Alien Clause Passes by Twenty Majority-King and Crerar Lead Attack.

SAY DISCRIMINATION

Ottawa, May 10.—(By Canadian Press.)—The battle on the franchise was resumed in earnest in the house tonight. It was over the section retonight. It was over the section regarding enfranchisement of alien women naturalized by marriage, and was a night of front bench attacks brought by the opposition and the progressives. Under that act, an en-emy alien not already naturalized, cannot secure a naturalization certificate for ten years after the pro-clamation of peace. Mr. Pardee's amendment would enable such aliens, resident in Canada, prior to 1914, to secure certificates for the purpose of enfranchisement providing they have the other necessary qualifications for Touching upon the increase of a cent and a half in crude oil, effective in the United States, A. L. In these circumstances the probability was that the price of both gasoline and kerosene would advance here. When the advance would become effective, if at all, it would be impossible to say at this juncture.

old residence on Main street, Weston, was torn down last week. For three generations its grounds had been the resort of numberless garden parties. Built in 1855, by John Stroughton Dennis, eldest son of the late John Dennis, who, along with his brother, settled in the vicinity of Weston and Mount Dennis in 1801, it has been the home of many well-known residents. The house was of 18 rooms, exceptionally high and pleasing, but it gave place at last to the force of modern economy. The upkeep of the house alone in its last year was $800. The lot upon which it stood and the long frontage between it and the town hall are now subdivided for smaller homes. George W. Verral was its last resident.

Sir Oliver Lodge Believes Existence to Be Continuous.

Sir Oliver Lodge, the great British scientist, delivered his final Canadian lecture in Massey Hall last night, be-fore a well-filled house. He took as his subject "The Continuity of Existence," and said at the outset that our body so long as it lasted. The evidence of those who had gone thru death and had come back was, according to Sir Oliver, that they retained conscience, character and memory, and knew exactly what was transpiring. The evidence, extending as it did over thirty dence, extending as it did over thirty years, amounted to absolute proof, and convinced him of its reality. The universe, like life, was continuous, he said, both as regards space and time. There were no gaps. Both might be invisible, but they were there all the

They are not of the ghost shape, as we have been led to believe in the past—at least that is what they say, added Sir Oliver, who further declared he was coming to the conclusion that the dead were not in a different universe to ourselves, but in the same one, and saw things as we see them, but from a dif-ferent aspect. They probably saw thru the ether, and doing so, every-thing looked brighter and better than

Council yesterday rejected the board of control's recommendation that the people be asked to vote on January 1 next on the question of building a car line on Mount Pleasant road and adopted instead an amendment by Controller Ramsden that the matter be left to the transportation commission.
The fact that there is no transportation commission in existence and that considerable uncertainty veils the atpointed, was given no consideration by council. CHINA NOT NEGOTIATING WITH SOVIET GOVERNMENT Peking, May 10 .- Dr. Philip Tyau councillor of the foreign office, asked today regarding reports from Moscow, alleging that China had recognized the rights of the Russian Soviet government in the eastern Manchuria railway and had given a guarantee that the Chinese troops along the railway line would be withdrawn, said: 'No formal negotiations have been opened with the Soviet government. China's attitude at present is neutral. As long as our frontiers are not violated we will remain spectators."

HOME LETTERS.

CHAPTER 80.

Three separate letters in the mail the following day only added to Alice's feeling of unhappiness.

"We are so happy about your good times and your new studies." her mother wrote. "I wonder sometimes how you stood the dull life you had here at home—until you got engaged, of course; then things began to happen for you. I always knew you were meant for some high place and I always felt so badly that you weren't getting any of the good things in life that other girls got. And now you're getting them."

Alice had to smile a little as she read. Her mother wrote a typical old lady's hand—small and cramped, as the each letter were an effort to form; the lines close together on the page, to crowd as many words as possible on the smallest amount of paper.

The next letter was from Clara.

"I'm getting along famously," she wrote. "I'm so glad your industry started me working on something myself. Father says if my work looks good enough to him he'll send me on to New York next summer, and pay me enough every week to live on. Then I'll go around to all the little specialty shops and see how they run them, how they display dresses in the windows, and how big a stock they carry, and I'll look till I find a job as salesgirl in one of them—not for the salary, only for the experience. In the fall, I'll come home and start my own shop. I thought of calling it 'Kiddie's Clothes.' How do you like the name?

The other letter was from Lawrence, and Alice saved it until the last. She admired the heavy, rich looking paper he used and his small

"Of course the best part is that the good things will go on when you come home," the letter went on.

"Lawrence comes around often and takes the baby and me or the baby and Clara for drives in his car. PULP AND PAPER IN HUGE DEMAND

James White, in Address to Ottawa Rotary Club, Makes Striking Statements.

