LORDS CAN CHECK PLAN TO LIMIT SUPPLIES

By Deferring Consideration of the Veto Bill, Can Take the Edge Off Chancellor's Little Scheme.

LONDON, March 13.—(New York Tribune Cable.)—The lords can play the game of political tactics as cleverly as the ministers themselves. The government, in restricting the supply to six weeks for spending services, has acted on the close calculation that the veto resolution will be passed by the commons during April, and that the crisis caused by the rejection of the proposals by the upper house will occur about the time when the present votes on account expire. The ministers by resigning office abruptly, under these circumstances would compel Mr. Balfour to face the alternative of forming a government and of appealing to the country when the treasury was empty and embarrassed with the floating indebtedness and there was no authority for carrying on spending services, or else of declining the responsibilities of administration and of leaving Mr. Asquith at liberty to exact terms from the sovereign before returning to power.

The lords, however, can interfere with this dexterous little game by deferring the consideration of the veto resolution until they have disposed of their own resolutions for reforming the upper chamber. The votes on account would expire before the crisis over the veto came on, and the ministers would be forced to obtain fresh supplies themselves before resigning office. Probably this course will be adopted as the best method of meeting the ministers' expedient of limiting supplies to a deliberately calculated term in order to obtain their continuance in office and to make it impossible for their rivals to make up a business administration.

Rosebery's Resolutions. Lord Rosebery's motion for resolving the lords into a committee for considering their reform resolutions will be debated exhaustively this week, but the resolutions themselves will not be taken up until April, and the debate will be adjourned from week to week and followed by the long vacation. The lords can easily continue to delay action on the veto resolutions until the ministers have renewed supplies and there is no risk of bringing the national services to a full stop by the power of the purse. The lords can arrange the time table to suit themselves, and have the crisis come when Mr. Balfour can take office and appeal to the country without a financial difficulty over the supplies.

Lord Rosebery's resolutions, as enlarged by Lord Curzon and Newton, will contemplate the restriction in the number of legislative lords from an order of merit, and the election of lords by the upper house and increasing its efficiency. The Liberal peers will not waste time in debating a scheme which the present government is not prepared to support, but they will probably discuss the main lines of Sir Edward Grey's plan for an entirely elective chamber of 150 members, chosen by democratic franchise and limited by the hereditary principle. Conflicts between the two houses under this plan would be settled by a vote of the united parliament.

This plan is sufficiently radical to satisfy the most advanced section of the party, but the Rosebery scheme will hold the field if the Liberals obtain a majority at the next election, as they are likely to do thru the abstention of multitudes of Liberal voters who are frightened by financial complications and exasperated by John Redmond's supremacy.

Fighting Policy Unites. The ministers, meanwhile, have aroused the enthusiasm of their followers by adopting what looks like a fighting policy for forcing the budget and the veto bill thru by the menace of administrative chaos. It has reconciled the Radical extremists and the Liberal members to the enormously increased naval estimates, and has promoted the Liberal-Nationalist entente. Premier Asquith has remained persistently in the background, David Lloyd George being constantly in the centre of the stage, cheek by jowl with Winston Churchill, and with Gibson Bowles as a servicable ally within easy reach.

Letters from the Riviera say that Mr. Balfour is in feeble health and hardly fit for the storm and stress of a momentous constitutional conflict, yet he is directing the Unionist campaign with brilliant dexterity, restraining the ebullience of the hotspur, imparting a strong impulse to the movement for the reform of the lords, and lending encouragement not only to Sir Gilbert Parker's land ownership scheme for small farmers, but also to the proposal for a system of land rating for municipal purposes which would become a practical substitute for Mr. Lloyd George's land taxation scheme.

Hunger May End Great Phila. Strike

Bakers, Milkmen, Grocery Clerks and Other Dispensers of Necessities Are Called Upon to Leave Their Work.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 13.—In its efforts to demonstrate the strength of organized labor and to make stronger the sympathetic strike, the Central Labor Union today directed that all milkmen, bakers, grocery clerks and other dispensers of the necessities of life should remain away from their usual vocations to-morrow and until such time as the grievances of the striking carmen shall have been adjusted.

It was also resolved that union members withdraw all their money from the banks. Their sympathizers, whether organized or not, are also asked by the promoters of the sympathetic strike to do likewise. The union milk and bread wagon drivers were called upon to strike to-morrow. The grocery clerks, 1000 of whom organized this morning, will quit work to-morrow night. Any one working Tuesday in any line of employment will be considered as a non-union man, and expelled from the union of which they are members.

Pressure was brought to bear on the brewery workers and their representatives voted to join in the general strike, despite the orders of their national officers. The strike promoters say they take this action to disprove the claims of the authorities that the general strike is a fizzle.

NATIONALIST M.P. DEAD

J. O'Connor Was a Former Fenian and Served Term in Prison.

LONDON, Eng., March 13.—James O'Connor, Irish Nationalist member of parliament for the western division of County Wicklow since 1882, a former Fenian, who served two terms in British prisons, is dead. Timothy Harrington, a Nationalist member of the commons, for Harbor division of Dublin, also died today. O'Connor was born in the County Wicklow in 1836, and was well-known as an editor of Irish papers. In 1865, with Luby, O'Leary and Charles Kickham, he was convicted of treason and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude. He was liberated before his term had expired, and afterwards served on the editorial staff of The Irishman, The Flag of Ireland, The Shamrock and United Ireland. He was again arrested in 1881 and was detained for several months by the late Charles Stewart Parnell in Kilmaham Jail. Harrington was born in 1851. In 1901 he was elected lord mayor of Dublin and was re-elected in 1902 and 1903. He was formerly proprietor of United Ireland and of The Kerry Sentinel. He was at one time secretary of the National Irish League, and a Paralytic, but in 1897 he declared himself to be an independent Nationalist.

