There is no doubt but that the manufacturers of the forest products of New Brunswick represent the most important industry in our province and we should be men of broad vision, men who are willing to forego the immediate gain to assure the continuance of the industry that not only provides the greatest employment, but on which practically all the industries and trades and even farming depends."

CONSERVATION

Conservation in our forest cutting should be our great slogan—not our motto, but so cutting our logs that the most can be got out of them and the bringing out as much of the trees as can be utilized in saw pulp or lath mill and in every way cooperating with the Crown Lands Department or private owners.

FIGHTING RECORD OF EUGENE BROSSEAU, CANADIAN CHAMPION

Montreal Fighter Has Only One Known Decision Against Him—Twenty-One Knockouts—Nine Secured in Amateur Ranks and Twelve as a Professional—Held Amateur Titles.

That Eugene Brosseau has earned the right to the title of Canadian middleweight champion is shown by his successful career as an amateur as well as a professional. Brosseau jumped from the amateur ranks during the summer of 1919, after he had served in the Royal Air Force the previous season, while still an amateur champion.

Brosseau started his boxing career when he entered in the Montreal City Championships, held at the M. A. A. Club House during April, 1915. He was defeated in the preliminary round by Rivet, one of Montreal's best waterweights. Not discouraged by his defeat Brosseau entered in the Canadian Championships held at Toronto, in May, 1915, and was lucky enough to draw the semi final for his first bout. He won from Corot, and in the final defeated A. Hall, which gave him his first title.

The French-Canadian followed his victory by entering in the American championships, held at Boston, and fought under the colors of La Casquette Club, Montreal. He was forced to win from four men to annex the title, winning the first bout by a knockout and the other three on the decision of the judges. His greatest achievement as an amateur was in 1917, when he defended his National title in the International tournament at San Francisco. In that event he fought in the preliminary, semi and final bouts, winning all three by knockouts. He earned the title of champion of the Royal Air Force when he defeated W. McKenney in a six-round bout at Long Branch, Ontario, in June, 1918, shortly after he had enlisted.

Brosseau's first professional fight was against Gordon McKay. He scored an easy decision, knocking him out in the third round. From then until his victory over Young Fisher on Monday night last, he has had a decision against him. Brosseau is fast reaching the top rung in the ladder of success, and is matched to fight Mike O'Dowd, the world's middleweight champion, in a local ring on May 24. To earn the title Brosseau must knock O'Dowd out, as no decision can be given by a referee.

Brosseau has several bouts scheduled for the next month, and will take a rest up before going in the ring against O'Dowd. The following are Brosseau's record as an amateur and a professional. He has nine knockouts in his credit as an amateur, and twelve as a professional.

British Golf Balls May Flood America

New York, March 19.—A. Linde Fowler writes: British-made golf balls may flood the American market this year and cause a reduction in prices all around.

That is at least a possible development growing out of two causes, one of which is, surprisingly, the maintenance of pre-war prices on the leading British makes, and the other the rate of exchange between this country and England.

It takes only $1.50 today, in American money, to purchase $4.88 worth of British goods, for such has been the depreciation in the pound sterling. Apply those figures to golf balls and some startling facts are discovered. Suddenly, it is found that one of the best-known makes of British golf balls can be purchased at retail, brought over here, and sold for fifty cents or more. This is a price which is not only below the cost of the material, but also below the cost of the labor.

The ball specifically in reference is advertised in the January, 1920, number of "Golfing," a British publication at two shillings sixpence, which is the equivalent of about 60 cents on normal exchange rate. The rate of exchange between the United States and England being approximately 25 per cent. in favor of this country, the golf ball which sells for 60 cents in English money, would sell for 45 cents in American coin.

Taking forty-three cents as the purchasing basis, therefore, and this at retail, there must be added to the purchaser's cost before the balls, are in his possession the customs levy and the freightage. His customs fee, according to a statement secured from the customs house, would be 25 per cent. Granting that the duty is assessed on the full retail purchase price of sixty cents, the duty would be only fifteen cents. A man can have eleven pounds sent to him in one package by parcel post at the rate of twelve cents a pound, or twenty cents for two pounds and five balls can be sent in a one pound package, inclusive of wrappings and at the rate of only four balls to the package. That means that it would amount to only three cents per ball.

Adding to the purchase price of forty-three cents (American value), the fifteen cents customs duty and the three cents postage, the total cost would be sixty-one cents for one of the best makes of balls on the market and one quite familiar to American golfers.

New York, March 19.—Advice just received from English yachting circles indicate that there may be an appeal for the special privileges in connection with the contests for America's Cup this summer, and that the New York Yacht Club may be asked to permit another yacht than the Shamrock IV, to compete for the trophy.

It has generally been understood that the Shamrock IV, built especially for the purpose from designs by Nicholson and sent to this country in 1914, would be the craft to carry the private signal of Sir Thomas Lipton in the contests when they take place, but the Field suggests that Sir Thomas Lipton's 23-meter Shamrock, designed by Fife, which is to be used as the competing craft in the turning up races of the Shamrock IV, in these waters, may prove to be the better yacht, or the one with the bet or chance to win in the big races for the coveted cup—and asks whether the 23-meter craft will be permitted to contend if she proves to be the better boat.

What race, the Essex size and weight, can even attain a mile-a-minute speed, much less keep it up for 50 hours?

Such Endurance as You Want in Your Car

These decisive tests proved Essex not only the supreme performer of the light car field, but they showed that the moderate priced, economical Essex has such endurance and dependability as few large, high priced cars offer.

Greater size could add nothing to Essex. It has the qualities, weight and size are built to give—riding comfort, solidness, distinction and smooth, quiet pace. But in addition it has fuel, oil and tire economy. And its great durability means freedom from repair costs and positive, dependable transportation.

Thinks Carpentier Has A Good Chance

Jack McAuliffe, Only World's Undepleted Lightweight Champion, Claims Frenchman is a Good Scrapper and a Finished Boxer.

New York, March 19.—Jack McAuliffe, the only world's undefeated lightweight champion, believes Carpentier has more than a 50-50 chance of beating Jack Dempsey. McAuliffe's opinion is at least interesting, the more so because he takes sides with the minority boxing fans on this side of the water who believe Jacques Dempsey's crown will be in dire danger when he toes the mark with the Frenchman.

"I understand," said McAuliffe recently, "that there are quite a few good folk on this side of the Atlantic who figure George Carpentier is a setup for our great Dempsey. Now maybe they're right. No one will be able to say positively whether or not Carpentier is a Dempsey setup until after he has met the champion.

"But I want to say one thing in particular for Carpentier. He's one of the craftiest men I've seen in the ring and I've seen a lot of 'em. He's nobody's book. And neither is this Dempsey, his manager. He's a good fighter, my humble belief is that Carpentier has better than a chance with Dempsey. The way I figure him is this: He's just like a torpedo aimed at an anchored boat. Once the torpedo collides with the boat there is no more boat.

ALLAN CUP SERIES MAY HELP FINANCE OLYMPIC HOCKEYISTS

Trustee Northey Says $12,000 Will be Required and if the C. A. H. A. is Willing and Cup Holders Prepared to Go, the Matter Will be Arranged.

Where is the money coming from to finance sending a Canadian amateur hockey team to the Olympic games at Antwerp next month? To date nothing definite has been agreed upon as to how this matter shall be taken care of and some immediate action is needed as the time is fast drawing close to the date when the teams will have to make up their minds whether they will go or not.

