SULZER'S BEST FRIEND IS NOW LODGED IN JAIL

He Expressed Contempt to the New York State Assembly--Consequently He May Stay in Jail For Indefinite Period.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Governor Sulzer's personal friend and special grant investigator, James C. Garrison, slept last night in a cell of the Albany county penitentiary. He was remanded to that institution by the sergeant-at-arms of the state assembly for refusing to answer questions put to him by the speaker following arrest on a charge of contempt.

W. P. Kellett Had Row In Galt on Thursday

Mr. W. P. Kellett of the L. E. and X. Ry. was proceeded against in Galt yesterday afternoon by a Galt police officer as he was giving instructions to a number of men who were at work putting in a diamond crossing over the Grand Valley Ry. tracks in Galt.

SCORCHING GIVEN TO THE MINISTERS

They Grow Musty in Social Service Work and Fail Completely.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19.—"Social service is no profession for a jilted girl or a broken-hearted widow to turn to in the hope of forgetting her heart affairs," declared Miss Neufeld of the Toronto Neighborhood House to the Winnipeg Women's Press Club last evening.

Disaster at the Soo.

SAULT STE MARIE, Sept. 19.—Disaster befell one of the mammoth ore unloaders of the Lake Superior Corporation this morning incurring a loss of about $100,000. It is surmised that the unloader ran from its tracks in a similar fashion to one at the New Ontario dock which was blown down recently.

Corner Stone Ceremony For The New Post Office Is Now Under Way

It is hoped to have the foundation stone of Brantford's new public building laid some time in October, and in this connection Mr. Cockshutt, member for Brantford, urged the Minister of Public Works to perform the ceremony.

BRANTFORD MILK SUPPLY IS SCORED SEVERELY BY DOCTORS. That the Brant County Medical Association, realizing the deplorable condition of the milk retailing in the city and county, this being responsible for so much disease and death, especially among children, urge the proper authorities to take immediate action to improve the supply by enforcing the testing of all dairy cows for tuberculosis.

BLACK HANDER MAKES ATTEMPT

British Knight is Told to Deposit Cheque or Forfeit Life.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A London cable says: A Black Hand message signed "John Henry Bebb, bart. M.P. for the Romford division of Essex, and a prominent director of the London and Southwestern Bank, at his home, Park House, Blake Hall road, Waukeston, Essex, has been arrested by the London police on the morning of September 20. The letter, which is written in a good, firm hand, threatens death if the command is not obeyed and dire disaster if the communication is sent to Scotland Yard.

THIS MAN'S WIFE SURELY A BURDEN

Mrs. Lizzie Goin Weighs 750 Pounds - A St. Louis Case.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Her husband, three ushers, two baggage-men, and a large freight truck, were required to help the stoutest woman who ever passed through St. Louis, to board a train here last night. She was Mrs. Lizzie Goin, and, according to her husband, tips the beam at 750 pounds.

Golf Tournay

BROOKLINE, Sept. 19.—At the International golf tournay this morning the going was very heavy and both Ray and Vardon started poorly. Ray pulled his second shot into the bushes behind his first green and on the third hole he was trapped twice. He played fair golf from there on to the turn, going out in 41.

NEW NURSES' HOME FORMALLY OPENED

Ladies of the Women's Hospital Aid Greatly Pleased With Fine New Building Which They Are Presenting to the City.

With smile wreathed faces the executive and members of the Ladies Hospital Aid greeted a throng of citizens this afternoon upon the occasion of the formal opening of the Nurses Home. A feeling of radiance and satisfaction over a noble purpose at last achieved, permeated the entire gathering and very naturally so for the painstaking work of many years stood forth as a delightful illustration of what faith, untiring work, and executive ability can accomplish.

Fire At Pleasant Ridge Caused $5,000 Loss

Yesterday afternoon a disastrous fire broke out in a barn on the farm of George Mordue at Pleasant Ridge and completely destroyed the building and nearly all of his grain crop.

Joy Club

Around a blazing bon-fire in Mohawk Park, the members of the Joy Club of this city spent a very pleasant few hours, last night, an old-fashioned corn roast, being a feature of the evening's entertainment. The night proved to be an ideal one for such an event and those in attendance put the roasted corn away in real lively fashion. Other gambles added pleasure to the occasion, after which games were indulged in, causing the hours to slip by much too quickly. It was certainly a big night for the Joy Club.

Hotelkeepers End Session.
WINNIPEG, Sept. 19.—The Dominion Hotelkeepers' Association decided yesterday afternoon to meet in Toronto next year, probably during the May Woodbine meet.

Mr. T. Ryan of Toronto urged that it would give strength and prestige to their cause to hold a convention in the Queen City. It was the home of the Dominion Alliance "and all the faddists." It would be a sore thing for their enemies in Ontario.
Mr. George Wright, Toronto, was re-elected president, R. Roydon, Winnipeg, first vice-president.
Stabbed by Companion.
KINGSTON, Sept. 19.—Alex. MacGregor, a small boy, was stabbed in the abdomen with a butcher knife in the hands of a companion and only saved from death by the coat and vest he was wearing. A lad named Mitchell did the stabbing, which occurred in a quarrel. The police have not been asked to take action.

COUNTESS TARNOWSKA TO WED SOLICITOR

It is reported at Rome that the Countess Tarnowska, who is serving an eight year sentence for murdering her husband, who had insured his life in her favor, will be released from prison, that she will marry a Milanese solicitor.
It is further said that after her marriage the Countess will live in England.

No Club for Lady Cop
In Chicago where they have ten women police, the suffragist leaders asked that every appointee have the following qualifications:
You must be "husky."
She must have nerve.
She must have had experience in social service.
She must understand young people.
She must have common sense.
She must have ideals.
All the suffragists agreed that she should have a star. The more militant believed she should carry a revolver, but none took kindly to the idea of a policewoman swinging a club.

BORDEN'S HALIFAX SPEECH.

Premier Borden's concise and thoughtful speech recently delivered at Halifax on the navy issue has rightly attracted the attention of all thinking men on both sides of the Atlantic no matter what their politics. Here are two extracts worthy of special emphasis:

"In 1909 public opinion became aroused, and the history of Mr. Foster's resolution is of common knowledge. Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved an amendment committing the country to the establishment of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial Navy, along the lines submitted by the Admiralty at the last Imperial Conference, which made it a first condition that the naval forces of the whole Empire should be under one command and that the distribution of ships, in the best manner to resist attack and to defend the Empire at Large, whether it be the British Isles or the Dominions beyond the seas, should be under one control. The Naval Service Act of 1910 embodies provisions which contemplated the separation of Canadian naval forces from those of the Empire and their neutrality in time of war. Sir Wilfrid Laurier distinctly admitted that except as the first and final act of separation, Canada cannot remain within the Empire and be neutral while the rest of the Empire is fighting for its existence. Such a proposal is not less impossible than humiliating. We voiced our objections to the measure and made them known to the country."

"As I took occasion to say last year in England—Canada will not be an 'adjunct' even of the British Empire, but we have no desire to force the pace unduly. We know that we must creep before we walk. Those whom these questions concern must always reckon with an inborn feeling in the Canadian breast that a British subject living in this Dominion must ultimately have as potent a voice in the government and guidance of this world-wide Empire as a British subject living in the United Kingdom. Whether our home is in the British Islands or in Canada we must be equals before the King. The full privileges as well as the full duties and responsibilities of citizenship are the right of the Canadian people."

"Manly words, those spoken with the grasp of a true statesman. VISIT OF HON. MR. ROGERS. It will be noticed that Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M. P., has notified Mayor Hartman that he has induced Hon. Mr. Rogers, Dominion Minister of Public Works to consent to lay the corner stone of Brantford's new public building. The event should be made thoroughly non-political. Grits as well as Tories have to help pay for Government structures and Grits as well as Tories share in the benefits and advantages of Customs, Inland Revenue and Postal business transacted under proper and commodious conditions. Mr. Rogers when approached by the member for Brantford regarding the necessities of the case, was quick to recognize them and to take prompt action with the result that a splendid pile is now under way. All classes of citizens can heartily afford to thank him for that and to join in a warm welcome. They will find Mr. Rogers a most affable and pleasing man whom it is a pleasure for anyone to meet.

