APPOINT AGENTS IN SOUTH AFRICA

The Suggestion Made to Canadian Firms Wishing to Tender for Supplies.

The "Beauty" of Red Tape at Cape Town—English M. P. Retracts What He Said.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—With every disposition on the part of the Imperial authorities to give Canadians a chance to tender for army supplies in South Africa and a readiness on the part of Canadian business men to try their luck, there does not seem to be any possibility whatever of contracts going to Canadians this year. Some weeks ago the general officer commanding in the Transvaal cabled to the Government here, asking that advertisements be inserted in Canadian papers inviting tenders for army supplies, such as bread, groceries, forage and hospital supplies for nine months, to be delivered at various stations throughout South Africa. Tenders were to be in by October 1st, 1902. It was considered impossible, however, for Canadian firms to obtain tender forms from Pretoria and have them filled and forwarded there before Nov. 1. This was the view taken by the trade and commerce department. After looking into the subject, Major Maude made the suggestion that tenders be put in by agents, but it was found that very few of any Canadian firms have agents in South Africa. His Excellency on Aug. 22 cabled to South Africa to that effect, and inquired if it would not be possible to have the time extended for receiving tenders. The answer to this was received here yesterday in the form of the following cablegram to the Governor-General:—

"Referring to your telegram of 22nd August, regret unable to extend limit of time, as if we did, the successful firm would not have time to make arrangements for carrying out the contract. Suggest Canadian firms appoint agents through which to tender. If successful, agents in this country will be required and their appointment for six weeks in advance will make very little difference. (Signed) Officer Commanding Troops in Transvaal."

The suggestion as to the appointment of agents had already been looked into, and found impracticable, so that the refusal of the authorities to extend the time for receiving tenders precludes the possibility of Canadians competing for these valuable contracts. The correspondence is important, nevertheless, as showing a readiness on the part of the British army authorities to give further supplies for South Africa.

Canadians an opportunity to furnish supplies for the South African army.

RED TAPE AT CAPE TOWN.
London, Aug. 28.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Times complains of the working of martial law at the docks, where British commissionaires and others arriving yesterday were delayed three hours on landing, while their permits were checked by a single official. This system, says the correspondent, is likely to add hundreds weekly to the number of South African grumblers.

TOOK IT ALL BACK.
London, Aug. 28.—Mr. A. B. Markham, M. P., has come rather badly out of his campaign against the capitationists of the Rand. Some eighteen months ago he formally informed the House of Commons that he was ready to prove that Wernher, Beit & Co. were "thieves and swindlers," and that so overwhelming was the evidence of their fraudulence that he intended to repeat his characterization of them outside the privileged walls of Parliament, and face the consequences. He carried out his threat, but he now withdraws unreservedly, and Wernher, Beit & Co. have decided not to proceed with their libel suit.

25 CENTS

Stranger Secured Swell Sparkler at a Big Bargain—Amherstburg Man Loses.

Windsor, Aug. 28.—John Fleming, of Amherstburg, is minus a $75 ring, which he lost at the Normandie Hotel in Detroit last night. Fleming dropped the sparkler in the bar and it was picked up by a bell hop named Herbert Hawkins, who came around after Fleming had passed out. Young Hawkins was unaware of the ring's value and flashed it on the barkeeper. "Gimme a shilling for it!" he asked. "Out with your glass, fella," said the barkeeper, as he stretched out the silvery stream of a gin fizz.

Then Herbert went to the street and offered the ring to a stranger for a quarter. The clerk thought he was "havin' em," but Fleming was merely realizing that his $75 ring was gone. The hotel employees were all notified. After a while Herbert learned the news. "Say, Mr. Roe, I found a shiner, and I sold it to a man for a quarter," said he to the proprietor of the establishment.

"Where's the man?" gasped Roe, and then there was black tragedy for Herbert for a while.

BIG BUSINESS

"We have done more good business during the summer months than we have during any other summer that I have had charge of the Registry Office," said P. D. McKellar to The Planet this morning. "City property is in good demand and is going fast. The city seems to be 'waking up' as it were, and there is quite a lively stir in the business of the city. If matters continue to brighten as they have been doing, we will have a very heavy winter's work."

"There has been a slight injury to the crops, but the yield will be so great this year that this will not be felt in the least."

"I was talking to Charles McGulgan, of Cedar Springs, the other day, and he told me that his wheat brought 40 bushels to the acre with 61 pounds to the bushel. The fruit crop is also going to be heavy, and this means more money, as there is almost as much profit in fruit as there is in wheat. On the whole I think that we are going to have a very prosperous year of business in Chatham."

PROPERTY AND LIFE IN DANGER

Situation Acute in Strike District—Sheriff Powerless to Repress Disorder.

Two Guards and Two Strikers Killed—Troops Had to be Called In.

Charleston, W. Va., August 28.—Last night Governor White acceded to a request of Sheriff Daniel, of Fayette county, and agreed to send eight companies of the National Guard into the New River coal field. The sheriff announced that he could not possibly protect life and property, and the militia will be hurried out this morning.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Major James E. Verlander of the Second Battalion, West Virginia National Guard, has received orders from Governor White to proceed at once with the three companies of State Militia here and with one company at Milton to the New River coal fields, where trouble is imminent. The companies have been assembled, and will leave at once on a special train. Serious trouble is predicted.

PROPERTY AND LIFE IN DANGER.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 28.—The troops ordered to the New River strike district today by Governor White will arrive there this afternoon, with headquarters at Thurmond. The situation is very acute. Sheriff Daniel, who is here to-day from Fayette county, says that he is powerless to repress disorder, and property and life are in constant danger. Nearly everybody refuses to act as a deputy sheriff to assist in the eviction of striking miners, and hence the sheriff made a request for troops. Men concealed along the mountain sides fired at the guards and at the miners going to work and then disappeared. Governor White says that he sends the troops to protect life and property, but not to settle the strike. That, he says, rests with the miners and operators. Great danger of serious outbreak is imminent in the New River fields.

FOUR MEN KILLED.

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Strikers to-day fired upon miners and tappers at Crane Creek operations. The guards and two strikers were killed. Several were wounded.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 28.—Advices received at the general offices of the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. from the coal fields say that two mine guards and two strikers were killed in a battle on Crane Creek, in Mercer county, W. Va., this morning. The scene of the shooting is in the vicinity of the Crane Creek Coal Company's operation, and that of the Thomas Coal & Coke Company's operation. A body of mine guards, numbering 30 or 40, were fired on by a party of armed men with rifles believed to have been made up of strikers. The guards returned their fire, and when the shooting ceased it was found that two men on each side had been killed. The sheriff of Mercer county, whose office is at Princeton court house, was immediately advised, and left at once for the scene. Norfolk & Western officials say the trouble was confined to the Crane Creek Co. Several of the operations have been closed down.

DESERVED PROMOTION

J. E. Barr, messenger at the Lake Erie Freight office here, has accepted a good position in the Company's office at Sarnia, as clerk and operator. A. J. Chanter has taken Mr. Barr's position here. Mr. Tillson, the local agent, is sorry to lose the services of Mr. Barr, who has been a very apt pupil, and has learned telegraphy in eight months, which is exceptionally clever, considering his other duties. Mr. Barr succeeded Bruce Peate in his position here. Mr. Peate, who learned the business in the local office, is now operator and assistant agent at Port Stanley. He will resume his former position as operator here on the 10th of September.

WERE GLAD TO SEE THE KING

Precaution Against Disorder—Presented With Address and Banquet.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—The entry of King Victor Emmanuel into the city, and his drive through the Unter Den Linden was advanced purposely half an hour over the published time as a further precaution against possible disorder. Consequently the great crowds which were packed into place an hour before by the police at the Brandenburg Gate, were astonished by the arrival at a brisk trot of a gorgeous cavalcade surrounding a six-horse carriage, in which sat Emperor William and a small man in a dark uniform. The carriage stopped and the crowds ceased cheering in order to see what would happen. The chief burgomaster, Herr Kirschner, advanced and read an address of welcome from a parchment scroll. Behind the burgomaster stood bareheaded a hundred representatives of the city in evening dress. The reading was over in less than a minute. The Italian king then turned to the German Emperor and asked him if he should reply. The Emperor shook his head, and the king thereupon shook hands with Herr Kirschner and thanked him. Then a deputation of young ladies advanced on the other side of the carriage and gave the Italian king a bunch of roses. He smiled, bowed, buried his face in the blossoms, handed the bouquet to a lucky and the cavalcade and carriage swept through the gate and down Unter Den Linden to the castle, three-quarters of a mile away. On one side of the thoroughfare cuirassiers, dragoons and lancers lined up two deep, made a glittering barrier of color, while on the other side the people's view was unobscured, except by extraordinary numbers of police, standing with their faces towards the spectators. The soldiers, of course, hurried because they were ordered to do so, but the cheers of the people were spontaneous and really a riot. The show was over in a few seconds. Shouting and the successive crashing of bands played at intervals between the squadrons of cavalry marked the progress of the king and the emperor down the avenue. Their majesties drove to the Italian embassy for breakfast, and then again to the castle in order to receive the diplomatic corps. Emperor William and King Victor Emmanuel up last night at Potsdam and had him out of bed at six o'clock this morning.

