Cruiser Arrived in Time To Save Crew of Stricken Vessel.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7—3:13 p.m.—The Central News has announced that a British submarine has sunk a German torpedo boat destroyer off the Ems estuary.

Mine Blamed.

London, Oct. 7—2:10 p.m.—A dispatch received here from Amsterdam says that a German torpedo boat destroyer is reported to have been sunk by a mine off the estuary of the River Ems, between the Netherlands and East Friesland, in the North Sea.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7—2:13 p.m.—A German torpedo boat destroyer, cruising off the estuary of the Ems, in the North Sea, has been sunk by a mine, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Reuter Telegram Company.

This news reached Amsterdam in a dispatch from the Island of Schiermonnik, one of the Friesland Islands, in the North Sea, belonging to Holland. This message says that at the time of the disaster, 11 o'clock this morning, the destroyer was to the northeast of Schiermonnik, not far from the estuary of the Ems.

Sank in Three Minutes.

Observers on the island heard a sudden explosion, and a huge mass of water arose from under the bows of the destroyer. The boat keeled over and disappeared under the waves within three minutes.

The periscopes of two submarines appeared on the scene. Their nationality could not be ascertained, but they probably were German.

A German cruiser arrived from the Ems estuary, the dispatch received in Amsterdam relates, in time to save the crew of the destroyer.

HAVE CHI-NAN STATION.

[Canadian Press.]

Peking, Oct. 7.—According to advices received here, the railroad station at Chi-Nan, in Shan-Tung Province, west of Kiao Chow, has been occupied by 30 Japanese soldiers. One hundred and fifty mo[re] are expected tomorrow.

A dispatch received here by the Associated P[ress] from Chi-Nan says no trains are running over the Shan-Tung Railroad. The rolling stock has been mostly co[l]lected at Chi-Nan. Germans from all a[r]ound the line, including women and childr[en] have taken refuge in Chi-Nan.

Non-Combatants May Leave.

The Japanese legation here says that siege guns are now ready for an attack on Tsing-Tau. The German garrison, the legation continues, will be summoned to surrender, and opportunity will be given non-combatants to come out. The American legation in Peking has sent instructions to Consul Peck at Tsing-Tau to come out when this opportunity is offered.

The Japanese have released the employees of the Shan-Tung Railroad, previously held by them.

MINES DRIFTING.

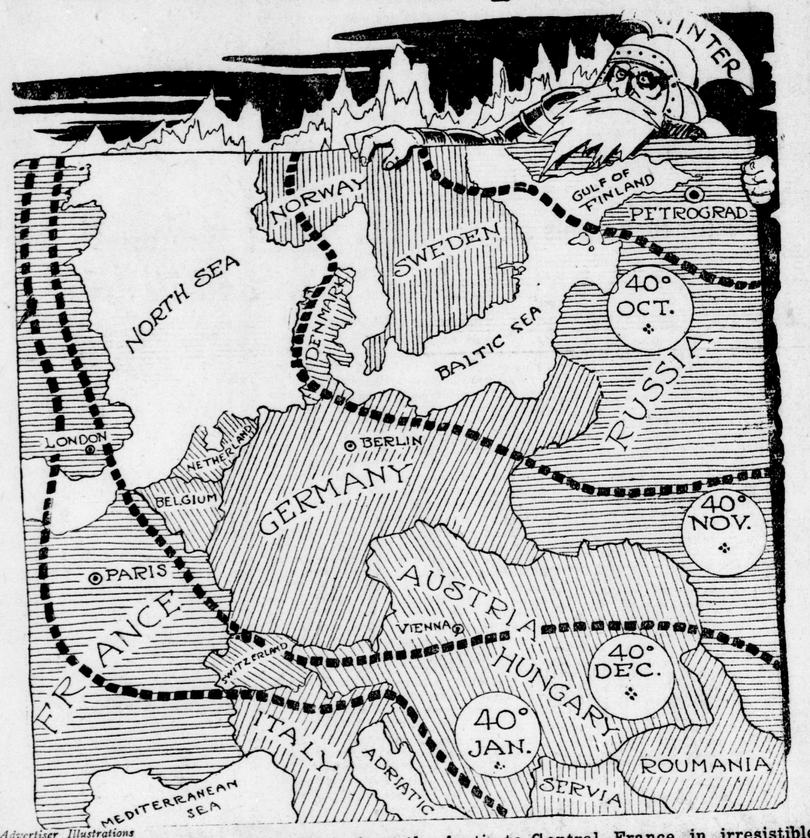

[Canadian Press.]

Copenhagen, Denmark, Oct. 7.—Via London, 2:03 p.m.—Mines drifting in the Baltic are preventing all sailings from Denmark and Germany by way of Gjedser and Warnemuende.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

VON KLUCK IN DESPERATION TRIES TURNING MOVEMENT

Resumption of Violent Attack s Indicates German Commander Is Endeavoring T o Flank the Allies—No Decision Is Reached.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—1:10 p.m.—The conflict along the rivers of Northern France, although now in its 26th day, shows fewer signs of an early end than it did two days ago.

Then Gen. Von Kluck appeared dangerously threatened by the enveloping movement of the allied armies. Today that resourceful commander, having obtained from an unknown quarter heavy reinforcements, is apparently engaged in his turn, in attempting to outflank the French and British lines.

This counter-stroke is viewed here as the supreme feature in the situation in the western theatre of the war, and its full significance can be gauged only by the actors who alone are privileged to witness the drama in which they are engaged.

To Cut Through Centre.

Simultaneously with his newly-launched turning movement, Gen. Von Kluck has been trying to cut right through the centre of the allies' extended left at Lassigny. The official French communication says that this attempt was foiled, but it is not doubted that the effort will be renewed, and in the event of success it would compel the left wing of the French army to retire towards the coast in order to escape the German lines stretching out simultaneously from the north and east. The fighting in this neighborhood, described in the official French report as "more and more violent," must, it is believed, reach to Antwerp, and largely influence the fate of that fortress.

The surest way of raising the siege of the temporary Belgian capital would be the success of the French turning movement on the Oise.

No Decision Reached.

Neither the German or French commanders have claimed any decision in this unprecedented struggle. Indeed, the German report states that nothing decisive has yet resulted from the attacks and counter-attacks in the district extending from Lille to Roye by way of Lens, Arras and Albert.

The most recent British victim of mines is the steamer Ardmount, which is variously reported as sent to the bottom by British and German mines. The official report is not yet available, but it is claimed that if steamers are following the sailing directions there is no danger to them from the British mine field. This mine field is now regarded, it is said, as essential, as it has securely sealed the channel in preparation for a period of fogs in long nights, when the lookout by aircraft will no longer be possible.

HUGHES GOING TO VIEW FIRING LINE

Will See Conditions in Britain and at the French Front.

WILL TALK TO KITCHENER

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Col. Sam Hughes is going straight to the firing line in Europe. He wants to see what the character of the fighting is, that he may fit the second Canadian force to meet it.

While he is away, Hon. J. D. Hazen will act as minister of militia. He will therefore have administration of the whole machinery of defence on land and sea.

Sam Hughes expects to be back in time to form the second contingent.

In fact, though the offer has been made, it has not yet been accepted. There is no doubt but that it will be. However, the character of the second expeditionary force will be discussed by Lord Kitchener and Col. Sam Hughes.

The Canadian Minister of War will see exactly the conditions in Britain and at the front in France.

He will be able to organize the second contingent with more certainty that it will be able to meet every need.

There will be more cavalry and less artillery than in the first expeditionary force, which took few mounted troops, but all the guns.

The second expeditionary force will probably sail for Europe about the end of December.

GERMAN CRUISER AND TWO GUNBOATS BELIEVED SUNK

(Canadian Press.)

Tokio, Oct. 7.—5:30 a.m.—The belief was expressed at the war office today that the German cruiser Cormoran and two other German gunboats had been sunk in Kino-Chow Bay.

The Japanese army has occupied the Shan Tung Railroad as far west as Chi-Man.

GERMANS ADMIT TOTAL LOSS OF AT LEAST 300,000 MEN

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—7:25 a.m.—An official list has been published in Berlin, says a Rome dispatch to the Times, giving the German losses in killed and missing at 117,000 to September 1.

The authorities admit, the dispatch adds, that the total losses to date are at least 300,000.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES RESENTED UNWARRANTED ATTACK BY PAPER

Condemn Lack of Public Spir it in a Local Journal That Cast Aspersions On Work D one by Local Architects On New Aber deen School.

The following resolution, introduced by Trustee A. E. Silverwood, was passed at yesterday's meeting of the board of education, referring to disparaging attacks in a local newspaper, directed at the trustees and Architects Watt & Blackwell, who were in charge of the new Aberdeen School:

RESOLVED:—That in view of the newspaper attacks made recently in connection with the Aberdeen School, we, the members of this Board of Education, desire it to go on record that after careful investigation of the complaints made with reference to said Aberdeen School, we believe these complaints have been made without proper justificaton.

We believe, after careful inquiry and investigation, that the sanitary conditions at Aberdeen School are entirely satisfactory, and we desire to express our conviction that the interests of the board of education will be best served by members of the board discussing educational affairs for publication only with their colleagues and not with the press.

We deeply deplore the lack of public spirit on the part of any member or members of this board, reporters, newspapers, or others, who would seek to attack a public body for work that has been as conscientiously carried out as we believe has been the case in the building of the Aberdeen School.

The Advertiser endeavors to respect the privilege accorded the press by presenting full and accurate reports of meetings to which its reporters are admitted.

ATTEMPTS TO STOP ALLIES' ADVANCE FAIL

Masses of Cavalry Come to Grips Almost On Belgian Frontier.

FRONTS EXTEND FURTHER

Germans Ineffectually Try To Stop Russian Pursuit of Beaten Army.

CZAR'S MEN IN PRUSSIA

Enemy's Offensive On River Niemen Has Been Completely Checked.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 7.—3:08 p.m.—The following official communication was given out in Paris this afternoon: "On our left wing the battle still continues with great violence. The opposing fronts extend into the region between Lens (nine miles northeast of Arras), and La Basset (13 miles southeast of Lille), and are lengthening by masses of cavalry, which are in grips as far as the vicinity of Armentieres (nine miles northwest of Lille and virtually on the Belgian frontier).

"On the front extending from the Somme to the Meuse, there is nothing to report.

"In the Woevre district the enemy made a new effort to stop our progress, but his attacks again failed.

In Russia, the German army, defeated in the battle of Augustowo, which lasted from September 25 to October 3, endeavored to arrest the Russian pursuit at prepared positions along the line of the Wirballen frontier. At Lyck the Russian troops continue their advance, and at several places they have penetrated into East Prussia. To sum up, the German offensive on the Niemen has been brought to an end by a complete check, accompanied by very considerable losses."

PRZEMYSL UNDER FIRE OF RUSSIANS

Report Says Considerable Damage Is Being Done to Fortress by Bombardment.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 7.—2:10 p.m.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Petrograd says that a report from Lemberg, Galicia, states that Przemysl, the strong fortress of the Austrians, 51 miles west of Lemberg, is being bombarded by Russian heavy artillery.

The damage is considerable, houses being set on fire by bursting shrapnel. All efforts of the Austrian field forces to assist the forts have been unsuccessful, and their troops have retreated to Vlotslavsk.

EX-CABINET MINISTER WHO WILL SPEAK HERE ON FRIDAY EVENING

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM.

LOCAL RESERVISTS CALLED TO ITALY

Score of London Italians Respond to Call to the Colors.

LEFT HERE ON TUESDAY

Leave New York Via Cedric —Orders Regarded as Significant.

Twenty Italian reservists left London last night, via Grand Trunk, for New York, where they sailed on the Cedric for the old country. Their departure is significant, for all had been summoned back to the colors as part of the general mobilization scheme of the Italian army.

Since the outbreak of European hostilities Italy's position has been a precarious one, and rumors without number have placed her in the field on the side of the allies. Strengthening of Austrian defences along the Italian border has been regarded with significance second only to the mobilization of the Italian army.

London Italians have received communications from the old land that mobilization started there several weeks in advance of the open break between Russia and Austria. The actual calling of the reservists back, however, has brought the question home to London.

Small parties of reservists from this section of the country have been going back for weeks. They have been making the usual winter trips to the old land, and their return has been without official orders. Yesterday's contingent, however, declared that they had been ordered back. Their departure from the station here, was the scene of some little excitement among compatriots.

More Leave Today.

Another party of the Italian reservists left London this afternoon. They came from the surrounding district and left at 2:05 over the Grand Trunk. Like the party that left last night, they will go direct to New York, via Niagara Falls, and will sail from that port to their fatherland.

The reservists are unaware of the reason of the call to arms. Some informed Advertiser reporters that they had heard rumors of Italy joining forces with the allies, and believed that this was the cause of the urgent summons to return. Others claimed that the reserves were being called out as a general protection. They declared that Italy was simply preparing for emergencies, and wanted the trained men in the event of anything cropping up that would draw her into the general struggle.

AUSTRIANS LOSE 6 SHIPS OF FLEET

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 7.—2:30 p.m. — The Messagro publishes a dispatch from Ancona, in Italy, on the Adriatic, telegraphs the Rome correspondent of the Havas Agency, which declares that four Austrian torpedo boats and two Austrian torpedo boat destroyers have been lost off the coast of Dalmatia, as a result of coming in contact with mines.

The Ancona dispatch adds that a majority of the members of the crews of these six vessels lost their lives.

GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS HAVE ALL PROVED USELESS

Official Statement in Berlin Does Not Claim Usual Success Against Allies, and Says There Is "No News From Antwerp."

(Canadian Press.)

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Via Amsterdam and London, 11:55 a.m.—The following official announcement was given out by the headquarters staff of the German army the evening of October 6:

"Continuous French outflanking movements against our right wing have extended the battle front until it is now north of Arras. West of Lille and west of Lens (nine miles northeast of Arras), our advance guards are in touch with the enemy's cavalry.

"No decision yet has been reached in our counter attacks along the line between Arras, Albert and Roye.

NO NEWS FROM ANTWERP.

"The situation remains unchanged along the battlefront between the Oise and the Meuse, in the vicinity of Verdun, and in Alsace-Lorraine.

"There is no news from Antwerp.

"In the eastern theatre of the war the Russians advancing against East Prussia through the province of Suwalki, have been checked. We have been successful in our attack against the enemy near the town of Suwalki. This movement begun yesterday."

Another Repulse.

"There was an engagement October 5 in the vicinity of Radom between our forces and two divisions and a half of Russian cavalry, together with portions of the Ivangorod reserves. The enemy was repulsed and driven back on Ivangorod. Radom is about sixty miles south of Warsaw and fifty miles west of Lublin. The Province of Radom borders on Galicia. Ivangorod (Premblin) is on the Vistula River, 30 miles northeast of Radom.

AUSTRIANS CLAIM WINS.

[Canadian Press.]

Vienna, Oct. 7.—Via Amsterdam and London, 12:25 p.m.—The following official statement, signed by Gen. Von Hoefer, deputy chief of the general staff, was given out in the city today: "October 6—The sudden advance of the German and Austrian forces in Russian Poland seems to have completely surprised the Russians. Although they moved strong forces from Galicia to the north, they were repulsed and driven back across the Vistula by the allies, while making an effort to cross the river in the direction of Opatow.

"Our troops captured a bridge held by the Russians near Sandomir.

"In Galicia we are advancing in accordance with our plans.

"In the vicinity of Tarnovezeg we routed a division of Russian infantry."

SEE DANGER NOW.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Oct. 7.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The British announcement concerning the laying of mines in the southerly part of the North Sea is published in Berlin this morning. Commenting on the measure, it was pointed out here that it virtually closes the channel to neutral ships, and that this belt of mines, stretching between Ramsgate and Ostend, constitutes an effective, although unofficial, blockade of the ports of Holland. The prospects of navigation, when the storms of winter tear these mines loose from their anchorages, are not particularly pleasant.

The German admiralty has reiterated its declaration that German mines have been laid only along the coast of Great Britain.

Antwerp a Problem.

News received here of the situation before Antwerp sets forth that the German big guns have been advanced to new positions for the bombardment of the inner line of forts. The military critic of the Lokal Anzeiger expresses the opinion that a heavy bombardment will be necessary before a breach in these closely-linked fortifications can be made. He says desperate sorties may be expected.

No definite news of the situation in France or Gallicia has been given out in Berlin today.

ZEPPELIN GETTING READY TO ATTACK

Reported at Wilhelmshaven, Whence Threatened Air Invasion of Britain Is to Start.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.——In a dispatch from The Hague, the correspondent of the Daily Express says that German newspapers reaching there indicate that Count Zeppelin is now at Wilhelmshaven, on the North Sea, with his staff. Wilhelmshaven is the point from which the great air raid on the British Isles is to start. One of these papers publishes an interview with the count, in which he is quoted as saying that he had not forgotten England, and would prove it very soon.

It is also reported, the correspondent of the Express continues, that Count Zeppelin was summoned recently by Emperor William to Mainz.

The Emperor said to the count that he relied on him for a great work, and offered to make him commander-in-chief of the German air fleet. The count smilingly refused, but said he would accept the title when he returned from England.

The Zeppelin staffs are working day and night at Wilhelmshaven, and another station is being established at Emden for other types of airships.

EXPORTS INCREASE.

[Canadian Press.]

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 7.—During the past three months exports from Kingston to the United States amounted to $319,765, an increase of $114,085 over the same period of last year, and establishing a record. The increase was largely in cattle.

VAST MILITARY RABBIT WARREN

So One Correspondent Describes Countryside Along the River Aisne.

BATTLE MAY LAST LONG

Foes Remain Invisible and Waiting Is Strain— Allies the Fresher.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—The correspondent of the Times at Epernay, France, telegraphing under date of Sunday, says: "The battle of the French rivers has entered upon its fourth week, and unless some flanking movement is carried through there appears no reason why the titanic tragedy should not continue for a long time its successful run.

"Now that the perfection of the German trenches is rivalled by those of the allies, it has become a struggle in which one is pitted against an invisible foe, who is never seen until he springs suddenly from his hiding place. The countryside along the Aisne is a vast military rabbit warren.

"Both sides are resolutely determined not to give ground. The Germans are continually delivering attacks and counter-attacks, but the allies are not making any definite attempt to advance in this region. They are content for the time being with beating back all German attacks and are not trying to occupy the enemies' trenches.

"The forces of the Germans are worn by hard campaigning and frequent attacks, while the allies' troops are fresh, because they are frequently rested and changed. One feature of the allies' stone wall policy is that the casualties on the allies' side have been very slight recently.

"Everything possible is being done to relieve the men from the strain of waiting. Tobacco and newspapers are provided, and mail is delivered regularly. The strain of waiting has been especially severe on the African troops.

"One of the most useful articles of the German war equipment is a sky-rocket, which gives a powerful illumination, lasting 40 seconds, above the ranks of the allies, enabling the German artillery officers to obtain an accurate range of the trenches."

NO "SAW OFF!" NO SURRENDER

Hamilton Spectator (Con.)

No blame can be attached to London temperance people for refusing to assent to a contribution to the patriotic fund from the hotelmen, with the proviso that no attempt would be made to reduce licenses. Such offerings should be devoid of strings.

ADDED ENERGY IN NEW ONTARIO

Promise of Ontario's New Premier, Hon. W. Hearst—Makes Public Statement.

[Canadian Press.]

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Hon. W. H. Hearst, Ontario's new premier, tonight issued a public statement dealing with the problems confronting the Government.

After paying a tribute to the late Sir James Whitney, he says that the aim of the Government will be to carry out the splendid conditions bequeathed by the late premier, and to maintain unsullied and unimpeached the high standard of clean, honest administration of public affairs bequeathed by him. The Government will not hesitate to break new ground when the needs of the province demand. The policy of hydro-electric development, "carried to such a triumphant success with unexampled energy, zeal and devotion by Sir Adam Beck," will be carried on with unabated vigor.

An active campaign for the greater production of foodstuffs will be pressed and the development of New Ontario will proceed with added zeal and energy. Education is to receive the same careful attention as in the past.

Finances of Province.

Regarding the finances of the province the statement says:

"Stock is now being taken of the value of our natural resources, particularly of timber, from which a very substantial proportion of our revenue has been derived in the past, and it is expected at an early date we will have as complete information as possible with regard to the natural resources of the province, so that we may be the better able to determine the value of these resources from a revenue-producing standpoint for the future, and the best means of conserving and dealing with them so as to secure the most beneficial results for ourselves as well as those who come after us."

The statement concludes with the assurance that the motherland will be aided in the present crisis and the Government's best efforts will be directed to stimulate trade.

"ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE," SAYS PRESS BUREAU

Britain Denies German Statements Regarding Preparation For War.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 6.—8:35 p.m.—The official press bureau tonight issued a statement declaring to be "absolutely untrue" the alegations made by Prof. Harnack and other prominent Germans that Great Britain had stored quantities of ammunition at the French fortress of Maubeuge before the outbreak of the war which the Germans claimed was evidence that she intended to violate the neutrality of Belgium.

The statement adds: "No decision to send British forces abroad was taken till after Germany had violated Belgian neutrality and Belgium had appealed for assistance. No British ammunition or stores had been placed at Maubeuge before these events."

ALBANIANS ON RAMPAGE.

PARIS, Oct. 5. — 3:35 a.m. — An Athens dispatch to the Havas Agency says that refugees from Premiti, in Epirus, European Turkey, report that Albanians are pillaging and burning Christian villages in the district of Berat, 30 miles northeast of Avlona.

WHEN YOU WANT TO LAUGH—EAT!

And If You Want to Eat Without Food Fears Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Each Meal.

Laughter, smiles and mirth never go with a "caved-in" stomach. Fancy a man afraid of his food laughing! There is always that haunting feeling that a sick stomach is nothing to be mirthful about.

"My old grouchy days are funny to me now."

Just make up your mind to help nature help herself. Give your body a chance to make good. Heal the raw edges of your stomach and give your blood the tools to make digestive fluids with.

There is only one way to make the body well—give it the chance to make itself well. Harmful and strong medicines handicap the system. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go into the stomach just like food. They are dissolved and there they strengthen the weakened juices of the digestive apparatus until the digestion is made normal.

There is nothing mysterious or magical about them. Science has proved that certain ingredients make up the digestive juices. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are these concentrated ingredients—that is all there is to it. One grain of a certain ingredient contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. This illustrates how you aid nature to restore her wornout materials. When a stomach which is filled with food receives a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet, it is more able to digest the food than it would be without it. The work is not so hard nor the task so long.

When the meal is finally assimilated the entire system absorbs more nourishment, and harmful food effects are eliminated easily, quickly and with the maximum of benefit.

