NEW SHIP LINE SEEN BIG PORT BENEFIT

MORE WORK AND BUSINESS HERE WILL RESULT

Mayor, On Return To City, Pleased With News

6 SHIPS SECURED Will Carry on Service Between Saint John, Cuba and West Indies

COMMENTING upon the announcement of the new steamship line that will operate a fleet of six ships out of Saint John to Havana and the West Indies, beginning next month, Mayor F. L. Potts, who returned to the city today, said he was very glad to see that the campaign for more business for the port of Saint John was bearing fruit.

He had advocated for some time an extension of the business between this port and Cuba and the West Indies and believed there would be no trouble in getting cargo for the vessels. Each REGULAR SERVICE A REGULAR monthly service, similar to that of last season, to New Zealand and Australia, and also to South Africa, will be maintained again this year, it was announced by J. T. Knight & Co., local agents for the lines operating these services. The first sailing in each service will be about the middle of December. No information has been received regarding the vessels to be allotted to these routes, as this is often not announced until a few weeks previous to the sailing date.

new line, he said, was sure to increase trade. It meant that he would send more goods to the West Indies and that more of their products would come to us direct.

BENEFITS SEEN. Every increase in sailings meant more work for the waterfront workers and more business for the merchants of the city in the way of selling supplies to the ships while in port.

F. Macleure Scandlers, commissioner of the Board of Trade, said he was much pleased to see the announcement of a new line for the port. He felt this was a direct result of the campaign launched by The Telegraph-Journal and The Star for more business through Canadian ports and backed up by the Board of Trade and port committee.

It was said this morning by shipping men that ships of the size of those selected for the new line would expend on each trip about $2,000 for wages and there would be in addition the amount spent for supplies. The new line, according to authentic information, will be known as the Canada-Cuba Steamship Company. The local agents will be McLean, Kennedy, Ltd., who are managing-owners.

FOUR BOATS TO START The Canada-Cuba Company proposes to place four boats in service in November, the first sailing about the 15th. The remaining two boats will be operated as trade develops. It is planned to give a weekly or ten-day service, carrying potatoes and general merchandise from Saint John to Cuba and the West Indies, and return cargoes principally of raw sugar.

All six steamships are modern in every respect, each having about 3,500 tons dead weight carrying capacity. They were recently purchased specially for this service by James Playfair, president of the Saint John Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., and his associates, including Frank M. Ross, general manager of the Saint John Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co.

REGARDED AS NECESSARY Mr. Playfair and his associates are keenly interested in the development of port business here and regard the new line as a necessary facility to take care of the growing trade in potatoes and general merchandise to Cuba, and the carrying of an increasing volume of raw sugar from that country to Saint John.

An idea of the huge potato business with Cuba is shown in the figures of shipments in the last season. September to June, when 71 ships cleared from Saint John, carrying in all 2,471,229 bushels. During the first six months of this year 41 steamers brought 91,939 tons of raw sugar to this port.

The new venture is regarded as an outcome of the drive for greater business through Canadian ports, and will undoubtedly prove of great benefit to the Maritime. Besides providing shippers with better facilities by frequent service to Cuba, it is pointed out, the new line will give employment to a large shipping staff of this port. In addition to the benefits that will be derived from outfitting here.

LONDON HAILS SECURITY PACT WITH RESERVE

Opinions On Locarno Pact

NEWCASTLE, Eng., — Viscount Grey, former Secretary for Foreign Affairs: "Probably the greatest step towards real and assured peace which has been made since the war. If the conference had failed it would have been a great catastrophe."

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. — L. C. M. Amery, Secretary for the Dominions: "The Locarno pact marks the establishment of real peace by mutual agreement and on equal terms."

CHINGFORD, Eng. — Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer: "The security pact is the only possible security for the maintenance of peace in the future. Here you have four great nations of Europe joining hands together in a sort of four-sided pyramid of strength and security. I do not know of any other way in which we should very likely be involved, and, if it came, could only end in the re-barbarization of the whole world."

BERLIN — The Diplomatic Politische Korrespondent, regarded as the mouthpiece for official quarters, lays stress today on the importance of the Locarno arbitration treaties. The newspaper declares that the German delegation at Locarno were convinced that the expectations of the German people on all essential questions, especially regarding the Rhineland occupation, would be realized.

"Therefore," it adds, "Germany is justified in greeting the Locarno issue as warmly as the other signatory powers."

COAKLEY CLEARED IN N. S. SHOOTING

Investigation Proves That Slaying of Dennis Swan Was Accidental.

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 20.—The fatal shooting of Dennis Swan, aged 20, at Sydney Mines, near here, on Sunday night, by John Coakley, a resident of that place, was purely accidental, according to evidence advanced at an investigation into the tragedy conducted at Sydney Mines this morning by Coroner J. R. Francis. Coakley, from whose shotgun the fatal shot was fired, and who became prostrated with grief, shortly after the shooting, was reported this morning, in a critical condition.

Swan, according to evidence brought out this morning, decided to sleep in Coakley's barn on Sunday night, rather than disturb the household of his married sister, with whom he lived. Coakley, aroused by the barking of his dog, went to the barn, armed with a shotgun, hoping to apprehend the person who had been stealing goods from his barn. As Coakley, in company with a man named Mackinnon, opened the barn door, a man rushed out past them, going so close that his clothing caught in the muzzle of the shotgun, which was discharged.

NO ASSURANCE OF ABSOLUTE PEACE IS SEEN

All Agree Important Step Successfully Passed

TEXT IS APPROVED Confidence Expressed That Various Governments Will Ratify Proceedings

LONDON, Oct. 20.—London awoke today to find emblazoned on the front pages of the newspapers the texts of the momentous decisions reached at Locarno which will receive the ratification of the various governments. Such editorial notice as the agreements receive in this morning's newspapers is quite favorable, although nowhere are they hailed as absolutely securing the future peace of Europe.

They are described as "a promising attempt to return to the old family party of Europe and to arrange quarrels on the basis of reason."

IMPORTANT STEP. "They offer some assurance of peace," they are not ideal in several respects, but constitute an important step toward peace, "all depends on the sincerity and continuance of the friendly spirit," "if the Locarno pact should fail, nothing would succeed."

Such are among the outstanding paraphrases of the editorial commentators. Confidence is expressed by the writers that the treaties will be ratified by the various parliaments concerned, especially in view of the fact that they cannot be amended but must be accepted or rejected as they stand. It is characterized as unthinkable that any legislature would take the responsibility of failing to approve what is termed such a hopeful step.

Some of the male members attempted to refute this sweeping indictment, declaring that women are at the bottom of all domestic infidelity.

VATICAN ARRANGES CREDIT IN NEW YORK

Two Banking Houses to Handle $1,500,000 Agreement—Cardinal Hayes is Authorized to Carry Out Arrangement—Letter From Papal Secretary.

By THOMAS B. MORGAN. United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright 1925 United Press.

ROME, Oct. 20.—An agreement has been reached between the Vatican and Blair and Company and the Chase National Bank of New York City, establishing a $1,500,000 credit for the Vatican in New York.

The announcement was made exclusively through the United Press today. Arrangements for the credit were consummated in a letter sent by the Papal Secretary, Cardinal Gasparri, to the New York banks on October 11, stating that the Vatican was delighted with agreements for credit with Blair and Company, and also especially with the Chase National Bank. Cardinal Gasparri wrote that the conditions under which the credit was granted, considering the exigencies of the market, were tempered by a sentiment of devotion to the Holy See.

His Eminence Cardinal Hayes of New York has been authorized to sign the agreement on behalf of the Vatican.

Establishment of the credit signifies that the Blair and Chase Banks have become the Vatican depositories. The Holy See wishes to insure against the vicissitudes of continental currencies and to facilitate relations with the American hierarchy, the growing importance of which is acknowledged by the Vatican.

TRADE POLICY OF U. S. IS CALLED GOWARDLY ONE

Former Commerce Secretary Condemns High Tariff

LAUDS ENGLAND "No Matter What Her Faults Are, She Kept Her Word," He Says

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 20.—The world might well rejoice at what has just transpired in that little Swiss village," William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce in the cabinet of President Wilson, declared in an address before the Democratic Women's Luncheon Club yesterday, during which he commented on the recently concluded security conference between the European powers at Locarno.

Regarding the attitude of the United States, the former cabinet officer said that "no matter what England's faults might be, she kept her word," and that it was "regrettable that the time had not yet come, when this could be said of the United States."

RAPS HIGH TARIFF The nation's high protective tariff, Mr. Redfield said, is an insurmountable obstacle to the payment of Europe's war debts to the United States. He characterized the present trade policy of the country as cowardly, pleading for a tariff based on unselfishness, and truth and desiring the "ultra materialistic tendencies prevalent in the land."

Strongly advocating entrance of the United States into the League of Nations, Mr. Redfield said the country should find itself in splendid isolation if it did not enter soon.

BETTER LIBERAL RULE, SAYS FOSTER

Secretary of State and R. T. Hayes Speak in Pythian Castle

INDIES AGREEMENT DECLARED BOON

Maritime Matters Included in Subjects Touched on By Minister

Election issues, including the tariff, immigration, the railway question and the British West Indies trade agreement, were discussed at length by Hon. Dr. Walter E. Foster, Secretary of State, and R. T. Hayes, Liberal candidates for the Saint John-Albert constituency, at a meeting in the Pythian castle last evening. J. T. Sharp was the chairman.

Dr. Foster declared that when finally put into effect, the British West Indies agreement would prove a great boon for the Maritime Provinces as it would lead to a greater use of the Maritime ports through stimulating trade between the two countries. He declared he was highly optimistic over results to be obtained from it.

DR. FOSTER SPEAKS

Dr. Foster, in opening, said that his audience were deeply interested in the tariff, the railway problem, immigration, and broader markets for the country's products and he would briefly deal with these subjects. He was a merchant of this city and his point was that the Maritimes should prosper through development of the basic industries, said Mr. Foster. He had been selected as the Liberal representative in the cabinet. This city should be in line as there was every prospect that the Government would be sustained. Dr. Foster asserted. The information he had was that the west was going Liberal, as the west was opposed to a higher tariff. Quebec would go overwhelmingly Liberal, while Ontario would send more Liberals to the new Parliament than the last one, he said.

DISCUSSES CONDITION

Conditions in 1921 when the King Government came into power were big and he was not going to blame any Government for all the troubles, but he would like to point out that there was a balance of trade against Canada of about $29,000,000. "We were buying more goods than we were selling," he said. The Liberal policy late trade and through it the trade balance now was in Canada's favor to the extent of $28,400,000 on March 31 of this year. Was that not a healthy condition? he asked. He realized that conditions were not all right now but this favorable trade balance was a healthy sign and contrasted with the debit balance obtaining in 1921.

SAY CONDITIONS BETTER

In the Maritime Provinces conditions were improving. He referred to the interview recently published in the newspapers from Henry Deacon, a prominent Canadian Credit Men's Trust official, in which he declared that business was on the upgrade down east. Referring to Hon. Mr. Meighen's advocacy of high protection, Dr. Foster quoted from a speech made in Amherst last Saturday by Professor Rogers, of Acadia University, who declared that under the protection policy inaugurated with the National Policy in 1879, 90 per cent of employes engaged in Canadian industry were located in Quebec and Ontario and that 80 per cent of the capital invested in Canadian industry was in industries in these provinces. One of the Maritime rights was a complete restoration of the freight rate basis over the Intercolonial Railway previous to 1919.

