MAN-TALK TO MEN

By J. R. HAMILTON
Former Advertising Manager, Danamaker's, Philadelphia (Copyrighted)

SINCE the beginning of organized society everything without a name has ended with a question mark. The reason why marriage itself has been able to maintain so much sentiment amongst civilized races is that it gave to our children a name.

There is no virtue in a name itself, except that it throws the light of investigation upon whatever that name stands for.

Now the object of this article is simply to get you to remember the names of the articles you buy or at least the names of the people you buy them from. Because that is the only way of increasing good business methods in this city.

In this last twenty years business men have discovered a new method of establishing a name. They do it through advertising.

Now again there is no special virtue in advertising except that it does two things. First, it sells goods cheaper, because it sells more of them. And second, it shortens the time that it formerly took to establish a name. There are just as honest business men who do not advertise as there are who do. That is not the point. The point is that they are not as good business men and that you do not have any way of telling whether they are honest or not.

Now there are a great many advertisers in this paper today and every day who have established for themselves, or for their products, a good name. There is a lifetime of hard effort attached to the signature of many of these Ads, so you cannot possibly do better than to read this advertising for whatever you wish to buy.

When a man or a product has an established name, you know where to go, if the quality does not live up to the guarantee.

So turn to the advertising in this paper today; read it, buy from it, and you will know that if at any time the thing you buy isn't right, the man with a name will make it right.

Sun Your Crown of Glory

URING the summer it is a pleasure as well as a duty to give the hair plenty of sunshine but when cold winds blow and windows rattle temptingly in their casings, it is not every woman who wishes to court the rays of sunshine that fall on ice-cold panes of glass.

The winter girl must conquer her aversion to settling herself near the storm-vent window, as it is essential that the hair should receive its daily meed of sunshine, if not of air.

Sunshine will give new life to tresses that have been ravaged by artificial heat and heavy felt hats—the latter pressing down on the scalp and cutting off the circulation—so arrange to give your tresses a sun shower on those days when King Sol is to be seen only in the distance.

Wait until midday before taking this novel hair bath if you are the chilly damed, as the sun is then quite free with its warming glances.

Must the hair come down? Certainly, otherwise a goodly portion of your tresses would be unvisited by the rays of sunshine. Let your hair hang loose, by all means.

As you sit idly sunning yourself, it would be well to treat your hair to a vigorous brushing with a stiff-bristled brush. What do you say to this? I hope the idea pleases you, as brushing one's locks in the sun will give them a new glimmer and color. All the unusual oils will be banished by the sunshine and brushing combined, and as a result your coiffure will be soft and smooth.

If you will make a daily habit of this winter sun bath you will have the exquisite satisfaction of seeing the condition of your hair improve.

Decline not this aid to hair health as light and air are the only things that give normal scalp needs to keep it on its good behaviour. Think of the glorious hair of the women of early history. They never wore hats and they knew not the meaning of the word coiffure, so their hair, having plenty of sunshine and air, grew and flourished.

AMERICAN GIRL WINDOW-SMASHER NOT IN DANGER

British Home Secretary Refuses to Let Private Doctor See Her

Tells Mother of Miss Emerson She Will Be Released April 9 if She Behaves Herself—Detroit Woman Fond of Publicity.

London, April 4.—The British foreign office has not refused its good offices in requesting the home office to grant permission for Mrs. Emerson's own physician to examine her daughter, Miss Zelle Emerson, in Holloway jail, but informed the American embassy that there was little hope of success in the matter on account of the brusque tone of Mrs. Emerson's letter to Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, who deeply resents the reflection on him contained in the missive.

Angered by the failure of Home Secretary McKenna to answer her letters and by the news that Secretary of State Bryan will not interfere, Mrs. Emerson today laid siege to the home office. She called there at an early hour and found that Mr. McKenna had left for the house of commons. Leaving a letter reiterating her request, Mrs. Emerson started for the house of commons where she sent a similar letter through a member of the house of commons to Mr. McKenna.

Seating herself in the lobby, Mrs. Emerson declared she would not leave the house until she had obtained a definite answer by message or personally from the home secretary. Mrs. Emerson's siege was brought to an end when Mr. McKenna's secretary handed her a letter which after acknowledging the receipt of her request stated: "I regret that I cannot grant your request to have your daughter examined by a physician of your own choosing. The condition of your daughter's health is satisfactory and gives no cause for anxiety. If your daughter continues to be of good behaviour she will be released from prison on April 9."

Following the receipt of this refusal, Mrs. Emerson visited Dr. Mansel Monllis, whom she had chosen in the event of the granting of her request. She described the condition in which she had found her daughter and the doctor thereupon is said to have stated: "Serious and perhaps permanent loss of health will be the result unless your daughter be immediately released."

Daily Hints For the Cook

CHESHIRE PORK PIE
Take two or three pounds of pork and cut it into strips the size of a finger. Make a buttered pie-dish with puff paste, and put in a layer of pork seasoned with pepper, salt and nutmeg; next put in a layer of thinly sliced apples upon which a little sugar should be dusted. Place alternate layers of pork and apples until the dish is full, then pour in half a pint of cider and place a few bits of butter on the top, brush over with paste, cut a small slit in the top, brush over with beaten egg, and bake for one hour and a half.

FOR GRIP & COLDS

A writer says, "When I feel a Cold or Sore Throat coming on I rub my throat and breast for several minutes, so as almost to produce pain. I get immediate and permanent relief. If this had occurred only once or twice, I might think it was simply a natural recovery on account of my otherwise good health, but after so many times I have come to the conclusion that the relief was the result of drawing fresh blood to those parts which were affected, by friction."

OFFER REWARD

The fact that there is an incendiary at work in one section of the city naturally creates general uneasiness. Last night's fire on Paradise Row was clearly of incendiary origin. It is very difficult to assign a reason for setting a fire in this particular locality, where there could be little expectation of securing valuable plunder.

The city council would be heartily endorsed by the citizens if it would offer a reward of $500 or even $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of so great a crime.

DR. PUGSLEY'S TRIUMPH

The Times prints today an article on Dr. Pugsley which appears in this week's Canadian Courier. In this article the Courier says it was Dr. Pugsley who in the recent parliamentary battle over the naval question enabled the Liberal minority to gain its point over the Conservative majority in the house. It is worth while for readers of the Times to read the Courier's estimate of Dr. Pugsley, and set it over against the daily efforts of the St. John Standard to depreciate and belittle a man who is today in a larger sense than ever before a national figure in Canadian politics.

Dr. Pugsley in the recent contest was pitted against Hon. Robert Rogers, the Conservative champion, and it was clearly demonstrated that the latter is no match for the former minister of public works. It will also be noted that the writer in the Canadian Courier recognizes the fact that Dr. Pugsley never loses an opportunity to advance the interests of St. John. In this respect there is a striking contrast between him and Hon. Mr. Hazen, who handed back his deposit and prevented a great British shipbuilding firm from establishing shipyards at St. John.

EAST AND WEST

A letter which has been written to the Hartland Observer by Rev. James R. Reid, who is a Baptist Missionary in a great farming district on sundry of the eighty miles north-east of Calgary, is not without interest to people who may think of going west to improve their condition. Mr. Reid is located in a district which at present is twenty-two miles from the nearest railway. He writes:

"I came to this neighborhood as a Baptist missionary two months ago and found quite a few Baptist families from New Brunswick, some of them have been members of the Lower Brighton church. The field, like most of the prairie, has been supplied only in the summer months by various students from the different denominational colleges, but as this was far from being adequate to the need, our friends applied to me to see what I could do to supply. The work on the whole has been encouraging. It is not easy here for people to get to services in the winter. Sometimes the thermometer registers forty or more degrees below zero, and besides, the people are not as yet supplied with a way, and where there is a will there's a way, and the zealous souls are usually found there."

Mr. Reid adds that there is very little social life on the prairie. The meetings that are held are held in the public school buildings. People in New Brunswick who are within easy reach of railway and telephone communication, with good postal facilities, churches, schools and social advantages generally, would miss these very much if they were located in such a district as that described by Mr. Reid. There are many considerations which should weigh with our people before they decide to go to the western country, and not least among them is that of the social and educational advantages which they enjoy, and which in the west are only to be found in the towns and cities, where, however, the cost of living is much greater than it is in the eastern provinces. The temptation to stay in the east is therefore well founded.

THE HOUSING QUESTION

They have a housing problem in Regina. The story is told in the following letter from that city:—"During the past month or two, one of the principal topics of conversation among public bodies has been as to the best means of providing workmen with homes at a moderate cost. Several suggestions have been made, the most popular of which seems to be that the city should purchase a subdivision and serve it with water, sewer, electric light, etc., and then sell plots to workmen at low rates, and as far as possible assist them in financing the erection of a small home. One of the suggestions which have been made is that the city father a co-operative association, to secure loans to assist workmen in erecting their homes. Everything possible is being done by the city to make it easy for the workmen to become prosperous."

Public bodies in St. John should be giving more attention to this subject. The spring season is opening up, and if provision is to be made this year for suitable housing for a growing population the matter should be receiving more serious and more general attention than it is receiving at the present time. The situation may not be as acute as in a rapidly growing western city, but it would be very bad policy to postpone consideration of a problem which must be solved at an early date.

Now that the Conservatives are in power at Ottawa they are not as anxious as they were for a "white British Columbia."

The prospects appear to be good for the establishment of a shoe factory at St. Stephen. All the provincial towns appear to have a very encouraging outlook this spring.

The merchants of Montreal still profess to have some hope of getting the West India steamship service. The government would hardly dare to take away from the maritime provinces a trade they have had so long and which they had built up.

An influential German newspaper suggests that President Wilson of the United States propose a conference to discuss the general question of disarmament. It is an encouraging fact that this suggestion comes from a German source.

The construction of a street railway to Millidgeville has long been desired, and will bring within easy reach one of the most delightful suburban resorts in the neighborhood of St. John. It will also no doubt create a much more general interest in the splendid opportunities for yachting, which are afforded by the broad reaches of the Kemebecassis and St. John.

If all the large projects relating to the development of New Brunswick resources which are the subject of current rumor should materialize this year, it will mean a very great amount of development work. It is in any case a very healthy sign that so much attention is being devoted to these matters, and that public opinion is showing so much interest in the possibilities of this province.

Hon. Chas. Dalton has offered to contribute $20,000 to build a sanitarium for convalescents in Prince Edward Island, and to contribute $1,000 per year for ten years toward the support of the institution. He makes, however, the stipulation that the poor shall be treated free. It should surely be possible for the island province to take advantage of this generous offer, and such action is greatly to be desired, since the death rate from this disease in that province is larger in proportion to the population than in any other province, with perhaps one exception.

The decision of the Playgrounds Association to enlarge the number of neighborhood playgrounds this summer will no doubt cause the citizens living in the vicinity of the proposed new grounds to take a deeper interest in the Association and its work. With more playgrounds and better trained teachers, it will be possible to do much more for the benefit of the children. Doubtless also many citizens will have a desire to see something of the work that will be done by the playground instructor in the assembly hall of the high school, during the evenings of the next month or two.

The London Nation congratulates President Wilson upon the appointment of Mr. Walter H. Page as American Ambassador to the Court of St. James. It says this is a reversion to the "scholar diplomat" as a representative of the country, in place of men of great wealth. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid lived in the most splendid mansion in London, and in more than dual state. Mr. Page, on the contrary, is a man of modest means, and the Nation describes him as of the Bancroft, Washington Irving and Lowell type, and it adds that he will be welcomed by the English people. "President Wilson," it says, "was right in thinking that even in these special-thrift days wealth is not essential in a nominee to the London Embassy. We welcome and honor that demonstration. It fits in with one's conception of what America should be, and at her best really is, and it may not be without its usefulness in restoring to London society a more just sense of values."

TO SAVE TROUBLE

When the housewife is preparing home made dishes with cold meat which has been left over, she tries to give a new relish to the dish by adding various kinds of spices and flavorings. How frequently the result is a failure! Just a little too much pepper and the dish is too hot, or a slight error in the mixing, and one particular flavor dominates all the others. The wise house-cook has recently made up her mind that the ideal way of flavoring all made-up dishes, soups, etc., is to have a bottle of the real H. P. Sauce at hand, for the express purpose of enriching soups and gravies. In each bottle there is delicious blending of the choicest Oriental spices, and pure malt vinegar; it is not beyond the mark to say that a bottle of H. P. is a crust in itself. Just a spoonful added—that's all, and the success of the dish is assured. What trouble it saves! No wonder the best housewives always keep a bottle of H. P. Sauce handy, it is useful in so many ways. Just a few drops in the soup, or with hot or cold meat, fish or even bread and cheese, it is delicious and gives quite a new enjoyment to the meal.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

SATURDAY, APRIL FIVE

J. R. Booth, veteran lumberman, is eighty-seven years of age today. He was born in Sherbrooke, Quebec, and went to Ottawa in 1857. He built a small shingle mill, from which developed his later enterprises.