Ottawa, May 10 .- At the Rotary Club uncheon today, James White, assistant to chairman of the commission of conservation, gave the address, his subject being the commission of conservation and its relation to the business interests, particularly in connection with forest conservation and the present abnormal condition of the pulp and paper industry. He said, in part: "The crux of the situation lies in the fact that the publishing business in the United States has reached proportions that cannot be supported by the forests of that country. The average circulation of the daily papers alone has been estimated at 27,000,000 copies. "The American pulp and paper industry falls far short of producing sufficient newsprint to meet the requirements. Despite the growth in the demand, there has been only a comparatively small increase in the productive of the state of the st duction of newsprint in the United States since 1913. The eastern states are faced with the fact that the exhaustion of their pulpwood supplies is in sight. Many of the American mills have no wood reserve and for 30 years American paper manufacturers have been turning to Canada for wood supplies.

According to the latest figures, it represents a conital invest. "I expect that the next ten years will record of depletion and exhaustion of timber supplies which demonstrates what it costs in raw material to meet the insatiable appetite of the United States publishing business. Judgment for specific performance as a selfwith all the newsprint they could use there would be a probable shortage this year of from 500,000 to 700,000 exe tons—or of from five-eighths to seven eighths of the total Canadian output. It is doubtful whether any other single branch of primary industry in for its product as is enjoyed by our pulp and paper business.

HOME-RUN DRIVES TURN IN VICTORY

Spencer and Riley Do the Damage to the Syracuse Stars.

The Leafs' string of victories on the home lot is now five. That total was reached yesterday, when Amby McConnell and his Syracuse Stars blew in for a three-day stay and went under, 8 to 4. Reading ... At that the Stars were away to a flying things went wrong in left field. It is all in the game, and the stickwork of the Leafs would have won the heat in any event. The Syracuse leader was forced to-use a catcher in the left garden when Costello was released at the noon hour. The substitute let Riley's drive in the seventh go over his head by coming in when the right play was to go back. Two were on the paths at the time, and it meant three runs and broke time, and it meant three runs and broke the tie.

While the subject of hitting has cropped up, it might be just as well to tell about one Vernon Spencer. This fairhafted boy promises to break all records with his smasning. His average is up in the dizzy heights, and yesterdays work left him only 24 points below the 500 mark. Spencer had five trips to the plate yesterday, and swung the willow, with effect four times. One of these raps was for the circuit with two men on the bases and put the Leafs into the lead when things were looking blue. Sanberg had a triple and two singles. Riley a homer and a one-corner rap, and Whiteman's contribution was two good, honest slaps. The boys keep it up day after day, and nobody knows just where it is going to end.

Peterson was elected for the pitching duty by Duffy, but it was a bad guess. Peter didn't like the chill winds, and after getting over a strike on the first three batters he walked the three and had two wide ones on the fourth, when Duffy declared a holiday for him and brought on Bob Heck. The port-sider slipped over the other two to Schulte, and a run was forced in. Donelson raised to Whitey, but Werre's infield out let the second run home. Bens fanned, amid cheers.

Big Perryman, the Syracuse hurling selection, got into his first jam in the second, after a double-killing had pulled him out in the first inning. Whiteman pried off the first bit of cheer, and it looked as if his effort was going to the slag hill, until Sanberg arrived. The big catcher tripled to deep centre, and George scored. Heck whiffed.

There was not a great deal of excitement until the fifth. Spencer did the damage here, and it was a great piece of work. Sanberg banged a hit over third, and Heck bunted. Perryman's throw drew McAlpine off the secular, and two were on. The Star catcher supplied a passed ball to hoist the boys along, but O'Rourke lifted to left. With a count of three and one, Spencer crossed the Syracuse gang by hitting a groover high and dry into the bleachers, and three runs we the tie.

supplied a passed ball to hoist the boys along, but O'Rourke lifted to left. With a count of three and one, Spencer crossed the Syracuse gang by hitting a groover high and dry into the bleachers, and three runs were chalked up. Nothing further resulted here.

The enemy came right back to tie it in the sixth. Donelson rifled a hit over first. Werre-got on free and Bens sacrificed. Niebergall died, O'Rourke to Onslow, but a run scored, and a will pitch let the other one in.

A little help made the margin wide for the Leafs in the seventh. Heck hit the air. O'Rourke welked. He raced to third on Spencer's hit. Connelly, a 'catcher, who was playing left for Syracuse, misjudged Riley's drive. He moved in and the ball went over his head for a homer, three runs coming in. The eighth and final run was put over in the next. Andy walked and Sanberg helped himself to his third hit. Heck popped out, and Anderson rode home after O'Rourke's fly had been caught in left. Spencer cut to centre, and Sanberg was nipped at third, He looked to have made the grade, but the umps said no. The final was 8 to 4.