TARIFF BOARD

The Liberals stood for a moderate tariff, a tariff for revenue and one which would not bear heavily on either the people or any industry, he declared. The Liberal tariff put into effect in 1896 stimulated Canadian industry, he declared. If the Liberals were returned to power a tariff board, composed of experts, would be appointed to revise the tariff on a scientific basis. He enumerated the reductions in the tariff during the last few years which, he declared, had benefited the farmers, the mill industry, the fishermen and others.

Respecting the railway situation, Dr. Foster said that in 1919, the Conservatives had placed the intercolonial with the other Government railways and the moment it did that, freight rates were raised. The industries dependent on that low freight rate over the intercolonial were strangled. One of the Maritime rights was a complete restoration of the freight rate basis over the Intercolonial Railway previous to 1919.

PORT DEVELOPMENT

If the city of Saint John were to prosper, Dr. Foster declared that more steamship lines were necessary and while a good business was done here over the C. P. R. lines, there was considerable business also that could be brought here over the Canadian National lines that was now finding its way through Portland, Me., and other ports. To get more steamship lines it was necessary to provide the facilities. He was glad that he had been able to induce the Government to provide money to extend the development at Courtenay Bay. He was going to Ottawa to advocate the greater development of this port. He had stood for port development here for 20 years and he would continue to do so. Government engineers had passed on these plans and Courtenay Bay would be developed in the best interests of the people of Saint John.

SIXTH OF A CENT EACH

The Conservatives were complaining of the increase in salary granted to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., whom the King Government believed was the right man in the right place. This point had been figured very neatly for him by Michael Kelly at his meeting in the Maritime recently when Mr. Kelly declared that the increase meant one

Food Kills Court Clerk And Poisons Chef and 3 of Jurors

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Edward J. Juter, 57, for the last 21 years assistant chief clerk in the Queens County Court at Long Island City, is dead, and at least three jurors attending the present term of the County and Supreme Courts are seriously ill, apparently as the result of eating roast lamb during the noon recess. The suspected food was eaten at the Court Square Sweet Shop, owned by James Michaels, immediately opposite the court house. Several hundred men and women from the courts and nearby offices and factories dine at this restaurant every day. Whether any others were ill was not known.

Immediately after the death of Mr. Juter at St. John's Hospital, Captain John Gallagher of the Hunters Point Detective Bureau began an investigation. The restaurant was closed and the kitchen was sealed and placed under guard of a policeman. Dr. John H. Barry, assistant sanitary inspector in charge of the Bureau of Health in Queens, rushed to Long Island City. He summoned chemists and examination of the food will be made. Juter was at the desk in the County Court when he was taken ill. This was about two hours after he had eaten his lunch. Almost at the same time Edward J. Hardy, 45 years old, a factory superintendent, one of the jurors at the trial of an action for slander brought by the Rev. Nicholas Petkus, formerly of the Church of the Annunciation in Brooklyn, against the Lithuanian Co-operative Publishing Company of Brooklyn, was taken ill. He fell unconscious in the jury box. Juter and the juror were taken across the street to St. John's Hospital.

While the two men were in the hospital two other jurors who had left the court house were taken ill on the street. They called taxicabs and were taken to their homes.

That the men were believed to have been taken ill from eating the roast lamb, Otto Walters, 49 years old, 335 East Fourteenth street, Manhattan, the chef, tasted the food. In a half hour he was ill and was taken to St. John's Hospital.

cent from every six persons per year. Sir Henry had proved himself to be a real asset and he did not think Canadians would strongly object to contributing one-sixth of a cent per year to his increase.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

Touching on the British preference, Dr. Foster declared that it was a good thing for Canada but he noted that Messrs. Patenaude and Lavergne, lieutenants for Mr. Meighen in Quebec, had placed themselves on record as favoring the abolishing of the British preference. "Nor did the British preference," he said in Saint John say he was in favor of its continuance," added Dr. Foster.

"The West Indies treaty negotiated by the Liberal Government will prove a splendid thing for the Maritime Provinces," Dr. Foster asserted, "because it means expansion of trade and larger use of our ports." He outlined some of the salient points of the treaty and expressed the hope that the electors of Saint John-Albert would return Mr. Hayes and himself to vote for the ratification of this treaty. Concluding, he made a plea for the return to power of the King Government.

R. T. Hayes opened his address by referring to the cordial relations that had always existed between himself and Labor, who were especially invited to attend last evening's meeting, and recalled that he had on numerous occasions helped in the settlement of strikes and disputes here, mentioning in particular those affecting the longshoremen, the railway freight handlers, employes of the Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Co., and the refinery. He felt that both himself and Dr. Foster might reasonably claim a little credit in making it possible for the refinery to locate here several years ago. He dwelt on the matter of Mothers' Pensions and said he was in sympathy with any legislation toward this end.

WOULD MAKE WORK

Dr. Foster, he said, had been able to secure promise of an expenditure in Courtenay Bay. This was only a beginning and he felt it would be continued if the King Government were returned to power. This provided not only temporary work just now but helped to make possible the fullest development of the port of Saint John and thereby create permanent work for and thereby create a larger utilization of facilities here.

Turning to the railway situation, Mr. Hayes said it was anything but ideal through competition with Portland, fostered by the former Conservative Government. Mr. Meighen, he noticed, in his speech here held out little hope for betterment.

ASSAILS HIGH TARIFF

Respecting the tariff, Mr. Hayes said it was a tax and declared more tariff protection could only mean higher living costs here.

Eighty-five per cent of goods used here came from Quebec and Ontario, the seat of protection, and if the tariff were raised it would work great injury to the people in the Maritimes, he said.

He enumerated many industries that

No Need to Tolerate Gray Hair any Longer

You Can Restore the Former Shade with Kolor-Bak

The clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, has enabled thousands of men and women to take years from their appearance by restoring the original shade to their gray hair.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared."

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger. I wonder I'm so thankful for Kolor-Bak."

Authorities state that hair turns gray when for any reason it fails to receive the proper amount of coloring matter from the cells in the scalp. No matter what the cause of the grayness, Kolor-Bak brings back the former shade. It is the best known substitute for the natural pigment.

Kolor-Bak is not sticky, greasy, messy or unpleasant to use. It is just a clean, colorless liquid containing ingredients known to be beneficial to hair and scalp—easy to use as water. Results often appear in a week.

It not only restores the former shade to the hair; it banishes dandruff, prevents itching of the scalp and stops falling of the hair.

No samples of your hair required—no tests necessary—as this one clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Money back instantly if desired results do not appear.

flourished in this city 60 years ago and for which protection then was asked. Today, about only two remained, they being T. McAvilly and Rankins, both controlled by strong supporters of the Liberal party. The people were getting tired of the fallacy of protection, he declared.

AUTOMOBILE DIVIDENDS

Quoting from the Financial Post in regard to a certain automobile company, which was well protected, Mr. Hayes said. This company was incorporated in 1904 with a capitalization of $125,000. Since then, it had earned $11,000 in cash dividends and $24,000 in stock awards on each $100 of stock taken in 1904. Did this company need protection? he asked.

Respecting immigration, Mr. Hayes declared he stood for a policy of selective immigration and in conclusion maintained that the King Government would be returned to power. Prospects in the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario and the West were very bright, he said. He was loudly applauded on resuming his seat.

Cheers for the candidates and the singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close. The attendance was small.

Sandow and Other Titans. (New York Times.) The world's two strongest men, in the physical not political sense, have died within a few days. Sigmund Breitbart of Vienna, who played with drybones and bit iron chains apart, succumbed to blood poisoning induced by a scratched finger. The much more celebrated, classic Eugene Sandow, whose form is perpetuated in sculpture, was the victim of his own great quality. The strain of lifting a dented motor car single-handed led to the bursting of a blood vessel. Breitbart died at the age of 42, Sandow at 85. Accident in one case, partial accident in the other, has thus visited a test of what connection there may be between Giant strength and long years. The Titans of history and legend have rarely attained advanced age. Perhaps it is a natural reluctance to see the hero go down before the march of Time that accounts for his premature fate. They die the victims of accident or guile. How long would Samson have lived if he had not gone philandering in Philistia? Milo of Crotona, if the tree trunk which he had torn in two had not closed again on his hands and left him a helpless prey to wolves? Siegfried, if not for Hagen's dagger thrust in the back? Hercules, if not for the shirt of Nessus? Probably not beyond the allotted term of the normal man, if so long.

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

MAN'S FIRST DUTY

NO matter what other vocation he may have, man's chief vocation is to THINK.

This does not mean that he is to shut himself within four walls, and bend his body and mind over books. Men thought before books were written, and some of the greatest thinkers never entered what we call a library.

Nature, Society, Life, present perpetual subjects for thought.

And the man who collects, concentrates, employs his faculties on any of these subjects for the purpose of getting the truth is a student, a thinker, a philosopher, and is rising to the supreme eminence of man, for as Channing observed, "Thought, intelligence, the dignity of man, and no man is rising but in proportion as he is learning to think clearly and forcibly."

It is time we should cease to limit to professed scholars the titles of thinkers, philosophers.

Whoever seeks truth with an earnest mind, no matter how, belongs to the school of intellectual men.

THOUGHT, defined by William Ellery Channing, is "Energy of the intellect."

In thought, the mind not only receives impressions or suggestions from without or within, but reacts on them, collects its attention, concentrates its forces upon them, breaks them up and analyzes them.

SURELY this universe in which we live was intended to stir up such thought as has been described. It is full of difficulty and mystery. Every object, even the simplest in nature and society, every event of life, is made up of various elements subtly bound together.

So that, to understand anything, we must reduce it from its complexity to its parts and principles, and examine their relations to one another.

Poems That Live

TOO LATE. Could ye come back to me, Douglas, Douglas, I would be so faithful, so loving, Douglas, Douglas, Douglas, tender and true.

Never a scornful word would grieve ye, I'd smile on ye sweet as the angels do; Sweet as your smile on me shone ever, Douglas, Douglas, tender and true.

Oh, to call back the days that are not! My eyes were blinded, your words were few; Do you know the truth now, up in heaven, Douglas, Douglas, tender and true?

I never was worthy of you, Douglas; Not half worthy the like of you; Now all men besides seem to me like shadows—I love you, Douglas, tender, and true.

Stretch out your hand to me, Douglas, Douglas, Drop forgiveness from your hand; As I lay my heart on your dead heart, Douglas, Douglas, Douglas, tender and true! —Dinah M. Craik.

THE INSANE MURDERER. New York World: We punish a murderer not only because he deserves it, but as an example to others who might kill. Executing the insane, then, in practice has seriously impaired our machinery of justice. Is it any longer sensible? If a murderer is in fact insane it is any more inhumane to punish him than to punish a sane man? Does he suffer any more? Hasn't he done just as much damage? Isn't he likely to do still more damage? From almost every point of view from which it can be viewed it would seem well to abolish this old legal theory. Let all murderers be classed alike. Then we can close the loop-holes in the law.

PARTRIDGE DISEASE. Providence Journal: Reports indicate that in several New England States the greatly prized bird is seriously threatened, while because of the ravages of the mysterious disease few are left in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. In some regions formerly well stocked there is said to be barely a breeding stock left. And this marked disaster has taken place since the spring of last year. Is the progress of the epidemic so alarming as to suggest that the partridge will follow the passenger pigeon and the health hen New England's "prairie chicken"—to virtual extinction? Not all the game laws that could be enacted, of course, would protect the bird from an epidemic of fatal disease.

CLOTHES AT SCHOOL. Chicago Tribune: We wonder why any one wants to dress a boy in long pants. The best that can be said for long pants is that they can get used to them in time. They are not beautiful in themselves and are presentable only when pressed. They bag at the knees on the lightest provocation. They are suitable for conferences, but no good for any game from marbles

Oldest Steamer In World Was Tyne Built

A friendly controversy is going on between the shipyard men of the Clyde and of the Tyne.