The visit of King Victor Emmanuel to Emperor William has been marked by the conferring of many orders, including the Order of the Annunziata, which was personally handed by the King to Count Von Buelow. King Victor Emmanuel subsequently lunched at the Italian embassy and received the prominent members of the Italian colony. His Majesty afterwards called on Count Von Buelow, on Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee and at several embassies.

The King of Italy proceeded to the royal mausoleum, at Charlottenburg, this afternoon and placed a wreath upon the sarcophagus of William I. At the state banquet given this evening Emperor William in a toast to the King of Italy said:—The entire fatherland unites with him in shouting his joyous greeting. "His Majesty the King of Italy, Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!"

King Victor Emmanuel, replying to Emperor William, said the feelings of affection expressed by the Emperor were a precious pledge of friendship, which he reciprocated from the bottom of his heart. "In token of the brotherly affection uniting our illustrious ancestors," said the King of Italy, "our nations will advance in civilization, protected by the old alliance between Italy and two imperial powers, which public opinion now recognizes as the emblem of peace and its most effective safeguard."

HAIL STORM

J. M. Pike and Mayor Sulman were in Bothwell on business yesterday. Mr. Pike says that an adequate idea of the extent of the damage done by the hail storm that visited Bothwell and vicinity last week can only be secured by a visit to the section. Corn was destroyed by the hail, and in a drive of a mile and a half Mr. Pike saw several hundred acres of corn destroyed by the hail. Some idea of the severity of the hail storm may be gathered from the fact that rail fences, which are ordinarily black in color, were bright in appearance and looked like new wood. The falling ice beat off the rotten wood, leaving the solid portion of the rails. There was also several inches of snow and ice in the streets of Bothwell a day or so after the storm. A hurricane accompanied the hail storm and trees were uprooted. In one or two places whole bushes were devastated.

The inside brickwork of the library has been started. Some of the frames are up, and on the whole, its beginning to take the appearance of a building. Contractor Geo. Fielder is pushing the work rapidly along.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29.

CANADA ABROAD.

Canada's splendid harvest and its evidence of commercial progress and prosperity are attracting the attention of the world at the present time. The British and American press is full of references to our promising future, and the country is reaping the benefit of a world-wide advertisement. The peculiarly fortunate condition of affairs the excellent trade record of the past year, the influx of immigration, the magnificent crop now being harvested are all subjects of remark and congratulation. There is a Canadian boom on.

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, discussing the new Canadian steamship service to South Africa, has this to say:

"The combination which has undertaken to provide a mail and passenger service between the Dominion of Canada and South Africa is, as intimated by us some time since, quite capable of carrying out any contract with which it might be entrusted. The firms of Messrs. Allen Bros. Messrs. Elder, Dempster & Co., and Messrs. Furness, Withy & Co., are each individually capable of establishing and conducting a service of far greater proportions and pretensions than that which has been undertaken by the three well-known and successful concerns combined. For some little time the general impression extant was that the firms referred to had combined to provide the fast Canadian service of which so much has recently been heard, and for that alone but it was known to a limited few that the scheme was not simply the one in which '23-knot' steamers were to run, but the linking together of the two great colonies of Canada and South Africa. The postmaster-general of Canada (Mr. Mulock) cabled to Montreal from London to know how soon a cargo could be got together for shipment to South Africa. He was then negotiating the service which is now secured by a contract, the shipping parties to which will see it successfully through. The service is not a great thing by any means—it is, in fact, merely a beginning—but it is direct, and is a corollary to the sailings from Canada to the Cape made not very long since of a very different character. The contract entered into provides for a mail, passenger, and cargo service, with monthly sailings. Montreal in the summer months, and Halifax or St. John in the winter months will be the Canadian termini. Cape Town and other ports, not yet decided upon, will be touched in South Africa. No doubt as trade develops the service will be greatly augmented, and those interested confidently look forward to a large trade between the countries united by the line. Provisionally the firms will operate from their own centres, each conducting the sailing of the vessel belonging to it, but all co-operating as an individual line so that a great advantage is gained by the combination. The ships will not be fast, but will have a minimum time given in which to perform the voyage. The amount of the mail subsidy is not large but this is a matter which will adjust itself as experience is gained in the line. Trade in South Africa is beginning to recover, and will soon outstrip anything that has been known in the past, and exceed the expectations of optimists in the future.

Broadstreet's expresses approval of the careful business management of the Canadian Pacific Railway which has adhered to a 5 per cent dividend in order that it may be in better position to make large outlays for new equipment and improvements which are called for by the increasing traffic of the road, and adds:

"It is not generally realized how marked has been the advance of business and industry throughout the territory served by the Canadian Pacific. Where there was absolutely no population even ten years ago, flourishing communities now exist along the entire western part of its line, and in respect of wheat production, the region tributary to the road now promises to take a place which is of the utmost concern to the agricultural interests of the United States. The growth and development of western Canada has, in fact, been marvelous, and it must be admitted that this material progress has been the direct result of the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway. The outcome is a complete answer to the criticisms so freely urged at various times in the past as to the cost of the enterprise and the extremely large contributions which were made to it, directly or indirectly, by the taxpayers of the Dominion. The London Chronicle, in a leading editorial, comments on the prospects of the Dominion and prophesies for it a great future: There is a supremely confident, if not assertive, tone in the recent utterances of some of the Canadian ministers and newspapers with reference to the trade expansion movement in Canada. The Dominion's marvelous development within the last few years seems to have fired the imagination and stimulated the energies of our fellow-subjects in British North America to such an extent that the old-time threat of absorption by the United States is now regarded with derision, and the talk takes the form of predicting for Canada an agricultural and industrial development that shall rival that of its great republican neighbor. This optimism has been largely promoted by the extraordinary large influx of American farmers into the rich and newly-developed Northwest Territories which already aspire to be 'Britain's granary.' Mr. J. I. Tarte, the minister of works, is among the most pronounced advocates of a progressive policy, and according to our telegrams this morning has even gone so far as to declare that 'the time has come when the United States must share her commerce with us.' This declaration based upon the assumption that Canada holds the control of the great water-highway of the North American continent, and that when the harbor and lake improvements sanctioned or projected by the Canadian Government are carried out the principal transportation routes from the head of the great lakes will be by way of Montreal and New York to Liverpool. Canada is undoubtedly a richer and more attractive country than was once believed to be the case, and her government and parliament are to be congratulated upon their energy and enterprise in carrying out public works, promoting settlement, and encouraging immigration. There is room in Canada for millions more.

Canada has been working quietly along, confident that sooner or later she was bound to reap the fruits of preparation and to realize on her heavy expenditure in opening up territory and making ready for the influx of population that was to come. Everything points now to a phenomenal era of progress during the next ten years.

THE NUDE IN MODERN PORTRAIT STATUES.

London Truth.

There is something peculiarly absurd in the idea just carried out at Leipzig of an undraped statue to Beethoven. If nude figures of distinguished men are to be encouraged in public thoroughfares it will add a new terror to eminence. The human mind almost sick at the thought of statues in Parliament square of Lord Salisbury as Apollo, or Mr. Chamberlain as Hercules, or any distinguished prima donna as Venus, and let us say, of Lord Roseberry as Cupid.

REMARKABLY DISCRETE.

N. Y. Sun.

The Boer commanders, Gen. Louis Botha, Gen. De Wet and Gen. Delarey, have thus far evinced remarkable discretion and circumspection since their arrival in Europe. They have been in a difficult position, for, on the one hand, neither gratitude nor common decency would permit them to repel the effusive demonstrations of admiration and sympathy with which they have been welcomed in Holland and Belgium, while, on the other hand, they owe an obvious duty to their fellow countrymen, whose present and future interests will be materially furthered by the maintenance of friendly and even cordial relations with the British authorities.

