Canada Gets Nine Out of Twelve Prizes In the Shropshire Sheep Competition Scoring Great Victory at Chicago Show

First Prizes All Go to the Province of Ontario—Many Canadians in Attendance.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Canadians were busy receiving congratulations at the International Exposition to-day. It was the first day of stock judging, in some cases, especially sheep and hogs, every prize winner from first to last, belonged to Canadian breeders. In the Shropshire sheep, there were two classes, one of twelve prize winners, nine were owned by Canadians, and the three lost at the bottom of the Mat, the first prizes entirely going to Ontario.

MISSING "EMERALD" SIGHTED.

Cobourg, Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Several volunteer searching parties under the supervision of William Pleva, are engaged in the search for wreckage from the schooner Emerald. The government tug St. Paul, which is wintering at Port Hope, is engaged in the search, and also McPherson brothers, gasoline launch.

Several saloons of this town and Port Hope have either telegraphed or telephoned to every port on the lake but without any satisfactory result. Mr. Pleva has found a stanchion and some cabin ware on the beach here, and expects to locate the missing boat to-day.

KIDNAPPED THE FRESHIES TO PREVENT THEM DURING

Only 100 Out of 250 of Columbia's Squad Succeed in Reaching the Table.

New York, Nov. 30.—In order to get against being kidnapped by the sophomores on their way to the annual class dinner tonight the freshmen of Columbia University were compelled to have a preliminary dinner on Saturday, was cleared away at 10 o'clock tonight, when it became known that the men had decided not to strike to-morrow.

The announcement was made known to a large number of business men and citizens who had gathered for the Council Chamber to hear the report of a delegation comprising Mayor Richardson, Rev. Father MacMahon, parish priest of St. Ignace, and Rev. Archbishop Smith, pastor of St. George's Anglican Church, Sydney, who had been asked by the men to address them at a mass meeting this evening, and to witness a report of their decision would be made. When the result of the meeting was made known to the waiting crowd a long and hearty cheer went up, which clearly demonstrated the feeling of the business men and citizens of the town on the matter.

The decision of the P.W.A. was rescinded at a largely attended meeting held at the hotel, in which many of the members of the organization were present. The idea of a strike being called immediately. One condition only was attached to the rescinding of the resolution, and that was that Mr. Plummer be held to his agreement to reduce the rate of rent on the company's houses, and the price of coal to the level of the market.

Today's notices were issued to the members in the different departments, and it was stated that the full quota of men were not present to-morrow morning they were to work to put in their time and return home.

NO STRIKE AT SYDNEY, C.B., MEN DECIDE TO STAY IN

Company to Reduce Rent of Houses and Price of Coal to Employees.

Sydney, N.S., Nov. 30.—The gloom which has rested over Sydney for the last few days, owing to the fact that a strike was imminent at the steel works over the refusal of the management to accept the $5,000,000 within the thirty days' limit which has caused the government much uneasiness. By reason of the financial difficulties which the company has encountered, the government's plans for the erection of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company to deposit the $5,000,000 within the thirty days' limit which has caused the government much uneasiness. Tells Followers to Deposit Every Cent in Zion Bank or Be Expelled.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—"Put every cent you have into Zion bank and I assure you it will be safe. Even if the bank should collapse, you will be able to get your money back. I should like to see you deposit every cent you have in Zion bank. I am not afraid of the financial condition of Zion. I do not know what fear is."

With this statement "Dr." John Alexander Dowie yesterday startled his hearers in Zion City. He made the most urgent appeal for funds ever known in the English language. He declared Zion was in a "light" place, but said he needed only $5000 to-day to "make things all right."

All that is needed is $5000. We have gathered in $100,000 and the rest must be made up to-morrow, and to-morrow we need a little more money, and I want every person who has not deposited in the Zion bank to do so. I am not afraid of the financial condition of Zion. I do not know what fear is."

