Technical and Bibliographic Notes/Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming, are checked below.

L'Institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués ci-dessous.

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

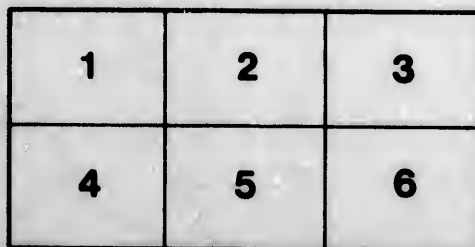

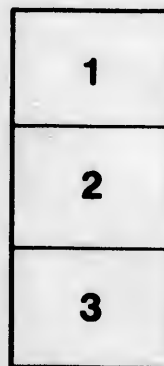

Library Division
Provincial Archives of British Columbia

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Library Division
Provincial Archives of British Columbia

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

Hotel del Monte, Monterey, Cal.

The Most Delightful WATERING PLACE and HANDSOMEST SEA-SIDE HOTEL
ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Bathing Houses, Character of the Beach, etc.

The beach is about half a mile from the hotel, and is the most perfect bathing beach upon the Pacific coast. The bathing-house is a model of beauty and perfection.

Mr. W. H. Daily, the champion swimmer of the Pacific Coast, and who has made himself well acquainted with the character of several of the most noted beaches from San Francisco to Santa Monica, says, in a letter dated Monterey, December 15, 1879: "I have made a careful examination of the beach at this place, as to its fitness for purposes of bathing. I find it an easy, sloping beach of fine sand; no gravel, no stones anywhere below high water mark. I waded and swam up the beach a quarter of a mile, that is, toward the east, and also westward toward the warehouse, and found a smooth sandy bottom all the way; no rocks, no sea weed and no undertow. The whiteness of the sand makes the water beautifully clear. I consider the beach here the finest on the Pacific Coast. I was in the water an hour yesterday, and found it, even at this time of the year, non-tro cold for enjoyable bathing."

The Climate and Healthfulness of Monterey.

The weather at Monterey is not so warm either in summer or winter as in other parts of California further south, but there is an even temperature that can be found nowhere else. From January to December, year in and year out, there is no summer nor winter weather. Indeed, the weather at Monterey, from one year's end to another, partakes of that delightful interlude known in the East and South as "Indian Summer." The same balmy zephyrs breathe a delicious atmosphere all the year round, and summer and winter, so-called, serenely face each other and exchange compliments. The following carefully prepared table presents the mean temperature of Monterey and many other health resorts and places throughout the world:

Comparative Table of Temperature.

St. Augustine.....	59	77	18	39 05.
Santa Cruz.....	50	60	10	37 00.

It will be seen by the above table that Monterey has only one rival (Honolulu) in equability of temperature. It must be understood, however, that there is a good deal of hot, disagreeable weather on the islands, and a multiplicity of drawbacks which Monterey does not possess. There are seldom any high, cold winds at and around Monterey, and never any hot ones.

RAILROAD LANDS

— IN —

California and Nevada.

The Central Pacific and Southern Pacific Railroad Companies have land grants direct from the U. S. Government, including Wheat, Farming, Fruit, Grazing, Dairy and Timber Lands.

EQUAL TO THE BEST IN AMERICA,

And adapted to all purposes of profitable agriculture, and will sell the same in tracts of

FORTY ACRES AND UPWARDS,

At prices ranging from

$2.50 TO $20.00 PER ACRE,

According to quality and situation.

These lands extend the entire length of California and across the State of Nevada, and—excepting the tracts reserved by Government and those to which a valid homestead or pre-emption right had attached prior to the date of the grant, comprise all the vacant, odd-numbered sections within twenty miles on each side of the main line of the Central Pacific Railroad, within thirty miles on each side of the line of the California and Oregon branch of the Central Pacific Railroad, and within thirty miles on each side of the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad. The course of these lines of road can be readily ascertained by reference to any late maps of California and Nevada.

It will be seen that all this country is situated in the midst of what will be, within a few years, a perfect network of railroads.

Lands, therefore, anywhere within this section, must, in consequence of situation, outside of their intrinsic worth, increase very rapidly in value. But, independent of situation, the general excellent quality of the soil, its great productiveness, its adaptability in many places to almost every species of agricultural production, together with the mildness of the climate, the bright skies and the equability of the temperature which prevails over the greater part of its extent, render it a very desirable section for the immigrant or settler who wishes to make a happy home in a place where all the comforts and most of the luxuries of life can be had with but little trouble, and where industry and thrift will be sure to meet with an abundant reward.

Tracts of not less than eighty acres will be sold, if desired, on a credit of five years; that is, twenty per cent. cash in hand, and the remainder of the purchase money payable at any time within five years, with interest at seven per cent. per annum. Circulars, giving full particulars, are supplied gratis.

PREFACE.

The prevailing custom amongst publishers of writing a "Preface" for their works should by common consent be relegated from their "prescribed duties," particularly when the confidence is warranted in the merits of their productions. A book that is worthy public esteem needs no apology, and one that does not satisfy the requirements which prompted its publication may be considered an "unpardonable imposition." Feeling that our untiring energy towards the attainment of success in this branch of literary effort has been rewarded, we assume that a "valedictory" of this nature is superfluous. Yet, now that we are in for it, we shall avail ourselves of the privilege of a few modest utterances that opportunity confers upon us. The DIRECTORY AND GAZETTEER is the work of many hands and its completion has involved no little expense and trouble. Thousands of letters have been written, many fatiguing journeys were made and a great deal of profanity could have been expended on unavoidable delays and petty carelessness had it not been that the "conscience of our patience" rebelled against it. Patience is our redeeming virtue. It is an idol deserving of worship. Therefore we pay it reverence. Our bump of gratitude is largely developed also, and we trust that an acknowledgement of our obligations to the various railroad, steamship and stage line officials for their many acts of kindness in lessening our labors and promoting the interests of our book in other ways is a confirmation of the statement. Our sincere thanks are also due county officials, postmasters and other co-workers for their zeal in expediting the progress of our work.

With adieus kindly repeated and the hope that our volume for 1880--81 may be the medium of great convenience, we wish our patrons in particular and the people of the Coast in general, unbounded prosperity and happiness.

See also, List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

SITUATED between the 37th and 42d parallels of north latitude, and the 109th and 114th meridians west from Greenwich, lying north of Arizona, south of Idaho and Wyoming, east of Nevada, and west of Colorado and Wyoming, and having an area of 84,476 square miles. It is divided almost equally by the Wasatch mountains, which intersect its whole extent from north to south. On the east side of these lofty sentinels, are the Green and Grand rivers, which, with their several branches from the Colorado, while on the west side are Jordan, Weber, Bear, Timpanogos, Sevier and Salt Creek rivers, to whose waters the cultivation of many thousand acres of land and the reduction of vast quantities of ore can be attributed. The interests which involve the destiny of this promising Territory, are dependent on these beautiful and valuable streams. Without their presence, the many blooming orchards, fields of rustling, ripening grain, and the hum of commerce, would be represented by desolation and waste. Irrigation is a necessity for the production of cereals and fruits, of which she can consistently boast in terms of enthusiasm and pride, for in all markets where the products of her soil have been introduced, they have acquired a reputation, both for quality and size, that is truly encouraging. These facts, in addition to the one which experiments in mining industries have demonstrated, are worthy the consideration of all seeking profitable investment in that direction, and certainly augur most favorably of her future. She is possessed with a multiplicity of features which must prove of advantage to her rapid and permanent growth, and not the least importance of these is her climate. In the southern part of the Territory, cotton is grown without risk, and experience proves that the silk-worm can thrive almost anywhere within her confines. Oranges and other tropical fruits have been grown also in some localities, though in some sections the temperature reaches a degree of cold that is disastrous to stock. Heavy falls of snow are annually witnessed in the northern portion. The mountains are covered during the greater portion of the year with a luxuriant growth of nutritious grasses, on which large herds of cattle, flocks of sheep, and droves of horses, grow sleek and fat, and become a source of great revenue to their owners. Another of her attractive features is the dryness and purity of the atmosphere, while the water which courses constantly down her mountain sides, is cool, sparkling and delicious. The sanitary condition of the Territory is highly gratifying, and her public school system is spoken of in the highest praise. The Great Salt Lake is a beautiful sheet of water, though so strongly impregnated with chloride of sodium, as to render it unfit for use in the promotion of the agricultural interests. Very valuable salt is made by evaporation from the water which comes from it. So extremely salt is it that nothing endowed with animal life can exist in it. Its dimensions are 75 by 30 miles, and during the warm season it is visited by thousands of people, for the purpose of bathing in it. The buoyancy of the water is so great that it is found impossible for persons to sink in it. Each succeeding year witnesses an increase in the development of her mines, and the time is not remote when she shall wear the crown which credits her with being the leading bullion producing dependency of the Union. For the year ending December, 1879, Wells, Fargo & Co. handled 2,301,276 pounds of refined, and 26,441,359 pounds of unrefined lead, 3,835,047 ounces of silver and 15,932 ounces of gold, the product of Utah, whose combined value amounted to $5,219,747.69.

When the above figures are added to those of individuals who have not had dealings with the express company, the aggregate will have been largely increased, and when the fact that these interests are as yet comparatively in their infancy is considered, the belief of her importance as a "lustrous gem" in our country's firmament, must become deeply rooted. Her population cannot exceed 150,000 people, though the resources are capable of supporting twenty times the number. Her saw and grist mills are numerous in comparison with other sections, and give employment to an army of operatives.

RAILROADS.

Through the spirit of enterprise which largely predominated in the men who were prominently identified with the history of Utah, and who had her welfare at heart, her progress was accelerated by the introduction of rapid transportation in the form of railways. Hoping to profit by the experience of public-spirited persons of "the States," they contributed largely from their funds of intelligence and finance, and through that energy characteristic of the "western element," they found a remedy which soon relieved them of the evil of the stage-coach and heavy "prairie schooner," and that was the iron horse and coaches. There are nine lines in operation in the Territory, namely, the Central Pacific, the Union Pacific, Utah Central, Utah Southern, Utah and Northern, Wasatch and Jordan Valley, Utah Western, Bingham Canyon and Camp Floyd, and Pleasant Valley.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC

Joins hand with the Union Pacific at Ogden, and thus forms a continuous line from the Pacific to the Atlantic seaboard. The completion of this transcontinental roadway of steel was a success, unparalleled in the art of railway engineering and construction. Its machine shops at Ogden give employment to quite a number of men, and through its monthly distribution of wages, the Territory is greatly benefited.

THE UNION PACIFIC

Also has its shops at Ogden, and is a "power in the land," and an auxiliary to the sustenance of a population, that is of incalculable value.

THE UTAH CENTRAL

Is 37 miles in length, having Ogden for its northern, and Salt Lake City for its southern terminus. It was built by individual labor in 1870, with very little money, by residents of the Territory, the late President Young having entire superintendence of its construction. It has proved to be a profitable investment.

THE UTAH SOUTHERN

Is the second road that was built in Utah, and it is really an extension of the Utah Central, continuing southward from Salt Lake City.

THE UTAH AND NORTHERN

Is a narrow gauge, running from Ogden to a point beyond Eagle Rock, Idaho, though it is the purpose to extend the line further into that Territory. It is owned by the Union Pacific, and it traverses some of the most magnificent scenic country ever human eyes beheld, while there is considerable land along its route that is superior for agricultural purposes.

THE OTHER LINES

Are short and of local importance, and were built by private capital, though they have been greatly instrumental toward securing a steady growth of the Territory.

SALT LAKE COUNTY.

Although among the oldest of Utah mining towns, the place only has a population of about 500. The mines in the vicinity have long since acquired quite a fame for their wonderful richness, among which are the Emma, Flagstaff, Prince of Wales, North Star, etc. Previous to the spring of 1878, the town's future was full of bright promise, but a calamitous conflagration nearly swept it out of existence at that period, and steps have been delayed toward rebuilding it. It is on the Wasatch and Jordan Valley

Bingham,

SALT LAKE COUNTY,

Is the terminus of Bingham Canyon and Camp Floyd Railroad, 23 miles from Salt Lake City in a southwesterly direction. The title of "Old Reliable" has certainly not been misapplied, for despite the ravages of depression and drouth, almost insurmountable in their nature, in the very face of driving and destructive elements, which questioned her right to "hold her own," she has withstood everything, and is to-day one of the substantial mining towns of the Territory. The place depends almost solely upon the mining interests, a feature that has filled her horoscope with gleams of bright promise in the form of development, steady and permanent. There are several places of business, as well as a public hall, a church, and a school. The population is about 600 souls.

Brigham City.

BOX ELDER COUNTY.

Brigham City is the county seat of Box Elder county, and is a town of 2,500 inhabitants. It is situated on the Utah & Northern and Central Pacific railroads, three miles east of Bear River, and 13 miles north of Ogden City. Its location is a beautiful one, being on a gradual incline, and is near the mouth of Box Elder Canyon. In its corporate capacity, Brigham City extends to the boundary line of Cache county on the east, and takes in a most beautiful little valley surrounded with lofty mountains, and having in it a flourishing farming settlement called Montana, with a population of 350 souls. The town site proper of Brigham City is rocky and filled with gravel, making the ground most solid to build on, and the streets, which run at right angles, are as solid and level as if actually paved by the hand of human ingenuity, the same having an effect to make the ground uncommonly warm, so that a great variety of fine fruit is raised in rich abundance which, connected with the vast amount of flowers and roses growing in the summer, causes the place to partially resemble the tropical regions. A money order office is connected with the postoffice, and here is also an express office. There is a woolen factory and tannery of considerable capacity, besides a number of other manufacturing establishments, such as blacksmith, wagonmakers, carpenters, etc. Stock-raising and dairying are amongst the prominent interests to which the place looks for support.

Corinne,

BOX ELDER COUNTY,

Is situated on the C. P. Railroad, 25 miles west of Ogden, in the beautiful valley of Bear river. It is the pioneer Gentile town of the Territory, and at one time in its early history was the scene of great activity and commercial enterprise. Since the advent of the railroad, however, a gradual decline has been experienced, owing to the fact that it has been deprived of the freighting business, which was a feature that formed a most important factor in the support of the place. It is very desirably located, and may again assume proportions of some dignity. Mr. John W.
 Guthrie, who is prominently indentified with the history of the town, has a great deal of confidence in its future.
 The country surrounding it is of an agricultural nature, capable of supporting a large population. M. E. Campbell is proprietor of the only hotel.

PACIFIC BUSINESS COLLEGE, No. 320 Post Street, Educates thoroughly for Business.

Ephraim,

SAN PETE COUNTY,

Has a population of nearly 2,000, and is one of the wealthiest towns in the county. The place is only a short distance from Manti and is consequently not beyond the limits of the rich agricultural district which has given that section such a notoriety for its heavy yields of fruits, berries, vegetables and grain. No community is more thrifty, and the presence of several handsome buildings indicates a disposition to improve the city that is deserving of applause.

Logan,

CACHE COUNTY,

Is a county seat and postoffice, 67 miles from Ogden, on the line of the Utah and Northern Railroad, having a population of 4,000 persons. It is beautifully situated, nitely laid out and handsomely built; has a large woolen mill, giving employment to quite a number of operatives. The Tabernacle and Temple are the chief features of attraction, the former costing upwards of $200,000, and the latter, now under course of construction, will cost, it is estimated, in the neighborhood of $500,000. The town is also situated on Bear river, a pretty stream, where "speckled beauties" are caught during the summer season in great numbers. The health of the place is fine and the schools excellent.

Manti,

SAN PETE COUNTY,

The county seat of San Pete county, has a population of 2,000 souls. It is 133 miles from Salt Lake City in a southerly direction. The vast deposits of beautiful white sandstone in the immediate vicinity supply all the demands for building material of that character, of which a majority of the buildings of the city have been constructed. There is in course of construction and rapidly approaching completion a Tabernacle, which will form one of the attractive features of this pleasant little city, and which will serve the people most peculiarly as a monument of refined culture, energy and devotion to the cause of religious doctrine. There is also a temple now building that will be an ornament to the city, and which will forever show the spirit which permeated the community of the present period.

