"Later in the evening he again called upon O'Ferral's rooms, and this time it was the correspondent himself who answered the phone.

"Hello, Steve," said he. "Get my message." "I did. I've sent an answer already. How did you happen across the ad?"

"Facility of observation again, I suppose," came the cheery reply. "Hope you'll have luck with it, Steve. I'm only sorry I can't do better than that to help you. I'm off tomorrow."

"The devil you are!" A long pause. "When you think you'll be back?" "No idea at all. Wish I had! Ani, say, Steve. Don't tell anyone that I'm out of town. No, not even Corroyer. Keep an eye on him for me. He's not a bad sort when you know him. Must ring off now. Good-bye, Steve.

"Good-bye, old chap, and the best of luck. Let me know here when you return."

"Right."

Quintance hung up the receiver sorrowfully. He would be still more lonely without O'Ferral, and of late the feeling of loneliness had grown upon him. He was no longer quietly content with the company of an unknown multitude. His views change since the afternoon on which he had first walked up Fifth Avenue on his return from exile. For two more long days he scanned the country without avail, and waited with all the patience which he could muster, an answer to his modest request that the owners of the Cadillac advertisement for sale would not, on any account, part with it before affording him an opportunity of inspection.

Returning from a very dusty pilgrimage on the second of these, fortune favored him with a little encouragement, bringing enough but none the less to be accepted in the shape of a business-like note to say that the Cadillac car was glad to show him the Cadillac car any afternoon he might care to call. The address given was near Stornport, Long Island, and there were full directions for reaching it.

He opened his map and picked out Stornport among the tiny villages on the north shore of Peconic Bay. Then he looked at the letter again and frowned as he studied the crabbed hand-writing which might have been either man's or woman's, on the sheet of cheap note-paper. On the whole, he was much inclined to doubt whether the car could be what he wanted. But, at the same time, he meant to see both it and F. Smith. He would not let any chance, however remote, escape him.

He set forth for Stornport's early next morning, and made such speed on the journey that he came near to involving himself with the law authorities on that score before he had come to the more open roads where there were no plain-dresses policemen.

He had a perfect day for his expedition. A cool sea-breeze was sweeping across the island and kept the dust down. He got to Riverhead clean and comfortable, in good time for lunch and conscious of a keen appetite. When he went on again, to temper the tang of the salt air which grew ever stronger as he caught more frequent glimpses of the grey water, he was at peace with the world about him, even optimistic as to his prospects there.

It was in such circumstances, under the clear, clear sky, among green, open fields set with deep, dusky woods and thickets all scented of the sea, that he would have found a lady of his dreams to temper the tang of the salt air which grew ever stronger as he caught more frequent glimpses of the grey water, he was at peace with the world about him, even optimistic as to his prospects there.

"I think it was this one," he maintained, and she let his contention pass without either assent or contradiction. He found her nigardness of speech highly aggravating.

"A bright thought suddenly struck him. He made a most workmanlike examination of every vital part.

"Is four-fifty the least you'll take?" he asked, for the sake of appearance, and he relaxed her air of detachment a little.

"It is worth more," she said, with the first sign of feeling she had yet shown, a faint expression of anxiety in her eyes. "It is worth more. I would not be willing to take less, and I ask so little because I desire to sell at once."

"All right, then," he answered. "I'll take it. If you will allow me to write you a cheque and let me have your receipt we can call the deal square."

But the suggestion did not seem to meet with her approval either. She glanced toward the closed door under the porch, and again at him.

"If you will let me have the cheque when you come or send for the car, that will be sufficient," she differed. "Then I will give a receipt also."

Quintance smiled inwardly. He had foreseen as much.

"I mean to take it away with me now, if I may," he said pleasantly. "My car will tow it with ease, and—"

She made up her mind to accept of the inevitable, although with ill enough grace. "There's only the kitchen," she said doubtfully, but turned toward it without further speech.