Every drug store carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. To anyone wishing a free trial of these tablets please address F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart building, Marshall, Mich., and a small sample package will be mailed free.

BERLIN, ONT., DESIRES MILITARISM SMASHED

Cables Kitchener That It Is Raising a Fund of $75,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BERLIN, Oct. 6. — When tonight's returns were made known at the patriotic fund headquarters it became evident that Berlin would easily reach its objective mark, $75,000. Chairman Williams announced that the second day's campaign made the fund $50,252, and the remainder is in sight.

"When Berlin and Waterloo County get through with this fund outside of Montreal and Toronto we will have contributed more than any other county in Canada. And these are the people outsiders are throwing bricks at," declared the chairman. The campaign, he announced to the army of workers, was going magnificently, and a feature of it is that the workmen are responding.

Cabled Kitchener.

President Williams cabled the following message to Lord Kitchener:

"Berlin, Ontario, a city of eighteen thousand population, of which twelve thousand are Germans, or German descent, propose to raise fifteen thousand pounds or more for the national patriotic fund. Our German people want to see militarism in Germany smashed, and the good German people set free to establish a greater and better Germany. We feel great confidence that England has appointed the right men, Churchill and Kitchener, to boss the job."

Lord Kitchener's curt reply, characteristic of the man, was as follows: "My best wishes for the success of your efforts."

LAMBETH'S FINE FAIR DREW CROWD OF 2,000

Many Londoners Saw First Display of Horses in the District.

[By Our Own Man.]

LAMBETH, Oct. 6.—Many Londoners were included in the 2,000 people who were here this afternoon for the greatest fair ever held in Lambeth. The weather was ideal, and the fair was a success in every department.

No finer horses are to be found in the province than those shown here today, and the splendid entries in all classes made the horse show the feature of the fair.

The dairy produce was also of a high order; also the home-made cooking and the ladies' work. The showing of fruit was excellent, and clearly demonstrated that John Sharman's crusade for more and better fruit is having a marked effect on the growers of the county. Mr. Sharman had an excellent exhibition of his own. He also gives several prizes each year for apples.

Red Cross Busy.

The Red Cross Society was out in force, taking in in the neighborhood of $100 during the day from the sale of flags and proceeds of their booth.

In the relay race the team from Westminster, composed of Meyers, McPherson and Herder, won from London Township and Delaware, finishing in their respective order.

Following are some of the prize-winners:

Heavy Horses.

Henderson Bros., six firsts; A. McFarlane, three firsts; H. Poole, A. J. Fletcher, Wm. Baker, W. J. Nixson, James Braddish, John McMillan, D. Johnston and George Gowanlock, each taking one first.

Light Horses.

W. H. Shore, three firsts; Dr. G. A. Routledge, two firsts; James McCartney, two firsts; and John McMillan, A. McFarlane, A. R. Moule, A. Blaikie, W. J. Nixson, G. Lombardo, W. Hammond, James Hoisil and Dr. Davidson, one first each.

In the long-wool sheep T. H. Shore made a clean sweep, as did Col. R. McEwen, of Byron, in the short-wool class.

D. Bouger took fourteen firsts in the poultry; Wm. Carrol, six firsts; D. Anguish, five firsts; A. T. Cutler, three firsts; O. L. Thinks, G. Boygne and W. H. Beattie, two firsts, and N. Bilyea, G. W. Hopkins, F. E. Roy and J. H. Cornell, one first each.

F. Bodkin took five firsts in the dairy cattle, and E. Smale one. In the registered and Durham grades, Col. McEwen took eight firsts, H. Poole six firsts, E. Roy two firsts, and C. McMillan one.

Some Fine Races.

The trotting races were keenly contested. Mr. Holborne, of Shedden, was thrown from his sulky in the first heat of the free-for-all, but was not seriously hurt. He stayed right with it and finished third. He won the three-minute race. Following are the results of the races:

Free-for-all—

INSTANTLY KILLED WHEN CAR HIT BUGGY

Kerwood Man Was Badly Hurt at Ancaster Crossing.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—A collision occurred this evening on the Brantford and Hamilton line near station No. 7, Ancaster, in which Miss Esthel Smith, of Ancaster, aged 20 years, was instantly killed, and her brother, William, and William McIntyre, of Kerwood, a friend who was visiting them, were badly injured. They were in a covered buggy, and were crossing the track when a city-bound electric car hit the buggy, wrecking it and crushing Miss Smith beneath the car.

MESSAGE IS FOUND FROM STEAMER LEAFIELD

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 6.—"November 9, 1913, steamer Leafield. No hope; farewell to all; in God we trust. (Signed) Officer."

The above message was found written upon a small piece of discolored paper which was found in a glass flask by two duck hunters upon the shore of Lake Superior, half buried in the sand.

The steamer Leafield belonged to the Algoma Central Steamship Line, and was lost during the great storm of November 9 last. She was carrying a full cargo of steel rails from Sault Ste. Marie to Fort William, and it is supposed that her heavy cargo, without warning, carried her to the bottom a few miles outside of Thunder Bay, at the foot of which Fort William is situated.

The entire crew were lost, and no sign as to how she was lost, or where, had ever been found.

COMMERCIALISM IS BOOK ROOM RIGHT

Resolution Introduced in Conference Fails to Carry.

DEFENCE BY DR. BRIGGS

Head of Publishing House Points Out It Is Necessary to Keep Presses Going.

[Canadian Press.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The Methodist Book Room and Publishing House, Toronto, the largest publishing firm in Canada, of which Rev. Dr. Wm. Briggs is the virtual head, was charged at the meeting of the General Conference this afternoon with being too commercial.

Rev. Prof. C. E. Bland, of Edmonton, urged the conference to pass a resolution of censure on the business methods of the book room, but the delegates voted the professor's motion down by a big majority. His strictures followed the reading of the report of the book and publishing committee by H. P. Moore, editor and publisher of the Acton Free Press, brother of Rev. Dr. Moore, and a lay delegate to the conference. The report resolution advised the book room management to exercise more diligence in the future and pay more attention to spiritual aims, and also to adopt a more strict censorship as regards the books published. This mild censure came as a result of complaints from different parts of the country.

Resolution of Censure.

After scoring the book room, Pro. Bland moved an amendment to the report of the committee or rather to those clauses in it referring to the policy of the book room, but it found little support. It read as follows:

"That the recommendations contains some clear expression deprecating the introduction of commercial aims and methods that subordinate in any way the accepted policy of the book room to serve the intellectual and religious wants of the church."

Rev. I. G. Bowles, of North Bay, was a ready seconder to the amendment and he, too, offered some objection to the policy followed in the book room.

"I do not think this view is held by very many of the brethren," said Rev. Dr. Briggs, the book room steward. "We have $150,000 invested in what pertains to ministerial business, and we are selling more to ministers than we ever did before. It is a fact that one minister can go to another store and get some books cheaper, but that is no criterion. I am astonished at the fact that commercialism has been condemned."

Much Commercial Business.

Dr. Briggs went on to explain how the book rooms managed by the Methodist churches in Great Britain and the United States were run on commercial lines, much more so than in Canada. Much business was being obtained by him from the Ontario Legislature, a large department store, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and other concerns. This was necessary to keep the presses and other machinery from being idle.

"Am I sinning in this way?"

There was a general murmur of "No" from the delegates.

"It is the first time I have had an intelligent body of men condemn commercialism," concluded Dr. Briggs.

Discuss the Canteen.

Tonight the conference went on record as commending Col. Sam Hughes for excluding liquor from military camps and mess-rooms.

It was also decided to change the name of the Department of Temperance and Moral Reform to the "Department of Social Service." The burial ritual was altered to exclude the words "full of misery" from the sentence in it "Man that is born of woman is full of misery."

The conference will conclude tomorrow.

FOUND DROWNED IN RIVER AT WALKERTON

Unknown Victim Was Well Dressed and Had $24 in Pockets.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WALKERTON, Oct. 6—The body of an unknown man, apparently about 50 years of age, was found in the river this afternoon about half a mile above the town, by T. Lambertus and P. Farrell, when they were out canoeing.

The man was well dressed, wearing a black coat and dark trousers. He was 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighs about 150 pounds and has a short grey moustache. He had recently shaved. His left eye was defective, and he was apparently blind in that optic.

In his pockets were found $24 and a silver watch, bearing the mark of a Wingham jeweler. There were no marks of violence on the body. It had apparently been in the water about three days.

The remains were taken to Miles' undertaking rooms, and were viewed by a coroner's jury.

The C. P. R. runs along near where the body was found, and there is a steep embankment. It is believed the dead man was likely walking along the tracks, and stepped out of the way of a train and fell down the bank.

SEND TRENCH DIGGERS FROM RAILWAY CAMPS

MONTREAL, Oct. 6. — F. H. McGuigan, contractor, Toronto, formerly manager of the G. T. R. system, who is at present in Montreal, suggests the sending to the battle front of from ten to fifteen thousand men from the Canadian railway camps as trench diggers. Mr. McGuigan says with such an army of railway workers trench-digging would be made a science, and the allied position rendered strong by the advent of these Canadians.

GERMAN BARK TAKEN BY FRENCH WARSHIPS

BREST, France, Oct. 6 (via London, 4:57 p.m.)—The German bark Martha Bockhahn, of 696 tons, from Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, and the Norwegian ship Bennestvet, of 1,600 tons, bound from New Caledonia for Hamburg, have been captured by French warships and brought to this port. The Bennestvet has a cargo of nickel.

SENDING FIFTY TONS OF CLOTHING TO BELGIUM

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The first shipment of clothing from Canada for the relief of the Belgians will be made next week, when fifty tons will be sent.

So far the subscriptions in cash, including those of the Federal and Provincial Governments, amounted to $101,749.50, and the fund will be kept open for another month.

GERMANS DREAD BRITISH BAYONETS

Officers Urge Men in Vain To Advance Against the Trenches—Cannot Move Them.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends the following dispatch, dated October 5, from an unnamed point in France:

"I have been listening to amazing stories of heavy German howitzers, whose shells give ten seconds notice, and make a hole eight feet deep and fifteen feet across. Their effect seems to be local, and of eighteen shells, no fewer than fourteen have been known not to burst. One of them exploded in front of a trench and blew a subaltern into the air ten feet. He rose and walked back to the trenches as though nothing had happened.

"Another shell split the pole of an ammunition wagon and broke the rings of the leading horse's reins, yet neither driver nor horse was injured."

The German infantry attacks which were made almost every night on the Aisne have ceased long ago. They were so disastrous that no effort on the part of the officers can induce the men to advance against the Allies' trenches. One night nearly three weeks ago, a German officer at the head of his company was heard urging his men to come on and kill "these English swine." Nobody stirred, and at last the officer's words to his soldiers were these: "Come on, you swine."

This long period of inaction under shell fire in the trenches is very trying, yet the soldiers are in the best of health and spirits, and are amazingly well fed.

"German dead have remained exposed a fortnight, and had to be buried at some risk to our own trops."

BOMBARDMENT OF ANTWERP COMING

All Who Wish To Flee Warned To Go at Once—Town Will Resist.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—1:45 a.m.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Antwerp gives the following official communication, issued at 10 o'clock last (Tuesday) night:

"The military governor has informed the Burgomaster that a bombardment of Antwerp is imminent, and that the people who wish to flee from the town are requested to leave."

"The bombardment will have no influence on the town's resistance, which will be pushed to the extreme limit."

The Exchange Telegraph Company adds that the foregoing message has been passed by the British censor for publication.

STEAMERS STOP RUNNING.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—1:23 a.m.—It is announced that the Great Eastern Railway Company's steamship service between Tilbury, England, and Antwerp has been suspended.

RUSSIA WILL RAISE QUARTER BILLION BY LOAN

PETROGRAD, Oct. 7.—4:54 a.m.—The Bourse Gazette learns that, owing to favorable news from the seat of war, subscriptions will be invited for an internal loan of 500,000,000 rubles ($250,000,000) at 5 per cent.

A writer in the Army Gazette estimated that hte war with Germany will drag on for a year because the winter campaign cannot have anintensive character. The fighting will, however, break out again in the spring with its previous fury, he says.

"STICK IT, WELSH" URGED CAPTAIN HAGGARD, DYING

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A thrilling story of the heroism of the late Capt. Haggard, nephew of the late Rider Haggard, is told in a letter received from Private C. Berry, of the Second Battalion, Welsh Regiment. Berry says that on September 13, on the outskirts of B——, his company was being subjected to a fierce artillery fire, when Haggard ordered his company to fix bayonets and charge.

"What an officer! What a soldier! He himself used a rifle and, we were prepared to follow him anywhere, but we were checked by a storm of maxim fire. We lost four officers in about twenty minutes.

"About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, just as our artillery had got up ready to cover us, the Germans found our range with their artillery. Just near me was lying our brave captain, mortally wounded. As shells burst over us he would occasionally open his eyes and call out: 'Stick it, Welsh Regiment! Stick it, Welsh!'

"Many of us, wounded, managed to crawl up and down the firing line dishing the ammunition we were unable to use. So our brave lads managed to hold out until relieved by the artillery.

"Captain Haggard died that evening. His last words were: 'Stick it, Welsh!' He died as he had lived, an officer and gentleman."

ON THE ADVICE OF HIS DOCTOR

He Used Dr. Chase's Ointment For Protruding Piles With Splendid Results.

Too often a doctor can only think of an operation when asked for a treatment for piles. Some are sufficiently broad-minded to use the most effective treatment available, which is undoubtedly Dr. Chase's Ointment, as was proven in the case referred to in this letter.

Mr. Simon E. Jones, Railway street, Inverness, N. S., writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable for protruding piles. For three years I suffered from piles, and was advised by a local physician to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I had tried many treatments in vain, and therefore know which is the best. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you are at liberty to use this statement."

The record of cures of every form of piles, which stands behind Dr. Chase's Ointment is the strongest guarantee you can have that it will promptly relieve and cure this ailment, even in the most aggravated form. Sixty cents a box, all dealers.

DAY OF DRAMATIC EVANGELISM PAST

Brandon Pastor Tells Conference That Social Work Will Have More Effect.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—"What we want today is social evangelism," declared Rev. A. E. Smith, of Brandon, Man., at the Methodist General Conference today.

"When are we going to recognize the fact that dramatic evangelism by professional evangelists has had its day?

"There's not an evangelist today in the employ of the church who has made the proposition pay. If evangelism is put into the hands of the social service department, the finances will take care of themselves."

Rev. Mr. Smith's remarks followed the recommendation of the evangelization committee to merge the department of evangelism with that of social service.

Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent, favored the merger, and a big majority supported what the committee proposed. This means that the former departments of temperance and moral reform and evangelism will in future be known as the department of social service and evangelism.

The following motion, respecting the Indians, was passed: "Inasmuch as negotiations with this end in view are now in progress between the Indians and the Government, we recommend that a committee of five, to be nominated by the general superintendent, be appointed, whose duty it shall be to assist in securing for our Indian brothers a full and fair consideration of their claims and through whom all representations to the Government on their behalf by the Methodist Church shall be made."

A special committee was appointed to approving of the request for dividing Alberta into two conferences, but Rev. Dr. C. W. Kerby, of Calgary, moved the following amendment which was carried: "That the general conference special committee be empowered during the quadrennium to divide the Alberta Conference into two or more conferences, if in the judgment of the Alberta Conference it be in the interest of the work."

THIS MAY HELP REDUCE TAXES

New Process Discovered For Converting Old Tin Cans Into High-Grade Steel.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 7.—A process for converting waste tin cans into high-grade steel has attracted the attention of the engineers of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and it is highly probable that a thorough test will be made of the scheme in the Toronto University during the coming season.

If present claims are maintained, it will prove a great agency for the reduction of taxation in the various municipalities, for it will place a good value on the waste tins and facilitate garbage disposal.

Unlike other electric furnaces which have been tried, the new scheme does not depend on a powerful electric arc to melt the cans, for just sufficient current is needed to keep a "slag" of molten lime and other substances in a liquid state. The tins fall through this slag and are melted, the slag floating on the iron and withdrawing tin and other impurities from it. When the iron is in a high state of purity, the slag is withdrawn, and the necessary steel-making ingredients added and steel poured into castings or drawn off for other purposes. The construction and operation cost of the furnace are very low.

GERMANS SAY THEY HAVE TAKEN TWO FORTS

Also That They Expect Capitulation of Antwerp in Two Days.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Oct. 7 (by wireless to Sayville).—The German general staff, in its report today on the situation in the western arena of the war, says the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful.

Despite the general expectations that a slight pause would be made in the advance of the Germans on Antwerp, it was reported today in Government quarters that two more forts had fallen into German hands. They were Fort Kessel and Fort Brocchen (respectively east and north of Lierre), which were no longer able to resist the destructive power of the German siege guns.

The capitulation of Antwerp, according to German military authorities, can only be a matter of a couple of days.

CONCENTRATION CAMP HERE FOR SECOND CONTINGENT

Believed by Militia Officers That Divisional Units Will Have Preliminary Training at Carling's Heights — Volunteers Eager To Go to Front.

News that a second Canadian contingent of 22,000 men is to be mobilized was received with great interest by military men in the city today, and, although they are without instructions as to the methods, it is being assumed that recruiting will be throughout the Dominion and the mobilization at Valcartier camp.

It is believed, however, that, with the experience gained through the mobilization of the first contingent, concentration camps will be established throughout the country. That one of these will be located at Carling's Heights is a generally accepted belief among military authorities. They claim that considerable expense could be eliminated if the final medical tests were made at divisional headquarters instead of at a national camp. As good service could be rendered in outfitting and preliminary drill at the concentration camps as at Valcartier, it is argued.

All Branches Represented.

All branches of the service are still represented in the first division, which has its headquarters under Col. W. E. Hodgins in this city. While these branches have been somewhat depleted in men and officers through the demand for the first contingent, they are gradually getting into full war strength and applications are made daily for admission to the ranks. No less than twelve applications have been received recently from medical men of Detroit who wish to go to the front.

Officers in command of the various divisional corps who might be affected through the second contingent are: Lieut.-Col. Abbott, of the First Hussars; Major William Spittal, of the Seventh Regiment; Lieut. R. D. Blandford, the only officer left of the Sixth Field Battery; Capt. Hunter and Lieut. Keene, of the Sixteenth Army Service Corps; and Major Davis, of the Fifteen Army Medical Corps. There is also a howitzer brigade in Guelph, under the command of Lieut.-Col. Petrie.

Want Statement of Strength.

A statement of strength of these various units has been called for. Ever since the first contingent departed efforts have been centered to recruit all units to their full war strength. There are five non-commissioned officers giving drill instructions to the strengthened corps.

The men are highly elated at the prospects of going to the front, as many were disappointed in not being able to go with the first expeditionary force. This eagerness has been manifested at the rifle ranges, where hundreds of new shots have been qualifying. It is also manifested in the armories, where untiring activities have been going on to make good soldiers of the recruits and to raise the general efficiency of the corps.

Expect Big Representation.

While militia headquarters is rather reticent about giving out information concerning the second contingent it is generally believed that because of the reputation of the military efficiency of divisional officers here and the general excellence and the training of the men, that London will be as well represented in the second contingent as it was in the first.

HEARST CHOSEN TO MEET TEMPERANCE SENTIMENT

But He Voted Against All Anti-Liquor Legislation Introduced by the Liberal Party in the Legislature.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Oct. 7.—There are indications that the new Prime Minister is going to make an appeal to the temperance men of his party on the grounds that he himself is a temperance man and an advocate of temperance measures; in fact, Hon. Frank Cochrane, who is a shrewd man, doubtless thought of this aspect in picking his Prime Minister, and one of the reasons why Mr. Hearst appealed to him most was, not only his general pliability, but because he was a man with temperance professions. Mr. Cochrane realized that something had to be done in an effort to hold the temperance section of the party.

In spite of the undue haste with which the last election was called; in spite of the aid from Ottawa and the money alliance of the liquor interests, and also the strong personality of the late Prime Minister, Mr. Cochrane, as campaign manager, found that he lost ground in the number of seats, and lost far more ground in the popular vote, which rose to 43 per cent for Liberal candidates and 4 per cent for Independents. Mr. Hearst looked to be one way out of the difficulty, which, as Mr. Cochrane foresaw, would be greatly increased at the next contest.

Mr. Cochrane, it is said, thought Mr. Hearst would do as an alleged temperance head of an alleged temperance government, but temperance men are asking what are the facts concerning Mr. Hearst and temperance legislation. The new Premier may say he favors temperance, but what is his record?

In the three sessions of the Legislature, 1912, 1913 and 1914, Hon. Mr. Hearst voted solidly with his party against the abolition of the bar. He even went so far as to vote against the proposal, on April 10, 1913, to include club licenses in the operation of local option.

Hon. W. H. Hearst has an opportunity now to prove himself a real temperance man by introducing genuine temperance legislation far in advance of what the Government has so far done. Temperance men hope he will do so, but his previous record in the House is not encouraging.

WOULD LEAVE UNIVERSITY IN ITS PRESENT LOCATION

One Governor Strongly Supports Extension of Present Grounds and Buildings.

At least one of the governors of the Western University believes that the present site of the univevrsity should be enlarged, and that the property immediatel adjacent to it should be secured.

"The present site of the university cannot be improved," he said. "There is land that can be secured to the north, and in all 100 acres would be ample for many years. The river could be bridged and some of the land across the river secured. Then the university would be within easy reach of city pupils. There are many London boys and girls who will be educated at this university in the future rather than at Toronto. I believe there are more than usual this year. It will be important to have the university within a reasonable distance of their homes, so that they can conveniently go to meals. The present site is suitable for all purposes, with, of course, considerable additions. I have not seen or heard of any site that strikes me as having better recommendations. The grounds have a beautiful view across the river, and are located in a finished section of the city. It seems to me that the board will do best if it retains the present site and adds to it."

C.P.R. INCREASES ITS STOCK FROM 60 TO 135 MILLIONS

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Predicts Great Prosperity For Canada Following the War.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Oct. 7.—The annual meeting of the C. P. R. was held at the company's offices here this afternoon. The meeting ratified an increase of the present authorized capital stock of the company by $75,000,000, that is, from $60,000,000 to $135,000,000, in order to make it accord with the amount for which the company has the sanction of the Government. No portion of the additional stock will be issued until the sanction of the shareholders has been secured.

John K. L. Ross was made a director of the company, while Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the company, and Sir Thomas Skinner are reappointed to the directorate for another four years.

In the course of his annual address to the shareholders, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy said that when the peace of the world had been restored, emigration from Europe to the newer countries, where lands could be obtained on moderate terms, would doubtless be on a large scale, and Canada should profit very substantially by the incoming of new settlers and the consequent increase in production.

