FARMING IN CHINA

Survey Shows 212,000,000 Acres Under Cultivation. A remarkable development of interior agriculture in China is shown by a special study just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture. China now has more than 69,000,000 farmers, who with their families must comprise eighty to ninety per cent. of the total population, the Department says. Of a total area of more than 2,000,000,000 acres of land, approximately 212,000,000 acres are reported as under cultivation. This cultivated acreage is divided into 43,000 acres of wet lands used chiefly for rice production; 133,000,000 acres of dry lands, and 16,000,000 acres of garden lands and fruit orchards, the department investigation shows.

Hon. PHILIP WHITWELL WILSON TO LECTURE HERE ON CHAUTAUQU PROGRAM

The valuable work of Mr. Wilson has been brought to attention of the world through his articles that are constantly featured in the English and American magazines, journals, and newspapers. He is regarded as a benefactor of the British people since he sets forth clearly in these articles the British views of many world problems and makes clear to the rest of the world the facts in many of Britain's serious and pressing problems. These articles have dealt with Ireland, India, Egypt, the Mohammedan peoples, the Near East, and some of Britain's internal problems as well. These articles have appeared, of late, in the New York Times, the New York World, the New York Tribune, The World's Work, the Review of Reviews, the North American Review, the Outlook, Current Opinion, the Weekly Review, and other journals.

We count it a distinctive gain to be able to have so distinguished and gifted a man from England visit your community and give you some interesting information concerning the state of affairs in Europe and present, for our thought and attention, some of the problems that confront the British Empire, in which the United States and Canada have an especial interest.

We copy the following biographical data from the "British Who's Who": "Mr. Philip Whitwell Wilson was born at Kendal, England, in 1875. On his father's side he has a long line of Quaker forebears. His mother was Miss Bagster, of the family which published the Bagster Bibles. At the University of Cambridge Mr. Wilson was a Scholar of Clare College, an Honorary member in Mathematics, the Editor of the "Gleaner" (the Undergraduates Magazine founded by Sir Owen Seaman and Rudolph Lehmann, of Parliament), and President of the Union Society, which is the club and debating forum for the University. He joined the staff of the London Daily News, of which newspaper he was successively Assistant Editor, Parliamentary Correspondent and Special Correspondent in the United States. At the age of thirty he entered the House of Commons as Member of Parliament for a London constituency. He has brilliantly illuminated the dates fixed for the fetes are the Sundays, June 3, June 17, July 15, and August 5, and Saturday, June 30.

The President of the Republic and the Government have given their patronage, an Indian chief, together with certain stone tablets bearing hieroglyphs, has been exhumed at a ranch near Winnemucca. The University of Nevada will endeavor to decipher the writing on the tablets.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermented Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive chlochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious nervous ailments. Ferments and stews, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomachic acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated rigidity of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder form) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is enjoyed by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

TO CONTROL EPIDEMICS.

France Combats Spread of Disease by Waterways.

Paris, June 7.—(By mail)—At the sixth session of the League of Nations Health Committee, which concluded in Paris yesterday, a convention was drafted for the sanitary control of inland waterways, which is intended for further action by the members of the organizations represented on the joint sub-committee.

It was pointed out that the war, by creating several new states and aggravating economic and sanitary conditions over a large part of Europe, had made the sanitary obligations of riparian states an international problem of considerable importance.

The joint sub-committee was appointed by the Transit and Health Committees of the League last January to gather data which might form the technical basis for conversations between the states concerned for the purpose of establishing a regime that would prevent the spread of epidemics along waterways, without interfering with trade and travel.

APPLICATION DISMISSED.

Irish Republicans in Australia Lose Appeal.

London, June 2.—(By mail)—A cable to the Times from its Melbourne correspondent says: The High Court has dismissed the application of the Irish Republican Party for an injunction to restrain the Federal Board from conducting deportation proceedings.

The decision establishes the right of the Commonwealth, under the Immigration Act, to deport a person who, having no disqualifications when admitted, had rendered himself liable to punishment subsequently by manifesting revolutionary tendencies.

Mr. Kelly and Father O'Flanagan, Irish Republicans, were called upon, on Tuesday, to support their application for an injunction to restrain the Federal Board from conducting deportation proceedings.

The decision was given at a stand erected near the station and a guard of honor was present. Their Excellencies were given a drive around the town. They left in the evening on their trip towards the border town.

Yesterday morning the party was at Deber Junction, where Lady Byng visited the wives of soldiers settled in the district. This was the first time the wife of a Governor-General had visited that part of the country.

A BETTER TONE IN THE WEST.

Hon. Mr. Crerar, in discussing conditions in the prairie provinces, recently told an interviewer that no one should fail to note the fact that the West is fundamentally sound, and he went on to say that much depended upon real Canadians united in framing public policies, as the prospects of eastern manufacturers depended very greatly upon a prosperous West.

A student of western conditions who has covered much territory in the prairie provinces since Mr. Crerar was heard from believes that a term for better has now definitely come.

Some westerners who dispute this view, but perhaps they are too close to their own troubles to indulge in the long survey which is more promising.

