THE LANGWORTHYS

Revival of the Famous Case in Which

Mr. Stead Figured Prominently.

London, Nov. 8 .- The famous Lang-worthy case, which caused a great sensation in England in 1887, has been revived by the death of Mrs. Lang-worthy, and the suicide of her husband in the Grand Hotel in Paris. The wife was the heroine of the extraordinary proceedings which William

T. Stead, to whom she appealed, ex-poised in the Pall Mall Gazette. Her maiden name was Mildred Long, and she was a teacher in Paris, when she met Langworthy, a wealthy widower, who had inherited £150,000, and to whom the death of his mother and aunt meant immense heritages. His first wife was a sister of the Earl of Limerick. Langworthy met Miss Long in 1882, and married her secretly in a Catholic Church at Caen. He afterward went to South America, in his own stelam yacht, the Meteor. He constantly ill-treated his wife, and when he learned she was in a delicate condition of health, he separated from her at Buenos Ayres, declaring their marriage was a sham. Thereupon Mrs.

Langworthy returned to her father, and began proceedings against her husband, who declared there had been no lawful marriage between them. The divorce court was obliged to hecide the marriage was invalid, but granted her alimony in the amount of £1,200 a year, which was not paid, as her husband fled from the country. Eventually Mrs. Langworthy, almost penniless and in despair, was con-templating suicide, when she saw Mr.

Stead, who warmly championed her cause in the Pall Mall Gazette, of wrich he was then the editor. All Langworthy's story, and subscriptions flowed in for her assistance. She then brought an action for breach of promise of marriage against Mr. Lang-worthy, which was settled by the pay-ment to her of £20,000 and the granting of £500 yearly to her child, Gladys. The parties after that disappeared from public view until the tragedy at the Grand Hotel, where Langworthy recently committed suiciled to his wife, who died shortly be-

In Case the Court's Decision Proves Favorable to Dreyfus.

Nicholas Plans a Canal to Connect Baltic and Black Sea.

The British Decide to Assume Control of the Khyber Pass-Emperor William "Doing" Damascus.

London, Nov. 8 .- The Daily Chronicle says this morning: We have received information from a reliable quarter of a well-organized plot in Paris in the event of the inquiry before the court of cassation proving favorable to Dreyfus, to foment a riotous outburst in the French capital, to attempt to overthrow the civil power and to assassinate the leading champions of Dreyfus. These reports are confirmed by interviews had with M. Trarleux, former minister of justice, and M. de change their residences temporarily, or at least to carry revolvers.

THE CZAR'S BIG SCHEME. ported that the Russian Government is about to commence work on a great ship canal from the Baltic to the Black Sea. The estimated cost is $155,-000,000, and the canal is to be com-pleted in five years. In addition to its commercial value, such a canal would be of great worth to the government in affording means for effecting juncion of the Baltic and Black Sea fleets independently of the Dardanelles route. The disarmament proposal of Czar Nicholas is believed to have been made to blind the eyes of European nations to the magnitude and importance of this canal scheme.

NOTICE is hereby given pursuant to the statute in that behalf, that creditors and other persons having claims against the estate of Annie Doyle, late of the City of London, in the County of Middlesex, who died 1st day of July, 1898, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver on or before the 20th day of November, A. D. 1898, to the undersigned solicitors for the executor of the last will and testament of the said deceased, their names, addresses and descriptions and full particulars of their claims and the nature of the security, if any, held by them. And notice is further given that after the said 20th November, A.D. 1898, the said executor will proceed to distribute the estate of the said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have had notice, and the said executor shall not be liable for the said estate or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim he shall not then have had notice. Gibbons, Mulkern & Harper, Solicitors for Executor. Dated at London, this 19th day of October, 1898. RUSSIA IRRITATED. St. Petersburg, Nov. 8. - The St. Petersburg newspapers show great irritation at England over the settle-ment of the Fashoda affair, and agree in declaring that her conduct will arouse the powers interested in the Suez Canal to open discussions of the best means of preventing the final establishment of England in Egypt. The Nosti says that since the Egyptian question is purely of an international character, it must be solved by a congress of the powers, which can proclaim the neutrality of Egypt under the protectorate of all the powers. RUSSIAN CROP REPORTS. London, Nov. 8.-The Russian min-

UNDER PROTEST. London, Nov. 8.—The Madrid cor-respondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Spain will sign the peace treaty under protest." The Spanish premier, Senor Sagasta, was questioned as to whether it was a fact that the Spanish Government had addressed a note to the powers asking the latter if they would support Spain in protesting against the intentions of the United States towards the Philippine Islands. He replied that such a note has not yet been dispatched.

THE KAISER'S NEW BATTLESHIP. Berlin, Nov. 8.—The trial trips of the new battleship Kaiser Frederich III. at Wilhelmshaven have been pronounced very satisfactory by the naval authorities. This war vessel is the first one completed of the series of five first-class ironclads which, in compliance with the new navy bill, are to be ready in 1902. Her maximum speed is eighteen knots.

It is announced that the Princess Henrich of Prussia will positively sail from Genoa on board the North Ger-man Lloyd steamer Prince Heinrich on Nov. 15. She will go direct to Kiautsau, where she hopes to celebrate Christmas with her husband. This report contradicts the rumor that she would relinquish the visit on account of the political complications in the far East.

WHAT HOOLEY KNOWS. London, Nov. 7.-The examination of Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, in bankruptcy proceedings, was resumed today. The court was crowded with people, including many ladies and a number of persons were unable to obtain admittance. During the day, Hooley made a number of curious statements, one being that he gave Lord Churchill £35,000 to induce the latter to sell an estate to a Mr. Ducnes. But he could not explain why he gave the money, and later he could not remember what a check for £6,-500 was for. When shown a pencil note on the counterfoil, reading: "For introducing Lord D.," the bankrupt said it meant Lord Deerhurst. He could not, howeved, remember the circumstances. Later, Hooley said the gold communion plate which he presented to St. Paul's Cathedral cost £1,504, and he added that he gave £39,000 to charity last year, and that his living expenses were from £10,000 to £12,000 yearly. The examination was then concluded and the case was adjourned for a week.

The young man of to-day is the old man of to-morrow. In these days of busy progressiveness old age seems to creep more quickly upon us than it used to. The wear and tear of business life, to-day, seems to leave more ageing marks. Quick lunches and irregular meals tell on the system. The organs of digestion refuse to work as they should, and from this springs many trying ills. Regulate your system, and make your digestive organs healthful by the constant use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

It rids your system of indigestion, and the many ills that bring the lines of age and pain to the face.

J. A. S. Brunelle, M. D., C.M., Montreal, Professor of Surgery, Laval University Medical Faculty: Surgeon to the Hotel Dieu, etc., says: "I have found it particularly beneficial in the treatment of derangements of the liver and of the digestive organs, and I consider that the regular use of a preparation of this nature has a decided tendency to prolong life. I am using it in my hospital practice."

Peace Commissioners in Paris Put Up the Shutters.

Visitors at the French Chamber of Deputies Disappointed - The Fashoda Matter Not Brought Up-Epidemic of Grip in Berlin.

Paris, Nov. 8 .- The Spanish-American peace commissioners have notified the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, that the joint session which was to have taken place today will not be held, and that they will notify the minister when they have determined upon the date of another meeting. Later-A semi-official note was issued announcing that the peace commissioners had informed the French minister of foreign affairs that their CAUSE OF THE DELAY.

Faris, Nov. 8.—Inquiry developed the fact that the failure to hold a meeting of the commission today was only due to the Americans asking for a postponement of the joint session until tomorrow, in order to allow time for the translation of the reply of the United States to the latest Spanish proposition regarding the Philippine Islands, which was received here this morning.

IN THE CHAMBER-A DISAP-POINTMENT.

The chamber of deputies resumed its sessions today with a crowded attendance in anticipation of a debate on the Fashoda question. But those present were disappointed by B. Brunot an-nouncing that he withdrew his interpellation on the subject.

MADE HIS MARK

The Czar's Secretary of State Left His Brand on a Burglar-The Grip in Berlin.

Monaco, Nov. 8 .- M. Polovstof, the secretary of state to the Czar, reported to the police that he had been robbed in a room in the Grand Hotel of a large quantity of jewelry and a sum of money amounting to 65,000 francs. The Russian official related that a man rushed suddenly into his room at night, that he had a fearful struggle with him, and that he hit burglar's hand severely.

The Monaco police at once communicated with the police in Paris, which resulted in the arrest of a young man who gave his name as Joanoff. The latter was dressed in the height of fashion, but when his gloves were removed it was seen that one hand was badly wounded, evidently from a bite. Papers in his possession were in the name of Gourko, a Russian naval lieutenant. Some of the stolen jewels were recovered and about 43,000 francs.

SHOT HIS FRIEND

Serious Ending to a Lad's Hunting Expedition.

Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 8 .- A very serious shooting accident is reported from Glen Robertson, Glengarry. Three young lads, John McPhee, Alex. McGillis and Chas. Richardson, took a gun belonging to the latter's father, and went to the woods on a hunting expedition. McGillis, in trying to shoot a bird on the wing, swung around so far as to bring McPhee within range of the gun. He fired, and McPhee fell with his face and neck full of shot. Dr. Kirk extracted 25 pellets, but some of them cannot be located. McPhee is in a precarious condition.