Sir Thomas said that the contraction in the volume of the company's trade and travel during the year under review was greater than anticipated, but working expenses had been reduced by economical administration. The period of retrenchment and financial conservatism the country had passed through would have the effect of liquidating to an important extent the injurious results of domestic mistakes. When the tide turned, the country would be able to utilize her almost unlimited resources and prosecute development on sane and logical lines.

The company's financial condition was good, said the president. The C. P. R. had $50,000,000 of securities to issue, for which money had been advanced by the treasury, and when the outlook improved some of these could be readily sold.

Sir Thomas said that the monetary loss from the sinking of the Empress of Ireland was not a matter of any special moment.

BAD NEWS BRINGS OUT THE RECRUITS

Photographs of the Wounded Doubled Daily Enlisting—Standards Raised To Give the War Office Time.

[By Mail.]

London, Sept. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—At the headquarters of the London recruiting offices the authorities have compiled a chart, which throws an interesting light on the psychology of recruiting. It covers a period between August 11 and September 7, when 51,094 men enlisted in London. It shows how recruiting remained at a daily average of 1,200, while the news from the front was not disquieting; how it rose when the news was not so satisfactory, and how it went up with a rush when heavy casualties were announced.

On Monday, August 24, the news was: "German advance all along the line." There were 1,481 recruits. On Tuesday there was a further advance, and the recruits went up to 1,547. On Wednesday, when it was announced there were 2,000 casualties at Mons, the figures rose to 1,561. On Thursday, with reports of the further retirement of the British troops, 2,000 recruits were added to the roll.

1,561. On Thursday, with reports of the further retirement of the British troops, 2,000 recruits were added to the roll.

Photographs Did It.

By Saturday, the 29th, when the news was: "British fight against tremendous odds," the total was raised to 2,000 for the day, and even on Sunday, usually a slack day, 1,250 men enlisted. But the following Monday, August 31, when photographs of the first British wounded were printed, recruits responded with a rush, and 4,001 men enlisted.

Now that the war office has had a chance to deal with the first 500,000 recruits for the new army, it is anticipated that before long the standard will be put back to the old level.

Had To Dampen Down.

At the London recruiting headquarters the names and addresses are being taken of thousands of men just under 5 feet 6 inches, and they are being told to settle down for a few weeks and wait until they receive a telegram. An official said it was not that the army did not want the 5 feet 3 inch men, but recruiting had to be dampened down somehow to give the war office a chance to deal with the men, and it was decided that the simplest way was to raise the standard.

NO CONGRATULATIONS FOR PREMIER HEARST

Motion in Conference Brings Hot Charges of Political Partizanship.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—A proposal to congratulate Hon. W. H. Hearst on his appointment to the premiership of Ontario, led to accusations of political partisanship on the floor of the General Conference of the Methodist Church. So strong was the feeling against the introduction of politics that Rev. S. D. Chown, D.D., general superintendent of the church, asked for the withdrawal of the motion.

Rev. W. G. Hunt, of Calgary, and E. E. Starr, of Whitby, were mover and seconder of the resolution.

Lay Delegate Patrick, of Victoria, jumped to his feet as soon as the motion was read, and declared that the resolution was political.

"I think we should with very tender and conservative hands convey this resolution to the waste paper basket," said Lay Delegate George Bell, of Victoria.

Delegate W. B. Smith, of Oakville, then reminded the assembly that Mr. Hearst is an official member of the Methodist Church, and declared that a resolution of congratulation to one of their own people would not be political.

"Mr. Heart's appointment to the premiership does not affect the Methodist Church from coast to coast," declared another delegate. "If Mr. Hearst deserves congratulation so does Mr. N. W. Rowell, for his great stand last June."

"In the judgment of the chair, this motion had better be withdrawn," said Rev. Dr. Chown. "It might cause a suspicion of a tinge of political partisanship in this conference."

The motion was then withdrawn.

LETTER FROM AUSTRIA

London Receives Censored Communication From Warring Country.

The first direct personal message, so far as is known, that has come to London from either of the countries with which Britain is at war, since the outbreak of hostilities was received today by Dr. W. S. Westland from his uncle, James McGarvey, who for some years has lived in Austria.

The letter was posted on August 28, and the envelope bears Austrian stamps, but no postmark to indicate where it was mailed or by what route it came. Two rubber stamps, censor franes, show that it was inspected before being allowed to go into the overseas mail. The letter contains no news of the war.

SECOND SHIPMENT OF RED CROSS SUPPLIES

Handiwork of London Women Placed On Exhibition in Hyman Hall.

The second large shipment of Red Cross supplies, the handiwork of several weeks of the women of London and surrounding district, was placed on exhibition today at Hyman Hall, and will be shipped to headquarters tonight. The consignment contains, as did the previous one sent away some weeks ago, hospital supplies, sheets, night shirts, day shirts, pillowcases, towels, field pillows, socks, wristlets, caps, pneumonia jackets, hot water bottles and many other articles. The long tables at Hyman Hall fairly groan beneath the weight of the scores of garments, all bearing tribute to what busy fingers and earnest workers can accomplish in a short time.

A message was received this morning from Noel Marshall, of Toronto, chairman of the Red Cross Society for Canada, stating that the British Red Cross Society was asking for immediate shipment of all the flannel shirts, socks, and blankets on hand, as there was great need for these. The local officers are sending these articles in a special bundle by express tonight. The remaining part of the consignment will be forwarded by freight.

The ladies of Byron contributed liberally towards this shipment, and also a number residing in Newbury.

Turkeys' Time Not Yet Due

Fowl (Not Country) in Poor Demand for Thanksgiving Celebration.

Turkeys are congratulating themselves these days that they will be able to trot along through life until Christmastime. Local dealers declare that the demand for Thanksgiving turkeys is the smallest in years. The farmers seem to have a good supply, but there is little or no demand from the local trade. This means that Mr. Turkey will be groomed, fed and allowed to "gobble, gobble!" to his heart's content until December. However, like the German Emperor, he has a day of reckoning coming, and it will not seem very long until he graces the dinner table of some citizen. At present he is worth from 14 to 16 cents a pound alive, and 18 cents a pound all dressed up.

HAS TWO NARROW ESCAPES IN HOUR

Painter Decides They Are Getting To Be a Habit and Quits Work.

Ernest Fowles, a painter, employed on the reconstruction of the Imperial Bank building, at the corner of King and Richmond streets, fell from the second story of the building this afternoon. He escaped with a badly cut lip and cuts about his hand and wrists, and possibly a sprained wrist.

He was working at the top of a short ladder when an iron hook in the wall, which he was using for a support, gave way and threw him to the ground.

It was Fowles' second narrow escape in an hour. Shortly after lunch he was working on a long ladder which snapped in the middle. The lower end, on which he was working, fell against the wall and saved him by a narrow margin from a fall to the pavement below.

"Three times and out," said Fowles after his second escape. "I am going home." He did.

No Central Camp For Contingent

Equipment To Be Carried Out at Divisional Headquarters.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Mobilization and equipment of the second Canadian contingent will take place at divisional headquarters instead of at a general camp like Valcartier, and the whole force will be assembled at Halifax for embarkation.

APPEAL FOR APPLES

Pickers Will Harvest Surplus Crop For City Poor.

An appeal has been issued to farmers of Middlesex County to give some of their surplus supply of apples to the deserving poor of the city. Arrangements have been made at the city hall to send out pickers on Saturday to harvest the apples that may be given by the farmers.

Special arrangements for transporting the pickers to the various farms have been made by local auto owners.

The Charity Organization Society will also receive donations of fruit and food for distribution.

COATS DISAPPEARING

Real Epidemic of Clothing Thefts Reported to Police.

"There seems to be a plague of coat thieves," said a police officer today after the morning court had been adjourned. "Why," he continued, "scarcely a day passes lately that there are not several cases of thefts of coats or wearing apparel for the magistrate to dispose of."

Within the last few weeks cases of theft, particularly of clothing left in farmers' wagons on the market and vicinity, have become too numerous to suit the police, who are going after petty thieves strong.

At present there are three or four cases waiting for the magistrate to hand down sentence on, while officers are endeavoring to round up several culprits who have got away with coats and wheels.

JAMES ANDERSON DIES

Well-Known Market Butcher Succumbs to Bright's Disease After Short Illness.

James Alexander Anderson, for the past fifteen years one of the best-known butchers of the market house, died this morning at his residence, 141 Wharncliffe road south. Bright's disease was the cause of death, but Mr. Anderson had only been ill a short time. A week ago Saturday he came home from business with a severe cold, and it has only been in the past few days that his condition became serious. He had not been in good health since he was operated on for appendicitis two years ago.

Mr. Anderson was a resident of London for twenty years, having come here from Dundas, where he was a cabinetmaker. Prior to taking over the business, in the market house, he was employed at the old Bennett furniture factory here.

Besides his widow, two sons, John and Charles, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. R. Laurie, of Cleveland, and Mrs. A. Nohl, of St. Louis, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted on Friday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. J. G. Stuart, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church. Interment will be made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

"DONNYBROOK FAIR" IS IN FULL SWING

Many Londoners In Big Crowds at Dorchester Today.

With Old Sol on his best behavior, Donnybrook Fair, held annually at Dorchester, opened bright and early this morning. Exhibits in every class, both numerically and for quality, are the best ever in the history of the show. With the opening of the gates big crowds flocked into the grounds. People from the countryside came by train, auto and wagon.

Many Londoners are visiting the show this year as always. The morning trains passing through Dorchester carried many citizens to the big country fair, while the afternoon trains carried even larger crowds to take in the exhibition.

A good card of racing attractions is promised by the directors and some fast horses have been entered as a result.

The directors have made showing "worth while" to exhibitors this season, and the showing in all lines of farm produce particularly is good. Live stock, as usual, is an attraction.

USE SEARCHLIGHTS TO BLIND DEFENCE

Germans Also Have Captive Balloons To Point Out Positions Held by Allies.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 7.—7.01 a.m.—Captive balloons, to discover and observe the movements of the allied armies, and powerful searchlights to point out the positions and to blind the defence during night attacks are being used by the Germans in the great battle to the north and east of Paris, which still is without definite result.

Military science frequently is lost sight of, and the contest becomes merely the hurling of forces against one another.

Night combats have become quite an element in the action. They frequently are forced by the Germans, and as often are repulsed by the allies. They are telling on the stamina of the troops on each side, many of whom already are worn out on the firing line, in the seemingly unending struggle.

The French public, who throughout have shown calm, are patiently awaiting a decision. The changing actions at various points along the battle line, as indicated by the war office statement, furnish opportunity for diversified comment as to their significance.

CITY'S APPEAL IS BEING HEARD TODAY

Echo of Fire Truck's Destruction Comes Up at Toronto.

An echo of the collision between city fire truck No. 2 and a Grand Trunk freight at the William street crossing is being heard in divisional court in Toronto today, when two appeals—against decisions handed down here at the spring assizes—are being heard. The city of London is appealing the decision that made it jointly responsible with the G. T. R. for the accident, and refused to allow any damages for the truck, while the Grand Trunk is appealing an award of $600 made to Fireman Percy Summers. Summers, who was one of the crew of the truck, sued, independently of the city, for $10,000. The trial judge and jury cut it down to $600.

The accident occurred on August 5, 1913, and was the cause of the practical destruction of the city's new $7,500 motor truck that had been in service only a few weeks. Deputy Chief Scott and eight firemen were riding the machine at the time the accident occurred. Summers was the only one who suffered permanent injuries as a result.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith is acting for the city, and Sir George Gibbons for Summers, in the appeals.

FIVE EVENTS FOR FIRST HUSSARS SHOOT

Annual Thanksgiving Day Matches Will Start at 7 a.m.

The program for the annual Thanksgiving Day shoot of "E" Squadron, First Hussars' Rifle Association, includes five events, with four prizes in each. A special prize for the highest aggregate score is also offered.

Shooting will start at 7 a.m. sharp. It is expected that more than fifty of the members will be on hand, and Capt. A. E. Reason and Secretary C. C. Irwin are expecting one of the best shoots in the history of the association.

The events will be:

First Event—Open to all members, 500 yards.

Second Event—Tyros only, 200 yards.

Third Event—Open to members, 200 yards.

Fourth Event, 200 and 500 Yards—12 best scores first, second and third events.

Fifth Event, 200 Yards—Disappearing target, seven shots.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Charles Hall.

Charles Hall, of 773 Elias street, died at his home Tuesday, following an illness of several months' duration. Mr. Hall, who was 52 years of age, was born in Tonbridge, England. He is survived by his wife, one son, Alex., of the Ordnance Stores, and one daughter, Miss Joan, at home. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Miss Agnes Booth.

The death of Miss Agnes Jane Booth, only daughter of ex-Ald. Richard Booth, occurred at the home of her father, 153 Colborne street, this morning. Miss Booth was 20 years of age. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services at 2:30 o'clock, will be conducted by eRv. G. N. Hazen, of Wellington Street Methodist Church.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Will Have 121-Mile Walk.

Robert Torrance and Walter Buchannan, two youths, who stated that they were from Toronto, were charged with trespass on the C. P. R. by Railway Detective John Langley. They pleaded that they had been in Detroit looking for work, but had been unable to find employment and were on their way back to Toronto. An officer will accompany them to the city limits on the Hamilton road, when they will be started on their way towards the Queen City.

Charged With Stealing a Wheel.

Charged with stealing a wheel, the property of Chester Barrett, Joseph Flannery pleaded "guilty" before the court. He gave the name of Gibbons when arrested and the police suspect that he is implicated in other transactions of a similar nature. Flannery had sold the wheel to a pawnbroker, but was apprehended before he had obtained the money.

Started Row—Arrested.

William Britton started a row in his boarding house on Clarence street and had to be held on the floor by a fellow-roomer, named Ford, until the police arrived in the patrol. He was assessed $3 and costs or ten days by his worship.

The customary quota of first-time drunks were let go with a warning.

NEWS LOCAL

BOYS BREAK PIPES.—Late yesterday afternoon, the police issued a number of summonses for south side boys who are alleged to have broken some sewer pipes on Simcoe and Grey streets.

MRS. GRAY RECOVERING. — Mrs. Andrew Gray, of Alvinston, who was injured in an auto accident, near Lambeth, Saturday evening, is recovering satisfactorily at Victoria Hospital.

WILLIAM COONEY SERIOUSLY ILL.—William Cooney, bill-poster, 197 Queen's avenue, who recently recovered from a serious and extended illness, has suffered a severe relapse, and his condition is regarded as very critical.

GRANTED USE OF HALL.—The Ladies' Aid of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church has been granted the free use of the East End Town Hall, to be used for a rummage sale for charitable purposes on October 19, 20 and 21.

YOUTHS WERE TOO JOYFUL.—Three young men residing in London Township who "had a good time" at a dance and who were summoned as a result to appear in the county court, were fined $1 each by Squire Chittick yesterday afternoon.

FIRST AID WORK BEGINS.—The Y. W. C. A. first aid class will open tonight in the Y. W. C. A. building, 326 Dundas street, at 7:55 o'clock. A preliminary reorganization meeting has already been held, but active work will be commenced this evening.

TO FILL IN TRACKS.—Ald. Tancock has called the attention of the board of control to the necessity of filling in the street railway tracks where the rails are high above the surface of the street. The city engineer will be asked to take the matter up with the company.

EVENT OPEN TO ANY.—One of the features of the Thanksgiving Day rifle shooting of the Seventh Regiment will be the open event to all citizens of London, which will be held during the afternoon. Prizes will be hung up for the scores made in this shoot, and everyone who can handle a rifle will be eligible.

HARVEST HOME SUPPER. — The harvest home supper and concert held last evening in the Maitland Street Baptist Church was attended by over 500 people. A splendid supper was served by the Ladies' Aid. Rev. J. E. Hawkings was in the chair and introduced a program consisting of songs, addresses and musical selections.

BROKE INTO COAL OFFICE.—The police are looking for two North End youths who last night broke into Wm. McGuffin's coal and wood yard office, William street and the Canadian Pacific tracks. Nothing of value was reported missing, but the lads broke open the front door. They were evidently scared away while ransacking the office.

ASSEMBLING HORSES.—The stables at Queen's Park, which have been converted into a centre for the assembling of horses purchased in Western Ontario for the British remount department, now contain 225 animals, including twelve purchased in Aylmer and Tillsonburg on Monday. The horses will be kept at the park until about 500 are on hand, when they will be shipped to England.

CONFERENCE AT TORONTO.—General Superintendent H. E. Whittenberger, of the Grand Trunk, and Divisional Superintendents W. D. Davidson (London) and J. C. Crombie (St. Thomas) left for Toronto today in the former's private car to discuss the scheme of abolishing the office of trainmaster. They will also give the Ontario divisions their yearly inspection tour.

HUSSARS PARADE.—Some eighty men of B squadron, of the First Hussars paraded at the armories last night and were put through squadron and company drill for almost two hours. On Thursday they will be inspected by a headquarter's officer. The squadron now is 16 above peace strength, and ninety per cent of the men are Canadian born.

WILL AID BELGIAN RELIEF. — Members of local women's patriotic organizations and other London women are preparing to undertake active work in aid of the Belgian relief fund. Plans have already been made with a view to interest all women in the city in this humanitarian enterprise, and the announcement of the plans to be followed will be made in the course of several days.

GO OVER VOUCHERS.—The board of control held a session today to go over the insurance vouchers of soldiers insured by the city. The board has had the vouchers since Saturday, and made no recommendation to the council on Monday night with regard to them, as it was deemed advisable to take further time and weed out some of the vouchers where the men leave beneficiaries who reside outside the city.

OBJECT TO ARREST.—High military officials do not approve the action of the ordnance store guards, who on Monday night placed an officer of the Seventh under arrest, when he did not give the countersign, and detained him until he was later identified. It was said today that this sort of horse play would not be tolerated, and the men would have to learn that the state of war which exists in Canada is a serious thing.

MAY GO TO SEVENTH.—What to do with the machine gun at Wolseley barracks is a question now confronting militia headquarters. Applications for the gun have been made by the First Hussars, the Seventh Regiment and the Sixth Field Battery. As the gun belongs to the permanent force, and ordinarily is used exclusively for the infantry, it is probable that it may be assigned to the Seventh Regiment under a temporary arrangement.

COUNTY COURT SUIT.—In a special session of the county court today, Judge Talbot Macbeth heard the argument in the action brought by J. W. Northcott, of Strathroy, against J. Stapler, of the same town. The plaintiff claimed $150, the amount of a disputed account. Judge Macbeth will hand down judgment this afternoon. Duncan Ross, M. P., of Strathroy, appeared for the plaintiff, and Elliott Travers, Strathroy, and J. M. McEvoy, of this city, for the defendant.

SUFFERING FROM SPINAL INJURIES.—James Mitchell, one of the occupants of the auto in which John Fennell met his death last Thursday night when the car turned turtle in a ditch near Hyde Park, is at present in a serious, condition suffering from injuries to his spine. Yesterday Mr. Mitchell's condition showed improvement but during the evening he complained of pains about his spine which physicians found to have been injured in the accident as well as his legs and head.

RALLY BANQUET A SUCCESS.—Centennial Methodist Church was the scene of a most enjoyable occasion Monday evening, when the members and friends of the Epworth League, to the number of 140, sat down to a rally banquet. The president of the league, J. W. Showler, acted as master of ceremonies. A solo was acceptably rendered by Miss Murfel Lancaster, Geoffery Wheable, president of the Local Union of Epworth Leagues, gave an address, while Wm. Letchford sang, "The Call of the Motherland," which found a response in the hearts of all who were present. An address followed by Rev. A. J. Thomas, of Dundas Centre Methodist Church. Rev. L. W. Wickett, also addressed the meeting. The audience was delighted by the two solos given by Mrs. Wm. Wortman. The closing number was a much-appreciated reading by Miss Georgia Newbury.

BRITISH TREASURY BILLS SELL WELL

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—3:45 p.m.—The fourth issue of £15,000,000 ($75,000,000), in treasury bills, repayable in six months, has been as successful as the previous issues. Tenders were received at just over £98 and 3 shillings.

Exciting Trip of British Aviator

Scouting Above Lierre He Dodged German Shrapnel Fire.

Antwerp, Oct. 4.—On Friday I witnessed from the outside of Lierre a most interesting aerial engagement. If engagement is the proper word for flight. Under a heavy shell fire a little after 4 o'clock a British naval biplane rose out of Antwerp and headed for the German lines between Willebroek and Heyndonk. These machines fly with almost incredible swiftness. This one passed a fast motor car going in the same direction as easily as a swallow passes a sparrow.

As soon as the British aeroplane got over the German lines it came under the fire of German guns specially designed to attack aviators. Two of these guns engaged the aviator. They fired first ranging shells, which on bursting left a thick ball of black smoke. These shells, apparently fired with a difference in elevation of 500 feet, were designed to ascertain the elevation of the aeroplane, but the aviator seemed to shape his course so as to avoid passing near the smoke balls, which were in any case at a greater height than the machine. German guns then began with shrapnel to fire as if satisfied with the information given by the ranging shells. Twelve shells were fired, all at a greater height than the aeroplane, as if the design were to scatter balls on it from above.

Changing its course occasionally, the aeroplane flew about, completed its work and winged its way back to the Belgian lines. Its passage in safety under bursting shrapnel was one of the most exciting warfare incidents imaginable.

TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE WANTS CANADIAN GOODS

Memorializes Govt. and Engineers To Use Local Material.

"Made in Canada" patronage is the keynote of a resolution passed by the council of the Toronto Board of Trade. The resolution has special reference to the use of Canadian-made goods by governments, municipalities, architects and engineers, in all work under their control.

In full the resolution follows:

Extension of Canadian Trade.

Resolved, that in view of the state of unemployment existing and of the large importation of goods into Canada, as shown by the attached booklet, much of which could be supplied by Canadian manufacturers, the council of the board of trade of the city of Toronto make representations to the Ontario Government, the city council, the University of Toronto, the board of education, and the societies of engineers and architects, requesting them, where possible, to use Canadian-made goods for all work under their control.

And that the secretary be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to boards of trade in Canada, asking them to take similar action with governmental and municipal authorities, and architects, and engineers, in their districts.

PARENTS LOOKING FOR WEST LORNE CHILD

Edith Jennings Ran Away to Escape Whipping.

[Canadian Pres.]

St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—Her parents and the police are searching for 9-year-old Edith Jennings, who ran away from her home in West Lorne Monday morning to escape a parental whipping. She took the train to this city, and was last seen here at 10 p.m. Monday.

CANADIAN HOSPITAL WELCOME AT PARIS

Commission Writes Hon. L. P. Pelletier Expressing Pleasure at Resolution.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The following extract from a letter from the Canadian Commissioner at Paris was given out today by Hon. L. P. Pelletier:

"Tell our countrymen that the French are wonderful. The brave and gallant British regiments have been much admired, and I am sure that our own soldiers will make the same impression.