A correspondent who has been a student of western conditions on the ground forms the conclusion that the depression reached its lowest level last fall and last winter, and he finds that the promise of an excellent harvest this year has already greatly changed a feeling of despondency and introduced in many quarters at least a tendency toward buoyant hope, which in itself is a great gain.

It is said on the authority of an official of the Dominion Geological Survey that there is coal enough in Alberta alone to supply the needs of all Canada at the present rate of consumption for 500 years, and an increasing use of Canadian coal is recognized as one of Canada's necessities. Beyond the coal there are untapped reservoirs of gas and petroleum, and of many other natural resources.

The agricultural surveys show that there is a great stretch in the northern parts of the three prairie provinces which is suitable for cattle raising, and it is predicted by the Alberta Department of Agriculture that the number of cattle raised in this region will increase rapidly until the day comes when the West will be furnishing more cattle than are at present produced in the whole of the United States.

These westerners look forward confidently to a day when they will be producing great quantities of corn in addition to the present cereals.

The student of western conditions reminds us how badly the West has been hit during recent years, saying that the period from 1917 to 1921 was disastrous from a crop standpoint, and that even 1922 was a poor year in sections that ordinarily produced wealth on top of the bad crops came the tumble in grain prices, while in many cases the expenses of production were one hundred per cent greater than in former years. In Alberta while the output of creamery butter was increased to more than 15,000,000 pounds in 1922 the price realized was a million dollars less than was paid for some 12,000,000 pounds in 1919. We in the Maritime Provinces can appreciate what was meant by the decline in the average value of horses in Saskatchewan from $125 in 1917 to $75 between 1919 and 1922, while in the same period the price of sheep fell from $10 to $4, other cattle from $25 to $23, and swine from $27 to $14.

The West, according to Mr. Crerar, acted on the assumption that good crops and high prices would both continue. He has said that in the few years which went before the lean ones, the West like the rest of Canada indulged in both foolish optimism and extravagance. That is to say, in a good many cases, an extravagant style of living was undertaken, and obligations were incurred which could only be met if high prices and rich crop years were to continue. The thoughtful westerner, even the man who believes that a definite turn for the better has come, does not expect that one good crop year will cure all the present evils. Public men in the West have repeatedly said of late that both prudence and good judgment, and the exercise of the most careful economy will be necessary for some time if the prairie country is to get back to its old stride. Having had a succession of bad years, the westerners are hoping for several good ones in succession. The western tone is already definitely better, and if this year's crop equals present expectations a considerable part at least of the present load of indebtedness will be liquidated and the western country will experience a great measure of relief and a growing confidence which in themselves will be invaluable.

THE SLEIGHST INTENTION OF SELLING THE BRITISH WEST INDIES OR ANY PART OF THEM FOR THE PURPOSE OF GETTING BRITAIN'S DEBT TO THE UNITED STATES OR FOR ANY OTHER PURPOSE.

This should definitely dispose of the idea even among those Americans who seem not to understand the nature of the British Empire and who, moreover, have not yet realized that payment of the British debt has been satisfactorily arranged and that America, who understand Britain's financial condition, never had any doubt as to the safety of the loan.

It should be known to the well-informed American that British finance during and after the war was one of the most wonderful features of the period of trouble. Such men thoroughly realize that no part of the British Empire is in the market or is ever likely to be. They also realize that the debt which has been the subject of so much discussion is a security but concerning which they have no great reason for satisfaction because of the manner in which it was incurred. Even after the United States entered the war Britain was financing some of its allies who could not fight in the United States, and that for the financial as well as the military support Britain was giving those nations the whole allied cause must have collapsed. The British could not have borrowed immense sums in the United States, but while doing so they loaned little or nothing to their allies who were unable to offer security satisfactory to American financial interests.

These are the considerations which have always appealed to well informed bankers in the United States, and to many other leaders of thought who recognized, before and after American participation, the extent of the load which Great Britain was carrying for herself and for civilization at large.

And these are considerations which should put an end to American gossip of the character to which the British Prime Minister has given an official denial which should be wholly unnecessary at this day and which should have been unnecessary even when Lloyd George dealt with the same subject nearly three years ago.

SENSATIONAL MOVIES.

A writer in The London (Eng.) News makes merry with the American movies as pictured by the films, in a large country surrounded entirely by sin and sentiment.

"It is inhabited in the east by unscrupulous but enormously successful business men, who devote their nights to squandering in cabarets the ill-gotten gains of the day before. In the west 'bad men' rob stage coaches and mail trains, and spend a good deal of time rolling on the ground in attempts to gouge each other's eyes out. The north is peopled by bearded scoundrels, who go there to escape from the law, to start mining claims, and to menace lonely girls, snowbound in log cabins. The south is notable for its best shows among other things, and has no particular vice—they are just bad."

It is a good bit of humor, combined with some truth, but the features described are not peculiar to the movies or to the United States. The sensational melodrama was popular long before moving pictures were invented, and the best shows among other things, and are, of the same kind, with brave heroes, spotless heroines, villains who are redeeming, stern stern men who drive rebellious daughters out into the night, bad uncles who try to strangle their nephews, and half-bred nephews, and stirring fights in which good finally triumphs over evil.