Detroit Wants the Motor Boat Race Dates Changed

Detroit, May 10.—With Detroit's dates for the Gold Cup regatta set back to Sept. 10 to 14, inclusive, Secretary J. Lee Barrett, of the Gold Cup committee, is making in effort to have the Toronto Motor Boat Club set its hydroplane races ahead one day to permit the eastern and Canadiah hydros competing there time to ship to Detroit for the Gold Cup event. Toronto's events are billed for September 2 to 8 inclusive.

primary reason for shifting the that date from New York has the deck room to accommodate the hydroplanes. If the Harmsworth races are completed by August 14 the racers and their crews will land in New York on August 22, but one day's rain would prevent such an early return. The committee did not desire to run the Gold Cup race unless "Gar" Wood could defend his title and for this reason agreed to set the event back, but that all future Gold Cup regattas would be at the Labor Day time.

Three new members were received, and the membership now comprises Walsh, Brockbank, Taylor, Thorne, Binson Harper, Mahony, Tomlinson, Arnold, Bunscombe, Larkin, J. Nickolson, G. Nickolson, Jones, B. Armstrong, Perry, Fox, Gloster, McNaughton.

Mr. Mahony worked in the games at Hamilton Saturday for the association.

The ex-world's champion will begin his search with some wonderfully fine material at hand. Maines gathered his umpring staff together, along with the managers, for a friendly conference on new rules and rule interpretation. His staff was present in full force, Lou Fife having loined for to keep this program up daily and is anxious to fight if anyone will fight him. When he weighed in after the workout the scales showed him to carry 135 pounds.

One of the best known baseball writters in the American newspaper fratternity is W.-A. Phelon, called "Bill" by his familiars.

Some years ago. Phelon was covering the Cincinnatt Reds at the New York Polo Grounds, Back to The Cincinnatt T. A sarge and intelligent crowd was present; and intelligent crowd was present; and intelligent crowd was present; and intelligent crowd was the Polo grounds. How about it?" To which Bill responded:

"Trying Cobb and Fatty Arbuckle are in the stands. They are large. I am intelligent."

WALLACE ONLY MAN TO FLOOR JIMMY WILDE

Joe Cutch, the manager of Patsy Wallace is quite vehement in his talk about Jimmy Wilde, and in fact, all of the other bantams who have met the world's champion in the United States. Mr. Cutch declares that Wallace has shown that he is at least the peer of Jack Sharkey, Peter Hermann, Tony Montreal and others of the same class, who have met, or who are associating their names with that of the phenomenon little Britisher. "It is all right for Jimmy Wilde, or his publicity man to say great things about the champion, but I object to any statements being made at the expense of Patsy Wallace. My boy, at a limited distance of six rounds, was accorded a draw by all the newspaper critics, and I make no contention that Wallace is the American flyweight champion, and it is up to Jimmy Wilde to more finally establish his claim to the world's title by effectively beating Wallace. He will have the opportunity at the Grand Army carnival at Toronto, May 24. So well do I consider my man's chances, that I am taking him into Wilde's own country, so to speak, and with a native son referee "Here is a little statement that I nave been sending out to matchmakers and boxing club managers, and the claims I make therein are substantiated by undisputable records:

"Do you realize that Patsy Wallace the new sensation of the fistic world is the first boy who ever dropped Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion of the world to the floor, on Wednesday night. March's, 1929, during a terrific exchange of blows in the sixth and last round of their now famous battle, Wallace stapped back, and deliberately shot a short right hand to the point of Wilde's jaw and Jimmy wobbled, rocked and finally dropped face forward to the floor, for the first time in his long and brilliant career, and it took an American at that to accomplish the trick. Wilde has for

seen in the title role. Miss Clayton's acting is of her best, and devotees of the screen, who witnessed the performance yesterday, expressed unalloyed delight with the intensity and thoroness of the artiste's portrayal of her part. The story is simple. The Worthrops, a young married couple, already drifting apart, are on the verge of a final separation thru the machinations of a revengeful widow, coincident with the death of their only child, when a lawyer friend, takes a hand in the human game, and puts wrong right. The really excellent acting of Miss Clayton and her fellow actors deserve special mention, they make the most of a human life story, where the dramatic situations are handled with an intensity that grips.

For much fun and laughter, the comedy film "School Days," is responsible. Larry Semon is seen at his best in this little picture. TEACH DANCING TO DEVELOP CHILDREN

Says Mrs. Nasmith to Home and School Club-Officers Elected.