"I have just been informed by Hon. Mr. Perley that the question of having a Canadian hospital in Paris has been definitely settled. I am very pleased to hear that. It was the right thing to do and you couldn't have done it in a more gallant way."

CLASSES ARE LARGER

University Arts and Medical Students Gradually Increasing.

Class work in both the arts and medical departments of the Western University now is in full swing and the students are getting down to study in real earnest. Most of the classes are considerably larger than usual, and this is true, particularly in the case of the first-year class, which also includes a record number of co-eds.

The courses have been rearranged to some extent this year, and a greater degree of efficiency is expected to result as a consequence. The appointment of Dr. Wood has made possible the taking of a course in political economy, of which many of the students are availing themselves.

Miss Bayne's appointment as a teacher of French, also fills a long-felt want. Previously this subject was taught, together with German, by one professor, and necessarily the teaching of both suffered.

This year's honors course is a particularly strong one, and a new high-water mark is likely to be reached is the opinion of professors and students alike.

THE OUTLOOK'S VIEW.

GERMANY has offered only two claims of justification in the present war—her "culture" and the Russian menace. The neutral world has condemned the kind of culture that blindly slaughters and destroys for power. That claim has been disposed of. And the theory that Russia has been wholly to blame in the war has also been, we think, shattered in these columns. If Russia was to be feared why was Russia disregarded and France attacked? The Outlook, one of the foremost of the American reviews, deals with the ethics of this side of the case in a manner worthy of reproduction, which gains strength through its neutral source. It is as follows:

The charge. "Nobody but Russia is giving the dangerous turn to the conflict. Nobody but Russia is to blame for the outbreak of the war." So say Rudolf Eucken and Ernest Haeckel in their appeal to the universities of America.

The facts. Austria charged Servia with official complicity in the assassination of Austria's Crown Prince by two of Austria's subjects, and gave Servia forty-eight hours to reply to an ultimatum. Russia's attitude during the eight days which intervened between Austria's accusation, on July 24, and the declaration of war by Germany against Russia, on August 1, is indicated by the Russian diplomatic correspondence now published in full by the New York Times. From this correspondence we give here, without comment, a summary of the letters by M. Sazonof, the Russian Premier.

On Friday, July 24, the day when Austria issued her ultimatum to Servia, Sazonof asked Austria to extend the term of Servia's reply and to inform the Powers of the evidence in support of Austria's charge. Both requests Austria refused. On Sunday the 26th, Sazonof appealed to Italy to influence her ally, Austria, in favor of peace, and simultaneously sent a copy of this request to Germany, Austria's other ally, asking Germany's influence in favor of peace. The next day Sazonof notified England that Russia was ready to accept the English proposal for a conference of the Powers, or any other method, which would promise peace. The following day he twice telegraphed England, urging her to exert her influence in Germany in favor of peace. The next day he telegraphed Germany that Russian mobilization was not directed against Germany and did not indicate aggressive measures against Austria, and urged both a conference of Germany, France, England, and Italy, and also a conference between Austria and Russia, to secure peace. The next day, Vienna having refused the conference with Russia, Sazonof telegraphed England that Russia would leave herself entirely in the hands of the British Government for the initiation of procedures for peace. And on the next two days, July 30 and 31, he telegraphed simultaneously to Germany, Austria, France, England, and Italy that, if Austria would consent to stay the march of her armies on Servia, and would allow the Great Powers to consider the reparation, which Servia should accord to the Government of Austria, without injury to her sovereignty and independence, Russia would cease her military preparations. The consent of Austria to this proposal being refused, he finally, on July 31, telegraphed England that the only chance for peace lay in negotiations at London "facilitating for Austria the necessity of compromise." On the following day, August 1, Germany declared war against Russia, because Russia refused to demobilize her troops. In this summary we have given practically the substance of all M. Sazonof's letters.

Students of history who take the trouble to read the English White Paper, the German White Book, and the Russian Orange Paper, which, combined, give the bulk of the diplomatic correspondence immediately preceding the war, will find no difficulty in reaching the conclusion that Austria, who refused all appeals of the Powers to submit to them the evidences of her charges against Servia, and Germany, who refused to co-operate with the Powers in asking Austria to submit her complaints against Servia to a conference of the Powers, are responsible for the European war, and that Sir Edward Grey in England and M. Sazonof in Russia did all that it was possible for men to do to secure a peaceful adjustment of the issue.

THE GERMAN SPY.

ONE of the mean features of German imperialism has been the system of espionage practiced on a huge scale. Espionage and informers have always been the support of tyranny. But the German Government has carried it far beyond the borders of the Fatherland. France, England, and, above all, Belgium have been for years literally infested with German spies of all sorts.

In Belgium, the nightmare of a German invasion has weighed on the people, especially since 1911, the year of the Morocco scare. The activities of spies have redoubled. Not only officers and consuls, but German businessmen, even the fraulein employed as governess, had their work to do, and did it. The abuse became so flagrant and serious that the organization of a system of contra-espionage has been openly proposed.

Familiar with this sort of mean underhandedness, the Belgians have for some time had no doubts of what their odious neighbor would do in case of a collision with France. The land that uses the spy wholesale, octopus-like reaching long, shaky tentacles into every other land's houses, will never be trusted. It is the enemy, the incubus. It is noteworthy that this Germany of spy-nosing and sea-mining is the same Germany that in the Middle Ages saw such a development of the Vehonygericht, a secret association of murderous ruffians, who thought themselves right and everybody else wrong, and, like the Black Hand, stabbed victims in the back and in the dark.

When Europe gets rid of this self-righteous pest, Belgium particularly will be delivered from the present tribulations, and from the peeping Tom that has menaced her days and nights for a decade and more.

A STARTLING SUGGESTION.

A BRITISH bishop has advanced a most startling doctrine in the present crisis. He suggests that before leaving for the war every unmarried British soldier should be married, in order that he should leave an heir and that the nation should not forever lose much of its best stock. While the idea smacks of the very thing—stock-raising—there is a noble inspiration behind it. A marriage of convenience for the nation, a eugenic marriage in one sense, would involve a sacrifice for the young woman who gave herself to her country in such a way. She would face widowhood almost before she faced motherhood—and after both a courageous loneliness for life, and a struggle for herself and child. The sentiment behind such a marriage would be more national than personal—and what a paradox it presents. We are forced to give one life away; we must have another.

Yet Britain's best men are dying. Thousands of men have died, and the count is only beginning. The flower of the nation must reproduce itself, or the nation may suffer a defeat worse than any the enemy may inflict. These "war marriages" are a cold, calculating policy, yet, to the woman patriot there is a chance for a magnificent service. She gives the nation one life, and replaces it with another.

VON MOLTKE GOES.

THE dismissal by Kaiser Wilhelm of Lieut.-Gen. Helmuth Von Moltke, chief of the German general staff, at this stage in the European war, can bring nothing but cheer to the Allies. It can mean nothing more than that the Kaiser, supreme head of the German empire, is not satisfied with the way things are going.

General Von Moltke is a nephew of the eminent strategist who conducted the Franco-Prussian war 44 years ago. He was a favorite of the Kaiser, and was looked upon as the one man who could guide Germany through another successful war. As chief of the general staff, he may be regarded as the man who outlined the present European campaign. He it was who planned the invasion of France and the defeat of Russia.

His dismissal at this period in the war is significant. The armies which entered France and made an attempt to besiege Paris have fallen back, in a hasty retreat, almost to the borders of Germany, and there they are fighting in desperation to hold the positions they have fortified against the advance of the Allies. The British and French line is extending gradually northward drawing the German strength from the centre and forcing the Kaiser's army to take the defensive. The proposed sudden entry into Paris has been a marked failure. Winter is approaching with the German horde reported on the verge of demoralization, suffering from lack of clothing, food and ammunition, obliged to yield inch by inch to the strategic advance of their opponents.

In the eastern field the situation is even worse, according to the official reports of the Russians. The Germans, attempting to cross the Nieman river into Russia, have met a decisive defeat, losing their artillery in marshy land and suffering the loss of men estimated at 70,000. They have been forced to beat a precipitate retreat

Even in little Belgium, the German army has been repulsed. The Belgians have met every advance they have made, and even now are fighting them back at the threshold of Antwerp.

Things have not gone well with the Germans. Their Austrian allies are practically through with the war because they cannot maintain their aggressive position. Germany is as well as beaten. Whom should His Imperial Majesty blame but his chief of staff? Von Moltke goes. The man who was depended upon to point the way to European conquest has failed at the opening of the campaign.

Von Moltke's dismissal is the greatest victory which the Allies have yet had. It shows that the Kaiser's reckoning from the beginning has been wrong.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

General Connie Mack is reported to have his heavy artillery (Mr. Baker) in position.

One of these days our old standby "K of K" will be coming through with a pinch hit.

And this pitiful world series as a spectacle will attract more attention from many than the world war.

They say the French have turned again to the church in time of trouble. But the Germans are smashing the churches.

The federal square will have a shabby look once the old McCormick building is out of the way. Some movement to clean up and equip it as playground should be started.

As winter approaches the need for Red Cross work in every community is forced upon us. The Canadian soldiers and all other soldiers will require the warmest clothing, and no supply will be too large.

London is now operating its garbage system under municipal ownership. There was no good reason why this should not have been done in the first place. It was simply of a kind with other bad management that has been allowed to proceed unchecked.

If the city of London does make some sincere movement for subways, the grant of the railway commission will be out of reach. If ever there was civic blindness to a crying need, it is apparent in the case of the unprotected crossings and blocked crorsings that are permitted to exist without a hand being stirred to remove the difficulty.

Unless—

"The reasonable and adequate employment upon women round the prize ring is provided by a sage and candid cricket professional," says the Glasgow Herald; "He was asked by a lawyer-like amateur if there was anything to prevent a wicket-keeper, after taking a ball, from pretending that he was returning it to the bowler and instead snapping off the bails if the batsman incautiously lifted his right foot. The answer was, 'Nothing, sir—unless the wicket-keeper happens to be a gentleman.'

"There is nothing to prevent a woman from attending a boxing championship, unless she happens to be a lady."

Doing Better.

A deputation from the Free Church Council, which brought greetings to the Wesleyan Conference, laid emphasis on the need for greater unity and more organized effort to prevent overlapping.

One of the speakers, referring to the changed aspect of the churches towards each other, said they no longer came across cases like that of the old Wesleyan lady who, in reply to a question, admitted that the church to which she belonged was not doing very well, and added, "But thank God the Primitive Methodists are doing no better."

A verse found in an old hymn book was quoted:

"I'd rather be a Baptist,
And have a shining face,
Than be among the Methodists,
And fall away from grace."

In Praise of Apples

BY PETER McARTHUR.

The apple-lovers of the country have become altogether too finicky in their taste. Nothing will do them but No. 1 apples, and those of the choicest varieties. In Ontario the No. 1 Spies, Snows and McIntosh Reds could have been sold many times over. I am told that it is the same with the Gravensteins and other choice varieties in the Maritime Provinces, and the Jonathans and Spitzenbergs of British Columbia. Everybody wants the choicest grade of the best-known varieties. They are all like the sporty Kentucky major who said: "I figgah that we ah goin' through the wohld foh the last time, and that the best is none too good." Nonsense, and what is more, criminal nonsense! It is entirely right that apples should be graded to a legal standard, so that the man who buys may get what he is paying for, but there are thousands and thousands of barrels of sound apples of little-known varieties and culls of the best varieties that are as good as the best for cooking and eating. They are not "fancy," but they are wholesome and delicious, and not one of them should be allowed to waste. And there is no reason why you should sniff superior and talk about "saving them for the poor." Yesterday I was in an orchard where packing was in progress, and saw Twenty-Ounce Pippins being thrown to the pigs because they had a few scabs that made it impossible to pack them in the best grades. There is no market for culls, and yet those culls were just as good as any apples in the No. 1 barrels. Just think of apples weighing over a pound—firm, juicy and full of the choicest flavors ever distilled in the alembics of a Canadian summer, being thrown to the pigs because they were disfigured by a few blemishes that were only skin deep! Now, do not scold my friend, the orchardist. He cannot sell them to the evaporating factory, for the nearest is miles away, and the price he would get would not pay for the price of loading them in a wagon and hauling them. And he cannot put them on the market because nobody wants culls. So they go to the pigs. If the pigs that the Prodigal Son lived with fared like that he would not have much to complain of.

But those were culls of choice varieties. There are other varieties of which you cannot sell, even the No. 1 grades, because they are not known. While talking with the orchardist, I picked up a rosy apple that tempted me, and bit it. Perfectly ravishing! It was in perfect condition and tasted as good as any Snow or McIntosh Red I had ever eaten. I asked why this superb apple was being allowed to go to waste—for the ground was covered with them.

"No market," was the complete and conclusive answer. Because there is no market for the Strawberry apple—that is its name—the apple-grower did not bother picking them. If he had done so he would only be wasting his time and his money. And yet, with the pick of all the orchard before me, I filled my pockets with those despised Strawberry apples, and they comforted and delighted me while driving home through the October sunshine.

Apples are apples, my friends, and this year we should not allow even the "natural fruits" to go to waste. Even the poorest apples have their use, and if taken in their proper season may be almost as good as the best. But people have proud stomachs and eat only according to the label on the barrel. They must have No. 1 grade, and of the most select varieties, or they will have nothing. The apple-hungry children of the cities would not be so fastidious if they could get a chance to dispute with those luxurious country pigs for some of the apples I have seen wasted this year.

THE DESPOILERS

BY ERIC ROSS GOULDING

Written Especially For The Advertiser.

The paralysing effect of militarism on the soul of a nation is being witnessed day by day. Hold up an ideal, whether good or bad, before a people and persistently explain that it is right and the time will arrive when that ideal becomes a part of the character of that people. Thus in the middle ages and after a false ideal of Christianity led to massacres and untold misery. Today a false ideal of culture is responsible for the outrages of which we read. The highest and best of which men are capable is to be found only in the military calling—so say the Prussians. But the rank and file, who form by far the larger proportion in the occupation of arms, are so rigidly disciplined that the independent expression of a man's thoughts is not only prohibited, but, because of the prohibition, it also becomes so weak as to be of no account. They have reached that stage when black is easily proved to them to be white. The inevitable consequence is they follow most diligently the rules of the cult in which they have been schooled; and the laws of the military cult which, of course, admits of no other laws and is in effect as potent as the low cult of any superstitious religion, are framed in a sentence: Might is right and brute force is the only force. An example of this particular gospel is found in the German Chancellor's statement:

"When England joined with Russia and Japan against Germany, she, with a blindness unique in the history of the world betrayed civilization and handed over to the German sword the care of freedom for European peoples and states."

The idea of talking about the sword and freedom in the same sentence is sufficient proof of the trend of this military culture. In this manner the Imperial Chancellor expresses his belief. Can you wonder, then, that the over-disciplined men of the army, turned into machines as they are, believe in force to the very utmost? Can you wonder, too, how they are ready to indulge every act for which force stands and which it countenances? Culture is the precious fruit of an intellectual attainment which is mellowed and also hallowed by the full development of the higher emotions. Napoleon was very intellectual, but he was not cultured. In point of culture, I gladly place a negro servant who devotedly nursed me through an illness above him. A man may be an intellectual Hercules, but if he ill-treats my dog or my cat he lacks culture. Let there be no confusion: there is a German culture which has blossomed through the genius of her writers and her musicians, her educators and her philosophers, her men of brilliance in the spheres of pure and applied science. This culture is permanent and we are duly thankful; it is the evolutionary impulse to better and nobler living and we reverence it. But for years past a few men—a mere handful—imbued with the Bismarckian spirit have set up a false god and, as is ever the case with that which is false, it has attracted the perverse in human nature. Having drawn the attention of the masses by appealing in this manner to the baser passions of greed and the possibility of achieving personal and national glory through force, the next thing was to discipline the people into a state of believeing which meant a passive acceptance of the new cult as the right cult. The nation has been hypnotized. This new culture cannot exist apart from force; it is unreal and shall therefore pass away. There is no relation between it and the real German culture, which is best explained in Goethe's noble exhortation to "Live in the Good, the True and the Beautiful." The awful horrors which have been perpetrated by the German soldiery are then, in the light of what I have said, quite natural. Does Belgium interfere? Then crush her. Is that woman a menace? Then kill her. These old men are of no use and only hamper matters. Shoot them, then. If one would be healthy and therefore best able to bear the strains of campaigning the sexual demand should be gratified; there's a comely maiden—rape her. That cathedral possibly harbors spies, bombard it. Thus the sickening story goes on. But nations cannot mock that which is good and pure and true and beautiful any more than they can mock God; and this cult of force which is founded on the sword shall perish by the sword. After that the real German culture shall once again lead the people heavenward.

E. R. G.

Oh, naught is safe from those polluting hands
Grasping the sword of hate and savage lust!
The lower nature of the beast which stands
In our contempt and which we farther thrust
As up we climb is now so thick encrust
By filthy acts of those who bow the knee
In supplication to our God the just!
Hoping that He may bless their villainy!

Nay, nay! What blessing can they hope to win
Who snatch the sucking babes from mothers' breasts,
Then force the weeping women, while they grin,
To that debasing act which ever rests
A stigma on themselves and so invests
Their vaunted culture with eternal shame—
A people mocking God's divine behests
The while they call upon His holy name?

As ravening creatures of the darkest wild,
Primeval dens who live at constant war
On weaker beasts, these warriors kill the child,
Gloating upon its flow of fresh, young gore.
The good the feeble ones who limp before
With smarting spears and like to hear the groan
Of wounded men the screeching shell have tore:
And these are cultured—these brute-men alone!

Oh, naught to them is sacred; all is gain—
The rightful spoil and privilege of might,
Who wreck a cottage and an ancient fane
With equal calm, robbing the eager sight
In after years of such as take delight
In works of art wrought well by noble souls.
Behold the deeds of men in righteous fight,
And culture leading on to splendid goals!

Hear if thou wilt, O God, and quickly stay
The devastating hand of brutal greed,
Which murders, rapes and tortures day by day,
And let the nations from this curse be freed—
The curse which grows as some foul, choking weed—
Mistaken culture and its fruits of hell,
Sowing throughout the world that priceless seed
Of love and all, O God, shall then be well!

MATTERS OF INTEREST

"Come to Church."

The Free Churches are embarking upon one of the greatest religious campaigns ever known in the history of this country. Their object is to secure the attendance at church of every man, woman and child in England and Wales on a Sunday in January next. Thousands of visitors will be requisitioned, and there will be an army of superintendents and officers to engineer this tremendous undertaking. The whole country is to be divided up into separate Free Church parishes, and each church will be allotted a parish for visitation. The members of the various churches will be enlisted in the work of distributing the invitations, and everybody will be asked to attend church on January 24 and 31. The campaign is not to be restricted to the Free Churches, and is not intended as a proselytizing agency.

Mate, the Paraguay Tea.

Mate, the South American tea, about which there has been some correspondence in the Times, though it is little known in Europe, is one of the great drinks of the world. It has been for many years the regular and invariable beverage of more than 15,000,000 people, while its properties have been known to the South American Indian from the earliest times. It is made from the leaves of the Brazilian holly, which grows wild in Southern Brazil, in Northern Argentina and in Paraguay, where it brings in a handsome revenue to the Jesuits. Its taste resembles a slightly bitter aromatic herbal tea, and it is said to be a cure for insomnia. Mr. Oscar Browning wrote a letter expressing his fondness for the drink, but admitted that he had misgivings lest he might be imbibing an insidious poison. At the Apothecaries' Hall, however, they say that there are absolutely no grounds for Mr. Oscar Browning's misgivings, for the mate habit is, if anything, less injurious than the tea habit.

In South America the consumption of mate is almost universal. In the big towns ordinary tea is drunk to some extent, though its price is almost prohibitive; but mate is the staple drink of the vast majority, and to the peons or laborers of the camp it is both food and drink. Its sustaining power is wonderful. They will ride all day in perfect comfort, provided they have their "mates," or little gourds, with them. The peons will drink anything up to twenty cups a day and require little else. It is quite possible that it will be the tea of the future. Its price in England now is 1s 6d and 2s per pound.

Bengal Girls Committing Suicide.

A curious epidemic of suicide among Bengal girls is reported by a Calcutta correspondent, who says that it began some weeks ago with the self-destruction of a girl named Snehalata, whose father was about to mortgage his property in order to pay the purchase price of a husband for her. The sum now demanded by fathers of eligible boys in Bengal is ruinously high. The price of a Kayasth who has graduated may go up to 10,000 rupees (£666); 3,000 rupees is a quite usual demand, and even a matriculate can command 500 rupees. The enhancement of rates is due to the law of supply and demand. Girls must ordinarily be married before puberty, while the increasing requirements of education have led to the postponement of the marriage of boys. There is thus a diminishing supply of husbands, whereas the demand is unchanged.

"The suicide of Snehalata, who poured kerosene oil over her clothing and set herself on fire, provoked an outburst of admiration among marriage reformers and the fathers of marriageable girls," says the Times correspondent. "The natural result is that other young girls have followed the example of Snehalata, while it is common talk among the school girls that when the time comes for their marriage they will sacrifice themselves in the same way. The mania has not confined itself to victims of the husband's dowry. The widow of a wealthy young jemadar burned herself to death, leaving an orphan child. In these days of legislative councils and royal commissions on the civil service, it is not always realized that the inhuman treatment of the Hindu widow remains unaltered and unmitigated, and that her most cheerful prospect is a life of prostitution."

Nonconformists and Communion.

The Spectator is publishing some articles by an ecclesiastical lawyer dealing with the question of open Communion in the Church of England. His thesis is that by law every parishioner, whether or not he be a member of the Church of England, is entitled to partake of Communion in his parish church, the ban upon notorious evil-livers being, of course, recognized. The writer seeks to prove his contention by references to statutes, canons of the church and the rubrics of the Prayer Book, and in this manner he deals with the period from Edward I. to the Restoration of 1660. The question is one of very considerable interest not only to ecclesiastical and liturgical students, but to politicians and to the public generally, and the articles may be expected to arouse keen discussion, particularly in view of its bearing upon the Kikuyu controversy.

"I believe the Canadian apple to be the finest in the world."—SIR GEO. E. FOSTER

"Canadian apples are all right—firm, juicy, well-colored, good keepers."—LUTHER BURBANK

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away"

"An Ounce of Apple is Worth a Pound of Cures"

The truth of the old saying is confirmed by the leading physicians of the world. 95% of our ills grow out of trouble in our digestive system. And 90% of such trouble can be prevented.

