

MOST COLLEGE HEADS FAVOR PROHIBITION

But Dr. Judson of University of Chicago Thinks Amendment was Premature—Dr. Hopkins is Critical.

Chicago, May 15.—Replying to a questionnaire sent out by the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago, expressed doubt as to the wisdom of national anti-liquor legislation at this time and declares that opinion among the more thoughtful people of Chicago is that federal prohibition was premature.

among our students, a large amount of intemperance. There is, and always will be, among almost any student body, a certain amount of it. On the whole, I think people of the city with whom I meet frequently believe that the purpose of national prohibition is desirable. But that the amendment at this time is, as I said, premature.

MOTHERS WERE THE GUESTS OF HONOR
Mother's Day was observed at the Waterloo street Baptist church yesterday in an especially elaborate fashion. The church was decorated with flowers and appropriate notices and, in front of the pulpit, a picture of "Mother" was surrounded with the Union Jack and had a wreath of evergreen in front of it. During the service four young ladies each placed a carnation on the wreath in memory of departed mothers while Rev. J. A. Sweetnam, pastor of the church, sang "Memories of Mother."
At the morning service the mothers in the congregation were seated as guests of honor at the front of the church, as well as some from the Old Ladies' Home and Home for Incubables. These old ladies were accompanied by the matrons of both institutions and they were brought to the church in automobiles loaned for the occasion and they were returned to the institutions after the service. All the mothers received bouquets of carnations when they entered, from a committee composed of young ladies of the church.
The three services at the Waterloo street church were largely attended yesterday. At the morning session the pastor delivered an eloquent address on "The Influence of Mother" and Mrs. S. Greig sang a solo. At the afternoon session Mr. Parker, of the Boys' Industrial Home, addressed the senior class of the Sunday school. In the evening the subject was "The Women of Today." The pastor divided his remarks into three sections, first, their appearance; second, their devotion to their children; third, their clothing. He said that the dress of women always had been an index to the morals. Morals of any period in the world's history, he said, could be known by the costumes which the women of that period wore.

Rapid Increase in Number of Manufacturers and Dealers.
In submitting national figures covering radio broadcasting, Arthur Wetsinger, director of the Bureau of Research and Information of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, indicates the surprisingly large growth which has taken place within a short space of time. The data, in the form of a comprehensive survey, have been compiled with particular reference to the part department stores play in radio merchandising.
It is brought out that broadcasting stations of the standard 360-meter wavelength in the United States number over 100, representing a fifty per cent increase within the last month. Department store broadcasting stations of this type are stated to have increased 100 per cent during this period, and, at present, constitute thirteen per cent of the total number. There are more than 200 manufacturers engaged in the manufacture of radio apparatus, according to

LET US BE CALM

It is quite useless for enthusiasts of the New Brunswick Power Company to attempt to arouse a doubt in the public mind regarding the quantity of power available at Musquash. It is equally useless to attempt to arouse fear that civic distribution will result in a heavy increase in taxes. Nor will attempts to create an impression that nobody is to be trusted except those who would play into the hands of the New Brunswick Power Company change the views of the people as expressed at the polls. It is not accurate to say that the public mind is unduly excited or influenced. The public mind is settled and firm in the policy of civic distribution of hydro-electric energy. The city council is well advised when it proceeds without undue delay to carry out that policy. There need be no confusion of the issue, or any fear that the public will change its mind. The contention that the city's interests must be safeguarded is upheld by everybody, but the dangers of civic distribution need not be exaggerated; and, if they are, the source of the agitation is obvious to everybody. The council will conclude the contract and the power commission will proceed to business. In due time the citizens will get the benefit of cheap light and power, and those who now entertain doubts will cheerfully admit that their doubts were not well-founded. There are difficulties to overcome, but a city council in earnest and with faith in itself will cheerfully face each difficulty as it arises, overcome it, and proceed with its task. The really excited people at this moment are those who are thinking about that eight per cent. on $2,000,000, with $2,000,000 of common stock hovering in the underbrush ready to come out for its share of the spoils.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

The meeting to be held in the Board of Trade this week, to consider the question of a fitting war memorial, will serve to reveal public sentiment regarding this very important matter. The Daughters of the Empire hope it will be a representative meeting, and they should not be disappointed. There is no difference of opinion as to the duty of the people to erect a memorial, and the only matters to be debated are the question whether the work should be undertaken this year or not, and, if it is undertaken, what form the memorial shall take. Shall it be a mere monument, or a building that can be devoted to some great and useful purpose? If so, what purpose? Such a building could be designed as to be at once a memorial and a source of perpetual benefit. Some will perhaps suggest, since medical tests found so many defects in young men seeking to enlist, that this memorial might properly be dedicated to the service of childhood. That would indeed be a beneficial memorial. Of course Wednesday's meeting will not be decisive. The subject must be discussed from every point of view, and a decision arrived at that will put behind the movement the whole force of public sentiment. If it is said that we have been slow in taking action, it may be replied that burdens have been heavy since the war; and that it is better to delay if by so doing the memorial may be the more worthy of the devotion, not merely of men, but of women who were war casualties, or who by their splendid devotion contributed to victory. Churches and societies have unveiled tablets in honor of members who gave their lives for the cause of civilization, but there must be a great community monument, and there must be universal interest attaches to the meeting to be held on Wednesday.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

The most convincing testimony to the value of the work of public health nurses is found in the request from various districts in the province to the Red Cross that it provide funds to enable the nurses to remain there a little longer until they can make local arrangements to retain and pay for the services. The Red Cross, in undertaking the expense of sending out a number of nurses for a twelve-month period has done the province a very great service. It has demonstrated the value of public health nursing. This is a part of the great educational campaign which will eventually put the province with cottage hospitals and put the public health nurse in every community. The people will gradually come to a clear knowledge of the fact that such a service is a real economy, and a useless something for which taxes must be paid. By slow degrees we are learning that it is better to care for these mothers and the infants, remove physical defects that handicap children, bring trained service within the reach of all who are ill, and thereby restore them more quickly to strength, reduce the death rate, and add to the productive capacity and the happiness of the community. There is yet another step referred to by Dr. King in his illuminating letter in the Times of Saturday. We must make provision for proper treatment of mental defect or disease. The feeble-minded, in the various stages of

MUSICAL NOTE

A very deaf old lady, walking along the street, saw an Italian turning a peasant's wheel. She stood looking at it awhile, shook her head, and said: "No, I shan't give you any money for such music as that. I can hear any of the tunes, and, besides, it smells as if there were something burning inside!"—The Congregationalist.