Mr. Northey believes that it will cost $1,200 per man to send them to the Olympic games and that the Olympic committee will be much larger as more games have been played and the interest is much keener but even at that the Olympic committee will be faced with the necessity of finding an additional $9,000.

There has been some curiosity expressed by hockey fans as to just how the contemplated trip to Antwerp by the Allan Cup holders will be financed. Some thought the winning club would have to handle all the expenses themselves. This, however, is incorrect. The Allan Cup trustees have practically consented to the suggestion that the Allan Cup receipts of this year, instead of being devoted to the charitable purposes as stated in the deed of gift, be given to defray the expenses of the winning team to Belgium.

That remains now is for the Canadian amateur hockey association to deal with the matter and take the same view as the cup trustees and the arrangements will be completed.

Judging from the number of games to be played and the fact that most of the games look like high class attractions, enough money should be secured to finance such a trip.

When Jess Willard lost to Dempsey in Toledo he overlooked a bet. Had he been a fast thinker he would have yielded for Dempsey's disqualification when Jack left the ring, thinking he had won. And Jess would probably have gotten by with it. But he wasn't a fast thinker. Nothing else about the great matter under Carpentier's bonnet. He'll be thinking a mile a minute when he meets Dempsey, and fighting the same way. I think he has a good chance.

Essex Almost Doubles Light Car Endurance

Essex Has Performance Like the Costliest Fine Cars—Its World Endurance Record Has Never Been Rivalled

The most important thing Essex has proved is that weight and size are no longer necessary to finest car quality. Its 3037 miles in 50 hours is a world endurance record. The test was official. Supervisors of the A.A.A. certified the Essex stock chassis in every detail.

Never before was a car driven at top speed for 50 hours. The grind was equal to years of road use. Yet the Essex showed no measurable wear.

Essex Wins On Quality Minus Useless Weight

Essex won recognition on the issue of finest quality without useless weight and size. That issue is uppermost today.

You will take pride in your Essex from the first. Its beauty, luxurious fittings and its performance give it distinction everywhere. And time will increase your respect for it. You will come to rely absolutely on its dependability. You will find it always ready for any demands you may make.

These are reasons why Essex set a world's sales record in its first year. And orders are now so far ahead it is certain even that unrivaled mark will be surpassed this year.

Thousands, realizing this, are placing their orders now. We advise that you do the same, to avoid disappointment.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF.

History seems to be repeating itself. Never was there a more uncompromising radical, a more militant believer in Cobdenism, than the late Joseph Chamberlain, until he joined the Unionist party on the introduction by Mr. Gladstone of his first Home Rule bill. His absorption into that party brought him into close contact with men of very opposite opinions to those which he had always held, and it was not remarkable, therefore, that as time went on his own previously formed opinions should gradually undergo a change, and take on more of the nature of those of the men with whom he was then associating. From an out-and-out uncompromising class he became the great exponent of Imperialism in trade and other matters. As one of his disgraced constituents once remarked, "hobnobbing with Dukes has made a fool of him."

Now we have Mr. Lloyd George following in Mr. Chamberlain's footsteps. More aggressively radical at one time than ever Chamberlain was at his worst, Lloyd George now becomes the confirmed Conservative. Close and intimate contact with the Conservative party has shown him their good points and taught him to respect their principles and given him a desire to join with them in the formation of a new party from which all those Tories of the old school who have tolerated rather than admired him may drop out, together with those Liberals also who may be unable to follow him into the camp of the enemy.

Lloyd George and Bonar Law were the saviours of Great Britain in the war, and it is natural and pleasing that in the days of peace they should wish to continue the political fellowship that proved so valuable to the country and so harmonious in its personal relationships. These statesmen are opposites in temperament outwardly. The Prime Minister is buoyant in spirits, quick in action, ready in speech, whereas the ex-Conservative leader is almost inclined to be morose, is slow to act and speaks haltingly.

If they are seemingly so different, it is only upon the outside. Acting in concert, they have again and again proved to be men of unflinching courage and determination, each gifted with a natural leadership of men, each possessing to a remarkable degree the confidence of their followers. There is no doubt whatever that Lloyd George was able to bear the unenviable burden which the war imposed upon him only because he leaned upon the Scottish-Canadian ironmaster.

A political party having the prestige of a Lloyd George-Bonar Law leadership will challenge the utmost strength that its enemies can impose.

CROWN LAND LICENCEES

The ruling of Mr. Speaker on the point of order whether licensees of the Crown Timber Lands were entitled to vote on the amendment, that they were so entitled, is quite correct in itself, seeing that the amendment, if carried, would have been innocuous, as the Legislature has no control over fixing the rates of stumpage, and therefore the fact of their voting does not bring them within the provision of Rule 29 of the House, which declares that no member may vote on any matter in which he is pecuniarily interested. At the same time, however, there are so many questions constantly cropping up not only in connection with the Crown Lands and the policies of development for them that may be put forward, but other matters also, that it is a debatable question whether Crown Land licensees should be allowed to sit in the House at all. They certainly could be argued into the position of contractors under the Government, a class which is barred from membership. It is impossible that these licensees can sink considerations of their own personal advantage in dealing with any question that arises between the interests of the Province and their own.

A session or so ago, two members were sitting in the ante-room discussing some policy in connection with the Crown timber lands, and one of them—who for the purposes of this "note" we will call Mr. Brown—was asked by the other if he thought he was justified in supporting that policy, in the interests of the Province, and his reply was: "Interest of the Province, nothing; I'm here to look after the interests of Tom Brown." That is about the attitude of most of the timber operators when the welfare of the public domain comes under discussion.

The statement was made by Mr. Veniot in the course of his remarks in the debate on the Address that the late Government had offered certain licensees a fixed rate of stumpage of $1.50 in return for their support. This was a very silly thing for anyone to say, particularly for a man in Mr. Veniot's position, for it carries its own absurdity upon its face. It ever such an offer had been made, Mr. Veniot and his party would not be in office today, for a bribe of that nature would have purchased the undying support of every lumberman in the Province. As the lumbermen did not support the late Government, it may be taken for granted that no such offer was ever made or suggested.

The Globe says that Dr. Campbell, Mr. Tilley and Mr. Potts, in voting for the Murray amendment, "fell back into the old groove and accepted the leadership of the leader they said was unfit to lead and in whom they had no confidence"; and that in so doing they blindly obeyed the party whip. One expects this sort of twaddle from The Telegraph or Times, but not from the Globe. Premier Foster had declared that he intended to treat the amendment as a vote of want of confidence. Did the Globe expect Messrs. Campbell, Tilley and Potts to vote against the amendment and thus express their confidence in the Government? Messrs. Peck and Smith voted against the amendment from the lumbermen's standpoint. The other three gentlemen are not lumbermen.

The dispute between the city and the Power Company was referred to the Power Commission for settlement, and its report was not satisfactory to either party. Then it was sent to the Supreme Court, whose decision is not liked any better. Now it is to go before a Board composed of A. H. Wetmore, G. E. Barbour and C. H. Peters for determination. If their decision is not satisfactory, we would suggest that it be next sent for the consideration of Asaqua, Minos and Rhadamantus, to whose tender mercies most of those connected with the matter no doubt heartily wish it had been consigned long ago.