When the prevention is so pleasant, why let yourself need a cure? Eat apples—great, big, juicy, rosy-ripe Canadian apples—the finest fruit in the world.

John Burroughs, poet and scientist, says in his "Essay on the Apple": "* * *full of vegetable acids and aromatics, what an enemy the apple is to jaundice, indigestion, and torpid liver! It is a gentle spur and tonic to the whole system."

APPLE LORE

Old Dr. Johnson, whose personal habits were immortalized by Boswell, used to walk about the streets of London munching an apple, his pockets sagging under the weight of "reserve supplies." He ranked the apple above all fruit—and if he were alive today he would rank the Canadian apple as the finest of his favorite fruit.

How to Preserve Apples For Mid-Winter Meals

APPLE MARMALADE, CATSUP AND CHEESES, AMONG OTHER DELECTABLE FORMULAS.

Spiced Apples.

Cook together 1 quart of vinegar, 3 pounds of sugar and 1 teaspoon each of ground cinnamon, cloves and allspice, tied in a bag. Have ready 4 pounds of tart red apples, which have been pared, cored and quartered. Place in syrup and cook slowly until tender, then put in jars. Cook the syrup down until quite thick, pour over the apples and seal.

Apple Marmalade.

Pare, core and chop fine 4 pounds of juicy sour apples. Boil together for five minutes 4 pounds of sugar, 2 cups of water, the grated rind and juice of 4 lemons and 1 ounce of preserved ginger chopped. Add the apples and cook slowly for two hours, or until fruit is clear, then place, while hot, in small jars or marmalade pots.

Apple Catsup.

Wash, quarter and core sour apples. There should be 5 pounds. Add 6 cups of water and cook until soft and nearly dry, then put through a vegetable press. Return to fire, add 3 cups (scant) of sugar, 1 quart of cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon each of cinnamon, mustard and cloves. Cook very slowly for three or four hours, or until a dark red in color. Put in bottles and seal while hot.

Apple Cheese.

Remove the cores and cut in small pieces enough tart apples to make 2 quarts. Add 1 quart of water and cook until soft, then rub through a sieve. Add to each pint of the pulp 2 cups of sugar and the juice of 1 lemon. Place again on the fire and boil, removing the scum as it rises. When a drop will retain its shape, it is sufficiently cooked. Fill soup plates, which have been wet with cold water, about half-full. Let stand till cold. Keep for a few days in a warm place, and when thoroughly dry wrap each cheese separately in white paper. Nice for sandwich filling.

Apple Butter.

Reduce sweet cider one-half by boiling. Add to 1 quart of the boiled cider a little more than twice as much tart apples, which have been pared, cored and sliced. Cook slowly, skimming as necessary and stirring with a long wooden spoon until the apples are well cooked and of the consistency of marmalade. Put through a coarse sieve and sweeten to taste with brown sugar. Season with spice, if desired, but the pure apple flavor cannot be improved upon. Return to the fire and cook ten minutes, then put away in stone jars.

COLDSTREAM W. I.

The Coldstream Women's Institute will meet in the Foresters' Hall, Poplar Hill, on Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 2 p.m. Papers by Mrs. Alex. Mitchell and Mrs. A. Stoner on "The Effect of Tea and Coffee on Child's Physical Condition"; "Menu for a Week," by Mrs. Hiram Zavitz; sentiments, miscellaneous.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S PARTIES.

Marlborough House is an exceedingly busy place now. From it are being turned out weekly a large quantity of garments of all sorts, for the soldiers at the front, for their wives and children, and for the wounded.

These working parties have been very systematically planned and arranged by Queen Alexandra, assisted by the Princess Victoria. A number of Queen Alexandra's intimate friends are cooperating in the work, either by sending in presents of flannel, wool, or some equally useful material, by assisting in the making of the garments, or sometimes by doing both.

The working parties take place on three days a week at Marlborough House. They are held in the large state dining-room. There are two long tables in the room, at which the cutters, sewers and others workers of the party sit.

Queen Alexandra, the Princess Victoria and other royalties all help in the cutting out of the different garments. They include shirts of all sizes, pyjamas, dressing jackets and other necessary garments.

A good deal of the sewing is done by girls who are paid for the work.

There is quite an absence of all formality or etiquette at these gatherings. Queen Alexandra may not be in the room when the workers arrive, but at her majesty's request no one rises when she enters it. Her majesty greets the workers with a pleasant bow and smile, and then takes her place at the cutting-out table.

At 5 o'clock the work ends, the garments are put away, and tea is served. Often Queen Alexandra and the whole work party take tea together in the dining-room.

One way and another some 20 or 30 garments a week are completed.

FANTASTIC TWISTS IN FALL SASHES

There's no end to the fantastic twists Dame Fashion gives the sash which invariably trims the new fall gowns. Some of them are long, most of them are wide, some are adjustable, and a few of them form a drapery for the gown—and not all of them are either becoming or graceful.

One of the very latest models is shown in the illustration. It is of the same material as the gown, and it is drawn from the bust line in the front diagonally over the hips and fastened in the back with a large white velvet buckle.

The short-waisted coat is another of the season's novelties which offer a welcome break in the monotony of long-coated costumes.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Washing Baby's Coat.

Dear Miss Grey,—One of your readers was asking how to wash a child's cream bearcloth coat. If she will get a box of "Lux" from any grocer's store and follow the directions given for washing woollens, I'm sure she will find it very satisfactory. I washed my little boy's coat that way and after three winters' wear it looked almost as good as new. When it was frosty I used to hang it on a line in the kitchen, and if it dripped, kept wringing it and gave it a shake every now and then with splendid results. M. R.

Ans.—M. R. I am glad to receive such a good hint from you. It seems as if you are always helping the mail-box readers in some way.

Getting New Dress.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—You seem so kind to everyone, will you please tell me

1. What colors one could wear to an advantage, who has pale blue eyes, dark brown hair, and dull complexion, not much color?

2. Some way I could improve my writing?

3. Would the nicest kind of crepe be suitable to make up for a nice dress this time of the year? I want it to wear to church socials or house, not for afternoons or parties.

I will wait until I see an answer before I get a dress. I'm not in a hurry. Yours in need. MRS. K.

Ans. 1. You should look best in warm tones of red and brown.

2. I do not see that there could be a better way than using a copy book just like the school children do. Don't be afraid of being laughed at, but practice away a little while every day and you should see improvement soon.

3. Yes, crepe would be both suitable and very handsome for such a dress. Or if you preferred, silk would be equally nice, and silk poplin also makes a useful gown for such wear.

Received Many Hints.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a constant reader of The Advertiser, and from the woman's page I have received many useful hints. I see where Morning Glory was asking for a recipe for corn salad. As I have a very good one, I will send it. I hope it will be what she wants. I have been watching your old songs, and hoping to see one we used to sing in school. I think it is called "School Days." Some of the lines run like this:

"The stamp that's borne on manhood's brow
Is traced in early years,
The good or ill we are doing now
In future life appears.
Oh, oh, the school room
That's the place for me."

I sincerely hope you will be able to get this for me. I hope my letter is not too long. Yours sincerely,
SARNIA READER.

Corn Salad—18 ears sweet corn, 8 onions, 1 small cabbage, 3 green peppers, 1 cup salt, 2 cups sugar, 2 quarts vinegar, chop cabbage and onions, shave corn off the cobs, cook in one quart of vinegar, add a quarter of a pound of bulk mustard, stir well together and cook half an hour; bottle while hot and seal until ready to use.

Ans. No indeed, your letter is not too long. We are glad to receive the recipe, and hope some one can supply the lines of the song.

More Corn Salad.

Our thanks are due to "J. McD.," "Jennie Miller" and others for corn salad recipes. As several formulas have appeared, we withhold publication of these.

Who Said Mince Pie?

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a constant reader of your column for two years and have enjoyed it very much but this is my first letter to you and hope you will be able to answer my questions.

1. At a church wedding should the groom walk with the bride or bridesmaid from the cab to the church.

2. Is it proper for the best man to visit the bridesmaid before the wedding.

3. Will the belts be worn on ladies coats this year.

4. Good recipes for mincemeat and custard pies.

Thanking you in advance. X.Y.Z.

Ans. 1.—The groom and best man ride to the church in one cab, and immediately proceed to the vestry where they meet the clergyman. The bride and her father (or whoever is to give her in marriage) arrive in a second cab, and the bridesmaid and bride's mother in a third.

2. Quite proper for him to call upon her, but not a necessity.

3. On many of the shorter coats they still appear.

4. Boil 6 lbs. lean beef till tender, let stand over night and then chop fine; chop 1 lb. beef suet, also 5 lbs. apples, 2 lbs. seeded raisins, 1 lb. currants, slice thin 1-2 lb. citron and mix all with 2 tablespoons cinnamon, and 1 tablespoon grated nutmeg; some add cider to this to make it juicy, others, fruit juice

5. Take 2 teacups milk, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon flour, pinch of salt; heat the milk but do not let it scald; beat eggs, sugar, flour and salt together and add the milk; line pie plates with crust, pour in the mixture, grate a little nutmeg over the top and bake in a moderate oven.

Opening Bachelor's Hall.

Dear Cynthia,—I am writing on behalf of six young men who are about to start up a bachelor's home. Having profited by your valuable information in the past we are once again trespassing on your kindness to furnish us with a suitable name for the above.

We understand that several of our lady friends intend to pay us a visit on our opening night. Would it be advisable for us to receive them? if so would it be indecorum to have an elderly gentleman chaperon us?

Also at what hour should the festivities cease?

Could you suggest a suitable menu for our first Sunday dinner?

BIS DAT QUI CITO DAT.

Ans.—So you desire a quick answer! —rather a pretentious signature, is it not? Your letter is so unusual, I am not yet sure but that you are "stringing." But you laugh at me, and I'll laugh at you, and we'll be about even.

1. Seems to me a very appropriate name would be the "Sixes and Sevens" as that will probably describe the condition of the house in about a week's time. Or you might term it "Innocents' Inn," "Heartsease Home," "Inglenook," "Bachelor's Bungalow."

2. Yes, by all means have the elderly gentleman, and the latter's wife, or some married woman friend, to play propriety.

3. Not later than twelve.

4. I wish you had been more explicit. Is it your purpose to be your own cooks? If so you will require a very simple menu until you have had a little practice: Fried bacon and eggs; boiled potatoes, stewed tomatoes, celery, pumpkin pie. The latter may be purchased at a confectioner's.

Queenie's Queries.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been reading your answers in The Advertiser. Will you kindly answer a few for me?

1. Will last year's coat be worn this year with low belt?

2. Will you please give the meaning of the following names: Victoria, Florence, Eveline, Ada, Matilda, Ruth, Arthur, Fred?

3. I have dark blue eyes, light brown hair, what colors are suited for me?

QUEENIE.

Ans.—1. Yes, no doubt quite a few of them will be seen this year.

2. Victoria, feminine form of Victor, meaning victorious; Florence, flourishing; Eveline, life; Ada, rich gift; Matilda, heroine; Ruth, beauty; Arthur, high or noble; Fred, peaceful.

3. Blue, brown, gray and pink.

Never Before.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have never bothered you before I would be very glad if you would answer these questions for me in The Morning Advertiser.

1. I am 17 years old, 5 feet 5 1-2 inches all. Am I tall enough and how long should I wear my dresses?

2. What do these flowers mean? water lilly, ivy, honeysuckle.

3. Will you please publish the songs, "The Mansion of Aching Hearts," also "When You Know You're Not Forgotten, By the Girl You Can't Forget?"

Wishing your column every success, I remain, IMOGEN.

Ans.—1. Yes. They should come below the tops of your shoes an inch or so.

2. Water lilly, purity of heart; ivy, friendship; honeysuckle, love.

3. The first song has already been published; the second is a popular piece and may be bought at a music counter.

She's a New Reader.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a new subscriber to The London Advertiser and enjoy reading your page very much.

I noticed in Tuesday's paper "Morning Glory" asked for a recipe for corn salad. I have one which I hope will suit her. I have always found it very good. Thanking you for space. I remain,

A STRATFORD HOUSEWIFE.

Corn Salad.

1 dozen ears of corn, boiled on the cob, 1 large cabbage, 2 cups sugar, 1-2 gallon vinegar, 1 tablespoon turmeric, 4 tablespoons salt, 10 cent glass French mustard. Cut the corn off the cobs very fine, also the cabbage, put the corn into the vinegar, let it come to a boil, then add cabbage and other things and boil 20 minutes. Then bottle and seal.

Ans.—We are glad to welcome our new readers, and hope that you will call again when we may have a chance of helping you in return.

OLD SONGS AND POEMS

THE LAST HYMN.

The Sabbath Day was ending, in a village by the sea,
The uttered benediction touched the people tenderly,
And they rose to face the sunset in the glowing, lighted west,
And then hastened to their dwellings for God's blessed boon of rest.

But they looked across the waters, and a storm was raging there,
A fierce spirit moved above them—the wild spirit of the air—
And it lashed, and shook, and tore them, till they thundered, groaned, and boomed;
And, alas! for any vessel in their yawning gulfs entombed.

Very anxious were the people on that rocky coast of Wales
Lest the dawn of coming morrows should be telling awful tales,
When the sea had spent its passion, and should cast upon the shore,
Bits of wreck, and swollen victims, as it had done heretofore.

With the rough winds blowing round her, a brave woman strained her eyes.
And she saw among the billows a large vessel fall and rise.
Oh! it did not need a prophet to tell what the end must be,
For no ship could ride in safety near that shore on such a sea.

Then the pitying people hurried from their homes and thronged the beach.
Oh! for the power to cross the waters and the perishing to reach!
Helpless hands were wrung for sorrow, tender hearts grew cold with dread,
And the ship, urged by the tempest, to the fatal rock-shore sped.

"She has parted in the middle! Oh! the half of her goes down!
God have mercy! Is His Heaven far to seek for those who drown?"
Lo, when next the white, shocked faces looking with terror on the sea,
Only last clinging figure on the spar was seen to be.

Nearer the trembling watchers came the wreck, tossed by the wave,
And the man still clung and floated, though no power on earth could save,
"Could we send him a short message? Here's a trumpet. Shout away!"
'Twas the preacher's hand that took it, and he wondered what to say.

Any memory of his sermon? Firstly? Secondly? Ah, no!
There was but one thing to utter in the awful hour of woe;
So he shouted through the trumpet, "Look to Jesus! Can you hear?"
And "Ay, ay, sir!" rang the answer o'er the waters loud and clear.

Then they listened. He is singing! "Jesus, lover of my soul";
And the winds brought back the echo, "while the nearer waters roll";
Strange, indeed, it was to hear him, "till the storm of life is past,"
Singing bravely from the waters, "Oh, receive my soul at last."

He could have no other refuge! "Hangs my helpless soul on Thee;
Leave, oh, leave me not"—the singer dropped at last into the sea,
And the watchers, looking homeward, through their eyes with tears made dim,
Said, "He passed to be with Jesus in the singing of the hymn."

A SPLENDID STORY OF WESTERN LIFE

LAHOMA

By JOHN BRECKENRIDGE ELLIS
THE AUTHOR OF FRAN

Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

"We was crossing the plains—father, mother and me—in a big wagon. And men dressed up like Indians, they came whooping and shooting, and father turns around and drives with all his might—drives clear to yonder mountain. And mother dies, being that sick before, and the jolting too much for her. So father takes me on his horse and rides all night, and I asleep. Well, those same men dressed like Indians, they was in a cabin 'way up north, and had put their wigs and feathers off and was gambling over what they stole from the other wagons. So father, he sees the light from the window and rides up with me. And they takes him for a spy and says them, in a voice awful fierce, just this way—'Kill 'em both!' "

The trapper gave a start at the explosiveness of her tone.

Lahoma shouted again, as harshly as she could, "'Kill 'em both!' says they." Then she turned to Willock. "Did I put them words in the correct sauce, Brick?"

"You done noble, honey."

"Lahoma resumed: "Now it was in a manner of happening that Brick, he was riding around to have a look at the country, and when he rides up to the cabin, why, right outside there was me and father, and two of the robbers about to kill us. 'What are you devils up to?' says Brick. 'You go to hell,' says the leading man, 'that's where we're going to send that spy and his little girl,' says he; 'you go to hell, and maybe you'll meet 'em there,' he says. And with that he ups and shoots at Brick, the bullet lifting his hat right off his head and scaring the horse out from under him, so he falls right there at the feet of them two robber-men, on his back. Brick, he never harmed nobody before in his life, but what was he to do? He might have let them kill him, but that would have left father and me in their grip, so he just grabs the gun out of the leading man's hand, as he hadn't ever carried a gun in his life his own self, and he shot both them robbers, him laying there on his back—"

"No, honey, I bot up about that time."

"Brick, you told me you was still laying there on your back, just as you fell."

"Did I, honey? Well, I reckon I was, then, for when I told you about it, it was more recent."

"It's awful interesting," the trapper remarked dryly.

"Yes, ain't it!" Lahoma glowed. "Then father jumped on one horse with me, and Brick put out on another, and when I woke up the Indians were all everywhere, but Brick come here and lived all alone and nearly died because he didn't have me to comfort him. So the Indians took me and they killed father, and for two years I was moved from village to village till Red Feather brought me to Brick. And there we found out we were cousins, and he is going to civilize me. Brick, he remembers about a cousin of his, Cousin Martha Willock, her sister went driving out to the Oklahoma country with her husband and little girl, and wasn't never heard of. I am the little girl all right, and Brick he's my second cousin. And wasn't it lucky Brick was riding around that night, looking at the country, when they was about to put daylight into me?"

"I'd think," remarked the trapper, "that he'd take you back to your Cousin Martha, for men-folks like him and me aren't placed to take care of women-folks."

"Yes, but he got a letter saying my Cousin Martha and all her family is done been swept away by a flood of the Mississippi River, and him and me is all they is left of the Willockses, so we got to stick together. Besides, you see, he killed them two robbers, and the rest of the gang is laying for him. Brick, he feels so dreadful, he never having so much as put a scratch to a man's face before, for he wouldn't fight as a boy, his conscience wouldn't rest if he was in civilization. He'd go right up to the first policeman he met and say, 'I done the deed. Carry me to the pen!' he'd say, and then what would become of me?"

"He might get another letter from your Cousin Martha to help him out of the scrape."

Lahoma stared at him, unable to grasp the significance of these foolish words, and Brick, seeking a diversion, explained his purpose of taking Lahoma to the settlements after supplies, and proffered his petition that Bill Atkins accompany them.

Lahoma has never forgotten that expedition to the settlements. Along the Chisholm Trail marched Brick Willock and Bill Atkins, one full of genial philosophy, responsive to every sight and sound along the way, the other taciturn and uncompanionable, a being present in the flesh, but seemingly absent in the spirit. Behind them rode the girl, with unceasing interest in the broad, hard-beaten trail—the only mark in that wilderness to tell them that others had passed that way. The men walked with deliberate but well-measured step, preserving a pace that carried them mile after mile seemingly with little weariness. Three times on the journey great herds of cattle were encountered on their way toward Kansas, and many were the looks of curiosity cast on the little girl sitting as straight as an Indian on her pony.

She was glad when a swinging cloud of dust announced the coming of thousands of steers, attended by cowboys, for it meant a glimpse into an unknown world, and the bellowing of cattle, the shouting of men and the cracking of whips stirred her blood. But she was glad, too, when the stream of life had passed, and she was left alone with Brick and Bill, for then the never-ending conversation with the former was resumed, picked up at the point where it had been dropped, or drawn forward from ravelled bits of unfinished discourse of the day before, and though Bill Atkins said almost nothing, and always looked straight ahead, he was, in a way, spice in the feast of her enjoyment.

When they stopped for their meals, they drew aside from the trail, if possible near some spring or river-bed in which pools of water lingered, but such stopping-places were far apart in the desert country. At night there was a cheerful bonfire, followed by zestful talk as they lay upon the ground—before falling asleep in their tarpaulins—talk eagerly monopolized by Brick and Lahoma, and to which Atkins seemed in a manner to listen, perhaps warming his heart at the light of their comradeship even as they warmed their hands in the early morning at the breakfast fire. Atkins had brought with him one of his books, and at the noon hour rest, and at evening beside the bonfire, he kept his nose buried in its pages.

Lahoma did not think life would have been too long to devote to such pilgrimages. In the settlements she was bewildered, but never satiated, with novelties, and on the way back everything she had seen was discussed, expounded and classified between her and her "cousin." Sometimes her questions drove Brick up against a stone wall, and then Bill Atkins would raise his voice and in three or four words put the matter in its true light.

"Bill, he's saw more of life than me," Brick conceded admiringly. "He has come and went among all sorts of people, but my specialty has in the main been low."

"Yes, I've seen more of life," Atkins agreed, "that's why I try so hard to keep away from it."

"The more I see, the more I want to see!" cried Lahoma eagerly.

"Yes, honey," Brick explained, "that's because you're a woman."

Once more back in the cove, Lahoma dreamed new dreams, peopling the grassy solitude with the figures she had encountered on her travels, likening the rocks to various houses that had caught her fancy. She turned with absorbed interest to the primer and elementary arithmetic with which Brick had supplied himself as the first tools for his mental kit.

The journey back home had been far easier than the descent into Texas, because both Willock and Atkins had supplied themselves with ponies—animals that sold ridiculously cheap at the outlying posts of civilization. Brick Willock brought back with him something else to add cheerfulness and usefulness to approaching winter. This was a square window-sash, set with four small panes of good glass. It was hard work to place this window in Lahoma's side of the dugout, but it was work thoroughly enjoyed. Lahoma's room was on the west, and from noon to sundown, the advantage of the window was a source of never-ending delight.

"Good thing we've got our window," Brick would say as they sat on the low rude bench before the little stove, and the furious wind of January howled overhead. Or, when the wintry sky was leaden, and all Brick's side of the partition was as dark as the hole of a prairie-dog, he would visit Lahoma and gloat over the dim grey light stealing through the small panes. "That window's no bad idea!" he would chuckle, stooping his great bulk as he seated himself, as if to lighten his weight by doubling in upon himself.

"Good thing I've got my window," Lahoma would say as the snow lay thick on the plains and in broken lines all over the mountains, and the cutting blast made the fire jump with sudden fright. She would hold her book close to the dirt square in which the frame was planted, and spell out words she had never heard used, such as "lad," "lass," "sport" and the like mysteries. "This window is going to civilize me, Brick."

It did not lessen their relish in the subject that they had discussed it already a hundred times. It was the same way with the hand-made bench, and the trench that carried water from their door during sudden downpours, and with the self-congratulation over owning two ponies to keep each other company.