The Hon. G. A. Warburton, of Charlottetown, who has had a long public career in Prince Edward Island, was born on April 5, 1832. He practiced law for many years and in 1867 became premier of the Island for two years. Latterly he sat in the House of Commons.

The Hon. R. F. Sutherland, justice of the High Court of Justice of Ontario and prior to that speaker of the House of Commons, was born on April 5, 1830 at Newmarket. He practiced law for many years in Windsor and sat for North Essex at Ottawa.

SUNDAY, APRIL SIX

The Hon. Frederick Monk, late minister of public works in the Borden government, is fifty-seven years of age today. He was born and educated in Montreal, where he practiced law for many years. He entered parliament in 1896.

The Hon. W. R. Riddell, judge of the High Court of Ontario since 1906, was born in Northumberland county on April 6, 1832. He practiced law in Coburg and Toronto and enjoyed a large counsel practice.

Henry A. Powell, prominent citizen of St. John, N. B., was born on April 6, 1832, and practiced law successfully in Sackville and St. John. He sat for Westmorland in the local house from 1869 to 1886 and in the House of Commons from 1886 to 1900. He now is a member of the Waterways Commission.

LIGHTER VEIN

VERY SORRY. "Look here," he said to the groom, "are you the man who put the saddle on Miss Jane's horse?" "Yes, sir. Anything wrong, sir?" "It was loose—very loose. She had no sooner mounted than the saddle slipped and if I hadn't caught her she would have been thrown to the ground."

"I am very sorry, sir," said the groom. "But I did catch her," went on the young man, meditatively. "I caught her in my arms and—her horse's head was on your horse's head."

"RATHER SEVERE." "John," said Mrs. Talbot, as they sat in front of the fire one evening, having an after-dinner chat, "I've been reading a wonderful article on an electrician and it appears that you will be able to get everything you want by merely touching a button."

"Really?" replied Mr. T. "I will never pay here, anyhow. You'd never be able to get anything that way." "Why not, John?" asked Mrs. T., in mild surprise. "Because," added her husband, with a dry smile, "because you will never induce you to touch anything in the shape of a button. Look at my shirt!"

HIS FIRST EXPERIENCE

It was a car conductor's duty in the church of which he was a member to take up the collection one day, and as it happened, it was his first experience. He was a little nervous as he stepped into the centre aisle, but that soon wore off and he began to feel almost at home. There were several children in the first pew, and each put in a penny. The people in the next pew also contributed something each. A big glum fellow sat alone in the third row. The new collector passed him the plate, but the man shook his head and stuck his hands deep in his pockets. Thereupon the conductor stopped, put his hand as if to jerk the bell cord, and said—"Well, you'll have to get off."

An Important Consideration. In buying a Range buy one which is 1st, a good baker. We guarantee the STERLING to be a good baker. 2nd, has a good draft. THE STERLING has direct draft, and will work in a chimney so bad that most ranges would fail. 3rd, economical in fuel. THE STERLING will burn about one half the fuel some ranges consume, therefore, will pay for itself in a few years in the saving of fuel. Have you seen this range? It will pay you to investigate its merits. EMERSON & FISHER LTD. Phone 2520 25 GERMAIN STREET

This Is The Range That Is Advertising Itself. The New Champion is snug, plain and handsome; in finish it can't be beat; it has all the conveniences desired on a range; the smoke and gas consuming back gives you more heat with less fuel than other stoves. We are selling these stoves to people who have seen them in use where we have installed them and are fully convinced that the New Champion Steel Range is a baker, a fuel saver and an ornament to their kitchen. Call and see these ranges whether you want to buy or not. R. H. IRWIN 18-20 Haymarket Sq. Phone 1614

PREDICT EVEN BETTER AUTO SHOW NEXT YEAR. Automobile Men Enjoy Dinner at Bond's—Optimistic Speeches. The unity dinner for visiting motorists to the automobile show in Bond's Cafe last evening, gave those present a fine chance to become acquainted. There was a large attendance and all greatly enjoyed both the supper and the programme of music and speeches. T. P. Regan, president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, occupied the chair. In opening the proceedings he spoke of the good results from having the motor show here. He referred to the great progress shown in St. John during the last few years. The great interest shown in the show had proven that St. John was awakening. He hoped to see another show here next year. The toast to the King was drunk with usual honors and was honored and Rev. J. J. McCaskill in reply, spoke of the skill necessary for the building of automobiles. He saw great indications of progress in St. John. J. M. Roche proposed the toast to the Past Officers of the Association. R. D. Paterson gave an historical sketch of the organization in 1904, with five members. There were then five cars in the city and a run was made to Fredericton, where a parade took place. Now there are nearly 300 members. The executive is now planning for a run to Boston this summer. The Good Roads Association was proposed and Mr. Van Sneyo, of the Canada Cement Company, and Mr. Edwards, of the Hassam Paving Company, spoke on roads roads. J. M. Robinson then asked those present to drink to the city. Mayor Prink thought that the show had been a benefit to the city and he believed that the city should do something to help the show next year. He was glad so many visitors had been present. He referred to the Suburban Railway and believed that it would soon be an inter-city railroad. Commissioner Agar felt that when the MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES. The annual conversation of the U. N. B. was held last night, and was a grand success. There were more than 400 persons present. J. L. Morrison, of this city, was secretary. The Chaplains were Messrs. Jones, Bailey, McGinnis and Stephens. S. E. Woodman, high sheriff of Washington County, Me., has discovered that residents of Maine are securing their supplies of liquor, contrary to the prohibition laws, by having it consigned to Canadian border towns and then smuggling it back to its real destination. In the case of Gamblin vs. Myers in the Kings County Circuit court yesterday the jury returned a verdict of $85.81 and costs for the plaintiff. J. R. M. Baxter, K. C., for the defendant, gave notice of appeal. Rev. John Eilly, a native of St. Stephen and later a Unitarian minister at Coonopee, Mass., whose wife was granted a divorce with custody of their little daughter, but who disregarded the court's order and fled with the child, is believed to be in western Canada. A company, headed by John and James Clark, former residents of St. Stephen, is willing to operate a shoe factory in that town if the city will erect a $15,000 factory and subscribe $25,000 worth of stock. A meeting of citizens last night approved of the project. Hon. Charles Dalton of Tignish, P. E. I., has offered $20,000 for the establishment of a P. E. I. sanitarium for tubercular patients and $1,000 a year for ten years towards its upkeep, the only conditions being that it should be undenominational and that poor patients should be treated free. The Austrian-American S. S. line between Trieste and Canada has cut its steamer rate to $30 to meet the C. P. R. rate. THE KING'S DAUGHTERS. At the monthly meeting of The King's Daughters' Guild yesterday afternoon reports from the officers and committees were received and the general secretary reported that great interest had been taken in the educational classes and in the mothers' meetings, both of which have just been closed for the season. It was decided to have a rummage sale April 29 and 30 and arrangements were also made for the annual meeting Monday night. The best of every man's work is above and beyond himself, and is accomplished in the struggle to attain a lofty ideal.

TORONTO MINISTER IN DISGUISE AT BURLESQUE IN INTERESTS OF MORALS

This shows Rev. John Coburn, a prominent Methodist minister of Toronto in disguise in order to obtain a seat in a burlesque theatre without being recognized. He donned smoked glasses and a false moustache, and was successful in getting past the door keeper. Indeed he passed several of his friends in the street without being known. The moral reform people of Toronto are conducting a campaign against the class of shows in the burlesque houses, hence Mr. Coburn's desire to see the show as regularly put on. But he was recognized in the theatre and an uproar was raised.

FOUR SPLENDID ARTISTS

Including the Great Tessor, at Choral Club Concerts, April 14 and 15

Exchange tickets for the Choral Society club concerts, April 14 and 15, may be had at Landry's music store, or from members of the club.

Hollishead, the wonderful young tenor, is alone sufficient attraction to probably crowd the Opera House to capacity on these two dates, but when supported by Mr. Kennedy, Toronto's soprano; Miss Harriet Hemenway, a Boston contralto, and Wm. Gustafson, a leading Boston bass, the attraction is simply an irresistible one.

Patrons should remember that the first night, Monday, the 14th, will be devoted to the oratorio, "Messiah," with big chorus and orchestra, and Tuesday evening, a mixed concert will be given by Mr. Hollishead, Mrs. Kennedy and the chorus.

WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

SENSATIONAL COMEDY NOVELTY AT LYRIC.

Amid roars of laughter, hearty sounds of applause, and a general feeling of satisfaction, The Vanerons, a team of high-class comedy acrobats and gymnasts, are daily making a decided hit with audiences at the Lyric Theatre. In the fifteen minutes in which the Vanerons are on the stage, not a single second can claim dullness. Upon the rise of the curtain on this attraction, the fun and sensation commences. Mr. Vanerons lies around from bar to bar with the greatest dexterity. And on the other side of the stage his fair partner, Miss Vanerons, is all the while giving some clever exhibition of acrobatic novelties, making the act one of interest and excitement from beginning to end. As a climax the break neck jump is accomplished by Mr. Vanerons who makes a sudden leap from the bar at the left of the stage, makes a loop the loop and safely lands on ground. Notable in the picture programme is a Broncho feature in two parts, "The Mosaic Law." Same programme tonight.

FOUR FEATURES AT UNIQUE.

The programme of high class picture features now being presented at the Unique Theatre is one especially adapted to Saturday night audiences. There is just enough comedy drama to excite the temperaments of all classes. For the lovers of light comedy drama, the Solax story, "The Beautiful Boy," will take first place. This tells of how a boy in his teens lost the girl of his heart in after years by his bashfulness. After her marriage he becomes a confirmed bachelor, taking great consolation in the song "No Wedding Bells for Me." Some time later, however, we find that the girl he loved is free again and the two are brought together by a tiny little child, whose setting in the play is a feature in itself.

For those who admire a trip on the Colored Film Line, to some of the beauty spots of the world, "The Mountains of St. Gothard" will find favor. This is the fourth of a special series of hand colored motion pictures which exploit the beauties of some of the French mountains and villages.

The serious minded person will find much pleasure in the English drama, "Over the Ferry," which besides telling a sweet compelling story, also claims some beautiful scenic investiture. Everybody enjoys a good laugh, and in this connection the Keystone comedians will dispense laughter galore in the amusing farce, "His Birthday Present."

For Monday and Tuesday of next week the Unique has secured what is considered to be the greatest sensation yet produced by the Kay Bee Co., called "The Little Turncoat."

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-sought-for article is proven every day. The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents.

Sold at the Canadian Drug Co., wholesale distributors.

LIVING IN CANADA HIGHER NOW THAN IN THE LAST DECADE

Results of Searching Inquiry Into Prices Made by Department of Labor Officials

Ottawa, April 5.—The Department of Labor issues a comprehensive report to-day on the cost of living in Canada, and the rise in the cost of living in the form of a detailed review of the course of wholesale and retail prices from month to month, and in some cases from week to week, throughout 1912. The wholesale prices are for 287 articles chosen as representative of the entire field of production and consumption, quotations being taken in each case in the governing market. The retail prices are for the thirty articles which enter chiefly into domestic budgets and are taken monthly from every locality in Canada having a population of 10,000 and upward.

The report shows that wholesale prices went up over 9 per cent. in 1912 due allowance being made for the varying importance in trade of the several communities. Retail prices did not advance so rapidly, but the department estimates that a weekly family budget, worked out at average prices, cost $12.24 in 1910, $12.89 in 1911, and $13.63 in 1912. In the terms of the department's index number, a level indicated by 1914 in 1911 rose to one of 134.4 in 1912, the numbers being percentages of the average prices prevailing during the decade 1890-1899, the period adopted by the department as the standard for comparison throughout its investigation. This brings prices higher than they have been seen since the early seventies when prices were very high throughout America and Europe. Since 1897, the report shows that prices have advanced by very nearly 60 per cent. in Canada.