The number of Zion who have put their money into Zion bank for safekeeping is a record, and we have no use for him continuing to stay here. He has got to get out. We can't have him here, for he is in the office in the administration building. I have a list of all persons in Zion who have made no deposit here. I will call their names and if they don't show up to-morrow they will be expelled from Zion. I do not know what fear is."

Love of King and Country Ruled St. Andrew's Dinner

Presence of Lord Minto, the Lieut.-Governor and Other Distinguished Guests.

The large dining room of the Queen's Hotel was last night a scene of brightness and color such as is rarely seen. The annual banquet of St. Andrew's Society served to fill the hall to its utmost extent, and the arrangement of the tables was such as to create the greatest conviviality and cordiality. The head table was covered with cut flowers and backed with a large Union Jack and a Royal Standard, while on the walls were ancient banners and pictures of famous Scotchmen. Chrysantheums were used for the greater portion of the decorations, and the appointments were perfect in every detail.

The rich coloring of the uniforms worn by the many military officers present added greatly to the liveliness of the evening, and a bright array of ladies occupying the balconies were the recipients of many toasts and good wishes. There was an intense note of patriotism and loyalty felt throughout the evening, and the evening was a grand success. The banquet was presided over by the Lieut.-Governor, who was accompanied by the Mayor of Toronto, Col. Otter, C.B., president of the St. Andrew's Society, and other distinguished guests.

DOES JOE USE THE COLONIES JUST FOR A PARTY MOVE?

Man Claims Loss of $480

Charles Winters wandered into the detective's office last night and told a tale of woe. He claimed that he had been held up and robbed of $480, his hard earned savings of many months.

Here is his story: He had been working for some time as a farm hand, for Robert Tyndale of Richmond Hill, last Monday he went to Whiteby on Tuesday he married the daughter of the G.T.P. section boss in that town. He remained there until yesterday, when he came to Toronto, arriving here at 3:15 p.m. He called upon Estlin to see a cousin of his and they started to walk to Richmond Hill to collect a balance of wages due him from Tyndale.

When he reached Hog's Hollow at 6:45, he saw two men approaching on bicycles. They rode a short distance past him, dismounted and caught up to him. One of them grabbed him, throwing him down, and the other held a revolver to his head and threatened to kill him if he did not give up the money. He was given ten cents for car fare, and directed to the detective office, where he told his story.

I should like to see you deposit every cent you have in Zion bank. I am not afraid of the financial condition of Zion. I do not know what fear is."

With this statement "Dr." John Alexander Dowie yesterday startled his hearers in Zion City. He made the most urgent appeal for funds ever known in the English language. He declared Zion was in a "light" place, but said he needed only $5000 to-day to "make things all right."

All that is needed is $5000. We have gathered in $100,000 and the rest must be made up to-morrow, and to-morrow we need a little more money, and I want every person who has not deposited in the Zion bank to do so. I am not afraid of the financial condition of Zion. I do not know what fear is."

POLITICAL INGRAITUDE

George Elliott Casey, Ex-M.P. for West Elgin, is lying at the point of death in an Ottawa hospital.

Mr. Casey carried West Elgin for the Liberal party in 1872, when he was only 22 years of age. He was re-elected in 1874, 1878, 1882, 1887, 1891 and 1896.

He would have carried the constituency again in 1900 had not a strong element of the local Liberals decided that he was old enough to be kicked out.

Mr. Casey insisted upon taking the field against the choice of the Liberal convention, and the result was the election of Mr. Jabel Robinson, an independent candidate.

It is almost incredible, but it is true, that the Laurier government was not above penalizing his worn-out old war horse, in the face of local Liberal bosses, he was determined to fight still another battle in behalf of his party.

Mr. Casey had spent thousands of dollars in fighting the battles of the Liberal party in Ontario. He had, in fact, exhausted a small fortune. He was virtually dependent upon the party which he had served for 28 years in the Dominion parliament.

