Eighteen Bodies Recovered Sunday Brings the Soo Death Toll to 58

Rescuers by the Hundred, With Pike-Polls, Are Bringing Remains to Surface at Spanish River Wreck—Bodies Frozen Stiff in Attitudes of Agony Make a Growsome Sight.

OFFICIAL STORY OF THE CRASH ACCIDENT IS STILL A MYSTERY

Expected Final List of the Dead Will Be Between Fifty and Seventy-Five—Marvellous Escapes and Dramatic Incidents of the Disaster.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sudbury, Jan. 24.—(3 p.m.)—The list of known dead in the Webwood wreck now numbers 58. The body of Air-Brake Instructor C. Carey, of Montreal, has been recovered. C. Oude, of the Soo, died in the hospital on learning of his wife's death.

Sudbury, Jan. 24.—Eighteen dead bodies were hooked out of the sunken cars at Spanish River today, which brings the total number of bodies recovered to 32. The total number of dead is still being estimated at from 50 to 70, and nobody knows the full import of the dread secret that lies beneath the ice in the black waters of the river, 45 feet deep in places.

GROWSOME EXPERIENCE.
Sunday was a day of growsome experiences. Stiffened corpses frozen into the very images of horror, fear, surprise and agony, were pulled out of the black depths by the hundreds of rescuers who placed their sharp pike poles into the grim depths where they knew the dead lay heaped. Some corpses were hooked up to the surface clutching gaping wounds in their heads, their arms stiffened into that position. Others had heads thrown back and fists clenched.

DIED WHILE PRAYING.
Some looked as if they might have been praying; others were plainly writhing in mental anguish when death came. It was a sight to sicken the bravest.

The real work of recovering dead bodies did not begin until Saturday, and the storm and blizzard made it almost impossible to do anything. Two steam derricks and a windlass were rushed to the scene, and the charred half of the second-class coach, which stayed on the bridge, with the burned remains of the roasted foreigners, was cleared away. The car was burned to charcoal, but in the blackened bits of wood and twisted steel lay human flesh, showing where victims had perished, roasted alive, as they lay pinned under the debris. Nobody can tell from the remains how many there were. The next thing done was to pull up all the rails on the bridge and lay new ones, thus hiding any possible break or spread of the rail that may have caused the accident.

THE LUCKY PULLMAN.
The Pullman passengers were the luckiest ones. Their car was last, and when the crash came it merely rolled down the forty-foot bank on the east side of the embankment, and landed on its side in a snowbank. The thirty-odd passengers were hurled higgly-piggly in a confused mass inside the car, and all were spilled out of the windows. Their injuries were serious, and in some cases fatal, but at least they were spared the terror of fire and water which had combined to make perhaps the most horrible railroad disaster in the history of the world.

FOUND SAUNDERS' BODY.
The derrick gang had to begin shifting the upturned Pullman from the river bank in order to give them room to get the other cars out. A second gang attacked the ice which had frozen to nearly a foot thick about the car tops. Early Sunday morning the shattered dining car, which lay nearest the bank, was slowly hoisted inch by inch and dripping out of its icy grave, for all the world like a coffin.

Three bodies were found inside, Mrs. Houde, J. H. Saunders and Father Chailion, the French priest.

It was a pitiful prospect to enjoy a noon-day meal. Mrs. Houde, who was killed, was with her husband, who is now in the hospital, and the priest, chatting gaily with Saunders. The latter was on his way to Blind River, where he was to have preached on Sunday.

They had just given their orders when the thundering crash jolted them out of their seats, and they felt themselves being hurled dizzily through space. There was another crash, as the forward end of the car cut through the thick ice, then the pitiless cold water rushed in on them, and the deaths they could not escape gripped them in its icy clutch. How many escaped from this car is a miracle. The three victims lay in a heap in the forward end, which was low down in the water. No doubt the merest chance had thrown them into that end of the car from which escape was hopeless, while by the same chance others were enabled to escape through the ventilators.

Fifteen out of the eighteen bodies taken were fished out of this coach. The grim horror of the picture is indescribable.