LONDON, March 13.—(C. A. P.)—The Times, in view of Canada's commercial agreements with France and Germany, and the possibility of one with the United States, urges the seriously immediate necessity for an Imperial preference, and says that although the constitutional question must be in the forefront in the next election, Unionists must not lose sight of the fact that the party of tariff reform.

SHAW TO MOVE TORONTO BILL AMENDMENT

Government Agrees to Clause Giving City Right to Build Car Line to Any District Not Covered by Existing Agreement.

Mr. Shaw's Amendment

The said municipality (Toronto) may construct and operate a railway in any part of the municipality as to which there is no agreement with any existing railway, and may apply to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for an order to proceed with the construction and operation thereof on notice to any railway company claiming railway rights in any such territory, and the board is hereby authorized to make such an order as it deems proper.

John Shaw, M.L.A., will move an amendment to the City of Toronto bill in the legislature on Tuesday, giving the city the right to construct and operate a railway in any part of the city as to which there is no agreement with an existing railway.

It is clearly understood that it will have the support of the government and that, in the amended form, the city's bill is assured of smooth sailing. The amendment as given was the result of a conference between Mr. Shaw and Ald. Maguire, chairman of the civic legislation committee. The clause was drawn up in the office of the city solicitor on Saturday afternoon.

The effect of the revised bill will be to acknowledge the right of the Toronto Suburban Railway to an exclusive franchise on the right of the seventh ward, formerly West Toronto, but to give the city the right to build lines in Woodwood, Faircourt and Bracondale, where there are no private lines of the vested order. When the private bills committee rejected the city's bill, it not only denied the municipality the power to construct surface lines, but also the entire new district.

The course taken by Mr. Shaw will render unnecessary the submitting of a resolution on the floor of the house, a step contemplated by W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., who with Mr. Shaw has shown a zeal in the city's cause which the board of control is pleased to acknowledge. Mayor Geary and City Solicitor Johnston will be present at the meeting of the special committee of the legislature appointed to deal with the question of what compensation, if any, the street railway should receive for any inconvenience to its traffic which may be caused by the construction of the tubes. The street railway agreement of 1891 says that the company is not entitled to damages for any interference with its traffic caused by the laying of roads, laying conduits, etc., or for "all other purposes," but the company's contention is that such a thing as the building of an underground railway was not contemplated.

MEASURE 1-2500TH OF INCH

Contest With Microscopes Reveals Average Difference of 1-500,000 Inch.

CHICAGO, March 13.—A contest in microscopic measurements between Prof. M. D. Ewell of Chicago and F. J. Keeley of Philadelphia was reported at the meeting of the American Microscopic Society last night. Prof. Ewell made the report and admitted that neither could be called the winner. The shortest distance measured was one-twenty-five hundredth of an inch. The results of the measurements were almost the same. The greatest difference was one-two hundred and fifty thousandth of an inch, and the average one-five hundred thousandth. The figures were given in "microns" and translated for the benefit of laymen by Prof. Ewell.

WRIST AND ANKLE BANGLES AS ENGAGEMENT TOKENS.

LONDON, March 13.—Notwithstanding the strong feminist movement in England among a certain smart set of girls, it is now considered the proper thing to advertise an engagement by wrist bangles as well as by an engagement ring. Sometimes even an ankle bracelet is included among the golden manacles proclaiming engagement to-bondage. A strong-minded English woman is lieutenant at this latest fad of their weaker sisters.

25,000 RAILROAD FIREMEN ON VERGE OF STRIKE

Unless Demands Are Acceded to, All West of Chicago Will Quit Their Jobs.

CHICAGO, March 13.—The threatened walkout of 25,000 firemen on practically all the railroads between Chicago and the Pacific Coast reached a critical stage today, when W. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, formally notified the railroads that if the entire controversy was not submitted to arbitration, a strike would be inevitable. The men's demands are: Increased wage scale, which the railroad pay would amount to an increase of 22 1/2 per cent, but which the firemen say would equal only 12 1/2 per cent. The right of the union to have authority in questions of seniority, or the promotion of old-time employees. About 47 railroads are involved. The managers had agreed to arbitrate the wage increases, but declined to consider the other demands which concern discipline and authority.

O. L. Dickson, assistant to the president of the C. B. & O. Railway, in a statement to-night, said: "We have received Mr. Carter's letter, which to a layman, not thoroughly familiar with the methods of labor organizations, would appear to be somewhat serious and to point to a strike."

"I wish to say that this is merely one of the methods unfortunately involved in conducting such negotiations, and it is not likely that the men would sanction the action of their leaders in calling a strike over one or two technical points. We do not feel the slightest apprehension over the difficulty. The managers in due time, probably to-morrow, will make definite answer to the firemen's committee, and we hope for a peaceful adjustment."

CONCRETE ROOF CRASHES ON GANG OF LABORERS

One Dead and Three Dying As Result of Accident at New Union Station at Winnipeg.

WINNEPEG, March 13.—By the collapse of a portion of the roof yesterday afternoon of the big Union Depot on South Main-street, being erected for the joint use of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern railways, one man was killed and three others fatally injured, and two had miraculous escapes from instant death. A large piece of roofing, about 20 feet square, consisting of several tons of concrete, crashed thru the four floors of the building, carrying beams and girders with it to the bottom, where a number of laborers were working. The accident is believed to have been caused by part of the supporting scaffold being removed, and the action of the mild weather on the concrete. The dead man is an Italian, and those injured were Russians.

COMET'S TAIL A VACUITY

Airiest Approach to Nothing Set in the Midst of Naught, Says Lowell.