CHINESE HIGH AND GROUND TUMBLING.

Singapore Straits Budget.

An accident of a most peculiar nature took place yesterday in Macao street, when a Chinaman indulged in a clever exhibition of gymnastics by falling from a window in the third story of a house, picking himself up and walking away as if nothing untoward had happened. He accepted the occurrence as part of his everyday program. Notwithstanding his fall from a height sufficient to satisfy any ordinary person, and to hold him for a while brooding upon the consequences of the incident, this Chinaman went away with little more than a bruised thigh to remind him of his exploit. He was a Chinaman. No wonder that his nationals dominate the far east.

HOW LIFE WAS STAYED AT CORONATION.

London Daily Graphic.

The sandwiches with which the peeresses fortified themselves during their long wait in the abbey last Saturday, were worthy of the occasion. Twelve little squares of chicken cream were packed into an extremely pretty box ornamented with the silver monogram "E. R." The variety of silver and gold topped flasks used by both peers and peeresses was worthy of notice, though the surreptitious manner in which these flasks were conveyed to the mouth rendered observation of them difficult. As a general rule the gentlemen held theirs as well as they could in the hollow of their hand, while the ladies covered them up far more effectively in dainty little pocket handkerchiefs.

MR. SANTLEY'S FIFTY YEARS OF SONG.

London Daily Chronicle.

Rarely, if ever, has it fallen to the lot of a singer to celebrate his jubilee as a public vocalist with all his power and charm practically unimpaired. Yet Mr. Charles Santley is to-day as well come to all lovers of music as he was fifty years ago. He won his way to a personality which has done much to elevate and ennoble the profession which he still adorns. How great he was in opera the younger generation can guess from the brilliant renderings from the works of Handel which have marked his later years. Mr. Santley is still the greatest English baritone, and his fifty years of achievement entitle him to the gratitude of all his countrymen.

If you are not yet a user of Malt Breakfast Food, give it a trial at once; it will give you new thoughts and ideas about cereal foods. Malt Breakfast Food is an absolutely perfect form of nourishment for body and brain, the most economical for the family. One package makes 25 meals; it is as cheap as the commonest oatmeal and far more healthful. Do not be induced to buy foods simply because you are told a bulky package is the most economical for the health of your family, Malt Breakfast Food must be your choice. Grocers everywhere.

The Cheerful Face. Next to the sunlight of heaven is the cheerful face. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mists and shadows into the beautiful, bright and warm within. A host of evil passions may lurk around the door, but they never enter and abide there. The cheerful face will put them to shame and flight.

Elastic Stockings. Dirt is always unhealthy, so it should not be tolerated even in an elastic stocking, though that is not an article that can be sent to the wash. Clean it by rubbing it with a piece of flannel, dipped in flour, heated as much as possible in the oven without browning it. Shake out the flour and repeat the process if necessary.

His Calamity. Chappie—I knelt before her and asked her to be my wife.

Chellie—And she rejected you?

Chappie—Ya-as.

Chellie—That was wough.

Chappie—Ya-as. I got my trousers bagged at the knees for nothing, bah Jovel.

PAMPHLETS FOR TOURISTS

Grand Trunk Issues New Summer Resort Publications.

Two new publications have just been issued by the publicity department of the Grand Trunk Railway System. One of them is descriptive of the charming summer resorts on the east coast of Lake Huron, including Southampton, Port Elgin, Kincardine, Goderich and Sarnia Ontario and the beaches that are reached through Port Huron, Mich. The publication is enhanced by direct reproductions in half-tone from photographs and is printed in the Loxo-type process. In addition to a description of that part of the country there is information for the lover of rod and gun, lists of hotels, with accommodation and rates, and a great deal of other data that is of interest to those who are looking for a summer playground.

The other new publication is a description written in a story-like form most interesting, and dealing with that vast wilderness embracing the region around French River. The descriptive matter takes the tourist over the northern division of the Grand Trunk to North Bay and from there across Lake Nipissing to Chaudiere Falls on the French River, which is as far as navigation by steamer can be enjoyed. The rest of the journey is made by canoe, several portages being necessary; but the scenery is so grand and so magnificent that anyone is well repaid for a visit to this charming locality.

The hunting and fishing in this comparatively virgin district is unexcelled—black bass, muskies and pickled being the most numerous of the finny tribe found here, the big fellows of the muskies species running from 20 to 30 pounds are a frequent catch. The charms of this wonderful country beyond Lake Nipissing are not all confined to the summer season—it is beautiful in August and September, and it is gorgeous in October and November. During the first two weeks of November the deer-hunting is good, and in duck-hunting season a full bag is obtainable at any time. The Waters of the streams tributary to the French river are literally alive with gamey fish of all varieties and sizes. This interesting booklet just issued by the Grand Trunk includes all information how to reach the locality, and other particulars looked for by the sportsman or tourist. Copies sent free on application to G. T. Bell, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Montreal.

Mrs. Jean Blewett, of Toronto, and Mrs. W. D. Samson, of Blenheim, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Stevens on the City of Chatham yesterday. Mrs. Blewett says that the trip down the river on the City of Chatham was one of the prettiest scenery and the ride yesterday was the pleasantest she had ever had the pleasure of enjoying. After reading the description of the Clergue Street Works at the Soo, as portrayed by the pen of Will Stevens in the columns of this G. H. J., Mrs. Blewett said that it was one of the most perfect pen pictures she had ever read.

NORTHWAY'S NEW STORE

Took up Their Quarters in the Handsome McKeough Block Yesterday.

One of the Finest Buildings in Western Ontario—Modern Equipment and Bright Interior Finishings.

Chatham is indeed an industrial centre and is known far and near as a progressive and lively business city, offering inducements for manufacturing concerns and business houses. The Maple City stands on an equal footing with any other city of its size in the province.

Chatham citizens as a rule realize this and are proud of it, but there is one thing in which they take an especial pride, probably because it is brought to their attention more than the others, and that is our splendid stores and magnificent store fronts. In this respect Chatham stands far above many of the other cities in Ontario, with the same population. This is particularly noticeable to visitors from surrounding towns and cities who, as soon as they walk down King street, are invariably struck with our handsome business houses. The new store on King street, lately erected by the McKeough's, which will be occupied by John Northway & Company, promises to be a valuable addition to Chatham in this respect, and future visitors to the Maple City will have the privilege of seeing one of the largest and finest dry goods stores in Western Ontario.

The building is situated on the McKeough estate, on one of the most favorable parts of King street. Two stores have been made into one, which has been fitted up with quarters.

12 Minutes for Lunch.

That is the average time spent in a large city restaurant by three thousand lunchers. It takes three hours to digest a fresh egg soft boiled; three hours to digest a boiled apple dumpling; three hours to digest a fresh roast beef. In fact, three hours is about the time required to digest the average twelve minute lunch. The object of the hasty lunch is to let the busy man get back to his office work. But when the brain is active, the stomach is inactive for lack of necessary blood. The natural consequence is indigestion, and indigestion opens the door to many diseases.

Indigestion is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"It is with heartfelt gratitude that I send this testimonial which I wish you to publish with my name attached," writes Mr. Willis Seay, of Washingtonville, Orange Co., N. Y. "I had stomach trouble from childhood and suffered with it more or less as I grew up. At the age of 20 I was broken down with dyspepsia. My wife finally persuaded me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets'. I took six bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of the Pleasant Pellets. I then felt so well that I stopped taking medicine. Several months have passed and I can do the hardest kind of work, can eat anything that is set before me and enjoy it. I am 27 years old and this is the first time I have ever been well."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only; or 50 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

er cut oak and the very latest of modern conveniences. It will be heated with hot air and lighted by both gas and electricity.

The Northway Company intend to almost double their stock and occupy the whole building. They will carry an especially large stock of furs and men and boys' clothing, besides their usual excellent supply of dry goods. They are moving into their new store today and will in a few days be in a position to supply all the wants of their customers.

Two Sligo Streets. Gallows Hill and Harmony Hill are the names of two streets in Sligo, Ireland.