The Government Annuities Act is being amended to meet altered conditions in the money market. The act in question was not the success that was anticipated when it was passed. The public was slow in appreciating its advantages, perhaps because these took a long time to mature. The expense of operation, also, was high, and as a means of borrowing money the cost to the Government was extreme. Perhaps as the population becomes settled and learns to look more to the future than of the present the measure will obtain its vindication.

The Telegraph gives the Government a gentle pat on the back for its attitude on the stumpage question. Premier Foster and his colleagues are dutifully carrying out the programme which their organ lays down for them on this matter under instructions from Mr. John E. Moore. Just what Mr. Moore thinks is the amount which lumber operators should pay will be advocated by The Telegraph, and carried through by the Government. A rate of $7 does not suit him.

The arrest of Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, comes in the nature of the expected. Peace or war, revolution, empire or republic, Harden manages to say something that will bring him into conflict with authority. He has been running true to his form for the last thirty years or so.

Would Chief Inspector Wilson please explain just what he means by the "period of relaxation" to which he refers in his Annual Report. If it is anything out of the ordinary, people would like to be prepared for it.

A few days ago Holland regarded herself as a sort of host for the principal Hohenzollerns, but now she has to act like a jailer. The Dutch position is becoming rather too warm for comfort.

GERMANY PUT UP THE SIGN OF DEMOCRACY in order to secure easy terms from the Allies. Now that the terms are secured GERMANY TAKES IN THE SIGN OF DEMOCRACY. The safety of France ought now to be the supreme law of allied dealing with Germany. A Scottish tradesman stepped into a barber's shop the other day, and whilst he was being shaved, the barber was wondering if this was a new customer.

"Have you ever been here for a shave before?" asked the barber.
"Yes, once," was the reply.
"But I do not remember your face, sir."
"Well, I dare say ye don't," said the customer, "ye see, it's a healed up noo."

"Would ye mind paying me in advance, sorr?" asked the waiter.

"Well, that's rather a strange request," remarked the gentleman.
"However, if you are in want of some money now, here's half-a-crown for you. But did you distrust me that you asked for payment now?"
"Oh, no sorr," returned Pat pocketing the half-crown, but O'm lavin' here tomorrow."

Current Criticism

Of United States Puzzles Citizens

American Reminds Canada That During and After the War of 1861-4, Canada Would Not Give 70 Cents for an American Dollar.

"Much of the present criticism of the United States which is appearing in the Canadian, British and foreign press generally as being printed in American journals and I think it leaves most Americans a little amazed," said J. Clements of New York who was in the city yesterday. "Perhaps we ought to consider it flattering that the accusations or inactions of Congress are considered of such importance in the outside world, but it is hard for the average American to take Congress very seriously except when the tax collector comes round, and harder to see how it matters to Europe what a bunch of politicians are doing. The average American's attitude to Europe is one of wonder. Not having any particular international sense he is inclined to say to the world: 'Quit your growching and get to work; we are not taking up any White Man's burden.'"

"It is not that Americans are callous. It is confusing to be told that Americans gobbled up all the wealth of the world, and that for some obscure reason it is now their fault that Europe can't go to work. As a result of the war the United States national debt has been increased twenty-one times and taxation has increased nearly six hundred per cent. At the same time the cost of living has enormously increased. The average American has a lot of troubles of his own and cannot see why he should be held responsible for those of Europe."

"You can't convince the average American that the exchange rate is his fault, or that it is of any benefit to him."

Benny's Note Book
BY LEE PAPE

My cousin Artie came around yesterday afternoon for me to go to his house for supper, which I asked him if I could, and she said, "You can if you want, but my dearest Artie stay hear for supper?"
"With me and Artie had a consultation over it, Artie saying, 'I'll tell you what, let's play spies and find out what you're going to have for supper and then go around to my house and find out what we're going to have and then decide.'"
"Oh, all right, you go around and knock on our back gate and run, and when Nora goes out to see who's knocking I'll get under the kitchen table and spy what she's cooking, I see."
"Which we started to do. Artie running around to the back gate and me sneaking in the dining room, and pretty soon somebody kicked on the gate like anything and Nora went out to open it, saying, 'All right, all right, you don't need the gate down, will you about it, and I quick smuck in the kitchen and got under the table, and Nora came back, saying to herself, 'I'll show those kids who they're making a monkey out of if I get a hold of them.'"
"And she started to walk around getting supper ready, and I tried to see what it was and could not account of me being too far under the table, and I tried to smell what it was and could not account of it not having any smell to it, and just then the first thing I knew I had to sneeze, and the 2nd thing I knew I had sneezed already, and Nora jumped and then looked under the table, saying, 'what devil tree are you up to, what are you doing under there?'"
"In looking for something, I see."
"Is this it?" said Nora. And she started to poke the broom end of a broom under the table, and I quick got out and ran out the front door with her after me part of the way, and the other way was walking for me outside, and we went around to his house and smooled corn beef and cabbage without hardly trying, so we stayed."

to him. He is paying $80 or $100 for a suit of clothes that the Britisher gets for eight or nine pounds. The average citizen has an idea that the big financial interests are sometimes speculating in exchange as they do in stocks. Perhaps he thinks governments ought to do something about it, but he is of opinion that neither his own or foreign governments know that to do about it, and would not do anything anyway to interfere with the big fellows of finance or anything else.

"And the average American knows that the United States did not find Europe rushing to help her after the civil war, a war that was fought for freedom, and incidentally the dominance of the industrialized States of the North. During the civil war the big British and European bankers decried American money till it was hardly worth anything.

Then as now sterling exchange regulated the relation of the American to the Canadian dollar, and it was not for years after the civil war that the American dollar reached par in Canada. That is something Canadians seem to forget when they rail at the present devaluation of the Canadian dollar in the States. Not that that proves

Lenten Services Most Interesting

The Clergymen in the Different Churches Give Talks Which Are Illustrated by Lantern Views.

Both in religious and secular education teaching is being done through the eye as well as through the ear. This is particularly noticeable in Lent in the number of talks illustrated by lantern slides which are being given in the different churches.
Last evening at St. John's (Stones) church Rev. Canon Kuhring addressed the Friday Evening congregation on "The Life of Christ," his talk being illustrated by lantern views.
Each Friday afternoon throughout the Lenten season Rev. R. P. McKim has gathered the children of St. Luke's church in the school house and taught them through the medium of pictures shown on the screen. The lantern service on Good Friday will be held in the evening in the church, and in Holy week "Picture Sermons" will be given each evening except Saturday.
Rev. H. A. Cady, at St. James' has had several illustrated talks and Archdeacon Crowfoot, of St. Paul's is using lantern slides to depict the paintings of the artists upon whom he is lecturing each Monday night before the Young People's Society.
A Trinity school house each Wednesday afternoon during Lent Rev. D. H. Loweth has told the children stories of Bible heroes, Joseph and David.
A fine series of lantern slides has assisted greatly in holding the attention of the children and the attendance has been excellent.

Coming Summer Camp Discussed

Large Number of Y. M. C. A. Boys Attended Meeting Last Evening—Pleasant Programme Enjoyed.