The report contains 235 pages, and is replete with information bearing on all sides of the price question. There are twenty-five charts which enable certain features of the movement to be appreciated at a glance. Moreover, in the case of each article, statistics of production, demand, trade, etc., are added, thus enabling the reader to obtain a good idea as to the main factors which are at work. An appendix is devoted to the course of prices in the United States, Canada and Australasia during 1912, based on the findings of prominent authorities. Another appendix deals with gold production and consumption in recent years, a feature which, in the opinion of some economists, is intimately connected with the recent rise. The report is a compendium of information of value equally to the business man and the householder. Familiar as the subject is, it is only after an analytical study, like the present, into its many phases that an understanding of its essential nature can be obtained and the question of possible remedies discussed.

AWAY ON S. S. EMPRESS

Royal mail steamer Empress of Ireland, Captain Forster, sailed last night at ten o'clock for Liverpool via Halifax, with 100 saloon, 175 second cabin and 350 steerage passengers and a large general cargo. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., and Andrew A. Allan, of the Allan line, and Mrs. Allan will join the steamer at Halifax. Among those taking passage are Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Peters of this city, Rev. Father Savage of Moncton, Rev. J. J. McDermott of Sussex, and Mrs. C. W. Robinson of Moncton. Leo Smith, a South African veteran of the North End, took passage at this port.

YOUNG BOY KILLED

Heavy Gate Falls on Eight Year Old Leslie McRoberts

The death of D. Leslie McRoberts, Jr., the eight year old son of D. Leslie McRoberts of 223 Pitt street, occurred yesterday afternoon under tragic circumstances. The lad, with some of the companions, left Victoria school and started for the newspaper office, taking a short cut from Sydney to Charlotte street through Flood's alley. There is a heavy gate, weighing about 600 pounds, in the middle of the alley and when some of the boys had passed through they tried to hold it shut against their companions. In the struggle the gate was dislodged from its supports and fell to the ground, pinning the McRoberts boy beneath it.

When his companions freed him he was able to walk to Charlotte street, but there fell unconscious and was carried by Wm. Magee into M. B. Hetherington's house. Dr. A. E. Maccauley was summoned, but the boy died a few minutes afterwards, having first regained consciousness sufficiently to tell the story of the accident.

Coroner Berryman gave permission to remove the body to the home of the parents. Besides his parents the boy is survived by two brothers, Edward and Paul.

COLLIER'S TO LEAVE CANADA

An Ottawa despatch says that Collier's Weekly will cease publication in Canada, according to a responsibly authenticated report current there. Neither too confined a field nor competition was the cause, it is said, but certain complications which increased the cost of manufacture of the magazine so greatly that the publishers were forced to withdraw. The magazine will publish its final number the last week of this month, and the Canadian offices in Toronto will be closed.

TEARS ARE OUT OF STYLE

Emotion Must Now Be Expressed In a More Subtle Way

One of the most conspicuous features of modern life is the change in the expression of emotion. There seems to be no doubt that the time will come when all the crude methods—the tears, the downcast eyes, the outbursts of passionate anger, the outbursts of passionate anger, the broken voice—will disappear entirely.

AT MERCY OF A WOUNDED LION

Death at Hand But It Came to The Beast

THRILLING JUNGLE TALE

Englishman Had Wounded Forest King and It Disappeared Only To Spring From Bush and Pin Him Helpless to Death

London, April 5.—Writing from Nairobi Hector Hecor gives the following account of a thrilling lion hunt, which nearly cost J. C. Crawley, of the Nagadi Railway his life. Mr. Crawley went out in search of adventure, being accompanied by a native boy. He was armed with a B. S. A. .303 magsm's sporting rifle and a Browning automatic pistol. He managed to kill two lions, and thought he had secured a third, but another instant his friend was in the lion's jaws.

"Seeing a number of boys in the valley below, Mr. Crawley mistook their services to carry the dead lions to camp, but on proceeding to the trees he found that one of them (the second lion) had disappeared. Leaving the boys to attend to the other two, he accompanied by a native, instituted a search for the wounded beast, but was successful in locating him, and proceeded to camp for luncheon. Having gone only some 200 yards on his way, he was struck by the rear of the lion, which emerged, with its entrails dragging, from a small bush not twelve feet distant. The lion immediately charged Mr. Crawley managed to get in a shot in the chest, which, however, failed to bring down the beast, and another instant his friend was in the lion's jaws.

"Mr. Crawley endeavored to force the barrel of his rifle down his assailant's throat, but it was brushed aside by a sweep of the paw, and he found himself in a sitting posture, having fallen back yards against a rock. Standing with his front paws on Mr. Crawley's legs, the lion bit him in four places on the right arm, from the shoulder downwards, and once on the left hand, tearing the flesh only slightly on the right wrist, and then suddenly left his prey and staggered back to the bush, evidently feeling death approaching. Mr. Crawley was unable to use his pistol as it was jammed between himself and the rock.

"Having pulled himself together, Crawley called the boy—his name was not given—and with the assistance of the other natives, went in search of the lion, which was found by the Good Shepherd, Waterloo street. On tomorrow, Sunday, the Feast of the Good Shepherd, two of the lions will take their final voyage, in the presence of His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc. The lions to be professed are Sister M. Mary of Ireland, made her religious profession as a Sister of Charity. The ceremony was presided over by Rev. A. W. Meslin, D. D.

In order to have special training in the new work of conducting a hospital, three members of the Sisters of Charity in this city will leave next week for Ottawa to enter the General Public Hospital.

BARRETT'S $1000 REGATTA. Harry G. Lovell, father of the world's champion sculler, Ernest Barry, and the champion of England, Bill Barry, commences the winning of the world's championship by offering $1,000 in cash for a series of four races on the Thames to be known as the Thames national regatta. His plans, which have just been out-lined, are to provide cash prizes for $100 for second, $50 for third and $25 for fourth.

For double sculls or pairs the first prize to be $100, second $50 and third $25, and for single sculls $125, $50 and $25 to be the prizes. The entries will be confined to men who have never won a prize or stake of $125 or more.

An effort is being made at Newcastle-on-Tyne to send several entries, and the plans are to re-establish the old-time rivalry in boat racing which existed in the days of Renforth between the oarsmen of the Thames and Tyne.

R. H. Foster, Dr. R. B. Etherington, Smith, Percy Adcock, H. T. Blackstaffe, W. D. Kinners, W. G. East, the king's bargamaster, G. Hardie, C. Ayling, Ernest Barry and the donor of the prize are to constitute a committee which will have the management of the races. This committee is representative of all the chief clubs on the Thames. The date of the regatta has not been definitely fixed, but it will likely take place in July.

SISTERS OF CHARITY AND NUNS OF GOOD SHEPHERD

(New Freeman) An interesting ceremony took place in the chapel of St. Vincent's convent on Thursday morning when Sister Maria (Miss Mary of Ireland) made her religious profession as a Sister of Charity. The ceremony was presided over by Rev. A. W. Meslin, D. D.

DEPARTING. A young curate was preaching at great length in a country church. About twenty minutes after the beginning of the service he faded away one by one. Finally only the sexton was left, but the preacher still preached on, being only at his "thirteenth," and of a stubborn disposition. The sexton at last could stand it no longer, and, going softly up to the desk, he whispered—"When you're finished turn out the lights, lock the door and put the key under the mat."

ARAB CUSTOMS. Among the will deserts Arab life is as primitive as in Abraham's time. Shep are still slain to seal a vow. The salt or bread covenant is observed, and when a man dies his tent is torn down and destroyed.

Old names, like Joseph, Moses, Alexander, etc. are still in common use among Arabs, though pronounced "Yusef," "Musa," and "Iskander." To divorce his wife a man may repeat the formula:—"Ent tlek" three times; usually saying it once makes the woman believe and its final repetition is not necessary. The "evil eye" superstition is common, and the first injunction given a visiting foreigner by experienced Arabian travellers is that he must not point at animals or persons in Arab settlements.

Arabs say a man gifted with this magical power can look at a bird flying in the air and it will drop dead; that if he chooses to cast his wicked spell on a canal, it may be struck blind. None of the lower class can read or write, but the Arab is noted for his ready wit and his habits of speaking in allegory—Christian here.

COAL IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Alta., April 5.—(Special)—Alberta will have the largest coal mine in the world with the commencement of the plans outlined by B. Noyes of San Francisco, who is now in Ottawa conferring with officials of the dominion government regarding a new western railway. He holds leases on seventy-one claims or 281,000 acres situated 90 miles northwest of Edmonton between the main line and Grand Trunk Pacific and Grand Prairie, where it is announced work will begin this season with a view to beginning shipping within twelve months.

Government surveys show fully 60,000,000,000 tons of coal in sight in the province of Alberta.

RED TAPE IN INDIA

Mixup in Which Senior Cat, Junior Cat and Ratons Had to Be Adjusted by the War Office

The precision of organization and discipline that is the very foundation of military life is always a matter of wonder and admiration to the civilian. He may express impatience with army "red tape" yet he has a lurking regard for the very thing that he despises, because he knows vaguely that it is good for men generally to be compelled to respect a silent force as powerful and dignified as this is.

Red Tape is a serious matter, not to be lightly treated by any one, soldier or civilian, but the observance of the "code" to the very letter probably never was more complete than in the case of a native of India.

This babu, who was in charge of the documents of a certain town, found that he were being seriously damaged by rats. He wrote a letter to the government, informing it of the danger to his records, and respectfully urging it to provide him with weekly rations for two rats to destroy the ravenous animals.

The request was granted and the two rats were installed—one, larger of the two receiving slightly better rations than the other.

All went well for a few weeks, when the supreme government of India received the following dispatch:

"I have the honor to inform you that the senior rat is absent without leave. What shall I do?"

The problem seemed to baffle the supreme government, for the babu received no answer.

After waiting a few days he sent off a proposal:

"In re Absentee Rat, I propose to promote the junior rat, and in the meantime to take into government service a probationer rat on full rations."

The supreme government expressed its approval of the scheme and things once more ran smoothly and without friction in that department.—New York Press.

SPRINGHILL JAM STILL IS HOLDING

Fredericton, N. B., April 6.—The ice jam sends from C. H. Giles' at Kingsgate to Jolin's at Prince William, stream miles. The river is now blocked with broken ice, in some places piled twenty feet. The water is now receding and it looks as if it was good for another week at least until the ice runs little or nothing can be done towards swaging the boom.

Wild geese this morning were departing in the water about the highway bridge.

Edgar Aston, a young Englishman, who owns a farm at Kingsgate is to be married in St. John on April 29 to Miss Maud Dading of Abbotleigh, England, who is coming out from the Virginia.

George G. Taylor died at his home last night aged seventy-four. He was a landscape photographer. He has to his credit several fine paintings. He is survived by two sons, one of whom is William P. Taylor, barrister of Calgary, and three daughters.

PERSONALS

The condition of H. L. Francis, who has been ill for some time at his home in King street east is reported as unchanged today.

Mrs. P. A. Godeau, who is ill at her home in King street east, was said to be slightly improved today.

Moncton Transcript.—E. Tiffin, general traffic manager of the I. C. R., is ill at a home in Moncton. Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. McWenney of Boston, who were in St. John on Thursday, to attend the wedding of Miss Millett and Mr. Richard O'Brien, arrived in Moncton this afternoon, and will spend a short time with friends here. Mr. and Mrs. McWenney will leave again on Saturday for their home in Boston.

Mrs. Tingley, wife of Alderman A. J. Tingley, is in receipt of a telegram this morning from her son, Dr. George Tingley of Boston, conveying the sad intelligence of the very critical and probably fatal illness of her sister, Miss Ellen Wright. Miss Wright is a daughter of the late James Wright of Albert County and was formerly a resident of Moncton.

Moncton Times.—Fred C. Thomson of the Massey-Harris Company of this city and wife left this week to spend some time in St. John. Mr. Thomson having been granted a month's leave of absence on account of ill health.

Investment News

St. John, April 5, 1913

Would a stock with SEVEN and a quarter per cent income interest you?

We have such a one and the issuing Company operates nearby in our sister Province. We refer to the Preferred Stock of the Nova Scotia Underwear Co., Ltd., with mills at Eureka, N. S.

The first annual report of this Company shows a most gratifying record for the nine months' period ending Nov. 30, 1912. During this period the largest dividend in the history of the Company for a full year's operation has been DOUBLED—although the management was handicapped by the necessary work of re-organization and installation of new machinery.

