FIGHT IN A GRAVEYARD. The body of Madame Paule Mincke, the agitator, who was transported in connection with the commune troubles and was subsequently granted amnesty, and who died last week, was buried in Pere la Chaise cemetery, Paris, on Wednesday. Her coffin was covered with a red cloak and followed by Socialist notabilities. At the ceme-tery a conflict occurred between the Socialists and the police, the latter endeavoring to suppress revolutionary cries. Several arrests were made. EXPRESS ROBBER CAPTURED. The principal author of the robbery f the American Express Company's office in Paris on the night of April 26, when three masked burglars escaped with 30,000 francs, has been arrested. His name is George Miler (Miller), and he was born in Chicago. For some time he has lived in Paris under the name of James Samuel and been employed in a barber shop. When arrested he was found in possession of part of the stolen funds, a number of dynamite cartridges and a set of

WHERE SMALLPOX IS PREVALENT!

In Different Parts of Ontario-Some 500 Cases Reported-Infection Spread at a Dance.

Teronto, May 2 .- According to the latest returns received smallpox exists in the following centers in Ontario: Little Current, Batchewana, Stobie Mine, Copper Cliff, Blind River, Thessalon, Sudbury, London, London township, Cramble township, Haldimand township, Collingwood, Tay township, Carden township, Toronto, York township, Mattawatchan township, Admaston, McNab, Griffiths township, Bagot township, Pembroke, Nipissing, North Bay, Eau Claire, Bondfield, Oneida township, Beachville, Sweaburg, Waterloo township, Lakefield. The Lakefield outbreak brings the total number in Ontario during the past four months

Dr. Bryce says: "I have no doubt that there will be a recurrence of the epidemic of smallpox, and we must guard against it. Cleveland has 600 cases, Buffalo must expect to get her share, and when the Pan-American is in full swing there is nothing to prevent people from bringing it over here. Get vaccinated, that is my advice." The small-pox epidemia now increased to the stage which enables Dr. Bryce and the Provincial officers to draw strong conclusions from figures. They deal a very heavy blow at the opponents of vaccination. In running over the returns Dr. Bryce pointed out that in Toronto Junction all vaccinated persons escaped with but one exception. On the other hand, none of those who were attacked by smallpox had been vaccinated, except of person, who had a very mild attack. "In the back townships, where the disease has been most active, the authorities have found that only a small per cent of the people have been vaccinated. In forty centers of smallpox, containing 500 cases, only six have terminated fatally. North, some 5,000 people passed through official hands on the trains, of whom about half were vaccinated. Three hundred cases were dealt with at the Sudbury camp, where the outbreak is now completely under control. The work has now narrowed down to those in the hospital and those disinfecting the houses. The train inspection has been stopped." Dr. Bryce has just returned from Carden township, Victoria county, where the latest outbreak occurred. Seventeen cases are in the hands of the authorities. The extent of the outbreak is due to the fact that a big dance was held, at which all the victims were present.

HOWLETT.

Howlett, April 29.—The Sharon Epworth League held their annual business meeting for the election of officers for the year 1901 and 1902. Rev. Mr. Hunter occupied the chair. Reports were given by the retiring officers ports were given by the retiring officers showing that the league had had a year of great prosperity, and giving expression to wishes for still greater progress and usefulness in the future. The president, Miss Addie Bodkin, who has so faithfully labored in the interest of the league for the past year, was re-elected. The other officers for the coming year are: First vice-president, Mn. Cliff, Bignell; second vice-president, Mr. George Carey; third vice-president, Miss Ethel Ryckman; fourth vice-president, Miss Sabina Howlett; secretary, Mr. Crayton Adams; treasurer, Mr. Eli Howlett; organist, Miss May Adams; assistant, Miss Jennie Allen; convener of forward movement for missions, Miss Ethei Kelly; secre-tary-treasurer of same, Miss Maud

The Twentieth Century Literary Society held their final concert on Thurs-day fast, which proved to be a great syccess. Miss Hooper, of London, delighted the audience with her solos, which were highly appreciated. The people of the neighborhood hope to hear Miss Hooper frequently in the future. The rest of the programme provture. The rest of the programme proved to be of exceptional interest. The debate, "Resolved that man has a greater influence for good than woman," both sides of which were ably handled, was decided by the judge, Mr. J. M. Kaiser, in favor of the negative. The society desires to publicly thank Mr. Hooper for his kindness in extending the time for the use of the piano.

A GOOD STORY

A certain young lady in delicate health was advised by her doctor to take a half-teaspoonful of Scott's emulsion of codliver oil after dinner-once a day-and found herself almost suddenly growing robust.

So small a dose is by no means the rule; the rule is whatever the stomach will bear -not more. Another rule is: take it on every least occasion, but not too much; don't overdo it.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

MEETING OF THE MINISTERS. Pekin, May 1.—At the meeting of the ministers this morning the report of the indemnity committee was read. Regarding the resources of China the report was very voluminous. It was practically a repetition of Jameson's well-known namphlet upon the subwell-known pamphlet upon the sub-ject. Sir Robert Hart offered suggestions similar to those already credited to him and cabled to the Associated Press. It is claimed that the revenues from all available sources will not allow China to pay the indemnity unless assistance is rendered.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, when Waldersee's letter comes up. Ministers object to the tone of Count Waldersee's letter.

