"I Was a Fright!"

"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter."

"Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a sight. I was the most ungainly looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were sunken and my face looked like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing I could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, amused or pitying look—an expression which I am sure meant, 'why is a being like that allowed to large?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous. I met a friend of mine one day, Elsie W. and I hardly knew her. While she had never been as thin as I was, a year or more ago she ran me a close second, but when I met her she had taken on flesh and had developed into a fine handsome girl with one of the prettiest figures I had ever seen. I asked her what had caused the big change. She said Carol. She told me she had been taking it regularly for the last three months and that from the first week of taking it she had begun to put on flesh. I was so encouraged by what she said that I knew that I was advised. Carol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

"Oh, Angel!" she sobbed; "I am so unhappy! I must speak to you! I am so unhappy that I fear I shall die!"

And, before another word was uttered, Angela knew to what her mother referred, and she realized that the sorrow she had always foreseen was about to fall upon them.

"Come and comfort me, Angel!" cried the hapless lady. "I am in sore distress. My dear, you said, not once, but often, that the captain did not love me, and that he was going to marry me for my money. Did you mean it? Did you believe it?"

If her mother had taken her warning at the time, Angela would have been grateful, and would have persisted in all she then said. But the fatal knot had been tied, and there was nothing for it but to make the best of it.

"You just not remember what I said then, mamma, darling. It is useless recalling the words now."

"But, Angel, you said that the captain did not love me because he loved Gladys Rane. Oh, my dear, was it true—was it true?"

"I hope not, mamma," she replied. "It is of no use thinking of such things now."

"I cannot help thinking of them, and must speak of them, or my heart will break!" she sobbed. "Oh, Angel, you who love me so truly, can you not see how I suffer?"

Angela drew near and kissed the pale and sad face.

"I will comfort you and help you all I can, mamma," she said, gently. "I am so unhappy, Angel," said her ladyship; "and yet I cannot bear to tell you why, it seems like treachery. But I have borne it in silence until I can bear it no longer."

"Perhaps, darling mother, I can guess what it is that distresses you. I almost wish you could, Angel. It would save me the pain of telling you."

Angela bent her fair face over her mother's head.

"I do know," she whispered. "You are unhappy because of Gladys Rane."

"Heaven knows I am, Angel; so unhappy that I cannot go on bearing this pain much longer!"

Angela was too noble to say, as many in her place would have said, "I know it would be so; I told you so; I warned you." She only kissed, with added love and tenderness, the face of the beautiful mother whose martyrdom would be, she knew, so terrible.

"Tell me," continued her ladyship, "have you noticed it all others remarked it? Tell me all, Angela; do not keep anything from me. Is it spoken of, gossiped about?"

"I cannot tell you. I have not heard it mentioned, mamma."

"Then you have noticed it yourself?" cried Lady Wynyard.

"I could not help seeing that the captain spends a great deal of time with, and pays great attention to, Gladys Rane. But then, mamma darling, they are very old friends, and it is quite natural that they should have much to say to each other."

"But, Angel," sighed the sorrowing woman, "when he is with her his whole mind and soul are absorbed in her. Yesterday, when he was talking to her, I went up and spoke to him."

LADY LAURA'S RELEASE

THE STORY OF A SPOILED BEAUTY.

CHAPTER XX.

It proved to be a very unpleasant ride for him. He had thought no one would notice him; but not only had Mrs. Gilder-Lanston seen him, but also his most intimate friend, who, in the matter of good looks, virtues, and vices, was about on a par with himself. Sir Harry Herring had been a witness of his clandestine ride. It seemed to the captain that he was never to hear the last of it.

On the afternoon following he was what Miss Rane called "on duty"—in other words, driving with Lady Laura. There was a great number of people in the Row, and Sir Harry approached the carriage.

"I want to speak to you, Wynyard," he cried, and the coachman drew up at once. "How well you are looking, Lady Laura," he said. "And what a beautiful day this is! I should think, old man," he added, turning to his friend, "you spend your whole day out of doors. You were in the park early enough yesterday morning, and you were so engrossed that you passed me without a word or look."

Again the captain's face flushed hotly, and the angry gleam flashed in his eyes. But, before he had time to speak, Lady Laura looked up impatiently.

"You are mistaken, Sir Harry," she said. "The captain did not ride at all yesterday."

Sir Harry was a man of the world, and he guessed in a second, from the expression of the captain's face, that he had done wrong; if he had any doubt upon the point, it was removed when he heard the tone of the lady's voice.

"I must have been mistaken—in all probability I was," he replied.

"With whom did you think my husband was riding?" asked her ladyship.

"With no one," he answered simply.

Rothschild Home is Now a Museum.

The Rothschild home at Frankfurt, built immediately after the great fire of 1794 had wiped out the ghetto in that city, has been purchased as a Museum of Jewish Antiquities by Charles Hallgarten, a German-American banker, and Heinrich Frauberger, Hallgarten, who has lived in Germany for many years, was once of the organizers of the Jewish Society of Antiquities, which for twenty-five years has been collecting important historical material.

"The stately edifice made historic by the occupancy of the famous banking family," says the dispatch, "will house one of the rarest collections of articles of Jewish interest extant."

"The private offices of the Rothschild building have been left intact as a memorial to the famous bankers. The other rooms have been transformed into a regular museum and already have on exhibit a quantity of Jewish antiquities representing all periods of Jewish history from the beginning of the Diaspora (dispersion of the Jews after the Babylonian captivity.)"

"Relics of the synagogues, religious articles as prescribed by the Jewish ritual for the home, rare copies of the Bible, Talmud, other works of religious and ethical content, as well as various historical documents dealing with the Jews are part of the rich collection. Some of the best works of art to be found in the museum came out of the ancient synagogues, such as beautifully embroidered curtains for the ark where the scrolls of the law are kept, an eighteenth century altar and a magnificent chandelier."

"Among the outstanding features of the exhibits are a collection of Bibles, some of which are most artistically illuminated; large quantities of silver utensils, designed for Jewish festivals, and a fascinating collection of Jewish wedding rings lent by the Old Frankfurt Jeweler, Louis Koch. Charters granted by several of the German Em-perors to privileged Jews are among the mass of documents of historic interest contained in the collection."

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of some of the latest fashions. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

3809 FOR WORK OR AS A "HOME" DRESS.

3809. Here is a very comfortable frock, with graceful lines, in one piece style. The pockets are a useful and attractive feature. The sleeve may be finished in wrist or in elbow length. Figured percale, gingham, drill, linen, serge, mohair, sateen, gabardine and taffeta are good for this model.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 yards of 36 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A MODEL FOR SERVICE AND PROTECTION.

4163. This "easy to make" apron model is nice in unbleached muslin.

with facings of contrasting material, or, in gingham, chintz or percale. The side seams are free below the hips, but if preferred may be set at their entire length.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards of 27 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A SIMPLE "EASY TO MAKE" STYLE.

4276. Figured percale in blue and white, with banding of black tape, is here shown. This is a model for gingham, rubberized linen, crepe or sateen.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards of 27 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY HOUSE OR PORCH FROCK.

4279. Checked gingham in brown and white is here illustrated. It is trimmed with white pique. Figured voile or percale will also be good for this model. Taffeta or tub silk would be very pleasing, with stitching or embroidery for trimming.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 1/2 yards. To trim as illustrated requires 1/2 yard of 36 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A COMFORTABLE WORK DRESS.

3809. It is the little touches in the finish of this garment that will please you—as well as knowing that it is easy to make and comfortable to wear. In seersucker or chambray or a neat pattern of percale it is quite as nice as if made up in gabardine, dimity or dotted Swiss.

It is cut in 7 Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 8 yards of 36 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

FOR PORCH OR KITCHEN WEAR.

4161. Pattern and neat is here portrayed. The development and adjustment are equally simple. Figured percale was used in this instance, combined with white linen.

The Pattern is cut in 7 Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 4 yards of 40 inch material. To make vest, collar and cuffs of contrasting material requires 1 1/2 yards. The width at the foot is 2 1/2 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Big Surprise For English Liberals.

Government Candidate Defeated in Bye-Election—Birkenhead Declines Bonar Law's Overtures—Harding Favors International Court of Justice.

INTERESTING EVENT EXPECTED AT DOORN.

LONDON, March 5. Special correspondent to the Chronicle writes: "A family quarrel is expected to take place in a few months at Doorn, the ex-Kaiser's place of exile. The ex-Kaiser is particularly anxious that the terms of his second marriage shall be the light of day in exile and to avoid this negotiations are being made to enable the ex-Kaiser to take possession again of his Dutch estate. The ex-Kaiser knows that to expect permission to go to his consort to Cortu but hopes she may be permitted to go some time before the birth of a child. The Princess is in excellent health, and the coming event has to have given the ex-monarch an interest in life.

BIRKENHEAD REFUSES TO JOIN BONAR LAW MINISTRY.

LONDON, March 5. It was learned today that Birkenhead has declined to join Bonar Law's Government, but met refusal, possibly because, as Birkenhead aspires to the portfolio and the Prime Minister would hardly displace Lord Curzon. Birkenhead is making overtures to Austen Chamberlain and other members of the late George Ministry.

BRITISH POLITICAL SITUATION.

LONDON, March 5. The transfer in the East Willesden election, Saturday, when Harcourt, Liberal, was elected a majority of about five thousand. The Government candidate, Colonel Stanley, came as a big surprise to even optimistic Liberals who believe they are capable of beating a really virile Conservative in the general elections was in the little doubt that the reason for this turnover was the main policy of the Government in the hustling and rent control which affected the nerves of the middle and working classes. The defeat of Government candidate on Saturday and Monday mean a reversal for the Government. The result of the apparent strength of Liberal feeling in the country and Lloyd George's move for a renouveau of the two wings of the Liberal party have been reported lately. It is also reported there is a call by some of the influential Unionists for a reconstruction of the Government and political observers in London are reported to consider that it would not be surprising if Bonar Law should take steps to strengthen the Government by some of the Unionist ex-Ministers, who have been under Lloyd George's leadership.

