CITY CAN'T FORCE VIADUCT ON RAILWAYS
Federal Legislation will be Necessary to Compel the Elevation of Tracks on Esplanade.

Should the city and the railways fail to come to an agreement on the question of the viaduct, the city will have no other course open than to seek federal legislation, the railway commission lacking the power to enforce any decision in the matter.

This, it is stated, is the manner in which the city's legal department will report on the question. While the railway commissioners are invested with the power to bring the parties at issue together, they can do no more, and, in the final analysis, it must rest with the government to determine whether or not the tracks are to be elevated, provided the city could pledge its support to the viaduct. The hostility of the railways to the plans is well known.

SHOULD ACT FOR HONOR DOES AWAY WITH GRAFT

Col. Davidson Comments on Aspirants for Civic Honors—Will Not Be a Candidate.

Lieut.-Col. J. I. Davidson, while interested in municipal affairs, is advising that more attention be paid to civic matters, will not be a candidate for the mayoralty for 1908.

Col. Davidson, whose name has been mentioned previous to municipal campaigns for several years past, as a prospective contestant, says that he has not the necessary time.

Col. Davidson, however, proffers some valuable information. "I am more than ever convinced of the utter absurdity of paying our mayor and aldermen a salary," he said yesterday.

"Thruout England and Scotland the position of a municipal representative is one of very great honor. The aspirant realizes that there is no financial yardstick by which honor or loyalty can be measured.

"We are getting a lot of rich men in Toronto and in other cities in Canada and there is no reason why some could not be found to fill these positions for the honor it should carry.

"In Toronto men may seek these positions for the money that is attached to them, and at the same time call it the honor. It is not the honor, but the money, that is the inducement. It is not the honor, but the money, that is the inducement.

"The aspirant realizes that there is no financial yardstick by which honor or loyalty can be measured. It is not the honor, but the money, that is the inducement.

Be Merciful.

Lord, when the path to Calvary
Sired steep thru mist of awful pains,
When rattle jars and sneering cry
Urged through the blood red sun and heat,
Thy dragging cross and piercing crown,
Spelled to the world a life's defeat,
And heaped Thy name with black renown,
Oh! Thou beheld in vision blurred
By sweating blood, a glorious day
When thru a city street were heard
Hosannas, and Thy kingly way
Was carpeted with flowers and palms,
And Thine approach was hailed with psalms.

Lord, if Thy tollable path was mocked,
By vision of triumphant days,
If Thy tortured memory shocked
The rabble's smiles and shouts of praise,
Look forward with a love that knows
Life's bitterness, when glad acclaim
Changes to malediction, and then grows
To cry of crucifying shame!
Be merciful, O Lord most high,
To those who wait too long to die.

Sir Conan Doyle Weds.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Miss Jean Leckie were married in St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, to-day. The ceremony was quiet and the name of pink chiffon the effect would be striking. The pattern is in 7 sizes—32 to 44 inches, bust measure. For 36 bust the waist requires 2-3/4 yards of material; 20 inches wide, 1-1/3 yards 36 inches wide or 1-3/8 yards 42 inches wide; 9 yards of braid to trim. The guimpe will need 1-3/4 yards of material 30 inches wide; or 2-3/4 yards 28 inches wide; 20-1/4 yards of edging to trim. Price of pattern, 10 cents.

Bride Three Hours.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Alfred Heller of this city has become a widow after three hours of married life. She was engaged to Mr. Adler for eight years, and on his being taken to Mt. Sinai Hospital she became his nurse. The wedding took place at 6:30 in the morning and Mr. Adler expired at 10 o'clock.

Woman's Opportunity.

In England, the present centre of the feminist movement, a very wide and useful field for public activity is afforded to women already. Constance Williams discusses this fact in one of the prominent papers, and her article is worth reprinting: "There is a solid, useful, unostentatious work for women to do upon both borough and county councils, and it is to be hoped that, with a due sense of the responsibility and importance of that work, the right women will come forward to place themselves at the service of the electors."

A woman elected to serve on a county council will find a wide field of usefulness open to her if she confines her attention only to such questions as education, employment of children, registration of midwives, regulation of employment agencies, protection of infant life, the care of female inmates and lunatics, shanties and drains. There is no necessity for her to interfere in the management of fire brigades, steamboats, trams or drains.