BOSTON, Mass., March 13.—"The airiest approach to nothing set in the midst of naught," was the description given the tail of Halley's comet by Prof. Percival Lowell, astronomer and director of the Flagstaff Observatory, Arizona, in an address here last night. "On account of its vacuity it could have no injurious effect on humanity, even if it were the deadliest of gases," said Prof. Lowell, in disputing the theory that danger to the earth's inhabitants from the comet is possible.

U.S. COMMISSION AGREE TO DAM AT LONG SAULT

Reason to Believe That New York State Will Not Object to Proposed Power Plans.

BUFFALO, March 13.—(Special.)—The important news was learned here today, on reliable authority, that action will soon be taken by the waterways commission on the application of the St. Lawrence Power Company, Limited, a Canadian corporation, and the Long Sault Development Company, a New York State corporation, for privilege to derive power from the Long Sault Rapids. It is understood that 800,000 horsepower are to be developed. Millions of dollars are involved in the plans. The American section is about ready to report suggested amendments of a bill now in congress to enable the power company and allied interests to construct their proposed dam. The Canadian section's action will come later.

For the past year or two the proposition has been up in various forms to construct a dam substantially from the American to the Canadian shore in the Long Sault Rapids, and to construct a lock in the haul, so that boats could navigate the St. Lawrence without having to go thru the Canadian Corwell Canal.

The rivers and harbors committee at Washington has the proposed amendments to the bill, which would grant rights to the American company to erect its dam. This is understood to imply favorable action on the part of the American section of the waterways commission, for otherwise the bill would have been offered in its entirety.

TAG DAY YIELDS NEARLY $1000 FOR HOME

Newsboys Make Good Start in Building Fund Campaign.—Get Ready for Benefit Performance at Grand on Friday.

Nine hundred and twenty dollars! This is the result of the count of the tag-day boxes returned by the newsboys up to midnight Saturday night. The boys have thus made a splendid start of their campaign to raise $20,000 for the erection of a Newsboys' Home and Gymnasium. When the full returns are received it is estimated that there will be over one thousand dollars towards the fund from the operations of tag day.

And on top of this the committee have cheques given by prominent citizens which will make the grand total of the first week of the campaign between $1400 and $1500. Not so bad a start, is it? But tag day was only a start; to-day the campaign will be renewed with vigor, and the week end will see even greater success than has already been achieved.

The boys went out early with the boxes, and the tags went so fast that the presses had to be restarted to supply the demands of the Hill street merchants. Nearly everybody had something to deposit in the boxes, maybe only a few coppers in some cases, but the majority of contributions to the building fund were dimes and nickels. Altogether there were 29 bills in the 200 boxes so far investigated. One box contained a cheque for $50.

The next move of the boys is to hold a benefit performance. Manager James Cowan has given the use of the Grand Opera House, and on Friday afternoon of this week a bill will be put on at that popular theatre which should easily fill the house. The tickets have been placed at $1, and on Tuesday morning every newsboy will have them for sale. These tickets may be exchanged for seats at the Grand box office. Buy a ticket; you will not only be doing something for a good cause, but you will be getting the worth of your money.

The Home Influence. Making citizens the most important work of any country, because upon that depends all the other work which has to do with the well-being.

Children in Public Schools Harder to Control on Opening Days of Week.

HAMILTON, March 13.—(Special.)—Speaking to the adult Bible Class Federation this afternoon, in the lecture hall of Centenary Church, Rev. E. Wesley Halfpenny, secretary of the Ontario Sunday School Association, remarked that it had been said that Sunday schools were the breeding places of disrespect of authority, and day school teachers complained that children were harder to control on Monday and Tuesday than on any other day of the week. The speaker said this was caused by the fact that the Sunday school teachers were not trained. Other speakers were W. R. Moody and Rev. Mr. Glasford. A. E. Manning presided.

SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR

Then Walks to Brother's Residence for Assistance.

After cutting his throat with a razor in his room, Andrew W. Rouleston, aged 28, of 253 Borden-street, walked to his brother's home at 210 Borden-street, at 7:30 Saturday evening. It will probably be true, Rouleston had to walk through a block and cross the street. As he was bleeding profusely from his wounds, he left a trail of blood. He has been dependent for some time. After he had inflicted the terrible injuries, he apparently repented and went out for help. The traces, or windpipe, was cut and four stitches had to be put in to close it. Besides that, four arteries were severed. All 21 stitches were necessary to close the gashes.

He was taken in Harry Ellis' ambulance to the Western Hospital, where Dr. Henry A. Beatty attended him. Rouleston is married.

FEWER DIVORCES, IF—

Men's Coats Buttoned Up the Back, Says Dr. Luther Gulick.

CHICAGO, March 13.—If man had the lapels of his coat and his collar and necktie in the middle of his back, so his wife would be called upon to assist him in dressing, even as he is called upon to assist her in hers, there would be fewer divorces, because conditions would be less one-sided. Anyway, this is the belief of Dr. Luther Gulick, director of the child hygiene department of the Russell Sage Foundation, New York, who spoke on "The New Attitude in Health" before the Cook County Teachers' Association Saturday.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

Good Business in Sight, Especially From the Railways.

NEW YORK, March 13.—There was a large volume of business in finished steel products last week and the prospect is favorable for greater activity. Orders for rails aggregated $5,000,000. Orders for railway cars were less than 2000, but there are enquiries in the market for 18,000. New orders were placed for only seventy locomotives, but there were enquiries for about 1200, about half of which are definitely in the market.

LAWYER CLARRY DENIES ALLEGATIONS OF GRAFTING

And Gives an Explanation of Cases Cited in Parliament—Was Never Engaged by the Government.