A large number of Y. M. C. A. boys attended a meeting in that institution last evening to discuss the coming Summer Camp. It has been the custom in the past to hold this camp at Chipmunk at the junction of the Salmon River and Grand Lake, but an effort will be made this year to have the camp nearer the city and with the breaking up of the ice, a great many will have their eyes peeled for a likely spot along the river which will offer all the points desirable for a Summer Camp. Several boys have their own ideas of just the spot, with a shelving beach for bathing, a large level field near by for base ball and track sports, and some good trout brooks not too far distant, while some even promise a site within a few miles of the virgin wilderness, and yet quite close to St. John.
Last night's meeting was a very lively one, and there is no question but the Summer Camp this year will be the largest in years.
After the boys had finished discussing plans for the coming camp and listening to many useful hints as to what kit they would need, and the many other useful wrinkles which the old timers could impart to their less favored brethren they enjoyed several films of movies before breaking up for the night.

TAX ON GROSS SALES

A letter received by Miss Alward, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, from the general secretary, Ottawa, intimates that the Government is proposing as a new method of raising taxes a one per cent. or one-half of one per cent. tax on gross sales or receipts for the year. This sales tax would presumably be levied against all classes of business, large and small. A similar tax is now under consideration in the United States. The letter of the Dominion secretary suggests that retailers in all lines consider this proposal and submit their views, not to the Government, but to the local representative, Miss Alward, so that they can be classified and arranged by the Dominion executive for submission to the Government as a practical contribution to the problems of working out a satisfactory revenue producing scheme.

TO BEAUTIFY COMPLEXION

All You Need is Stuart's Calcium Waters to Clear the Skin of Pimples, Rash, Blackheads and Such Local Skin Eruptions.

The calcium sulfide in Stuart's Calcium Waters is nature's contribution to skin health. It is the substance that cleanses the skin in its activity to prevent stagnant pores, to stimulate circulation and divert impurities from finding lodgment in the skin texture. It sweeps its way through the bowels, removing wastes that otherwise may be absorbed into the circulation and thus try to escape through the skin. Use these waters regularly for a fortnight and notice how the skin clears, how pimples, blackheads and such kinds of skin eruptions are removed. They simply cannot remain. Their redness and itching disappear. Pleasant food and Stuart's Calcium Waters will surely take the place of all your creams and lotions and you won't need your powder puff. Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Waters today at any drug store and join the ever-growing throng of American complexion beauties.

RUMORS RIFE RE STEEL COMPANIES

Suggestions of Merger of Scotia With Dominion Steel Find Ready Acceptance in the Street.

Montreal, March 19.—The presence in New York for a few days of Mark Workman, President of the Dominion Steel Corporation, accompanied by J. H. Plummer, the former President and a member of the Board, is believed in circles close to the Company to be associated with the plans looking to the absorption of Nova Scotia Steel, now accepted as part of the programme of the British interests for the carrying out of their larger scheme.

It is presumed here that the iron leaders are meeting the New York interest in Scotia, well known to be the dominating factor in that company.

The presence of Mr. Plummer adds weight to the conjecture that developments along these lines are in progress, as no one connected with the Company is regarded as better equipped with a knowledge of the iron and steel situation in the East than the former President of the Steel Corporation.

At the recent meeting of the Board a report on Scotia by the English engineers and experts was submitted at the request of the interests which are associated on the board with the British investment in the company.

It is not expected that the matter would rest at that stage, very long and he meeting with the Dominion interests in Scotia in New York seems the next logical step.

It is thought likely that upon the return of Messrs. Workman and Plummer from New York, probably by Monday, another meeting of the Steel Board will be called to receive their report and decide upon the next steps to be taken in the matter.

Montreal, March 19.—A meeting of the directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation has been called for Wednesday next, in this city, following which it is expected that the anticipated change in the executive of the company will be announced.

Among those included in the retirement from the presidency of the corporation of Mark Workman, who will probably be made chairman of the board and the election in his stead of Roy M. Wolvin, a present director of the company and closely associated with the English interests who are understood to have succeeded in securing actual control of the company.

NEW YORK MARKET FALLS OFF SLIGHTLY

There Was Some Rally Towards Close, But Not Very Vigorous—Call Money Easy.

(McDougall & Cowans) New York, March 19.—Two news items of the early afternoon caused the market to sell off. One was a brief statement from Sec'y. Houston that so far as he knew, no important amount of gold was to be imported in the near future. The other was the foreign trade figures for February, showing exports of $646,000,000, the smallest since last October and comparing with $728,000,000 in January, this year.

The new Company was founded in 1870—fifty years ago—under the name of "Gardner & Theobald," and acquired a reputation which is still well known and after years of active service the house changed its name to "J. C. d'Almeida & Co. Alimentaire," and later on its growth was increased under the management of the firm of J. C. d'Almeida & Co. Alimentaire.

Additional stock dividends were declared, demand loans were liberally supplied over the week end at 10 per cent. and the London remittance rose before the close of the market.

Trading fell away abruptly after the first hour, selling for profits becoming more effective, especially in certain of the high priced specialties that made greatest forward strides in the early days of the week.

The speculative character of the dealings was clearly indicated by the frequent switching of operations from one group to another, price movements becoming exceedingly bewildering and irregular.

Further diminution of business followed the publication of February export and import trade figures. These disclosed a loss of $76,000,000 in exports.

Profit taking in several of the motors, oils, steels and equipments was neutralized by additional gains in other stocks of the same groups.

Leaders of the stronger issues included Stutz motor which rose to 204, an over-night gain of 44 points, or a total of sixty points so far this week, and Vanadium Steel at an extreme.

Winnipeg, March 19.—Meetings will be held throughout the West this year to promote a campaign for a water route for Western grain from the head of the Great Lakes to Liverpool and other overseas ports.

The general bond market was firm, standard railway issues being in fair demand, Liberty issues were irregular, the 3-1/2s cancelling much of yesterday's rise and the various foreign rubles steady at slight changes.

Total sales, par value, aggregated, $18,850,000. Old U. S. Bonds were unchanged on call.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES' GOOD FINANCE

Montreal, March 19.—The Board of Catholic School Commissioners of Montreal have concluded arrangements for the sale of $2,000,000 of 5 1/2 per cent. year bonds to the bond house of Versailles, Vidéaire Bonalis Limited. The purchase price for the School Commissioners is $721, which means that the money is costing them only slightly over six per cent. This financing is regarded as having been effected on an unusually attractive basis owing to the special conditions prevailing in the bond market.

CELEBRITIES SHUN NEW YORK AS BIRTH PLACE

To the surprise of many, the celebrities who have been born in New York are few in number. The only ones who have been born in New York are the following: George Eastman, inventor of the Kodak camera; J. P. Morgan, financier; and John D. Rockefeller, philanthropist. Most celebrities are born in other parts of the world, such as London, Paris, and Rome.

THE BIGGEST NEWS OF ALL

A fragment of an ancient manuscript, which has been published and widely commented upon this week, throws more light upon the day's "burning questions,"—ranging all the way from world peace, and European destitution, to the death of the world, than all the modern articles and books that are being produced so voluminously. To judge from the character of the latest fragment, it is not popularly read, although it has been accessible since the rise of western civilization. It comes into new prominence and force because of the thirty million members of the Sunday school who have been assigned it for study.