HARDING'S VIEW OF INTERNATIONAL COURT.

WASHINGTON, March 5. President Harding looks upon the Court of International Justice as "one of the greatest advances world society has made towards conditions in which at last rule of law may be substituted for rule of force," he wrote Lt. Governor Earl Bloom, of Ohio, in response to a resolution from the Ohio State Senate commending him for his "courageous stand in urging American participation."

DOMINIONS TO BE CONNECTED BY WIRELESS.

LONDON, March 5. The Government has decided to erect wireless stations for communication with the Dominions, Premier Bonar Law announced in the Commons today. It was also decided to license the erection of private wireless stations in Great Britain.

AN EXTRAORDINARY SCHEME.

ROME, March 5. Premier Mussolini is expected to present to the Council of Ministers tomorrow, a plan for extending the suffrage to Italian emigrants. If the plan is approved Italian Nationals abroad will be represented in the Chamber by "Emigrants' Deputies."

CUTTING DOWN THE MAYFLOWER.

GLOUCESTER, March 5. The Boston fishing schooner Mayflower is to be cut down and equipped with a 100 horse power motor engine. Sporting considerations have been set aside by the syndicate owning her and they have written off the loss of fourteen thousand dollars incurred in the two years' effort to have the Mayflower recognized as a fisherman eligible to compete for the Halifax Herald Championship cup. Her top sticks and spars will be shortened, and it is probable that if the Mayflower enters for racing again it will be with stub mast and shorter spars, and with a spread of sail so much smaller she will have sacrificed much speed in light airs, although in better trim to stand a blow.

BOSCAWEN RESIGNS.

LONDON, March 5. Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, defeated in the bye-elections for Mitcham Division, Surrey to-day, has resigned as Minister of Health.

U.S. COAL FOR GERMANY.

NORFOLK, March 5. Shipments of United States coal to Germany began from Hampton Roads in cargo lots this week. Two vessels are in port and a third is expected.

WIND STORM IN PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, March 5. A seventy-two mile wind storm struck Pittsburg yesterday, causing two deaths and heavy property damage and held up transportation facilities.

AEROPLANE ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, March 5. Lieut. Stanley Smith, of the Army Air Service, was instantly killed, and Major Follette, probably fatally injured, when a giant Martin bomber, in which they left Mitchell Field for Illinois, was forced down at Brooklyn.

Capt. Davis Thanks Captain Busch.

APPRECIATION FROM MARINER TO MARINER.

I wish, through the columns of the Evening Telegram, to express my deepest thanks to Capt. Busch and crew of the s.s. Belvernon who rescued my crew from the schooner James O'Neill crushed in the ice off St. Pierre. Our ship's boat had been disabled, and we had to depend wholly on them. The splendid seamanship of Capt. Busch could not be excelled as he came to windward of our sinking ship, and by the help of oil which he threw on the water kept down the heavy sea as he launched his lifeboat and saved our lives at the risk of their own. They treated my crew to the best they had on board, and we cannot be too thankful to them.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—For shooting two cow moose in October last during the closed season, Ralph W. Ensign of New York was fined $450 and costs in the police court at Campbell's Bay by Judge Roland Miller on Saturday.

THE SHEET ANCHOR OF N.E. FISHERIES.

The "Bait Act" that Newfoundland put into force at that time saved the country. The strenuous restrictions refusing St. Pierre fishermen a supply of herring bait made their first trips in the season a failure, and by cutting down the supply of caplin and squid bait during their later trips we reduced their total catch to such small proportions that they found it an unprofitable business even with their bounties. Times have changed, and the French are now catching their codfish on our Banks with steam trawlers in large quantities, without the need of bait, so that we have no control over them like we had by curtailing their bait supply. There were 27 steam trawlers fishing from St. Pierre last year when their bounties were only about $125 per quintal on codfish when shipped by French steamships from Bordeaux to Italian ports. The principal competition that the New-

New French Bounties for St. Pierre.

By the mail just to have the High Commissioner, Sir Edgar Bowring in London forwards the Board of Trade the following information regarding new Bounties on Codfish to be granted the fishermen of St. Pierre by the French Government this coming season: These particulars will speak for themselves, and will show what our Newfoundland fishermen will have to compete with next season.

For uncurd cod caught in the zone of Newfoundland, the fishermen are granted a bounty of 30 francs (equal $6.00) per man for 45 days of continuous fishing or 90 days when breaks are included.

For cured fish the grants are 30 Francs (equal $6.00) per man for men employed in fishing, and 50 Francs (equal $10.00) per man for men employed in drying, the number of cures being limited to one to every three fishermen, periods: 45 days or 90 days as explained in previous paragraph.

GRANTS TO EXPORTERS.

Grants as follows are made to exporters; per metric cwt. (equal 100 lbs.)

(a) Dried cod shipped to foreign countries or to French Colonies outside the limits of the International coasting trade, either direct from the fishing grounds or through depots in France, 20 Francs (equal $4.00) per 100 lbs. or $4.48 per cwt.

(b) Dried cod shipped to French Colonies other than Algeria or to foreign countries, in French vessels, from French ports, without having been warehoused, 16 Francs (equal $3.20 per cwt.)

(c) Dried cod shipped to foreign countries within the limits of the International coasting trade in French vessels direct from the fishing grounds or from French ports, 16 Francs (equal $3.20 per cwt.)

(d) Cod repacked in France shipped to foreign countries or French Colonies, 12 Francs (equal $2.40 per cwt.)

(e) Fish caught on the West Coast of Africa and dried under similar conditions to cod, shipped to foreign countries or to French Colonies other than Algeria, Senegal and Mauritania, in French vessels, 12 Francs (equal $2.40 per cwt.)

It was the French competition that Newfoundland had to contend with in the Eighties of the past century with bounties not nearly as heavy as this, that brought about the "crash" in 1894 when our Banks and nearly all our merchants were ruined.

foundlanders had to meet was on our Labrador cure in Genoa and Leghorn markets where the French "Lave" came forward during December, put up in bales of 50 Kilos (equal 2 qts.) We had the chance of selling a portion of our catch early, but at the end of the season we were driven out of these markets.

BOUNTY FED COMPETITION.

When France has driven us out of the Italian markets with $1.25 per quintal Bounties, how can we possibly compete with $3.50 to $4.50 per cwt. Bounty that they will get next season? Let us not forget that it is not the Italian markets alone but in every foreign market, Portugal, Spain and Greece as well as Brazil and the West Indies that we will meet this Bounty competition after this. It is not alone on steamships from Bordeaux—but the largest Bounty is for shipments direct from St. Pierre so that preparations will certainly be made for earlier shipments than anything we can do. They are not even restricted to make their shipments on French steamships, but they can ship by the cheapest tonnage obtainable anywhere.

Not alone are the French fishermen benefited by these Bounties, but owing to the depreciation of the French Exchange they have an advantage of about 25 per cent. in the value in getting remittances from these Mediterranean countries to Paris as compared to what it costs to make remittances for our account to London.

NEWFOUNDLAND SHUT OUT.

Our Newfoundland fishermen are shut out of the French markets by an Import Duty against our codfish of equal to $6.00 per quintal, and Bounties are given to encourage French export shipments to foreign countries. It means that the French Government by this means enhances the price of fish to their own people at home to top notch figures, and by giving bounties for export they force the price below cost of production, and give foreign buyers cheaper fish, than they can otherwise do. French people are not all fools, but how the fishing industries can get a "pull" and make a Milch Cow of the rest of the country is hard to understand. If France was rich and had plenty of money to squander or experiment in such frenzied finance, no person could complain, but when we know that she is not paying her debts to England or even the interest on them, and we find she can put up money like this to drive British industries out of existence, it is high time for us to take a hand in this matter and show Great Britain what we are up against if she allows this to continue. —(Contributed.)

Walked into Water

BUT LANDED THE BOOTLEGGER.

HALIFAX, N.S.—That Temperance Act Inspector E. S. Tracey is not one to have his enthusiasm checked by the proverbial "dash of cold water" either when delivered figuratively or literally, was proved the other morning when the Inspector, on a "stilt" hunt during the wee hours entered the north end residence of Reuben Hartlen. Picking his way, by aid of a flashlight, down the cellar steps, Inspector Tracey reached what he thought was the smooth concrete floor of the cellar and stepped off confidently—into four feet of water covered with a thin scum of ice. He extricated himself with difficulty and, finding no traces of liquor, departed for other places under suspicion. Then he made a strategic move. Returning unexpectedly an hour after, and resembling in appearance a walking iceberg, he caught Mr. Hartlen carrying a jar of newly made spirits from the cellar to an out-house. After the usual legal formalities that would ensure Hartlen's appearance in court next morning, the Inspector went home to shed his icy camouflage.

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, LIMITED, PROPRIETORS.

St. John's, Nfld., Tuesday, March 6, 1923.

SEALERS ENTER PROTEST

"RESOLVED.—That this meeting of United Fishermen and Sealers respectfully protest to His Excellency the Governor against the polling date for the forthcoming General Election being fixed for a day before the eighth of May next."

The foregoing contains the exact phraseology of the Resolution unanimously passed at a joint meeting of Sealers and United Fishermen held in Grenfell Hall on Saturday night last, a full report of the proceedings of which has already been published in the Telegram. The necessity for such a resolution of protest is sufficiently obvious to the most superficial reader. The Government may make an appeal to the electorate at a date that will be set to suit their convenience, and not that of any other class or body of men. Perceiving that such a date might be announced during their absence at the icefields, thereby disfranchising hundreds of qualified voters, the sealers, of their own volition and initiative, have taken time by the forelock and entered formal protest with His Excellency the Governor of the Colony against any such proceeding. Whether or not the Government will take any notice of this formal protest, and accede to the wishes of the sealers, as therein expressed, is a matter for themselves entirely. Governors, as a rule, act upon the advice of their Ministers. But occasionally there comes a Chief Executive who has the courage, under certain given conditions, to refuse to accept such advice when, in his opinion, he believes it detrimental to the country at large. Such cases are rare, but they have been known in Newfoundland. The resolution, as passed and presented to the representative of His Majesty in St. John's, is not the act of one man or of one section of the population. The men who voted for it on Saturday night are drawn from all quarters of the island. Their interests were involved and their franchise would be threatened and destroyed, at least in the impending election, if an earlier date than May eighth were set. Hence the reason for the meeting; hence the reason for the resolution. The men who were present were not thinking of self or of self-interest. They were Newfoundlanders imbued with one idea—that of doing something to save their native land from almost certain destruction as a self-governing Colony. Their action, being spontaneous, is all the more patriotic, for it must be remembered that scores of these men were total strangers to each other. Yet the common cause drew them together as a magnet draws particles of steel. And the magnet in this particular instance was the future welfare, safety and prosperity of their island home. The attraction that she possesses for them is irresistible, and rather than see her deliberately sacrificed they took the only stand which free and independent men could take, with dignity to themselves and the cause they represented. There is such a thing as a violent declaration, followed up by violent demonstration—active resistance, as it were. But these sealers have not adopted any such method. They have respectfully, but firmly, appealed to Caesar, in the person of the viceroy of His Most Gracious Majesty the King, to whom may be granted a long life. That appeal was lodged in a formal and dignified manner. It is a sincere protest on the part of hardy men, men who are about to engage in one of the most hazardous ventures of the sea and ice. Men of this type are not of the quality to be sneered at by the writers in the Government press. The courage and daring of the men who tread the frozen pans have been tried and proven on hundreds of occasions. Their labors at the sealfishery have been productive of much wealth and revenue for Newfoundland. The present Government have not been sparing in their efforts to tax these same men and their earnings. Yet, forsooth, because the sealers demand their legitimate rights as free and independent electors of Newfoundland, they are hounded by the very men who fatten and batten on the huge sums of money extorted from them in the way of taxes. Their honest convictions are made the subject of abuse and ribald laughter. Yet there was a time when these same sealers were extolled by the same men who are now so busily engaged in heaping upon them all the abuse they can think of, as "the salt of the earth" and "the backbone of Newfoundland." The sealers will not early forget this. That is why, having taken the initiative, there will be no going back. Clean, honest government must take the place of, must rout the forces of mismanagement and incompetency. In this rout the sealers will become a prominent and potent factor.

Passing of Mr. Scott.

GENERAL MANAGER OF A.N.D. CO. DIES IN ENGLAND.

A cablegram was received from England yesterday, by M.S. Sullivan, apprising him of the death of Mr. V. Scott, Vice-President and General Manager of the A.N.D. Co., Grand Falls, which sad event occurred yesterday morning at Southsea, England. Deceased for sometime past had not been in apparent good health and decided to take a trip to the Old Country, thinking the change would do him some good. Mr. Scott left Grand Falls for England in the latter part of December, but his physical condition weakened and continued until the end which came yesterday. The late Mr. Scott will be sadly missed in the paper town, as the success of the big undertaking of the A.N.D. Company owes much to his initiative and energy, and that his ability was recognized is demonstrated by his appointment as General Manager and Vice-President of the concern. Deceased, who was a civil engineer by profession, was a man of exceptional ability, highly esteemed and honored. Mr. Scott for years was associated with Sir R. G. Reid, and worked with him on railway construction in Canada. When he transferred his activities to Newfoundland Mr. Scott remained with the Reid Newfoundland Company till the Grand Falls industry was opened up when the took the position of Engineer with the Company eventually becoming General Manager. The late Mr. Scott married Miss Emerson, sister of the late Judge Emerson. Mrs. Scott accompanied her husband to England. Two children survive; John, studying medicine at McGill, and a married daughter at Halifax.

THE SQUIRES MANIFESTO

Prime Minister's Broken Promises.

"The Liberal Reform Party, of which I have the honour to be the leader, proposes to administer the affairs of Newfoundland, develop her enterprises and pursue a progressive policy in accordance with the recognized principles of Liberalism. The election of the Government means a continuance of the old order of things; the election of the Liberal Reform Party means the dawn of a new political day, the entry upon an era of cleansing of the public affairs, an era of reconstruction and progress."

The above extract from that precious document, the manifesto issued to the electorate by Sir Richard Squires in 1919, viewed in the light of conditions as they exist in this country to-day, would be ludicrous were our financial position not so serious. It is a fair specimen of the type of promise found throughout the manifesto, and like most of the present Prime Minister's promises, it's fulfillment has yet to be. The Liberal Reform Party asked to be given an opportunity to administer public affairs. Unfortunately, they obtained it, for despite their promise of a progressive policy, their one aim since they took office seemed to be to do their utmost to increase the national debt, and squander as much money as they could lay hands on. They wasted the surplus left by the former Government, they wrung as much as they could out of the people and wasted that, they borrowed millions which they also squandered, and then, like Oliver Twist, they went to American financiers begging for more. They got extravagance down to such a science, that they could spend three dollars for every one they had, and gloated over it. The Prime Minister believes that in doing these things, he was pursuing a democratic policy, but the people, as they will soon show him, think differently.

Good Luck to the Sealers

With the striking of eight o'clock to-morrow morning, the sealing fleet will make steam for the Narrows, after clearing which, course will be shaped for the northern extremities of the island, off which the masters expect to find the main patch. Let us hope that their highest expectations will be realized to the full. Sailing orders, we understand, were changed at short notice to the captains, who, however, were ready to put to sea when the time came. One innovation this year is the carrying of an Avro aeroplane by S.S. Neptune, with an experienced pilot navigator. This handy little plane will be operated from the es. Its utility will have ample opportunities of being demonstrated, and should it be successful the chances are that all ships will be similarly equipped next spring. The vessel sailing in the morning are: Thetis, Neptune, Seal, Ranger, Eagle, Terra Nova. The Viking has already sailed and the Sagons will clear on Friday. Much of the former glories of the sealing of the steam sealing fleet have departed and there is not so much interest evinced as there was when twenty or twenty-five ships proudly steamed down the Harbor bedecked with bunting and plumed with smoke, while whistles blew and cheers resounded from those on the water front to be echoed by the crews of fleet. But even though the glory of spectacular features has departed, the spirit of the men themselves, who man the ships, has not grown any weaker, the dangers of the voyage have not diminished, the grind of berg and the thunder of rafter, the howl and wrath of the gale and the ocean. All these have to be contended with and overcome, for where the seal is there is ever recurring peril to ship and crew. In bidding the fleet an revoir, we wish them all the good luck possible and trust that providence will watch over them, and kind fortune direct their destinies in the search for wealth upon which they have proceeded. God speed them.

Dog Teams Bring Sealers Baggage.

An unusual sight was witnessed by pedestrians along Water Street, during the dinner hour, when a number of dog teams, each with three canines in the traces, came down a side lane, and shaped a course for Beck's Cove, their destination being one of the Bowring sealing steamers. Each team was quite a load of sealers' baggage, and was attended to by one man. The dogs were evidently delighted at having reached the end of their journey, for when told to lie down they emitted a series of short, sharp barks by which sounds these animals show pleasure.

SNOWING ALONG RAILWAY.—A light snow storm prevails along the line of railway to-day. Last mid-night the weather turned much colder. The Bowring plow operating between Clarendon and Whitehouse cleared up that part of the road yesterday.

INCOMPETENT ADMINISTRATION.

Making a due allowance for the natural depression which was bound to follow the war, with its abnormal inflation of prices, there is only incompetent administration to blame for the distressful state in which Newfoundland finds herself to-day. At every session of the Legislature since the Squires Party took office, scandals of a most serious nature have been exposed, and the Government have been unable to deny the truth of the accusations levelled at them. They feared to open the House this year, because they knew that scandals even more serious than those already revealed, would be brought to light. Sir Richard Squires apparently thinks that election promises are made to be broken, and trusting to the public having a short memory, he has the temerity, or rather, the impudence, to ask the people to again elect him to office. If he believes that he will be re-elected on the strength of his record during the past three years, then his is a vain hope. The Telegram proposes to publish further extracts from Premier Squires manifesto, and with them, comment upon the manner in which the promises contained therein were NOT fulfilled. There could be no better way of demonstrating the fact that Bennett is going to win.

Vice Royalty Visits Sealers.

His Excellency Sir Wm. Allardycy, Lady Allardycy and Miss Allardycy, accompanied by Major Wilberforce Bell and Capt. Goodfellow, visited the sealing steamers this morning, prior to their sailing for the seal fishery. The party first went on board the steamers Neptune and Thetis, following which they visited the Seal at Balne Johnstone premises, and at noon hour the party were received on board the sealing ships, Terra Nova, Ranger and Eagle at Bowring's premises, and bunting gaily flew from the masts of all the ships, in honor of His Excellency's visit. In each case the sealing owners of the respective firms waited on the party and escorted them on board. His Excellency felt highly pleased with all he saw, and before leaving the ships, he wished the captains a safe return and bumper voyages.

Under the distinguished Patronage of His Excellency the Governor and Lady Allardycy, The Cowan Mission Association will hold their Annual Entertainment in the Methodist College Hall, on afternoon of St. Patrick's Day. Home-made Candy, Cake and Easter Novelties for Sale. Particulars later.—mar.5

Three Days on Ice Floe

Thrilling Experience of Crew Schr. A. B. Barteaux - Rescued When Near Exhausted by S. S. Hawk - Four Seamen Taken to Hospital.

Badly frostbitten, due to three days' exposure on the ice in severe weather, when their vessel foundered, the crew of the schr. A. B. Barteaux were brought to port by S. S. Hawk this morning. The shipwrecked mariners were rescued at daylight on Friday, 23rd inst. off Cape Pine. Four of the men were removed to hospital on the arrival of the ship. The other two of the crew, although needing medical treatment, were able to put up at the Kitchener Hotel. For the past eleven days the men have been suffering untold agonies due to not having proper medical attention, although in this connection Capt. Alsten and crew of the Hawk did everything unmanly possible to make the men comfortable, even to giving up their own berths and coverings when the men were first brought aboard they were all placed in the cabin. Frozen boots and clothes had to be cut off. Then a warm drink of brandy was given each followed by hot gruel. In spite of their frozen limbs the men were very hungry, having been for three days without food. Capt. Alsten, when he thought the men had partaken of enough solid food for their situation, had them wrapped in blankets. Meanwhile the frozen feet of the men were being rubbed with snow. Some of the crew were so badly bitten that it was over 8 hours after being brought aboard that all the frost was drawn from the members, and the sufferers were placed in bed. The members of the Barteaux's crew are:—Capt. Thomas James; Mate, Leonard Daley; Cook, John Hynes; Seaman, Moses James, John Vatcher, Walter Parrott, Gordon Parrott. Captain James appeared to suffer the most, as in getting clear of his vessel he went to the waist in water. It is certain, says Capt. Alsten, that he would not have survived another four hours exposure.

THE RESCUE SHIP.

The Hawk made Cape Race at 8.30 last night and steamed into port early this morning. On the ship's arrival Drs. Carnell and Knight were in attendance and saw to the men's removal to Hospital. Mr. Reg Harvey and Capt. Herald, Ship's Agent for A. S. Rendell & Co. were also present, and rendered all assistance possible. Captain Doyle has kindly furnished us with the following account of the trip of the Hawk from Lunenburg. The ship left port here at 11.30 a.m. on the 17th of February. All that day was occupied in getting under the western end of Sable Island. On Sunday the ship started at 6.30 a.m., with lakes of water ahead, but a heavy swell prevented much progress. Monday was stormy with snow. Ice was again met at noon. All night the ship lay-to in the ice with the swell continuing. On Tuesday a N.W. breeze sprang up and the course was set East half North. Open water was met for some distance, then ice and open water again. The course being changed to S.E., at midnight, was changed to East. Fair conditions were met and the ship made 7 1/2 knots. Wednesday there was a snow storm from E.N.E., which lasted all day. Thursday ice was again run into and but very slow progress could be made. The position at noon was 120 miles W.S.W. of Cape Pine. The course was again altered to E.N.E. when bays of water alternating with ice were met. At 8 p.m. the ship was 80 miles off Cape Pine. Friday, the 23rd inst., the weather was civil, but the ship was in very tight ice. It was at daylight this morning that Capt. James and crew were picked up. On Saturday a storm of wind from W.N.W. raged, and close packed ice was everywhere, the Sable I. was sighted. The Hawk was steaming slowly on this day and stopped for the night. Sunday, 25th, the ship was in the ice, 70 miles W.N.W. of Cape Pine, with no water to be seen. For the six following days the Hawk was jammed, and not until yesterday morning did she make clear water at the Cape.

MATE OF HAWK SAW FLARE.

It was at 2 o'clock on Friday morning of the 23rd inst. when the mate of the Hawk reported to the captain that a light or flare could be seen on the ice some distance away.

The captain was below at the time and on going on deck he made out that a distress signal was being burned. For two hours he tried to force his ship in the direction of the light, but was obliged to wait until day break. Meanwhile the mate could make out that a number of men were huddled together on a pan of ice, and that they were burning something on a stick as a flare. This afterwards proved to be an oil coat hoisted on an oar. Seven men were counted. They were standing behind a shelter built of small pieces of ice, and occasionally one man would be seen to fall again and again to be always picked up by his companions. The captain of the Hawk realized that the castaways were in a desperate plight, and taking chances he forced his ship in through, until he reached the pan of ice on which the men were.

ELEVEN DAYS ON HAWK.

It was, as has already been stated, 11 days from this time that the Hawk reached port, as in the interval she was frozen fast for six days. The weather was terrible, with heavy seas, and snow squalls from every quarter. One fortunate thing was that the captain had his ship well supplied with provisions and water. As she was coal laden, there was also no anxiety of a shortage of fuel. The veteran Capt. Doyle was ice pilot on the trip, and he says he never saw ice conditions worse in all his experience. The A. B. Barteaux was bound here from Perth Amboy, New York, which port she left on Monday, February 5.

BOWS STOVE IN.

After being four days on the passage the vessel ran into ice in which she was held for more than a week. Getting in clearer water she was making fair progress until on the morning of the 20th ult., a pan of ice stove in the port bow. Capt. James going forward to see the extent of the damage quickly realized that his vessel was doomed. Without losing a moment he called the watch then below, and ordered the ship's boat launched. Before this could be accomplished the decks were awash and all hands had to jump for their lives. There was no time to get warm clothing or put food and water in the boat.

In jumping overboard the captain went down through the aloft ice to his waist. The others of the crew all had their boots filled with water. The vessel disappeared beneath the surface almost immediately the men cleared her. Their boat they started to drag over the ice, expecting that should they make lakes of water, the light craft would be of use to them. If proved a heavy drag, however, and the project had to be abandoned. They walked on hoping to reach land. Darkness came and the men, exhausted, stopped for rest. The frost was

DOUBLE HEADER THURSDAY NIGHT.

On Thursday night next in the Prince's Rink a double header hockey match will be staged between picked teams from the Inter-Collegiate League, while a crack team from the city will play a team representing the G.W.V.A. The latter contest promises to be the best game of the season, because the players participating will be the pick of the Senior League. Mr. R. H. Tait will manage the G.W.V.A. sextette, while J. M. Tobin is looking after the City teams interests. Special sweaters have been obtained for the former team, the colors being white, with a purple carbou on the breast. The total proceeds go to the Child Welfare Association and the G.W.V.A. and in view of the worthiness of both objects it is safe to say that a bumper house will be in attendance. The C.L.B. Band have kindly offered their services for the occasion. At the conclusion of the games general skating will be indulged in.

THE WHATNOTS OF YESTERYEAR.

Where are the whatnots of yesteryear? They are certainly vanished from hundreds of parlors and they have not yet made their re-appearance as antiques. What has become of them? Are they up in the attic or down in the cellar? But so many people have no attic or cellar nowadays. What was done with the whatnot when the family moved into the apartment? Was it broken up for kindling wood or sold to the second hand man? Surely he would have no chance to resell it. Will it some day come back as an antique and where shall we look for it if it does?

From the standpoint of aesthetics I hope that every whatnot in the land has been safely broken up for kindling wood. Treasure Trove. But from another standpoint I could weep a tear over such a funeral pyre. And that is the standpoint of the child to whom the collection of articles on grandmother's or great Aunt Mary's whatnot was always a treasure trove.

I wonder how many of my Reader Friends remember such a treasure trove, either in their own parlors, generally kept sacred for Sunday afternoon consumption, or as the spot in some grandmother's or great aunt's home to which they gravitated on being taken there to call, quite as surely as to the cookie jar. I have never seen your Great Aunt's whatnot, of course, but I'm going to make some guesses as to what was on it. Perhaps someone will tell me how far I am right.

The Truth Will Out

GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPER READERS ARE WONDERING WHY THE CHANGE.

The Advocate and Daily Mail the organs of the Coaker-Squires wing of the present Government are noticeably silent about the Reids, Sir P. T. McGrath and others whom they strongly denounced in 1919 and the years immediately preceding the last general election. Where are the big headlines where were wont to read in these newspapers in the years referred to. Where are the same Reids and McGrath to-day? When Mr. Coaker and the Advocate were incessantly denouncing Sir P. T. McGrath and the editors of the Daily Star (now the Daily Mail), they were printing large headlines over articles in applauding and praising Bennett, Crosbie and Cashin. Mr. Coaker at this period could not find words strong enough to discredit and discredit Sir P. T. McGrath, the Reid Brothers, and the railway solicitors.

Have trips to Canada, America and Europe with the same Reids, their solicitors and Sir P. T. helped him and Mr. Squires to change their opinions of those gentlemen in the short period of two or three years? The question is what do the members of the F.P.U. and the fishermen of the North think of this sudden change of opinion on the part of the Advocate and Mr. Coaker?

To-day the Squires-Coaker government is hand in glove with the same Reids and Sir P. T. McGrath, and the latter is enjoying a handsome remuneration of thousands of dollars yearly on the now famous Labrador Boundary Question, whilst the Reids have received over five millions of dollars to run the railway, and are at the present time seeking concessions that scared the Government from opening the House this spring. When Mr. Coaker in his secret circulars said that "Squires acted as a traitor to him he underlined a paragraph which ran as follows:—

"If I should die to-morrow never allow Squires to represent a district where you have any choice. Squires has been intriguing for the leadership. All that the devil could suggest was done by Reid, Squires and the anti-Union clique to down and out me."

What do you, fishermen and F.P.U. men, think of men with such rapid and changeable declarations? While the same Coaker and Squires are enjoying extended trips abroad with the Reids and McGrath, the country is being feced to pay abnoxious and unnecessary taxes, to give them, one and all, thousands upon thousands of dollars in salaries, expenses, deals, etc.

The horsehair hat is in high favor, and if draped with a charming colored lace, it is absolutely the vogue.

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and for weak and dreary feelings caused by my condition. Sometimes I felt so bad that I couldn't do my housework. My neighbor told me of your medicine and I read about it in the 'Toronto Telegram' and thought I would take it. I got very good results. It built me up and I have told several friends what it has done for me. You may use this testimonial as it may be of help to some one who has suffered as I have."—Mrs. J. CHANGEABLE LIFE.
Laughter and song and dance,
Sorrow and grief and tears,
These are the things we chance
Day by day through the years.
Glad for a little while,
Stunted for a time by woe,
And ever the tear and smile
Come in their turns, and go.

Yesterday's skies were gray,
Now they are shining clear;
Troubled and rough the way,
Dark with the gloom of fear,
Danger, and doubt and dread
Men of the world must know,
But you shall find ahead
Live is not ever so.

Mourn not your present state,
Dwell not too long with grief,
Boast not your pleasures great—
Sorrow and joy are brief.
Yesterday was but here again,
Life must be lived to-day,
And when the night draws near
This shall be swept away.

Bear it a little while,
Cruel though seems the pain,
Agony you shall some day smile,
Then you shall weep again.
Laughter nor grief can stay,
Soon must they both be spent,
Only the soul in the clay
Lives and is permanent.

$100 or two Months' For Watered Milk.

The maximum sentence for violating the bylaw prohibiting the selling of diluted milk was given in the Recorder's Court recently, when Arthur Armand received a sentence of two months in jail or a fine of $100 and costs. Armand was found guilty on two similar charges and the same sentence was rendered in each.

"A man who cheats the public with impure or diluted milk is worse than a common thief," said Recorder Semple. "He is robbing the poor and harming those who most need help—the children and the sick who buy the milk. There is no judgment too harsh for him."

Inspector Legault testified that Armand had been bringing in milk from his farm in St. Hubert and selling it in Montreal. Samples were taken on several occasions and the "milk" was found to be from thirty to forty per cent water.

Armand claimed that he did not handle his milk either at his farm or here, but admitted that he received the money when it was sold. Recorder Semple told him he was responsible and assessed the fine—Montreal Daily Star.

Oh, watchman, tell me of the night! "The night is punk," the watchman said, "and many kids chase false truth, we ho should be home and safe in bed. When I was young, long years ago, the springs ails burned the midnight oil; that truth of value might know, they conned the works of Hume and Hoyle. They sat around the evening lamp and read of valentines, hard and seer; they had no vain desire to tramp the garish streets till morn was near. The prudent parents stayed at home, examples for the children's eyes, and Father read a helpful poem, while smiling Mother swatted flies. The household circle is no more, the doors are shut, the lights are out, the folks are gone where autos roar, and wild carousers dance and shout." Oh, watchman, if you speak the truth, we live in parlous times, I swear; but in my long vanished youth your grandfire spake as you do now. There Were Many Things Which I Could Not Eat

Mr. H. Robert Wells, English Harbour, Trinity Bay, Nfld., writes:

"I was troubled with nervous dyspepsia—so much so that there were a great many things I could not eat at all on account of the distressed feeling afterwards. I used many different remedies, but they did me little good. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills, and was surprised at the relief this combined treatment gave me in such a short time."

Produce and Provisions.

(From the Trade Review)
There is very little import in the foreign fish markets in respect to prices, but the market shows up better in the local markets. The Oporto week-end has gone up from 3.657 qts. to 3.643 this week. The week-end news comes from Italy to show that an importing combination is being organized at Genoa and is intended to take fish on consignment only, the coming season, and to have no more on outright sales. It is said, to adopt all the cold storage system a la Spanish plan in Spain.
Newfoundland totalled 13,000 qts. as follows:—By schooner Genoa 5,418 qts. to Jamaica from Georgetown Trading Co., Marystown, St. John's.—By schooner Heron 3,400 qts. by Monroe Export Co. to Kingston and Barbados; of this cargo was shipped by the Over Trading Co. and T. Hall by schooner Lila D. Young 1,144 qts. to A. E. Hickman Co. to Kingston; by schooner David C. 532 qts. from A. E. Hickman to Lisbon; by schooner Cyril T. 1,908 qts. from the Nfld. Produce Co.
Owing to the good demand for the order of New York and buyers since New Year, there is a revival of the manufacturing business in the New England factories and the boom is expected to keep on increasing throughout 1923. There are likely then to be good prices for our cod oil of this year's catch.

Cod Liver Oil—The New York "Drug and Oil Journal" of last issue says first lots of 1923 catch are coming in from abroad; but it is too early to hazard an opinion. At present rate this year's catch will be good, but it is thought the cod liver oil prices have been and are still too low to make it likely that there will be an excess production this year. Spot Norwegian oil is now quoted at $21.75 to $23.00 per barrel according to brand. All the circumstances indicate that there will be fewer engaged in the business of making cod liver oil this year, seeing that the price is so near to common oil.
Flour—The markets have been very quiet for some weeks. There has been a decline in Chicago May wheat but it is still considerably above the level of Manitoba quotations. This week Chicago May wheat hung around $1.18 and Winnipeg $1.14. Europe wants wheat badly but finds it hard to get the ready money to pay for it. The local quotation for flour this week is $9.00 per barrel wholesale for leading brands. The S.S. Sable I brought in 250 barrels and 545 sacks last trip.
Pork—The quotations for pork are lower this week and the market shows an easier trend, which looks encouraging for spring supplies. The S.S. Sable I brought in 100 barrels this week making the total since New Year for St. John's 2,468 barrels. The local prices are $31.50 Ham Butt, $27.50 Fat Back and $26.75 Spare Ribs per barrel wholesale. Dealers here believe that the market will keep these low levels all the spring.

Beef—The price of beef in all grades keeps up owing, it is said, to scarcity at the packing centres. The market is quite firm, especially for this season of the year when past experience shows that the markets are generally about their lowest. Box Flank is $21.50 per barrel in the local market; Family Special and Boneless $21. This week 305 barrels were imported by the Sable I. The general belief is that prices will keep up for some time.
Molasses—The advance in the price of molasses of five cents a gallon the past fortnight has been an unexpected shock to most dealers in this commodity. The price opened at 43 cents at Barbados in early February, but buyers generally held off believing that they would do better later. The price, however, suddenly jumped to 48 cents f.o.b. when only a few orders had been placed. Amongst those is the "Over The Top" cargo of "fancy" coming to W. A. Munn. The rise in sugar is no doubt responsible for this sudden jump in molasses.
Potatoes—Prices are somewhat firmer in both the local and foreign markets. The demand is improved as compared with the first three weeks of February and a fair trade is being done for this season of the year. The turn to milder weather is no doubt the cause of the improved movement which will likely be more in evidence as the spring advances. Imported stock is selling at $4.00 to $4.50 wholesale per barrel (150 lbs.) and local at $3.50 to $4.00.
Oats—The S.S. Sable I brought in 1,500 bags from Halifax this week. The market is quiet and prices this week in the foreign markets were evidently largely influenced by the action of wheat and corn. The demand is moderate and the May quotation holds between 44 and 45 per bushel for Canadian oats. The local market is steady with a good supply and slack demand. The quotations of last week still prevailing viz: $3.80 for black; $3.70 for white and $3.65 mixed per bushel.
Hay—The hay market shows very little change this week. There is a general dullness in the Canadian market with a disposition on the part of holders to realize some of their big stocks before the winter is over. Prices generally show a lower tendency in Canadian oats, but there is a stronger feeling in the New York market. The local situation is unchanged and steady, and sales are being made at $37.00 to $38.00 wholesale per ton and at the rate of $4.00 for single bales.

Lassen Volcano Active.

REDDING, Cal.—Lassen Peak, the only active volcano in the United States, to-day wore a smudgy coat instead of its usual winter covering of spotless white, according to latest reports, was continuing from yesterday. The eruption at first consisted only from steam, which was mistaken for swirling clouds of snow, but later smoke billowed out in great puffs and apparently carried with it some ashes as the snow was darkened for some distance down the mountainside. The smoke was visible for many miles late yesterday.
The mountain had lain dormant for several months prior to yesterday.

"Blue Water" is a Big Success.

ST. JOHN, N.B.—The motion picture production of "Blue Water," from the book of the same name by Captain Frederick William Wallace, had its premier showing in St. John, to-day, before the directors and stockholders of the New Brunswick Films, Limited. David M. Hartford, the director, and Ernest Shipman, who will now exploit the picture in all countries, were among those present. At a previous screening in New York the picture was voted a success.
A vote of thanks was accorded the director for his excellent interpretation of the story. It will be released to the Canadian and American theatres in February.

The World's Largest Flowers.

You would not like a nosegay of the world's largest flowers, not only because of their size, but for another and much more urgent reason, as you would very soon know. These flowers, which are six feet across, and a little more sometimes, grow in Sumatra, that East Indian island which has many wonderful plants. On one kind of the tree there a leafless parasite or creeper plant flourishes, which shows into a red flower, with little pale yellow swellings on it, and it measures from three to six feet in diameter. The largest flower can hold sixteen pints or two gallons of water in it. As it was found by Sir Thomas Raffles and Dr. Arnold, it is named after them—the "Rafflesia Arnoldi."

In the western parts of Sumatra another huge flower grows—the "Amorphallus Titanum." It seldom is taller than three feet, and, also, takes six feet of the tape measure to reach across from side to side of it. It is most beautiful to look at. But just as the "Rafflesia Arnoldi" stands out an older like very sour meat, so the "Amorphallus Titanum" has a nasty small like decaying fish. So there is no chance of ever seeing either of them in a nosegay.
The famous "Victoria Regia" water-lily of South America, though it grows a comparatively large flower, is noted not for the size of its bloom, but for the immenseness of its leaves. They spread themselves on the water almost nine feet across, and are so strong that three men can be carried on each leaf. Its leaf is a wonderful piece of nature's construction, for on the underside it is braced and held together by a most admirable system of vegetable girders and ties. Indeed, the plan of the innumerable light steel girders and ties forming the framework of the Crystal Palace in London, which was designed by a gardener, was copied entirely from the leaf of the "Victoria Regia" lily.—N. Tourneur.

Nature Note: The Chameleon.

