

BRITISH VICTORY COMPLETE; LAURIER'S RESIGNATION SOON

HON. MR. BAXTER EXPRESSES FALLACIOUS FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE GOV'T

Clearly Exposes Framed-Up Figures Presented by Irresponsible Men and Irresponsible Press to Gain Political Advantage.

THE MEMBERS OF OLD GOVERNMENT NOT AT ALL AFRAID OF FULLEST PUBLICITY

Finances of Province Left in Excellent Condition by Murray Administration—A Clear and Convincing Presentation of the Actual Facts.

Fredericton, June 8.—In a brilliant address on the budget debate in the House this afternoon Hon. J. B. M. Baxter opened the case for the opposition. It was a strong and masterly presentation of the former administration's magnificent record in controlling the affairs of the province and a sharp criticism of the methods inaugurated by the Carter-Foster party which has failed to appreciate the tremendous necessity of economy and has for the first time in the history of the province predicted a deficit on its financial operations.

Hon. Mr. Baxter had no difficulty in disposing of effectively the contentions of irresponsible men and the irresponsible press who with a desire to advance the political interests of the government party attempted to hoodwink the people into believing that the late government had depleted the revenues of the province for the current year.

Will Have $750,000. Taking the government's own statements of the expenditures for the current year under the late administration as well as their figures of estimated receipts for the total year, the former Attorney-General showed in an unanswerable manner that the present administration will have upwards of three-quarters of a million dollars to expend on the public services of the province during the balance of the current year. Hon. Mr. Baxter used the government's own figures which, when properly examined, reveal the conditions. And as the former Attorney-General remarked what motives would the former government have in depleting the revenues in the early months of the year when they felt that they themselves would continue to administer the affairs of the province. As Hon. Mr. Baxter stated the expenditure on the public services of the province during the balance of the current year. Hon. Mr. Baxter used the government's own figures which, when properly examined, reveal the conditions. And as the former Attorney-General remarked what motives would the former government have in depleting the revenues in the early months of the year when they felt that they themselves would continue to administer the affairs of the province.

Finances in Excellent Shape. "If the circumstances were otherwise I would not be able to express myself in that way. But when we know as we do that we left the finances of the province in such an excellent condition and that there was no expenditure during the years of the late government and its predecessors in political harmony with it that can cast a personal reflection on any member of the opposition I say we welcome the auditors' investigation. Their report will demonstrate the falsity of the canvasses of the irresponsible newspapers and irresponsible men against the late government. I do not say that there has been no wrongdoing under the propriety of judgment of which might be questioned. That will happen in the case of my honorable friends of the government as well as we may reasonably differ on that score, but what I speak of is the integrity of the late government, and I say the further the auditors go the further the financial integrity of the old government will be shown."

Grant Prior to 1908. Hon. Mr. Baxter while quite charitable to the government in view of the heavy carnal of grant which was carried on by the administration buried from power in 1908 and which is the backbone of the present government, did however take occasion to remind the house that there were no such cases as members of the government sending antedated letters to the province refunding moneys improperly taken out of the public chest, nor had the house been called upon to witness

RESIGNATION OF SIR WILFRID LAURIER AND GENERAL ELECTION ANTICIPATED

Leader of English-Speaking Liberals Will Probably be Hon. George P. Graham—Thirty-One Liberal Members, Two from Quebec, Expected to Vote for Conscription—Liberal Breach Cannot Be Healed.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, June 8.—A climax has been reached in the situation regarding the Liberal party. The cleavage between the conscriptionists and the anti-conscriptionists is complete and the breach cannot be healed. Following the Liberal caucus held this morning when it became evident that the attitude of the French Canadian members, led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier towards the war and its necessities made it impossible for the patriotic English speaking Liberals to remain longer associated with them as a party, the resignation of Sir Wilfrid as leader is expected within the next few days. Rumors that he had already resigned were heard but inquiry brought a denial, although The Standard correspondent was assured by high authorities in the Liberal party that his retirement as the official head of the party might be expected at any time.

Hon. Mr. Graham for 'Leader? The question of a successor is engaging the thoughts of the English speaking Liberals who at the present juncture at any rate do not intend to lose their identity as a Liberal party, for all they have in common with the government is a desire to see the war through with all the men and resources Canada has available. Several names have been suggested, some of them of Liberals outside the House and one who has not been in politics for a number of years, but the general opinion seems to be that Hon. George P. Graham will be asked to lead the English section of the party meanwhile.

Hon. Mr. Graham has added greatly to his prestige during the present crisis in the party by throwing overboard a lucrative position which he has held for some years. He has been president and managing director of the Montreal Herald-Telegraph. This position he has resigned owing to the anti-conscription policy which that newspaper has adopted during his absence in Ottawa and which has been concurred in by the majority of the board of directors. Mr. Graham's only surviving son is at the front and no man has taken the war situation more seriously than he has done.

Quebec Not Unanimous. It had been taken for granted that all the Quebec Liberals would oppose conscription, but it is learned that G. A. Robb of Hamilton and W. P. Kay of Missisquoi will vote for compulsory military service. Mr. Robb's parents both came from Scotland and Mr. Kay is of mixed Scotch and English descent.

The most interesting situation is in the Maritime Provinces. Three of the New Brunswick Liberals are certain to vote for conscription. They are F. B. Carroll, W. S. Leggie and Brigadier General H. H. McLean. This leaves two English speaking members who may oppose the measure, Hon. Wm. Pugsley and A. B. Cope, although neither of them has publicly stated what his final position on the issue will be. One thing is clear, however, that to break with the rest of the conscriptionist Liberals will ostracize expenditures on current account for the eight years under the old government to the amount of $703,000 were which the new government have to bond the province, Hon. Mr. Baxter answered that the amount must be in one of two places; either it must be part of the bonded debt or it must be owing to some person or corporation outside the province. "Now unless you can bring forth the man or corporation you got to admit the amount is already in the capital debt," said Hon. Mr. Baxter. "It is one place or the other. It is simply sheer nonsense to claim otherwise, and you can poke that sort of stuff down a man's throat when he gets it plainly on paper and analyses it."

Government Silent. There was not even a suggestion on the part of the government as to what the crisis that has arisen. Hon. Mr. Baxter, however, threw out a suggestion to the government benches today. He told them that the late administration had left the door open. When the Clarke government found there was an order-in-council existing fixing the stampage rates for ten years they considered it was not in the best interests of the province, and it was promptly rescinded. In adopting that course the late government was blamed by the banks and the lumber men, and as H. O. Mr. Baxter stated, many of the members on the government benches owe their seats in the House to the fact that that order was rescinded and never restored.

The Open Door. "We left the door open when the necessity arises. My hon. friends seem to be hanging on the brink. The hon. gentleman who delivered the budget said that the stampage rates ought to be larger. Then why was it not put in the income at $700,000 instead of $560,000," said Hon. Mr. Baxter. "The public generally will want to know the reason why."

Taking up the public debt and analyzing it item by item Hon. Mr. Baxter showed that every dollar of the debt under the late government was justified. It went into the magnificent permanent bridges and other deserving permanent services. The former attorney-general also had no difficulty in showing that a vast amount of the increase of three millions of dollars in the debt under the late government was directly attributable to its predecessors, and he instanced these particular items. To the claim that there was an over-

More Than 6,000 Teuton Prisoners Captured in Wonderful Drive in Flanders—New Lines Organized.

GREAT PRAISE FROM ALL QUARTERS FOR THE GALLANT IRISH TROOPS

Troops of Enemy Utterly Demoralized by Mighty Force of British Attack—Counter-Attacks of Enemy Fail.

(BULLETIN) London, June 8.—The British forces in Belgium have consolidated their gains of Thursday and during Friday successfully warded off German counter-attacks in the region of Oosteverne and Messines, according to the British official communication issued this evening. More than 6,400 prisoners, among them 132 officers, have already been counted. The communication says: "During the day our new lines south of Ypres have been organized and secured. German counter-attacks southeast and northwest of Oosteverne and east of Messines were repulsed with loss by our infantry or broken up by our artillery fire."

Over 6,400 Prisoners. The battle therefore became a game of the ability of the German troops to stop our advance under conditions as favorable to them as an army can ever hope for with every advantage of ground and preparation, and with the knowledge that an attack was impending. "Within a few minutes the enemy's first line system was carried on the whole front attacked. Our troops then pressed on, with scarcely a pause, up the western slopes of the Messines-Wytschaete Ridge, and three hours after the commencement of the attack had stormed the entire crest line from south to north. "Shortly afterwards the whole of Messines was captured, and before midday the capture of Wytschaete village had also been completed after hard fighting."

MONUMENT TO ROBERT E. LEE

Gettysburg, Pa., June 8.—Standing on the battlefield where the conflict between the North and South was virtually decided, Governor Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia, today turned over to the Gettysburg National Park Association the handsome monument erected here by the State of Virginia in honor of the memory of General Robert E. Lee and the Virginia troops who fought at Gettysburg. The memorial, one of the most conspicuous on the field, stands close to the bloody angle where the hottest action of the battle occurred. The unveiling of the memorial was the crowning feature of the national reunion of United Confederate Veterans that has held forth in Washington this week, and furnished a fitting close to what is universally recognized as probably the last "great" gathering of the Confederate veterans.

STEAMER WHICH RAN TO ST. JOHN SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

The Manchester Miller Was Torpedoed Last Tuesday

TWO AMERICANS ARE KILLED ON STEAMER

British Steamer Southland Torpedoed Day Before—40 Missing.

London, June 8.—Two Americans were killed when the British steamer Manchester Miller, loaded with cotton, was torpedoed June 5. The other members of the crew, including several Americans, were landed. The steamer Manchester Miller measured 4,234 tons and was built at Newcastle in 1906. She was owned in Manchester and was last reported as arriving at Philadelphia on March 9 from Manchester. She was a frequent caller at St. John. The Southland Sunk. London, June 8.—The British Steamer Southland from Liverpool for Philadelphia, in ballast, was torpedoed without warning on June 4. She had six Americans aboard, one of whom is missing. The gun crew on the Southland fired ten shots at the submarine after the first torpedo was fired. A second torpedo was fired by the submarine and it caused an explosion in the magazine which killed eight men and left 40 missing.

SAN SALVADOR DESTROYED BY EARTHQUAKE

Santa Tecla and Neighboring Towns and Villages Also Wiped Out.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, June 8.—San Salvador, Santa Tecla and neighboring towns and villages were destroyed in an earthquake which commenced at seven o'clock last night and continued throughout the night, according to information received here from the president of Nicaragua tonight. "Telegraphic communication, just re-established with San Salvador, confirms that earthquakes commenced at seven o'clock p.m. yesterday (Friday) and continued all night, accompanied by a heavy rain. "San Salvador, Santa Tecla and neighboring towns and villages were destroyed. "The casualties were small. There were some fires."

WOMAN WINS IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, June 8.—Returns received this morning leave the election result as it stood at midnight. It has been found extremely difficult to get returns from the outlying polls, owing to the crippled telephone service which is the result of the strike among the employees. Interesting features in the results are the unexpected defeat of Tweedie in Centre Calgary by the labor candidate, and the return of the local woman representative to the legislature, Mrs. McKernan, president of the Provincial W. O. T. U., who defeated William Moffatt, the Liberal candidate in Claresholm. (The present standing is: Liberals, 58; Conservatives, 16.)

JOHNNY KILBANE WINS

Cleveland, June 8.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight today signed a contract with Max Baer, local promoter, to box Benny Leonard, champion lightweight, 12-rounds at Camp. The men will weigh 125 lbs. Kilbane is to get $1,000 or use privilege of thirty per cent. of receipts. Kilbane deposited $1,000 to guarantee his appearance. Hinkel left New York tonight to sign.

These conditions enabled the enemy to overlook our preparations for attack and he had

FULLY 1,300 PEOPLE WERE AT GYMKHANA

St. Andrew's Rink Scene of Unusual Brilliance Last Night—Cadet Corps Inspected by Lieut.-Col. Powell—Clever Execution of Drills.

"That work would do credit to boys many years their senior," said a military officer last night at St. Andrew's Rink, as he viewed the various cadet corps going through the different drills. With the interior of the rink animated by the presence of fully 1,300 people, and brightened with flags and bunting, the place presented a scene of unusual brilliancy. The St. John and Rothesay Cadet Corps' gymkhana was a credit to the promoters, the instructors and the participating cadet corps. It was held under the auspices of DeMont's Chapter, I. O. O. F.

The cadet corps lined up at King Square and after marching around the square proceeded down Charlotte street to the rink. At the rink they were inspected by Lieutenant-Colonel Powell of the headquarters staff, Colonel Blaine and Major Magee. The different cadet units, in turn, went through the regular military drills. In addition to the Rothesay Cadet Corps, numbering seventy-five, the following St. John corps combined to make the evening an unqualified success: St. Luke's, St. Andrew's, and St. Stephen's. St. Luke's Cadet Corps, commanded by Captain Taylor, gave an exhibition of section, company and squad drill. Their march discipline was highly commended upon. The manner in which the boys carried themselves, showed that they have been under the training of a competent instructor, who has taken a deep interest in their work. The members of St. Andrew's Corps, who have been thoroughly trained by Major W. C. Magee, and ably assisted by Captain Metcalf, second in command, showed up well in the different drills. This unit received enthusiastic applause from the spectators, who followed the well executed drills with interest.

St. Stephen's Cadet Corps, numbering about forty-five, under the command of Captain Gordon Vail, executed the drills with surprising accuracy. Their march discipline was the matter of many favorable expressions from the spectators. The corps has been in existence for thirty years, and is probably the oldest corps in the city, if not in the province, many of their former members have enlisted and only recently the supreme sacrifice.

Following the drill and marching exhibition of the Rothesay Cadet Corps, the spectators were treated to a series of gymnasium feats by this corps. Under the direction of Color-Sergeant R. Dooe, the boys gave an exhibition of gymnastic work which evoked admiration and hearty applause. Their work on the parallel bars, and the horizontal bar was splendid and showed many months of practice. The seemingly easy, and light grace, which marked their feats demonstrated clearly that the boys are physically well developed. Special mention might be made of Arthur Plummer, whose exhibition on the horizontal bar, especially the muscle grand, was the occasion for enthusiastic applause. R. P. Starr, captain of the Rothesay Cadet Corps, was also the recipient of a grand ovation, as he went through his balancing act on the parallel bars. After an exhibition of club swinging to music what was furnished by the Cornet Band, the floor was cleared for dancing to the splendid music furnished by the band. About fifty couples glided away a few pleasant hours. Dancing concluded, the Rothesay Cadets lined up at the door of the rink, and headed by their own bugle band marched to the station, leaving on the late train for Rothesay.