A good turnout of members attended the annual meeting of the Home and School Association of Brown School yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Horace Hunter presiding. A report of the year's work, read by Mrs. G. T. Pepall showed that good work had been done for both teachers and pupils. The nucleus of a library had been given, a gramophone and records presented, the teachers' restom fitted up with chairs, flower coxes provided for the windows, the lighting and grounds had been improved, and a skating rink established. In addition, classes in physical culture and classical and folk dancing were conducted under the auspices of the association. The sum of ten dollars was voted for the Provincial Home and School Club. Conveners of committees reported on the summer fete to be held shortly.

In a brief address that had arisen from the club in the way of co-operation between parents and teachers, and stated that in these democratic times every child must have a chance for education. The president was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Mrs. Nasmith, from the Margaret Eaton School, gave a bright address in which she stated that the world today was at the crossroads, and that in educating the child it must be rein which she stated that the world today was at the crossroads, and that in educating the child it must be remembered that the emotions require training. The best possible vehicle for this is dancing. There is a rythm in every idividual that finds its best outlet thru this medium. Mrs. Nasmith told of visiting a large institution in England where she found mothers, grown-ups of all ages and the children of the neighborhood, all dancing. At the close, when all were happy and exhausted, they were prepared to exhausted, they were prepared to listen with attention while she read to them. The speaker recommended to them. The speaker recommended young children taking part in the drama, as a means of giving them an opportunity for natural expression. So-called elocution, as taught today is for the most part false to natural expression, Mrs. Nasmith told her audience.

BISHOP FALLON CHARGES LAXITY

Against Dominion Alliance and Referendum Committee on Question of Divorce.

In an address at London, and later a a letter, Bishop M. F. Fallon brought charges of laxity aganist the nion Alliance, the Referendum nmittee and other social and moral institutions in their alleged failure to combat the relaxation of the divorce laws. In reply to those charges, members of the Refrrendum Committee have stated that, altho it is chiefly their duty to deal with questions of temperance, they have recognized the evil of rendering the dissolution of marriages an easy and trivial matter. Rev. W. H. Hinks stated;—
"Bishop Fallon's speech just marks the differences between the Roman Catholic ecclesiastical conscience and the British conscience. The British law, thruout the empire, regards the dissolution of marriage only when one of the contracting parties commits institutions in their alleged failure

Stöckholm, May 10.—A document written by Crown Princess Gustave Adolph of Sweden, in 1914, contains detailed instructions for her funeral, which is to take place Ascension Day, May 13. The crown princess, before her marriage, was Princess Margaret of Connaught, who died May 1.

She directed that her coffin be placed in an open carriage, as is the custom in the case of peasants in Sweden, and that the carriage be covered with greens instead of mourning. She asked that special places at a fer funeral be given to relatives and friends without regard to rank.

ner funeral be given to relatives and friends without regard to rank.

The document requests that there be no sermon, merely scriptural reading in English, and stipulates that burial be in the open instead of in the Biddarholme Church, where the tombs of the royal family are located.

The kings of Denmark and Norway and representatives of the princess family will attend the obsequies.

ARE PRETTY BEARISH

Following are the latest opinions of the Wall street situation by New York brokers: Because of an almost certain crop shortage, of labor inefficiency, of decreased exports and of killing taxes, we can see no prospect for a bull market in industrials for years to come. We advise the sale of most motor, tire, graphophone and rubber stocks on substantial bulges. Nor do we think that the prices of most motor, tire, graphophone and subber stocks will advance much—Goodbook & Co.

The market is largely professional, and with the serious problems ahead, and with the serious problems ahead, and with the serious problems ahead, and with the serious problems alead, industrial and financial, yet to be worked out, traders are bearish. So that prices simply mark the moves of short sellers, declining when they put out lines and recovering as they endsavor to get them back. The sliguidation has carried prices down, mainly to low levels—a favorable situation while the financial problem is being adjusted—J. S. Bache & Co.

Neither Buoyancy or Weakness Are Feature of the Mining Market.

MORE INTEREST IN OILS

Less than 50,000 shares comprised he business of the Standard stock exchange on Monday. While there was no evidence of buoyancy there was an equal absence of weakness and trading came almost to a standstill. Silver was quoted unchanged from the week-end at 1041/4 and was not a determining factor in influencing dealings in the Cobalts. The golds were under no new developments. It is stated that labor is getting more plentiful in the Porcupine field, but evidences of increased production are being awaited. Sentiment is veering to domestic oil stocks where actual results are taking place and bid for petrol were raised yesterday to go without attracting sales. Vacuum held steady and will not likely come into any activity until some developinto any activity until some develop-ment is made in the Dover field. The mining market in the main has be-come one for investors and any stocks sold are being taken by those willing to hold them until conditions change.