The chameleon is one of the most wonderful creatures in the way he changes his color at different times. He is a grotesque little reptile, rather like a lizard to look at with protruding eyes and a great wide mouth. Naturalists cannot agree as to whether these changes of color are involuntary or otherwise, but certain it is that they protect him from his many foes. He lives entirely among trees, and is practically defenceless. At night, when all is still, he may be of a nondescript yellow hue, but when the morning comes this changes into a deep, dark green, the exact color of the leaves on which he rests. When crawling on a bush he becomes dark brown; if taken in the hand or frightened he becomes an ink black. Sometimes he takes the hue of a sprig of lavender, and sometimes he assumes the pinkish purple of azalea blossoms.

Some Farmer.

Mr. Boone was a dealer in Beaver skins to which there hangs a tale. The Beaver skins were all disposed of and the summer had come. Mr. Boone was spending a time among the farmers. He knew all about farming and often gave the farmer sound advice—mostly sound.
He had just closed a meeting during which he gave some advice respecting the raising of herbs. Mr. Coaker moved a vote of thanks and hinted that Mr. Boone would make a capital Minister of Agriculture. The audience moved away, but some lingered still to hear the great clarion

Diet After Weaning.

"I have just weaned my baby at the age of one year and so far I have been feeding him on oatmeal and farina.
Babies are, or ought to be, weaned about the twelfth month; or if their first year of life terminates in hot weather, especially in cities, the weaning may be delayed until the fall. Many such infants are then seriously handicapped, are exposed to great danger and often digestive diseases under the mistaken impression that the weaning period is suitable for the introduction into the child's diet of general table food. Salt pork, pickles and the like have been given little children with fatal results. The following are about the right bills of fare for the periods stated.
A diet suitable for a child of 12 to 18 months: 6.30, cereal, strained; and milk; 10.30, milk and sweetback; 1.30, broth, chicken, rice or macaroni, bread, milk; 5.30, cereal, milk, apple sauce.
A diet suitable for a child of 2 to 4 years: Breakfast, cereal, an egg (boiled), bread, butter, milk; dinner, meat, potato, green vegetable, bread, butter, dessert (custard); supper, cereal, milk, crackers, fruit (apple, baked).
A diet on which a boy of nine years weighing 66 pounds, thrived: Breakfast, toast (3 pieces), butter (1-2 oz.), sugar (1-4 ounce), cereal (3 ounces), 1 egg, cocoa (a cupful); dinner, a cup broth, meat (3 ounces), green vegetable (3 ounces), rice (3 ounces), bread (2 slices), butter (1-2 ounce), dessert (custard, 4 ounces); supper, toast (3 slices), one egg, butter (1-2 ounce), milk (a tumblerful), a baked apple, (one level teaspoonful equals half an ounce).
Other good foods for children are: Cane sugar, cream, fruit pulp, mashed vegetables, clear soups, puree of vegetable, fish, oysters, lamb, veal, gelatin, beef, turkey, mutton, chicken, squab, beans, oatmeal, graham flour, Boston crackers, peas, graham bread, cornmeal, wheat bread, barley, macaroni, arrowroot, sage, dates, tapioca, molasses, figs, corn, green peas, spinach, stewed fruits, string beans, onions, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cranberries, chocolate, bacon fat, cocoa.
Here are forbidden foods for the nursery: Ham, sausage, pork, salt fish, dried beef, corned beef, goose, duck, boiled or stewed kidneys, liver and bacon, stewed liver, gravies except cold gravy, baked tomatoes, pickled beets, fried potatoes, carrots, pastries, griddle cakes, fresh bread, meat or fruit pies, rich cakes, hot biscuit, meat stews, rich omelet, raw or fried onions, radishes, cucumbers, muffins, doughnuts, preserves, canned fruits, tea, coffee, liquors (unless indicated by the doctor).

PROTECTION

Woman Suffrage.

ITS PROGRESS IN QUEBEC.

MONTREAL, (Canadian Press)—Five hundred French speaking women in Montreal have set out to correct the view that the "Latin temperament is against votes for women." This belief on the part of the Quebec legislature has kept women from voting in provincial elections, though they are enfranchised for federal elections. When the University of Montreal began a course on "Civic government" this year the five hundred women were among those who caused the class to be the largest on record. They wanted to know all about the principles of government and the duties of citizenship and they settled down to work in earnest. The class met on Thursdays, but it was found that there were many others desirous of attending who could not come on that day. So it was arranged that Thursdays should be reserved for women who were at leisure during the day and an extra class should be formed on Sundays for business girls who could not attend during the week. The classes have proved a great success and lectures have been attentively followed. Bishop Gauthier, Administrator of the Catholic Diocese of Montreal, was present at the opening of the course and heard the first lecture which was given by Father Forest, General Secretary and Professor of Philosophy at the University. Father Forest at the outset expressed his sympathy with the women in their desire for citizenship rights and refuted some of the common arguments of opponents of the woman's vote. It had been said that economic problems in politics were a little difficult for women to understand. "If you can bring me two men out a hundred who can thoroughly understand them, then I should be prepared to tell the women they ought not to vote," he said. In moral and social life the women's influence was as much needed as men's.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Bishop Gauthier, while he did not commit himself to an opinion on the suffrage, stated that Father Forest in his views represented the University. Altogether 10 lectures covering the various phases of Government are included in the course. The movement in part an answer to the Provincial legislators' challenge to the women of Quebec to show that the vote is really wanted, is also part of a comprehensive educational campaign which it is planned to extend throughout the Province. The gathering together of five hundred French speaking women to study citizenship is regarded by French and English-speaking suffragist leaders in Quebec as a great victory. Up to the present the view has been that while the English-speaking women were generally in favor of the extension of the provincial vote to women in Quebec, French women were indifferent or opposed. Now the French-speaking women are showing a tendency to forge ahead and in activity this year so far as Montreal is concerned have left their English-speaking sisters behind. Measures to give the vote to women in Quebec have been repeatedly turned down in the legislature. A deputation of several hundred women who waited on Premier Taschereau last year and asked for the franchise were told the legislature would not pass such legislation.

Saw Soloist Gets Big Ovation.

NICKEL PATRONS HEAR SOMETHING UNUSUAL.

Patrons of the Nickel Theatre turned out in large numbers last night to hear Mr. Victor Ewart Legge in Musical Saw Solos. Mr. Legge's rendition of "A Perfect Day" and "Little Town Near by" were nothing less than wonderful—for to get such sweet, entrancing music from an ordinary carpenter's saw reflects an in-born qualification that is indeed very rare. Each note was as clear and distinct as if from a violin and rang through the hall with marked clarity. The audience applauded loudly for an encore, to which Mr. Legge was forced to respond and rendered "Annie Laurie." To any who possibly could not attend last night's performance, we advise you to hear this novel instrumental attraction, or you will miss something worth hearing. "From the Ground Up," featuring Tom Moore, is a picture that brings out the star's ability to its utmost advantage. The photoplay has been given an excellent production, and the direction of E. Mason Hopper shows the practised hand of an expert stage director.

ON POLITICAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

In consequence of the tie-up in the mails, and the generally unfavorable conditions all around, it is impossible to make these notes a regular feature, much as your correspondents would like, so that perhaps if some of the items appear to be a bit ancient, the opening explanation will cover that particular complaint. The officers of the Royal Scarlet Chapter Loyal Orange Association at Channel, for 1923 are as follows:—W.C. in C.—Comp. James M. Currie. E.C.—Comp. W. J. Bragg. Chaplain—Comp. Stanley Childs. Scribe—Comp. James Downing. Treasurer—Comp. J. H. Wilcox. H.K. at A.—Comp. Wm. Sheeves. Lecturer—Comps. J. A. Currie, L. Gillam. Conductors—Comps. H. Richards, John Evans. I.H.—Comp. Lambert Billard. O.H.—Comp. Alex Carew.

No permanent appointment has yet been made to fill the clerks position at the Custom House, Port aux Basques, made vacant by the death of the former incumbent, Mr. Thomas Ford, and it is rumored that there being so many applicants, the member for the district is afraid to recommend either fearing he may incur the political displeasure of the other, and likewise that of his friends. A prominent supporter of the Government, it is said, is demanding an appointment for a near relative, and will probably get it. Thus will jealousy and disappointment ensue.

From Bonne Bay your correspondent learns that there is a decided hostility to the Government in that section of St. Barbe district. Any man of average intelligence can whip Mr. Scammell to a frazzle on the North West Coast, and should there be a spring election, voters are more than ever determined to sever their political connection with Coaker, linked up in 1919.

Reports from Burat Islands, Rose Blanche, Harbor Le Cou, Petties, West Point and LaPoile, all show that the people of these places, to a man, have made up their minds to do away with "small" representation. They have had enough of it for over three years, and given the opportunity will show their displeasure in a manner thoroughly unmistakable. Fish Regulations and high Tariff killed the settlements named, and knowing the men of the Government who were and are responsible for their present conditions, the voters have made up their minds, their sentiments—ever increasing in strength of purpose—being never again.—COR.

Potato Exports to United States.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I.—At a recent meeting of the Potato Growers' Association it was announced that ninety thousand bushels of Green Mountains and sixty thousand bushels of Irish Cobblers, of the past season's Prince Edward Island potato crop, had been shipped to Long Island, N.Y., to the State of Virginia and other Southern United States points. All were certified seed potatoes. Long Island took half the total.

Small Profits.

SYDNEY, N.S.—Cape Breton County did not make much profit on its Nova Scotia Temperance Act operations last year, according to the recent report of Inspector Samuel MacKenzie. Finest amounted to 3,400 and the cost of getting them was $2,253.

Obituary.

MRS. SARAH JOCELYN.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Sarah Jane Jocelyn, widow of the late James Jocelyn, which sad news occurred in Antigonish, N.S., on February 28th, following an illness of long duration. The late Mrs. Jocelyn, who was in her 85th year, was a native of St. John's Newfoundland, and before her marriage was a Miss Thomas, sister of Matthew Thomas, the well known farmer of Freshwater Road, who is still hale and hearty at the ripe old age of 95 years. One other brother, the late Edward Thomas, farmer, Portugal Cove Road, pre-deceased her about three years ago. The deceased lady lived for more than a quarter of a century in Antigonish, where she was loved and respected by all who knew her, and the news of her death will be read with deep regret by her many acquaintances, both home and abroad. Surviving her are five sons and three daughters: Frank Holmes and Mrs. Frederick Heighton, of Nantucket, Mass.; Mrs. Charles Taylor, Chelsea, Mass.; William of Blaine, Wash. Alex at Wainipeg, Fred at Stellarton, N.S., and John and Edward at home. Mrs. Jocelyn was beloved by all and the heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out to the family in their bereavement.