Nephi,

JUAB COUNTY,

With a population numbering upwards of 2,000, whose chief characteristic is enterprise, and with excellent facilities for the transportation of all articles of commerce, as well as being located in a section where stock raising and farming are extensively engaged in, is a place which must become an important town of Central Utah. It is 91 miles south of Salt Lake City, on the Utah Southern Railroad, and is the county seat of Juab. Mt. Nebo, kissing the sky at a height of 12,000 feet, and one of the most magnificent of America's peaks, culminating the Wasatch range, intrudes itself upon the vision near by, and fills the beholder with feelings of wonder and admiration.

North Ogden,

WEBER COUNTY,

Is about one mile north of Ogden, in a prosperous and thriving agricultural district, and has a population of 1,400. The town is well supplied with excellent water by several mountain streams, and has four district schools, all well attended, thus showing that an appreciation of educational matters is widely felt, and that the advantages of social and moral standing are conducive to good government and happiness. The residence of Sidney Stevens, Esq., is the handsomest in the city, by whose courtesy of demeanor he has won the respect of the whole community, and has reaped a rich reward and a liberal patronage.

Ogden,

WEBER COUNTY,

Is the county seat of the county in which it is situated, has a population of 6,000 souls, is beautifully laid out, and can boast an air of permanence that few places no larger, yet older, could. It is the western terminus of the Union Pacific, the eastern terminus of the Central Pacific, the northern terminus of the Utah Central, and the southern terminus of the Utah Northern Railroads, and could very appropriately, therefore, be called the junction city. It is supported largely by the railroad interests, though the country surrounding the place is emphatically overflowing with the richness of a bountiful soil, being adapted to the pursuits of fruit-growing, stock-raising, and the production of grain and vegetables. The scenic features are attractively grand, the Wasatch mountains forming a background to a picture that is seldom found among the landscapes of nature's art gallery. The streets are broad and smooth, running at right angles, and the places of religious worship are numerous, while the eye frequently comes in contact with pretty school-houses, handsome residences and elegant places of business. Salt Lake City must look to her laurels, else her enterprising sister will outreach her in the grasp for metropolitan honors. The residents are energetic and public-spirited and so far as morality is concerned, we opine that her condition is truly flattering, though it is hinted that, at one time, it "could be improved upon." The hotels of the city are good, and no traveler could consistently find fault with the treatment he receives while under the care of Mr. M. H. Beardsley, of the Beardsley Hotel, or of A. K. Zeigler, of the Keeney House and the Commercial Hotel. He is an experienced, trustworthy and genial gentleman, and no branch of business is represented by a better man. The newspapers of the place evince an enterprise in the collection and selection of subject matter that is highly commendable. A morning daily and two evening papers are among the number of publications. The future of the town is really bright, and we have a confidence in her growth that, if felt by all, would no doubt insure a rapid and very permanent growth.

Richmond,
CACHE COUNTY,

Is on the line of the Utah and Northern Railway, and the last town in Utah on this road. It is a pretty little town of 1,500 inhabitants, the second in point of population in Cache county. The residents are industrious and believe in the development of the county so much that every pains is taken to beautify and make it attractive. The country surrounding it is rich in scenic features, while the soil is susceptible of a very high cultivation, though the facilities for irrigation at present are not as good as could be wished.

Salt Lake City,

SALT LAKE COUNTY,

Is the metropolis and capital of the Territory, the county seat of the county bearing the same name, is situated 34 miles south of Ogden, and has a population of 25,000 people. Its streets are of unusual width, bordered by a beautiful and uniform growth of shade trees, while along the curbs there is a constantly-flowing stream of pure and sparkling water, which comes from the mountains that shut out the beautiful valley in which the city is situated from the cold winds of the north. There is an air of comfort eminently noticeable in the roomy yards and commodious places of residence, while the business houses, as a rule, are well appointed and of splendid architectural design. Of course, that peculiar class of persons known as Mormons predominate, and it is but due to them to state that the city's beauty and growth is traceable only to their presence. Had not such men as Orson Pratt buckled on their armor of courage and self-reliance a quarter of a century or more ago, and defied the dangers of the tedious journey across the uninhabited plains, Utah could not boast of the cities and happy country homes which everywhere present themselves to-day to gladden the heart of the stranger and make his visits enjoyable.

No such monuments of pride and of devotion to religious doctrine as have been erected would be seen; no such development of the mining interests as she has experienced would be apparent; no such traffic as is carried on by the railroads would be witnessed, nor would the merry music of clanking engines, ringing anvils, the hum of saws and the clashing trowel be heard in the land. But on the contrary, a solemn silence would reign supreme, and the bustle of the 'our would be supplanted by "nature's desolation." The Tabernacle and the Temple, whose mute yet suggestive figures point heavenward the whole year through, and "watch the lonely vigils of the night" in courtship with the stars, would be numbered with the "things that are to be," while the mountains, solemn and majestic, would keep sole company with the companions of long ago. No theater, such as she possesses, would have reared its roof to witness the acting of the best histrionic talent the country produces, nor would the country have been so far advanced in settlement had the "wandering tribe of Mormon" been denied a passage across the plains that stretch out to the eastward so many weary miles. The city is supplied also with a full complement of good hotels, chief among which are the Walker House, the Continental and the Valley House. The two former are kept by that veteran host, G. S.
Erb, Esq., whose reputation is too well and favorably known to need special mention here, while the latter is under the care of Mr. Andrew C. Brixen, a young gentleman of experience, who by his courtesy of demeanor and energy must succeed in his chosen calling. We commend to him a liberal share of patronage from the traveling public. There are two morning journals and one evening paper published in the city, which are indeed creditable to the place. They are ably edited, and work for the promotion of the city's interest with "hearty good will."

The hotels of a city are almost invariably a faithful reflex of the character of its residents, and to this rule Salt Lake City does not prove an exception, for her houses of public entertainment are in strict keeping with the enterprise and public spirit which are seen on every hand throughout the place.

THE WALKER HOUSE

Is the chief of the caravansaries of the city, and in its appointments will compare most favorable with those of larger cities and of greater renown. The proprietor, Major G. S. Erb, through his courtesy of action and geniality of disposition, has succeeded in endearing a host of travelers to him, and acquired a reputation as a host of which he may feel justly proud. The merits he possessed were rewarded by a very rapid growth of his business and the necessity of more room for the accommodation of his guests soon became apparent, and to meet these requirements he leased

THE CONTINENTAL HOTEL,

With which the Walker is connected by telephone, and which is quite a commodious building, situated two blocks away.

The former is supplied with electric bells, gas, bath rooms, cold and hot water, and an elevator, being four stories in height, splendidly furnished and most conveniently arranged, while the latter is a two-story edifice, differing from the former only with regard to the elevator. The tables are supplied with everything that would please the tastes of the most fastidious epicure, and the discipline of this systematic veteran is noticeable in the politeness of the employes.

Boise City,

ADA COUNTY,

Is the county seat of Ada county and the capital of the Territory, 450 miles north-east of San Francisco, on the Boise river. In early years it was a trading post of the Hudson Bay Fur Company and quite a rendezvous for trappers and emigrants who found their way to that section. In 1863 it was laid out and has grown steadily ever since, and the richness of its diggings and the fertility of its soil warrants the belief that its growth will be permanent and steady. It is the site of the penitentiary, has three newspaper, telegraphic communication, and a population of 2,300 souls.

Idaho City,

BOISE COUNTY,

Was incorporated in 1864; is the county seat, and distant from Boise City, the Territorial capital, 36 miles in a northeasterly direction. There are daily stages connecting it with Winnemucca, on the Central Pacific Railroad, and Umatilla, Oregon, on the Columbia River, passing through Boise City. It is the second city in size as well as in commercial importance of the Territory, and its location is decidedly superior, having gold and silver bearing lodes, besides an extensive agricultural and grazing district to maintain its supremacy. There are several warm springs in the vicinity of the place and are the source of much pleasure and health to the residents who bathe in and drink of their waters.

It is a prosperous and thriving place, having a population of 1,000 or more. It has one newspaper, several churches and a good school.

Portland. It is connected with points on the Columbia River and the C. P. Railroad by a line of stages, which run regularly and carry the U. S. mails and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express. The country surrounding it is beautifully located, and rich agriculturally, and will at some period, not very remote, be a source of great revenue and give employment to a large population. The town contains about 700 inhabitants, and as soon as the Indian question concerning the right to certain franchises under treaty of the government are settled, it will no doubt become a city of great importance.

MONTANA.

(ALPHABETICALLY.)

See also, List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

LYING between latitude 44° 15' and 49° north, and longitude 104° and 116° west, is one of our most isolated dependencies. It is bounded on the north by British America, on the east by Dakota and by a short distance along the 111th meridian by Wyoming, on the south by Wyoming and Idaho and on the west by Idaho. Its length east and west is 540 miles, and its average breadth is 275 miles, having an area of 145,776 square miles, or, in round numbers, 93,296,640 acres, of which 38,000,000 are unexcelled for grazing purposes, 16,000,000 are of exhaustless fertility and susceptible of a high cultivation, 14,000,000 are rich in the possession of an excellent growth of timber, and the remainder—that which is not covered by streams and lakes—can be classed as mineral lands, from which more than $150,000,000 were taken during the first seventeen years following its settlement. One cannot form an adequate conception of its extent until the fact is stated that its area is equal to more than that of England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland combined, or the six New England States and the State of New York in our own country. When we consider, therefore, that a population numbering many millions is supported by each of those sections, with no natural advantages superior to those which can be obtained in this vast empire, it cannot be doubted that in a few years this must be the scene of equal commercial and manufacturing activity over the broad bosom of whose majestic rivers an interchange of the respective productions must be had with our foreign cousins. Its great diversity of resources, its genial, healthful climate and the magnificence of its unequalled scenery, are features that cannot long be lost sight of. A destiny that every patriotic citizen would feel a pride in must be the own that will adorn the history of the young Territory in the near future. Capital has not sought investment in this region because of its remoteness from the line of commercial centers, though with the advent of the Northern Pacific Railway, which is to penetrate its interior and pass through its whole width, an era of development of unparalleled extent is confidently anticipated. The music of machinery and the multiplicity of noises which form the din that is heard in a bustling, active world, must soon be familiar to the ears of its inhabitants. Manufactories of every character will be established, lands will be cultivated, educational enterprises inaugurated, and the elements of prosperity, peace and plenty will be gloriously felt by its honored citizens.

Montana is conceded to be by eminent authority second to none as a stock-raising region, although experiments, it is true, in this direction have been somewhat limited; yet, enough has been done to satisfy good judges conclusively that her standing is unassailable. The lands are all open to entry and actual settlers should bear in mind the importance attached to a speedy location in this El Dorado. It is to be regretted that the nature of this work is such that anything more than a brief notice of the attractive features is rendered impossible. There is sufficient material to fill a volume of no mean proportions.

Malarial diseases or epidemics are never known, while the winters generally are exceedingly mild.

Beaver Head Rock,

BEAVER HEAD COUNTY,

Is a postoffice 40 miles southeast of Bannack City.

Butte City,

DEER LODGE COUNTY,

The second city of importance of the Territory, is situated on the slope above Summit Valley, seven miles above Silver Bow. Like most places of the pioneer days, it presented scenes of great activity and depression alternately; and it was not until the year of our Lord 1875 that a permanent growth in the place was begun. The discovery of rich lodes in January of that year, and the introduction of sufficient capital to warrant their development to their greatest capacity, cast the glorious sunlight of a permanent and gradual improvement over the place, and it now has a population of 3,000 souls. With improved facilities for transportation, and an outlet by rail to the Union Pacific, she must become a city of no little importance. Her schools are good, the society is excellent, and the health is remarkably fine. No malarial, no pulmonary or bronchial diseases are ever recorded in this locality.

Fort Benton,

CHOTEAU COUNTY,

Is at the head of navigation on the Missouri river. Its settlement dates anterior to that of any other place in the Territory, and is consequently the oldest town. It was named after the distinguished Senator from Missouri. It has a population of 600 only, though for a place of its size it presents a scene of activity that is not apparent in many other places much more pretentious, which however is only during the season whence steamboats arrive and depart, from April to September of each year. Its location is beautiful, being on one of the low bottoms bordering the river. Its future cannot be otherwise than bright, since it is the entrepot of a very extended trade.

Glendale,

BEAVER HEAD COUNTY,

Is a lively mining camp in the southwestern portion of the Territory, having communication with the adjacent places by the well-known stage line of Gilmer & Salisbury. It did not attract a great deal of attention until its importance as an ore-shipping point became known, when it rapidly climbed the ladder of notoriety, and in a very short time gazed upon quite an array of money-seeking population. The mines in the vicinity of the place are producing an abundance of bullion, and give employment to quite an army of men and a great deal of machinery. Very costly furnaces have been erected. The population of the place is about 1,500 persons.

Helena,

LEWIS AND CLARKE COUNTY,

Is a city of 5,000 inhabitants, the capita of Montana Territory, and the county seat of Lewis and Clarke county. Like most places in the far West, its early history was fraught with tragic features, crime and corruption stalking hand in hand through the streets, day after day, in most formidable array; but when, in 1865, the formation of the organization which will be distinctly remembered as the Vigilance Committee, was effected, vandalism and other crimes became "beautifully less," to the delight of her law-abiding and peace-loving citizens. When the place first took its name it was known as St. Helena, named so because of its striking resemblance to the place which acquired an undying fame through the possession of Napoleon. It was concluded, shortly after the event of its christening, at a meeting held at a log cabin, to drop the first part of the word and leave it as it now is.

The city has had a great many obstacles in the form of various elements to surmount in her pathway to development. In 1869 a great fire, news of which was telegraphed throughout the world, occurred, destroying nearly the whole city. Another equally as destructive occurred in 1872, and another still in 1874. Despite the fate which promised destruction in a baptism of fire, the brave citizens went to work and have again rebuilt the city, and it is to be hoped that they may not be called upon again to pass through a fiery ordeal of such magnitude. The city is well supplied with schools and churches, the people are progressive and intelligent, and the general health of the place is very good.

There are two daily and two weekly papers published here, two banking houses doing an extensive business in their particular branch of trade, as well as a full complement of wholesale and retail establishments. Within a short distance of Helena are quite a number of very rich gold and silver quartz mines, all being successfully worked. To this interest the city owes her chief support.

Missoula,

MISSOULA COUNTY,

Has a population of 650, is distant from

Deer Lodge City 86 miles in a northwesterly direction, and is the county seat of Missoula county. There is a national bank, a flouring mill, a fine church, where several congregations of various denominations worship, and a weekly newspaper, the Missoulian, published by Chauncey Barbour, Esq. It has communication with adjacent towns by stage routes, one leading through the Bitter Root Valley, and one to Helena and Deer Lodge City. It will also soon have connection with the Utah Northern Railway by stage line, as there is one under process of construction to the terminus of that road. The means which contribute to the development of a mining and agricultural section will result in its steady growth.

Phillipsburg,

DEER LODGE COUNTY,

Is fifty-five miles from Deer Lodge City, in Deer Lodge county, and is reached by stage running from the county seat. It takes rank among the foremost of the liveliest mining camps and has a future that may be considered very bright, as the mines in the vicinity are paying well and show no signs of being exhausted. The town site was laid out in 1866. The sanitary condition of the place is excellent.

Virginia City,

MADISON COUNTY,

Is the county seat of Madison county, situated at the mouth of a creek called Daylight. In 1863 the present site was a "raging wilderness," where nothing save the moaning winds and the noises emanating from the throats of the dusky savages and wild animals broke the stillness and awakened the echoes. The news relating to the discovery of rich placer and quartz diggings, spread like wildfire throughout the whole world, and the contagion which is bred of money-seeking was so greatly felt, that during a few short months in the years 1863-4 the population reached 10,000, a growth that was unprecedented at that time in the history of mining camps. The excitement was intense during the period, and of course chaos ruled with a lavish hand. In 1866 it became the capital of the Territory. It boasts the finest court house in the Territory and possesses excellent schools. The "Weekly Madisonian" is the only paper published here. The population is about 750. The support is derived principally from the mining and stock-raising interest, though that of farming is attracting some attention. The altitude of the town is greater than that of any other place in the Territory, it being 5,778 feet above the level of the sea. It is in a very healthy location and should command favorable notice in this connection.

