bank

[Canadian Press.] St. Louis, March 9.—Three men are known to be dead, dozens of others are men are and two score were seriously injured in a fire which early today destroyed the seven-story building housing the Missouri Athletic Club and the Boatmen's Bank at Fourth street and Washington

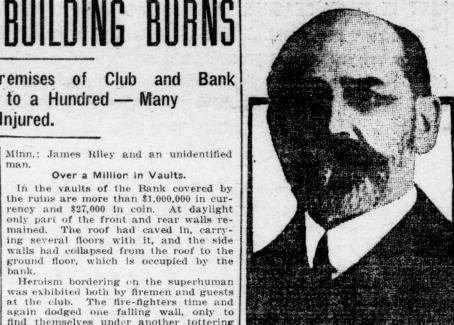

At 6 o'clock this morning 32 men had been accounted for, and three of the dead had been recovered. The number of persons missing and supposed to have been trapped in the building is variously estimated between fifteen and one hundred. The manager of the club declared there were 135 persons registered last night, while the clerk declared only 50 persons were in the house.

The exact number of dead within the building probably will not be known for several days, as the ruins of the building, in the opinion of fire chiefs, will smolder for that length of time. At 6 o'clock the fire was brought under control. The property damage at that time was estimated at $1,000,000. The fire is believed to have originated in the dining-room on the third floor of the building, although the police are giv-lng some credence to the theory that safe-blowers may be responsible, as two explosions were heard in the Boatmen's

Three of the dead were killed in headong dashes to the pavement. One man, Theodore Levi, Jackson, Tenn., clung to the sill of a sixth-story window until both his hands were charred black. Just as he was about to let go his hold he was rescued by firemen. When he had been treated at the dispensary, Levi said two of the men who were killed had jumped from the window to which he

Home Rule Within Home Rule Not Considered a Practicable Idea.

BRITISH HOUSE CROWDED

Intense Interest Shown in the Premier's Announcement by Throng in Attendance.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 9.-Premier Asquith today laid before the House of Commons his proposed concessions to Ulster in regard to its position under the Irish home rule bill. The announcement which had been so long and anxiously awaited was to the effect that before the bill became operative, a poll should be taken of the parliamentary electors of each county to decide whether there should be an exclusion of the Ulster counties from the provisions of the bill for a period of six years from the first meeting of the new Irish Parliament. If the majority of the voters was in favor of this scheme, the county would automatically be excluded or the prescribed period. Before an attendance even bigger than that which listened to the introduction of the Irish home rule bill, Premier Asquith began his statement as to the concessions the Government proposed to of-fer to Ulster shortly before 4 o'clock. He prefaced his speech with the declaration that the Government made these suggestions today, not because it was running away from the original bill, but merely to allow the bill to star, with the greatest prospect of success. still remain in which to enter cases, a dissatisfaction and civil strife in Ulster. number have already been set down, and shipwrecked or postponed, the outlook the list of both jury and non-jury civil was equally formidable Supporters of the bill were as convinced today as ever they had been of the soundness of its principles and machinery, continued the Premier. He said they regarded it as a sincere and considerate attempt to place the Irish Government on a solid foundation without injustice or hardship to any class. He informed the House that the nego-tiations for a compromise last autumn had failed to result even in an approach to an agreement, but had made all realize more than ever the difficulties of the situation. To meet Ulster's difficulties they had tried to devise home rule, but that proposition did not commend itself either to the Nationalists or the Union

By such a scheme Ulster again has been exempted from the administrative and executive authority of Dublin government, while legislation to which Ulster objected could not come into force until it had been sanctioned by the British Parliament.

Another suggestion considered was the inclusion of the whole of Ireland in the to preside at the assizes has not yet been bill for legislative and executive purposes, but giving to the Ulster counties the option of removing themselves for a time. Any sort of exclusion, said the Premier, would tend to keep the controversy alive, and would involve serious administration and financial difficulties. He said, however, he believed the Unionists themselves would find in some form of provisional exclusion a medium between the surrender of their principles and the applications of force.