In a private way the mayor learned that the Canadian Steam Carriage Company intended to establish a new factory, and he immediately requested Ald. Parnell, who was fn Toronto at the time, to do the best he could to bring it here. This was on Easter Monday, and negotiations continued with such good effect that the company's representative visited London and became convinced that the proposition they received to locate here was better than any other that had been made to them. Satisfactory terms were made to them. Satisfactory terms were made regarding taxes and water, for it was readily recognized that the city would benefit materially by the acquisition of the new automobile factory. A site was chosen this afternoon, and work upon the factory will bet begun at once. The company has already opened a handsomely appointed show room at 354 Richmond street. This company has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing automobiles in various styles, including pleasure carriages, single and double road wagons, gladstones, stanhopes, victorias, bus, delivery wagons, business wagons of all kinds, drays and coal trucks, to be self-propelled. They have valuable patents for inventions, which cover not only automobiles and steam carriages, but other carriages and wagons; and it also has exclusive rights for Canada upon several very valuable devices for carriages, which can be utilized to great profit.

America's Millionaires - Four Thousand of Them.

The New York Herald has published a list of America's 4,000 millionaires. There is not, apparently, a professional man among them-not a doctor, a lawyer, or a clergyman.

The Herald says: "The millionaires have come from all of the great industries-nineteen per cent from manufacturing, sixteen per cent from merchandising, thirteen per cent from real estate, thirteen per cent inherited, twelve per cent railways and steamships, ten per cent banking, six per cent mining, six per cent farms and cattle, and from all other industries five per cent."

The population of the United States is placed at 76,000,000, and its wealth at $81,750,000,000; and less than 4,000 of its population own $16,000,000,000, or about one-fifth of the total wealth. Millionaires have multiplied very rapidly during the nineteenth century. At its beginning and during the first quarter there would be two prominent millionaires-John Jacob Astor, of New York, and Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, and, all told, not over half a dozen in the whole country. The number has therefore, it might be fairly claimed, multiplied in less than a hundred years from four to four thousand. The millionaires of that early day were moderate in wealth, compared with the Carnegie and Rockefeller millions of today; in fact, a simple millionaire today had better not feel too rich; he might have some of the starch taken out of him if he tried conclusions with a richer man.

Three States, New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, contain a little more than one-half in number of the millionaires, and much more than one half of the wealth.

The fact that there are no professional men among them, would argue that professional men in America are similar to professional men in England. It is said of lawyers in England that they work hard, live well, and die poor. Doctors can scarcely expect to become millionaires, and it is to their credit that, as a rule, they are more interested in their professional work than in the money they can make out of it; and few, very few clergymen indeed, are affected in their lives by considerations of money. The whole tendency of their lives is in the opposite direction.

The American aristocracy of wealth, the product entirely of the 19th century, has produced some splendid examples of men and women, who appear to be above their wealth. Carnegie is a good sample among the men, and Miss Helen Gould among the wo-

In Canada, too, there are no doubt statistics similar to those of the New York Herald that would be very interesting. The last half of the century has also in Canada produced a few multi-millionaires. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal deserves the honors conferred on him. He is now a nobleman, but before any honors were conferred on him he was in fact a noble man. His manliness of character has been brought more prominently before the public by reason of his wealth. Sir William Macdonald, of Montreal, has given munificent evidences on more than one occasion that he, too, desires to do good with his wealth. Both of these men are very creditable representatives of Canada's millionaires. They are Montrealers. Toronto's most prominent millionaire is Mr. George Gooderham, the president of the Bank of Toronto, and no man could wear his millions more modestly. Money has not spoiled the man in the least.

Canada has apparently a greater start in millionaires in the beginning of the 20th century than the United States had in the beginning of the 19th century. Will Canada, at the close of the 20th century have 4,000 millionaires possessing $16,000,000,000, or an average of $4.000.000 each? Or will new conditions have arisen? Will public ownership, in various directions, for example, have diverted into the pockets of the people themselves a good deal of the money that now goes to make millionaires? However that may be, the next 25 years will see the wealth of Canada itself multiplied many times.

In response to numerous requests from teachers desiring to study these subjects, manual training courses will be held in educational woodwork and cardboard modeling from Monday, July parently, for all foreigners familiar 1. to Wednesday, July 31, in the Mac-Donald Manual Training School, Ot- emphatic "je vous ecoute" corresponds tawa. A prospectus containing further particulars may be obtained from on or before June 15.

"The Scare-Crow of Imperialism"

Le Soleil, a Liberal organ of Quebec, under the above title, reviews the present condition of imperialism, taking a basis the recent address of Lord Strathcona at the University of Aberdeen. The conclusion come to is that any definite scheme of imperial federation is as yet a mere possibility, and is far from belonging to the regime of present practical politics. The article says wisely that it is not possible for anyone to say precisely what is our destiny in the distant future; it may be along that line or it may not. Our duty is to act wisely and fairly now; as to the future it is controlled by a power stronger than any individual or party. If the way is going to lie along the path marked out by ardent advocates of imperial federation, so many and grave consequences will be involved that the movement will of necessity be slow. "The very essence of English constitutional government, which is still the model of all, is to develop gradually by movements of fession and employment must be a wise slowness from precedent to precedent." In this is our safety and our strength, hence there is no need for alarm. "Those who speak of dark plots laid by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. than was their game fish. Truly, of Chamberlain, evidently do not know what they are talking about, or they are playing a farce in the hope of exciting feeling against the Prime Minister in the Province of Quebec, which is supposed to be hostile to the imperialist idea." According to Lord Strathcona this idea is much more popular in the colonies than in the mother land, so it is evident that there is no eagerness to force upon the colonies any new bonds. Le Soleil is right; whether one lives in Ontario or Quebec, we may sleep soundly and need not fear that we shall wake up to find ourselves under a new regime imposed upon us without our knowledge or consent.