Raleigh's Court Dress. Raleigh, when in court dress, wore an immense ruff, a "peacock belled doublet," quilted and stuffed, slashed in the body and sleeves, breeches of the same, silk stockings and shoes with gold buckles.

The Crooked Croaker. Jordan is one of the crooked rivers known. In covering a distance of sixty miles, for that is the length of a straight line drawn on the map between the sea of Galilee and the Dead sea, it runs 212 miles because of the multiplication of its windings.

Cherry Wood. Cherry is the best wood for ebonyizing; the counterfeits can only be detected by an expert.

Hairbrushes. Hairbrushes need a weekly cleaning, for which purpose use a quart of tepid water containing a tablespoonful of cloudy ammonia. Dip the bristles—not the back—several times, rinse and stand on edge to dry.

Fewer Making. Fewer making, one of England's important industries seventy years ago, has almost been abandoned. Cheap glassware and tinware have driven powder from the market.

Great Britain and Cheese. Great Britain and Ireland import about 205,000,000 pounds of cheese each year. Canada supplies about 90 per cent of the whole.

Burning Oil. If a lamp should be overturned, don't attempt to put out the fire with water, for it will simply spread it. Instead throw down flour, sand, garden earth or salt, either of which will have the desired effect.

Monster Headresses. The headresses of 1770 were so large that ladies going to balls were forced, to save their headgear, to kneel on the floors of their carriages.

Waterproof Boots. To render boots waterproof melt together a little mutton fat and beeswax and when liquid rub a little of it over the edges of the soles where the stitches are. This will render your boots quite waterproof.

Quick Shoemaking. A Lynn firm recently made a shoe in thirteen minutes.

Cracked Eggs. A cracked egg may be boiled perfectly well if before placing in boiling water it is first wrapped in oiled paper and tied with a string.

Prunes With Meat. Prunes are excellent with meat if prepared in this way: Put ordinary prunes in hot water and leave them in about five minutes, just enough to swell. Drain, sprinkle with a little bit of sugar and serve dry.

Streets of New York. If the streets of New York city were placed end to end, they would reach from Long Island sound to San Francisco bay.

SAVED HIS CAPITAL.

A Bank President Who Did Not Forget His Old Time Friend.

"Come in in the morning, and the bank will have something for you to do," said the president of a Broadway bank to a meek looking man whose hair was white and whose eyes were marked by deep crow's feet as he left the office, with a bright look of satisfaction on his face that had not been there before.

"Let me tell you a story," said the president as he motioned to me to remain. "I was living in Iowa, and three city lots composed the capital that I looked to to give me a start in business. I held on to them for a long time while working for $35 a month in a real estate office until they had advanced in value to $3,000, when I sold them to a St. Louis man."

"It was nearly 8 o'clock, and I hurried to the bank. I made out the deposit slip and laid it, with my gold and bankbook, in front of the receiving teller."

"It is closing time now," he said, "and you had better not make your deposit until morning."

"Charley," I said, for I knew him well, "that is ridiculous. It is a half minute before closing time, and I insist that you take my deposit. I don't want to be robbed of all that I have on earth before morning."

"I will fix it for you," he said as he gathered up the money and bankbook and disappeared in the vault, with them. In a minute he was back, and I was astonished at his actions.

"I continued, 'where it will be safe, and in the morning you can make the deposit if you want to.'"

"Next morning the bank's failure was announced."

"I hurried to Charley's house, which was near by, and asked him about the bank."

"Yes, it has failed and won't pay a cent," he said. "Just five minutes before you came in with your money yesterday the directors decided not to open this morning. I was told to give out no information until business hours today, and that is the reason I didn't tell you."

"Now if you had made your deposit, the money would have all gone. It did get it, and it was the foundation of my fortune. The man who was just here is that Charley and was the teller who saved my capital for me."

POULTRY POINTERS.

Pure water is more essential than clean grass.

Even though turkeys are good foragers it will not pay to let them go without proper feeding.

Everything in the rearing of young poultry depends upon their care and management at least until well feathered.

Powls inclined to fatten too easily are not good layers. The flesh they carry makes them lazy, and this never promotes laying.

Middlings make a good food for poultry, but if wet up alone it is too sticky. The better plan is to mix with bran or corn and wet with milk or scalding water.

Whitewash is better than paint on the poultry houses, for the reason that it costs less and has a purifying influence. It may be applied as often as once a month to advantage.

The properties of sunflower seed are peculiar, and a small quantity fed at the proper time will essentially aid in imparting to the plumage of adult fowls a gloss that no other grain will produce.

The average financial magnate feels that you are taking an unfair advantage when you attempt to engage him in a conversation concerning mental development.

Gentlemen!!!

You will agree with me, I think, At once when I admit That water is a splendid drink— For those who're fond of it; And yet, unless I greatly err, There may be times, old chap, When you and I, would much prefer A "Club" Old Tom night cap.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

One Brief Lament.

A gazling bull: A meadow full Of buttercups and clover.

A city chap: With gory wrap The fenceway getting over.

A stamp! A snort! A yelp, a sort Of detonating bellow;

An upward flight: A downward light. A carcass sadly mellow.

A jury then: Of countrymen, The local death appraiser.

The 'quest proceeds: The verdict reads, "He wore a tennis blazer!"

The Right Place.

"Is this where you make trouble?" asked the little man at whose elbow stood an aggressive looking woman.

"This is the marriage license bureau," answered the man behind the desk.

"That's what I meant," said the little man as he signed and reached into his pocket for $2.

Spotted.

"Oh, look at the leopards!" exclaimed her mother to little Elsie at the menagerie.

"Goodness," replied Elsie, who had never before seen a leopard, "can't they get nuthin' take the spots out?"

A Suggestion and a Hint.

Said the poor poet, "I'm quite stuck for a rhyme— For a line ending 'when you know me.'"

Said his easy going friend, who'd had money to lend, "Can't you think of the 'ten you owe me'?"

Haden't Heard It.

"Money talks," asserted Gilder-sleeve.

"I am not so sure of that," retorted Throckmorton. "It is not on speaking terms with me."

On Toast.

Meddiger—The robin is a very timid bird, isn't it?

Throckmorton—I guess so. At any rate the average restaurant cook can make it quail.

If it were as easy to do as to promise what an easy thing life would be.

"I was walking over the Fifth street bridge the other day," said a progressive citizen to The Planet this morning, "and I happened to glance over towards the Park, and the thought just struck me that that point could be made far prettier and more attractive than it is at very little cost to the city. That old dock is a public eyesore as it is, but if it were gone over and repaired what an improvement it would be. The grass, too, on the bank leading to the dock is all worn off. Why could it not be resodded. Chatham is a very fine city and we have in it some very beautiful scenery, especially along the river. One of the prettiest spots in the city is Tecumseh Park, and when this point could be made so much more attractive for such a little expenditure of money, I think it ought to be done."

BRUTAL "SPORT"

Many Horses Died From Effects of a Long Military Ride.

Brussels, Aug. 28.—The international military ride from Brussels to Ostend, a distance of 82 1/2 miles, resulted in an easy victory for the Frenchman. There were sixty-one competitors, and they started at intervals of five minutes. After passing the 62 1/2 mile point the hardest part of the ride began, and the affair developed into the severest kind of an ordeal. Many horses fell exhausted. Three of the animals dropped dead before Ostend was reached. When near Ostend the French lieutenant, Bazil, who noticed that his horse was dying, drew his revolver and blew his brains out. The only English officer in the contest, Lieutenant Gibbon, saw his mount was exhausted, and dismounted while the animal panted its life away. The scene at Ostend when the Frenchman, Lieut. Madamet, riding a Hungarian thoroughbred, came in first, was one of great enthusiasm. The horse died soon after the victory. The second, third, and fourth at the finish were all Frenchmen. Then came a Norwegian, a Dutchman and a Belgian. The time of the winner, Lieut. Madamet, for the entire distance was six hours and twenty minutes.

COUNTY COURT

Clarence Tickner was arraigned in the County Court to-day before Judge Houston on the charge of assaulting William Monck, deputy grievous bodily harm. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by Judge Houston. The date of trial was fixed for Thursday, September 4, at 11 o'clock. Clarence was released on bail—his father for $300 and himself for $500. O. L. Lewis defended and Crown Attorney H. D. Smith prosecuted.

Ephraim Monck, charged with the charge of attempted rape, pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by jury. He was given his preliminary hearing this afternoon. Adair surrendered himself to the authorities.