[Canadian Press.] London, March 9 .- For many years no such rush of members of the House of ommons to secure seats for a debate had been seen as was witnessed today. when from an early hour a steady stream of legislators poured into the chamber to take their places, to listen to Premier Asquith's announced important statement on the Irish home rule controversy: Only on those occasions when the King himself has opened Parliament have such throngs gathered in the vicinity of Par-Continued on Page Eleven.

Will Ask City Council to Appoint Central Body to Control the Charitable Work.

PROTECTION FOR PUBLIC

Committee of Prominent Social Workers to Take Up the

The city council will be recommended to appoint a social service commission by a committee elected at a meeting of social workers in the Normal School Saturday afternoon. The proposed commission will control the charitable institutions of London. The work of the commission was explained in a lecture by Edwin Dickie, secretary of the Social Service Commission of Toronto.

The committee elected at the meeting are: Col. W. M. Gartshore, Dr. H. W. Hill, Mrs. C. B. King, Mrs. W. E. Hodgins, Mrs. J. Stevely, Capt. Thos. J. Murphy and Major Frank Morris, of the Salvation Army

Composed of men who will examine the work and the worthiness of the different charitable organizations of the city, the commission prevents overlapping of work, and the squandering of public noney by unnecessary giving.

Necessary to London.

"It seems to me a most admirable proosition," said Mayor C. M. R. Graham. We have been working in the dark for three years, and I believe a social service commission would be a great boon to social work in London." The mayor suggested that the committee approach the city council at once about the establishing of a service commission.

Mr. Dickie said: "The commission protects the public and the city from selfinterested organizations. Many religious rescue missions in Toronto have taken money from the city and put it into their own pockets. We have already cleaned out five such places. No money is granted to organizations now unless they are O. K.'d by the commission," said the speaker. "It saved $400 to Toronto last year by knowing good from bad institutions."

"The basis for efficiency in work," Mr. Dickie said, "was what is known as the confidential exchange, a card-index system, where the name of every needy person is registered. Because of this system. Toronto is more efficient in social work than any other city recover, it will be some months before in America," declared the speaker. "Chicago and Cleveland, pre-eminent in social work, both have the system almost perfected. Chicago has registered more than 200,000 families, and Cleveland more than 40,000 Tayonto her land more than 40,000. Toronto has operated the system for three months, and has 2,500 families registered." A Helpful Agency.

The exchange is operated by a woman university graduate, with wide business experience. Mr. Dickie said that the work required careful study and discrimination, and he advised much care selecting such a person for London's institution.

"One of the greatest agencies in the reconstruction of the family is the free employment bureau. Toronto has on its list, the names of 10,000 men and 1,000 Temporary employment has been found for 419 and permanent work for 190 of them," he said.

The meeting ratified the constitution proposed at the last meeting for a charty clearing house, known as the London Social Service Association. The estaplishment of a free employment bureau was added as one of the objects of the organization.

JOINERS' UNIONS UNITED

Two Locals Merged Into One-Agreement Drawn Up for Employers.

The two locals of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America have decided to unite as one local. General Organizer T. Moore, of Niagara Falls, presided at the meeting when union was decided on. After April 1 the united local will meet on Tuesday even-ings in St. George's Hall. A form of agreement for presentation to the builders and contractors of the city was drawn up and the latter will be asked to agree to it as soon as the general Brotherhood of Carpenters approves of it. The agreement will go into effect June 1 and three months' notice will be required tion campaign, 800 Slavs were won over to the temperance ranks. In the Macedonian mission in Toronto recently, a Mohammedan Turk was converted to Christianity.

Eight meetings have been held in London so far, with an average at-tendance of 155. At a meeting on Saturday night, men and women wept at hearing the gospel message. Mr. Koles-nikoff told of a boarding-house in London where, after attending meeting of the mission, a boarding-house mistress refused to allow her husband or boarders to drink or smoke. The husband had just bought a large bottle of whiskey. He went and sold it to another man. This man's wife had also been attending the mission, and she promptly broke the bottle, and wasted the contents.