Arbor Day.

In 1885 the Ontario Government set apart the first Friday in May for the portance of improving the surroundings of our homes, as well as our schools, cannot be too strongly emphasized. During the past ten years there has been a vast change for the better in the appearance of our rural schools. The grounds, which were at face of Senator Jones is strong, yet one time bare and uninviting, are now in many instances laid out with walks man, powerfully knit together. If he and planted with shade trees. The ef- knows what nervousness is, his apfeet on the plastic mind of youth can- pearance would not at all indicate it. not but be good. Washington Irving He does not speak much nor volubly, has said that "there is something nobly yet with a certain force and simplicity simple and pure in the taste for cultivation of forest trees. It augurs a He gives one the impression of reserves sweet and generous nature to have of strength, and as of a man not easily this strong relish for the beauties of stampeded. vegetation, and this friendship for the nardy and glorious sons of the forest. There is a grandeur of thought connected with this part of rural economy. He who plants an oak looks forward education. He entered the mercantile to future ages, and plants for posterity. Nothing can be less selfish of natural scenery. "To him who, in 1877 was admitted into partnership. the love of nature, holds communion with her visible forms she speaks a various language." The power to derive pleasure from one's surroundings is something akin to patriotism itself, and hand to hand with the fostering of a love of country should be nurtured a strong appreciation for the beautiful in nature.

The Cigarette Habit.

At a recent meeting of the General Ministeral Association, in Toronto, the cigarette question was discussed. Professor Brown, of Chicago, who was one of the speakers, was very outspoken in his condemnation of the evils of cigarette smoking. He stated that this habit had been instrumental in reducing the penitentlary age from 32 to 22 years. As a means of counteracting the habit of smoking cigarettes, he recommended that employers should not employ boys who were addicted to it. This plan was thought a good deterrent from a practice that is blighting the prospects of many an otherwise hopeful life.

There has been some doubt as to the effect of the recent outbreaks in China on missionary effort. The United States Methodists are not inclined to leave the field. They show their faith in the future by immediately appropriating money to rebuild the structures in Pekin damaged by the recent military operations.

France, like Canada, seems inclined to break with the time-honored signal, "Hello!" as the introduction in conversation between a telephone girl and a telephoner. According to new instructions, just issued, girls in the central telephone exchange in Paris must no longer appear to mimic the appeal of a customer by replying "allo" to his "allo," but must use the apparently more Chesterfieldian formula, "Je yous ecoute." It is only apwith colloquial French know that the

Surely if Mr. Monk believes what he says, he ought to be ready to back up his views with a motion that would show just how many of these professors of ultra-loyalism who are assailing the Government policy, are ready to give the mother country a black eye. The British preference, let us tell all such assailants, has come to stay, and cannot be misrepresented out of ex-

HON. LYMAN MELVIN JONES. Among the new Liberal members of the Dominion Senate, one of the ablest of recent appointments was the Ilon. Lyman Melvin Jones, of Toronto. His is not what one would call a showy or fussy personality. From his Welsh descent he seems to have received the strength and sagacity which mark those who derive, however remotely, from the famous little principality. The calm and good-humored. He is a large of directness that make his words tell.

The Hon. Lyman Melvin Jones was born on Sept. 21, 1843, in the county of York, Ontario, where he received his business at Breton, Simcoe county, and five years later went to Brantford to ness in Manitoba and the Northwest rector of the firm of A. Harris, Son & right line. The old relation of

He was elected mayor of the city of elected mayor for the following year. In January, 1888, upon the overthrow of the Provincial Government, he acment as Provincial Treasurer, as representative of the county of Shoal Lake. During the year he negotiated idea, at least, in London, England, the first provincial loan of $1,500,000 to build a competing line of railway to Winnipeg, Brandon and Portage La Prairie. At the general elections in the same year, he was elected to represent North Winnipeg. He resigned the position of Provincial Treasurer the following year, though still retaining his seat in the Legislature until the end of the term. He returned to Brantford to accept the position of general manager of his company, which was made vacant by the sudden death of Mr. John Harris. Upon the formation of the Massey-Harris Company, Limited, in 1891, he went to Toronto, and was elected a director and appointed general manager of the consolidated companies, which position he has occupied ever since.

Senator Jones occupies a prominent position in the industrial circles of the province. He became a member of the Toronto Board of Trade in 1893. He is a director of the Verity Plow Company, of Brantford, and president of the Bain Wagon Company of Woodstock, in both of which associate companies he takes an active interest. Senator Jones is also a large shareholder and director of the Canada Cycle and Motor Company, as well as shareholder in several other manufacturing companies, and in a number of mining companies.

Senator Jones is one who may be called, without abuse of that muchused term, a self-made man, not having had any special assistance or friendship shown him in early life by the world. Beginning life without any help financially, and going out amongst strangers, it may be fairly said that whatever success he has achieved, has been accomplished, under Providence, man, he is one of those who accept the sessions of the Dominion Senate.

As a man of integrity and of marked ability, we expect confidently to see Senator Jones grow steadily in public estimation as a member of the Parlia-

A Fallen Angel.