BODIES IN HEAPS.
Another grim figure was that of a woman of about 60, her grey hair hanging bedraggled, and her face set into the look both of desperation and fear, with which she had expired. Her limbs were stiffened out before her, and her white hands clanked and held before her as they had been in that last awful struggle. A man stepped up, gazed at a moment at the grey-blue face, "It is Mrs. Stantice," he said.

In this fearful pool were also found Thomas Aussen, proprietor of the Huronic Hotel at Blind River, and George MacDougall, a young electrician of the Canadian Soo.

The heap of bodies were tangled up in a mass of cushions, iron seat frames, and other debris, which made it a difficult task to detach some of them. As much as fifteen minutes was spent trying to get Hiram Johnston's body out, his son, who rushed up from Montreal, looking on all the while in silent grief.

$500 IN CASH TO BE GIVEN AWAY IN THE NEXT TEN DAYS AT

WOODS' FAIR J. M. THOMSON'S WOODS' FAIR

While the carpenters and painters are busy preparing the second floor, which is in future to be the home of our basement stock.

This change will affect three of our very important departments—our basement goods, wall paper and toy departments. Toys will occupy part of west side, just at head of stairs. Wall paper will be located in new quarters, over Morphy's jewelry store, and will have splendid light and more room, which are needed for this rapidly growing department. This will leave practically the whole of this well-lighted and extensive space to the display of our Dinnerware, China, Crockery, Granite, etc.

This Special Offer Begins

Tuesday, Jan. 25

At 8 a. m. and continues for ten days

In order to make the moving and changing of these departments just as easy as possible, we desire your co-operation, and are willing to pay $500 in cash for your part in it.

OUR PLAN IS THIS.

With every purchase of 50 cents or over at any of these departments we will give you a cash rebate. For example: On 50 cents you receive back 10 cents; on 75c cents you get 15 cents; on $1.20 cents, etc.

This will be a good time to get in your spring order for Window Blinds, Wall Paper. If you intend to paper two or three rooms, and your bill should come to $10, we will hand you back $2 in cash, which will go a long way towards buying Window Shades, Paints, etc.

Remember This $500 Cash Offer Is for Ten Days Only and Applies to All Basement Goods, Wall Paper and Toy Department.

In connection with this liberal offer we have arranged a transfer system to be used, interchangeable from one department to another. For instance, if you only need 25c worth of goods in one department, you will have the privilege of making up 50c in either of the other two departments, and receive the 10c rebate in cash.

Measure your rooms; get out your want list; make this store your buying centre for the next ten days, and you will be pleased with the result.

Thanking you in anticipation for your co-operation in our Stock-Reducing Plan.

SUPT. PYEATT WONT DISCUSS P. M. LEASE

U Railway Is Electrified His Company May Ask Running Right Over It.

Superintendent Pyeatt, of the Pere Marquette, Detroit, was in the city for a couple of days this week.

"Everything is going ahead most satisfactorily," he stated to The Advertiser. "Our only trouble is want of room for unloading cars and the like. We certainly need another switch, and it would assist us a very great deal if the council would see fit to grant our request for a siding on Bathurst street. We have need of that."

He would not discuss the lease extension question, but the impression prevailed that the whole deal was off so far as the Pere Marquette are concerned. They would not apply for an extension this year, perhaps not for some time to come.

Electrify the Road.
If the city decides to electrify the road, it is understood they will apply for running rights over it.

In case this is refused, the company will, it is said, divert their freight by way of the Rondeau to Sarnia, and then to other roads.

In the meantime nothing has been done toward electrifying this line. Hon. Adam Beck has not yet been approached for information regarding the cost of this operation, and it was definitely stated today that the council would not be furnished with the data in his possession.

News comes from Vienna of a new idea at weddings, the wearing of a wreath of roses by the mother of the bride.

BIG TRADE INCREASE

Exports and Imports for Dominion Both Show Great Gains.

