

OVER 5,000 STAND, TESTIFY TO CHRIST AT CALL OF GIPSY

Only Handful Keep Seats At Armories When Evangelist Makes Plea—Several Hundred From St. Thomas Fill Place Reserved For Them—Corps of Personal Workers Active.

(By Isabel C. Armstrong.)

If Gipsy Smith stays much longer in London it will be necessary to hold the evening meeting in relays, or knock out the walls of the armories to give all the people who want to hear him a chance to get in.

The many who arrived in the rain last night any time within fifteen minutes before the opening hour of the service, 8 o'clock, were inclined to feel that the evening meeting was larger than at any preceding service of the week's mission, and each of two tables below the platform had its peakload of small boys, while little folks crowded onto the platform steps like sardines.

Reserved For St. Thomas.

True to promise, the committee reserved and held until 7:30 o'clock several hundred seats for a St. Thomas contingent which was placed with the orderliness and entire lack of confusion characteristic of all the arrangements made for the evening.

The St. Thomas visitors had scarcely time to settle down before Gipsy Smith (afterwards) initiated them by calling upon them to sing a verse of one of the campaign hymns by themselves. After that, they were a definite part of the big, friendly mission family.

In the words of Rev. W. Leslie Arncliffe, secretary of the local mission committee, Gipsy Smith tomorrow observes his Sabbath or day of rest. Technically, the first week of his campaign has ended in London, though his first mass meeting in the armories was held on Tuesday evening.

Estimate 3,500 Seated.

The first night, it was estimated that 3,500 people were comfortably seated with plenty of room to spare. On the fourth night, last night, the number of those who were successful in getting in before the doors closed was more like five or six thousand.

The striking feature, however, was not the vast number who were present, the enthusiasm with which they entered into the singing, the quiet and absorbed attention, even on the part of the scores upon scores who were obliged to stand.

At the close of the service, a heart-rending, self-deception vanishing, and doubt-conquering address it was not a hundred or a thousand people who rose to their feet as a sign of their confession of Christ or redemption to his service.

Quickly and noiselessly, the personal workers were moving about at the appointed task of distributing pledge cards to be filled in by those standing, then collected to be turned in to Gipsy Smith.

But first there was the hush of the ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

It seems sometimes as if you would fly out of your skin.

Eczema or salt rheum not only itches, but it also burns, cozes, dries and scales over and over again. Sometimes it covers the whole body and causes intense suffering.

You have found that local applications have no lasting effect, and you want permanent relief.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, give it a good fair trial, because you must thoroughly purify your blood or the eruption will continue to annoy, perhaps agonize you. This great medicine has been successfully used in thousands of cases.

To make and keep the bowels normally active, take Hood's Pills, they are gentle and thorough.

SPARKS FROM GIPSY SMITH'S ANVIL

"John Bunyan was a Baptist, but if you notice, he never dipped his Christian. If he did, he would have stopped his progress. I'll tell you why. He was writing for the whole world and not for one denomination."

"A man said to me, 'My church is THE church.' I said to him, 'Now go and fill your bathtub and call it the ocean. You will be just as scriptural.'"

"Listen to that. I'm going to take that choir with me."

"Some people say there isn't a devil. I wonder how they know so well? I wonder if they are special agents of his? They lie like him, anyway. You only need to live with some people to know there is one. You needn't nudge one another."

"Morbis Sabbatacas is a Sunday complaint. People are all right at breakfast time, then they stay away from church because they don't feel well. They are all right again at lunch, but it attacks them in time to keep them away from the evening service."

"The work a man does settles to whom he belongs."

"It is because I love the church that I point out its faults and failings. I do it with tears in my soul and my brain is pained. It need not fall and be a laughing stock to the world. It need not be something that hell can chuckle over."

"You are not a child of God because of the place you were born, because you were dipped or christened, or take communion. You are a child of God because you have been BORN AGAIN."

"The only way into the family of God is obedience to his word, living faith in the living God, and the blood that was shed on Calvary. It is not through works of righteousness, but according to His mercy."

"I don't believe in this mongrel gospel that you can be a Christian without knowing it. That is sop from hell to soothe your soul into sleep."

"If you can get religion without knowing it, you can lose it and never miss it."

"You used to sing, 'My heart doth dance at the sound of Thy name.' Now you dance with your feet. Unless a John the Baptist arises and calls a halt, you are going to lose your candle in this country. You have all gone pleasure mad."

"It's time we stopped playing at religion and began to live it."

"The difference between the child of the devil and the child of God is that the one abhors sin and the other seeks it."

"You can tell where you are by the company you keep, the things you read, the stories you tell and listen to. I would defy an angel to say the things that some of you do and keep pure."

"How can you keep pure if you talk and read filth?"

"The devil doesn't mind an easy-going church. It's the saints he trembles at."

"If you get properly converted, you won't need to give up your worldly friends. They will cut your company quickly enough."

"What the world wants and Jesus wants, is some people to be out and out for him."

"God wants an honest attempt on your part to play the game."

"Will you stop this in-and-out, half-and-half, milk-and-water, hedge-podge religion and live for Jesus Christ?"

"If you want the Recording Angel to write your name in the Lamb's Book of Life, hand it to him."

"This city can be moved from its centre to its circumference if you are only faithful."

"I believe God can do His best work amid reverence and quiet. I want God to have His way."

are all right. I'm afraid we have been playing with religion. It's time we stopped playing and began to live. The New Testament, he continued, "makes specific demands. It demands that before becoming a child of God one must be 'born again.'"

A striking illustration was given of the meaning of being "a child of God" from an incident of his own experience. He was conducting a mission in a city at one time when a lady came to him and told him there was a gipsy encampment just outside the town. Would he care to visit it? When he replied in the affirmative she offered the service of her car and to accompany him. At the appointed place and hour he found a line-up of cars and carriages, mostly ladies, interested to see how one gipsy was going to act in meeting other gipsies.

Discovered at Glance.

When they came in sight of the encampment, he discovered at a glance that the tents and wagons were not real Romanys wagons and tents at all.

"The gipsy is as distinctive as the Jew," he interpolated.

He would go on with the visit, however. In the encampment they found a woman dressed up to imitate gipsy garb, very good imitation, but imitation, nevertheless, to the discerning eye of the real Romanys.

Neither the woman nor the other alleged gipsies recognized the Romanys tongue.

The woman excused her lack of knowledge of it thus, "I wasn't born a gipsy, I only joined them."

Distinguishing Marks.

Other distinguishing marks of the child of God on which the evangelist dwelt were the love in the heart which is an attribute of God, and abhorrence of evil.

With regard to the question, "Can I be a Christian without knowing the late and place of my conversion?" the answer of the evangelist was "yes," and his illustration this: "When the story of my life was to be published some time ago, publication was held up for some months owing to a certain lack. I didn't know the exact date of my birth. I told the publishers where I am, I am born. Please go ahead. But they insisted it was a most important point. Finally, I thought of an old Aunt Susan and asked her."

"She remembered exactly. I was three months younger than her daughter Naomi. She was there when I was born and her arms were the first that encircled me. With my mother she had taken me to Wanstead Church where I was christened. Would she get a birth certificate for me from the church records? She did. Then there was the puzzling question, was it morning, afternoon or night I was born. I went to my old father, eighty-nine years old, and I said to him, 'Daddy, can you remember whether it was morning, afternoon or night I was born. It is very necessary'

CAN'T STAND STILL SPIRITUALLY, PEOPLE MOVE UP OR DOWN

Gipsy Smith Says Man Must Climb or Slip Down.

CLEAN HEART, GOD INSIDE

Impossible Alone To Keep Devil Out—Must Have Divine Aid.

"It is absolutely certain that human beings cannot remain stationary, spiritually," said Gipsy Smith yesterday afternoon to an audience, which completely filled St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. "They are continually moving forward or drifting backward, climbing upward or downward."

Then referring to the text upon which the Rev. T. S. Roy of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, had based his address previously, "The Perils of the Empty House," Gipsy Smith continued, "You cannot keep your house clean alone; it is impossible unless you take in a quest, for he will drive the devil out. It is the only solution."

"Let God come into your house and occupy every inch of it. Do not reserve one single little part for your own selfish reasons. What we wish and need is a clean house—a clean heart—and God inside, and when I say 'we' I mean that it applies to the old as well as the young people. Then He will not only clean the house, but also beautify it."

Forward Movement.
The forward movement has been receiving considerable attention in greater part of this year. Unless some of you revise your life conduct, you will have to back in. Many persons' eyes, in the present modern age, are filled so completely with theatre advertisements, and their ears are so full of jazz music, that they have no eyesight or hearing for anything else—any of the things which make life on earth worth while. God help us if that state continues to be the dominating element."

After the opening ceremonies Rev. T. S. Roy of the Tabernacle Baptist Church delivered his sermon, choosing a text from Matthew xii. "We all have distinctly different personalities," he said, "but we can fill our lives with the work of God by casting out the bad things and replacing them with the good things, the good ideas, principles and acts. Empty lives and empty minds are the playground of the devil. So the finest gift on earth is the life which has been swept clean of evil."

Build Life of God.
"Build for yourself a life of God and then the unseen interests will be driven out; you cannot entertain anything but the things of God. It is physical law that two things cannot be placed in a space only large enough to hold one. You cannot have both God and man at the same time. When we are mastered by a righteousness, we are mastered by a righteousness above the world's evils and the temptations in our lives will be easily overcome."

"Pledge your lives to God and place your faith in His keeping, continued Rev. Roy, "and you will be able to take a rock of safety. You do not know when the things you live for now, will be swept away."

Bonds Presented to Lucky Workmen of Sherlock-Manning
After the awarding of the prizes, a $50-bond was presented to E. Muir, an employee of the firm, by John Cottam, who acted on behalf of Muir's fellow employees. Mr. Muir was sick during the campaign, and so that he might also benefit by the loan, a subscription was taken up. George Reid spoke briefly, and paid tribute to the firm, which was making great strides in spite of the fact that no aid had been given by the city.

Splendid Program.
A program of music and readings was provided, and greatly enjoyed by Miss A. Grant sang two solos beautifully.

Children Able To Come Without Adults
It has been arranged that children may go to the holiday and Christmas shows at the Majestic unattended by an adult. This gives the youngsters a chance to enjoy the best of attractions on the Majestic Double Matinee programs every Saturday.

A guitar solo by Miss F. Nash, and several flute solos by S. D. Grant delighted the audience, while the readings of Jewish created much laughter. A solo was also sung by A. Bull. Mrs. Grant Harris played the piano. W. N. Manning acted as chairman, and in an address thanked the employees for their loyalty and co-operation, which had always enabled the work to be carried on without a hitch.

At the conclusion of the program, and after a flash-light picture had been taken of the assembly, refreshments were served. Then a dance and card party was held.

O. A. C. GRADUATES IN WESTERN ONTARIO FORM ALUMNI ASS'N
College Coming Into Its Own With Cabinet Members Graduates, Says Hon. Nelson Monteith.

Some forty members of the O. A. C. were present at the organization meeting of the Western Ontario O. A. C. Alumni Association, held in the Y. M. C. A., which took the form of a banquet.