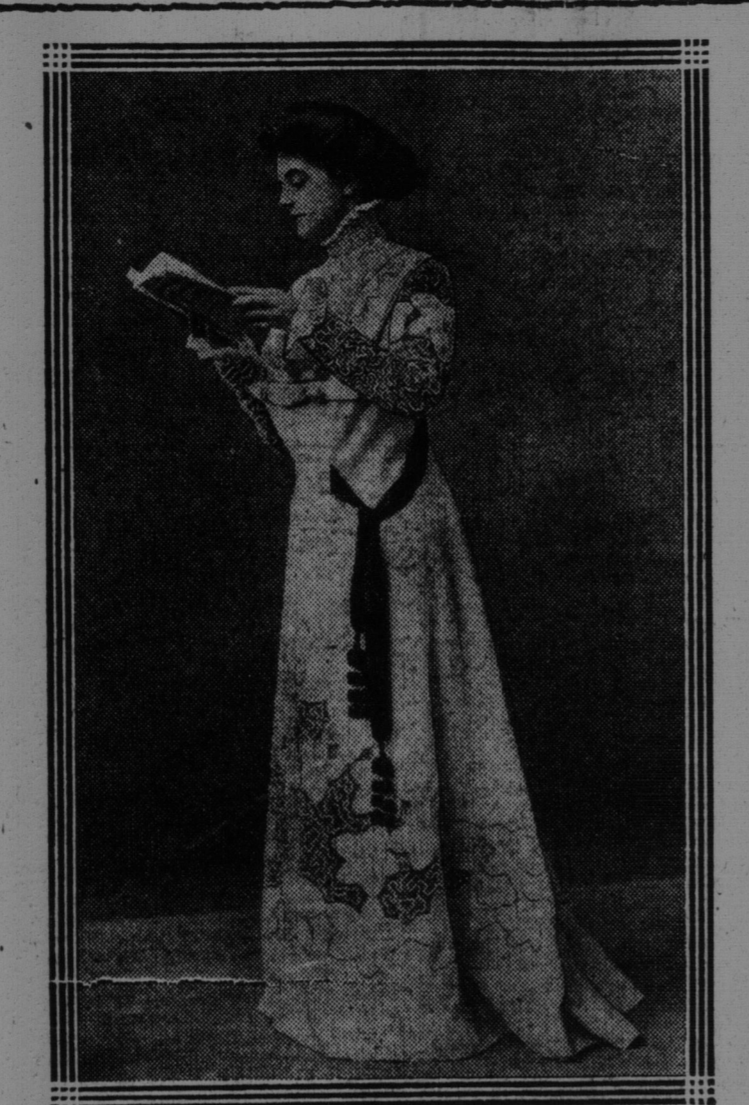

He followed her dumbly, well pleased, through the porch into a small square room, which, except for the cook-stove, might have served for parlor, so comfortable was it furnished, so dainty were all its appointments. She crossed it, in haste to close the door which led through to a room adjoining, but not before he had caught a quick glimpse of its interior also. And what he saw caused him to draw a deep breath of contentment.

It was a sunny, pleasant chamber, with a wide window looking out to sea and a low couch thereat, upon which lay the selfsame hat the girl had worn at Martin's. But she herself was nowhere visible.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

Braided net will serve as a trimming for many of the summery lines, and this graceful one-piece model will suggest a new idea to the woman making up her summer wardrobe. Motifs of braided net are set into the skirt, and over this net and edging it are big conventional flowers of the linen, also braided with soutache. The sleeves carry out this trimming design and the square bertha which surrounds the yoke of lace insertion is braided with the soutache. The black satin girdle is a Parisian note with white frocks. Blackashes and black suede shoes both being worn with snow white frocks.

FIVE DROWNED YESTERDAY IN CANOEING ACCIDENTS

Danvers, Mass., April 19—The wild lashings of a heavy thinder equal on the usually placid waters of Little Middleton Pond were responsible early this evening for the death by drowning of three persons, when a frail canoe overturned with its four occupants, Ernest Norton, of Salem, cashier of the Merchants' National Bank in Boston, was saved.

The dead are: Victor Durgin, of Salem, automobile editor of the Boston Traveler, about 26 years old; Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton, two and a half years old; Of nearly a dozen persons watching from beneath the sheltered piazzas surrounding the pond, only one was a good swimmer. He was Matthew M. Merritt, of Danvers. Plunging into the pond, Mr. Merritt first encountered the form of Mr. Norton, then fatigued and nearly helpless after his short but strenuous battle for life. The transfer of the rescued man to a solid position on shore took some time, and when Mr. Merritt had reached the bank, although exhausted, he scanned the water for the other persons. They had sunk for the last time, however, and when their bodies were recovered, a short time after, life was extinct. The bodies of the mother and her child were close together, giving evidence of the mother's efforts in her dying moments to be near her baby.

Mr. Norton and his wife have for several years had a cottage on the shores of Middleton Pond. Annually, during this time, they have made a preliminary trip there on Patriot's Day, to look over their cottage and enjoy a little outing. Today they brought with them their infant son and Victor Durgin, a close friend of the family. After paddling across the pond this evening they started to return and had accomplished much of the distance to the opposite shore when a heavy squall broke out of a comparatively clear sky.

Mr. Norton and his wife and Durgin were experienced canoeists and made progress despite the contending elements. A few minutes later the mother and child were reached when a gust mightier than any preceding one overturned the frail craft, plunging its occupants into the water.

Lawrence, Mass., April 19—A canoe containing four young men was capsized late today and two of the occupants, Henry Crombie, aged 22, and William Farriesey, aged 19, both of this city, were drowned.

AMERICAN OFFICIAL COMMITTED SUICIDE

W. E. Bainbridge Who Shot Himself in Paris on Saturday Was Probably Insane From Overwork

Paris, April 19—The desk in the consulate of Wm. E. Bainbridge, confidential agent of the United States Treasury Department in charge of this Paris customs bureau, who committed suicide in this city Saturday, was opened this morning. It contained a box of cartridges, five of which were missing, and a slip of paper in Mr. Bainbridge's handwriting describing himself as "killed by" himself.

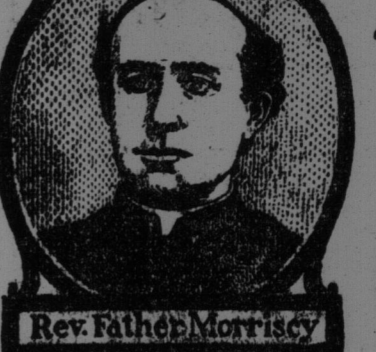

None of the official papers found, however, disclosed the slightest evidence that the applicant was dissatisfied with Mr. Bainbridge's work. Washington had sent neither criticism nor reproach, and a letter received this morning, from James Burton Reynolds, assistant secretary of the treasury, was of the most friendly character. The documents found confirmed the opinion that the applicant, at the consulate that Mr. Bainbridge had broken down from overwork, that he was temporarily insane, and that he led his life while suffering from the mania of persecution.