At the Star Movie.

Frank Mayo achieves a convincing characterization in the Universal special attraction at the Star Theatre, "Across the Deadline." His role is that of a son who is cast off by his father through the machinations of an uncle, and who is forced to stand alone in his fight against the uncle and persons who seek to kidnap and hold a young girl against her will. Clarence Purdington Kelland wrote a story that has real strength. It concerns a feud between two brothers one stern and religious, the other wholly evil, a feud that travels its devastating course down the avenue of twenty odd years and through many lives. It divides a town into two parts, each presided over by one of the brothers with his own concept of what is right. Opposite Mayo, Molly Malone gives a captivating performance in the role of the girl who is lost, found, claimed by several persons and finally saved from a third kidnapping by the young son. Josef Swickard is seen in a delineation of the figure of an old man, insane, suspicious and given to strange wanderings on stormy nights. It's a portrayal that grips Russel Simpson and likewise gives an excellent performance in an unusual part. He is the stern brother, and he looks it in the picture. Wilfred Lucas appears as the brother with the criminal tendencies. Lydia Knott, Frank Thorwald, William Marion and others cast principal roles with the customary skill. Jack Conway directed.

Silvia Arrives.

S.S. Silvia, Capt. Mitchell, arrived in port shortly after last midnight, having made a passage of 64 hours from Halifax. Capt. Mitchell reports ice conditions the worst in his many years' experience on this coast, and he says that in many places it has rated as high as 10 feet. Practically all the way from Halifax to Cape Race the Silvia encountered the foes, and the ship had to go 100 miles south of Sable Island. The ship brought a part cargo, a large mail, and these passengers—J. W. Riley, J. M. Reddie, R. F. Harvoux, Rev. Mark Fenwick, E. J. Russell, T. W. Sparkes, C. H. Shaw, W. Crosbie, Miss Marjorie Cousins, J. Miller, Miss Blanche Fitzpatrick, Jas. Darcy, Harold Macpherson, Miss Emma Macpherson, J. Pierson, and 17 second class. The Silvia berthed at Harvey's East End premises where her cargo will be discharged.

Thanks Star Movie.

Editor Evening Telegram Dear Sir:—I think you will agree with me that the action of the Star Movie managers in presenting each patron, every night this week, a ticket in the Orphanaid Sweep, is one that commends itself to all. These tickets have been purchased by the Star Movie people in the regular way, and each patron entering the Hall receives one as a present. The members of the Orphanaid Club, and all their friends appreciate the kindness of the Managers of the Star. Yours truly, REGINALD DOWDEN, Hon. Sec. Orphanaid Club, March 6th, 1923.

Bowring's Win Harvey Cup.

EXCITING GAME WITNESSED. SCORE 3-2.

The final Mercantile game to decide the championship for 1923, was won by Bowring's at the Prince's Rink last night, when they defeated the Royal Stores by 3 goals to 2, thus winning the silver trophy kindly put up by Mr. Reg. Harvey. The game was hard fought from start to finish, both teams putting up a good game. The largest attendance for the season witnessed the clash, and amongst those present were Lady and Miss Allardice. In the opening period, Bowring's got a lead on their opponents when they notched up two goals. Hayes scoring the first from a pretty pass, while Johnston followed up with No. 2 a few minutes later. The Royals fought hard to enter into the scoring column but Murphy's goal proved impregnable. Kennedy and Gillis for the Royals sent shot upon shot on his pads, but failed to beat him. The second period was fast and the spectators were given many exciting moments. Each team scored 1 goal, Peavey doing the needful for Bowring's and Kennedy scored a pretty one for the Royals. The final period was exciting all the way through, and saw the Royal Stores battling hard to cut down their opponents lead of two goals. Ten minutes from the start Crane notched up No. 2 for the Royals, and from that on interest in the play waxed high. Bowring's team were given a busy few minutes on the defence. The Royals tried hard to equalize matters, but Murphy time after time saved the situation. The final minutes of play were the most exciting of the series but despite both teams' efforts no further scoring resulted. The all-over scented leaving Bowring's the victor by a score of 3 goals to 2. Heartly congratulations are extended to Bowring's team on winning the first Mercantile Trophy. Mr. J. M. Tobin was referee.

CHALLENGE.

We understand that the Mercantile Hockey League—having refused, on the ground that they were not Mercantile—the application of the Commercial Cables hockey team, has received a challenge from the above team to play the winners in the Mercantile League. The Commercial have a fast team, and if given the opportunity, will give a good account of themselves. They are managed by the genial "Punky" Brown, a star Canadian player of the old school, and captained by "Ironclad" Clark, while such players as Withers, Peach, Armstrong and Skinner, make up a well balanced team.

Mr. James Darcy, of the Imperial Tobacco Company, who has been on a business trip to New York, was a passenger by S.S. Silvia. Mr. H. D. Payne, who holds a master mariners certificate goes to the seal fishery in S.S. Seal as navigator and doctor. Mr. Payne was previously to the icefields, having been out of the spring of the Newfoundland Disaster. Miss Lizzie Luby, who underwent an operation at the General Hospital on Sunday, is doing well.

The Lighter Side.

THE FARM HAND IS A STUDY IN STILL LIFE.

"Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do." "Then my farm hands must be working for the devil all the time; they certainly don't do much work for me."

SHOPPING.

"Where have you been?" "Spent the morning with Bluebell shopping." "For clothes?" "No, her dog was trying on muzzies."

The story of the young bride who telephoned for some dog food and inquired the price per dozen, isn't so funny with the price of coal as it is, argues Amos Tash.

Stone Lamp a Clue to Early America.

Asiaties Would Have Had Only a Short Trip Across Bering Straits to Reach Dry Land.

(By THOMAS RIGGS, Former Governor of Alaska.)

Nationality for the first person to set foot on American soil is claimed by several European countries. So far all history or tradition awards the honor to hardy mariners of the Atlantic and yet it is not possible or even probable that before Leif or Columbus set forth in their trail crafts of discovery, that contact with the shores of North America had been effected by some of the Asiatic races?

It is said that Buddhist history records the exploration of the Pacific Coast of America some 600 years ago by a band of missionaries from Japan. It is supposed that these adventurers followed the Kurile chain of islands to the Aleutians, then along this archipelago to the mainland of Alaska and thence as far south as California. Other expeditions may have crossed the narrow Bering Straits separating Asia from America. On a clear day the Diomedes Islands can be seen from either continental shore.

That Japanese landed in America centuries ago seems almost proved by the finding of a quaint stone lamp now exhibited in the Alaska Historical Museum at Juneau, Alaska. The lamp was found some ten years ago by Chas. Ulanaky, a farmer, clearing his land near Kuk, a little settlement at the head of Cook Inlet. It was uncovered in the alluvial silt at a depth of a foot, and by him presented to the Territory. The lamp is slightly oblong in shape with a greatest diameter of about twelve inches. The design resembles the conventional lotus leaf. At one end, opposite the wick lip, so as to face the light squats the figure of Buddha with the impenetrable calm of the East on his carved countenance.

By whom was this lamp left on the shores of Alaska? In this little known museum, Buddha and his lamp await the student of early history to solve the mystery. The lamp is one of the most striking exhibits, but the wealth of Eskimo antiquities is equally absorbing. There are museums with large collections, but none having so many rare items from prehistoric days. For years there had been piled in the attic of the ramshackle building which houses the Governor's office a great number of boxes containing the collection of Lieutenant G. T. Emmons, made by him for the St. Louis Fair. On rough shelves around the walls were piled the valuable books and archives of the Territory of Alaska.

Archaeology has always had great appeal to me and so it was that I determined to put the Emmons collection to good use as the foundation of a territorial museum. There was a small fund available for the purpose, but insufficient to the needs. With the assistance of the then Attorney-General of Alaska, a few of us organized and incorporated the Alaska Historical Association. A sliding scale of membership fees made a little more money available, and the territorial museum was launched in four rooms on the second floor of a frame building, the lower floor of which contains the experimental fish hatchery.

Using part of the available fund a portion of the wonderful Eskimo collection of Dr. Daniel S. Neuman, formerly of Nome, was purchased, and Dr. Neuman permitted the remainder to be shown as a loan collection. In the museum the student can follow the progress of the Eskimo race from the earliest stone age to the present. The knives and ornaments of jade are remarkable; the weapons, the fishing tackle, the ivory fetiches, the highly colored ceremonial masks, the clothing, the cooking utensils, the children's toys, the delicately carved ivory butterflies carried on sailing trips to insure good luck, constitute a most unique collection.

The Sea Gives up Treasure.

In March, 1807, it was announced that off the coast of South Wales, twenty miles from Swansea, in consequence of the tide receding much further than usual a vessel, that had been wrecked and lost there about fifty years previously, was discovered, and also a cask full of iron wire. Later on, at a short distance from the same spot, about 12 lb. weight of Spanish dollars and half dollars, equal to nearly £40, and of far greater purchasing power at the time when made and lost than when recovered, bearing the date A.D. 1635, were discovered amongst the sand, and these coins were conjectured to have formed part of the cargo of a richly-laden Spanish vessel that had returned from South America. A gale, or one-decked vessel, driven by oars, had been wrecked near that part of our coast upwards of a century previously, and whose name was Scanderon, a strange corruption of Alexandrette, which was that of a seaport in that angle or corner of the Mediterranean Sea where Asia Minor meets Driven From Home.