James Haskell, Buxton, was arraigned on the charge of attempted rape. The offense is said to have been committed December 10, 1900. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by jury. Judge Houston, after hearing the evidence of the Crown, committed Haskell for trial. Geo. H. Sayer defended and Crown Attorney H. D. Smith prosecuted.

SEA SERPENT STORY

"Chatham has got a wonderful reputation for sea serpents," said Lieut. Coltart, of the 24th Regiment, this morning while recounting some of his experiences at the London Military School this year.

"I was sitting in a room in the school one morning enjoying a quiet smoke," continued he, "when the Colonel came in and commenced talking about Chatham. He was down with me a year ago this fall and we had a few days' shooting together, and I thought I would invite him back for this season, but he didn't seem very anxious to come. Upon enquiring the reason he mentioned something about the sea serpent. Charlie Williams had seen and he actually thought that the serpent had a habit of coming out of the water and roaming all over the country."

"Who is this Williams? Is he a reliable man?" asked the Colonel.

"I answered that he lived near Tilbury," "Tilbury?" exclaimed the Colonel. "O, well, I'll come. If that man lives in Tilbury he is liable to see anything."

Nothing is meant when we say that the Colonel and the Lieutenant spent one night in Tilbury while on one of their hunting tours.

Prussian Oil

In doing its work in this province where ever introduced as thoroughly and surely as it has been doing all over the Maritime Provinces and Chatham, testifies to its universal use curing the ills that people are subject to.

Aches and Pains, Bruises and Sprains, Coughs and Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, La Grippe, Burns and Sores.

Very quickly when used as directed. Many people in London, St. Mary's, St. Thomas, Ridge-own and Chatham, testify to its wonderful curative powers and say it is the best medicine they have used in the past.

St. Joseph's Court, C. O. F., held a well attended meeting in their lodge room last evening. Bro. E. Dunn read the report of the excursion committee, which was received with much satisfaction. A vote of thanks was passed to Chairman Emery and the rest of the committee for the able manner in which the excursion was managed. Bro. Phelan, Emory and Jacques were appointed a committee to confer with the C. M. B. A. relating to matters in connection with the new parish hall. This committee will report at the next meeting.

REAL ESTATE DEAL
J. B. Kelly, has purchased the block next to the Grand Central Hotel, which was lately occupied by Robert's liquor store, and the Champion Shoe maker.

"I bought the place dirt cheap," said Mr. Kelly to The Planet. "I only paid $2,800 for it and consider it a good bargain. I intend fixing it up in a up-to-date shape, with a new front and windows, and move my millinery store from the Garner block down here."

"Do you know," continued Mr. Kelly, "I kept dry goods store here about 32 years ago and since that time it has been in many hands. Probably the best known occupant was Napoleon Trautau, who kept a shoe store here 13 years ago. It belonged to the London Loan Co. when I purchased it."

Mr. Kelly will move into his new premises in about a week.

UNWARRANTED KICK
"I notice by your report of the recent council meeting," said L. E. Tillson, of the Lake Erie, to The Planet this morning, "that Mayor Sulman had again brought up the question of the Lake Erie car shops and registered a kick against the Company."

"I often wonder if the Mayor and aldermen realize what the Lake Erie are really doing for Chatham to-day, even in the matter of employing men, who are residents of the city. It might surprise you to know that we employ more men, residents of Chatham than both the Grand Trunk and the C. P. R. put together. We have 45 employees here in Chatham, not including train crews, who also live here. These are all regular employees, living and working in Chatham for the Lake Erie. Then we have five train crews living here which means 25 more employees. The gravel train is making their headquarters here, bringing about 50 or 60 men into Chatham every night to board. The total amount in wages which we pay out to Chatham people every month amounts to between four and five thousand dollars, so you see we are of a little benefit to Chatham."

"The council, too, are getting some pretty good concessions from the Lake Erie, and are getting gravel at actual cost. Taking everything into consideration, I think the city have got a very good thing in the Lake Erie and I do not think that the council have any reason to kick."

For great Industrial Fair at Toronto, commencing on September 1st, W. E. Ripin, City Passenger Agent Grand Trunk Ry. will issue return tickets, Chatham to Toronto, from Sept. 2nd to 12th inclusive, at $5.30 each, and on Sept 8th and 10th at $3.80 each, all tickets good returning from Toronto on or before September 15.

WORLD OF SPORT

BASEBALL

The aldermen and firemen's game this afternoon is billed for 3 o'clock, and as the firemen are always on time, and the aldermen intend running again, the game will be called on time.

Frank Dennis, of the Briscos, has received a letter from the Dresden boys under fourteen years of age, asking for a game there Labor Day. This team has three places to choose from to go on Monday—have been asked by Dresden, Bothwell and Tilbury—and the boys are as yet undecided.

The Aberdeens defeated the Bankers yesterday by a score of 19 to 16. The Bankers were rather crippled, having to pick up three or four players to make up a nine. Both pitchers were hit hard at times, but Robert received the better support. Hamilton was quite wild, giving eleven passes to first. Robert issued five passes but struck out more than Hamilton. The game was altogether too one-sided up to the ninth, when the Bankers took a hitting spree, assisted by a number of errors, and eight runs. Ald. G. G. Taylor was umpire and was not a bit partial to either side. The score was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Aberdeens	4	3	0	2	2	0	2	4	19	7	5
Bankers	1	0	4	0	0	0	3	8	16	11	10

Umpire—G. G. Taylor.

RUBBING IT IN.
The Tilbury Times this week says: Three-quarters of a dozen blond school boys from Chatham—calling themselves the Aberdeens and advertised as the county champions—arrived here Friday afternoon and played an alleged game of baseball—the third similar fiasco here the past month. They could neither pitch, throw, catch or field, and did not appear to know even the first principles of the game—while a 86 crowd sat around in the grass waiting for the game to begin. The following was the score up to the third innings, when even the scorers quit in disgust:

Tilbury	0	5	10	15

YACHTING
BERT'S BAD DREAM.
The Blenheim Tribune in its issue of yesterday says:

Capt. Bert Jones came out this evening to dream of to-morrow's race, and to arrange for a celebration after he has sailed to victory.—Chatham Planet, Aug. 20.

Mr. Jones must have had a rude awakening from his dream on the following day; or perhaps he indulged in his dream while the Eric B. sailed to victory. The celebration, however, was held at Mr. Bonnell's, and although an impromptu one, was none the less enjoyable. It was enlivened by a serenade from the Blenheim band.

The winging of the cap by the Eric B. calls to mind the noteworthy fact that all the prizes given for yacht races at the Eau for the past ten years, that have been worth having, have been won by Blenheim boats.

BACK TO THE FARM.

A Newspaper's Moralizing on Recent Action of Prof. Sharpe, of Queen's.

The Temiskaming district seems to be attracting the right kind of settlers. Professor Sharpe of Queen's having read his Georgics to advantage, has taken up three hundred and twenty acres, and will show the natives what science and hard work can do with rich, arable land. The professor is already an influence. He is agitating for good roads and experimental farms.

The fact that a college professor should abandon the ease and dignity of an academic chair for toil of the farm should do much to ennoble the ancient and honorable calling of husbandry. A university education too often results in a contempt for manual labor. Professor Sharpe's action should apprise all supercilious, loitering, ill-fingered graduates that all labor is honest and dignified, and that education has not misused its mark if it but teaches a man to plow a straight furrow. Professor Sharpe is not the only man of his kind who has found comfort in agriculture. It is as old as many years ago.

A splendid Latinist of Toronto University cheerfully vacated his professoriate and went out to his farm in Blanchard to put into practice what Cicero has taught him about planting orchards and Virgil about farming matters in general. If Professor Sharpe needs any extraneous consolation for what he has done, he will remember that Cato next to the soil in his old age, that Horace wrote some of his finest poetry from the Sabine farm, that Cicinnatus was raised from the plow to a dictatorship, and that rich and learned men in all ages have gratified a very healthy human instinct by taking up farms where they could see things grow, hear what nature is saying, and pluck a gentle philosophy from their quiet surroundings.

As a man who all his life had dealt with books, the professor has probably concluded that there is too much reading and too little original thinking. The farmer always has time for meditation, sowing, reaping, or gleaning, and his meditation is usually of that calm, imperturbable sort which illumines the lessons of life, and at the same time compensates for them. One of the things that are bred in the country, though it takes the friction of the city to make them give out the sparks we call philosophy and literature.