A constitution prepared by the executive committee at a preliminary meeting a few weeks ago, was adopted with a few changes that were acceptable to all present. It was also decided that the O. A. C. should have a headquarters of the association.

Make Work More Practical.
Col. W. H. A. G. president of the association, called on Hon. Nelson Monteith, honorary president, for an address. He spoke of the lateness of the hour, was cut short, Mr. Monteith told the members that he was glad to meet so many of them together, and that he hoped that every man would co-operate with the district representative in furthering better methods of agriculture in the province, and to make the work of the O. A. C. men to point out to the farmers that it is at the present time. He thought it was the duty of the O. A. C. men to point out to the farmers that it is at the present time.

Association Needed.
The speaker declared that much good would result from the formation of the association, and it would be the members' duty to get together frequently and exchange views on agricultural matters. Time was when the finger of scorn was pointed at a graduate of the O. A. C. who was not a farmer, but now the time has come when the graduates of the O. A. C. are to be counted on to help the farmer.

Another meeting of the association will be held about the middle of January.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY AT GRAND DELIGHTS WITH REAL ARTISTRY

Famous Light Opera Ably Presented by Gallo English Co. Last Evening.

"Dingle, dingle, dingle, dingle, dingle bell."

"Who does not know the favorite chorus of 'The Chimes of Normandy'?" And who does not enjoy listening to a capable and really musical company present the charming light opera company? Those who attended the Grand Theatre last night (and they were sufficient in numbers to fill the building comfortably) heard and saw one of the best-balanced companies which ever visited London with the old favorite, and their reception of the presentation was exceedingly warm.

The story of the opera takes one back to the year 1750 with all its picturesque of costume, scenery and manners and the days of 1919 with their unreal, their splendour and modernity in general are forgotten at the Grand from the first chorus until "God Save the King" sung by the company and audience, announces the falling of the curtain; and by the way, the Gallo English Opera Company does not "hustle" through two lines of the first verse and sink off, but sings the verse to the end of it if they were meant to be a pleasant change.

It is hardly fair to single out one or two from such a remarkably fine ensemble for special mention in a criticism, but if selection there must be made, the company's "Dingle, dingle, dingle, dingle, dingle bell" of the company and audience, announces the falling of the curtain; and by the way, the Gallo English Opera Company does not "hustle" through two lines of the first verse and sink off, but sings the verse to the end of it if they were meant to be a pleasant change.

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after-effects such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are rundown, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad after-effect Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Keppel, Sask., writes: "I wish to inform you of the great good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did me. TOBACCO AND THE W. C. T. U.

A gentleman who holds a high executive position in a powerful reform organization of Toronto declares he has been assured by officials of the W. C. T. U. that that body is preparing to start a campaign to have the manufacture and sale of tobacco in this country prohibited. It is understood that the W. C. T. U. of Canada is to join hands with the American W. C. T. U. in the prosecution of the campaign. The Montreal Herald points out, however, that all the branches of the W. C. T. U. in Canada are not in favor of the proposal, the Montreal section of the organization having recently refused to have anything to do with the matter. This is an excellent sign, as it indicates that the ultra-radicals in the W. C. T. U. are not going to have everything their own way.

Splendid has been the work of the W. C. T. U. along many lines of social service. Especially has it made a fine record in the fight against the drink evil. But if the extremists are permitted to secure and hold control of the activities of the W. C. T. U., that organization will at once lose a powerful support of the general public, which it now holds, and without which it cannot perform the best service. The trouble with the extremists amongst the Reform Associations and the leagues is that he feels he must be several jumps ahead of the rest of the population or he is not living up to his reputation. He should be suppressed by his fellow-workers.

TOO MANY MOTOR ACCIDENTS.

This city is suffering from an epidemic of automobile accidents. Hardly a day passes that has not its motor crash, more or less serious. At the present moment in one of the city's hospitals are two persons close to death as the result of an automobile collision with another vehicle. With the vast number of cars on our streets there will always be a certain number of motor mishaps. That must be expected. Inexpert driving, mechanical breakdown, slippery pavements, crowded thoroughfares will take their toll, but the number of smashes and crashes can be greatly reduced if the motorists as a whole keep to the rules of the road and have some consideration for the other fellow. A very casual observation will convince one that a large part of the accidents to automobiles are not accidents. They would have been avoided had the rule that the man on the right has the right of way been observed. Most collisions take place at street corners and are due to neglect to observe the above rule. Ignorance is responsible to some extent for failure to obey this most vital regulation, but the authorities should not consider that an excuse. Sharp chastisement in a few instances would remedy this. And the driver who knows better but who selfishly disregards the rights of the man on the right should be permanently barred from driving a car.

GENERAL SHANNON.

The retirement of General Shannon, for four years commanding officer of No. 1 District, concludes a very pleasant and helpful association, which the citizens of London will not readily forget. General Shannon was the immediate link between the public and the splendid military machine, which Canada built up for service overseas, and his administration during this time of unusual stress was marked by the soundest tact and judgment. Many thousands of soldiers were trained in this city, men of all types, nationalities and ages, but from the beginning the best relations prevailed between civilian and soldier, and not a little of this happy condition was due to the excellent direction of General Shannon and his staff.

Apparently the Allied Governments have decided that Russia must work out her own salvation. Speaking on the subject in the British House of Commons, the British premier stated that the Government felt it could no longer take any active part in the attempt to bring order out of the chaotic situation in Russia. There was too much uncertainty about the factional turmoil to permit England continuing to send either men or money.

The premier denied with emphasis the report that the Government had endeavored to bring about negotiations with Lenin and Trotsky. That, said the premier, would be too much like shaking hands with a murderer. He pointed out how every effort to intervene in the affairs of Russia had ended in failure. Great Britain had done more than all the powers associated with her together in the attempt to clean up the Russian mess, but now felt that in justice to its own it could not furnish further support to any element arrayed against the Bolsheviks.

It is a dreadful picture of savagery that Russia presents today. Wherever the soviet holds power massacres and plunder appears to be the rule and some of the leaders, who are fighting the Reds, are accused, on strong authority, of outrageous excesses. Europe has thrown up its hands, helpless to remedy the until some strong man rises to rescue the nation from its grievous state, or until sheer weakness brings the civil strife to a halt.

DEATH OF JAMES H. FLOCK, K.C.

James H. Flock, K.C., who died on Thursday morning, was the oldest member of the bar in the city of London. He was the father of the local bar. Mr. Flock was born on the 6th of April, 1834, and came to London in 1855. Toronto became a city the year he was born, and London became a city the year he became a resident here. Mr. Flock saw London grow from a city of ten thousand inhabitants to more than sixty thousand. He contributed his full part in many ways to the prosperity of London. He was associated with his father-in-law, the late Murray Anderson, in promoting the welfare of the London and Port Stanley and later of the London, Huron and Bruce Railways, of which he was solicitor until it was acquired by the Great Western. He was also solicitor for the St. Lawrence Bank during the time it had a branch at London, and held many other important solicitorships. Everything committed to his care received his best attention. He was a sound lawyer, whose experience and advice were very valuable. Mr. Flock had the highest sense of honor, both personally and professionally.

In politics he was a Conservative, and in his younger days a good platform speaker. He should have been appointed a judge. He had the necessary knowledge and experience, sound judgment and fairness, coupled with an equitable temper that would have made him an exceptionally good judge. With this he had a keen appreciation of humor and was a very companionable man.

Mr. Flock's birthday was the sixth of April, which was the date in 1917 that the United States declared war on Germany, and the day in 1861 on which the first shot was fired on Fort Sumpter, the beginning of the great American Civil War.

His life was a long, quiet and useful one. Entering the city council when quite a young man, he was a member of the reception committee of the council in 1860 that entertained the Prince of Wales (afterwards King Edward the Seventh) on his visit to London in that year. He was an active helper on several charitable organizations and one of London's best men.

When we go home, it must be so, from out the shades of long ago Will come the friends we lost before When we go home.

A WORD FOR ENGINEERS.

These are stormy, epoch-making days for railroads. In the forefront of the activities of the railway men is Warren B. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and chief spokesman for the railroad employees.

For a period of twenty-five years prior to his appointment, Mr. Stone sat in the cab of a Rock Island Railroad freight locomotive. At 19 years he was "firing," and after six years of this he piloted an engine on the same run between Rock Island and Elgin, Iowa. At night he ran past the old farm on which he was born, and where he spent his boyhood days, and as he passed the old farmhouse he blew the engine whistle. His parents heard, as he says, "they knew it was on his job." The head of the locomotive engineers was born on February 1, 1860. He attended the district school near Alinsworth, Washington County, Iowa. In 1903 he was chosen to succeed P. M. Arthur as grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Mr. Arthur having dropped dead while making a speech to his comrades in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

At that time Mr. Stone had been in the East only once, and to him it was a source of never-ending wonder. He established in Cleveland the brotherhood's headquarters. "What was the worst run that you can recall?" Mr. Stone was once asked by a reporter. "Nearly all runs in an engine cab are unpleasant," replied the engineer. "Of course, the most trying times are in the severe heat of mid-summer and in the awful cold of mid-winter. Especially in the Northwest is this true. The winters in that section are very severe, and the labors of the engineer and fireman in the cab during weather that is 40 and 50 degrees below zero, snow falling so thick that it looks like wool, and all nerves at a tension in the struggle to do their duty, cause them to work under conditions almost unknown to other laboring men."

HALDANE'S VINDICATION.

[Manchester Guardian.]

It has now come home to most of the foolish people who heeded Lord Haldane in 1914 that they were abusing one of the men who did most to save us from total defeat in the field in that year. For eminent soldiers who worked with Lord Haldane at the war office—and among whom respect for his services never failed—it had taken out of Lord Haldane more than to any one other man was due the triumphal success of our war mobilization and of the transport of the expeditionary force to the western front. Perhaps even that service was surpassed by his organization of the Territorial Force as an army fit for use in war, which it had never been before. Twenty-three battalions of Territorial Infantry were sent to France in 1914. Six complete Territorial Divisions arrived in France before April 30, 1915. One of these, the 1st (Highland) Division, was the British division most deeply decimated by German soldiers throughout the rest of the war, and when a weary remnant of it reached the Ancre at the end of March, 1918, after fighting its way back across the old Somme battlefield of 1916, the German troops whom it had been bleeding all the way sent across it by balloon an unexpunged message of admiration. Our countrymen in France in 1914 and 1915 had said emphatically that "without the assistance which the Territorials afforded between October, 1914, and June, 1915, it would have been impossible to have held the line in France and Belgium, or to have prevented the enemy from reaching his goal, the Channel seaboard."