Under the Infant Life Protection Act county councils have important powers over what are practically baby farms. Every woman who takes in two or more infants under 5 years of age for pay must report herself to the council in order that they may see that the children are properly cared for. A person who "adopts" a child under 10 years of age for a lump sum must also be under the supervision of the council, who, if they think fit, in the interests of the child, can take it away.

Three women inspectors have been appointed for this work by the London County Council, and according to their last report 3571 visits were made and 117 infants came under observation. Here, surely, is work for the most "feminine" woman.

Seats for shop assistants may appear as a small subject, but how many young women and girls are affected by the administration of the act, which says there must be seats in the proportion of at least one to every three assistants? In the country this subject might well claim the attention of the woman member of a council, particularly where, as is often the case, it has not been thought necessary to appoint a woman inspector of shops.

The work of borough councils, that bear advertisements that county councils, is quite as useful and necessary, and it is to be hoped that women will offer themselves for election to these bodies. Many of these councils are now directing special attention to their powers under the Public Health Act. Elaborate advice as to the health of both mothers and children is drawn up, and the minutest details of their feeding and general health are considered. It can hardly be denied that this is a suitable subject for a woman's attention. "What is the medical officer of health for?" some caviller may ask, and the question is a fair one, for without that officer's professional knowledge little could be done. But after all this is a woman's question, and her help would be invaluable in the drawing up of some of the elaborate pamphlets and "cards"

2083—Ladies' Jumper Waist.
With a Separate Guimpe Having Three-Quarter Length Sleeves.
Paris Pattern No. 2083.
At Seams Allowed.
This dainty model of brown taffetas has a novel feature in the trimming band around the neck and kimono sleeves. The band is of strawberry pink overlaid with dull-gold galon in the Greek key design. Worn with a buff skirt and a guimpe of pink chiffon the effect would be striking. The pattern is in 7 sizes—32 to 44 inches, bust measure. For 36 bust the waist requires 2-3/4 yards of material; 20 inches wide, 1-1/3 yards 36 inches wide or 1-3/8 yards 42 inches wide; 9 yards of braid to trim. of advice" which are sometimes showered upon the mother as soon as her child comes into the world. Some borough councils are doing an excellent work by organizing pure milk depots for the supply of suitable milk for young children at a reasonable price. Among other matters over which they have control, and in which women might profitably take a share, may be mentioned the sanitary inspection of workshops and factories in which women and girls are employed, as well as of the homes where work is given out. The supply of food for necessitous school children (if necessary) and the housing of the working classes, are also subjects in which a woman's advice and help cannot but be welcome.

It is reported that in a provincial town where some workmen's dwellings had just been erected, it remained for a woman to point out that there were no cupboards, and that all the partitions opened into the kitchens and had no windows to the outer air!

It is not pretended that the above is a complete or comprehensive description of all the duties which might fall to the lot of a woman councillor, but it may serve to show the wide field of the requisite time and talents to enable them to undertake such work for the community.

In the Latest Shades.
Who has not sat of an autumn evening before the fire watching the hungry little flames lick and curl about the crackling log and pondered upon the myriad tones and undertones of color revealed in a single flash of light? Then, too, watching the waves come up on the brown beach at sunset, when the whole scene has the shadings of an overblown bubble, how one wonders why these things cannot be reproduced on the loom in stuff more durable if less delicate than a rainbow tulle? The artist answers: "You cannot get the texture, and color alone is powerless to give the effect." Well, art can go a long way, and some of our modern materials are no less than marvelous in their illustrative beauty. Talking to a man who makes a study of colors because they are part of his profession one got an outline of the why and wherefrom of certain brand new fashions. Certain ribbons in shaded effects running from the deepest flame color into a sort of wiches' green were used as illustrative of the very spirit of the new vogue. Of course we knew when "leather" shades (formerly nautical browns) came in that fashions were going to be somewhat daring and lurid in the future. Well, these ribbons are remarkably designed for the hats of the woman who has passed her first youth, which is more than can be said of the recent Dresden and Paris shades.

Vandervoort, Salon and Belmonte of 272 College-street carry the ribbons described, and indeed they make a specialty of sashes and hat ribbons in certain very exclusive modes. Tho it is to the exclusive trade that this stock appeals, prices are so reasonable as to satisfy the most economical. One exquisite thing in ribbon for evening wear was seen there. It was a paneled ribbon of heavy silk twisted with a crushed rose, in hand painted effect, shading from delicate flame to red.