VESSEL HAS A CARGO FROM AMERICAN JUNGLES

Steamer, from Calcutta, Brings Hundreds of Wild Beasts Into Boston

Boston, Mass., April 18—One of the biggest and strangest consignments of wild animals ever imported into the United States came into Boston harbor late today aboard the Hansa liner from Calcutta, Tennessee. A number of man-eating apes from Borneo, 1,000 monkeys, a dozen or more forty-foot pythons, half a dozen beautiful plumed cassowaries and thousands of birds of rare and brilliant plumage, were aboard the vessel. The 8,000-mile voyage was full of trying experiences for the officers and men of the vessel. The richest Neuman's walrus was killed by one of the apes and painfully injured. Two days ago one of the apes jumped into the sea with its cage and the pythons took sick, and one which died yesterday, cast overboard outside of Boston light. The animals will not be unloaded here, but will go to New York with the vessel in a few days.

MONTCALM DID SPLENDID WORK

Ice Breaker "Bucking" St. Lawrence Flies Has Opened Navigation to Montreal Ten Days Earlier Than Last Year

Montreal, April 19—To the Montcalm belongs the chief credit of making possible navigation of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec, open today. The weather had something to do with it, but the Montcalm did most of the business. Since the 12th of January last, this 2,400 horse power ice breaker has "bucking" against ice, in a record attempt to clear the St. Lawrence.

Today the work was completed, and navigation is open ten days earlier than last year. For the good work done by the Montcalm, it might have been two weeks yet before the channel was clear.

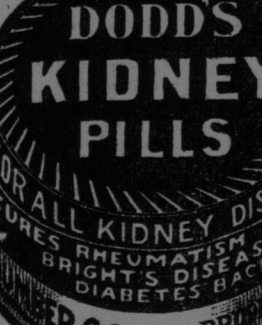

Next year, with equal facilities, it may be possible to open the St. Lawrence for navigation by April 10. The whole route to the sea is now open and ready for any steamer to come up to Montreal.

WHO KILLED MORIARTY

South Hadley Falls, Mass., April 18—The state police have been called to assist the local officers in fixing the responsibility for the death of John Moriarty, a plumber, about 22 years old, who lived with his two brothers over the latter's plumbing shop in this town. A doctor who was called in by Maurice Moriarty, one of the brothers, this afternoon, ordered John taken to the hospital, and he died tonight of a fractured skull. Maurice, the police say, knew nothing of his brother John's whereabouts until two o'clock this morning, when he broke in the door of the room in which John was lying. The story of Patrick, given out by the police, is different. He says he was in the room with the injured man all day, and Maurice did not have to force the door to gain entrance. He says John was carried home early this morning by two unknown men. He stayed with him thereafter. Where John received his injuries he did not know, he said.

GOOD BUSINESS DURING THE YEAR Report of International Harvester Company

Chicago, April 19.—The report of the International Harvester Company for 1908, made public today, is strong evidence of the prosperity enjoyed by the agricultural interests of the country during a year of general business depression.

Notwithstanding the reduction in the volume of business, the net profit was a slight increase over last year, the earnings in 1908 being $8,885,682, as against $8,090,457 in 1907.

During the year the company reduced its current liabilities from $19,500,412 to $14,066,025—a net reduction of $5,434,387.

The report indicates the very large working capital required in the manufacture of agricultural implements and similar appliances, and the liberal terms of credit extended to farmers.

Many improvements have been made in sanitation and ventilation at the factories, and the machinery is being constantly safeguarded to avoid accidents.

HOW A DREADNOUGHT IS BUILT AND WHY IT COSTS TEN MILLIONS

(London Daily Mail.) Long before a Dreadnought is actually laid down at least one hundred great firms in all parts of the country have been spurred into unusual activity.

The first step in the construction of a Dreadnought is the laying of the keel. This is done by the riveting of the iron plates which form the sides and bottom of the hull.

After these experiments the drawings are made, which are equivalent to an architectural plan. The drawings are then used to construct the hull of the ship.

Work in these departments goes on for months before the actual building is begun. The keel is laid, and the hull is riveted together.

Officially the building of a ship commences from the time the keel is laid. The hull is then riveted together, and the machinery is installed.

Every part is marked for position before it is fixed, and every pound of material built into the ship is carefully weighed, and an official receipt is given.

These have authorized aggregate construction of 63,800 tons. Of the companies incorporated only twenty-eight have constructed any railroads.

HARK WHILE JONAS HORNE AGAIN TWANGS THE LYRE

(New York Herald.) School historians have got it wrong, but now we'll be set right, for yesterday did Jonas Horne, of the baritone Belle White—the Belle lay by the Newtown Creek—give to the world the truth about that ancient Spanish chap who sought eternal youth.

"We stopped in Key West, going south—our crew was rather short—and ship- ped," said Horne, "old Lucas Star, a rather ancient sort; so old he was he couldn't tell his age, but then he knew a mighty lot of history and knew it blam- ed well, too. He knew, by gum, an awful lot that never came to light, especially of this man, Ponce. Says I to him one night—

"You must have known this Spanish sport, and then I wanted my eye. "Sure I knew Ponce," he says. "Why, we was partners, him and I."

There's a lot of fellows back in Spain who'd give their family tree to get some youth and beauty back. Now, then, Luke, you and me will start a Font of Youth and you can tend the bar, I'll send the news back home by ship. Unless I'm mighty far mistaken every rich old freak will sail here P. D. Q. HELPING THE MINISTER