THE ANCIENT AND HONORABLE GAME.
 John Bull has had lately to bow to the supremacy of Uncle Sam at the Olympic games, at polo and at tennis, but it looks as if he still produces the master players at the ancient and honorable game of golf. At the annual open tournament now in progress in the United States, three Old Countrymen, Vardon, Reid and Ray, have been doing some remarkable things, and smashing course records to smithereens.

"It is the habit of the uninitiated to sneer at golf as a trifling and almost unmanly pastime, but such critics do not know what they are talking about. In reality, no diversion calls for more skill, keener judgment, steadier nerve and physical stamina. Take the contest now waging across the border. Each player travels a distance of seven miles, that is if the ball continually travelled in a straight line, which it doesn't, so that the distance is in reality more than that named. In that distance the player has to negotiate thirty-six small holes hundreds of yards apart, and with many natural and artificial obstacles in the way. For instance, Braid, the other day, drove his ball into a pond, and from out the water landed it on the green and holed out in three strokes. On another occasion he lofted through the branches of an overhanging tree at what was regarded as an impossible angle, and once more got there. For Vardon and Reid to have yesterday turned in scores of 147, means that each man went the distance of seven miles and more, at a cost of an average of a trifle over four strokes for each hole, while Braid on his way back was doing a little better than the four figure. Let any doubting Thomas figure up what that means, and he will come to realize the possibilities and tense exertions of this sport. Golf is believed to have been originated by the Flemish in the fifteenth century. It was taken up by the Scotch four centuries ago, and to that people in reality belongs its development in present form. To-day, it has devoted all over the world, and has a monetary investment in grounds and so on, many times the extent of sums spent on cricket, baseball and all other pastimes combined. It is of interest to note that Brantford established the first golf club in Ontario, and is still at it, only more so.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Chancellor Lloyd George has made a sudden and unexpected return to London from the Continent. Maybe he wants to get one more glimpse of Mrs. Pankhurst before she leaves for the States.

Somebody in Chicago has evolved a model dress of which it is claimed "You can go as far as you like with this gown." Well, aren't the dear things doing that with all of 'em, anyway?

When it comes to Sir George Richardson, a British General, formally accepting an offer to command the Ulster volunteer forces, the situation in Ireland certainly presents a most disquieting appearance. The Toronto Globe heads a leading editorial with the query: "Is Premier Borden Muddled?" Very likely, if he has been reading Globe editorials on the navy issue, and endeavored to get at what the organ is driving at. They are doing some internal fixing up in that splendid and commodious structure, the Court House. A visit there serves to still further establish what Brantford doesn't possess in the shape of an alleged city hall.

Up in Guelph, the Fall fair has met with the usual annual baptism. Reminds one of the time when the moment the bills went up announcing the dates of the Southern Fair, the elements took note of the same, and saved up a deluge accordingly. Meanwhile, what is the use of places of the size of Guelph and Brantford holding fairs anyway? The village of Burford some time ago secured the Brantford hoodoo, and has since made an excellent fist of it. The truth of the matter is that for city fairs, patrons expect an expensive list of vaudeville and other attractions. In connection with town and village fairs they don't; just attend largely to meet old acquaintances and have a good friendly time, although, as in the case of Burford, the excellent display departments are kept at a high mark, and there are true fair diversions. The latter are much better than wan girls in tights and trapeze thrillers.

HIS WAS THE BETTER HAND.
 He had just returned from a trip to Europe and was telling his adventures. "And above all," he said, "I actually had the distinguished honor of playing whist with a king." The man in the back had listened in silence up to this point, and now his lip curled scornfully as he replied: "That's nothing; I once played with four kings." "Really?" "Yes. Four kings and an ace."

THE STAMPS NEEDED.
 "Ah! I'm glad to get this sonnet!" exclaimed the editor. "Has it any merit?" asked his assistant. "Not at all; but a stamp was just what I needed. The poet sends two."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

POUL ACCIDENT.
 "Her French pronunciation is fearful and wonderful." "Yes, at the breakfast table this morning she gazed soulfully at her poached egg and murmured: 'Isn't it chick!'"—Lippincott's Magazine.

THE NEW EUGENICS.
 Madege—"Did Charlie ask your father last night?" Marjorie—"No; he forgot to bring his income tax receipt."—Fawn Topics.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.
 A Barbarous Joke.
 St. Thomas Times: One of the St. Thomas post office employees is suffering from an attack of the shingles. While sympathizing with him in his sore affliction we cannot resist the temptation to suggest that he should try paroid roofing.

Second Notable Event.
 Springfield Republican: The dedication of the palace of peace at The Hague may fairly be called the most notable event of its kind since the building of the temple of Janus, which was a temple of peace whenever there did not happen to be a war.

Rear-End Collisions.
 New York Sun: Whether on the unfortunate New England lines or on any other railway a rear-end collision is inexplicable and indefensible on any theory of train operation that includes reasonable discipline and intelligent regulations. No assumed public demand for speed and no clerical record of train arrivals can excuse or condone a rear-end collision.

Afraid of Walking.
 Hamilton Spectator: There are many of us who must plead guilty to the arraignment of General Janus, Ian Hamilton. The doughty warrior speaks contemptuously of the legs of the members of the city militia and rids himself of this immortal observation: "They suffer from the prevailing Canadian habit of preferring any other mode of locomotion to making an appeal to their legs, whose chief function seems very often to consist in standing in the street waiting for a tramcar."

Ideas About Poker Upset.
 Springfield Republican: Mr. Jerome's acquittal and the court's apology to him will satisfy the national pride, which has been cruelly lacerated by the attack upon poker in the Canadian jurisdiction. Mr. Jerome's own definition of poker as not a game of chance but as something based on the doctrine of probabilities and played in accordance with the integrals of differential calculus should become immortal. It upsets our own ideas of poker amazingly.

Are the English Tactless.
 Boston Globe: Why do people persist in calling the English tactless? Take the example of our latest distinguished visitor from John Bull's island, Lord Haldane, Lord High Chancellor, Facing a squad of newspaper interviewers in New York, did he bluster? Was he blunt? Listen to him and see: "It is as important for me to meet you as for you to meet me. I have been anxious to tell you how much I like your methods and the vigor that I find not only in your newspapers but in your literature and most phases of American life. For years I have studied the opinions of your great Chief Justice Marshall, and I am convinced that the Harvard Law School is a model for the world."

Poor Man!
 "Ma'am, can you do something for a sufferer from the war in the Balkans?" "In what manner did you suffer?" "I was a proof reader on a daily paper."

BLEW UP HOUSE WITH DYNAMITE
 Terrible Deed of Insane Man—Killed Two and Injured One.
 (Canadian Press Despatch) BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 19.—In a demoniacal fit of insanity, Mack Hurst, 50 years old, a stone mason, blew up his home with dynamite this morning, killing himself and one daughter, fatally wounding two other daughters and demolishing the house. Mrs. Hurst, in some remarkable manner escaped.

She says that the man awoke the family at 2 o'clock and told them to gather in his bedroom. After they had all entered he closed and locked the door, and spoke only these five words: "We will all die together." Then he picked up a stick of dynamite which was lying on the floor near him and threw it under the bed. There was a deafening roar, more until she came to consciousness at the home of a neighbor nearly an hour later. The noise of the explosion awoke the whole city. Police and firemen hastened to the scene at once and began a search of the ruins. The bodies of Hurst and his dead daughter were found in a mass of debris at the rear of the home. The other two daughters were in another part of the ruins. Both were unconscious, and it was sometime before they were revived. Neither was able to tell anything of the occurrence.

The shock of the explosion wrecked the house, and was felt in the whole immediate vicinity. Hurst, who was a stone mason, but who had not been working for some time, had been acting strangely of late, and an inquisitorial body had declared him insane. It was not thought, however, that his insanity was of a violent kind, and no preparations for his custody had been made. It is supposed that he suddenly became worse, and while in a frenzy committed the act.

British Champions.
 MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—Miss Muriel Bodd, holder of this year's open golf championship in Great Britain, and Miss Mabel Harrison, Irish champion for 1910, 1911 and 1912, have arrived here to play in the Canadian women's championship tournament, beginning at Dixie on September 29.

Both ladies will visit Ottawa, Toronto, and Hamilton and after the championships will play at Wilmington, Delaware, in the American ladies' golf tournament, as members of a team representing Greater Britain.