Vandervoort's have also some beautiful New York hats just brought in by their buyer. Prominent among these are the popular leather colors and suede finishes. Large Asiatic bows still hold sway, tho now at the back, not at the front of the hat. Marabout feathers are seen in models from New York aimed to the excitement of the other styles. Specially charming are Vandervoort's violet shaded creations. N. two of these are alike, and they range in shape from the Gainsboro to the neat walking turban.

A visit to 272 College-street will not fail to satisfy any woman in search of striking and elegant millinery.

WOMEN SAVED LIVES.

Two Torontonians Figure in Rescue on Lake of Bays.

The heroic action of two Toronto ladies saved the lives of Mrs. S. N. Robson and her son at Lake of Bays, Muskoka, on Friday last. The two ladies were out boating when their boat sprung a leak and rapidly began to fill with water. Seeing that she could not keep the boat free, Mrs. Robson seized a plank and leaped into the water, hoping that the lightened boat would float the boy. Instead of this, it capsized and the youngster was thrown into the water, manning to clamber on to the bottom of the upturned boat. Mother and son were finally rescued by Mrs. G. S. Trent of Deer Park, and Miss Lillian Shields of 237 Beverley-street, who happened to notice their dangerous predicament.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION.

Looking to the frequency and gravity of railroad accidents in Canada, it is natural to ask why parliament does not make more adequate provision for the safety of the travelling public.

People who do not fall in with this idea are called "viaducters," which is supposed to be severe, and they are suspected by The Mail and Empire of favoring corporations at the expense of the people.

Political Intelligence

It means that a lack of personal and political morality does not count against the ability to win by hook or crook.

There was no opposition yesterday to the election of either Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, or Hon. William Pugsley, minister of public works, and they were declared elected by acclamation.

ROCKVILLE, Sept. 18.—(Special).—The Conservatives were as good as their word, and to-day's nominations for the Dominion by-election for Brockville went by acclamation. Little or no interest was displayed in the proceedings, the returning officer having for the mayor, in announcing his results, merely to read the following letters:

"As I caused it to be understood that I would be a candidate for this constituency to oppose the honorable member for Brockville, I beg to say that I was under a great deal of misapprehension, and I am glad to see that I am not a candidate for the office."

"I desire to heartily thank my friends, Conservative and Liberal, for their helpfulness and loyal support, and to say that I am pursuing the wisest course I am pursuing in this respect, and I remain, their most sincerely, and yours with every respect, (Signed) Edward Sears."

The Liberal newspapers throughout the country are inclined to hold that the failure of the Conservatives to contest St. John, N.B., and Brockville sufficiently answers the claim that R. L. Borden is setting the heathier example.

But after all it doesn't matter much whether Mr. Borden is "toured" or "not" in connection with his generous friends Zandry and Zandrie. Almost in the very presence of their leader the Conservatives have decided to offer no opposition to Hon. George P. Graham and the St. John tender are the first fruits of Mr. Borden's spell-binding. He is the right man for the job.

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.

Editor World: You quote the president of the Manufacturers' Association to the effect that the present money stringency is due to our excessive imports. The assumption, of course, is that we are "paying out of the country" to pay for these large purchases.

For instance, the United States is exporting at the rate of 400 millions annually to Canada. In 1906, the United States has rolled up a grand total of $781 millions of a "favorable balance."

And as these figures include gold and silver, money as yet come in to settle it. And they want to know in Washington, "why the United States is shipping gold to Europe in the face of the greatest trade balance in history."

On the contrary, Canada has reached the respectable sum of 271 millions of dollars in excess of imports in 1906. Why hasn't stringency overtaken us before? And why should stringency ever be felt in the United States with such an enormous balance drawn upon?

Unpaid Cheque.

But it is not clear enough that this "adverse balance" of ours is due to the fact that we are a borrowing nation? Our debt (1904) was 365 millions, and our balance in 1906, 271 millions. As we borrowed considerably before 1882, our "adverse balance" would probably match our debt approximately if the record of trading were at hand for the previous years. But these figures are sufficient.

Now, when we borrow, we borrow credit; with that credit we obtain goods, machinery, railways, etc. These are the things we want, not the money. No money ever comes into the country beyond the small sums in personal use. Nor is any money ever sent out. Exchanges between nations are goods for goods.