An Inquisitive Sidelight

An Italian woman, asked in court to state her age, replied: "Between 35 and 50." When pressed to be more exact, she said that she kept exact records of her money and other possessions, because someone might rob her of these. "But as no one could steal a year or a day, I do not bother to keep track of them!"—Boston Transcript.

WAS THAT SLEEPING LION I RECOMMENDED YOU ANY GOOD?

"Was that sleeping lion I recommended you any good?" asked Brown of his friend Jones. "Good," replied Jones. "I should say it was. Listen here! I took it as you suggested and went to sleep after setting the alarm. The next morning, under his arm came along, and asked me if I wanted to buy his feet. I was bargaining with him when the dragon on which I was riding slipped his skin and left me floating in mid-air." "While I was considering how I should get down, a bull with two heads peered over the edge of a wall and said: 'Would you mind stepping up here, first climb up and fix a windlass for him. So as I was sliding down the mountain, the conductor of the train reached my station.' "We passed your station 200 years ago, the answers were mainly: 'Owing the train up and slipping it in his vest pocket. At this moment I woke up and found that I had been asleep ten minutes.'"

WHISKEY STILL BURSTS; ROCKS A TENEMENT

The Liberal-Conservative Business Men's Club will meet for its first monthly luncheon at the Pendon room of the King Edward Hotel at 12:45 on Tuesday next. The guest of honor will be Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, minister of customs, who will address the club on the work of the Opposition in the present session of parliament. Mr. Baxter is one of the men of light and leading in the Liberal-Conservative party and has his full share of the brilliance of the native sons of New Brunswick, so many of whom have shone in federal politics. Members of the club are looking forward to a treat and will not be disappointed.

WHISKEY STILL BURSTS; ROCKS A TENEMENT

The explosion of an alleged whiskey still this morning in the rear room of a grocery store on the first floor of the four-story brick tenement house at 149 Hanover street, Brooklyn, shook the whole house and aroused the eight families living in it. Patrolman Walter Wolf investigated and said he found that one of two copper stills had exploded. Although some of the tenants on the street there was no need of their being so, as there was no fire. The police said that besides the stills they found two fifty-gallon barrels of alcohol and a five-gallon can of what looked like wine.

WHISKEY STILL BURSTS; ROCKS A TENEMENT

Roselle Badala, who owns the grocery, said that he had not rented or occupied the rear room and knew nothing about it. No arrests were made.

CUTS OFF WIFE'S FOOT HAIR TO PREVENT TOUR AS TONIC SHOW

Akron, Ohio, May 15—Nearly four feet of hair was shorn from the head of Mrs. Clara Cox, aged 27, by her husband, Orrin Cox, a rubber worker, to prevent her from traveling to a hair tonic demonstrator, she asserted. She and her husband quarreled over the proposed tour, she said, and she remained from home until late last night. Cox availed her return, watched her as she brushed her hair for the night and then, as she arose from in front of her mirror, clipped the braids, which reached to her ankles.

Mrs. Cox is now in a hospital, suffering from a nervous breakdown. "I would give a million dollars if I could restore my hair," Cox told her as they were reconciled at the hospital.

ISLANDS ARE IN PAWN.

Denmark Has Never Redeemed Orkney and Shetland. The islands of Orkney and Shetland are legally "in pawn." They were pledged to Norway and Denmark by the King of Denmark on the occasion of the marriage of the Danish princess, Margaret, to James III. of Scotland, in 1472. These islands groups were then Norwegian territory, and had been so since the close of the Ninth Century.

At the time of their being pawned the King of Denmark was also sovereign of Norway and Sweden and hoped that by the marriage of the Danish princess would help to effect an alliance with Scotland—then a papal matter on the Danish king agreed to fix the princess's dowry at 60,000 florins (about $240,000). 10,000 florins to be paid before the lady left Denmark and the island of Orkney given in pledge for the remainder.

But at the last moment the king could only lay his hands on 2,000 of the 10,000 florins he was obliged to pledge the Shetland Islands for the balance.

The pledge has never since been redeemed, and though Denmark has made several attempts to get back these islands, all the negotiations have come to naught. There the matter rests.

Montreal, May 14—Specific denial that he had ever sold any letters to lawyers, of James A. Stillman, suing his wife for divorce in the New York courts, is made by Fred Beauvais, Indian guide. At Poughkeepsie it was alleged in court that Beauvais had sold four letters addressed to him by Mrs. Stillman for $15,000. Beauvais said that he had seen nobody connected with the Stillman case in Montreal last week, that he had never received any such letters as were described in court, that he did not know Edmund Leigh, the detective said to have paid him the money, and that the whole thing was untrue from beginning to end. Beauvais said Mrs. Stillman was an absolutely innocent woman.

It aids digestion, promotes assimilation, converts ALL THE GOOD IN YOUR FOOD into blood, bone and tissue, and is of great benefit for lunatics, epileptics, etc.; it is pleasant to take. "For ten years I suffered from rheumatism in my shoulder and arms clean down to my finger tips. I have been in such pain many a night I could not sleep a wink, and have been forced to lay off work often. My fingers got so stiff I sometimes could not hold a pen. My wife also suffered much the same way. I did, maybe worse, for her lower limbs were very badly swollen.

"Well, I am just now buying my fourth bottle of Tanlac and I don't feel an ache or a pain any more. Another thing that makes it seem so wonderful is that it has had the same fine result in my wife's case. We are both well and happy. Tanlac is grand."