After providing for the 7 per cent dividends on the Preferred Stock, and allowing for organization expense and depreciation, a surplus of over Four Thousand Dollars was carried forward. The outlook for 1913 is most promising with orders booked which will tax the capacity of the mills for the rest of the year.

Isn't it the part of good sense to investigate such an attractive investment?

GUARANTEE COMPENSATION TO HALF MILLION WORKERS

Proposed Ontario Legislation Would Affect Directly or Indirectly Every Resident of Province—Draft of Bill

(Toronto News) A conservative estimate places the number of employees directly affected by the proposed Workers' Compensation enactment of the Ontario Legislature at between 400,000 and 450,000. Farm hands and domestic servants will not be brought under the Act at first but these are the only classes likely to be excluded.

The principle consistently followed by the bill is that the community should be protected from the direct cost of the living expenses of the dependents of the injured worker. It is not a matter of compensation for the loss of wages, but of protection for the dependents.

Standard of Living. The question as to the value of a life or limb is not a secondary consideration. The minimum compensation must ensure a living income in order that the community will not be burdened. It is unfair, however, that all should be treated alike.

Advantages of New Law. Among the anticipated results of the proposed Ontario Compensation law may be named the following: 1. Relief of public and private charity from the burden of supporting the dependents of injured workers.

Details Still in Doubt. Sir William Meredith is an eclectic. He has carefully selected what appeared to him as the best principles in both the English and German compensation acts, and is now endeavoring to mold the whole to meet Ontario conditions.

A Special Commission. The bill contemplates the creation of a commission of three members, appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council and to be known as the Workers' Compensation Board.

The offer was promptly accepted. Next morning the unshaken collector was no more. He had been killed by a falling brick. The merchant then said: "Look here, sir, I'll give five guineas on condition that you don't come into my office again unless I invite you."

ROMANCE OF THE BUSINESS WORLD

The Story of One of the World's Most Noted Caterers

(Sir Joseph Lyons in London Tit-Bits) I would like to tell the young man of today a little story, which, I have remembered for many years, just because a young gentleman who, on leaving college went to his tutor and said: "Good-bye, I am going tomorrow, I have finished my education." To which the tutor replied: "How strange! I have been working many years, and I have only commenced mine!"

BASKETBALL

Champions of New Brunswick.

The local Y. M. C. A. basketball team are the champions of N. B., having just won the title this season and that on last Thursday evening at Fredericton, N. B., when the U. N. B. won the game, 24-18. The game, however, was not won on their skill as basketball players, but on strategy. As soon as the ball was thrown from centre it was clear to the uninitiated that the U. N. B. intended to win by knocking out as many Y. M. C. A. men as possible. In the first place one man grabbed our guard under the arms and threw him on the floor. Our star basket thrower, Willet, was marked from the first and before the game was well started he was knocked out deliberately and was unconscious five minutes.

Fredericton spectators even hissed their team and cheered the Y. M. C. A. for their gentlemanly game. Had they been given a chance to play basket ball they could have played all round U. N. B., as they did when they won the game from them at our local gym.

The boys are a little disappointed at not closing the season with a perfectly clean slate, but they certainly should feel proud of their season's work. C. D. Howard, physical director and coach, has put in a very strenuous winter in all the departments of basket-ball, and has re-awakened great interest and enthusiasm in the game.

The following is the line-up:—Willet and Howard, forwards; Latham, centre; Boone and Betton, guards.

BOWLING

On Black's Alleys.

T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., won the deciding game in the Commercial Bowling League last night, defeating O. H. Warwick & Co., 1280 to 1258. D. Footley, of the winners, had an average of 90 and McLeod led the losers with 95.

The Market Men won from the Tigers in the City League, three points to one. The pinfall was 1208 to 1223. Slocum, with 89, led the winners, and Baillie, of the losers, had 87.

At the conclusion of the regular games in the Commercial League, D. Footley and D. Foshey were tie for the prize given for the highest total in bowling three consecutive strings. It was decided that the totals in the match last night should decide which of these would be awarded the prize of a set of pipes. D. Footley won out by one pin.

A new league is being started tonight at Black's alleys. There are thirteen two-men teams entered so far. The match tonight will be H. Cosman and P. Jordan vs. E. Moore and A. Harrison.

THE RING

McIntyre the Aggressor.

Mickey McIntyre and Rudy Unholz, the "fighting Bear" fought a lame fifteen-round in Saskatoon on Thursday night, the contest ending in a draw. Mickey was the aggressor throughout.

Old Times Again in Ring.

New York, April 5.—Many old time pugilists donned fighting tops again last night and stepped into the ring here in exhibition bouts to help raise money for the flood sufferers. Everybody paid to get into the 22nd Regiment Armory, where the bouts were held under the auspices of the state athletic commission. Fighters, sporting writers, seers and officials were included and the entire proceeds were net.

Among the old timers who took part were Jack McAllister, Ed McCoy, Terry McGovern, Young Corbett and Peter Maher. Tom Sharkey refereed one of the bouts. Present day contenders included Luther McCarty, Gumbat Smith, Freddie Welch and Abe Attell.

Burns Forced It All Way.

In the six-round draw which Tommy Burns and Arthur Pelky of Chicago, Mass., fought in Calgary this week Burns forced the fighting all through the mill and scored three knock-downs.

Although he was floored once himself by the giant Pelky he was on his feet instantly and continued his rushing tactics. Physically Burns proved to be in fine condition, but failed to judge his blows to best advantage. The general opinion was that Burns would have scored a knockout over a longer route. It was a slam-bang battle from start to finish. Pelky proved to be a rugged fellow, capable of taking a rattling wallop and of landing one himself. Burns worked effectively with both hands and Pelky depended on a left jab.

In the second round Pelky took the count of seven, but recuperated rapidly and came through all right. In the fourth Pelky landed a heavy wallop on Burns' jaw and Burns dropped like a log, but regained his feet before the count was started.

Burns put his opponent down twice in day's game against the Petersburg team of the Virginia League, which Providence won by a score of 3 to 1. The game was won in the last inning and the Providence Journal correspondent with the Grays writes: "In the ninth a double by Duggan, followed by singles by Doyle and Jack Onslow produced the two runs that gave the Grays the game."

In Fredericton.

The Gleason yesterday said:—Fredericton's baseball situation is likely to be solved by tonight. The business men of the city are to be asked today to guarantee sufficient funds for carrying on a club here this season, and if the necessary amount is forthcoming there will be baseball.

"Jim" Farrell has stepped into the breach and is meeting the business people to see if the necessary funds will be forthcoming. Already about $500 has been guaranteed. The collection of funds will not take place until after April 10.

To carry on the Fredericton Baseball Club last year involved an expenditure of about $8,500, and at the close of the season there was a deficit of upwards of $800, which is not altogether disposed of as yet. This year with uniforms to purchase, players to be brought here and a deposit of $200 to guarantee salaries, it is necessary to have a substantial fund to commence.

If the necessary funds are guaranteed today a telegram will be sent to Bob Ganley this evening formally appointing him as manager and instructing him to go ahead with the signing up of his players.

Charlie Martini, who was with the Houston club last year and who was awarded to Fredericton by the league meeting, is not going to play league ball this year, but will stick to a good job he has in New York and confine his baseball efforts to semi-pro games on Saturdays and Sundays around the big town.

The Tigers' Line-Up.

Manager Hughie Jennings has announced the probable line-up for his Tigers in the opening game in St. Louis on April 10. Every place but second is fully decided upon. If Cobb reports, as is expected, the team will bat as follows: Bush, short-stop; Vitt or Louder, second-base; Crawford, right-field; Cobb, centre-field; Veach, left-field; Gainer, first-base; Deal, third-base; Stanage, catcher; Mullin, pitcher. In case Cobb should not come in, Powell will play centre, batting second. If Gainer is not well, Moriarty will play first base.

Diamond Sparkles.

Outfielder Barrows secured by Rochester from Chicago Sox, and rated by John Gannell as the best of his gardeners, sustained a broken left leg while sliding into third base in a practice game. Barrows played with Jersey City last year.

The Philadelphia Americans yesterday won the fourth straight game of the Philadelphia Nationals, 9 to 3. This is the best game in the spring series.

The Washington Americans were defeated by the Boston Nationals yesterday after leading until the ninth inning. Johnston pitched six innings for the Washington team and allowed only one hit, but Gallas, who replaced him, weakened in the ninth and eight Bostonians crossed the plate.

Duggan Gets Double. Pat Duggan of last year's Fredericton team kept up his good work in Wednesday's game against the Petersburg team of the Virginia League, which Providence won by a score of 3 to 1. The game was won in the last inning and the Providence Journal correspondent with the Grays writes: "In the ninth a double by Duggan, followed by singles by Doyle and Jack Onslow produced the two runs that gave the Grays the game."

There is Health and Pleasure for You and Your Family in a Motor Car

If you want to sell your automobile to advantage, use a Want Ad. There is a constantly expanding market for used cars in this city and surrounding territory among the many people who feel that a brand new car suitable for their purposes is just beyond their reach. They will eagerly welcome a chance to buy your used car. Tell these people about your automobile in a little 4 or 5 line Want Ad in this paper. Prospective buyers are constantly scanning our Classified columns for just the opportunity you can offer them. You will be delighted with the response you will secure.

Or, if you are one of that big class of prospective buyers of used machines and you do not find the car you want advertised on our Classified page, insert a Want Ad in this paper, telling the size of the car you want and the kind you prefer. A Want Ad is the cheapest way to find a seller—or a buyer.

WHEN WILL RODNEY WHARF BE MADE SAFE FOR PEOPLE ?

At the last session of the legislature the St. John Railway Company was instructed to erect safeguards at its terminals on Rodney Wharf, West St. John, in order to prevent further loss of life. No action was taken.
Ten days ago the instructions were repeated in a more urgent form by the New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission.
A week later the commission met again, but there was no word of any progress on the part of the company.
From past records of the wharf, it is reasonable to expect at least one more death before the end of the season unless the company acts promptly.
Is Another Victim Really Necessary ?

LOCAL NEWS

MANY BABIES.
The reports to Registrar J. B. Jones show forty births this week—twenty boys and twenty girls. The marriages numbered eleven.

FIRST NEXT WEEK.
C. P. R. liner Ruthenia, the first of the Trieste-St. John steamers, is expected to arrive here some time next week with a large number of passengers.

DEATH OF PETER McLEOD.
The death of Peter McLeod a respected resident of Black River, occurred at his home this morning. Mr. McLeod was seventy-seven years of age and is survived by his wife and one son Fred, G. of Black River. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE BOYS ARE AT IT.
The baseball season opened in the city this morning in Hazen's field when the King Street East Stars met and defeated by the Giants by a score of 8 to 3. The batteries were; for the winners, Christie and Foster, and for the losers, Shaw and Knox.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of Cornelius Kane took place this afternoon from his late residence, 23 Westmorland road, to the cathedral, where Rev. M. O'Brien conducted the funeral services. Interment was in the old Catholic cemetery.
The funeral of Andrew Brown was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late residence, East St. John. Rev. J. D. Wetmore officiated, and interment was in Fernhill.

POLICE COURT.
In the police court this morning Magistrate Pfitche imposed a fine of $20 or two months in jail on William Goding, arrested for assaulting a young lad named Stanley Davidson. The penalty was allowed to stand on condition that he go to work and keep sober.

An Austrian, arrested in the Union Depot yesterday on drunkenness, was fined $8 or two months in jail, but as he had a ticket for his passage to the old country by the steamer Tunisian, the magistrate allowed him to go with L. C. R. Policeman Smith, who promised to see that he was out aboard the train that would take him to the West Side.

THREE ATTEMPTS AT BURGLARY LAST NIGHT

Vandals were busy around the North Wharf and in the vicinity of York Point last night. Besides the break made into Hevener's brass and copper foundry, mentioned elsewhere, two other cases of breaking and entering are reported. Between twelve and one o'clock the back door of P. M. O'Neil's liquor warehouse on North Wharf was found broken open and was secured by the police. So far as can be ascertained nothing was taken from the place.
The vinegar factory of W. A. Fairweather & Co. was also entered some time last night. The outside shutter was torn off one of the back windows and the window removed. The misdeeds were evidently secured away before they had completed their work as, so far as is known, nothing is missing.

The police are under the impression that these breaks and those that have been reported in the vicinity during the last few weeks, are the work of an organized band of thieves.