[St. John Telegraph.] Nicholas Flood Davin, ex-M. P., from his eyrie in the House of Commons press gallery, describes Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a fallen angel. Nick must have penned the description in a moment of keenest sympathy, for his own elevation from the floors of the House to the press gallery, must be galling to one who in bygone days referred so contemptuously to the scribblers among whom his lot is now cast.

Shamrock In South Africa.

The Irish are going to make their mark in South Africa, if a firm of Corkonian seedsmen have their way. Shortly before St. Patrick's Day this firm sent to each of the twelve Irish regiments now serving in Africa a large package of shamrock seed. Some of the regiments have planted their see's already, but others have been too busy to do so; but before they leave South Africa they intend to speckle the veldt with shamrock. May t grow there as well as its sons grow wherever they take root-and that, it seems, is everywhere.

The Domestic Service Question.

[Goldwin Smith in the Weekly Sun.] At Boston it seems an attempt is being made to grapple with the question of domestic service, which may deserve the attention of the countless sufferers under the wayward fancies of the servant girl. "I would like to express my grafitude for the benefit received from your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' "writes Mrs. H. C. Anderson, of South Britain, New Haven Co., Conn., (Box 33). "During the first month of pregnancy I sould not keep anything on my stomach. Was so sick that I had to go to bed and stay for weeks. I tried different doctors, but with little benefit. I read about many being helped by using your medicine so I thought I would give it a trial. I began to take your 'Favorite Prescription' in November and I had a nice little baby girl in Pebruary following. My baby weighed over eight pounds. I was only in hard labor about one hour and got along nicely during confinement; was up and dressed on the eighth day. I never had the doctor with me at all. My friends thought that I was sick a very short that. I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Freacription is indeed a mether's true friend, for it helped me wonderfully."

What Is a Boy Good For.

[Detroit Today.] The question what a boy is good for is a puzzling one. In nine cases out of ten he doesn't seem good for much of anything to outsiders, while perhaps his fond parents are trying to deter-mine whether he is best fitted for president of the United States or for a great railroad magnate. The boy himself is very likely wondering whether he would like to be Buffalo Bill, a pirate or a baseball captain. The result often is that he is sent to school as long as he can be induced to go, or his father can afford to send him, and then is started to work at the first opening that offers. He gets starvation wages to begin with, simply cause he is not worth any more, since no one has yet found out what he can do. Perhaps he never finds out, and Rev. R. M. #### QUEEN'S

UNIVERSITY.

The Minister of Justice Made an LL. D.

Degrees Conferred at Yesterday's Circumstances Surrounding the Convocation Upon Graduates and Others.

Kingston, May 1.-This afternoon the annual commencement exercises of Queen's University were held. They were a great success. There were 62 graduates in all, divided thus: Bachelors of divinity, 5; testamurs in theology, 2; bachelors of science, 2; masters of art, 11, 2 being ladies; bachelors of arts, 42, of whom 13 were ladies. The medallists in moderns, English and history were ladies.

Among the degrees conferred was that of LL.D., bestowed on Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice. There were many regrets that the state of public ess at Ottawa prevented this distinguished statesman from being present to receive the honor in person, but Principal Grant has a strong conviction that Dr. Mills will be prevailed upon to attend at one of the autumn convocations, and deliver the introductory lecture. There was great applause when the name of Hon. Mr. Mills was presented for the degree by the senate of the university, who unanimously chose him as a fitting native Canadian upon whom to confer the high honor. Prof. Shortt, in presenting Hon. David Mills' name, spoke as follows: Mr. Chancellor,—I have the honor, sir, on behalf of the senate of our university, to present to you for the degree of Doctor of Laws a distinguished Canadian citizen and statesman. I refer to Hon. David Mills, Minister of justice. The numerous and eminent services which Senator Mills has rendered to his country, both as a private citizen and in various public capacities, are too well known to yourself and to those present to require any detailed recital by me. Whether as a teacher himself, or as the inspector of the work of teachers, in his earlier years; as a lawyer, journalist and politician in middle life; or as a professor of constitutional and international law and a minister of justice in his later years, his work has been characterized by a spirit of conscientious thoroughness which has rendered it of permanent worth to the various national interests with which it has been connected. In these days of hasty and strenuous life, when mere stratagem counts for so much in economic and political success, it is a matter of no little importance to the youth of this country that they should have, in the Hon. Mr. Mills, the example of a man in high position, who sets principle before expediency, and who, in following independent conviction founded upon principles, neither courts the applause of the multitude nor shrinks from the defense of an unpopular fectly developed in Canada. In politics, though a senator, he is still a Reformer in the best sense, anxious to maintain and expand the rights of the people, but still more anxious to see the people exercising those rights with a stronger sense of responsibility. While by no means blind to the dangers which threaten a democratic system, he has still the strongest confidence in free democratic institutions, social, economic and political. He recognizes clearly the futility of all attempts to turn the wheels of progress backward. because difficulties and dangers beset the highway of popular government. But he sees as clearly that these difficulties can only be removed, and these dangers avoided by raising the standard of individual intelligence, broad-ening the range of individual interest and strengthening the force of individ-and responsibility.

Having this faith and this foresight he is naturally deeply interested in all that concerns the higher spiritual welfare of the country. He stands for that broader culture among the people, that more conscientious and painstaking study of all that makes for civilization, which alone can give steadiness to progress, and insure its happy issue. I am sure, sir, that I need not further dwell on what is indeed a large and varied subject—the public services, the numerous writings, and the personal qualities which so amply attest the fitness of the tribute of honor which we desire to pay to this distinguished statesman in requesting you to confer upon him the degree of

DREADFUL WORK OF POISON !

