IN CHINA.

Von Walderssee Estimates Garrison Strength That Should be Left.

PEKING, April 30.—Field Marshal Von Walderssee, in the letter which he sent to the ministers today as the reply of the general to the views of the ministers regarding the military questions discussed yesterday by the general in conference, says a garrison of 5,000 men should be left at Tien Tsin and the adjoining district, Great Britain, France, Germany and Japan to contribute four hundred men each, and Italy to contribute four hundred men. To Garrison Shan-Kwan, France, Russia, Great Britain and Germany are to contribute three hundred men each, and Italy one company until the forts are ready.

So long as any forces occupy Chinese territory the foreign military commanders must exercise the full authority of a civil administration, according to the principle established at the Hague in 1900. The Chinese may remain in office as in the case of Pao Ting Pu and partly Tien Tsin. Besides the six thousand men in the Tien Tsin district, warships, which must always be in the Pei Ho, will preserve communication with the international fleet at Taku. To allow this administration to depend in any respect on the mandarins would be an utter impossibility, frictions would arise immediately, which would lead to difficult conflicts, which will be better avoided.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

Hon. Armline Wodehouse, son of the Earl of Kimberley, is dead. He was born in 1860. He sat in the house of commons in the liberal interest for the Saffron Walden division of Essex.

An attempt will be made to prove that James Callaghan, an alleged kidnapper of Edward Oudahy, lied on the witness stand during his recent trial. A complaint charging him with perjury will be filed by the county attorney.

Forest fires have been raging in Baraboo, Wis., for several days. High winds are fanning the flames and much damage is being done to standing timber and cornwood. Hundreds of men are fighting the fire.

M. Max Regis, the anti-Semitic mayor of Algiers, and his brother received wounds in a battle at Algiers in a restaurant with the editor of La Revanche Du Peuple and some of his friends. They entered the cafe and renewed the disorders, wrecking the place. Thence they proceeded through the street, shouting and waving their flags. The last night order was restored. The authorities have taken severe measures to prevent a repetition of the disorders.

EXCURSION TRAIN WRECKED.

EMIGRANT GAP, Calif., May 1.—In the darkness of the smoke of the snow sheds a Raymond excursion train ran into the rear end of the limited train No. 2 four miles east of here last night. The private car of Domilles was on the rear of the limited and was badly damaged. Fireman Jones Saunders of the Dalles, Oregon, was instantly killed and many passengers on both trains and men of the train crew were injured. Domilles and his wife, daughter and Whitelaw Reid and wife had just seated themselves at the dining table in the rear car when the crash came. All were more or less bruised and scratched, but none was seriously injured. Whitelaw Reid received an ugly cut in the face. The limited had struck a rock in the sheds and was delayed until the second excursion caught up. Saunders was crushed between the tender and engine. The tender of the second engine was also driven into the car. The baggage car climbed over the rear tender and shot up against the roof of the snow shed, knocking down a section of the shed.

STOVE COMPANIES CONSOLIDATE.

DETROIT, Mich., May 1.—The Tribune says: Reports received that a consolidation of all of the principal stove companies of this country was about to take place. At a meeting yesterday when Charles B. Warren, a well known Detroit attorney, acknowledged that plans for the consolidation are under way.

"These plans contemplated," said Mr. Warren, "the amalgamation of all of the principal stove manufacturing plants of the country upon lines somewhat similar to the United States Steel corporation. All of the details have not been settled upon yet, but I can state that Detroit will probably be the centre of the stove manufacturing industry of the country."

ALL MINERS TO QUIT WORK.

LONDON, May 1.—At a meeting of the Miners' Federation, held in London this morning and attended by delegates from all parts of the United Kingdom, it was recommended that all miners quit work unless the coal tax should be withdrawn. Another meeting was proposed for the purpose of deciding the matter and to set a date for the stoppage of work should that step be decided upon.

N HALIFAX.

The Tourist Association is Doing Good Work.

Systematic Plans—An Effort to Get Tourist Parties from Toronto.