On first consideration, the pastor declared the feeling would be that it costs nothing to pray. All that is necessary is to ask for help. This idea is radically wrong, the pastor said. It is necessary that the mind be surrendered to God. Praying, too, is a manifestation of sub-

The speaker thought that it was necessary to tell the whole truth in prayer. Only in that way could there be a complete understanding between God and man, he said. Constancy in prayer was another phase. There were many people who lose faith too easily if their requests are not granted immediately. The worthy ones and those deserving of blessing are those who await patiently the outcome of their prayers, the preacher was certain. One great phase in the cost of prayer was the sorrow in the case of a watcher at the bedside of a sick friend or relative. Because there was no immediate reward to prayer for the sick one's recovery, there was no excuse for abandonment of hope. Instead it should serve as , stimulus for renewed effort and trust.

Plying Their Trade Industriously and Prize Birds Disappear as Result.

Chicken thieves have commenced operations in the north end of the city, and so insidious has been their work that the residents of that section, who keep prize birds, have communicated with the police, asking the latter to keep a sharp lookout for the party or parties who are plying the illegal trade.

Thomas Legg, of Kollwood Park, Oxford street, was awakeed the other night by a loud clucking and cackling in the vicinity. He inmediately proceeded to inpeople to volunteer as teachers, and vestigate and upon reaching his chicken for the church people of London to coop a few minutes later he found that support the work as far as possible. fifteen of his prize pullets were missing. boards of health, morality and others, hen coop open and picked out the best to investigate the moral life of the birds in his flock. William Smith, a resident on Oxford street, near the Asylum sideroad, also suffered at the hands of chicken thieves. When Mr. Smith visited his coop Saturday morning he found that his whole coop of birds, 42 in number, had departed for parts unknown. All the evidence here were some heavy footprints, a wagon mark near his gate, and a shor piece of iron bar that had evidently been used to open the coop door with.

Other residents in the north end of th city, west of Adelaide street, have com plained that their coops have been raided recently, and all chicken owners in that section of the city are the first thing in the morning making tracks to their henhouses, praying that their flocks have not been molested.

The county authorities have been notified and are working with the police in their efforts to arrest the thieves.

Good Quality Hay Offered at Prevailing Prices-Eggs Seem Scarcer Again.

The market today was small and dull. About a dozen loads of hay were on the square, and sold at from $12 to $14.50 per ton. The demand was not brisk, although the quality of the hay was good. Only one load of straw was weighed, and it brought $8.50 per ton.

Oats sold this morning at a decline from Saturday's price, $1.12 per hundredweight was the highest price paid, and the supply was small. Only one load of wheat was on the square, and sold at $1 per bushel, the record price for wheat No eggs were offered today; the supply seems to be small at present. Late Saturday afternoon they sold, wholesale, for 30 cents a dozen, and for 32 and 33 cents.

The best butter in rolls was sold Saturday for 30 cents per pound, and it will likely become cheaper, dealers expect, as the number of milch cows increases. All other lines sold on Saturday for quoted prices, although the market was probably the biggest this year.

> Wall Street, Noon.-Bullish traders succeeded in changing the direction of the market today from the course followed late last week, but progress up-ward was only temporary. Early ir-regularity was caused in part by foreign selling, but the strong showing made by St. Paul and some of the eastern railroad shares pulled up the whole list. The upturn was facilitated by suscension of liquidation in Chesapeake and Ohio, B. and O. and other stocks whose weakness recently has been unsettling. Trading was active on the upward swing. and the market made good headway until the railroads began to develop weakness. Reading and Lehigh were sold heavily, he latter reacting three points. Upper House Committee Makes Reduction of $20,000,000 in Spite of Premier.

[Canadian Press.]

Tokio, March 9 .- A recommendation to educe the Japanese naval estimates by the sum of $20,000,000 was carried by the budget committee of the Upper House of the Japanese Parliament today. This was done in spite of the protest of the Premier, who expressed the opinion that such a diminution would seriously hamper the national defences. Today's proposed reduction was in addition to the curtailment of the naval estimates by $15,000,000 already passed by the Lower House,

So Bobby Burns tersely describes the rich, but still poor, dyspeptics. But their case is not now so desperate as when Burns wrote. For the man who has the food now can eat without suffering for it, if he just follows the meal with a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet.