But for Lord Haldane there would not have been a single Territorial Division in France. There might have been Territorial Brigades, but nothing more, and the divisional esprit de corps, which for many of our troops became even stronger than regimental esprit de corps during the war, would never have come to Territorials as Territorials. Supported by a few wise and powerful professional soldiers, Lord Haldane, when at the war office, insisted, in the face of the whole mass of war office prejudice, that the Territorial could be made capable of providing every part of a divisional establishment, even horse artillery for its mounted brigade. He was opposed and ridiculed without end, but he carried it through, and the splendid Territorial record during the war showed that his faith was justified, and that it was invaluable to the country. Among soldiers who know their profession there are scarcely two opinions about Lord Haldane. Among the southerly kind of party politicians there was for a time much abuse of him, and in the press he was made the object of one of the brainless "stunts" of personal detraction which were also directed against Lord Kitchener, Lord Newton and others who had rendered the country particularly good service during the war. A remnant of these spite broke out in a leading article last week in the Times; it read as if the writer knew he had made a blunder on this subject and was cross about it, but could not bring himself to own up, and so snarled away more crossly than ever. Such stuff do us no harm to Lord Haldane now. We do not admire everything written by Lord French, but about the war's triumphant vindication of Lord Haldane, and about this sort of attack on him, Lord French speaks justly. Lord Haldane, he says, "got nothing but calumny and grossly unjust abuse; but the reward to such a man does not come in the ordinary way. He has proved the value of his great work, and that is all that

THREE GIFTS.

[William Letts in London Spectator.]
("Courage, Love and Fun."—George Wyndham's motto.)

Each day a beggar woman at the portal Of God's high house, by urgent need emboldened, I ask three gifts for you, my well-beloved, Three gifts beyond the wealth of man or mortal:

Courage to stand now all the earth seems shaking, And wise men grow perplexed and kingdoms totter, Now faith is sifted, old traditions tattered, A broken wheel in need of each man's making;

Love that shall find your kith in friend and stranger, Brother in man and beast, in saint and sinner, And cleanse your heart of grudge or pride or cringing;

Bidding you seek Christ in an asses' manger:

Fun ever quick to kindle speech and laughter, Swift with a jest to set your heart breaking, Firm that shall cheer dull years and send you whistling, Clear-eyed and cool to meet the brave Hereafter.

With these you shall not need man's praise or pity, Defeat shall brace you, conquest make you humble; So you shall fight and march and sing till morning Lights up the walls of the Celestial City.

THE PRINCE'S SPEECHES.

[New York Times.]

Whether or not the particularly graceful and discreet little speeches which the Prince of Wales has been making since his arrival in the United States are what is called extemporaneous—that is a question of no particular importance. They sound as if they were, and nothing more is required. Being, evidently, either a notably wise young man or one notably well advised, and equally capable of profit by good counsel, the chances are that he thinks out carefully beforehand what he shall say whenever he foresees a demand for oratory. That the speeches are his own it is as unnecessary as it would be ungracious to say. The old Prince, however, more than hinted by an occasional venturing into the humorous. That would be avoided if the responsibility of his position were felt as a burden, instead of being only realized as a privilege not without its amusing side for a military youth. Observe, for instance, that in the brief expression of thanks for welcome, addressed to the American people, the prince wrote: "Your aims are as democratic as ours." An older Briton probably would have said the same thing in another way: "Our aims are as democratic as yours." The implication of a possibility of finding here less democracy than in monarchical England, though veiled, is clear, and it contains the element of the unexpected that is the pillar of one sort of joke.

"En roulant ma boule roulant, En roulant, ma boule-rolant."

The following refrain from three hundred or more lusty French-Canadian throats is watted up from Dufferin Terrace, where, under myriad colored lights, glistening over the diamond-sparkling snow, young French-Canadians, members of various snow-shoe clubs, in their picturesque blanket costumes and tasseled toques. The great toboggan slide at the end of the terrace is crowded with red and green and white lights, and across at Lewis more jeweled lights twinkle gaily, as the whizz of the toboggan is heard, plunging down the glassy ice trough, to come to a stop only at the great Champlain Monument at the far end of the terrace.

From the warm, snug security of the Chambers Canadiennes in the great round tower of the beautiful Chateau Frontenac, one may watch such scenes almost as if they were in a picture. The Chambers Canadiennes! Ah! There is a story in itself, a story interwoven with the early history of Quebec, in the early days when there arrived from France those French explorers who came to make this beautiful New France a country to be reckoned with in its future.

Fragrant Relics of the Past.

The suite of Chambers Canadiennes in the Chateau Frontenac is a museum of historic relics of those who so lovingly assembled the historic pieces of furniture and the many interesting relics of a fragrant past. Something quite new in hotel decoration, it serves to link the old with the new, and is a permanent reminder of the early days of the city, depicting the fashion in which the early settlers lived. The three rooms are named respectively after Montcalm, Jacques Cartier and Champlain, and comprise two bedrooms, each with bath and a sitting-room between, the latter in the round tower overlooking the broad St. Lawrence, with Dufferin Terrace at its feet and the Citadel rising in the distance, grand, grey fortress over which the Union Jack flies bravely by day, and where the boom of cannon announces the sunset hour.

It was a labor of fifteen years to assemble all the furnishings of these three rooms, which historians affirm are perfect. The old four-posted bed itself is over 200 years old. The entrance to these rooms is through a small private hall, which is decorated with a frieze depicting scenes in French-Canadian life; one panel, an old French map, shows another scene in a fish market; still another the selling of "catalogue" or rag carpet; and the last a scene in a bakery. A great carved chest inlaid with brass stands in the hall. These chests were used by the early settlers for the storing of their furs in summer, and this example is at least 200 years old.

The Jacques Cartier Room.

In the bedroom where the ancient carved bed stands, is a carved table to match, and there is a Prie Dieu to match, also quaint old chairs. Catalogue in stripes, intricately drawn in rugs of many colors, and curious woven rug adorn the floor. There is an interesting sofa of the period, and a quaint old chest of drawers. The tiled fireplace bears that historic motto, "Je me souviens." Above it a tiled portrait of St. Gabriel is let into the wall, and a piece of antique pottery adorns the mantel. There are hand-wrought iron sconces, and the doors, which are of weathered oak, like the heavy carved beams of the ceiling, are studded with iron nails, and the shutters are of iron. Some interesting framed samplers, wrought by tiny fingers more than 200 years ago, adorn the walls, and there is a portrait of the gallant Jacques Cartier for whom this room is named.

The Montcalm Room.

In the Montcalm Room across the hall there is a mahogany chest of drawers, with an interesting mirror above, and a pair of old shoes. The walls are hung with rare historical engravings depicting the death of Montcalm, Louis Joseph, Marquis de Montcalm, lieutenant-general des armées de France, and other subjects. The mahogany bed is four-posted and the sheets are covered with hand-woven linen. Rush-bottomed chairs complete the furnishings of this room.

The sitting-room is a veritable museum, and contains, in addition to the mahogany table and chairs used by Montcalm during the siege of Quebec, like the Prie Dieu in the Jacques Cartier Room, the great carved writing-desk in this room, over 200 years old, was taken from the old Ursuline Convent in Quebec. It is supposed to have been a part of the altar.

Over Montcalm's table hangs a wrought-iron lantern, and the iron sconces on the walls are done in stone-iron design as befits this room dedicated to the memory of France. There are wonderful old French colored prints upon the walls in the quaintest of frames, and a framed piece of needlework, done in cross-stitch, of a pretty peasant girl. The rocking-chairs have seats woven from strings of reindeer hide. In the circular tower are great cupboards with bright brass hinges on either side of the fireplace, which bear the motto "Soyez le Bienvenu."

Gold-framed paintings of saints are here, and upon an old lacquer tray is painted a scene of the death of Wolfe. Engravings of George III, and of Queen Charlotte find a place here, and there are painted lanterns in Venetian blue, through whose stained glass slides the mellow light falls upon the stool whereon Montcalm used to rest his feet. These charming rooms are usually occupied, and are in great demand, but are usually given to distinguished visitors, of whom Quebec has seen a large number.

LOVE AND BREAKFAST.

By Shirley Monroe.

While the dew was still on the grass and the sun not yet full orb'd over the eastern hills, there came down the steep, narrow path which led, between thickets of sweet fern and bayberry, to the pebbly shore below, a maiden fair as any queen of fairy tale fame. Her slim little frock seemed to have borrowed its color from the rose dawn.

A wandering ray of sunshine found her hair and transformed it into a crown of fine spun, virgin gold. Her daintily shod feet appeared to barely touch the ground, yet they brought her quickly down to the beach. There she threw wide her sun-kissed arms and took long breaths of the sea-washed air.

"Everything is perfect this morning—yes, everything!" She spoke aloud. A kingfisher successfully camouflaged against the rain-bleached limb of a dead tree near by turned a startled eye in her direction for the thousandth part of an instant, perhaps, then concentrated again on the sparkling water beneath him.

The girl looked at the tiny jeweled disk bound to her wrist. She seated herself, carefully smoothing out her frock that it might not be wrinkled, and picking up handfuls of the shining pebbles, let them trickle slowly back to the ground, talking to them meanwhile.

Her happiness was of the sort that demanded expression, and first glance there was no animate thing nearer than a lonely osprey which circled high over the bay.

So the pebbles and sedge grass heard her wonderful news, a tale as old as the spectacle of the dawn, yet ever as new and marvelous to one who experiences it for the first time.

Only the evening before had it happened—the miracle—when he had taken her into his arms and of a sudden it came and she knew that she loved him! It would end in marriage, of course; but she didn't want to think of that now. Only of the utter perfection of her prince and of the beautiful, beautiful world, which was such a happy place to live in.

On parting they had agreed to meet on the secluded beach, out of sight of the hotel, before breakfast. She had anticipated the time set, for the night had been sleepless and the glorious morning called. But at any moment, there might come the sound of footsteps down the narrow path!

Instead of a sudden there was a splash in the water a few feet from shore. The girl turned in time to see a fountain of rainbow-hued drops, and emerging from it a grey bird with a white collar around its throat, carrying in its beak a small silver fish. The bird flew straight back to his perch on the rain-blanching limb of the old dead tree, swallowed his booty and resumed the watchful waiting.

"Why—your horrid thing!" exclaimed the girl, startled from the tale she was relating to the shining pebbles, "to eat up that beautiful little fish who wasn't doing you one bit of harm—and of a morning!—like this, when every living creature must be filled with joy at being alive!"

In the sedge grass a few feet away a lump which she had taken for a brown stone moved cautiously forward, step by step, until there was an indescribably quick motion of a sinuous neck, a glitter of silver, then a lump moving down the long throat as something was hastily swallowed. It took but an instant for the tragedy; the murmur resolved again into a brown stone, ceaselessly watching its chance.

In disgust the girl turned her back on the bird and on the marsh-land and after a fleeting glance up the steep path turned to the sparkling waves breaking almost at her feet.

At least there was one creature on that beach who could enjoy the fair beauty of its lovely New France country eternally and only of eating, she soliloquized. Something grotesque and horrid of form was moving sideways with difficulty out of the water. With one ugly claw it was pushing before it an object almost as big as itself, which feebly struggled.

As the girl gazed, fascinated, the thing took a great mouthful of its living prey in its free claw and crammed it into its mouth. It was only that common occurrence, one crab eating, with a relish a disabled brother, but to the girl looking on there came a nauseating revulsion of feeling and she fled, the cannibal he dropped his victim and scurried away.

"How perfectly awful! Why, I'll never eat another crab as long as I live—they're too disgusting. Nor another fish, either. Poor things; they have no mites enough! Oh, why need such cruel things happen in such a beautiful world!"