The movies have given a new impetus to this kind of story, owing to the greater scope they afforded for portraiture of sin and crime and half-bred adventures. Young girls could be taken to railway tracks and rescued just as the train thundered over the rails, automobiles could race with locomotives and airships, well-mounted cowboys and cowgirls could chase thieves over miles of western roads and trails. But the central idea is the same as over, and if the pictures are sometimes crude the moral is usually good, and it is encouraging to find that the sympathies of the spectator are usually on the right side. The immoral pictures are the results, not of popular demand, but of the stupidity and vulgarity of some of those who control the business. It is only fair to say that there are other shows whose ideas are sound and intelligent.

BELIEVE WORLD LIKE SHELL.

(Ottawa Journal)

The savages of the Solomon Islands believe the world is a coconut shell of enormous dimensions, at the top of which is a single aperture communicating with the upper air, where humans beings dwell. At the very bottom of the imaginary shell is a stem gradually tapering to a point, which represents the beginning of all things. This point is a spirit or demon, without human form, whose name is "Roet of All Existence." By him the entire fabric of creation is sustained.

In the interior of the coconut shell, also at its very bottom, lives a female demon. So narrow is the space into which she is crowded that she is obliged to sit forever with knees and chin touching. Her name is "The Very Beginning," and from her are sprung numerous spirits. They inhabit five different floors, into which the great coconut is divided. From certain of these spirits mankind is descended.

AN ANNAPOLIS VALLEY FARMER.

And whip the tall hay into airy foam. A robin gorges on the lawn, and bees Through goldenrod and asters plunder through the room.

The empty barrels in the orchard lie Beneath rich branches lending with the fruit.

The London market's strange, the price is high,

The farmer drives a bargain hard, and astute,

The money in, he boards a train for town

And takes his wife and children for a treat,

Rejoices in the noise, a frolicish clown

At a cheap theatre, and the crowded street.

Back home again where bloody maps splash

The mountain flanks and only spruce

And later billiards in blind fury lash

Drifts higher than the dykes, and then

Spring's tale

Is told by buds that break from barren boughs

And meadow violets meeting April rain.

The farmer sows and cultivates and plows

His only dream to reach the town again.

MONTREAL MAN HELD IN BOSTON.

Said to Have Confessed to Stealing of Bonds in Connecticut.

Boston, July 6.—John A. Deyoung, claiming Montreal as his home, and Charles Belbin of the field, arrested on Wednesday night were held in $10,000 each in the municipal court yesterday for a hearing on July 11 on charges of larceny and receiving stolen property.

In their possession were found two $10,000 New York Central Railroad bonds said to be part of the loot resulting from the burglary at Broad Brook, Conn., about a month ago.

The police said Deyoung had confessed that he and two other men broke into the store after stealing an automobile in Hartford, filled the car with goods, took three $1,000 bonds and drove off pursued by a sheriff and posse. Shots were fired at the car, Deyoung said, and it caught fire. He and his companions escaped in the woods, where he lost one of the bonds.

Belbin told the police that Deyoung had offered him $100 if he would sell one of the bonds.

The police said that warrants would be sought in the federal court for Deyoung.

CHEAP FIRE ALARMS.

Noise of Pictures Falling Awakened Families.

London, June 8.—(By Mail)—At the Professional Fire Brigades Association conference, which was continued at Crofton yesterday, Chief Officer W. J. Dane, of Crofton, the president, said that as a cheap device fire alarm pictures hung with cords were easily first in the field. A paper on lightning in connection with wireless was contributed by Mr. E. E. Moore, who said that wireless apparatus required no more protection from lightning than did the ordinary telephone that was connected to overhead lines. Indoor aerial frames added no more risk than the ordinary bell wiring which ran through a house.

COUPLE CHARGE POLICEMAN WITH STREET ATTACK.

Enright Orders Silence on Brooklyn Man's Story That He and Wife were Clubbed Without Cause.

New York, July 6.—Mystery which enveloped the case was not to be dispelled until the police said they cannot at present unravel surrounds an assault made recently on Mrs. Mary Hojnacki of 147 Fifty-fifth Street Brooklyn, and her husband, William J. Hojnacki, of 125 Greenpoint Avenue, Long Island City, waiting for trolley car.

Mr. and Mrs. Hojnacki was arrested in Long Island City court on the charge of felonious assault and released on $2,000 bail for hearing.

Mrs. Hojnacki is in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and serious gashes about the head, where, it is said, she was struck four times by the officer's club. Her husband, William Hojnacki was struck once, according to his story, and was prevented from raising his wife by the mocking revolver of Darcy.

While Mrs. Hojnacki's condition was said to be critical, Dr. Samuel Berkow, who is attending her, said he expected she would recover.

Police Commissioner Enright gave orders that the case was not to be discussed and Darcy refused to tell even William Groat, Assistant District Attorney of Queens, who had taken Hojnacki to the police station.

The only fact the police would verify is that Police Surgeon Francis J. Murray examined Darcy after the assault and declared him too much intoxicated for duty.

With his head still ringing from the blows which he checked held together by court plaster, Hojnacki sat in his little home and wondered at the assault.