Death of Charles White,

Whose Wife Has Been Committed Brantford Jail on Suspicion of Killing Her Husband.

Brantford, May 1.-At the hour of midnight Mrs. Josephine White was arrested, charged with feloniously wounding and killing her husband, the ate Charles White. The arrest was made immediately after the coroner's fore jury had brought in their verdict, which was "that the said Charles White came to his death from strychnine poisoning, which we suspect was administered by his wife." She begged affectingly that she might not be locked up, and said that she could get bonds in the morning.

"I cannot stay in the dark cell," she moaned, "please, please, do not put me there. Mr. Heyd, do not let them do it. Send for my brother; he will go my bail. My God! This is terrible! Mr. Heyd, tell them that it will be all

Mr. Heyd essayed to calm the we man, but she continued her pleading.
P. C. Chapman explained that it would be impossible for him to allow her to go home; that it was his duty to arrest her. Finally, he took her arm, and gently led her into the jail. At the door leading to the jail she hes-itated, and again broke into a piercing wail of anguish. Then she entered the door, which closed behind her.

CAUSE OF THE ARREST. The late Charles White died very suddenly on Sunday, April 14. On that morning Mr. White, who was employed as a moulder in the Waterous Engine Works, was left alone in the house with his wife. He ate breakfast as usual, but shortly after 9 o'clock complained of dizziness and shortly afterwards was seized with convulsions. He suffered six or seven of these and passed away.

The suddenness of his death caused the coroner to investigate it. Six sittings of the jury were held, all in sec-

EVIDENCE OF A SON.

Frank White, a son of the deceased, swore that his father and mother, till seven or eight months ago had lived apart for over five years. His father had been addicted to drink. Further he swore: "I knew nothing of any proposal to insure his life, until after his death, and then, in talking to my mother, she said he was only lately insured for $1,000. "My mother told me she had given him soda and water and tea shortly after he had eaten his breakfast."

MRS. WHITE'S STORY

Mrs. White herself took the stand. She recounted the fact that she and husband had been separated. Anent the insurance policy, she said: Anent the insurance policy, she said: gineers, but otherwise the strike is I did not suggest anything to him practically at an end. I was always opposed to which he is so eminent an authority, life insurance, and said, "I wouldn't Senator Mills treats his subject in that use my money for life insurance." He broad and scientific spirit which is replied: "If anything should happen characteristic of the more advanced to me—I am never well—it would be "If anything should happen nice for you." He was refused by the North American, and afterwards one evening when Mrs. Bush was visiting me in the front parlor, Mr. Hendry called on Mr. White and wrote his application in the back parlor; and I had nothing to do with the matter. Then the two went out together, and Mr. Hendry said they were going to the doctor. Some time after Mr. Hendry called into the house and told me the policy had come. I didn't know what the premium was. This night was pay night at Waterous', and was the night on which we expected to pay a portion of the premium. Two weeks ago Mr. Hendry brought the policy and read it to me, and that was the first I knew the policy was payable to me. We agreed to make the first payment that night, I knew the policy was not in force until we had the premium paid, or some part of it. I never said a word to Mrs. Bush about the

MRS. BUSH CONTRADICTS. Mrs. Bush testified that Mrs. White told her that Mr. White was going to insure his life in his wife's favor. Mrs. White seemed to be pleased that the insurance would come her way. She said she did not consider her husband a very strong or extra healthy man. CURE WITH A POWDER.

Henry Irving testified that Mrs. White had told him that the drink habit was not so bad as the fact that her husband was jealous of her, when she talked of curing his drinking proclivities with a certain powder.

Leo Sherer, a former boarder, gave startling evidence. He said:
"I remarked once or twice to Mr. Rider o Mr. Builder that I did not consider Mrs. White was trustworthy and that I thought I was liable to be poisoned. She showed me a re-volver once, and said if any man did not conduct himself properly she

CANCER GERMS COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

The New Treatment Kills the Cancer and Cures the Disease.

For every disease germ, there ought to be a specific antidote. That is the principle on which scientists are working at the present day. For the germ of malaria, the antidote is quinine, For the germ of diphtheria there is the anti-diphtheritic serum. For the germs that cause smallpox, typhoid fever, scarlet fever and the like, there has not yet been found a specific anti-

For the germ causing cancer, an efficient antidotal treatment has been in vogue for some time and numbers of people who have availed themselves of it have been cured without the necessity of a painful and dangerous operation.

So thorough going is this treatment that it destroys the cancer germ com-pletely, removes the cancer, root and branch, and not a vestige remains to again come back and cause trouble. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., sends full particulars of this treatment to anyone on receipt of two stamps. All correspondence strictly confidential.