A loose pebble rolled down the path, announcing the swift approach of another human to the secluded beach. The girl leaped to her feet, strong arms held her tight. It was her prince, of course, and there followed an hour of that ecstasy only new lovers experience when they tell each to the other just how unutterable that love is. Forgotten were the greedy birds and the cannibal or crab. Once more life was ecstatic—a gift of the gods!

Then the prince announced that he must return to the city on the morrow. "Why, dearie," he answered to her strong protest, "I have never the nerve to face your father with my present bank account. Just give me a couple of months, though, and 'oh, boy!' but I'll make some killing! Then we can be married."

A charming blush suffused the face of the girl. To cover it she asked what he meant by "a killing." "Why, everlastingly watching my rivals in business, catching them napping and swooping down upon them like—like that!—but I'll be back in a flash, and coming home with the spoils!" As he spoke, prompted by an instinct he didn't stop to analyze, he had gaily detached himself from the hand of the girl and sought his watch. With a start an arm was withdrawn from a slender waist and with a nimble movement the prince was on his feet.

"But why need you go so soon?" the girl asked.

"Breakfast, darling! And I forgot to tell you! I got out at 4 this morning and caught some snapper blues for you. That's what made me a little late here. Gosh, it was great; getting up at that hour and killing meat for my mate like a regular primitive cave man!"

The girl gazed up at the glowing countenance of her prince and many things ran through her mind in the second that she hesitated.

She felt a need for food, with his arm around her. He had killed innocent living creatures, even as the kingfisher had the marsh bird—but not, thank goodness, not like the crab! And he had killed them for her—because he loved her!

After all, what did it matter? There were many things she didn't understand, and nothing mattered but that "He loved her." The girl sprang up with a happy smile.

THE FALL WEATHER

HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They avert the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brooklyn.

Our Responsibility

Every barrel, nay every bag of Flour that leaves our mills, does so only after the most careful and painstaking inspection.

Our mills are newly built, thoroughly up-to-date. The machinery is the latest that modern inventive genius has devised.

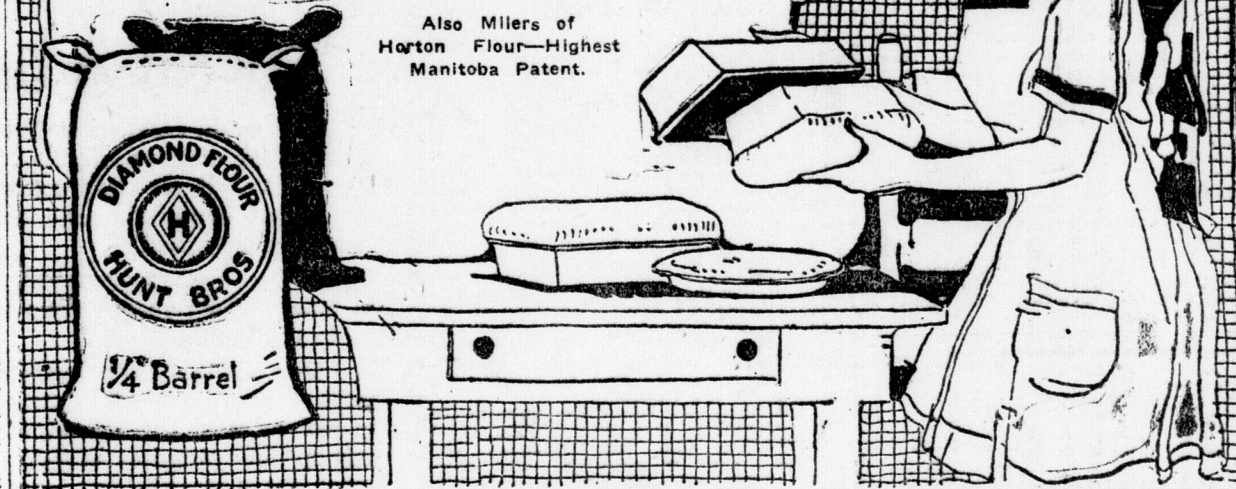

Cleanliness and purity is our accomplished aim. Responsibility for much of the success in baking rests with us, that is why we are careful to turn out nothing but the best flour.

Gothamites Lost Cool Five Million Trying to Beat Ponies in 1919 Season

Villagers Try Impossible in Attempting to Sadden Bookies in Monopolistic Betting—Layers of Odds Have Odd Clique and No Competition.

(Written for The Advertiser.)

(By FRANK G. MENKE.)

The horses have flitted from Gotham Park until another springtime rolls around. And once more the saddened villagers are groaning in anguish over their losses.

They tried again to accomplish the impossible—attempting to beat the races under the present scheme of monopolistic betting—and, of course, they failed.

Just how much unearned increment was waited away by the gang of "layers" is impossible to say. But the general estimate is that the boob Gothamites contributed at least $5,000,000 to the men who make the odds.

—to enrich only themselves.

Beating the ponies in the Empire State is a miracle achievement. For the odds which the "layers" offer are odds so reckoned that no matter what happens the layers will be far to the good when the last race of the season is run.

—so often that it became a rule instead of the exception—folks have journeyed to the tracks, bet on three winners—and also three losers—the same amount on each—and quit the day to the bad. It's because they played favorites—and favorites in the New York district usually are 4 to 5—or less, the same sort of favorites that would have been quoted 8 to 5 or 2 to 1 in the other days.

Every time the entry list appears the ringleader of the "layer" gang gets busy and figures the legitimate odds—those that would prevail in the open, golden days when public betting was permitted and competition among the "bookies" prevailed. And then, having arrived at the honest odds, the boss "layer" cuts them squarely in half—if he is in a liberal mood. If not, he reduces them about 65 per cent.

And the result is the quotations that appear for public consumption.

Why are the odds so ridiculously low? Why is a legitimate 13 to 5 horse quoted as only 6 to 5? Why are 10 to 1 and 15 to 1 horses offered at only 4 to 1 and 6 to 1? Why is 3 to 5 the best one can get on a horse that should be at least 7 to 5?

The reasons are two. One is that the "layers" all clique together, have no competition. The other is that the honest wagerer must pay for the losses of the "bookies" better by taking reduced odds. Seems almost unbelievable, doesn't it, to force an honest man to pay the debts of a crook? But the layers blindly tell you that such is the case.

"Each season every one of us is stuck from $5,000 to $25,000 by wagers," explained one of the "layer" crowd. "Our rules provide that a man must put up cash before the races begin, and he isn't supposed to overbet that amount. But usually a fellow does. Most of them pay up the next day—some never pay up. I've got 'markers' right now, embracing three seasons, that total over $125,000, and I'll never collect a cent of that sum."

"I consider my business a legitimate and honorable one. I am a business-man. I must protect myself against losses. Therefore, the only way I can guard against being stung to the tune of $25,000 to $75,000 a year is to cut the odds down to a point so that no matter how the horses finish I'll be ahead on the day—and with big enough margin to insure me against possible wagers for that day."

Another reason why the "bookies" clean up so handsomely each year is because of the trick of the "layer" in making the odds. The public knows of pirates know the weakness of 99 per cent of the racing public, i. e., playing the favorite blindly and to the limit. So it quite frequently works the double cross in this fashion.

Suppose that performances, weight, jockey, post position, distance and condition of track gives Hinkie Dee the edge for the race—make him the "favorite." The public knows this. Whooper Up the logical second choice. The "layers" naturally figure that Hinkie Dee has the race sewed up. They know if they make him favorite the public will hop aboard and deliver them a stiff financial jolt in case Hinkie Dee wins.

So they simply make Whooper Up the favorite and Hinkie Dee second or third choice. The public hops to the support of Whooper Up and neglects Hinkie Dee. The unsupported Hinkie Dee romps home in front, while the heavily-played Whooper Up finishes far behind, and the public suffers just one more financial wallop.

It's a great game in New York State—for the "layers."

London Wins Opening W. O. B. L. Game From St. Thomas

Take Three Straight From Visitors Without Much Trouble—Crawford Was in Best Form of Any of the Locals.

The Western Ontario Bowling League opened last night, the St. Thomas team meeting the Nationals on the local's alleys and losing all three games. The Saints were not hitting the wood in their usual form, and in only one game, the second one, did they force the Nationals to increase the pace.

Tommy Crawford turned in the best of the evening. He had a grand total of 624 for the three games and turned in a 230 count in his second game. Martin Smith was the only other bowler over the 600 mark. An unfortunate blow in the third game robbed him of a 300 count. Bina and Charlton were the best performers for the visitors, the former rolling 225 in the middle contest.

Joe Karrys was away below his usual form. In the first game he couldn't locate the head pin and did not get a strike until the final frame. In the third session he recovered from his slump and showed something of his real work. A big crowd witnessed the games. The scores:

SARNIA CONFIDENT OF WINNING THEIR GAME AT DUNDAS TODAY

Will Play Practically Same Line-Up Which Won Local District—Take Supporters With Them.

SARNIA, Nov. 21.—The local football team is leaving here tomorrow for the first of their semi-final games, confident that they will be able to take the measure of the Dundas Valley outfit, despite that town's past reputation as the feeding ground for rugby in the province.

Dundas so far this season has had only one or two exhibition games, according to reports from there, owing to the fact that the real test of the team in their district defaulted, and this in itself is looked upon by the locals as one big point in their favor. They realize in getting out of their own district against London and Petrolia they have come through a fairly decent test, but are not going east with over-confidence.

Practically the same team that represented Sarnia through the district will go down to Dundas tomorrow, and every man in the best of shape, so no alibis will be offered on this score as a result of a defeat.

Significant intention of going down in such number as to insure the team a splendid support.

The officers elected at last night's meeting were as follows: J. H. Forbes, president; Harry Toxey, vice-president; C. Kelly, secretary; A. Port, treasurer.

The games scheduled for next week first Imperial Optical vs. Public Utilities; Silverwolves vs. Dowlers, Ltd. on Monday night. On Wednesday four games will be staged, with Union B. B. vs. Postoffice, Manurewa vs. Manurewa, Sarnia vs. Thistles; City Hall vs. R. J. Youngs.

The five pin bowlers league was organized last evening and will commence their schedule Monday night. Twelve teams comprise the new organization, and some good games are looked for throughout the season.

THE British are noted as great tea drinkers and are naturally good judges of tea.

So when we learn that over 70% of the tea used in Great Britain is Indian tea we can be sure that Indian tea is of the very best quality.

In Canada the preference for Indian tea has become just as strong, as evidenced by the success of Red Rose Tea which consists chiefly of ASSAMS—the richest and strongest of Indian teas.

With a cast which includes Nigel Barrie, Kathryn Williams, Lillian Walker, Irving Cummings, Barbara Tennant, gowns by Lady Duff-Gordon, settings by DeMeyer, story by Lenore Coffee, "The Better Wife," will be shown at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Charman Page, the American girl, loved Sir Richard Beverly's son. Society people said that the American girl was playing a game to capture the baronet's title. When Lady Beverly was killed in an automobile accident, and Little Dick, her son, was crippled for life, Charman went to her wealthy father and obtained sufficient money for the operation that would restore her little friend to health. The people who had talked, talked all the louder, and the people who hadn't talked, began to when they heard what Charman had done for the baronet's little son. Sir Richard heard the talk, and he knew what the consequence would be if he made the American girl his wife. It was a big question for him to decide; but he did decide! The telling of it is the entertaining theme of "The Better Wife."