Professor Sharpe's course is a challenge to university men to get back to first principles. Fortunately the idea that a university education puts a man above the necessities of business, is being overcome. The learned professions are overcrowded, and the rewards are not nearly as great as may be had in the industrial departments. The multiplication of technical schools and physical, biological, and geological laboratories indicate that the university man is beginning to know where his bread is buttered. In another twenty years we may expect to see the Master of Arts, the Doctor of Philosophy, and such preceding straight from the convocation hall of his Alma Mater to the old farm that gave him his start. He will understand that an education in the humanities—if he has elected to take that course—is given to him to broaden his vision and make him contented wherever his lot may be cast. He will be fortified, too, by the principles of political economy, which teach that, in the last resort, everything good and useful for society comes from the soil. We look forward to a time when the Northwest Territories will be positively infested with B.A.'s.

Still, the curious may ask what led Prof. Sharpe to desert the studios calm of the college quadrangle for a tabernacle in the wilderness. One answer is that universities no longer provide a studious calm. They demand stentorian advertising from their professors, or their university life is forgotten. Another is that Prof. Sharpe, having dealt out philosophy all his life to others, wants now to keep a little for himself. Such a treasure you may hoard in the country, but not on the lecturer's rostrum. Prof. Sharpe will find in the Temiskaming the hard work, the studios calm, and those exceptional opportunities for insight and insight which develop every side of a man's nature.—Toronto Star.

Ge-Nome Biological Station.

The Government biological station at Georgian Bay, Penetanguishene, is now in active operation. Recent additions to the equipment have made this station one of the best scientific schools on the continent, and a varied scheme of investigation is being entered into by the staff, including experiments with a view to improving artificial methods of hatching bass and pickerel in special reserves. Also a classification of the fishes of Georgian Bay, and a study of the food upon which they live. Prof. C. Wright of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, is making a hydrographic survey of the waters in the vicinity, and Prof. W. J. Loudon, of Toronto University, will make daily observations on the meteorology of the district, which will be communicated to the Government observatory at Toronto. Dr. Amyot, provincial bacteriologist, will conduct bacteriological researches in connection with the water in the locality, and a number of junior workers are to carry on other lines of investigation. Accordingly it is expected that some very valuable work will be accomplished this season.

This Year's Trees.

Trees planted this spring will now require a little attention. Bedford's advice is to water them with a hose that is, cultivate about them to prevent a crust from forming which would hasten the evaporation of soil moisture, and also keep down weeds and grass. Trees that are newly set out have no chance against grass and weeds.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

New Sissors Are Made.
Though no complexities are involved in the making of scissors or much skill required, yet the process of manufacture is very interesting. They are forged from good bar steel heated to redness, each blade being cut off with sufficient metal to form the shank, or that destined to become the cutting part, and bow, or that which later on is fashioned into the holding portion. For the bow a small hole is punched, and this is afterward expanded to the required size by hammering it on a conical anvil, after which both shank and bow are filed into a more perfect shape and the hole bored in the middle for the rivet. The blades are next ground and the handles filed smooth and burnished with oil and emery, after which the pairs are fitted together and tested as to their easy working.

They are not yet finished, however; they have to undergo hardening and tempering and be again adjusted, after which they are finally put together again and polished for the third time. In comparing the edges of knives and sissors it will be noticed, of course, that the latter are not in any way so sharply ground as the former, and that in cutting sissors crush and bruise more than knives.

Eating Nightingales.

As exemplifying the pitch to which Roman epicureanism was carried and indicative of a truly barbaric nature, a dish consisting of the tongue alone of some thousands of the favorite song of the air was requisitioned at immense cost to satisfy the inordinate cravings of one of the emperors. One can hardly avoid the reflection that such a being must have been extremely untimely. The liver of a capon steeped in milk was thought a great delicacy, and of solid meat pork appears to have been most relished. The stanch Roman who did not take his pleasure homeopathically reclined during dinner on a luxurious couch, his head resting on his left elbow, supported by cushions. Suetonius draws attention to a superb apartment erected by the extravagant Nero, in which his meals were partaken, constructed like a theater, with shifting scenes changing with every course.

The Lightninglike Loon.

The loon is the quickest living creature. A loon that has had experience can dodge the flash of a gun. You see a loon on a lake, but long before you see him he sees you and has taken a mental inventory of you and your belongings. If you have no gun, you may perhaps approach within 100 yards before he laughs at you with that horrid shriek which gives him his name and disappears under the water, but show a gun and he does not stop to laugh—he goes instant. When in a sportive mood, he sometimes waits until he sees you about ready to fire, when, at the flash, he dives, and you see the shot splatter the water where he has just gone down.

CHATS WITH THE COBBLER.

The "Orator of Imperialism" as seen through the spectacles of the London Daily Mail.

The London Daily Mail of June 21 published the following article on Canada's Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, under the heading, "The Orator of Imperialism."

A man of foreign race teaching loyalty to a British people beyond the seas, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a unique figure now, as he was at the Diamond Jubilee. His career and picturesque place in the Empire have a new significance in the light of what has happened during the last three years. May we hope that, after a war so bitter, men of different blood and temperament will agree to forget? Is it possible that a gallant and free race can learn to be zealous for the Empire which has crushed it in the field and now absorbs it? Sir Wilfrid Laurier comes among us to-day, and the doubt is as to whether upon his mind, the orator of imperialism, his people still speak their own tongue and keep their own ideals. But more than any other statesman of the British colonies, he has fired the passion of Empire.

In his 61st year, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is full of animation and magnetism. Tall, with a handsome presence and a strongly intellectual face, he is less like a Frenchman or an actor than his likeness suggest. The clean-shaven face, clear and penetrating eyes, firm lips, powerful shoulders and straight neck suggest command. His eyes are blue and set wide apart, his hair iron-grey and long. The brow, high, broad, masterful, gives gravity to a mien always dignified, yet the features in repose do not convey a true idea of the man. One rare characteristic, which Mr. Gladstone had in the same way, is a sweet, magical smile. In Sir Wilfrid Laurier it reveals an amiable character, and somehow suggests his far from robust health. It is the face of an orator unmistakably; but, as to his race, you would say a Scot of the type of Christopher North. Only a keen ear can detect the French accent. He is singularly polished and urbane, with an easy bearing.

A Canadian writer who knows him well says that at heart Sir Wilfrid Laurier is probably less of a fighter than any other man in Canadian public life. He prefers to win all his victories by the arts of peace. A personal attack upon himself wounds him to the heart, but it does not move him to recrimination in kind, far less to vengeance. He has hardly ever been known even in debate to utter a bitter word, although two years ago his supporters goaded him to make an onslaught upon the Opposition leader, Sir Charles Tupper. The Premier undertook it reluctantly; he sat down in a highly-strung state, immediately left the House, and did not return for three days. "Laurier," explained one of his Cabinet afterwards, "cannot bear to make an enemy."

That is one of the secrets of his popularity. It helps to explain how he, a Roman Catholic and a Frenchman, has so largely and devotedly followed in Methodist and Presbyterian Ontario as his great predecessor, Sir John Macdonald.

What is the motive of his patriotism? Why did he propose a piece of tariff legislation so entirely generous, and why has he nursed the sentiment which moved Canadians of both races to pour out their blood in South Africa so eagerly? Sir Wilfrid Laurier once answered that question himself in an eloquent speech at Montreal. "I am of French origin, as you all know," he said. "The blood flows in my veins that great nation which existed in turn the admiration, the love, the pity and the hatred of Europe, but never its indifference. But though I am proud of my French origin, I love England, and I love British institutions. And why? Because under the banner of St. George my fellow-countrymen and myself of French origin have found far greater freedom than we could ever have hoped for had we remained subject to France."

"If I wanted examples and precepts of art I would go to France. If I wanted philosophical counsel I would go to Germany. But for matters of government, for all economic principles, I would go to the land of migration, the old England. It is from that land that I take my theory."

"I want," he said on another occasion, "no little Republic of San Marino, no principality of Monaco. My ambition is to be a citizen of a great Empire."

The Premier of Canada came to power with the Liberal party after thirteen years in Opposition, at a time when the mood of the whole nation was attuned to his optimism and broad outlook.