PETERBORO, March 12.—(Special.)—L. F. Clarry, barrister, of Hastings, was in Peterboro on Saturday, and was interviewed regarding charges of alleged wrongdoing on the part of James Dickson, P.L.S., as valuator, and himself as solicitor, preferred by Haughton Lennox, M.P., in the house of commons on Friday last, in connection with the settlement of damages made by certain farmers against the government, Mr. Clarry said:

"I am not now, and never have been at any time, engaged by the government as its solicitor, nor in any other capacity, to either adjust or settle claims against the government in connection with Crown lands, nor did I at any time, either directly or indirectly, induce or attempt to induce Mr. Dickson to make any award, either for or against any claimant, in connection with those Crown lands. So far as I know, Mr. Dickson made his valuations, and assessed the damages to the claimants, on his own responsibility, and without any consultation with me.

"The government has, however, in some cases retained me to search the titles of certain claimants to lands in respect of which damages for flooding had previously been awarded, and the offer of settlement of the claimant had previously been accepted by the government, before I was ever instructed by the government to search the titles of such claimants.

"The Humphries Case. "Long before I had ever searched any titles to drowned lands for the government, Henry Humphries retained me as his solicitor to put in his claim against the government for damages. I did not put in his claim, and shortly afterwards he came to my office and said that he did not want his claim pressed further, for he was going to let the matter drop, and agreed to cancel my engagement, without any charge for my services being made against him.

"Some time later I was asked by the government to search the title of Henry Humphries to his lands, which he represented to consist of 200 acres in the Township of Asphodel, and in respect of which he had been awarded by the late W. R. Aylesworth, P.L.S., of Belleville, $500. I searched the titles to the lands in question, and reported to the department that Mr. Humphries owned only 12 acres, and that the remaining 188 acres had been sold by him before he signed the offer of settlement. Mr. Aylesworth reported that Mr. Humphries claimed that the 27 acres sold were not damaged by flooding, and that he would make a statutory declaration to that effect.

"A few weeks later I was instructed by the department that as a result of a re-inspection by James Dickson, P.L.S., who succeeded Mr. Aylesworth as valuator, that part of the 27 acres in question was damaged, and the amount of the award was reduced to $240. Mr. Humphries refused to accept this amount, which I reported to the department.

"The Graham Case. "In respect of the Graham charge, I beg to state that Mr. Graham's brother, who was a client of mine, asked me if I would press his brother's claim to the government for drowned lands. I told him I would, and gave him a retainer to have signed and advised him of the course to pursue. He did not accept my services, nor did he pay me anything, nor have I been asked by the government to act in its behalf in connection with the Graham case."

Don't Blame Your Stomach

When Without Exertion Or Cost You Can Enjoy Meals and Cook Your Dyspepsia.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

Don't blame your stomach or your luck when your meals declare war on your system.

When the stomach won't do its work it is because it cannot. When foul smelling odors come from your stomach, when the head aches and the sourness of mouth every morning makes you hate your breakfast, when dreams and nightmares assail you, don't give up the fight.

This is the appeal of nature, and it should be heeded. Over-eating, late suppers, poorly chewed food, too rich pastries and under-done cooking are some of the causes of the stomach's ill health.

When the stomach is busy, it presses and churns all the liquid matter from food and with its juices dissolves into liquid form or pulp everything which comes into it.

If such food be poisonous it affects the juices, attacks the stomach, goes into the blood and weakens the entire system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest a full meal easily without material assistance from the stomach. They will restore the gastric fluid with all the elements needed. They build up the blood, destroy sour taste, bad breath, belching, stomach and bowel trouble and quickly restore natural conditions.

The methods of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the methods of nature. They contain every requisite for the stomach and digestion. After a meal one of these little tablets when it enters the stomach mingles with the stomach and digestion. After a meal one of these little tablets when it enters the stomach mingles with the stomach and digestion.

Your druggist will furnish Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets 50 cents the box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 14, 1910.

'TIS TIME TO HOWL.

If the people in Queen's Park and at Ottawa won't do what the people of Toronto want them to do, the people of Toronto should revolt and agitate. Thrusting the radicals on this city at their own terms is too bitter a morsel for a self-respecting community to gulp.

Toronto's position must be sustained. Hold a meeting in Massey Hall on Tuesday night. Invite the Toronto legislators, both local and federal, to speak in the city's behalf. That would emphasize the fact that Toronto is the earnest. It would be an inspiring sight to see a number of Toronto's parliamentary representatives defending the rights of the citizens in five or ten minute speeches.

And then, Queen's Park and Ottawa must begin to take notice.

TORONTO AND THE LEGISLATURE

Sir James Whitney has stated that when the city is ready to make an application the government would consider its proposals. The muddling over the city's bill on Friday has disgusted everybody who has the interest of the city at heart. There will be some good result if the people come to understand the real character of the junior member for West Toronto. The way Mr. W. D. McPherson played the game of the railway companies in conjunction with Mr. Herbert Lennox and some others ought to open the eyes of the electors in future. The Toronto News gave an impartial account of the proceedings in the private bill committee and of the warning given to Mr. McPherson that he would kill the clause if he did not get the clause the city desired. But he kept on and killed the clause. Next day The News published his portrait with a white wash, but his family connections with The News staff will account for that.

Mr. Thomas Crawford should undertake to muzzle his junior in the west riding until the city bill has been dealt with. Mr. Crawford himself as speaker is perhaps exempt from active duty, but at least he should lend his vote and interest to the city. All the more so since the official members of the party, like the whip, Dr. Preston, evidently act in hostility to the city's interests. There appears to be a tradition among the less informed men in the legislature that country members should vote against everything that Toronto asks for. There are members like Mr. Fox who make it a rule always to vote against Toronto whatever the merits of the case. The country members ought to know that the interests of the city are identical with those of the province, and that what injures one injures the other. If Toronto can get cheap fares for her citizens it means that country visitors get cheap fares also, and that whether the rural population comes to the city to visit or to reside they have an advantage over other provinces in this respect. And what is more important, if they vote to give the corporations absolute control over Toronto it means that those corporations will dominate the country municipalities as well.