THE GAIN WAS MADE IN JANUARY AND MARCH

BASEBALL OUTLOOK IN HALIFAX AND MONCTON

(Halifax Recorder)
Halifax is sure to have at least one team the coming season, for a new organization known as the White Sox Professional Baseball Club, is being formed. J. Ahearn, who is working in the interests of the new club, is in touch with several Boston and Worcester college players. The White Sox, Standards, Moncton, Westville, Stellarton and Springhill or New Glasgow would make a fine league. It is expected that all arrangements will be made this week in connection with the new league.

SAILOR HAS TO LEAVE BRIDE OF AN HOUR AND GO TO SEA

(Moncton Transcript)
A letter from John Ahearn of Halifax who states that he is organizing the proposed semi-professional league, has been received by the Sporting Editor of the Transcript, with the request that it be handed over to some person or persons in this city who will take the matter up.
It is to be hoped that this matter will not be allowed to drop, but will be taken up by somebody and made a success. Baseball of the right calibre could be made a success in Moncton.

TO SOLVE PROBLEM OF TRAFFIC RUSH IN MILL STREET

Now Suggested That Steam Railway Approaches be Elevated

As a solution for the problem of traffic congestion at Mill street, a St. John man who has given some study to the matter suggests that the steam railway approaches to the Union Depot should be elevated. The need of some radical method of relieving the traffic situation at this point has long been recognized and various suggestions have been made. One was that Mill street should be raised to a sufficient level to allow the trains to pass beneath, but this has several disadvantages. Another suggestion was for the construction of an immense viaduct from the top of the hill at the back of the public library and the Y. M. C. A. across the railway yards to Rockland road to divert some of the Mill street traffic. There are difficulties in the way of this and the facilities it would give might not be adequate to the expense.

In many cities the railways are now making their approaches through subways below the street, would be elevated. This would not be practicable here. That the other method of elevating the railway approaches, is feasible, is said by its advocates to be shown by the fact that elaborate plans have been drawn up for its adoption in Chicago as a solution of the tremendous traffic problem which that city is facing.

If the C. P. R. is declared, we to elevate its tracks twenty-five feet above Mill street the street would be left clear for ordinary traffic and this would relieve much of the congestion. At the same time it would cut down the grade of seventy feet between the station and the cantilever bridge. This suggestion also has its difficulties, but some solution of the problem must be found some day, and it is certain that the longer it is delayed the more pressing it will become and the greater will be the cost of the changes which will have to be made.

THE STEAMERS

Allan liner Hesperian, Captain Main, arrived in port last night and docked at Sand Point about 11 o'clock this morning. This is a special sailing of the Hesperian, made necessary by the pressure of passenger traffic at Liverpool. The Hesperian left Liverpool on March 28 with about 1,800 passengers and had a rough but uneventful trip to Halifax, where she landed about 600 of her passengers. About 1,200 passengers disembarked at the West Side this morning and will go forward this evening.

Allan line steamer Victorian arrived in Halifax last night with about 1,600 passengers of whom Wm. S. Fielding was one, and a large cargo of freight and express. She is expected to dock here tomorrow evening.

Steamer Manchester Commerce of the Manchester line, arrived this morning about seven o'clock with a general cargo. She will load here for a return trip to Manchester.

Furness liner Shenandoah is expected to get away from this port tonight and will go to Halifax, where she will load about 25,000 barrels of apples, and will sail from there for London. The Shenandoah will take away general cargo and a quantity of grain and lumber from here.

Donaldson line steamer Saturnia will shift from No. 4 berth to the government pier at Long Wharf this morning to load grain.

The Bray Head will move this morning from the McLeod wharf to No. 4 berth to complete her cargo.
Donaldson liner Letitia sailed this morning from Glasgow with a large number of passengers. Her steerage accommodation is completely filled.

EAST ST. JOHN ENTERTAINMENT

A very enjoyable entertainment was given last evening in the Edith Avenue Mission at East St. John. There was a large number present, including many who have moved from the city. A pleasing programme was carried out and every number greatly enjoyed and many encores were called for. At the close of the entertainment refreshments were served. The programme was as follows:
Chorus, boys of the Industrial Home.
Piano solo, Miss Harding.
Solo, Miss Jean Finley.
Edith solo, Roy Edwards.
Solo, Miss Campbell.
Reading, Miss Marion Harding.
Humorous speech, W. F. Noble.
Solo, Miss Road.
Chorus, boys of the Industrial Home.
God save the King.

Playgrounds Work is Bringing Improvement

MORE WORK BY FIREBUG

This Morning's Paradise Rew Fire Serious One - Thilling Escape of Four Men From Death in The Falls—News of North End

Now that the matter of the provision of playgrounds for the North End has assumed more definite shape through the meeting of the executive of the association last evening, it is hoped that prompt action will be taken by the city in the matter of making the site proposed for the romping of the little ones in Indian-town something more than its late been for years, a public dump. Within the last week or so signs have been posted on the alleys leading to the site, with the words "no dump," and they have, to the surprise of many, remained in position for nearly ten days. Formerly some "found a bar" placards in the debris piled upon them. Citizens of North End feel highly gratified in the announcement that the children of that section are to have the benefits which a playground, as conducted by the local association, can bestow, and the sites selected are regarded as admirable for the purpose, the one in Bentley street the other in "Victoria Square." But this latter site is somewhat deceptive, for instead of finding, as one might expect, a monument befitting the memory of a great and beloved monarch, there is to be seen a fairly extensive stretch of ash-heaps which might cause the philosopher to stop and ponder for a while upon the high price of coal. Men have been engaged during the last few days in leveling off the dump, and already an improvement is apparent. But there remains much more to be done.

It is thought that not all of the space now vacant in the so-called square will be in use for the playground purposes, so that there will probably have to be considerable filling in attended to. The strongest application of the leveling process and the sifting of various quantities of grass seed would be desired improvements to remove from Indian-town what has long been considered an eyesore, and particularly about this time of the year, a nuisance to the general health, flourishing only a few yards from the Alexandra school. Both this and the site in Bentley street will make excellent locations for playgrounds, and they are expected to be decidedly popular, but it might be well not to delay too long in converting the alleged square into something approaching the significance attached to the title "Victoria Square."

Several instances have come to the attention of the police of North End during the last few weeks that one or more fire brands were at work in that district, but up to the present they have been unable to get track of them. Fully nine cases of incendiarism can be instanced within the last few weeks in and about North End, and there occurred last evening another.

Fire was seen about ten o'clock in the buildings of Cooman & Whippley, Paradise row. Mr. Cooman happened to be in the building at the time, and he saw flames just catching a pile of wood in one of the rear sheds and near the flames had been placed papers, so located as to cause the fire to spread to a large quantity of kindlings. He stamped out the fire, but the fire was not to be so easily controlled. Although Mr. Cooman asked the policeman to keep a watchful eye on the premises, and although the policeman had been in the building but a few minutes before, the incendiary again started a blaze on the premises. An alarm was sounded, and but for the prompt and successful work of the department greater damage would have been done. As it was, the damage amounted to about $3,200 with insurance of $1,500. The property for the most part about this district are wooden buildings, and there was great danger of several families being made homeless by the acts of the fire.

Three firemen were injured while fighting the fire, Frederick Leonard, Hazen Dibley and Fireman Woodson. They had to be carried out of the building, and one of them was unconscious for fully fifteen minutes. Leonard was choked with the wood, and when it fell with a heavy crash it was seen that the three valiant fire-fighters were beneath it. Warning was at once given and their associates worked quickly and bravely to extricate them.

When A. J. Estabrooke, William Sinclair and two other friends left the quarters of the St. John Power Boat Club at Indian-town yesterday afternoon they lit an adventure which would come very nearly costing them their lives. The fact that the freight is on about the harbor at Indian-town has caused very strong currents and when they were chocked with the wood, and when it fell with a heavy crash it was seen that the three valiant fire-fighters were beneath it. Warning was at once given and their associates worked quickly and bravely to extricate them.

The current and eddy tossed and twisted the boat about as a chip would be whirled in a swift running stream, and the four occupants were powerless to prevent it. When the craft struck the current above the pitch she plunged forward nose on, into the swirling foam below, and was almost completely lost to view for a few seconds. Although many gave up all hope of again seeing her come to the surface she brought the four occupants through miraculously and was shot across to the pulp mill side by another entry. Still there was very grave danger. Then a rowboat was seen to move from the wharf, and in it were John and Arthur Sweet, propelling their craft with dexterous strokes to the rescue of all those in peril. A line was thrown and with great difficulty the motor-launch was towed ashore, but the four occupants probably owe their lives to the courage and promptness of action of the Messrs. Sweet, for in a few minutes there is every reason to believe the disabled craft would have been carried to the falls below.

MORNING LOCALS

Jack Wren, of New Hampshire, who was arrested in Halifax on February 9, charged with the murder of James S. Hamilton, a railway construction foreman, near Hindsdale (N. H.), was taken through St. John last evening to New Hampshire, where he will stand trial for the crime. He was in the custody of Sheriff Lord, of Hindsdale, and Detective Fishery, of the Pinkerton agency.

In accordance with a telegram received from the chief of police at Smiths Falls, Ont., Deputy Chief Jenkins, Detective Killen and Policeman Clark yesterday arrested an Austin who was said to sail on the Empress last night.

The police found a window in the rear of G. Heveor's copper and brass works smashed in between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning and on investigation found this place in disorder, but it could not be ascertained if anything had been taken. Hearing in the case against Phillip O'Neill, charged with selling liquor to James Ferlie, an alleged Indian, was continued in the police court yesterday afternoon. Policarp Martin, chief of the Miqumie tribe until last year, said that the tribe did not consider Ferlie an Indian, as he lived outside the Mission and the bartender, and Ferlie were recalled. The case was adjourned until Monday afternoon.

Gypsy Simon Smith told the story of his life last night in Portland Methodist church to a very large gathering. Many were turned away through lack of accommodation. He commanded the close attention of the audience for about an hour, dwelling upon his childhood days with a tribe of gypsies, his nomad life with them, his being taken away to be educated and his finally becoming a missionary to his people. He narrated several stories of keen interest and described gypsy life in England. He concluded last evening a twelve days' mission and it was one of the most successful ever held in Portland Methodist church. About 10,000 people have attended the services. The choir last evening was a feature of the service, consisting of 100 voices, directed by W. H. Bromfield. Gypsy Smith left today for Backville and will conduct services at Mt. Allison.

The interior of the Bank of Nova Scotia building in Main street has been in the hands of decorators and painters for some little time, but is now about finished, and presents a very neat and attractive appearance. A thorough renovation was given the building.

Wm. P. McDonald, Jr., has purchased the interests of Messrs. Kane & McDonald in the property known as that of Courr Bros. in Main street, which included the large brick building at the corner of Portland and Main and the barn in the rear.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON'S LEAGUE SERIES—CROP OF 1913

CLOSE DECISIONS.

By CHRISTY MATHEWSON, of the New York Giants

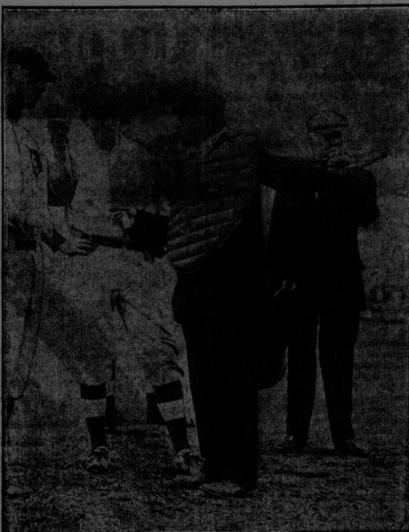

"Come on Bill, give us some of those close ones!" That is the yelp of the big leaguer. "Bill" is the umpire. Frequently the protest is justified because many a game has been lost when an umpire has called one ball that would have been determined either way. Ball players realize it, none better, and this explains why they are so prone to kick over called strikes or called balls. They know how much difference one mis-called ball may make in a game, a series, or a season.

"Why don't you quit ragging the umpires?" complains some mis-mannered fan, when he sees a knot of players around the official standing fast. "They don't quit ragging the umpires because baseball is the business of the big leaguer, and there are no successful ones who are not winners. The public has no room for a loser and, on this account, all the leading managers fight the umpires to get everything they can. There has long been a belief in the profession that if it looks like the umpire had called a close one against you, if you will kick, he will become contrite and, shade the next one, which can be decided either way in your favor to avoid the roar bound to follow two close ones against you. This does not, however, mean that some umpires are undoubtedly influenced by kicks. They never bobble a "Bank" O'Day, when he is umpiring in the National League, except to make him more pigheaded and more determined to hand you the worst of every close one for answering him.