Often The Case.
 "And a very suitable bride for you, too, old chap."
 "Why?"
 "Why, you say she has brains enough for two."—London Opinion.
 Grover—"Wouldn't you like some horse-radish?"
 Mrs. Newlywed—"Merely, no! We don't keep a horse!"—Judge.

NURSES' HOME IS FORMALLY OPENED
 The two former are furnished in mahogany with white wicker furniture and the windows are draped with cretonne curtains. Pretty rugs are on the floors. The quarters for the Assistant Superintendent are furnished in gum wood with kindred furniture. There is a large reception room with blue and brown tones. The reading room is upholstered in brown. In this spacious apartment the nurses can receive their friends and hold receptions, etc., during leisure hours. A large sun parlor opens off from it. They also possess a dining room and kitchen in place of the small apartment which for years has been used at meal times. On the ground floor there is a trunk room and lecture room, together with another large vacant room to be used as an assembly hall later on. There are five bathrooms with tiled floors and marble partitions, and shower baths are also included. The famous battleship Inoleum so extensively used by the best ships of all lines, covers the floors. Altogether, the quarters are such as women engaged in arduous and often trying work, richly deserve, and in addition, will relieve the pressure on the present old building. The officers and executive of the Ladies Aid consist of Mrs. J. E. Watrous, President; Mrs. W. C. Livingston, 1st. Vice-President; Mrs. F. D. Reville and Vice-President; Mrs. T. Wade, Secretary; Mrs. Geo. Watt, Treasurer. Executive: Mrs. Cummings Nelles, Mrs. R. S. Schell, Mrs. Digby, Mrs. M. H. Robertson, Mrs. W. F. Cockshutt and Miss Edna Preston.

to the pier at the Battery. There a picked squad of one hundred police, standing all night in the rain, formed its escort to Brooklyn. The body will remain at the Gaynor home until to-morrow night. Private funeral services will be held there to-morrow afternoon, and at their conclusion, the body will be taken to the city hall where it will lie in state till Monday morning, when funeral services will be held in Trinity church.

Body Lies in State.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The body of William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York, who died at sea on September 10, laid to-day in the privacy of the Brooklyn home. In a drizzling rain it was lowered at 4 o'clock this morning from the high decks of the liner Lusitania to the city's boat, Corroction. Through a mist that lay heavy over the harbor, the Corroction steamed an hour and a half later to the pier at the Battery. There a picked squad of one hundred police, standing all night in the rain, formed its escort to Brooklyn. The body will remain at the Gaynor home until to-morrow night. Private funeral services will be held there to-morrow afternoon, and at their conclusion, the body will be taken to the city hall where it will lie in state till Monday morning, when funeral services will be held in Trinity church.

WESTERN FIRES PROVE DISASTROUS

One Alberta Town is Almost Totally Destroyed—Elevator Burnt.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
BROOKS, Alb., Sept. 19.—With an entire block in the business section in smouldering ruins, over which the male population of the town are still standing in order to prevent a further outbreak of fire, the town of Brooks, on the main line of the C.P.R. east of Calgary, narrowly escaped being totally destroyed early this morning. So fierce were the flames that a hasty call for assistance was telegraphed to Medicine Hat, resulting in the fir edepartment of that city loading the apparatus on flat cars. A change of wind, however, checked the flames and the call for assistance was cancelled. The damage is about $2,000, and the majority of buildings burned carried some insurance.

Another Bad One.
MOOSEJAW, Sask., Sept. 19.—A bad fire at Milestone totally destroyed the International Elevator and a private elevator owned by O. K. Wilson, Milestone. Soon as the blaze was noticed the fire brigade and the whole town turned out, but all efforts to stay the flames were unsuccessful. The loss to the International Elevator Company is 20,000 bushels of grain with $5,000 insurance. Incendiary origin is ascribed, and an attempt was also made to burn the Ogilvie plant.

Local News

At Mohawk.
Harvest Thanksgiving services are being held at Mohawk Church Sunday afternoon.

Carrying Mail.
The ten o'clock T. H. and B. train in the morning is now carrying mail from Brantford to Waterford.

Club Meeting.
The Painsw Club met at the home of Mrs. E. Paterson, Market St. last evening. Fourteen were present. It was decided to hold the annual bazaar Friday, Dec. 5.

New Engines.
The Grand Trunk Railway System have added to their equipment nineteen Mikado Type Locomotives and five Steel Mill Cars, which have been distributed for service on different parts of the line in Canada.

Railway Work.
Workmen are busy raising Wabash track at Simcoe to allow the electric railway to run underneath. The track will be raised eight feet at this point. A construction camp has located near Mt. Pleasant, so that work between Brantford and Waterford will be started at once.

Settles For $300.
In the case of Mrs. (Dr.) Wilcox, Toronto, versus Oscar Lee, who is stopping at 310 Dalhousie street and who came all the way from South America to defend the suit, settlement was made for $300 and not $100 as was reported. The case which has been in litigation for years was settled at the High Court this week.

Corps Organized.
At a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last night the association leaders corps was organized under the Canadian Leaders Corps and the following officers were elected: C. Cook, Honorary President; Fred Sage, President; Gordon Sage, Vice-President; Vernon Palmer, Secretary-Treasurer. Eighteen have already become members of the corps and it is expected a few more will join.

Tea at Y.
A most enjoyable talent tea was held by the Alexandra Church Ladies' Aid in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. A pleasing program was given and there was a large attendance present. Vocal solos were most acceptably rendered by Mrs. Barton and Miss Agnes Heath, and instrumental by Miss Eva Bailey and Mrs. George Crowan. Miss Kathleen Moyer gave a reading in delightful style.

Was Resented.
A geography lesson was being presented in one of the schools of the city yesterday when the master expressed the opinion that the United States was a greater world power than the British Empire, mentioning such things as the production of wheat to prove his argument. The teacher in question met with hostilities right away of the Empire type, a number of young girls in the class giving a few pointers in geography, etc., which were unexpected.

Were Entertained.
Last evening the members of the senior patrol of Wesley troop of boys scouts were most enjoyably entertained at the home of the Scoutmaster Mr. James Slopess. There was a large turnout and a very pleasant evening was spent by all present. An excellent supper was done ample justice to, after which speech-making was indulged in, the host and hostess, Mr. Jos. Maich, first aid instructor, Scout Commissioner Macfarlane, Captain Ward and several other of the members of the patrol taking part. The Wesley Scouts are entering upon their fall work with excellent prospects and arrangements for a big concert this fall are already under way, at which one of the members of the troop, it is stated will be signally honored for brave conduct.

WANT SUBSCRIPTION OF STOCK AT ECHO

Directors of Foundry Company at Meeting Last Night.

Before the Brantford Machine and Foundry, Ltd., will locate in Echo Place there must be $10,000 of the stock of the company purchased by residents of that place and Cainsville. To this end, Mr. Rowell, one of the directors will make a canvas of the residents and it's more probable that the industry will be secured. It is expected the site will be five acres of the Echo Park Survey lying along the Grand Trunk Railway.

Last night at the meeting of the Echo Place Improvement Association, Mr. H. B. Rowell and M. W. A. Hollinrake, directors of the company and a stockholder, Mr. Hawkins of the Brantford Autocycle Company, were present. Inquiry was made as to the class of labor the foundry would employ. The question was answered by it being stated that as the company would manufacture high class foundry products it would insure the better class of mechanics being employed. Vice-President Smith was in the chair.

MR. GEORGE WEDLAKE'S NAME IS MENTIONED

In Connection With the New Hydro Electric Commission in Brantford.

The name of Mr. George Wedlake, the well known manager of the Cocksfoot Garage, is quite freely mentioned as a most desirable man to be appointed on the Hydro Electric Commission in this city.

His friends point to the fact that his mechanical knowledge and proved business ability would be of great value in such a position.

Margaret Has Friends, And Also $13,000

Two Uncles Want to be Her Guardian—Court Will Decide.

GUELPH, Sept. 19.—Little eight-year-old Margaret Scanlon, the Arthur lass, who came into the limelight last June, owing to the fact that she was picked up in the streets of Arthur by her uncle, John Coffey and brought to the Sisters' Convent in this city, is once more in the limelight. Little Margaret is an orphan. Her father, John Scanlon, of Arthur, died last April, her mother having passed away a year previous to this. She has two uncles both of whom are desirous of giving Margaret a home, and it is to settle the question of guardianship that his Honor Judge Chadwick has been sitting in Surrogate Court for two days. The father left an estate amounting to $13,000 which will all go to Margaret, and the London and Western Trust Co. of London, Ont., have been appointed administrators. The case has been fully argued before the judge, who will in all probability have a talk with the little girl herself before giving his decision in the matter.

Military Notes

Some forty members of "D" Squadron, 25th Brant Dragoons, met last evening in the men's mess room at the Dufferin Rifles armories, for the purpose of discussing the desirability of forming a permanent squadron gathering in order to assist in securing the more thorough equipment and efficiency of D Squadron. Among those present were Captains Hall and VanSomeren, Lieuts. Watson and Ellis. Major Leonard explained the object of the meeting being called and then requested that each member should express his views regarding the passing of by-laws and rules of order for the squadron; and also for the formation of committees on shooting, recruiting, sports, etc. All present were most enthusiastic, and spoke in the highest praise for the future of the squadron. It was decided to meet again at an early date for final organization, Corp. E. McDonald being appointed secretary pro tem. Major Leonard intimated that one closely connected with the squadron would, in all probability, donate a cup to the squadron or regiment for shooting competition.

Will Hold Inquest.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—An investigation into "certain features" of the death of Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, whose mangled body was recently found at a railroad crossing in the Bronx borough, has been begun by District Attorney Whitman. Mr. Whitman would go no further than to say nothing definite had developed as yet. Since the funeral of "Big Tim" rumors have been persistent that he had not met death accidentally, some persons being of the opinion he had been shot by footpads and left unconscious on the tracks or murdered outright. No autopsy was performed on his body; Coroner Healy to-day set September 20 as the date for the inquest.

Bowling

Sydenham Scotch Doubles.
The Sydenham Street Bowling Club Scotch Doubles are now down to the semi-finals, both in the Trophy contest and the Consolation event. Last evening in the Trophy event Rev. A. I. Snyder and H. Hagey defeated J. McLean and C. Vanevery, but it was a great finish. The latter pair were right down on the fifth end, but tied things up on the fourteenth. Hagey won out by one shot on the last end—14-15. The game in the Consolation event began in a similar way with E. Alderson and Alf. Doughty on the short end of score. J. Osborne and I. D. Scruton having counted heavily on the first few ends. The losers played much better as the game progressed. The final score was 21-15.

The semi-finals began to-night. In the Trophy event J. Cowbrough and J. English met W. Scruton and R. S. Gowman; in the Consolation, J. Laing and C. Hodges play J. Osborne and I. D. Scruton. The tie in the first contest is held by Rev. Snider and Harry Hagey.

The little tournament has created considerable interest and ought to materially help the club next season.

"Never Buy A Horse After Dark," Says P.M.

A Deal Was Ventilated in the Police Court This Morning, Henry McClelland Winning Case Against George Yake.

On a dark, cloudy night recently Henry McClelland and Geo. Yake of this city, made a horse deal in McClelland's back yard, as a result of which McClelland traded horses with Yake and gave $2.50 to boot. Yake is alleged to have stated that his horse was sound in every way and was between 11 and 12 years of age.

Taking Yake at his word, McClelland made the trade and after driving the animal around for a few moments put it away for the night. In the morning when he visited his stable there was a big surprise in store. Instead of the 11 or 12 year old horse which he thought he had purchased he saw standing in the stall, a mere skeleton, a horse which had seen at least 20 summers.

Then and there he came to the conclusion that he had been beaten in the deal and, he at once came to the police office and laid a charge of false pretences against Yake.

This morning Magistrate Livingston had a nice time threshing the matter out in police court.

A Well Known Horse.
Dr. Cutcliffe V. J., swore that the horse was at least 20 years old and perhaps 25. The animal was simply a skeleton of skin and bone and in his opinion was worth practically nothing. He informed the court that the horse formerly belonged to Adam Aird who was recently charged in police court with cruelty to animals in driving the horse in question.

Following the evidence for the plaintiff, Yake signified his willingness to settle the matter by taking the horse back and this was finally arranged.

"My advice to you is never buy a horse after dark," said the Magistrate to McClelland in dismissing the case.

An Assault Case.
An assault case in which Louis Harp was charged with striking Isaac Fouldmons occupied considerable of the court's attention. Fouldmons claimed that he had an argument with the defendant over some hay, which ended in Harp hitting the plaintiff between the eyes. In the mix-up which followed Fouldmons was rather badly marked and when he called a policeman, Harp had disappeared. The defence claimed that the plaintiff refused to go away from the spot and kept annoying Harp.

Magistrate Livingston, while finding that Fouldmons was partly to blame, stated that Harp had no right to strike him, but should have called an officer. A fine of $5.00 and costs was imposed.

Case Dismissed.
Albert Aston who was in court a few days ago charged with conversion faced the Magistrate again this morning. Geo. Connell the plaintiff stated that everything was made right and on payment of costs, the charge was dismissed.

Golf

W. Hagin of Rochester, was playing fine golf in the meantime and at the ninth hole was on even terms with Ray and only two strokes behind Vardon. The totals of three men ran on Wednesday as follows: Vardon 185, Hagin 190.

Although handicapped by their poor outward journey, both Vardon and Ray played grand golf in the rain, coming in and wound up 54 holes on even terms with a total of 235.

William Hagin, Rochester, with a total for the morning of 76 and a grand total of 227 for the 56 holes, was only two strokes behind the Englishmen at noon.

J. M. Barnes, Tacoma, made a 78 this forenoon, which added to his 150 of yesterday, gave him 228. J. J. McDermott, Atlantic City, came back strong to-day and with a 77 for the forenoon round, was five strokes behind Vardon and Ray. His total for the 34 holes being 330.

The next two players to bring in good scores were E. W. Loving of Arcola and Louis Teller of France, who with 75 and 79 respectively were tied at 231.

Reports from out on the course at noon indicated that MacDonald Smith of Wyebeary, and Alex. Ross of Brabourne, who were among the favorites yesterday, had broken under the strain.

Parks Board's Plans To Beautify The City

Important Project is Brought to the Attention of City Council—Extensive Plans Outlined.

Mr. Frank Cockshutt stated to a Courier reporter this morning that the growth of the city guaranteed the development of its natural beauties along proper lines and plans. The members of the board having this in view have engaged the firm of Dunningham, Grubb and Harris, landscape architects of Toronto to have a representative come here and look over the city and fast growing suburbs in the help of the Board and citizens generally, will prepare a report.

As it is a many sided subject the architects may take as long as six months to prepare this report. Mr. Cockshutt stated that a representative of the firm would arrive in Brantford and was driven around the city and was very much pleased with the situation and was struck with the beauty of the river front and the city's natural resources. Physical features lend themselves to beauty and attractiveness in the development and to take advantage of the natural attractiveness.

Mr. Cockshutt stated that a public meeting would be held later on when representatives from different bodies would be asked to be present and deliberate on how to improve Brantford. Ideas would be received from everyone who has anything worth while to consider. When all the ideas are handed in they will be looked over and considered and in this way it is hoped that a useful report will be made that will be acted upon for years to come.

The City Council has been appealed to by the following letter: The Mayor and Council of the City of Brantford:

Dear Sirs.—The Board of Park Management have engaged Messrs. Dunningham, Grubb and Harris, landscape architects of Toronto, to make a study of the parks, streets and general features of the City of Brantford and to prepare plans and make suggestions as to how to improve and beautify the city and to direct progress along correct lines.

A large committee will be appointed to co-operate with the Parks Board and assist in making the report as comprehensive and useful as possible. The board particularly wish the hearty co-operation and assistance of the City Council and will be much pleased if the council will appoint a number of members as members of the committee.

Yours very truly Edward E. Gould, Chairman J. J. Hawkins, Secretary.

Westminster Hall--Biggest Single Roof In The World

The preservation of its great monuments has always of late years excited great interest and pleasure in England. The little island is rich in ancient piles, so old now that from time to time strong measures have to be taken in order to protect them.

Peterborough had to be partly rebuilt, and Winchester, the longest Gothic Cathedral in Europe, has just been repaired. The Church of St. Oswald, Ashbourne, is in danger of collapse, and the sanctity of St. Paul's is seriously in question. And the duty now being done by the office of works in restoring the wonderful old roof of Westminster Hall is indeed well worth while.

The roof spreads 240 feet long and its apex is 92 feet above the floor. The remarkable thing about it is its width—68 feet from side to side, a flight covered in a single span by stout English oak. With the exception of the modern iron-girded roofs, there is but one roof in the world with a greater span—the Hall of Justice in Padua.

ions who came to London to see King George crowned sat at luncheon beneath the far spreading roof like pick-nickers in a ruined castle.

The roof of Westminster Hall, so long a grandest example of what the genius of a master builder can accomplish in bridging space, has been almost wrecked by a tiny beetle who's first cousin, have destroyed many millions of feet of timber in Western America. However the machinations of the pestilential little destroyer have been discovered in time, and the preservation of the grand old oak roof is now under way.

New wood is being introduced where the huge beams are badly worm eaten or perishing from dry rot.

King Edward Lay Dead There

Two and a half centuries later there was another striking contrast. For in 1657 Cromwell, robed in purple and ermine, was installed as Lord Protector in the hall, yet only a year after his head, severed from the exhumed trunk at Tyburn, was carried on a pole and set up in Westminster.

Parliament sat at Westminster Hall, though not exclusively from quite early times. Justice was administered there in the King's name and some of the most important and tragic state trials were held beneath the roof. Sir William Wallace, King Charles I, Sir Thomas More, Anne Boleyn, the Protector, Somerset and Stafford are only a few of those who faced their fate beneath the old oak timbers. Gladstone and Edward VII both lay dead beneath the roof.

When neighbors forced an entrance into the Turner home they found the women dead and Turner dying. All had swallowed poison.

Turner was still living late last night, but physicians said death was a matter of hours. A note signed by Turner, left in the room where the three were found, read: "There is no use asking questions. We were all tired of living and wanted to go together."

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single tin of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day, Dr. Marsh, of 101 D'Armon Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago, Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

WATEROUS MAY NOT PLAY WITH M'GILL

Brantford Boy May Not Turn Out Again This Year.

MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—Coach "Shag" Shaughnessy, of the McGill University team, will be in town today. He expected to arrive yesterday, but was delayed, and wired the secretary of the students' council that he would be in to-day for certain. About a dozen players turned out yesterday afternoon under the impression that Shaughnessy would be on hand, and had a light work out by themselves. The report that Mason will not play this year is not credited at the college. The secretary Melville, of the student's union, said this morning that Mason was sure to be back and he believed equally sure to play rugby again.

Black, one of the strongest men on the Ottawa College team, last fall is expected to come to McGill this season, and certainly if he does there will be plenty of room for him.

"Chuck" Waterous, the Brantford boy failed in some of his sessional examinations last fall, and until he passes his supplementary examinations he will not be able to play rugby at McGill. If he fails he will likely go west.

UGLY MEN FOR LIFE PARTNER

Finest Fighter Had More Beautiful Wives.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Sept. 19.—Walk into a restaurant or a theatre and you will be struck by the beauty of women and the ugliness of men. Why? Because man from his early evolution has shown a tendency to select the most beautiful females for marriage while women have been content with an ugly mate. That, at least, was the theory put forward yesterday by learned anthropologist the British Association, who argued that in the selection of a partner, man has few or no aesthetic instincts, no sense of the beautiful.

The discussion began with Professor Garvith, who read a paper on "Differentiation of man from thethropoids." That he had sprung from the ape was unquestioned.

Dr. Harry Campbell followed, and the factors which determined evolution from apes. With reluctance he confessed that the institution of polygamy was the first of these factors. Social relationships rested on brute force. The greater the horniness of the male, the more numerous and the more beautiful wives. Man, he said, had been the finest fighter of all the animals through his struggles, first with nature, then with rivals for the attention of women, lastly with his man evolution.

"Intellectual evolution," he continued, "is now at an end, because factors which caused it are inactive. We are now evolving the female, and the superman of the future will be the perfect moral type." ground was now prepared for the discussion of aesthetic qualities. Professor Dr. Robinson explained man's articulate speech was due to the formation of his chin, that more pleasing appearance of his as compared with that of the ape, and was due to the innate sense of the beauty in women and the fact that he played an important part in differentiating her spouse from the "But we know that the author was beardless," another professor proposed. THAW IS SERENE FOR A LONG WHILE

It Looks as if United States Authorities Are Up Against It.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
CONCORD, N.H., Sept. 19.—Harry K. Thaw sat behind a great heap of newspapers at the breakfast table this morning reading Washington dispatches saying that if his case went to the United States Supreme Court years might roll by before a decision was handed down. "We can wait," said the fugitive, "but hope Governor Felker will decide against my extradition at once so that it will not be necessary to press our habeas corpus writ in the federal courts."

Ten law clerks, retained by Thaw's counsel, were busy yesterday looking up state and federal court rulings in the matter of extraditing a person charged with a crime, yet held to be legally insane.

"So far we have been unable to find any case where a person in Thaw's position was ever extradited," said Merrill Shurtleff, one of Thaw's New Hampshire lawyers, who was in town yesterday.

The same statement in substance, was made by Federal Judge Aldrich at Littleton on Tuesday in a discussion with William Travers, Jerome chief of New York State's group of lawyers seeking Thaw's extradition.

GIRL FOUND WITH SKIRTS WEIGHTED WITH STONES

Newark Girl Missing Since Saturday Found in the Passaic River.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
NEWARK, Sept. 19.—The body of Alice Hopper, sixteen years old, who had been missing since Saturday night from her home in Kearny, N.J., was found in the Passaic River, at Harrison, last night, her skirts weighted with stones.

William Tolen, chief of police of Kearny and the girl's relatives declared that she had been murdered and her body cast into the river. The stones, weighing about twelve or fourteen pounds, had been placed in the lap of her outer skirt and the skirt drawn up to form a basket, the hem being knotted at the rear of her waist. Chief Tolen said he did not believe she could have placed the stones and tied the knot.

Miss Hopper was an unusually pretty girl and seemed older than her years. She left home at eight o'clock Saturday night to mail several letters, among them being invitations to a party she was to give, that was the last her relatives saw of her.

A physician who called at the morgue in Harrison said he believed the girl had been the victim of an attack but an official examination will be made.

FROM ALL OVER THE GREAT WEST
Come Reports From Women of Dodd's Kidney Pills.
Telling of Renewed Health and Fresh Vigor Through Using The Great Canadian Remedy.

OVERLAND, Sask., Sept. 15.—(Special)—From all over this great west are coming statements from women who have found renewed health and fresh vigor through using Dodd's Kidney Pills and in this growing community evidence is not lacking that the great Canadian remedy is daily gaining friends among those on whom the burdens of life fall most heavily. Mrs. M. D. Forsberg, a well-known resident says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good. I tried two other kinds of medicines before using them but it was Dodd's Kidney Pills that benefited me."

Women's health depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are not right the result is weakness and weariness and a burden of pain almost too great to bear. But when Dodd's Kidney Pills snake the kidneys right the result is that all poison is strained out of the blood, the seeds of disease are removed and the purified blood carries health and vigor to all parts of the body.

Almost any bright, healthy woman can tell you why Dodd's Kidney Pills are known as woman's best friend.

CHAPTER XV.
ON regarding the bungalow Jocelyn turned aside into the forest where a little colony of huts nestled in a hollow of the sand dunes. "Nala," she cried, "the paddlemaker. Ask him to come to me." In a few moments a man emerged from a hut of banana leaves. He was a scraggy man, very lightly clad, and a violent squint handicapped him seriously in the matter of first impressions.

"I came to you," said Jocelyn, "because I know that you are an intelligent man and a great traveler." "Where do you wish me to go?" "To Msala, on the Ogowe river. When can you leave?"

"Now." "You can hire a show," she said, "and on the river you may have as many rowers as you like. You must go very quickly to Msala. There you must ask about the Englishman's extradition. Some of the men are at the station. They were going up country to join the other Englishmen far away—near the mountains. They have stopped at Msala. Find out why they have not gone on, and come back very quickly to tell me."

She gave him money and rode on. When she reached the bungalow the paddlemaker passed her at a trot, going toward the sea.

She waited for three days, and then Victor Dumovo came again. Maurice was still away. There was an awful sense of impending danger in the very sense of the word. Jocelyn's hand felt cold and numb. She was not afraid of Dumovo. Yet she was not afraid of Maurice. She had left that fear behind. She went to the drawing room to see him full of resolution.

"I could not go away," he said after relinquishing her hand, "without coming to see you."

Jocelyn said nothing. The sacred look which she had seen in his face was no longer there, but the eyes were full of lies.

"Jocelyn," the man went on, "I suppose you know that I love you. Will you marry me?" he asked.

"No." "Why?" "Because I not only do not care for you, but I despise and distrust you."

"Then," she said, "I will be candid with you. I intend you to marry me. I have intended it for a long time. I am not going down on my knees to ask you to do it. That is not my way. But if you drive me to it I will make your brother Maurice go down on his knees and beg you to marry me."

"I don't think that you will do that," answered the girl slowly. "Whatever your power over Maurice may be, it is not strong enough for that. You overrate it."

"Suppose," he said in a low, hissing voice, "that I possess knowledge that I have only to mention to one or two firm men to make this place too hot for Maurice Gordon."

If he escaped the fury of the natives it would be difficult to know where he could go. England would be too hot for him. They wouldn't have him there. I could see that. He would be a ruined man, an outcast, execrated by all the civilized world.

"What is your knowledge?" asked Jocelyn in a coldly measured voice. "If you will have it, your brother, Maurice Gordon, is a slave trader."

She drew back as she might have done from some unclean animal. She knew that he was not telling the truth. There might be extenuating circumstances. The real truth might have quite a different sound, spoken in different words, but there was enough of the truth in it as Victor Dumovo placed it before her to condemn Maurice before the world.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says: "Everybody uses Weyth's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and abundant."

KEEP OUT OF JAIL

If You Get in Don't Find Fault With Being Transferred From Farm to Farm—What Disobedience Does.

"When a man once gets into jail, the law provides that he shall be transferred from farm to farm in one industrial farm, in order that proper discipline may be enforced."

For the information of the men who object to being sentenced to jail, and then serving out their time in the Central Prison or the Central Prison Farm, Dr. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Asylums, made the above statement today.

The prison and jail systems are not so lovely that everybody connected with them in an official capacity is continually playing the role of Santa Claus. They are kind but efficient firms. Here is an instance of what happens to inmates and how:

An offender from Toronto was sentenced to nine months at the jail, and went out to the Farm. He was given much latitude and encouraged to do better. He was not worked hard, but had some scrubbing to do, as his part-time pastime.

He was late one morning and one of the guards in a kindly way went to the prisoners' quarters with a request that he get a wiggle on and get at the scrubbing.

"Oh, with the scrubbing," replied the prisoner. "Whatever the immediate report was made to the jailor, and in one hour the offending prisoner was on his way to the Central Prison, where by special request he was kept scrubbing for the remaining six months of his sentence."

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

Ailments such as constipation, colic, colds, vomiting, etc., seize children of all ages and the mother should be, on her guard against these troubles by keeping a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. If any of these troubles come on suddenly the Tablets will cure them, or if the little one is given an occasional dose of the Tablets he will escape these troubles. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

is forgotten? Do you think that all Lougo, even to the boatmen on the beach, ignores the fact that you are here in Lougo now because you are afraid to go through a savage country to the simlachine plateau, as you are pledged to do? You were afraid of the smallpox once. There is something else that you are afraid of now. I do not know what it is, but I will find out. Coward! Go! Leave the house at once, before I call in the stable boys to turn you out, and never dare to speak to me again!"

He heard her close the window after him as he walked away beneath the trees. Jocelyn went out by the open window, and presently Nala came grinning toward her. He was evidently very much pleased with himself—held himself erect and squinted more violently than usual.

"I have been to Msala," he said, with considerable dignity of manner. Nala squatted on the chunam floor and proceeded to unfold a leaf. The operation took some time. Within the outer covering there was a second envelope of paper, likewise secured by a string. Finally the man produced a small note, which showed signs of having been read more than once. This he handed to Jocelyn with an assured air of importance.

She opened the paper and read: To Msala, at Msala—Send at once to Mr. Dumovo, informing him that the tribes have risen and are rapidly surrounding the plateau. He must return here at once with as large an armed force as he can raise, but the most important consideration is time. He must not wait for men from elsewhere, but must pick up as many as he can in Lougo on the way up to Msala. I reckon that we can hold out for three months without outside assistance, but after that period we shall be forced to surrender or try to cut our way through without the simlachine. With a larger force we could beat back the tribes and establish our hold on the plateau by force of arms. This must be forwarded to Mr. Dumovo at once, wherever he is. The letter is in duplicate, sent by two good messengers, who go by different routes.

JOHN MEREDITH.
When Jocelyn looked up, dry lips, breathless, Nala was standing before her, beaming with self importance. "Who gave you this?" "Marie, at Msala."

"Who is she?" "Oh, Mr. Dumovo's woman at Msala. She keeps his house."

"But this letter is for Mr. Dumovo!" cried Jocelyn, whose fear made her unreasonably angry. "Why has he not had it?" Nala came nearer, with upraised forefinger and explanatory palm.

"Marie tell me," he said, "that Mr. Meredith sent two letters. Marie gave Mr. Dumovo one. This—other letter." "Jocelyn Gordon rose to the occasion. "Can you go," she said after a moment's thought, "to St. Paul de Louanda for me at once—now?"

"Oh, yes," with a sigh. "Already Jocelyn was writing something on a sheet of paper. "Take this," she said, "to the telegraph office at St. Paul de Louanda and send it off at once. Here is money, for me at once—now. I will pay you when you bring back the receipt—if you have been very quick I will pay you well."

That same evening a second messenger started northward after Maurice Gordon with a letter telling him to come back at once to Lougo.

ALL HAVE BEEN LET OUT OF JAIL

Ottawa Authorities Not Successful in Recent Murder Case.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 19.—The six prisoners who have been under arrest in connection with the Rubenstein murder mystery, Nathan Shapiro, Henry Dreyfus, Sam Cooke, J. H. Stevens, Bessie Simms and Lottie Bringham, were all released from custody yesterday on orders from Crown Attorney Ritchie, following the developments at last night's inquest. All six gave voluntarily testimony as to their movements here, both before and after the murder and satisfied the authorities that they are innocent of any knowledge of the crime. Cooke and Stevens, who were only held as witnesses, were given their freedom immediately after the inquest, but at their own request spent the night in the police headquarters. The other four, against whom a murder charge had been lodged last Saturday were honorably acquitted before a magistrate this forenoon. Shapiro will at once return to Montreal and go on from there to join his family at St. St. Louis. Dreyfus will also go to Montreal and then to his home in New York. Cooke and Stevens leave for New York this afternoon. The future movements of the two girls are not known.

Provincial Detective Greer, who is now in charge of the case is working on a new clue which developed out of Shapiro's evidence last night. The suspects are a party of white girls with whom the bookmakers were out for an automobile ride on the night of Rubenstein's disappearance.

DRAW COLOR LINE.

English Authorities Decline to Apportion Negro.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The "color line" is not often drawn in England, but the Camberwell poor law guardians to-day declined to appoint a negro as district medical officer on the ground that the poor were very fastidious in such matters.

It was admitted during the session of the guardians, that the black doctor's qualifications were better than those of the other candidates, and some of the guardians wanted to treat him as a brother. The majority of the guardians, however, supported Dr. Robert Capes, who opposed the appointment of the colored physician. In doing so, he said:

"In plain English, he is not a suitable doctor for a post of this sort. The poor are a great deal more fastidious than people imagine. They would refuse to be attended by a man of color."

A FAREWELL LUNCHEON

F. R. Benson, Actor-Manager, Honored Upon Leaving for Canada.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A farewell luncheon to F. R. Benson, the English actor manager, who is about to depart for Canada and the United States, was given yesterday and attended by a distinguished company, including most of the prominent actors on the British stage and representatives of literature, the church and the universities.

Sir Sidney Lee, chairman of the executive of Shakespeare places trust, presided. He declared that Mr. Benson had done more to arouse interest in Shakespeare and to develop sound actors than any one ever connected with the English stage.

J. Forbes-Robertson said Mr. Benson was going as the ambassador of the Shakespeare lovers of the old world to those of Canada.

ESKIMOS SLAY, EXPLORERS H. V. RADFORD AND AIDE

Death at the hands of Eskimos in a desolate region along the Arctic coast is the fate reported to have befallen Harry Vincent Radford, a New York explorer, and T. George Street, of Ottawa. Mr. Radford and Mr. Street left Ottawa about two years ago to essay a perilous journey through an almost unknown land from Chesterfield Inlet, on Hudson Bay, to Bathurst Inlet, on the shores of the Arctic.

According to the first report the explorers were killed after an altercation with Eskimos at Schibitz Lake, which is some distance south and east of Bathurst Inlet. A second report, received by the Northwest Mounted Police, also tells of the death of Mr. Radford and Mr. Street, but says they were killed at Bathurst Inlet. This indicates that they had accomplished the object of their journey.

The above illustration shows the route of the Radford expedition.

WHEN THE THAMES DRIED UP

The dry weather of the past season was only hurled in a few localities in Canada, though it has caused much discussion in England. Last year, the continued rains did serious damage to British crops, and it was at one time feared the effect of the drought would be no less serious. Happily, this was the case, though those who remembered the late '90's had good reason for apprehension.

For more than one summer famine conditions existed in parts of the United Kingdom, following the close of the disturbing American Civil War. But, earlier in history, still more trying seasons occurred.

He Was One Of Them.

"Remember this, young man," he said, "only lunatics and rattle-brained idiots are certain of anything nowadays. Wise men hesitate."

"Are you quite sure of that?" "Absolutely certain."

Spells and Rivets Dry.

Making every allowance for the weakness of the mediaeval chronicler in the matter of statistical accuracy, the summer of 484 A. D. was evidently trying for the drought "dried up" all the springs and rivers, and again in 678 we are assured that "for the space of three years before the coming of Charlemagne the air within that province of the South Saxons, so that the people were brought into great misery by reason of famine."

Many other uncommonly dry and hot summers are recorded in the course of the next hundred years or so.

There was a "terrible drought" in 1086, and in 1138-14 the weather was "so hot and dry that forests took fire. The Thames was so dry for two days that children waded over between the bridges and the town. The Medway also was almost dry on October 6.

Forced Thames at London Bridge. Again, in 1135 rivers, we are told, were dried up, and woods, grass, and corn burnt, and navigable rivers were also dried up in the following year.

It is observable that hot and dry seasons show a tendency to come in groups. Thus exceptionally dry years were 1324-5-6, 1352-3-4, 1473-4-5, 1530-40-41, 1701-2-3-4-5-6, 1714-17-18-19.

Evelyn, the diarist, mentions the rainless summers of 684 and 685, when there was no rain for many months, and "the caterpillars devoured all the winter fruits through the whole land." The remarkable spectacle of thousands of persons walking across the bed of the Thames, under the arches of London Bridge, was to be seen in August of 1716, so low had the river got in consequence of a long period of hot, dry weather.

There were many extremely dry years in the last century, but the Thames at London, has never since been fordable.

CLERKS SHOT DEAD BY TWO ROBBERS

Refused to Put Up Hands When Commanded to Do So.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two robbers, with drawn revolvers entered the jewelry store of Ed. Thompson here early last night and commanded the clerks to throw their hands and, when they refused, Ed. Smith fell dead, and Paul T. send was probably fatally wounded. The bandits escaped.

The three victims were alone in the store when the robbers entered. Thompson, who was taken to a hospital was able to tell the authorities only a few words concerning the tragedy.

The clerks, were placing wads of jewelry in their cases for safekeeping when the men, masked and armed, entered. Thompson, who was the business district, threw up his hands, who was taken to a hospital with the men and was shot dead, but the other employees rushed to his aid and were killed.

The jewelry store is almost the heart of the business district, and the heart of the town. One person in the police that he heard three fired. Policemen nearby also were attracted by the shooting, but the robbers fled before they arrived.

Mimic Swiss Warfare.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—An interesting program of mimic warfare above the clouds was held to an end to-day by 600 mountain formations of the Alpine section of the Swiss army, who have been manueuvring for some days among the highest peaks of the Alps.

The final movement in the campaign was an attack on an imaginary enemy in occupation of the gishorn, a mountain 9,625 feet high. The battalion of Jungfrau Jock descended from the Jungfrau Jock 140 feet high, where they had been hidden in the snow throughout the night. They experienced a fierce march across the great and perilous glaciers during a driving snow storm without the loss of a single man from fatigue, and concluded the splendid feat by storming the gishorn Heights.

CLERKS SHOT DEAD BY TWO ROBBERS

Refused to Put Up Their Hands When Commanded to Do So.

[Canadian Press Despatch] GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two robbers, with drawn revolvers entered the jewelry store of J. J. Thompson here early last night, commanded the clerks to throw up their hands, and when they refused, opened fire. John A. Thompson and Ed. Smith fell dead, and Paul Townsend was probably fatally wounded. The bandits escaped.

The three victims were alone in the store when the robbers entered. Townsend, who was taken to a local hospital, was able to tell the authorities only a few words concerning the tragedy.

The clerks were placing watches and jewels in their cases for the night when the men, masked, entered and demanded that Townsend, the watch repairer, throw up his hands. Townsend, who was taken to a local hospital with the men and was shot down. A bullet penetrated his neck. He believes that the other employees then rushed to his aid and were killed.

The jewelry store is almost in the heart of the business district and pedestrians passed by while the robbers were within. One person informed the police that he heard three shots fired. Policemen nearby also were attracted by the shooting, but the robbers fled before they arrived. No description of the bandits could be secured at a late hour last night.

Mimic Swiss Warfare. GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—An interesting program of mimic warfare above the clouds, was brought to an end to-day by 600 mountaineers forming part of the Alpine section of the Swiss army, who have been manoeuvring for some days among the highest peaks of the Alps.

The final movement in the plan of campaign was an attack on an imaginary enemy in occupation of the Egghorn, a mountain 9,625 feet high.

The battalion of 600 mountaineers descended from the Jungfrau Joch, 11,140 feet high, where they had bivouacked in the snow throughout the night. They experienced a forced march across the great and perilous Aletsch glaciers during a driving snow storm without the loss of a single man from fatigue, and concluded the splendid feat by storming the Egghorn Heights.

Woman's Institute At Echo Place

The first regular meeting of the Echo Place Woman's Institute took place at the home of Mrs. H. E. Craddock, Hamilton Road, on Thursday, with the president, Mrs. J. J. Burke, in the chair.

Thirty-eight members responded to roll call.

Mrs. J. Norrie, of the Cainsville institute read a very interesting paper on Canadian Women. She said that Canadian women both of the past and present, were 'on a par with' women of other nations, all over the world.

In the realm of literature, in the business world, in the circles of music, drama and art, at the head of organizations, and moral reform schemes, and also in sports. But the great and prominent sphere for woman is the home, Canada, as a nation, could not stand if all its women, or even a majority of its women were merely great authors, great artists.

Mrs. (Dr.) Devereaux, rendered a piano solo which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Falconer, then gave a paper on the secret of perpetual youth. The speaker advised all ladies to have a hobby. Let it be music, literature, needle-work or the garden, by all means have a hobby. Mrs. Harry Quille, then delighted the audience with a song, "My Heart is Where the Heather Blooms," and Mrs. Frank Smith, recited most humorously, "Counting Eggs."

WHERE MANITOBA'S SNAKES HIBERNATE

A loathsome, wriggling, gleaming mass of viperous creation, the quantity of reptiles within a certain cavern of a boulder-strewn gullyside, in Southern Manitoba is difficult of estimation.

Within the district of Clearwater, in Southern Manitoba, are located a series of ravines, presumably formed by an ancient river of importance in pre-historic days. Deep and rugged hillsides bound them, not a few of which can be likened to canyons; devoid of vegetation, save a sprinkling of scrub oak, and a species of juniper.

Out on the hillside, several of the more venturesome members of the viperous mass are noticed, crawling upon the moss covered boulders, apparently come forth to reconnoitre. At the cavern's entrance, a thick, tangled "rope" of the slimy Garter snakes was endeavoring to force itself forward into the balmy atmosphere outside.

A glance into the horrible excavation, displayed the presence of snakes in countless thousands; in many curious shapes, one particular instance was that of a vast number coiled together so as to resemble a large barrel. The sizes of the reptiles varied; Manitoba's snakes never assume the size of the pythonic monsters of the tropics. In no case did snakes exceed four feet in length. The garter snake, occasionally, measures

Strikers Condemning The Labor Leaders

Request for General Call Not Approved by the Executive—London Traction Tie-Up Imminent—Organizer Announces Attitude.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Despite the intervention of the Lord Mayor, which led to the concession by the Tillinghams Bus Company of the right of the men to wear union badges, a general strike of the traction employees is still imminent on the clear-cut issue of recognition of the union.

Explaining the failure of a conference held at the Mansion House today, Organizer Ben Smith, at a mass meeting of the strikers to-night, declared: "We are preparing to stop every passenger-carrying vehicle in London before we will lose the fight. Tillinghams will come first, then the General Omnibus, then the trams, and after that, if we are forced to it, the street cars."

The strikers declare that the Tillinghams concessions with regard to wearing badges are not enough, that the union must be recognized and the grievances with reference to wages and hours adjusted.

Mass Meetings Called. Mass meetings of employees of the bus companies have been called for tomorrow night. The Tillinghams service was badly crippled to-day and will be probably suspended to-morrow.

The recent amalgamation of the London underground railways, trams and husses and privately-owned street cars forms one of the most powerful traction combines in existence. The unionizing of the employees of these interests has proceeded with equal success. Therefore, the execution of a general strike order means the practical stoppage of all passenger-carrying traffic, except the municipal street cars. Even the latter might join in a sympathetic strike.

The failure of the Executive Board of the National Railways Union either to endorse or repudiate the sympathetic strike of the freight handlers has relieved the danger of a national strike for the moment, but this action has brought about a worse situation at both Liverpool and Birmingham.

Strikers Censure Leaders. The news circulated at Birmingham that the governing body had endorsed the demand for a national strike was hailed by the strikers there with wild delight. But this was turned to intense anger when a denial was received. The strikers adopted a resolution condemning the Executive and reiterating their demand for a national strike.

The freight paralysis at Birmingham is affecting other points in the Midlands. The London and North-western Railway is not accepting any freight for Birmingham. Negotiations between the strikers and the railway officials at Liverpool are suspended because the latter declined to discuss the refusal of the men to handle goods from Dublin. The companies will reinstate the men only on condition that they handle all freight without discrimination.

Police Protect Workers.

In Dublin additional firms closed to-day. What little work was done at the docks was under police protection. Profiting by the experience of yesterday's riots, the authorities diverted the street cars from the routes followed by the processions of strikers. Many are on the verge of starvation and the belief is becoming general that the workmen will soon be starved into submission.

The opposition of the Catholic clergy to the Transport Workers Union is growing. James Larkin, the leader of the union, denies the reports of the threatened starvation and asserts that food and coal are being sent to the strikers in increasing quantities from England and Scotland.

The situation is becoming graver in Manchester. If the carters fulfill their threat to strike, the traffic of the port will come to a complete standstill.

The only item to the credit of industrial peace to-day was an agreement on the basis for a settlement of the London building trades strike.

It is reported that the police fired into a group of demonstrators at Phoenix, Ireland, wounding over a dozen of them.

AND IT WAS.

Love's Dreams Shattered, Princess Took Her Life

Family Forbade Her Marriage to Son of Wealthy Jew, Who Refused to Renounce Creed—Died in Her Father's Castle.

HEIDELBERG, Sept. 19.—Princess Sophie, the only daughter of a family good-night as usual shortly before mid-night, and retired to her room in her father's castle here Wednesday night by shooting herself. The act is supposed to have been caused by melancholia brought on because of the apparent unsurmountable obstacles to her marriage to the man of her choice, and the hopeless, loveless future before her.

The Princess, who was 25 years of age, was in love with the young Baron Hans von Bleichroder, son of the head of the famous banking house of Berlin, who was noted for valuable financial services to the empire, and who is one of the most influential financiers in Germany. This story has been rumored for some time, and it was said that the young Baron returned her affection; in fact, that they were pledged to each other. The "romance" was shattered, however, by the opposition on the part of the family of the Princess. There have been vague rumors of violent scenes in the family of the young woman. The Princess made tearful, pathetic and hysterical appeals for permission to marry the man of her heart, but her relatives remained immovable.

The Rock in the Path. The rock in the path of the happiness of the Princess is said to have been the Grand Duke Ernst of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, the head of the house, who is said to have declared his unalterable opposition to the marriage, not so much because the Baron was beneath the Princess in rank, but because the young man's father is a Jew who had refused to renounce his creed.

It was given out early this morning that the Princess had been found dead in her room and that she had died of heart disease. Rumors that she had committed suicide soon began to circulate, which, while no official statement was made, were confirmed by well-informed persons who are close to the family.

According to the story told by these people, the Princess bade the family good-night as usual shortly before mid-night, and retired to her room in her father's castle here Wednesday night by shooting herself. The act is supposed to have been caused by melancholia brought on because of the apparent unsurmountable obstacles to her marriage to the man of her choice, and the hopeless, loveless future before her.

A brother of the Princess, the Count Oathem, had to leave here to go to London, because of his marriage to an actress, and various scrapes in which he was involved. He got into the Gankruptcy Court in London shortly after his arrival at the English capital. He gave up his title of Prince Hermann of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach and heir-presumptive to the Grand Ducal throne.

After he had been deprived of all his honors and his title, and shipped to London, Count Oathem married in London an Italian chorus girl known as Wanda Walters, who had won a prize as a beauty in Milan. His wife afterwards got a divorce from him.

Princess Sophia was a beautiful young woman, unusually popular and much courted by the officers with whom she often rode behind the hounds at the Baden court hunts. Princess Sophia and her parents were much beloved in Heidelberg for the interest they had taken in the poor and the general public welfare, although the father was by no means wealthy and was living on an allowance from the reigning Grand Duke. Her father, it is said, was inclined to accede to his daughter's wishes, but was unable to take an independent stand owing to financial dependence on the Grand Duke.

AGREES TO LEAD THE ULSTERMEN

General Richardson to be Chief Officer in Command of Volunteers.

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—It was announced at a meeting of Irish Unionists at Banbridge, in the County Down, yesterday, that Lieutenant-General Sir George Reilly Richardson, who had previously watched the parade of 1,500 drilled men, had been appointed general of the Ulster volunteers.

Sir George addressed the meeting and told the volunteers they were of splendid physique and fit to be left anywhere. He impressed upon them the necessity of discipline and drilling and efficiency in the use of the rifle. He said that he and the members of his staff would give them the benefit of their experience whenever they asked for it.

Lieut-Gen. Richardson served for 34 years in the British army in various campaigns, but retired some years ago.

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists, who is continuing his inspection trip through West Down, expressed the hope, in addressing the volunteers, that the next he saw of them, "every man will have a rifle on his shoulder." He advised them to leave no stone unturned to resist the invader.

Frederick E. Smith, another of the Ulster leaders, urged them to make their ideal such that when the time came for Sir Edward Carson to negotiate with the government he might do so with the knowledge that behind him were 100,000 disciplined volunteers.

The commanding general emphasized the importance of efficacy in drill and knowledge of the rifle as being useful when the rally sounded.

Soft Ball

The Beavers and Ham and Notts have decided to play a sudden death game on Saturday afternoon at Recreation Park between the Ham and Nott and the Beaver teams. A good game is assured.

A tablespoonful of vinegar added to a pot roast will make it more palatable and tender.

E. H. Newman and Son have donated a handsome silver trophy to the team that finds the championship. Gold lockets will also be given to the champions whoever they may be.

The teams are supposed to be very evenly matched and a fast exhibition of soft ball is in all likelihood in store for those who attend the game which will be played on the Recreation Park grounds.

The game is billed to start at 3:15 sharp. The umpires who will handle the game have not been appointed, but the best two in the city will likely be secured to handle the game.

The final game in the Soft Ball league for the Newman trophy will be played at 3:15 Saturday afternoon at Recreation Park between the Ham and Nott and the Beaver teams. A good game is assured.

A tablespoonful of vinegar added to a pot roast will make it more palatable and tender.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, Sept. 20.—Horne, the finder of the $65 necklace, was taken to Scotland by detectives for examination. He was still detained there. Ex-Superintendent Leach, engaged on the case in behalf of the underwriters, thinks that the necklace was discovered in the store. He declines to enter more fully into the matter, as there possibly will be other arrests.