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—Canada's trade for December shows a record increase of over 40 per cent as compared with the preceding December. There was an increase of no less than $15,563,286 in exports of domestic products and of $5,598,262 in imports. The total trade for the month was $21,251,454, an increase of $21,250,534. The total exports of domestic products were $28,666,958, and imports totalled $30,774,900. Of the increase in exports about $9,000,000 is credited to agriculture, reflecting the results of the record harvest of last year. In every line of exports an increase is shown.

For nine months of the fiscal year the total trade has been $512,486,678, a comparative increase of $83,288,506. The imports totalled $25,941,925, an increase of $5,391,702. The exports of domestic products totalled $22,116,116, an increase of $26,523,626. During the nine months agricultural exports increased by $23,000,000, and exports of the forest by $7,000,000.

The customs revenue for the month of December totalled $5,077,580, an increase of $1,207,224. For the nine months the customs revenue totalled $44,086,056, an increase of $9,417,395.

NAPS TO TRAIN 34 PLAYERS.

Cleveland, Jan. 23.—The Cleveland American League tonight announced that 34 men, besides Manager James McGuffey, will be taken on the team's southern training trip. This leaves eight men to be disposed of, including Pitchers Rhoades and Sitton.

Twenty-three of the men will report at Alexandria, La., on Feb. 21 to begin training, the others arriving there on March 3. Pitchers Joss and Young, and infielder Bradley will be sent to Hot Springs on Feb. 15.

HON. ADAM BECK EXPLAINS CHARGES

Waited on Water Board and Showed What Has Been Done in Wells Scheme.

TIFF WITH MR. DARCH

But in the End the Commission Agreed That All That Had Been Done Was for the Best.

At the meeting of the water commission, held on Saturday afternoon, the alterations made in the pumping station by Hon. Adam Beck were explained to the satisfaction of the commissioners, and were approved of.

Mayor Beattie and Commissioner Darch said the commissioners should have been consulted but Mr. Beck explained that he had consulted the chairman, Mr. Jones, in every particular.

Mr. Beck was then given an opportunity to explain the changes. Two wells, Nos. 4 and 5, had been pulled, as they were in too close proximity to some of the other wells, and two others, 15 and 16, sunk. This resulted in the increase of the capacity of the field from 2,000,000 gallons to 2,500,000 gallons. Two additional wells were put down, Nos. 18 and 19, and had proved to be of excellent capacity. The object was to explore the extent of the field, and to bring the supply up to 2,000,000 gallons per day. This had been done. The additional cost of this, including piping to all the wells, and drilling with tools, was $42,000. Beck stated this capacity to be more than he contracted for, and asked the commissioners to pay the difference.

Size of the Reservoir.
Some saving had resulted from running the air and water pipes from No. 8 well directly through the City Gas Company's property, and by using the wooden pipe belonging to the commissioners, rather than steel pipe.

The size of the reservoir had been changed also. The capacity was the same, but the basin had been lengthened and broadened. It was about 5 feet shallower, which made it certain that the city would not have any trouble as the foundation, if carried any deeper, would be somewhat dangerous. An auxiliary reservoir had been added also, to enable the pumps to be used. While the big reservoir was being cleaned or repairs were being made, the pumping building had been increased in length 6½ feet. This was done to furnish more room for the Synchronous motor, which was likely to be used for furnishing power, which were larger than the motors originally intended.

Building Improved.
A number of improvements had been made in the building also. The terra cotta construction work had been omitted at the request of Mr. Jones. Stone facings had been put on rather than cement. Steel beams had been substituted for cement beams intended to be used and other changes were made. This had increased the cost some $2,000.

Turbine pumps would be used instead of the triple pumps specified. These pumps were better in the opinion of Engineer Moore.

It had been impossible to get prices when tenders were first called for, but they were in hand now, and had been accepted. The six engines which had been increased 25 per cent to give an additional margin of safety over that originally contemplated. The crane had been increased from 5 tons to 7 tons. All this had added to the original cost.

