CONTRACTS, CONTRACTORS AND PENALTIES

The action of the city council on Monday night by resolution, releasing a firm of contractors from what would apparently have turned out to be an unprofitable contract...

MORE GUTTER POLITICS

The Toronto Mail is getting lost to all decency. Its attack on Mr. Blake as head of the law society was characterized by one thing only—malice of a low type.

SIR JOHN'S ORIGIN

We have heard it questioned whether Sir John Macdonald was Canadian-born, Scottish-born or born at sea, or even if he was born at all.

RELATION PRISONERS—SIR JOHN'S POLITICAL FATHER

Another outrage committed against the "controversial" election act of 1874, is the ordering of "particulars" by the bench at the demand of the bar.

men. But until they do this the editor of that paper may roll in his own swill-barrel. The hatred shown by a member of the conservative—the great majority of that party...

THE LIBRARY EDITOR

The every-day reader of the Toronto Mail would never suspect that its editor was a literary man but for two things. (1) He says he is one, and (2) he quotes the dramatists and the holy fathers.

JAY GOULD'S LATEST

The great bulk of the ordinary cable and United States news is supplied to the papers by what is called the Associated Press. It is an organization of seven New York papers...

BROTHERLY PRESSMEN

A large section of the editors of the French Canadian press were on the late excursion to Manitoba, and they are now writing in their papers of what a good time they had, and what splendid fellows the Ontario editors are.

ALL OF WHICH SENTIMENTS WE RE-echo

All of which sentiments we re-echo. We have heard it questioned whether Sir John Macdonald was Canadian-born, Scottish-born or born at sea, or even if he was born at all.

section 2 of section 44, they were precluded from making general rules or orders inconsistent with the intention and object of the act. In my petition, sir, against John A. Macdonald, under the election act of 1874, I requested the chief justice of the queen's bench, ordered particulars; but he admitted at the trial the error he committed, stating that the effect of it was to scatter my witnesses over the northern part of the continent...

THE MARMION DIFFICULTY

A Plain Statement from a School Teacher. (J. M. Hunter, M. A. of Glasgow Institute in the Advances.) As most of our readers are aware a considerable breeze has arisen in regard to the action of the minister of education, in issuing instructions to the masters of the high schools, to stop reading Marmion to their pupils.

It may be as well to state how the book came to be put on the list of works to be read in high schools during this school year. Every five years a committee of the senate of the university of Toronto, is appointed to overhaul the curriculum, to suggest any important changes requiring to be made, and to prescribe the texts to be read in the various departments during the next five years.

It will be seen that Mr. Crooks did not prescribe that he would not cause the work to be examined as to its suitability for school purposes. It would seem that the school opened, Mr. Crooks' attention was called to certain passages in the first canto as objectionable in point of morality, and to certain others throughout the poem as casting reflections on the Roman Catholic church.

Marrying a Deceased Wife's Sister

The vexed question of marriage with a deceased wife's sister seems likely to bring about yet another serious row in England, the champion of orthodoxy being Archdeacon Phillips. Mr. William Edney, a surgeon in the navy, when his second wife died forwarded the customary notice of burial, in which he described her as Elizabeth Jane Edney, nee Brokenshire.

THE GREAT CROWD AT THE KREMLIN

A Great Gathering of all Nations—Where a Woman Never Enters—The Report. From the Journal de Rome. The Kremlin, with its high walls of white stone, with battlements out in the form of Tartar arrowheads, its eighteen green towers, and its five rose-colored gates, is quite a town in itself, containing three cathedrals, seven churches, a monastery, a nursery, and three imperial palaces.

HOW A CZAR IS CROWNED

The assumption is the cathedral of the Westminister abbey in Russia. Here the emperor is crowned, and here is preserved the ancient throne of the czar in carved wood, known as the throne of Vladimir-Monastir. The pillars, arches and walls of this church, which was built from beginning to end by Italian architects in 1475, are ornamented by large Byzantine images of long-bearded saints, whose heads are shown upon a background of gold.

SOLID GROWTH.

Another year having elapsed, we now furnish a statement of the business of 1881, compared with previous years, showing the increasing favour with which the operations of the STETSON LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are regarded in the Dominion of Canada.