TOUCHED A BODY, STRICKEN DEAD

The Deadly Electric Current Passes Through a Corpse.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 8 .- Honolulu advices tell of the accidental electrocution of Thomas Hannan, of San Fran-cisco, and the narrow escape from death of Private Gertz, of San Fran-Hanman and Gertz were in a carriage on their way to camp. The night was dark and stormy. In the heart of the city their journey was obstructed by a horse lying in the street near a deserted hack. Near by the body of a man was seen. Alighting, Hannan placed his hands on the body to lift it. He was stricken dead instantly. Gertz placed his hand on Hannan and was hurled to the ground. A passing fireman seized him by the shoes and pulled him away from the deadly current, saving his life. The electric current came from a live wire that had fallen to the street.

Hannan was a native of Tennessee and a presimian by trade. He had worked several years on San Francisco papers. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Third Battalon, Second Volunteer Engineers.

Hiram Powers and Young Leighton. It was on the advice of the American sculptor, Hiram Powers, that as a lad Frederick Leighton was allowed to follow his predilection for an art career. The question was settled in Florence about 1845, when he was about 15 years old. His father showed a portfolio of sketches to Powers and asked if he would recommend him to bring him up as an artist. The sculptor asked for a week to think the matter over. At the end of that time he said, "Mr. Leighton, your son may be as eminent as he pleases." "Shall I make him an artist, then?" asked Mr. Leighton. "That is out of your power," was the reply. "Nature has done it for you." So is was agreed that young Frederick should study to become a painter, but only on condition that he should not neglect any other part of his education in consequence.

How the Great Painter Brought About a Revolution In Art. Before the days of Reynolds, Gainsborough and Constable English artists did not expect any one to pay such prices for their pictures as for those of foreigners, or even to buy anything but a portrait.

"What could I do with it?" an English connoisseur is said to have replied to a gentleman who had asked him why he did not purchase a historical picture he greatly admired. "You surely would not have me hang up a modern English picture in my house unless it were a portrait!"

The cause of this low estimate of English art may be seen in the facts mentioned by Mrs. Bell in her "Life and Works of Thomas Gainsborough." She says that the first attempt made in England to represent a modern historical event exactly as it occurred was made by Benjamin West in his famous picture of the "Death of Wolfe," exhibited in 1771.

Such was then the rage for mythological subjects that when it was rumered that West was painting a picture in which the actors were represented in modern costume George III, the archbishop of Canterbury and members of the Royal academy declared that they would have nothing to do with the bold innovator.

Sir Joshua Reynolds and the archbishop visited West in his studio to urge him to clothe English and French soldiers in the costume of antiquity. West refused, saying that the event to be commemorated happened in the year 1758, in a region unknown to the Greeks and Romans and when no warriors who wore classical costume existed. His visitors went away, but returned when the picture was finished.

Reynolds seated himself before the pieture, examined it for half an hour and then, rising, said to the archbishop: "West has conquered. He has treated the subject as it ought to be treated. I retract my objections. I foresee that this picture will not only become popular, but will occasion a revolution in art."

The picture turned the time against the classicism which had prevented English artists from producing original pictures. Even portrait painters, except Gainsborough alone, represented their sitters as Psyches and Cupids, Dianas and Junos, the Graces and the Fates. One artist painted the portraits of a lady and daughter as "Virtue and Beauty Sacrificing to Diana."

RILEY'S FIRST HIT.

Wrote a Poem "by Poe" and Palmed It on the Public.

James Whitcomb Riley began his career in a newspaper office in Anderson, Ind., by writing humorous rhymes as "advertising locals"-"doggerel" he called them. At the same time he wrote many rhymes with the serious intention of having them, if possible, recognized as poems. But he could not get them published. Even compositions whose worth he had testedthose that "would please people when I'd stand up and read 'em to them''-would be returned promptly by every magazine to which he offered them for publication. The Hoosier dialect was too "low down" for the average magazine editor.

Finally in a freak of boyish indignation, to prove that what editors really wanted was not originality, but imitation, he devised the scheme of writing a poerr in imitation of Poe and of palming it off on the public as a real poem of Poe's recently discovered. The scheme was very skillfully planned and very deftly executed and successful beyond anything the elever deviser of it had ever dreamed. From one end of the country to the other 'Leonainie' was hailed as a veritable "find," a bit of genius' most genuine ore. Riley had his revenge. He had some trouble, however, in proving that he was not an intentional forger.

He lost his newspaper position, but he immediately got another and a better one -on the Indianapolis Journal. "Come and get pay for your work," said Judge Martindale, the editor. The turn in the tide had come. Soon appeared, in 1883, "The Old Swimmin Hole and 'Leven More Poems." Indiana recognized her own. The "Hoosier Poet" was acclaimed by his compatriots everywhere. But when in 1886 the volume in prose and verse appeared, "The Boss Girl and Other Stories," James Whitcomb Riley became a name as well known in one state as in another .-Chicago Record.

Interest just now is centered in the case of Mr. Joseph Rickards, of 134 Emerald street. Hundreds of Hamiltonians know that Mr. Rickards suf-fered for more than six years with that terrible complaint, Bright's Disease. Hundreds know also, that he engaged the best medical assistance he could secure, but without receiving either cure or relief.

Mr. Rickards is now hale and hearty, healthy and happy, and his deliverance is due entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Writing of his case, he says: "I used many remedies that were advertised to cure Bright's Disease, but none them gave me even temporary relief. I cannot describe the severity of my sufferings. They were terrible.

"I was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I am thankful that I took that advice. I used only four but they drove every vestige of Bright's Disease from my system and made a A statement like this cannot be light-interesting as it is timely.

Rev. Henry Scadding, D.D., is the youngest son of the late John Scadding, for many years factor to Major-General Simcoe, afterwards Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada, on his estates in Devonshire, England. He was born at Dunkeswell, Devonshire, July 29, 1813. In 1821 he joined his parents in Canada. He received his early education at Upper Canada College, where he was head boy of that institution in the first year of its existence, 1830. In 1833 he was appointed a King's scholar, which enabled him to obtain a free course at an English university. He proceeded to St. John's College. Cambridge. While there he shared in the influence resulting from two movements, which were then causing a good deal of stir in the minds of young and old. These were the revival of reality in church life and usage consequent on a renewed examination of church records and documents anterior to the division with East and West, and the Brougham movement in behalf of less antiquated methods of education and the diffusion of useful knowledge among all Graduating B.A., in 1837, he returned to Canada in 1838 to become at once a busy pioneer in the promotion of learning in both its branches, first as a teacher of youth in the institution where he had himself formerly been trained, and, second, as organizer and incumbent of the first free church in Toronto, now known as Holy Trinity.

After many years of labor in these two posts he was compelled by a threatened breakdown of physical powers to retire into comparative privacy. He had gained his M.A. in 1840. On revisiting Cambridge in 1852 he received the degree of D.D., at Oxford.

Dr. Scadding was for some years editor of the Journal of the Canadian Institute, Toronto, contributing to its pages many important papers on philology, numismatics and Canadian and aboriginal

Dr. Scadding was elected president of the Canadian Institute in 1870, retaining that office up to 1876. He was one of the founders of the York Pioneers, and first president of that body. He is also hon-orary president of the Pioneer and Historical Society of Ontario. In 1885, in acknowledgment of his literary services he was awarded the Confederation Medal by the Governor General-in-Council. He married August, 1841, Harriet Eugenia, eldest daughter of John S. PERMANENT CURE

RHEUMATISM.

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Mrs. C. Allard Eight Years ago, and she has had no Return of the Disease Since.

From the tortures of Rheumatism who would not give his all to get release, even though it were temporary. But when, for a small outlay, not only temporary but permanent relief can positively be procured through the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, who need endure the agony of this terrible disease.

The case of Mrs. C. Allard, of Pembroke, Ont., is another of those instances, some of which we are publishing from time to time, where B.B.B. not only gave relief for the time being, but made a cure so lasting that after eight years there has been no return of the disease.

This is the letter written by Mrs. Allard, Jan. 16th, 1894:

"About three years ago I was troubled with Rheumatism in my arm and shoulder, and a queer, sleepy feeling in my arms so that they pained me a great deal at night.

"I tried different doctors and a good many remedies, but found no relief. I was advised by a lady friend to try B. B. B., and after using one bottle I felt so much better that I continued using it until I had taken in all three bottles, when I was completely cured. "B. B. B. I consider a splendid remedy, and I cannot speak of it (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

This letter was received July 6th, 1898:

"Since I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters some eight years ago I have never felt any pains or aches in my arm or shoulder. I still have the same confidence in B.B.B. now that I had then. It gave me so much relief and made such an effectual cure that I never fail to praise it." (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

One to three of Radway's Pill, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuations from the bowels. Persons who, for 20 years, have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinal difficulty. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons, from 70 to 80 years of age, who have been cured of this defect (who were compelled to resort to injections to empty their bowels) by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night, in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and a regular flow of urine. In cases where there is Irration of the Bladder, the Resolvent should be used alternately with the pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition, the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. This great desideratum is within the reach of all by the use of Radway's Pills and Resolvent. Drastic Aloetic Pills, in persons of advanced age, hasten dissolution; frritates and wears out the bowels and coats of the stomach, destroys the absorbents, so that these vessels are incapable of assisting in the repair of the body's waste. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain.

