CLOSER TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES.

The establishment of closer trade relations between the British West Indies and the Dominion of Canada is the question of the hour with the people of the islands. The most numerous trade routes they obtain the more likely are they to emerge from their present depressed condition. Their condition is unquestionably Canada's opportunity. The eyes of the thoughtful Canadian at present are turned towards the West Indies as offering them a very valuable market for their products, and as being able to supply them with many of the necessities of life which they consume.

The Federalist of Jamaica goes forth on it not the principal reason why West Indian trade with Canada has not developed and they are pleased to note that the Hon. Mr. Fielding apparently agrees with their conclusion. It is the want of method and the lack of sustained effort in competition with the United States for the West India trade. This lack of effort has prevented Canada from securing to any considerable extent the import trade of these islands in duty and farm produce and in the products of the forest and fisheries.

The people of the West Indies are apparently of opinion from our lack of intelligent effort that for some unaccountable reason we prefer to purchase West Indian products, not from the growers but through the United States, paying therefor higher rates and consequently preventing all but the wealthiest from consuming them.

Jamaica exports on an average more than two million five hundred thousand dollars worth of bananas and about nine hundred thousand dollars of oranges. What proportion of those amounts is taken directly by Canada? The Canadian statistical year book for 1907 sets forth that the total value of bananas imported direct from the West Indies was $60,000, and other fruits some $72,000, whereas the United States supply us with over one million dollars worth of West Indian fruits.

The West Indies will naturally buy such goods and supplies as they need from their best customers and there is no reason why we should continue to swell American purchases when we can be buying direct to our advantage. It is not surprising to notice that negotiations have at last been completed between the British and Canadian Governments for the improvement of the ocean steamship service between Canada and the British West Indies. A modern steamer having been entered into between the two Governments and the well known firm of Pickford & Black for a fortnightly service instead of the irregular service at present operating.

It is understood that Canada and Great Britain each pay $60,000 a year to Messrs. Pickford & Black, who on their part will add two modern steamers to the route between St. John, Halifax and the West Indies.

It is now in order for the merchants and manufacturers of Canada to interest themselves in the trade which is likely to spring up between the West Indies and this country. Samples of everything that the Dominion produces in exchange for the Canadian products, through agencies and Canadian bureaus, be displayed at all principal points. Valuable fruit in many of the islands is a waste product possessing very little commercial value, but which can be converted into material for the interchange and form the nucleus of an extensive trade for Canada. The Federalist sees no reason why this waste should not be utilized and sent to the islands in exchange for our natural products. It is to be hoped the people of Canada will wake up to the possibilities of the trade between the West Indies and the Dominion. No two sections of the British Empire can interchange their products to more profitable advantage than the British West Indies and Canada. With the modern facilities now offered by the improved steamship service and the operation of the Mother Country these two favored sections of the great British Empire should at an early date realize how valuable they are to each other.

NOW FOR THE HOTEL.

The Sunlight Soap agreement having been adopted by the Council, the company has taken up its option on the Eastern property and we may expect to see building operations begun at an early date. Tenders are being asked for in connection with the St. Lawrence market improvements. These two projects are now certain, and they each merit the greatest of this city. Another project that ought to be undertaken at once is the extension of Victoria-street. The inception of this improvement will ensure the building of the new police hotel, which will be of incalculable benefit to the city. The present is an opportune moment for undertaking the work. The Pan-American Exhibition to be held in Buffalo in 1901 is being launched on a magnificent scale. The attendance at Buffalo ought to be equal to that at the World's Fair held in Chicago in 1893. The year 1901 ought to make a record in the history of Toronto. The overflow of visitors from Buffalo will make the season of 1901 a most profitable one for Toronto business men. But we ought to have our new hotel ready for occupation before the opening of the Exhibition. Public opinion is almost unanimously in favor of extending Victoria-street as asked for by the Council. The cost of opening up the street will be a bagatelle compared with the benefits the city will derive from having the hotel. Let the Council approve of the extension at once so that the hotel may be ready for the coming season. The full benefit of the great tourist traffic that will characterize the year 1901.

THIS FREE FERRY NOT WANTED.

The idea of establishing a free ferry from Yonge-street to the Island is the most ridiculous phase that the free ferry scheme has assumed. So ridiculous is the project that it looks very much as if it was introduced for the very purpose of killing the free ferry idea altogether. There has been no public demand for a free service from Yonge-street. The Mayor and aldermen have no warrant for establishing such a service. If people wish to enjoy a two-mile trip on the bay, they ought to pay for it. The establishment of this service is equally as objectionable as the failure to secure a chain ferry across the western channel. What the people want and what they have a right to expect is that they will be allowed to take advantage of all natural facilities for getting to and from the Island. Nature has brought the city and Island into juxtaposition at the Queen's wharf. The people should not be deprived of the right of using the facilities existing at this point. The route via the Queen's wharf is a virtually an overland route to the Island. Interested parties have prevented citizens from using this overland route. Every one must make a two-mile water trip when one of 300 feet is available. The people do not want a free service from Yonge-street, but they do object to the overland right of way to the Island being blocked.