IN THE OLD DAYS BALL PLAYERS WERE SELDOM INJURED WEEN SLIDING INTO THE BASES

They Used To Slide Head First In Those Days

Goodness Gracious! That Little Jeff Is a Merry Jester : : : : By "Bud" Fisher

ACCORDING TO THE AVERAGES KELLY HARRIS MAKES RECORD

Is Credited With Stealing 31 Bases in Last 22 Games, and Leading League in Purloined Sacks—Only Stole 16 Bases in the First 92 Games.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

If President James P. Fitzgerald's Canadian League averages are to be taken seriously, it is time that somebody began to sing the praises of Kelly Harris, the Erie outfielder. As a base stealer, Harris not only shattered all Canadian League records, but in the last few days of the season established a mark that will stand as one of the notable feats of baseball. In the official averages, issued by President Fitzgerald a few days ago, Harris is credited with being the leading base stealer of the league. He has 47 thefts to his credit, while Louis Bierbauer, of London, is second with 43, and Eddie Linneborn third with 42. The remarkable part of Harris' performance is, however, the fact that up to August 15 his base stealing average was only fair. In the averages, issued by President Fitzgerald, of all games up to August 15, the Erie player is credited with stealing only 16 bases in 92 games. The final averages show that he played 114 games altogether, so it will be seen that in the last 22 games he played, he stole 31 bases. Truly, this is a grat performance, and one that all big league magnates should be acquainted with as soon as possible. It is not impossible to steal 31 bases in 22 games, but it rarely happens in baseball. Besides nearly all those 22 games were played against the Ottawa, Peterboro and Toronto clubs, who have strong catching staffs. This makes Harris' performance all the more creditable, especially, since he had only purloined 16 sacks in the previous 92 games. Louis Bierbauer was only able to steal seven bases in the last 22 games he played, and Louis was leading the Canadian League base stealers all season, until Harris's phenomenal spurt. Of course, there is a possibility that the averages may be wrong, but one is reminded of that adage that figures do not lie. In the pitching records, handed out by President Fitzgerald, London, is credited with only winning 66 games, and losing 38, while Ottawa only won 54 games and lost 26, despite the fact that the official standing shows Ottawa to have won 76 and lost 45 games, while London won 71 and lost 43 games. But, why bother about such trifling matters?

Charley Deal, who will play third base for the Boston Braves in the coming world series to replace Smith, who had his leg broken in Brooklyn yesterday, was first discovered by Johnny Cocash, who played with the London Canadian League team a couple of seasons ago. It was shortly before Cocash reported to the London club that he saw Deal in action with the Jackson club of the South Michigan League. He looked so good that Cocash immediately put the Detroit club wise, and the result was that Deal was purchased in midseason for a big sum, Cocash getting a slice for his part in the affair. Later, Deal was sent to Providence, which was a farm for the Detroit club, and it was from there that Boston drafted him.

Out of oblivion springs Joe Lyndon, former umpire, and points the finger of denial at us, because we said he was chased across the Thames river by an angry mob of fans, when umpiring a game in this city years ago. The story of Lyndon's chase was published in the special edition of The Advertiser, issued on July 13. In the Toronto Mail and Empire of yesterday is published Lyndon's denial, which is as follows:

"The London Advertiser's baseball man did Joe Lyndon an injustice in his description of the treatment accorded the Toronto man when he umpired a game in the western city on July 1, 1897. Lyndon says there was some trouble all right, but he declares that the Mail and Empire's report at that time bears out his statement that he stuck to his post despite the attack from the London rowdies. The game was between Hamilton and London, and it was not even close as alleged as the Ambitious City team won by 12 to 0. According to Lyndon, his assailants were sore at losing money on the game, but they did not chase him from the grounds and across a river to a place of safety. Lyndon's friends knowing his fearlessness will readily accept his version as being the correct one."

We did not see the game in question.

We were too young to take much interest in the game then, but we have heard many London fans tell of it, and we never heard one yet that didn't say Umpire Lyndon was n't chased across the river. That seems to have been the most memorable part of it. However, if Mr. Lyndon says he was not chased through the water, he probably knows whereof he speaks. It is quite possible that London fans, who remember the incident, have become mixed up in names. There is no doubt that some umpire was chased across the Thames by a crowd of London fans. Perhaps, the explanation lies in the fact that Mr. Lyndon was travelling so fast, he never knew that it was a river he ran through.

Two former London players took a prominent part in a recent game in Winnipeg. Charley "Baldy" McQueen had his jaw broken, and Billy Borland won the game with a neat drop kick from 30 yards out. McQueen is certainly in hard luck. Last season he was out of the game for several weeks with a bad knee. This year he has been playing great rugby and was taking part in his farewell game in Winnipeg when he was hurt. He had intended returning to his home in this city this week. He would likely have turned out with the local club had he not met with the injury. As it is, he will likely quit rugby for good.

GIANTS AND PHILLIES WIND UP THE SEASON

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. — New York and Philadelphia wound up the National League season today by dividing a double-header. The ex-champions easily won the first game by a score of 5 to 1, while the visitors took the second game 8 to 0. McGraw used all his youngsters in the second, when Philadelphia had no trouble piling up runs. Score:

BROOKLYN TEAM FINISHES SEASON IN FIFTH PLACE

BROOKLYN, Oct. 6. — By defeating Boston 3 to 2 in the opening game of the double-header, which closed the National League season here today, Brooklyn finished in fifth place, one full game ahead of Philadelphia. This is the best showing a Brooklyn team has made since 1907, when the Superbas ended the season in fifth place.

"Red" Smith, the Boston third baseman, broke a leg in the first game today and will not be able to play in the world's series against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Boston took the second game, 7 to 3

J. CARLISLE ("RED") SMITH.—Stallings made a star of his hot-corner guardian, only to lose him before the world series. Smith received a fracture of his right leg in the first game of Tuesday's double-header. Physicians who attended him say Smith will be able to play next season.

PETROLEA OPENS LOCAL RUGBY SEASON THANKSGIVING DAY

Schedule Was Drawn Up at Meeting Held Last Evening—Referees From Each Club in District Have Been Appointed—Local Team Down to Work.

Petrolea and London will open the local rugby season on Thanksgiving Day, when they meet at Tecumseh Park in the first game of the local O.R.F.U. junior district. The schedule was drawn up at a meeting last night in the Tecumseh House, Messrs. Campbell and Fleming representing Petrolea, "Dick" Leseuer representing Sarnia, and Dr. Harry Stephens acting in the interests of the Western University team. George Little, of this city, was convener.

The Schedule.

The schedule is as follows:
Oct. 12—Petrolea at London.
Oct. 17—Sarnia at Petrolea.

No Toronto Referees This Year.

The question of referees was the subject of some discussion. In the past, it has been the practice to have referees to handle the games sent from Toronto, but this has been an expensive custom, and a saving will be effected by appointing referees from this district. Each club has appointed three officials. The games between London and Petrolea will be handled by Sarnia officials, McCart and Leseuer, and the Petrolea games by London officials, and so on. Little or no trouble is expected with this arrangement, although it will be declared void in the case of any team offering objections in a game where the championship hangs on the result.

The following have been appointed referees: Sarnia, Messrs. McCart, Leseuer and Garvey; Petrolea, Messrs. Webb, Fleming and Deacon; London, Messrs. Sage (Tiny) and Vic Smith. A third official has yet to be named. He will likely be a University man.

Locals Practicing Hard.

The local club has completed arrangements with the baseball club whereby the team will play its games and hold its practices in Tecumseh Park. Practices will be held at five o'clock every night this week, and a special game will be arranged for Saturday. Twenty-two players turned out last night, and a good workout was held. Several new men are trying out for places on the team, and are showing up well. More players are turning out every night, and it is expected that a strong team will be placed in the field on Thanksgiving Day when Petrolea comes here.

INDIANAPOLIS LIKELY FEDERAL PENNANT WINNER

Must Lose Both Remaining Games While Chicago Wins One To Be Beaten Out.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—As a result of its victory yesterday while Chicago was losing two games, Indianapolis was leading Chicago in the race for the Federal League pennant by one full game today.

Indianapolis still has two games to play with St. Louis, while Chicago has one remaining contest on its schedule, playing Kansas City here tomorrow. If Indianapolis should lose its remaining two games, and Chicago take its final contest, the local club would win the championship by half a game.

Experts pointed out that Chicago's chances for a pennant are slim, as Manager Phillips, of the Indianapolis Club, has reserved Fred Falconberg, star of the Hoosier pitching staff, for one of the games against St. Louis.

TENNESSEE STAKES ON AT LEXINGTON TODAY

Directum I. and Frank Bogash Jr., Are Among Those Qualified to Enter.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—Among the four events to be decided today at the light harness meeting of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association was the Tennessee stake for pacers, valued at $3,000. Eight were qualified to start, among them being Directum I., Frank Bogash Jun., Flower Direct, Earl Jun., and Walter Cochato.

Another pacing race on the card was the 2:04 class for a purse of $1,000, for which 13 of the fastest horses on the circuit were entered. The 2:22 class trotting race had 13 eligible starters, and the 2:17 class trotters as many as 25.

ON THE SPORT TRAIL

By Bert Perry.

[DEDICATED TO THE ROYAL ROOTERS.]

You can sing of your Rudolph, your Tyler and James,
And point out their fine records of won-and-lost games;
You can chant of your Stallings and John Evers, too,
And of all the fine work of the whole Boston crew;
But when all's said and done, there is Connie Mack's gang,
With its Collins and Baker, McInnis and Schang.

You can tell what they did to one, Muggsy McGraw;
You can show that their playing contains not a flaw;
You can praise up "The Rabbit, and talk of his speed,
How they're there with the punch when a few runs they need;
But the whole Boston team may explode with a bang,
Facing Collins and Baker, McInnes and Schang.

The fact that Sam Langford knocked out Colin Bell is important in that we learn there is such a fighter as Colin Bell.

The said Colin Bell is said to be able to do 100 yards in 10 seconds. Why any guy should stand and fight when he can run like that is beyond us.

Wild Bill Donovan denies that he will manage the New York Yankees next year, but Rube Deneau and Jo Jo Keenan are still to be heard from.

As we understand it, President Fitzgerald bats just about .106 when it comes to making out pitching averages.

Calm yourselves, gentle readers, the thrilling details of the next Inman-Hoppe battle will be out in a few days. The principals have hardly recovered from their strenuous efforts in the last series. They'll be inflicting us again presently.

Mister Inman was put out by Hoppe, but Mister Inman has nothing on a lot of other guys who also hit the hop.

Battling Levinsky and Gunboat Smith will hook up in what is billed as a fight in New York on Friday night Business of yawning.

A Detroit paper prints over an advance story of the Langford-Bell scrap the heading, "Fighting the Least of Bell's Accomplishments," and after reading what Sam Langford did to him we can quite believe it.

Third Baseman Smith, of Braves, Breaks His Leg

Was Sliding Into Second in Brooklyn Game Yesterday —Deal to Replace Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. — James C. Smith, third baseman of the Boston National League club, broke his right leg just above the ankle, in sluding to second base in the ninth inning of the first game of today's double-header with Brooklyn. Smith will be unable to play in the world's series, and his place will be taken by Charles Deal, utility infielder.

Manager Stallings and Capt. Evers, questioned tonight as to what effect the loss of Smith would have on the work of the Braves in the championship series, both declared that his absence would not be a serious handicap to the team's effectiveness, as Deal could fill the place satisfactorily against the Athletics in the big series.

Deal played third base for the Braves during the early part of the season, but developed charley-horse, and suffered from sore throat. It was stated tonight that Deal has fully recovered and will be in condition for the world's series.

The Braves left here for Philadelphia tonight. There they will tune up for the championship series, which will begin on Friday.

With two teams playing out the schedule to decide whether their percentage is .466 or .441 it requires something of an enthusiast to class it as a "thrilling game."

NO BATTERIES ANNOUNCED YET BY MANAGERS

Stallings and Mack Reticent in Regard to the Opening Day Selections—Braves Held Practice.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—The Boston Braves, champions of the National League, are in this city preparing for the opening of the world's series here no Friday, when they meet the Philadelphia Athletics, winners of the American League flag. The Bostonians, who ended their National League schedule in Brooklyn yesterday, planned a light practice this morning on the National League grounds, while the present world's champions expect to work out at Shibe Park, where the first two games of the series will be staged. The National League players will all get a line on their opponents when they view the contest between the Athletics and New York in the farewell game of the American League schedule here today.

No Pitchers Announced Yet.

Neither of the opposing managers has indicated who will be his pitching selection for the opening game, but a majority believe that Bender, the veteran Indian twirler, will be Connie Mack's selection, and that he will be opposed by James, who they figure is the best fitted of the Boston moundsmen to repeat during the series if necessary. Manager Stallings says that he has not yet made up his mind wether James, Tyler, Rudolph, or one of the other Boston pitchers will be given the honor of opening the series. He declared last night, however, that Deal will be chosen to fill the berth at third base, left vacant by the injury of Smith.

Fans Are Getting Weary.

The long line of men and boys waiting for the opening of the sale of tickets at 9 o'clock today presented a sorry spectacle at daybreak. Many of them had been in line for 48 hours, snatching only what sleep they could by reclining on soap boxes, camp stools and chairs. From the entrance to the department store where the tickets will be placed on sale, the line stretched for nearly four blocks with only two breaks at street crossings to allow the passage of traffic. A detail of policemen was on hand to preserve order, but there was little disturbance, every one seeming to observe the rights of position.

Speculators After Tickets.

Fully 99 per cent of the nearly 2,000 persons waiting for tickets, it was estimated, were boys, many of whom admitted their only object was to hold their position in the hope of disposing of it for a liberal compensation when the time for the opening sales arrived. It is rumored that speculators have employed most of those in line to purchase tickets for them in an effort to circumvent the plans of the Athletics' officials and corner the market. Purchasers must give their name and address and any doubt as to their identity, it was said, would result in the refusal to sell them tickets. Only two sets of tickets will be sold to each purchaser.

NATIONAL COMMISSION TO INSTRUCT UMPIRES

Will Also Complete Arrangements for Giants-Yankees Series, Which Begins Thursday.

New York, Oct. 7.—The national baseball commission is to hold a meeting in this city tomorrow, so as to instruct the umpires of the world's series in their duties. Arrangements for the opening game of the New York City championship series between the Giants and Yankees will be completed. It is expected President Barrow and the club presidents of the International League will attend the Giants-Yankee game tomorrow in a body. A meeting of the International circuit has been called for this city Thursday morning.

EACH CLUB WILL DEPEND UPON ONLY TWO OR THREE PITCHERS

Both Philadelphia and Boston Have Eight Twirlers Who Can Be Called Into Action, But Only Half of These May Be Used.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. — So far as the numerical strength of the pitching staff of the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Braves are concerned, the rival league pennant winners will enter the world's series on equal terms. Each club has at least eight pitchers, who can be called into action respectively by Managers Connie Mack and George Stallings. It is not likely, however, that more than 50 per cent of this hurling staff will step to the mound during the coming diamond conflict, since both managers are likely to depend to a great extent upon the services of their veteran twirlers.

Mack Not Worrying.

Connie Mack is not worrying about the Athletics' staff. Last year before the world's series began the only weakness in the team appeared to be in the pitchers' box. Plank and Bender were the only twirlers who could be counted upon with reasonable certainty. Providing Plank and Bender have not lost any of their speed and cunning, and they have been constant winners throughout this year's American League campaign, Mack is better fortified with pitchers than he was a year ago. Besides the two veterans he has Bush, Shawkey, Wyckoff, Pennock and Bressler.

During the great spurt of the Athletics in the last half of July and all of August, when the team won 30 out of 45 games, all these pitchers worked in regular turn and pitched good, steady ball.

Bressler Looks Good.

Many of the world's series of the past have produced surprises in pitchers, such as the victory of Joe Bush against the New York Giants last year, and the coming games are not without the possibilities of another one. Fans who have been watching the work of the Athletics have been impressed with the work of Bressler, the newest twirler on the team. He has been as steady as a clock, has great speed, and a puzzling crossfire ball that has gained him the title of the "Second Eddie Plank." It would not surprise some of the fans if Manager Mack should call on Bressler in the event of the Athletics' veteran pitchers going wrong

Plank Has Rested Up.

Because of the wealth of pitching material the Athletics have had to draw on this season, they will go into the series with none of the twirlers overworked. The only man who showed any sign of wear on the last western trip was Plank. He has since rested and is expected to be in his old-time form. Coombs, although he appeared in a few of the final games of the season, is not likely to figure in the title series, since he has not fully recovered from his long illness.

Big Three Stallings.

The trio of pitchers, whose consistent work carried the Braves from last to first place in the rush for the National League pennant, is expected to carry the twirling burden for Boston in the games against the Athletics. In James, Rudolph and Tyler, Manager Stallings has three high-class hurlers. In the Braves' second string, Strand, Davis and Cocrehan are fairly dependable pitchers, providing their teammates are hitting well, and it may be that one or more of this trio may see service during the coming struggle for the highest honors of the baseball world. Hess and Crutcher complete the Braves' regular staff, but their showing this season has not been above the ordinary.

James Boston's Best.

So far as the records go, James has been Boston's best pitcher during 1914, having figured in 48 games up to the final weeks of September. His percentage of .774 was gained by winning 24 and losing 7 games. Rudolph is second in the list with 23 games won and 9 lost. Tyler's percentage, of a trifle over .500, came through winning 16 and losing 13 games. Paul Strand, with 5 victories and 2 defeats, is credited with .719. George Davis, the former Williams College and Later New York American League club twirler, has a .500 average for the few games he pitched late in the season, one of which was a no-hit contest. The same is true of Cocrehan, although he figured in more games than Davis.

The records of the rival twirling staffs, as compiled from unofficial figures, just previous to the close of the pennant races, is appended:

HOCKEY HOLDOUTS WILL START THEIR OWN LEAGUE

Fort William Pro. Players Refuse to Look at Those $600 Contracts.

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 6. — Harry Scott, who started with the Canadians in the N. H. A. last season, is one of the holdouts, having returned his contract unsigned. Scott, Jack Walker, of the Torontos, now at Port Arthur, and Bobbie Gene, of Victoria, who is here, emphatically say that they will form a pro. league in Fort William and Port Arthur rather than accept $600 contracts. They would welcome the formation of the proposed new international league.

COLE PITCHED GOOD BALL

Bender, Plank and Wyckoff Worked Three Innings Each for Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6. — Manager Mack sent in two of his veteran pitchers and Wyckoff in the game against New York this afternoon, the visitors winning by 2 to 1. Only one hit and a pass were allowed in three innings by Bender, but errors by Barry, Oldring and Bender, permitted Maisel to get to third base in the first inning and the latter stole home. Plank also allowed a single and a pass in three innings. Mitchell, Whaling and Rudolph of the Boston Braves witnessed the game. Score:

HEAVY BATTLE ON RUSSIAN FRONTIER

Fortified Positions of Enemy Under Artillery Fire — Germans Get Reinforcements.

[Canadian Press.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 6.—The following official statement was given out today at Russian general headquarters:

"The Russian offensive campaign continues. The fortified positions (of the enemy) on the frontier are under a heavy artillery fire. The enemy has received reinforcements from the garrison at Koenigsberg. There has been particularly desperate fighting in the vicinity of Bakalargewo.

"Railroads in East Prussia are crowded with troop trains, and our aerial scouts report an uninterrupted movement of Germans in a westerly direction. German columns and German troop trains are withdrawing across the frontier."

Evacuate Positions.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—2:30 p.m.—Telegraphing from Petrograd the correspondent of the Havas news agency transmits the following official communication.

"The German retreat continues along the frontier of East Prussia. The Germans have been forced to evacuate their fortified positions between Wierzbolo and Lyck."

SIXTY VESSELS NOW IN U. S. REGISTRY

Fifty-Four of Them Previously Under British Flag—Four Germans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Sixty foreign built vessels with an aggregate of 233,781 gross tons have been removed from danger of capture by the European powers involved in the present war by admission to the American registry, according to an official announcement tonight by the Department of Commerce.

Great Briain has suffered most, as 54 of the vessels previously sailed under the British flag. Four German vessels and two Belgians complete the list.

MANITOBA ALLOTS FLOUR CONTRACTS

Eight Mills To Supply, Highest Accepted Tender Being $2.90, On Rail, October 20.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—The contracts for Manitoba's gift of flour were awarded today, 50,000 sacks being divided among eight mills, the highest tender accepted being $2.90, though the highest bid was $3.20. The average price is lower than the cost of the Dominion gift, wheat being somewhat lower at the present moment.

The flour must be placed on rail at Manitoba points not later than October 20, and delivered to the order of the province free on rails at Montreal. The sacks, which will be supplied by the Government, will be uniform, and bear a suitable subscription, but no advertisement of the mill.

The firms included in the award are: Western Canada Flour Mills; Lake of the Woods Milling Company, of Winnipeg; G. McCulloch and Sons, Souris; Ogilvie Flour Mills; Larch Brothers, Oakland; Hadgson and Gardner, Swan Lake, Melita Roller Mills, Melita and Deloraine Milling Company.

British Losses In Three Weeks Have Been Few

Shells Do Little Damage—Infantry Attacks Ceased.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—2:07 a.m.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent in France, says:

"For nearly three weeks the casualties among the British troops have been insignificant. The big German shells do comparatively little damage. The German infantry attacks ceased long ago."

OBJECT TO AWARD.

PANAMA, Oct. 6.—According to information obtained in authoritative quarters, the national assembly last night held a secret session at which it was voted to reject the award of Edward D. White, chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, in the boundary dispute between Panama and Costa Rica.

FORMER MINISTER DEAD.

[Canadian Press.]

Bordeaux, Oct. 6—1:45 a.m.—Count Adrien Albert Marie de Mun, a grandson of the Marquis de Mun, who was a chamberlain of Napoleon I., has died suddenly of heart failure. He leaves three sons, all in the French army. He was at one time minister of foreign affairs.

HOW TO GET RID OF DYSPEPSIA

Don't Rely On Medicine; Don't Go On Freak Diet; Common Sense and an Antacid Usually All That Are Needed.

"If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, belching, distress after eating, heartburn or any other stomach trouble due to hyperacidity (the usual cause of stomach troubles), you should take no medicine to act upon the stomach itself. That is positively not the way to cure the trouble. Again, you should not half starve yourself by going without the nutritious food that you need to rebuild waste tissues. Some foods are not good for people even when in perfect health—very rich, sweet, highly-seasoned dishes. Avoid these, but eat fairly substantial meals of plain foods. Eat slowly. Even if you drink nothing but water, you should not drink with meals. Drink before and after eating. Do not take pepsin or other artificial digestants. If you follow the foregoing simple instructions it is probable that you will not need any medicine at all except, if you want to call it medicine, a little antacid after meals. The best antacid is ordinary bisurated magnesia, which can be purchased at any drug store. This is not to act upon the stomach, but on the contents of the stomach. The antacid, as you can learn by consulting your dictionary or encyclopedia, is merely to neutralize or counteract the excess acid so the stomach can digest the food normally. Take a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little cold or hot water after each meal. You should get immediate relief, even if your case is severe. Careful, moderate eating and the use of bisurated magnesia should put your stomach in normal condition in a short time; if you have not allowed dyspepsia to advance to the extreme stage of developing stomach ulcers." HARSH TREATMENT FOR THE BRITISH

Prisoners in Austria-Hungary Lack Food and Sanitary Surroundings—Many in Interior.