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country.
Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are today. The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brings Vigor and Vitality and Thus Protects Against Disease.
There can be no doubt that the situation regarding the spread of influenza throughout Canada is one of grave concern. It is quite true that the number of cases does not constitute an epidemic such as caused the suffering and sorrow during the terrible days of 1918. Yet there is no disputing the fact that everyone should be on their guard against the disease.
In Montreal alone, from January 20th to February 21st, three thousand, one hundred and twenty-two cases of influenza and 129 deaths from the disease were reported to the Health Department.
The outbreak had come at the beginning of the winter instead of the end, we might reasonably feel that the very cold weather would check the spread of the disease. But coming as it has, at the end of the winter, there is grave fear that an epidemic may occur. For spring, with its fresh and rain under foot, its dampness and chill, its constant changing from cold to warm and back again, is a prolific source of coughs and colds, pleurisy and pneumonia.
The best protection, in fact, the only safeguard against the Flu, is GOOD HEALTH.
Those who are not so well and strong as they should be; those who are underweight; those who are "run-down" through overwork or sickness; should build up at once. What they need is a Blood-purifier, a body-builder, a strength-giver, like "Fruit-a-lives," the wonderful fruit medicine. "Fruit-a-lives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-lives" keeps the system active, and insures an abundant supply of pure, rich blood. "Fruit-a-lives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, sharpens the appetite, brings restful sleep and renews the vitality of the nervous system. "Fruit-a-lives" contains everything that an ideal tonic should have: to purify the blood, so build up strength and vigor and to regulate the eliminating organs, so that the whole system would be in the best possible condition to resist disease.
Now is the time to build up your health and strength, not only as a precaution against the ravages of influenza, but also to protect you against "spring fever" and the unfavorable reaction which comes with the appearance of warmer weather. Get a box of "Fruit-a-lives" today and let this fruit medicine keep you well. "Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

INSPECTOR WILSON'S ANNUAL REPORT ON PROHIBITION

Report of the Chief Inspector under "The Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916," for the year ending October 31st, 1919.

Prediction, N. B., Dec. 31st, 1919. To the Hon. Robert Murray, Provincial Secretary-Treasurer, Province of New Brunswick.

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit this my Third Annual Report as Chief Inspector under the Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916, for the year ending October 31st, 1919.

Strength and Distribution of the Staff

The officers consist of:
1 Chief Inspector.
1 Steno-grapher and Clerk.
1 Steno-grapher (temporarily).
22 Inspectors.

(1) The number and descriptions of licenses and the names of applicants to whom licenses were granted are given in Schedule A and B attached hereto.

(2) The number of prosecutions conducted by the department was—Convictions, 578; dismissions, 96.

"Twelve appeals by defendants have been taken to the Supreme Court against magistrates' decisions. One of them was an appeal called Ex Parte Crawford case which was decided by the Court of Appeal sustaining the magistrate's decision, showing that Jamaica Ganger having been sold and used as a beverage was an intoxicating liquor and came under the provisions of "The Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916."

(3) The number of licensees convicted under the Prohibition Act was four, one wholesale and three retail.

(4) General remarks as to the working of the law within the province.

Since the first of November, 1918 we have experienced in the province of New Brunswick, as elsewhere, an abnormal condition. Great crime waves have been sweeping over the world and in this province we have felt them more or less. "The New York Evening Post" says: "It is the condition that has followed all wars. It is the backwash of the military ideas. The psychology of it may be the suspension of the civil law by the military or the suspension of the moral law by the irregularities of war. Another possible reason is the confusion in the period of reconstruction which emboldens the criminal to seek an advantage."

Another condition hard to overcome was that which was created by the influenza epidemic. This covered a period of several months and was accompanied with a recurrence of the "Flu." Some doctors asked that provision be made so that liquor for medicinal purposes might be obtained much more readily. This request, in the face of stern necessity, was granted and it is only fair to state that in some quarters the measures taken were greatly appreciated, while on the other hand it is only fair to set forth that there were many who did not scruple to take advantage of the occasion to obtain liquors for other than medicinal purposes.

The conditions created by the epidemic were intensified by the ending of the war and the return of the soldiers. The influence operating during the years of tension and trial being suddenly withdrawn, a changed condition was immediately noticeable. Every province in the dominion has had this same problem which has been described by John Garry, Chief of Police in Chicago, as "the inevitable aftermath of the war."

The many restraints throughout that have held men for four years were relaxed and many things that were considered unlawful during the days of war are now considered lawful. When these restraints were lifted and the period of rehabilitation had come a changed condition was inevitable. This change found expression by a great many returning to old habits and to old habits.

A serious cause for complaint is found in the attitude of some few of the doctors in the province of New Brunswick, twenty-four of whom have been before the courts in various sections and have been convicted. We have had some doctors who freely resorted to the issuing of prescriptions and the number issued by several of them appear to be altogether beyond reason. During the last few months we have been keeping a record of the number of prescriptions written by the different medical men, which record is most illuminating showing that contrary to expectations the senior doctors or the leading doctors in the community do not prescribe liquors freely, but that the juniors do. This constitutes a problem that is worthy of very serious consideration and adequate means ought to be sought and found to deal with doctors who persistently and flagrantly violate the law.

Throughout the year it was suggested that an advantage might be found in increasing the number of licensees under "The Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916." It was felt that where there were one or two licensees in a city holding a license that they not only had a monopoly of the business, but that there was an unfair discrimination against those who had not obtained a license. From the view point of sobriety the move was unfortunate, as no sooner was the number of licensees multiplied than drunkenness increased. Our experience has taught us that wherever the greatest facilities for drinking are made there we shall have the greatest amount of drunkenness.

An interchange of officers throughout the province during the year because of so many holidays, exhibitions, horse races, joy days and picnics. That much of the year was spent in a city holding a license that they not only had a monopoly of the business, but that there was an unfair discrimination against those who had not obtained a license. From the view point of sobriety the move was unfortunate, as no sooner was the number of licensees multiplied than drunkenness increased. Our experience has taught us that wherever the greatest facilities for drinking are made there we shall have the greatest amount of drunkenness.

The enforcement of the act has gone on quite steadily, the various inspectors facing their difficult tasks as best they could under the adverse circumstances that confronted them during the abnormal period of the "Flu." The ending of the war and throughout the year. The officer's task is not an enviable one at the best of times and has been exceedingly difficult these last twelve months. The strange mentality operating and the very nature of their tasks making it at all times hard, quite often risky and seldom pleasing. Possibly no class or set of officers is so beset with temptation or opposition as a prohibition inspector and yet the work of enforcement has gone along in this province fairly free from the embarrassments and impediments that usually hamper and hinder officers of the law. One difficulty experienced here, as elsewhere, is to obtain the class and type of men who will make efficient officers and that class when obtained are usually hard to hold.

We have found it necessary to have loving recommendations:

(1) That in view of the many cases of flagrant and continued violations of "The Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1916" that Sections 21 and 46 be changed so that the maximum quantity of liquor for any purpose for a patient in a town, village or city may not exceed more than eight ounces of intoxicating liquor, this not to include Alcohol for external purposes. This recommendation comes because of confidences and discussions with doctors in this province.

(2) That in view of the fact that drug stores are increasing and that the proprietors of said drug stores are making application for a license to be given to parties whose only business is attending to that one particular article and that the government regulate the price of liquors.