But the party debt to the obligation. The rich and the strong of the party advanced sometimes with scant justification either in personal merit or party service to offices of emolument under the crown.

For three long years following the election of 1900, George Elliott Casey looked on while men who had done little or nothing for the Liberal party in the days of its adversity were appointed to the Senate, the judiciary and other lucrative positions.

But Mr. Casey's name was not recognized. He would have been content with an office that yielded him a bare livelihood, but even this paltry consideration the government refused to grant him. He was being disciplined.

His experience was to serve as an example to other men who might sit to cross the party bosses.

Only a few days ago Mr. Casey was made a clerk in the library of parliament. The appointment came too late.

George Elliott Casey, however, grey and bent of body, was carried to the hospital almost at the identical moment when the Laurier government graciously permitted him to take up the duties of a clerk in the parliamentary library.

Mr. Casey leaveth the aid of the government which should have been proud to befriend him. Now it looks as if he can go the rest of his journey without touching the crumbs that the eleventh hour charity of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has thrown his way.

WAKE UP, SIR WILLIAM. The rural mail delivery service in the United States is steadily expanding.

Only a few years ago the system was somewhat grudgingly accorded a trial in the State of West Virginia.

Success crowned these early efforts to establish a service, and now the most progressive states are clamoring for it.

So strong is the feeling in favor of rural mail delivery in the Northwestern States The Minneapolis Tribune has established a department devoted to the cause.

In the States there are now nearly 700 rural mail carriers. There are a thousand carriers or more serving about a million people in these States.

The Minneapolis Tribune has opened its columns to both the carriers and their patrons, or to anyone who has a suggestion which will improve the rural mail service and make it more effective.

Canada is not showing her usual enterprise in taking up the question of rural mail delivery.

Sir William Mulock has in many respects been a progressive administrator of the Postoffice Department, but prayerful meditation is as far as he has gone towards conferring this great boon on the farmers of Canada.

CANADA NEEDS THEM. Within the past few years land crazy. This lust for new territory had its inception in the Spanish war.

It has grown steadily and now public opinion in the United States is ready to concur in any injustice that promotes the noble work of expansion.

An alarming feature of this movement is the marvelous facilities which the United States possesses for the discovery of pretexts. In one quarter of the globe a people are oppressed, in another they are unfit for the duties of self-government, in still another they are a menace to the commercial ambitions of the United States.

But whether the United States takes the sword to lift the yoke of tyranny, to stand guard while the barbarian learns the duties of self-government or to open the channels of commerce the result is the same.

United States sovereignty follows the sword regardless of the cause in which it is unshaken.

Canada cannot afford to ignore this lust for expansion, which is rapidly becoming a national sin in the American Republic.

We have already felt Yankee encroachment. It is time that we began to take measures to protect the supply of available pretexts upon which our encroachments may be attempted.

Rumors of United States efforts to purchase the Islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre are not pure fiction. To the United States these two islands would be of great strategic value in the Gulf.

Their value goes a strong motive for acquiring them, and also the Islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre pass into the hands of the United States British sovereignty may say good bye to the Island of Newfoundland.

With France in possession of Miquelon and St. Pierre the French question is irritating enough. Let United States sovereignty be extended to these two islands and the French shore question will be settled in their favor.

The United States will soon find that Miquelon and St. Pierre have no more to offer the French shore. There will be another collision between the French fishermen and the Newfoundland fishermen, and this will be sufficient pretext for the United States to establish its authority in Newfoundland.

With New France the United States would go the coast of Labrador, and then Canada would be strategically crippled.

If the Islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre can be purchased Canada should be the purchaser. The islands are of no great importance to France, which no longer has power on the continent. They would be of great importance to Canada, if only for the removal of an excuse for United States expansion on our coast.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier claims to be an imperial statesman, the pleasure of bounding revenues and unprejudiced surplus. Sir Wilfrid could put his diplomacy to no better use than the utilization of a portion of these surpluses for the acquisition of the Islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre.