THE ALL-WATER ROUTE.

According to the memorandum submitted to the Government by the Canadian Inland Transportation Company, we learn that of 17,550,127 bushels of wheat shipped from Port Arthur in 1897, 10,712,576 were exported via Buffalo and 2,007,535 via Montreal, the balance being for home consumption. In other words 84 per cent. of the Manitoba crop of 1897 was exported via Buffalo. In 1898 this percentage had risen to 88. It is shown that the cost of handling grain shipped via Buffalo to New York is about the same as the cost of exporting it via Montreal.

During the year 1898 the rates on wheat from Buffalo via Buffalo and Montreal, were as follows:

Buffalo to Buffalo, average rate... 1.90c. per bush.

Buffalo to Montreal, average rate... 1.75c. per bush.

Buffalo to New York, average rate... 1.75c. per bush.

Charges at New York, including weighing and tallying... 1.075c. per bush.

Port William to Prescott, average rate... 4.08c. per bush.

Prescott to Montreal, average rate... 1.75c. per bush.

Wheatgate to Montreal... 1.75c. per bush.

This is the condition that exists at the present time. It is expected that the completion of the canal improvements will give a decided advantage in favor of the Montreal route. The memorandum states that the following improvements will be necessary to the Canadian route in addition to the deepening of the canal:

The construction of vessels of the full capacity of the Welland Canal, capable of carrying 78,000 bushels of wheat on a 14-foot draught and 108,000 on an 18-foot draught.

The deepening of the approaches to the Welland Canal at Port Colborne to 18 feet, so that vessels can load to 15 feet.

The construction of small barges, with floating elevators, for use in the Welland Canal, so that vessels loaded to 15 feet can discharge, say 20,000 bushels, into the floating elevator and pass through the canal on 14-foot draught, taking on the extra cargo again at Port Colborne.

The effects of the suggested improvements at the Welland Canal are shown in the following comparison: The steamer "Bannockburn," made 17 eastward passages through the Welland Canal to Kingston in 1898, paying $7,515.32 in canal dues (including the westward passages) her capacity being limited to 65,000 bushels of wheat on a 14-foot draught. She was carrying 108,000 bushels of wheat on an 18-foot draught, and lightening into floating elevators, as outlined, would yield over $60,000 in canal dues on the same number of trips, as the carrying capacity of the 17 trips would be 731,000 bushels greater. Modern vessels, having proper terminal facilities, could make 22 similar round trips each year. Ten such vessels during the season would be capable of carrying over 24 million bushels of wheat, yielding in canal dues about $80,000.00.

The Canadian Inland Transportation Company does not believe that the lake and rail routes via Georgian Bay can handle traffic as cheaply as it can be handled by the all water route with 15-foot vessels, but there will be enough business for all routes. In addition to the

To Keep Cool

is the aim of the business man and the pleasure-seeker these oppressively hot days. Iced water is effective for a moment, but the reaction is worse, and, besides, it is dangerous to drink when heated. Here is the remedy. A teaspoonful of taken in a tumbler of water, makes a most refreshing and agreeable beverage. Besides quenching the thirst and cooling the blood, it tones the system, and its use keeps one in a state of perfect health.

To Grocers.

We have direct proof that peddlers of washing-powders say that the stuff they're selling is "made in the same factory" as Pearlina—and that buying from them will save going to, or ordering from, the grocery store. Do you want people "saved" that. You have these same washing-powders in stock. Possibly you are giving them out, whenever you can, in place of Pearlina. You are trying to push them into notice; they are trying to crowd you out. You think you are "making more money on them." But will it pay you, in the end?

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, he is dishonest—and it back.

grain traffic the all water route, with 15-foot vessels, will attract a large business in the carriage of iron ore from Lake Superior points to smelters in the east, or even to Great Britain.

In the face of the decided advantages which the memorandum attributes to the all water route, it is difficult to see why any fleet of vessels should be subsidized by the Government.

HUSBAND AND WIFE
FONDLY EMBRACED.

Up to now there has been no sign of a public demonstration.

Found Her Husband Aged.

Renness, July 1.—Madame Dreyfus issued from the prison in a state of collapse. She found her husband much aged, and her hair white, and her body shrunk and stooped. She said Dreyfus knew nothing of the events of the past two years. The woman with which she had been treated, the woman who was ordered to be present at the interview, carried out instructions and kept at a discreet distance.