The following ladies were in charge of the candy booth: Mrs. Andrew Jack, Mrs. Shorwood Skinner, Mrs. Bessy and the Misses L. Hazen, M. Harrison and A. Bayard. The ice cream was dispensed to the cadets free, while the spectators were served with cones for five cents. Mrs. H. B. Robinson was in charge of this work and was ably assisted by Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley, Mrs. A. C. Skelton, and Mrs. F. B. Schofield.

HAMPTON NOTES.

Mrs. J. DeLong was a week-end visitor in Fredericton, where she was the guest of her daughter, Miss Flora DeLong of the Provincial Normal School. The members of the I. O. G. T. of this place held a successful entertainment and pie-social in the Methodist hall on Tuesday evening. The programme consisted of music recitations, etc., which was followed by the sale of pies, auctioned off by Mr. C. T. Wetmore. The sum of $35 was realized, part of which will be forwarded to St. Dunstan's Hospital for blind soldiers.

Mr. W. Chipman, New York, Rev. O. N. Chipman and Master Roy Chipman are enjoying a fishing trip to Albert county.

THE DRAFT BEHIND THE DRAFT

The Blood and the Brain.

Among the many important physiological facts that should be as well known by people generally as they are by physicians, is the dependence of the brain for its proper action on the vitality of the blood. If this is impaired, the blood affords an imperfect stimulus to the brain, and, as a necessary consequence, languor and inactivity of the entire nervous system follows, and a tendency to headache or faintness makes its appearance.

It is probable that no other medicine ever produced has done more in the way of revitalizing the blood, making it pure and rich, than Hood's Sarsaparilla, which should certainly be given a trial where there is any reason to believe that the blood is defective in quality or deficient in quantity.

RECENT CHARTERS.
Among recent charters reported are a ship with quebracho wood from Buenos Ayres to New York at $14 per ton, June-July loading, and the schooner Josephine, from St. Andrews Bay, Fla., to New York, with lumber at $21 per thousand, which is said to be the highest rate ever paid between the two ports. Sailing crafts are in good demand in all directions, with rates strong and advancing, as only a limited number of vessels are offering for either coastwise or offshore voyages. One five-masted schooner now at Portland is said to have been chartered for six trips from Chesapeake Bay ports to Portland or Boston at $5 per ton on coal.

TWO NEW SCHOONERS.
Two new four-masted schooners will go into commission at Bath, Me., this week. One of them is the Maudie M. Morey, whose gross tonnage is 1,264.38, the other being the Sam C. Mengel.

FOX GOES INTO MACHINE SHOPS TO GET WET NURSE FOR PIGS

Elucidates a Very Practical Device That Anyone Would Naturally Accept as Useful—And a Very Good Money-Saving Affair, with Pork as High as It Is.

The Fugitive, Drawing Particular Attention to Himself is Giving His Description Personally to a Great Many People.

Standing at the elbow of Mr. Seeley in the office of Fleming's large manufacturing plant (Pond street) I think in the thoroughfare I drew a plan of what I wanted made there. That this is one of the largest of St. John's manufacturing establishments is the impression I got. How I found the place was that I was directed there by the bookkeeper in the offices upstairs where I saw the sign Josiah Fowler. This is in City Road, as I was informed by a street sign. I am standing difficulty in giving the location—the correct names of streets—I think that this city is very inadequately supplied with street signs. I had asked Fowler's bookkeeper (if that is the name of the shop) if he could take an order for a small job which would have to be made in a machine shop.

I have found that the men in the shops are usually quite eager to get easy money and as they are generally shut in during the day I don't see how The Standard and its enterprising advertisers who are so liberally opening their hearts to people who want easy money are going to get a finger in the pie unless I carry the roll into them.

And then if they are more quick-witted than the well paid workers in George McAvity's ammunition works where, the day that Arthur Farmer piloted Fox the Fugitive through that factory, the shop help generally will prove themselves "easy marks."

But to come back to Fowler's. "What is it you want made?" asked the bookkeeper. I explained to him and then he suggested that I take my order to Fleming's factory.

Now I am thinking seriously of charging that bookkeeper with deliberately, though without malice, falling into the scheme to get a laugh on Fleming's office force.

It was the boy at the wicket, however, who as soon as I entered Fleming's office advised me to see Mr. Seeley. This gentleman received me with his habitual courtesy and listened to my description of what I wanted made. And that was how I happened to draw the diagram.

It is very simple. Did my readers ever hear of "indigent pigs?" I had given this improvised "wet nurse for indigent pigs" no trade name. Nor have I patented it. But I can honestly assure those who raise pigs that it will be found to be very convenient, useful and even indispensable. It will save them many dollars in "bringing up" pigs.

Fox the Fugitive, leaning on the desk at which Mr. Seeley was seated, was very handy to the gentleman. "Had he only known."

"You see, it's like this, Mr. Seeley, every person who raises pork knows that at times the mother of a litter of pigs deserts her babies, fights them off before they are old enough to take sustenance from the trough. So I have conceived of a method to save orphaned pigs. If you will kindly give me a sheet of paper I will show you just what it is. Here is a small boiler which is to be placed horizontally on the ground. In the side of it will be punctured a row of holes—say eight, or better still ten, so as to accommodate a large litter of pigs. In the top of one end of it will be fastened a standpipe with a funnel shaped receptacle at the top end so the milk can be readily poured into it. In that way the balier laying on the ground is filled with milk quickly and easily, and the little pigs draw the milk out of the holes in the side. Into these holes can be screwed or bolted short pipes. It is through these short pipes the pigs obtain sustenance."

Thinking I ought to be more explicit

MACKEREL CATCH LIGHTER YESTERDAY

Price at Yarmouth 2 1-2 Cents a Pound—12,000 Pounds Landed There.

Special to The Standard. Yarmouth, June 8.—The catch of mackerel this morning fell off pretty nearly fifty per cent. as far as the local netters and drifters are concerned. The total landed from them is under 12,000 pounds. The fish are also of the second run. Yesterday large fish of between three and four pounds predominated, but today they are the exception, the fish being about two and a half pounds.

The schooner Annie B., owned by S. Epstein, landed about 5,000 pounds.

The price paid today is 2 1/2 cents. The schooner Helen G. McLean arrived at Lockeport this morning with 40,000 pounds and the traps at Pubnico, Woods Harbor and Clarks Harbor are again full to overflowing. The Cranberry Head trap had a small catch this morning of 16 barrels, but the Byrne Point trap took 300 barrels. The catch on Thursday broke all records, some fishermen landing 10,000.

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP YOU SHOULD USE MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Sleeplessness is caused by the nervous system becoming deranged. Perhaps too much worry has gotten on your nerves, perhaps you have overworked yourself, or have been excessive in your use of tobacco, but whatever the cause, the nervous system must be built up again before restful sleep can be assured.

Those whose rest is broken into by frightful dreams, nightmares, sinking and smothering sensations, who wake up in the morning as tired as they went to bed can have their old, peaceful, undisturbed, refreshing sleep back again by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. John Sloan, Haley Station, Ont., writes: "Over a year ago I was very nervous. I could not sleep at night, and I would faint at the slightest fright. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box, or three for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE GERMANS LOST HEAVILY IN MESSINES BATTLE

MANY THOUSANDS OF GERMANS ARE TAKEN PRISONERS

British Victory Notable One — German Losses Terrible—Full Depth of British Attack Five Thousand Yards.

British Headquarters in France, June 8, via London.—From a staff Associated Press correspondent.—The number of prisoners reaching the collecting stations since the beginning of the new British drive in Belgium yesterday has now reached more than 8,000. Many more prisoners are coming in. No estimate of the number of guns captured is yet possible, although it is known several German batteries were taken practically intact. The night passed quietly on the front of the new attack. All the conquered territory was held.

Heavy German Losses.

British Headquarters in France, June 8.—The German losses in their counter attacks were terrible. The full depth of the British attack was 5,000 yards.

British Losses Light.

London, June 8.—The British losses in yesterday's attack in Belgium were light, according to an official announcement issued here today. The statement says the battle became a gauntlet of the ability of the Germans to stop the British advance under conditions as favorable to them as an army can ever hope for, with every advantage of ground and preparation and with the knowledge that an attack was impending. Up to last night, 5,850 German prisoners had been counted.

Two comparatively large pockets of Germans, overlooked in the first rush forward, have been surrounded in Battle wood, near the northern flank of the ten mile attacking front and in the Oxygen trench, down toward the southern flank of this line. The "mopping up" troops were expected to deal with these Germans during the day.

Of more than 100 officers taken many are artillerymen. They said the British fire of the last seven days had destroyed scores of German guns. In some instances all four guns in German batteries were damaged, while in other cases three of the four guns were lost.

Worse Than Earthquake.

London, June 8.—All the special correspondents at the front in their descriptions of the Messines battle, feature the tremendous explosions of mines which preceded the British advance.

"The earth opened and the German line disappeared," is one terse description. Every writer likens the effect on the surrounding terrain to an earthquake. One says that the hill on which he stood shook like jelly. Another who says the explosive used was animal, writes: "We saw what might have been the doors thrown open in front of a number of colossal blast furnaces. They appeared in pairs, in threes and successive singles and with each blast the earth shook and shivered beneath our feet. It is worse than an earthquake," said somebody who had known one of the worst earthquakes. Thunder clouds of smoke rose in solid form to immense heights from Hill 60, from Wytschaete wood and other places and while our eyes were full of the spectacle, a thousand guns opened fire. The air shook as the earth shook and where earth and air met incredible explosions seemed to rend the world until we appeared part of some cosmic revolution.

CHATHAM CADET CORPS ARE FOUND EFFICIENT

Inspector for Maritime Provinces Pays Official Visit to North Shore.

Chatham, June 8.—The inspector of cadets for the Maritime Provinces paid a visit to Chatham this afternoon on route from St. John and Rothesay where on Monday he carried out an inspection of the collegiate school at Rothesay and St. Luke's Corps, St. John, to inspect the corps recently organized by him at St. Thomas College as also the High School Cadet Corps formerly under command of Captain Duncan now overseas. The arrangements for the inspection were made at very short notice and some weeks ahead of the time originally fixed owing to the decision of the college authorities to close the college on June 12.

The boys of the college turned out in large numbers, nearly 80 being on parade and were formed up in two companies to receive the inspector who arrived punctually at 7 p. m. at the College Skating Rink where owing to the climatic conditions the drill and manoeuvres had to be carried out. It was indeed fortunate that such a splendid building was available as the weather chart could not have been more unfavorable.

DOG FISH NOW ARE GRAY FISH

Hon. Mr. Hazen Tells of Food Value of Species—Boston Holds Wire Monopoly.

Ottawa, June 8.—(Leased wire)—By act of parliament the humble but voracious dogfish is to have its name changed to "grayfish" and the lesser known dog salmon of British Columbia will have its style altered to "humpback salmon." These changes were contained in a bill introduced by Hon. Mr. Hazen this afternoon, by which it is hoped to remove the prejudice against these fish. Both of them, Mr. Hazen explained, were excellent edible fish, but owing to their names people would not touch them. In the States the dogfish had become "the grayfish," and held an honored place on the market. He hoped the same would happen here, which would not only increase the food supply, but reduce the supply of dogfish, who were a voracious enemy to all other fish, and particularly to salmon. Challenged as to the bona fides of such a change Mr. Hazen genially remarked that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, and the bill went along with little trouble.

The Ocean Telegraph.

On the bill to amend the Ocean Telegraph Act, Mr. W. F. MacLean, of Toronto, made his usual plea for government ownership of cables, wireless systems and telegraphs. This should be tried now on the Atlantic, after its success on the Pacific. If the government of Great Britain was in a position to win this war and control the cables, it was only because it could control their landing places and so was able to take them over. All the cables in the world, he said, were controlled by huge American combine with headquarters at Boston, which controlled practically all the telegraph, telephone and cable business of the world.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said that he also still stood for state ownership of cables, but he paid tribute to the splendid work done for the Empire by the Marconi Company during the war.

The bill was passed through committee stage. Second reading was given to the bill defining the display of military drill, discipline and general efficiency shown by that corps.

The boys were under the command of Capt. A. McKenzie, their instructor, who is well known as a Chatham boy and a member of the 26th Overseas Battalion. In him they found certainly a noble substitute to fill the place occupied as instructor in Chatham for cadet corps work since Capt. Duncan went overseas and the organizer and inspector of cadets is to be congratulated as also the respective corps in having secured through him such an efficient and painstaking instructor. The boys of the High School Cadet Corps were also inspected through the courtesy of Mr. Father Roche in the same building, and although smaller in number, and size, yet presented a fine appearance and more than favorably improved all present as to the great advantages which the encouragement of such work among the youth already indicated. It would do credit to many older recruits to learn and notice the almost perfect marching and discipline exhibited while carrying out the different company and extended order movements gone through. At the close of the second inspection the boys were then addressed by the inspector, Capt. Robinson Black, who congratulated them on the progress made referring especially in the case of the college boys to the fact that this was just a new corps and only had the opportunity of meagre instruction, owing to the weather and early closing of the college, but yet claimed that their remarkable progress in such short time argued well for the future success and efficiency of this new departure by the college in the introduction of this work as portion of their curriculum. Inspector Black highly complimented the veteran instructors of the High School boys who though young in years were old timers in cadet work. A best shot medal for the highest average was also won by Corporal Harrison who is a son of the popular principal of the school and which was at the request of the inspector presented to Cadet Harrison by Rev. Father Roche. The inspector also in a most interesting discourse on the objects of cadet work raised its value to the boys in building him up mentally, morally and physically was listened to with rapt attention and loudly applauded. Three cheers were then given for His Majesty the King, and the parade dismissed with ringing cheers for Captain Black and their popular instructor.

DENIES REPORTS OF GERMAN BRUTALITY

French Prisoner Refutes Charges in Paris Matin and All Are Receiving Treatment.