A Clyde ship has been claiming for the Edina that she is the oldest steamship, and in "The Shipyard" a Tyne-side worker retorts that the validity of the Clyde's claim is doubtful.

"I, with many others, maintain that this ship is not the oldest in the world," he writes, and declares that the Valentin Fierro, ex-John Bowers, which was built on the Tyne in 1852 (two years before the Edina), was the first steamer to carry water ballast, and is still running under the Spanish flag.

The Edina (says Lloyd's Register) is an iron screw steamer of 380 tons, built in 1854 by Barclay, Curie & Co., of Glasgow. She is owned by the Australian Steamship Proprietary, Limited, registered at Melbourne, and flies the British flag.

The Valentin Fierro, an iron screw steamer with three masts, was built in 1852 by Palmer Bros. & Co., of Newcastle. She is owned by a Spanish firm and is registered at Gijon.

A QUEER TALE FROM THE MIDDLE WEST (New York Times.)

A New York woman who recently had occasion to spend a few hours in a small Wisconsin town brings back the alarming report that its inhabitants, or at any rate an amazingly large fraction of them, have fallen into the habit of eating all their meals in small restaurants.

The young girls, she was told, as soon as they quit school, go to work in shops and offices. They knew nothing of housekeeping when they married, and did not care to learn it. They preferred to go on working and to contribute money rather than service for the maintenance of the home.

To the observer of these phenomena they formed a terrifying situation and meant the disappearance of the home itself as well as of the home kitchen. Perhaps the condition observed in one town was peculiar to that town, but she thought it was not.

THE WEST ON SENATE REFORM. (Western Producer, Saskatoon.) Mr. King, or whoever happens to be the prime minister of Canada after the next election, should summon the often-mentioned conference of provincial leaders in order that the sentiment all over Canada concerning the senate and its position could be made clear. At the present time there is no doubt about the attitude of the western provinces. MUCH INTEREST MARKS WEDDING IN SAINT JOHN

Miss Annie Thomson Armstrong Bride of Dr. V. D. Davidson

HONEYMOON IS TO PHILADELPHIA

Groom to Attend Sessions of American College of Physicians and Surgeons

St. John's (Stone) church was the scene of a wedding, outstanding in interest and beauty of arrangement, this afternoon at 4 o'clock when Rev. A. L. Fleming, rector, assisted by Rev. Canon A. W. Daniel of Rothesay, solemnized the marriage of Miss Annie Thomson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong and Dr. Victor D. Davidson, son of Mrs. William Davidson and the late Mr. Davidson of Fairville, formerly of Halifax, N. S.

LOVELY DRESSES

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was gowned in white but velvet over palest pink georgette, with chutes of fine rose point lace on the skirt, which was finished in scalloped edges with pearls. The gown, which was simple in design, was heavily embroidered with pearls and brilliants, the long sleeves being embroidered from cuffs to elbows with the same design in the pearls and brilliants, with the pearls encircling the cuffs, which came well over the hands. The very long train was outlined all along the sides and end of the wide hem with pearls and brilliants, the folds from the shoulders, the folds being also outlined with the pearls. On the extreme end a heavily embroidered motif of pearls and brilliants, combined with cut velvet, made a rich effect. Her veil of palest pink bridal illusion was caught with a bandeau of brilliants and orange blossoms at the sides. It fell straight in billowy folds to the full length of the train. Her bouquet of palest pink orchids, combined with bridal roses and white, completed a new idea in weddings of using color instead of the conventional white and gave a marked impression of loveliness. This and the gowns of the attendants were made wholly by hand and testified to the skillful fingers of the one who wrought them, and to her artistic mind.

The maid of honor, Miss Rachel Armstrong, younger sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Florence Puddington, cousin of the bride were gaily pretty in simple gowns of crepe georgette over satin of the same shade, with chutes of the georgette bound with satin and held in place with motifs of satin. Their hats were models of art in silver lace with drooping picture effect, with long loops of the silver lace falling in front of the face. They carried bouquets of butterfly roses, sweet alyssum and forget-me-nots enclosed in lace paper of old-fashioned arrangement. The bride's mother was very smart in her gown of brown cut velvet, over brown chiffon, with pastel applique of circular motifs of brown chiffon, her hat of brown velvet trimmed with a rich amber pin in front and of draped velvet at the back, giving a very chic effect. She carried a bouquet of orchids and butterfly roses.

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, sister of the bride, wore a gown of black and white with flaring skirt and the gown trimmed with chinchilla, her hat matching the dress.

Mrs. James Robertson, grandmother of the bride, wore a rich black and white georgette with black hat of smart design.

Mrs. H. P. Puddington, aunt of the bride and mother of the bridesmaid, was very handsome in a Black Prince gown, with choker collar trimmed with brown squirrel and with hat to match her gown.

The groom was a student at Dalhousie College, Halifax, N. S., from which he took his degree. He had fished a large practice in Fairville and has won a coveted position among his medical friends professionally and socially.

S. Allan Thomas was best man and the ushers were Elmer Puddington and Laurence Scovill, cousins, Fenwick Armstrong, brother of the bride, and George Brown, while the register was being signed. Mrs. T. J. Gunn, organist played a programme of beautiful selections while all were assembling and during the ceremony. Dalists, asters, ferns and pine decorated the church, arranged by girl friends of the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, Queen Square, where a wedding supper was prepared. The rooms were luxuriant with ferns, palms and pink and white chrysanthemums. The bride's table was a tempting picture with its silvery and pink tones, brought out with orchids and sweetheart roses, silver candelabra and a huge silver bell overhanging all. The cake was also ornamented in silver and pink and the candles of pink gave a gay light. The guests were immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom, and the Saint John doctors and their wives. The bride and groom will leave on the evening train for Philadelphia, where Dr. Davidson will attend the sessions of the convention of American College of Surgeons and receive his degree as a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Going away the bride will don a handsome crepe and black navy blue gown over which she will wear a coat of navy blue cloth trimmed with dyed squirrel. Her hat is a chic model of delivery. In other words our Canadian steamship services are inadequate to control this business.

MR. WATTS gave me a list of the exports to a few countries to illustrate the difficulty in getting Canadian tonnage. They are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Country and Barrels. Includes Germany (2,555,000), Denmark (265,000), Finland (221,000), Greece (333,000), Netherlands (227,000), Egypt (258,000), Poland (32,000), Norway (135,000), Venezuela (98,000), Italy (98,000).

SOME of these shipments went through Canadian ports, but very much more went through American. Mr. Watts said that the millers would be only too glad to use Canadian ports if they could get the service, but at present it is impossible.

I visited three of the great meat packing houses today. D. W. Gunn, managing director of Gunns Limited, to whom I was introduced by A. C. MacVicar, general sales manager, just back from the Maritimes, gave me a most hearty reception, and the assurance that they never used an American port if they could get a Canadian service, and that 95 per cent. of their exports went through Montreal and Maritime ports. "You can count on us to do all we can for the Maritime ports," was the substance of what Mr. Gunn and several members of the staff who were alike cordial said to me.

I had hardly introduced myself to Mr. Ingram, at the Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., when he was called to the telephone. On his return he said: "That conversation was about your port and the new Glasgow refrigerator service. I have wanted to see such a service for several years." Mr. Ingram added that the company sold goods to the railroads and steamships as well as to other customers in Canada, and their policy was to use Canadian ports whenever the service was available.

At the Harris Abattoir Mr. Watt gave me the same assurance. Only when the needs of service make it necessary do they use American ports. All three packing houses pointed out, however, that the demands of their markets overseas will brook no delay, for the goods must be delivered regularly and promptly, and in this respect New York has all the facilities. As I pointed out in a former letter, nearly $10,000,000 worth of Canadian packing house products went through American ports in the year ending July last.

Mr. McLaren, manager of Ontario Fertilizers, Ltd., said he is interested in the Maritimes, as he does business there. He showed me a clipping from The Telegraph-Journal, just received, which told of the advance in the price of potatoes in Carleton county. He plans to visit the Maritimes soon. His imports come through Canadian ports.

At the offices of Gordon Mackay & Co., Ltd., Sir James Woods gave me a word of kindly greeting and an assurance of sympathy with my mission, and then called Mr. Paisley, who informed me that all their imports came through Canadian ports. When I expressed the fear that most Ontario people did not understand the Maritime situation, Mr. Paisley frankly admitted that until I presented the case his own knowledge was largely gained from talks with their travellers in that territory. John Macdonald & Co., J. S. Anderson, and L. L. McMurray for the Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., Ltd., assured me they used Canadian ports only.

navy blue velvet soq mounted in flame color.

FROM MEDICAL FRIENDS.

Many lovely gifts were bestowed upon the happy couple, the bride being the recipient of many showers. The groom, as a prominent physician, received handsome presents, among which were a silver punch bowl from the medical staff of the General Public Hospital; a silver service tray from the doctors' social club, of which the groom was a member and a handsome silver basket from Miss Mitchell, Miss Thomson, the graduate nurses, and the staff of the General Public Hospital. Valuable gifts of all kinds were noticed in the array in one of the large rooms of the home of the bride, who was very popular in her set and who has many friends in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, where in the last city she took her graduating course in nursing at the Royal Victoria Hospital and in Toronto, where she attended for the full course at Haverhill Ladies' College. The bride is a cousin of Dr. George Hooper of Ottawa, who was married recently in St. John's (Stone) church to Miss Elspeth MacLaren.

Larson-Waterbury. On Oct. 12 at Twelfth street Reformed church, Brooklyn, the Rev. Dr. Bradley J. Folandee solemnized the marriage of Miss Jennie Taylor Waterbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Waterbury, of 546 9th street, Brooklyn, and Roy Edwin Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, of 272 53rd street, Brooklyn. A reception and dinner followed in the Hotel St. George. The bride wore a gown of flesh colored material and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and orange blossoms. Mrs. Raymond M. Dinsmore, matron of honor, wore a gown of powdered blue georgette with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Harry F. Lyons, Jr., a college classmate, was best man. Solos were rendered by Miss Christine Van Wagner. The ushers were Raymond M. Dinsmore and Robert R. McKee. The bride is a graduate of Manual Training High School, Brooklyn, and the groom a graduate of Polytechnical College and is a civil engineer with the Western Electric Co. They left on a five weeks' trip to Florida.

The bride is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Waterbury of this city. The music played by Mrs. Gunn was as follows: "Benediction Nuptial" and "Spring Snow" both by Holliis; "Venetian Love Song" by Ethelbert George; "Loop de Loop" by Ethelbert George; "At Dawning" by Charles Cadman. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as the bridal party left the church.

Senator W. Roche. HALIFAX, Oct. 19.—Senator William Roche, aged 83, of Halifax, died at his home here at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, following an illness of several months.

Senator Roche was extensively engaged in steamship and coal business, and was regarded as one of the leading business men of the community. He was of Loyalist stock, his grandparents having come to Shelburne, N. S., from New York in 1783. He was born and educated at Halifax and spent most of his life here. He attended Dalhousie College and Free Church Academy. He was at one time vice-president of the Union Bank of Halifax and president of the Halifax Fire Insurance Company. He was a member of the Nova Scotia Legislature from 1886 to 1897, represented Halifax in the House of Commons from 1900 to 1908 and in 1910 was elected a member of the Senate. In religion, he was an Anglican.