NEVADA.

(ALPHABETICALLY.)

See also, List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

Was the twenty-third State admitted to the Union under the Constitution, and is situated between latitude 35° and 42° north and longitude 114° and 120° west, having an area of 104,125 square miles, being third in extent of territory, Texas and California preceding her in the rank of dimension. It is bounded on the north by Oregon and Idaho, on the east by Utah and Arizona and on the south and west by California. Its counties are necessarily large, the number being only 14, and the population is variously estimated to be from 60,000 to 75,000, which is decidedly cosmopolitan, Americans predominating largely. The general surface is a table land, with an altitude of 4,500 feet above the sea, traversed with great uniformity by nearly parallel ranges of mountains rising from 1,000 to 8,000 feet higher. These ranges have for the most part a north and south direction, and are separated by valleys from five to twenty miles wide, the bases of the mountains having also about the same width. The mountains are frequently intersected by ravines, which form easy passes, and in some places are broken into confused and detached masses. The valleys sometimes extend more than 100 miles, uninterrupted, except by an occasional butte or projecting spur, and frequently, where the mountains disappear or contract, unite with other valleys, or expand into broad plains or basins, some of which are unobstructed, while others are dotted with buttes or covered with groups of rugged hills. The rivers of the State are small and not navigable, some of which disappear in "sinks" or sloughs. Others again find their way to the surface after "losing" themselves. This is occasioned by the porous soil that is found there. The vast productions of silver ore which her mines have yielded has resulted in the acquirement of the title of the "Silver State." The "Bonanza" mines have a reputation unequalled by those of any other in the world, though the carbonate deposits of Colorado promise a richer harvest of metals than the quartz mines of this very rich State. The stock raising interests of Nevada are a source of revenue that few States or countries can boast. The cattle raised for beef command a higher price in Eastern markets than those of any other "Far West" State or Territory, while the wool clipped from her many flocks of sheep is said to be inferior to none that ever passed the scrutiny of the argus-eyed inspector at the greatest factories in the world. Besides her deposits of silver, there have been discovered lodes of copper, iron and other metals of remarkable richness. The future of the State, while it is perhaps not so promising as it was during the excitement incident to the discovery of the precious ores in such large quantities, can not be considered otherwise than flattering. Her progress, we predict, will be steady and permanent, and ere the close of the present decade her population will show an increase not anticipated by her most sanguine citizens. Her schools are superior, her people enterprising and intelligent and her public institutions will compare favorably with those of States that have worn the "cape of time" so many years longer.

The total production of bullion in the State for the ten years ending with December, 1879, reached the fabulous sum of $350,000,000. The valleys are very rich for agricultural purposes, vegetables, grain, tobacco, hay and other products, as experiments show, yielding quite an income to those thus engaged. There are quite a number of industrial enterprises throughout the State, such as saw mills, breweries, flouring mills, wagon-makers and blacksmiths, sash and door factories, smelting works, etc., etc.

RAILROADS.

The requirements of rapid transportation have been fully satisfied by the construction of the four lines of railway which penetrate her boundaries. Of these

Austin,

LANDER COUNTY,

Is the county seat of Lander county, and the southern terminus of the Nevada Central Railroad, 95 miles from Battle Mountain, on the Central Pacific Railroad. The place was the outgrowth of the mining excitement incident to the discovery of rich quartz ledges in the Reese River District, dating its existence from 1863. A year following the first of the tide of immigration which poured ceaselessly for several months into this then remote quarter witnessed an incorporation of the place, and when its shoulders bore the age of three years it had assumed all the importance of a dignified commercial metropolis, boasting of a population of 6,000. Extensive mills for the reduction of ore and the separation of silver and other metals were soon erected, and the noises of the stamps, added to those of the din of traffic, soon resounded throughout the whole length and breadth of the canyon, and gave it an air of much moment. These monuments of enterprise and energy cost from $75,000 to $250,000, and the production of their combined capacity astonished the most confident. The construction of the Central Pacific Railroad, alas, was detrimental to its interests, in the detracting of her lucrative trade, and its prosperity was less marked until it finally ceased altogether, so far as signs of improvement were concerned, and it is now without that recognition due to places of the "sure and safe" order. It is a well-built place, containing such buildings that towns of greater pretensions cannot boast, among the most prominent of which are the Masonic, Odd Fellows and City halls, while the county buildings are commodious, substantial and attractive structures. Its schools are good, people intelligent and hospitable, and the religious denominations are all represented.

The place boasts of but one newspaper, the "Reese River Reveille," a daily, which contains telegraphic news from all

Carlin,

ELKO COUNTY,

Is a place of 400 inhabitants, situated on the Central Pacific R. R., 583 miles from San Francisco. Copper mining is a pursuit that promises to be one of its features of support, while stock raising is carried on to a certain extent. The principal support, however, is divided from the machine shops of the railroad company, this being the end of the Humboldt division. The copper ore mined in the vicinity is of excellent quality, and prospects for an unlimited quantity are quite encouraging. There are several places where general merchandise is vended, a drug store, two physicians, and a blacksmith shop.

mainly on the wood and lumber interests for its support, though the valley in which it is situated is rich in agricultural resources. The place is beautifully laid out, the streets being broad and nicely shaded with a uniform growth of maples and other trees and running at right angles. There are several large and well-constructed places of business, a fine bank with a large capital, several handsome church edifices and public schools, while many of the residences are very attractive. The principal places of attraction are the State Capitol, the penitentiary and the U S mint. The hotels are far above the average, especially the Ormsby House, kept by Messrs Sharp Bros., who are affable and polite gentlemen, under whose attention and care the guests of the hotel must receive the best treatment possible, to whom we commend a liberal share of patronage. Persons desirous of visiting Lake Tahoe, one of the most delightful summer resorts in the world, can avail themselves of the privilege by applying to J. M. Benton, Esq., who runs a line of stages between Carson and that interesting point, one of which that noted and careful driver, Hank Monk, has charge of. The city is on the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, 32 miles from Reno.

Elko,

ELKO COUNTY,

Is the county seat, situated on the C. P. Railroad, 606 miles from San Francisco, and has a population of 1,200. Its location is desirable, being on a natural esplanade, and as it is the distributing point of supplies for quite a section of mining country its permanency is assured. It is also the terminus of the Elko and Tuscarora stage line, besides being the site of the State University, a nice brick costing $15,000. The Court House is a fine structure and an attractive ornament. The Depot House, kept by James Clark, Esq, a very genial host, is the principal hotel of the place. There are two weekly newspapers, the "Post" and "Independent." Its altitude, 5,065 feet, is a warranty of its healthfulness.

Eureka,

EUREKA COUNTY,

Is the county seat and has a population of 7,000. It is one of the termini of the Eureka and Palisade Railroad, a narrow gauge 84 miles in length, which is owned by D. O. Mills, Esq. The country adjacent is rich in minerals, and several stamp mills give employment to quite a number of men. It is distant from San Francisco by rail 640 miles and has tel-

Reno,

WASHOE COUNTY.

This town is pleasantly located on the Central Pacific Railroad, 154 miles from Sacramento. It is connected with Carson City and Virginia by the Virginia and Truckee Railroad. It is the county seat. The place has twice been visited by disastrous conflagrations, which, both times, completely devastated the business portions of it, but such is the energy and enterprise of its citizens, that now it is built more substantially and beautifully than ever. Among the many new buildings there is a very neat theater, and a fine building used as a boarding school, which has accommodations for 120 pupils. It is under the control of the Sisters of Charity. Business of every kind is well represented. Its inhabitants are moral, industrious, and are determined to do all they can to make their town as good as any in the State. Its present population is about 3,000.

PURE PORT WINE, for Medicinal Purposes, 302 Davis St., S. F.

Virginia City,

STOREY COUNTY,

One of the mineral prodigies of the age, is a well-built city of 20,000 souls, 52 miles distant from Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad, and the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railway. It is, like all mining cities, very hilly, being built on the side of the majestic Sierras. At one time in its early history it was the scene of great activity, but of late years it has become a place of reliable and steady growth. The population is made up of a thrifty class of people, who represent all nations on the face of the globe. Its chief support is divided from the mining interests, and the dense clouds of smoke which are continually belched forth from the huge chimneys of the various mills and shafts which are seen in every direction, are the best and most suggestive means on which to base such a conclusion. The din arising from the active operation of the numberless stamps as they unceasingly crush the mountains of quartz is sometimes almost deafening, though the reflection that it is the source of wealth is compensation enough for the annoyances it occasions. The health of the city is splendid, though this is easily accounted for by the presence of pure and sparkling water and an atmosphere free from the taint of malaria and so light as to be a constant stimulant to the system. To this fact is attributable the rapid and early advancement of school children, who evince a mental power not shown in those of lower altitudes. The churches are all well attended, the places of business and pleasure are creditable, while the large sales of goods attest the fact that the city is the commercial emporium of the State. In Virginia City the stranger will find some of the handsomest women in the world, and it does not prove an exception to the rule in its possession of some of the homeliest men the "age ever saw." They are good, whole-souled fellows, however.

Winnemucca,

HUMBOLDT COUNTY,

Is situated on the Central Pacific Railroad 463 miles from San Francisco, and a place of considerable importance, having a population of about 1,500. It depends mainly on the stock-raising interests, though some mining is carried on and contributes to the support of the place. The fact that it is the county seat of Humboldt county, is an assurance that it will attract the bulk of the trade of the county. The Court House is a neat two-story brick and the officials in charge are efficient and polite. The bar is represented by an array of legal talent that the citizens feel pride in referring to. There is a daily (evening) paper published here.

See also, List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

BOUNDED on the north by Washington Territory, on the south by California, on the east by Idaho and on the west by the Pacific Ocean, across whose boundless waters are annually exported the multifarious products of her remarkably fertile soil. It is situated between the 42d and 46th parallels of north latitude and 116th and 124th meridians of west longitude, having an average length east and west of 300 miles and an average breadth of 260 miles, or an area of 95,274 square miles, or 60,355,360 acres, most of which are susceptible of high cultivation. The number of counties at present is only twenty-three, a subdivision that necessitates a sacrifice of convenience on the part of a great many resident taxpayers, yet this is rendered essential on account of her sphere of population, which is only placed at 150,000. When the fact is noted that her climate is genial, her sanitary condition excellent and her resources almost illimitable, the average "philosopher" finds a theme for his profound mind that baffles his comprehension and he must needs conclude that the people of foreign countries "are not dead but merely sleepeth." Her forests are supplied with an unlimited growth of timber, than which for all purposes none other in the world is superior, a fact that demands from "away down East" will attest; her mountains teem with the "glittering ore" and are possessed the year round with a luxuriant growth of nutritious grasses, and her valleys offer advantages to the horticulturist, the vinticulturist and the husbandman that deserve the attention of every one in search of land for profitable cultivation. Through the enterprise of the State Immigration Bureau, comprising intelligent, wide-awake men of keen discernment and practical minds, alive to the interests of the class for whom it was inaugurated, an immigration of industrious people has been turned to this Eldorado that must result in a rapid and permanent development ere the dawning future "wears the cap of age." In that quarter of the State which lies east of the Cascade range of mountains experiments in fruit and grain culture have flatteringly demonstrated that this is a land of plenty, while browsing herds of cattle, flocks of sheep and bands of horses, in excellent condition, attest with pleasing effect the richness of the soil and the healthfulness of the climate. Instances are known where the "fructifying hand of nature," assisted by the labor of man, has confirmed the opinion that a yield of 75 bushels of wheat to the acre is indeed a "stern reality," and too without thorough cultivation. The pursuit of stock-raising has never, we believe, been attended with any but satisfactory results, while mining, as yet, comparatively, in its infancy, has been successfully carried on. Large returns have been the reward of investments in that direction, and we but echo the views of those "who know whereof they speak" when we predict for the mining interests a prominent place amongst the commercial features of this great commonwealth. With information truthfully given, with reliable authority for the guidance of those who contemplate a removal to the Far West, with such measures adopted as will secure to the person who comes remuneration for his labor, what is there left but a crown of sparkling jewels for this fair maiden of the Pacific North-west? The products of the soil are carried to every nation on the globe, and the superiority of the flour made from the wheat of this section to that of all others in the Union is conceded in the leading markets. Her flour has given Oregon a fame that will last through all time, while her fruits are acknowledged to be inferior to none in the world. Indeed her geographical position, it has been gloriously proven, is particularly advantageous to her fruit-growing interests. Nowhere under the broad canopy of heaven can there be found fruit that will compare in quality with that of the Willamette valley, while in point of size there is no section of the world that has aspired to the attainment which this region can boast. Her people are all thrifty and prosperous, and evince a hospitality that comments most favorably on their generous natures. The scenic features of the "Webfoot State" are multifarious and varied in their nature. Some of the most sublime and awe-inspiring mountain scenery within the confines of the Republic is to be found along the shores of the Columbia river, a stream that is noted alike for its beauty and its possession of the finest fish in the world. It is from this classic stream that the best salmon find their way to all parts of the globe and "tickle the palates of the epicure." The canneries that line its shores afford employment to an army of men several months in the year and are a source of great revenue to the State. The water-power derived from the Willamette and Columbia and other streams is sufficient to drive the machinery of the world. This means of motive power invites the attention of manufacturers and offers special inducement to capital. A few years more and the hum of machinery throughout the length and breadth of this vast domain will be as familiar as nursery rhymes, and the music of thousands of spindles will be added to the harmonic sounds of rushing waters and the ring of metals. The future is bright, the promise is bountiful, and a realization of "great expectations" must be the happy, joyous resultant of Oregon's merits.

The system of public schools of the State is claimed to be superior and the interest taken in their welfare is truly in keeping with the enlightenment and broad intelligence of her people, who seem to be endowed with the belief that "knowledge is power" indeed. The State University at Eugene City is a handsome brick building and speaks volumes in praise of the citizens. The instructors are able and competent, and by their energy in exacting proficiency in the branches taught exhibit a degree of experience that reflects greatly to their credit. The Willamette University, at Salem, is among the leading institutions of learning, and in point of age takes front rank. Besides these two, there are colleges located at Corvallis, Philomath, Monmouth and McMinville.

RAILROADS AND OTHER LINES.

At present the number of miles of railway in operation in the State will not exceed 350, though there are plans afoot that, when carried to completion, will add largely to her railway system, which is as yet in its incipency. For some unaccountable reason foreign capital has not anxiously sought investment here, yet with an increase in settlements of the "Eastern country" the facilities for transportation must be augmented, and the "remedy of rapidity" can be found only in "lines of steel and the iron horse."

THE OREGON AND CALIFORNIA

Follows the banks of the Willamette River from East Portland to Eugene City, thence into the Umpqua Valley to Roseburg, a distance of 200 miles. This enterprise was inaugurated in the year 1869, in which 20 miles of the road was built, the remainder having been constructed three years afterwards. Since 1872 Roseburg has been the southern terminus, and it is thought it will continue to be for some time to come. It has been intimated that the Central Pacific was eager to obtain control of the line, but owing to some "hidden understanding" that gigantic corporation has been made to "grunt and sweat" under the decision of the magnats of the "little railroad." It is intimated also that the consideration which prevented the sale of the road was the purchase of the company's steamers which ply between San Francisco and Portland. The road was built by Benjamin Holliday with German capital, on which the interest could not be paid for some reason and it accordingly reverted to the bondholders, who now own and operate it, and from whose earnings the payment of dividends annually is made. The land granted by government to secure its construction was 1,500,000 acres—no other subsidy having been secured. The rolling stock is in excellent repair, the road bed is in good condition and its depots are comparatively good. The lands of the company are superior and are held at low rates and sold on reasonable terms. Every facility and every courtesy is shown the land hunter by the company, who have spared no pains and expended vast amounts of money to secure the permanent progress of the State, and to whom the credit of her importance is greatly due.

THE OREGON CENTRAL

Extends from Portland, on the west side of the Willamette River, to Corvallis, though the intention is to make Eugene City, 124 miles distant, the terminus.