Paris, June 8.—The Gazette raisonne publishes a long letter from Professor Camille Clero, for two years a prisoner of war in the camp at Wilt, in which he refutes the charges of the Matin, printed in the French prisoners in Prussia were brutally treated. Professor Clero addresses communication to the families of prisoners, and says he has not a single instance of brutal treatment. He writes: "For nearly twenty-two months I have been detained in Bastatt, with three thousand of my comrades. From time to time French prisoners from other parts of Germany have been brought to this camp, so that I have been in contact with thousands of men, and not one has any complaint to make regarding treatment. However, I do speak of my own personal experiences. As I speak personally and have been permitted to form an opinion when it comes to extensive observation, and to say, in order to calm the my countrymen at home, that I have not seen a single instance of brutality. On the contrary, everything has been done for us here. I have heard an insulting word or used, and the Matin is entitled to form an opinion when it states that prisoners in Germany are and are cruelly treated. "No, we are not depressed. Everything is done up our spirits and to take care of our health. We have daily long entertainments and concert parties, and we are not sick and wounded receive treatment by the German physicians and nurses. "The Matin is furthermore mistaken in its allegation that Germans confiscate the food sent to us from home. I want to test against this statement. The little luxuries that are sent are delivered to us unopened, do not know of any single where a package or a parcel was held. Something like two thousand parcels are received every month and every parcel promptly delivered. "Therefore, not only on behalf of the thousand Frenchmen in this want to assure our loved ones that we have no complaint to make that we are as happy as we considering our absence from our loved country; that we are treated and that we do not such statements as the Matin will result in any good. We have peace which will enable us to turn to our loved ones, but sometimes we desire to know more getting the very best possible. Every Year Thousands of Men Turn To English & Scotch Woollen Co. System —after repeated seasons of clothes-buying elsewhere. These men have tried "Tiffany-priced" local tailor service, only to find it almost as expensive as the "up-keep" of an imported automobile. They have resorted to "Ready-made," standardized garments—only to decide that merchant tailored individuality seldom comes in prepared packages.

But in English & Scotch Tailoring these men have found their ideal—a combination of advantages of the local tailors' personal service and the advantage of the big manufacturers' vast production—with the disadvantages of neither. The best that the local tailor can give—at the price that is possible only to a Dominion-wide service such as ours.

DENIES REPORTS OF GERMAN BRUTALITY

French Prisoner Refutes Charges in Paris Matin and Says All Are Receiving Good Treatment.

Paris, June 8.—The Gazette de Lorraine publishes a long letter from Professor Camille Clerc, for nearly two years a prisoner of war in Germany, in which he refutes the allegations of the Matin, printed recently, that the French prisoners held by Prussia were brutally treated.

Professor Clerc addresses his communication to the families of French prisoners, and says he has not known a single instance of brutal treatment. He writes:

"For nearly twenty-two months I have been detained in Rastatt, Baden, with three thousand of my colleagues. From time to time French prisoners from other parts of Germany have been brought to this concentration camp, so that I have been in a position to talk with thousands of Frenchmen, and not one has any specific complaint to make regarding his treatment. However, I desire to speak of my own personal experiences. As I speak German fluently, and have been permitted to go about the camp at will, I have had occasion for extensive observation, and I wish to say, in order to calm the fears of my countrymen at home, that I have not seen a single instance of brutality. On the contrary, everything possible is done for us here. I have not even heard an insulting word or epithet used, and the Matin is entirely misinformed when it states that French prisoners in Germany are tortured and cruelly treated.

"No, we are not depressed, not hopeless. Everything is done to keep up our spirits and to take care of our health. We have daily long walks, entertainments and concerts. The sick and wounded receive excellent treatment by the German physicians and nurses.

"The Matin is furthermore misled and mistaken in its allegation that the Germans confiscate the food that is sent to us from home. I want to protest against this statement strongly. The little luxuries that are sent here are delivered to us unopened, and I do not know of any single instance where a package or parcel was withheld. Something like twenty-five thousand parcels are received in this camp every month and every one is promptly delivered.

"Therefore, not only on behalf of myself but on behalf of the three thousand Frenchmen in this camp I want to assure our loved ones at home that we have no complaint to make; that we are as happy as we can be, considering our absence from our beloved country; that we are well treated and that we do not believe such statements as the Matin prints will result in any good. We hope soon for peace which will enable us to return to our loved ones, but in the meantime we desire it known that we are getting the very best care possible."

SPOKE OF WOES OF THE ACADIANS

Meeting Held to Raise Memorial Sanctuary at Grand Pre—Loss of French Prestige.

(Montreal Gazette.)

"The infamous crime of Lawrence," the cowardly and infamous conqueror, "the perfidious English," constituted the text of three addresses recently at the Monument National, where a meeting was held under the auspices of St. Jean Baptiste Society in order to raise a fund for a memorial sanctuary at Grand Pre, in the land of Evangeline.

In his open remarks Victor Morin, who presided, as president of the society, showed that a plot existed to destroy the little Acadian people, and it may well be said, added the chairman, that if Quebec had its Bigot, Nova Scotia had its Lawrence. He showed how the Acadians had been driven from their farms, how their families had been dispersed and separated, and how their beautiful French communities had given place to the English names of Amherst, Truro and Windsor. This people had, however, refused to die and today they are firmly entrenched in the three lower provinces and hold the balance of power in New Brunswick. Even with all the persecution of the Acadians, they have forgotten the conquerors and simply refer to the days of their misery as "Le grand derangement."

ENGLISH BARBARISM

Abbe Groulx, of Laval University, then read a history of Acadian wrongs, of English barbarism, in the province of Nova Scotia, and declared that no group of people had ever been more brutally assailed and no people had shown greater heroism in their recovery. He traced the history of the Acadian people, driven from pillar to post, abandoned by France and persecuted beyond endurance by the English and saved by their adherence to the Catholic faith and their desire to be French. Dr. Aucoin, a Montreal Acadian practitioner, was the next speaker, and he was decidedly moderate in spite of the harrowing sufferings which the two preceding speakers had pictured as being the lot of his countrymen for not wishing to swear allegiance to the British Crown. He extolled the clergy and told of the revival of the Acadian people, adding that there were perhaps two or three hundred families here in Montreal. They had formed an Assomption society and had done a great deal of good work for the French cause, both here and in the lower provinces as well as in France.

At the close of the doctor's address, Mr. Victor Morin returned and announced that the contest on behalf of their persecuted compatriots in Ontario was still being carried on, and he read a sympathetic despatch to be sent to a meeting in the city of Ottawa, which was approved of by the meeting.

The last speaker was Mr. Henri Bourassa, who discussed the whole French question rather than dwell long on the grand derangement. He said that he was quite young when he learned the value of knowing the history of his own country. Speaking of recent pilgrimages to New England,

"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought the Joy of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE.

35 Rose St., Montreal, April 4th. "For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant Headaches, and had Palpitation of the Heart so badly that I feared that I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the Constipation was dreadful. I suffered from pain in the Back and Kidney Disease. I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was 'Fruit-a-tives' that gave me back my health."

Mr. Bourassa spoke of the relations which should exist between the different French groups on this continent, and they their motherland of France. Quebec had erred in the past in wishing the Acadians to drop their own individuality and becoming French-Canadians, and also by supposing that in the near future the New England French would come back to the cradle of the race on this continent. He deplored the loss of French prestige here and said it would only cease when the French-Canadians learned to respect themselves and to respect those who lived along side them, yet at the same time give them to understand that we are at home here in the province of Quebec.

Mr. Bourassa took a pessimistic view of the general situation. No one could speak with certainty of the future, but he felt that the time would come when French-Canadians would be thanked for saving themselves and those living beside them. The obligation of France was to defend herself and that of Canada to look after herself. He told his hearers that if was not England's armies or her fleet that had made her mistress of the world, but simply the cohesion of her people. "Let us remain French and Catholic, but there must not be any fanaticism in a true Catholic," he concluded.

RED WARNINGS IN MAINE WOODS

Forest Commissioner Colby to Spread High-Colored Danger Signals Broadcast.

Augusta, Me., June 4.—Maine people are going to see red this year. They will see it which ever way they turn, in the railroad stations, the forests and the fields. At their favorite fishing pool, red, real vermilion, will greet them. Little spurts of red will be noticed through the green leaves, just like flames, at their camp and big letters of fire will arrest their attention as they board steamer or train for some resort.

Forest Commissioner Forrest H. Colby, of Bangham, who is also the land agent of the state, is responsible. He has been spattering the state with this danger tone as it has never been spattered before. It isn't too much to say that Maine will, on the surface, look as if it were suffering from a gigantic case of measles.

Commissioner Colby has been taking every step possible to protect the immense tract of forest under his care. That is why he has been using the red profusely.

COMING BACK NEXT YEAR? Then You Want These Woods Kept Green. LEAVE NO FIRE BURNING.

The above is one of numerous signs that Commissioner Colby has sent broadcast throughout the state. Not only are these being given to town officials and to the fire wardens for posting, but liberal supplies have been sent to the railroads to be placed in the stations along the steam lines. Another one of the signs reads:

STOP AND THINK Before You Drop a Match or Leave a Camp Fire. IS IT SAFE?

Another one of the cards gives the following valuable suggestions:

SAVE MAINE FORESTS. Maine forests, comprising 15,000,000 acres, are the most valuable asset in the state.

Thousands of people are furnished employment in the Maine forests. One hundred and fifty million dollars' worth of water powers are protected by the Maine forest.

Maine forests furnish a playground for the nation. Good citizenship demands—the law commands. That you observe the following precautions:

Don't throw away burning matches, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes, kindle campfires in dry periods or on dangerous places, near logs, decayed wood, leaves, etc., or at a distance from water.

Always totally extinguish camp fire before leaving it.

But all of the cards prepared by Commissioner Colby are not for individuals. There is one that gives the full text of the "slash" law passed by the legislature in 1915. This is regarded as one of the most effective pieces of conservation legislation ever enacted, for it is designed to remove one of the most frequent causes of fire that exists, the piling of "slash" after lumbering or clearing operations.

A Revelation!

When on January 16th, 1916, Washington State went dry the cries of distress that went up from the Traffic and most of Seattle's business men could be heard all over the state. Of all the sincere predictions of financial disaster, none were more so than those of the Editor of the Seattle "Times," a leader of the wet forces.

The actual result of Prohibition was indeed a revelation. Washington again endorsed the law in November after witnessing its unqualified success. In "Collier's Weekly" of March 24th, 1917, the honest Editor of the "Times" writes an enthusiastic tribute to the splendid results of Prohibition as a business proposition.

Before Prohibition went into force it was solemnly predicted that there would be miles of Empty stores. Let the former leader of the "wets" answer. "To-day," he writes, "the only vacant places formerly used as saloons, outside of the Old Tenderloin, do not, as I have shown, exceed twenty in number, and each of these is in a district no longer of use in retail business. The rest of the vacancies are new stores, not yet completed." Of the 211 places vacated by saloons 191 have been occupied by new businesses.

We said taxes would go up in the city of Seattle. They went down from 18.98 to 18.11 mills. We insisted bank clearings would go down. They increased more than $177,000,000! We said bank deposits would go down. Look: At the end of 1915, $87,815,076; at the end of 1916, $106,000,000! We all agreed Seattle would lose in population. The government says we have gained more than 15,000.

The business man said crime would increase. It decreased along with drunkenness by one-half. Collections were much better. "The grocers and meat markets say that in addition to buying more, the average small account man is paying quickly—two or three times more promptly. The money formerly passing over bars is almost entirely spent for better living, benefiting every person it reaches.

Now one would expect the Traffic to accept a defeat like the above. But no! They circulated statements far and wide to the effect that Prohibition in Seattle meant ruin, crime and disorder. "In other words, statements of conditions in Seattle, as a result of the dry law, were manufactured to suit the desires of the wets and Seattle was held up as a horrible example."

Help to Enforce Prohibition

In New Brunswick Prohibition is on trial. Strict enforcement is the means of permanent success. If you want the blessings of province-wide Prohibition to be permanent, help to arouse public opinion; help the officers of the law in their duty.

We have found real motor truck construction—not converted pleasure cars, designed to carry moderate loads. The Smith Form-a-Truck attachment itself carries 90 per cent of the load, and merely utilizes proved power plants to complete the design. Any one of these power plants is wonderfully adapted to motor truck service, meeting every requirement of efficient motor operation.

We Have Found These Low Costs

Eight cents a ton-mile is the average hauling cost, exclusive of driver's wages, which is being charged up by Smith Form-a-Truck users.

6,000 to 8,000 miles per set of tires. 12 to 18 miles per gallon of gasoline, and a delivery speed of from 12 to 15 miles an hour are the average records.

And these features of operation and service will be yours as soon as you install your Smith Form-a-Truck equipment.

We Have Found Every Body Used on Smith Form-a-Truck

Used on Smith Form-a-Truck, we have found every body, including a remarkable Eight-in-One Convertible Farm Body, which gives farm owners every type of farm wagon that could possibly be used, any one of which can be obtained in a minute simply by the manipulation of a few levers.

And we have found Smith Form-a-Truck not only equipped with every type of body ever designed for a motor truck, but we have found them doing emergency work hauling heavily loaded trailers. There is no work you could require that Smith Form-a-Truck cannot do for you.

We Have Installed Big Service Facilities

To take care of the tremendous demand which must come from every user of hauling or delivery service, we have installed a big service station, big facilities to meet every demand Smith Form-a-Truck owners can make upon us. This service station—these big facilities—are at your disposal.

We are ready to place your hauling and delivery on an entirely new basis of economy and service—to bring new profits to you through reduced hauling and delivery charges—to increase the amount of business you can do by opening up a radius of delivery from two to three times greater than that you could possibly cover with horses.

Bring your hauling and delivery problems to us; we will solve them for you.

HOW JOHN L. SAVED
THE ACTOR'S SALARIES

Big Fellow Scared Cash Out of Crooked Manager Who Faked Robbery.

The conversation in the grill room of the Lamb Club, New York, the other night had been running on the ways that were dark and tricks that were vain of the old time managers.

"The most contemptible attempted swindle of a theatrical company I ever heard about, which was most picturesquely nipped in the bud," remarked an old actor, "I was personally cognizant of—along in the last century. I had been playing a six months tour in a melodrama of which John L. Sullivan, champion of champions, was the star. We closed after a three weeks run in New York. We had been playing to good business and there was every reason for every one connected with the show to have been satisfied. Of course John L. got the big money that included a percentage of the gate receipts—but we little people had as good salaries as we were worth, and there was no kick coming from anybody.