Mrs. A. Jones. HOPEWELL HILL, Oct. 18.—After a long and trying illness, Mrs. Angelina Jones, wife of James Jones, passed away at her home here, Friday. She was formerly Miss Angelina Wilson. Captain J. L. Corbett. FARRISBORO, N. S., Oct. 19.—The death occurred here, at his home on Thursday, last, of Captain Joshua L. Corbett, aged 85 years. The deceased was a master mariner, and had made several voyages around the world. Since his retirement from the sea a few years ago, he has lived quietly at his home in Main street, and for some time past had not been in good health, but his condition was not considered critical, and the end came very unexpectedly.

Captain Corbett was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Pippy, of Newfoundland, and his second, Mrs. Read, of Advocate, N. S. He is survived by his widow, one son, Dr. Fred A. Corbett, a leading surgeon of Regina, and one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Poole, of Brookton, and a grandchild, The deceased was a thirty-second degree Mason, and a charter member of Mines Lodge, A. PHYTHIAN VISITOR.

The Grand Senior of the Maritime Domain, Mrs. Ellsworth, paid a visit to Moulton Temple No. 14, Pythian Sisters, at its meeting last night in Pythian Castle, and a number of other members of Loyalist Temple were visitors at the meeting. Mrs. Ellsworth gave an address which was much appreciated. Mrs. O. R. Black, M.E.C., presided at the meeting. Plans were completed for a tea to be held in the first week in November, and Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Holder, were appointed general conveners for that event. Reports received from the sale of home cooking conducted by the members of the Temple at the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage Fair were presented at the meeting and were most gratifying.

MARITIME DELAYED.

The Maritime Express which left the Union depot at 6:15 last night was delayed for half an hour at Brookville by a cylinder head blow-out. An engine was sent out from the city to pick up the train and take it on its way.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL.

The social which the Men's Brotherhood of the Ludlow street Baptist church is holding this week as part of the observance of its fourteenth anniversary is to take place on Friday evening.

Saint John Well Baby Clinics Are Popular With Many Parents

A three-months-old baby that weighs 19 pounds and is as happy as the day is long is the pride of the West Saint John V. O. N. well baby clinic. All three of the V. O. N. well baby clinics have had a large number of small folk calling regularly during the last few weeks but the number falls off when clinic day is stormy. Miss McManus, who has charge of the clinic held in the emergency hospital in West Saint John, has had no doctor to help her during the last few weeks but clinic attendance has been gratifyingly large.

West Saint John clinics are held each Thursday and the attendance for the Thursdays of October has totalled 19 for the first week, 16 for the second week and 18 last week. Some of the babies attending are brought all the way from Fairville and are very regular callers at the clinic. Miss McManus declares there are no lovelier babies anywhere than those calling at the V. O. N. clinic in West Saint John.

The headquarters V. O. N. well baby clinic meets in the Health Centre each Thursday and the weather has had a spite on Thursdays this year, making the attendance at the clinics fall off greatly. On the first Thursday in October the attendance was 34 and the next Thursday it was 24 but last Thursday was very stormy and only seven babies were brought to clinic. The Health Centre clinic claims first honors in long distance records since it has had a baby brought from Lorneville to be weighed and examined. The baby is coming to reside in the city and will be shortly located rather nearer to the clinic. The North End well baby clinic meets in the Y. M. A. hall in Portland street and Miss Corbett has charge. The attendance at this clinic last month totalled 34. For the North End Fridays are clinic days also. The Victorian Order of Nurses now have 37 milk fund babies to keep a watchful eye on. The number of babies receiving milk through the Women's Council's free milk fund has had to be advanced to the present figure within the last few days as specially needy cases were brought to the attention of the nurses. Monday is the day on which milk tickets are distributed from the V. O. N. office in the Health Centre and yesterday the older brothers or sisters of the milk fund babies made their appearance in regular procession. The fund has very small reserve at the present time and if its good work is to go on a further appeal to the public for its support will have to be made shortly.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

The Exmouth Street League last night took the form of an opening evening. Dr. William McIntosh, curator of the Natural History Society, gave an interesting and instructive talk which was illustrated with lantern slides, dealing chiefly with the eastern and northern sections of New Brunswick. His talk on the scenery coupled with his own personal experience in this district was greatly appreciated. He was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. Fred N. Myles was chairman for the evening. The result of the membership contest was as follows: Miss Mable Adams, 17, Dickson, M.L.A. elect. They discussed the issues of the federal election campaign and were accorded an attentive hearing.

The others killed were his wife and three girls, the daughters of Pompei friends. The light closed car in which they were riding was smashed to bits, and the bodies were hurled into a neighboring field.

The "Perfect Girl" Versus the Ideal Wife — The Young Bride Who Yearns to Do Something Big in Life — The Boy Who Craves Luxuries.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—When the man you love, and who, you think, loves you, tells you that he doesn't believe there is a perfect girl in the world, and that he has not found one yet, what are you supposed to say or do? Isn't the girl who doesn't drink, smoke, indulge in necking parties, who is healthy and strong, who wants a nice, steady husband to care for and babies to raise, as nearly a perfect woman as is to be found? V. R.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: You can only agree with the man who says that he has never found a perfect girl. There is no such an animal as a perfect girl, and even if there were, what would an imperfect man do with her if he found her?

Certainly there could be no congeniality between them on points of spiritual contact, and while the man might stand in awe and admiration before the goddess for a little while, he would never want to take her home with him, and install her as a fireside companion.

I suppose your man's ideal of a perfect girl is one who is always beautiful and serene; who has no nerves or temper; who always agrees with him in everything he says, and is willing to do what he always does. But take it from me, he would get very tired of that sort of a rubber stamp. The thing that makes a girl interesting is her personality, her little peculiar quirks of character and disposition that are not like a man's, but different from his.

And, anyway, we do not love people for their goodness. It is not the saints that we get close to, but the cheerful sinners who do not judge us too harshly because they are aware of their own weaknesses, and who know how to forgive us and make allowance for our failures because they also have failed.

My ideal of the very nicest sort of a girl, the sort of a girl that I should want to marry is a girl who has sufficient good looks to be easy on the eyes; who knows how to dress so as to make the best of herself; who is strong and healthy in body, and alert and intelligent in mind; who has preferably made her own living for a few years; who has her own opinions, but is willing to listen to other people's; who has kept herself clean, and refused to let every little cheap rounder kiss her; who has learned how to control her temper and her tongue; who does not expect to find the man she marries a fairy prince but a human being with human faults that she is prepared to put up with; who goes into matrimony with the determination to be a good sport and make the best of it, and do her part toward making a success, and who looks upon widowhood and motherhood as a career instead of a graft.

That kind of girl is good enough for any man.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 21 years old, and have been married two months, but there seems to be something lacking. I want to avoid the monotony and humdrum of the usual married life. I want a bigger incentive in life than just owning our own home, and perhaps giving the little ones we may some time be fortunate enough to have, advantages that will go toward making them something.

I want to do something big, and am at a loss where to begin. Will I have to stifle my ambitions, and grow old just like the average housewife who resigns herself to her home and her children and her husband? MARY.

ANSWER:

The world is full of women with vague longings after some intangible something, they know not what; who feel that they would like to uplift the world and perform some great deed that would make them rich and famous.

They have lovely visions in which they see themselves as great writers, or famous actresses, or film stars with their names blazoned across the front page of the papers, and checks for millions of dollars rolling in upon them. But, my dear Mary, careers are not built of the cobwebs of dreams.

Before you can be an Edith Wharton or a Fannie Hurst, or a Julia Marlowe, or a Mary Pickford, you must have a God-given talent, and that to you must add years and years of heart-breaking labor and sacrifice, and such struggle and self-denial as you have never imagined. That is the way big things are done.

But don't despise the work to which you have set your hand because it is not spectacular. In reality, the housewife who does what you call the humdrum work, does the work that counts most in the world. They settle the fate of nations, and lift humanity up or drag it down.

If you make a real home, you will find scope for all of your dreams and aspirations, and for every talent of head and hand that you possess. And when you come to bring up children you will find that you have never a dull moment.

When you develop them into fine men and women, you may have achieved a greater career in half a dozen different directions than you could possibly have won for yourself, for who knows but what you may give a great genius to the world? A son of yours may possibly sit in the President's chair. A daughter of yours may sing in grand opera. The little boy playing with his toy soldiers may be a great general. The baby girl, making mud pies, may fashion immortal sculpture.

Barris says that his mother never spoke of Gladstone without saying, "Fine! I would have liked to have been his mother!" DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of 18. My father died when I was a baby, and we are very poor, but I long for the luxuries that rich boys have. I have not quite completed high school. Do you think I could take up a business course and be successful with it? ANXIOUS.

ANSWER:

Finish your high school course if you possibly can before you take up a business course. Many employers require a boy to have had at least that much education, and the more you know the better chance you have of success.

By all means take a commercial course. A business man advises boys who have no special career in half a dozen different directions because in business the stenographer is brought in immediately with the men who have the giving of good jobs, and if he has ability they will be sure to put him in some desirable place.

It is a good thing for a boy to crave luxuries. It makes him get out and hustle to get them. It is up to you, my boy, to make a success or a failure of your life. Any boy in America who has brains and initiative and is willing to work can get what he wants from the world. DOROTHY DIX.

DAILY MOVIE SERVICE
Real Love Not Comparable
With "Reel" Love

"REAL" love can't be compared with love between stage and film. Although "real" love. At least so said Lila Miss Lee enjoying working in pictures. Lila when I talked with her in her office she feels that more inspiration can be dressing room between the acts of "Ed"—put into stage work since there is less of Allan Poe, the stage play in which commotion and no long tire some waits she is appearing with her husband, James Kirkwood.

She advocates sane eating for all stage folk and favors weight stipulations in the movies and on the stage. She says that as for more inspiration, she doesn't study stenography because in business the stenographer is brought in immediately with the men who have the giving of good jobs, and if he has ability they will be sure to put him in some desirable place.

It is a good thing for a boy to crave luxuries. It makes him get out and hustle to get them. It is up to you, my boy, to make a success or a failure of your life. Any boy in America who has brains and initiative and is willing to work can get what he wants from the world. DOROTHY DIX.

MAKE FRIENDS IF YOU WOULD SUCCEED, SAYS VETERAN OF 75 YEARS SERVICE

YOUNG MAN, if you want to succeed you must buckle down to your work and make friends with everybody. You must stick to your task.

This is the advice that Albert Stone, 90, oldest railroad employe in length of service in the world, gives to the young man of today.

Stone has just completed his 75th year of continuous service with the New York Central Railroad. And he still is on the job. In the long ago year of 1850, when he was 15 years old, Stone joined the railroad. Its property consisted of a few locomotives and a short stretch of track. Despite the handicap of being crippled he has continued at his work. Today, with all of his 90 years, Stone goes down to the office every day and efficiently performs his work as a stationer. He suffers none of the ailments of senility. He's not an old man. He has just lived a long time.

With this astounding record of faithfulness to his credit, with contentment and continued strength, Stone counts himself a victor in life no less than that other New York Central veteran, Chauncey M. Depew, the 92-year-old chairman of the board. The two aged men are friends, and recently Stone proved himself the better by reading without glasses, while Depew cannot read at all.

HAS SEEN MANY CHANGES. In 90 years Stone has seen changes. He has watched New York City grow into a world metropolis. Most of all he has noticed the change in people and their habits.

ALBERT STONE

"Today is the day," Stone says. "This is the golden age for the young man who wants to succeed. There are many, many more opportunities than when I was a boy. But the young men of today are not wide awake to their advantages. They all want to start from the top. Nobody wants to start from the bottom of the ladder. Now the only way you can ever be anybody in anything is to learn the beginning of the thing. You must start at the foundation. I often hear young men saying that they cannot get along. This is not the day of humans. It is the day of machines. Steel is the master. Go out and learn to build and make a machine. I wish I were a lad today."