Toronto's population is about one-sixth of that of Ontario. It is rather more, indeed, but its representation in the house is disproportionate. On this account the country members ought to remember that Toronto depends upon them to do that which they will not permit her to do for herself. Toronto ought to have nearly twenty members in the legislature if population were the criterion. As it is, a petty bourgeoisie that a million is held down to the ideas that suit the country townships.

Even with the members Toronto has a very poor showing is usually made. Nobody expects anything from Mr. Whitteley but a vote. He had not a word to say when the city was in a hole. Messrs. Foy and Pyne are precluded by their positions, it is assumed, from doing anything. Mr. Wooderham is away. Mr. McPherson is a hindrance rather than a help. All that the city can depend upon are Messrs. McNaught and Shaw. Fortunately those gentlemen have common sense, and the interest of the city at heart. They have also the courage of their opinions.

It is quite clear that the city must rely on these gentlemen to get it out of the hole into which Mr. McPherson and his friends got it on Friday. They must see Sir James and put the facts before him and have the intolerable unrighteousness of the discrimination against the city rectified. The city must at least have as much consideration as a commercial corporation gets. Statehood usually gives the people as a whole more consideration than is accorded to a limited liability company. Some members of the legislature, however, all selected to represent the people, seem to think that their chief duty is

To provide the people's rights among the corporations. It has been said that clause 11 in the city bill, which was rejected on account of Mr. McPherson's insistence, was not as satisfactorily drawn as it might have been. It was proposed to relegate it to a committee, but this Mr. McPherson refused to permit. Messrs. McNaught and Shaw can doubtless get the clause redrafted, and restored to the bill.

Toronto must have the power to build tubes and such extensions to those tubes as will constitute a continuous service in unsupplied districts. Sir James Whitney knows the conditions and the requirements of the city, and he will be no party to any outrage on the rights of the people. There is not the slightest desire to encroach upon any actual corporation rights. If there be any clash the situation can be adjusted thru arbitration or expropriation, or otherwise.

NICKEL BREAD. The Globe has succeeded in having the McNaught bread bill repealed. The first result of the new bill, which will be known as the Nickel Bill, is to make it a crime to sell a loaf of bread weighing 16 ounces for five cents. Fancy bread must not weigh more than 12 ounces, and if a baker tries to give you more he is liable to punishment. Perhaps the baker will sell the 12-ounce loaf for four cents, but it takes just as much time and trouble to make a 12 as a 16-ounce loaf, and the public will probably have to pay for the extra percentage of trouble.

CANADA AND THE U. S. TARIFF. In the past the United States has frequently secured important diplomatic advantages by a policy chiefly composed of bluff and insistence. Its success has been in part due to the provision of the constitution requiring the ratification of the treaty arrangements, and other nations recognizing the authority of the president in the absence of the senate. The United States has been willing to adopt a more liberal attitude than would have been the case under usual international conditions. Canada, in particular, has suffered considerably on various occasions from the necessity or presumed necessity of conciliating the senate in order to facilitate the removal of difficulties that might easily have led to friction. But this process may be carried too far and there are questions involving points of principle which do not lend themselves readily to concessions unjustifiable in themselves.

Altho in the matter of the new tariff and the application of its minimum schedule, the senate has developed a measure of discretion upon the president, its character and extent appears to be in some degree uncertain. No provision was made touching the existence of commercial treaties between individual nations negotiated on the basis of reciprocal concessions extending automatically to those nations that had arranged for the benefit of the "most favored nation" treatment. But what has always been the subject of special negotiation the United States now endeavors to impose upon all other countries under threat of refusing the advantage of the minimum schedule of its tariff. Obviously, if this position is maintained it will go far to prevent the negotiation of commercial treaties of those already in force where a country is not prepared either to extend particular concessions to the United States or to be penalized by the enforcement of the latter's maximum rates.

This is the obstacle which has arisen in the course of the application of the new tariff of France and Canada. The United States view that it is understood, takes the view that the rate concessions made in the French-Canadian treaty, altho reciprocal, amount to undue discrimination against the republic. This means, in other words, that it insists upon enjoying the benefit of "most favored nation" treatment without granting any advantage other than its straight minimum schedule rates. So far neither France nor Canada is inclined to concede this unprecedented demand and there is real danger that if all the governments present a tariff war will follow. Such a result would be regrettable, but responsibility for it will certainly rest with the United States.

for Canada is the prospect of tariff reform in the mother country. At present the United States is not prepared to aid that movement in Britain by calling in question the preferential rate. But were Britain to establish import duties with a preference to other imperial states, the republic might take another step in the direction of forgetting that the clause recognizing the inter-imperial preference disappeared from the act as passed.

THE POLICE REST DAY. To-day the city council will again take into consideration the request of the police force for one day's rest every week. To it there is only one objection carrying any weight—that of the additional expense involved. But if the service is made more attractive for the class of men wanted and if efficiency is increased, as will certainly be the case, the matter of cost ought not to be allowed to intervene. Toronto is quite able to provide the money for this just and expedient reform.

About the last thing that many of our legislators consider is the public interest, and then only to bury it with affected regret. Germany's interest in the movement for imperial naval defence equals its anxiety over the movement for British tariff reform. No better testimony could be given to the importance of both.

Canada and the United States are at loggerheads over the tariff. "When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war," was an ancient saying that may have applicability—or again it may not.

Toronto has two riddles on hand—how to clear up the traction muddle, and who is buying the Cartwright street property. The successful solvers will achieve greatness.

Toronto looks to Sir James P. Whitney as the Alexander that will cut the Gordian knot binding the city to the corporation car. Many of the city's representatives have busied themselves trying to make it inviolable as well as inextricable.