"After the performance on this last night, as soon as we got our make-up off and into our street clothes, we gathered on the stage and were waiting for our final salaries, when Sullivan came from his dressing room ready for the street, made us a little speech and bade us good-bye.

"Aren't you going to wait for your share of the bootie?" somebody asked him. "Or is it too much trouble to take it away. We had a big house tonight."

"I've got mine already," replied the Big Fellow, slapping his pocket. "The ghost appeared to me in my dressing room."

"Just then the manager rushed in from the street in a frenzy, shrieking that he had been robbed. Invoking curses upon the thieves and with tears running down his cheeks, he told us that after paying the star he had put our salaries into separate envelopes and stowed them away in an inside pocket with what remained of the gate receipts and had then run across the street to a saloon for a drink previous to delivering the envelopes to their owners.

"Following fearful maledictions, he proceeded to relate that when he arrived at the stage door on his return and reached into his inside pocket he found envelopes and money gone. He then recalled that four or five men had joined him, as he came out of the saloon door, and it was undoubtedly then, he screamed, raising his clenched hands; that the money had been taken from him.

"It was not so much his own loss, he wept, although he was left penniless and his wife was ill, but the calamity to the members of his company that caused his uncontrollable emotion. To make good to them, he sobbed, he would devote the immediate future and he went into a paroxysm of grief that almost took our thoughts away from the loss of our salaries, and he had been able to pull off a some like that before a theatrical audience he might have been one of the highest paid actors on the stage.

"All the time this exhibition was going on Sullivan had kept an eye, in which was a curious gleam, on the raving man. Finally his gruff voice interrupted the other's lamentations.

"Come into my dressing room folks," he said to us. "You, too," he added to the manager in a significant tone. The manager had played a small part in the play in addition to his other duties and he and Sullivan had dressed together. We all followed him, marveling much into the star's dressing room, in which were Sullivan's and the manager's stage trunks, locked and strapped, ready to be taken away. The big fellow pointed to the manager's trunk and growled to its owner:

"Open that!"

"What-what do you mean?" responded the manager with an attempt at bravado, though we could see that he was somewhat shaky at the knees.

"Open that trunk!" repeated John L. in his deepest bass.

"How dare you speak to me in that tone!" quavered the other.

"The two men had been standing some ten feet apart. With a single bound Sullivan reached the other's side.

"Open that trunk!" he roared.

"While we of the company, men and women, looked on in amazement, the manager plunged into his pockets for his keys, hastily unstrapped and unlocked, looked at the big fellow for further orders. In John L.'s face now was the terrible look that had scared some of the best fighting men of his time; the manager was in the throes of what used to be known as the 'Sullivan fright' and he only awaited his commands to obey them.

"Dig down!" was the stern mandate.

"The manager burrowed into the trunk, taking out one article after another of its contents, until he reached a suit of clothes at the bottom. Of his own accord, lest a worse thing befall him, for he alone of the others in the room knew what Sullivan's purpose in the searching of the trunk, the manager abstracted a big wallet from the inside pocket of the coat of this suit, took therefrom a roll of bills and, with blinding face and averted head, paid the members of the company the amounts due us in absolute silence.

"We all went out on the stage with Sullivan while the manager packed his trunk. Funniest thing how I came to make that play," the big fellow told us.

"You see, after the performance to night this crook came back to the dressing room and paid me what was coming to me. I was packing my trunk at the time and he proceeded to do likewise. He took everything out of his trunk and then changed the suit of clothes he had been wearing while he made out his accounts 'in front,' putting it at the bottom of the trunk and piling the rest of his things on top. There was nothing out of the way in that, but in straightening up from my trunk during my packing I caught a glimpse of him in a mirror just as he was putting the suit at the bottom of his trunk and was a bit surprised to see him give a sudden glance over his shoulder at me as he did so. He did not see that I observed his action and I forgot it the next moment and probably never would have thought of it again but for these subsequent developments. While he was making his howl about being robbed it suddenly occurred to me that the money he claimed had been stolen was at the bottom of his trunk, else why should he have given me what I know now to have been a guilty look when he planted that suit of clothes there?"

AROOSTOOK JUNCTION

Aroostook Jct., June 5.—A concert was given last week by the school children to aid in raising funds for a steel flag pole at the school house. A temporary wooden pole 40 feet high has been erected and a large Union Jack flies on school days. About $5 was collected, the various recitations and choruses being given with good effect by the children under the direction of Miss Love. A Cantata was also given entitled "Jack Canuck's Treasure House."

Mrs. and Miss Love, Miss May Langford and Miss Richard motored over to Four Falls on Sunday to attend the Episcopal service.

Mrs. J. Ellis True is visiting Mrs. L. True, Mr. and Mrs. L. True having recently returned from St. John after the closing of the winter port. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seeley have also returned home after winter port closing at St. John.

Miss Jennie McLay of Perth recently paid a short visit to Miss Love.

Mrs. Sullivan of Woodstock is paying a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kerrigan.

E. Mosher, who has been relief operator at the C.P.R. station, has been replaced by "Bud" Jewett, who is a great favorite at Aroostook.

Mrs. James Howard and family are leaving Campbellton shortly to reside at Aroostook, her husband, James Howard, formerly C.P.R. agent here having enlisted for overseas service; their son Donald is also at the front, or in England, having been in the trenches in France for a long time. He was only about 16 years old when he enlisted.

The weekly Red Cross meeting was held on May 26th at the home of Mrs. Grantham, and there was a large attendance of members. In this connection it is quite apparent that the ladies are keeping faithfully at work saving and knitting comforts for the soldiers, while the men of Aroostook have done nothing whatever so far as is known for the past two years. The apathy and indifference that is displayed in small places like Aroostook is very disheartening when everyone knows that Canadian boys are cheerfully fulfilling the best of British traditions and sacrificing their lives for our liberty which we profess to prize so dearly.

DEER ISLE.

It is reported by some of the leaders of the Fish Union that $30 per bushel will not stand the test if the fish make their appearance in the waters here this season.

Some fine fish are being brought into port the first for many months, and the price which will rule this year will be very high. Quite a number of buyers are into the market and if the sea fish come as in former years the men will probably go into the business in a large way.

Some new residences are being started here this spring, but the building boom is not at its height as in former years.

The roads are still waiting Butler's convenience, and after all his private business is through with the peoples work will probably receive some attention. The good books policy will be in force. "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

The Studebaker Car
From the Standpoint of Economy

IF ECONOMY is to be your consideration from now on, especially in the purchase of your motor car, you should by all means investigate the Studebaker Car from that standpoint.

Where people know cars, in all probability they buy that car in greatest numbers which gives them the greatest value for their money.

Therefore, in Detroit, where 80% of all cars are made, where people know cars, the official registrations show that there are more Studebakers in use than any other car costing over $500.

In Western Canada, where people prove motor car value and quality, where they test it out, twelve months in the year, on the longest, hardest, hilliest drives, they have found that Studebakers give consistent service, day in and day out, at the least possible maintenance and repair expense.

In the large cities where style is a factor, there are thousands of Studebakers in daily use.

In ratio to power, Studebaker Cars are most economical in gasoline consumption.

In ratio to carrying capacity, their light weight and perfect balance make them most economical in tires—Studebaker owners frequently get from 8,000 to 10,000 miles on a single set of tires.

Studied accessibility reduces inspection, adjustment and repair costs to a minimum.

Therefore, if economy is to be your watchword, buy a Studebaker.

Buy it as an investment—not as an expenditure.

If you want to sell it, or trade it in, it will bring a higher re-sale price in ratio to first cost, than most other cars.

The Studebaker Car is the best work of a great Canadian manufacturing organization; it bears a great name, it carries a splendid reputation, and it is protected by a year's guarantee against defective material and workmanship.

Come in and let us show you, point by point, the quality features of this Canadian built car, the features that make it one of the best automobile "buys" in the world.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved."—H. M. The King. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

MR. PUGSLEY ON RECORD.

Every loyal resident of New Brunswick should clip Hon. William Pugsley's statement from yesterday's Telegraph and frame it for future reference. It is skillfully prepared, but even the characteristic Pugsley evasiveness cannot altogether screen its meaning, and stripped of its evasions and misleading phrases it simply says that HON. WILLIAM PUGSLEY, THE REPRESENTATIVE OF THE CITY OF THE LOYALISTS IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, STANDS COMMITTED TO LAURIER AND THE QUEBEC AGITATORS WHO OPPOSE CONSCRIPTION. It is a humiliating position in which St. John has been placed by this man.

Mr. Pugsley wants a referendum. He is willing that the war effort of all Canada shall be paralyzed for three, four or five months while the people are being asked whether this country shall continue to assist the Motherland in the prosecution of the struggle against Prussian aggression.

He is willing that the St. John and New Brunswick boys who have gone overseas and who are fighting today on the fields of France and Flanders shall continue to look to the home land for support while Pugsley and others of his kind go up and down the country asking the people to express an opinion whether that support shall be sent.

He is willing that the country's pledge of 600,000 men shall remain unfulfilled while the people are being canvassed as to whether we shall manfully discharge this sacred obligation of honor or cry quits at the crucial moment.

He is willing to side with Laurier in the hope that the anti-conscription, Laurier-tutored element in Quebec, the Socialistic cranks, the pro-Germans and the ordinary slackers who oppose conscription because they fear that under it they may be forced to bear a man's part in this Empire struggle, may, united, prove sufficiently strong to defeat the proposal and leave Canada's lids at the front lacking the help they so urgently require.

He expresses regret that the people of Canada should be torn asunder by political and racial differences and yet HE ADOPTS THE VERY COURSE THAT WILL PROMOTE SUCH A TEARING ASUNDER AND MAY PLUNGE THIS COUNTRY INTO THE BITTEREST STRIFE IT HAS EVER KNOWN.

The Standard does not charge that Mr. Pugsley is openly and intentionally disloyal, but we do charge that he has permitted his political allegiance to overshadow his better judgment.

Possibly, he does not understand the gravity of the situation.

Possibly, the appeal from the battlefields of France and Flanders has not yet come home directly to him. Possibly, he has no kin in khaki, fighting the battles of Empire. Possibly, there is no boy in the hard-pressed lines of Canada's fighting forces at whose disaster Mr. Pugsley's heart-strings would be wrenched. Possibly, if this is true, it may be too much to expect that he should have the same intimate interest in Canada's overseas operations as some of his colleagues who have personal experience of the burden of grief a cable can bring. If so, he is a fortunate man, but he should not be selfish in his fortune. Those whose votes sent him to Ottawa have the right to expect that he shall take their view of the question; that he shall realize that other homes have representatives on the firing line and other fathers and brothers have the right to demand that their boys shall receive the assistance so urgently necessary.

Mr. Pugsley may yet have an opportunity to reconsider his stand. Evidence from Ottawa is to the effect that loyal Liberals will join with loyal Conservatives in supporting a measure that will, without delay, fill the ranks of our armies and discharge this country's obligation to the Empire. Mr. Pugsley should be with that number. If there is to be an English Liberal group favoring selective draft and a united win-the-war policy, Mr. Pugsley should be in it. If he adheres to his published determination to make common cause with Sir Wilfrid and the Quebec Liberals then he has ceased to be truly representative of the desire and the mind of this constituency.

SIR WILFRID'S POSITION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his correspondence with the Premier expresses regret that the coalition proposition was not made before the announcement of a compulsory service measure had been given to the House of Commons and the country. Sir Wilfrid knows very well that, had it not been for that measure a coalition would never have been necessary. The Premier's whole purpose in offering to the Liberal leader such advantageous terms as an equal division of his cabinet was to secure the co-operation of the party led by Laurier in the one measure deemed necessary to fulfill the country's obligation to the Empire and to safeguard the 400,000 Canadians who have already gone overseas or who are in training to go.

Aside from winning the war there is no business before the Canadian Government or the Canadian people so important as to call for a union of the political parties, nothing that would make it necessary for the Premier to seek the support of his political opponents.

Sir Robert Borden, as a patriotic Canadian, desired that the whole country should be so overwhelmingly in favor of the compulsory service measure that any opposition to it would be confined to a very small minority of the people. Under a national Government, composed of Liberals and Conservatives in equal number, the Premier, as is clearly his right, having the deciding voice, this would have been attained. There was no mention of an election or a referendum until Sir Wilfrid Laurier first proposed it. Then, rather than see the country plunged into the strife of a political contest, or rather than risk the delay a referendum would cause with conscription still in the balance, the Premier agreed that the reorganized Government should pass the measure and then go to the people for a mandate on it. There would be no delay in such a course, for during the campaign the work of preparation for conscription could go on, with the certain knowledge that, backed by both great political parties, it would win the approval of the electorate. Consequently there was nothing inconsistent in the Premier first announcing conscription and then seeking the support of Laurier on such a policy. Sir Wilfrid's objection on that ground will not stand.

Sir Robert Borden returned to Canada from Britain fully convinced that the necessity of the nation demanded the most vigorous measures to produce fighting men. The voluntary system, splendid as it is, had outlived its usefulness and the number of men being secured by it was not sufficient to repair the wastage of battle and maintain our forces in the field. He was prepared to introduce a compulsory service measure, preferably with the support of the Liberals but, if necessary, without it. And to obtain that support he made to Sir Wilfrid Laurier a proposition unprecedented in Canadian history. The fact that Laurier, at the first meeting, expressed regret that compulsory service was promised before a coalition was sought illustrates full well that he was cognizant of the entire situation. Yet he accepted the condition and from May 23rd to June 4th was a party to the negotiations. On June 6th he openly declared against it. It will be interesting to know what occurred during those two days to cause him to change his mind. The country may know or it may never know but as the situation stands at present Sir Wilfrid has placed the Liberal party in the position of openly opposing the only measure that will keep Canada's armies up to the necessary standard of efficiency, and of refusing his co-operation in the formation of a non-political win-the-war Government, representative of all parties and supported by all whose support is really valuable.

THE ROBINSON BUBBLE PRICKED.

The bubble of enormous deficits and frenzied finance which Hon. Mr. Robinson sought to "blow" in the Legislature on Thursday afternoon and evening did not last long when subjected to the clear and searching analysis of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter yesterday. Mr. Baxter, by the use of the government's own figures clearly demonstrated that the apparent debt of the province had been inflated to huge proportions by the application of a new system of accounting by the auditors engaged by the Carter administration. The showing made by Mr. Robinson however does not change the fact that the finances of New Brunswick are in a healthy state, that the province is absolutely solvent and that New Brunswick credit ranks higher than that of any other province in Canada.