The Standard continues to devote much of its editorial space to attacks upon Hon. Dr. Pugsley. In every issue the effort to discredit the minister is renewed, with the aid of quotations from other Conservative journals. One would think that the Standard, if it believes even a little of what it suggests or implies, would urge Dr. Daniel, or Mr. Crockett, or Mr. Foster, to make a direct charge against Dr. Pugsley, and bring him to the test. But the minister's enemies are careful not to take any such risk. It suits them much better to go on making indefinite statements and artful insinuations, and then to affect great astonishment and indignation that he does not immediately resign office. The net result of this kind of warfare is greater political strength for the minister. The public likes a man who fights in the open, and the enemies of Dr. Pugsley do not pursue that course. Nor do they learn anything from experience. For years they have been pursuing the same tactics, and Dr. Pugsley has gone steadily higher in public estimation and in the ranks of the public men of Canada. Not in a single instance have his political enemies been able to show that he was wrongfully diverted to his own use a dollar of public money. If he were the unscrupulous and grasping politician they would have the public believe him to be, it would be impossible for him always to escape detection, and there would be some particular case to which they could point and say, "This is true, because it has been proved." But they have proved nothing. The affair of the Mayes affidavit roused those who sought by that means to discredit and defeat him. The Central Railway Commission, partisan though it was, would not take the risk of making a direct charge against him. The Standard does not make any direct charges, but seeks by the old, familiar methods to excite prejudice. In the face of such tactics Dr. Pugsley does well to go calmly about his business, refusing to be intimidated or swayed from his course by enemies who shelter themselves behind affidavits and reports of partisan commissions. While Dr. Daniel and Mr. Foster are obstructing public business by grossly unfair attacks upon the minister, he is giving attention to the interests of the port of St. John, for which he has done more in a couple of years than the Conservatives did in their whole term in office. St. John people, with the exception of the bitter Conservative partisans, are made more friendly toward him because of the unfairness and the bitterness of the attacks which he is made the subject.

MILITARY DRILL

The Ontario Educational Association is sharply criticised by the Toronto Telegram for its recent deliverance on "militarism" in the schools. The Telegram says:

"Foreigners, west of Lake Superior, are not half as ignorant as certain members of the Ontario Educational Association east of Lake Superior. A Canadian who has studied the foreign population of, say, Regina at close range, cannot be blind or deaf to the sounds of 'abysmal lack of knowledge' that came from an assembly of Canadian school trustees. Foreign fathers and mothers really know what European militarism is. These newcomers to Canada have too much experience and too much sense to imagine that they are European militarists, when their sons are subjected to military drill in the schools. It is pathetic, the anxiety of the bulk of European parents to the west, that their children should grow up just like children of British origin. The sons of European settlers are encouraged to speak the language and share the exercises of British-born children. The European settlers know what 'militarism' really is. They also know that military drill in the schools is not 'militarism.' European-born newcomers to Canada, on some points have more common sense and common knowledge than was displayed by British-born school trustees yesterday."

PROTECTING THE CHILDREN

EDIT—Protecting the Children.

Of the new law for the protection of children in England a London cable says: "The new children's act, which came into force recently, is one of the most important measures of recent years, inasmuch as it is aimed at preserving the health and life of the children, and restraining their moral conduct. It is a motherly piece of legislation and helps parents who are, through no fault of their own unable to supervise the conduct of their children. The new law provides that any boy under the age of sixteen found smoking shall be stopped by the police, whose duty it will be to search the small boy and confiscate the remainder of his cigarettes. Hereafter no child will be admitted as an onlooker to the morbid games that are heard in police courts. Another important enactment is that no child shall be left alone in a room with an unguarded fire. Hundreds of poor children have been burned to death annually owing to the carelessness of parents and guardians. In the case of neglect or ill-treatment of an insured child, the person in charge may be sent to penal servitude for five years, or fined £200, whether the child die or not. Under Section 14 of the new act there is a fine or imprisonment, combined with the power to cause a child to be or to induce the giving of, anything, even though there be a pretence of singing, performing, or offering anything for sale. Neither will old iron mongers be allowed to purchase from children. Pawnbrokers also have been forbidden to take pledges from children."

On the subject of Anglo-German and Anglo-American relations, Winston Spencer Churchill, defending the British government's naval policy in a recent letter declared that no more fatal obsession could beset the mind of any statesman than to suppose there was a profound antagonism between Great Britain and Germany which could only be solved by war, because through their commercial interests alone these two countries are necessary to each other. He says: "We do not believe that there is any reasonable probability—any humane conception—of a combination against the peace and freedom of the British people which would include the American navy."

The announcement that the St. Lawrence is open for navigation to Montreal reminds us that the winter port season at St. John is near its close. It has been a record season, and as usual not a single mishap has occurred to any steamship during the whole season. The only reason for referring to this fact is that a few years ago St. John was branded by its rivals as a dangerous port for shipping. The danger never existed, but the safety of the port has been demonstrated in the winter service before their enemies could be induced to hold their peace.

Mr. Hatheway has given notice of motion for Thursday for leave to introduce a bill giving to women the same right of franchise in provincial elections that they now have in civic elections. If such a law had been enacted earlier it would have made a difference in the local option vote in this city today. The women are those who suffer most from the evils of intemperance. Doubtless the ladies who are interested in the bill which Mr. Hatheway will introduce on Thursday will exert a vigorous influence in its behalf.

A NOTED MARINER

Capt. R. H. McLeod, formerly master of the bark Rufus E. Wood, who is well known in Victoria, he having brought the sealing schooner Otto around the Horn in 170 days to engage in sealing out of Victoria in 1891, is again in this city, having come from St. Francisco, where he now has his home, on the British Bark Clatsop, which is lying in Royal Roads. Capt. McLeod was on the steamer Danube, now the Salvor, when she made her memorable trip to the seal rookeries of the North Pacific ocean with the international commission which included Sir George Baden-Powell and Prof. Macdon. A few years ago Capt. McLeod headed a treasure hunting expedition which sailed from Halifax in the schooner Hattie M., owned by him. There were twelve members of the party, who had subscribed to the expenses of the trip. They went to Wallaston Island to engage in gold mining on the west shore of this section of the continent, in the expedition was not successful. The members of the party claimed that there was no gold there, but Capt. McLeod said the gold was there all right if they had been willing to slue to work it, but they were not. He took the Hattie M. to Puntas Arenas, where he sold her to Mr. Bloom, the British consul. He sent her out sailing in charge of Capt. Poole, who had a crew of Chilians. They mined, but Capt. Poole's threat, and threw the body overboard. The schooner was never heard of afterward.