These remarkable tablets banish the troubles of the chronic dyspeptic-the man who is bilious—the sufferer from heartburn, gas on the stomach or occasional indigestion. You can eat hearty meals of wholesome food--and digest them, too-if you take Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets.

Compounded by expert chemists, after probably the best formula known to medical science, they are quick and certain in their action, giving prompt relief from all forms of stomach trouble, toning up and strengthening the digestive organs and bringing about permanent

ROSS WONG.

ITTLE Ross Wong, a Chinese lad, attending school at St. Thomas, has headed his class. There is something glorious about this. We rejoice that he has humbled our race. We hope his older countrymen will hold a great feast, and that the news is sent back to China. Let them tell the folks at home, supposing there are Chinese "folks at home," that he has conquered the white race. Let them boast as they will get out the fire crackers and the lanterns, hail him a prince. We need not fear, for the real victory is ours. We conquered Ross Wong when he captured honors in school. That first name more than half bound him to us, and then we have made him a complete Canadian. None but a Canadian can win first place in our schools. There is no yellow peril here in Ross' case. The peril is to the prejudices and superstitions, and habits of his own race. We are quite willing as a nation to welcome all those who enter our nationhood by little Wong's method. It is the little foreigner who does not enter our schools who is our peril. He leaders lead us.

But there is nothing wonderful about it. Kings are trained from childhood in every branch of knowledge. With very few exceptions their youth is no time for play, it is all study and work, and when they reach the throne they know things. So, too, with men who become presidents of a great country like the United States. They have not been trained especially for the position, but they have been trained. And because they too know things, they in time are selected for places of power. And they are not alone. There are thousands of men in business and in public life, whose range of knowledge covers a great variety of subjects which may not be necessary for their ordinary work. A king may acquire this knowledge by a slow and painstaking process; but a naturally strong man absorbs it almost unconsciously from his surroundings

A MEMORIAL TREE.

UST back of the site of the humble dwelling in which the most brilliant of Ontario's sons was born still stands this fine old willow. It was there when, or soon after, the Ross family came from Scotland and settled on their clearing in the Middlesex forest. Beneath its branches softly flowed the little creek, so characteristic of our peaceful countryside and so often dried up with the removal of the bush.

Sir George Ross would never allow this tree to be cut down, and it should remain spared by the woodman's axe, for its own sake and to mark his memory until, full of mortality, its heart becomes a cavern.

"With blind arm, in season due,

The aerial woodman hew." Such a tree deserves to be held up with cement by the pious care of the region. George Washington's elm is so preserved in Cambridge, Mass.; our Canadian George may have come far short of the great American in power, work and fame, yet for purity of life, idealism, noble oratory, patristance, and we are letting Manitoba otic purpose and achievement, he will be hardly surpassed in the annals of this country.

With what emotion the successful statesman must have often looked upon those graceful, ancient boughs!

"Willow, in thy breezy moan I can hear a deeper tone;

Through thy leaves come whispering low, Faint, sweet sounds of long ago."

There beside the creek, perhaps, 'he played at counsellors and kings,' Dominion Parliament a similar mea- with brothers and sisters. The willow became a symbol.

Humanity and the poets have commonly shown a romantic or even will be interested to see what Mr. devotional feeling for trees. A sacred sight in Palestine is "Abraham's oak." Hanna does in the Legislature. He Wordsworth wrote intensely of "a tree, of many, one, which I have looked took a contribution of $500 from a upon, speaking of something that is gone," and Matthew Arnold loved his "signal-elm." It is fitting that the willow of Nairn should long remind was in dispute; and nobody has ever Ontario of George Ross and of an older almost patriarchal day.

Great changes the tree has seen. George Ross bound sheaves after his father's cradling in the field. The Christian prayer and hymn were raised As the Premier admitted that Mr. in the former wilderness. Afterwards came the noise of the reaper and the binder in place of the whetting of the scythe. BLASE BROADWAY DYES ITS HAIR SCARLET OR POWDERS IT WHITE-DANCES OFF IN MAD SEARCH FOR PLEASURE

[BY NIXOLA GREELY-SMITH.] (Written Especially for The Advertiser.)

