The Petitions in Wellington. Blank forms of the petitions against an immediate prorogation of Parliament has been distributed through the greater part of this county, and the work of having them signed is now going actively forward. We would recommend the residents in any sections which may not yet have been supplied with forms to make immediate application for them, either at this office, at Toronto, or of the county members.

In the town of Guelph, petitions are lying for signature at THE MER cury office, at the bookstores of Day and Anderson, at the Farmers' and Mechanica Institute, at Mills & Good-fellows, and Sole & Johnson's.

The statement which we reproduced yesterday from the Government organ, that a Rojal Commission was about to be appointed, makes it the more necessary that the work of signing these petitions should be pushed on with vigor and speed. It asy be that, driven to desperation, the Ministry have now themselves taken the disgraceful step which formerly they urged upon the acceptance of Mr. Huntington and the committee—the appointment by the accused persons of the tribunal which is to try them; or it may be a mere blind, intended to retard the signing of the petitions now before the counhatever are the hidden springs of this latest Ministerial action, we may rest assured that it is but another move in the cunning game of delay by which the astute Premier has been so far successful in preventing enquiry, and that the best pos-sible way of checkmating it is by At length the release was effected, but Parliamentary action. In reply to a requisition signed by number of the leading citizens, the Mayor of Galt has called a public meeting for Monday evening next to express an opinion on the Pacific Railway scandal. Feeling on the subject runs very high here, and petitions praying that Parliament be allowed to pronounce upon the matter are being numerously signed.

Commons, to-day, the Bill granting an annuity of £25,000 to the Duke of Edithburgh, upon his approaching marriage with the Princess Marie Alexandrowina, came up on its second reading.

Mr. P. A. Taylon, member for Leicester, moved that the second reading of the Bill be postponed for one month from this date. He protested against the frequent applications by the Crown for grants of annuities to the Royal children. He thought that if the civil list was sufficient for the proper maintenance of the Royal household, the Crown ought to surrender to the public treasury the immense private property now held by it. He stated that the whole management of the civil list raturally gives rise to numerous grave suspicions on the part of the public by reason of the secrecy with which it is invested.

The present allowance of the Duke of Edinburgh was an ample one.

Mr. George Anderson, member for Ghasgow, seconded the motion and some discussion ensued.

Mr. Gladdyner regetted the tone of the discussion sused.

Glasgow, seconded the motion and some discussion ensued.

Mr. Gladforns regretted the tone of the discussion. He denied that the Government had maintained any secreey touching the management of the Crown property. The civil list, he said, was never intended to provide for the portioning of royal children. Parliament must either adopt the course at present proposed, and as pursued with regard to those of the royal children already married, or provided for an increased civil list. He upheld the proposition contained in the Bill, as it gave to Parliament the control of the conduct of the Caown and Royal family.

The motion to postpone was lost, and the Bill passed on the second reading. 162 aye, to 18 nays.

The Petitions in Wellington. Blank forms of the petitions against an immediate prorogation of Parliament has been distributed through the greater part of this county, and the work of having them signed is now going actively forward. We would recommend the residents in any sections which may not yet have been supplied with forms to make immediate application for them, either at this office, at Toronto, or of the county members.

In the town of Guelph, petitions are lying for signature at THE MER-CURY office, at the bookstores of Day and Anderson, at the Farmers' and Mechanics' Institute, at Mills & Good-fellow's, and Sole & Johnson's.

The statement which we reproduced yesterday from the Government organ, that a Royal Commission was about to be appointed, makes it the more necessary that the work of signing these petitions should be pushed on with vigor and speed. It may be that, driven to desperation. the Ministry have now ther selves taken the disgraceful step which formerly they urged upon the acceptance of Mr. Huntington and the committee—the appointment by the accused persons of the tribunal which is to try them; or it may be a mere blind, intended to retard the signing of the petitions now before the country. Whatever are the hidden springs of this latest Ministerial action, we of this latest Ministerial action, we may rest assured that it is but an kirching rest assured that it is but an kirching rest assured that it is but an kirching and made a furious ouslaught other move in the cunning game of delay by which the astute Premier holding on for some time, despite the has been so far successful in prevent- efforts of the horse and its driver, assisting enquiry, and that the best possible way of checkmating it is by At length the release was effected, but the brute instantly fixed its teath into push on the petitioning, and let Her the leg of an incautious collocker, and Majesty's representative hear the turned to its equine prey. In reply to a requisition signed by number of the leading citizens, the Mayor of Galt has called a public meeting for Monday evening next to express an opinion on the Pacific Railway scandal. Feeling one the subject runs very high here, and petitions praying that Parliament be allowed to pronounce upon the matter are being numerously signed.

Commons, to-day, the Bill granting an annuity of £25,000 to the Duke of Edinburgh, upon his approaching marriage with the Princess Marie Alexandrowina, came up on its second reading.

Mr. P. A. Tavron, member for Leicester, moved that the second reading of the Bill be postponed for one month from this date. He protested against the frequent applications by the Crown forgrants of annuities to the Royal children. He thought that if the civil list was sufficient for the proper maintenance of the Royal household, the Crown ought to surrender to the public treasury the immense private property now held by it. He stated that the whole management of the civil list raturally gives rise to numerous grave suspicious on the part of the public by reason of the secrecy with which it is invested.

The present allowance of the Duke of Eduburgh was an ample one.

Mr. George Anderson, member for Glasgow, seconded the motion and some discussion ensued.

Glasgow, seconded the motion and some discussion ensued.