THE SON-BIRDS

Do you ever think what wondrous beings they are? Do you ever think who made them, and who taught them to sing? The dialect they speak, where melodies alone are the interpreters of thought? Whose household words are songs in many keys? Sweeter than instrument of man's ear caught! Whose habitations in the trees-tops even are half-way houses on the road to heaven? Think every morning when the sun peeps through the dim, lead-latticed windows of the grove. How jubilant the happy birds renew their old melodious refrain of joy! And when you think of this, remember, too, The always morning songsters, and above The awe-inspiring cantatas, from shore to shore. Somewhere the birds are singing evermore.—Longfellow.

A gift to R. N. Norman, left wing for the Victoria hockey team, recently took the form of a hockey stick gotten up in a most peculiar but very pretty style. It is an ordinary hockey stick but has been engraved with all the photographs of the Montreal team placed on the blade, while the names of the players are burnt on the handle. The stick is very artistically decorated with round pieces of many different colors of glass.

What might have been a very bad accident took place at Middle Sackville a few evenings ago when Mrs. Eustache Melanson fell while carrying a lighted lamp. Fortunately, however, Mrs. Melanson's injuries were not serious.

The Sackville Tribune says: A report is going the rounds that there will be three highway superintendents in this parish instead of Messrs. James Smith and Winslow Milner. The rumor which we give for what it is worth, has it that the three will be Messrs. Milner, Arthur and R. H. Ogden. The ratification would be very critical about the appointments so long as the work on the roads is done.

Two Sackville men, Messrs C. Picard and C. C. Averd, have been nominated to fill vacancies which will be created among the representatives of the Mount Allison Alumni Society on the closing of this spring. Four other men, all known in Sackville, have also been nominated. Two are to be elected, in addition to Messrs. C. V. Robinson, of Moncton, Rev. A. S. Rogers, of Bear River, Messrs. St. John, of the Sackville, and Mr. J. H. Bennett, of the elections will be held at the annual meeting of the society during closing week.

Mr. McDade, the well known newspaper man, was in Woodstock last week. Many friends extended their sympathy to him upon the recent death of his eldest son.

The death occurred at Kensington, on Monday afternoon, of Miss Jane Dunwoody, aunt of Rev. A. D. Sterling, in the 86th year of her age. The funeral took place on Wednesday, when the remains were taken to Scotsburn, N. S., for interment.

The marriage of Miss Katie Gay, of Pownal, and Dr. A. B. McKenzie, of Kensington, took place in Regina, Sask., on March 12th. Dr. McKenzie left the province three years ago to make his home in the west and has been very successful in his profession. The young couple will make their home in Lashburn, Sask.

"Tagging" in Charlottetown last Saturday in aid of the P. E. I. Hospital resulted in the funds for that worthy object being increased by the handsome sum of $600.

There have been some very fine trout caught in the inland waters this spring. On Saturday last, Mr. Joseph Perry, of the fish, captured a very fine one. It measured 19 inches long and 13 inches round, and weighed 3 1/4 pounds.

WHO OWNED THE FISH

(Montreal Witness.)

There is in Wales a creek five miles long connecting two small lakes. About fifty persons own property along the creek, and for years and years the people have disputed as to who owned the fish in it. Not long ago two boys got into a fight over the fish they were catching, and the dispute was at last carried into the courts. The decision of the judge was odd enough. He decreed that anyone claiming to own any of the fish should attach a brass tag to the tails of the fish with the owner's name in plain letters, and in the future he must catch his own fish or none at all. This unique decision put an end to the dispute.

After a day of unsettled weather conditions, a thunder and lightning storm broke over the city about 7:30 o'clock last evening and with it came heavy rain. For half an hour there was a lively downpour and in that time three-fourths of an inch of rain fell.

PRINCESS LOUISE PUT OUT OF HOTEL FOR DEBT

Another Fashionable Hostelry Takes Her In Only When Humble Broker Agrees to Pay

Berlin, April 19—The feud between Princess Louise of Coburg and her father, King of the Belgians, has apparently not been ended. For the past few months the Princess has been staying at a fashionable hotel in Unter den Linden. When her bill aggregated 22,000 marks the proprietor became anxious. The Princess being unable to pay, the proprietor refused to extend further credit and she had to leave.

Another fashionable hotel in the same street gave the Princess shelter, but not until her credit was guaranteed by a humble, but wealthy broker.

TUBERCULOSIS VICTIMS

CAN'T WED IN JERSEY

New York, April 19—Persons afflicted with consumption may no longer marry in New Jersey. Neither may persons having any other transmissible disease. A law forbidding such marriages, which modern health authorities have been urging for years, was passed in the closing hours of the Legislature's session last week and signed late Saturday night by Governor Fort.

There was bitter opposition to the bill on the ground of possible unconstitutionality, but it finally passed by a comfortable majority. Doctors declare that consumption is not hereditary, but that the children of tubercular parents are predisposed to the disease by reason of weakness. Therefore, it is believed, with no such weak children to fall a prey to the White Plague, its ravages will be cut down considerably.

Jersey also passed out of the Great Green class at the same Legislative session. A law was passed making it necessary for all persons to obtain a license before being married in the state. For years eloping couples, and those desiring quiet marriages, have gone to New Jersey from New York, Pennsylvania and nearby States, and justices in Jersey City, Hoboken and Camden have reaped harvest. South Carolina is now the only State without a marriage license law.