Most umpires will admit they encounter many close decisions, which are made either way, and, when they announce their opinion, they hope it will have no vital effect on the result of the game. Umpires are the men who have to decide the world, as a race, and they desire to give each test a fair show. Some of the arguments that these men are given are as follows: "There are no close decisions," frankly asserts a "Bill" who is either out of his mind or it is either a ball or a strike. The umpire knows and calls them right. "But 'Bill' Evans, also an American League umpire, does not agree with O'Leughlin. He really admits there are close ones, which stump an umpire, and that he is liable to meet them in a close game. While Evans, as a general thing, does not kick much on a close call, he is not afraid to show his profession, once he is asked to give the umpire's angle on the game. We were all sitting around in Boston one night during the late world's series between the Giants and the Red Sox, "talking shop" as usual. It was the night before the final and deciding game.

When Evans Was Worried "Well," said Evans, "O'Leughlin has got a tough assignment for tomorrow working behind the plate in a game as important as this one. He may get some to call that could go either way, and just one decision like that in the right place would break up the game. 'Bill' will get away with it better than any one else, but you know, old boy, how you would feel, yourself, if a called ball should decide the series on which hangs about $20,000 from the players' point of view. One decision might cost the man on either club about $20,000 the difference between the winners' and the losers' share.

"There was a time early in that game last Thursday when I worked behind the bat that I was worried. Snodgrass came to the plate with two out and three men on the bases, and a chance to break up the battle right there. Neither club had scored so far. He is one of the most deliberate waiters I ever saw, and he had the count finally got around to three balls and two strikes, and it looked as if the game might depend upon how I called the next one. If Snodgrass received a base on balls on a pitch which would be called either way, and then the following Giant hitter came through with the punch that won the game, the Red Sox would hold me responsible. The fans may not notice these close ones, but the players certainly watch them and figure back.

O'Brien threw the next one over to Snodgrass a perfect strike, and he fouled the ball off to the left field bleachers. The next one was another strike, and again Snodgrass fouled it out of the reach of any fielder. It was getting trying for me, too, because I did not think O'Brien could cause a third one over under the existent strain. He is supposed to be erratic, but he had his nerve with him in the pitch on Thursday all right. He delivered another strike, and my relief was as great as that of the Red Sox when Snodgrass could get either way, and just one decision like that in the right place would break up the game. "Bill" will get away with it better than any one else, but you know, old boy, how you would feel, yourself, if a called ball should decide the series on which hangs about $20,000 from the players' point of view. If Snodgrass received a base on balls on a pitch which fourteenth, and Lapp and Coombs were retired on two pitched balls, both banging away at the first one and hitting into some fielder's hands. It looked then as if the game would run on indefinitely, but the unexpected always happens. Hartel, the little outfielder of the Athletics, was the next batter. You know how he crouches at the plate, making it difficult to pitch to him, Matty?

"Topsy" instantly came up, intending to get on the bases any way he could in an effort to upset the smooth-working Scott. He accentuated his peculiar crouch a little more than usual if anything, but Scott was not daunted and pitched away. He pitched the smooth-working Scott a little more than usual if anything, but Scott was not daunted and pitched away. He pitched the smooth-working Scott a little more than usual if anything, but Scott was not daunted and pitched away.

"Hartel" frothed down to first base, but the Sox did not make any wise kick there. The game still looked even.

"That was giving me the worst of it," Bill remarked to me. That was all. "But if the Chicago boys had known what was going to happen next they would have paid more attention to the pitcher. Snodgrass had come to the plate and promptly peeled one off for three bases. He could have easily made a home run out of the hole, it was such a long one, if it had been necessary, but a triple was all he needed to break up the game. Hartel had his hands. I put up my hand and started for the dressing room to avoid trouble. Some of them overtook me.

"I think you missed that one, 'Bill,'" said I to Brennan, as I took a few steps toward the plate to reply the return from Myers. He made no reply. In my effort to be sure to get the ball over for a strike on the next pitch, I got it too good, a little below the waist and bearing on the subject in hand that I cannot refrain from repeating it—there was one called against me in the world's series of 1911 with the Athletics that I believe cost the Giants a game. It was on the occasion when Baker jammed the ball into the right field grand stand at the Polo Grounds for his second home run in two days, and both of them practically winning the game in which they counted. I was pitching against Coombs in that battle, and going into the first half of the ninth inning, the Giants were leading 1 to 0. One man was already out, and the bases clear when Baker came to the bat. It looked as if we were going to take the game by just that shade of one run.

I had accumulated a ball and a strike on Baker. The third ball I delivered to him, I aimed to keep low on the inside, because I knew it would be suicidal to hand him one on the outside of the plate. He is naturally a right field hitter. Marquard's experience on the previous day had taught me that. The ball crossed the plate about at Baker's knees and inside. He looked to me like a strike, but some of the players certainly watch them and figure back.

O'Brien threw the next one over to Snodgrass a perfect strike, and he fouled the ball off to the left field bleachers. The next one was another strike, and again Snodgrass fouled it out of the reach of any fielder. The score was tied 3 to 3 at the end of the ninth, and the contest rolled into the extra innings with the tension increased. It was still 3 to 3 when the White Sox came to the bat for the first half of the fourteenth, and they failed to score. 'The bad end of the Athletics' batting order was up first in the last half of the

"Give me your trousers, Tom," I urged the catcher. He wringed out of them, and I slipped them on in a jiffy. They were a little short, but they did, and with my shoes unlaced and my stockings hanging down, I ran for the "A's." The Giants were still one run ahead, and Slagle, the old Cub, was on first base. Two men were out. 'De! Howard was at the bat when I walked to the box. My arm was cold. I did not dare venture any speed or curve. This Howard detected the faded-away, so I served him three in succession, and he missed them all. We won the game, and I returned to the clubhouse to compare my interrupted toilet. The missing trousers were the first thing to meet my eye, lying directly under the bench in a heap where I had thrown them out. How could he have overlooked them in my frantic search is beyond me.

"Nice work, Matty," said McGraw when he reached the clubhouse. "What was the matter?" I asked him for I had not yet learned the reason for this emergency work. "The umpire missed a close one, and it upset Crandall, and almost cost us the game," answered McGraw. "We got the first two men in the ninth all right, and Crandall had three and two on the next batter. He cased one over that looked good, but the 'ump' called it a ball. We all argued with him. It did no good. Crandall weakened, and the Cubs made two runs. There was a man on third when I yanked Crandall and sent for you. Then started to stall for time to give you a chance to dress. Devin and Terry and Bridwell were arguing with the umpire. He cased one over that looked good, but the 'ump' called it a ball. We all argued with him. It did no good. Crandall weakened, and the Cubs made two runs. There was a man on third when I yanked Crandall and sent for you. Then started to stall for time to give you a chance to dress. Devin and Terry and Bridwell were arguing with the umpire.

"I was tired of 'beating' on the close ones when they were given," answered one of the kickers. "For some time after that game, the White Sox were not much good for anything, but it is all forgotten now. That is a great thing about a Big Leaguer. Every day is a new day. You could not take long to forget. But you could not have convinced one of the Chicago team that anything besides my called ball had cost them the game in spite of the fact that errors had figured largely in the scoring of all of the previous six runs made by both sides. Even though Led had produced a clean triple, it had no connection with the outcome. Their argument was that I was a 'prover' who had called a strike, which would have meant labeling it a strike. He would have been a logic was evident in their argument. And that was in the Boston half of the ninth, however, as if the Beanseters were going to win anyway when they got men on first and third, and that night had the next batter, but the batter after him tugged the ball toward Merkle. It looked to me as if the Giants would have made the long jump to Chicago, one of the worst on the circuit in warm weather. When the club arrived in Chicago, I was sick to work with stomach trouble, and I do not believe I ever would have been laid up for the close one Johnstone gave us that made me work three extra innings in the broiling heat.

In calling close ones, I know that the umpire is never trying to favor either team. They decide the play as they see it, and, like ball players, all of them have their biases, prejudices, and their own ideas. There are some days they cannot give any of them right the same as any pitcher will when he is in a groove, and they can't get anything on the ball. If a pitcher who depends largely on his control for his effectiveness, as I do of course, is in a groove, and he has had an umpire when he is in on balls and umpires desire to see their own league supreme, too, because they must be working for winning organization. Throughout the season, most clubs try to prevent the umpires from feeling hostile toward them for fear that they may shade their decisions unintentionally. I believe in the long run, however, you get as many close ones as you lose, but some are hard to swallow when they are handed out.

"What's the use in trying to pitch, 'Bill'?" he complained to Brennan "when you don't know a strike and can't give a guy the corner?"

"The honesty of umpires is unassailable, and I have had some pretty tough rows with them too. The same fans will tell you that players will throw games for a consideration. It is foolish for some few fans to declare that baseball is not straight. I know the honesty of umpires is unassailable, and I have had some pretty tough rows with them too. The same fans will tell you that players will throw games for a consideration.

When fans try to tell you that baseball is not honest, laugh at them. There was a big howl toward the end of the world's series last year when some portions of the Boston and New York populations were sure that the series was being prolonged in order that the management might make more money. Echoes of these opinions were heard from all over the country. Of course, they were ridiculous. The players share in the proceeds of only the first four games, so they would not have any motive in prolonging the series. But there was a difference of about $1,500 this year to each man between the winner's portion per capita and the loser's. Therefore none of the boys was going to extend the series any farther than he could help and jeopardize that $1,500 at stake. But granting, for the sake of argument, that the series might have received artificial prolongation, there still remains a clincher which cannot be answered. If players share in the proceeds of only a deciding game and the place of that game was selected by the toss of a coin, as it was when the series was first started, why should any of the boys be so anxious to prolong the series? That was in the younger days when he was more easily won.

It was the easiest thing in the world for Merkle to return to first and touch the bag, thus doubling the runner, and retiring the side. That ended the inning, slightly without meaning to me. umpires desire to see their own league supreme, too, because they must be working for winning organization. Throughout the season, most clubs try to prevent the umpires from feeling hostile toward them for fear that they may shade their decisions unintentionally. I believe in the long run, however, you get as many close ones as you lose, but some are hard to swallow when they are handed out.

"What's the use in trying to pitch, 'Bill'?" he complained to Brennan "when you don't know a strike and can't give a guy the corner?"

"The honesty of umpires is unassailable, and I have had some pretty tough rows with them too. The same fans will tell you that players will throw games for a consideration. It is foolish for some few fans to declare that baseball is not straight. I know the honesty of umpires is unassailable, and I have had some pretty tough rows with them too. The same fans will tell you that players will throw games for a consideration.

When fans try to tell you that baseball is not honest, laugh at them. There was a big howl toward the end of the world's series last year when some portions of the Boston and New York populations were sure that the series was being prolonged in order that the management might make more money. Echoes of these opinions were heard from all over the country. Of course, they were ridiculous. The players share in the proceeds of only the first four games, so they would not have any motive in prolonging the series. But there was a difference of about $1,500 this year to each man between the winner's portion per capita and the loser's. Therefore none of the boys was going to extend the series any farther than he could help and jeopardize that $1,500 at stake. But granting, for the sake of argument, that the series might have received artificial prolongation, there still remains a clincher which cannot be answered. If players share in the proceeds of only a deciding game and the place of that game was selected by the toss of a coin, as it was when the series was first started, why should any of the boys be so anxious to prolong the series? That was in the younger days when he was more easily won.

It was the easiest thing in the world for Merkle to return to first and touch the bag, thus doubling the runner, and retiring the side. That ended the inning, slightly without meaning to me. Of course, the Boston club came to the plate with two men on the bases in that inning, however, as if the Beanseters were going to win anyway when they got men on first and third, and that night had the next batter, but the batter after him tugged the ball toward Merkle. It looked to me as if the Giants would have made the long jump to Chicago, one of the worst on the circuit in warm weather. When the club arrived in Chicago, I was sick to work with stomach trouble, and I do not believe I ever would have been laid up for the close one Johnstone gave us that made me work three extra innings in the broiling heat.