Many factors contribute to the excellence of the production. Lady Duff-Gordon created the gowns which Miss Young wears, especially for this picture, while DeMeyer, the famous decorator, supervised the setting. An excellent cast, including a number of famous stars and leading men support Miss Young, and the story is a film adaptation of Lenore Coffee's "The Love Quest," one of the past year's six best sellers.

The picture is a splendid blending of thrilling adventures, mystery and romance, in no way a prosaic photograph, for each situation is tense with one or the other emotion, and is guaranteed to hold the interest of the most cynical in thrall from the opening scene until the finish.

Presented on the same program will be a comedy by Harry Pollard, a Chester Outing Picture, the Canadian National Pictorial News, and Pathe Scenic Adventures, besides a big vaudeville attraction.

ALICE BRADY IN FILM STORY OF NEW YORK AND ITS WONDERS

Alice Brady, that young charmer with the wonderful eyes, luscious figure, and delightful mannerisms, noted for her fine productions, makes her first appearance at the Majestic next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in a sensational production of New York night life, along the great white way.

"The World to Live In" is the story of Rita Charles, a girl of the famous Salamander type. Rita is a stenographer to T. J. Olverson during the day, and at night "pays" to young Harrison Chalvey, a wealthy New Yorker.

At a wedding Rita meets Dr. Varian, devoted to his work in the Eastside House, a settlement. He falls in love with Rita, and she is in turn attracted by him, but she does not encourage him because he has nothing to offer her. She wants money and a good time.

A few weeks later T. J. Olverson, Jr., discovers that his father's secretary is an extremely good-looking young woman. It does not take long before Olverson and Rita become very friendly. Mr. Olverson, Jr., tells Rita that he does not want to lose a good stenographer because of a bad son and suggests that she take a month's vacation at the expense of the firm.

Rita goes to Atlantic City for her month's vacation. Olverson follows her. Suddenly she finds herself about to be named as a co-respondent in a divorce action brought by Olverson's wife, of whose existence she was ignorant. Rita learns that Mrs. Olverson is a singer who had been in the same house with her in New York. The little girl singer had been ill, and while Rita had never seen her, she had heard of the singer's illness and had done many kindnesses for her.

When Mrs. Olverson learns whom she is to name as co-respondent she refuses to bring action. Chalvey has followed Rita to Atlantic City. Dr. Varian also appears upon the scene. Both men propose. She hesitates and then makes a wise choice.

comedy romance, "Strictly Confidential." With the intermarriage of aristocracy with the bourgeoisie, as in the case of Fanny O'Gorman and Lord Bantock, complications immediately arise. The impulsive Fanny refuses to recognize tradition when she invites her former associates of the London chorus to meet the group of British nobles congregated at her historic home to pay their respects to the new Lady Bantock.

The Bantock servants in "Strictly Confidential" represent real nobility. All pay homage to their head man, the butler, Bennett (Herbert Standing), and refuse to recognize the superiority of Fanny, the new Lady Bantock, who was originally one of their number. And even Fanny, on ostensibly taking possession of the Bantock household, is cowed by their presence and the thought that their blood courses in her veins. The big added attraction is Wallace Reid's "Too Many Millions," a story directly opposite from "Strictly Confidential." Wally finds that he is the possessor of a massive fortune, rightful owner unknown, and he proceeds to make the sun shine and the dust fly in his own particular way. Wallace Reid is undoubtedly one of the most popular young stars on the screen, and "Too Many Millions" is one of his best pictures, so one has a distinct treat in store at the big Majestic double matinee.

Other stars who are on this program are William Russell, the famous westerner; Geraldine Farrar and her new New York home; J. Warren Kerrigan, Edith Storey and her wonderful Californian bungalow; Priscilla Dean and her famous stable of beautiful cars, and extensive views of Universal City.

Dittmar's Book of Nature showing remarkable forms of turtle and tortoise life; cartoon comedies, a Christmas comedy, and a Canadian British News film are also shown.

The vaudeville attraction at the Majestic today, Giovanna Campanelli and Palmer, two famous operatic stars, is a delightful treat to all those who love really good singing.

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY—"Mickey," the picture you will never forget. Farewell engagement of three days only.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Evenings, 8:15; Saturday Matinee, 2:30. The Dumbbells in their overseas revue, "Biff, Bing, Bang."

GALLO ENGLISH OPERA CO.

The Gallo English Opera Company will be the attraction at the Grand again today, offering at the matinee performance "H. M. S. Pinafore," and at the evening performance "The Mikado." This company just recently concluded a phenomenally successful engagement at the Shubert Theatre, New York City, and appears here with the same splendid array of principals.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF MICKEY MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

"Mickey," the picture that has broken all box office records for attendance in London and every other city where it has been shown, is returning to the Grand Monday for a special engagement of three days only, to meet public demand and in order to accommodate the many hundreds who were unable to gain admission to the theatre this week. There is something about "Mickey" that places it in a class by itself. It has all the elements that appeal to movie fans and those who patronize the speaking productions. It is full of action, opening with a series of comedy incidents that do not require a piece of title to inform the spectators of the trend of this story. The picture speaks for itself. It is a narrative cleverly constructed with a combination of characters that are to be found in everyday life, interpreted by an excellent cast headed by the talented little screen star Mabel Normand. It is doubtful whether Miss Normand has appeared in a more acceptable offering. Miss Madge Wescott will sing "Mickey" at each performance. The usual high class vaudeville program will also be presented with the picture. Remember the feature picture is being shown once only at the evening performances now. "Mickey" will commence at 9:20 sharp, immediately following the vaudeville program.

VAUDEVILLE MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

The vaudeville bill Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will have as its chief attraction the exceptionally clever comedy variety skit offered by Paul McCarthy and Elsie Faye. This act, splendidly equipped with special scenic effects, is one of the few novel acts playing the big-time this season. Tom Kennedy and Ethel Burt in a travesty offering entitled "Engaged, Married, Divorced," will be another big feature of this bill. Roland and Ray are a team of vaudevillians who offer a conglomeration of song and jest. Helen Miller, in "Syncope Melodies," is a handsomely gowned young woman who is equipped with the very latest things in songs. The Three Macks in acrobatic eccentricities will complete the bill. In addition to the vaudeville program and "Mickey," there will be presented several short-reel subjects, including the Pictorial Life, a reel of real news, a comedy film and an educational.

"BIFF, BING, BANG" COMING TO GRAND THURS., FRI. AND SATURDAY

The "Dumbbells," the favorite theatrical troupe of the Canadian soldiers in France, and now making a homecoming tour of the larger Canadian cities, presenting their original overseas musical revue, "Biff, Bing, Bang," will be the attraction at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 and Saturday matinee at 2:30, this being their second visit to this city.

The members of this organization are all soldiers who have served an average of sixteen months in the front lines before having been chosen by Captain M. W. Plunkett for service in the entertainment branch of the service. This clever group of actor-soldiers present an up-to-the-minute musical revue, with special stage settings, gorgeous gowns and dazzling effects. It is the only all man "girl show" in the world and the singing of both the principle and chorus might be likened to a symphony played upon a great pipe organ, full of rich, deep tones. There are about twenty songs, numbers in the show and a half dozen dancing specialties. The seat sale opens Tuesday morning. Mail orders now.

With Three-Point Suspension Springs New Overland 4 Seems to "Sail Over The Roads"

THE new Three-Point Suspension Springs of Overland 4 permit the wheels to go up and down but protect car and passengers from ordinary road jolts.

Bumping, twisting, swaying and vibrating are wonderfully lessened. The blows of the road seldom reach you. There is less tendency to bodily fatigue after long rides.

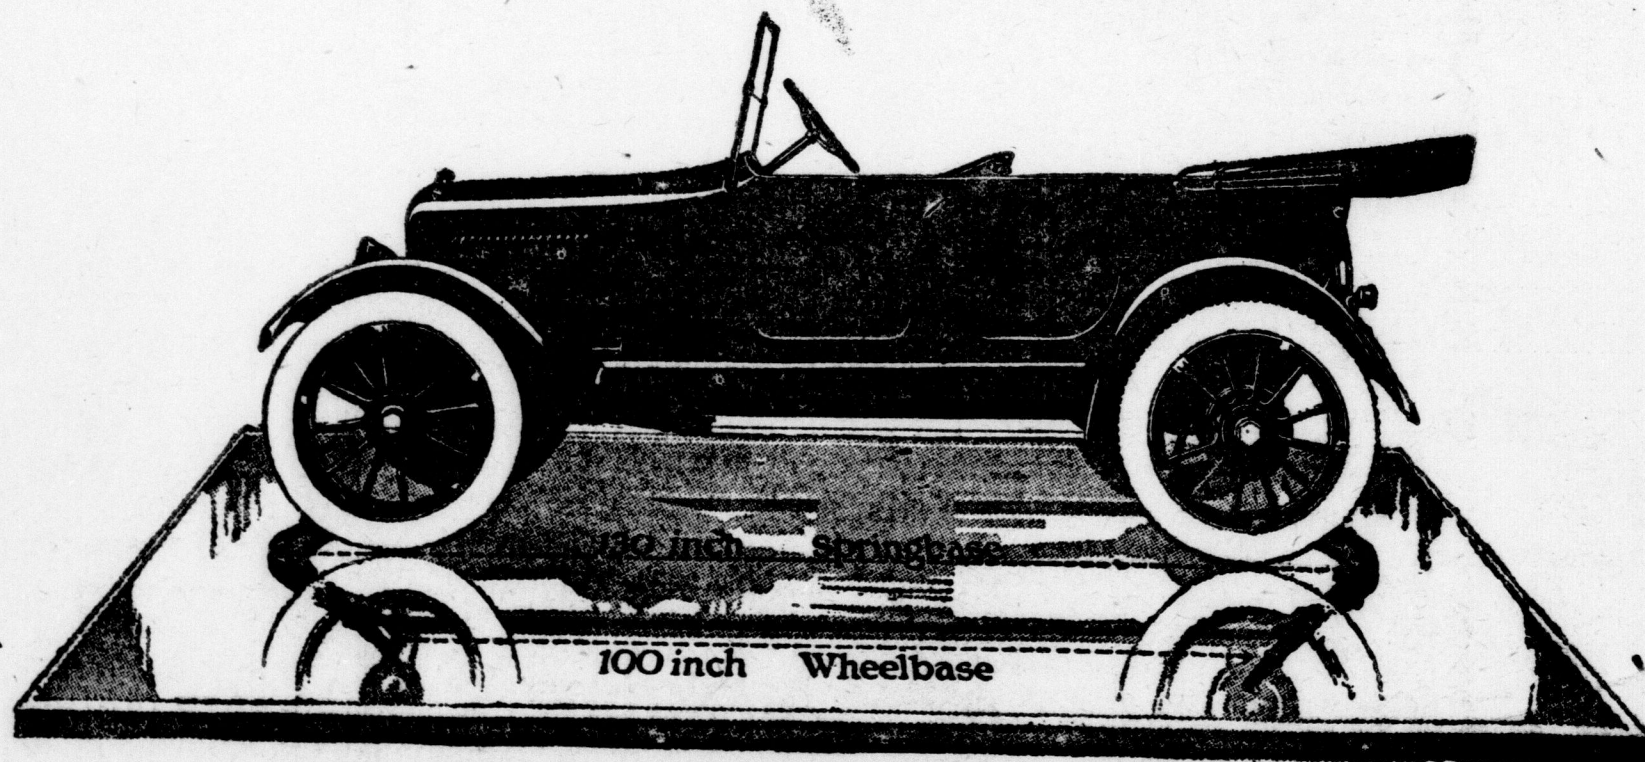

The springs of Overland 4 attached at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase give the riding comfort and road steadiness heretofore possible only with cars of long wheelbase and great weight, yet Overland 4 retains the light weight and economy advantages of 100-inch wheelbase.