Cost the Same.
This work could be done for the original tender, $38,700, with the exception of the drilling and equipment of the two new wells, Nos. 18 and 19, by which the water supply was greatly increased. This would mean an additional cost of $4,252. It was money well spent, for which the city would receive plenty of water to meet all emergencies.

Mr. Beck advised the use of the Synchronous motor. They were available for power factor correction, and would save the city a very great deal of money annually. The additional cost of these motors would be $2,300, and should be charged to the electrical department, as they would receive the benefit of the saving in power load.

"I have made these explanations because a wrong impression has been given out by the chairman of the last board," said Mr. Beck. "I thought it better to lay before the new board exactly what has been done. I consulted Mr. Jones in the changes contemplated and I understood he had given his approval. What I have done has been with the object of increasing the efficiency of the plant. I want you to know what has been going on."

Consulted the Chairman.
"What I gleaned from the chairman's remarks was that the changes had been made without any being consulted," said Mr. Darch. "The board was never consulted, and I never knew what was going on."

"I consulted the chairman," said Mr. Beck. "It is not my fault if he did not bring the matter before you."

Mr. P. W. Sotherman, chief engineer of the hydro-electric commission, explained the use of the Synchronous motor, and the advantages to be derived from it. The explanation was somewhat technical, but the facts were that the motors corrected the peak load, and would save the city from paying for more power than used regularly. As four motors were installed, at least save 220 horsepower per annum, which at $23.50 per horsepower, would mean a saving of $7,520 per annum to the city. The annual charges, etc., against the additional cost would be $650.

This is figured on a 3,000 horsepower basis," said Mr. Darch, "unhesitatingly recommend the change from the motor intended to the Synchronous motor."

The Increase in Cost.
"The only increase over the original cost specified, $38,700, is for the two new wells," asked Mr. Pocock of Mr. Beck. "I clearly see that the extra charge for the new motors should be charged up to the electrical department, as they will be saved the cost of much power by the use of the new motors."

"That is it exactly," answered Mr. Beck. "We guarantee to come within our contract price, with the exception of the cost of the two extra wells, amounting to $4,252, and the motors involving an extra cost of $5,598."

"It is unfortunate that the changes were made without the consent of the board," said Mayor Beattie. "The chairman had no authority to allow the changes to be made. I would like to know if our engineer is satisfied."

"I do not think anything done will be

Skin Diseases.

Under this name such troubles as Salt Rheum, Eczema, Erysipelas, Tetter, Shingles, Psoriasis, Scurf, Itching Rash, Eruptions, Boils, Pimples, etc., are included. Skin diseases, as a rule, are not dangerous, but are unsightly, irritating and often terribly annoying to the sufferer; they depend mainly on bad blood, from one cause or another, for if the blood is pure and the circulation good no skin disease can exist, except it arise on lack of proper cleanliness or from contagion.

To get rid of skin diseases it is necessary to observe strictly all the laws of health; maintain regular action of the bowels; avoid high living, eating only plain nourishing food; cleanse and keep the blood pure by taking Burdock Blood Bitters, which unlocks all the secretions, and makes new rich blood by acting on the entire system.

deliberately to the scheme," said Mr. Moore. "The reservoir will be stronger."

"There is no argument whatever as to the wells," said Mr. Pocock. "They are a great benefit. As for the changes, I think they are minor, and are better for the scheme."

Mr. Darch's Position.
"Every change should come before this board," said Commissioner Darch. "They may come up in the future, and they should be brought to our attention. I do not object particularly to the changes, but we should have been consulted."

"In view of the engineer's opinion, I think we should advise the changes to be ratified," said Mayor Beattie. "It is understood, however, that future changes should come before us before being accomplished."

"What I understand about this is that you lay the changes before us and ask for our approval," asked Commissioner Darch.

"I do not ask you to approve of them," shot back Mr. Beck. "I am just telling you of the changes made, for the information of the board. I am willing to take any questions when the work is finished. It is immaterial to me whether you approve or not."

Mayor Beattie thought that in future all matters of this sort should be placed before the board.