In calling close ones, I know that the umpire is never trying to favor either team. They decide the play as they see it, and, like ball players, all of them have their biases, prejudices, and their own ideas. There are some days they cannot give any of them right the same as any pitcher will when he is in a groove, and they can't get anything on the ball. If a pitcher who depends largely on his control for his effectiveness, as I do of course, is in a groove, and he has had an umpire when he is in on balls and

WHISKY HOLDS ITS VICTIMS

Unit Released by Wonderful Samaria Prescription

Liquor sets up inflammation and irritation of the stomach and weakens the nerves. The steady or periodical grog drinker is often forced to drink even against his will by his unnatural physical condition. Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is certain and obedient and can be given with or without the knowledge of the patient. Thousands of Canadian homes have been saved from misery and disgrace by some devoted wife, mother or daughter through the wonderful Canadian remedy. The money formerly wasted in drink has restored happiness, home comfort, education and respect to the families formerly in want and despair. Read the following, one of the numerous unadmitted testimonials received: "I can never repay you for your remedy. It is worth more than life to me. My husband has been offered liquor several times, but would not touch it. He said it had no charm for him now. My God's choice blessings ever rest on you and yours and my prayers ever. No one knows it but those who have tried it. As soon as I can I will see others that I know would give anything to stop their husbands from drink. I will give them your address. Mrs. K., Devinton, Alta. (Name withheld on request.) Now, if you know of any family needing this remedy, tell them about it. If you have any friend or relative who has formed or is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its awful clutches. Samaria Prescription is used by physicians and hospitals. A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription with booklet, giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postage in plain sealed packages to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence necessarily confidential. Write today to The Samaria Co., Dept. 60, 49 Colborne Street, Toronto, Canada. Watson's Drug Stores, King Street, Market Street and Haymarket Square.

"PAIN COMPLETELY LEFT ME"

So Says Thomas Stephenson after Taking GIN PILLS

O those who have suffered, year in and year out, from the dragging misery of Kidney Disease, anything that will relieve the pain is a blessing indeed. That is just what a well-known resident of Lechute Mills, Que., and his wife both found in GIN PILLS. Lechute Mills, P. Q. "I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes, I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box, the pain completely left me. My wife is now using GIN PILLS and finds that she has been greatly relieved of the pain over her Kidneys. I can safely recommend anyone suffering from Kidney trouble to give a fair trial to GIN PILLS. THOMAS STEPHENSON. Would you welcome such a relief? Then take GIN PILLS. They go right to the spot—ease the pain almost at once—neutralize the Uric Acid which is causing all the trouble—strengthen the kidneys so that they will be able to keep the blood pure—and quickly take away that weakness and tenderness of the back which underlines the energy and vigor of manhood and womanhood. Don't pass GIN PILLS without a trial. Every box sold on the positive guarantee that if six boxes, used according to directions, do not help you, your money will be cheerfully refunded. Cold Settled On Lungs. LEFT THEM IN VERY WEAK STATE.

A cold, however slight, should never be neglected, for if it is not treated in time it will, in all probability, lead to bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or some other serious throat or lung trouble. Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful, soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the healing virtues of the Norway Pine tree. Mr. G. G. Rhyard, Mill Village, N.S., writes: "I have had occasion to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and can say that it is certainly a good medicine. About a year ago I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and left them in a very weak state. The cough racked me terribly, and I was in despair, until a friend advised Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I took five bottles, and all it cured me of my cough, and left my lungs strong and well. Price, 25 and 50 cents. Be sure you get 'Dr. Wood's' when you ask for it. See the three pine trees, the trade mark. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THIS ILLUSTRATES THE $4.00 BOOK. (EXACT SIZE)

This Dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary or by their Successors. It has been revised and brought up to the PRESENT DATE in accordance with the best authorities from the greatest universities, and is published by the well-known SYNDICATE PUBLISHING CO. of N. Y.

General Contents of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary

Based upon Noah Webster's Dictionary, revised and brought UP TO DATE in accordance with the most recent eminent English and American authorities on spelling, pronunciation and definition, and especially designed to meet the popular demand for a CONVENIENT, complete and RELIABLE Dictionary.

It contains all the words of the English language that are not peculiarly appropriate to a Dictionary of technical terms; it gives the Spelling and Pronunciation of Plurals and indicates the use of capital and small letters in writing every word in the vocabulary. It gives the past tense and the Participles of all verbs not regularly formed by the addition of -d and -ing; the Pronunciation of each word is plainly indicated by phonetic spelling; the Definitions, comprehensive, yet concise, are accurate and reliable.

Preceding the Dictionary proper will be found a treatise on ABBREVIATIONS of the Parts of Speech and their grammatical signification. Also a discourse on the Origin, Composition and Derivation of the English Language.

The ANALYSIS of the "Principles of Grammar" will fill a long-felt want in promoting the correctness of speech, both spoken and written.

Under the head of "SIMPLIFIED SPELLING" will be found the rules as adopted by the SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD, and giving a complete list of 300 words spelled in two ways, of which the Board says "Choose the simpler spelling."

Finally is given a Complete KEY TO PRONUNCIATION.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the Spelling, Pronunciation and Definition of the

McAvity's Messenger

Spring is the great house-cleaning season. It's the time when everyone feels it is absolutely necessary to make everything brighter and newer and cleaner with the liberal use of paint. Paint is a necessity, not a luxury. Good paint is as fully important as fire insurance. Decay is slow burning—and to keep your buildings well painted insures them against decay. Paint to the house is what clothing is to the body. Paint makes the house attractive, cheerful and enduring. A periodical investment in paint is judicious economy, because it actually costs less to use good paint than to go without it. In the long run good paint really costs nothing, as it eventually saves more than it costs.

Just look over our list of house improvers, when you are ready to paint anything, whether house, barn, veranda, articles of furniture, or what not—let us serve you. We carry everything in the line to renew the appearance of almost anything paintable and shall be pleased to advise as to the right paint to use.

"HAND AND RING" PURE PREPARED PAINTS

The materials of these convenient and easily applied paints are mixed in the exact proportions and combined in the right way to make the paint give good service, and the shades are true, permanent and uniform.

If the householder, the farmer, or the mechanic wishes to "touch up" for spring himself, he cannot procure a more satisfactory liquid paint for inside or outside use than "Hand and Ring" Pure Prepared Paint. From the standpoint of economy, ease of spreading, covering power, and durability there are few just as good—none any better—and none to equal them at the price.

Furnished in thirty attractive popular shades, put up in easy-to-open cans. We have one uniform price except for Window Blind Green and certain Reds in which there is a moderate advance.

Upon request we will mail you color card showing shades with suitable trimmers kept in stock.

BLUE LABEL READY MIXED HOUSE PAINTS

This paint while not to be compared with our Hand and Ring Pure Prepared Paints, costs considerably less and are best value for the money, where a low priced paint would answer for the work intended. It dries hard with a good gloss, yet possesses enough elasticity to prevent peeling or cracking.

Furnished in seventeen (17) attractive shades, also inside and outside white.

Size Cans	1 qt.	1 gal.	5 gal.
Each	50c.	55c.	$1.60 $7.75

"CROWN AND ANCHOR" HOUSE, ROOF AND BARN PAINT

A cheap but very durable paint for houses, barns, bridges, roofs, verandas, etc. None better for the price. Dries in 8 to 12 hours with a fine appearance. Easy to work with and ready for use after having been well stirred.

Size Cans	1 qt.	1 gal.
Each	$1.25

Also put up in tubs and barrels, price according to quantity.

"HAND AND RING" FLOOR PAINTS

All housekeepers know that floors are the hardest thing to keep in good condition. But put on a coat of Hand and Ring Floor Paints and you will have the brightest looking, the most easily cleaned and the best wearing surface possible to have. They dry over night with a hard, smooth, glossy surface that will stand foot friction and may be scrubbed or washed without injury.

These Floor Paints may also be used on outside floors, verandas, steps, porches, board walks, etc. Their application preserves the wood and saves many a repair bill.

Furnished in seven selected shades and sold at a uniform price. See color card.

Size Cans	1 qt.	1 gal.
Each	$1.05

JAP-A-LAC FLOOR AND PORCH ENAMEL

JEFFERY'S PATENT MARINE GLUES AND CEMENTS

These Marine Glues are the best known product of their kind, and are specified and used by the United States navy department and many of the governments of the old world, also the large steamship lines. Guaranteed to be waterproof. Their peculiar properties are those of flexibility and durability; while they become soft and pliant under heat, they still retain their adhesion to timber, fibre, etc., and are insoluble in water. They do not stick to the feet in hot weather.

Jeffery's Marine Glues are made in various shades and for different uses.

No. 1 is for paying the deck and hull seams of yachts, launches and motor boats. No. 2 is more particularly for use on the decks of ships and all classes of merchant vessels. No. 7, soft quality, is for waterproofing canvas, covering decks, tops of cabins, pilot houses, canvas boats and canoes. No. 10 is especially prepared for hollow spars; also used for coating the inside of battery boxes. It insulating, innocuous, antiseptic and very tenacious.

McAVITY'S BATH ENAMEL

This is a high grade American Bath Enamel which we can recommend to give the best of service and to be superior to any other for the purpose. It will resist the action of hot water and steam, preserving a beautiful, clean, white, smooth surface that dries glossy and sets hard.

Imperial 1/2 pint Cans Each 35c.

FLAT-TONE

This is not a Kalsomine or powder, but a special Liquid Enamel made to give that good, soft, velvety flat effect in finishing. It is a satisfactory wall finish that gives richness and depth of tone and permits of repeated washing and cleaning without injury. It does not streak when applied with a wide wall or Kalsomine brush.

A quart will cover approximately eighty square feet of surface, two coats.

Furnished in thirteen (13) shades and white.

Size Cans	1 qt.	1 gal.
Each	75c. $1.50 $2.85

COLD WATER PASTE POWDER

This paste is in powder form and is used for hanging wall papers, burials and will adhere to wood and metal. Paperhangers use large quantities of this paste and find it much cheaper and better than flour or any other paper paste on the market. Just put the powder in a pail, add cold water and stir a few minutes. It is then ready for use.

In papering apply paste on paper and you will find that the paper can be easily moved about on the wall and it will not spilt the most delicate papers.

Sold in bulk. Two pounds will make a pail of paste.

Per Pound	10c.

"MURALO," THE SANITARY WALL COATING

Muralo has replaced wall paper in many homes not merely because of the richness of color and its adaptability to color harmonies but primarily because of its durability, its economy, its ease of application and its sanitary properties. The last is the most important.

Muralo is dry powder form, scientifically prepared and when mixed with water (full directions on package) it is ready for the walls or ceiling. It is far superior to kalsomine, as it lasts longer, hardens with age

GIRL WORKS WAY ROUND WORLD TO WIN $5,000 BET

Jack London's Wager Taken up For Her by Hilda Gilbert DAUGHTER OF RICH MAN

Has Sung in Paris Cafes and Been Waitress in London Tea-shop, Acted in "The Miracle" and Managed a Fashionable Beauty Parlor

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, March 27.—It is beginning to look as if that adventurous novelist, Jack London, would be $5,000 in pocket before many months have passed, by winning an extraordinary bet when he made a little more than two years ago, when he staked the money on the proposal that Mrs. Hilda Gilbert could succeed in working her way round the world without any money except what she could earn on the way.

Hilda Gilbert, Who is Working Her Way Round the World to Win a $5,000 Bet For Jack London

Mrs. Hilda Gilbert, who is now on the point of leaving for South Africa, after nearly two years of surprising experiences in this country and on the continent, is a dainty little woman with a profusion of thick red hair, provoking gray eyes, a peach and cream complexion and a trim figure.

She was born in Buffalo, New York, where her father, C. H. Myers, is a wealthy manufacturer, and after marrying in haste at the age of fourteen, she spent at leisure and was divorced four years afterward. At nineteen, she heard the west a-calling, and she went to California, and then to the home of the London at Wake Robin Lodge. She was their guest for two months in the summer of 1910, and then was laid the wager which sent this pretty and gritty girl off on such an enterprise as perhaps no woman ever embarked on before.

The Terms

"The understanding was," said Mrs. Gilbert, "that I was to start with money enough to take me across the ocean and leave me a few dollars after I got there, and that after that it would be up to me. I was to work my way through Europe, South Africa, Australia, Japan and the Philippines, and if I succeeded in doing so, within three years from the time of starting, Mr. London was to win $5,000. My reward? Well, it's a wonderful experience, of course, and I may write a book about it after it's all over, and I shouldn't be surprised, either, if, in case I won, Mr. London handed a generous proportion of his winnings over me. Help from my father in case of need? No, there was never any chance of that, for my father disapproves of the whole thing too much to come to my aid, however great a hole I might get in, and I have been in some fairly deep ones since I started on my trip."