"We had been standing perhaps ten minutes at the corner," he said, "when Sergeant Zinder would establish Darcy, accompanied by another man came up. I paid no attention as I was waiting for a trolley car, and then he drew his club and struck my wife. One, two, three, four times."

"What did you do? Didn't he say anything before striking your wife?"

"No, nothing," he said.

"Nothing, just struck. I said: 'Here what do you mean by striking my wife?' Then he hit me—pointing to my chest, he drew his gun. I yelled, and a sergeant and patrolman came and took me away."

Darcy, away, preferred the charges on which Deputy Inspector Forman, last night, was arrested, and the patrolman was in plain clothes and was said to be on his vacation.

The story according to Hojnacki, occurred shortly after midnight as he was returning from a visit to his father, who lives in the Spanish territory of Rio de Oro, and close to the Atlantic Coast. The other alternative, a fight between the Italian territory of Tripoli, would suffer from the same defect of possible inaccuracy.

The track now being seriously considered would include the railway already constructed from Onan to Colomb-Béchar to the north, and the alternative of a line through Mauritania to Senegal would be the disadvantageous route of seven millions, and the territory of Rio de Oro, and close to the Atlantic Coast. The other alternative, a fight between the Italian territory of Tripoli, would suffer from the same defect of possible inaccuracy.

LAWYERS CANCELED GAIN TO AMERICAN DIET.

Osteopath Advises Return to Natural Food and Exercise—Says Middle Age Should Not be Awaited to Look for Symptoms.

New York, July 6.—The prevalence of cancer in this country is due to American cooking and dieting, according to Dr. R. D. Emery, who addressed 2,000 osteopaths at the opening session of the convention of the American Osteopathic Association in the Waldorf-Astoria. Citing insurance statistics showing that the mortality for cancer was increasing faster than the cancer death rate, he said that this indicated the necessity of not waiting until middle or old age to look for the symptoms of the malady.

"We find that the native tribes, such as the Indian and the Eskimo, do not have cancer," he said. "Remove the natives from their habitat, accustom them to a diet, lack of exercise and vitiated air, and their vitality is lessened. As a result there is stagnation of the blood, and corresponding influences. Acidosis develops and irritation of the tissues result. Then follows susceptibility to cancer."

"If we are to eliminate the cancer evil we must get back to natural food and diet as well as rational exercise. The time to attack the cancer problem is in the baby, teaching the growing child the value of correct living. The evils of cancer are cooking, refining and adulteration."

In his address to the delegates, representative of the United States and Canada, Dr. George W. Goode of Boston, president of the association, said that it was not commonly known among the laymen that osteopaths in this State took precisely the same medical examination as the physician of the homeopathic or allopathic schools when applying for a license. The examining board recognized neither individuals nor schools, he said.

The speakers were Dr. John H. Bailey, Dr. S. C. Roebuck of Chicago, Dr. L. M. Bush of New York and Dr. Edward B. Hart, president of the Osteopathic Society of New York.

The convention will continue through the week with morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

RAILWAY PLANNED TO CROSS SAHARA.

Air Survey to Be Made From Colomb-Béchar to Niger Bend.

Paris, June 4.—(By Mail)—A plan for a railway across the Sahara which has been the subject of prolonged controversy, seems likely shortly to come before the Chamber of Deputies in a form suitable for practical discussion. The project, which has been the subject of a long running from Onan through the middle of the desert to the Niger Bend.

Arguments in favor of this route are numerous. As the railway is intended for military use, the alternative of a line through Mauritania to Senegal would be the disadvantageous route of seven millions, and the territory of Rio de Oro, and close to the Atlantic Coast. The other alternative, a fight between the Italian territory of Tripoli, would suffer from the same defect of possible inaccuracy.

MONTREAL MAN HELD IN BOSTON.

Said to Have Confessed to Stealing of Bonds in Connecticut.

Boston, July 6.—John A. Deyoung, claiming Montreal as his home, and Charles Belbin of the field, arrested on Wednesday night were held in $10,000 each in the municipal court yesterday for a hearing on July 11 on charges of larceny and receiving stolen property.

In their possession were found two $10,000 New York Central Railroad bonds said to be part of the loot resulting from the burglary at Broad Brook, Conn., about a month ago.

The police said Deyoung had confessed that he and two other men broke into the store after stealing an automobile in Hartford, filled the car with goods, took three $1,000 bonds and drove off pursued by a sheriff and posse. Shots were fired at the car, Deyoung said, and it caught fire. He and his companions escaped in the woods, where he lost one of the bonds.

Belbin told the police that Deyoung had offered him $100 if he would sell one of the bonds.

The police said that warrants would be sought in the federal court for Deyoung.

CHEAP FIRE ALARMS.

Noise of Pictures Falling Awakened Families.

London, June 8.—(By Mail)—At the Professional Fire Brigades Association conference, which was continued at Crofton yesterday, Chief Officer W. J. Dane, of Crofton, the president, said that as a cheap device fire alarm pictures hung with cords were easily first in the field. A paper on lightning in connection with wireless was contributed by Mr. E. E. Moore, who said that wireless apparatus required no more protection from lightning than did the ordinary telephone that was connected to overhead lines. Indoor aerial frames added no more risk than the ordinary bell wiring which ran through a house.