DEPARTMENT STORE

ON OCEAN LINER

New York, April 19—On her maiden voyage the new 18,500 ton steamship Lapland that is to be added to the fleet of the Red Star Line between this port and Antwerp anchored at the bar late last night preparatory to docking this morning.

In type she is more like the Adriatic than any other ship that comes to this port. She has two funnels, four masts and twin screws, driven by reciprocating engines. Wireless telegraph, submarine bell and all the other devices that modern ingenuity has devised are part of the equipment.

The 760 cabin and 1,700 stowage passengers will have unequalled comfort. Most original of all perhaps is the department store, so complete that passengers can board the vessel with only the clothes on their backs and purchase a complete wardrobe.

Miss Livingston Broom, an American girl has the honor of being the first superintendent of a trans-Atlantic department store.

One of the promenade decks is enclosed in glass and is capable of being lighted and decorated, and there is a place for the ship's orchestra, so that frequent dances may be expected.

PYTHIANS ARE PLANNING FOR ANNIVERSARY TIME TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening, Union Lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias, will celebrate their 33rd anniversary by a past chancellor's night. On that evening the torch will be passed to the new past chancellor, and the rank of Knight will be made up entirely of past chancellors of the lodge. The long form will be used and the rank will be conferred on three equities.

Members of the Knights of Pythias report a great boom in the order in the maritime provinces, and that the three city lodges are moving ahead by leaps and bounds. The cards of invitation to the past chancellor's night to be held by Union Lodge have been issued. They are very neatly gotten up and will prove useful to the members not only as mementoes of what promises to be a very interesting evening, but also for the information they contain touching the history of the order here.

They are in booklet form. The first page is taken up with the usual notice to members and the second tells what are the nature and purposes of a past chancellor's night. The third has the list of the officers for the evening, after which follows a list of the members of Union Lodge for 1909.

An interesting part is a list of the charter members in 1876 and of the reorganizers in 1878 after the great fire, with the officers at the institution in 1874 and the present officers.

The following is the list of officers and team for the evening: A. Dodge, Chancellor; Commander: Leah Wilson, Vice-Chancellor; W. A. Stewart, Prelate; Thornton, M. of W.; H. H. McLaughlin, K. of R. and S. and M. of F.; E. M. Smith, M. of F.; W. A. McKinley, M. of G.; W. McAdoo, I. G.; Robt. Sims, O. G.; R. S. Ritchie, K. of R. A. Watson, P. C.; F. A. Godson, M. of W.; E. W. Wilson, S. E. C. Wilson, J. F. C. Jones, J. D.

The list of past chancellors of the lodge in order is: Geo. Stewart, John R. Armstrong, A. J. Armstrong, A. L. Ravlin, A. J. Armstrong (P. C.), Thos. S. Adams, Thos. S. Adams, Thos. S. Adams (P. ELIMINATING THE DIPHTHERIA RASH

(Collier's Weekly.)

Recently an unannounced discovery has been made by Dr. Banzhaf of the Laboratory of the Department of Health in New York City that will result in an alteration in diphtheria treatment. The discovery is a notable gain in the elimination of the non-antitoxic substances in diphtheria antitoxic solution. This unsightly and painful after-effect has tended to make the treatment unpopular with the ignorant. Dr. Banzhaf heats the diphtheria serum for eighteen hours at a temperature of 57 degrees. As the result, twenty per cent more of the insoluble substances leading to the patient's breaking out are eliminated. By a fortunate chance experiment in another direction, Dr. Banzhaf happened on the discovery. He tested on guinea-pigs, and found that a serious retardation in diphtheria treatment had disappeared. Quickly, by letter and conversation, the news has spread, and the method is being adopted in various cities.

JUST HIS LUCK

(Toronto Globe.)

A young Toronto doctor, who has more patients for frolics than for physic, gave a party some time ago to a few choice masculine friends. The host donned a suit of armor, which was one of the hall "ornaments," and, in the midst of the hilarity, an imperative ring was heard at the surgery door. Thinking it was another guest, the armoured physician removed his helmet and rushed to the door, battle-axe in hand.

"There stood a timid old lady, who faltered 'Is the doctor in?' and then, seeing the fearsome creature, uttered a shriek and fled."

Q—Who was it, Charlie? asked a curious friend, on the doctor's return.

"Just my luck!" was the reply. "The first patient I've had in six months."

MUCH CRITICISM OVER THE GLOUCESTER IRON LEASES

Opinion is By the Eighty Year Lease the Drummonds are Securing too Valuable Terms—Opposition Asks That Royalty Be Revised Each Twenty Years But Government Refuses This

Frederick, N. B., April 19.—This afternoon's session of the house was taken up almost entirely with routine business. None of the committees met in the morning, but a brief session of the corporation committee was held in the evening. The morning is likely to be a field day for committee work. The Tobacco dam bill, which the corporations committee instructed Mr. Powell to draft, will come before that committee again. This is the bill which authorizes the development of the Gloucester iron deposits. It was a foregone conclusion before the bill was introduced that it would go through practically as originally drafted. Mr. Byrne endeavored to have the eighty years lease modified so that the government would have power to increase the royalty at the end of each twenty years period and also that the Nepequin water power should be a source of revenue to the province. The amendment refused to yield on the terms of the lease, but Mr. Hazen expressed his willingness to accept a clause to the effect that the company should pay an annual rental, but the amendment was not made to the bill. The guarantee of $300,000 and the company so generally treated is under no obligation to make a single cent of the water power. Mr. Hatheway, who made such a serious attack on the old government for granting the Grand Falls franchise, provided for an annual payment to the province, was in the house during the entire debate, but never rose to support the amendment. He is making a free gift of one of the most valuable franchises owned by the province. He is making a free gift of one of the most valuable franchises owned by the province. WONDERS OF THE HUMAN BODY

Why Many People Never Need a Doctor

You have a natural laxative in your body. Why, then, should you use a false purgative to move the bowels? Bile is nature's laxative. It is bile—and bile alone—which moves the bowels as they should be moved. The liver pours forth the bile into the bowels, which stimulates them to move, and thus causes the waste matter to pass from the body. Constipation is a disease, OF THE BOWELS, but CAUSED by the liver. When the bowels do not move regularly and naturally, it is because the liver is not giving up enough bile. And the only possible way to cure Constipation, is to cure the liver—Colonel, cancer, salts, emia, common pills and sweet lozengers and all the other purgatives do not act on the liver at all. They merely irritate and inflame the bowels.