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: It is with pleasure that I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl 3 years yld last September, who has sunered with sersfula ever since she was two years old. In fact the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease seated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live very long; our physician's medicines doing no good. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments I at once resorted to them, and by the time she had used one bottle she was well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are ontirely gone, her lungs almost healed, or, at least, she has quit coughing. She has began on the second bottle, and I believe by the time she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL S. BARKER, Flat Top, Mercer county, W. I am only joking," and threw the paper into the fire. I do not know whether there was anything in the paper or not. I never mentioned it the doctors were operation on White's body on Monday, and then I told his son, George. After he threw the paper in the fire, he said: "If I should die suddenly, don't blame anybody but me, and that's not all.' I said, "Why don't you tell the rest of it?" and he said "I have no more Thomas Hendry, agent for the Sun Life, testified that Mrs. White called

"LIFE A BURDEN," Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: For a long time past I have been suffering in a most distressing manner from a leng train of symptoms which have baffled the skill of all the medical men down here, and which, I fear, if net arrested in their pregress, would terminate in the total prostration of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire of stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning, rendered life quite a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. So I get a bottle of Radway's Sarsaparillian and a box of Radway's Pills, and took them according to directions. I soon found relief. AND HIS WORK.

His Zeal and Energy Manifest Throughout the Diocese of London.

On Sunday next Bishop McEvay tarts on a confirmation tour, and he will be absent from London every Sunday until the end of July. By that time he will have compassed the task of visiting and administering confirmation in every parish of his diocese within two night agreed to a wage scale of 23 cents an hour, and May Day will see the building trades of Toronto at work.

The eighteen or twenty girls employyears, as well as attending to his other manifold duties. This is a task involving great labor and devotion to duty upon the part of this faithful and zealous ecclesiastic, for the diocese comprises 50 parishes and about 40 missions. Bishop McEvay's obedience to his own stern sense of duty is evi-denced not only in the indefatigable manner in which he himself labors for Returns received by the provincial bureau of labor as to the number and the advancement of his church, but in the fact that he expects his priests to be equally faithful and untiring in their in Ontario during the past two years his high office is shown not only in his capacity for unwearying efforts, but in the substantial progress that has mark-ed the affairs of the diocese since his assumption of the episcopal chair. In London the past two years have witnessed the establishment of the Mount St. Joseph Orphanage, the improve-ment of St. Peter's Cemetery, and the beginning of work at a new separate school in South London, while a new church in the East End will shortly be under way. In the outside portions of the diocese, four new parishes have been formed, five new priests' residences erected, a convent built at Chatham, several new churches erected, and sixteen new schools established. A number of new schools will also be built in the Huron district. Altogether, the Roman Catholics of Diocese of London are to be congratulated on the ability and devotion of their honored head.

SOMETHING MORE THAN A PURGATIVE.—To purge is the only effect of many pills now on the market. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are more than a purgative. They strengthen the stomach, where other pills weaken it. They cleanse the blood by regulating the liver and kidneys, and they stimulate where other pill compounds depress. Nothing of an injurious nature, used for merely purgative powers, enters into their composition.

Enough said," madame curtly inter-ted; "I will go down and talk the tier over a lutle further with his dsulp; meanwhile you may copy these accounts for me."
She meant to assure herself that if Shirley went as a guest she would be so regarded by everyone, and she did not care to talk the subject over before the Lord Waliace was expecting her to return to the drawing-room; but, of course, it was her duty to obey, so seating her self before the table she proceeded to fulfill the task that had been set her.

His lordship was also rather chagrined when Madme Marton entered the room alone, for he had anticipated having a social chat with Shirley before leaving.

"Your mother is very good to invite as to the coming festivities at Ivyhurst on my own merits, I would a social chat with Shirley before leaving.

"What can she expect an old maid, who has been almost a recluse for more than thirty years, to know about such things?" madame bluntly demanded, but flushing a triffe with pleasure, nevertheless, that her ladyship should have thought of consulting her upon such important questions.

"I have heard my mother say that years ago Mademoiselle Marton used to set the fashion in such things," Nell gallantly replied, "and I am sure she cannot have forgotten all her old-time cunning at contertwining."

"Very well, I will do the best I can to help her plan and execute," said madame, with more graciousness than was habitual with her. "And now, I want to talk with you a little about Shirley," she continued, with a characteristic bluntness. "Your mother has been very considerate to invite her as a guess to be continued, with a characteristic bluntness." "Your mother has been very considerate to invite her as a guess to be everything possible to make the time pass pleasantly to ber, if the arrangement meets with your approval."

"And she will be most happy to do everything possible to make the time pass pleasantly to ber, if the arrangement meets with your approval."

"And she will be received as an equal to work assuredly," returned her companion, with grave earnestness. Lord Wallace looked the pleasure he experienced at this reply.

"Then I shall send the carriage for you at five o'clock, if that will be agreeable; we dine at seven."

This arrangement suited madame, and the young man took his leave, well pleased with the success of his errand.

"Come, now," said Madame Marton, as she entered the room where Shirley was busily engaged with her writing, "put away your pen; you are to have a vacation of a week, and during that time you are to be a young lady in high life, and the guest of a lord, under my chaperonage. How does the prospect please you?" Shirley regarded the woman in surprise. She had never know her to indulge in anything like pleasantry before.

"I do not think I quite understand you," she replied, with a rising flush.

"Well, then, in plain language, when we go to Ivyhurst, it is not to be known that you are my companion; but you are to be introduced as the equal of the other visitors there. Now do you understand?"

"But would that be quite honest?" Shirley inquired, a little shadow of doubt dimming her clear eyes.

"Fudge, child! do not be such a stickier," was the good-natured retort. "I want you to have a good time, and I know enough of the world to be very sure that you would be snubbed by some of the so-called bon-ton if it should become known that you are my companion."