It would be interesting to compare the provincial debt per capita with that of any other province, take the province of Nova Scotia for instance, where a Liberal government has held power for many years. Or the province of Quebec, where the Lomer idea advanced by the Telegraph today

Gouin and his associates make political out of every bridge built and pay for them by a system of tolls such as does not obtain in this province. Or take the province of Alberta, where a Liberal government was returned this week. Possibly the Telegraph would care to make these comparisons just by way of showing its readers how colossal it lies when it paints New Brunswick as being in a serious financial condition.

But even Mr. Robinson's presentation was not serious enough to satisfy the Telegraph's avidity for news. The Times last evening deliberately misrepresented the case when it stated that "there was an actual deficit last year of over $700,000 when the Murray Government claimed a surplus of $12,000." As a matter of fact Mr. Robinson's speech gives no ground for such a statement on the part of the Times. What the former premier did say was that the current deficit for the eight years since 1908 amounted to $763,000 in round figures and even this figure was secured by charging to current expenditure items for which bonds had been issued and for which the Murray Government had every bit as much right to issue bonds as the Carter government has to bond $1,200,000 of permanent bridge and road expenditure as it has already done this year.

Pressure on space this morning prevents The Standard from publishing the full text of Hon. Mr. Baxter's address yesterday, but we present a fair summary of it and will publish the full text on Monday morning. Hon. Mr. Robinson has presented the government side of the case and has shown that New Brunswick's gross debt is something in the vicinity of $30,000,000. That such a showing cannot be justified by the actual condition is ably proven by Hon. Mr. Baxter, whose address should be carefully read by every man and woman in New Brunswick. The Robinson bubble has been pricked.

THE ALBERTA ELECTIONS.

The Conservatives of Alberta have no reason to feel discouraged with the showing made in Thursday's election. Despite the fact that 23,000 Albertans are on active service and disfranchised by the Liberal government, while the alien population, largely Germans and Austrians, was permitted to vote, and because of the Dominion Government's energetic war measures was practically a unit in opposition to the local representatives of the Conservative party, that party held its own and will have at least eighteen seats in the new legislature. One woman candidate was elected, defeating a Liberal who opposed her. In Calgary, the home of Mr. R. B. Bennett, the labor vote proved sufficiently strong to defeat the Conservative candidate, and this may be traced to an organized opposition to conscription.

The Sifton government has been proven corrupt, but the people of Alberta have decided to give it a new lease of life. That is their affair. If they want that sort of government, and the evidence is that they do, they deserve nothing better.

TWO LETTERS

(St. John Globe, June 8th).

Pending a discussion in Parliament or other statement of the views of the Conservative and Liberal leaders on the coalition negotiations, the two letters so far made public must form the basis of any and all opinions. As those letters were written for publication, it may well be assumed that they are in condensed form about all that can or will be said, even in a parliamentary debate. A careful reading of these letters should be made by every Canadian citizen, as they may form the basis of an election contest. The letters show that Sir Robert Borden returned from England firmly convinced that Canada must adopt conscription as a war measure. Acting on this conviction, the Premier made public announcement of his intention to enact a compulsory service measure, following it up with an invitation to the Liberal party, through Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to share in making the measure a success. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it will be noted by his letter, complains that this coalition invitation came after, not before, the announcement of conscription. The reason is perfectly obvious. The invitation was one to help make conscription the law of the land. It was an offer to share power and authority with the Liberals in order to arraign the full weight of public opinion in the country behind the measure and give it a true national character. This is so plainly written into the correspondence that it hardly needs repeating. Sir Wilfrid Laurier met the proposals of Sir Robert Borden with suggestions for a referendum on conscription—the very thing the coalition was designated to prevent. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's letter, stating that the Premier was willing to grant a general election for the coalition cabinet, but not until after the military bill had been enacted into law, is sufficient proof that the Premier's desire and purpose was to first get conscription.

The correspondence shows no objection by the Liberal leader to the cabinet representation proposed, and no ground on which to base arguments that he declined to entertain the idea of conscription because the proposals were not sufficiently drastic. Nowhere in the two letters is there found a hint or suggestion of a counter proposal or broader plans. They furnish not a jot of evidence in support of the idea advanced by the Telegraph today that the Liberals will insist that —instead of mere conscription of young men for the army, a real national service measure shall be framed for the vertict of the country, one that will provide reinforcements, but that will also organize this whole country as a nation at war, a measure involving necessities, wealth, labor for the vital industries—the nearest possible approach to equality of sacrifice all round, a real win-the-war policy, devoid of partisanship and based on justice.

Whatever may develop out of this present situation, the inference to be drawn from the published correspondence is directly antagonistic to the idea the Telegraph advances. The thing that is made perfectly plain and clear by the correspondence is that Sir Robert Borden, in an endeavor to make conscription the law, sought the aid of the Liberal party through the Liberal leader, and from the Liberal leader received back an answer that he did not see his way clear to join the government on the terms proposed. Sir Wilfrid closes his letter in these words:

I asked you at the same time if conscription was the only basis, to which you replied in the affirmative. At this and previous interviews, I always stated to you that whenever conscription was adopted, after a consultation of the people, I would certainly urge in every possible way obedience to the law.

The correspondence leaves no doubt in any mind where Sir Robert Borden stands with reference to conscription. Except by inference, it gives absolutely no indication of where Sir Wilfrid Laurier stands.

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS
Sooth and Heal
Inflamed Kidneys
The great danger with Kidney trouble is that so many people try to cure the symptoms instead of getting at the root of the trouble. In backache, pains in the side, lumbago, swollen joints and ankles, and rheumatism, local applications are of little use—such as plasters, embrocations and liniments. Gin Pills go right to the kidneys, healing and soothing these organs so that the functions are restored to normal and the pain stops.
So many thousands have been relieved of Kidney and Bladder trouble that you cannot afford to neglect the remedy for your trouble.
All dealers sell Gin Pills, 50c. a box, or 3 boxes for $2.50. Sample free

FREIGHT RATES ON GRAIN PRODUCTS NOT TO BE ADVANCED
Board of Railway Commissioners Order Old Rates to Remain Until Further Notice.

The Board of Railway Commissioners have advised the Board of Trade that in the matter of advanced rates in the railway tariffs on grain and grain products, a suspension of the tariffs has been ordered until further notice. The increased tariff was to have gone into effect June 5. The Board of Trade has entered a protest against it because of discrimination against St. John, the percentage of increase to this city being greater than to any other local point in the maritime provinces. It was also opposed by the Montreal Corn-Exchange Association, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the leading flour milling companies.
The Ottawa Board of Trade is asking for an amendment to the Pure Food Act requiring that bottled, canned and packaged goods, sold in Canada for food, shall have the net weight of contents clearly marked and that misbranding be made a criminal offense.
Mr. W. F. Burditt, who represented the St. John Board of Trade at the recent meeting of the Dominion Civil Improvement League, held in Winnipeg, will present a report of the League's sessions at the deferred monthly meeting of the board Monday afternoon.

feeling well. He signed on as a Machine Gun Draft.

Four recruits were secured in St.
John yesterday for overseas units.
The reason for the absence of a medical examiner on Thursday was on account of the medical inspection of the Kilties Battalion at Fredericton.
Lieut. McBeath left last night for the Kilties in the interest of the Canadian Engineers. He will return to the city on Monday. The Canadian Engineers have also sent a man to Campbello in the person of Sergt. Enos, who will spend a few days recruiting for the unit.

It is likely that tomorrow night the advance guard of the 25th Kilties Battalion will leave for Valcartier Camp to make preparations for the arrival of the main body of the unit, which is soon to follow. The party will number about fifty, including a senior officer and cook. Although it has not been officially announced it is reported generally that the main body of the battalion will leave on Wednesday night of next week.

To Proceed to Aldershot.
Major Messereau and Lieuts, Stephens and Ryder of the 23rd Battalion will proceed to Aldershot to take charge of the Imperial recruits secured in the United States. It was thought that these men would be stationed in St. John but according to military men, it may be that all men recruited on the other side of the line will be sent to Aldershot, N. S., to await overseas instructions.

Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, returned to the city last night from Moncton, where he was in attendance at the trial of a returned soldier, who was recently arrested in St. John charged with bigamy. Mr. Robinson secured bail for the man and he was released from custody, but will come up for trial in October.

port from survivors of a French sailing ship.

Suffered From Severe Headaches
FOR TWO YEARS.

Headaches are many and varying;
but when the head starts to ache you may be sure there is some chief cause.
The stomach may go wrong, the bowels become constipated, the blood may not circulate properly, but the presence of the headache clearly shows that unless the cause is removed some other baneful disease is liable to assert itself.
Burdock Blood Bitters has, for the past forty years, been curing all kinds of headaches and has proved itself to be a remedy that cures where others fail.
Mr. I. N. Petersen, Dnieper, Man., writes: "I am only too glad to be able to state that I derived wonderful benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters. I suffered from severe headaches for two years. I was treated by several doctors, but received no benefit until by chance I heard of B.B.B., and I at once procured two bottles and in a short time I was completely cured. I am, and always will be, grateful for what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am glad to recommend it to all who suffer from headaches."
B.B.B. is the oldest and best known blood medicine on the market today, having been manufactured for the past forty years by The T. Milburn Co.,
Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Special Notes of the Week

The social quiet of the week was to be expected following the first really summer weather. This like last week has been the departure for summer resorts of many of our citizens, leaving behind them the shuttered windows and closed doors that make so many homes in the residential districts a deserted place during the summer months. Patriotic endeavors are for the most part uninterupted. The window on King street of one of the leading dry goods stores devoted to a special branch of Red Cross work, has attracted much attention, and no doubt responses for Red Cross bags, for the soldier entering Canada, will be general, from our patriotic and generous citizens.

Treason's Twilight Zone

Aid and comfort to our German enemy assume a peculiarly insidious and subtle form, as we are warned by leading papers in various parts of the country, by the attempts of certain journals to confuse the minds of the people in the United States about its motives in entering the war, and to implant seeds of suspicion and distrust concerning the Allies of the United States.

On this subject the Chicago Herald very clearly and strongly says, "It's about time for the ham-stringers are lurking in the tall grass and the saboteurs who are trying to throw monkey-wrenches into the war machinery, to shut off and up or look for unpleasant consequences."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 9th, the leading article discusses from all angles this new kind of German propaganda which the St. Louis Post-Dispatch notes is found not so much in the German language press, as in certain English-language newspapers in German communities.

This is only one article among many of which will be of unusual interest to the Canadian reading public. Other topics are:

A Mental Tonic That Ensures Breadth of Vision

Even the best and most broad-minded of us, if we live constantly in one place, meet the same people, and pursue the same round of daily duties and pleasures, are apt to become parochial, to miss the wide sweep of the winds of thought and progress that blow about the earth. Thus situated, we need some mental tonic, some invigorating stimulus from without to bring us into harmony with the onward march of events. And such a tonic, such a vitalizing stimulus every one of us may obtain in THE LITERARY DIGEST, which clarifies one's news-impressions, corrects one's world-perspective, and gradually develops in one's mind a sane philosophy of current history. It gives you the news of all countries on all subjects, impartially and interestingly, and indulges in no personal preachments. Clean, sane, and clear-headed, it puts you in weekly touch with the throbbing life of the world. Make trial of it today.

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

MY DEAR KIDDIES:— As week by week passes, and Saturday, with the Children's Corner, is reached, only to be left behind before...

Certainly, only too pleased to have you as a member. I shall try and send you a badge. Maude L. Hemphill, Knowlesville— You should have had your camera before this, as same was sent you...

To such personal letters have been written, giving the desired information and in other ways letting—such Kiddles feel they always can find a friend in Uncle Dick.

I am sure there must be a great number of readers of the Corner who have not as yet written to me of the enjoyment found in same. Will those boys and girls please write to add their names to the long roll of members.

This week I am publishing a letter received from P. E. I., telling of "Alles Club," of the youthful members of whom correspond with some soldiers over in the firing lines.

I think the idea is splendid and would like to hear of the C. O. members doing similar work. Of course the Allies Aid Society has already cheered many scores of soldiers by sending parcels and letters but I am glad to see that you are extending the work of regularly corresponding with some individual soldier.

Owing to the large number of Kiddles who leave the city for the country during the summer, the "A. A." will during the month be engaged in work until the fall but trust to continue the work from wherever they may be residing.

This week's Corner contains a number of stories, which, I am sure will suit almost every reader. In this I should like to see you, which if suitable will be published, together with the name of the young author.

Judging from the entries received during the last series of Composition Contests, there are a great number of Kiddles in the Maritime Provinces, who can well handle the pen in story writing.

Just get to work and let me have the result of your efforts for publication in the Corner. It does not matter what the subject may be, but you must state whether the story is original or not.

The new Contest ought to prove of interest as it will be a splendid recreation from your studies, particularly as a time when school lessons are so much harder than usual.

Owing to the large number of letters received and also the desire to give as much variety of articles and stories as possible the answers to the letters received are given in abridged form, but I should like the sender to understand that each letter is read carefully through from beginning to end and valued just as much as though a column of news print was devoted to replying to same.

Now I shall have to close this rather lengthy letter, with best wishes and heaps of love to the thousands of Kiddles who read this page every week.

This Week's Contest

Here is something quite new in Contestions: In the Uncle Dick's Chat, two words have purposely been missed out. What you have to do is this—Find the places, and write on a clean piece of paper, the two words which ought to be in the place.

To the boy or girl who sends in the most correct words, original, interesting being considered, will be awarded a splendid camera, or if you have already won a camera, some other prize of equal value, of your own choice.

All entries must have the usual coupon filled in and attached, and reach this office not later than June 19—addressed to Uncle Dick, "The Standard," St. John, N. B.

Whose decision must be considered as final. DRAWING CONTEST. The result of this will be announced next week.

Answers to Questions Received by Uncle Dick. Raymond Hanlon, Alma.—Very pleased to see that you are enjoying the Contests.

Arthur Barton, Mill Cove—You tried hard in the Contest, Arthur. Thanks for letter. Nita Golding, Wickham—What a nice little artist you are Nita.

Basile Coffey, Reeds Point—Yes be sure and call. Hope your tooth-ache has gone. It won't be long before the holidays. Myrna Smith, Sussex—Thanks very much for soldiers' letters, which is being published in due course. It is most interesting I am sure.