"Fruit-atives" cure Constipation because they act on a number of members and principles stimulate the liver to secrete and give up enough bile to move the bowels, while the tonics and antispasmodics, while they relax the muscles. "Fruit-atives" are the only medicine ever discovered that will cure Constipation. Biliousness of all other kinds due to a Torpid or Disordered Liver. 50c. a box for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. WAITING FOR ROOSEVELT

African Natives and Lions are Anxious to Meet Him—Big Welcome Planned

Mombasa, April 19.—A cablegram has been received here from Theodore Roosevelt, changing his original plan not to stop in Mombasa, but to proceed at once to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi River. Mr. Roosevelt has accepted the invitation to dinner extended by the Mombasa Club and he will stay two days on the special train that is to take Mr. Roosevelt and his party inland. Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied on this journey by the governor of the protectorate.

The manager of the railroad has come down from Nairobi. The superintendent of traffic also is here and both officials will go on the special train that is to take Mr. Roosevelt and his party inland. Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied on this journey by the governor of the protectorate.

Natives are coming into Mombasa from all parts of the country to witness the "habushization" of "the great white chief." The rains are going away and there has been a decrease in the smallpox cases in the interior. There is still a heavy sea at the harbor entrance. The report of a rebel group of lions on the Nandi plateau and elephants in the Kilimanjaro forests is being confirmed. It is possible, however, that before Mr. Roosevelt arrives, other reports will come to hand of royal game north of the Victoria Nile. It is possible that Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied on this journey by the governor of the protectorate.

FRENCH-CANADIAN RUNNER WON THE BOSTON MARATHON

Boston, April 19.—No Greek runner ever gained the laurel crown under the torrid conditions in which Henri Renaud, a French-Canadian weaver of Nashua (N. H.), struggled to victory today in the Boston Athletic Association's thirteenth marathon run of 25 miles over crowded highways between Asquith and this city. Once more the stamina in the French-bred proved its quality against American, English, Irish, German, Russian, Greek and Indian. From a poor start, and followed by a small army of struggling competitors, the sturdy foreigner worked his way past the veterans and the favorites, pushing up from 25th place at the half way mark to first place two miles from the finish, from sixteenth to second in the time, 2:33:45, was the slowest in ten years and has only been exceeded twice.

Five miles from the finish Renaud, in third place, challenged P. J. Grant, of Brooklyn, and Henry Jensen, of New York, and the race of the three heat-stricken men through the long cheering lane was the feature of the big contest. Renaud caught Jensen at the just over half way mark, but Grant, a little more than two miles from the finish, for a few hundred yards the trio ran side by side. The Renaud sprinted and gained rapidly on the way into the finish, opening up nearly a mile over his competitors at the finish. Jensen, who had been second place by one minute and twenty-four seconds. Behind came James P. Crowley, of New York, and the Irish-born E. J. McTieran, of Worcester, in the ninth place, while Robert A. Fowler, of Cambridge, finished in the thirteenth place. For the first time in the history of the event, the "marathon runners assembled" at the start, a mile outside Asquith, received a beautiful silver bowl as a memento of their feat.

At the start, a mile outside Asquith, Renaud, wearing a blue and white striped jersey and blue shorts, was the only one who wore a jersey. He was wearing a blue and white striped jersey and blue shorts. He was wearing a blue and white striped jersey and blue shorts.

FIELDING WILL DELIVER BUDGET SPEECH TODAY

Ottawa, April 19.—There was some strife in the commons today but not the variety expected. Until yesterday it had been anticipated that the opposition would make another assault on Hon. Dr. Pageley. This time they were to be led by Mr. Foster, an using the report of the landy commission as a battering ram. However, private bills are the first order on Mondays and Mr. Combe has a bill to incorporate an Ontario power company which he wants to get through parliament. There are a number of men on the opposition side who don't want it to go through, because they say that it invades the rights of the Ontario legislature.

The champions and the opposition met early in the afternoon and kept at it so long that the Foster attack never arrived. It is not now for some days.

The budget comes down tomorrow and the debate upon it is likely to take several days. Mr. Foster may get his chance next week but it is not likely to find an opening soon.

Mr. Jordan asked whether the government had yet come to any conclusion as to whether they would accept or not the rider on amendment made to the waterways treaty by the United States senate. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the government had not yet come to any conclusion as to whether they would accept or not the rider on amendment made to the waterways treaty by the United States senate.

THE USES OF BILE IN DIGESTION

Bile is Quite as Important as Are the Gastric Juices in the Process of Digestion

Chronic indigestion disappears when an Active Liver Supplies Bile in Sufficient Quantities.

You think of bile as something disagreeable and poisonous, something to be well rid of. In the blood the bile is poisonous and harmful, but the bile takes the impurities of the blood and pours it into the intestines, where it fulfils a most important mission.