Till then he was little known in England, but he had made his personal entry into the political stage. Trained for the Bar, he went into Parliament in 1871. Just after the codification of the British North America Act, he was chosen as a member of the House of Commons on a larger destiny. Louis Frechette, the poet laureate of the French race in Canada, has described his maiden speech, which set every one of his hearers quivering, "Quel est cet étranger?"

"The effect was magical. I can almost imagine that I still hear the thunders of applause which shook the galleries when, at the close of a graphic passage, in his speech, in which he had made the long, sad column of our fellow-countrymen emigrating to the United States file slowly past before the very eyes of his hearers, the orator hurled at the government of the day his scathing allusion to the celebrated salute of the doomed gladiators of ancient Rome—'Ave Caesar, morituri te salutant.'"

In five years he was a Cabinet Minister, and when Edward Blake relinquished the Liberal leadership there was no question as to who should take it up. What followed is in everybody's recollection. Instantly his name was world-wide, for he struck a note with which the Empire was palpitating.

Dear Sirs:—I have used a number of packages of "FORCE" since it was first introduced here. My husband and I use a package every two days. Every spoonful is an aggravation for more.

My husband is an engineer, and he takes a whole bowlful to his engine and eats it with one quart of milk. He says it makes him feel like a "young colt." I have a nursing baby—my first child—and I find it gives nourishment in abundance for both myself and baby.

We eat it by the wholesale, and I would like to buy it by the wholesale.

WHAT WISDOM DENIED US.

The Most Fatal Gift That Could Be Conferred on Mankind.

Granted the power to do it, which would be the most fatal gift that could be conferred on mankind?

Omnipotence without omniscience. An omnipotent man, with the best of intentions toward his kind, could easily wreck the universe and probably would, since, unless he knew everything, he would infallibly make some mistake which could not fail to have very terrible consequences. Next to this would be the power of foreseeing events. This would eliminate the greatest factor in human happiness, because the man who could foresee everything would have no hope. He would not only know his own fate, but that of all other human beings and also all their feelings and intentions, which, of itself alone, would make society impossible.

Equally terrible would be the power of prolonging life at will, since no man or woman would willingly die so long as life remained even tolerable. This is proved by the shocking conditions under which people now consent to live. The race would probably continue to multiply indefinitely until all the habitable portions of the globe became overcrowded. Then would commence a struggle for existence which no human imagination could portray. War would be an impossibility, since no man could kill another who did not wish to die, and humanity would reach some inconceivable climax of misery from which nothing but the intervention of a higher power could possibly release it.

It Satisfied Lincoln.

Among Lincoln's callers one morning in 1862 was a stranger seeking both personal and official assistance from the president and who brought with him some letters lauding his loyalty that bore the signature of a former governor of Maryland. Lincoln received the stranger with some warmth that was not chilled even when one of the attaches, who had overheard the conversation, interrupted to explain that the signature must have been forged, for the reason that the Marylander mentioned had been dead several years. The stranger showed guilt in every feature, but Lincoln, suffused with that pity for the luckless that was ever his, cheerily observed:

"Oh, never mind that—never mind it! This is far more interesting. I would rather get a letter from a dead man than from a live one any day."

Royal Bad Language.

The Pall Mall Gazette says it still remains a mystery how the chief English authorities in church and state ever succeeded in crowning King George I. Having come fresh from his native Hanover, the first monarch of the Brunswick dynasty was to his new subjects little better than a Melanesian from the south seas. Not a word of English could he muster, while the chief officials were almost equally ignorant of German. Latin, therefore, had to be resorted to as being the one possible medium of communication between them. A highly popular joke originated from these singular proceedings, which stated that an immense amount of bad language had passed between the king and his ministers on the great day.

The Giving of Tips.

Tips were always out of harmony with the independence and self respect of true Americans. Good pay for good work, with no unearned gratuities, in hotels, restaurants and everywhere else should be the custom. Tips are degrading both to givers and receivers, and the whole system of tipping is unsound and inexcusable. It cannot endure.

No club of any real distinction and importance permits the giving of tips within its jurisdiction, and the practice of distributing gifts for services which have been amply and even generously remunerated has no basis which is wise and wholesome. Never yet has there been an argument in apology for this abuse which was worth a moment's consideration.

About Waiters.

The old proverb that all things come to him who waits advances a very pretty and pleasant theory, but its literal interpretation makes it capable of great misconstruction, for if it is in one sense true its reverse is equally true. Nothing comes to him who waits. Nothing comes to him who waits and does no more. There is nothing in the world that is of any value that has not to be struggled for, and those who sit down and fold their hands, expecting fate and fortune to bring them what they most desire, will meet with the disappointment they deserve.

The Sense of Touch.

The sense of touch in man is most highly developed on the skin, but mucous or serous surfaces are also capable of conveying impressions. Some parts of the body are more sensitive than others and are usually devoid of hair, as the tip of the tongue, the ends of the fingers and the lips. It will be noticed that these are so situated as to keep us conveniently informed of what is going on around us.

The Inevitable Result.

Bess—And are you still doing it?

Nell—Oh, no! We haven't spoken to each other for twenty-nine days.

Catarrah Poisons and Their Remedy

The poisonous secretions from Catarrh are dangerous because they affect the stomach and bowels, giving rise to an unhealthy condition of these organs. Catarrh is the source of much ill health and was considered practically incurable until it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the medical profession that by the use of Catarrhobone any case of nasal or throat trouble can be permanently and quickly cured. Catarrhobone by this unusual merit has enlisted the support and endorsement of the most prominent medical authorities, who freely state that any one giving it a trial is sure to receive permanent benefit. Diamond Fields of India.

Diamond fields in India were known from the very earliest times. In the sacred books of India eight localities are mentioned as yielding diamonds, and of these three have been identified at the present day—Matanga (Kistna and Godavari), Pauda (Chota Nagpur) and Venn Gunga (Walraghri). The diamondiferous area of India, so far as is known, is perhaps more extensive than that of the rest of the world, and nine-tenths of the famous jewels are Indian stones.

A True Nerve Tonic

acts not so much upon the nerves themselves, as upon the digestive functions, and the abundant formation of rich, red blood. The nerves cannot be fed and strengthened by digested and assimilated food. Ferrozone's marvellous action arises from its power over the digestive and assimilative functions of the body. You take it, the blood grows richer, redder. You feel strength and vigor, digestion ceases to be noticed, for it has become good. Work is easier, for you have the strength to do it. In a short time you have health. Use Ferrozone. Sold by McCall & Co., Druggists, Chatham.

Where It Belongs.

Cooking Ham.

Ham is frequently too salt to fry without previous preparation. Put the slices in tepid water and let them stand on the back of the range to soak out the salt, not to boil, for about half an hour. Drain dry between towels, then fry in a hot spider.

When a whole ham is to be baked or boiled, let it stand overnight covered with cold water.

Children Cry for CASTORIA

Crowned Himself.

That was a curious sort of impromptu coronation in which his majesty King William IV. figured. Things did not go very well with Earl Grey's government after the second reading of the first reform bill had been carried by a majority of one in 1831, and one Friday in April they suddenly got the king to go down and prorogue parliament in person. Somebody went off to the Tower to fetch the crown, and with a scratch body of attendants his majesty drove down to the house of lords. What happened there is described in Greville's "Memoirs."

The king ought not properly to have worn the crown, never having been crowned; but when he was in the room he said to Lord Hastings, "Lord Hastings, I wear the crown; where is it?" It was brought to him, and when Lord Hastings was going to put it on his head, he said, "Nobody shall put the crown on my head but myself." He put it on and then turned to Lord Grey and said, "Now, my lord, the coronation is over."

The crown did not sit very well, we are told, but the prorogation was successfully effected.—London Chronicle.

Lincoln's Hay Crop.

A story of Abraham Lincoln would have to be older than the one below to lose its characteristic savor.

In the summer of 1857 Mr. Lincoln was sitting in his office when he was visited by one of his neighbors, an excellent farmer, but one inclined to increase the size of his crops even after harvesting. He had given on this particular morning a skillfully padded account of the hay he had put in.

"I've been cutting hay, too," remarked Mr. Lincoln.

"Why, Abe, are you farming?"

"Yes."

"What you raise?"

"Just hay."

"Good crop this year?"

"Excellent."

"How many tons?"

"Well, I don't know just how many tons, Simpson, but my men stacked all they could outdoors and then stored the rest in the barn."—Youth's Companion.

Remember the Baker.