Helen Harvie, Durham Centre—What a good writer you are Helen. I was pleased to get your letter. Glenn Pettar, Kouchibouguac—Thanks for your letter Glenn. Shall look for another soon. Hollis Vantassel—Your work is good and I am watching same. Reta Worrall, Dumbarton Sta.—

CHILDREN'S CORNER CONDUCTED BY UNCLE DICK.

Harold's Two Pets

Harold had been ill. Being ill isn't much fun—not when you're ten. But when the doctor just laughs a great big jolly laugh and says: "No more bottles or powders, old man! A dog, a pony, and a sleeping tent out there on the lawn, with three good meals a day and a lunch between times, why, then being ill isn't so bad after all."

Harold knew a lot of things to do with a pony and a dog. But this story isn't about the good times that he had and the long jaunts they took, Harold riding Star, or Ponto racing ahead after rabbits, or barking up a tree at a squirrel which scolded him roundly at having been chased. It is about the time when Harold forgot to give Star her supper, and what happened after.

Harold had played late, and had come home just in time to sit down at the table. It was a rule that he should feed Star before he came to the table, but supper would get cold if he went to the barn first. Surely just this time it would not matter if Star waited!

It did matter, though, for after supper he forgot all about it. He never thought of it once until he woke up next morning and started out to feed Star as usual. Then he remembered. "I'll give her enough this morning to make up for it," he thought as he hurried toward the barn. He heard no well-known whinny as he entered the stable; Star's stall was empty. He was not troubled at first, for the barn was near the orchard, and the pony was sometimes turned out there for a run. He whistled for Ponto and went out to the orchard fence. The pony was nowhere to be seen. Neither did Ponto answer to his calls.

Then he was frightened! He ran to the house, calling loudly as he ran; "Oh, Papa, Papa! Star is gone!" Then, as his father came out of the house, he added soberly, "I forgot to feed her last night, and now she's gone!" Harold's father came and looked the barn over. The halter was gone—he thought it must have been untied. "Harold, you are lonely as he ran; "But Ponto is gone, too; they would just steal Ponto," objected Harold, ready to cry in spite of his ten years.

"I'll give her enough this morning to make up for it," he thought as he hurried toward the barn. He heard no well-known whinny as he entered the stable; Star's stall was empty. He was not troubled at first, for the barn was near the orchard, and the pony was sometimes turned out there for a run. He whistled for Ponto and went out to the orchard fence. The pony was nowhere to be seen. Neither did Ponto answer to his calls.

Harold was worried so over the loss of his pets that his mother was afraid he would be sick again. All that day and the next he could think of nothing but Ponto and Star. "I hope the horse-thieves fed her," he said again and again. "I hope so, too," Mother answered, in a voice that was not chery.

"I hope so, too," Mother answered, in a voice that was not chery. "I hope so, too," Mother answered, in a voice that was not chery. "I hope so, too," Mother answered, in a voice that was not chery.

How Peter Was Naughty

Concluded from last week. It fell with a splash into the river below, and sent quite a lot of water over his feet.

When he had kicked off his shoes and pulled up his stockings over the side of the boat, he tried what he could do with the other oar. But it was even more tiresome to manage than the first, and afraid lest he should lose this, too, he put it back safely at the bottom of the boat.

Peter began to wonder how he was going to get home again. They were moving swiftly now. They had left the narrow stream, and a strong tide was carrying them out to the great open river.

He pressed Pluff against him, and looked around with frightened eyes. Not far away was a group of tall reeds, and towards them, by chance, the boat drifted. And there it stopped, and it seemed to Peter that unless he could make somebody hear he would have to stay there all night.

Although he was so hot, Peter shivered. Perhaps it was because he was so frightened. But he was very brave about it. Mummy would be certain to miss her son, and to send someone to look for him. After all, it was nice and cool here in the shade. All at once Peter looked up to see where the shade came from.

Overhead was a great willow. It stood on the edge of the bank, and its wide, sweeping branches bent almost to the water. One of them hung right down over his head. It looked so strong and firm that it seemed to Peter for all the world like a kind arm held out to save him. Peter's heart gave a great bound. If only he could reach it he might be able to pull himself to shore—the spears which held the dinghy were only a very little way from the bank.

He jumped up on the seat, and stretched out his arms. Alas! it was too high for him. But only a very little higher. If he had been two inches taller he could have touched it easily. It was a great disappointment, and Peter was doing his best to swallow a big lump in his throat, when suddenly, without any warning, Pluff leapt up on to his shoulder. The shock and the little jerk almost sent Peter over. He was just going to jump down, when the kitten gave another leap and landed on to the overhanging branch.

A minute later and she had found her way to the tree-trunk, and was scrambling down it. But the weight of the venturesome little creature as she leapt on to the branch had sent it down—right down into Peter's outstretched hands! He caught it and held it firmly, and pulled. The boat moved. Peter pulled harder, and it moved a little more. One more pull, a real big one this time, and the keel grated against the bank. And then all at once there came the sound of running footsteps and a great joyful shout, and then a big splash, and Peter was safe in Daddy's arms.

THE SPARROW

Little bird of dusty brown. Why do you stay here in town. In the noise and dirt and heat Hopping in the ugly street? Other songsters choose to go Where the grass and clovers grow. Where the dew is on the hill And the shady woods are still; Where the baby rivers skip, And the cool green hills drip. There to-morrow I shall be Sparrow, do you envy me?

Saucy bird, alert and quick, Languishing in tone and brick— Little children linger too; Who perhaps are found of you; Pale and pitiful to see, Sick and sorry too, maybe. They can dream but never go Where the ferns and daisies grow. All the sultry summer through They will hear no bird but you. Chirping, chirping, chirping still, Picking bugs and crumbs and things. Y't— you have the gift of wings; Harold was when his Father came home, and he only knew who was going. After climbing quite a while, they reached Star. Her halter-rope was caught in the brush in such a way as to tie her fast, and all the grass and leaves within reach were eaten close.

So it had not been horse-thieves, after all! Only a carelessly tied halter and a hungry, straying pony. Star seemed almost as glad as Ponto had been to see one from home. I wonder if you can guess how happy Peter was when he saw his pony. He was just too happy to eat! And when a boy is as glad as that, he is about as glad as he can be, isn't he? "Come on!" so plainly there could be no doubt that he knew where he was going. After climbing quite a while, they reached Star. Tales for the Kiddies

Do any of you little boys and girls know Biddy? Well, she is a little girl with long golden curls, just like the ones Goldenlocks had, only Biddy's just looked as if she sun wanted to play in them all day long. Biddy had lots of dolls, and toys, and blocks to play with, but she got tired of playing with them sometimes, and because she lived in the country she liked to go out and sit under a tree, and talk to all the little living creatures that Mother Nature loves. Her daddy had built her a little seat in a great big oak tree, and on fine days she used to take pretty colored cushions out there with her to make it nice and comfortable, and sometimes the sandman would come and talk to her, and quite often she would go to sleep. But this day that I am telling you about she did not feel sleepy, and that is why she could not quite understand all the lovely things that happened to her. You see, even if she did not think so, she did close her eyes, and she just must have gone to sleep, what do you think?—She sat for a long time looking at an ant-hill, watching the busy little ants going to and fro, when all at once she sat up very straight, and listened, for she was sure she heard bells ringing. Yes! there it was again. Biddy looked everywhere, but could not imagine where the sound came from, until she saw coming up the path, a little procession of ants. Some of them looked almost like fairies, they shone so bright in the sun, and some of them had silvery wings. Perhaps they were fairy ants. The ones in front were ringing the bells, and they looked like tiny blue-bells. They had little conches and were automobiles, just big enough for themselves, and at the end of the procession ten little ants were pulling the biggest grasshopper that Biddy had ever seen. Of course it was dead, and they were taking it home with them to cook for their dinner. Well, Biddy watched them, and oh! how she wished she could just be small enough to go with them. All at once she must have seen the little girl sitting there. Then one of the flashiest of all the ants got out of the carriage and came towards her and as it came Biddy began to grow small, and before she knew it, she was able to talk to them in bug language. The ants must have thought she was very wonderful, for they helped her up into the automobile beside their king, and then they started on their journey again.

By and by they arrived at the ant-hill—it looked like a mountain now, and Biddy saw that it was full of all kinds of little doors and windows, and oh! so many ants in uniform were waiting to welcome them. My! such pomp and ceremony there was. They all bowed, and sang queer sort of chants, and then after a few minutes they all entered the ant-hill. They went through all kinds of passages until they came to a great big room. The king of the ants came to Biddy and asked her if she would please reign in his place for a while, as he had other work to do, so they led her to a little chair in the corner, and placed a crown on her head, which really made her look quite queenly, and then they all awaited her orders. First of all she asked for food, so they set a table in front of her, and brought her roast grasshoppers legs, and boiled rice, with rose-jelly cream and a glass of milk to drink. When she had finished this dainty little meal she felt better, and ordered all the little ants to sing to her—some of their queer little chants. They were right in the middle of a soft kind of a lullaby when with a loud crash all the walls of the ant house fell in, and all you could hear was cries and moans from the poor little ants who had been hurt. A man had walked that way they said, and his foot had made sad havoc with the ant-hill. Well, Biddy got busy right away. She sent some of the ants in the automobile for Dr. Beetle, and some she sent in the coaches to the Flying Ants Red Cross Association for nurses. In good time they all arrived, but in the meantime, those who had not been injured and not sent on errands, made beds and tore up cotton for bandages, so when the doctor and nurses got there there was no time to lose. Biddy was kindness itself, and helped them all so tenderly. She sang to them, and read Bug Fairy Tales to them, and they just rather liked to be sick. She ordered all the carpenters to work too, and in a few days they had the ant house built over as good as new, and when they had finished it, she said they must keep it for their Parliament House, and told them to find a safer place under a tree, where human feet would not step on it, and they built a much larger and finer one this time.

Then came moving day! They all had treasures to take, and it got to be almost too big a job for Biddy. She just could have cried sometimes. But they were settled at last, and then she told them she must leave them,—that her mother and her daddy she knew must be very lonely without her. They were very sad about it, but she promised she would go back again someday. Then they called the king, and Biddy took the crown from her own head and placed it on his. They lifted the procession in order again and put her into the little automobile and took her to exactly the same place where they found her in the oak tree. She read her handkerchief to them as they wound out of sight, and then she put her head on her arms, and went to sleep. A cowbell in the next field awakened her, and she rubbed her eyes, and could not imagine at first where she was. She picked up her cushions and hurried home to her daddy, and told him all about his little Biddy, and she just must have been dreaming.

Playmates

In the big window that a little girl wearing a long skirt—that belonged to her mother! and a pair of gloves—that belonged to her father! and a silk scarf—that belonged to her big brother! She carried a fan too—and that belonged to her big sister! For you see she was very much dressed. It was hard for Patty to get enough of looking at herself—the long skirt swished so beautifully, and the big fan waved so gracefully. Patty wished she could take the window calling, too!

At the foot of the porch steps Dicky Dog lay asleep. "Good day, Dicky Dog," said Patty. "May I call on you?" "Do!" said Dicky Dog. He woke right up out of his sleep to say it, and he sat up to give Patty his paw.

"May I go calling too?" he barked. And Patty replied, "Do!" So Dicky Dog went along with her. He wore a hat and a pair of spectacles. For you see he was very much dressed. In the parsony bed Katie Katt was taking a snooze. "Good day, Katie Katt," said Patty and Dicky Dog together. "May we call on you?" "Do!" said Katie Katt. In the tall grass by the pump Teddie Toad was catching three worms, as he called it. And that was queer, for he usually caught flies. "Good day, Teddie Toad," said Patty and Dicky Dog and Katie Katt and Robby Robin together. "May we call on you?" "Do!" said Teddie Toad. He woke right up out of his nap to say it, and he hopped down to give Patty and Dicky Dog and Katie Katt his paw.

"May I go calling too?" he chirped. And Patty and Dicky Dog and Katie Katt replied, "Do!" So Robby Robin went along with them. He wore a wide paper-collar, and he wore a crocheted sack that belonged to the baby. For you see she was very much dressed! On a branch of the apple-tree Robby Robin was having a nap. "Good day, Robby Robin," said Patty and Dicky Dog and Katie Katt together. "May we call on you?" "Do!" said Robby Robin. He woke right up out of his nap to say it, and he hopped down to give Patty and Dicky Dog and Katie Katt his paw.

To Keep the Face Fresh, Clear, Youthful

More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is the care of the skin. To keep the face clear, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than the simple, unadorned, E. absorbs the solid or faded, worn-out skin particles. Sometimes simply wash the face with E. and you'll find that's the difference. By all means, acquire this E. for men's use. It's so easy to get an ounce of the wax at the hairdressing shop, or you can order it by mail. It's in a tin, and it's so easy to use. It's so effective. It's so simple. It's so perfect. "BE LOYAL TO YOUR CITY AND HER INDUSTRIES."
 A man is either an optimist or a pessimist. He is either a booster or a knacker. There is no "in between." You can't be "neutral" here. You are either for your city or against it. If the latter you'd better get out. This city don't need you, don't want you, wouldn't have missed you if you had left six months ago. And "if you never come back it will be soon enough."
 However, there are thousands of our citizens who are loyal, who want to do something to boost their home town if this "something" is shown them. It is to these citizens that we offer this opportunity of buying and boosting Home Products as the best means of showing their loyalty to their city, its growth and prosperity.
 When you spend your money, spend it with your own people. Insist on goods of home manufacture. Keep well in mind the fact that you yourself gain by so doing. Every dollar you spend for home products is a contribution to the continued prosperity of your home city.
 Be loyal and show it. Talk it. Show your friends that patronage of local goods means better things for every one living here.
 Do Your bit in Boosting Your City.

Two Thousand Greet Col. Guthrie and His Pipers at Station.
 Boston, June 7.—Col. Guthrie, with his wife, two children, and thirty members of the New Brunswick Killies Regiment arrived in the North Station last night. Fully two thousand people were jammed in the midway and as many more waited outside in Causeway street. Twenty-five policemen headed the procession through the streets, also the Boston Pipe band and a large number of citizens joined in the parade.
 The Canadian soldiers were cheered continuously as they marched along. The Killies' Pipe band put up at the Crawford House and Mayor Curley personally paid for their beefsteak supper and their rooms. The governor has given them the Charlestown armory for a home and they have been given the freedom of Boston for a ten days' recruiting campaign.