Besides these lines, there is a narrow guage road running through Yamhill county for a distance of 30 miles, built by private capital for the convenience of citizens of that county alone

THE NORTH PACIFIC

Is now under course of construction, with a prospect of completion at an early day. The original survey locates this line's western terminus at Seattle, on Puget Sound, Washington Territory, though the citizens of Portland are strenuously working to the end that that city may secure the much coveted prize. It is the intention of the company to complete 100 miles of the road by Fall of the present year (1880), or from the Cascades, on the Columbia, to Wallula, and with this object in view they have employed a large force of men, who are actively engaged in the good work as we write.

THE OREGON RAILWAY AND NAVIGATION COMPANY

Was quite recently organized with a capital of $6,000,000, and which is the outgrowth really of a consolidation of the O. S. S. Co. and the O. S. N. Co., twopowerful and wealthy corporations, with the above-named lines of railway. This company now controls the bulk of the traffic of the State, and to it is greatly due the credit of extensive internal improvements. The steamers owned and run by it are thirty-four in number, some of which, especially the sea-going vessels, are elegantly appointed and well equipped, being built of iron and of perfect model, and noted for their fleetness. Those which ply on the Willamette and Columbia Rivers are very handsomely furnished and make excellent time. Every courtesy is shown to the patrons by the efficient and polite employes. To the traveler who visits the "Web-foot State," either on business or pleasure, we cordially suggest that his trip is incomplete unless the passage of her greatest rivers has been made.

THE P. C. S. CO.

This company is another "power in the land," though it seems contented with an equal division of the net proceeds of the business of the lines which monopolize the trade coming from sea navigation. It has but one steamer, the "State of California," plying between San Francisco and Portland, but she is inferior to none in points of safety, comfort and speed, being, indeed, the fleetest steamer on that route. Her best record from San Francisco to Portland, a distance of 700 miles, is 45 hours, or an average speed of 15 5-9 miles an hour, which is rarely beaten by the fastest steamers of the Atlantic board.

THE INDEPENDENT STEAMBOAT COMPANY

Has a line of nicely appointed steamers navigating the Willamette river, leaving Portland for the upper towns each morning at 6 o'clock. U B Scott, Esq, a pioneer steamboatman, is president, and Mr. Z. J. Hatch is secretary of the company, both polite and efficient officers. The Buchanan brothers also run steamers up the Yamhill river, making regular daily trips. Both are courteous gentlemen.

Albany,

LINN COUNTY.

Albany is the county seat and contains about 3,000 people. It is situated on the Willamette River and O. & C. R., 81 miles south of Portland, being situated in the center of a rich farming country, its resources mostly depend upon the country surrounding it. It has a number of flouring mills, saw-mills, planing mills, etc. C. C. Cherry, the proprietor of the Albany Iron Works, has an establishment equal to any in the State. Water power is furnished by water from the Santiam river by means of a canal 15 miles long. Albany has two hotels, the Revere House and St Charles—both good houses. Three weekly newspapers, the "Herald," "Register" and "Democrat." The principal religious denominations are represented; the town contains 7 churches. A new public school building is needed.

Ashland,

JACKSON COUNTY,

Is a very pretty little town of 600 inhabitants, on the line of the C. & O. Coast Overland State route, 315 miles south of Portland and 160 miles north of Redding. It is growing quite rapidly and substantially, and its facilities for manufacturing being of a superior nature its future cannot be regarded with any but favorable eyes. The valley in which it is situated is very rich agriculturally speaking, and the stock-raising interests are gradually developing. The scenery in the vicinity is picturesque and the hum of machinery in the sawmills, sash and door factory and woollen mill are sounds that give it an air of manufacturing importance and leave an impression of its permanency that is decidedly encouraging. The power derived from Ashland creek would be sufficient to drive the machinery of Birmingham. Its climatic features are most favorable and the sanitary condition of the place is superb. A weekly paper, the "tidings," is in every respect an excellent journal and indicates an able management and good support. This is the home of W C Myer, Esq., importer and breeder of the celebrated Percheron horses.

Astoria,

CLATSOP COUNTY,

Is the oldest town of English settlement on the Pacific Coast, having been used as a post by the Hudson Bay Fur Company as early as 1808. It has a population of 5,000 who are permanent residents, though during the fishing season it is greatly increased by the addition of persons who follow the pursuit of Izaak Walton. The place is situated 15 miles above the estuary of the Columbia, 100 miles below Portland, and is partly built on high, abrupt hills that surround it, though the greater portion of it has been constructed on piling above the water. The largest canneries on the Columbia are located here and give employment to quite a number of men during the season when salmon are "running." The town depends mainly on the fishing interests for its support, though a large number of vessels annually receive the bulk of their cargoes here. Considerable lumber is manufactured also in the vicinity. The Custom House and Postoffice, situated in the center of a pretty square, is a nice two-story stone building, from whose observatory the stars and stripes are constantly seen floating. There is a paper published here, the "astorian," a daily and weekly, published by D C Ireland, Esq., which ranks among the best journals of the State.

Baker City,

BAKER COUNTY,

Is the county seat and has a population of 900. Its location in the lovely Powder valley is very pretty and desirable as a place of residence. Considerable mining is carried on and the stock-raising interests are largely developed, the grazing lands contributing quite liberally to that end. It is reached from Portland by the O. S. N. Co's steamers and a stage line from The Dalles, 247 miles distant, and from Winnemucca by stage, distant 420 miles.

Is a place of no little importance, situated on the John Day river, in one of the best mining districts of the State, 295 miles from Portland reached by the O. S. N. Co.'s steamers and a stage line from The Dalles. The placer and quartz leads are rich in gold, and the products of which within the past twenty years have aggregated nearly $20,000,000. Stock-raising is extensively carried on and the development of the region seems to be of a permanent character. Good schools are an attractive feature, and the condition of the place from a sanitary standpoint is superb. It is the county seat and has good society.

Corvallis,

BENTON COUNTY.

Is a county seat, nicely situated on the west bank of the Willamette river, and is spoken of as one of the pleasantest towns in the "Webfoot State." The cessation temporarily of the construction of the O. & C. Railway has made it the terminus of that road, which was completed just a short time previous to our visit there. Its population is about 2,000. It is the seat of a college established by the M. E. Church, an academy for young ladies, and other schools. It contains several nice churches, all well attended, and a weekly newspaper, the "Gazette," published by W. S. Carter, Esq., a genial and kind-hearted gentleman, and a veteran of the craft, whose health, we are sorry to learn, is very poor. It is distant from Portland 55 miles by river, which is navigable for light draft steamers to this point. Yaquina and Alsen bays are located about 50 miles distant, and are favorite places of resort during the summer season, and the former is noted for its oysters. A railroad will soon connect Corvallis with these points.

POLK COUNTY,

Is a pleasantly situated town of 400 inhabitants, and is reached by daily stages via Salem, 15 miles distant. The soil surrounding the place is a rich loam, and remarkably productive. It is also reached by steamboats plying on the Willamette and stage from Independence 9 miles away.

The "Itemizer," whose helm is handled by that experienced commander of the craft known so well to members of the "art preservative," Mr. Geo. E. Good, is the only paper published here. Its circulation is such as to encourage the proprietor, and fill him with confidence of the earthly future.

East Portland,

MULTNOMAH COUNTY,

Is on the east bank of the Willamette river, directly opposite Portland, the metropolis of the Pacific Northwest, with which it is connected by steam ferry, and has a population of 1,000. It is the northern terminus of the Oregon and California Railroad, and is the site of the State asylum for the insane. The country immediately to the east of it is perfectly beautiful at nearly all seasons of the year, while the soil is of exhaustless fertility. Its public schools are very good, while its private residences and places of divine worship are neat and tastily built.

Forest Grove,

WASHINGTON COUNTY,

Is 27 miles from Portland, on the West Side R R, and has a population of 300, which for some reason does not increase very rapidly. It has a pleasant location and is backed by a very productive agricultural district, which brings it into prominent notice by its large shipments of cereals and other products. It is the site of the Pacific University and Tualitin Academy, classical and military institutions.

Jacksonville,

JACKSON COUNTY,

Is a pretty and prosperous town in the southern part of the State, 300 miles from Portland and 175 miles from Redding. It is delightfully situated on Jackson creek, a tributary of Rogue river, and is the chief commercial point. It is the county seat and has daily mails and communication with Roseburg and Redding by stages of the O. and C. Coast Stage Co. There are rich silver and gold mines in the immediate vicinity, both placer and quartz, and the valley in which it is built comprises some of the finest grazing and farming lands in the State. Its schools are of a high order, its society excellent and its residents congenial and hospitable. The population is about 800. There are two papers published here, the "Oregon Sentinel" and the "Democratic Times," both ably conducted under efficient managers. The climate is very fine and the scenery picturesque.

Oregon City,

CLACKAMAS COUNTY.

Oregon City is the county seat, and contains about 1,500 inhabitants. It is situated on the Willamette river and O. & C. R. R., 12 miles south of Portland. The falls of the Willamette at this point afford the best water power in the United States, being equaled only by that of the St. Anthony in Minnesota. Vessels can load here for San Francisco direct. Among the most important mills at this place is a large woolen mill, which gives employment to about 100 persons. It also contains a number of saw and flouring mills. All kinds of business is well represented.

METHODIST
Book Depository, 1041 Market Street,

Between 6th and 7th, SAN FRANCISCO.

It is the Pacific Coast Branch of the Methodist Book Concern of New York City, and represents its entire line of business on this Coast.

It has one of the most commodious and cheerful of stores, in the building erected for the accommodation of its growing business, at the centre of the city of the very near future.

104 Market Street, S. F.
Between 6th and 7th.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

of the Depository is always well stocked with the very best supplies of LIBRARY AND MUSIC BOOKS, CARDS, MAPS, REQUISITES, PERIODICALS, &c. These embrace not only the full line of the "METHODIST BOOK CONCERN," "PUBLISHING HOUSE OF THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH," and "NATIONAL TEMPERANCE PUBLICATION SOCIETY'S" issues, but also choice selections from all the very best Publishers of the country.

Attention of Pastors and Superintendents is especially invited to the variety and excellence of our large stock of Sunday School supplies.

THE BIBLE DEPARTMENT

embraces every variety of size and style, from vest-pocket Bibles (the smallest made in the world) to the splendid Folio and Pu pit editions—and at prices from fifty cents (and less) to as many dollars.

THE SUBSCRIPTION DEPARTMENT

offers fine inducements to enterprising Agents in any and every section of the country west of the Rocky Mountains.

TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT.

The Depository is "Headquarters" on the Coast of the "NATIONAL TEMPERANCE PUBLICATION SOCIETY," which was organized in 1856, for the special work of creating and circulating a sound temperance Literature.

It is constantly issuing tracts, pamphlets and bound volumes, presenting the temperance question in all its varied aspects, Scientific, Religious, Social, Financial, Legal, etc.

Temperance Workers and Societies should send for Catalogues, and should equip themselves from this arsenal of supplies.

The Publications of the "PUBLISHING HOUSE OF THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH," are in full line on our shelves.

STATIONERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Stationery Department is well supplied with plain and fancy Stationery, Gold Pens, Cross Stylographic Fountain Pen, etc., etc.

Our Books are sold at EASTERN CATALOGUE PRICES, and sent prepaid at those rates. Agency for the Pacific Coast of

"Stylograph," or Rapid Letter Copying Book, "Electrograph," and "Stylographic Fountain Pen."

It is our pleasure to have visitors call and examine our excellent stock of Theological, Temperance, Sunday School and Miscellaneous Literature and Stationery.

Correspondence from abroad invited. Catalogues supplied. Any books procured and forwarded, whether from the San Francisco or Eastern Market.

ELECTROGRAPH

FOR MULTIPLYING COPIES OF ANY WRITING OR DRAWING, etc., with great convenience and rapidity. Worked in two minutes, 100 copies in five minutes. Worked by a child. Lasts for years. Writing in several colors copied at once. Does the work of the Papygraph more expeditiously, easily, and perfectly. UTILITY OF THE ELECTROGRAPH.

Circulars, Price-Lists, Programmes, Reports, Stock Lists, Bills of Fare, Invitations, Sketches, Plans, Music, School Reports and Blanks, Sabbath School Songs, Pastors' Addresses, &c., &c., can be rapidly reproduced at slight cost, to any extent desired, from a single impression.

FACILITY OF THE PROCESS.

Any person writes or draws upon any kind of paper, and lays it on the Electrograph tablet. In one minute the tablet contains a transcription, and from it even a child can take exact duplicates at the rate of twenty per minute. Wash the tablet with a sponge and water, and it is again ready for use.

PRICE from $1.00 upwards. It is of immediate and immense value to every professional and every business man.

JOHN B. HILL, 1041 Market St., S. F., General Agent for the Pacific Coast.

"A. T. CROSS' STYLOGRAPH" FOUNTAIN PEN. 10,000 TO 15,000 WORDS WRITTEN WITHOUT REFILLING.

A. T. CROSS' PATENTS, October 6, 1868; April 10, 1877; May 1, 1877; June 12, 1877; January 29, 1878.

"I have written about 10,000 words with it without refilling."—Benjamin J. Lossing.
"For long continued writing, it is certainly a great convenience to take up one of these pens, and to be able to write page after page for a day at a time, without being obliged to lift the hand from the paper, or resort to the inkstand, or sharpen a pencil."—The "Scientific American."
"We write this paragraph with the most perfect pen that we have ever found. Never blots, does not ink the fingers, always ready for any kind of paper, will wear EQUAL TO ANY GOLD PEN, and is beautiful in form."—Editor of the "Pacific Methodist," San Francisco.
"It is a fountain pen of the latest and most approve plan, and is an absolute success. We have thoroughly tried a No. 5, and can rapidly and constantly write wrappers or copy MSS. all day long, with but one filling. With good ink and used according to directions it will, no doubt, last a life time, and is invaluable to those having much writing or copying to do."—Editor "New Age," (I. O. F.) San Francisco.

PRICES.

No. 1, $5.00. Nos. 2 & 3, $1.50. Nos. 4 & 5, $1.00. Nos. 6 & 7, $3.75. No. 8, $3.25.

Pens Sent by Registered Letter on Receipt of Price.

DESCRIPTION.

Nos. 1, 3, 5 and 7 are 6 inches long, and Nos. 2, 4, 6 and 8 are 4 1/2 inches long. Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6 are of vulcanized rubber, mounted with 18 carat gold. Nos. 3, 4, 7 and 8 are of vulcanized rubber, simply plain or chased. Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 are guaranteed Iridium points. This is the material with which gold pens are tipped, and is, practically, indestructible. Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 are of Iridium and Platinum alloy, and with fair usage should last for years.

Caution.—The proprietors have found it necessary to publish as follows: "Every Genuine Pen bears the name of the inventor, A. T. CROSS." This is the original pen whose merits have made the world-wide reputation. The name was not protected by law, and hence inferior imitations have been sold under the same name.

We now put "A. T. Cross' Stylographic" on all circulars, placards, &c., and the name of "A. T. Cross" on every pen, and shall prosecute any infringement of this title."

Roseburg,

DOUGLAS COUNTY,

Is the county seat and the present terminus of the O. & C. Railway, 200 miles distant from Portland and 275 miles north of Redding, and during our visit early in the winter of the present year showed evidences of a healthier commercial condition than that of any other town along the route.

The population is placed at 1,200, and being geographically the center of a rich agricultural and stock-raising region, bordered by a deposit of minerals that must prove a valuable auxiliary to her development, the future of the place must be encouraging to those closely identified with her interests. This is also the northern terminus of the C. & O. Coast Overland Mail Co, whose fine Concord coaches are run daily between Roseburg and Redding, California, conveying the U. S. mail, Wells, Fargo & Co's express, and passengers with quick dispatch. The scenery along the route is indeed sublime and grand beyond description, and the novelty of passing over Scott Mountain, whose altitude is 10,000 feet above the sea level, is one that is attended with feelings of ecstasy, especially in the summer season, when the towering peak of "Old Shasta," clad in eternal snow, glistens in the mellow sunlight.

The town is quite well built, containing several handsome buildings, both private and public. Its schools are good, its morals of a high standard, and its sanitary condition excellent.