Thousands Forced Into Exile in Foreign Lands.

The most heartrending feature of the rule inflicted upon this unfortunate country by the Squires Party has been the enormous number of people forced to leave their native soil to seek homes in foreign lands. By the Squires Manifesto of Fall of 1919 this country was made a land flowing with milk and honey and everybody was to be happy and contented. Instead of the mis-government which had and the disaster brought the country compelled more than half a million people to leave Newfoundland for their birth. But the country that in any other three States there are hundreds of thousands of Newfoundlanders who are happy and well-off in the more the last election, who are sure of abundant work and who looked forward to living their lives and their birth. But the country that in any other three States there are hundreds of thousands of Newfoundlanders who are happy and well-off in the more the last election, who are sure of abundant work and who looked forward to living their lives and their birth. Methodist College.

An exhibition of work done by the pupils will be held in the College Hall on March 18th, during the afternoon and evening. This exhibition is under the direction of the Manual Training Instructor, who is being assisted by the teachers of the various classes.

The pupils have been grouped as follows:—Kindergarten; Standards I and II; Standards III and IV; Primary, Preliminary, Intermediate and Associate. The work of these groups will be placed on exhibit under the following headings:—Knitting, Crochet Work, Plain and Fancy Sewing, Cooking, Candles and Hobbies. The Woodwork of the Manual Training classes will form an individual group.

Subscriptions are being collected by the Director, from all the gentlemen who have an interest in the work of the College. This fund will enable the giving of prizes to those having the best exhibits in the different groups under the various headings. So far as possible the prizes will correspond with the work on exhibit.

Several special features are being introduced to give a greater attraction to the parents and friends. One is a Radio Concert, and Mr. Collins of the local Marconi Station has kindly consented to put in place the equipment needed in the Hall. Several of the boys will arrange the aerial, and well-known artists will be asked to contribute numbers which, no doubt, will add to the success of the exhibition.

She Was Sick for Over Two Years.

MRS. GOODWIN GIVES HER EXPERIENCE WITH DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Nova Scotia Lady After suffering With a Weak Heart and Nervousness for Nearly Three Years, Turns to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mulgrave, N.S., March 5. (Special)—"I cannot recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills enough." This enthusiastic statement is made by Mrs. Alex. Goodwin, a well known resident of this place.

For nearly three years I was run down, had a very weak heart and was so nervous that at times I would almost faint away. Many people recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills for my trouble. I found, after I had taken two boxes, that they were doing me good and after using six boxes I was completely relieved. I can now do a good day's work and scarcely ever feel tired.

Mrs. Goodwin's troubles were caused by the kidneys. That's why she got such prompt and complete relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they act only on the kidneys.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help all forms of kidney disease.

Sydney Temperance Inspector

AND THE COUNCIL.
SYDNEY, N.S. (By Can. Press).—Because, he alleges, the authorities release offenders as fast as they can be put in jail, Temperance Inspector Amos Martin has informed the Sydney Council that he has abandoned the laying of second offence charges under the Nova Scotia Temperance Act. Summoned before the Council to explain his attitude, he gave three reasons for his decision:

- (1) That second offence convictions are hard to obtain.
- (2) That such charges provoke more determined perjury than in first offences in the effort to escape.
- (3) That when convicted it is impossible to keep the offenders in jail as their lawyers invariably formulate some plea for leniency on compassionate grounds with which to go before the Governor-in-Council who orders their release.

Inspector Martin said that so far as he was able to learn no person convicted of a second offence under the Nova Scotia Temperance Act has ever served out the full six months' penalty. In his own experience five days to three weeks was the limit that they stayed in jail.

QUIT TOBACCO

So easy to drop Cigarettes, Cigar, or Chewing habit

No-To-Bac has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a smoke or chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead. All desire stops. Shortly the habit is completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

Advocates Use of Metric Distances.

PRESIDENT OF METROPOLITAN A.A.U. WANTS STANDARD IN TRAINING FOR OLYMPIC GAMES.

A plan for establishing the metric system of measuring distances for track and field events, as part of the campaign to prepare America for the Olympic games which will be held in Paris next year, was announced yesterday by Herman Oberubbing, President of the Metropolitan A.A.U. Oberubbing has circulated among the local clubs and colleges a letter urging the athletic authorities of the various institutions which conduct outdoor athletic events to adopt the Olympic games events as competitive attractions. In this way, Oberubbing said, athletes could be developed for the various Olympic events, and thus increase the strength of the American team.

Oberubbing, in a letter to President William C. Prout of the Amateur Athletic Union, advocates the extension of his plan for the local district to every subsidiary A.A.U. association throughout the country.

Another letter, requesting that the plan be urged upon every organization affiliated with the American Olympic Association, has been sent to President Robert M. Thompson of the A.O.A. by Oberubbing.

Reports from abroad of elaborate plans by which European countries intend to strengthen their Olympic teams prompted Oberubbing's decision to urge the substitution of the metric system in American competition. It has been learned that Erlie Hjerberg, former coach of Swedish Olympic teams, has been engaged by Holland to coach that country's athletes. Other European countries are making every effort to enlist the aid of the best coaching talent available in the drive to break America's uninterrupted string of success in Olympic track and field competitions.

"In the United States we have been conducting our championships and other events for years in accordance with our own rules and in observance of the schedule of events provided in the Amateur Athletic Union handbook," said Oberubbing. "Many of the men who have competed in previous Olympic games found that they were not keyed up to the events in which they were entered. It therefore behooves America to start now to conduct all games, not only among the clubs which conduct meets, but the colleges and universities, as well, according to the programme adopted by the International Amateur Athletic Federation at its meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, May 27 and 28 last year.

"The United States is extremely weak in distance running and greater efforts must be put forth to develop men who can represent America successfully in the distance running events. Every association of the Amateur Athletic Union should conduct a number of long distance races at 1,500 meters, 10,000 meters, 3,000 meters steeplechase and the marathon distance of 42.195 meters, which is equivalent to 26 miles, 385 yards. If this was done all over the country there is no doubt a number of good distance runners could be developed.

"In throwing the javelin the United States must also improve. This event should be encouraged at all outdoor athletic meets, for our best men are still more than twenty feet behind the men of Finland, and unless we have more competition our chances of scoring any points in this particular event are not very encouraging."

Fads and Fashions.

The frock of printed silk has several distinguishing features—very short sleeves, a pleated bodice and a long, pleated girle.

Even woolen fabrics are being made up into popular pleated skirts, to be worn with equally popular jackets embroidered in braid.

The coming season will be a happy one for organdie—for according to fashion this material has returned to deserved favor.

Paris introduces simpler styles in hairdressing, that the world may follow. The result is that hats are being made smaller in head sizes.

An afternoon frock of lacquer red crepe de chine has an overcoat of black moire tulle in a huge bow at the left side of the waist-line.

Gold fringe edges the sleeves and hem-line of an evening frock of cream colored net on which are traced circular motifs of iridescent beads.

A width of satin with a large ornament on the left hip and shoulder straps of flesh-colored tulle describe in brief a favored style for evening.

FINE FOR RHEUMATISM!

Musterole Loosens up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use Musterole once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get it once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

A straight frock of rep trimmed in two widths of grosgrain ribbon is finished with the popular "sports handkerchief collar," this time made of white lawn with daintily ruffled edge.

Curios of Commerce.

Many business houses have their own museums, and if all the exhibits could be gathered under one roof they would form a collection of unrivalled interest.

In the museum of the Eastern Telegraph Company perhaps the strangest exhibit is a bottle containing a large snake, which was found coiled round a cable in the Pacific, causing an obstruction for which experts had long been searching.

The big firm of Bryant and May possesses many curiosities of the match-making industry, from the old sulphur-tipped splinters of wood, or "spunkies," as they were called, to "Prometheans," short rolls of paper, tipped with a mixture of chlorate of potash and sugar, and a thin glass globe containing sulphuric acid, which, when broken, produced a flame.

The Worcester China Works show examples of every kind of china manufactured by them during the past century and a half, including dinner-services made for kings and other famous folk; while the firm of Wedgwood has a collection of pottery of very great historic interest.

A curiosity shown to visitors to the cutlery of Joseph Rodgers & Sons, of Sheffield, consists of a knife having no fewer than 1,900 blades, ten blades being added at the end of every ten years. The same firm boasts a pair of scissors so small that they are easily contained in an ordinary thimble.

The first spinning Jenny, made by Richard Arkwright, the founder of Lancashire's prosperity, is to be seen at the Cromford Mills, beside machinery of the most up-to-date kind.

And a famous firm of sauce makers treasures a tattered slip of paper—the original recipe on which the fortunes of the firm were founded well over a hundred years ago.

A Knotty Problem.

WALLACE REID SOLVES IT IN FILM, "THE HELL DIGGERS."

Would you give up a big job if the girl you love is opposed to your work as a matter of principle?

That is the question that Wallace Reid, Paramount star, has to decide in his newest vehicle, "The Hell Diggers," which was shown yesterday to delighted audiences at the Majestic Theatre.

Lois Wilson is the girl, and her father looks upon the young sailor and his employers as his bitterest enemies. However, the hero becomes interested in the case of his opponents and finally allies himself with them, which means a big struggle with a strong political corporation. The fight comes off in grand style, physically as well as politically, and the star puts it over in characteristic Reid style.

The cast, which includes Frank Leeb, Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Geldart and Bud Post, was more than adequate.

Show Them

What this new way does

No mother wants children to suffer what she may have suffered from her teeth.

Then teach them the new way of teeth cleaning. Show the prettier teeth it brings, the whiter, safer teeth. Or let them make this test, and see and feel the benefits themselves.

Two ways found

Then dental science, after long research, found two ways to fight film. One sets to curdle it, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists the world over began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Those two great film combatants are embodied in it for daily application.

Its new effects

Pepsodent brings other effects which research proved essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Each use of Pepsodent gives them manifold effect.