Three-Point Suspension Springs protect the car from the hammering and wear of road blows. They lengthen its life and reduce upkeep costs.

Equipment of Overland 4 is dependable and complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

250,000 miles of test have made the strength and endurance of this car a matter of record.

What Will You Do About It?

Some time ago a Toronto man took out $10,000 Life Insurance. The other day he went to take out more and discovered to his consternation that he had become uninsurable. The medical examiner found that he had contracted an ailment which changed him from a good to an unacceptable risk. How thankful is he that he has at least $10,000 to leave to his family.

To-morrow You may be uninsurable.

You have read of and seen actual instances of the disastrous results of neglecting to take out insurance. Do not depend on continued good health—it is an "uncertain quantity."

The Mutual is the only Insurance Company ever founded in the Dominion on the Mutual or Co-operative Basis—the most economical, the safest and the most popular form of Life Insurance.

A PIMPLY FACE OR POOR COMPLEXION QUICKLY RESTORED

Thousands of young men and women would be handsome and attractive were it not for unsightly pimples, blackheads and rough, uneven skin. Custom seems to recommend lotions and salves, but unfortunately their effect is but temporary. These disfiguring blemishes do not originate in the skin—their birth in every case goes further back, to the blood, which must be cleansed of humors before the pimples depart for good.

A physician who has made a careful study of such cases says that the quickest cure comes from a blood-building medicine like Ferronose. The minute Ferronose strikes the blood it goes to work basing, poisoning and expelling. Every trace of humor is driven out, and the whole life current is supplied with nutrient and health giving qualities. You can always tell a Ferronose complexion when you see it—the cheeks are clear and rosy, no signs of sallowness—the eyes are bright and expressive because rich, red blood is circulating through the whole system, carrying health, energy and strength with it. Not only will all skin eruptions disappear, but an increase in vital strength, an all-round improvement will be apparent. No rebuilding tonic could be more efficient. Get Ferronose today—good for young and old, for well folks and sick ones, too. 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhose Co., Kingston, Ont.

ITALY IS PLANNING WITH VIEW TO BIG TRADE EXPANSION

Looks For a World Market For Macaroni.

AND SPAGHETTI

Is Tripling Her Power To Meet
Expected Conditions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—An exposition of Italy's post-war conditions—what she plans for the future and how affairs now stand—was presented to the thousands of American and foreign business men who were delegates to the International Trade Conference, recently ended at Atlantic City. Italy's spokesman was Dr. Bernardo Attalio, director general of commerce, ministry of commerce, and a member of the supreme economic council at Paris.

Professor Attalio made a plain that Italy contemplates a great expansion. She is now engaged in tripling her water power, and she is planning to obtain commerce and holding it in being reshaped on a like scale.

It may be said, besides such big things as balancing foreign trade credits and floating huge loans and all that, but the fact remains that Italy counts on her macaroni and her spaghetti trade—she is a big blow by the way—to come back to its strong position in the world market. As a result of the doctor pointed out, won't be obtainable here perhaps, but you can take a trip to Italy and see it for yourself.

"Silk and wool manufactures," said he, "rank first in order of importance. Italian silks are not cheap, but they are very good. With the raising of the blockade and the removal of other artificial barriers, they will soon find their full market again."

As to cotton and cotton manufactures, in pre-war time we used to import 200,000,000 yards of raw cotton. We raised this duty in 1914 with the export of only 40 per cent of our manufactures. Then there were the markets of the Mediterranean Basin with which we more than any one perhaps, are familiar. These are capable of great expansion. There is a great future there. We have made a specialty of certain cheap goods which are in great request in neighboring and distant markets. The same can be said for woolen goods, felt and straw hats, caps, etc. Many of the British goods you buy in America are Italian and originally come from Naples.

AN IDEAL TONIC FOR WEAK PEOPLE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Act
Directly On the Blood and Nerves.

Food is as important to the sick person as medicine, more so in most cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery. In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow; in sickness the appetite is often feeble and depraved.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep meat people healthy. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore the vitality to the run-down system. For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale, tired women, and for old people who fall in strength, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands of people have testified to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in many homes they are the only tonic used. Among the homes in which the benefit of this medicine has been proved is that of Mr. E. A. Underwood, Kingston, Ont., who says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most beneficial results. As the result of hard work I was very much run down, and my appetite was very poor. I got the supply of the pills which I used regularly for some weeks, with the result that they restored me to my old-time strength. They also proved a blessing to my daughter, who was in a very anaemic condition, and who seemed not to get more than temporary relief from any medicine until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took the pills for about three months, and is now enjoying the best of health. For these reasons I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

shall have some new markets for them. Even during the war we made a few odd experiments in this direction, sending grapes by rail to England. War conditions would not allow us to follow this up, but the experiment will now be resumed.

Great Future for Spaghetti.
"Certain markets for certain goods—macaroni, for instance—are, of course, lost. But believe me, they are not lost for good. Now, of course, Italian macaroni is made in the United States. But the war has taught many people who never ate it before to eat macaroni, and there is room in the world for spaghetti of all nationalities. Especially when freight rates level down you will not compete with us in the European market for articles of this kind. And then we shall turn out some new specialties and export them again to you."

It is only too true that we cannot export any more of our Chianti wine to the States. But in compensation you will drink more oranges than formerly and use more of our oranges. You may even find it convenient to manufacture grape juice from Italian grapes. And, then, we have plenty of good mineral waters to send you. Some of them are patriotic waters, as they belong to the Trentino. And, lastly, if you still stubbornly want our Chianti—you can take a trip to Italy and spend a few of our dollars over there.

"What about the tourist trade? It will not only be a wonder whether you appreciate the fact that with our new boundaries, referred to their natural limits, especially on the Trentino side, some of the most beautiful spots in the world have come back to us—places which can very well compete with the finest scenery of winter resorts in Europe, and which already have quite a world clientele. Our great national heritage of art treasures, thanks to some legitimate restitutions which have been secured to us by the peace treaty, has been immensely enriched. The art treasures, especially Trentino, bring with them also a most interesting contribution to the lace-making industry."

"What about emigration? Emigration is a normal characteristic of Italian economic life. It will be resumed. If certain markets cannot receive our emigrants in great numbers, there are others which will require them more than ever before. Our French colonies can tell you that. So far, I have spoken mainly about the old resources, but there are new ones to be reckoned with."

Just now I was talking of emigration. In the future Italy will benefit not only from our own emigrants, but also from emigrants of other nationalities. As a consequence of the war, emigration from Eastern Europe will certainly develop substantially and steadily. Whether the stream of emigration will go to North or South America is immaterial. Geography is there to show that once Bremen, Hamburg and other German ports are no longer protected by the artificial preferential tariffs which Germany was allowed to enjoy before the war, Italy is bound to become the greatest transit country in Europe for people going from east to west. The same may be said for goods traffic in both directions. Italy, if only freedom is guaranteed, will become the great entrepot of Eastern Europe.

Water Power to Be Tripled.
"Our own export trade will certainly take a proper share—if not a pre-dominant share—of ex-German and Austrian commerce in the Levant. This is bound to happen. The incredible devastations which we endured during the war owing to lack of fuel have taught us the imperative necessity of developing our water power. We have already made a good start in this direction. And it may perhaps surprise you to learn that we are not developing, but creating, water power in the South, where there is no water. We already have an artificial lake in Miru Lucano, Basilicata, between Benevento and Naples. The waters of the same kind have been planned out for Calabria and Sardinia. You will hear more about these projects as we want the help of your machinery for them."

It would be almost impossible to overstate the importance of this sale. The union suits are the well-known Swiss Ribbed Canadian make, and are first quality. We bought the mills' surplus at the close of last season, getting the 600 garments at a big reduction. We have held the garments in our warehouse until now, knowing that hundreds of men would jump at the opportunity to obtain good underwear at considerably less than regular prices.

AUDIENCE RIVALS STAGE SPLENDOR AS OPERA OPENS

Society Fills Boxes and House
Is Sold Out—Raisa Scores.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Raisa, the Polish soprano, who made her American debut in 1913 under the tutelage of Cleofonte Campanini, with the Chicago Opera Company, returned last night to the grand opera season here as Raisa, in "La Nave," at the auditorium.

From a box office point of view, the inaugural offering was an unqualified success—the house was completely sold out—but whether the horseshoe or the stage held the more interest for the auditors and spectators would be difficult to determine.

Opera Warmly Received.
Chicago society, filling the boxes of the horseshoe, supplied a pageant of jewels and costumes that shed in brilliancy with Mr. Campanini's spectacular debutants and matrons of the city's best-known families made a numerical showing equal to that of the charity.

Reacting, perhaps, to the post-bellum influence, Mr. Campanini chose the opera based on the blank verse tragedy by the post-warrior, Gabriel d'Annunzio, now visiting America, was occupying a box.

Ultra-modern in musical treatment, the opera represented a departure from generally-accepted canons, that a classic should be presented on opening night. However, Signor Montemezzi's manipulation of the baton was admirable, the opera was warmly received, and Raisa was in her usual excellent voice and won many encores.

"Be Master of Your Health"

Dr. Chase

Make your blood rich---strengthen your nerves, increase your vitality and build up your system generally by using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

You may be skeptical of what any medicine will do for you. But you are human---your vitality depends on an abundance of rich, red blood. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the ingredients from which new blood is created, and is bound to help you in the same way that it helps many thousands of others.

Woodstock

Mrs. T. Allenby, 369 Main street, Woodstock, Ont., writes:
"For several years I have made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a tonic and blood-builder. Whenever my system gets run-down, or I do not feel quite up to the mark, I resort to this medicine, and they never fail to build me up and strengthen me. Different members of our household have also made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results."

Guelph

Mrs. Emma Loach, 95 York road, Guelph, Ont., writes:
"Last year my system became run-down, and I was troubled with nervousness. I had frequent headaches, and found it difficult to get a good night's sleep. I sometimes had a creepy sensation or hot flashes over my body. I secured some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in January, and after using them for a time I noticed an improvement. I therefore continued the treatment until the headaches and that creepy feeling disappeared. I got better control of my nerves, and now can go to bed and get a real good night's rest. We think a great deal of Dr. Chase's medicine, and I can certainly recommend the Nerve Food."