Dr. Claude A. Burrett of Rochester, president of the American Institute of Homeopathy, delivered his annual address at the opening of the twenty-ninth annual convention of the society in Vernon Hall. He insisted that the time had come when the rank and file of the people had a right to know of the achievements of medicine science and what it can do for their lives.

A probable solution of the mystery has been found at Llandudno, where in a falcon's nest on one of the lower ledges of rock beneath the lighthouse on Great Orme's Head over a thousand pigeons' feet have been discovered, most of them bearing a numbered ring. The feet were collected, and the numbers on the rings will be sent for publication in the Homing World for identification by the owners.

Mrs. C. A. McVey Elected Head Of King's Daughters

At yesterday afternoon's session of the biennial convention of the New Brunswick Branch of the International Order of King's Daughters Mrs. C. A. McVey of Fredericton was elected president. Forty members were registered and a considerable amount of business was transacted. Miss Ella L. Thorne of Fredericton was elected honorary president.

The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. C. C. Jones of Fredericton. Miss Audrey Mullin sang a solo, after which routine work was taken up. The report of the board of directors of the Paraline Home was read by Mrs. A. T. Murchie of Fredericton, showing the institution to be in excellent condition.

A paper was read by Miss Sadie Thompson, provincial secretary, containing the subject matter of the address on "contacts" delivered by Mrs. H. F. Young at the tenth triennial convention of the King's Daughters last year. Contact with God, she said, was imperative. It must be read by experience. Intellectual contact was important with creative thinking. The children had had new lines of thought opened to them, many of them arising out of the great war, such as man's mastery of the air.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Honorary president, Miss Ella L. Thorne; president, Mrs. C. A. McVey; vice-president, Mrs. W. K. Robertson; treasurer, Mrs. W. K. Halsey; secretary, Mrs. F. J. Likier.

The additional members of the executive are as follows: The Countess of Ashburnham, Mrs. D. W. Puddington, Mrs. John Bulloch, Mrs. B. C. Foster, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. A. P. Crockett, Mrs. Nice, member of central council, Miss Ella L. Thorne.

The scrutineers were Mrs. H. G. Chestnut, Miss Alice Rising and Mrs. Ernest Waring.

The evening meeting opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. Neil MacLachlan, pastor of the Queen Square Methodist church. In the course of his remarks he paid a warm tribute to the work being done by the King's Daughters.

Several solos were sung by Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett, Mrs. H. W. Robertson, on behalf of Mrs. E. B. Nixon, extended to the members an invitation to a reception this afternoon.

Miss Brown then spoke of the work being done by the various circles throughout the country. Her address was illustrated by lantern slides showing work in Ontario and laid stress on the good being accomplished by the work of dining and rest rooms for girls in Toronto.

Miss Thorne touched on the work in St. John and Fredericton. She called on Miss Thorne for a few words on the Paraline Home. Miss Thorne said that the home had ten residents at present, that it was doing good work and was free from liabilities. Pictures of the home in summer and winter were shown.

Motions of the thanks were passed by the meeting to Miss Brown and Rev. Mr. MacLachlan, and tendered.

The evening meeting closed with devotional exercises led by Rev. Neil MacLachlan, pastor of the Queen Square Methodist church. In the course of his remarks he paid a warm tribute to the work being done by the King's Daughters.

No Corns WILL PROVIDE A RECEPTION FOR GOVERNOR COX

Tentative plans for welcoming and entertaining Governor Cox, of Massachusetts, here on Saturday, July 14, were discussed at a meeting held in Mayor Fisher's office yesterday afternoon. Those present included the following: R. E. Armstrong, H. A. Porter, C. B. Allan, E. A. Schofield, Commissioner Wigmore, Commissioner Thornton, Commissioner Frink, T. P. Regan, K. C. J. Chariton Berrie, W. Roman, Captain A. Mulcahy, and His Worship the Mayor.

While it was realized that the Massachusetts Chief Executive will arrive by the route of the coast, no effort will be made to meet him at his party's welcome. Premier Venio's letter that he would be present to receive him in the city was read at yesterday's meeting and considerable satisfaction was expressed that his reception committee would be forthcoming.

It is not known just when or by what route the Governor will arrive, and Mr. Armstrong was instructed to telegraph Governor Cox and ascertain his definite plans. His itinerary respecting St. John. Up to a late hour last night, Mr. Armstrong had received no reply. Another meeting will be held this afternoon when it is probable that the required information will be laid before the members.

The decision to resolve the members present at yesterday's meeting into an official reception committee will be driven to City Hall tomorrow, when it will be entertained at luncheon and then a drive around the city will be made.

Machine Which Detects Lies In Eyes of Subject

New York, July 6.—Lies, from the innocent untruths of children to the more complicated falsehoods of criminals, may be detected by the effects they produce on vision, according to Dr. W. D. Bates, noted ophthalmologist, of 888 Madison Avenue. The use of a retinoscope is less trying than the old-fashioned method of using a convex lens to examine the eye. Dr. Bates said, and its results are absolutely reliable.