Science has at last shown how we sometimes grow weak, thin, and emaciated on an abundance of food (lacking in vitamins) while with a much smaller amount of food, rich in vitamins, we may quickly take on good firm flesh, increase in weight, and make a remarkable gain in strength, energy and endurance, provided your blood contains sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable your body to assimilate your food properly.

Without organic iron both food and vitamins are absolutely useless as your body cannot change lifeless inert food matter into living cells and these unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood.

DANTE SUBJECT OF
CLOSING LECTURE

The immortal Dante, author of the Divine Comedy, the sixth centennial of whose death was celebrated throughout the world last year, was the subject of a lecture given last evening by Daniel Mullin, K.C. A delighted audience of several hundred people was present at the lecture, which was the last of the winter series arranged by the education committee of the St. John branch of the Catholic Women's League, of which committee Mrs. R. O'Brien is convener.

The richness and fullness of the treatment which Mr. Mullin accorded his subject betokened an intimate knowledge of, and deep sympathy with, the masterpiece of the great Italian poet and evidence besides considerable study and research by the lecturer into other avenues and by-ways more or less allied with the main theme of his discourse.

Mr. Mullin succeeded in leaving with his audience a deeper appreciation of the meaning of the Divine Comedy and the influence that it has exerted and will continue to exert upon the lives of nations and individuals alike. There was much sound substance as well as literary excellence in his address.

In opening his address, Mr. Mullin quoted Longfellow's appreciation of Dante, which ran as follows: "O bringer of the light whose splendor shines above the darkness of the Apennines. Fore-runner of the day that is to be the voice of the city and the sea. Proclaim thy song till thy familiar lines are footpaths for the thought of Italy."

London, May 14.—The five years' campaign in behalf of temperance by the combined religious bodies took a forward step yesterday when the president of the Wesleyan conference, outlined several Anglican bishops, the president of the Baptist Union, the Presbyterian moderator, Salvation Army leaders and others.

Extreme measures were distinctly eschewed and prohibition was not advocated in the main. The points emphasized were local option, the prevention of sale of liquor to persons under eighteen years of age, Sunday closing and the extension of the licensing law to clubs. On these points a poetical opinion could unite.

ECZEMA

You are not alone in your suffering. Eczema is a common skin disease. It is caused by an impure blood. It can be cured by using the right medicine.

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking
my system

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoy a better health than I have ever had before in my life."

ODD FELLOWS AT ANNUAL SERVICE

The one hundred and third anniversary of the founding of the I. O. O. F. on this continent was fittingly commemorated at a service yesterday afternoon in the Central Baptist Church with nearly 800 members of the four city lodges and the two Rebekah lodges participating.

Rev. F. H. Bone, a member of the order, conducted the service and preached an inspiring sermon on Friendship. He prefaced his remarks by a brief survey of the history of the order, saying that on April 27, 1819, the order was established on this side of the Atlantic by an Englishman, one Thomas Wilby.

Today, the order is, numerically, the largest fraternal society in the world, totalling 2,760,000 members. Its branches extend to all parts of the world and in the Maritime Provinces, its strength is estimated at 15,000. He spoke with pride of the proposed home for aged and indigent Odd Fellows, soon to be constructed in this domain.

Already 270,000 has been subscribed to this fund. Turning to his subject, Rev. Mr. Bone made a strong appeal for a deepening of the bonds of friendship in all walks of life.

Friendship was the only basis for mutual understanding between the races and peoples of mankind. "Not success of power. Not treaties. Just friendship," he said. It was the basis for success in the realm of trade and industry. Only by this friendship could normal business relations and conditions again be established. On friendship rested the happiness in the homes and in all larger spheres. Concluding, he urged all exemplifying daily, the Odd Fellow ideal of friendship.

During the service, Miss A. Beatrice Campbell sang a solo and two anthems were given by the choir under the direction of A. U. Brander.

The lodges represented were Pioneer Lodge, No. 9; Fearless Lodge, No. 19; Silvan Lodge, No. 29; Golden Rule Lodge, No. 46; Sapphire Rebekah Lodge and Jewel Rebekah Lodge.

QUEBEC POLITICS

Conservatives Go Into Convention With the Party Divided.

Montreal, May 15—Members of various groups of voters opposed to the Tachereau government, including ex-Liberals, ex-Progressives and ex-Unionists, will find a haven within the ranks of the provincial Conservative party, so Arthur Sauve, leader of the Quebec legislative opposition intimated prior to the opening of a provincial Conservative convention today in this city.

There are many indications that the gathering will witness sharp fights between two powerful factions whose ideas on the proposed changes to the platform are widely divergent.

Mr. Sauve heads one group which insists upon the divorce of the provincial party and organization from the federal organization.

Opposed to this group is a powerful body, centralized mainly in Montreal, which would use the provincial organization as a basis for federal campaigning. This group is almost a unit in support of Hon. E. L. Patenaude, who is said to have aspirations for the provincial leadership.

WEDDING OF MUCH INTEREST TODAY

Miss Helen Jean Anderson
Bride of Edmond P. Edwards of Schenectady, N. Y.

A wedding of great interest socially took place this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in St. Andrew's church, where Rev. S. Dowling united in marriage Miss Helen Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Anderson of this city, to Edmond P. Edwards of Schenectady, N. Y. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white velvet trimmed with pearls and with a court train. She wore a white veil trimmed with pearls and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchards and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Leslie Peters, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and wore a nasturtium shade gown with Leghorn hat draped with brown and orange tulle. The bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Brown of Annapolis, N. S., a cousin of the bride, Miss Bess MacDonald of Toronto, were also attired in nasturtium shade gowns with Leghorn hats. They carried bouquets of Ophelia roses and mauve sweet peas. Mrs. Anderson, the bride's mother, wore black Canton crepe with jet grille and trimmings and a black mohair hat. The groom was supported by Edward Walter of Schenectady. The ushers were Leslie Peters, Kenneth Golding, Charles Turpe of this city and Meade Burnett of Schenectady. Miss Anderson was given away by her father.