HOLLINGER CONSOLIDATED SHOWS FALLING OFF.
 Porcupine, June 7.—Hollinger consolidated, during the four weekly period ending April 22, made a gross profit of $194,888, which was a marked falling off compared with preceding periods. However, for the four weeks ending May 20, and due to labor shortage a still further decline is anticipated. Only $122,000 is required every four weeks to cover the present rate of the dividend disbursement. Even provided labor conditions do not improve, the present force, nearly 950 more than sufficient, maintain production at the rate sufficient to show a surplus over the present dividend requirements.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

RAILS RISE IN WALL ST. MARKET

Prior to Issuance of Crop Report Leading Stocks Were Under Pressure.

New York, June 8.—The government crop report, which did not issue until the final hour of the session, was a factor of primary importance in today's market operations. Prior to that time leading stocks and other issues were under persistent pressure, resulting mainly from further profit taking. On publication of the crop statement, rails, which had been apathetic or heavy, rose briskly and carried other standard shares to or near best prices of the day. Industrials and equipment made less upward progress than the specialties, in which pools were again active.

United States Steel was offered at a very marked advance fluctuating between 132 1/2 and 131 1/4, closing virtually unchanged. Bethlehem Steels and related stocks moved within similar limits and motors and minor industrials took their cue from the more active issues.

Alcohol Up Again. Industrial Alcohol was again a noteworthy feature, rising after an early decline of three points, to 170. This represented a gross gain of nine points and put that stock within a fraction of its maximum quotation.

Other conspicuously strong issues included Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, which led the shipments at a five point gain to 117. American Woolen and Central Leather at extreme advances of three to four points, Tobacco Products and Barrett Company.

New Haven Heavy. Oils, People's Gas and New Haven displayed relative heaviness most of the time, the latter, however, coming forward with other transportation stocks at the close.

Total sales amounted to 1,025,000 shares.

Rubbers were more steady and other foreign exchange ruled at prevailing quotations except remittances to Madrid and Rome, which were quoted at rates more favorable to those centres. Forecasts of the local money market indicated another cash loss for the week by local banks, resulting from additional payments to the federal reserve bank.

The bond market was irregular and devoid of special feature.

Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,035,000.

United States bonds were from 1/4 to 1 per cent. lower on call, registered 4 1/2 advancing 1/2 per cent.

EQUIPMENT ISSUES LIKELY TO ADVANCE

Wall Street Has Faith in Railroads and Is Still Bullish on Steels.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, June 8.—There is no doubt that the smaller investor is becoming interested and active in subscriptions to Liberty Loan whatever the press news may report. We find evidence in classes and channels which don't know what a bond or security looks like. They are asking where they can buy $50 and $100 bonds. Reading and Union Pacific are being recommended by active and influential market interests. New York Central and Atchison are reported well bought. More interest speculatively is being displayed in rails. We have repeatedly recommended the steel issues prominently leaders of the market, says a leading financial institution. We predict higher prices for them. What is termed "the inherent strength of the market" is frequently mentioned in high circles. "The railway equipment stocks are being placed next in attractiveness to the steel issues by an exceptionally accurate nature on U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, R. B. C. and Lackawanna Steel of late."

Unusually strong interests are arrayed on the long side of the steel and equipment issues, according to well informed sources which are of the opinion that they are in a position to force much higher levels. There is more of a tendency in commission houses to talk reaction in the market from the advanced levels. There have been a great many reactionists lately, mostly people who missed their market, and they are awaiting an opportunity to get in.

HOLLINGER CONSOLIDATED SUSPENDS DIVIDENDS

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 8.—It is officially announced that as a result of the scarcity of labor and the unrest in the labor available in Quebec, Hollinger Consolidated Co. has decided to suspend dividend payments for the present. Three months ago the dividend was reduced from 13 per cent to 6 1/2 per cent per annum, also as a result of the scarcity of labor.

FINANCIAL PRESS

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, June 8.—Wall St. Journal—"The month still holds so many bullish cards to be played that optimistic buying of stocks is the feature, less heed is given to the talk of caution which is beginning to be heard in the street."
Market continues upward as we see it. Standard stocks seem to us to be attractive on all recessions of moderate extent. It is our belief that the main factor inspiring the present strength is gradual realization that the favorable draft developments and liberty loan matters means safety for the nation which in turn means security for securities. In other words the United States is at last getting into a state of efficient preparedness which will conserve what it has and add to its wealth. The performance of Alcohol is restraining enthusiasm. We are friendly to steels, coppers, equipments and standard eastern rails. Pool information channels are predicting higher prices for Locomotive issues, Mexican Petroleum and Inspiration Copper.

EGG MARKET DECLINES AND BUTTER LOWER

Millfeed Drops $2 a Ton—Scarcity of Raw Material and Labor.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 8.—Bradstreet's Montreal weekly trade report says: "The wholesale trade is as good as could be expected under existing conditions. The scarcity of raw material and labor, as well as the lack of shipping facilities, is felt by the trade, but they are optimistic. Buyers are getting accustomed to high prices, which keep on advancing, but still they do not curtail their orders. The crops are not still backward, but the warmer weather has improved the outlook during the past week. Great relief has been felt by the produce merchants now that the government has established the price of cheese, which it is agreed that the government will purchase on a basis of 31 cents on board steaters."

Of course there are a number of different charges, such as freight, cartage, coopers and general handling charges to come off, so that the trade will have to take these into account when buying in the country. There will be no individual exporters as in the past. They will all sell to the government who do the exporting themselves. The egg market is lower and dealers say prices will have come down still further. Butter has declined during the week. The four market is dull, millfeed has dropped two dollars per ton, on a basis of 31 cents on board steaters. Potatoes are scarce and prices continue to run high.

American buyers have cleaned up all wool in the eastern township sections amounting to 120,000 pounds, prices paid were medium. Combing, 56 1/2; combing, 56 1/2; coarse combing, 55 1/2; sections 43 1/2 cents.

CANADIAN STOCKS UNDER PRESSURE

Demand for Shares Restricted by Knowledge of Scarcity of Call Money.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 8.—Canadian stocks were under pressure today and decline which started in the late trading yesterday was resumed at the opening of the market. The volume of offerings was not large, but again as in the case of the decline on Thursday the demand was restricted by the knowledge of the scarcity of call money and prices yielded fairly easily. By noon the leading issues showed net losses ranging from fractions to about 1 1/2 points.

In the afternoon there was some relaxation in the pressure and prices a general thing held steady around the low levels of the first session. Steel stocks and Civic Power bore the brunt of the moderate amount selling that came on the market, and of these Civic acted best. After holding unchanged at 76 through the morning it rallied fractionally to 76 1/2 in the afternoon and finished at the best. The transactions in the stock footed up about 700 shares.

Dominion Iron was the most active of the steel group, about 1,000 shares changing hands on decline of 3/4 to 62 1/2, of which only 1/4 was recovered. Scotia was more active than recently with transactions of about 450 shares on which the price declined 1 1/2 to 92. The close was firmer at 92 1/2 bid. Bonds were quiet and featureless.

U. S. WINTER WHEAT CROP DECREASES 100,000,000

Spring Wheat Increases 125,000,000 Bushels—Copper Shares Display Advancing Tendency.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, June 8.—In the early afternoon the market hesitated, showing no decided trend in either direction. A few speculators attracted all the attention. Industrial Alcohol advanced to 170, almost ten points above the close and within a fraction of the record high price. Amn. Woolen advanced three points on reports of big government orders. There were evidences of further shifting from the steel stocks to the coppers. The copper metal market is understood to be shifting for an advance and there is much talk in the street that the coppers have not kept pace with the industrial list. The government crop report caused a moderate advance in a number of the rails, so it apparently was accepted as favorable by the street, but the industrial list made no response, and as a whole closed not far from Thursday's final level. The crop report indicated a reduction of more than 100,000,000 bushels in winter wheat as compared with the actual for 1916, but an increase in the spring wheat of 125,000,000 bushels. Oats are better than last year and as good as the ten year average. Rye is under last year in condition, but a bigger crop is promised.

Mr. McGrath gave notice of Monday next that he would move the correspondence which passed between members of the late Board of Health and others in 1908 regarding the dismissal of Dr. Mullin as secretary of the Board of Health.

Mr. Baxter gave notice of Monday next he would move by the house to ascertain if arrangements of Nova Scotia and Edward Island would be well considered a plan for a legislative of the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Murray (North) said he regretted that during a session a question had been referred to his qualifications for the office of auditor general.

Mr. Dyrast said that his hold a seat in the legislature was questioned by the general. The Hon. Mr. Dyrast person holding an office of member under the government qualified to sit in the legislature thought that before one can be a member of the legislature he must be in receipt of a fees from his office.

UNIT PARTIES AT FREDERICTON AGREE ON MILITARY RESOLVE

Resolution Advocates Mutual Co-operation by Leaders of Political Thought in Dominion— Move to Investigate Qualifications of Provincial Secretary and Mr. Dysart.

(From Official Report.)
 Fredericton, June 8.—The House met at 3 o'clock.
 Bills to authorize the city and county of St. John to enter into an agreement with the C. P. R. in reference to a round house at Lancaster and to amend the probate court act of 1907 were read the first time.
 Hon. Mr. Burchill presented the report of the committee on standing rules.
 Hon. Mr. Byrne presented the report of the law committee.
 Mr. Mesereau presented the report of the committee on agriculture.
 Hon. Mr. Tweedie submitted a report of special auditor Williamson on the Farm Settlement board.
 Mr. Hunter gave notice of enquiry regarding the dismissal of Dr. B. M. Mullis as secretary of the Provincial Board of Health.
 Mr. Crockett presented the petition of the Alumni Society of the U. N. B. for the passage of an amendment to its act.
 Reviving Old Memories.
 Mr. McGrath gave notice that on Monday next that he would move for the correspondence which passed between members of the late government and others in 1903 respecting the appointment of commissioners to investigate charges in connection with the New Brunswick Coal & Railway Co. for correspondence between the premier and other persons relating to the report of said commission.
 Mr. Baxter gave notice that on Monday next he would move, seconded by Mr. Magee that steps be taken by the house to ascertain if the governments of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island would be willing to consider a plan for a legislative union of the Maritime Provinces.
 Messrs. Murray and Dysart.
 Hon. Mr. Foster said that the ex-attorney general had raised a question regarding the qualifications of two honorable members of the house. He was anxious that every honorable member should comply with the law, but he did not feel that in this case the honorable gentlemen complained of were disqualified. As both were present, no doubt they would like to make a statement.
 Hon. Mr. Murray (Northumberland) said he regretted that during his absence a question had been raised in regard to his qualifications. He felt that he had kept within the law and was fully entitled to a seat in the house.
 For many years under the old act he had held office of referee in equity for Northumberland county. In 1906 he was nominated for the legislature but before accepting had conferred with Hon. Mr. Tweedie, the premier, in regard to resigning his office.
 Hon. Mr. Tweedie had expressed the opinion that it was unnecessary for him to resign and subsequently that opinion was endorsed by Hon. Mr. Pugsley, then attorney general. He (Murray) was elected and took his seat in the house and no question was raised in regard to his qualification. The law had since been changed, but he did not think it altered his position as a master of the supreme court of the same as a referee in equity under the old act. He had received no fees from the government, therefore he did not think that his office was one of emolument.
 What Mr. Dysart Says.
 Mr. Dysart said that his right to hold a seat in the legislature had been questioned by the ex-attorney general. The act stipulated that no person holding an office of employment under the government was qualified to sit in the legislature. He thought that before one came within the scope of the act it must be shown that he was in receipt of a salary or fees from his office.
 He had been appointed by the late government a police and stipendiary magistrate for Kent, but had immediately resigned. He was subsequently appointed a parish court commissioner but had never acted nor had he ever received one cent directly or indirectly from the office. He could say further that he had never taken the oath of office or signed the roll. The Standard had referred to him as being on the government pay roll which statement was absolutely false. He had no desire to hold a seat in the house unless he was qualified and if he thought there was anything in the ex-attorney general's contention, he would resign. He held that if a man who had been appointed a parish court commissioner and had never acted was qualified it would be an easy matter for the government to disqualify any number of honorable members by giving them such an appointment. While on the subject he would call attention to the fact that an honorable member for Albert was in January, 1909, appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits for bail and there was no record of his having resigned.

Mr. Baxter said that notwithstanding the statements which had been made to the house he thought that some action should be taken so far as the honorable member for Kent was concerned if what he said was true and he did not doubt his statement. As to the honorable provincial secretary treasurer his case was different as he had acted and had been paid fees. He gave notice that on Thursday next he would move, seconded by Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) that the

Tested — PURE

Milk is carefully inspected and tested for its purity. No man would think of using adulterated milk. It is injurious to health. PURE tobacco is just as important to your health and enjoyment as pure milk. In fact purity is one quality you should insist on in the cigarette that you are going to stick to for your steady smoke.

This is probably one of the chief reasons why so many men are now smoking CRAVEN "A" Virginia Cigarettes. They are Pure Tobacco Cigarettes—no other ingredients or substances whatever are added. Nothing but mild, high grade Virginia tobacco, properly mellowed by age, and correctly combined in just the right proportions. Pure tobacco like pure milk cannot be improved upon by adding anything to it. You'll discover all the good it is possible to get out of a cigarette if you smoke CRAVEN "A." No Game Last Night.

The threatening weather thwarted the intentions of the teams which were to play last night on St. Peter's grounds. The only baseball activity was the presence of six urchins on the diamond with one glove, a broken bat and a home-made ball, trying to stir up a game of their own.

Doing Well.

George Henderson, who was admitted to the hospital on Monday suffering from internal trouble, is reported as "on the road to complete recovery." It was thought that an operation would be necessary, but friends will be glad to know that he will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Fire at Randolph.

Thursday, at noon, a fire at Randolph rendered two families homeless. The fire started at ten minutes to 11, and by half past twelve nothing of the house remained and the two families lost practically everything they possessed. The house was owned by Frank Morris and was occupied by himself and Fred Wallace.

Engagement Announced.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Cox of Sheffield Academy, N. B., announce the engagement of their daughter, Clara Wilkes Currie of the teaching staff of Mt. Royal kindergarten of Montreal, to Mr. Edward C. Sharp of the Montreal Wireless Telegraph Company of Montreal, the marriage to take place at the end of the present month.

Lecture at Long Point.