Table with columns: CANADIAN BUSINESS, Premiums Received, Insurance in Force. Rows for years 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1881.

During 1881 this Company paid for Death Claims in Canada $76,648 45— a considerable decrease upon the previous year.

SOLID PROGRESS THROUGH THE LAST SIXTEEN YEARS.

Table with columns: Years, Assets, Liabilities. Rows for years 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1881.

So productive are its Assets, and so carefully selected are its Liabilities, that the Interest Receipts alone more than defray the Death Losses, as the following figures for the past seven years will show:

WICKED AND WONDERFUL.

ANOTHER INTERESTING LETTER FROM THE CITY OF CHICAGO.

"Our Carter" the Chief Magistrate—His Welcome Home—A Demoralized Elite—Prof. Swing—The Exposition.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—I don't know that Chicago is the most wonderful city upon the face of the earth it's time you did, for you have been told so often enough. I think there is more blow and brag to the square inch about Chicago than to the acre of any other city of the union. Of course most of the blowing is done by modest Chicagoans. And if you come to visit this city you don't manifest a general brokenness of amazement at all you see, you will not be thought to amount to much. No doubt.

CHICAGO IS A VERY WONDERFUL CITY—wonderful for its sly streets, for its numerous bridges spanning the multitudinous rivers, for its smoky atmosphere that often reminds one of the iron districts of the north of England, and for a thousand other very undesirable elements. But we have wonders of another kind altogether. And it is not too much to say that we have the most wonderful mayor in the world. Carter H. Harrison, the chief magistrate of Chicago, is quite a curiosity in his way. Of course all mayors are expected to be great. They are always the embodiment of magisterial authority and civic dignity. They are always selected by the best and wisest portion of the constituency for the purest and noblest reasons. So it is always in Toronto, and so also in Chicago.

THE MAYOR OF CHICAGO is called, in a portly gentleman of some sixty years of age with a good strong dash of the Sir John A. mentality about him, and self-complacency enough for the president of the United States and the governor-general of the world. He is said to be a very wicked person that if the Almighty thinks half as much of Carter Harrison as Carter Harrison does of himself he'll be very near his throne by and by. "Carter" has set before himself a high mark, he means to be the "best mayor Chicago ever had," and truth to tell he has managed to make himself beyond all question the most popular man of this great city. He has the very largely developed, and is one of the really platform speakers we have; and that is saying a good deal for what Chicago endures from is not a lack of speakers, but a great dearth of hearers. In most audiences two thirds of the people—indeed, in many, the whole—will go to the motion and the rest are quite willing to move an armchair. But our worthy mayor is nothing if he is not a platform speaker. He is one of those speakers who can be all things to all men—and have flows not more freely from the lips of Emma or Virginia than from "our Carter's" city tongue. He is constant requester at all national gatherings. And with Germany, Sweden or Scandinavia he is equal at home. He is the pet of the school-keepers, and the gamblers swear by him, though he has the reputation of having

CHIEF MAGISTRATE IN CHICAGO. I heard the mayor howl diabolical hoarse at a meeting called by demagogue Gladstone for arresting Parrot. He roared and foamed and all but swore at the bloody Saxon tyrant. I saw him at the funeral services conducted by the Reverend Father of Garibaldi, how his majestic head and try all he knew to jerk six or seven times in loving memory of the hero of Capri. As it was falling, "Carter" would not bow. I tell you our mayor is a man of most versatile genius. The newspapers have done their best to make a man of himself that thing that can be said or printed against him disturbs him for a moment. He has recently paid a visit to the city of Toronto to see to it that he was well received—truth to tell he is a very hard working man. He however was on marriage bent, and the surprise of his friends was his intimate friends, Mr. Harrison

TOOK TO HIMSELF A BRIDE IN LONDON. His tour was little more than a triumphal procession, and in Dublin he was honored with a banquet called by the lord mayor of Ireland's capital. This banquet was no doubt a very grand affair, and the enthusiastic sympathy Chicago always shows for Ireland in her sorrows. And our mayor was certainly the most suitable man. It was a great occasion and "our Carter" magnified his office. On his return home the mayor, was made the subject of an enthusiastic welcome. Tuesday evening saw Chicago en fête. There must have been from a hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand people in the streets. The evening was exceedingly fine, and Julius Cesar could hardly have expected a grander occasion to be returned from his triumphant exploits. There were brass bands by scores, and what was lacking in banding was made up in fireworks. The crowd was good-humored; the unfortunate policemen were made the victims of most unflattering gibes, the mounted police forming a most excellent