(3) I would also suggest that for the more efficient working of the enforcement of the prohibition act the province be divided into five separate districts and that each district be supervised by a senior officer who would be responsible to the chief inspector for the carrying on of his duties and that in each district there be junior officers responsible to the senior. This would enable the officers to do much more efficiently in the law and then it might be possible to make some arrangements for these officers to have some other duties and to be related to some other department. I would propose that the province be divided into districts as follows:

(1) St. John and Kings counties with headquarters at St. John.
(2) York, Sunbury, Queens and Charlotte counties with headquarters at Fredericton.
(3) Westmorland, Albert and Kent counties with headquarters at Moncton.
(4) Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche counties with headquarters at Bathurst.
(5) Madawaska, Victoria and Carleton counties with headquarters at Edmundston.

Respectfully submitted,
W. D. WILSON,
Chief Inspector.

VALUABLE HINTS TO POULTRY KEEPERS

Regarding the Hatching and Nursing of Chicks.

Quite a few back-yard people are very anxious to get their birds out exceptionally early, and though it is not a bad habit to hatch early, still there is a limit. Chicks should not be hatched earlier than they can be looked after and judging from the inquiries we have had during the past two or three weeks, there are quite a few chicks dying on bare cellar floors.

If chicks are hatched at this time or any time before the spring opens they should be kept on an earthen floor rather than on board or cement. They should be given plenty of heat under the hover but should have room outside of the hover to work and scratch. Sunshine is also very important as well as fresh air and so soon as they can be put out on the ground, see that they get there. It is a good idea to hatch away from the south side of the house and let it get dry, at the earliest possible moment.

Suggestions re the feeding of chicks was sent this week by R. L. Dorrance, chemist in charge of Poultry Investigational work at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa. He writes:

Feeding Young Chicks.

In an experiment carried out at the Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in feeding young chicks, the mortality in some instances was eight times as large as in others, while the gain in weight was five times as large. This variation was due entirely to the rations supplied the chicks at the hatching and during the first few days of their life. In other words, in feeding two lots of chicks, each having 100, one lost 80 chicks while the other lost 10, and in the lot that had only 20 left those 20 although weighed just four weeks of age, were five times as large as the other lot.

No doubt the biggest cause of mortality among young chicks is poor feeding and in order to determine as accurately as possible the results which might be obtained from feeding various rations, an experiment was carried out at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, on some day-old chicks. Five hundred and four chicks, chiefly White Leghorns, hatched the same time and in the same incubator were divided into 12 groups of 42 each and each group penned and fed separately. A weekly record of mortality and gain in weight was kept and the results can be summarized as follows:

1. A ration consisting only of

DANDRUFF SOON GETS YOUR HAIR

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Soon every hair on your scalp shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.

cracked and ground grains is not satisfactory.

2. This mixture will be improved if either meat, eggs, milk or green feed be added. Eggs are the most beneficial followed by green feed, meat and milk in order of their value.
3. The addition of two of these feeds to the grain ration will be more beneficial than if only one is added, but eggs and greens is the best combination.
4. The addition of three of these feeds will give better results than would be the case if only two were fed. Eggs, greens and meat fed in addition to the grain feed will prove a very satisfactory combination.
5. The best results—a. lowest mortality and largest gain in weight—will result if all four feeds are added to the grain and mash ration.

For the poultryman who desires optimum results, the following formula is suggested:

1. Grain, a mixture of equal parts finely ground oats, wheat, barley and corn, or one of the commercial

A MUSICAL EVENING

The club of St. John's Home Church is now presenting for a musical evening to be held in Holy Week. Part of St. John's well known cantata, "The Crucifixion" will be given. The choir under the direction of D. Arnold Fox has been strengthened by the addition of several new members.

She Feels She Owes Her Life To Them

WHAT MISS EAGLE SAYS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Ormsley lady who suffered from Diabetes for five years tells of the benefit she received from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ormsley, Ont., March 19.—(Special)—"I feel I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills." This strong statement comes from the lips of Miss Gertrude Eagle, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. And Miss Eagle gives her reasons for speaking out in terms that none can fail to understand.

"I have been suffering from Diabetes for five years," she states. "I tried the doctors, but they could do nothing for me, was the only one who could not do anything for me. A harmonious standing between us—each feeling that the other—will conditions day after day. I have now taken three boxes and they have done me so much good I feel I owe my life to them."

Diabetes is one of the most advanced and dangerous forms of kidney trouble. A remedy that will relieve Diabetes will act much more quickly on minor kidney ills. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for all forms of kidney troubles.

Mr. E. S. Archibald, Experimental Farm, has in his back yard a pen of White Leghorn pullets that did not start to lay until the 28th of December, since which time they have laid per week as follows:

Week Ending	No. Eggs
Dec. 28	19
Jan. 3	36
Jan. 10	64
Jan. 17	38
Jan. 24	40
Jan. 31	43
Feb. 7	41
Feb. 14	45
Feb. 21	49
Feb. 28	47

This makes a total of 70 days' laying and 375 eggs or an average of 5.3 eggs each per pullet, or an average lay of 53 per cent. for the months of January and February.

How Union Labor Feels Toward the "Red" Agitators

For months editorials from city and country papers alike have warned us of the danger of "Red" agitators. We have been told that they are making every effort to foment strikes, hoping they eventually will end in revolution; that the American workingman is becoming infected with the virus of Bolshevism; that he is already turning Bolshevik, as evidenced by recent strikes of great magnitude. For these reasons The Literary Digest was determined to find the views of the workers themselves. We accordingly sent a letter to hundreds of labor-leaders throughout the country, and in order to make no mistake about it, we did not merely ask if the workers disliked or disapproved the "Red" agitators—we asked if they approved their depiction. In plain language, should they be kicked out of the country?

A comprehensive summary of the 526 replies received is given in THE LITERARY DIGEST for March 20th. It will prove astounding reading to those who have ventured to doubt the loyalty of the American workingman. The article is well illustrated with pertinent cartoons.

Shows That the Increased Cost of Necessaries for Successful Operation Hits Industry Very Hard

The destruction in our forests caused by the budworm cannot be overlooked. We shall do all we can to remove the damaged trees while still valuable, also to assist the department in eradicating this destructive insect. This is a subject I would like to have discussed.

Every mill and factory owner should do all possible to make working conditions as pleasant and safe as possible. A harmonious and friendly understanding between employer and employee—each feeling a real interest in the other—will do more to stabilize conditions in our industry than any panacea so far suggested.

All efforts to create amity between so-called capital and labor should be discontinued by both parties. The most friendly relations have so far existed in our part of the Dominion and will continue to do so.

Compensation Act
Your directors have not been idle during the past year. In June we were advised that woodmen and river drivers would be brought under the operation of the Compensation Act on the 1st of August. This was not anticipated. On the 12th of July we met Mr. John Sinclair and Mr. Eugene at the Miramichi Hotel in New Brunswick and had a satisfactory interview with them, and rates were agreed upon for the first season. On the 25th of Sept. we had a general meeting in St. John when matters of interest were discussed fully and a committee consisting of Fred Anderson, Campbellton; Angus McLean, Bathurst; Fred G. Beatty, St. John; J. W. Rankley, Chatham; D. Fraser, Plaster Rock; Stanley Douglas, Fredericton and W. B. Snowball, Chatham, were appointed to meet the government and discuss the following:

(A)—The advisability of fixing stumpage for a period of ten years, as in Quebec.
(B)—The adoption of a more equitable log scale, and suggested the present Quebec scale.

(C)—The matter of fire protection being placed in the control of the mill holders.
(D)—The question of department inspectors, logs and putting operators to the expense of boarding scowlers and horsemen, and the operator had to keep scowlers in the woods and submit to a rough statement of his cut.