So says political economy. So says common sense. Eibert Hubbard says there has grown up around the humor, family an atmosphere of fear due to the machinery of the money market, doctors and lawyers. If the money stringency were in evidence at the time, he would have added bankers. And now the manufacturers want to secure us a Manufacturer.

John Kay Company supplied a quantity of chairs, carpets, cushions and other miscellaneous household articles for the late Mrs. W. D. Deane, who is asked through a writ of summons. The bill amounts to $453.21.

Ontario politics do not pass without comment in the provinces down by the sea. The Yarmouth, N.S., Times (Con.) thus reviews the recent meeting of the Ontario Reform Association:

A meeting of the Ontario Reform Association was held last week in Ottawa. It was a very interesting occasion to say that Sir Wilfrid had selected "the ablest man in sight" when he passed over all the Ontario Reformers and promoted Mr. Graham. Mr. Aylesworth would say that Sir Wilfrid did the same when he passed over the members elected under the old law and not amended by the consent of both reform parties.

SENDING MISSIONARIES TO INDIA AND TO CHINA. Nine new Workers Are Being Sent Out by Presbyterians This Fall.

The foreign missionary committee of the Presbyterian Church held an evening session yesterday. Rev. T. H. Russell gave an interesting story of the possibilities in regard to the industrial work which is being done in India.

Rev. W. A. Wilson gave an interesting account of the efforts being made in regard to the Hindus in British Columbia. Mr. Wilson says that although many of the Hindus are coolies, many of them are a third man, namely, belonging to the higher classes.

Rev. J. A. Sharrod, Rev. Alex. Dunn and Miss Anna M. Nisbet, all of whom are in the field, stated in his address that there was a splendid chance for a cold business standpoint, if from no other motive, of opening up foundries in India, as at present there are no industries there at all.

The Canadian executive of the layman missionary movement held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. M. J. Simpson, to discuss plans for fall work, especially as regards missionary dinners for men in the various Canadian cities.

Nine new missionaries are being sent out this fall to India and China. Some go to Macao, South China. These are Rev. J. A. Sharrod, Rev. Alex. Dunn and Miss Anna M. Nisbet.

Two go to North Formosa, the scene of the heroic service of the late Dr. George L. Mackay. These are Rev. J. A. Sharrod and Miss Anna M. Nisbet.

The party going to Central India sail Saturday morning from Montreal. A farewell dinner will be tendered them Friday night in Montreal. The other missionaries sail in October and November.

The Lemieux bill was the principal feature of the Trades Congress today, some of the delegates, particularly railway men, opposed it bitterly, but the general feeling seemed to be in its favor.

Solicitor O'Donoghue strongly defended it as in the best interests of labor. He presented his report and in reply the speaker reviewed the labor legislation of the year.

That congress is not thru with the principal question is shown by the fact that a resolution was presented by Pettipiece of Victoria this afternoon, calling upon the Dominion government to take steps to shut out the Haggards.

The question will come before congress to-morrow. A big banquet was held at the Royal Alexandra to-night.

IMPORTANT ARRESTS. Men Carried Nitro-glycerine, Were Armed to the Teeth. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 18.—Chief Mains and Officers Kelly and Greenwood of the Ontario police force, had an important arrest at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Three men, named William Pasquay, John Thomas and a third man, name unknown, were standing at the southwest corner of the depot. The chief drew his gun on Pasquay and threatened to shoot and he made him stop and arrested him. The unknown, who got a good start, made his escape.

The two men arrested held tickets for Hagsworth.

AGNES THOMAS IS NOT GUILTY

Woman Who Shot and Killed Philip Gilbert at Warton Wept Over Verdict.

WILKERTON, Sept. 18.—Agnes Thomas, who shot Philip Gilbert in the Warton riot, is free. The jury, after being out an hour, found her not guilty of manslaughter, and she took the first train to London.

Mrs. Thomas burst into tears when the verdict was announced. Chief Justice Mulock expressed the hope that the tragic nature of the incident would cause her to lead a better life.

John Lancaster, William Lancaster and Walter Lancaster, charged with unlawful assembly and rioting, were each sentenced to eight months in the common jail.

After hearing Chief Justice Mulock's charge the jury retired at 10.30. "It is commonly said," remarked his lordship, "that a man's house is his castle and that he may kill persons entering forcibly without his permission, but that is altogether too broad an interpretation of the law."