TARGET FOR "THE BOYS." Those who had provided themselves with a good store of small apples for the occasion. The mayor was heralded by a salute of thirteen guns. His carriage was drawn by six gallant steeds. In his carriage was an eagle. But such an eagle! It was certainly done just as well for an owl! I thought of the days gone by, how I recited that sweet poem: "Boy, my eagle's flight over the hills." But such a bodacious crest-fallen demoralized eagle I never saw. I thought the eagle had a habit of soaring upward and with unblended vision, but this eagle's head was more visible than near about it, and it didn't seem capable of a solitary scream! There is nothing like philosophy that if ever I am drawn through a procession I shall bargain for

A WIFE'S EAGLE. A WIFE'S EAGLE. He feels so good that he thinks he wouldn't give up the majority of Chicago to be United States senator if it was offered to him. PROFESSOR DAVID SWING. From the ridiculous to the sublime is but one step backward or forward. The many friends of Professor Swing have greatly regretted his prolonged absence. The professor left Chicago early in July in a very feeble state of health. He has been wandering through Europe in search of health. His recovery has been very tedious, but he is expected to be in his place at Central music hall on Monday morning next. He will be greeted with a hearty welcome by the thousands who gather round his ministry. It will be careful to represent you there.

THE CHICAGO EXPOSITION. The exposition is in full blast. The streets adjacent to the exposition buildings are crowded with country coaches. The managers are high glee at the assured success of this year's show, and the tradespeople generally are reaping a pretty good harvest. I intend to stroll through and will give you an account of what I see. ELMO.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is an unfailing remedy for all kinds of bowel complaint.

"Did you see the moon over your right shoulder, my dear?" said she to him as they rambled down the walk. "N—n—o," not exactly, but I just saw the old man over my left and I'll bid you good night." No kisses were served up at that parting.

The best way to repair strength and increase the bodily substance is to invigorate the stomach and improve the circulation with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. Simultaneous with the disappearance of indigestion it relieves that morbid despondency and the nervousness which are as much the product of dyspepsia as the weakness of the stomach and loss of vigor and flesh which proceed from it; and a blood purifier it has no equal.

The cooling, cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry render it the best remedy in the world for all forms of bowel complaints, sickness of the stomach, cramps, cholera morbus and dysentery. Purely vegetable, and always reliable.

San hats and parasols are trimmed to match with Nancy embroidery and worn with foulard dresses similarly trimmed. This is opened needwork laid over colored silk to display the design.

Mrs. A. Nelson, Bradford, writes: "I was a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia for eleven years. Always after eating, an intense burning sensation in the stomach, at times very distressing, caused a drooping and languid feeling, which would last for several hours after eating. I was recommended by Mr. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and I am thankful to say that I have not been better for years; that burning sensation and languid feeling has all gone, and food does not lie heavy on my stomach. Others of my family have used it with best results."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best, most prompt and safest cure for cholera morbus, dysentery, sick headache, cramps, colic and cholera infantum that has yet been discovered. Its popularity is indicated by the fact that all medicine dealers sell it.

The man who addresses his wife as "dear," "ducky" and "darling" in the presence of others, usually "dear" her up and down date when they are alone.

The kerose oil of the United States for the last twenty years has been worth a billion and a half of dollars.

Mr. J. Leist, warehouseman for Lutz Bros., Buffalo, N. Y., says he had a welling on the foot which he attributed to chilblains. He used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and it troubled no longer.

"The Leaves shall be for the Healing of the Nations." The leaf of the Wild Strawberry has verified that scriptural quotation. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a method of healing in all varieties of summer complaints, and fluxes, cholera morbus, cholera infantum and every form of bowel complaint of children or adults promptly yields to its power of healing.

Takes a woman for ingenuity. A Cleveland girl who had a new bonnet she wanted to show contrived to get herself called as a witness on a case she knew nothing about.

Geo. Dodge, Sr., a well-known citizen of Emporium, writes that one of his men (Sam Lewis) while working in the woods so severely sprained his ankle that he could scarcely get home, but after using two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, he was able to go to work next day.