SHEARER NOT FACT-FUL.

Editor World: My attention has been called to an editorial published in the issue of The World of the 9th inst., under the caption, "Who Should Prohibit Legislation?" in which the following passage occurs: "The promotion of legislation working in the interests of the jockey clubs, and others opposed to the Miller bill now before parliament, respectfully request the members of the legislature to support the promotion of the legislation forms no part of the professional duty of a minister of the gospel. What rubbish! Dr. Shearer, against whom the corporation car, Mayor of the city's representatives have busied themselves trying to make it inviolable as well as inextricable." As I am one of the legal gentlemen responsible for the argument presented in opposition to the Miller bill, I feel justified in calling attention to the fact that the above quotation, which is verbally correct, has been detached from its context, and as quoted conveys a false impression of the argument advanced. The passage in question, as it appears in the issue of the 9th inst., is as follows: "The undersigned do not desire to cast any reflection upon the many excellent and eminent ministers of the church who have been induced to lead their names to the agitation fostered by Dr. Shearer, nor to minimize the service they can do to the community by uplifting its moral tone by exhortation and example, but it is respectfully urged that the promotion of legislation forms no part of the professional duty of a minister of the gospel, and that members of that profession, who undertake to propagate a change of the laws of the country, owe both to parliament and to the community the obligation (attaching to every citizen undertaking a similar task) of mastering existing conditions, or understanding the existing law, and of making clear to parliament the existence of grave abuses, and pointing out the most practical and effective manner of curtailing those abuses, with as little disturbance as may be to the law-abiding and respectable section of the community."

It will be seen that there was no suggestion that Dr. Shearer or any other member of the church had the right of an ordinary citizen to promote legislation, but it was urged, and from this position the counsel concerned did not recede, that Dr. Shearer's professional status as a clergyman did not free him from the obligation to know what he was talking about, and to inform himself, as far as possible by the Gatlins Method, of the legal contract to effect a satisfactory cure in THREE DAYS or the fee paid is to be returned on leaving the institution. PAY HOMAGE TO WEPTONE IN CROSSING THE EQUATOR

How the Passengers on the Cruise of the Bluecher Enjoyed the Novel Experience.

The following interesting account of a South American cruise is reprinted from the special correspondent of The New York Herald, dated from Para, Brazil: "Rubber" is to-day the slogan of the two hundred explorers from the United States on the Bluecher, of the Hamburg-American Line, which is making the first extensive cruise of these unstocked shores in the history of navigation.

Of course, that has been the word ever since they left New York, and now, as the first city of any consequence to be reached, is the most important rubber market of the world. Situated on the main estuary of the Amazon, a few miles north of the equator, it is a city of motley types, of half-breed inhabitants and a great port for trans-Atlantic commerce. The thousand-mile of navigable rivers up the Amazon.

It was 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning when the Bluecher steamed into the pretty harbor of St. Thomas. In the Danish West Indies, 14 miles from New York, the first stop of the cruise. Here, the Bluecher, which had left New York on the same day with a party of tourists for the islands of the Caribbean, was already in port and as soon as the Bluecher had anchored, visits were exchanged between the vessels and the passengers were pleasantly renewed. St. Thomas, or rather, the Town of Charlotte Amalie, which is all that remains of the city of three hundred years ago, and the castles of Bluebeard and Blackbeard, are situated on the side. The town itself nestles at the foot of a mountain, and its uniformly built houses, with their red and white roofs, terraces and gardens with stately palm trees, makes a striking picture of a tropical town.

St. Thomas is not "strong" on clothing, but it is the only tropical town that has an aroma all its own. The departure from St. Thomas was at 11 o'clock the same night and interest then began to focus on the next event, crossing the equator.

The Bluecher was due to cross on Saturday afternoon. While the band played and the rays of searchlight swept the water, a huge figure, a man made up with a false nose and painted cheeks, came over the side, and shouted in stentorian tones, "The Bluecher is here!" The crowd would arrive at 12 o'clock the following afternoon. There were fireworks, a pig fat, however, was on Sunday afternoon.

At the appointed time the passengers gathered on the aft deck and the bridges overlooking it and a salute of guns greeted the coming of Neptune. He came over the side of the forward part of the ship, and he certainly looked the part, with his beard to his waist, a long flowing mane of hair, and a crown of gold by his side was Amphitrite, in the person of a good looking steward, but the look more like a soldier than a demigod of the deep.

Their retinue was made up of two huge negroes of the burnt cork kind, nude except for plug hats and breech cloths; force policemen with false hair, flowing whiskers and uniforms like those of the French gendarmes, a comb of equal size and great tweezers and other instruments of torture. The functions of this person became apparent presently. On the aft deck had been placed a tank containing about four feet of water and decorated with flags. From the tank a ladder led to the deck, and by his side was Amphitrite, in the person of a good looking steward, but the look more like a soldier than a demigod of the deep.

ordel—was made to sit on the edge of the tank and direct all to the tender mercies of the barber. Buckets of paste made of flour and water served as a substitute for soap, and after the subject's face had been scraped with a huge razor, and then a tilt of the heels sent the unfortunate one head over heels into the tank, where Neptune's two negroes took care to see that he got a thorough ducking. After that he had to crawl thru the canvas chute, a lively stream from a fire hose aiding his progress from the rear. Some were too fat to enter the chute, and some venturesome ones stuck in it and had to be pulled out. After the passengers had taken their equalizing medicine—and only those who had already crossed the line were exempt—the stewards and sailors came in for their, and this was rough house. A NEWSPAPER IDEAL.