FAREWELL FUNCTIONS

Receptions at Toronto in Connection With the Departure of Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

Toronto, Nov. 8 .- Two receptions were held yesterday in connection with the farewell visit of the governor-general and Lary Aberdeen to the city. At 2 p.m. they visited the new city hall and inspected it. There was a large turnout of citizens, and among others present was Mr. T. G. Mason. who witnessed the opening of the old city half 50 years ago. The ceremony took place in the main entrance hall. Mayor Shaw read an address expressing loyalty to the motherland and the person of the sovereign, and regret at the approaching departure of the governor-general and Lady Aberdeen, besides an interesting reference to the relations of the United States and Great Britain.

Lord Aberdeen, in his reply, voiced his appreciation of the kindly sentiments contained in the address, and the regrets of Lady Aberdeen and himself at their approaching departure. Among the sentiments alluded to in his address he said he could not help referring to that mentioned in the concluding portion of the address, in regard to the good understanding and good feeling between that kind of 1:49. triple alliance, "Great Britain, Canada Tr and the United States." (Applause.)
"When I speak of an alliance," he said, "of course you will understand that I speak of those common interests, those mutual concerns which necessarily bring us together, first in a close definite sense between Great Britain and Canada, and also in regard to that great country, the United States, to which we are contiguous."

LOCAL HANDICAP. The preliminary round for the October handicap of the London Golf Club has been extended up to and including Saturday, Nov. 13.

Cleveland Plaindealer: In spite of the rain the match between the golf clubs of Cleveland and London, Ont., was held Saturday afternoon on the links of the Cleveland club at Glenville. Preparations had been made guests, but on account of the weather few people attended who were not to play, and none of the ladies of the club were present. When the two clubs played before over the London links, the Clevelanders were beaten, so this match was looked forward to with a good deal of interest and anxiety, and the Clevelanders were very well satisfied with the score made, which won them back the 18 points lost before and made a tie between the two clubs.

The score was as follows: Brown, London; Boardman, Cleveland; 4 up first round, 3 up second round; 1 up for Brown for the day. Betts, London; Crowellt leveland;

Crowell 3 up for the day.

ST. GATIEN SOLD.

San Francisco, Nov. 8 .- St. Gatien, who ran a dead heat for the Derby in 1884, and divided the stakes with Harvester, has been purchased by J. B. Haggin, and will be brought to Ranco del Saco, near Sacramento. St. Gatien, now 15 years old, won every race for which he was started as a 2-yearold, was unbeatable at three, only once beaten at four, and only twice at five years of age. Three defeats in four seasons on the turf.

RACING IN ENGLAND. London, Nov. 8.—At the first day's racing of the Lincoln autumn meeting yesterday, Mr. A. Halihoe's brown filly finished second. Mr. E. Courage's Mies Mannering was third. Ten horses ran. Douglas Baird's 3-year-old bay colt Brio won the Doddington maiden plate. The Lorillard-Beresford stables' three-year-old bay gelding Bayard Il., round: 3 up for the day. Majority for ridden by Tod Sloan, was second, and Cleveland, 18 holes.

Mr. Raphael's three-year-old bay colt Sangrado was third. Four horses ran. The Great Tom stakes was won by Mr. E. J. Percy's five-year-old chestnut colt Kopley. Angelina, owned by Mr. D. Seymour, and ridden by Sloan, was among the unplaced. Eighteen horses ran. FOOTBALL.

LEON WON. Chicago, Nov. 8.—Casper Leon, of New York, was given the decision over Joe Struch, of this city, at the end of a six-round bout last night. The fight was Leon's all the way.

BASEBALL. CHICAGO'S RECORD.

The Chicagos were shut out in fewer games and applied the whitewash brush more times than any other National League club last season. All told 84 shutout games were played, in which 38 pitchers took part. Powell, of the Clevelands, and Platt, of the Philadelphias, lead with six each. Nichols and Tannehill are tied with five such victories, while Rusle, Seymour, Griffith and Hughes each shut out their opponents four times. Six pitchers administered the "Chicago" twice to one club--Powell to St. Louis, Platt to Cleveland, Nichols to Pittsburg, Tannehill to Boston, Seymour to Cincinnati, and Hughes to Boston.

WABASH CHANGES

Probability of the New-Comer Scooping in the Air Line.

The Toronto street railway has decided to make an experiment in the matter of smoking cars, and will run cars on certain lines during certain hours of the day in which smokers will be allowed full privileges.

Mail Clerk William Black, who ran on the old main line division of the Grand Trunk between Sarnia and Toronto, died in the hospital in the latter city on Friday last. Deceased was taken ill on his run a week ago and was taken to the hospital, where he underwent an operation, from the effects of which he succumbed.

A St. Thomas dispatch says: The probabilities are that it will be only a matter of a few months at the most before the G. T. R. will turn over the entire Air Line division to the Wabash Railway. Indeed, for some time past they have been sending little, if any, freight over this division, other than that carried by local trains. At the present time there are only four freight crews stationed here other than those required to man the local trains, and they have received orders to move to Windsor. This will be a serious loss to this city, as the men have property here, and will mean a loss of about 50 to the population. The Wabash will issue a new winter time-table about Nov. 13, when two pas-senger trains will be discontinued.

BURNED TO DEATH. Detroit. Nov. 8.—A blacksmith shop at Chene street and the Michigan Central Railroad went up in smoke on Sunday morning, and Patrick Murphy, the owner lost his life in the burning structure. Two neighbors, Thomas Ferguson and William McKinley, made desperate efforts to save the unfortunate blacksmith. They broke in the door, but smoke drove them away and Murphy was apparently too much overcome by it to save himself.

Managing Director John Cameron and Editor,

London, Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1898.

Our Municipal Reactionaries.

As will be seen in the report of the City Council proceedings last night, Ald. Graham's municipal reform resolution was negatived by a tie vote.

The aldermen who have shown that they are not afraid to let the people pronounce on the question of abolishing the wards and of reducing the present unwield y representation in the council are: Ald. Stevely, Belton, Jolly, Carrothers, Winnett, Graham, Hunt, Greenlees, McCallum.

Of course, it is easy to sympathize with the view of Ald. Cooper that "he didn't know where he could get a better class of men than now here." It is also easy to sympathize with the motives of self-preservation which prompt certain men to try to prevent an expression of opinion at the polls.

The mover of the resolution has given notice of reconsideration. The progress made last night was not at all discouraging. The Partingtons of the city council cannot sweep back the rising tide of public sentiment which will engulf a good many of them next year.

Lord Salisbury's Somersault.

When the late Sir Frank Lockwood was a candidate for the representation of York in the Imperial Parliament, Lord Salisbury wrote a letter, in which he endeavored to convict Mr. Lockwood of being in favor of Irish Home Rule, and consequently of the dismemberment of the British Empire. It was in 1893, and the British Conservative leader wrote as follows:

"You say you never promised Home Rule. That may be so. I never said you did, but you promised what you knew perfectly well must lead to Home Rule. You not only proposed household suffrage in the Irish counties, but you also promised to grant everything you would grant to England. This will include a plan of elective local government as extensive as that to be proposed for England, a measure involving that more extended selfgovernment which Lord Hartington has denounced as madness.

Mr. Asquith, M.P., in a recent adiress very appropriately pointed out that the irony of politics had rarely been more practically exhibited than in the picture of Lord Salisbury erecting in 1898, as a barrier against Home Rule, a structure which in 1893 he had declared to be the door through which Home Rule must inevitably come. Not since Benjamin Disraeli took his famous leap in the dark, and agreed to a radical franchise reform which but a few months before he had been bitterly opposing (because it was proposed by his opponents), has there been such a political volte face.

We believe that a wider system of self-government will be established in Ireland, at no distant day, but for a different reason than that adduced by the present British premier. The unloading of purely local legislation on an Irish assembly, such as are our provincial legislatures in Canada, will come in spite of Lord Salisbury's present-day attempt to stave it off by what he recently said would bring it to pass. It will come because of the growing necessities of the Imperial Parliament to be relieved of purely local legislating in order that it may give its undivided attention to the ever-increasing questions that press for action in the great imperial arena, questions in which over 300,000,000 of our fellow subjects are with us vitally interested. Mr. Asquith, who was one of Mr. Gladstone's most able associates, when he last held power, assures us that these considerations have not been lost sight of by his fellow-leaders in the Liberal party, and we have no doubt that at a comparatively early day they will be settled, and settled right. Then justice will be done not only to the people of Ireland, but to all sections of the Empire, and every. portion of her Majesty's realms will be well governed and satisfied.

Alaska, and Other Things.