New York, March 6 .- Two blizzards struck New York simultaneously a short time ago-a blizzard of snow which has already melted or been carted away and a blizzard of powder which has fallen upon the hair of New York women.

The dyed wigs are here, of course, and department stores are offering them at $16 each for the more usual shades of scarlet, midnight blue, green and purple, or are dying wigs specially to match your costume for $20.

But New York women don't like the colored wigs, or else they are afraid to wear them, because practically no scarlet or purple coiffures have made their appearance in public places. It is far otherwise with the rival fad for powdered hair, which is almost universally becoming. Broadway has taken to hair powder and at the most successful public ball given a short time ago by Andre and Jacques Bustonoby each guest was requested to wear a white wig, or to appear with powdered hair. The public fancy dress ball introduced here a year ago by the French dandy and exquisite, Andre de Fouquieres, has caught New York. THE HOROSCOPE TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 1914. Free from starry guide In peace this day abide.

Those who read the stars for this day interpret their message as devoid of any decided prognostication for good or ill. It is a time for the pursuit of routine work and not for initlative or speculation. Neptune sends a faint influence for good, from which poets, musicians and writers should derive benefit. It is a favorable day for beginning ocean voyages. Shipping interests should prosper fairly well. Increased mortality among women is prognosticated. In the next few weeks death of prominent persons will be numerous. Those who were born when the Sun, Moon, Mars or Saturn held the twenty-first degree of Virgo will be especially vulnerable to disease. Reforms in social customs, will interest the public. Banquets to pub-lic men will be discouraged and fewer entertainments for women will be given, the seers declare. There is a prophecy that Chicago promises increased prosperity for them, but the stars indicate radical changes in standards of education. A professor will start a movement curtailing the privileges of women in state institutions. The death of the president of a leading university is foreshadowed.

WIARTON YOUNGSTER WANTS TRIAL WITH LOCAL CANADIAN LEAGUERS

Says He Is a Southpaw Pitcher and Is Only 19 Years of Age-Schedule Arrives But Will Not Be Issued Until End of Week—London's Indian Is Educated.

[BY JINX.]

W. A. Matthews, a 19-year-old bank of Wiarton, Ontario, has written to the London club, asking for a trial this coming season. According to his letter, he is a pitcher and a southes wat that. He claims that he has played for the past three seasons with senior teams, but does not mention what teams they are.

The application will be considered and an effort will be made to get some dope on him. He may be given a trial if there is anything in his past performances to warrant it. So many youngsters in small towns, who have little or no baseball ability at all, write in for trials that as a rule such applications are passed up. However, it does not always pay to neglect giving some of these fellows a cago National League Club. John R. Thompson, a restaurant man, telegraphed an offer to Charles P. Taft, at New York, and Louis J. Behan, who represented another syndicate whose previous proposals were not acceptable, made a new offer. Mr. Thompson said his offer had no strings attached to it.

"We will pay a reasonable price, and we will make no unreasonable demands as to the reserve rule or anything else," he said. The first Behan syndicate imposed conditions regarding the reserve rule and other things that made Mr. Taft decline its bid.

Associated with Mr. Thompson is Charles A. McCulloch. With the offer made by Mr. John T. Canery, three bids for the Chicago Cubs are now up for consideration by Mr. Taft and Mr. Tener of the National League, it is un-

"Chubby" Coose, the tormer Red Sox when they defeated the visitors here this evening by the score of 10 to 3 in a short time ago for Rube Deneau, has consolation game. The game was a fast and clean one and was witnessed by a fair crowd. The first half was pretty even, the score at half-time being 3-ali. In the second half Sarnia played rings around the Londoners and ran in seven goals, while they failed to score. Ward-rope, in the nets for the visitors, was not up to his usual form, although he stopped many hard shots.

Al More and Davy Reid featured for the player, who was traded to London

Just why Coose should want more noney for playing for London than for playing with Brantford is hard to figure out. He would not have signed with the Red Sox had he not been satisfied with the terms, but now that he has been traded to the Tecumsehs his value apparently takes a big leap. It may be that he figures on the basis that London be-ing a much larger place than Brantford, he should get a much larger salary for playing here than in the latter city.