Transferred Under Difficulties.

The Rfax had several plates and her bulwarks slightly damaged by the heavy landing of the Canadian soldiers, which when Captain Dreyfus was transferred, the sea being very rough. Commandant Coffinier landed at once this evening and held a half hour's conference with Admiral Berran. In the course of a conversation, he had with him late to-night by the representative of The Associated Press, the Admiral said:

"Until this afternoon I had no instructions respecting the Rfax, but now that Commander Coffinier has landed I am able to give you a few details."

Dreyfus in Good Health.

First of all, Dreyfus has been in the best of health during the voyage and has an excellent appetite. He has been given an excellent cabin, which was especially arranged for his convenience. This cabin has not been changed since he went and tomorrow newspaper men will be allowed on board to see him. Dreyfus was during the voyage white like the sun, the same as the attire of French officers in the colonial service.

Orders Were All Mysterious.

"The Rfax received its modified orders in a sealed letter on touching at Cape Vincent. These orders, which were unknown even to myself, were to proceed to Quiberon where the Rfax was to meet the Rfax, and left port the same evening. The Rfax, not being the anti-submarine vessel, was not to be on duty. A heavy sea was running, and the vessel's position was somewhat dangerous in view of the fact that she took on board no pilot, and that a thick mist prevailed during the greater part of the time."

The Rfax, as you know was landed, though not without some difficulty. The Rfax left again at 3 o'clock in the morning, avoiding the semaphores, as she desired not to be signalled until her arrival at Rennes.

There has been absolutely no sign of excitement anywhere. As an illustration of the mystery with which the Government has surrounded the movements of Dreyfus, The Associated Press is able to state that Admiral Berran this morning had a special train consisting of two first-class carriages, in a tunnel on the main line, ready for Dreyfus on the arrival of the Rfax, as the command was that time had not been officially notified of the arrival of Dreyfus at Rennes.

Dreyfus Was Stupefied.

Paris, July 2.—The papers publish the following concerning interviews between Capt. Dreyfus and his wife: When the prisoner saw his wife in a tunnel on the main line, ready for Dreyfus on the arrival of the Rfax, as the command was that time had not been officially notified of the arrival of Dreyfus at Rennes.

A Haggard Old Man.

London, July 1.—The Pall Mall Gazette's account of the landing of Dreyfus says: "He was almost entirely hidden by a hooded cloak, and as there was no light beyond a few lanterns, it was only possible to catch the barest glimpse of his unkempt grey beard and hair, and about three hours distant, outside of Brest. The landing of Dreyfus at Quiberon was a complete surprise to the admiral and other authorities here, who even now have not yet been officially notified of the fact.

A Surprise to All.

Brest, July 1.—The Rfax has just been disabled passing Sein Island about three hours distant, outside of Brest. The landing of Dreyfus at Quiberon was a complete surprise to the admiral and other authorities here, who even now have not yet been officially notified of the fact.

Disturbances at Marseilles.

Marseilles, July 2.—There were slight disturbances here to-day, growing out of discussions regarding the Dreyfus affair. The police made several arrests.

How Tens of Thousands Spent the National Holiday in the Queen City.

RECORD-BREAKER FOR BOATS, Grand Weather Induced Nearly the Whole Population to Turn Out and Enjoy the Day.

Peterboro, July 1.—Warrants are out for the arrest of the three Harvelock men, who are or have been railway employees, charging them with assault with intent. The men have not yet been arrested, for they found out that the officers were after them and kept out of the way. The assaulted persons, Mary Kellogg and her son, Walter Kellogg, are at present at an hotel on the main street. Mary is about 25 years of age, and the woman who was attacked is apparently about 40 or 50. She is suffering from a violent injury.
One ankle is badly sprained, and she must have received very great treatment.

The men who made the attack escaped, and the constables have not been able to apprehend them. Walter Kellogg states that he believed he had a fine day, and that yesterday, and that they went west. It is thought, however, that they have been arrested at Harvelock during the week.
Mrs. Kellogg was taken in charge by William Harvelock, who kept her at his house on Monday night. She was attended by Dr. Jeff, who found her badly bruised and otherwise injured. She was brought up to town on Tuesday. She is still unable to walk, and her arms and legs have had to be supported for her yesterday.

The affair is altogether a most disgraceful one, and it is to be hoped that the offenders will be brought to justice.

A PLAQUE OF BOTTLE-NOSES.

Strong Wind Blew a Lot of Whales
Up on the Shore and Old Sol is Doing His Work.