A writer in the current number of the Atlantic Monthly discusses "Colonial Lessons of Alaska." He is certainly not lacking in a strong sense of England's beneficent influence. After sketching the different classes of her colonies, he says: "England, as Benjamin Franklin said a century and a half ago, is an island, which, compared to America, is but a stepping-stone in a brook, with scarce enough of it above water to keep one's shoes dry! Yet, by the force of arms, the force of trade, and the force of law, she has become the ruler of the earth. It is English brain and English muscle which hold the world together, and have made it an Anglo-Saxon planet. The final secret of England's strength lies, as I have said, in her respect for law. Good government is the justification of British imperialism."

This, and much else of a like nature, is clearly and strongly put, but what we wish to note specially just now is the following generalization: "Wherever the flag of England floats, it teaches respect for law. There is but one political lesson more important, and that lesson is respect for the individual man. To teach the one has been the mission of England; to teach the other has been the glory of the United States."

This is, in a large sense, true; but all such general statements are only half true. Or, to put it in another way, to attempt to separate things which their grit and loaf around the town, are in real life indissolubly joined, mut fail, or at least yield a barren intellectual analysis. We do not wish to indulge in carping criticism; but this general statement suggests a few considerations which should not be forgotten. The declaration of independence asserts the freedom and equality of men. The fact that any American is supposed to be eligible for the presidency is supposed to suggest that all men are kings. On the other hand, there are those who think that a monarchy, even under constitutional limitations, a landed aristocracy, and a state church, necessarily imply that the manhood of the masses is degraded. But life is very complex, and man is very illogical. He refuses to respond to the demands of an exact formula. There are many things in American life-the treatment of Indians, the lynching of negroes, the shooting down of strikers-which, if they show scant respect for law, certainly do not suggest a lofty ideal as to the sacredness of the individual life. Then again, Britishers could not have taught throughout the world the sacredness of law if they had not been men of a high type, who respected in a large measure true manhood. When Britain says to Pharaoh, "I will make a man of you," she does it through discipline, and the fact is that obedience is the first lesson that must be learned by children and immature men. The way to freedom is through obedience. The man who defiantly declares that he owns no land in heaven or on earth, is not moving towards the truest manhood or best form of individuality.

From the ideal point of view, and as · very general statement, we may admit that Britain stands for respect of law, and America for a high type of individual manhood. But Britain has moved steadily forward. Her statesmen have known "the season when to take occasion by the hand and make the bounds of freedom wider yet," because they have recognized both these ideals. Gladstone had the deepest reverence for law, but his reforming zeal was inspired by trust in the people. "Are they not our own flesh and blood?" So if in the great republic the higher type of manhood is to be made more general, there must be a real reverence for law; but the laws must be more rational and more just, so that 'the bloated millionaire," and "the political boss," may be also kept in their proper place.

Teddy Roosevelt never had rougher riding than today.

H. S. Myrick, of Detroit, has just returned from the Klondike and tells the Detroit Free Press this story:

"I am perfectly satisfied with the country, as it is just what I expected Thousands of men have been disappointed, but for that matter, thousands of men have been disappointed right here in Detroit. Many reach Dawson, and, finding the whole country staked out for 40 miles around, lose without even investigating the innumerable trails and creeks easily accessible. In my opinion, the opportunities in the Klondike next year will be better than last year."

This explains a good deal of the growling in Dawson. It comes from the

Mr. Everett, of the London Street Railway Company, says he is willing to sell out at a fair price. The City Council might consider this. Municipal ownership of the street railway would mean fair wages for the employes and a handsome annual profit that would speedily wipe out the debt incurred in its purchase. Provided, of course, that Mr. Everett would sell his stock at the price he paid for it. With our splendid waterworks system, there is no need why we should also buy water in street railway stock,

The Aberdeen farewell in Toronto has set a distinguished precedent for the presence of ladies at public banquets. It should become the custom. The banquet is an institution capable of reform. The presence of ladies would correct many of the abuses. For one thing, banquets would finish earlier, which means that they would start earlier. That at Toronto began at 8:30 and ended before midnight. Ladies would also improve the decorum of many of these affairs. There would be less drinking where intoxicants were on the boards, and consequently less stupidity later in the evening. The epeakers would also have a new incentive to do their best. In future let the festive board be an extension table for the accommodation of the ladies.

She was walking towards the station, to catch the train for the conseveral church meetings on successive evenings, this week already, and one afternoon she had spent with The Society for Providing Embroidered Socks for the Senegambians. She had also in her pocket an invitation to Browning club-meeting, to endeavor to discover what the poet really meant in "Pippa Passes;" not to mention the women's political gathering. But she felt she had forgotten something, and it worried her. At length there came into her face that feeling of relief which rewards a man who finally remembers what the piece of string on his finger was intended to prevent his forgetting. "Oh, yes, I remember," she murmured to herself, "I knew there was something I was forgetting. As soon as I can find time, I really must arrange to spend a few evenings at home with the children."

The following extract shows the kind of news that is sometimes circulated among the ignorant tribesmen of India. On Oct. 25, 1897, Kazi Mira Khan informs Mullah Sayid Alebar that he has received the following "piece of good and correct news": "You Mohammedans must take care lest you be deent in distressed circumstances. For instance, Aden, a seaport, which was in possession of the British, has been taken from them by the Sultan. The Suez Canal, through which the British forces could easily reach India, has also been taken possession of by the Sultan, and has now been granted on lease to Russia. The British forces now require six months to reach India. The friendly alliance between the British and the Germans has also been disturbed on account of some disagreement about trade, which must result in these two nations rising in arms against each other. The Sultan, the Germans, the Russians, and the French are all in arms against the British at all seaports, and fighting is going on in Egypt, too, against them. In short, the British are disheartened nowadays." This beats even yellow journals.

Our gifted fellow-townsman, Mr. Cy Warman, is equally facile in verse or prose. At the Opera House the other evening he recited a short poem entitled "Hearafter," which we consider well worth reproducing. The author of "Sweet Marie" and other light and dainty favorites, attempts here a serious and ambitious strain and it is perhaps his happiest effort:

Canst picture said a friend to me, The joy of what is yet to be?

Canst thou describe eternity? Dost thou believe that when we take

That last, long sleep, a day shall break The dreamless night? Shall we awake? Tell me, with reason in thy rhyme,

You shore; or if the dead be dead. I've seen the summer birds take wing When winter came, and in the spring Come back again to soar and sing.

I've seen the red rose in the glen, Hid 'neath the hoar frost, die, and then In brighter hours bloom again. I've seen the soul, freed from the clay

'Twere well to keep this point in view: Do unto man, thy whole life through As thou would'st have him do to you.

Interest

is something that never gets tired, which, if true, accounts for the crowds and the buyers.

We must have your interest, or why do you come in such numbers. Our business depends upon giving over-value rather than under-value for the money spent with us. Therefore we will stand up to the resolution already emphasized in these columns—that anything unright or untrue in value or quality must be returned and we will gladly make it right. This looks to be in the interest of our customers, but it is in our own interest as well. Such prices as these on new goods will protect the people and prosper the store. This week:

Progress of the State Elections Across the Border-The New Voting Machines Work Well.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Voting started here with bright skies. The new Standard voting machines were used for the first time, and as far as heard from give entire satisfaction. Six votes were cast in one minute and six seconds on one machine, and similar rapid records are being made in other districts. There is every indication of a full vote.

New York, Nov. 8 .- Weather conditions at the opening of the day were all that could be desired by voters, and the early morning vote was quite up to the best average. Nowhere had any trouble been reported during the first three hours of balloting. Almost all the manufacturing concerns shut down for the day, and the banks and brokers and insurance offices are closed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 8.—President McKinley passed through Pittsburg at 7:30 o'clock this morning, en route to his home in Canton, where he goes ed at $400. to vote.

BIG COMBINE

All Street Railway Lines in Chicago May Go Into a Single System.

Chicago, Nov. 8 .- The Tribune says: "In New York, Philadelphia or Chicago within three days, representatives of all the Chicago south side street rail-way companies will meet for the purpose of completing an agreement of consolidation. One of the men interested deeply in the consolidation scheme said the union of the south side companies was another public step toward the absorption into a single system of every street railway line in Chicago.'

The Sufferer Must Use Paine's Celery Compound.

Heaven help all miserable sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion who are not making use of Paine's Celery Compound! Their position must prove hard and hazardous if they continue with medicine that in many cases is really aggravating suffering.

Today thousands of men and fair women are veritable slaves to the demon dyspepsia. They are firmly bound with the chains of a disease that tortures both body and mind. There digestive organism is almost destroyed, and many are reduced to skeletons Such people do not live; they merely endure life.

The symptoms and troubles that pre cede and follow the course of dyspepsia are poor and variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach heartburn, sallow skin, coated tongue, foul breath, constipation, failing sight, sleeplessness, headache, low spirits and tired feelings.

Advertised pills, mineral waters, pepsins and other medicines will never bring back digestive vigor and health. It is only by the use of Dr. Phelps' great discovery, Paine's Celery Comlated machine. Paine's Celery Compound opens up all the sewers of the the work of nutrition, the blood is made then, will your life be worth living.

THEY BECAME BARBARIANS

White Women Stolen by Maoris Re fuse to Return to Civilization.