Oregon—Salem.
ALPHABETICALLY.

Salem,

MARION COUNTY,

The capital of the State, is situated on the Willamette River and O. & C. R. R., 53 miles south of Portland. The town is well laid out and seems like some quiet village back in the States. It contains a number of fine buildings, both private and public, among the latter may be mentioned the Capitol, county Court House and Chemeketa Hotel. It supports a number of newspapers, a number of weeklies and two dailies, "The Statesman," a paper of twenty-five years standing, and "Daily Talk," a young and aspiring little sheet. It has a number of manufacturing enterprises, chief among them is that of B F Drake's, iron works and machine shops. It has two hotels, the Commercial and Chemeketa. The latter cost upwards of $100,000, and would be a building suitable for a place of four times the size of this. Salem contains about 4,500 people

The Dalles,

WASCO COUNTY,

Is a prosperous little city of 1,500 inhabitants, 100 miles above Portland, on the Columbia River, and is the county seat of Wasco county. It is one of the liveliest agricultural towns we have ever visited, and the prospect for its steady growth is indeed quite encouraging. All the religious denominations are represented and the churches are well attend-

Umatilla,

UMATILLA COUNTY.

A postoffice on the Columbia river, 225 miles from Portland. At an early day in its history it was the county seat, but with the establishment of Pendleton, 50 miles distant, and the withdrawal of trade and population consequent on the failure of the mines it soon diminished, and what was once an active bustling town, there remains an almost "deserted village." It is still a point, however, to which large consignments of freight are made.

USE THE Oregon Kidney Tea!

THE OREGON
CELEBRATED

Diuretic
KIDNEY TEA

Kind Nature's own remedy—her "last, best gift to man." A plant which grows in mountain fastness, seldom trodden by human foot.

There are thousands afflicted with diseases of the Kidneys or Urinary Organs who suffer in silence rather than to make known their troubles. Others seek relief by the use of various patent medicines, which, if they do not aggravate the disease, at least do not essence it. Even those who secure the advice of physicians often fail to get relief, owing to the very complicated and delicate nature of the organs affected. The OREGON KIDNEY TEA is a strictly vegetable production, and will not injure the smallest child, nor the most delicate woman; but will cure Pain in the Back and Kidneys, non-retention of Urine, Diabetes, Inflammation of the Bladder or Kidneys, Brick-Dust Deposit in Urine, Leucorrhoea, Painful or Suppressed Menstruation, and all complaints arising from a diseased or debilitated state of the Kidneys or Urinary Organs of either sex.

WASHINGTON.

(ALPHABETICALLY.)

See also, List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY, the most northwesterly of the United States, has an area of about 70,000 square miles, being about 350 long and 200 wide. Its surface is broken and diversified: the Cascade Range of mountains dividing the Territory into unequal parts differing in climate, soil and productions. The climate is remarkably uniform; the winters being moist and warm, the summers cool and dry. The thermometer rarely falls to zero in winter and as rarely reaches 90 degrees at mid-day in summer.

The soil is diversified, being deep, rich alluvial deposits in some sections and in others worthless in the extreme. Although the climatic distinctions between Eastern and Western Washington are quite marked, the productions of the two sections differ but little. Corn, melons, peaches and grapes thrive best in the eastern portion; while wheat, barley, hops and potatoes and all kinds of vegetables yield abundantly in all parts of the Territory. Hay is most profitably raised in the western part, and wheat in the eastern. Wheat often yields from 40 to 60 bushels per acre. Coal is at present the leading mineral production, although it is now mined only on Puget Sound; but no doubt there are fields of considerable extent in Western Washington, as the streams in some places cut through and exposes quite large seams. The extent of the coal field is about 15,000 square miles. The coal shipped from Seattle is a true bituminous, and has been proved by practical tests as well as by analysis, to be equal to the well-known Cumberland coal. The veins vary in thickness from 3½ to 21 feet; the aggregate thickness of the veins now opened is 121 feet. It is estimated that the daily production of coal during the summer of 1880 will be from 500 to 1000 tons. Limestone is found in several localities. Copper, lead and iron ores are known to exist in some localities, but as yet are undeveloped. Gold and silver are found among the Cascades on the Skadgit river but are not very extensively mined.

The vast acres of productive lands which are still vacant and still subject to homestead entry, promise to make farming one of the leading industries of the Territory. The immense plains furnish the best of grasses for grazing, and coal fields, almost inexhaustible, are awaiting development. Forests of great extent furnish lumber of the very best quality for ship-building or any purpose. The manufacturing industries are confined to lumber on the Sound and the salmon canneries on the Columbia. The leading industry of the Territory is the manufacture and shipment of lumber. About 15,000 square miles are heavily timbered. The timber consists of ash, dogwood, alder, oak, maple, cottonwood, hemlock, spruce, pine, cedar and yellow fir. The ten largest mills have a capacity of 50,000 to 200,000 feet per day and the amount produced annually is about 300,000,000 feet, valued at about $3,500,000. It is shipped mostly to San Francisco, South America and the Sandwich Islands. Maine is supplied with masts and "knees". Trees are not uncommon which measure 300 feet in height. The waters of the Territory swarm with fish, the principal varieties being salmon, cod, halibut, herring, and sturgeon; while lobsters, oysters and clams compose those of the shell varieties.

One of the chief industries of Oregon and Washington Territory is canning salmon on the Columbia. Canned salmon is sent to all parts of the world, but principally to England. At present there are about 20 canneries which, during the season, give employment to a large number of persons.

The value of the yearly products is about $3,000,000. The population of the Territory is about 60,000.

the near future promises to fulfill every wish in this direction. The pioneer line is

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

There is no more potent agency in extending civilization in these days than the railroad. Pushing its way through trackless forests and across uninhabited plains and through mountain passes, it awakens the hum of industry, makes labor fruitful, and transforms with strange and startling rapidity the character of the regions through which it runs. The war whoop of the Indians dies away in the distance as the whistle of the locomotive is heard, and the untenanted and untilled plains become "the abodes of habitable men." The influence of this transforming agency is especially evident in the great Northwest, and is nowhere more manifest than in the progress now making in the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Of the trans-continental routes which span the land from ocean to ocean—great arteries of the traffic and travel of nations—none traverse a country more diversified in character, both as to beauty and grandeur of its scenery and the wonderful variety of its material resources than this. The fertile prairies and pine regions of Minnesota, the vast plains of Dakota, already known for their marvelous fertility and the gigantic farming operations now carried on there, the unbounded mineral wealth of Montana, the treasures yet lying hidden in the mountain regions of Idaho, the extensive grazing and wheat producing lands of Washington and its magnificent forests of unrivaled timber, all combine to attract the attention of thousands who are looking to the West for a future home—and there is room for all; let him that heareth say come and whosoever will let him come. One who cannot choose from the varied climate and production offered along the line of this road, a spot that shall suit him for a permanent home, need not look for it anywhere on this broad continent. Starting from Lake Superior the road is already pushing its way into Montana, and is extending with no creeping pace from the shores of the Pacific to meet the line advancing from the East. The Pacific division of this road is now in operation from Kalama, on the Columbia river, to New Tacoma, on Puget Sound. This portion of the road, 105 miles in length, was completed and opened to traffic in the year 1873, since which time its business has been steadily increasing. Daily communication is afforded by this line between the Columbia river and the Sound.

The Pend D'Oreille Division, extending from the mouth of the Snake River, in Washington Territory, to Lake Pend D'Oreille, in Idaho, is now in course of construction and will be completed during the coming year (1880). A magnificent grant of land was made by Congress to aid in the construction of this road, and however opinion may differ respecting this disposition of the public domain, the wisdom of the policy of aiding in some manner a work of such magnitude and national importance cannot be questioned.

The lands now for sale by the Company in the Pacific Division embrace over two million acres, of which about two hundred thousand acres have been sold. These lands are generally heavily timbered, covered by that enormous growth of fir, cedar and spruce, which characterize the country lying west of the Cascade Range, yielding the finest material for the manufacture of lumber; but there is also much arable land; considerable tracts of great fertility are found, especially in the bottom lands of the rivers and streams. These lands are easily cleared, being covered with a growth of vine maple and elder, and when brought into cultivation are very productive. In the Pend d'Oreille Division, the Company have for sale nearly five million acres. This is chiefly a prairie country, remarkable for the salubrity of its climate and fertility of soil, which are now attracting a large immigration. The Cascade Branch, which will intersect the main line at some point on the Pend d'Oreille Division, and place Puget Sound in direct communication with the Eastern States, has been built for a distance of thirty miles in a southerly direction from Tacoma to the Puyallup coal fields. This coal region is one of the most interesting features of this country, and is destined to affect largely the business of the whole Pacific Coast.

OLYMPIA AND TENINO RAILROAD.

This is a narrow-gauge line, 16 miles in length, starting from Olympia, and connecting with the N. P. R. R. at Tenino. The intention of the owners of this road is to extend it down the Chehalis river, tapping the rich bottom lands of that region, and thus opening up a rich agricultural section, which at present has no direct communication with the Sound or the Columbia, and to also open up the rich coal fields of this district.

THE WALLA WALLA AND COLUMBIA RIVER RAILROAD

Is a short, narrow-gauge line, running from Wallula, on the Columbia river, to Walla Walla, a distance of 34 miles. Next to the portage at the Cascades, it takes second rank in age. It was built by Dr. Baker, a pioneer of that section, with private capital, who owned and operated it for a number of years, to his pecuniary advantage. The necessity of a change of management was made apparent by the demands of the populace and increase of trade, and, although loth to give it up, the doctor sold his sole interest to the O. N. & R. Co. early in the present year (1880), under whose control it has been brought to a degree of completeness that is highly satisfactory to all. The Company intend making it a "compromise" gauge, by which means its capacity will be largely increased.

The rivers and Puget Sound furnish ample means of communication. Puget Sound, "The Mediterranean of the Pacific," covers an area of 2,000 square miles, and has inlets in every direction. The waters are deep, and furnish safe anchorage from any storm.

Olympia,

THURSTON COUNTY,

Capital of the Territory, and county seat, is situated at the extreme southern point of Puget Sound; is the terminus of the Olympia & Tenino (narrow-gauge) R. R., which is 16 miles long, and connects with the N. P. R. R. at Tenino, and communication is had with all points on the Sound by means of steamers of the P. S. T. Co., which run daily. The U. S. Land Office, and the various offices connected with the Territory, are located here. There are three papers published here, the "Courier," "Transcript" and "Standard." Every leading religious denomination and all secret societies are represented. Oysters and clams are found in the Sound here in great abundance. The resource of this, as well as most towns at the present time on the Sound, is the lumbering interest.

Port of entry for the Sound, county seat, and contains about 550 inhabitants.
 Has a good harbor, contains a number of good hotels, and has two newspapers, the "Puget Sound Argus" and the "Democratic Press." It is well laid out, the business portion of the town being situated under and the residences being above on a high bluff, which gives the town a pleasing appearance from a distance. Communication is had by means of the P. S. S. N. Co., daily, with New Tacoma, Seattle and all way points, and twice each week (Mondays and Thursdays) via the same line, with Victoria, B. C.

The business men of this place are live, energetic men, and a healthy trade is carried on by them.

Seattle,

KING COUNTY,

A postoffice and the county seat. The largest town on Puget Sound, is situated on the east side of Elliott's Bay, about 30 miles from New Tacoma, the terminus of the N. P. R. R. The city is built on the hillside and from a distance looks quite picturesque. The manufacturing interests of Seattle are varied and extensive. There are several large foundries and machine shops which employ a large number of men; also soap works, sash and door factories, chair and furniture shops, and a large barrel factory has lately been started; there are several sawmills, etc. The educational facilities are superior to any other town in the Territory. It has several good public schools and the Territorial University is located here. At present it is under the auspices of A J Anderson, A. M. Pupils are instructed in all the higher English branches and also fitted for college. The commerce of Seattle is considerable, immense quantities of lumber and coal being shipped from here. The coal shipments being from 600 to 700 tons per day. Communication is had with all points on the Sound by means of several independent steamers, and with Port Townsend and New Tacoma by the P. S. S. Nav. Co, with Olympia by the P. S. T. Co.'s steamers. Seattle is the out-fitting place for the Skagit mines. Population about 3,300.

Waitsburgh,

WALLA WALLA COUNTY,

Is a pretty town of about 250 inhabitants, situated in the fertile Touchet Valley, 19 miles from Walla Walla. The number and prosperity of its business houses are indicative of its favorable location. With the country, Waitsburgh should grow apace.

Walla Walla,

WALLA WALLA COUNTY,

Is a prosperous, handsomely built and regularly laid out city of 4,500 inhabitants, beautifully situated in the picturesque valley from which it derives its name. The streets of this city are broad and run at right angles, and in the erection of so many elegant churches and private residences her citizens have shown a pride in their place that is truly commendable. It is the county seat and is the largest place, perhaps, in the Territory. Being the chief distributing point for all that section of country lying to the north, northeast and east her trade necessarily is very extensive. She is also the entrepot for all produce of the rich country which is tributary to it. The completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad will, no doubt, be a source of much greater convenience than the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railway afforded, for its capacity was somewhat limited. As the immigration of a good class of people still continues to pour into the Palouse and Pend D'Oreille regions, there is a safety in the prediction of a bright future for the city. The soil is so fertile that yields of 40 bushels of wheat per acre are quite common, while there are numerous instances every year where the production of that cereal has reached 75 bushels per acre. Hence the cultivation of large tracts of land must result in an extensive commerce. At some seasons all the steamers of the O. N. & R. R. Co. are tested to their utmost capacity and then do not carry more than half the grain harvested. As an evidence of this pretty but quite remote city being prosperous, we have but to refer to the fact that buildings cannot be procured "for love of money." Rents are exorbitant. The society of the place is excellent, the sanitary condition superior, and the state of morality of a very high standard. Her future as the commercial metropolis of that section is decidedly bright.

herds Twenty thousand head of horned cattle are stated to be now feeding in the extensive valleys of the Fraser, Thompson, Bonaparte and Nicomin rivers. These valleys are comparatively free from snow during the winter, and contain good feed throughout the year. Their peculiar adaptability for stock-raising has been indisputably established and demonstrated by the practical results obtained from several years' experiments. Sheep-raising has of late years been introduced into the colony, and is proving a source of great profit to those engaged in it. Good markets for stock and farm produce are always to be obtained in the mining districts, which are situated in ungenial and unproductive parts of the colony.

Nanaimo,

VANCOUVER DISTRICT,

Situated about 75 miles from Victoria, on the eastern shore of Vancouver Island, and is the shipping point for the extensive coal fields in that district. It is a thriving business town, of about 1,200 inhabitants, and the center for a much larger number of people if the mining population is taken into consideration. It has bi-weekly communication with Victoria by Spratt's commodious steamer, "Cariboo Fly." The Sitka steamers call here.

New Westminster.

NEW WESTMINSTER DISTRICT,

Incorporated city, favorably situated for trade, on the Fraser, just above the junction of the North Fork, 75 miles from Victoria, with which place it has steamer communication twice a week. This city from its favorable position on a river that is second to none in commercial importance on the coast (for it is the outlet of a great agricultural and mining country), bids fair in a few years to be a provincial center. The present population is 1,000.

Victoria,

VICTORIA DISTRICT,

Is the capital of the Province and seat of government, the headquarters of all Dominion and local institutions, public associations and private institutions in British Columbia. Victoria is a well located and beautifully situated city on the southeastern extremity of Vancouver Island, about 800 miles from San Francisco, with which it has communication by means of the P. M. Co.'s and P. S. S. Co.'s steamers several times each month, besides numerous sailing vessels. The harbor of Victoria is not the best but at Esquimalt, 3 miles from the city, is a very large and good harbor where the largest ships can discharge and take cargoes. There are many fine buildings here, both public and private. There are quite a number of manufacturing industries; namely, foundries and machine shops, match factory, etc. There are a number of hotels here, two daily newspapers—"The Standard" and "The Colonist." There are many good firms here, and business of all kinds is fair. Among the many projected enterprises are the railroad and dry-dock, which promise now to be completed at an early day. The discovery of gold on the Skagit river, for which this is the out-fitting point for those who go to the mines by way of the Fort Hope route, has given a fresh impetus to trade. The resources of this place are various. Situated as it is it becomes the distributing point for the Province, and the nucleus for foreign trade. It is backed by a rich farming and grazing country. Canning salmon, manufacturing lumber, mining coal and minerals all go toward making this city one of great importance. It contains about 6,000 people; it has good schools and churches, and is steadily growing in wealth and prosperity.

