> A MARVELOUS STORY TOLD IN TWO LETTERS. FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct., 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrof-ula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquits what has wrought such a cure in my ease, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882.

Whereof she knows no end Far, far behind her in the haze Of years and tears, those early days
Of love and sorrow lie. She was a wife; on one true breast Her troubled girlhood found a rest In glad security.

Together in youth's morning time Their hearts rang true to true love's chime Through never weary hours; Togother, standing in the sun, They pulled with gladness, one by one,

Love's purple passion flowers

But death stole grimly to their side, And the bride room from the bride Was storcely laid with blushes down, Ere on ner curls of chestnut brown.

She was a wife, true wife to one Whose noble race was swiftly run; And, faithful to love's creed, She, made a widow in her youth, Math kept her first, her fairest truth,

He left her lonely, when the springs Of lite were fullest, when love clings With passion to its mate.

She dropped the purple flowers of love
Among the grass that waved above.
His grave—and learned to wait.

She gave him all she had in life, Her fair, fond self, a perfect wife, With dower of hope and youth;
She gives him all she has in death,
Her chaste, white life, untouched by breath
Or hint against her truth.

She waits. No longest year shall bring To her a second sponsal ring, No other marriage hours She waits, until by Eden's tide, The bridegroom gathers for his bride The fadeless passion flowers.