In an article on "Some of the Problems of a Big Newspaper," in a supplement issued by The Ottawa Free Press to mark its 40th anniversary, the publishers say: "A newspaper to our minds, is not merely a purveyor of news. A paper that is satisfied to pass on to its readers everything that may come along in the service supplied by a syndicate neglecting one of the chiefest, one of the most inspiring functions of a journal. A newspaper properly filling its niche in the great scheme of things must have a soul. It must have an acute sense of responsibility to the public. "A newspaper is a huge instrument of progress and enlightenment. Editorially, it should be a great humanitarian engine. But it is more. It is an engine of commercial growth, placed at the hand of business men, which they may make themselves and their goods familiar to the public and thus help out their pathway to commercial success. BLAME ON A SIGNORANGE FOR THE TARIFF MUDDLE

Misconceptions as to the Differences Between U.S. and Canadian Duties Responsible For Delay.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 13.—A general misconception of the provisions of the United States tariff is believed to be largely responsible for the little progress thus far made in the tariff negotiations between the American commissioners and the Canadian authorities in their Ottawa conference.

It is learned at the state department that previous to their arrival, assertions were generally made that the United States tariff on Canadian products was twice as high as the Canadian tariff on products of the United States.

The tariff officers of the United States presented official statistics showing that on the imports from Canada into the United States for the fiscal year 1909, the average ad valorem rate on dutiable and free imports was only 11.2 per cent, and on dutiable imports was 19.4 per cent.

On the other hand it was shown that the Canadian ad valorem rate on free and dutiable imports from the United States was 12.5 per cent, and on dutiable imports was 24.9 per cent.

It was also disclosed that the material reductions made by the Payne-Aldrich law on Canadian imports into the United States were not understood in Canada.

On this basis of the fiscal year quoted, the reduction amounted to more than $1,000,000, equivalent to a reduction of nearly 10 per cent.

Why not exchange the one for the other?

You'll profit and so will the other fellow.

An Exchange Ad in THE TORONTO WORLD will quickly bring you both together.

New Lacrosse Rules Proposed for C.L.A. Notes of the Game

The time for accepting amendments to the constitution, regulations and rules of the Canadian Lacrosse Association expires on Wednesday. The following are already proposed:

By J. J. Kelly, Brantford—To amend article 1, sec. 5, page 14, to read: "Every player in the junior and juvenile series must file with the secretary of the association a certificate of birth from the registrar-general's department of Ontario, at Toronto, before the secretary can issue a playing certificate to him or his club."

By Dr. W. A. Groves, Perth—To strike out sec. 4, article 3, regulations, page 14. By Ernie Knott, Toronto—To strike out section 4 of article 6, page 12. To amend sec. 3 by striking out the word "other" after all, and adding the word "senior" before the word "regulate."

By J. K. Forey, Toronto—Strike out words "intermediate and junior" in what is now sec. 1 of art. 4, and substitute word "all" so as to make it read "all clubs." Strike out sec. 1 of art. 4, and amend it so as to read: "The club winning the Globe Trophy Shield shall, before receiving it, give to the secretary-treasurer for the season the amount of $400 for the La Fortune Cup a bond of $50, and for the Maple Leaf Shield a bond of $25."

To add the word "treasurer" after the word "secretary" in sec. 2 of art. 4, and to substitute "to" for "and" in the words "the secretary" following "in each year" in the same section. Also to strike out the words "only the president of the association who will" and "the president notifies the secretary that" in the same section.

To sec. 2 of art. 4, so as to make it read "the home team shall pay the referee the sum of $5 and his actual hotel and traveling expenses." Page 20. To amend sec. 1 of rule 4, so as to make it read: "The twelve players in each side shall be designated as follows: 'Goalkeeper,' 'point,' 'cover-point,' 'first defence,' 'second defence,' 'third defence,' 'centre,' 'third home,' 'second home,' 'first home,' 'outside home,' 'inside home.'"

To add to sec. 6 of art. 6 the following: "No championship shall be started later than 4 o'clock p.m., unless both teams interested agree, in which case they shall notify the secretary of the association of the hour fixed by such mutual agreement at least three days before the game."

To cut out the words following and including "in cases of championship games, etc." in sec. 7 of rule 4. By B. McGuire, Orangeville—Amend section 7 of present art. 3, by making team 14 men instead of 12, and the words "at half-time" instead of "the end of the match."

organization materializes you can depend on the Caps for a great fight for the flag. All of last year's players are here, including Bousse Hutton, Barney Quinn, Eddie Macmillan, George Marsch, Billy Pagan, Herb Goodwin, Jack Ashfield, Chic Watts, Billy Starna, Ernie Butterworth, Harry Lavelle, Whitley Eastwood, Sharkey Timmins, Johnny Powers, Jimmy Duddy and Mac Landry. Bousse Hutton intends to try, and it is doubtful if Jack Ashfield will care to play again on account of his injured knee.

Mr. William Foran now states that he does not intend to re-enter lacrosse as an active officer of the Capital Club. Dr. J. L. Chabot intended to retire from the presidency, but has done such good work in the position that his fellow-officers are endeavoring to have him continue. Dr. Chabot may be prevailed upon to act once more, the honor, as understood, to turn over, being open to him should he consent to take over the duties for another term.

Excelsiors of Brampton. Brampton, March 12.—(Special)—The annual meeting of the Excelsiors Lacrosse Club was held here to-night. The following officers were elected: President, J. R. Pallas; first vice-president, G. L. Williams; second vice-president, J. H. McChesney; third vice-president, James Quinn; secretary-treasurer, Dave Ingram; Finance, ground and team committees were appointed. Team manager, T. J. Mackie; delegates to C.L.A. Convention, W. D. Ingram, T. J. Mackie. It was decided to nominate Mr. Mackie for the C.L.A. council. It was reported that last year's expenses were over $50, and that there was a balance of $40 in the treasury. Several resolutions were drawn up to send to the C.L.A. Convention.