ARIZONA.

(ALPHABETICALLY.)

See also. List of Towns Received too Late for Regular Insertion.

Of all the Territories of the United States there are none perhaps that are exciting so much interest as Arizona. Although it has for many years been known that her mountains were teeming with minerals, very few had the courage to face the trials incident to a settlement there. Her remoteness from commercial centers and the expense attached to the transportation of articles of use were features that formed an obstacle that few cared to surmount. Since the advent of the Southern Pacific Railroad, however, a constant flow of the tide of immigration has been directed to this new Eldorado, and where nothing but a vast stretch of uninhabited country was presented in the immediate past, there are now springing up handsome towns and cities, alive with money-seeking classes. The railroad therefore is entitled to the credit of civilizing this dependency, and to its presence alone a development of her resources is attributable. The time is not far distant, we predict, when her claims to Statehood will be recognized, for she will be the possessor of a population which will entitle her to an admission to the Union. Her broad plains and lovely valleys of remarkable fertility will be brought to the highest state of cultivation; beautiful homes will spring up, and the erection of noble monuments of commerce will take place, and her capabilities will have been beautifully established. The climate of the Territory is equable, and her altitude is an assurance against diseases prevalent in malarial districts. Already experiments have proven that the production of cereals can be most profitably engaged in, while nutritious grasses of luxuriant growth on her grazing lands afford an argument incontrovertible as to the feasibility of stock-raising. There is in many quarters of the Territory an abundance of fine timber, and in the manufacture of lumber to supply the heavy demands for building purposes an army of men are given steady employment. The mines of the Territory are as yet undeveloped, though capital seeking investment is finding its way hither in unlimited amounts. Prospectors are swarming through the gulches and on the mountain sides, locating claims preparatory to the erection of mills for the reduction and separation of ores, and the announcement is made in every quarter of the country that immigrants are still making preparations to come. If a diversity of resources, such as Arizona is fast becoming noted for, can contribute to a rapid and permanent growth, then her near future will be crowned with that glory. Her destiny will place her in the front rank of the prosperous States of the Pacific Coast. Travellers and tourists of the highest authority have pronounced this to be one of the richest scenic sections of the globe. With the charms of nature spread out in so many ways to make Arizona attractive, there can be no doubt that in a short time this quarter of our happy nation will be populated by her representative citizens, under whose care and nurture it must become a great source of pride and revenue. At no distant day every section of Arizona, it is presumed, will be awakened by the clanking of engines and the bustle of traffic. This wilderness will have undergone a change as if by magic; its stillness will have been broken by the joyous sounds of the church bells ringing out upon the balmy air, and the musical sounds of the mechanic will keep "time" with the progress of civilization.

Phoenix,

MARICOPA COUNTY.

Phoenix, the county seat of Maricopa county, is located in north latitude 33 deg. 18 min. and longitude 112 deg, time two hours and twenty minutes slower than Washington. It is located two miles north of Salt river, in the center of the valley of the same name, and has been the seat of government since the formation of the county, Feb 4, 1871. The town site of Phoenix covers an area one mile long and one-half mile wide. It was surveyed in the latter part of 1870. The streets fronting on the plaza are 100 feet wide, the balance are 80. The streets run at right angles with the cardinal points of the compass. The blocks are 300 feet square. Owing to its close proximity to the best developed mining districts in the Territory, its location as a base of supplies is unequalled. Over 5,000,000 pounds of flour was manufactured here during the present season. The town is amply supplied with churches and educational facilities, a handsome new school house costing $15,000 has just been completed. The Masons, Odd Fellows, Red Men and Good Templars are organized, and have large lists of members.

Tucson,

PIMA COUNTY,

Is on the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, 978 miles from San Francisco. It is one of the oldest places in the Territory, has a population of 10,000, and is the county seat of Pima county. The place supports several extensive commercial establishments, whose trade reaches far into some of the Mexican provinces. Mining and stock-raising are the interests which support it, and the country that surrounds it is said to be capable of sustaining a much greater population than is at present found there.

tion by those who had great pecuniary interests at stake, and whose ambition was to place California far above the plane of mediocrity, in advance of the natural laws governing her standard, that rapid transportation was afforded only by "bands of steel and the iron horse," and to the end that these requirements might be fulfilled, plans for a railway system such as few other States possess, were inaugurated. How successfully the genius of those in whose minds the prodigious scheme originated, resulted, is shown in the presence of numerous lines of railroads penetrating every section of the State. The first of these, the vanguard as it were, was the

SACRAMENTO VALLEY RAILROAD.

Which was constructed from Sacramento to Folsom, a distance of 22½ miles, in the years 1855-56, at the enormous cost of $1,100,000. The investment, however, proved a profitable one, for its business was immense for several years afterwards. Prosperity of the section it permeates, finally sought other "pastures new" for its sustenance, and the earnings of the road gradually decreased, though we believe it is more than self-sustaining.

THE SACRAMENTO VALLEY AND PLACERVILLE

Is an extension of the first named, having been completed from Folsom to Shingle Springs, a distance of 26 miles, its present terminal point, in El Dorado county. The next in order of construction was the San Francisco and San Jose Railroad, which is now known as the

NORTHERN DIVISION OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Which runs from San Francisco to Soledad, a distance, with its branch from Gilroy to Tres Pinos, of 162 miles. This road is finely equipped and managed, and traverses one of the most picturesque of California's lovely sections. The country as it spreads out from the highway, clothed in its dress of verdure, and fringed by the Santa Cruz or Coast Range, with beautiful residences dotting the plains and breaking the monotony which their absence might offer, is delightfully charming. This is a source of great revenue to the owners, and an indispensable convenience to the residents of the famed Santa Clara Valley, whose remarkable yields of berries, fruits, vegetables and grain are transported by this line to the "City of the Bay." The next in the State's catalogue is the wonder of the age, whose construction was an achievement that "knowing ones" were assured would be utterly impossible. In thus referring to this gigantic enterprise, need we say that it is the

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILWAY?

They who furnished the brains and the money that brought about the permanent organization of the company that completed this line, have endeared themselves to the people of the coast who have its welfare at heart, and have had their names inscribed upon monuments that will crumble only with time. The generations of ages in the labyrinthian passages of the dark and very remote future will point to the success, to the energy and to the intrepid courage shown in the colossal undertaking which was entailed upon this enterprise of enterprises. The passage of heavy trains of cars at a rapid speed across the towering Sierras seems, even in this age of wonders, this age of broad enlightenment, refined culture and genius, to be a marvel whose creation might be traced only to a fertile mind "rich in fancy but poor in fact." We remove this "vapor of deception" in a trip across these mammoth upheavals and realize that the work is done. We rub the lamp of magic and the glories of LABOR stand revealed! The projectors were discouraged by the use of strong argument and the almost insurmountable obstacles were spoken of in exaggerated terms. But the matured intelligence of Theodore D. Judah, an accomplished and veteran engineer, strengthened by keen perception and sound judgment, was treated with high consideration, and his opinions concerning the feasibility of the enterprise inspired the "moving spirits" with implicit confidence. These "moving spirits" were Messrs Mark Hopkins, E. B. and Chas. Crocker, C. P. Huntington and ex-Governor Leland Stanford. To the indomitable energy of these gentlemen, the government in general and the people of the Pacific Coast in particular, owe the presence of the trans-continental line of railway. Who, then, with the germ of gratitude lying dormant in his breast, will not allow its development through the application of that fertilizer called deep appreciation. It is true they have acquired Croesus-like fortunes through their connection with the great route, yet who can truthfully or consistently deny that such a reward has not been particularly merited? The assurance that the Central Pacific is under efficient management is made "doubly sure" by the fact that men of such prominence in railroad circles as Messrs. E. H. Miller Jr., Secretary; E. W. Hopkins, Treasurer; W. H. Porter, Auditor; S. S. Montague, Chief Engineer; A. N. Towne, General Superintendent; J. A. Fillmore, Master of Transportation; E. C. Eellows, Assistant Superintendent; J. C. Stubbs, General Freight Agent and T. H. Goodman, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, are closely identified with its interests. It is a powerful and an indispensable corporation.

THE OREGON DIVISION OF THE CENTRAL PACIFIC

Traverses a rich agricultural section and has contributed largely to the development of Northern California. It reaches from Roseburg to Redding, a distance of 170 miles, and its completion to Roseburg, connecting at that point with the Oregon and California Railroad, will no doubt be witnessed ere the lapse of many years.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Connecting with the Central Pacific at Lathrop, runs almost through the entire length of the Southern portion of the State, and passes through some of the most picturesque country on the coast. Along the line of this great route there are 12,000,000 acres of excellent farming and grazing lands, which the company offer for sale at reasonable rates and on the most favorable terms. It is being rapidly pushed forward to its destination, the object being to open up all that section of country in Arizona and New Mexico that borders its route, and to secure an outlet to New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico for the multifarious products of Southern California to England and other European countries. The length of this line, which is leased to the Central Pacific, together with its branches, is about 1,000 miles, but when completed will probably be in the neighborhood of 2,000 miles.

THE SAN FRANCISCO AND NORTH PACIFIC

Has its initial point near Petaluma and is completed to Cloverdale, with a branch of 16 miles from Fulton to Guerneville. It permeates one of the richest districts in the State and the "big trees," hot springs and geysers are reached by this route. It was built with private capital and is still controlled by the projectors. It is splendidly equipped and is a valuable auxiliary in the promotion of travel and shipping interest.

CALIFORNIA PACIFIC AND NORTHERN RAILWAY.

The main line of this road has for its terminal points Benicia and Sacramento—the quickest and shortest route to the capital city from San Francisco. The travel by this line is immense and the country it passes through is perfectly enchanting,—agricultural in its nature. Its branches are those which run from Davisville Junction, eight miles from Sacramento, to Knight's Landing, in Yolo county, and from Vallejo to Calistoga, through the beautiful Napa valley.

NEVADA COUNTY NARROW-GAUGE.

The construction of this line was begun in February, 1875, and its completion to Nevada City, 23 miles distant from Colfax, followed on the 24th of May, 1876. It was built by local subscription and cost $590,000, $250,000 of which was cash and the balance was paid in bonds of the company, drawing eight per cent. interest semi-annually. Close connections with all trains on the Central Pacific Railroad and stage lines leading to Downieville, Camptonville, San Juan, etc., are made. The officers are: John C. Coleman, president; T. W. Sigourney, vice-president; Geo. Fletcher, secretary and auditor; F. G. Beatty, treasurer, and Jno. F. Kidder, general superintendent. The general offices are at Grass Valley.

NORTH PACIFIC COAST

Runs from Sausalito to Duncan's Mills, a distance of 74 miles. The country it passes through is very rich agriculturally and in grazing features.

SOUTH PACIFIC COAST

Is a narrow-gauge and but quite recently completed. Its length is 62 miles and its terminal points are San Francisco and Wrights. The country through which it passes is unsurpassed for scenery anywhere in the State.

SANTA CRUZ RAILROAD

Is a short line, 21 miles in length, having for its termini Pajaro and Santa Cruz, the "Long Branch" of the Pacific Coast.

VACA VALLEY AND CLEAR LAKE

Is a private line, owned and operated by parties in Vacaville. Its length is about 30 miles, and the region through which it passes is very fertile.

THE SONOMA VALLEY

Is a short single-rail railroad of the prismoidal order, the only one we believe in active operation in the United States, if not in the world. This line, when completed, will extend from Norfolk to Sonoma, a distance of ten miles. It has proved a paying experiment, having been built for the purpose of transferring freight and passengers to and from the steamboats which are run to San Francisco in connection.

SANTA CRUZ AND FULTON

STAGE LINES.

In the early history of the far West the stage coach was the source of great convenience to the residents, and its presence, indeed, was a necessity. Of course with the advent of the iron horse this "ancient mariner" has become almost a thing of the past. Yet the rattling of its wheels is still familiar in a few remote places of the coast, and it is still prized for its advantages.

THE C. AND O. COAST OVERLAND

THE CHIEF.

And most widely known of California's attractive features is the wonderful Yosemite valley, whose remarkable chasm, towering cliffs, clothed in eternal snow and ice, rugged peaks reaching far into the lovely sky, and its picturesque plane, bordered by meandering streams of sparkling water, form a picture that is eulogistic even of Nature's handiwork. By taking the Southern Pacific Railroad to Merced, the valley can be reached after a ride of 86 miles via Coulterville, or 91 miles by the way of Mariposa. The trip is made by taking one route and returning by the other. Either one will afford a view of those wonders of California's natural curiosities, the "Big Trees." No visitor to the Golden State should fail to see these mammoth "offshoots of Nature's virgin soil." The next in importance is the grove of trate upon the ground, from whose mammoth sides pieces of bark, 30 inches in thickness, and chips have been cut as souvenirs by tourists. It is 435 feet in length and 110 feet in circumference. By the annual lines, indicating its age, it shows that it had stood fully 3,000 years before Time conquered.

BIG TREES.

THE NEXT IN ORDER

Is the petrified forest, which is near Calistoga, Napa county. The trees were evidently brought to this condition by the action of volcanic influence. It is reached by the Napa Branch of the California Pacific Railroad. It is a freak of Nature that would excite the wonder of the geologist or the curiosity hunter.

LAKE TAHOE.

Noted for its great depth and altitude, as well as the want of buoyancy in its waters, which are as clear as crystal. It is a very pleasant summer resort, and is visited by thousands of persons annually. There have been several small villages built on its shores, clothed with forests of evergreens, where the best of accommodation can be obtained. There are quite a number of attractions in the immediate vicinity, besides those offered to the Nimrods or Izaak Waltons, who follow the trail for black tailed deer, or troll for trout. It is reached by stage from Truckee, on the Central Pacific Railroad, 12 miles distant.

BESIDES THOSE ENUMERATED.

There are many other places where the lover of Nature's beauties can find subject matter sufficient to keep him in employment at their study for many months, which he can hear of on application to any employee of the railroad companies.

The U. S. Fishery on the McCloud river, 17 miles from Redding, is the first point to attract the travelers attention. Accommodations for tourists wishing to visit this place can be had at Alliu's Station. Next in the route come various points of interest on the Sacramento river, notably Southern's, Bailey's, Soda Springs and Strawberry Valley, all of which have numerous attractions. Bailey's or Lowe's Soda Springs, is attractive for its five springs of soda water, good fishing and hunting, and for affording the best opportunities for views of Castle Rock, one of Nature's master-pieces. This magnificent scene, viewed at sunrise, leaves an impression that will always be remembered with pleasure, Upper Soda Springs, 5 miles from Bailey's and 69 miles from Redding, is the principal place of resort on the Sacramento river. Here the pleasure seeker finds not only the best of hunting and fishing, but he finds the Soda Springs House supplied with every comfort that a reasonable man should desire; an accommodating host, and at any and all times the free services of that genial old pioneer fisherman and hunter, "Uncle Dick," who is always ready to point out to the angler the favorite resorts of the wily trout, or pilot the ambitious Nimrod to the haunts of the noble buck. There is a clear, cold spring of delicious soda water at the very door of the house. Sisson's, at Strawberry Valley, 8 miles from Soda Springs and 77 miles from Redding, is the headquarters of parties wishing to visit the Upper McCloud or ascend Mount Shasta, which is 14,440 feet in altitude. This place is the only rival to Soda Springs, and the unprejudiced writer hesitates to give the palm to either. Sisson makes it his business to fit out camping parties, or parties wishing to ascend Mount Shasta, and furnishes guides, of which he is himself the most experienced and capable. Further northward, just on the Oregon line, the route crosses the beautiful Siskiyou Mountains, and at their foot on the northern side, at Major Bannon's, is a convenient stopping place for parties wishing to explore the Klamath Lake region, which abounds in objects of interest. This region is the paradise of the hunter and fisherman, Clevato Lake, Pyvenial Lake and the Lava Beds, the scene of the Modoc war, are located in this region.