The church was beautifully trimmed with ferns, palms and yellow and white snap-dragons and a special quartette rendered music during the service. The members of the quartette were Mrs. Thomas Guy, sister of the bride, Mrs. Louis Levesque, Mrs. Harry Shaw and Thomas Guy. As Miss Anderson entered the church with her father, "The Voice that Breathed 'O'er Eden'" was sung and as Mr. and Mrs. Edwards signed the register, Mrs. Guy sang a solo, "The Song of Thanksgiving."

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom were central figures at a reception at the Union Club where they met the guests. The mantel decorated with spring flowers and the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, side by side, hung above the mantel. The room was also decorated with spring flowers and the dining room at the club was beautiful with the treasures of the garden. Coffee was served to the guests by Mrs. Anderson, the bride's mother, Mrs. J. S. Anderson, the bride's sister, Mrs. R. S. Murray, aunt of the bride.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will leave on the Boston train for Northwood Camp, in the Adirondacks, where they will spend their honeymoon and during the residence in Schenectady, where the groom is head of the radio department of the General Electric Company. For her going away costume Mrs. Edwards is wearing a traveling suit of blue tricotine with hat to match.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mrs. Katherine Hutchinson of Newton, Mass., Mrs. W. H. Tapper of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Murray of Schenectady, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson of Campbellton; Mrs. F. H. McNaught of Annapolis, N. S.; and Miss Mathew Fisher of Chatham.

SUGGESTION RE THE ATHLETIC SITUATION

Secretary of A. A. U. of C. Writes That a Meeting Under a Neutral Chairman Might Help.

Thomas K. Sweeney, president of the recently formed Maritime Amateur Baseball and Hockey Association, has received a letter from Newton H. Crow, secretary of the A. A. U. of C. acknowledging receipt of an application from the new club for affiliation with the dominion body. He informed Mr. Sweeney that he is sending the application to the president, Judge Jackson, of Lethbridge, for consideration.

Secretary Crow expressed regret at the apparent split in the ranks of the maritime province amateurs and says that he feels that a meeting of both factions under a neutral chairman might be instrumental in avoiding a cleavage.

Mr. Sweeney said that the club of which he is head is willing to do everything possible to straighten out the present situation and would welcome the suggested meeting.

ARRESTED HERE IN AUTO CASE

An arrest in connection with an international matter was made this morning by the local police and detectives in the Great Eastern Garage. Detective Biddiscombe and policeman Gorham arrested Levi Albert Prosser on suspicion of having brought stolen goods into Canada from the United States. A Cole Eight car was the property supposed to have been stolen and the arrest followed the receipt of a telegram from the chief of police of a Connecticut town notifying the local force that the car had been taken.

The detectives wired to this town for witnesses and the case will be heard before the sitting magistrate when they arrive. Prosser is alleged to have driven into the city this morning from Sussex.

RETAIL MERCHANTS WILL OPPOSE IT

Miss Alward, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants Association received a wire today from Dominion Secretary Trotter, saying that a bill to prohibit the sale of oleomargarine was to be introduced in parliament, and asking that the local association telegraph to Ottawa its opposition to such a measure as being against the interests of the trade and of the public.

Hamilton, Ont., May 15.—Constable Roughland and Buscombe paid a surprise visit to Thos. Carlyle's upstairs apartment, 13-1/2 York street yesterday afternoon.

Searching for liquor, they found seven bottles of government dispensary whiskey. Thomas was making a rather convincing argument that the liquor was for his own personal use, when another caller knocked on the door, Mrs. Carlyle responding.

Husky tones that denoted a very parched throat, the voice of the stranger was heard to croak: "How's chances for the missus?"

BACCALAUREATE TO U. N. B. BY ST. JOHN MAN

R. Moorhead Legate, Pastor of Knox Church, Takes Words of Solomon

Fredericton, May 14—The exercises which mark Baccalaureate week at the University of New Brunswick, which closes the academic year and sees another graduation class go out into the world, began this morning with the baccalaureate sermon which was preached at St. Paul's Presbyterian church by Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, B.D., pastor of Knox church, St. John.

The members of the faculty and the student body attended in academic costume and a large congregation heard a scholarly discourse by Rev. Mr. Legate, whose son is an undergraduate at the university.

The preacher took as his text Proverbs 28:7, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he."

He said that Dr. Hugh Black of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, gave it as his experience as a university preacher that the last thing an academic audience desired was an academic sermon. He would do well to follow the lead of the royal author of the text and take wisdom as his subject. That author has written shrewdly as one understanding the world in which he lived and some time satirically as if scolding men queer creatures. Throughout his writings there runs a vein of radicalism and the radical in royalty produces startling thoughts. Above all he is practical. His method of teaching is erratic and sometimes thoughts jump out at one unexpectedly but they are so great that they can be fitted into the general scheme without trouble. One such thought was in the text.

Training of Mind.

It appears to reason that satisfactions of life rest upon wisdom, understanding and the good judgment of it. In order that key of life in a man's mind may be used a certain training of the mind must take place. Things must be connected, compared and classified. That is taking high ground but true ground. In life you are going to get what your thought gives you and to miss what your thought fails to give. Therefore wisdom is necessary. Upon that theme Solomon rings all the changes.

It is not easy to get a definition of thought. However, we know what thought can do. It can bring the world into our inner being. It knows no bounds and brooks no barriers.

It annihilates both past and future. It is the faculty which best deserves to be described as eternal. It makes us governors of all worlds, for Milton's thought made a paradise and Dante's a Hell. These are the premises of the logic of Solomon which make him speak the words of the text. Even physically thought makes the man. It carries itself upon the face and contributes to the voice. Solomon himself said "a merry heart doeth good like medicine." Intellectually thought makes the man. A man's attainments are to a great degree the product of his thought and a man's scholastic career the result of what we call his bent of mind. The distinction between sage and savage is one of thought.

Makes the Man.

Morally thought makes the man and it was in this sense particularly that Solomon wrote the text. Thought really is a moral vaccine which runs through the blood of the soul. The difference between sinner and saint is one of thought.