So off Mrs. Gilbert sailed on the Lusitania on January 5, 1911, and since that time she has done many strange things for the sake of bread and butter. She has sung, masked, accompanying herself on the mandolin, in the Paris cafes; she has been a waitress in a London city tea-shop; she has been a nun in "The Miracle" and the manageress of a beauty parlor in Bond street, motored through Denmark, Germany and Austria as companion to a wealthy Englishwoman, lived "on the land" in a communist colony, told funny stories before a royal prince, posed for artists, studied Persian manuscripts at the British Museum, written short stories and incidentally found time to perpetrate a novel and get it accepted by an English publisher who already has paid a substantial advance royalty.

More than once, however, as you may imagine, she has had to deal with "uncle," more than one wrathful landlady has held up her luggage in lieu of payment that was not forthcoming, and more than once she has had no more than a vague idea where her next meal was coming from, yet when I talked with her, the other day, she was very as cocky as a sparrow, though she is not exactly rolling in wealth, and has several more continents to conquer before she can claim to have won Jack London's wager for him.

When she landed in the British metropolis on January 18, 1911, she had $20 in her possession, so she told her baby to drive to the Hotel Cecil and there received him with half a crown, thus reducing her available capital to about $1.50, a sum which would scarcely cover the rent of her room at the "Cecil" for one day. This hostility, as so doubt you know, is one of the best in London, and Mrs. Gilbert's action in putting up there on a cash capital of less than $2 is a typical piece of audacity on her part, which she explained, to some extent, in telling about it, by the fact that she was counting on getting a music-hall engagement here just as soon as she applied for one. That fond delusion vanished, however, before many hours had passed.

Then, all of a sudden she found herself in Easy street. A friend in America who had owed her $50 forwarded a money order for that amount, which paid her hotel bill, and by the merest accident—a tumble downstairs—she made the acquaintance of a well-to-do Englishwoman who was also staying at the hotel and who, on being told the story of Jack London's wager, promptly engaged her as her companion on a motor tour on the continent. The salary of $25 a week and expenses commended itself highly to Mrs. Gilbert and the two set off forthwith, travelling in the Englishwoman's car and visiting Stockholm, Berlin, Vienna and Brussels, where they parted company.

In Paris Cafes

The Englishwoman's social engagements obliged her to return to England and she invited her "companion" to come with her, but Mrs. Gilbert's contract called for some real work on the continent and she did not feel that she had done any so far. Paris struck her as a likely field for a scheme she had in mind, so to the gay city she went. She knows how to coax some highly agreeable music out of a mandolin, so she conceived the idea of warbling and playing to the patrons of some of the fashionable Paris cafes. To make a thing more piquant she wore a mask, "not one of those ugly black dominoes," she explained candidly, "but one of the silk one," and she hid her gorgeous tawny hair "very brain-storm," to use her own expression. For the first night she wore an ordinary evening dress and had a little page-boy, dressed as an East Indian, to take any money that might be forthcoming.

Less conservative than the London restaurant proprietors proved later, the Parisians raised no objection to her scheme, and she sang first at Maxim's then at the Cafe de Paris, and afterward at the Bal Tabarin and other resorts of the great and the half-world. She came and went in a taxi, had only one disagreeable adventure in the three weeks she kept the thing up and made quite a lot of money. The not wholly agreeable adventure occurred when, one night at the Bal Tabarin, a man tried to tear off her mask, but the attendants at the place fell upon him, and the sympathetic spectators patronized her little "East Indian's" tambourine gallantly by way of making it up to her, so she drove home in triumph.

On another evening, like Cinderella, she left one of her slippers behind her, a Russian baron, who was entertaining a choice company at the Cafe de Paris, having expressed a desire to possess it. Having gratified his wish, he sweetened the collection to the extent of a thousand franc note, which is quite a fair price for one slipper. At that rate they would be $400 a pair.

Forgetful of her previous experience with British conservatism, and flushed with her Paris triumphs, she thought she could conquer the smart restaurants of London as effectively as she had those of Paris, so back she came to London. She had an idea that she could do well, if not by playing and singing, then by selling the flowers of the metropolis as a fearsome lot, but the brilliant scheme proved as complete a fiasco as her former one, appearing at the London halls had done.

The managers of the Savoy and the Carlton to one extent or another, for the feminine flower-sellers of the metropolis are a fearsome lot, but the brilliant scheme proved as complete a fiasco as her former one, appearing at the London halls had done.

A GREAT BELIEVER IN "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Well Known Ontario Merchant Has Faith Because "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

MR. JAMES DOBSON

Broms, Ont., March 1st, 1912. "Fruit-a-tives has made a complete cure in my case of Rheumatism, that had at least five years standing, before I commenced the treatment. The trouble was principally in my right hip and shoulder, the pain from it was almost unendurable. Not being able to sleep on that side, if I chanced to turn on my right side while asleep, the pain would immediately awaken me. This kept up until I started taking "Fruit-a-tives." I started by taking one or two tablets with a large glass of water, in the morning before breakfast and experienced pronounced relief very shortly. After a continued treatment for about six months, I was cured and am now in first class health. This, I attribute to my persistent use of "Fruit-a-tives" and I heartily recommend your remedy to any Rheumatic sufferers."

position uncomfortably near her portals. The next few months, (it was now August, 1911), proved the toughest time she has encountered since she set out to beat her way round the world. Once, just when things seemed to be getting impossible, and then her landlady, already was in possession of her trunk, she saved the situation by writing and selling three short stories for her advance, which is a feat in itself, and she made several attempts to be a newspaper woman without landing a job. Meanwhile she prevented the wolf from getting in for a while by posing for a poster article, (one of the runs of "lar" three sheets" in the tube, which advertised a compound used in every household, immortals her figure, and to some extent, her lieutenants) and about this time, when Dostock advertised for a girl to learn lion taming, Hilda Gilbert answered the advertisement, but never received any reply.

"Would you really have tamed lions?" I demanded when she told about this. "I would have tried," was the matter-of-fact reply.

A Chorus Girl

It was in December of last year that she tried for a part in the chorus of Reinhardt's "Miracle," then being staged at the London "Olympic," and secured it. That colossal production, which played to empty benches for the first few weeks, eventually sought on and ran until March, so for twelve weeks this plucky little woman was a demure little nun at a salary of $2.50 a week. Incidentally she made a friend of one of the men concerned in the production, and that is how she came to be, next, a waitress at $3.25 a week in a London tea-shop. During the run of the "Miracle," by the way, an idea for a novel music hall dance, with Persian effects had occurred to this quick-witted little lady, and immediately she was free she commenced unwinding the many yards of red tape which have to be loosened before one can gain admission to the oriental room of the British Museum, and, once ensconced there, began a lengthy study of Persian illuminated manuscripts in connection with her idea.

She got through 150 of them before she could conquer the smart restaurants of London as effectively as she had those of Paris, so back she came to London. She had an idea that she could do well, if not by playing and singing, then by selling the flowers of the metropolis as a fearsome lot, but the brilliant scheme proved as complete a fiasco as her former one, appearing at the London halls had done.

don street, under the management of Madame August Strindberg, the widow of a Swedish novelist, and attractive "turns" were in demand there. Mrs. Gilbert's friend suggested that she might tell stories for the delectation of the aristocratic and bohemian patrons of the Golden Call. At her first appearance she had an exalted auditor in the person of Prince Arthur of Connaught. I asked Mrs. Gilbert how the prince seemed to enjoy her stories. "He looked extremely bored all the time," was her naive reply. On another evening, the Balkan peace delegates formed a part of the audience at the cabaret.

It was immediately at the close of her engagement at "The Cave of the Golden Call" that she adopted yet another role, and "glad handed" prospective customers for a Bond street beauty artist. A bit later, after a short period of posing for Sig-ahow, a Norwegian artist, and still another period when the wolf got unpleasantly neighborly, she went down to Gloucestershire and lived "on the land" with a queer colony of Tolstoyans who have been there for thirteen years, living according to the creed of the Russian teacher, under the high priestship of a leonine student of Hegel, who declares that all the recognized theories of astronomy are without foundation and is writing a big book to prove it.

As present it looks as if Mrs. Gilbert really were going to succeed with her music-hall act and she is rather dependent on it to take her to South Africa, if all else fails, she may pocket her pride again, become a "seamstress" pro tem and apply for what is known as an "assisted passage" to the Cape, for she is going to get there and to Australia, Japan and the Philippines, too.

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN PLAYGROUNDS WORK

Executive Decides to Equip Neighborhood Playgrounds on Both Sides of Harbor

At a meeting of the executive of the Playgrounds Association last evening it was decided to equip neighborhood playgrounds at the Alexanders and Bentley street schools for the coming summer holidays and to equip a playground in Carleton if a suitable site can be secured. A committee will ask the city council to grant a portion of the money for the rear of the city hall, for that purpose.

Walter C. Allison reported that he had had an excellent success over the Rock wood field and progress was being made in the matter of a report on drainage of that field.

An offer of the Star theatre in Main street to give a benefit for the North End playgrounds was accepted, the details to be worked out with J. N. Golding.

Mr. Allison reported a donation of $50 from R. Ernest Smith.

The matter of equipping the North End playgrounds was placed in the hands of Walter C. Allison, Geo. E. Day, R. J. Walsh, F. delo, Clemens and the secretary.

Those present at the meeting were these five and M. E. Agar, Walter H. Golding, Mrs. E. A. Jackson Smith, Miss Grace Leavitt and Miss Murray, the playground instructor. The latter submitted the following program for the High school assembly hall:

Monday afternoon—Teacher training (Theory of playground work and of stories, organized play and folk games).

Monday evening—Employed girls.

Tuesday afternoon—Class of children, in playground games, folk dances and stories.

Tuesday evening—High school girls.

Wednesday afternoon—Teacher training.

Wednesday evening—Miss Pitt's class in camp-fire work.

Thursday afternoon—Teacher training.

Thursday evening—Employed girls.

Friday afternoon—Class of children.

Friday evening—High school girls' camp-fire.

VALUABLE FRESCOS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

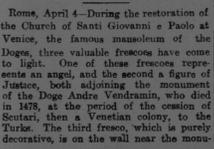

Rome, April 4.—During the restoration of the Church of Santi Giovanni e Paolo at Venice, the famous mausoleum of the Doge, three valuable frescoes have come to light. One of these frescoes represents an angel, and the second a figure of Justice, both adjoining the monument of the Doge Andre Vendramin, who died in 1473, at the period of the cession of Scutari, then a Venetian colony, to the Turks. The third fresco, which is purely decorative, is on the wall near the monument of the Doge Barro Corner, who died in 1388.

A similar discovery of frescoes, attributed to Fra Angelico, has been made during the alterations in the chapel of Pope Nicholas V. in the Vatican, a chapel decorated by that artist.

In Salonika in the historic church of St. Demetrius, the patron-saint of that city has been found a fresco of a saint, dating from the fifteenth century. The Turks captured Salonika from the Venetians in 1493. There are also inscriptions, arranged in twenty-one squares. These inscriptions record the movable feasts of the years 1471 to 1492.

Nature knows no pause in progress and development, and attaches her curse on all inaction.—Goethe.

Worn Out by Housework

Housework is monotonous and tiresome, the more tiresome because it is so monotonous. Doing the same thing over and over again day in and day out is what breaks down the nervous system.

And housework is hard work. Let any man do a Monday's wash or a Friday's sweeping, in addition to the other duties which crowd themselves into every day, and then ask him if he is tired.

But most women work away without murmur or complaint, so long as health is good. It is only when the system breaks down under constant and monotonous strain that life becomes well-nigh unbearable.

With the blood thin and watery, the nerves become feeble and starved, and cry out with terrible neuralgic headaches, or sciatic rheumatism, or weakness which almost equals helplessness.

With the delicate nerves jangled out of tune, little things annoy and irritate one; slight overexertion or excitement brings sleepless nights, with dark forebodings for the future. In some cases irritability reaches such a pitch as to make one think of insanity.

What is to be done? A trip abroad or a long rest in a sanitarium! For the rich this is possible, but the great majority of mothers must fight it out in their own homes, and for