Rev. F. Patrick Denison, of this city, delivered his very interesting lecture, "From Darkness to Light," before a large audience at Long Point, Kings county, on Thursday evening last. At the close of the lecture J. N. Urquhart auctioned off a number of the proceeds of the evening which amounted to $55, for the new "Soldiers Memorial Tabernacle," which is to be built at Haymarket Square.

Irate Husband Whips Soldier.

According to a story going the rounds a certain soldier will not soon forget his trip to the vicinity of Glen Falls a few Sundays ago. It is stated that a hard working husband happened to hear his wife who is the mother of thirteen children, make an engagement with a woman neighbor to take a trip to the falls on that particular Sunday afternoon. The husband came suspicious and followed. Arriving at the falls he became satisfied that his suspicious were correct for his wife and her companion were two soldiers and the couple took a stroll far from the eyes of others who were enjoying the afternoon in that vicinity. The husband of the mother of thirteen saw enough to make him take action and what he did to his wife's soldier lover is not worth telling. The conflict lasted but a few minutes, but it was long enough for the soldier to receive two black eyes and find himself thrown into a pool of dirty water. After the enraged husband said a few things to his wife he returned to the city. It is safe to say that the repenting wife will confine her affections to one man in future.

The Odd Fellows' Fair.

The Odd Fellows' fair, being held in the Odd Fellows' hall on the West Side, closes tonight after a most successful week. Large crowds were in evidence last night and the various attractions were all freely patronized. Some of those who are instrumental in bringing the fair to a successful conclusion are Andrew Campbell, in charge of the air gun; John Amos, in charge of excelsior; Fred Stanley, in charge of Harry Duke, gent's bean toss; John Allingham, ladies' bean toss; W. J. Watson, cashier; Miss Clark and Mrs. Cowie, ice cream table; Harry Robinson, beer counter; T. Carrigan and Mrs. Charles Taylor, country store; Mr. and Miss Brown, fancy table; Misses Park, Miss Edwina Irons and Mrs. Fred Long, candy table; Miss Garnett, grab bag; Ross Melvin, bagatelle. Tonight is of special interest to those who attend the fair as a grand prize will be awarded to some lucky person. A dance will be held on Monday night in the Odd Fellows' hall.

Gundry's has received a fresh lot of Ladies' Wrist Watches. These are gold filled cases, the celebrated Champ movement is jewelled and guaranteed, selling at $15. This is an advance of $1.00 due to the war tax of 7 1/2 per cent.

AMATEUR AGRICULTURISTS AIDED BY CORPORATIONS NURSING MOTHER EARTH

Scarcity of Fertilizer in Province—Simms and Co. Grant Land to Employes—Holidays for Jones and Schofield's Enterprising "Farmers"—Street Railway Employes Working Land at Glen Falls—Few Lots Vacant on Manawagonish Road.

Gratifying reports from all centres mark the enthusiasm with which those who have interested themselves in the increased production campaign preserve in their efforts. Day and night groups of energetic citizens can be seen nursing mother earth, in their effort to extract the most that nature can produce. The same enterprising spirit is made manifest throughout the province. Notwithstanding the backward spring weather, which has deterred the planting of seed, nearly every area of land available for production has been seeded down.

Practically every piece of vacant land in the vicinity of the city which can be utilized to produce food is under cultivation. Manufactured and scientific fertilizers are in great demand, but the supply has been cut off for want of chemicals used in the manufacture. However, considering the innovation of amateur farming New Brunswick has undertaken the work with energy.

Employes Builly Engaged.
In conversation with Messrs. Simms and Schofield a deep interest in the greater production campaign. The Standard learned that a tract of land embracing several acres on the Manawagonish road had been seeded down by employes of T. S. Simms and Co. Each night about twenty of the employes spend their evening in attending to this area. Some of the men engaged on this lot are farmers of the old stock and a glance at the neat furrows, the even beds, and the clear earth, free from stones, is sufficient evidence that this year was not their first in farming. Another section of land on the old Dunn property is also under cultivation by this firm. Mr. Simms stated yesterday that the prospects for a good crop were bright.

St. John Railway Interested.
The St. John Railway Company, it will be remembered, at the beginning of the season, sent letters to their employes informing them that any who were desirous of cultivating could obtain land at Glen Falls. The result of that invitation will bear fruit in the harvest season, as many lots in this section are seeded down. There still remains, however, an extensive area, and it is expected that other employes will take advantage of the opportunity of aiding the country. The company assisted in clearing and plowing the land, thus affording a clear start for the amateur agriculturist.

Few Lots Vacant.
Commissioner Wigmore's area for potato planting is expected to bring forth a grand crop, while the city lots on the Manawagonish road are practically all waiting the progress of nature. There are about eighty of the lots under cultivation and every hour of the day men, women and children can be seen in the role of farmers. If the municipalities throughout the Dominion and individuals in general take the same interest in the increased production, as is taken in St. John county, with the help of Providence, the autumn food stocks should be very heavy.

City Engineer Murdock told the Standard yesterday that there were about ten lots on the Manawagonish road which had not been started yet. The land had been leased to parties but they had not yet started to work it. He said that unless they did so by Tuesday it would be leased to other parties as there were several applications for lots.

Employes Receive Holidays.
Jones and Schofield have made arrangements for the employes to work an appreciable area at Brookville, by granting them two weeks holiday. This will carry them through the growth of production. In the evenings the employes go out on the cars and work a few profitable hours. The area under cultivation here is about four acres. In addition to the staple foods, mixed crops have been sown, and the prospects are considered bright for a bumper crop.

In the city nearly every backyard has the slogan "if you can't fight help feed," written in deeds, not words. Children are taking a deep interest in the campaign and many a flower bed has given place to a beet, lettuce or carrot producing center.

Land worked this year for the first time will be in better shape for growing crops next year.

Prof. W. F. Osborne, chairman of the faculty of the University of Manitoba, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at the Royal. Last night a Standard representative asked the professor how weather and crop conditions were in the West, but he was unable to shed any light on the subject, not having been at home since April 12. On that date he went to Washington to watch the spectacle of the 100,000,000 men entering the war now in progress, and he was there during the visit of the British and French war commissioners.

Prof. Osborne has been deeply impressed with the promptness and ability with which the American leaders set themselves to unify American national sentiment in the interests of the war. There had been in Canada some criticism about the slowness of congress in taking action on war measures, but he did not think this criticism was justified when the magnitude of the issues involved were taken into consideration. President Wilson has the heads of various departments lost no time in summoning to their aid the outstanding ability of the country, and he thought the provinces, for they had much that was of national importance, would result in an efficient national organization and the entry of the United States would tend to hasten the end of the war.

Canada's Jubilee.
Speaking of his presence in the maritime provinces Prof. Osborne alluded to the satisfaction he felt in being here as a citizen of western Canada in the summer when the country was called upon to remember the completion of half a century of Canadian Confederation. He had been in the maritime provinces 25 years ago, and on that occasion he had formed so delightful an impression that he had ever since wished for the opportunity to repeat the visit. So far on this visit he had only been at Fredericton, but hoped to visit a number of the towns of all three of the Atlantic provinces.

He thought Canada in general, and especially that portion west, of the Great Lakes paid too little attention to the noble history of its loyalist beginnings. In this anniversary year of confederation throughout the length and breadth of the country there should be chanted the praises of the men and women who laid so sturdily the foundations of the constitutional and social life of the Dominion. There should also be a revival of interest at this time in the fathers of the Dominion, who were an extraordinarily able group of men who fashioned so wisely the legislative instrument which was our fundamental law.

He expressed himself as delighted with the increased closeness of the relationship between these earlier provinces and Canada as a whole, and said the lasting effect of confederation seemed to have been accomplished as far as these provinces were concerned. Twenty-five years ago the maritime provinces seemed to him to look toward Boston and the New England States, but today they were looking toward Ottawa as the common centre of the whole country, and the prominence of news from the west in the press of St. John showed that the splendid work had been achieved of weaving the country into an integral whole.

Prof. Osborne thought it would be a good thing if more of the citizens of western Canada would visit these three provinces. They had in the west annals which embodied pluck in the face of difficulties, but they were so recent that they lacked the halo of remoteness. In the climate and landscape also these provinces had much that it would do a western Canadian good to come in contact with.

West Passes.
The west had passed through the worst of the depression which struck it in 1914, and with the single exception of real estate western business was in good shape. This was largely due to the prosperity of the farmers. While in Fredericton Prof. Osborne attended several sessions of the legislature, and he was particularly struck with the high tone of the debate and the ability of the speakers. He considered the debate to be equal to any he had ever heard in any provincial legislature, and referred particularly to the speeches of Hon. Mr. Baxter, Hon. Mr. Murray and Premier Foster.

THE POLICE COURT.
The case of Edward Webber, Leinster street, charged with violation of the prohibition law was resumed in the police court yesterday. Harold Upham testified to seeing cases of liquor in Webber's house; in a clothes press off a bedroom there was more than two cases of whiskey. The Magistrate said he would give a decision on the case today.

BOY MOVED FROM HOME AT UNFAMILIAR TASK

Failed to Satisfy Farmer who Sent Him Home Because He Heard Him Cough.

The following communication received by The Standard reveals a serious situation. If the campaign to have the boys help on the farms is to be a success the farmers must realize that the boys from the city have to be given a chance to get accustomed to the work on the farms and also an opportunity to have some social life. The boy mentioned in the letter went to the country to do his best and worked from five in the morning until nine at night and the only excuse the farmer gave for sending him home was that he coughed.

The letter follows:
Boys and Farms.
A boy left a good home in the city to do his bit by helping a farmer. The farmer's voice sounded all right over the telephone and the mother let the boy engage to go a certain day. The boy arose at five and worked faithfully at chores of all kinds, cleaning stables, plowing, driving cows to pasture, harrowing, etc. He was given to eat his meals and retired at nine. Each day the food was fair, but monotonous. He saw only the kitchen and the room over the kitchen where he slept. He found it lonely as he saw only the farmer and his wife, but resolved to stick to it and say nothing. To his surprise one day at the end of the week the farmer told him he was going to take him to the station to go home. The only excuse the farmer gave for the trip was that the farmer did not want him. The boy was never known to have a cough and has been home some hours and has not coughed once. It was an excuse to get rid of the boy as he may have coughed and over-heated with unusual work. The boy was taken to the station at Anagwanish where he had to wait five hours for the train but the farmer did not even pay his return ticket.

Mothers, be more careful than I was where you send your boys.

WESTERN VISITOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO EASTERN CANADA

Glorious History of Maritime Provinces Inspiration to Entire Dominion—Refers to United States in the War.

Prof. W. F. Osborne, chairman of the faculty of the University of Manitoba, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at the Royal. Last night a Standard representative asked the professor how weather and crop conditions were in the West, but he was unable to shed any light on the subject, not having been at home since April 12. On that date he went to Washington to watch the spectacle of the 100,000,000 men entering the war now in progress, and he was there during the visit of the British and French war commissioners.

Prof. Osborne has been deeply impressed with the promptness and ability with which the American leaders set themselves to unify American national sentiment in the interests of the war. There had been in Canada some criticism about the slowness of congress in taking action on war measures, but he did not think this criticism was justified when the magnitude of the issues involved were taken into consideration. President Wilson has the heads of various departments lost no time in summoning to their aid the outstanding ability of the country, and he thought the provinces, for they had much that was of national importance, would result in an efficient national organization and the entry of the United States would tend to hasten the end of the war.

Canada's Jubilee.
Speaking of his presence in the maritime provinces Prof. Osborne alluded to the satisfaction he felt in being here as a citizen of western Canada in the summer when the country was called upon to remember the completion of half a century of Canadian Confederation. He had been in the maritime provinces 25 years ago, and on that occasion he had formed so delightful an impression that he had ever since wished for the opportunity to repeat the visit. So far on this visit he had only been at Fredericton, but hoped to visit a number of the towns of all three of the Atlantic provinces.

He thought Canada in general, and especially that portion west, of the Great Lakes paid too little attention to the noble history of its loyalist beginnings. In this anniversary year of confederation throughout the length and breadth of the country there should be chanted the praises of the men and women who laid so sturdily the foundations of the constitutional and social life of the Dominion. There should also be a revival of interest at this time in the fathers of the Dominion, who were an extraordinarily able group of men who fashioned so wisely the legislative instrument which was our fundamental law.

He expressed himself as delighted with the increased closeness of the relationship between these earlier provinces and Canada as a whole, and said the lasting effect of confederation seemed to have been accomplished as far as these provinces were concerned. Twenty-five years ago the maritime provinces seemed to him to look toward Boston and the New England States, but today they were looking toward Ottawa as the common centre of the whole country, and the prominence of news from the west in the press of St. John showed that the splendid work had been achieved of weaving the country into an integral whole.

Prof. Osborne thought it would be a good thing if more of the citizens of western Canada would visit these three provinces. They had in the west annals which embodied pluck in the face of difficulties, but they were so recent that they lacked the halo of remoteness. In the climate and landscape also these provinces had much that it would do a western Canadian good to come in contact with.

West Passes.
The west had passed through the worst of the depression which struck it in 1914, and with the single exception of real estate western business was in good shape. This was largely due to the prosperity of the farmers. While in Fredericton Prof. Osborne attended several sessions of the legislature, and he was particularly struck with the high tone of the debate and the ability of the speakers. He considered the debate to be equal to any he had ever heard in any provincial legislature, and referred particularly to the speeches of Hon. Mr. Baxter, Hon. Mr. Murray and Premier Foster.

THE POLICE COURT.
The case of Edward Webber, Leinster street, charged with violation of the prohibition law was resumed in the police court yesterday. Harold Upham testified to seeing cases of liquor in Webber's house; in a clothes press off a bedroom there was more than two cases of whiskey. The Magistrate said he would give a decision on the case today.

At a session of the juvenile court evidence was given in a case where a boy was charged with breaking into L. F. Callahan's bakery. The boy was remanded.

Alfred Kirkma for breaking windows was allowed to go on paying ten dollars and was ordered to leave the city.

CHESTNUT'S CANVAS COVERED CANOES

The favorite of pleasure and safety-lovers, specially chosen by Canadian railways engaged in survey and construction work, preferred by prospectors, guides and Northern Indians. Chestnut Canoes have resisted successfully the heat of the tropics and the cold of the extreme north.

Chestnut's Canoes are built over solid frames, only the finest cedar being used for the hulls. The special close-woven canvas cover is thoroughly saturated with a secret filler, famous the world over.

The many models, lightness, strength, carrying capacity and ease of padding have won the preference for Chestnut Canoes. Prices:
