years ago. Now, Sir Victor Catheron, who was a very young man, had just returned from a long absence. He was a handsome man, with a high forehead and a full beard.

It was a fortunate thing that just at that moment the door opened, and in came a young woman, who was the daughter of a nobleman. She was a beautiful girl, with a high forehead and a full beard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fisher, of Brockville, and Miss Brown, of Toronto spent Sunday in Athens. On Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Donovan, Elgin street, Mrs. Fisher received a number of Athenian ladies.

The sermon by Rev. McKenzie on Sabbath evening in the Presbyterian church was very much enjoyed. It was based on Paul's address to Felix and constituted a strong plea for immediate preparation for the final judgment, evidence of the reality of which was found in the divine decree, conscience.

On Friday evening last, at the home of Mrs. G. W. Beach, an event occurred of interest to all lovers of flowers, being the first of the coming Christmas bloom of a night-blooming cereus. The flower unfolded sufficiently early in the evening to admit of a large number inhaling its exquisite odor and feasting their eyes on its wax-like loveliness.

The proprietor of the Reporter will commence the active work of canvassing for advertisements, cuts and reading notices for the coming Christmas.

The number of the Reporter in about two weeks, and will visit nearly all the villages in the county for that purpose. It is the intention to print at least 2,000 copies, and no better means of advertising any local business ever presented itself in the County of Leeds. Having made exceptionally close rates for cuts, engravings, &c., and as we take all our photographs of scenery, buildings, or stock, ourselves, the cost of cutting and engraving will be reduced fully one half from the usual prices. Parties wishing for estimates should correspond with this office at once. We have a few copies of the Christmas Number of 1893 which would gladly send to parties contemplating taking same.

Another Tank.

During the past week a subscription list was circulated among the property owners on Victoria street and a sufficient number guaranteed to warrant the erection of a large tank on that street for fire protection purposes. The location of the tank will be decided upon by a majority of those subscribing. We regret to learn that one or two persons living on the same portion of the street have been so unkind as to put in a tank for their own protection, but we trust that their better nature will prompt them to reconsider their refusal. The amount asked for is a mere pittance in comparison with the benefit to be derived from having a good supply of water in case of fire. We may possibly have something more to say on this matter later on. For some time past a few residents on Main street have been agitating the putting down of a tank in the vicinity of the meat market, or Kincaid's tin shop. We trust the matter will not be allowed to drop, as no part of the village stands more in need of a good supply of water than the locality to be reached from a tank at either of these places.

Jephcott-Mansell.

Recorder of the pleasant home of County Treasurer Mansell, Wall street, was the scene of a large and pleasant gathering last night on the occasion of the marriage of that gentleman's only daughter, Miss H. A. Mansell, to Mr. Alfred Jephcott, Toronto. The ceremony, which occurred at eight o'clock, was performed by the Ven. Archdeacon T. Bedford Jones, and was witnessed by a large number of guests, mainly relatives of the contracting couple. The bride, one of Brockville's handsomest young ladies, looked more than usually charming in a handsome dove colored dress, and was supported by Miss Ethel Arnold, Athens. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. James Jephcott, New York. The young couple, who were the recipients of a large number of presents, left by the midnight train for Muskoka and will take up their residence in Toronto at the conclusion of their wedding trip. The groom is well known and popular resident of the Queen City, and a member of the Dominion Paper Co.

Among those present from a distance to witness the ceremony, were the groom's father and three sisters, Toronto; W. G. Parish and wife, Mr. Arnold and wife, Athens; Dr. Chamberlain, wife and daughter, Toronto; A. Patton and wife, Iroquois; D. P. Hamilton and wife, Smith's Falls; Mrs. J. Redmond, Miss J. Franklin, Lansdowne; Mr. Ford Mansell and wife, Michigan; Mrs. E. Hamilton, Belleville.

THE PLEBISCITE VOTE.

BY REQUEST.

From a Reliable Source.

The complete returns of the plebiscite vote throughout Ontario on the question of Prohibition are now at hand and are worthy of careful study. The total vote for Prohibition was 192,487; and the total vote against Prohibition was 110,757; the favorable majority thus being 81,730. The women's vote for prohibition was 12,424; the women against prohibition was 4,424. The total number of men on the voter's list was 418,499; the total number of women entitled to vote was 52,492. In the cities the vote was about two to one in favor of prohibition, 40 per cent of the total vote being polled. Among the twelve cities, only one—Windsor—gave an adverse majority. In the separate towns the majority for prohibition was as three to two, and 62 per cent of the vote was polled. Among the eight separate towns, only one—Prescott—gave an adverse majority. The counties declared for prohibition by almost two to one, and the returns show that almost 60 per cent of the total vote was polled. Among the thirty-eight counties, three only—Eggleston, Prescott and Russell, and Waterloo—rejected prohibition. The total net majority for prohibition in all the counties was 70,163. In the districts the majority for prohibition was almost two to one, and 40 per cent of the total vote was polled. The women's vote went about six to one in favor of prohibition, and they polled about 35 per cent of their total. The grand total shows an average vote of almost two to one in favor of prohibition, 58 per cent of the total vote having been polled. The prohibitionists have obtained nearly a two-thirds majority of all who voted, but only the support of between one third and one-half of all persons entitled to vote.

I have long anticipated that if a womanhood franchise were extended to women, the millennium would be hastened, but that hope is greatly deferred, if not altogether dispensed, by the fact that the women who remain a mystery to me why the majority of noble women on the occasion of the plebiscite failed to give expression to their profession. No amount of comment, except the most laudatory, will do any good in this connection, and the plain, stern front presented by the painful.

The Unionville Fair of 1894.

Before this issue of the Reporter reaches many of our subscribers, the Unionville fair of 1894 will be a thing of the past. But as a large proportion of our readers get the paper on Tuesday evening, or early on Wednesday, we make a few short announcements of the fair before it begins. The entries up to the time of going to press are in excess of any previous record for years past, and show that the old members are entering fully one third more than formerly. As the entries for the fair are now fully up to our previous year. The stock raisers of Newboro, Elgin, Delta and Chantry have engaged a cattle car to transport their stock to our fair, and some fancy stock, never before shown at a county fair, will be on hand. Unionville fair has always been noted for being a more purely agricultural exhibition than any in the Eastern part of Ontario, and those who delight in looking at the exhibits will be fully satisfied with the fair.
