, except after considerable practice. It will be conceded that the difficulty of

MUST WEED OUT STOCK

The man with two or three cows with phenomenal records, who is selling all his calves on the strength of these records, is not doing the breed any good, because in every herd and from every class it may be taken for granted that there are going to be both good and bad, and no matter what the standard reached, one must keep cutting and weeding out; those poor variants that are bound to appear. No man, therefore, can sell or buy the individual on the strength of the breeder's or herd's reputation alone.

CORN SILAGE FOUND HIGHER IN FOOD VALUE

At the Ontario Agricultural College roots have been fed in comparison with corn silage for fattening steers, and in all cases the roots did not make so good a showing pound for pound as silage. In one series of tests silage showed twenty-five per cent. higher gain per ton than roots, and in other tests the difference in favor of silage was greater. For young animals and sheep, however, roots are probably more wholesome than silage.

Prof. Orton of the United States Department of Agriculture, estimates the annual loss in the United States from loose smut of wheat at $3,000,000, at smut at $5,500,000 and from barren, or stinking smut at $1,000,000. No estimation has been made, but the loss from the same causes in Ontario is enormous.