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—A party of explorers in New Zealand say that while traveling in the wilds of the colony, where white men seldom penetrate, and where the natives know no law but that of their own making, they discovered two white women about 40 years old, clothed like savage Maoris, in extremely scanty attire. They spent a week in endeavoring to induce the women to return, but they had become so accustomed to life among the savages that they refused the aid of the explorers. They said they had been stolen when young women, had taken Maori husbands, and had grown to like their untrammeled existence, and were fond of their black husbands.

They were fairly worshiped by the natives, and said they would not exchange their lot for that of society belles in an Australian city. They were once English college girls of good families. They refused to give their maiden names, but were known among their adopted people as "The Chief's White Plume" and "Sunshine on Rippling Water."

Doan's Kidney Pills Doing It.

The kidneys cannot talk, and the only way they have of letting us know they are sick is by making our backs ache. If it is only a little ache, the kidneys are only a little sick. If it is a big, peace-destroying, nerve-racking ache, the kidneys are more than a little sick. In every case it must be attended to at once. Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, make them strong and healthy, and stop aching backs in every case. Here is a sample case: Mr. B H. De Groat, 76 Alfred street, Brantford, Ont., says: "For more than a year I have had severe pains across my back and between my shoulders. The pain and soreness was so great that even the act of turning in bed caused me great agony.

I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills, and am thankful to say that the result has been most surprising. first two doses seemed to increase the pain in my back, but thereafter improvement was steady and rapid. Now have no pain in the back or neuralgic trouble. The urine is clear and natural. I sleep well, am stronger, and the tired, worn-out feeling is all gone. Today I am a well man, thanks to taking this most effectual remedy. They did me so much good that I got a box of pills for a dear friend of mine who was troubled in the same manner that I was before taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I have every faith they will do the same in this case as in mine -make a com-

CORSET STEELS

With dealers the buying of corsets is largely a matter of confidence, at least as far as the true quality of the boning is concerned.

In order that rusting may be guarded against each bone or steel should be covered before being placed and sewn in position in the corset. In ordinary corsets this is rarely done.

The best corsets are fully boned, the cheaper ones are only partly so. Ordinary corsets are almost invariably boned with cheap, poor-quality steel, and its cheapness manifests itself in brittleness. In first-class corsets specially-tempered, highquality spring steel is used, the better the steel the lighter the corset, for in quality is strength. Never buy a light weight corset unless you buy the famous French, tailor-cut, hand-sewed corset, the

THE BELL COMPANY WINS.

Detroit Free Press: Evidently the fight over the telephone matter in Windsor is about at an end. At the meeting of the city council last evening a committee, consisting of Mayor Davis and Ald. Dixon, Brian, Carney and D'Avignon, reported that the company was willing to pay for the franchise from June 15 last, and to let the cheap rates commence on Dec. 1 next. Following this report, the bylaw granting an exclusive franchise was read twice. The third reading was deferred until the next regular meeting. "INNOCENTS ABROAD."

The firemen were given a run to the corner of Colborne and Princess avenue yesterday, through a joke that was never intended. About 1 o'clock a lady was seen eyeing the box critically, and some small boys who were passing, on being asked, informed her that it was the letter box. She finally proceeded to open the door, and was about to deposit her letter, when she heard of her error. The boys enjoyed the fun immensely, but the fireman didn't exactly appreciate the joke. As for the lady, she didn't wait to be asked her opinion, but quietly slipped away. It was another case of "innocents abroad."

At 9:30 this morning the three cars that traversed the lines yesterday were again taken from the barns. The only passengers were policemen. The people still maintain a moral boycott against the company, and these who must ride take the 'busses.

The meeting between the strikers' committee, and the shareholders of the company yesterday afternoon clothed the present difficulty with a much brighter robe. Messrs. Westby, Kerr, Garnet, Crawford and Frezell again represented the strikers. The conference lasted four hours, and at 7 p.m. an adjournment was made without anything definite being done.

Mr. Everett was seen immediately after the conference. In reply to a question as to how matters stood, Mr. Everett said: "All that can be said is that negotiations are proceeding, and it is better not to say anything about them until the propositions have been accepted or relected—if they are rejected," concluded Mr. Everett. Mr. Everett said there were some concessions from both sides. The strikers' committee, he said, were a very reasonable lot of men—very fair

POLICE PROTECTION DIDN'T COUNT.

At the corner of Adelaide street and Central avenue one of the cars was twice derailed. The second derailment took place about $ o'clock, and a crowd soon collected. 4 o'clock a large army of school children augmented the gathering, and en-livened the scene. They jeered and hooted, called the workmen "scabs," and occasionally dropped stones in dangerous proximity to the workmen's At 5 o'clock the car was replaced on the rails and started to the barns, but not before three of the windows had been smashed. Had it not been for the police the car would have been smashed to pieces.

statements in The Advertiser?" was the question asked Mr. Orr this morn-

"Well," replied Mr. Orr, "I haven't given the matter any very serious consideration, but Mr. Everett appears to have a beautiful way of making a very smooth statement for the company. While I agree with him on some points, I certainly think he stretched the truth on others. Mr. Everett says that the union was the volcano which exploded the bomb, but even if this were so, the bomb and the volcano were both the productions of the company. I quite agree with Mr. Everett that no better men can be found in any place in America than the street railway employes here. It is these men who comprise the union. Mr. Everett says they are a very reasonable set of men, and if he means what he says, why does he fear that matters will not be as satisfactory here as in Detroit? Both the company and the men will receive fair play. The union has good points beyond doing what is fair by the company. After a member has been in the association seven months, his beneficiary is entitled to $50 in case of death, and after one year the amount is raised

"What have you to say about Mr. Moore's statement regarding the big salaried organizers and disturbers?" "If Mr. Moore will ask the employes about the so-called agitators coming here from Detroit, he will learn the true cause of the men organizing. If the employes say the Detroit men were the cause of the strike I will be perfectly satisfied to abide by the statement. As to the salaries of those so-called agitators, Mr. Moore has been very gross in his exaggerations. Many strikes have been avoided by the moderation advised by the very men of whom Mr. Moore is pleased to say 'that they would lose their jobs if there was no trouble.' It is only natural," continued Mr. Orr, after a moment's reflection, "that Mr. Everett should be so profuse in his statements about Manager Carr, who is, by the way, I am told, a relative of Mr. Everett. Had Mr. Carr received the men when they first went to him this strife would have been spared the company and the citizens."

THIS MORNING'S CONFERENCE. committee representing the strikers met the company again at 9:30 this morning, and resumed nego-tiations. It was stated last night that agreed upon but the one respecting the reinstatement of the discharged employes. The company took the ground that the men who had stood by them should be promoted, and that the men who went out on strike should be placed at the bottom of the list of spare men, thus having to run spare at the lowest wages, and work their way up again. This the men would not consent to, and wanted the men replaced in the regular vay. The clauses in dispute were all rediscussed this morning, but up to 12:30, when the conference adjourned for lunch, no agreement had been reached on any of the clauses. The conference resumed again at 2 o'clock. SHOEMAKERS SYMPATHIZE evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Whereas the street railway employes of this city are involved in a struggle with the street railway company for a just and manly cause, be it therefore resolved that the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, No. 88. heartily indorse the action taken by the employes; and be it further resolved that no member (or his family) of said local union ride on the cars until the trouble is settled between the company and employes. W. Lenmon, president; J. Charlton, corresponding secretary.

WITH THE STRIKERS. At the regular meeting of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, No. 88, hast

Grant Lodge, No. 407, A. O. U. W. passed a resolution sympathizing with the strikers, and pledging themselves to walk until the existing difficulty between the street railway company and its employes is settled.

NOT A FREE OFFER.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: In your issue of last evening you stated to the public that I informed the postoffice people that letter carriers could ride free. I wish to inform you that the above statement is untrue, and that free transportation has never been offered the letter carriers; but, at the request of a com-mittee of letter carriers, I informed the postoffice inspector that we would carry letter carriers, as formerly, for $600, for one year. Yours very truly, T. H. SMALLMAN. London, Nov. 8, 1898.

TRAINMEN IN SYMPATHY.

To the Editor of The Adventiser: At a meeting of Division 528, B. of L. E., and Lodge 468, B. of L. F., it was unanimously adopted that we, as a body of engineers and firemen, with our families and friends, being in sympathy with the union employes of the London Street Railway Company, re solve that we will endeavor to assist them as far as we possibly can.

JAMES HENRY, secretary, Division 528, B. of L. E.; GEORGE BURR, secretary of Ladge 468, B. of L. F. NOTES.

In a beauty show competition the strikers would easily distance the non-unionists. The Belvidere Club, at its regular meeting last night, passed a resolution condemning the street railway company for "oppressing the employes," and pledging themselves to refrain from using the cars until the present difficulty is settled.

MR. SAYER'S RESIGNATION

Discussed by the Y. M. C. A. Board-Affected Surprise-Gratifying Prosperity.