"CULTIVATE" spiritual relations with Asia and stop sending her whiskey and opium," is the advice Felix Valry, Paris editor, gave to England in a recent address.

"The tremendous upheaval in the east from Morocco to Mongolia, which constitutes one immense movement directed by the same spirit of nationalism, cannot be treated by the usual methods of European Colonial powers," he said.

"These days were beautiful ones. New York was a place to live in. Now it is a place to work in. But the transition is wonderful. New York is just as beautiful in its way as ever. A young man can have anything he wants today if he will go after it. But he must work hard. He must learn to grab opportunities quickly. He should keep his eyes open. And he should make friends—plenty of friends. Keep good friends and good habits. I still am on the job and will be for a few more years. I learned to do my duty, and then I showed my superiors that they couldn't do without me."

Must Make Effort To Understand The Orient

THE development of laboratory methods of measuring intelligence enabled the psychologists to demonstrate that in general there is no difference between men, taken as a class, and women as a class.

But, despite the results of the tests, these two investigators are unwilling to believe the matter as settled, and come forward themselves with valid objections to any general opinion based on their own tests.

Are Men More Emotional Than Women

THE old question of whether men or women are more intelligent is giving way to the question of whether men or women are more emotional.

These two investigators conducted tests with 600 college men and 400 college women.

THE LAST FRONTIER

LAIRD and McClumpha have also set about investigating insane asylum figures as a means of comparing emotional instability which is so extreme as to result in insanity.

This would tend to support the results of the tests with college students.

FUR trimming appears on fall coats for grown-ups, and this means that fur will be used for the small girl as well. This rather unusual model is made of a fancy woven mixture material in brown. The fur trimming is nutria, and there are applied stripes of the material as an additional feature. The same model would be attractive in olive green with seal bands for trimming.

Little Editorials

JURIES FEDERAL Judge Bondy's court in New York was at a standstill. Several persons had demanded a jury trial and there wasn't a talesman in sight. Excuses of various kinds had enabled many called to escape jury service. So the judge took three deputy marshals and went out to round up a jury from the streets. It wasn't so long ago that revolutions were fought to establish the cardinal principle that every man is entitled to a trial by jury. In fact, the ruthless activities of the czar's secret police and the failure of many of the Russian peasants to obtain jury trials was one of the underlying causes of the Russian revolution.

Your Birthday

October 20.—You are of a contented, comfortable nature, but are prompt and energetic as regards your work. You are capable and reliable, and looked up to by your family. Your devotion to your family is very marked. You love home-life, and should be very happy. Live out of doors as much as possible. Your birth-stone is the opal, which means hope. Your lucky color is yellow and white. AT A FOOTBALL MATCH A small boy was enjoying a free view of a football match through a knot hole in the fence. "Sell you this pitch for a couple of them apples!" he shouted to a friend. "Garn!" was the reply. "Yer can't see through the people the other side of the fence." "Orr right, monkey brand," came the scornful rejoinder. "Keep yer apples! But, just ter make yer wild, I'll tell yer there's a handy legged bloke in front of this 'ole."—Yorkshire Post.

WAR NOT UNLIKELY.

"Instead of introducing opium and whiskey in Asia, England should give more attention to the spiritual aspect of her relations with the eastern world. Otherwise, in the inevitable struggle between England and Russia within the next generation, for their conflicting ideals of economic and social life cannot be solved by peaceful means, the British Empire might succumb to the hatred of Asia." "The League of Nations itself is accused in the whole eastern world of being merely an instrument of her most powerful European members; no Oriental nation has any confidence in its impartiality when fundamental questions of world equilibrium arise between the colonial powers and the rest of the world."

"Flowers Bloom in Every Room"

"Our home is large, main house 30 x 40, and all almost as large, and it was impossible to heat it all without a number of stoves and piles of fuel, which meant hard work—since installing your pipeless furnace a year ago—we are enjoying even the farthest corners that we never thought of trying to heat before; and my flowers bloom not only in one room, but in every room in the house, all and all, and it is like Summer in a flower garden all the time!" —Mrs. James Chase, St. George, N. B.

Veterans!

Letters on file and orders for parts of Fawcett stoves and furnaces manufactured decades ago, show that some are still in use after forty years of service. The ruggedness of Fawcett products is not based, however, on excess weight which leads to excess cost and excess upkeep. It is due to a scientific study of the relation between one part and another and of all parts in relation to the service they have to stand. When you buy a Fawcett you buy the accumulation of three-quarters of a century of experience.

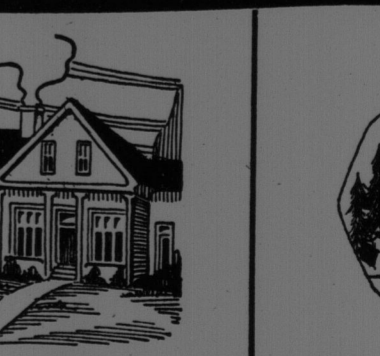

For Churches!

"We had a Fawcett Pipeless Furnace installed in the Manse at Murray Harbor—North, and also in the church and both gave perfect satisfaction." —Rev. J. S. MacKay. For large buildings like churches, that have to be heated quickly and fully part of the time, while perhaps unheated on other occasions, the Fawcett Pipeless is ideal. We will be glad to send details of various Fawcett installations to cover cases of this kind, coupled with the unbiased reports of the users.

SING SING MATES ENVY REITERS

Dignified Jobs Given Three Brothers Arouse Feelings of Convicts.

Ex-Judge Called "Classy Chappy," Quits Prison in Pince-Nez.

OSSENING, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Envy has gripped many of the lodgers in Sing Sing Prison. Not the envy of other people's property, which deprived so many of them of their livelihood, but envy of other people's ease, notably the comfort of the brothers Reiter.

WARDEN'S WORK.

Acting Warden Thomas McInerney admitted that the brothers have the poba, and he explained that they were assigned to them by Warden Lewis E. Lawes. An effort to get a comment from Warden Lawes was blocked by his absence.

In addition to envy, another emotion, namely regret, is stirring in Sing Sing. The sorrow is inspired by the fact that the prison's "classy chappy," as former Judge Lewis M. Raisig of Long Beach, L. I., was known in Sing Sing, has been released on parole.

Fashion Writer Tells Of Some Fall Footwear Styles

By HEDDA HOYT NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—United Press)—Shoes, like costumes and accessories are falling under the sway of metal trimmings. According to two leading shoe manufacturers, black shoes will again be worn this fall, but for afternoon wear black will be enlivened with touches of silver or gold kid or by metal buckles.

Next in importance to the black shoe comes the vogue for brown kid and suede. Often brown suede does a gold piping or a bronze gold buckle. Indian, golden brown and a new cocoa shade are also expected to be good fall colors.

Shapes do not change much. Opera pumps, one-strapped affairs, and occasionally the center-strapped models are about the only ones worth mentioning since the copies of French shoes are very few this year.

The Opera pump leads for both day and evening wear. Oxfords are not expected to be in demand until mid-winter months.

For evening wear silver and gold kid are stressed and neat in importance are brocades and white satins which are dyed by the retailer to suit the customer. There is a new crystal material that is trimmed with silver which is very lovely. Gold kid, due to the vogue for gold in apparel, will perhaps be as well liked as silver has been in previous seasons.

Among the copies of the imports are several shoes worth mentioning since they will doubtless find place in shops throughout the country. For instance, the satin shoe that is covered with lace is designed to accompany the lace frock! The satin foundation may be of one shade and the lace of another to harmonize with the gown.

Almond green suede combined with make or lizard leather of the same shade, is another model. Shoes with hand-painted wreaths of fruits or flowers are new.

MacLaren, Bell, Tilley and Harrison Present Case to Electors.

Declaring that the present Liberal Government of Canada had not satisfied the people of the country with the way it had handled the pressing political questions of the day, that its policy of low tariff was gradually forcing the producers of the Dominion to the wall and sending the native born Canadian to seek a living in a foreign land, that its transportation policy was a failure and that its attempts to bring immigration to the Dominion had collapsed because the Government was incapable...

They spent a considerable time on the question of Maritime Rights and promised that, if elected, they would work for a freight rate program that would materially assist the Maritime producer in getting his products to the markets of Quebec and Ontario.

In regard to the development of the port of Saint John to handle export business, they declared that the Government had gone back on its agreement with the city and the Canadian Pacific Railway, had failed to complete the Negro Point breakwater and had broken faith in other ways and that the people of Saint John were still enjoying the advantages of the "largest open air station in the world" despite a promise from Sir Henry Thornton that at least temporary accommodations would be built.

"My face began breaking out with pimples, first my forehead, then cheeks and chin, and it was an awful looking sight. The pimples were hard and red and after a time came to a head and scaled over. They were very painful at times and the trouble lasted about three months. I tried different remedies without any benefit. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I was completely healed after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." Is New Rector

REV. JOHN UNSWORTH

John, Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, K.C., and Col. W. H. Harrison addressed those assembled. Harry Green acted as chairman of the meeting.

Dr. MacLaren said he was glad to meet the people of the north end. How did they regard the way in which the country had been governed for the last four years? he asked. Had they been satisfied and had the result been such that they would feel they should continue to support the Government? He believed that no one was satisfied with the Government or with what it had accomplished. There had never been a record of a party newly coming into power losing prestige in such a way, he said.

THINKS KING NERVOUS.

He thought the Prime Minister was extraordinarily nervous or he would not be going about the country making such frantic appeals for support and promises of lavish expenditure. Mr. King had failed to make any promises while here but had asked what were Maritime Rights? He had apparently forgotten to study this question, the speaker said.

On the other hand, Mr. King had gone to the Northwest and said he would complete the Hudson Bay railway if they would give him enough representatives. There had been no question of expense, the number of representatives.

SEES TWO PROBLEMS.

Mr. King had made Vincent Massey a member of his cabinet and had asked the premiers of Saskatchewan and Manitoba to join it. These gentlemen had wisely told him they would become cabinet members after the Government had been returned to power.

There were two great problems facing the Maritime provinces as a whole, immigration and emigration. It was strange that a new country should have both these problems. He would complete the Hudson Bay railway with good people coming in, immigration was important for the country. The Government had been unfortunate, however, in spending a great deal of money, more than had ever been spent before, and in failing to make the move a success. Why was this, he asked.

In the first place, he said, the Government had been unable to carry out its policy, showing the same inability to handle the problem that he had evidenced in regard to other questions.

It had brought fine settlers from the Hebrides, where they had formerly combined farming and fishing as a means of livelihood and where they had always been right by the sea, and had placed them on the island sections of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. When the north of New Brunswick, the shores of the Bay of Fundy, Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island offered them more homelike surroundings, the Government had overlooked this fact, he continued.

PUTS EMIGRATION FIRST.

The second fault with the immigration policy was that many did not want to come to a country where there was not a sufficient home market for agricultural products and where an unstable market did not protect their jobs in factories.

Then there were many people who did not want immigration until there were enough jobs found for our own native born people. Conditions were bad when the country could not employ even its own citizens.

Why did so many cross the borders to the United States, he asked. More than 400,000 had left the country in this way. He declared that the Government would have done more good if it had studied some means of preventing this exodus instead of going ahead with an imperfect immigration policy.

SAYS EAST GOT LITTLE.

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowsmith, Ont. - "I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it just as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others." Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowsmith, Ontario.

MANY ASSEMBLE FOR INDUCTION

Rev. J. Unsworth Formally Installed as St. George's Rector.