It may have been Miss Ella Dester's remedy that cured the Globe of blushing for the size of the Ontario government.

It would be absurd to fine Toronto citizens for riding in an overcrowded car. As well fine them for not being warmed by a cold stove.

The Globe would have us believe that when its vision was bombarded with those barnacles and parasites it was merely "seeing things."

Would-be assassins appear to be determined to save the Democratic party the pleasure of terminating the presidential career of Teddy Roosevelt.

It is a long distance from the London money market, the starting-point of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, to Port Simpson, B.C., the jumping-off place.

Surely the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. can raise $5,000,000 when the Globe's fingerposts of prosperity show that the average Canadian now carries fully that much in loose change in his vest pocket.

MR. STRATTON'S DEFENSE. Hon. J. R. Stratton's newspaper, The People of Huntingford, devotes several columns to an analysis of the campaign fund subscribed by the Ontario Conservative Association.

The story of the rise and fall of this association, as related by The Toronto News, is a masterpiece of political journalism. The Peterboro Examiner to defend the Ross government against the charge of corrupting the province.

The Examiner scorns the theory that the men who have been accused of the crime of embezzlement of money and fraud are angels of purity. This cry, it says, was raised to divert attention from the complicated political crookedness and corruption which have been the game of the Ontario Conservative party in Ontario.

The Examiner then proceeds to justify its sweeping condemnation of the party by carrying elections by reproducing the history of the Ontario Conservative Association as published by The Toronto News. "This beautiful narrative of the efforts of noble and patriotic men to establish a high party," Mr. Stratton's paper says, "is the most progressive states are clamoring for it."

So strong is the feeling in favor of rural mail delivery in the Northwestern States The Minneapolis Tribune has established a department devoted to the cause.

In the States there are now nearly 700 rural mail carriers. There are a thousand carriers or more serving about a million people in these States.

jects thereof, its sarcasm takes on a keener edge. It insists that the promoters of the organization were not as guilelessly innocent as they would have us believe.

Even in the holy politics they are indulging they had an eye to business, and they undertook to purify funds should meet by crisscrossed or grafted. The Examiner expresses mild wonderment at the fact that the Conservative Association spent less than $20,000 in 1900 for "a big Dominion-shaking contest," they now list to subscribe $28,369.

"Allen" things, supposed to be the fact that they put a portion of the money received by them in their own pockets. "While one veridant and misgiving candidate actually sent the missionary money back."

The detectives whom the association engaged to hunt down corruption are equally abhorrent to Mr. Stratton's Conservative thug supporters from the slums of American cities. "pluggies," "bullies," yes, and other names which would not bear mention in polite society are showered on the human ferrets that the Ontario Conservative Association put on the trail of robbery and fraud.

The historian of the Ontario Conservative Association made much of the fact that on election day the treasurer had in his possession $6737, which could have been used to carry the elections. The Examiner looks at this surplus in a different manner. "May not this $6737 be round loose?" it says. "serve a useful purpose, but it does not serve to help on a deep mystery? If we could see the pile now there might happily be found a hole big enough to swallow not very obscure relation of the missing funds, so mysteriously disappeared from the Crossin Piano Co.'s book."

Summarizing, the Examiner points out that thirty-three per cent of the thirty-three per cent came from the courts. Of these eight cents went to the six of them involved in the conservative seats and only two cents to unseated Liberal candidates. The net result was that four Conservatives were unseated and only one Liberal, "How," asks the Examiner, "does this record of the Conservative party in Ontario stand against the Ross government, as the party of wickedness overcoming fraud and sharp practices, the party of righteousness? Such ardent humbug, such nauseating hypocrisy, such a fittingly described in parliamentary language. In the face of all this we have the 'Narrative' of the Ontario Fund Properly Used, one of the most remarkable examples of a 'pious fraud' ever given to the public. And in the face of all this, accept this little comparative table of facts and an answer to the political 'fake.'"