The explanation, as the eye specialist gives it, is this: Telling lies, even though apparently naturally so to some persons, is a mental strain which results in temporary myopia or nearsightedness. It is the strain that is detected by the retinoscope, a small instrument with a bright light reflected in a mirror at one end, by means of which the retina on the back of the eye may be observed. If the subject is telling the truth he will see a shadow in the direction opposite to that of the shifting mirror, indicating the presence of nearsightedness.

The examination of criminal suspects presents ideal conditions for testing the retinoscope. Dr. Bates said he has seen prisoners in his guard and determined not to be caught. If he is telling the truth he will see a shadow in the direction opposite to that of the shifting mirror, indicating the presence of nearsightedness.

Dr. Bates submitted the reporter to the test and was able to recognize at once by the tell-tale shadow on the subject was thinking an untruth. Just as simply he saw the truth and said, "Now your mind and vision are relaxed."

One of the ophthalmologist's patients, a child with a craving for the sweets, was brought to the office late for her treatment. Her mother waited for her and accused the girl of having stopped for an ice cream soda.

The child denied the charge, but when the retinoscope was focused on her she was told that the shadow moved in the wrong direction on her retina as she admitted having stopped for a soda.

Recently, Dr. Bates examined the eyes of prisoners at Sing Sing when he found that the result of the latrine strain so pronounced by the warden was a strain so pronounced by the warden that it was necessary to read or see their right unnecessarily. In Elmira he found that nine-tenths of the criminals suffered from defective vision.

Dr. Bates is a graduate of Columbia University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He has been treating eyes since 1885. He is said to have discovered the properties of adrenalin in the eye, which he has made a marketable. Dr. Bates was one of the first to use the drug in operations.

National Views Changed In Exile

Maritz, Boer Rebel Leader, Realizes Necessity of British Connection.

London, June 2.—(By mail)—A cable dispatch to the Times from its correspondent at Beira, Portuguese East Africa, says: "Colonel Maritz has arrived here by the Holland liner Rijkperker on his way to Delagoa Bay, where he will land and await a communication from his wife before seeking to cross the frontier at Komatiport."

In the course of conversation, Maritz told me that he was ready to submit himself to what lay in the future for him in the Union. He indicated that his national views had widened during exile, and that he was now convinced that there was no room for racial division or the two-way policy of South Africa, and fully realized the necessity of co-ordinated thought and action in sympathy with British nationalism, as interpreted by General Smuts if South Africa was to continue to deserve its place in the sun.

Maritz, on the outbreak of war, was given the command of an irregular corps of General Botha. He revolted in October, 1914, with a commando of about five hundred strong. He was captured by loyal forces of the British in the Transvaal, and later made his way to Angola, where he was arrested by the Portuguese authorities in August, 1916, and released in October of the same year.

Washington, July 6.—The passing of the last of the soldier guards on duty at the Ford Theatre when President Lincoln was shot was reported to the Pension Bureau in a cable from the American consulate at Hull, England. The message notified the bureau to discontinue the "accident" of death of the soldier guard who was on duty at the time of the assassination of William H. Hall, Civil War veteran.

Hall served in Company H, 12th Illinois Cavalry. He returned to England, his birthplace, after the war.

Lightning Hits Spire. Charlottetown, July 5.—During an severe storm today, lasting about an hour, a spike and part of the tower of the Charlottetown Cathedral was struck by lightning and demolished.

Lightning Hits N. S. HOUSE. (Canadian Press) New Glasgow, N. S., July 5.—A large tentorium in the town of New Glasgow was struck by lightning during a severe storm here today, and considerably damaged. The occupants were not injured.

Educator Says Some Americans Are Almost Barbaric. Oakland, Cal., July 6.—A census in which every individual would be put to the test of reading simple paragraphs and writing simple sentences would show there are approximately 10,000,000 illiterates in the United States and almost as many near illiterates, delegates to the National Educational Association's convention were told by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the United States Literacy Commission.

"In the most illiterate sections," she asserted, "conditions approach the barbaric. Marriage has no sanctity and commerce is carried on through barter and trade."

The teachers are the trustees of America's destiny, Will C. Wood, California's Superintendent of Public Instruction said in welcoming the delegates. "We must stand adamant against the attempts of men who would pay the debt of the war by discounting the educational opportunities of American boys and girls," he added.

A chimney fire in a house in Douglas avenue near Prospect avenue resulted in an alarm from box 128 about 7 o'clock last evening. The fire was extinguished with a little salt and no damage was done.

Twenty-two persons were burned to death each day during 1921.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

LARGER WORLD TRADE PREDICTED

London Financial Journal Says Economic Expansion Follows War.

Sequel to 1815 and 1865—Believes There will be Imperative Need for All the New Productive Facilities Installed in War-time.

Discussing what it describes as a widespread and hopeful feeling that in the longer future a gradually developing, continuous and very important improvement will occur in the world trade, The Stock Exchange Gazette of London answers that "it is an old experience that great wars are followed by great economic developments. It continues: "The greatest expansion in modern times took place with the advent of the steam engine. It took place during the period following the Napoleonic wars, which were not more destructive than the war of 1814-1818. It was not by coincidence that new methods of production and distribution were developed after 1815, but by necessity. The destruction and areas caused by almost twenty years of continuous warfare on the Continent had to be made good as quickly as possible, while England had to increase production to the utmost in order to pay the huge increased taxes.