Bishop Richardson Officiated at Ceremony and Other Clergymen Attend.

Impressively the solemn service of the Anglican Church was carried out as His Lordship Bishop Richardson last night officiated at the induction of Rev. John Unsworth as rector of St. George's church in West Saint John. The auditorium of the church was filled by the large congregation present. Bishop Richardson, his eloquent exhortation of rector and congregation told of the high calling of the rector and the duties of pastor and people. Clergymen present in the sanctuary were Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crawford, Rev. Canon R. P. McKim, Rural Dean Rev. W. H. Sampson, retired rector of St. George's church, Rev. A. L. Fleming, rector of St. John's church, of which Mr. Unsworth was former rector, Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, Rev. R. T. McKim and Rev. F. J. LeRoy. The full surpliced choir of the church led in the singing of the special hymns and during the taking of the offertory sang the anthem "How Beautiful are the Mountains," with Herbert Stachhouse as soloist. Miss Maria Beatey was at the organ.

OPENING SERVICE.

The opening service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Sampson who read the first lesson. The second lesson was read by Rev. A. L. Fleming. Archdeacon Crawford put the solemn questions to the new rector to which he made the responses. When the Bishop had offered the prayer for blessing Mr. Unsworth was escorted to the door of the church where he received the symbols of his entry into possession, the keys of the church and the corporate rights which were presented to him by the church wardens, W. B. Scudder and Harry McLeod. After the new rector returned to the chancel he was escorted by the Bishop to the font, reading desk, pulpit and altar and at each station pledged himself to fulfill the duties referred to.

BISHOP RICHARDSON.

In his address Bishop Richardson extended congratulations to the new rector and to the people. The Bishop used the parable of the Good Shepherd to illustrate his sermon on the duties of the rector and his relationship with the congregation. He recalled that 28 years ago when he was rector of Trinity church he had been greatly strengthened by the faithful friendship of the men who had met with him and prayed with him and he mentioned in this connection the names of Thomas Patton, Charles Kinnear and Dr. Scudder. The Bishop concluded by urging the congregation to pray for their rector whose ministry must be one of love and service.

Among those in the congregation were Rev. W. McN. Matthews, minister of the First United Church, West Saint John, Rev. E. E. Styles, pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. E. A. Brown, of Hammond River and Rev. James Dinlop, of Central Baptist church.

Mr. Meighen had been blamed for the taking over of the Portland terminals, he said, but he had not intended that when the former Conservative Government took over the Grand Trunk rather than have it go bankrupt during the war. He said that he had not intended that when the Liberals had had control of it for four years, he said, and they had not done anything. They could have shut it down completely.

EXPORTS THROUGH U. S.

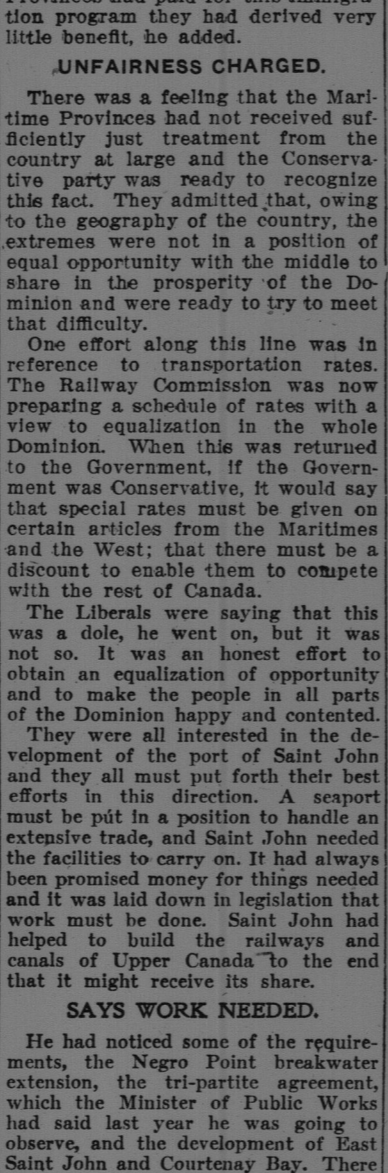

He must not forget Sir Henry Thornton's gesture, he said. Sir Henry had offered to sell the terminals behind it. He thought this might be a good idea but that the time to suggest it was not right on the eve of an election.

MR. BELL SPEAKS.

Mr. Bell was the next speaker. He was a newcomer as a candidate, he said, but had entered the field on the invitation of his friends, who felt that a business man would be a help to the party. If elected he could promise only to do his best as a business man.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS.

He would have been better satisfied if the Government had declared its intention of going ahead and using the port for a grain port, he said, while waiting the completion of the work.

OPPOSED TO PORTLAND.

Mr. Meighen had been blamed for the taking over of the Portland terminals, he said, but he had not intended that when the former Conservative Government took over the Grand Trunk rather than have it go bankrupt during the war. He said that he had not intended that when the Liberals had had control of it for four years, he said, and they had not done anything. They could have shut it down completely.

SEES MORE TRAFFIC.

If some of these factories and thousands of others were working to capacity there would be much more freight business for the railways and the solution of the C. N. R. deficit would be nearer.

ASKS WHY THE WAIT.

Hon. Dr. Foster, he said, was publishing a manifesto saying that he was tired of running to Ottawa without getting the Government without getting an answer and wanted to be on the inner circle. He felt that, if Dr. Foster waited until he got anything from a Liberal Government, he would be waiting a long time.

N. S. MAN SLAYS SISTER AND ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Shooting Follows Request to Pay Something On His Board Bill

SLAYER KNOWN AS COMMUNITY BULLY

Son Finds Kitchen in Shambles; Neighbors Cower Outside

LIVERPOOL, N. S., Oct. 19 - As Henry Innes, 58-year-old bachelor, 100 pound giant, and neighborhood bully, was about to start on a moose hunting trip from the fishing hamlet of South West Port Moulton near here this morning, his sister, with whom he had been living, asked him to pay something on his board bill. He returned to the house and, using the .45 calibre big game rifle he carried, sent two bullets through the frail body of his sister, turned the gun upon himself and blew the top off his head.

Fearful neighbors and relatives cowered outside the farm house for more than an hour awaiting the arrival of the sheriff, but in the meantime the 7-year-old son of the dead woman arrived from duck hunting, entered the house and found the tidy kitchen turned into a shambles, in the midst of which reposed the dead bodies of his mother and uncle.

FEARED BY COMMUNITY

The dead woman, Mrs. Laura Thibeault, was the mother of six children. Innes had boarded with them for some time, but had been delinquent in payments and so evil a reputation had he gained as a bully that the Thibeaults were held in constant terror. He had served a sentence for pointing a gun at a relative and the entire community feared him.

ON SAD MISSION.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson R. Appleby arrived in the city on Tuesday of last week having returned from their home in Boston. They were called to Saint John by the serious illness of Mr. Appleby's father, Robert N. Appleby, and remained in the city until Friday, when they were obliged to return to Boston. Mr. Robert Appleby passed away early on Monday morning. While his son was not able to be with him at the last he had spent several days at his bedside before the end came. All of the other children were with their father when he died.

SHERIFF CALLED.

He therefore called the sheriff by telephone and with others who had heard the reports, settled down to wait outside the silent house.

SAYS AGREEMENT UNKEPT.

He declared the Government had violated the tri-partite agreement when the Canadian Pacific and the city had been ready to go ahead with their part of the building of a bath conservatory, for a pier and the construction of one new pier. If they had done what was asked the city would not have been forced to turn down the offer of the Anchor-Donaldson Line for a double schedule this season because of the lack of a berth to promise them.

HAS MUCH SUCCESS.

Miss S. A. Barrington, organizer of home nursing classes for the Red Cross Society in New Brunswick is meeting with much success in her visit to the northeastern part of the province. In a letter received at the Red Cross Depot yesterday Miss Barrington wrote that she would remain at Bathurst until today as she had already one class formed and started on the course of instruction. She had hopes of forming several more in Bathurst before leaving for Carleton on Wednesday.

Children's Colds

Are quickly, pleasantly relieved by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

If children's colds are got rid of promptly there will be less tendency to pneumonia and consumption in later life. It is the neglected, hanging-on cold that weakens the lungs and develops into serious trouble.

No treatment for coughs and colds was ever so popular with the children as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It is so pleasant to the taste, so delightfully soothing and healing and affords relief so quickly that children soon turn to it instinctively when choked up with a cold or annoyed by coughing.

BUCKET BRIGADE Keeps Loss Down
MONCTON, Oct. 19.—Fire damaged the new home of John Chase, near Humphreys' Mills, to the extent of $1,500 last night. The loss would have been much heavier had it not been for the assistance of neighbors who formed a bucket brigade. Mr. and Mrs. Chase were alone in the house at the time and they heard the roaring of the flames in the attic. They found that the fire was well under way and that it had originated apparently in the vicinity of the fire. The damage to the furniture is due largely to water and to breakage. There is some insurance.

Brokers' Opinions
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Houseman & Co.—"While the whole market has not reached a point where it is every man for himself, the crack in the motor stocks Saturday is a plain illustration of what can happen in a market which has reached the size of the present one."
Block Malone—"The market will presently get dull on local decline and then it will be in order to buy well-seasoned stocks."
Hornbrow—"We think the technical position of the market has improved sufficiently to make possible a turn in speculation to the rally, which, in our opinion, will be accompanied by a spell of high prices for industrial."

Morning Stock Letter
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—General satisfaction was expressed at the behavior of the market yesterday. After the violent liquidation of Saturday it was feared that margins would be tight and that consequently there would be an avalanche of selling orders yesterday morning. The selling, however, was heavy for a while admits no doubt, but the market rallied and a temporary respite has been the general belief, but the liquidation of Saturday and the fact that it has left them in a safer condition. The buying of the rally was therefore not to be most noticeable in the high-priced stocks, such as N. Y. C., Atchafson, L.V. and Nashville and Atl. Coast. The September 15th issue of the market will shortly come to hand, should make an extremely good showing. Judgment on the car-loaders during that month. Money was in good supply yesterday and it is believed that there will be any real stringency. Generally speaking, sentiment in the street was decidedly better yesterday than it was today. There is a growing belief that Mr. Mellon will, at least partially, succeed in endeavoring to persuade Congress to make material reductions in tax rates. Should the super-tax undergo reduction, rich men, who have for some time held aloof from the market, will doubt come into it.

Current Events
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Hudson Motor Cars made reductions of $20 on coach models and $40 on touring, effective today.
Barnet Leather retires $500,000 preferred, leaving $1,000,000 outstanding.
Oil and Gas Journal estimates domestic production crude oil last week 2,298,408 barrels daily, decrease 6,978 from preceding week.
Twenty industrials 148.53, up .84; twenty rails, 103.85, up 1.78, new high.

The value of wood pulp exported in September was $4,943,226, an increase of $1,021,069 over the previous month and the highest monthly total recorded since 1920.
Exports of paper in September were valued at $8,542,780, an increase of $64,327 over the previous month.

Barn and Contents In Albert Co. Burn
HOPEWELL HILL, Oct. 19.—J. Westley Newcomb suffered severe loss today when his barn was totally destroyed by fire, together with hay stored for the winter, a large quantity of wood and vegetables and 10 bags of cement. The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It is not known how it started. Besides the barn and contents other smaller buildings adjoining were burned but the flames did not reach the house. There was no insurance.