The boland of directors of the Y. M. C. A. address the following letter to The Advertiser:

"The article in The Advertiser re the resignation of Mr. C. R. Sayler, was incidentally referred to at a meeting of the board held last night. Surprise was expressed, masmuch as no reisignation had been placed before the board, and the greatest harmony prevails. All associated with the Y. M. C. A. were never working harder in the interests of the association. A very satisfactory report was presented by the secretary, showing a large increase in the membership, and statisfactory returns of the debt fund. The report of the spiritual work in connection with the association was also very gratifying. The board expressed its pleasure at the results submitted by the secretary, and all are resolved to continue unitedly the good work, with increasing efforts. THE BOARD." [Note by The Advertiser.-There is nothing to be gained from all this innocent affectation of surprise. The facts are substantially as stated in The Advertiser. The public will be sincerely pleased, however, if Mr. Sayer decides to remain in London, though it is understood he has been offered greater inducements to go elsewhere. It would be a misfortune, if the association, at this promising stage of its growth and prosperity, should lose Mr. Sayer's valuable services.]

ENCOURAGED IN HIS MUSIC.

The Hardworking Amateur Sent to the Barn and Finds Appreciation. "I'll tell you of the only encouragement I ever received since I began to play the violin and thet's many years" said violin, and that's many years," said a hardworking amateur the other night as he stretched his neck toward his music stand to make out a difficult movement which he was trying to play.

"Let's hear it," said his friend, for it was a blessing to have him stop playing.

"Well, it was this way: I was spending my vacation at my music teacher's house in the Adirondacks. One day after practicing some hours on the same piece that you heard me playing now my teacher came to my room and suggested that there was a nice place to practice in the barn, and by doing so I would oblige her and her mother, who was sick in the adjacent room. Well, of course, I felt somewhat hurt, but was not going to lose my daily practice and went to the barn. I got into the hayloft and began to play. In about half an hour I was surrounded by rats that squealed and cut up all sorts of capers. I often heard of animals being charmed by music, but nothing could make me believe it until now. "Well, do you know, I never was so happy in my life, to think that all my time was not wasted in trying to be a musician? I always like rats since then, and I was tempted to trap my barn audience for future use. I was pleased to see that I had at last charmed some one with my music. I felt like catching them all and bringing them home for future encouragement."-New York Tribune.

Tragedy In the Church.

The Baltimore News says that not long ago an Episcopal bishop was a guest at a dinner party in Baltimore. "By the way," said one of the guests, a woman, "do you know that there are times when it is dangerous to enter an Episcopal church?"

"What is that, madam?" said the bishop, with great dignity, straightening himself up in his chair.

"I say there are times when it is positively dangerous to enter the church," she replied. "That cannot be," said the bishop.

"Pray explain, madam?" "Why," said she, "it is when there is a canon in the reading desk, a big gun in the pulpit, when the bishop is charging his clergy, the choir is murdering the anthem and the organist is trying to drown the choir." A hearty laugh went the round of the table at the bishop's expense, and he acknowledged that at such a time he could well imagine it disagreeable at least if not dangerous to be present.

Dear Belva.

Perhaps this story of Mrs. Belva Lockwood is true, and perhaps it isn't, remarks the Binghamton Herald. One day while traveling on the Erie road she was calmly watching the landscape when a trainman with a high tenor voice opened the door and piped out, "Belvidere!"

As Mrs. Lockwood was the only woman in the car, she rose to the occasion and demanded that the men present thrash the trainman for the offered insult. It took a good bit of eloquence to convince her that it was the name of the station that the trainman had called.

The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

THE QUEEN OF THE SEASON

"Merci! but my ideal of a wife is not drawn from such a willful beauty as the Lady Vivien. I should prefer some gentle, yielding little creature, to whom my will would be her law. Are you quite sure you cannot join me at Llan-be at Esselyn Manor House. You'll not forget that I shall be looking for you daily, and keep the snuggest of the bachelor bedrooms vacant for you." After a little more desultory chat, they parted; and Sir Innis, with his head resting on his hand, sat for a considerable period in deep thought. Then drawing from his bosom a curiously-shaped locket, he gazed at it with a smile that was wonderfully sweet and tender, though it was followed by a deep-drawn sigh. Some one entering the room, the locket was hastily restored to its hidingplace, and again he mused, till inspired with a sudden resolution, his pen was seized, and a letter hastily dashed

It was brief and as follows: "I have seen Esseyln. I have learned from him that the Lady Vivien St. Orme is still unwedded. Come then, to England if you will, and win her if you can. I have been faithful to my promise, and you have nothing to fear from

CHAPTER X.

When Aymer, Lord Esselyn, quitted the Erectheum, he proposed remaining in town till Christmas eve, assuring himself that it would be quite soon enough to assume those duties in his own house which he often found so irksome that he would liked to shirk them altogether. But there was no one he knew in town; he was at a lose for amusement; and, after smoking more cigars than were good for him, and do-ing a great deal of grumbling at the dullness of London, he suddenly recol-lected that the vicar's pretty daughters would want someone to relp them decorate the church. A reason had been thus found for changing his mind, and, bidding his servant follow with his portmanteau, he started directly for London Bridge, to take the next train to the station warest his home.

It happened, as it often did, that Aymer, who never bothered his brains with the hieroglyphics of Bradshaw, arrived at the terminus a little too late for one train, and nearly two hours before another would start; and that, consequently, he would not be able to night. But he was so used to these contretemps, that, after muttering his favorite expletive-a very mild one-he reminded himself that dinner would be over long before he put in an appearance at Esselyn, and therefore it wouldn't be a bad plan to dine now.

By dint of prolonging the meal, chaffing the waiter, and getting up a small firtation with the young at the buffet, he contrived to kill the time till the hands of the clock drew near the hour for starting. Then he strolled on to the platform, to look around him, and see what sort of fellow-passengers he was likely to have

During his gossip with the demoiselle in charge of the refreshments, he had noticed that a young lady, wrapped in a large gray shawl, was sitting in the most secluded corner she could find, dividing her attention between the book over which her head was bent, and the cup of coffee that stood before There was an air of refinement about her which, coupled with her being quite alone, made the restless Aymer glance at her once or twice with some curlosity, and even walk closer to the table by which she was sitting; but the sound of his footsteps did not induce her to look up, and as he was too much the gentleman to intrude himself upon a solitary girl, he made no further attempt to approach

When he was about to purchase his ticket, this young lady also drew near the pigeon-hole, and he courteously made way for her to take her place first. She looked up hen, and bowed slightly in acknowledgment of the civility; but the thick woolen veil that she had put on, to shield her against the cold air of the night, prevented his seeing more than her eyes, which were marvel-ously brilliant. Her traveling-cos-tume was simple and well-fitting; her petit figure grace itself; and the fingers she ungloved as she tendered payment for her ticket were as white and as

stranger to the platform, he felt that it would be rather a formidable affair to attempt a self-introduction. The young lady had withdrawn as far as possible from a noisy group of half-tipsy young fellows who were going to their homes for the holidays, and was walking briskly up and down the narrow space to which she confined her movements.

Perfectly quiet, perfectly lady-like, was her demeanor; and the way in which she chose to appear quite unconscious of the glances leveled at her, kept the

Looking Over the Year's Doings-Wm. Wanless Elected President-Other Officers Chosen-A Strong Resolution

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society was held in Somerset Hall last night. The treasurer's report showed the past year to have been a most successful one, and the outlook is promising for another year of this flourishing body.

President Purdom occupied the chair, and on the platform were Secretary Laidlaw and Treasurer Jones. Other members present were: Messrs, Robt, Reid, sen., John Ferguson, John Macbeth, Alex. Tytler, J. W. McIntosh, Wm. Wanless, jun., Robt. Angus, A. G. McLeod, John Stevens, George Rennie, T. A. Rowat, J. G. McKay, Dr. Mc-Clary and J. Sharpe.

The treasurer's report was read by W. Jones, and showed receipts of J. W. Jones, and snowed receipts $522 79, of which $112 was members' fees, $107 84 from entertainments, and balance of $302 95 from 1897. disbursements amounted to $393 69, as follows: Relief, $287 75; entertainments, $88 50; sundries, $17 44, leaving a balance of $129 10. Report adopted.

THE OFFICERS.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Honorary President-Robert Reid President-Wm. Wanless, jun. First Vice-President-George Angus. Second Vice-President-A. G. Chis-

Secretary—W. B. Laidlaw. Treasurer—J. W. Jones. Physicians—Drs. Wishart, Stevenson, McLaren, Arnott, Hodge, Macarthur, J. B. Campbell, McCallum, Waugh.

Chaplains-Rev. Messrs. Clark, A. J. McGillivray, E. H. Sawers, Thomas Wilson, W. Moffatt. Relief Committee Messrs, Alex. Tytler, T. A. Rowat, John Stevens, George

Taylor and John Ferguson. Pipers-George Angus and Thomas McDonald. Collector-Thomas R. Cathro.

Mr. Robert Reid said he was pleased with the election of Mr. Wanless as president, as some people had got the idea into their heads that the society was for old fogies. Mr. Wanless was the right man in the right place, and would put his shoulder to the wheel and make the coming year a most successful one.

Mr. J. W. Jones heartily agreed with Mr. Reid on this point.