I. C. Stewart, publisher of the Maritime Record, is in the city for a few days. Mr. Stewart is the president of the Halifax Tourist Association, and in reply to the enquiries of the Star last evening gave some facts that will be of special interest to the people of St. John and the members of our own association.

The Halifax association, Mr. Stewart explains, derives its revenue solely from the contributions of the people of Halifax. The association holds a meeting in every Thursday afternoon, having a book where visitors registered their names and addresses. To each of these is being sent a booklet, accompanied by a personal letter. The association also sent out to citizens of Halifax for a list of names and addresses of likely people and booklets and letters are sent to them also. The members believe that the recipient of the booklet will be more likely to be impressed if a personal letter is sent at the same time. These have been going out at the rate of about one hundred a day since April 1st. Of course literature will also be distributed through the ordinary channels as well. The association ordered 10,000 copies of a new booklet last fall, and will have 20,000 more printed.

Practically all the citizens realize that although every one may not benefit directly, yet the expenditure of so large an amount of money as tourists do spend must have a good general effect on business, and therefore they support the association.

A special effort is being made this year to attract tourists from western Canada. There has already been some correspondence as to tourist parties, and on his way home Mr. Stewart will call at Montreal and interview Mr. Lybett & Co., to learn what the L. C. R. is disposed to do to bring tourist parties from Toronto to Halifax. Possibly, Mr. Stewart suggests, the St. John association would co-operate in this matter.

The Halifax association last year published a pamphlet telling tourists of pleasant drives and places to visit around the city. They were also instrumental in organizing the harbor excursion conducted by P. D. Corbett & Co., whose steamer goes out on the harbor from 2.30 to 5.30 every afternoon.

Within four or five weeks the association will issue a booklet about fishing excursions within easy reach of Halifax. They have a lodgings bureau, telling what people have rooms to let and the price, etc., and also a record of such houses throughout the province, the distance, the cost of journey, the attractions, etc., so that though supported solely by Halifax funds they are really doing a great deal for outside places.

Asked with reference to the proposed syndicate cottages at Cow Bay, Mr. Stewart said he had the matter discussed, and the promoters thought they would have no trouble in putting it through. The place is a very beautiful one, nine miles from Halifax, and there was talk of an automobile service from the city. The idea is to have one very large house around which would be built a group of cottages. It is figured out that the place could be successfully utilized as a resort for three months in the summer.

MISS EMILY WICKHAM.

Receives an Address and Gift From St. Mary's Guild.

The ladies of the Guild of St. Mary's church at their last meeting bade farewell to one of their most valued members, Miss Emily Wickham, late of Bristol, England, who is leaving the city to make her residence with her brother at Gardiner, Maine. As a token of good will the members of the guild presented Miss Wickham with a beautiful working set of toilet materials, with the following address:—To Miss Emily Wickham: The members of the Ladies' Guild of St. Mary's church have learned with deep regret that you are soon to remove from our city. Though you have been known to us for the brief period of only a few months we have learned to look upon you as so valued a member of our guild that we feel more than we can well express our sense of the loss we are about to sustain in parting with one who has proved so loyal a member of our little society. Your influence has always been for good, and the hearty interest that has been shown by your mother and sisters will not soon be forgotten by any one of us. We can only hope and pray that the blessing of our Heavenly Father will attend you wherever you go. You may chance to fall, and that when amidst other scenes and surrounded by other friends you will sometimes think of the pleasant hours we have spent together. Will you accept the accompanying little gift as a token of our love and good wishes?

Signed on behalf of the guild, CHARLOTTE GODFREY, President.

JENNIE WRIGHT, Secretary.

BRANTFORD, Ont., April 30.—Mrs. Charles White, charged with murder in the police court today pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for a week. It is alleged she poisoned her husband.

THE PAN-AMERICAN.