Crime Costs Large Amount In Chicago
CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Crime in Chicago costs the city so much each year that it could well afford to give each of its estimated 30,000 crooks $20,000 annually or $600,000,000 to leave town.
C. R. Holden, president of the Chicago crime commission, told this to a church audience yesterday. He estimated that approximately one per cent of the city's 3,000,000 population are engaged in criminal pursuits and asserted that crime had increased 100 per cent here since 1900.

RESCUED MEN BROUGHT HERE

Five Saved from Schooner Emily, Abandoned After Wild Battering
Sailors on Liquor Laden Ship of Parrsboro Had Hard Time.

Five members of the crew saved from the 52 ton Parrsboro, N. S. schooner Emily, which was abandoned off Sable Island on Oct. 12, arrived here on the R. M. S. P. liner Chaleur yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and in an interview with The Times-Star, told a story of hardships while drifting about the North Atlantic on a helpless vessel for ten days and nights. The seamen are A. Parker, A. Newcomb, T. W. Brown, C. Grosvenor and T. Leaker, and their destination is Parrsboro, at which port they shipped on the ill-fated schooner. They state that they signed on at Parrsboro on the Emily, which was in command of Capt. W. W. Lamb. The vessel proceeded to St. Pierre, Miquelon, where she took on a cargo of 2,100 cases of liquor and after clearing for Nassau, sailed from St. Pierre on Oct. 1. The vessel had been to sea only two days and nights when it ran into a very bad storm.

The wind was blowing a gale and the seas were running mountains high. Sails were shortened but despite this precaution the vessel was continually breaking over her. In a short space of time the gas and booms were broken as was also some of the stuning rigging. Captain Lamb and other members of the crew worked under extreme difficulties and danger trying to effect repairs but were unable to do about and the seas were continually breaking over her. FAMOUS WRITER TO BE HERE THIS WEEK

Much Interest Taken in Coming of Charles G. D. Roberts to Lecture.

The visit of Charles G. D. Roberts to Saint John this week has aroused keen interest. It is about 20 years since the famous son of New Brunswick, "Dean of Canadian Literature" as he is styled, has visited Saint John, and residents of the city are eagerly looking forward to the opportunity of hearing him speak here. Charles George Douglas Roberts was born at Douglas, near Fredericton, a son of Rev. Canon G. Goodridge Roberts, rector of Fredericton, and received his education in the Fredericton collegiate school under Dr. George R. Parkin, C.M.G., eminent educationist and orator and Rhodes Scholarship trustee, who was afterwards Charles G. D. Roberts graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1876, winning the Douglas silver medal for Latin and Greek, the alumni gold medal for Latin essay and taking honors in metaphysics, ethics and political economy. For a time he was headmaster of Chatham Grammar School and then for ten years he was professor of English and French literature at King's College, Windsor. He has recently been a guest at King's College in Halifax and was given a royal reception. He served overseas in the Great War and wrote part of the official record of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, "Canada in Flanders." His fame as a writer of stories of Canadian wild life, as a novelist and as a poet has circled the globe and his writings are read wherever English is spoken. He speaks in Saint John, under the auspices of the High School Alumnae, and his visit has been planned for many months past.

MANAGER HENDRICKS DENIES THAT LUQUE WILL GO TO GIANTS

UNCLE SAM TO GET $118,000 FOR BIG GAMES

Washington Scout Is Given $150 Gold Watch

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20.—In commenting on a proposed deal which would send Pitcher Luque to the Giants, Jack Hendricks, manager of the Reds, has this to offer: "Luque is not going to the New York club. Wait, I'll qualify that; Luque might go to the Giants, if we get Frisch. We are not working to improve the New York club but our own."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Uncle Sam's split on the 1925 world's series amounts to $118,000, according to the figures made public by the Internal Revenue Bureau. This tax was levied on admissions but the aged gentleman will likely receive a further cut in the shape of taxes from ticket brokers and on the income of the players, managers, and magnates.

Joe Engle, veteran Washington scout, was given a $150 gold watch as his share of the world's series spoils. The 95 players receiving a full share of the spoils' end voted the ivory hunter the watch although his activities toward losing the series, were confined to the combing of the sticks. Veach received $1,500 as his share, while the others share partially include Ballou and Ogden $1,000 each; Jeanes and Myer $500 each, and the clubhouse boy and the grounds keeper $500 each.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—As a result of Roger Peckinpaugh's erratic world's series fielding, it is likely that the announcement of the American League's most valuable player award will be held off, next year, until after baseball's blue ribbon event is history. Peck says entering the series with this honor is so much ball and chain on his hands.

According to a report received here Johnson is said already to be in the shape as the result of a series of fights on the Coast. He now weighs 208 pounds.

LOUIS GREEN'S FOR PIPES

SAVE THE COUPONS

Hope Dims For The International Fishermen's Race This Year

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLAP.

SOME IDEA of the interest being taken in the track meet for girls of the city to be staged on the South End grounds on Saturday afternoon next can be obtained from the fact that there are more than half a hundred entries already in. The Y. W. C. A. is promoting the meet, which is the second one of its kind ever held here. Toronto goes in for this quite strong and has already produced some world's champions. Who knows we may have some around here in view of the great success attained by our male athletes? There will be nine events, including a relay, the 100 yards, the 50 yards, the 60-yards hurdles, the running high, the running broad, the standing broad, the shot put, and throwing the basketball. Entries will close on Wednesday and all the fair young ladies who entertain any sneaking notions of their athletic ability are advised to get their names in early. That relay race is bound to be some exciting as it is known that several teams have been entered and there is some keen rivalry between them. All the promoters want now is just a little weather and they say they'll produce some feminine athletic performances that will do credit to the Loyalist City.

NEWS COMES from Sydney, Australia, that Major Goodsell and James Paddon will compete for the world's sculling championship at Paramatta River on Nov. 7 for £200 a side. This match originally was set for Sept. 26. Up here, we'll be sharpening our skates by that time.

BULL-FIGHTING in Spain is having a tough job to hold its place in the affections of the Spanish people with English soccer giving it a great run for the money, according to reports from the land of castanets and toreros these days. In fact, soccer is rapidly becoming the Game of All Peoples, for not only is it strongly entrenched in most of the European countries, South America, Australia, South Africa, Canada and the United States but even in Japan and other Far-East countries. Just last year, international soccer matches between picked teams representing Canada and the United States were commenced, the game resulting in a win for Canada by a narrow margin. This year, the teams meet again on November 8. Ebbetts Field probably will be the scene of this meeting and a great deal of interest is being aroused in it in Brooklyn and New York with the newspapers giving it a real boost. The success of the Canadian team on its tour of Australia last year shows that Canada has some real first-class players, and it would occasion no surprise to see them beat their United States brethren again this year.

THOSE Kings county schoolboys are having a lot of fun out of their league this year. So far, Sussex is leading, having beaten Hampton, 3 to 0, at the dairy center. The Hampton boys think they can reverse this in the return game at Hampton. We shall see.

UPSETS all over the map featured the results of week-end United States football. Holy Cross downed Harvard, 7 to 6; Army beat Notre Dame, 27 to 0; the Navy held Princeton to a tie; Yale was beaten for the first time by University of Pennsylvania; Illinois was beaten 12 to 10 by Iowa after "Red" Grange had put Illinois into the lead right at the start with an 80-yard touchdown from kickoff. And so, all down the line. Football is getting about as easy to guess as playing the ponies. Next Saturday, Dartmouth goes to Harvard; Yale meets Brown at Providence; Notre Dame tackles Minnesota; Pennsylvania goes to Chicago, while Princeton entertains Colgate. There looks to be enough even in this line-up for plenty of excitement for the hundreds of thousands of football fans on the other side of the line.

"Babe" Ruth and Party Here To Hunt Big Game

PERTH, Oct. 19.—Eddie Collins, Joe Bush, Babe Ruth, Bob Shawkey, Muddy Ruel, Benny Bengough and George Capps, big league baseball stars, passed through today on their way to the Tobique. They were met at Fort Fairfield, Me., at noon by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce who welcomed them to Maine and tendered them a big dinner at the Plymouth Hotel. About a hundred business men were present who entertained with songs and speeches. Al Walkin was largely responsible for the success of the entertainment and Phil Roberts, bartender, was toastmaster. The affair "drew" a big crowd. Each player received as a souvenir a water-proof match case stuck in a good Aroostook potato. Charlie Cronin, a noted New Brunswick guide, then took charge of the sportsmen and they continued their journey to the Tobique where they will spend two or three weeks hunting moose and deer. During the dinner the players expressed their appreciation of the hospitality shown and autographed some baseballs which will be given as prizes to deserving boys.

President Ahern Says Club to Retain Present Lineup

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—With reference to recent offers to the Ottawa hockey players from the management of the New York Hockey Club, Frank Ahern, in a statement issued, makes it clear that none of the Ottawa players are for sale. Mr. Ahern states that he has assurance of the president of the New York Hockey Club, Colonel Hammond, to the effect that that club does not desire to do anything to create dissatisfaction or interfere with the success of the Ottawa organization. The Canadian committee postponed the combined race because of financial inability to stage both an elimination and international contest. The American committee's telegram read as follows: "Answering yours 18th: Committee considers proposal impracticable for schooner Columbia to compete in Nova Scotia elimination race, believing international contest should be continued as heretofore. Committee can only reiterate desire to sail your best available vessel under terms of deed of gift."

Playing Managers In Big Leagues Success This Year

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor.
Three managers in the major leagues who took upon their shoulders the added burden of playing and handling a club, made such a success in their first season that they are assured of permanent jobs.

Rogers Hornsby, Dave Bancroft and Eddie Collins, three of the best playing names in baseball, did almost as well in handling their clubs as they did on the field individually.
Hornsby, given his first chance as a manager when Branch Rickey was deposited as the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was a conspicuous success. He landed the Cards in fourth place, where the team will share in the world's series receipts, after they had finished in sixth place last year.

In addition to showing rare judgment in the handling of the St. Louis pitchers, Hornsby added further to his personal laurels by winning the National League batting championship for six straight years and by winning the major league home run hitting honors. Hornsby made two new records. He broke his own record, made last year when he led the league in batting for five years and he established a new record by hitting 400 or better four years in a row.
He is, without a doubt, the greatest player in the National League.

Art Nehf, the veteran pitching star of the New York Giants and one of the smartest players in the National League, said recently:
"Hornsby's real playing ability is not recognized because he is denominated principally as a hitter. If he didn't have such a batting average the fans might begin to notice that he is one of the best fielding second basemen in baseball—if he is not actually the best."
There was some surprise occasioned when John McGraw permitted Dave Bancroft to leave the New York Giants and assume the management of the Boston Braves.

Bancroft's McGraw said, "was one of the hardest workers and smartest players I ever had and I would not stand in the way when he had a chance for promotion. I think he'll make good as a manager because he's got enough to give up a good job to become the manager of a tail-end team."
Bancroft led the Braves from last place in 1924 to fifth place this year, and he finished ahead of Brooklyn, the second place club of last year, and the Chicago Cubs, a club that was expected to be a leading contender this year.

He didn't have much help in doing it, but the players worked with him and he had the valuable assistance of several fine young pitchers. It is no consolation to manage an ordinary ball club when your future depends on one showing, under the hand of Bancroft played the best ball he ever did before.
Eddie Collins, one of the greatest second basemen of all times, waited for years to get a chance as a manager, but when it finally came he made good from the start. He had his team in the first division up to the last quarter of the race, but was nosed out at the finish by Detroit and finished in fifth place. It was a much better spot than the cellar which the Sox graced last year.

Bucky Harris, perhaps the most successful of the playing managers, certainly is in no danger of his job. His contract has another year to run and it is very likely that he can make his own terms when he has to talk business again.
Some smart baseball men said that

AUDIENCE LIKED GOOSE HANGS HIGH

Opera House Play Delights Audiences and Has Telling Lesson.