The government gave your committee a sympathetic hearing and discussed fully the several suggestions made. Information was given during last session that the Minister of Lands and Mines intended having a conference with the millers, but although we communicated with the Minister in August last, he has not yet named a date.

Nine Hour Day
During the past season, many mills in the province were compelled to adopt a nine-hour day. Saw mills can only run some six months of the year and this makes a very short working day for such a large expenditure of capital as represented in the largest saw mills. If these mills were night and day, as the shortening working day would warrant, it would mean a very short saving season, as most of the mills cannot increase their supply of logs without depreciating very quickly their lands and thus curtailing the life of the industry.

Since our last meeting, two of the directors who took a great interest in the working of our association, have passed to the Great Beyond, namely, Daniel Richards and J. B. Grosvenor. We revere their memory and express our sympathy to their surviving families and friends.

It has come to our notice that some pressure is being brought to bear on the Board of Commerce, to induce them to prohibit the exportation of lumber, owing to the present shortage of supplies. We think some action should be taken to show our disapproval of any steps being taken that will hamper trade. In our opinion, such action would mean retaliation to our trade.

The University of New Brunswick has a forestry branch in connection with their institution. We realize the need of technically trained men in all branches of industry and perhaps no industry requires this more than our own. We would ask the hearty cooperation of the trade to this branch and I am sure any suggestions that would make the work more practical would be welcomed by the faculty.

Cost of Operation
In some quarters we hear criticism of the great advance in the price of lumber and those unaware of the real reason, blame the lumbermen. It is well for us to be prepared to show good reasons beyond our control for the advance which, however, is not as great as that of many other commodities.

In 1913, stumpage was $1.50 and mileage $3. Today we pay $3.50 stumpage, $3. mileage and $5.20 per mile for fire protection, also we have Workmen's Compensation of logging, river driving, rafting, milling and towing with a separate rate on each and this still further adds to the cost; in addition, we have the heavy business dominion war tax.

In 1918, the provisions that enter into a logging operation as compared with the present cost:

Flour	$4.90	$13.20
Tea	.25	.45
Beans	2.05	4.90
Molasses	.28 1/2	1.00

TEA REALIZED SUBSTANTIAL SUM

$125 Receipts of St. Patrick's Day Entertainment Given by Girls' Cabinet at Y. W. C. A. Recently—Grateful for Assistance.

It was reported at a meeting of the Girls' Cabinet held yesterday at the Y. W. C. A. Recreation Centre, King Street East, that the St. Patrick's Day Tea, held by the members had realized the sum of $125.00. One hundred dollars of this was voted to the Y. W. C. A. to help purchase the building on King Street East.

Votes of thanks were extended to the following ladies who had assisted with the tea and to whom the members of the Girls' Cabinet are very grateful. Mrs. T. G. Somerville, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Mrs. McAvity, Miss Austin, Miss Dorothy Sinclair, and Miss Lillian Findley. Three cheers were given for Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. T. H. Somerville who had been especially kind.

In the absence of the President, the Vice-President, Miss Olivia Lambert presided.

Axes 7.50
Peavies 15.25
Cross Cut Saws 4.75

In 1913 men's wages were $28 to $32 per month; in 1918 men's wages were $70 to $85 per month.

While there is practically a hundred percent advance in the articles that enter into cost, lumber has not advanced in the same proportion.

The Stumpage Question
Since writing the above a discussion of this subject has taken place in the legislature and a suggestion made that stumpage should be $7 per thousand and limitation given that the profits for some years have been $15 to $20 per thousand. When intelligent persons make these statements it shows how necessary it is to correct such erroneous views. I do not know anything approaching such a margin on the North Shore. When it is considered that on the North Shore of New Brunswick there are long portages costing as high as $10 per ton; drivages expensive, also high rafting charges, it can easily be seen that such increase in stumpage would ruin the lumber trade in our part of the province, reduce the cut very materially, throwing men out of employment in woods and mills and bringing disaster to our district.

Louis Graveure Coming To St. John

The following letter was received on March 18th from Mr. Gogorza's management. New York, March 13th, 1920.

My Dear Sir:—
We are sorry to give you the information that Mr. Gogorza has had a complete collapse, resulting from his recent attack of the "flu" from which he has not recovered, and two doctors have forced him to retire from the field for the balance of the season. He will not sing again until next Fall, when we hope to be able to arrange a new date with you.

Cordially yours,
WOLFSOHN MUSICAL BUREAU,
A. F. Adams Proprietor.

But since that date the wires have been burning between here and New York, and we are now able to announce to the people of St. John that Mr. Louis Graveure (baritone), has been booked to sing in Mr. Gogorza's stead at the Imperial Theatre on the evening of April 18th.

Mr. Graveure sings with consummate art and heart-felling satisfaction. He translates alike the greatest operatic airs or the simple English Ballads. His voice is vibrant and rich, full of color and as pure and powerful as the finest tones of a lyric tenor. Mr. Graveure sings exclusively for the Columbia Phonograph Co.

So all we can ask our patrons who have already bought tickets to hear the Gogorza recital, is to kindly hold same, as it is only at a greater expense that we have been able to secure Mr. Graveure.

Tickets now on sale at C. H. Townsend Piano Co., King Street.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAVE NOT MADE JOKE OF PORT QUESTION

Indignant Member Canvasses Trade of the Times Against Verdict of Judges in Harbor Question Debate—Harbor Commission Not a Corpse, Nor is Verdict of Judges Ridiculous—The Myth of Nationalization.

The Times accuses the Commercial Club of reviving a corpse. It says: "The Commercial Club should label its jokes—or cease to joke about serious matters."

This is apropos of the decision rendered by E. Allan Schofield, F. W. Daniel and W. J. Metagama, who were the judges in the debate on harbor commission before the Commercial Club some time ago.

The Times adds: "The decision of the judges is now published, and while it is as highly amusing as the debate, there is danger that persons not fully informed might take it seriously. To have these judges describe nationalization as a myth in the same week in which Hon. Mr. Meighen and Hon. Dr. Pugsley publicly declared nationalization to be the Government policy, must be regarded, even if intended to be a burst of humor, as bordering on the ridiculous. The Commercial Club has a reputation to make. Let us hope its executive will give serious thought to matters of vital interest to the future of St. John before it attempts to influence public opinion."

This amusing remark created some amusement and some indignation last evening. Said a member of the Club: "The Times is not honest with the public or fair to the Club. In the first place, who killed Harbor Commission; it was a pretty live subject at the meeting. The Times says there was only an alleged debate. It ought to know. Its spokesman was asked to take part, but he beat a not very graceful retreat. Why were three of the speakers who opened the discussion in favor of harbor commission? Because it was not found possible to get members of the Club ready to take the other side. The Times' insinuation that the Commercial Club made a joke of the matter is unworthy a public journal. The whole object of the Club was to provide an opportunity for the discussion of the harbor question. Those who wished to oppose harbor commission had a chance to state their cases. Chamberlain Bullock and some others did speak against harbor commission."

"The three judges were estimable citizens. Their verdict was that no case had been made out by the opponents of harbor commission. Their judgment is entitled to respect. They have every right to be taken seriously. The Times is merely absurd when it says that their view 'must be regarded, even if intended to be a burst of humor, as bordering on the ridiculous.'"