A STRONG RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was then presented by Robert Reid and adopted

'The members of St. Andrew's Society of London deem it a duty to themselves and the public generally to express in the strongest possible terms their condemnation of the conduct of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, in conveying the members of the society and their friends to and from Port Stanley on the occasion of the society's annual picnic. It is impos-sible to use language too strong to describe the disgraceful way in which the sixteen cars were packed in returning home on the last train, which left Port Stanley at 10 o'clock. It could not have been worse had we been a parcel of pigs. There was not even standing room, and the atmosphere became so foul that many ladies fainted, and could not even get a mouthful of water for relief. The dastardly conduct of dividing the train, after it was but a few miles out from Port Stanley. without a word of warning, and keeping it standing in one place until past midnight, with respectable men, women and children packed together like so many cattle, was a disgrace to civilization, and the company treating any portion of the public in such a manner should be severely punished, if there is any law in the land that can reach

Mr. Reid, in presenting the resolu-tion, said he had drawn it up immediately after the picnic, and had intended sending it to the press for publication, but on consideration thought the society should voice their opinion in the matter.

Mr. Chisholm had gone through the same experience, and thought the resolution would have the effect of bettering things for future occasions. Mr. Purdom said the resolution was none too strong, and would protect citizens generally in all outings, as well as the St. Andrew's Society picnic.

Mr. J. W. Jones thought the resolu-tion was a little too strongly worded. Owing to Secretary Laidlaw not receiving the books from the former secretary, Mr. Donaldson, the reading of his report had to be deferred.

THE ANNUAL DINNER.

It was decided to hold the annual dinner on St. Andrew's night at the City Hotel, and also to hold a ball at

A resolution was passed expressing the association's hearty appreciation of the efficient services rendered by the retiring president, Mr. Thomas Purdom during the past year.

The gathering, which was a most enthusiastic one, dispersed to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne."

"At PINEY RIDGE."

A more ridiculous method of curing a man who is suffering from nervous exhaustion and is threatened with nervous prostration could not be well conceived. A man who has overworked does not need more work, but less work and more rest. The man who has lost his appetite needs something to restore it. The man whose nerves are shattered needs something to tone and strengthen them. Get the nerves right and sound, and refreshing sleep will follow. A man who sleeps well and eats well, and digests and assimilates his food will not remain ill. Mr. David Higgins, supported by Miss Georgia Waldron, will present Mr. Higgins' picturesque play of the Ten-nessee Mountains, entitled "At Piney Ridge," at the Grand (matinee and night) on Saturday. They will be supported by a strong company of artists, including Lydia Knott, Lottie Wade, Marie Kinzie, Harold Scott, Van Kinzie, Frederick Hardy, Frederick Hearn and others, and will give the public of our city a full and adequate presentation of this beautiful play.

In cases of this kind Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery goes to bed rock—to first causes. It creates a hearty appetite; it makes the digestion and assimilation perfect; it invigorates the liver; it purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements of the food. It builds up new flesh, new muscle and new nerve fibres. It is an unfalling cure for nervous exhaustion "The Geisha," as produced this seaon under the management of D. W. Truss & Co., is one of the brightest of all comic operas. Its run of two years n London, and nearly 300 nights in New York city, at Daly's theaters, is sufficient evidence of its popularity. The story of "The Geisha" is one of charming simplicity, the costumes, scenery and music very pleasing to both the eye and ear, and the manageinferior substitute upou you, thereby in-sulting your intelligence.

It is a dealer's business to sell you what you ask for—not what he prefers for selfish profit's sake to sell. ment have no hesitancy in saying it will be the theatrical treat of the sea-son. The principal parts are in the profit's sake to sell.

IN SEWERS FOR 50 YEARS

John Grubb Has Spent Half & Century Amid Gloom and Sewer Gas Without a Day's Illness.

Birmingham, Nov. 8.-The municipal authorities have resolved to pension a man who has spent nearly half a century in building and exploring the sewers of Birmingham. His life con-tradicts the proverbial unhealthiness of sewer gas and lack of sunlight.

The name of this important official ie John Grubb, and he has traversed from six to seven miles of sewers each day, and he computes that his total tramp during the 50 years of his labors has exceeded 100,000 miles. Grubb boasts that he has not known a day of sickness throughout his subterranean career, though during the first decade of his office there was hardly a well-constructed newer in the city, and he was daily in danger of being attacked by armies of rate and was compelled to inhale the foulest odors.

During the last half of his career he has constructed fourteen miles of sewers on the most approved modern style. He has survived all of his employes, some of them not being able to stand the work more than a few years. Grubb is now a septuagenarian, and his vigorous health augurs that he will live 20 years more. The sewer veteran eays his retirement may prove detrimental to his health.

The greatest peril he has been exposed to occurred some 20 years ago on the occasion of the Queen's visit to Birmingham. He was overtaken by storm water. A terrific rainstorm had broken over the city, and the water was rushing to the sewers in torrents. It was a thrilling race for life, as he and his workmen had to fight big re-giments of rats with their shovels, scaring them by howls and yells, as they made their way submerged to shoulders to a distant manhole, which

An Honest Druggist Will Always Recommend

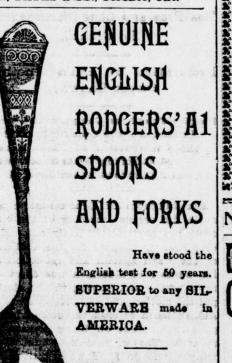

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CINTMENT For Piles and All Itching Skin Diseases

An honest druggist cannot help but indorse Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, as the surest remedy for piles. It is the only preparation offered for sale today which is an absolute cure for this torturing disease.

This statement may sound rather strong to persons who are not acquaint-ed with the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but it is perfectly true and is heartily indorsed by the grateful testimony of thousands who have been cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Oint-ment, after trying in vain many preparations and the best doctors. Some remedies may afford temporary relief, they give false hope, but they never quite cure. Sometimes an operation by a surgeon will cure a case of piles, but that is the old way, the cruel and dangerous way. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, where carefully applied, has never been known to fail to cure piles, it matters not whether blind, itching, bleeding or protruding piles. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is a quick and certain cure. By force of merit Dr. A. W. Chase's Cintment has won its way until it stands today without a rival. For Sale by All Dealers, or EDMAN-SON, BATES & CO., Toronto, Ont.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure was successfully introduced by a leading physician, Dr. Brutus Shiloh, fifty years ago, and is now recognized as the leading remedy of the world for all affections of the throat and lungs. It arrests the ravages of the germs of consumption by destroying them, confining the disease to a limited area of the lung and setting up a healing process which causes the sore parts to get well and cicatrize. That it is possible to arrest the breaking down of the lung tissues, and enable a patient to live has been fully proved by post-mortem examinations of persons who have died examinations of persons who have died at advanced ages from entirely different diseases. An eminent physician who had tions of at least a hundred women past sixty years of age, found that fifty of them had at some time in their lives suffered from consumption.

GENTLEMEN:-Three weeks ago I contracted a severe cold which settled in my throat and bronchial tubes, giving evidence of a siege liable to last for months, as my previous colds had always affected me. More as an experiment than anything else, I decided to try Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure, and with most gratifying results. First, because it was one of the largest gatherings in its history, nearly 300 members being present, and several new ones enrolled. Secondly, for the lively and interesting manner in which all present entered into the de-bates. And in the third place, for the unanimous manner in which the union voted $25 from their funds to assist the street railway men of London in their fight for the right to organize. It was also reported that a combined concert would be given by the city regimental bands on Nov. 15.

Hot shot from Ald. Graham last night made the regular meeting of the city council a particularly lively one. His resolution to prepare for the abolition of the ward system and reduction in the number of aldermen was defeated by a trick. Ald. Taylor, in the chair, put the motion, and the vote was 7 to 9. Ald. O'Meara refused to vote, giving a good reason, but on being pressed to by Ald. Taylor, said he would vote "Nay." "So do I. That negatives it. Next business," said Ald. Taylor. Ald. Graham's motion will bob up again at the next meeting, however, and more interesting speeches for and against municipal reform may be expected. All the members were present. The motion by Ald. Graham was as follows: "That in the opinion of this council the Municipal Act should be so amended as to allow ratepayers by their vote to determine whether the number of their representatives at this board should not be reduced to one for each 4,000 of the population; and also whether they should not be elected in like manner as the mayor and hospital trustees, by general vote, and not by sections or wards, as at present; and that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a petition asking that the said act be amended accordingly.

"And further, that the city clerk be —The Belgian Times and News: instructed to communicate with the "Miss Margaret Huston, the young city clerks of Hamilton, Ottawa and Kingston (the only cities, except London, debarred by the existing law from taking similar action towards muni-cipal reform), for the purpose of securing their co-operation in procuring the legislation asked for.'