Something out of the ordinary—a play which delights, amuses and at the same time carries with it a telling lesson—is "The Goose Hangs High," presented to an almost capacity audience last evening at the Opera House by the F. James Carroll Opera House.

A simple tale of parental love that plays on the heartstrings, and if a few tears are shed by the audience during its presentation, it is only an indication that the full wealth of the moral taught has been brought home. The story is that of a trio of children who accept all the care and luxury showered upon them by loving parents who at times are forced to deny themselves almost everything to gratify the wishes of their offspring. It is not until they find that father and mother are facing something akin to poverty that the spirit of the older folk is reflected in the youngsters and the years of sacrifice are rewarded.

Helen Louise Lewis and Gordon Anderson were perhaps the high lights of the play, portraying the parts of the younger twins of the family. They injected a care-free naturalness into their roles, and, in the succeeding developments of the play moved the audience, first to roars of laughter and then to a tightening of the throat, accompanied by tears. Their work was of a high order.
Equally meritorious, however, were the performances of William Townshend and Irene Hubbard as the fond parents. Both gave excellent character representations, their interpretations of the finer parts of the drama being especially well drawn and clearly enacted.

A third pair, who went a long way to making the play a success were Edward Callen, as the elder son, a little bit more appreciative of the parental sacrifice than the twins, and just as ready when the time came to give all to help mother and dad out of their difficulties; and Allys Dwyer, as his fiancée. Although her part was not so prominent as the others Miss Dwyer, with her cultured manner, charming

QUEEN SQUARE HAS POWERFUL PICTURE

The When is Well Played With Cast That Includes Notables.

If you like your thrills and drama blended nicely and in pleasant doses, "The Wheel," at the Queen Square Theatre, will fill the requirements to a "4," according to those who saw this William Fox screen version of John Golden's stage success last evening.

Dealing with the lure and vice of gambling, Winchell Smith has shown in very effective fashion the ends to which a man may go who is forced to the wall bit by bit, through losses in the corridors of chance.
"The Wheel," however, is not a bitter, gruesome narrative of concentrated lights, and an Artists' Ball, speeding automobiles, slumming trips—are some of the things she uses to inject a thrill into her life, over the many protests of her devoted but conservative suitor.

To tell the climax of the story wouldn't be fair to those who are planning to see the picture, but it ends as the story is of a girl who spends her life in quest of excitement. Prize fights, and an Artists' Ball, speeding automobiles, slumming trips—are some of the things she uses to inject a thrill into her life, over the many protests of her devoted but conservative suitor.

There is strength in the situation of the woman who frees her husband to test her claim on his affection on fair terms with the woman who has waited for him. And there is the strength of admiration in Sills' return after eight years of war blindness in France seeking a cure to find his old family swept up in the jazz delirium that swept the world at the end of the last war.
Phyllis Haver, May Allison and Paul Nicholson show to advantage in their various roles, and Kate Bruce is a sweet screen mother.

REBUILDING OF CARLETON CITY HALL IS ASKED

Progressive Association Also Requests Fire Equipment Investigation.

LETTER IS SENT TO CITY AUTHORITIES

Delegation to Back Up Matter at Council Meeting on Thursday

The West Saint John Progressive Association today presented to the city authorities a request that the Carleton City Hall, destroyed by fire recently, be rebuilt at once and in such a way as to provide for the requirements of the West Side for community purposes. The association also feels that the fire equipment on the western side of the harbor is not up to date and is inadequate and that this is in part responsible for the loss of the building. The association is asking for the appointment of an independent commission to make investigation of the fire fighting equipment in that part of the city.

DELEGATION THURSDAY

These requests were presented in the form of a letter to the Common Council and will be backed up by a delegation of the association which will attend at City Hall on next Thursday morning, seeking a hearing on the subjects set forth. The delegation will consist of the members of the association and will be headed by the following: Mr. Wardrop, the Common Clerk; Mr. H. E. Wardrop, Esq., Common Clerk, City of Saint John, N. B.

At a meeting of the executive of the West Saint John Progressive Association, held on the evening of Friday, October 10th, on motion the following resolutions were duly approved, and this executive was instructed to present copies of these resolutions to the Common Council of the City of Saint John at their first meeting:

"In view of the fact that the City Hall, West Saint John, which was recently destroyed by fire, was erected by funds provided by West Saint John citizens, namely, through water taxes and fishermen's bounty monies, therefore be it resolved that this association request the Common Council of the City of Saint John, that the said City Hall be rebuilt forthwith, and that it should be so constructed as to meet all West Saint John community purposes. It is further resolved that any plans for rebuilding said City Hall should be submitted to the West Saint John Progressive Association as representative of the West Saint John citizens."

FOR INVESTIGATION

"Whereas at the recent burning of the City Hall, West Saint John, it was clearly demonstrated that the equipment and apparatus in use by the fire department in West Saint John is most inadequate and of obsolete type, and, whereas the loss of the before mentioned building was in great part due to such condition, be it resolved that this association request the Common Council of the City of Saint John, to at once institute an investigation by an independent commission with respect to all West Saint John fire fighting apparatus and equipment."

On behalf of the WEST SAINT JOHN PROGRESSIVE ASSOCIATION.

SAYS 44 BEER FAILURE

J. Labatt, of the London, Ont. brewing firm, passed through the city to the East today. In discussing the permitted 44 Ontario brew he declared it was considered by most people to be a complete failure. The brewers were still making it, however, and so far as further legislation to increase the strength of the beverage was concerned no steps had yet been taken although there was considerable pressure being brought to bear.

KEEPS BOTTLE IN MERRY CHASE

Colored Man Captured Near Market Square After Run

Customs and Police Officers are Prisoners—Haled Before Acting Collector.

A wild chase by a customs officer and a police officer after a colored man who had a bottle of alleged smuggled rum ended near Market Square about 10.15 o'clock last night when the officers captured their quarry. In spite of his desperate sprint for liberty the colored man kept a tight grip on his bottle and when rounded up still had it with him.

Customs Officer J. Butler became suspicious of a man in Water street last evening and, it was said, commenced to search him for liquor. The man dashed off in the direction of Thorne's wharf closely pursued by the customs man who picked up Sergeant McLeese of the local police force on the way. They went hot foot down the wharf with the colored man still in the lead. Round the end of the wharf the fugitive with the bottle grasped in his hand and his arms working like windmills.

Instead of dropping the "evidence" overboard into the harbor he had it when captured. He informed his capturers, it was said, that he had purchased the rum from a colored man on a steamer. Efforts to locate any trace of this other man failed.

The colored man was brought before Acting Collector of Customs S. W. Wilkins this morning and the latter is forwarding a report to Ottawa. Meanwhile the authorities are endeavoring to trace the man who sold him the liquor. The liquor was labeled "Three Crown Rum," bottled in Dominica. He said that he paid $2.50 for it. The authorities withhold his name.

CHALEUR SEAMAN FALLS INTO HARBOR

M. John Rescued Promptly—Rope Parts and He Falls Into Water.

Thrown into the cold waters of the harbor between the steamer Chaleur and the McLeod wharf, M. John, a seaman on that vessel, was saved from a watery grave by the prompt action of his shipmates this morning about 8 o'clock. The man appeared little the worse of his experience.

The seaman was working on a swinging stage along the side of the vessel, scraping off the paint, when one of the ropes parted and he fell into the water. His shipmates noted the accident and a rope ladder was lowered to the struggling seaman. He caught the end of it and was able to climb up the ship's side unaided.

CHANCERY COURT

Westmorland County Partition Matter Decided by Mr. Justice White.

At the October sitting of the Chancery Court which was held here this morning, Mr. Justice White delivered judgment in the case of Margaret F. H. Lea by Marion I. Lea her guardian, vs. Sophie Brancome et al. This was an action for the partition of lands of Sarah E. Barnes who died intestate, the property being situated in Westmorland county. The court was not entirely satisfied that the evidence showed there might not be other heirs, but made an order that the property might be partitioned with the understanding that, should any other heirs appear, they would derive their share with the others.

Only one minor application occupied the attention of the court as new business after which adjournment was made sine die.

New Gas Benches Ready This Month

The N. B. Power Company announced this morning that the work of installing the two new benches in the power plant has practically been completed and that they will be in full operation by the end of the month. Several new features have been introduced in the construction of each bench. A mechanical plunger is to take care of coke removal, which formerly had to be done by hand. It is estimated that the production capacity of the plant will be increased ten per cent, as a result of the installation of the new units. The cost of installation is said to be approximately $40,000.

THREE BIRTHDAYS

Three birthdays were observed at the home of Mrs. J. Short, 54 Bridge street, on last Saturday. First, 12 little friends of her daughter Iris, aged 11 years, and her son John, aged one year, gathered at their home and helped them celebrate their natal day. After a dainty tea a merry time was spent in games and music. In the evening in honor of the 20th birthday of Miss Cressie Staley, of England, about 20 friends gathered in a happy party. Games and music and dancing were enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. H. J. Sheehan was convener for a bridge of seven tables at Rosary Hall last evening for the benefit of the institution. The rooms were very prettily decorated and the evening greatly enjoyed. Mrs. M. A. Quinn and Mrs. James T. McGowen were the prize winners. REBUILDING OF CARLETON CITY HALL IS ASKED

Progressive Association Also Requests Fire Equipment Investigation.

LETTER IS SENT TO CITY AUTHORITIES

Delegation to Back Up Matter at Council Meeting on Thursday

The West Saint John Progressive Association today presented to the city authorities a request that the Carleton City Hall, destroyed by fire recently, be rebuilt at once and in such a way as to provide for the requirements of the West Side for community purposes. The association also feels that the fire equipment on the western side of the harbor is not up to date and is inadequate and that this is in part responsible for the loss of the building. The association is asking for the appointment of an independent commission to make investigation of the fire fighting equipment in that part of the city.

DELEGATION THURSDAY

These requests were presented in the form of a letter to the Common Council and will be backed up by a delegation of the association which will attend at City Hall on next Thursday morning, seeking a hearing on the subjects set forth. The delegation will consist of the members of the association and will be headed by the following: Mr. Wardrop, the Common Clerk; Mr. H. E. Wardrop, Esq., Common Clerk, City of Saint John, N. B.

At a meeting of the executive of the West Saint John Progressive Association, held on the evening of Friday, October 10th, on motion the following resolutions were duly approved, and this executive was instructed to present copies of these resolutions to the Common Council of the City of Saint John at their first meeting:

"In view of the fact that the City Hall, West Saint John, which was recently destroyed by fire, was erected by funds provided by West Saint John citizens, namely, through water taxes and fishermen's bounty monies, therefore be it resolved that this association request the Common Council of the City of Saint John, that the said City Hall be rebuilt forthwith, and that it should be so constructed as to meet all West Saint John community purposes. It is further resolved that any plans for rebuilding said City Hall should be submitted to the West Saint John Progressive Association as representative of the West Saint John citizens."

FOR INVESTIGATION

"Whereas at the recent burning of the City Hall, West Saint John, it was clearly demonstrated that the equipment and apparatus in use by the fire department in West Saint John is most inadequate and of obsolete type, and, whereas the loss of the before mentioned building was in great part due to such condition, be it resolved that this association request the Common Council of the City of Saint John, to at once institute an investigation by an independent commission with respect to all West Saint John fire fighting apparatus and equipment."

On behalf of the WEST SAINT JOHN PROGRESSIVE ASSOCIATION.
CECIL E. R. STRANGE, Secretary.