There was a moment of silence. Then Shirley turned proudly to her employer. "In that case, Madame Marton, I would prefer not to go at all," she said, in clear, decided tones. "Certain circumstances have conspired to make it necessary for me to earn my own living, but I do not feel that I am in the least degraded by the fact, and if I cannot be received at Ivyhurst on my own merits, I would rather remain at home or attend you simply as your companion."

"No; mamma always required me to be very careful of my clothing," Shirley said, adding: "I am glad you think the dresses are all right. Of course, I cannot expect to vie with Lady Wallace's wealthy and fashionable guests, neither will she expect it of me, but at least I would not like to annoy her by appearing unpleasantly conspicuous."

"Ahem! I guess you'll do," said madame, glancing at the sweet, expressive face beside her, while she said to herself that none of Lady Wallace's youthful guests were likely to be as beautiful in form or face, nor more charming in manner than this lovely and unassuming girl who served her so sweetly and so faithfully. "I think," she added, we'll go into town this afternoon, to do a little shopping, then I will let you pass judgment on what I'd better take to Ivyhurst in the way of gowns."

[To be Continued.] A CLUB AT SARNIA. A very enthusiastic meeting of baseball supporters was held at Sarnia on Monday evening. The boys decided to organize and get in the game, the name of the team to be the Sarnia baseball club. The following officers were elect-ed: Honorary president, Dr. Johnston, M. 50 Employes to Start Factory.

The Company propose to start wis the Company can turn out seven one-seated or single carriages per week. Without any additional hands this means three hundred and sixty-four the first year. Provided the Company sell their carriages at only $600 (but why sell them for less than others?) the profits will be about $91,000. The Company feel satisfied they will be employing inside of eight months double, if not three times this number of hands in order to meet the demand for the carriages and vehicles.

The Company have valuable patents for inventions, which cover not only automobiles and steam carriages, but other carriages and wagons, and it also has exclusive rights for Canada upon several very valuable devices for carriages, which can be utilized to great profit.

PROSPECTUS.

Object of Incorporation.

This Company has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing Automobiles in various styles, including Pleasure Carriages, Single and Double Road Wagons, Gladstones, Stanhopes, Victorias, Bus, Delivery Wagons, Business Wagons of all kinds, Drays and Coal Trucks to be self-propelled.

Property and Equipment.

The factory will be one of the most unique and best equipped in America. The machinery will be of the most modern character, combining all the latest improvements, enabling the Company to turn out the parts in each carriage perfect duplicates of each other. Many parts of this machinery are designed by our own designed and inventors and inventors. signers and inventors.

Capital and Revenue.

The cost of the factory, when complete including machinery, tools, power and all equipment, from carefully prepared estimates, will be about $25,000. The history of other establishments for the manufacture of these Carriages, both in the United States and Europe, show large returns on the investment from ready and increasing sales.

Automobiles.

The inventive genius of the age has for years been interested in perfecting forseless carriages, and has The inventive genius of the age has for years been interested in perfecting Forseless carriages, and had now succeeded to an extent that has astonished even the genius employed. America, which holds the first place in the design and beauty of her modern horse vehicles, has taken an advance step and assumed the lead in Motor Vehicles also. The Horseless Carriage is, beyond question, the vehicle of the future. The demand for them is increasing rapidly, and will in a short time be as great as has been the demand for bicycles; in fact, it is conceded by all that the Automobile is now where the bicycle was ten years ago, viz., on the verge of The Canadian Steam Carriage Company has practically reached perfection in Horseless Carriages. Their universal demand.

Carriage is tasteful both in appearance and action.

It surpasses all others in lightness and economy of motive power.

It costs but a trifle to run it, and makes no noise, smoke or odor.

It can run up to 30 miles an hour on a good road, and the rate of speed may be changed instantaneously at the will of the driver or person in charge.

Anybody can operate it.

It is suitable for either city or country use. It is always ready day and night, and will run on any kind of road—hard, soft, level or hilly.

It requires no urging, will not tire with a hard drive, and stands without hitching.

These carriages can be manufactured and sold at a price that puts them within the reach of almost every—

None but the very best materials are used, and the construction is under the supervision of the best skilled mechanics, so that the carriages are models of beauty and efficiency.

When the water in the boiler is perfectly cold, steam can be raised and the carriage in motion in six minutes.

The Canadian Steam Carriage Company, realizing the rapidly increasing demand for these carriages, commenced a series of experiments about a year and a half ago, and secured the services of mechanical engineers skilled in Horseless Carriage construction, which experiments they carried on continuously till satisfied that they had reached an acme of perfection in this system of locemotion. The larger portion of the time and that they had reached an acme of perfection in this system of locemotion. The larger portion of the time and expense spent in these exhaustive experiments were largely used in perfecting the motive power and controlling expensatus, and the success achieved has been all that could be desired.

With a 3½-horse motor to a one-seated carriage (for two persons), hills, mud or sand are no obstacle. In With a 3½-horse motor to a one-seated carriage (for two persons), hills, mud or sand are no obstacle. In any yet devised, while THE BOILER IS ABSOLUTELY NON-EXPLOSIVE AND CANNOT BE BLOWN UP, NO MATTER HOW IT IS USED.

The Company is assured that they have an Automobile which answers all demands, fills all necessary conditions, and is the only one found, so far, that will satisfy the lady or gentleman who wishes a perfect pleasure carriage, or the physician making calls in all kinds of weather, whose turnout must stand outside tied to a post sometimes for hours.