Gates Thrown Open, but Much Work Yet to be Done.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 1.—The gates of the Pan-American exposition were thrown open this morning, and notwithstanding it rained all night and the weather was threatening, large crowds were gathered at each of the gates, and as the morning brightened the various routes to the grounds were well patronized by those who desired to be at the opening. At 8.30 o'clock the thousands of the western hemisphere, which fill the magnificent surrounding buildings, beautiful in their architectural designs, harmonious in their coloring and interior decoration. No ceremonies marked the opening of the gates, it having been decided by the management of the exposition to combine the opening day ceremonies within those of dedication day, on May 20th. The change in the date, however, did not cause a moment's relaxation of the strenuous efforts being put forth by every one connected with the exposition to have everything as nearly ready as possible for today's opening. The appearance of the buildings this morning bore ample evidence of their efforts. Storm and the inevitable delays incident to any undertaking of this magnitude made impossible the realization of the hope that this might be the first of the great expositions to be complete on its opening day. But so much more already has been wrought than was deemed possible at the inception of the project that all are satisfied with the extent and beauty of the fair as it appeared this morning, carried through from the beginning by the citizens of Buffalo without state aid.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, May 1.—Light to moderate, variable winds, fair and mild; a few scattered showers during the night and on Thursday.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Eastern states and northern New York—Rain tonight, Thursday, partly cloudy, with showers along the coast. Fresh to brisk northerly winds tonight, becoming northwesterly Thursday. Western States tonight and probably Thursday; warmer Thursday; fresh northerly to northwesterly winds, becoming westerly Thursday.

POEM BY EDWARD FITZ GERALD.

In a recent publication of mine, I have written by Edward Fitz Gerald, the Irish poet, of Omar Khayyam, appears the following:—
"Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

The wind blew keenly from the western sea, And drove the dead leaves, slanting from the tree.
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

She went abroad the falling leaves among,
She saw the merry season fade, and sung
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

She bound her shining hair across her brow, She went into the garden feeling now,
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

And if one sighed to think that it was here, She smiled to think that it would bloom next year.
She feared thee not, O Death.

Blooming she came back to the cheerful room,
With the faded flowers yet in bloom:
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

Her pleasant smile shed sunshine upon all, We heard her sweet, clear laughter in the hall.
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

As she went singing softly up the stair, No voice can charm thee, Death.

Where is the pleasant smile, the laughter kind,
That made sweet music of the winter wind?
Vanity of vanities, the Preacher saith—
Wrapping them up before his Father's door,
Where I saw them whom I shall see no more,
We cannot bid thee, Death."

DR. BRIDGES WANTED.

(Fredericton Herald.)

The following is a list of those whose services Mr. Sargent has especially requested shall be loaned him for assistance in his effort to establish an adequate school system in the Transvaal and Orange River colonies. Mr. Sargent in a communication to the chief superintendent of education requests that Dr. H. S. Bridges of St. John, Principal Mullin, Miss Lillian Nicholson and Miss Clara Bridges of this city be permitted to go. Already all the application blanks which were sent to Dr. Inch by Mr. Sargent have been exhausted, so that it will be useless for other teachers to apply until the chief superintendent has further communication from Mr. Sargent.

AN I. C. B. COMPLAINT.

The Star referred yesterday to the overwork crowded upon the men in the freight sheds. Business men are completing the delay caused to them both in shipping and handling goods, because there are not enough men employed when the rush is greatest, which is late in the afternoon.
There is then a rush of goods to catch the night freight, and there are not enough men to handle it promptly and to keep the sheds clear. It is not the fault of the men. They do all they can and more than they should be asked to do.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Geo. E. Wilson, Ill and Weary of Life

Put a Bullet Through His Head This Morning—A Pathetic Tragedy.

The residents of St. Andrews street and vicinity were much startled and shocked this morning to learn that George E. Wilson, well and favorably known to all, had killed himself.

Decided was a son of the late Frank Wilson, who died of consumption about twenty-three years ago. He was in his twenty-fourth year and had been married only about a year and a half to Miss Annie Grant, of Tynemouth Creek, St. John County. Wilson has been in poor health for a number of years, a constant sufferer, and there is no doubt that worry over his condition and inability to work forced him to do the deed.

He was a plumber and tinsmith by trade, and worked with his cousin, John E. Wilson, galvanised iron and stove dealer, on Sydney street. The last work he did was on some government buildings at McAdam. He had previously been unwell and while up there was forced to come home, where he remained until his health improved, going back afterwards to finish the job. Since then he has only done a few odd jobs, being unable to find a whole day's work, and since last fall he could not attempt anything.