Without bile human life is short; for Bile hastens the passage of the food along the alimentary canal. Bile neutralizes the acid which passes from the stomach to the intestines. Bile prevents the fermentation of food in the intestines, which in turn causes wind, flatulency, and other ailments.

Bile, in short, is Nature's cathartic and maintains a regular and healthful process of digestion and of elimination of matter by way of the bowels.

But to have a regular flow of bile the liver must be kept healthy and active and here where Dr. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills come in, for they are definite, specific and direct in their action upon the liver.

NINE-YEAR OLD BOY IS MISSING; TRACE IS FOUND

David Kirkpatrick Was Seen Tramping to Rothesay Yesterday Afternoon

After being kept in a state of anxiety since Sunday afternoon owing to the unexpected disappearance of nine-year-old son, David, C. T. Kirkpatrick of 98 Queen street, received word last evening that the missing boy had been seen yesterday in the neighborhood of Brookville making his way towards Rothesay, where he has relatives.

When he spent Sunday night in a drunken stupor it is said that in company with Willie Tufts, a youthful companion, the adventurous youngster went for a drive on Sunday afternoon and then started on his travels.

The first indication that Mr. Kirkpatrick received was to anything wrong was when the boy did not return from Trinity school on Sunday morning with his brother Allan, aged six. The two had left home together and on enquiry he learned that they had returned to the school. When they had returned to the school Mr. Kirkpatrick was told that the boys were seen by Andrew Watson and M. S. Colwell in company with William Tufts, a lad about twelve years old.

KETCHEL SURE HE CAN BEAT JOHNSON

"The Man Who Comes Close Enough to Hit Can Be Hit," Says the Michigan Fighter

(Igor, in the N. Y. American.)

Stanley Ketchel does not fear Jack Johnson. The Michigan lion had a little heart-to-heart talk with me yesterday and I, for one, can't help but admire the spunk of the fellow.

"Do you know it is a fact that I've never been extended? I'm naturally a easy-going fellow in the ring—I have never been made to fight as I can. I love to hit and hit hard. I don't think that I ever enjoyed slugging a man as I did Papke the third time. I was out to prove that his victory over me was the rankiest kind of a fluke."

"You know anybody that comes close enough to hit you can be hit. Johnson will have to come near me, and if he will I'll land on him. I'm perfectly willing to trade punches with the best man living. I can't think of a fight that I can't win, and I know that I can't lose."

"He can't hit until he is flat-footed. I don't think Johnson is as fast as they say he is. I saw him fight Flynn. I want to see Flynn fight him, because I want to see him get hit by a man as I did Papke the third time. I was out to prove that his victory over me was the rankiest kind of a fluke."

The bishop said that the recent amendments to the liquor license act afforded the Christian people of the province a splendid opportunity to do their duty and to stand in the vanguard of a movement to banish the evil of intemperance.

CHINESE IN TROUBLE

Between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a Chinese, Sing Kee, was given a charge of Police Officer Belyes by Peter Sheehan for interference with him at the Mill street crossing of the I. C. R. While a train was approaching, Sheehan has been looking for the Chinese, and charged him with interfering with the gate after it had been lowered and going under the gate.

Sing Kee was locked up in the central police station and about 4 o'clock Edmond S. Ritchie appeared to seek for him on bail. Six Chinese went to the court room in aid of their fellow countryman. Mr. Ritchie said that the offense had been committed by the prisoner because he was eager to catch a train which was in the depot.

An Unbreakable Set of Teeth There is a class of patients who do not object to paying a fair price for artificial teeth, if they can really secure comfort, usefulness and naturalness. I have a set of teeth, such as is unobtainable in any other office in this city, to my knowledge. It is out of the ordinary line and unlike the teeth in general use. He beauty is at once apparent, and it is practically unbreakable. It will pay those, who are desirous of obtaining the best to be had in the dental line, to call and inspect this set for themselves. I will gladly demonstrate its superiority over other plates, even if you have no immediate intention of investing. DR. J. D. MAHER, BOSTON DENTAL PARLORS, Telephone 653 527 Main St. North End

Valley Railway Delegates Back From Ottawa with Good Opinions of Sir Wilfrid and Dr. Pugsley

Fredericton, N. B., April 20--(Special)--Fredericton delegates to Ottawa, who returned home yesterday, are greatly delighted with the manner in which they were received at the capital, and are confident that the long talked of valley railway will soon become a reality. The delegates, like all visitors to Ottawa, were captivated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's sunny ways, and were pleased with the assurance he gave them that the valley railway proposition would receive the earnest consideration of the government. It was quite evident to them from the familiarity he displayed in discussing the question that he had already given it considerable attention. The delegates speak in the highest terms of the manner in which they were entertained by Hon. Dr. Pugsley. The banquet which he gave in their honor they described as one of the most elaborate functions they ever attended. One delegate, in speaking of Dr. Pugsley, remarked that regardless of what his opponents might say of him, the fact remains that he is a big man at Ottawa, and his great ability is recognized by both sides of the house. "I do not believe," said he, "there is a member of the cabinet who works harder and whose services are in such constant demand, and there is certainly no minister so popular with the officials of his department." Three cars of a freight train, which left here this morning for Loggieville, jumped the track at Green Creek. Fortunately there was no serious damage, although the accident caused a delay of some hours. Weather today is fine and mild. There is still considerable floating ice in the river and the water fell a few inches last night. Thomas Fowler, head salesman in Oak Hall, is seriously ill at the Victoria Hospital from an internal trouble. A consultation of doctors was held in his case this morning. Dr. G. C. Vanwart has returned from a trip to Baltimore. W. T. Whitehead, who went to Baltimore several weeks ago, for the benefit of his health, is reported to be improving.