Annual Meeting Held on Saturday at the King Edward. The annual meeting of this club was held on Saturday afternoon at the King Edward Hotel. The treasurer's report showed the finances to be in a very satisfactory condition. A full eighteen hole course was opened up early last season. The captain's report showed that nine inter-club matches had been played, the majority of which had been won by the club. The membership is rapidly increasing in both gentlemen and lady players. The price of the shares of stock has been raised from $25 to $35 per share. The club's property, consisting of 207 acres, is situated on the west side of the city, and is well watered, which is over six thousand yards long and provides sporting water hazards, while both the high and low ground has been utilized, giving a great variety in the character of the holes. The following officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, L. A. Hamilton; vice-president, A. R. Cairns; directors, John W. Hall, G. B. Stratton, A. B. Coleman, John W. Godfrey and B. H. Ardagh; hon. secretary, A. U. Merry; hon. treasurer, George G. Mackenzie; vice-captain, Leman Root.

The Parkdale Curling Club closed its season on Saturday night with a presentation of prizes for the past season. There were a large number of members present and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The prizes for the Fraser Cup, inter-club games, consisting of travel tickets for the winners and cut-glass berry bowls for the runners-up, were presented by A. T. Harris. The winning rink consisted of S. H. Armstrong skip, C. H. Kelk, J. McEln, T. H. Cannon. The runners-up were W. W. Scott skip, W. Coulter, A. M. Craig, Dr. Sloan.

The Value of Dick Croker's Orby. PALM BEACH, Fla., March 12.—That Mr. Richard Croker had recently retained $100,000 for Orby, his Derby winner, now in stud at Glencairn, Ireland, became known when he was asked today by a reporter a cable report stating that a large offer had been made for the horse. The offer came from the Italian Government and was refused promptly.

Mr. Croker was asked why he looked up quickly, as if surprised, "because," said he, "it was no price for him. As a business proposition he is worth twice that; but, then, I wouldn't sell him for any amount. No, sir, nothing would tempt me to dispose of him, the I guess if I wanted to I could get $200,000 to-morrow." Mr. Croker was reticent about other offers he had received for Orby. "The horse is good for twenty-five years yet," said he, "and in the year he has been in service he has earned $10,000 for me. An Orby colt from a good mare is worth $5000 to-day. I have five already. If Orby's colts make a good showing his service fees will double immediately, and if he should have a foal winning the Derby I feel confident they would be worth $25,000 a season. That's the interest on half a million, you know, and so you see I don't think a hundred thousand any price at all. One horse like Orby pays for all my stables."

 To-day:
 Wheat—Receipts 645,000; Shipments 230,000.
 Corn—Receipts 507,000; Shipments 148,000.
 Oats—Receipts 557,000; Shipments 402,000.

Russian Crop Report.
 Broomhall's cable says: Russia—if the southern region the weather has become very cold, which is unfavorable for the growing crops, which are without snow cover. In the Azoff the weather is very stormy, which is expected to delay shipment.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.
 Receipts of farm produce at the St. Lawrence Market on Saturday were light—no grain, only a few loads of hay, about 200 tons of mixed produce, in the north building, with only a moderate delivery on the basket market.
 Hay—About ten loads of hay sold at unchanged quotations.
 Poultry—A few lots sold at $12.50 per 100. Prices for dressed poultry were as follows: Turkeys, 2c to 2c; ducks, 2c to 2c; chickens, 2c to 2c and 2c; geese, 2c to 2c.
 Butter—Receipts fairly large. Prices were a little firmer, but not what might have been expected for choice lots. The advance not being equal to that charged at the wholesale stores for the best grades. Prices ranged from 28c to 29c for the bulk of the best quality at 30c. Some lots sold as low as 26c to 27c. The local Hill butter sold in wholesale lots at 28c per lb. last week.
 Eggs—Some special customers paid as high as 50c, but the bulk of the eggs sold at from 30c to 32c per dozen, with prices likely to go still lower.

Market Notes.
 The leading buyers on the basket market for poultry were John Barron, J. A. Peterson, A. Thompson, Harris Abattino, Company and J. Donnell. Competition was keen, the result being that the farmers got the highest prices paid this season.
 M. P. Malton, wholesale dealer in poultry, says he has a large trade in cold storage lots, which has a very good demand. The situation is coming out of storage in excellent condition.
 One farmer, when renewing his subscription for The Toronto World, stated that he only took The World for its market reports and that he paid $40 per year for it, and would not be without it.

BOARD OF TRADE AIMS AT 2500 MEMBERSHIP
 Secretary Morley Inaugurates Aggressive Campaign—What It Stands For.

The Toronto Board of Trade is aiming at a membership of 2500, and this end every member had been circled to put his shoulder to the wheel.

Secretary F. G. Morley is also sending out literature which proves the usefulness of the board of trade. On a folder is a resume of "Things Done." It says: "Perhaps no work of the board stands out more prominently than its successful fight for the preservation of the waterfront and the protection of citizens. The result of this struggle, dating back to 1889, should redound not only to the benefit of the waterfront and the city as a whole, but to the province as a whole. The tendency of to-day is to minimize danger, and the question of separation of grade crossings through the Dominion is being seriously considered."

PARIS STILL HOPEFUL OF TARIFF SOLUTION

PARIS, March 12.—(Special to The Sunday World.)—The presentation of the French arguments and the point of view concerning the United States customs tariff have given rise to comments and replies. Here are the clarifications of one of the most qualified persons on the subject: "We are already acquainted with these arguments. They are those set forth in the letter of Mr. Shomer, president of the American Chamber of Commerce. They always bring back the question to the theory of 'everything or nothing,' which, apart from its unpleasantly absolute nature, appears to us in the present case to assume a somewhat dogmatic character by clinging to an intrinsic formula for all American products."