Mr. Wilson has been treated by Drs.
Inches and Berryman for consumption, and his condition not improving any under their care, he gave up hope of recovery. He lives in the upper flat of No. 33 St. Andrews street, a house belonging to a Mr. McGee, a well known property owner of this city, whose son is at present conducting a commission business in Westmorland County.

This morning, shortly before seven o'clock, Mrs. Wilson came down stairs to attend to her household duties, leaving her husband in his room dressed himself. A few seconds later, while Mrs. Wilson was at the foot of the stairs, Richard Evans, who lives in the flat below, heard three shots fired in quick succession. He at once rushed upstairs and found Wilson lying on the upper landing with his head hanging over the top step. From a wound in his temple blood was trickling to the floor.

Life was not extinct, and Evans at once picked up the prostrate man and carried him to the kitchen, where in a moment or two he died. When found by Evans, Wilson was holding in his hand a five-shooter, thirty-two calibre, self-cocking Harrington and Richardson revolver, in which was one loaded cartridge, an empty chamber, and three exploded shells. Only one of the shots fired had taken effect. The bullet entered in the centre of the right temple, and bruised the flesh on the left side where it almost came through.

Evans at once sent for Coroner Barry-man and Sergeant Baxter, who both arrived in a few moments. Coroner Berryman made an examination of the body and wound and gave permission for deceased's clothes to be removed.
He asked, however, that the head be not washed, as he would decide later on as to whether an inquest was necessary or not. Wilson was fully dressed at the time, and although unable to work, was in the habit of taking short walks. In his pocket was found a bank book showing a balance of eight dollars and seventy-five cents.

The tragic part of the affair is that when the deed was committed Wilson was at the bottom of the heavy stairs wife at the bottom, on her way down.
He appears to have collapsed all at once.

In the partition separating the kitchen from the hallway Sergeant Baxter found a bullet imbedded in the wall.
Mrs. Wilson says that several times her husband has threatened to shoot her and himself, but she paid no attention to his remarks, believing that he was not responsible for what he said on account of his despondency. The bullet, which was found imbedded in the partition she believes was meant for her.

The deceased was probably worried over his condition and the dark future before him. No symptoms of insanity have ever been noted in either himself or any of his family, and his friends think that his sickness and despondency was the cause of the deed.
He leaves no children.

N. B. HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

At the meeting of the New Brunswick Historical Society, last evening, Rev. W. O. Raymond reported that the publication of the Winslow book was progressing favorably. A good deal of additional interesting material has been found, which it was thought advisable to publish. Mr. Winslow has made a donation towards providing cuts for the volume. A letter from Baroness Dyckhoff, addressed to N. G. Ganons, was read, thanking him for the interest he had taken in procuring the memorial to Gov. Carleton, and requesting him to convey the thanks of the Carleton family to the New Brunswick government. It was resolved that when funds are available $500 be granted toward erecting a memorial to J.
W. Lawson, one of the founders and several times president of the society.

POLICE COURT.

Proceedings today were very dull and uninteresting. Only two drunks appeared.

Mr. Marshall asked for an adjournment for next week of the case against Christopher for placing snags on Navy Island. On behalf of the complainants Mr. Baxter was willing to agree to the adjournment provided the snags were removed before Friday morning. After a brief deal of seemingly unnecessary discussion this was agreed to and provided Mr. O'Brien reports to the court on Friday morning that the snags have been removed.

Joseph McIntyre was on his way to Boston, had his ticket in his pocket and hoped to reach there in safety. He has been working in Sydney and stried over here in order to give a friend some inside information as to the prospects for an investment down there.
He had been drinking on the train and continued doing so here after he arrived. Accidentally he got drunk on St.
John street and was arrested. He asked leave to say a few words in court this morning, and did his best to explain matters, asking for another chance to do better. He was fined four dollars or ten days.