McKay, counsel for Mrs. Thomas, objected to his lordship's charge, holding that the law did justify Mrs. Thomas in shooting persons forcibly entering her home, even if she did not fear personal injury.

Warton Sends Deputation. The case as relating to the three Lancasters, who yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge of rioting, took another unexpected turn this morning, when a deputation from Warton, composed of Mayor McEwan, Rev. Mr. Smythe, Methodist minister; James W. Gage, a local farmer and foreman of the Dominion Fish Company, and several others waited on Chief Justice Mulock and asked that he be lenient in passing sentence on the prisoners.

His lordship promised consideration. Sentence Regarded Severe. WILKERTON, Sept. 18.—The sentence meted out to three Lancasters by the court this morning, after the rioting on the night when Philip Gilbert was shot, was regarded as very severe.

Working Girl's Woes. Says Employer Threatened to "Fix Her" for Daring to Leave. Charged with conspiring with W. J. Gage, Ben Pearce and W. J. Knapp, to prevent Maude McCann from following her vocation as an envelope maker, Louis P. Bouvier appeared in the police court yesterday, pleaded not guilty and was remanded for a week.

When leaving Bouvier, said Miss McCann, "I told him that I was going to W. J. Gage. He then said, 'I'll fix you.' I then went to Mr. Gage, and after being there one week I was discharged without a moment's notice."

Mr. Curry, for the complainant: "What did Mr. Bouvier say to you when you left, after telling him that you were going to Mr. Gage?" "He said he must put a stop to his girls going elsewhere. I told him that I could take the matter into my own hands, and he said, 'I'll fix you, because in these days the man with the most money always wins.'"

On the witness stand Pearce swore that there was no understanding between the envelope manufacturers that they would not take each other's girls and that they had no card system by which other employers are informed about girls who leave their places.

Steel-Coal Battle Sets a Record for Canadian Courts—Some Large Figures. HALIFAX, Sept. 18.—The lawyers made a great thing out of the Steel-Coal case, over $60,000 being paid out to them in fees alone.

It is estimated that the witness fees and other expenses amounted to over $2000 per day. F. W. Harbord, who was brought from England to give evidence for the Steel Company, received $250 a day, and his traveling expenses. It began on July 29, and has lasted sixteen days. During that time ninety witnesses, many of them experts secured at great cost, were examined.

THE SCIENTIFIC SPIRIT.

Prof. MacCallum Gives Inaugural Address to Medical Students on Opening of McGill University.

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—The opening of the session in three of the faculties of McGill University yesterday was marked by inaugural addresses to the students. Prof. MacCallum of Toronto University addressed the students of the medical faculty.

In opening, Dr. MacCallum extended a cordial greeting from the University of Toronto to McGill University. Toronto had felt deeply the double disaster which had befallen her sister in March and April last. He was pleased to find that the spirit of McGill was undimmed and that she now five years was required for a degree in medicine.

Having now crystallized what we mean by science, we may next discuss what is comprehended by the term scientific spirit. The man on the street would perhaps at once think that it is a mental make-up that concerns itself with matters of fact.

Problem is of transcendent interest. It will ever attempt the solution of the secret. Medicine, therefore, will inevitably gain enormously, for every time that we gain a new insight into the living matter is a contribution to rational medicine.

"The bearing of all this on the course of medical training designed to fit the student for the practice of medicine during the two coming generations is obvious. The student who studies at the end of the century of medicine in the future will not be much different from what it is now, will certainly be disillusioned. He should recognize that change is coming, and that he must do his best to orient himself with regard to it. Of course this change will not take place all at once, but it will be accomplished in the next 25 years, and will be a much more profound one than any which has yet taken place in the history of medicine."

"What the world would have been today without those theories one can but dimly fancy, but possibly we would still be in the dark ages. In reality every theory that aroused opposition or dissent was a factor in stimulating mankind to think and think as clearly as it was at the time of doing. It has often happened that the individual with a passion to theorize has broken a popular idol and the intellectual life of mankind has gained thereby. Galileo demonstrated the belief that the earth is the centre of the universe is extinct. Galvani, Volta and Faraday spun their explanations and as a result the sciences of electricity and magnetism, through which we may some day arrive at a determination of the ultimate constitution of matter. Darwin's views as to the origin of species are not now accepted in toto by biologists, but his fundamental view challenged to-day even by the most advanced of scientists. Can it be questioned that Darwin's theory, also rejected in part, has altered the intellectual outlook of mankind?"