A GREAT ISSUE. The Minneapolis Journal celebrated the silver jubilee of its existence on Thursday last, which was, curiously enough, the national day of thanksgiving across the line. The commemorative issue consisted of 12 sections of 128 pages, and as illustrating the capabilities of journalism in the common West it can't be beat. In color work and half-tones, typographically and in descriptive matter, detailing the progress and position of the newspaper, it is a masterpiece of resources. The issue would be a credit to any newspaper on the continent.

TO BUY LE PROGRES. Windsor, Nov. 30.—It is said that Le Progres, published in Windsor by the English Liberal party of Essex County for $5000. The sale will take place within a week. The paper is owned by only French journal published in Essex County, has a strong influence in the local Liberal party. The paper in the future will be managed by a committee of prominent politicians in the local Liberal party. New owners will hire a French editor. Editor Paquet intends spending a year in Europe after which he will reside in Detroit.

Arrested for Assault. Montreal, Nov. 30.—(Special).—The people of Huntingford, a county, are greatly excited over an attack made by a party of men on the local Liberal party. It appears that a party of parties unknown knocked at the door of Miller's house, fired a shot and Mrs. Miller and then set fire to the barn. Fortunately no one was struck. Daniel, a young man, was injured from St. John's Military School, has been arrested and sent to jail. He pleaded not guilty.

Doan Gets 10 Years. Stratford, Nov. 30.—Separate sentences were given to Doan and Mrs. Doan. Doan was sentenced to ten years in Sing Sing by Recorder Gott on a charge of attempted robbery. Doan, a member, was fined $500. Doan, a member, was fined $500.

Early Closing Reform.

THE GREATEST EVENT IN THE HISTORY OF MODERN STORE-KEEPING. THE DAWN OF A NEW ERA IN THE DRY GOODS BUSINESS.

Again we appeal to you in behalf of another early closing reform, Commencing January 2nd, 1904, and until Further Notice, This Store Will Close Every Day at 5 o'clock.

What does this mean? It means that commencing with the New Year our 5,000 employees will leave off work at 5 o'clock every night in the week. That includes: All our store help; our Mail Order staff. All the factory help; the express and shipping sections.

Also our factories in Oshawa and Hamilton, together with our buying offices in London (England) and Paris (France). Our Mr. Eaton was the first merchant to inaugurate the early closing movement.

Years ago, when this store kept open until 10 o'clock and other stores until 12 and 13 o'clock Saturday nights, he called it "the best of his store every day (Saturdays included) at 6 o'clock advanced early closing, giving and closing at 5 o'clock the biggest step of all:

MYSTERIOUS THIBET.

Not much notice has been hitherto taken here of the strained relations existing between the Indian government and the mysterious and forbidden land of Thibet.

While there are various causes for this attitude adopted by the Dalai Lama and the persistent disregard of the stipulations of the convention made in 1890 and 1893, the true reason for the present attitude is Thibetan territory is doubtless to be found in recent intrigues between Russian diplomatic agents and authorities at Lassa.

During this year two Russian expeditions have visited Thibet. The first, which was sent by M. Witte, then Minister of Finance, with Professor Grun-Grinshchew as its head is said to have returned to Russia only a few weeks ago, having attained to a full and complete knowledge of the second expedition under the leadership of Colonel Pokoff of the military and the results, if any, are unknown. In addition to these official missions there is a common report that the Thibetans dislike the Chinese.

Their nominal suzerains, and that with the view of strengthening their own territory the mission was stopped by a Thibetan Tungan or Commandant and ordered to return. Colonel Younghusband refused to obey the order and encamped, and there the mission has remained since October last. Colonel Younghusband was summoned to Simla to confer with the Viceroy and apparently as a result of this conference it has been resolved to dispatch an armed expedition and occupy Lassa and Ladakh, and to establish a Russian side uncredited travelers and agents are acquiring considerable influence in the mountainous regions of Thibet and Mongolia.