London

Mrs. S. Metherell, 23 Hyla street, London, Ont., writes:
"About a year ago I had a complete collapse from my nerves. I was taken to the hospital for a treatment, but it did not give me much relief. When I was brought home again, I went to the country for a change of air. I seemed to be a little better while there, but after my return home I did not feel much better. I used to have nervous spells, when my limbs would begin to shake, then grow cold, and I would be completely exhausted. I was also troubled with an accumulation of gas on my stomach, which caused palpitation of the heart. At last I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after I had used them for a while I could see that they were helping me, so I continued using them until I became quite well again. I became real strong and healthy, could sleep well at night, and was able to do my own housework. As I got stronger the nervous spells disappeared, and I have not had one since. I also used an occasional Kidney-Liver Pill in connection with the Nerve Food, which I think cured the gas on my stomach. I have received such benefit from these medicines that I wish to recommend them to others."

Brockville

Mr. M. B. McCarten, 88 Church street, Brockville, Ont., writes:
"About five years ago I was troubled with nervousness and sleeplessness. Owing to my business (a baker), I had long hours, and only broken rest, and became so run-down that when I could get the time to sleep, sleep would not come. Through reading some of the advertisements, and also looking over a family recipe book, I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I purchased a box, tried it, and continued the treatment until I found myself much improved, and could get a good night's rest. Since then, when I feel the need of them, I resort to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food again, with the same good results. I gladly recommend the use of this treatment to anyone suffering from nervousness or sleeplessness."

Peterboro

Mrs. James Bogue, 220 Dublin street, Peterboro, Ont., writes:
"Three years ago I noticed that our children seemed to be suffering from bad nerves and poor appetites, and were inclined to anaemia. Knowing the good of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I started to give them a treatment of this medicine. I found it built them right up, made them bright and cheery and restored their usual good health."

"I have also used the Nerve Food myself and found it very beneficial for nerves and heart. In fact, I have found Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to be such a valuable medicine for general family use that I have recommended it to many of our friends and acquaintances."

Hamilton

Mrs. S. Staunton, 135 McNab street N., Hamilton, Ont., writes:
"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for a run-down system, and found it splendid for strengthening and building up the body. I can recommend it to any person requiring a good tonic."

Picton

Mrs. Arthur Hicks, Picton, Ont., writes:
"About a year ago I was on the verge of nervous prostration. I became very irritable, and could scarcely stand the noise of the children. As for sleep, it was impossible. Then I had an attack of neuritis in my right arm and little finger. I had spent a great deal of money on different medicines, and doctored with different doctors, trying to get relief, but without success. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and they have given me great benefit. My husband could see a great improvement in my looks in a short time. I feel so much better that I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and would recommend them to anyone suffering from nervous troubles."

Collingwood

Mrs. Harry Edward Trotman, First street, Collingwood, Ont., writes:
"It is with great pleasure I write to tell you the splendid results I have secured through the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Before I commenced this treatment, I suffered from nervousness---was restless, easily worried; had frequent headaches and neuralgic pains through my body, especially in the back. I could neither sleep nor eat well, my circulation was poor and the heart action seemed weak. I also had attacks of indigestion. I tried several different remedies, but could not gain permanent relief. At last I started taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this treatment, together with an occasional Kidney-Liver Pill, worked wonders in my case. Five boxes of Nerve Food cured me. My wife has also derived great benefit from the same treatment, and we shall never be without these medicines in the house as long as we can get them."

At this season almost everybody is in need of restorative treatment to keep up energy and vigor, and to maintain health, strength and vitality. Everywhere people are talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because it seems to be exactly what is required in the great majority of cases to restore the run-down human system. Fifty cents a box, six for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every box.

WEALTH IN TEXAS OIL

Would You Risk $10 In An Oil Opportunity That Promises Bigger Returns for the Investment Than Anything Else You Can Buy?

We Have Bought the Leases With Our Own Hard Cash

The group of men who comprise the officers and directors and have formed the Empire Texas Oil Company have bought five leases in four well defined gusher pools in Texas. We are not promoters nor speculators, but each is a well-known business man, practically a life-long resident of his home town and the kind of citizen you can always look up and find is O. K. at the bank.

We Are Now Ready To Drill for the Oil and Its Wealth

To raise sufficient money to develop these five gusher leases we have set aside a limited amount of our capital stock, which we now offer at a minimum of 100 shares for $10.00. The money realized from the sale of these shares is bona fide working capital—money to be used for the purpose of drilling wells and developing the leases.

The Shares You Buy Are An Equal Interest With Ours

Every share of stock that you purchase in this company is treasury stock, and every share of stock represents an equal interest in all the assets of this company. Thus, you will more clearly understand why this is the greatest oil opportunity ever offered you, and why you stand to win big, not merely on the value of your stock, but on the actual production of the oil itself.

We Have No Bonds, No Mortgages, No Preferred Stock, All Shares Equal

Your shares are on the same equal basis as all other shares. We have put up our own cold cash in what we believe the biggest opportunity we have ever had to develop a real money-maker. None of the officers has received any remuneration for his services, although all are devoting their full time and energies to the business management of the company.

Let Us Get Together At Once

Let us get together on these five big gusher leases at once. We should get at the oil without unnecessary delay, a fast and expensive undertaking. All our profits must come out of the ground. It is oil we are after, and if we strike it we strike it rich; if not, we are out of luck. As against the thousands we have put into the company, we solicit subscriptions of $10, $20, or up to a hundred dollars or more from those who are willing to risk the price of a new hat or suit of clothes on the chance of making a stake, striking it rich. All the money from the sale of stock goes to drilling wells; no rugs, no furniture, no private offices nor fancy salaries. We want you to know all the facts.

Money Back Guarantee Is Our Pledge of Good Faith

There was never a more open or above board enterprise offered.

We propose to make some real money in a fair and square way by getting the co-operation of a sufficient number of five-wires to produce oil. We have the oil land. And everyone knows that if oil is struck at all it is big money. If we strike a gusher we all share in a fortune; if it is more than one gusher we are each of us rich over night. A host of men are rich today because they bought on the same basis that we now offer stock in this company.

Send for 100 shares at $10; 200 shares $20; 500 shares, $50; 1,000 shares, $100—as many shares as your venturesome spirit tells you is worth the risk.

If within ten days after sending your receipt and prospectus of the company you are not satisfied, if after the fullest and freest inquiry and investigation you have any doubt as to the genuineness of this undertaking, simply demand the return of your money, and it will be sent to you without a word or quibble.

Act Today! Don't Wait!

The time to take advantage of an oil opportunity is during the initial period of development. When oil has been struck, when the wealth of the earth—it may be fabulous wealth—has been flowing every minute of each 24 hours, it is then too late to buy stock at a profit. So get your shares today, before actual deep drilling begins.

Empire Texas Oil Company, Belmont, N.Y.

Come In With Us On This Square Deal

The biggest return ever made on money invested in oil has come to those who got in early in the Texas field. Here is an opportunity to share in the square deal development of five mighty valuable Texas oil leases that are located right in the heart of the gusher pools. These are properties that have been secured by acknowledged oil producing authorities who personally picked out the locations.

Now Ready for the Big Drilling

Remember This---Gusher Leases

We have five gusher leases in four defined pools—WAGGONER—DESDEMONA—RANGER and BURKBURNETT, in Texas.

You get into a realty at once, no speculation, no promotions, a genuine enterprise on our own land in four of the famous oil producing territories of Texas.

A limited amount of the capital stock is now offered to those who recognize that all the big enterprises, the famous money-makers and wonderful dividend payers had their beginnings in just such co-operation as this. And the fact that you can participate in this splendid opportunity at such a small figure should bring your subscription at once.

The Man In Personal Charge

JOHN C. HENRY, President and General Manager of the Empire Texas Oil Company, is a practical, thoroughly experienced oil man. He has been an oil producer for seventeen years, and has a personal knowledge of the oil fields in many states. Mr. Henry is in no sense a promoter. He is in personal charge of the development of the company.

WHERE WE OWN LEASES

The Empire Texas Oil Co. Owns 760 Acres of Undeveloped Leases in the Best Oil Producing Territory in Texas.

Five Leases in Four Defined Gusher Pools

The various oil pools of Texas were visited by the president of this company at the time of organization. He made a personal inspection. He went to Texas feeling that many of the oil stories about the quick acquiring of big fortunes were tremendously exaggerated.

He looked the oil fields over carefully. He personally ran down several of the stories regarding the millions that had been made in oil, and through personal first-hand information, backed by his extensive experience, he makes the statement that the splendid possibilities for making money in Texas fields, where the leases of this company are located, far exceed any other oil development that now exists in the country.

Here are our properties:

Waggoner Pool

We own one lease located in block 96, Red River Lands, Wichita County, closely surrounded by gushers doing 2,000 to 3,500 barrels daily.

Desdemona Pool

We own one lease in Eastland County, west of Desdemona. J. M. Bishop land, near Lewis well, reported doing 4,000 barrels daily. Gushers on three sides.

We own one lease in Earth County, east of Desdemona. R. L. Kirk land, near Comanche well, reported doing 5,000 barrels daily.

Ranger Pool

We own one lease Eastland County, 3½ miles southeast of Ranger, one mile northeast of production.

Famous Shallow Pool BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY.

We own one lease located two miles south of Burkburnett, in the heart of the shallow pool. Production within 400 feet on all four sides. Five pay sands. Texoma Company reported to have brought in a 1,400-barrel well in fifth sand (1,250 feet) October 1, 1919, three-quarters of a mile northeast of our lease.

We own other leases which, while less famous as yet, are far better prospects than the now known bonanzas were at the start of their development.

For the development of oil lands money is necessary—oil land is nothing but land until the oil is brought to the surface, and it takes money to get it to the top.

And it is to secure money for this development work that will put this land into producing territory that a limited amount of capital stock is now being sold on the basis of 10 cents per share, with minimum allotment of 100 shares, an investment of $10.00 or more, to any one purchaser.

Get Your Share of Oil Wealth

We offer you this opportunity to get a share of oil wealth. Some people think that because they can invest but little it is not worth while, but that is a mistake.

The New Oil Fields of Texas have possibly enriched more poor people than any other discovery of natural wealth in modern times, if not in the entire history of the world, because they have offered opportunities for the little man along with the big fellow for the purchase of stocks at low prices.

Recently the stockholders of the Fortuna Oil Company in a short time made the following enormous profits: For each dollar invested, $2,500; each ten dollars, $25,000, and each one hundred dollars INVESTED, A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS.

MAIL THIS COUPON NOW!

EMPIRE TEXAS OIL COMPANY, BELMONT, NEW YORK:

Gentlemen,—I want to join in the development of your oil land leases. I am inclosing $..... for shares of your capital stock (fully paid and non-assessable). I am sending the inclosed remittance with the understanding that I have ten days from the date of your mailing my acknowledgment of my remittance with your complete prospectus in which to make any investigation that I wish regarding the personnel of the company and its holdings. You are to refund my money immediately if I request it, after investigation, within ten days, as stated in your advertisement in The London Advertiser.