"During the recent war, as during the Napoleonic wars, military necessity led to the vigorous development of the industries serving the war effort. The electrical and glass industries, and many others, were vastly strengthened. Other nations have acted similarly. At present much of the new machinery stands idle and from many sides it is urged that there is too much machinery, that a large part of it should be scrapped. There cannot be too much machinery in the world, and there cannot be too much production, as long as production is fairly balanced.

After Civil War. "It should not be thought that the gigantic expansion of trade following the Napoleonic wars is the only instance available. It is the most encouraging example to England, because England was the principal beneficiary. The second half of the nineteenth century was the most brilliant in the United States, while the new machinery devastated vast stretches of country, which utterly ruined millions of people and which lasted for years.

Up to 1861 the United States was an agricultural nation. Iron and steel were furnished by foreign countries, chiefly by England. Europe furnished the combatants not only arms and ammunition but even uniforms, boots, tents, and so forth. During the war manufactures were developed in the North and South, and in order to pay for the huge cost of the struggle against the South, a new type of machinery was developed. Machinery of the most powerful type was installed, small concerns were amalgamated, large scale production and the modern trusts were created. The vast prosperity of the United States has been directly caused by the Civil War.

The machinery of all the combatants powers has been very increased and improved since 1914. There is almost universal stagnation instead of the anticipated expansion of business largely because of the unreasonable attitude of labor everywhere, which has foolishly endeavored to obtain an undue reward by limiting output, by making things too dear for purchasers, and thereby impeding the exchange of manufactured goods against food and raw material. Fortunately there are signs of improvement in this country, but in many countries.

MAKE PERFECT BREAD

Tractors Devised For Special Use

Have Proved Their Superiority For Purpose of Launching Lifeboats.

London, June 6.—(By Mail).—Three years ago the Royal National Lifeboat Institution first experimented with motor caterpillar tractors, such as are used for agriculture, to see if they could be made suitable for launching lifeboats. The experiments were successful, and a number of tractors have been adapted to make them amphibious. They are now, in use at seven life-boat stations, while another nine are being adapted. On a number of occasions they have shown how much more promptly it is possible to launch with them than with horses. In one of the most recent launches no less than three hours were saved. But these tractors have their limitations, and experience has shown that where there is shingles, mud holes, or creeping sand something more powerful is required.

With this in view, the Citroen-Kegresse Company has carried out a preliminary experiment, on behalf of the Institution, with one of its special 10 h. p. cars, similar to the cars which crossed the Sahara last December and January, going where before the only means of transport had been camels, and covering two thousand miles in twenty-two days. The company intends to continue its experiments in the hope that the Kegresse track, which is fitted to these cars, may prove to be, or can be made, suitable for launching heavy lifeboats off the different kinds of beach round our coasts. This self-laying track, which is used on the car in place of the back wheels, is of flexible rubber and canvas crepe bands. It was originally designed in Russia for use over snow, and now, by way of the Sahara, it may reach the British coasts and be used for saving life from shipwreck.

THEFT OF OLD ARMS.

Losses From Tower Collection Loaned to Dover.

London, June 5.—(By Mail).—Investigations have been carried out by representatives of the Tower of London

Armoury into the disappearance of a number of old arms, recently reported missing from the Tower loan collection at the Maison Dieu Hall, Dover. In a letter to Dover Town Council, it is stated that there are missing three old Scottish pistols, thirty-six swords and four bayonets. Various recommendations were made to ensure the safety of the loan collection in future, including the placing higher on the walls of armour, arms, etc., that were low down, and strongly wiring them in position.

The council has decided to carry out the recommendations and also to insure the loan collection of armour and old arms.

PUNJAB JAIL SCANDAL

Discipline Undermined by Mutinous Prisoners

London, June 2.—(By Mail).—The Times correspondent cables from Simla. The report of the Punjab jail administration for last year, which has just been issued, contains an amazing frank revelation of the extent to which non-co-operation and Akali (Sikh fanatic) prisoners have undermined jail discipline.

Prisoners have openly hoisted the power obtained by them in jail and on their release have advised their followers not to fear arrest, as the jails are "halls of self-government." In some places a state of mutiny has existed, calling for the use of arms. Some members of jail staffs have had to be punished for assisting in the campaign of calumny against the government, to which they have been suborned by agitators.

The Bill has already passed through the House of Commons. Provision is made in the Bill for the interment elsewhere of any remains that may be found during excavation. Formal evidence was given and the Bill was passed for third reading.

London, June 4.—(By Mail).—The collection of Pre-Raphaelite pictures at the Ashmolean Museum, Oxford, is to receive a welcome addition in the form of a charming picture of the work of Frederick Sandys, who is represented there. Captain Langton Douglas, Director of the National Gallery of Ireland, and a New College graduate, is presenting to the museum Sandys's Royal Academy picture of 1868, "Gentle Spring," in memory of his third son, who was killed in the war. "Gentle Spring" was long in the Alexander A. Ionides collection, and was lent by Mrs. Ionides to the exhibition at Burlington House in 1906 of the works of G. F. Watts and Sandys.