Mr. Gladstore regretted the tone of the discussion. He denied that the Government had maintained any secrecy touching the management of the Crown property. The civil list, he said, was never intended to provide for the portioning of royal children. Parliament must either adopt the course at present proposed, and as pursued with regard to those of the royal children already married, or provided for an increased civil list. He upheld the proposition contained in the Bill, as it gave to Parliament the control of the conduct of the Caown and Royal family.

The motion to postpone was lost, and the Bill passed on the second reading.

Philip felt it hard work to keep abreast of his companion as they went down the slope. The agility which Hawkeye displayed in leasing from rock to rock and bush to bush was such as Philip felt it difficult to imitate, but he scorned to be outdone by a "savage," and boldly followed him wherever he led, taking the same daving lans without a moment's hesitaod him wherever he led, taking the same daring leaps without a moment's hesitation, and landing with him at length in the hollow where Thundercloud and his warriors lay. Leaving Hawkeye to give information to the chief, Philip sought Steive and Jim, and communicated to them the same tidings.

"Wall, I guess Thundercloud had best lose no time in making tracks," observed the trapper, as he rose and shook himself. "It ain't just next door we have to go, and them Chickasaws mean to make the burst as soon as ever it's dark enough."

the burst as soon as ever it's dark conough."

It was not, however, until considerably after sunset that Thundercloud resumed the march. The interval was spent by the Indians in renewing the frightful red paint upon their bodies, in pluming their head feathers, looking to their bows and arrows, and sharpening their tomahawks. These things they did with an expression of fiendish anticipation, and not the least carefully looked to portion of their accountements were their wanpum belts, which were prepared to receive the scalps of the Chickasaws whom they should capture or slay.

HOSTONS DEFEAT THE PHILADELPHIAS.

The BOSTONS and PHILADELPHIAS played their fifth game in Boston on Wednesday in the presence of nearly 3000 spectators. The fielding of the PHILADELPHIAS was poor, and a great many errors were made. Time 2h, 25m. A great amount of dissatisfaction was visible at the large score. The following are the NUNS BACH INNINGS.

The MPILE LEFF have consented game tomorrow evening. Couldn't the LYDPERDENTS and RECULATORS do the same thing before next Thursday. A person from London to-day says the Eckromes are well up in practice, and "some right smart play will have to be put down to beat 'em."

The little game yesterday afternoon out by Newton's between the Rep Stock-mos and Resources terminated in favor of the latter by a score of 26 to 17. The Ran's say they hadn't their first nine; well, they should have had through, every one of you. See the advi.

Drayton had a game the other day between their Srans and the Hotzin club, which resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 57 to 22. They can bless their stars now.

A London paper in speaking of the practice of the Treussus first and second nine last evening says, "Six innings were played and only one run made, the pitching and ielding on both sides being exceedingly sharp. The play of the first time gires inspreasing statisfaction to their frierds, and shows a marked improvement over even their previous excellent displays."

displays."

The Poraro Buo club of Trecastle, and the Pans Gauga club of Listowel play a match in Listowel this atternoon. Paris green has always made it hot for potato bugs; we will see how it works in this

The Bowmanville Statesman has just come to hand, and in speaking of the match game between their boys and the Marle Lear in that town, says:

The most correct display of ball play over witnessed in this fown, was the match between the Marle Lear and Victronia clubs, on the fair ground, on Saturday afternoon last. The weather was beautiful, and the attendance of spectators the largest ever assembled to witness a game in this place—both ladies and gentlemen. Additional attraction was given to the occasion by the presence of the Cornet Band, and the excellent style in which several of their selections were played before and after the match.

We may mention that the nine who played for Bowmanville on Saturday have played very little together—some of them taking positions on the field that day which they had never filled before; but when a letter was received from Guelph expressing the wish of the club to play here, it was deemed an excellent opportunity to see first class play, and learn something—and the match was made accordingly. The Marle Lear Club of Grelph numbers a great many members, and has held the championship of this Province for years. The Bowmanville players had therefore no expectation what ever of conquering their renowned visitors; but they feel well satisfied with the result, in having succeeded in keeping their opponents score well down, and "whitewashing" then twice. Our batmen generally went out in "one, two, three," order, being unable to drive the Marle Lear pitching, fielding and throwing of the Guelph nine was decidedy superior, and any clubs procuring runs against them will deserve all they get. They know their business, and play pleasantly and well together. It is "here's one Cammy," "back for it, Billy," and the point is gained, with seldom a miss. Evidence is given of what practice and indement will do, when supported by activity an muscle. The fielding of the Victorias was likewise good, and gave satisfaction to their friends. The gene throughout was a most pleasant one for both sides—

CRICKET.

The Ferious cricketers last week gave their brethern from Elona an awful beating. In the first innings the Ferious players made 187 to Elona's 68. Elona went to the bat again at a quarter past siz o'clock, and on drawing the stumps at half past even, 7 of their men were out for 36 runs. The Ferious players did exceedingly well throughout. Mr. Osler made 15 runs, Mr. Hughes 22, and Mr. James McNamara 31! They expect to polish the Guelph Club off in the same style at an early day.— So says the News and the Second.

We don't know where the above originated, but we do know that it isn't We can't get eggs here at any price just now—only a few "goose-eggs," and those are kept expressly for some visitors, and dealt out on the Marle.

Leaf ground whenever they come and see us. "We can see nine men here almost any day running over a piece."

"COME, SIT BY MY SIDE, LITTLE DAR-LING."-We have received this new song from Mr. Pashley. It is No. 4 of Irving's Canadian Series of five cent music. The air is a decidedly pretty one, and the words are exceedingly sentimental. For sale at Pashley's.