Ald. Hunt was willing to second the motion if amended by providing for a reference to the people at the coming election. Ald. Graham consented, but the amendement was lost by a vote of rotten it was. It was a ridiculous system. The man with a big stake in any one ward had a voice in the election of only three aldermen. If the ward system were abolished a man's special qualification would not be to corner up a section of the vote, but it would be the general vote of the city that would elect him. The buttonhole canvass would be done away with also. as one could not canvass the whole city. Another advantage of a reduced number of aldermen would be that business would be done with greater

Ald O'Meara let loose his powers of sarcasm. Ald. Graham seemed to know it all, he said. The speaker had been eighteen years on the council, and as far as his knowledge went he would say the man who said an alderman had talen a 5-cent piece that did not belong to him, was a liar. The position of an alderman was a thankless one, and a particularly unpleasant one to be chairman of the board of works. If any man in the council knew of another who was guilty of a misdemeanor, he would speak of it. As for the long discussions, they cost nothing, and sometimes saved the city thousands of dollars. He believed that if eighteen men couldn't watch each other, eix or twelve men wouldn't be any more like-

Ald Cooper knew of no "ward-grabbing." He was not afraid to go before the city as a whole to stand for his election, but he strongly favored a continuation of the present system. "I've heard it said that if this motion passed the city would be represented by better men," he went on. "Now, Mr. Chairman, what do they mean by better men?" Ald. Taylor (in the chair)-What they say. (Laughter.) Ald. Cooper believed it was rich men who were meant. And they were no good to represent a city. He didn't know that a better class of men than those present could be found. ("Hear, hear," from several quarters.)

Ald. McPhillips thought that so long as the services of the aldermen were voluntary municipal government would not be better than at present. have to take some other drug the next time."

He favored a paid board of comptrollers. Aldermen should be paid. Yet such a motion had never been made, because they were afraid of the next year's election. An alderman was more of a football than any man.

Ald. Greenlees had seen much during the year what he, in his innocence, thought was ward grabbing. He highly praised Ald. Graham for his motion, and said he saw no ground for all the sarcasm that was directed against him.

Ald. Winnett said the city was ripe for municipal reform. Toronto felt the need some time ago and got legislation, with the result that the city was now better governed. By reducing the num-ber of aldermen the meetings would undoubtedly be made shorter.

Ald. Hunt moved that a committee composed of Ald. Belton, Jolly Wilkey, McCallum and the mover consider the matter and decide upon one or two propositions to be submitted to the people in January. Ald. Jolly sec-Ald. Taylor ruled this out of order, as being new business. Ald. Graham's motion was then voted on as follows: Yeas-Ald. Stevely, Belton, Jolly, Carrothers, Winnett, Graham, Hunt, Greenlees McCallum-9 Nays-Ald. McPhillips, Douglass,

ANOTHER STREET RAILWAY. Mr. U. A. Buchner wrote on behalf of a number of capitalists who are prepared to operate a street railway in the city, on certain streets, to be named by them, provided a reasonable franchise be granted—the work of construction to be begun as soon as the terms are settled-and completed as soon as possible. The matter was referred to No. 1 committee. THE PEOPLE'S TELEPHONE COM-PANY. The People's Telephone Company wrote stating that in view of negotia-tions with a Chicago firm for the erection of a construction plant here, they desired an extension of the time for commencing the construction of their system, until April 1, 1899, and the time of completion until Sept. 1, 1899. The matter was referred to No. 1 committee, to bring in a bylaw to conform with the request of the company.

WARD GRABBING. No. 3 committee recommended that the electric light suggested for the corner of Wellington and Regent streets, be placed at Cheapside street. Ald. Wilkey wanted No. 6 ward to get some benefit of the light, and mov-ed that it be placed at the corner of Adelaide and Piccadilly streets. Lost. The report was adopted.

No. 2 committee recommended: 1. That the engineer be instructed to have the sidewalk on Carling street west repaired. 2. That the committee's action be confirmed in ordering the assessment commissioners to advertise the proposed construction of sewers on Wortroad, from Tecumseh avenue to Duchess avenue, and on Waterloo street, from Princess avenue to Pall Mall street. The respective petitions for said works were reported by the assessment commissioner as sufficiently signed. 3. That the petitions of Henry Payne and Mrs. John Ingram for permission to connect their premises on the Wortley road with the Duchess avenue sewer be granted. The petitioners to pay the regular sewer rate for use of sewer for frontage of their respective lots on Wortley road, and also to agree that if a sewer is petitioned for on the Wortley road abutting their properties that they will sign petition for same. 4. That the engineer be instructed to have a sidewalk laid on the north side of St. James street, between William and Adelaide streets.

5. That the engineer be instructed to have a 4-foot sidewalk laid on the south side of South street, from Maitland street to Adelaide street.

6. That the engineer be instructed to have about 110 feet of sidewalk laid on the south side of York street, from the Tecumseh House westerly. 7. That the tender of W. H. Gould, to construct a sewer on Central avenue, between Colborne and Maitland streets, at $725 with side drains 25 cents, be accepted, being the lowest. Some amusement was afforded by the efforts of the aldermen to have the improvements for their respective wards passed and their indifference, which amounted in some cases to opposition, when their particular wards were not interested. Several direct charges of ward grabbing were made in a joking way. Ald. Winnett raised an objection to clauses 5, 6 and 7. The council had decided to do no further work on the streets, he said. The board of works had already overdrawn the appropriation $5,086, he said, and it was unfair to saddle such a bill on next year's Ald. Belton said it was better to, spend a little money on the streets than much more in law suits.

The report was adopted unchanged. No 1 committee submitted another batch of the board of works' account, which the council ordered paid. The accounts of Messrs. Matthews and Craddock for the preparation of hospital plans were referred to the hospital committee.

"It's a case of file, I guess," said Ald. Carrothers. "No. 1 committee should deal with the matter." The council decided not to secure any spaces for views of the city in the work, "Canada from Ocean to Ocean." FIXED THE ASSESSMENT.

that the London Foundry Company be offered a fixed assessment of $6,500 for at the corner of King and Thames streets, in full of all claims for damages, past and present, or future, to their property by construction of the sewer bridge over the river at King street. Mr. Noble, a member of the company, addressed the council, and stated they were willing to accept a fixed assessment of $5,000; otherwise, they would bring action against the city. Their present assessment was $13,000. On motion of Ald. Taylor, the assessment was fixed at $5,000.

THE HOSPITAL AGREEMENT. The hospital committee recommended the adoption of the proposition for treatment of county patients in the new hospital, which was agreed to by the county committee. It includes the following amendments to the existing 1. County to advance to city $15,000, at 3½ per cent interest.

2. Building to be completed according to present plans before county money is paid over.

3. The charge for county patients to be 75 cents per day per patient. 4. That either party can terminate the agreement at the end of any year after expiration of five years, on six months notice.

5. If government grant be withdrawn, the agreement may be annulled on six months' notice. 6. Cost of any legislation required to be borne jointly. 7. All other matters of detail to be settled by respective committees.

Ald. McPhillips moved the adoption of the report.

Ald. Winnett moved that the ratification of the agreement be deferred to a special meeting of the council, at which the city solicitor and auditor would be present. Ald. Graham seconded. Carried.

INQUIRIES. Ald. Gerry-Has Mr. Ironside been deposed as inspector of section B of the sewer system?

Ald. Cooper-Yes. Ald. Gerry-Why? Ald. Cooper-It was done by the committee, not with my sanction. Ald. Wilkey-Who was appointed in his place?

"At the same pay?" "No; at an increase." 'Ald. McCallum asked if anything would be done to improve the condition of Bruce street at the west end. Ald

Ald. McPhillips' motions re the Beil and People's Telephone Companies were again laid over. Ald. Winnett and Ald. O'Mears wanted the matter taken up at once, but Ald. McPhillips pointed out that the opinion of the city solicitor on the Bell's rights in the city was not yet at hand, although asked for several weeks since. THE STONE CRUSHER.

'Ald. Greenless reopened the stone crusher investigation. He claimed the explanation previously given was unsatisfactory. It was evident that the crusher had been run at a loss to the city. If broken by hand the stone would cost only $6 25 per cord, while this year it had cost $8 51. The blame was to be attached to the chairman of No. 2, he said, as the committee had not been consulted in its manage-

Ald. Douglass replied that it had cost a lot of money to move the crusher this year. One man, a sixth warder, he said, had been put at work on the crusher at the request of Ald. Green-

Ald. Greenlees denied this, and elicited a contradiction from the city en-gineer also. Mr. Graydon said one reason for the increased cost this year was that the foreman, who had been appointed by the chairman, had not got the work out of his men. No action was taken.

MOTIONS AND NOTICES. Ald. Carrothers moved that the mayor and Ald. Greenlees interview Premier Hardy, with a view to having the limits of the city extended to Springbank on the south side, and an early decision reached. Carried. Ald. Carrothers moved, seconded by Ald. Cooper, that the city engineer be instructed to have a new timetable for the street railway. Agreed. Ald. Douglass gave notice of motion of a bylaw for $75,000 for a permanent breakwater for West London Ald. Jolly gave notice of a motion that hereafter no plank walks be laid, but that all new walks be permanent walks. He made special provision for

Mr. C. Brennan's fine of $5 for a breach of the bylaw was remitted. The city engineer wrote asking that provision be made to have the watercourses and ditches cleaned of dead leaves, mud, etc., which will get into the gullies and the sewers. Granted. A letter was received from the minister of justice stating that fines of $275, which Ald. McPhillips contended should have belonged to the city coffers in place of to the government, would be considered at the next session of parliament. Ald. McPhillips moved that the city solicitor act with a view to obtaining the return of the fines. The sewer committee recommended Every year, he said, hundreds of dollars in fines were diverted from the city to government coffers. Ald. Winnest seconded. Agreed. It was just "midnight's holy hour" when the council adjourned.