VENICE (via Paris), Oct. 7. — 1:35 a.m. — Reports from various parts of Austria-Hungary indicate that British prisoners of war have been subjected in many instances to harsh treatment. They have been insufficiently fed and badly housed amid insanitary conditions.

Many prisoners have been transferred to various points in the interior. At first they were made comfortable, and those with money were permitted to buy all the extra comforts procurable, but later all prisoners were treated alike.

A batch of these prisoners were engaged for a time in building torpedo boats for the Austrian navy at the Monfalcone dockyards, near Trieste, but have recently been taken to a fortress in Hungary.

The American consul at Trieste is endeavoring to find a way to alleviate the unhappy condition of the prisoners.

APPLE EXHIBIT ADMIRED

Fine Fruit Shown at Lambeth Fair By John Sharman.

The most admired exhibit of fruit at the Lambeth Fair yesterday was that of John Sharman, of Hill Crest Fruit Farm, R. R. No. 4, London.

The apples and grapes displayed by Mr. Sharman, attracted the immediate attention of everyone who visited the horticultural tent. The boxes of Northern Spies, Snows, and Greening apples, were the finest ever exhibited at the Westminster Township fall show.

Mr. Sharman, who has possibly one of the largest and best kept orchards in Middlesex, was one of the busiest men on the grounds, taking orders at $3 a barrel and $1 per box for his apples. Anyone desiring a barrel of his number one fruit should communicate with Mr. Sharman immediately, either by phone or mail.

CARDINAL'S CONDITION GRAVE.

ROME (via Paris), Oct. 7. — 3:40 a.m.—The condition of Cardinal Ferrata, papal secretary of state, has assumed a grave turn. He is suffering considerable pain, with some fever. The attending physicians have abandoned the idea of an operation, owing to the age of the patient.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them to convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol, and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place, and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Your druggist has it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution.—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.—Advt. O7,30

Hearing Is Restored To Deaf

Without Mechanical or Artificial Hearing Devices, Deaf Hear With Their Own Ears—A Wonderful English Discovery.

Thousands of people suffer from catarrhal deafness or poor hearing, who, having tried specialists, advertised treatments, artificial ear drums, ear phones, electrical vibrators and various mechanical appliances without success, have at last resigned themselves to a "world of silence," thinking that nothing can ever restore to them their normal hearing. Yet their case is not hopeless. A remarkable scientific treatment discovered a little more than a year ago in England is making people hear after years of deafness, and is also unequalled for quickly stopping the distressing head noises that are so often the companions of defective hearing. This discovery is called Parmint, and has attracted widespread notice throughout Europe, where reports of the remarkable results it has given to deaf people have come in by the hundred.

The effect of Parmint, it seems, is by tonic action to produce a stimulous necessary to reduce all inflammation, swelling, enlargement or thickening of the organs of hearing and to stimulate the entire auditory tract.

Parmint is now being sold by many leading druggists in London and vicinity, and a speedy trial is urged upon all who suffer from catarrhal deafness or head noises in any degree. Ask the druggist for 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength), and take it home and mix with ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day, and you should soon find a remarkable improvement in your hearing. 56k-x

The New Patriotism

There is more than one way of serving your country. We cannot all go forth to fight on the blood-stained fields of France and Belgium, but it is within everyone's power to help crush the monster that threatens Europe.

Modern warfare is a battle of resources, financial resources most of all.

Every dollar you spend for goods "Made in Canada" is increasing the wealth, the resources, of the Empire, it is giving employment to Canadian workmen, it is contributing to Canada's welfare, and it is supplying the sinews of war to Britain, it is helping to fight the enemy.

The new patriotism seizes every opportunity to help------the enlightened patriot insists that everything he buys be "Made in Canada."

PATRIOTISM PRODUCES PROSPERITY

Peter Volo Broke Three Records In Winning Kentucky Futurity

Lowered Record for Three-Year-Old Trotters to 2:03 1-2.

TOMMY HORN SET NEW MARK FOR 7TH HEAT

Joan M. Won the October Prize Trotting Stake, Beating Rose B.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 6.—A large crowd saw four world's records smashed today, the second day of the Grand Circuit meeting. Peter Volo, in winning the $14,000 Kentucky futurity for three-year-old trotters, set three new marks when he lowered the world's record for three-year-old trotters to 2:03½, at the same time setting a new mark for the fastest third heat for a three-year-old trotter, and the fastest three-heat race for a trotter of any sex of that age.

Tommy Horn, in winning the 2:09 trot, postponed from yesterday, performed the fastest seventh heat on record when he trotted the mile in 2:09½.

Peter Volo was pushed in the first two heats by Lee Axworthy, and in the third by Lady Wanetka, but led all the way in each. Fred Mac won the first heat of the 2:14 pace, and The Assessor took the next two, the race going over until tomorrow. Summaries:

BRITISH MINES SANK STEAMER ARDMOUNT

Survivors Say She Struck Three Before Going Down —All Saved.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—12:05 p.m.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Ostend says that the survivors from the sunken British steamer Ardmount, on arriving at the Belgian port today, declared that the vessel was struck by British mines. The Ardmount, they say, did not sink until she had struck a third mine. At the first explosion a lifeboat took off the crew of 35.

The Ardmount, which was of 2,249 tons, left Galveston September 9, arriving at Falmouth October 4. She was then ordered to Antwerp, but soon after sailing ran into a mine field in the North Sea and was sunk.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL SHIP AT ROTTERDAM

[Canadian Press.]

The Hague, Oct. 7, via London, 2 p.m. —The American hospital ship Red Cross came into Rotterdam last night from France. Six surgeons and 25 nurses, together with 41 tons of medical supplies, left Rotterdam today for hospital work among the troops of Germany and Austria.

CHANGE SUSPENDED.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Oct. 7.—The cancellation of commodity freight rates on grain and grain products from points in Iowa and Minnesota to destinations in many other states, resulting in a material advance in the rates, was suspended today by the Interstate Commerce Commission until April 22.

THE LOCAL MARKET

From now on The Advertiser will quote dairy products and poultry, both wholesale and retail. This will give the farmers' wives an idea what prices may be expected from the large local dealers, and what prices they may receive by selling their produce in the market house.

The demand for hay was only fair today. It was slow on Tuesday. On account of Monday being a holiday, the demand should be good on Thursday and Friday.

Oats are down again. Today the top price was $1 45. The demand has not been up to the mark lately.

Live and dressed hogs are slow. The hot weather has been hard on the prices. Dressed hogs have slumped again for the poorer stuff. The prices now range from $11 50 to $12 per cwt.

There is little call for Thanksgiving turkeys. Dealers say there have been more inquiries from farmers as to prices than from consumers. Dressed turkeys are selling at 18c per lb.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—Wheat opened higher on strong cables, general bullish news and a good cash demand, but selling pressure proved too much in absence of speculative trade and hedging in Chicago. The close showed a decline of ⅝c for December and ½c for October. Oats were dull to ⅛c lower.

Cars inspected Monday numbered 1,151, and in sight were 200 cars. Cars inspected of all grains during the month of September were 34,524, against 27,943 in September, 1913.

The weather was generally fine and colder, with traces of rain and snow in Southern Alberta.

Deliveries through the clearing house were: Wheat, 77,000 bushels; flax, 21,000 bushels.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.06⅛; No. 2, $1.03⅛; No. 3, 98¾c; No. 4, 92¾c; No. 5, 87½c; No. 6, 82¾c; feed, 79¼c.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 48¾c.

Barley—No. 3, 65½c; No. 4, 60c.

Flax—No. 1 Northwest Canadian, $1.12⅝; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.09⅝.

WHEAT.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Higher prices at Liverpool led to an advance today in the wheat market here. The European visible supply showed a substantial decrease, and there were unfavorable reports as to seeding in France, Belgium and other countries. Pit offerings here were very light. The market opened ⅜c to ⅝c above last night, and after some reaction turned again up grade.

WHEAT RECEIPTS.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—Wheat receipts, 648,107 bushels.

LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—East End market: Receipts—Cattle, about 800; milch cows and springers, 65; calves, 800; sheep and lambs, 700; hogs, 1,850. There were no choice cattle on the market, and trade was dull, with lower prices for cattle and hogs. A few of the best cattle brought 8c; medium, 5½c to 7¾c; common, 4c to 5½c; lean canners, 3½c; small bulls, 4½c; milch cows, $40 to $80 each; calves, 4c to 8c.

Sheep, 4½c to 5¼c; lambs, 7c to 7½c.

Sheep—Ewes, cwt, $5 to $6; lambs, $7 2 5to $8 15.

Hogs—Fed and watered, cwt, $8 50; f. o. b., $8 15.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—There was a more cheerful feeling in the market at the Union stockyards today, which resulted in a greater activity on the part of packer buyers, and tended to steady prices. Hogs were unchanged. Sheep were a trifle easier. Lambs sold 15c better, and calves showed an advance of 25c. Receipts, 814 cattle, 143 calves, 1,333 hogs and 1,374 sheep.

MANY CANADIANS ARE SAILING FOR EUROPE

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 7.—Many Canadians are listed among the passengers on the four steamers leaving the port of New York today for Europe. Among the prominent Canadians sailing are Rene Millard, secretary of the fisheries commission of Canada, who has booked passage on the Franco and expects to join the French army; and Hugh H. McLean, M. P., of St. John, N. B. A large number of Canadians have also taken passage on the Cedric and the Stampalia.

On the Stampalia will be A. Rustem Bey, Turkish ambassador, who has just left Washington. The ambassador plans to go direct to Constantinople.

STRONGLY DECRIES SUNDAY TRAINING

Principal Gandier Sees No Necessity For Manoeuvres On Sabbath.

HATES MILITARY SPIRIT

Call For Second Contingent Makes No Difference to His Attitude.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Principal Gandier, of Knox College, the seconder of a resolutionw hereby the Toronto presbytery yesterday went on record to the effect that: "There is nothing in the present national situation to warrant such (Sunday) manoeuvres," was asked whether in view of the call for 22,000 men for a second contingent he would wish to modify that resolution. He candidly stated that he would not.

"Do you not think," he was asked, "that the action of the presbytery is likely to raise an anti-military spirit throughout the country?"

"That's what we should like to do," responded Principal Gandier. "We don't want a military spirit in Canada. We hate and abhor it. I believe, of course, that we should fight for our position, but the military spirit is a curse and we shall try to kill it. I would not stand for it for a minute. It would turn this country into a state as bad as Germany. If the place is to go military mad and we are to draw our children and young folk away from their Sunday schools and from places that are worth attending, we shall soon have no country worth fighting for."

"When would you train the men?" Principal Gandier was asked.

"Not on Sunday," he replied. "Six days a week is plenty."

"Would you take them away from their work?" he was asked.

"Far better take them away from their work," he replied.

"Then you would have a professional army instead of a citizen army," was suggested to Principal Gandier.

"There is no use arguing the case," he replied. "The question is whether we should spend our Sunday in sham fights, and I don't think we should. We should lose our high moral citizenship and come down to the plane of militarism in Germany at once."

AUSTRIANS CLAIM COMPLETE VICTORY

Declare the Russians Were Beaten Near Kricsfalva, After Long and Severe Fighting.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—It is officially announced from Huszt, Marmaros county, Hungary, that Austrian forces have been heavily engaged with Russians since Monday at a point near Tecso, telegraphs the Amsterdam correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company. The Russians retreated. The battle came to an end near Kricsfalva, with complete victory for the Austrians.

Tecso is about 20 miles southeast of Huszt, on the railroad, and Kricsfalva is about the same distance east of Huszt. Marmaros county is in the extreme east of Hungary, between Galicia and Transylvania.

MAIL DELIVERY IS UP TO RESIDENTS

Annexed District People Can Have It By Securing Sidewalks.

It was announced at the city hall today that if residents in the annexed district want a regular free mail delivery service they can help themselves considerably by petitioning for the necessary sidewalks and complete the numbering of their houses.

It was further announced that all residents in the annexed district have been personally notified by the city engineering department of their proper house numbers and fifty per cent have numbered their houses according to this notice.

The city will lay two miles of sidewalk in the annexed district this month but the Government will not grant the mail delivery until sidewalks and house numbers are completed.

Residents declare the city has ignored them and broken all terms of the agreement by which they were admitted to the city. They say street car service, mail delivery and sidewalks were some of the things promised to them by annexation, and now if they want these things they must "put up or shut up."

Many will petition for the sidewalks.

ASIATIC CHOLERA NOW IN GALICIA

Forty Cases Reported at Tarnow of Most Violent Nature, Says a Dispatch.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—8:35 a.m.—A dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "A message from Vienna announces the sudden outbreak of Asiatic cholera, in a most violent form, at Tarnow, in Galicia. Forty cases, the message says, were reported on Tuesday."

Tarnow, on the Dunajec River, is a town of about 35,000 inhabitants. It is 135 miles west of Lemberg, and on the line which the Austrians and Russians are taking on their way to Cracow. Fighting between the Austrians and the Russians near Tarnow has been reported several times recently.

RHEIMS SUFFERING FROM SHELL FIRE

German Aviators, Too, Are Dropping Bombs, Trying To Hit Railway Station.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Epernay, France, under date of October 3, states that the northeastern suburbs of Rheims are still under German shell fire, which is doing considerable damage. The shells apparently are intended for the French batteries in position just outside the town.

"The panic among the inhabitants," the dispatch says, "has been increased through the action of German aeroplanes, which are dropping bombs containing a high explosive in an attempt to destroy the railway station. So far this place has not been damaged, but refugees report that fourteen persons were killed by one of the bombs."

PACIFISTS TRYING TO CALL MEETING

Want International Gathering To Bring About Peace as Soon as Possible.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Times sends the following dispatch: "The president of the German Peace Association has been at The Hague lately, trying to bring about a meeting of international pacificists, who would concentrate their efforts to bringing about peace. His attempts have miscarried, owing to the difficulty of securing transportation. For the same reason an attempt to convoke the Bernebureau has been abandoned, but steps are to be taken to make a meeting possible, as it is evident that the plan has been received with great sympathy on all sides."

IS U. S. A. ABOUT TO RECOGNIZE CARRANZA?

Mysterious Meeting in Washington Causes Speculation as to Nature.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Oct. 7.—Considerable speculation was being indulged here today in diplomatic and other circles as to the nature of last night's conference at the White House between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and John R. Silliman, United States consul at Saltillo, Mexico. No information as to the conference or the object of the consul's mission to Washington was given out at the White House, and neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Silliman would discuss the matter.

One report is to the effect that Mr. Silliman discussed with President Wilson and Mr. Bryan the question of the United States recognizing Carranza as president of Mexico. In this connection, it is pointed out that Mr. Silliman was accompanied from Mexico by Richard Cole, who, while in St. Louis, announced that he was on his way to Washington in Carranza's behalf, and looked for recognition of the latter.

For several weeks Mr. Silliman has been acting as the personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, and recently wired the state department asking permission to come to Washington for a conference. He was told to return to Mexico City, but it is said he later received the President's personal permission to come here. It is stated he will return to Mexico shortly.

WANTS WOOLEN GLOVES FOR BRITISH SOLDIERS

Russian Grand Duke Appeals to Public To Help Provide.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 7.—A cable from London to the Herald says: "The Grand Duke Michael Mikhaylovich of Russia, who, with his wife, the Countess Torby, has long made his home in England, appeals to the public to assist him in sending half a million pairs of woolen gloves and mittens to the British soldiers in the field.

"The idea," he says "belongs to my daughters, the Countess Zia and the Countess Nada."

DR. A. W. BELL DIED SUDDENLY IN WINNIPEG

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 7.—Dr. A. W. Bell, secretary of the Canadian Industria' Exhibition, and well known throughout Canada, died suddenly at an early hour this morning of apoplexy. He retired last night in his usual health. He was born at Markham, Ont, in 1852.

CANADA WILL IMMEDIATELY RAISE SECOND CONTINGENT

Twenty Thousand Men To Be Enlisted, With Two Thousand More For Reinforcements — Premier Borden Makes Announcement at Ottawa.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—With 33,000 troops on the Atlantic, Canada will at once commence raising another exp editionary army of 22,000 men. Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, made this announcement tonight.

The terms of the Canadian Prime Ministers announcement that a second call is to be made for men are as follows:

"The Government proposes forthwith to organize and train a second expeditionary force of 20,000 men with a first reinforcement of ten per cent, making 22,000 in all. This force will be organized as expeditiously as possible, and the arrangement for providing the necessary arms, ammunition and equipment are already in progress. The force at the front will in this way be brought up to more than 50,000 men.

"The Government is also makin g preparations to organize and train the necessary further reinforcements for both the first and second expeditionary forces.

As to the disposition of the force already dispatched the Prime Minister has this to say: "According to the report of the chief embarkation officer the total force embarked at Quebec amounted to nearly 33,000 men, besides 7,000 horses and a proper complement of guns and vehicles with full equipment for men and horses. The transportation of this force required no less than 31 large steamships."

It is probable that upon arrival in England the force will be organized as follows:

Field troops, including a first reinforcement of ten per cent, 26,400: line of communication troops, 2,100.

Total force at the front, 26,500. This will leave about 4,500 men for training in Great Britain, who will constitute a reinforcement of nearly 20 per cent for the men at the front.

It is estimated that Canada will have 50,000 men on the firing line in Europe within four months.

ACTION GROWING MORE VIOLENT ON THE LEFT

Allies Gain Ground in Northern Part of Heights of the Meuse, Says French War Office—Calm in the Centre.

[Canadian Press.]

PARIS, Oct. 6.—11:59 p.m.—The French War Office tonight made public the following official communication:

"The characteristics of the situation continue the same. On our left wing to the north of the River Oise the action grows more and more violent.

"In the centre, comparative calm prevails.

"A little ground has been gained in the northern part of the heights of the Meuse."

(FROM THE BATTLE FRONT.)

ON THE BATTLE FRONT, Oct. 6 (via Paris), Oct. 7—1:56 a.m.—The German cavalry made its reappearance on the scene of action in great force today, thus disproving the reports that all of its horses had been rendered useless owing to an epidemic of the glanders.

The Allies extended front has been met with vigorous counter-attacks on the part of the Germans, who seem to have weakened their position on the centre of the battle line, in order to throw masses of men against the left and right wings. The Allies, although forced back short distances at some points on their left have been generally able to hold their own.

The eastern wing was also the scene of severe combats today, but there the battle was between infantry and artillery, and the Allies were able to push forward.

In tthe centre, where the infantry had been deeply entrenched since the commencement of the battle, twenty-two days ago, the French and English commanders took the opportunity to relieve many regiments, which had been on the advanced firing line. Two brigades of British troops, chiefly Highlanders, had not had relief for thirteen days. They had burrowed so well that their casualties were unimportant, but the men were thoroughly exhausted from continued watchfulness and the incessant boom of the guns.

It is currently reported at the front that the Germans took 200 civilians with them when they departed from Roye.

TWENTY THOUSAND GERMAN TROOPS IN SOUTH BELGIUM

LONDON, Oct. 7—2:50 a.m.—A dispatch to the Times from Ostend, dated Monday, says:

"A very important movement of German troops in southern Belgium was reported this afternoon. A column, 20,000 strong, of horse and foot artillery, with a commissariat convoy and wireless apparatus, marched through Tempieuve, five miles north of Tournai, in the direction of the French frontier to the west. All the troopers were young men."

FRENCH GOVERNMENT WILL RETURN TO PARIS

LONDON, Oct. 7—3:20 a.m.—The French Government will return to Paris Wednesday or Thursday, according to the Paris correspondent of the Express, who makes this announcement on high authority.

The visit of President Poincare to army headquarters is considered a good omen.

GERMAN STRATEGY OF INFERIOR KIND

Said To Have Walked Into the Russian Traps, Following Lines of the Least Resistance.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 7.—The correspondent of the Post in Petrograd, in a disquisition contrasting Russian and German strategy to the disadvantage of the latter, says: "Instead of following sound military principles of seeking the enemy's strength and endeavoring to smash it, the Germans seem to follow the lines of least resistance. Whether this is the result of basing war upon the experiences of the parade grounds and manoeuvres arranged beforehand it is difficult to say, but certainly the German army is only learning its business now.

"Both of the great German defeats, in Galicia and in Western Russia, exemplify the same defect in tactics of following the line of least resistance. In both cases the Russians caught them in precisely the same trap. In the latter case the Russians left a gap of twenty miles open like a mousetrap door, and the Germans marched gaily in. They found no opposition until they met an unpleasant surprise at the fantastic bends of the River Niemen, and, while trying to force the Niemen, the jaws of the trap closed upon them."

FRENCH LAY MINES IN THE ADRIATIC

BORDEAUX, Oct. 6. — 10:45 p.m. — The Minister of Marine issued the following notice today:

"The Austrian navy having laid mines in the Adriatic, the French fleet has been obliged to do likewise. But in order to avoid damaging neutral shipping, as the Austrians have done, the French have laid their mines according to the rules of Chapter VIII. of The Hague Convention of 1907. The danger zone comprises all Austrian water and the channels between the islands and coast of Dalmatia."

CUBA TO RECALL GERMAN CONSULS

Ambassador's Son at Berlin Is Held Prisoner as an Alleged Agent of Russians.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 7.—A report published here today states that Gen. Carlos Garcia Valez, Cuban minister to Great Britain, arrived in New York last night, and will sail today on the steamship Cedric, en route to Germany via London and Rotterdam, with funds for the relief of Genzal De Quesada, Cuban minister to Germany, whose son is held in a Berlin prison under charges of being a Russian agent.

Jose Campillo, an attache of the Cuban legation in Berlin, was released after three days' imprisonment under a similar charge, the report states.

Nothing was known in Cuba of Minister Quesada's plight, according to the report, until he himself informed his Government about ten days ago that he was without funds, and asked permission to leave Germany and close the legation. This request was granted, and the Cuban Government, it is said, decided to take up the case of Minister Quesada's son, and demand his release, and also to recall all Cuban consuls in the German Empire.