It being admitted that the demand exists, and that it is sure to increase, the next question is, "What le It being admitted that the demand exists, and that it is sure to increase, the next question is, "What is the best and cheapest motive power?" This question is already answered by the application of steam to the Horseless Vehicle. ELECTRIC-PROPELLED vehicles are merely playthings compared with the steam vehicle. The average electric carriage can work only eight hours out of the twenty-four, and what is worse, not eight consecutive hours. In other words, it exhausts in a few hours all the energy it can store, and is able to run only a few hours when it must be re-charged, and the time occupied in re-charging, together with the cost and difficulty of reaching an electric station, practically destroys its usefulness outside of large cities. The Steam Carriage can run continuously and at a high rate of speed if desired. In the recent racing contests in New York city, in which all classes of Automobiles competed, the race was easily won by the Steam Carriage.

And now that the Steam Automobile has distanced all competitors and become recognized as the coming carriage, an unlimited sale is assured.

carriage, an unlimited sale is assured.

The demand for steam automobile The demand for steam automobiles is world-wide, and Canada, England and the United States will undoubted-ly supply the great bulk of that demand for years to come.

Our single carriages can be manufactured on a limited scale for $350 each, and on a large scale the cost will

An American-made carriage, very similar in appearance, but not equal to this, is being sold in Canada for $900, but is sold at the factory in the United States for $650, the difference being duty, freight and agents' commission for selling. This means at least 150 per cent profit on the cost of manufacturing, and if the Canadian Steam Carriage Company's Carriages were sold at the same price as theirs, it would leave them a margin of profit of

A Prince Albert correspondent writes under date of April 26 to The Advertiser: "Quite an influx of new settlers are coming into Prince Albert district. The spring was late in this part, but very fine, and the farmers are busy seeding. A light shower of rain fell last night, the first this year. The census enumerators are progressing very satisfactorily with their work."

CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS.

Wm. Keyes, a C. P. R. car inspector, was caught between two cars near the Richmond street depot yesterday morning, sustaining a severe fracture of the shoulder blades. He was recently transferred from Toronto Junction to this city, and had just begun his new duties. He is a married man, and resides at 570 Pall Mall street. Dr. Stutt was called, and reduced the fracture. Keyes will be laid up for several weeks.

Great Cataract May Supply Power For Local Factories.

Pacific Coast Experiments Demonstrate the Practicability of Transmitting Power Over Long Distances.

The possibility of turning the wheels of London's factories by means of power generated at Niagara Falls has in all probability never been considered by local manufacturers; yet it is not only possible but probable that at no distant date half the manufacturers of See western Ontario will be looking toward the great cataract for their motive Our power. Until a very recent date electricians had deemed it impossible to convey electric power for commercial purposes beyond a very short distance owing to waste. But as has frequently happened before in the world of electrical research, a seeming impossibility has been accomplished. On Sunday last the street cars of Oakland, California were operated by an electric current generated on the Yuba River at a point 140 miles distant from the city. This is said to be the most satisfactory result ever achieved in the transmission of ele tric power. The power is generated by turbine wheels, the cable being of copper, six-tenths of an inch in diameter, with aluminum alloy which will prevent oxidization. It is sus-pended across Carquenez Straits by a span of 4,400 feet, and 300 feet in air. During the test of Saturday last a current of 40,000 volts was transmitted the entire distance, with a loss not exceeding five per cent. London is about 120 miles from Niagara Falls, and it should be a comparatively easy matter to convey suffi-cient power to this city to operate every factory in it. When it sidered that, not excluding the railways, fully 200,000 tons of bituminous coal, costing $700,000, is consumed in London every year for commercial purposes, one may form an idea of the vast saving that would be effected by the utilization of the marvelous mo tive power which is constantly going to waste at Niagara.

City Engineer Would Do So-New Tenders for Market House Repairs.

No. 3 committee met last night in the committee rooms of the city hall. Those present were Ald. Stevely (chairman), Engineer Graydon and Secretary Bell. Several petitions were dealt with Among these was one from William Hunter for watering Teresa street to a point 160 feet south of Askin street, Mr. Hunter promising to pay for ser-vice. The petition was granted. Engineer Graydon recommended that the asphalt pavement be watered after 6 o'clock every evening. His suggestion was laid over for further consideration. A communication from Clarke & Smith, undertakers, was read, which offered to bury the poor of the city at the following rates: Adults, $11; children under 12 years of age, $6. The ofpurpose of organizing. The meeting was | fer included the supplying of varnished splendidly representative and the busi- wooden coffins, with handles, hearse attendant, and grave. The last subject dealt with was the repairing of the market house. Offers were read from five tenders; but it was decided to ask for fresh tenders for the job, according to specifications only, without supplying new sheeting for the building. The account for street lighting for last month is $2,001 03. The committee adjourned until next Monday evening, at half-past seven.

FARMER COULD STAND THE SHOT.

Reckoned He'd Overcome His Prejudice When Bikes Were So Cheap.

An employe of a well-known Dundas street grocery establishment left his 1901 bike in the rear of the store the other day, and proceeded to busy himself about the task of earning his salary. A short time after a shrewdlooking gentleman from the rural district entered the store, produced 50 ents and remarked to the astonished employe:

"I calc'late I'll take that air velocipede."
"What velocipede?" queried the wildered salesman.
"Why, that pesky thing out front there," was the reply; "I've kinder had my mind sot agin velocipedes, but I reckon that one's cheap at the price, an' I guess I can stand the shot.' Of course, the salesman didn't know