Mary Jane Toner, who has a very pretty habit of keeping her arms folded, was found by Officer Napier sitting comfortably on a doorstep on Duke street between nine and ten o'clock last night. Concealed about her person was a large amount of rye whiskey, a small amount of which shook uneasily in a flask, the largest one of four Napier has ever seen. Mary stated, with folded arms, after the manner of Napoleon, that she was on her way home and had found her head grow very heavy. She has worked for a great many well known and respectable citizens, including Alex. Diggs, and hopes to do so again. This morning she pleaded guilty to the charge, and folded her arms calmly to await judgment. She received eight dollars or two months with hard labor.

INDIANTOWN NOTES.

Business at the Wharves—A number of Removals.

The water is still gradually going down and the wharves will soon be bare. The Star line wharf, which has been quite dry for the past few days, was yesterday cleaned up by a gang of men.

The most noticeable thing about In-diantown today is the entire absence of boats at the wharves. All the scoops, woodboats and steamers were out with the exception of the Hampstead and Clifton, and the waterside presented an almost deserted appearance.

George Rutter, who went out to South Africa with the Canadian Mounted Rifles, and whose family moved to this city shortly after his departure, moved back to Fredericton this morning. His household goods being taken up on the David Weston. Mr. Grass, a Lineman of the Telephone company, also moved to Fredericton this morning.

Several loads of very heavy pitch-pine plank are being sent to Fredericton from Likely's mill, to be used as flooring for the bridge.

Three lots of furniture came down in the David Weston yesterday afternoon. They belong to A. V. DeVolfe, R. B. Rankin and Charles B. Herriott.
The two former went to Fredericton last year and are returning, while the latter gentleman belongs there and is coming to live in this city.

One of the old street cars, number seventeen, was taken up to the Beach on a score this morning. It will be fitted up by the employees of the railway company and used as a summer house.

The Clifton had a heavy freight coming down this morning. Part of it consisted of a number of calves and sheep and seven thousand more broom handles. The Hampstead also brought down a number of cattle.

"Sewell's" tug boat Quiddy left this forenoon for Fredericton to commence her seasonal work.

The tug Admiral is on her way down the river with a heavy tow of logs from local points.

The ferry boat E. Ross is being freshly painted and grained, and presents a much brighter appearance.

While unloading cattle from the Hampstead this forenoon a cow managed to fall off the gangway into the space between the steamers Hampstead and Clifton. In this position, being unable to move either way, she was in danger of being crushed by the moving of the boats, but was after some little trouble hauled up safely.

PERSONAL.

A. Geo. Blair, Jr., returned today from Ottawa.

H. A. Powell, K. C., of Sackville, is in town.

Fred Dyer, of the staff of the Wesleyan College, Stanstead, Quebec, is spending his vacation at home.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, who lives on Pond street, left her home Monday night with Miss Carrie McKeown, and since that time her husband has had no word of her whereabouts. He knows of no cause that would lead Mrs.
Fitzgerald to leave her happy home.
It is believed that she has gone to Belfale to live for a season.

EQUITY COURT.

LICENSE DAY.

Charles Diggs Receives a "Little Pass"

And Some Good Advice.

The licenses granted by the city expired yesterday, and today's business was brisk in the Mayor's office in the city building. Applications were received from all kinds, and among them came the irrepressible Charles Diggs, with the sable countenance and the collection of shoe laces and matches.
Charles took off his head gear, surreptitiously removed a chew from his mouth, and smilingly asked if his "little pass" was ready. It was made out for him and with it he was given a quantity of good advice. The head of the city, he was informed, felt that unless Charles demeaned himself aright and walked in the narrow path, abhorring the use of strong language, it could no longer be responsible for him.

Charles took his head in deprecation of the idea that he would do anything that was not right, received his pass, and started on a tour through the city building to exercise his privilege of venting his wares.

WEDDED IN NEW YORK.

Many friends in New Brunswick will extend good wishes to Mr. and Mrs.
Fred T. McCready, who passed through the city today en route to his father's home in Point de Bute. Mr. McCready is a well known and popular traveller for W. H. Hayward. On April 29th, in New York, he was married to Miss E. Gertrude Johnson, formerly of St.
John. They came east today and went through to visit Mr. McCready's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McCready.