"Either the Times is hypnotized by the term nationalization, or it is trying to mislead the people for some strange purpose of its own. It declares that Hon. Mr. Meighen 'said positively that the only question of how fast the port without caring whether the money, declaring also that the nationalization of the port was an essential and unalterable of the railways and steamship lines using the port. Must we, then, wait for the nationalization of the C. P. R., the C. P. O. S., the Dominion Lines, and other steamship lines before we have nationalization of the port?'"

"And how can we have a nationalized port unless the nation has some form of control of the port? The Times has sought to convey the impression that under its scheme of nationalization some mythical authority would spend money here and administer the port without caring whether the expenses as would be commercially practical. The Canadian National Railways charge all the traffic will bear; and their export rates are the same as the C. P. R. The Canadian National ships also charge all the traffic will bear; their rates are fixed by the competition of private ships. If the port is nationalized it is operated on any other than a commercial principle, having regard to the competition of other ports."

"Under the Times' scheme of nationalization the controlling authority of the port would be at Ottawa or Toronto; under the harbor commission a committee of local business men, subject to the direct influence of the commercial interests of the city, would be the controlling authority."

"Let the Times explain why that committee appointed a representative meeting of the business men of the city, held in the Board of Trade room a month or so ago, has not carried out its intention and submitted a report. One man has not made a corpse of harbor commission."

Burned Buildings Being Remodelled

Those on Mill Street and Paradise Row May Be Ready by May—Railway Will Probably Take Section in the Rear—The Bank Premises.

Now that the bright and sunny days of spring have put in their appearance, hammer and saw are making the echoes ring in many parts of the city. Along Mill street and Paradise Row the site of the disastrous blaze of a short while ago, the activity is particularly noticeable. The O'Neill building which was so badly gutted that only the front wall was left standing, is being rapidly rebuilt, and completely remodelled. The lower floor is to be occupied as a drug store by S. H. Hawker, who expects to take possession by the 15th of April; the two upper floors will be fitted up for lodge rooms or possibly flats, and the work is being done by Arthur Hammond, who is rushing the job so that the building may be ready for its occupants at the earliest possible date.

The Chamberlain building is also being repaired and remodelled, and an effort will be made to have it ready for the first of May. The lower floor will be occupied by Mr. Chamberlain himself, as a shop, the upper floors will be for householders.

The four-storied house on Paradise Row, which also belongs to Mr. Chamberlain and the top floor of which alone was seriously damaged, is also being remodelled and all four floors will be ready for tenants when moving day comes round next spring.

The corner lot which belongs to the Bank of Nova Scotia will not be remodelled pending arrangements with the city, who wish to cut a large ellipse off the corner and enlarge the street on the same principle as the Bank of British North America at the corner of Dock street and Market square. Provided sufficient land is left, should the city take a slice of the block, the bank intends putting up a modern bank building there to meet the demands of their customers in that section of the city.

The number of old buildings in the rear which were built on land belonging to the railway are to be demolished, and the existing yard divisions will be extended in that direction, although rumor has it that it is an intention of putting up a large office in that vicinity.

House Hunters Having Trouble

Problem is Serious for Families With Children—Many Landlords Do Not Want the Youngsters—Grown-Ups Are Preferred.

"We cannot find a house which can rent because we have children. I think the children of the next generation will have to be strangled at birth." This was the speech made by a mother to whom the housing problem, though she spoke in a humorous way, was really no joke and indeed it is a most serious matter to a very large number of people in this city of St. John.

Every day, societies interested in the welfare of their less fortunate brothers and sisters hear stories of families who have been "warned out" of their homes because the landlord is renting it to a tenant with no children. Recently a case came before a philanthropic association where there is a large family—eight children, and the parents have been told that their flat is rented and that they must vacate. It is a source of great anxiety to the wage-earner who is at present too ill to work and whose wife has now the burden of caring for the boys and girls. Wherever they inquire, the same answer is given, "I can't rent my house to people with children." What is to be done, is really a terrible question, and one which must be settled.

The Standard was told recently that one man with only two children, one a baby in arms, was refused by a landlord on account of the children. The man was an excellent tenant and there was no question as to the regularity of the rent. It was only that he had the misfortune, from the landlord's point of view, of possessing little ones.

What is the use of all the talk at meetings, and of all the lectures given on Public Health if the little children cannot be housed and are to be turned away from homes? True, children destroy a house and in this, the parents are to blame. Johnnie need not write all over the wall paper, and Susie should not have cut the banister in the hall with the kitchen knife should pay for such damage and teach their offspring to respect the property of others.

While blame can be attached to the tenants, the fact remains that from pulpit and platform, in pamphlet and treatise "The Child is the Nation's Greatest Asset and as such must be cared for," is said and spoken and written again and again. Where can the child be cared for better than in the home and if the family is to be driven to the lowest hovels in a town what kind of care is that?

This is a matter which the City and State will have to take up and settle. Landlords cannot be compelled to rent their houses to any special class, but there must be some solution of the question.

Perhaps some philanthropist will build a number of desirable houses, especially for those possessing large families and here the worthy home-seeker may find a refuge. What a glorious opportunity for someone with means this would be and his reward would be a healthy happy little boy and girl growing up to fill the place of so many who died for justice and the world's safety and the right of all to live.

Smoker Given By The Sergeants' Mess

Held at the Armory Last Evening—Fine Programme by Metagama Concert Party

The Armory was the scene of a gay event last evening when the Garrison Sergeants' Mess held their first smoker, with Sergeant-Major Elliott in the chair.

An excellent programme, consisting of humorous songs and recitations was provided by the Metagama Concert Party. They were heartily applauded and were recalled several times by the large audience.

The following was the programme: E. Beatty—Baritone solo. Collins and Allen—Bass solo. Charles Olden—Humorist. Mr. McCartney—Solo.

After the above programme had been carried out, refreshments were served, and the smoker brought to a close at a late hour last night after all had spent a very enjoyable and social time. Although the concert party from the Metagama falls shortly for Liverpool, they will not be forgotten by the Garrison Sergeants as the success of the smoker was largely due to them.

LECTURE ON BIRDS TO THE SCHOLARS

Pupils of Miss Cameron's Room of Beaconsfield School Enjoyed Lecture Given by Wm. McInphes Yesterday Afternoon.

The pupils of Miss Cameron's room, which constitutes the grade four of the Beaconsfield school, Lancaster, enjoyed a very interesting lecture on birds in the Natural History rooms yesterday afternoon.

Sea birds were the subject of Wm. McInphes' lecture and many strange and novel features concerning the habits of this branch of the bird family was disclosed to the youngsters in a manner which kept them completely engrossed, and when the birds had all been discussed they got up with a sigh, the half hour seeming like but a few minutes to them all. In addition to the birds, some pictures of scenes along the St. John river were shown, which pleased the audience immensely.

At the close of the talk, the genial instructor invited the youngsters' questions, one propounded was: "Where are a bird's ears?" By means of a large owl in the collection Mr. McInphes demonstrated the location of a "bird's ears" and informed his hearers that the bird's ears were located in much the same position as their own. They were wonderfully acute, the hearing power of the owl being the most sensitive of any animal or creature there was.

The Mother Carey chicken, the Solent goose or Ganet, and the Sea Gull drew the particular attention of the class, although the Puffin with its peculiar bill was greeted with a chorus of "Go, look at the parrot," and was also favored with more than a passing glance.