Solomon's statement goes deeper and farther. He says there is a quality in thought that completely determines the man. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." He means that to a tremendous extent our thoughts are the servants of our feelings. The brain is the slave of the thought. We think about the things which interest us most. The dominant passion which supplies the mind with its most potent ideas. In the work of the student the fact stands out prominently. Desire makes him select a certain course of study. Henceforth his mind operates along the lines, which his preference dictates.

Deal With Good and Evil.

In a moral sense, a man thinks either rightly or wrongly. Thought must deal with both good and evil. It is a tremendous force. It can get good out of evil and evil out of good. It is the principle directing thought which gives thought its moral quality. That is why Solomon places the word "heart" in the text. It is the heart of a man that is the principle governing and guiding his thought. Few students ever considered the part which the heart plays in the mental training which it is their ambition to perfect. There is a moral element in a science or arts curriculum. The intellectual training which would dispense with the moral is a matter of retaining the health of youth—and that comes from proper food and proper exercise. Health is always buoyant, always hopeful, always on the jump. The real health food is element is falling far short of intellectual ideals. The university in its original constitution held close kindred with religion and morals. Education is not an end in itself but it is a moral tendency. The moral part of the thinker—trained or untrained—is the stuff that makes the man. What then? High thoughts in all your thinking. In all your study the ambition of the man. Students can realize that better than can others not so trained.

Thought can be made to obey as a servant a master.

The plea made is that the great and precious faculty of thought which God has given us is judged by worthy standards. Thought must be judged by the spirit that gives it birth, not by the outward and palpable results that follow it. The implication lying under Solomon's words is that our hearts should come under the highest compulsion to the end that we may be at our best in thought and action. The highest compulsion there is, is love, the love that is of God. When a man submits his heart to this control, he knows it was for this he was born and his soul comes into its kingdom.

Maritime Provinces Amateur Skating Association Formed

New Body Will Have Jurisdiction Over Speed and Figure Skating in Eastern Canada—Honorary President, J. A. Gregory; President, Frank White.

An important event in the history of speed skating in the maritime provinces occurred on Saturday afternoon, when the Maritime Provinces Amateur Skating Association was duly constituted at a meeting in the Commercial Club rooms with representatives present from the Y. M. C. A., Y. M. C. I., St. George's A. A., Commercial Club, Moncton A. A. and St. John Rowing Club. Assurances were read to the meeting from the Halifax Wanderers, Dartmouth and Moncton that they were ready to support any action taken at the meeting. The new organization will control speed and figure skating in this part of Canada. Great strides have been made in the last few years in the development of this sport in the Atlantic provinces and the need of a controlling organization has been felt.

The new body will seek affiliation with the Canadian Amateur Skating Association and, later on, with the international body. It is not a branch of the Canadian governing body.

Almerman Louis Rubinstein, of Montreal, a member of the executive of the Canada A. S. A., was present at the meeting and assisted materially in giving the latest body a right start. He warned those present to proceed carefully and to select the best men to head the body and to draw up a set of laws. Above all, he warned them of the danger of not dealing summarily with any infringements of those laws, once adopted. "Play no favorites" was his advice. He told of the methods used by the upper Canadian body and, at the conclusion, he was extended a hearty vote of thanks for the time and interest and sound advice he had given. Frank White was elected president of the new body.

Those present were: Representing the Y. M. C. A., J. H. Cobham and T. K. Sweeney; Y. M. C. I., W. Bowie and G. Smith; St. John R. C., E. Ingraham and S. McCarty; St. George's A. A., P. J. Legge; Moncton, A. E. McNutt; Commercial Club, A. W. Corey, as well as A. B. Rubinstein and H. Richard, who has had considerable experience with sport matters in Ontario. Two names were first suggested for the association, one, the Eastern Amateur Skating Association and second, the Maritime Skating Association. The title finally adopted was the Maritime Provinces A. S. A. The officers elected were: Honorary president, J. A. Gregory, St. John; president, Frank White, St. John; vice-president for New Brunswick, A. E. McNutt, Moncton; vice-president for Nova Scotia, W. C. Bishop, Dartmouth; vice-president for P. E. Island, L. B. McMillan, Charlottetown; secretary-treasurer, F. J. Legge, St. John.

Considerable discussion followed as to how the executive should be formed. It was finally decided that the secretary should write the various clubs interested and on their becoming affiliated with the M. P. A. S. A., they could forward the name of a member, who would represent them on the executive.

It was announced that the chances are bright for St. John securing the international meet next winter. All sanctions for holding meets must come through this body. The new body aims to promote speed and figure skating throughout the province and will attempt to send away the best skaters to participate in various meets. The new body anticipates a splendid year with Moncton, Charlottetown and other places experiencing a big boom in this sport and with new rinks contemplated for Halifax and St. John.

M'TIGUE WINS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
New York, May 14.—Mike McTigue stepped nearer to Johnny Wilson's habit when he received the decision over Tommy Robson Saturday evening in Long Island City. McTigue has been challenging Wilson with great regularity and perseverance, but has never had any sort of response from the champion. McTigue's adherents announced today that they are ready to guarantee Wilson $50,000 if he will give the Canadian champion a chance.

BOWDIN VICTOR

Waterville, Me., May 14.—Bowdoin won the twenty-sixth annual Maine intercollegiate track and field meet yesterday with 55 1/2 points. Bates, with 62 points, was second.

Maine scored 28 1/2 and Colby 9.

The Tigers Climbing.
New York, May 15.—Cobb's rampaging Detroit Tigers have had enough trailing in the American League procession. They are in the first division today for the first time this season, as a result of taking their second straight game from the leading New York Yankees, and making it six victories out of their last eight games. The "Georgia Peach" himself a prominent part in the triumph, slugging out a double and triple.

The Giants beat the Cubs in a ten inning game and, as St. Louis was stopped by Meadows and his hard hitting Philadelphia team, the McGraw men are enjoying a four game lead.

High's homer enabled Brooklyn to win from Cincinnati, and break its losing streak of six games.