May Not Need Him, Anyway. The locial directors wil hold him to the entract he signed with the Brantford club. According to one of the members of the London club, Coose will be of little value to the London team this season, and he may be traded to one of the other clubs in the league or re-leased altogether. "I think," he said. "that we would have made a better deal had we asked the Brantford club for 30 cents in exchange for Deneau and left Coose out of it. Just where we wil place

The ice was practically covered with water, putting combination play out of the question. turn on the special train Friday night, but What the game lost in finish, however, was made up in excitement over several unscheduled fistic encounters. The players started in to mix things up generally after the opening session and it needed sharp ruling on the part of the officials

Davidson did not help Torontos chances by drawing two majors, the last of which put him out of the match. McGiffen went after Donald Smith and the pair, dropping their sticks, started in with their fists. They grappled and rolled over in the water before Westwick could intervene. Lalonde was worked at odd periods, but was not able to show his usual scoring

Lose the Puck in Water. In the third period the ice conditions became so bad that players would lose the puck in pools of water they had to go through and all idea of system was forgotten.

Although a record attendance had been predicted the crowd was disappointing. Not only was the attendance far below the record establishde in the Stanley Cup match, between Wanderers and Kenora seyeral years ago, but it did not reach the number at the match between Ottawa and Canadiens three weeks back. The record attendance for the Arena is just over seven thousand, while the attendance for the match between Ottawa and Canadiens amounted to six thousand and six hundred odd. On Saturday night the paid admissions dropped nearly five hundred below the latter mark.

Every Seat Sold.

Every seat in the building was sold, so that it was in the standing room that the falling off was recorded. Alfred Bright, the congregation remained standing at the close of the opening hymn, and the organist, Prof. Brown, very impressively endered the "Dead March in Saul." The tribute was a touching one. The late Sir George Ross was a lifelong Presbyterian, and as a warm friend of many here and an honored stateman the news of his death was received with deep regret.

In his sermon Sunday morning at the Egerton Street Baptist Church, Rev. W. Riddiford referred to the late Sir George Ross as a man of the soundest principles. "His life will go down in history as an example and an inspiration for the lives of our young men," said the peaker.

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND

There is no more frequent source of Illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty

Mr. James Wilds, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

POLICEMAN WOUNDED AT SPANISH ELECTIONS

Some Rioting Occurred, But on the Whole Polling Passed Off Quietly.

[Canadian Press.] Madrid, March 9 .- Disturbances in connection with the general parliamentary elections held yesterday in Spain are re-ported from various places, but as a rule the polling passed off peaceably.

A riot at Benagalbon, in the Province of Malaga, resulted in the wounding of two policemen and numerous citizens, while one policeman disappeared and was reported killed

FREDERICK C. MARTIN SOCIAL WORKER DEAD Widely Read Author Was Related to

Nobility of England. [Canadian Press.] London, March 8 .- Frederick Townsend Martin, wealthy New York social worker and author, died today at the Berkeley

Hotel here from angina pectoris.

Frederick Townsend Martin occupied high place in the society circles and his many activities were widely followed, both here and abroad. Member of an old New York family, brother of the late Bradley Martin, and related to the nobility of England, Mr. Martin figured for years in the social events here and in Europe. But it was his views in regard to the elations of the rich and the poor, which he frequently found the opportunity to express, which won for him as much rominence as any of his social activi-

Mr. Martin came into public notice to a great degree in 1911 with his advent into the field of authorship. In that year he published his first book, "The Passing of the Idle Rich." This was followed shortby his other two volumes, "My Personal Experiences of Meeting Snobs" and "The Reminiscences of My Life." In his vritings he criticized caustically the ex-

However, if that was the case, it was not in evidence. The town hall was crowded to capacity, 400 or more being in attendance to hear Mr. Evanturel's statement, but save for a faint murmur of sympathy occasionally from a few, the audience sat in stolid silence. The member of the Lower Assembly spoke an hour, simply elaborating a little on the speech he had made earlier in the afternoon. When he had finished, the crowd trooped out silently, everyone ignoring the invitation to discuss the question if they so desired. Bruno Bouvrette, a young real estate agent of Hawkesbury, presided.