At the court of assizes in Venice, when sentence of death is about to be passed, a man clothed in a long black robe enters the court and advancing to the bench bows profoundly to the judges, saying, "Remember the baker!" Then he bows again and retires. Here is the explanation of the custom: Three centuries ago a baker was executed at Venice for a crime of which he was not guilty. When his innocence was fully proved, the judges who had condemned him invested a sum of money, the interest on which serves to keep a lamp perpetually lighted in the palace of the doges, this being called the "lamp of expiation." In addition, their fatal mistake has for 800 years been held up as a warning to their successors on the bench when they are about to inflict the extreme penalty of the law.

An English King's Death.

William Rufus was killed by an arrow, either accidental or with murderous intent. He died in the New Forest, his body was stripped by tramps and the next day was found by a charcoal burner, who placed the naked corpse on his cart, hoping to receive a reward. On the way to Winchester the cart was upset, and the king's body fell in the mire. Covered with filth and black with charcoal, it arrived in Winchester, where it was buried in the cathedral. A few years later the tower fell and crushed the tomb, and 600 years after the Puritans rifled the grave and played football with the king's skull.

Cruikshank's "Fagin."

There is an interesting story very little known of how Cruikshank conceived his picture of Fagin, the Jew. During the time he was illustrating "Oliver Twist" he spent days traversing the east end of London in search of a face that would correspond with his conception of the character. One day while standing before a mirror in his dining room "pulling faces at himself," so to speak, for the want of something better to do, he accidentally made the features for which he was looking. The picture therefore of Fagin is really that of Cruikshank himself.

Did's Notice Improvement.

An eastern senator was riding to the capitol on an F street car when a very deaf lady, who sat next to him, asked some questions about Washington and then apologized for being deaf.

"Why don't you try electricity?" sympathetically suggested the senator.

"Well," said the lady, "I was struck by lightning last summer, but I don't see that it did me any good."

The time comes when one feels the need of the slumber of death, as at the end of a toilsome day one feels the need of another sleep.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss or waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active, healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant. Given away! Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay expense of mailing and ad. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPONGE FISHING.

Beyond a Depth of Fifty Feet They Must Be Got by Divers.

The sponge is an animal, and not a vegetable, as some state. It breathes, eats and, when in the water, is filled with mucus. The sponge in its familiar state is only a carcass. Sponges are known to grow at a depth of 200 feet and live even deeper, doubtless. At the depth of fifty feet they can be forked by an expert fisher, but at a greater depth they must be got by diving.

Sponge fishers use a glass by which sponges can be seen growing on the bottom. The instrument is in the nature of a pail with a glass bottom, attached to the bow of the boat. It is submerged, so as to steady the vision, which otherwise would be contorted by the waves. The water where sponges grow is very clear, and bottom can be seen at a great depth.

The home of the sponge fishing industry is in Greece and centuries old. A large percentage of the Mediterranean sponges come from the island of Hydra. Some, however, come from off the coast of Tripoli. A few sponges come from the faroff and of Madagascar. There are two months in each year when sponge fishing is practically abandoned. This is in August and September, the hurricane months. During the other ten months the industry flourishes.

ROYAL MUSKOKA NOW OPEN

Guests Are Arriving Daily at the New Summer Resort.

The opening of the new Royal Muskoka Hotel, on Lake Rosseau, Muskoka Lakes district, for the season of 1902, has been a source of satisfaction to the proprietors, and the reservations that have been made up to the present for accommodation at this resort assures the success of the venture. Guests are arriving daily, and by next week, hundreds of people will be enjoying the beauties of Muskoka with the advantage of sojourning in one of the best summer hotels in America.

Among the guests at the hotel now are prominent people from Buffalo, Chicago, New York, and other American cities, as well as many Canadians.

The Ontario Government, in conjunction with the Grand Trunk Railway system, is continuing the policy inaugurated last year of restocking the Muskoka lakes with parent bass. The first carload was deposited in Lake Rosseau, June 20, and a finer lot of bass have seldom been seen. Last year 10,000 fish were transplanted into the Northern Lakes with much success. The fishing this year in the Muskoka Lakes is good, some excellent catches having been made, the bass weighing from two to four pounds, and pickerel from two to eight pounds.

Another Challenge for America's Yachting Cup From Lipton Forthcoming.

London, August 28.—Discussing Sir Thomas Lipton's forthcoming challenge for the America's cup, which will be dispatched in September, the Yachting World remarks...

"To give the holders of the cup longer warning would be to present them with additional opportunities for preparing their defense."

Then, confirming the Associated Press despatches regarding the forwardness of Sir Thomas Lipton's preparations, the Yachting World says: "When the challenge is officially announced, it will surprise most people to find how far forward the arrangements really are."

The Yachting World concludes its comment as follows: "Now that he has entered his third year of work for America's cup honors, Sir Thomas may proceed assured that all sportsmen in Great Britain are with him."

FALL TERM

Miss Hillman, Teacher of Piano, wishes to announce that she will begin the fall term Tuesday, Sept. 2nd. Very special attention paid to students who wish to take the Toronto College of Music examinations, which are held in Chatham in June of each year.

Out of a mixed class of nine piano students examined by Mr. Welman, of the Toronto College, this year all were successful, six having passed with honors. Miss May VonGuten obtained the highest number of marks, which was equal to the highest obtained by any student taking the examinations.

The theory (Senior Rudiment) class is an important branch of the work. This class is conducted one hour each week, free. Studio, Conservatory of Music.

Ex-County Commissioner Dillon Say Our Mineral Baths Eclipse All Others.

"Very heartily do I congratulate Chatham on her splendid mineral baths," said ex-County Commissioner Thomas Dillon, of Bothwell, Chatham with The Planet. "I think you have here the finest mineral spring in the country."

Mr. Dillon speaks as one having authority. For some time past, he has been personally testing the healing properties of the various springs and his tribute to the Maple City is most eulogistic.

"I first visited the St. Catharines springs," said Mr. Dillon, "and found water very fair and possessing many fine qualities. London, my next visiting place, has similar advantages, with possibly more sulphur in the water. Sandwich is much the same, and Fort Wayne, Michigan, is rather better."

"But when I reached Mount Clemens I thought I had secured the best—until I came here to Chatham. And I think Chatham has them all beaten. The water is, perhaps, not as salty as that of Mount Clemens, but undoubtedly contains more sulphur, and certainly to my mind, is more efficacious."

"The accommodation here in Chatham is excellent, as is also the attendance and, in a word, I prefer the Chatham waters to any I have tested."

OLD CASE

A Young Man on Trial Upon Charge Preferred Almost a Year Ago.

Walter Chapman appeared to stand trial on the charge of stealing $14 from William Neill, last September. When Officer Dezalia went to arrest Chapman last fall, a day or so after the offense was alleged to have been committed, Chapman escaped by jumping out of the window. He returned to Chatham last March and was arrested by P. C. Darr. The witness Neill was missing, and Chapman was released on his promise to return for trial when wanted, as he desired to return to his work in Walkerville. Neill never put in an appearance till this week. Meanwhile, Chapman had returned from Windsor, and is now engaged waiting for John Pigott & Sons. Neill was the first witness. He said he had come to Chatham on Sunday, and met Chapman. Neill was a stranger and furnished the money for himself and Chapman to get drunk. They went into a shed to sleep off the effects of the whiskey. He woke up after a while to find Chapman's hand in his pockets. He asked his companion what he wanted and Chapman said to keep quiet. The next thing Neill knew he was in the hands of a policeman. At the police station $13 in money and a razor were missing.

Neill told O. L. Lewis, counsel for the defense, that his home was in Chatham, Jeanette's Creek and Tilbury. Henry Darr testified that he had gathered in Neill about two o'clock in the morning, asleep in a shed on Dynamic Alley.

Chas. Hadley and John Pigott both spoke highly of Chapman's character as a workman. Chas. Hadley said he was the best man they had ever had and that he would trust him with $10,000.

The evidence of Chapman's mother and stepfather were taken. Mrs. Chapman is an invalid and her evidence had to be taken at home. It was merely corroborative of Chapman's story, that he had gone to work at five o'clock.

The case was adjourned till after dinner. Roman Nolan was also tried on the charge of stealing a trunk and clothes, the property of Juliette Lang. The Lang woman said that she bedded with Nolan from April 1st to June 1st and hadn't paid any board. Then Nolan had moved to Windsor and sold her trunk.

This case was also adjourned.