"On the other hand we have always with us the individual who is ever trying to extol men of science when they discover something which may be utilized by the inventor, the manufacturer or the engineer, but who gives no heed to the long and often painful processes by which the result has been reached. Indeed the result is too often thought due to a happy stroke of luck. It is this absence of correct information and clear conception as to what science is and how it is established that is responsible in large measure for the loose thought and glibulity that are now so prevalent. What to the public as a whole are the marvelous results of science make a far cry from the hard and often painful process by which the result has been reached. Indeed the result is too often thought due to a happy stroke of luck. It is this absence of correct information and clear conception as to what science is and how it is established that is responsible in large measure for the loose thought and glibulity that are now so prevalent."

SHIELDS, Eng., Sept. 18.—The Cunard Line steamer Mauretania, the sister ship of the Lusitania, and the largest vessel ever built on the Tyne side, left her moorings in the River Tyne this morning and started on her preliminary sea trials, which will last three days. Immense local interest was manifested in the new liner's departure.

The keel plate of the steamer Mauretania is a feet wide and 3 3/4 inches thick and is flush outside with the bottom of the ship. Associated with this flat keel is a vertical keel 85 feet high and 1 inch thick and to this vertebrae are attached the frames and beams which make up the skeleton of the vessel. The double bottom is divided by a vertical keel, five feet high, and transverse frames into compartments in which water may be carried. The lower deck is 15 feet high. Below it are the lower orlop and orlop decks, and above are the main, upper, shelter, watertight, upper promenade and boat decks. In all, the Mauretania has 175 watertight compartments.

Each of the three anchors weigh 10 tons, while the 1800 feet of cable is composed of 22-inch links, the iron of which is 3 1/2 inches in diameter and the weight of each link about 1 1/2 cwt. The principal measurements of the Mauretania are: length 790 feet; breadth, 88 feet; depth (moulded), 60 feet; gross tonnage, 33,200 tons; displacement, 45,000 tons; load draught, 27 feet 8 inches; height of funnels, 155 feet; diameter of funnels, 24 feet; height of masts, 218 feet. The Mauretania is propelled by turbine engines of 70,000 indicated horse power, driving four shafts, each of which is fitted with one three-bladed propeller of manganese bronze, camshafts with the British Admiralty requirements as an armed cruiser and will be fitted for an armament of 12 8-inch guns.

Charles Vail, vice-president of the Trans-Continental Freight Company, Chicago, was in the city yesterday on a tour of inspection and renewing acquaintances among the various correspondents of his company in Canada. Mr. Vail is an Ontario County old hand and his visit to Canada is his first in 18 years. Mr. Vail makes his headquarters in San Francisco, and is looked upon as one of the brightest business men in the red-belt city. He passed thru the earthquake, his company losing $150,000, and sees in the future of San Francisco a brighter prospect than ever. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the $800,000,000 have been spent in buildings in San Francisco since the earthquake, and many millions more are being provided. Mr. Vail says that he never feels that he is altogether a foreigner in Canada, for in California there are 200,000 Canadians.

Gordon of Central Congregational Church, and formerly of Toronto, after returning from a trip to the Pacific coast, spoke to-night as follows: "The solution of the Japanese difficulty at Vancouver will be found in the breaking down of race prejudice and recognizing that God thinks as much of the Jap or the Chinese as of the greatest man in the province. "As sure as you and I are in this room the Japs are the coming men. With the Jap resists the entire solution of the Chinese problem. Potatoes and Whisky Galore—An Old-Time Booming Celebration—A Town With Multiplying Industries and Great Prospects

This takes its place as one of the ancient towns, cut out of the woods of Western Canada, and a little of the remote history of the peninsula, may entertain the reader.

When Champlain spent the winter of 1615-16 on the shore of Lake Huron, the peninsula was in possession of the Neutral Nation of Indians, so-called because they stood neutral in war between their cousins, the Georgian Bay Hurons, or as the French called them, the Iroquois of the western coast.

The last named were the first to come in contact with the whites on the Atlantic coast, and to become possessed of "iron with indwelling devils," to wit, matchlocks. With these in hand they first in 1648, slaughtered their ancient enemies, the Iroquois, du Nord, and the latter, turning upon the Neutral Nation, were the first to be exterminated.