From the Siskiyou Mountains to the terminus of the line at Roseburg, there are many objects of interest, and many good places for rest.

Anaheim,

LOS ANGELES COUNTY,

Is twenty-six miles southeast of Los Angeles, on the San Diego branch of the S. P. R. R., 13 miles north of Anaheim Landing. The town is situated in the center of a level plateau, 160 feet above the sea level. It is 13 miles from the Pacific Ocean, and on three sides is, more or less, enclosed by foot-hills four miles distant, and little mountains 10 miles distant.

To the eastward, 60 miles off, are the high mountains of the Sierra Madre, with snow-capped tops. To the westward is the ocean, with a fine sandy beach of 30 miles in extent. The surrounding county is very fertile, and is planted in fruit orchards, vineyards and orange groves. Owing to the great fertility of the soil, and extraordinary quick growth of trees and vegetation in Southern California, homes may be raised in a very short time whose beauty it would take scores of years to attain in less favored localities. The population of Anaheim is nearly 2,000; the society is good, and musical entertainments are frequent. Game is plentiful, from grizzly bears in the mountains, to quail and wild duck on the plains and creeks.

The temperature is very equable, and though the days are warm and sunny all the year round, they are never oppressively hot. The nights are bright and starry, and cool in mid-summer. Rain falls at intervals during the winter months, and almost invariably at night, the mornings being fresh and invigorating. It is the unanimous testimony, both of physicians and travelers who have visited Anaheim, that the climate is unsurpassed as a health resort for invalids, especially those suffering from disease of the chest. Numbers are the instances where persons who have come to this country under sentence of death from Eastern physicians, have returned home cured, or been so greatly benefited as to be able to enjoy life and pursue their avocations.

Most places in Southern California are healthy, but Anaheim has a climate and situation, with more of the desirable, and fewer of the undesirable qualities for invalids, than any other place in this part of the world.

Anaheim has Episcopal and Presbyterian churches, a Roman Catholic chapel and a fine school house. There are also a well edited weekly paper, the "Gazette," two hotels, the Planters' and the Anaheim, two banks, two breweries, and numerous stores and wine and spirit manufacturers; also a Sanitarium and invalid's home.

This Sanitarium is built of brick, commodious and well furnished, and offers to the invalid a home in a dry and sunny clime.

The proprietor is a graduate of the Queen's College, Ireland, and the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh.

Aptos,

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY,

Situated on Monterey Bay, eight miles from Santa Cruz, and 12 from Watsonville, convenient by rail to either place. Mr. Claus Spreckles, who owns a large estate at this place, has erected a magnificent hotel, adapted for the accommodation of summer travel. The location is a very desirable one, and as a resort is the most convenient and eligible on the coast. At present writing the place is being prepared for the reception of guests, and the influx promises to be a large one this season, which sets in about April. Many improvements are being made by the lessee, Mr. W. H. Stedman, formerly of Congress Springs, who, being thoroughly versed in the requirements of such a place, can be relied upon to bring out the resources of the establishment. The main building, containing 54 rooms, each and all large and elegantly furnished, stands on a rise of ground, overlooking the bay, and is fronted by a lawn and flower beds, and a stately fountain, towering 40 feet in height. An interesting spot, situated 100 yards distant from the house, across the creek, and approached by a rustic bridge, seems to have been designed especially for picnic parties, being furnished by nature with numerous live-oak trees, and improved with arbors, awnings and lounges. The dining hall, frequently converted into a ball room, is a feature of the place, and one in which the management take great pride. It is a large room, handsomely festooned and lighted, and its floor is second to none that we have ever stepped upon. Bath rooms, closets and parlors abound in the house, and an excellent quality of gas is manufactured on the premises for every room. Pretty cottages, for families, are tastefully grouped in the grounds. At a little distance across the lawn are the bar room, billiard hall, bowling alley and club rooms, furnished with all the modern appliances. The general external appearance of the place suggest warmth, ease and recreation.

Arcata,

HUMBOLDT COUNTY.

Eligibly situated for the lumber trade of Mad river and neighborhood, Arcata is quite a flourishing town. It has a population of about 800, boasts a free public reading room, a spicy newspaper—the "Leader"—and a commodious hall or theater. Distance from Eureka, eight miles by water and tramway, and twelve by overland stage. Located here is an admirable health institution, under the direction of Dr. H. W. Marsh. The establishment is furnished with the conveniences of a modern hotel, with the etceteras that commend themselves to invalids. The Doctor administers Turkish and Russian baths on the premises, and is ever present to give his assistance and advice to inmates. The Marsh House is beautifully situated, overlooking the bay.

Bodie,

MONO COUNTY.

Although the district in which this bustling mineral prodigy is situated has been known for some years to be one of the richest and most extensive mining sections in the world, it did not receive any impetus to an astonishing growth until the year 1877, when the town site was laid out, and when an influx of prospectors and capitalists swooped down upon it like a "wolf on the fold." Enterprises were speedily inaugurated to reach the deposits of valuable ore, and plans were rapidly matured, by which the law of "supply and demand," in traffic might be complied with. The erection of business houses of a permanent nature, private and public homes and manufactories, immediately followed at a remarkable pace, and the announcement was soon made that "the child was born." There is no parallel, except that offered in the city of Leadville, where cities of such importance have sprung into an existence that bids fair to last through many generations, and which she certainly enjoys. The streets are alive with a surging mass of human beings, and her population of 7,000 is the embodiment of indefatigable energy, enterprise and intelligence. The altitude is 9,000 feet above the level of the sea. There are several banks, employing an immense capital, four daily newspapers, well conducted and liberally supported, and a full complement of good hotels, all tested to their utmost capacity. A line of railroad, which is greatly needed for the transportation of vast amounts of bullion and freight, will soon connect Carson City, Nevada, with this city. The project is under advisement and is universally encouraged, and the lapse of a short time, we doubt not, will witness the entrance of a screeching locomotive and its train into this city of bright promise.

The town is pleasantly situated in a caanyon 1 mile from the beach and 34 miles north of San Luis Obispo; it contains a postoffice, telegraph and express office, and other business for which see list of names. The hotel, a three-story edifice conducted by Mr. John Smith, affords every comfort desired by the tourist or commercial traveler. The chief support is the dairy interest, bean, potatoe and barley crop. Several rich quicksilver mines are in the vicinity, but are not operated at present owing to the low price of metal. A wharf and warehouse accommodate schooners in winter, and passenger steamers in summer; principal landing at San Simeon. The population is estimated at 200.

Chico,

BUTTE COUNTY,

Is one of the prettiest places in the State, and has a population of nearly 4,000. It is the largest and wealthiest town in the county, and is dependant upon the agricultural, vinicultural and mining interests of the locality for its support. It is in a prosperous condition, and its outlook is emphatically bright.
It is on the line of the Oregon Division of the Central Pacific R. R., 95 miles above Sacramento. The climate is good and the society excellent. Its streets are broad and smooth, and are beautifully shaded with forest trees. The business houses are well and tastily built, while the private residences present a most attractive appearance. Religious denominations and secret orders are all represented, and are well attended.

Columbia,

TUOLUMNE COUNTY,

Is a very pretty mountain town of 700 inhabitants, 142 miles from San Francisco, reached via Stockton and Copperopolis Division of the Central Pacific Railroad and Messrs. Mattison & Co.'s stage line. Its scenic and sanitary features are manifold, and the number of tourists and invalids drawn hither through these mediums each year is very great. The altitude is 2,200 feet above the sea level; the atmosphere is pure, light and dry, and easy of inhalation; the water is excellent; and society splendid—foreshadowed in the refining influences of the elements found invariably in the presence of good schools and churches. Fruit-growing and mining are extensively engaged in. The place has been destroyed by conflagrations several times, yet it presents a handsome appearance.

California—Copperopolis.

ALPHABETICALLY.

Copperopolis,

CALAVERAS COUNTY,

Is situated in a rich mining district, whose productions are confined almost exclusively to copper ore, 126 miles from San Francisco, via Stockton and Copperopolis Division of the Central Pacific Railroad and the stage line of Messrs. Matteson & Co. from Milton, from which it is distant about 15 miles. The lack of demand for the mineral resulted in the exodus of its residents, until it became a "mere shadow" of its former self. At an early period it was a bustling town, and its future was full of bright promise. The population is placed at 125, and the town contains several places of commerce and manufacture. It has a daily mail and express.

California—Eureka.
ALPHABETICALLY.

Eureka,
HUMBOLDT COUNTY,

Is situated on Humboldt Bay, 230 miles north of San Francisco, and only second to that city as a seaport in California. Eureka has a population of about 4,000, chiefly dependent upon the timber and stock interests of the county for support. The city is one of the most extensively and tastefully laid-out on the coast. Many handsome business blocks and public buildings adorn her thoroughfares. The streets are rectangular and kept in good condition; while the facilities for numerous vessels "along the wharves" are quite adequate. Eureka is lighted with gas, and possesses many of the useful institutions of a metropolis; including churches, schools, a free library, two daily and three weekly newspapers ably conducted, and hotel accommodations that would do credit to many larger cities. The Vance House is a stately three-story building, with a towering observatory from which may be had an extensive view of the surrounding country. It is situated on the corner of Second and G streets. The hotel is run on strictly first-class principles. Its rooms are all elegantly furnished, supplied with running water and gas, and heated by steam,—a novel feature and a good one. The Bay Hotel and Finson House (temperance) on E street, and the Lick and Revere Houses on First street, are also comfortable hotels and receive a fair share of patronage. Communication is kept up all the year round between Eureka and San Francisco by the fast sailing, staunch and comfortable steamer "Humboldt," built for and specially adapted to this route. She is ably commanded by Captain Paton, and both steamship and master command the confidence of the public. The Humboldt County Bank has a capital of $200,000, with which it does an important business. Real estate in this county has been well nurtured by investors and is in a healthy condition; although there is some valuable city and country property for sale. Messrs. Watson and Randall, the real estate agents here, will cheerfully answer any communications on the subject by mail or otherwise. The advantages of her climate bring Humboldt county into prominence as an agricultural and dairying country. Never has drought interfered with the prospects of farmers here; in fact it is noticeable that when other parts of the State are suffering from extremely dry years, this favored locality yields larger crops than usual. St. Joseph's Institute and the Humboldt Seminary offer the best educational advantages to those who contemplate making Humboldt their home. The seminary was founded in 1873 and is in a flourishing condition. St. Joseph's Institute is under the superintendence of the Sisters of Mercy, who have had a life-long experience in the training of youth. Their primary object is to instill into the minds of young girls a noble and laudable emulation to form their hearts to virtue and to fit them to be future ornaments of society. The school was founded in 1871. It is situated in the centre of the city on an eminence which commands a full view of the bay and surrounding country. The place is remarkably healthy, and the grounds well laid out. Parents desiring the comforts of a home for delicate children, would do well to avail themselves of the superior advantages offered here, minute attention being rendered to any requiring care of weakly constitutions. The course of studies is the English language, but there is every facility for acquiring the knowledge of French and others. Lessons in vocal and instrumental music, drawing and painting in all its styles and branches, are taught by very competent members.

A library of carefully selected works, adapted to the age and capacity of the pupils, insures excellent reading matter for spare hours, thus rendering even relaxation conducive to mental culture. Plain and useful needlework are considered indispensable; but, at each one's selection, pupils may take lessons in all kinds of fancy work, including hair and wax flowers, and any other. The scholastic year is of two sessions: from the first of August to Christmas, and from the first of January to June, exclusive. The course of instruction, which embraces the elementary as well as the higher departments of education, comprises all the branches taught in the best academies for young ladies. The sawmills of Eureka are of an aggregate capacity of 280,000 feet of lumber daily, though not at present working to their utmost. Until recently the shipments of lumber from Humboldt have averaged 70,000,000 feet per year; but from various causes this important industry has diminished, only to resume its former standing when the state of society in California is more reassuring. In no part of the State is the suspension of building in San Francisco more keenly

Ferndale,

HUMBOLDT COUNTY,

Is twenty miles south of Eureka, situated in midst of the finest section of the county from an agricultural point of view. A line of steamers is being established via Port Kenyon, on the Eel river, which will take produce from this valley to San Francisco direct, adding materially to the value of agricultural and dairy interests. Ferndale ranks second to Eureka in importance in the county. Population 1,000. A very presentable weekly newspaper—"The Enterprise," is published here.

Folsom,

SACRAMENTO COUNTY,

A place of considerable importance at one time, but at present is striving hard to conquer that fate which promises to inaugurate a retrograde movement in her action. The country surrounding it, however, still recognizes it as the entrepot, and it may possibly assume its former activity before a great while. The branch penitentiary is under course of construction here, and, when completed, may be a factor of great advantage to its prosperity. Population about 1500. Distant from Sacramento 22 miles.

Grass Valley,

NEVADA COUNTY,

Is a pretty little city of 4,000 inhabitants, 16 miles from Colfax, the junction of the C. P. and N. C. N. G. Railways, on the latter road, whose general offices are located here. The valley in which it is situated is picturesque and quite productive of most excellent fruit, and the mountains at one time were the source of an abundant mineral supply. Several extensive mines were the outgrowth of this feature, though it is thought that the constant search for ores for a great many years has at last nearly exhausted their wealth. However, this industry no doubt can be carried on with some profit to those who engage in it. The place is supplied with churches and schools, the residences as a rule are neatly and tastily constructed, the business houses are well built and the streets run at right angles.

Healdsburg,

SONOMA COUNTY,

Is one of the substantial towns of California, has 2,500 inhabitants, a theater, all the churches, gas works, water works, hose company and chemical fire engine; an academy, public library, literary, secret and musical societies. It is an incorporated city, out of debt, governed by a board of five trustees. The famous Geyser, Skaggs' and Litton hot and mineral springs and Magnolia Farm are adjacent, and a most wonderfully productive farming, wine, stock and wool-growing region surrounds. The rich bottoms of Russian river and its tributaries extend in every direction, and the main track of the S. F. & N. P. R. R. passes close by. The mountains adjacent abound in minerals, and the Oakland, Great Eastern and Mount Jackson Quicksilver Mining Companies, in active operation with powerful machinery and hundreds of men, make Healdsburg their entrepot. There are two weekly newspapers, the "Flag" and "Enterprise," both well edited.

Ione,

AMADOR COUNTY,

Is one of the most pleasantly situated of the interior towns of California, and is located in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada. It is the terminus of the Amador branch of the C. P. R. R. and is the freight depot for supplies to Jackson, Sutter Creek, Amador City, Plymouth, Volcano, Drytown and all other places of importance in Amador and adjacent counties. The Forest Line of stages, Wm. Hamilton, proprietor, and J. Ragsdale, agent, run finely equipped coaches from Ione to Jackson and Mokelumne Hill and also to Sutter Creek, Amador City, Drytown and Plymouth over good roads and through picturesque scenery. The population is about 800; distance from Sacramento 54 miles; from San Francisco 151 miles.

Kelseyville,

LAKE COUNTY,

(Uncle Sam postoffice),

Is distant from Cloverdale 25 miles, and is reached via Cloverdale and Clear Lake Stage Line. It is beautifully located at the foot of Uncle Sam mountain, and is the central point of the county, seven miles from the county seat, Lakeport, and on the border of Clear Lake, distant 1½ miles. The population is about 250, and the resources are chiefly agricultural. Four churches are here, the M. E., the Presbyterian, a Campbellite and a Catholic.

There is a mound here from which issues a natural gas, a hole being dug a few feet in diameter, and one or two feet deep. Upon throwing in a piece of lighted paper, the gas at once ignites, and a beautiful blue flame appears, burns fiercely a short time, and then gradually dies out.

Little Lake,

MENDOCINO COUNTY,

(Postoffice, Willits)

Located 22 miles from Ukiah, is a town of modern growth, it having been laid out in 1878, and already numbers a population of about 300. Its principal street is graded and graveled, and the people possess vim and enterprise. The Mendocino Agricultural Association has its grounds near this place, and to the efforts of the citizens its inauguration is mainly due. The town is the center of trade for some 25 square miles, situated in Little Lake valley, which is about four miles in diameter.