Cleveland's rallies in the eighth and ninth failed to overcome the Senators' lead and the Washington team squeaked out a 4 to 3 victory.

Is it drugs?
Is it money shortage?
Is it business depression?
Is it taxation?
Is it mental anger?
Is it war, woman and song?
Is it extravagance?
Is it waste?
Is it high prices?
Is it indifference?
Is it unrest?
Is it shortage of materials?

"The Blot" will answer this question in the most suggest BLOI on our American life of today!"

MORVICH WINS THE FAMOUS KENTUCKY DERBY IN 2:04.35

Louisville, Ky., May 14.—Morvich, unconquered as a two-year-old, is the winner of the $50,000 Kentucky Derby.

The brown son of Runnymede-Hymir, running true to form, won the event at a mile and a quarter in a field of ten starters yesterday before 70,000 spectators.

Morvich, running his first race as a three-year-old, triumphed over the best field that the nation had to send against him and won for Owner Benjamin Block, the New York sportsman, $46,012 and $7,000 worth of gold plate. Behind Morvich was Bet Mose, E. H. Bradley's entry, trailing the victor by two lengths. John W. Galt, third in the van, just a neck behind Bet Mose. Six thousand dollars went to second place, while John Fin and Deadlock, the third and fourth horses, drew down $3,000 and $1,000 respectively.

The time, 2:04.35, made by Morvich was but one and two-fifths seconds more than the Derby record set by Old Rosebud in 1919.

My Play, a full brother to Man o' War, staggered into fifth place, with Lettermen pulling in sixth position. Surf Rider was seventh and far back. Sturdy, the great juvenile filly of 1921, by G. M. Blood, who had won the American Derby, did not start. The injured leg of the Bradley star John W. Galt, the third and fourth horses, drew down $3,000 and $1,000 respectively.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES.
(Montreal Gazette, Friday.)
Tomorrow will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada. A preliminary meeting for the purpose of organizing a fund for the commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria, by establishing the Victorian Order of Nurses, was held in Montreal on May 12, 1897, and from that meeting has grown the Order which today is so well known and which has to its credit so splendid a record of service.

The story of the Order, of its foundation, its growth, and the work that is done, is told more fully elsewhere in this issue. It is a story which entitles the Victorian Order of Nurses to a very large measure of public appreciation and support. Great as is the work now being done by the organization in Montreal, it is limited by the resources upon which the Order is able to depend in proportion to the insufficiency of those resources the scope of the nursing service is narrowed and the sick cannot be given the care and help which would otherwise be available. It is within the power of the public to place the service of the Order within the reach of all who need it.

That there is a large field for the activities of this organization is shown by the statistics the growth of the Order, although the figures give but a meagre idea of the benefits conferred upon the sick and suffering. The Montreal branch began in 1898 with three nurses; it has now a roster of fifty and the visits cover all classes of work—medical, surgical and obstetrical, while the Order is doing its share in the betterment of the child. Mr. Lee went to play golf. Helen was born Tuesday.

On Sunday, preceding Helen's birth, Howard came to the hospital to see me. He said, "It was too hot for golf."

While he was there, she added, he borrowed $50. She did the housework and paid all the bills, she said.

A motor-boat, belonging to Milford McAllister, Lorneville, was burned on the beach at Lorneville early last evening. It was valued at $125. The blaze is thought to have started from a crossed wire of the battery.

DIVORCES "GOLF MANIAC"
Mrs. Lee Gets Decree in Detroit After Telling Court His Preference for Game.
Detroit, May 15.—Mrs. Helen Bourne Joy Lee, daughter of Henry B. Joy, was granted a divorce today from Howard B. Lee by Judge Monahan. Mrs. Lee says her husband was a "golf maniac."

Lee withdrew his cross bill before the case came to trial and did not contest his wife's petition. She got the custody of their three children. She did not ask for alimony. The attorneys for the two parties agreed on a settlement. Lee will be allowed to see his children without interference between 2 and 5:30 p. m. on the first and last Saturdays and the second Sunday of every month, unless these arrangements are found to interfere with the necessary habits of the children, such as eating and sleeping.

Mrs. Lee said her father made arrangements to have her go to a Brooklyn hospital when Helen was born, and that on the Saturday preceding the birth of the child Mr. Lee went to play golf. Helen was born Tuesday.

On Sunday, preceding Helen's birth, Howard came to the hospital to see me. He said, "It was too hot for golf."

While he was there, she added, he borrowed $50. She did the housework and paid all the bills, she said.

"It is thought that, in time, one will be able to go to the observation or club car on the Twentieth Century Limited and put in a call, while riding over the road, for his office at New York, to issue orders regarding business transactions; or for his residence, perhaps, to wear a sweater, which should be forwarded on the next train.
"To realize what is able to take place in the development of radio-telephony, one need only look back a few years to what has taken place in the few years ago the long distance telephone was limited in its range. About ten years ago the Bell telephone system succeeded, by use of the wonderful development of the vacuum tube, or development of the vacuum tube, with other apparatus such as loading coils, in talking from New York to San Francisco, which service has now been perfected so that it is only an ordinary matter.
"The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad also is conducting extensive experiments in the practical use of the wireless in the operation of trains, as well as for the convenience of passengers, and has shown that the wireless telephone is capable of much usefulness as a supplement to other means of communication.
"In the event of anything getting out of order on such a train while it is humming, the ability of the conductor to communicate almost instantly with the engineer would be a most valuable adjunct to the present methods. In handling the New York Central fleet of tugs and other boats—this railroad's fleet numbers 300 units—the use of the radio telephone would be particularly worth while in time of heavy fog or other emergencies.