FOUR MEETINGS WITH SIR GEORGE ROSS

Dr. Cl. T. Campbell Recalls Incidents in Connection With Personal Recollections of Late Senator.

Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, one of the late Hon. Sir George Ross' warmest friends in London, in referring to his death on Saturday said:

"Among my personal recollections of Senator Ross, four incidents stand out more clear and distinct than all the others.

"The first: Time, somewhere in the later sixties; place, a little hall in the township of Lobo. The occasion was one of those social entertainments that used to be more popular than they are now. Mr. John Cameron, then publisher of the new Advertiser, and myself, drove out in the evening. Among the speakers were Geo. W. Ross, a young man of local reputation, and the Rev. G. M. Milligan, who had a church in the neighborhood. I have long since forgotten what were the subjects on which they spoke. But there has always remained the deep impression made by young Ross, with speech logical in its argument, clothed Evanston, Ill., March 7.—There's in beautiful language, enlivened by wit and humor. Mr. Milligan gave a good in beautiful language, enlivened by wit Charles Forbes Taylor, the boy preach- address; but I remember him more on this occasion as a perapatetic orator, America to preach the gospel to boys. who tramped restlessly from one end of

There had been a general election, and a Liberal not the only member of the House, victory. West Middlesex, long a Conand said he might ask the Provincial servative riding, had sent to Parliament supply of: taking his place in the House as one of the best Liberal debaters. Those of us who knew something of him, arranged for a visit to Stratford and a lecture. He spoke on 'Canada;' a new lecture, carefully prepared. His audience was not make, the proper place to do so would as large as he deserved; but he spoke with all the vigor and the dignity he would have shown before a company of thousands. His key-note was the sturdy Canadianism that governed all his life. Love for his country; confidence in his growth; bright hopes of her future. Those who heard him became better informed and more loyal Canadians than they had been before.

"The third: Time, the middle of the of the liquor traffic. The committee eighties; place, a Grand Trunk train. We had both entered the same car, from Legislature was not justified in offer- Montreal to Toronto, and spent most of ing his services to the liquor associa- the day in conversation. No more charming travelling companion could be desired. We talked of many things, he declared, "must be maintained, among others, the progress of prohibition sentiment, and his relation to the temperance movement. I asked him how many Conservative prohibitionists gave up a great fight and Mr. Evanturel him their support. He smiled, as he anshould have been more frank with swered: 'Conservatives are always loyhim. This should be a lesson to Mr. al to their party. I cannot expect help Evanturel and others. He believed from them. But I can work through Mr. Evanturel when he said that Mr. my own party. Not long since the liquor Ferguson had made the letter public trade had as much influence in one party to hurt the Liberal party, but the fact as in the other. But prohibition is that Evanturel was personally guilty growing stronger among the Liberals remained. Personally, Mr. Evanturel every day. I am not foolish enough to had their sympathy, but as a party insist on its adopting a policy which at present would only lead to its defeat. But we are going as fast as we can. And Saturday night Mr. Evanturel held the time will come when prohibition will come when prohibition will be the Liberal plat be a leading plank in the Liberal platform. I am working for that, and hope

"The fourth: Time, some nine years ago; place, the residence of the Hor G. W. Ross, leader of the Ontario Opposition. In London we had been trying to secure aid from the new Government towards improvements for London West, necessary on account of the flood. Some of us had said that Mr. Ross promised Dr. Routledge, the member for East Middlesex, that he would give us some help. This was denied by some of the local Conservatives; and I thought it advisable to interview him myself. He was lying on a couch in his study, already suffering from the rheuma tism which crippled his physical powers for the rest of his life; but bright and cheerful as ever. He readily remembered his promise, and renewed his willingness to help London surrounding country remaining to all he could. Then our conversation drifted to other matters. We talked of some municipal reforms I had in my mind, of which he approved. But The feeling throughout the riding I intimated I thought I was getting too old to take up new schemes.
"'Oh, nonsense,' was the prompt re