Los Angeles,

LOS ANGELES COUNTY,

Is the metropolis of Southern California, and is noted alike for its magnificent climate, its extensive orange orchards and its delightful situation. Being the diverging and converging point of five lines of railway, it is made by the laws which govern trade the chief commercial center of the section, and with the increase in population which must follow the steady flow of immigration now directed to that quarter, her importance as an emporium of traffic must augment proportionately. At all seasons of the year the hills and valleys of the vicinity are covered with verdure, while flowers of rare beauty and fragrance blossom perpetually. The soil of the locality is very fertile, and yields abundantly. It is the county seat and contains about 13,000 people, many of whom are of Spanish birth and descent. The city is beautifully laid out, has some magnificent residences and charming yards, while the business portion of the place is quite substantially and tastily built. The drive to the Pacific Ocean, 17 miles distant, is an enjoyment any summer day that few, if any who have experienced it, do not remember with expressions of ecstasy. If cloudless skies, lovely landscapes, balmy atmosphere, laden with the sweetest fragrance from

Los Gatos,

SANTA CLARA COUNTY,

Situated in the foothills 10 miles from San Jose, on the line of the S. P. C. R. R. Population about 350. This picturesque little town enjoys the perfection of climate to such a degree, that the worthy physician of the place has been persuaded to accept the office of justice to help keep him employed. The industries of Los Gatos are quite important. They embrace a large flouring mill, lime kiln, stone quarry, and a blacksmith shop. Mr. G. Seanor's planing, grist and shingle mill and wagon factory combined, is quite an extensive establishment. The Coleman House, across the creek, offers good accommodations; meals 25 cents.

Takes its name from Madeline Plains, and is situated in a picturesque locality, midway between Honey Lake and Big Valley. The hotel and post-office are kept by Messrs. Marysville,

YUBA COUNTY,

Is a well-built city of 7,000 inhabitants, situated at the junction of the Yuba and Feather rivers and is also on the line of the Oregon Division of the Central Pacific R. R., 42 miles from Sacramento. It is surrounded by a very fertile and productive agricultural district from the cultivation of which it derives its principal support, though in its earlier history its dependence was wholly on the placer diggings. It is the county seat, has several beautiful business blocks, elegant churches and school houses. Its residents are enterprising and hospitable and show a pride in their little city that speaks well for their loyalty to its interests. The future prosperity of the place is regarded as certain; though the debris from the mines in Nevada county is constantly filling up the rivers, and unless Government or State aid is secured for its removal it may offer a serious obstacle to her growth. We hope that such means of escape from the distress of a failure to remove the barrier may be secured very soon.

Modesto,

STANISLAUS COUNTY,

Is a thriving agricultural town of 1,500 inhabitants. Its location in the San Joaquin valley, both as a place of residence and of business is most desirable, since it has been proven that the soil's capabilities of production are superior and the sanitary features most favorable. It is a well built place, regularly laid-out and the commercial emporium of the county. The Court House is a pretty building, and the square is made attractive by the presence of flowers and shrubbery. It is on the Southern Pacific Railroad, 18 miles from Lathrop.

Monterey,

MONTEREY COUNTY,

Is one of the most interesting towns because of its historical, scenic and climatic attractions, in the United States. It is reached via Southern Pacific and Monterey and Salinas Valley branch of the S. P. R. R. and the Pacific coast or Whitelaw steamers—137½ miles by the former and 85 miles by the later route. As we write there is under course of construction a very fine hotel for the accommodation of pleasure seekers, invalids and tourists, with a bright prospect of completion for occupancy the coming Summer. The grounds in which it is situated are acknowledged to be the finest in the United States. The building itself will be 367 feet long, 112 feet wide and five stories high, surmounted by an observatory 80 feet in height, and will cost $250,000. Its population is placed at 2,000 and is rapidly increasing. No visit to the State is complete with this place unseen.

Napa City,

NAPA COUNTY.

Situated on a river of the same name, 46 miles from San Francisco, reached by the California Pacific Railroad, in a beautiful valley where large quantities of fine wine are produced. It has at present a population of about 4,000 and is growing in importance; it is well adapted for manufactories, of which there are several, as the railroad runs through the town, and vessels ply continually between there and San Francisco. Stages to Sonoma, Knoxville and other places run daily. A branch of the State Insane Asylum, a handsome building, is in the neighborhood. It is the county seat and has excellent schools and society.

THE NAPA COUNTY REPORTER

MRS. GEO. W. GIFT, Proprietor.

PUBLISHED every FRIDAY AFTERNOON

At the City of Napa, County of Napa, California.

Publication Office, Main Street, opp. Napa Opera House.

The Oldest Established Paper in Napa Co., and has the Largest Circulation.

The NAPA COUNTY REPORTER has been a constant visitor to Napa firesides for twenty-four years, until it has gained the confidence and affection of the people. It goes into nearly every home in the county, and into many in Sonoma, Lake, Yolo and Solano. Whoever wishes the trade of the people should advertise in the REPORTER.

HAVE YOU A DAUGHTER TO EDUCATE ?

If so, send for a Catalogue of the

Napa Ladies' Seminary,

An Institution, which for twenty years has furnished to young ladies unsurpassed facilities for the acquirement of a complete English education, together with most thorough instruction in the several departments of Music, Art and Languages.

Attention is called to the following advantages offered by the Napa Ladies' Seminary.

- 1st. The thoroughly competent corps of instructors employed.
- 2d. The comprehensive course of study necessary to graduation.
- 3d. The unusual advantages offered in Music, Art and Languages.
- 4th. The HOME-LIKE surroundings and EXCELLENT TABLE BOARD of the Institution.
- 5th. The location of the School in a valley so famed for its healthful climate.

DEPARTMENTS OF STUDY.

LITERARY.—Preparatory embraces all the studies of the Common or Grammar School Course, with an introduction to the Languages, Music and fine Arts.

COLLEGIATE.—Literature, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Philosophy and Hygiene.

MUSICAL.—Organ, Piano, Violin, Voice Culture, Harmony, Composition and Class Drill.

FINE ART.—Pencil and Crayon Drawing, Painting in Water and Oil Colors, Sketching from Nature.

Our classification is adapted to all grades of pupils, from the Primary to the Post Graduate, and it is wholly practical and rational.

The School is now better prepared than ever for the great work of education. Although the best for all departments has been provided, the rates have been reduced. Liberal reduction made when two or more scholars are sent from the same family. Catalogues now ready, are mailed free to any address. Inquire in person or by letter of prominent citizens of Napa, or of past or present patrons, in regard to the standing of the Institution, the character of its instruction, its working or results.

BUTTE COUNTY,

Is 83 miles from Sacramento, on the Oregon Division of the Central Pacific Railroad. The town takes its name from A. D. Nelson, Esq, a prominent farmer who resides about one mile from the place. It is built on an old Spanish grant, which will soon be divided into small tracts and sold. The land is very fertile and nicely located. The town is in a thriving condition and promises to be one of the best on the road.

Nevada City.

NEVADA COUNTY,

Is the northern terminus of the Nevada County Narrow-Gauge Railroad, 22 miles from Colfax, on the Central Pacific Railway. It is the county seat, and has a population of 3,500. Its mines are the chief source of support, from which several hundred thousand dollars in ore are taken and crushed annually. The country surrounding the place is quite productive of fruits and grapes, while its scenic features are numerous. It is surrounded by high, abrupt hills, and in the Spring time, when they don their suit of green, it presents a romantic appearance. The Court House is a very pretty structure, costing $75,000. The High School building is quite an ornament, and cost $15,000. There is a bank, with a paid-up cash capital of $30,000. The residences are above the average of places of the same size, the streets are cleanly kept, and the places of trade are well built. There are several breweries, two foundries and several other places of manufacture. The people are hospitable, enterprising and intelligent, and the sanitary condition of the place is excellent.

Oakdale,

STANISLAUS COUNTY,

Is the terminus of the Stockton and Vialia branch of the C P. R. R., 34 miles southeast of Stockton and 15 miles from Modesto, the county seat. It is situated in a level valley and derives its name from a grove of oak trees in the immediate vicinity, where picnic parties often enjoy themselves on various days of festival anniversaries. The soil adjacent to the town is very productive, from which large yields of grain are annually harvested. It is the main point for the distribution of produce for Tuolumne and Calaveras counties. It has several places of business, and the community is made up of a very pleasant class of people, being intelligent and refined as a rule, and God-fearing in their natures.

Oakland,

ALAMEDA COUNTY.

As its name would indicate, this beautiful city of 40,000 inhabitants derived its appellation from a grove of live oaks that once occupied its site. With very few exceptions, if any, there are no prettier places in the State. Its streets are all very broad and smooth, well shaded and ornamented by some of the handsomest private residences we have ever seen. There is an air of comfort and "luxurious ease" in the roomy yards that impresses the visitor with the pleasantest assurances of an appreciation of life. There is an independence exhibited in her citizens that shows firmness of character, yet there is a courtesy of demeanor that is expressive of hospitality. There is an absence of want and poverty shown in her people of every class that speaks favorably of her progress and public spirit, elements essential to remarkable development. It is the county seat and her public buildings display a pride in her beauty that is decidedly commendable. There are many seminaries for young ladies as well as public schools and academies for the education of young gentlemen. The churches of the city are all handsome and costly edifices. It is distant from San Francisco, on San Francisco Bay, six miles, with which it has half-hour communication by elegant steam ferry boats.

PACIFIC PRESS, Oakland, Cal.

PACIFIC PRESS PUBLISHING HOUSE

12TH AND CASTRO STS., OAKLAND, CAL.

This large and flourishing institution is located in the beautiful city of Oakland, California, on the corner of Twelfth and Castro Streets, and contains over twelve thousand square feet of floor space. The Association owns 100 feet of land facing Twelfth-street, and 140 feet facing Castro street, and for business purposes has two large buildings—one fronting Castro street, built in the form of a Greek cross, the main portion 26x66, the transverse section, 26x44, two stories high, with basement and attic. The other building, fronting on Twelfth street, was erected during the summer of 1878, is 30x84 feet, two stories and an attic. The whole investment, including stock on hand, is about $90,000.

There are two papers published by this institution. The Signs of the Times, a twelve-page weekly, devoted to religion, the home-circle, and a condensed summary of the news of the day, both secular and religious. It has a circulation of nearly 10,000 copies, a good proportion of which goes east of the Rocky Mountains. The Pacific Press is a monthly, with a circulation of 5,000. Besides its own newspaper work, several papers are printed for others.

The facilities of this house for job, book and newspaper printing are unsurpassed. From sixty to seventy hands are employed, and six power presses are kept in constant operation. We have the best equipped Job Printing Office in Oakland and second to none in the State.

Early in the Spring of 1879 the increasing San Francisco trade rendered it necessary to open an office in that city. Rooms were accordingly taken at 126 Kearny street, Thurlow Block, under the management of Mr. J. W. Gardner, who can talk business to San Francisco in seven different languages. Mr.-Gardner is fully authorized to transact business for the Association, and work intrusted to him will be promptly attended to.

From the foregoing it will be seen that this office possesses the following advantages:—

1. We pay no rent. The PACIFIC PRESS PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION owns the buildings in which it operates, and the ground on which the buildings stand.
2. We own our source of water supply, and no corporation exacts a toll on one inch of the water used in any of the departments of the concern.
3. We manufacture our type, leads and rule, and supply these articles, of superior quality, to the trade.
4. We import our own paper. The stock used in our book, news, and job rooms, and bindery, is imported in large quantities by ourselves, thus saving the heavy commission, which houses buying small lots from jobbers are uniformly compelled to pay.
5. We do our own designing, engraving, electrotyping and stereotyping. And by this we mean that each of these departments is conducted under our own roof, and each is in charge of skilled and trustworthy artists.
6. We do our own book binding and paper ruling, besides ruling job lots to order for the trade, or for individuals requiring exceptional work.

In our Engraving Department we have recently secured the services of Mr. A. Kruger, a Swiss, who came to us highly recommended by the London Graphic, hence we feel assured that we can guarantee satisfaction to the most fastidious. Specimens of our engraving can be seen at either of our offices.

A specialty is made of music printing, which feature, musicians and publishers would do well to remember.

As to our ability to turn out first-class work at reasonable prices, we would respectfully refer to the leading business houses of San Francisco and Oakland for whom we have done work.

We give special attention to orders from the country, and our business in this line is rapidly increasing. Orders by Mail or Express for Job Printing, Book Binding, Engraving, or anything in our line, will receive prompt attention, and our prices will be just as low as though the orders were given in person.

MR. STEPHEN W. LEACH

Begs to inform the residents of Oakland and San Francisco that he has undertaken the entire and sole management of the

Morgan Conservatory of Music,

(Founded some three years since by the late John P. Morgan,) and hopes by the employment of the best Teachers, close attention to business, and strict personal supervision, to make it in all respects worthy of patronage.

MR. LEACH'S long experience as an Opera Singer and Actor will enable him to invest his Operatic Classes with special interest to the Student.

Attention is called to the

ENSEMBLE CLASSES,

Where Students of the Piano may enjoy the opportunity of playing once a week with the best Violin and Violoncello players.

Terms and all particulars can be obtained at the Conservatory, now removed to a more commodious and desirable building.

Testimonials from some of the Leading Oakland Merchants

As to the Advantages of Advertising in the TRIBUNE.

Having advertised in THE OAKLAND EVENING TRIBUNE for years, we find it THE BEST medium for advertising on this side of the bay.

WOODWARD & TAGGART,
Real Estate Agents and Auctioneers.

I believe in advertising, as I have proved by twenty-five years' business experience, and I find THE TRIBUNE the best medium in Oakland.

D. STUART,
Manufacturer and dealer in Boots and Shoes.

Advertising in THE TRIBUNE pays for itself several times over.

HARRIS BROS.,
Clothing Merchants.

THE TRIBUNE is always our choice for advertising.

J. GREENHOOD & BROS.,
Fancy and Dry Goods House.

We have advertised extensively in THE OAKLAND EVENING TRIBUNE, and do not hesitate in saying that it is the best advertising medium outside of San Francisco.

scenic features. It was, in the early days of California's history, a lively and very important mining camp, but with the failure of its rich placer diggings its population decreased very rapidly from thousands to hundreds. It is the terminus of the California Northern Railroad, 28 miles from Marysville. It is the county seat and depends almost entirely upon the interest of agriculture for its support.

Pescadero.

SAN MATEO COUNTY.

This pleasant agricultural town and summer resort is situated just south of Half Moon Bay, 38 miles from San Francisco, by coast line, and 38 miles from Santa Cruz. It is approached on either side by stages which connect with the several railroad systems at Santa Cruz, and with the S. P. R. R. at San Mateo. Through fare from Santa Cruz to San Francisco, via Pescadero and Half Moon Bay, $5. The delightful situation of Pescadero and its equable climate makes the place popular, and those who go there to spend a few days seldom go away again as soon as they originally intended. The Swanton House, suggestive of the finest Eastern resorts in its splendid accommodations, ranks with them in all particulars. The house stands in the center of the little town, and is surrounded by tastefully-arranged grounds and detached cottages, intended for the accommodation of families. The main building contains well-aired and lighted rooms, parlors, closets and every convenience that a consideration of the comfort of guests can suggest.

Petaluma,

SONOMA COUNTY,

Is situated on San Pablo Bay, distant 42 miles from San Francisco, and is reached by steamer and rail in two and one-half hours from there. The country round about makes this its market for all kinds of dairy produce, and it certainly can lay good claim as one of the chief entrepots for butter, cheese, poultry, eggs, etc. Having the advantage of location at the very head of navigation, and surrounded as it is with a country so rich in these products, it soon took the lead which it now holds, and is at this day one of the most flourishing of the inland towns of California. The city is excellently laid out, the streets are well graded, and its citizens have shown very good taste in the location of their residences. The drainage and sewerage are as nearly perfect as possible. The public school and church facilities are ample for the inhabitants, in fact, the city has long been a model in this respect. There are at present in operation two Mutual Beneficent Associations, well known throughout the entire coast. Its population is placed at 5,000, and is increasing steadily.