Grandmother. Used to say, "Boys, if your blood is out of order try Burdock tea;" and they had to dig the Burdock and boil it down in kettles, making a nasty smelling decoction; now you get all the curative properties put up in a palatable form in Burdock Blood-Purifiers. Price 25c, trial size 10 cents.

The explanation is given that Boston young ladies wear eye-glasses because they are too modest to go about with naked eyes.

The best remedy and preventative for sea sickness is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is also the best remedy for all kinds of summer complaints, whether on sea or land it will not fail you. All drug stores sell it, 37c per bottle.

"When the spring time comes, gentle Annie prepare to jump." The weather in the Southern states is best at present than it is in New York.

BEST AND MOST COMFORT TO SUFFERING. "Brown's Household Panacea" has no equal for relieving pain, both internal and external. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Lumbago, and any kind of a pain or ache. "It will most surely quiet the Head and Heal, as its healing power is wonderful." "Brown's Household Panacea" being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other similar or kindred medicine, it will be in every family handy for use when wanted, "as really the best remedy for the relief of all kinds of Pain, Headache, and Aches of all kinds," and is for sale by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

MOTHERS' REMEDY: MOTHERS. Are you all tormented at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, you need get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it, there is no safer, more certain, or more pleasant remedy for cutting teeth than this. It will not only relieve the pain, but will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a bottle.

Presumption begins in ignorance and ends in ruin. On the other hand, the production of Kidney-Wort begins with the wisest and most scientific research, and its use ends in restoring shattered constitutions and endowing man and woman with health and happiness.

"My tormentor," says your kidney, and your system needs to be cleansed of bad humors. You need Kidney-Wort.

Mr. H. K. Burras is one of the best-known stock brokers in Wall street, but he has attracted more attention and won more glory than in all the past years of his life. To Mr. Burras was accorded the honor of introducing Oscar Wilde to the aesthetic shades of Wall street. It was about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when he brought his charming charge down town. Oscar looked his age, and his face was a study in the art of the philosopher wrapped in a fine pleasantly suggestive of corsets, and a tall, shabby swarthy man with an exquisite beard and mustache. The flow of the tresses of the philosopher were tucked into the oil jar, and rainbow stockings only drew back to the prettier aspect as Oscar himself most delights to show it. To say that Oscar's appearance in Wall street created a sensation is scarcely to do the great man justice. Business came suddenly to a standstill. A brass band at a country fair in the neighborhood of Wall street. About 1000 messengers boys are employed in Wall street. Each and every one of the thousand forgot the urgent errands upon which they had been sent into the street on the fly. They crowded close around the esthetic and did him honor after a fashion which brought new honors to his name, sensitive nature and affecting blushes to his cleanly cheek. Mr. Burras began to grow unhappy, and rubbed his philosophic friends into the Stock Exchange. The hoodlums followed. Exchange rates counted for nothing, and the very bad little boys made the hallways and galleries of the exchange ring with their enthusiasm. The brokers caught sight of Burras, and his companion was recognized. Then there arose a shout which was a tempest, compared with which the cries and howlings of the messenger boys were but as pleasing murmurs. Mr. Wilde remarked to Mr. Burras that he was quite ready to move along. He had seen enough, and more than enough. The crowd grew bigger, and the cries grew louder. A hundred brokers stood at the foot of the main staircase waiting for a concerted rush whereby to get Oscar upon the balcony. The plan was arranged. The philosopher was to be hauled after the most approved stock exchange style, and the bulls and bears were to follow over the prospect of soon sending their visitor forth to the world, hatless, coatless and in generally deplorable condition. But Burras disagreed with the scheme. From experience he well knew what was on hand, and quickly making a link movement, he hurried his shabby charge down to the stock exchange. Secretary Willie and Assistant Secretary Burnham ventured in to the hall, attracted by the hubbub, and Oscar turned headlong into both of them, more to their astonishment, however, than to their bodily harm. He was quite as anxious as was Burras to make a hasty retreat. Out through a side room into Board street the fugitive shot. The brokers were sadly disappointed, so were the messenger boys. Broker Burras hastily hired a cab, and Oscar was whisked over the cobblestones of a side street up town.