May Install Phones on New York Central and D., L. & W. Files.
The New York Central system has a staff of wireless experts working on experiments to ascertain whether it is possible to equip the Twentieth Century Limited and other fast passenger trains with wireless telephones apparatus, so that passengers may converse with their offices or homes while traveling at more than sixty miles an hour.
Co-operating with the railroad's experts are men from the Research Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. They are studying the conditions that would be encountered in the use of the wireless telephony on moving passenger trains, between the head and rear ends of long freight trains, and between the dispatcher's office and the New York Central tags and other boats that ply New York harbor. "It is believed these problems will be mastered within a short time," says an article written for the New York Central Line Magazine, "so that the wireless telephony can be applied to practical railroading. In fact, there appears to be even now no question but that the

COLLEGE ON WHEELS TO TOUR QUEBEC

C. P. R., Government and the Agricultural Schools Co-operating in Sending Out Train—Visit Farming Centres.

(Montreal Gazette.)
A Canadian Agricultural College on wheels is being organized for the province of Quebec, and it will be available for the people in nearly all the farming centres of the province where rail accommodation is available. The college will be in the form of a train equipped and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway at the expense of the company. The train will be the most up-to-date possible. The agricultural equipment of the cars and the live stock are to be furnished by the Quebec provincial government, Macdonald College, Oka Agricultural College, St. Anne de la Pocatiere Agricultural College, and packing industries in Quebec Province will also furnish exhibits.

In the organization of this live stock and farm improvement train the Canadian Pacific Railway is acting in co-operation with Hon. Mr. Caron, Quebec minister of agriculture. It is felt that such a demonstration train is needed, so that farmers may be taught to keep pace with the forward agricultural movement, and the demand for improved conditions in marketing.

There is keen competition now in the European market, and it is necessary that the produce of Quebec should be sent to the market in such a way that it can hold its own. If not defeat other competing countries. Special emphasis will be laid on the necessity for good dairy stock. The lectures will also deal with all subjects of interest to farmers. The Quebec Department of Agriculture, Federal Department of Agriculture (live stock branch), Quebec packers, Quebec colleges of agriculture, and the Canadian Pacific Railway will all be represented on the train.

Will Have Twelve Cars.

The train will consist of twelve cars. There will be two cars for cattle, featuring the different breeds of dairy stock and better bulls, and one car with sheep and swine. The swine exhibit will show the various types of hogs, and especially dwell on the breeds desirable for the production of export bacon. One car will be devoted to poultry production, and instruction on egg grading. Bees, honey and syrup will also have their place on this train. Honey and syrup are quite important, as the province is a leader with this product. Dairy produce will be shown in another car, and the very necessary information regarding

CONVICT HAS OIL FORTUNE

Jefferson City, Mo., May 15.—D. P. Hayes, a convict of negro and Indian blood, has received two offers, one of $2,000,000 and the other of $1,800,000, for his oil interests, prison officials said. He is serving three years for forgery. Hayes is said to own 100 acres of Mexican land classified as oil land. He is reported to have been advised not to sell for less than $4,000,000.

HISTORY OF BEEF CATTLE IN AMERICA

Shorthorns Were First Imported in 1783—Breed Characteristics.

A question often asked by persons interested in cattle is: What is the best breed of beef cattle?—In most instances the reply to this frequent question properly could be, "There is no best breed," or, "They are all good." No one breed has any great advantage over others for the production of desirable beef. The chief differences usually observed are those of breed characteristics, although where all the breeds are kept under the same conditions and for the same specific purposes certain peculiarities or advantages of one breed over another are noted.

"From earliest times," says E. W. Sheets, the animal husbandman in charge of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, "cattle have contributed meat to the food supply of man. It was not until the latter part of the eighteenth century, however, that systematic efforts were made to select and maintain breeds of cattle especially suited for the production of beef of a better quality. Careful selection and breeding began in England and Scotland by Robert Bakewell, Colling Brothers, Amos Cruickshank, Richard Topp and Hugh Watson, and carried on later by breeders in this country, resulted in establishing breeds now kept primarily for the production of beef."

"Cattle formerly used for beef were deficient in flesh on parts of the carcass where meat of the highest quality is found. Skillful breeding, combined with careful selection and feeding, have brought about changes and development in the form of some breeds so that greater quantities of meat are found in the portions of the body (the loin, ribs, hindquarters) from which the highest priced cuts are obtained. These cattle belong to what are now known as beef breeds to distinguish them from breeds which have been developed mainly for milk and butterfat.

"In the process of developing strictly beef breeds on the one hand and dairy breeds on the other, there have been evolved families and in some cases 'breeds' of cattle which would be classed as neither strictly beef nor dairy breeds. The cows produce moderate quantities of milk and their calves develop into fairly good beef animals. These are known as dual-purpose breeds.

"The breeds of beef cattle in the United States are the Shorthorn, Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Galloway. Each of these breeds has been carefully selected and bred for a long period of years, with the result that individuals transmit their breed characteristics very readily; hence their value and importance for use in improving grading up native or scrub cattle. With frequent exceptions, especially the Shorthorn, the cows of the beef breeds are no heavy milkers, and in this point less their success as desirable and economical producers of beef.

"The heavy milking tendency, as with the dairy breeds, is associated with a conformation of body which prevents the animal from yielding the greatest quantity and the best quality of beef. The beef breeds have been bred for the maximum production of beef, and in most instances only enough milk is desired to nourish and produce a good thrifty calf. They are most popular with farmers or ranchers who raise a considerable number of cattle. Beef cattle of the beef-breeding families are also popular for farmers who desire to raise beef calves at the same time have enough milk in addition to supply the family needs for milk and butter, or have a surplus to market.

"Of the breeds of beef cattle in the United States, the Shorthorn is the most extensively grown. The first importations were made in 1783 by Miller and Gough of Virginia and Maryland, respectively. These cattle were brought from the Tees River Valley in North-eastern England, where they were sometimes spoken of as Teewater, or Durham cattle. These names are practically obsolete, and now only the name Shorthorn is used. Such men as George Lewis Sanders of Kentucky, who imported Shorthorns in 1817; Samuel Thorne of New York, who in 1835 imported the Dutchess, the famous Bull Airdrie, and R. A. Alexander of Kentucky, may be considered the founders of the Shorthorn breed in America. Later, the Ohio Importing Company was organized by some of these men and others to promote the industry.