HARDY'S 83RD BIRTHDAY.

Dorchester Choristers' Tribute to Aged Author.

London, June 5.—(By Mail).—Among the visitors at Max Gate, Dorchester, on the evening of Mr. Thomas Hardy's 83rd birthday on Saturday, was a party of choristers from Holy Trinity Church, Dorchester, who sang several hymns and Stendal-Bennett's anthem, "God is a spirit." Mr. Hardy was greatly touched and asked the choir to sing for him the old hymn, "Sun of my soul." This was done, and Mr. Hardy, who was accompanied by Mrs. Hardy, expressed his thanks in touching words of appreciation.

Birmingham Buys Ex-Enemy Machine

Parts of Motor Turntable Fire Escape and Water Tower Made in Germany.

Birmingham, June 6.—(By Mail).—After prolonged discussion, in which considerable divergence of opinion was apparent, Birmingham City Council approved the recommendation of its Watch Committee that a Morris Macquire motor turntable, fire escape and water tower, of which most of the mechanical parts are of German manufacture should be purchased at a cost of £2,800.

At the outset the Committee were unaware that the escape was of foreign manufacture, and when the circumstances came to their knowledge they investigated the matter. A deputa- tion visited other centres, including London to ascertain whether any British-made escape was equally efficient. The German machine is assembled by Manchester firm, and, compared with other tenders, the cost was approximately the same.

Alderman James, chairman of the Watch Committee, informed the Council that various escapes were fully tested, but the Committee were greatly impressed with the superiority of the Morris Macquire machine. Effectiveness and public safety, he said, must come first. Councillor Tiptaft asserted that there was a British machine equal to the German, and the manufacturers were willing to give a demonstration against the foreign machine.

GERMANY'S REPARATIONS.

British Manufacturers' Union Expresses Views.

London, June 4.—(By Mail).—The National Union of Manufacturers, in a resolution which has been passed and which is being sent to the Prime Minister, suggests to the Government that in any proposals which Germany may make for the settlement of reparations they consider it a matter of vital importance that as a first condition she be required to meet her obligations, not only abroad but at home, by the levy and enforcement of internal taxation, and not by the issue of marks.

NEW DUTCH SWISS ROUTE.

German Through Trains Avoid Passage Via Ruhr.

The Hague, May 27.—(By Mail).—The normal line of communication between Holland and Switzerland, which was formerly for the most part through Germany, has been interrupted since the occupation of the Ruhr, and travelers have made the journey through France and Belgium. In order to recover their share of international traffic from Holland to the south east, which is of considerable importance, the German authorities have now organized a new express train service from Holland to Basel, via Osnabruck, Munster, Hagen, and Frankfurt. Fast through trains are to be run on the new route, which can easily compete with the French route. The service will start on June 1.

Malady Similar To Carnarvon's

Kisaman of Poe Laid Low by Strange Attack After Return From Luxor.

Baltimore, Md., July 6.—The strange malady that killed Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of King Tutankhamen's tomb, has attacked a Baltimore clubman who returned recently from a visit to the scene of the English scientist's excavations.

Phillip Livingston Poe, kin of Edgar Allan Poe, and one of the famous family of Princeton football players has been in a serious condition at his home here from streptococcus poisoning, Mrs. Poe says.

Mr. and Mrs. Poe had been back in Baltimore about two months when, a week ago last Monday, Mr. Poe was stricken with an illness that quickly developed into pneumonia as it did when Lord Carnarvon fell sick in Egypt.

Dr. Wm. M. Dahney and two nurses have been in constant attendance as Mr. Poe has struggled against the disease.

Ever since the Poes returned from their tour, their friends have been jokingly warning them of the "mummy's curse," and the strange mystic spell that legend said was buried with King Tutankhamen 3,000 years ago to work vengeance on those who disturbed his tomb.

The joking word, however, when Mr. Poe became ill. He could not move from his bed, and for nearly two weeks he went through a terrible stage of high temperature, pains and stiffness.

Last night, although he still carried a fever, he was reported to be resting quietly.

It was at first thought that he had a simple case of pneumonia, but it is certain now that he has septic-pneumonia and streptococcus poisoning.

GIRL SMILINGLY BORROWS QUARTER TO BUY POISON

Then She Takes It in Store of Lender, Who Saves Her by Quick First Aid.

New York, July 6.—Richard Willburger was arranging the roses in the window of his florist shop at 185 East Thirty-fourth Street when Helen Beato, nineteen years old, came along all dupes and smiles, and asked whether he would lend her a quarter.

Willburger knew her. She had explained, and there some something she wished to buy at the corner drug store.

He lent her the money. Presently she returned. Same dupes; same smile. She touched a flower and closed her eyes to enjoy all of its fragrance. She wandered to the rear of the store.

Suddenly she cried out in pain and fell to the floor, writhing. Willburger ran to her. An empty iodine bottle lay near. He forced her to drink milk and an ambulance was summoned. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where she said she had taken poison because her sweetheart had broken their engagement. Her condition is not serious.