London, July 2.—Inhabitants of Thurso, in the far north of Scotland, are at present undergoing a most curious, if unpleasant, experience. The sea, during the night, strong wind, over a hundred bottle-nosed whales were stranded along the sands close to the town. To remove them, the local authorities, who are out of the power of the inhabitants, and the July sun, which is pouring its rays on the beach, are making the little town almost uninhabitable. The result of a convulsion of nature to clear the air of the pest, and to decrease the offensiveness of the odor, is a most curious sight. The whales, which are compelled to vacate their homes for the remainder of the summer.

Paris, July 1.—A telegram from Valenmarket women, who, following the example of the soldiers, were erected in the streets and the troops were called out and fired on the mob. The rioting was not obtainable owing to the Spanish censorship.

What the American Journal of Health Says Regarding the Toronto Fruit Vinegar Co.'s Goods.

It would be far better for people to pay more for what food they use than to suffer from the effects of what, as they should know themselves, cannot be first-class at the price they pay for it.
This great question of the purity of food does not receive anything like the attention it deserves. The American Journal of Health and other publications of the same class are forced to repeatedly agitate it in the public interest.

Two duties there are for us to perform in this most important matter. To sound the warning against that false idea of economy which urges people to place cheapness first in their selection of food, and to give the fullest measure of praise to those pure food producers, whose use is conducive to virtually results in a sound household.

In this article it is our purpose to quote an instance where such praise truly belongs. That of the Cressbrook Vinegar Co. of Canada. We have examined the labels of these products with the most reassuring results, and hence are anxious to call special attention to them.

With a view to settling the interests of our readers, we made a systematic investigation, obtaining samples of the goods from the stores, purchasing the same arranged in the laboratory, and in an early hour in the day was forced to close up. Capt. Wile of the Lakeside, and Capt. Towers of the Marine, who were congratulated by their patrons. The Macneil and Mojoka of Hamilton were carried over 2000 dolls to the Lakeside. Capt. Wile of the Lakeside said that they never came in contact before with a more orderly crowd, and that the result was a most successful one.
Mojoka was forced to make an extra trip at 8.15 p.m. to the city with the goods. The matter was of the above sort is to be congratulated and the number in which they catered to the public.

Men Lacking Strength.

There are many dishonest doctors. There are enlightened and old foggy doctors, but the one who is both enlightened and honest will tell you that lost strength can be regained by the proper and judicious use of the pure galvanic current of electricity.

Old Fogies Use Drugs.

Only dishonest and old foggy doctors use drugs for weaknesses of men, because those who are both conscientious and enlightened know that medicines only stimulate. I use electricity and cure 95 per cent. I have made a life's study of all weaknesses of men, young and old, which result from youthful indiscretions or later excesses. I say to you, as man and physician, that electricity is the only true and rational treatment for such. I am the inventor of the famous

TREASURE FROM KLONDIKE.

Three Steamers From Skagway Have Reached Seattle With Dust and Nuggets.

BIG STRIKES IN NEW DIGGINGS.

A German Who Robbed and Murdered a Miner Was Caught and Hanged to a Tree.

Seattle, Wn., July 1.—The steamers Beattie, Parrallon and Oriana have arrived from Skagway, bringing one third of a million in treasure. Seven steamers with a large amount of gold dust sailed from Dawson on June 14 bound for St. Michael.
The value of the gold dust has been estimated as high as $5,000,000. The largest clean-up on any steamship was $900,000 on No. 16 Eldorado; the second largest was $600,000 on Stanley's claims. Healy's claim took out half a million. No. 36 above on Bonanza cleaned up a half million.
Swiss claims on Eldorado turned out $200,000.

From the New Diggings.

On June 17th first miners reached Dawson from Cape Nome, confirming the news of big gold strikes in the new diggings.
They tell of gold being taken out running in value from $20 to $30. Four men on Evil Creek took out $220 in four days.
On Snow Creek $1500 was taken out in Government expenditure during the fiscal year closed yesterday exceeded the re-by exceptionally heavy receipts from customs and internal revenue sources, and a marked falling off in expenditures. The receipts for the 12 months of the fiscal year closed yesterday were $2,007,812; in-

Man Named Smith Wants to Connect the Channel Islands With the South Coast.

London, July 2.—The success of M. Mar-

Smith, who has proposed to the Postmaster-General a scheme to connect the Channel Islands with the south coast of England, telegraphically and telephonically, on the lines of the Marconi system. His plan for improving Marconi's is an arrangement of a better transmitter, a more sensitive receiver, and an instrument for fixing the sound of the waves so that they can be picked up only by one receiver, and are thus incapable of being intercepted. He also claims to be able to dispense entirely many American dollars. Not a liner has left this port with an empty berth for two rooms in other and less desirable