Harvard-Yale Game Draws Thousands of Frenzied Fans

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—Deluged and dazed by the unexpected thousands descending upon the city for the Harvard-Yale football game, Boston is a flustered host tonight. Great throngs have gathered here for this gridiron classic in past years, but nothing approaching the present invasion has ever been witnessed.

Both Yale and Princeton have drawn huge assemblies of adherents and football followers in other seasons, but all previous records pale in comparison with the 1919 crowd. Although the Harvard stadium will seat close to 50,000, the demand for tickets is far in excess of accommodations.

Wagering on the outcome of the game appears to be more prevalent than in recent similar contests, although it is impossible to obtain any definite idea of the amount at stake. Harvard rules a slight favorite tonight at odds ranging from 5 to 4 to 10 to 7, though many small bets are being made between friends at even money.

The Crimson cohorts are confident that Harvard's eleven will win, while Yale's legionaries are equally sure that the Blue will be avenged at Harvard's expense, and are wagering accordingly.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 21.—Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion, and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul Phantom, fought a terrific, bloody, ten-round bout here tonight. The fight was vicious and close all the way, and although several ring-side experts called the bout a draw, the majority gave O'Dowd a slight shade.

The agreement, it is understood, is in course of preparation. Officials of the railway department state that there is no indication yet of who will represent the government before the arbitration board, or the names of the other arbitrators besides Sir Walter Cassels.

HOUSING SCHEME IN BRITAIN IS DEFENDED BY HEALTH MINISTER

Says Government Will Stand by Scheme and Not Be Stampeded.

London, Nov. 21.—In the House of Commons today, Dr. Addison, minister of health, unfolded fresh proposals to overcome the housing crisis.

He emphatically denied that the government's housing scheme had been a fiasco or a failure, and declared that he found the situation black when he started in office, and that the country was not suffering from the negligence of his predecessor. Alluding to schemes for new and cheaper types of houses, Dr. Addison said the department had been engaged on this months before he found the situation black when he started in office, and that the country was not suffering from the negligence of his predecessor.

"We know that all along," the minister said, "added that the position in the building trade. Even so, a considerable amount of expenditure has been made on the proposal to give a subsidy of £150 to £200 to the building trade to build a limited number of houses to be built within a limited time."

Dr. Addison mentioned that practically every house in the United Kingdom is now wanted, and that the government is standing by the scheme, and is not party to the situation.

"The only reason for the delay in the delivery of the country again to the building trade is the fact that the government has given us slums in every town."

MINTO COAL STRIKE IS DELAYED PENDING VOTE BY WORKERS

Fredrickton, N.B., Nov. 21.—The Minto Coal Company's mines at Minto, Sunday, in spite of the strike of the miners, were in full operation today.

Whether there will be a strike at Minto or not will be decided at a meeting of the branch of the U. M. W. here today. The miners at Minto were being ordered to strike at 7 o'clock last night.

The general impression seems to be that the miners are now in such a mood that they will vote to strike.

"The only reason for the delay in the delivery of the country again to the building trade is the fact that the government has given us slums in every town."

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Officers of the Association of Canadian Advertisers, Incorporated, at the sixth annual convention here today were elected as follows: President, W. C. Betts, Montreal; Vice-president, J. R. Kirkpatrick, Toronto; Treasurer, J. R. Kirkpatrick, Toronto.

A round-table discussion was held by the association today, which was held in the afternoon, and was attended by thirty representatives, chiefly from Montreal and Toronto. The question of the advisability of doing direct business with the advertiser, rather than through newspaper and magazine editors, was also discussed. This would embrace direct by mail advertising and state steps.

FINANCIAL REVIEW. New York, Nov. 22.—Stocks suffered further drastic liquidation in the first half of this week, but made measurable and in several important cases, more than full recoveries later.

Rallies were concurrent with the passing of the money scare, call loans resuming at eight per cent, the lowest initial quotation of the month, and a slight relaxation of time money.

In responsible quarters there is every disposition to advance the admonitions of the federal reserve board against "unrestricted speculation." This found its most direct expression in the announced curtailment of business on the stock exchange.

Caution by the banks and other leading institutions elicited the statement that broker loans had been further reduced. This fact, coupled with the weeding out of additional liquidated speculative accounts, strengthened the market in all quarters. Indications that the market was being cleared of speculative stocks as General Motors, Crucible Steel and several of the high-grade oils, these stocks featuring the rebound.

Contrary to prophecies voiced in many circles, selection of the peace treaty exerted little more than a temporary sentimental effect, but another slump in foreign exchange and latest developments in the coal strike occasioned fresh apprehension.

WALL STREET. New York, Nov. 22.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks were dull and uncertain at the beginning of today's short session, but soon developed moderate activity. Declines of fractions to a point in several of the steel, motor, tobacco and oil stocks, and a slight advance in the Pierce-Arrow, Columbia Gas and other

Steady Trade Expansion Shown by Annual Report of Bank of Montreal

How Canada Is Coming Through Reconstruction Period—Big Gains Reported in the Savings of the Canadian People—Larger Business Being Handled Throughout Country.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The advantages of the Canadian banking system have been shown by the way Canadian banks quickly met the unprecedented situation arising out of the war and the manner in which they are now helping the country in the difficult period of reconstruction.

The annual statement of the Bank of Montreal for the fiscal year to October 31 is the first report to be issued for a full year since the armistice. On this account it contains many changes that indicate a gradual adjustment of special Government undertakings of the war period and a marked expansion in the general business of the country.

Big Gain in Deposits

During the past few years there has been a record increase in the number of depositors and business accounts in banks, and there are many indications that this growth will, within a short time, result in the total business of the banks even passing the large totals touched during the war period.

Among the outstanding features of the statement now going forward to Bank of Montreal shareholders is the increase in current loans and discounts in Canada, and the continued large increase in interest-bearing deposits. These would seem to indicate that the Canadian people are steadily adding to their savings. In the last six months of the year the gain in savings deposits amounted to approximately $4,000,000.

An analysis of the general statement of assets and liabilities shows that the bank is in an excellent position to help the country through the period of reconstruction. The whole world has to meet so many unforeseen financial problems. With the adjustment of accounts, following the war period, there is, of necessity, a decrease in total assets, as compared with a year ago, but a marked gain is reported, as compared with the first six months of the present fiscal year. Total assets now stand at $345,394,809, compared with $358,412,545 at the end of 1918, and with $489,211,137 on April 30 last. As usual, the bank has consistently maintained a very strong liquid position. Liquid assets amount to $337,889,588, and are equal to 97.99 per cent of the liabilities to the public.

Assistance to Government

In the liquid assets the principal accounts showing changes are Dominion Notes, which now stand at $49,865,451, down from $58,514,250 at the end of 1918, and short loans in Great Britain and United States, which now amount to $78,255,825, as against $97,029,549 at the end of last year. At the same time there has been an increase in the holdings of Dominion and Provincial Government securities to $63,884,257, as compared with $46,870,556 a year ago, reflecting the assistance the bank has given the Government.

The extension of trade and commerce in the country is indicated by an increase in the total of loans and discounts, amounting to $164,182,581, up from $146,028,861 at the end of last year.

Since the close of the last fiscal year the bank has also completed the absorption of the Bank of British North America, without inconvenience to the public and both Capital Stock and Reserves have been increased to $20,000,000 respectively, as compared with $16,000,000. The Profit and Loss Account, in turn, reflects the increase in the total profits for the year amounting to $5,314,227. The percentage earned on capital is 16.57 per cent.

The principal items in the statement are as follows:

	Oct. 31, 1919.	April 30, 1919.	Oct. 31, 1918.
Total Assets	$345,394,809	$489,211,137	$558,412,545

A POOR WAY TO ECONOMIZE
Neglecting to have your eyes examined at least every two years, is a poor way to economize.

Eyes will often improve materially under the proper treatment—and a slight change in the lenses may make a great improvement.

Rest assured we will not advise a change unless we are convinced it will improve your eyes.

HELPLESS VICTIMS FILMED BY U-BOATS

Seized Movies Show Shelling of Torpedoed Sailors.

Taken from the raided archives of the old German admiralty of von Tirpitz during the revolution a years ago in the fatherland, highly colored films have reached this country showing wounded merchant vessels in the Irish Sea being torpedoed and under shelling.

The motion picture work was done by one of the U-boats which had a wandering mission during the height of the ruthless submarine warfare campaign around the British Isles. This boat not only engaged in sinking several ships, but had on board half a dozen skilled camera men.

The film, which had been placed in archives for Der Tag, arrived recently in charge of J. H. Mackzum, a Knights of Columbus secretary, who had charge of all the motion picture work in France and Germany. "It is largely through the influence of this present German Government that the film came in my possession," said Mr. Mackzum.

During the revolution the admiralty office was raised by the mobs and the canisters containing the celluloid reels became scattered about.

"At Coblenz I made friends with a former high ranking army officer and he secured the films from a revolutionary leader who he knew possessed them. They show four British merchant ships being torpedoed and shelled in the Irish Sea.

"Despite the crippled condition of the steamers, the U-boats can be seen directing a hot shell fire at them while the men are in the water swimming to lifeboats and rafts. It is a most harrowing picture. There are other portions showing the torpedo leaving the tube at the bow of the submarine and speeding away on its mission of destruction.

"There were more than 40,000 feet of film used by this undersea craft in its mission around the English Channel and Irish Sea. A rumor had it that pictures had been taken of the Lusitania sinking, but although I searched high and low, I was never able to find them. The pictures have been highly colored, and are much more than the greatest souvenir of the war."

Mr. Mackzum comes from Cincinnati, Ohio, and before going overseas served with the naval aircraft branch of the service at Philadelphia. During his work with the Knights of Columbus, Mr. Mackzum took a number of photographs at Chateau Thierry, Belleau Woods and of the graves of American soldiers throughout France and Germany.

THE RIDER OF THE LAW

Harry Carey in "The Rider of the Law," showing at the Patricia Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

An appealing story dramatically told, a popular star and the elaborate production for which Universal is noted contribute to the success of "The Rider of the Law," which opens at the Patricia Theatre on Monday. Harry Carey is the star.

The story was written by G. B. Lancaster, the widely known British author. It is adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Stead and produced by Universal under the direction of Jack Ford.

As Jim Kynston of the Rangers, the star finds himself strangely involved with men who are stealing gold ore from the Midas mine. One of the men is his half-brother.

How he aids by the oath of his office as a ranger, yet smooths out the rough path for the men around him who have strayed from the straight path, is the theme of the story.

Excellent stereoscopic photography by John Brown, the admirable direction and the star's sincere dramatic work, makes "The Rider of the Law" a very enjoyable offering.

The supporting cast is notable with the presence of Gloria Hope, Claire Anderson, Jeanne Lee, Vester Pegg, Ted Brooks, Duke R. Lee, Joe Harris and Jack Woods.

Vaudeville feature, "Shehan Ardell Tracey," presenting a classy musical melange.

A big V. special comedy, "Bumps and Bumpers," a two-reel Keystone comedy, "A Playwright's Wrong," and a Universal screen magazine.