"Previous to 1883 there were three separate herd books for Shorthorn cattle, the first having been published in 1846. At the first national convention of Shorthorn breeders, in 1872, it was decided to publish a consolidated herd book, the first volume of which appeared in 1883 as Volume 24.

"The Shorthorn is the largest of the half breeds. As a rule when raised under favorable conditions the mature bulls weigh between 1,800 and 2,400 pounds, and the cows usually weigh between 1,500 and 1,600 pounds. These cattle have great adaptability and do well almost everywhere. They may vary in color from all red or all white to any combination of red and white, and a blending of the red and white hairs (roan) is a popular color. The Shorthorn crosses well with scrub and grade cows, the calves of such matings developing into desirable beef cattle.

"The Polled-Shorthorn breed was formerly known as Polled Durham. The name was changed in 1919 because not more than five per cent. of the animals now being recorded in the Polled-Shorthorn Record are other than 'double standards.' The breed is similar to the Shorthorn in every way except that it is hornless.

"The Hereford ranks next to the Shorthorn in numbers in the United States. The first known importations were made in 1817 by Henry Clay and Lewis Sanders. The early development of the Herefords in America was brought about largely by the efforts of William L. Sothman and T. L. Miller. In 1881 the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association was formed by Hereford breeders. From the first Hereford cattle, because of their rustling ability, found favor with the Western range men. On scant pastures and on the range where water holes are far apart, the Hereford has shown its merit."

SMALLER DEALERS ARE STORING EGGS

No Export Business With Britain Has Developed So Far.

(Mail and Empire)
One reason given for the firmer tone in the egg market at the moment, is that a number of smaller dealers and shippers throughout the country are doing some storing on their own account, and this further limits the shipment of eggs to the larger centres. One shipper figures that the eggs he is storing will cost him 34 cents by Mail, after adding all charges and he hopes to get out a profit on that basis. A report from the United States is to the effect that British importers have bought some stored eggs, presumably to hold as a speculation.

There is very little change in price to be noted throughout the Prairie Provinces. Receipts during the past week have been very heavy and the greater part of the available surplus has gone into the coolers, though there has been quite a lively inter-provincial movement subject to Government inspection, there being 26 inspections of car-lot shipments during the past week.

Some enquiries have been received from Great Britain as to eggs for Fall delivery, but so far no business has resulted. Latest British cables report no improvement in their market, if anything they are slightly lower.

The poultry situation remains unchanged. Receipts of live and fresh dressed poultry are very light, but there are a few more fowls arriving. The bulk of the trading is in storage stock, which is moving moderately at unchanged prices. Dealers are now looking for gradually increasing receipts of fowls and broilers.

United States fresh killed poultry is in moderate supply and the market is slightly firmer. Preen poultry has had more attention and with active demand the market has ruled a little firmer. Stocks have been considerably reduced and the outlook is much brighter for those carrying stocks. The live poultry markets are firmer and have been well cleared at full market quotations.

Home for a Hot Dinner

TOM JACKSON used to complain about losing his "pep" about the middle of the afternoon. The cold noon-lunch in his tin can didn't stand by him through the long afternoon. And he certainly got good and sick of carrying his cold lunch with him every day. His wife also got tired of putting up lunches.

Tom Feels Fine Now

He bought a C. C. M. bicycle and goes home for a hot dinner.

He says there's nothing like a noon spin to freshen one up, and nothing like a good hot dinner to stand by you through the afternoon's work.

Tom says if he were an Efficiency Expert he'd order bicycles and hot dinners at home for all the "lunch-pail sufferers" in the place.

He would go even further than that. He would have them get bikes with the

C.C.M. Triplex Hanger

Tom is a "Triplex" booster.

He says, "It's the hanger that gives the most speed—and pep—and power." Every bite of weight you put on the pedals counts for speed. And there are none of those mean "tight and loose" spots often developed by other crank hangers.

Tom also admires the accuracy of the C. C. M. workmanship. Being a master mechanic himself, he can appreciate the value of a bicycle many of the parts of which are made to even closer limits than were the time fuses on shells. He also knows that the sparkling C. C. M. nickelling will keep bright and not rust, because it is done over copper. And he says he never saw smoother, niftier, or tougher enamelling than that on his new C. C. M. bicycle.

Hercules Coasts Farther

The other day when he was riding with a friend, Tom found he could coast farther with his Hercules Brake — "the Little Fellow with the Giant Grip" — than his friend could with another make. That tickled Tom, but didn't please the other fellow, who now wishes he'd chosen a C. C. M.

Fewer Repairs

Lasts Years Longer

C. C. M. Bicycles have many features that make them worth more than ordinary bicycles. The extra satisfaction you get more than pays the difference in price between a cheap bike and a C. C. M. And there are always fewer repairs required on a good bicycle, not to mention the extra years of service it gives. Many C. C. M. Bicycles are giving good service after ten to fifteen years' riding over all kinds of roads.

A C. C. M. may be had to-day for fewer days' wages than before the war.

Tom says his C. C. M. isn't costing him a cent. He will soon have it paid for with the money he's saved on car fare and shoe leather.

And he never felt so well in years.

THERE are over 1,000 C. C. M. Service Stations in Canada carrying genuine C.C.M. parts and giving C. C. M. service. Look for the above sign.

Insure a satisfactory job by using Genuine Beaver Board

The famous Beaver Quality trade-mark is plainly stamped on the back of every genuine Beaver Board panel. Look for it—and know before you start work that your walls and ceilings will never need repair.

Genuine Beaver Board is knotless, flawless manufactured lumber—made from long, tough fibers of white spruce. Each panel is sized by the patented Sealrite process, which makes a perfect surface for painting.

Nail the big panels over old plaster or directly to joists and studding. Then paint, if you want a decorated room, add the finishing wood strips and the task is done. It's simple and easy—with little sawing, and practically no waste, noise or litter. And once up, it will stand as long as the building.

Beaver Board is economical too—for new construction or any kind of interior repair or remodeling work. Ask any carpenter or lumber dealer for an estimate as the Beaver Boarding you are considering. You will find the cost surprisingly low.