With Minister Quesada in Berlin are Mrs. Quesada and their young daughter, Miss Aurora De Quesada. Gonzalo De Quesada Jun. is about 18 years old. He was educated in Washington, and had only been in Berlin a few months when the war started. His father has been minister to Germany for about two years.

POINCAIRE CALLS ON BRITISH TROOPS

Cables His Felicitations to King George—Grateful For Aid.

LONDON, Oct. 6. — 8:45 p.m. — An official communication issued tonight by the press bureau says:

"King George has received a telegram from President Poincare of France saying:

"'On leaving French headquarters I had great pleasure in paying a visit to Field Marshal French at British headquarters, and to his valued British troops. I seize this agreeable opportunity of renewing to your majesty my most hearty felicitations, and shall be grateful if you will convey them to the splendid army which is now fighting fraternally by the side of the French.'

"King George replied to the French executive in the following telegram:

"'I heartily thank you, Mr. President, for informing me of the visit which you so kindly paid to the headquarters of my army in France. I will gladly convey your message of congratulations to my troops, who are proud to be fighting side by side with the gallant French army.'"

ARCHDUKE'S AIDE KILLED IN BATTLE

Was With Francis Ferdinand When Latter Was Killed.

ROME (Via Paris), Oct. 6.—11:40 p.m.—The body of Captain Engelbert Piltz has been brought to Vienna, according to a dispatch from the Austrian capital. Captain Piltz, who was killed in an engagement against the Servians, was the last aide appointed by Archduke Francis Ferdinand prior to his assassination at Sarayevo. He was in an automobile following the Archduke at the time of the tragedy.

Baron Rumerskirch, a member of the archduke's suite, gave to Captain Piltz a snuff box set with diamonds, saying that it was a gift which the archduke had intended making him personally. The snuff box was found on the Austrian captain's body, stained with blood.

SIX MONTHS' WAR TO COST $17,000,000,000

Estimate of French Political Economist —Will Hit Germany Hard.

PARIS, Oct. 6. — Yves Guyot, a political economist, declared at a meeting of the Political Economy Society today that six months' war would involve a total loss to the world of 88,000,000,000 francs ($17,600,000,000).

Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, another writer on political economy, estimated the amount of loans that would be made necessary on account of the war at the conclusion of peace at 35,000,000,000 to 40,000,000,000 francs ($7,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000). He estimated the indemnity which Germany would be required to pay, in case the allies should win completely, at from 20,000,000,000 to 25,000,000,000 francs ($4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000).

VILLA GETS RIFLES FROM UNITED STATES

Takes Advantage of Recent Raising of Embargo on Border.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 6. — General Villa's agents in the United States today entered through this port ten thousand American-made rifles, thus taking advantage of the recently raised embargo along the border on munitions of war.

The Carranza faction also has taken advantage of the unhindered entry of arms from the American side. Constitutionalist agents here have been purchasing all available supplies, which are being rushed to the assistance of General Hill, who is defending Naco, Sonora, against the attack of Maytoreno insurgent forces, supposedly partisans of Villa.

No reports of fighting between Carranz and Villa troops, however, came from other parts of the republic. The forces of General Maclovio Herrera, one of Villa's brigade commanders, who has revolted in favor of Carranza, remained in the Parral district without hindrance from the Villa leaders.

SPECIAL DECREE CALLS PRUSSIAN DIET TO OPEN

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—1:21 a.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Berlin, by way of Amsterdam, says:

"By special decree, issued at imperial headquarters, the sessions of the Prussian Diet, which have been under adjournment since June 15, will be reopened October 22."

Youthful, Beautiful Skin Easy To Have

You may be as healthy as a bird in the air, and still have a poor complexion. Changing seasons and temperatures, winds, dust and dirt, are apt to injure any skin, even though the general health be good. When these external influences spoil the complexion, the natural thing is to remove the spoil by external means. Ordinary mercolized wax will do this. It will actually absorb the weather-beaten film-skin, a little each day. In a week or two you'll have a brand new complexion, a new skin. The exquisitely beautiful and youthful complexion thus acquired comes so easily, without harm or discomfort, there's no reason why any woman should not adopt this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will not fail in any case.

To quickly remove wrinkles, signs of care and age, bathe the face occasionally in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. The results will surprise you.—Advt.

THOUGHT ZEPPELIN HAD DROPPED BOMB

Police Officer on Lookout for German Aeronauts.

One of "London's finest" was bravely patrolling his beat downtown last night when something whizzed down close to his head and struck the pavement with a sharp, metallic thud. It was cylindrical, several inches long, and the copper ends were firmly welded. Besides this suspicious appearance, there were some mysterious words printed in German on the side. This confirmed the officer's suspicions, and he hied himself to the protecting shadows of a doorway from where he gazed intently skywards, waiting in fear and trembling for more bombs to drop from German aeroplanes. All was serene, however, in the blue empyrean as far as the eye could penetrate the star-illuminated night.

"Guess, I'll take it in to the desk sergeant," the officer thought, but just then he heard a loud laugh from a neighboring doorway. It was a fellow policeman who had found an electric switchboard fuse up the street, and tossed it into the air above his comrade's head.

Inspector McCallum Gets Dr. Hutchinson's Bow-Wow and Tags It.

Medical Health Officer T. V. Hutchinson and Inspector J. W. McCallum don't speak as they pass by. For more than a month now Dr. Hutchinson, who occupies the same office with Mr. McCallum in the city hall, has been using the rear entrance. Some interesting discussions on the war have been postponed indefinitely and the atmosphere is so thick with gloom you would hardly know the old place now.

Answer: As official dog licenser, Inspector McCallum made Dr. Hutchinson "cough up" the regular tax on his dog.

INDIGESTION AND HEADACHES

Arising From Constipation, Cured, and Regular Habits Established by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

In the western provinces, where so many thousands live far from doctors and drug stores, very many rely on Dr. Chase's medicines to cure disease and maintain health and strength. This letter gives some idea of what perfect control Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills exert over the most common ills of life.

Mrs. H. K. Hewer, farmer's wife, Eastburg, Alta., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from constipation, indigestion, headache and languid feelings. Treatment from two or three doctors afforded only temporary relief, so I turned to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and with most satisfactory results. Headaches have disappeared, regular habits established and general health very much better. Both my husband and I can speak highly of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as we have both been greatly benefited by them." BOARD DECIDES WORK WAS GOOD Answers Complaints of Faculty Work at Aberdeen School.

ARCHITECTS' CASE HEARD

Chairman Hunt Will Settle the Claim of A. E. Nutter—School Sports Oct. 23.

The board of education spent most of its meeting yesterday afternoon straightening out tangles with its architects and criticism of architects' work, finally whitewashing all complaints lodged against faulty work at the new Aberdeen School, and leaving in the hands of Chairman A. M. Hunt the question of settling Architect A. E. Nutter's claim in connection with his work on the Chesley Avenue School addition, which cost about $40,000.

The board at the last meeting decided to give Mr. Nutter 5 per cent, a fee which he had been drawing on other city work. Yesterday Mr. Nutter submitted a letter withdrawing his former bill of $3,600, and at the same time his solicitors, Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons, served notice they were about to sue the board on the Nutter bill. It was suggested that 7½ per cent be paid to Mr. Nutter. In the event the chairman is unable to settle upon a fair basis the board will defend a lawsuit.

Claim Censure Uncalled For.

Watt & Blackwell submitted letters tending to show that recent newspaper criticism and censure emanating in the board of education against the work done at the Aberdeen School was without provocation, and reflected unjustly on the architects and on the contractors who did the work. New fans, costing about $500, are now being put in the building at the contractor's expense, and this, the architects say, is due to the fact that the old fans were not up to the standard, they having burnt out several times. Aside from this fact, they declare the building to be in excellent condition and as modern and up-to-date as any in the city or in Canada, for its size and cost. The communications will be referred to the papers for publication.

Deplored Criticisms.

Trustee A. E. Silverwood offered a resolution directed at the persons who stirred up the censure, declaring such practices would tend to keep good men out of public life. He described the attacks on the school as unwarranted, and arising from motives other than for the public good. The resolution deplored the lack of civic pride which prompted criticisms that were a reflection on the city. The resolution was adopted.

The board granted the Collegiate Institute permission to hold a field day Friday afternoon in Tecumseh Park, and decided to furnish the music for the day. The annual public school field day is to be held in Queen's Park on the 23rd inst.

Arthur E. Cook was granted permission to build a one-room school to take the place of the tent school in East London. He desires to build the school largely because his own children are attending the tent school. The board will use it until the Boyle Memorial School is finished.

Praised Industrial School.

Inspector F. W. Merchant submitted a report through the Minister of Education on the London industrial and technical classes, paying high tribute to the work done here, and calling attention to the fact that more room was needed for the work. Both day and night classes, he said, were successful.

Principal H. B. Beal, of the Industrial and Art School, said there was an aggregate attendance of 1,201, there being 75 full-time students and 62 on the average attendance.

Objected to Holiday.

Dr. Teasdall objected to the half-holiday Friday for the Collegiate pupils, which caused Trustee W. G. Young to say: "There is too much 'stuffing' of pupils in the school; they need a half holiday. It is all nonsense for little tots to be kept in school for several hours while teachers stuff them to make a record for this board. I want them to make a man of my boy, and if it's going to take a couple of holidays, let's have the holidays." Dr. Teasdall later withdrew his objection.

The report of the playgrounds committee asking for $450 to provide apparatus for outdoor sports in large as well as small schools, was unanimously adopted.

Matriculation Class Indorsed.

The matriculation class at the Collegiate was indorsed by Principal G. F. Rogers as worthy of becoming a fixed feature in secondary education in the city. The night high school opened Monday with an enrollment of 52, there being 31 in the commercial course and 18 in the matriculation and Normal entrance class.

INGERSOLL PLANS TO RAISE $5,000 FUND

Whirlwind Patriotic Campaign Will Commence Week From Thursday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

INGERSOLL, Oct. 6.—A whirlwind campaign on behalf of the patriotic fund will be inaugurated here on Thursday of next week. It will continue for two days. The goal will be $5,000, including the corporation's proportion of the grant to the $20,000 being raised by the county. All details were discussed at an enthusiastic meeting this afternoon at which Mr. Rean, an expert organizer, of Woodstock, was present. There will be five teams, and the work will be taken up with the greatest enthusiasm.

It has been decided by the council that it would be advisable to renew the present temporary agreement with the Ingersoll Gas, Light Company for a period of three months. At the expiration of the three months, it is expected more will be known as to the efficiency of the purifying machine that will be used at the gas wells. As regards the improvements to Thames street, so long under discussion, nothing definite has yet been accomplished.

Collegiate Institute pupils are showing a keen interest in the annual field day, which will be held on October 15. The program promises to be one of the best ever put on here, and the rivalry in all branches of athletics will be keen.

CONDITIONS GOOD, SAYS CHAMBERLIN

Head of G. T. R. System Is Optimistic On Return From West.

CROPS OF FAIR QUALITY

Finds Grand Trunk Pacific Line in First-Class Shape.

E. J. Chamberlain, president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, has returned to Montreal after a tour of inspection of the companies' lines. His trip extended as far as Prince Rupert, the terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific in British Columbia.

"I found," said Mr. Chamberlain, "conditions in the West very satisfactory. While the crop generally will fall considerably below that of 1913, yet the quality is fairly good and the increased prices will do much to help in the shortage of yield. Taken all together, the people are very optimistic and are preparing for a very large acreage next season. The crop has been harvested at least three weeks earlier than usual, so that a very large amount of fall ploughing has been done, and this will be a great benefit to the crop of 1915. Under favorable conditions, I should think the 1915 crop will be far in excess of anything they have ever had in the Northwest, as the acreage will probably be increased at least 25 per cent.

B.C. Line Going Ahead.

"I found our line in British Columbia in much better condition than I expected; in fact, the work done is remarkable considering that 480 miles were graded and track laid in twelve months through the mountains of British Columbia. We now have a first class track as far west as Prince George, B.C., and at least half of the track between Prince George and Prince Rupert is fully finished and the balance of it has a first, and most of it a second, lift of ballast, and compares today very favorably with other railroad lines in the Northwest. There is a big force of men at work putting on the finishing touch, and we expect before the close of the season the entire line will be in first class condition; we are now running a through sleeping car train twice a week between Edmonton and Prince Rupert, connecting with the through trains to Winnipeg, and this is being well patronized, and giving very good service to the people. We are also running freight regularly through to Prince Rupert.

Building Big Dry Dock.

"It has not generally been understood that this company is building a very large and extensive dry dock and shipbuilding plant at Prince Rupert. The dry dock being capable of floating a 20,000 ton battleship. It is now expected that this dry dock and shipyard will be fully completed and machinery installed ready for any class of work which may be offered by January 1, 1915.

"This company, so far, has not taken any action relative to steamship lines of their own on the Pacific Coast, deeming it advisable for the present to patronize the old established lines which are running between the Pacific Coast and the Orient.

Through Fraser Valley.

"The Grand Trunk Pacific line in British Columbia runs for something over 200 miles through the Fraser River Valley, which is a wide valley now heavily timbered. This timber will be marketed, and taken east for consumption in the prairie provinces. The land where it has been cleared is very fertile, and yields heavy crops to the acre. From Prince George to Hazelton, the line runs through the valley of the Nechaco and the Bulkeley rivers, which are also very wide with much open country and within a very short time we will have a large population in that part of the country.

"The opening up of the G.T.P. will be a great boon to the prairie provinces as they will be able to have an all year round port for shipment if they desire, and they are already getting—which has been very much needed—a supply of fresh fish from Prince Rupert. The British Columbia fisheries are located within two or three hours' run of Prince Rupert harbor, and they are already making extensive shipments to the East from that port, the fish going at the present time as far east as Winnipeg, St. Paul and Chicago, and probably shipments will soon be taken to Montreal and Toronto.

Large Increase in Stock.

"I noticed in passing through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, a very large increase in stock, which makes it apparent that the farmers are taking up heartily the question of mixed farming, and I have no doubt but what this will be a great improvement for the Northwest. They also seem to be giving more careful attention to the cultivation of their land."

"Up to the present time, the G.T.P. has handled about 5,000 car loads of grain more than they handled for the same period last year, but this is largely due to the earlier harvesting, and we do not expect that that increase will be continued for the full season."

Feline Fancy Favors Firemen

Homeless Pussy Adopts Central Hall and Makes Friends With Mike, the Bull Terrier.

The central fire station has a new mascot. It is a cat, and it hasn't been christened yet. The station did not adopt the cat. Instead, the cat adopted the station and all that it contains.

Pussy has been at fire headquarters for several weeks now. She came from nowhere in particular one night when the doors sprang open to let the apparatus go clanging out into the darkness to answer an alarm. In the stir of the moment Pussy sneaked in and she has been "in" ever since.

Mike Is Tolerant.

Even Mike, the dog that accompanies the brigades to every fire worthy of mention, has taken a liking to her ladyship. Mike is, however, a dog with a past, but in the parlance of some of the men, he "just blew in," and has stayed ever since. Once he was the property of a London businessman, and has a pedigree a yard long, but now he has cast aristocracy aside and has become a real fire-fighter. When the cat first made its appearance there was much speculation in the hall whether Mike would tolerate for a moment any attempt to usurp his title as mascot of the department. Mike is a bulldog, and the fact of his racial propensities added to the uncertainty. But Mike is apparently a gentlemanly dog, and he and the cat are real pals.

Had Once a Menagerie.

In the old days mascots were many and represented pretty nearly every breed of animal found in the country. Foxes, bears, squirrels, fish, mice, birds and innumerable dogs and cats have interested the men in their spare time.

LIBERAL CLUB ARRANGING FOR PATRIOTIC MEETING

Announcement That Hon. Geo. P. Graham Will Speak Is Creating Interest.

A final meeting of the executive of the Liberal Club will be held this evening to further the arrangements for the big patriotic meeting arranged for next Friday evening.

The announcement that Hon. George P. Graham, former Minister of Railways and Canals, is to speak, has created widespread interest, and many inquiries are being received from citizens as to the intentions of the club in regard to accommodation.

The large auditorium of the Liberal Club will hold upwards of 500 people, and as long as space is available everybody will be welcome. The meeting is to be of a public nature, and a good attendance is hoped for as the club is undertaking a campaign of meetings to make the issues of the present war clear to all.

C. P. R. FORWARDING LABORERS TO POINTS WHERE THEY ARE REQUIRED.

No Austrians or Germans

British Subjects Given Preference, Then the Allies, French and Russians.

Mr. C. H. Baillie, the employment agent of the C.P.R., at Montreal, states that he is busy forwarding groups of laborers to the various points along the C.P.R., where they are needed most. Many requests have come to him, for while, in all the districts there is a certain amount of unemployment, the idle material is not sufficient to meet the new demand, created by the decision of the C.P.R. executive to put on 6,000 men to give work at a time when work is so much desired by many deserving men, who have been thrown out of regular employment. Over 1,000 men have been taken on locally to work at the terminals; others are employed as they are wanted at a distance.

Mr. Baillie stated to The Gazette that the order was a godsend to the idle men in the city of whom there were so many. "Of course, we do our best to sift them out a bit," said Mr. Baillie. "We give the preference to British subjects; after that, the allies. Russians and Belgians; but no Germans or Austrians. The men are grateful for the chance. There are many fellows down on their luck who have been accustomed to different conditions, and duties, yet these are only too willing to take the job that offers.

"Of course, the C.P.R. has a lot of laboring work to do in any case, and it came in handy that the order should be given at such a time. It ought to make other corporations willing to find employment for men to do work—work which might not be absolutely necessary, and yet which would be of value, if not now, later on. The example of the C.P.R. is encouraging in this regard." b

SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Give "Candy Cathartic" for a Bad Cold, Sour Stomach, Constipation.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach — it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

Meds Are Planning "Freshies" Initiation

Tar, Feathers and Shoe Polish Are to Play Part in Introduction to "Profesh."

Groups of sophomores and third-year men of the Medical College, in earnest conclave yesterday gave indication that a plot is afoot to make things unpleasant for the innocent freshmen in the near future. That an initiation ceremony is being planned is evidenced by the fact that the approach of a freshman invariably means a cessation of the whispered consultations and while scraps of conversation overheard lead to the supposition that tar, feathers, blacking and other munition of undergrad. warfare are to be used.

Friday is Day Chosen.

Rumor has it that Friday is the day chosen for the demonstration, which probably will partake of the nature of similar affairs of other years. Usually the "freshies" are taken to Tecumseh Park on a hay wagon, divested of their shoes (sometimes in the struggle more essential articles of clothing also are lost) and disfigured by having shoe polish rubbed into their faces, then hair smeared with oil, and sometimes decorated with feathers on a ground-work of tar.

The authorities are said to be trying to do away with the initiation ceremony, or at any rate to have it conducted with more decorum than has been the case on some occasions. The students, however, are determined that nothing shall interfere with the observance of the time-honored custom and that this year's celebration shall be one to make 1914 a historic year for the Medical College.

Some Slight Apprehension.

Just one thing is causing apprehension in the minds of the older men, and that is that the freshman class is larger than usual and that it includes some pretty husky men. They are not anxious to have the tables turned on them, for it would be a sad blow to their dignity to be defeated by even a numerically superior force of first-year men. For this reason they are keeping their plans a secret as far as possible in the hope of taking the enemy by surprise and consequently at a disadvantage.

TO DISCUSS LICENSES

Trades and Labor Council Will Take It Up Tonight.

The liquor license reduction issue in London will possibly be the main topic for discussion at the Trades' and Labor Council meeting tonight, according to some of the members of the council.

Several members stated yesterday that they would not like to make any statements concerning matters that would likely come up at the meeting, but that it was probable the liquor question would be a feature of this evening's discussions.

MISS MERLYN POCOCKE PLEASES WITH RECITAL

Renders Difficult Numbers in Rich Contralto Voice.

The vocal recital of Miss Merlyn Pococke, daughter of Roselle Pococke, of this city, attracted a large gathering of friends and music lovers to Bishop Cronyn Hall last evening. Miss Pococke has studied under her father's tuition for some years, and that she is a worthy pupil of a worthy teacher, was readily proven in last night's recital. Miss Pococke possesses a contralto voice of excellent range, and wonderful duration for so young a singer. Although her program contained several most difficult numbers, including the recit and aria, "My Heart Is Weary," her voice remained fully as rich and sweet in her closing selections as in the opening numbers. In the aria, "Lord, to Thee," Miss Pococke was also heard to excellent advantage, her clearness of enunciation in this and other numbers being particularly noted.

Won Warmest Approval.

In her central group of songs, Miss Pococke's rendition of "The Water Course" and McFayden's "Lullaby," won the warmest approval of her hearers, and she was obliged to respond with an encore, singing "If I Knew You."

Mr. Pococke's violin selections were an artistic treat, but it was perhaps in Beethoven's "Andante" that he excelled, W. Caven-Baron's sympathetic piano accompaniment adding to the beauty of the rendition. Mr. Caven-Baron also accompanied Miss Pococke most happily.

Numbers in Program.

The complete program contained the following numbers: Aria, Lord to Thee (from "Theodora"), Handel; recit and aria, My Heart Is Weary (Goring Thomas); scene and aria, Yes, 'Tis He (Dubois); songs, O, That I Might Retrace (Brahms); Solvig Song (Grieg); The Water Course (Schubert); Lullaby (McFayden); Mellisant (Alma Goetz); The Moon Drops Low (Wakefield Cadman); May Dew (Bennett); O Rose, Softly Blooming (Spohr); The Fairy Pedler (Lily Cover), Miss Pococke; violin selections, Romanza (Wieniawski), and Andante (Beethoven), Mr. Pococke.

COLONEL SAM HUGHES STARTS FOR ENGLAND

Will Sail on Wednesday and Be There to Receive Canadian Force.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The Canadian minister of militia, Col. Sam Hughes, left tonight for New York from where he will sail on Wednesday for Europe to receive the Canadian force and hand them over to the British war office and to General Alderson, who has been appointed to command them.

He will return as soon as possible to give his personal attention to the work of mobilizing the second expeditionary contingent.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everybody knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because nobody can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

DRINK AND UNEMPLOYMENT HAND IN HAND.

When the test comes and the factory and office forces have to be cut down, drinkers are the first to be let go. This falls hardest on their wives and families, for the man who has the whiskey or alcohol craving spends so much on it that there is usually nothing laid aside.

Alcura stops the craving for drink and helps the man help himself in his desire to get away from the drink disease and keep his work. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money is refunded. Alcura No. 1 can be given secretly by wife or mother, and will render drink distasteful, even nauseous. Alcura No. 2 is the voluntary treatment.

Can be had at our store, $1.00 per box. Ask for free Alcura booklet. W. T. STRONG, Druggist, 184 Dundas street, London.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair! Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?