oinder. 'A man is never too old to work for what he thinks is right, if he has the strength to work. I am of the people are talking of inviting Henri Bourassa to run, but a local man will probably get the nomination. J. N. Lapointe, the president of the Liberal Association and E. A. Societion and E. Nationalists Confer. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, held a meeting of his supporters in the House of Commons at oon. The terms of the statement to be made later by Premier Asquith were communicated to the meeting, whose proceedings, however, were strictly private In the course of the morning it was announced that Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster Unionists, would attend the debate, as he had sufficiently recovered from his illness. Sir Edward consented shortly after noon to receive a deputaion of suffragettes. Term Is Six Years. The Government's plan, the Premier said, was to allow the Ulster counties to determine whether they should be excluded, and he proposed that any county of Ulster should be allowed to take a poll of its parliamentary electors for this purpose before the bill came into operation. A bare majority for exclusion would exclude the county for a term of six years from the date of the meeting of the first rish Legislature. The excluded counties would continue their representation in the Imperial Parliament and the Irish executive would have no control over them. Other details involved in this plan, concluded the Premier, are to be announced later in a state paper.

Four Counties Probable Home rule in Ireland, with the four Protestant counties in the province of Ulster, namely, Antrim, Armagh, Londonderry and Down, retaining for six-years their old standing in the United Kingdom outside the jurisdiction of the Dublin Government, would in the general opinion expressed in Parliament be the result of compromise offered by Premier Asquith today. The nine counties of Ulster are to be allowed each to hold a separate referendum as to whether they will accept home rule, and the view is generally taken that there can be no doubt of the result The Price of Peace.

Premier Asquith, in admitting that all egotiations for a settlement had left the party leaders as far apart as before, said the Government had adopted the proposed The plan as the price of peace. During the injury is very serious, and causing his six years interim the country at large, he declared, could judge of the success of the home rule government, and the Parliament of the United Kingdom would then decide whether the excluded counties should come under the Dublin government. The difficulties of this plan he freely conceded. The members of the Opposition received the plan without enthusiasm. Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Opposition said if it represented the last word to be taken or left, the situation was very

ECLIPSE OF MOON WILL BE VISIBLE ON MAR. 11

Will Be Almost Total and Can Be Seen From All Parts of the Country.

An almost total eclipse of the moon and the only one of the entire year that can be seen from the greater part of the country, will occur on the evening of March 11. A second eclipse of the moon will occur on September 4 but this will only be visible from the Western States and provinces. The full moon of March 11 will be seen to rise a very little to the north of the east point of the horizon a 4.43 p.m. It will mount continually higher in the sky and reach the meridian at midnight, but some hours be-fore it has reached this highest position, a slight darkening will be discern-

The eclipse will be seen at 9:42 p.m. when the black shadow of the earth will begin to cover the upper left-hand portion of the moon's disc. By 11:13, ninety-two-one-hundredths of the moon will be hidden. Only a narrow strip will be bright, its shape being that of a flat-end crescent, whose norns point upwards from the south horizon. It is probable that the rest of the moon's surface may be seen, but it will be very faint and probably of a

From the viewpoint of the Christian there could be no doubting that total abstinence was the only stand that could be taken upon the liquor question, he continued.

"Dealing fairly with the letter Scripture, we cannot insist upon total abstinence, neither can we condemn slavery," he said, "but the spirit of Scripture acting upon the minds and consciences of Christians has condemned slavery and the Spirit of Truth leading us into all light has as unalterably condemned the liquor traffic as it has slavwhat sin-bearing is. One might point to several incidents in the life of our Saviour that would answer this question. One was when the four men carried their sick friend to the top of the church and lowered him through the roof to where Christ was, asking that he cure him, for he was not only broken in body but in soul. Now the Master did not stand like a magician and summon, with a wand, the powers wherewith to cure this poor wreck of humanity, but him with great love welling up within him, and finding vent in these words; 'Take up thy bed and walk, thy sins are forgiven thee.' Christ's heart was nevertheless filled with hatredhatred of sin and contempt for the regious system that pretended to show the poor wretch the way to God and had failed and allowed him to fall a prey to his environment. Sorrow and love were there also-sorrow for the poor nan, and love, the essence of the crossthe impulse to help him who has fallen."