"That is easy enough," said Mr. Beck. "Let the board attend to it, and not as last year leave the whole business with the chairman. I am satisfied."

Will Pay for Extras.
Mr. Pocock moved that the money for the two new wells and the piping necessary be paid to Mr. Beck.

He also moved that synchronous motors be installed instead of the induction motors intended at a cost not to exceed $2,300. This was also carried.

This will increase the cost of the whole work, pumping station and power house, from $112,200 to $122,500.

UNREPENTANT CONSTANCE

Suffragette When Liberated Promptly Had Herself Rearrested.

Liverpool, Jan. 23.—Lady Constance Lytton, sister of Lord Lytton, who has served a week of a two-week sentence, in Walton jail, under the name of Jane Fennell, for causing trouble in the jail windows, was liberated today.

Lady Constance was liberated a week in advance of her term on order that she should be released. She is in an exhausted condition. It is said she has been forcibly fed since Jan. 18. Recently Lady Constance was sent to Newcastle Prison, and released and set at liberty on condition that she should remain in the prison for the purpose of proving her assertion that Home Secretary Gladstone's recent action in releasing her from Newcastle Jail was illegal.

It is said that she had a weak heart was really on account of her social position and the agitation which was excited by the necessity of feeding the prisoners who refused to take food.

It is said that she starved herself again and was submitting to forcible feeding. Lady Constance's statement with reference to her "weak heart" was what she called it, "simply Liberal snobbishness."

Lady Lytton came to Liverpool on Jan. 14. She proved that she could smash the jail windows with stones. When arrested she gave the name of Jane Warton, and said she broke the windows as a protest against certain of the jail regulations.

IN A SHADOW

Inveterate Tea Drinker Feared Paralysis.

Steady use of either tea or coffee often produces alarming symptoms, the poison (caffeine) contained in these beverages acts with more potency in some persons than in others.

I am never a coffee drinker," writes an Illinois woman, "but a tea drinker. I was very nervous, had frequent spells of sick headache and heart trouble, and was subject at times to severe attacks of bilious colic.

"No end of sleepless nights—would have spells at night when my right side would get numb and tingle like a thousand needles were pricking my flesh. At times I could hardly put my tongue out of my mouth and my right eye and ear were affected.

The doctors told me I was liable to become paralyzed at any time, so I was in constant dread. I took medicine of various doctors and no end of patent medicine—all to no good.

"The Russians on their side, are also said to be actively engaged in overhauling their naval and military defences at Vladivostok.

The feeling in Russia against Japan has received fresh impetus from the circulation of a brochure which seeks to prove that the late Japanese military attaché in St. Petersburg aided in large sums of money the revolutionary outbreak which capped the hearts' blood of Russia during the struggle with Japan.

DEATH OF A. F. WOOD

Ex-Member of Government and Man of Affairs Dead at Madoc.

Madoc, Jan. 23.—A. F. Wood, at one time one of the most prominent men of Central Ontario, died here last night. He was 82 years of age, but up to his last illness, commencing about two weeks ago, he had retained all his faculties, and was as active in his interest in the public affairs.

DON'T COUGH!

Every time you cough it means that Nature is dislodging phlegm from the delicate membranes of the throat or lungs. In doing so that membrane becomes inflamed, strained—maybe broken.

There's the danger point! Broken tissue means letting down the body's defences against disease—germs await just such an entrance—Consumption itself starts that way.

Don't take that chance. Shiloh's Cure loosens coughs—removes phlegm—allays all inflammation in the breathing tract—builds up and heals damaged tissue—puts the throat and lungs in a state of robust health.

Get Shiloh's Cure quickly and cure that Cough!

ALL DRUGGISTS

PRICE 25c.

MADAME'S WARD

BY PAULINE BEVERLY.

"Virtue"—and this time she roused herself to look at me languidly. "Oh, yes—I am glad that! Poor girl—it was a most dreadful thing for her."

"Well, it was rather rough, I admit, but, as Madame means to fix up her brother and his wife comfortably by way of recompense, I don't think that in the end Virtue will be very sorry. For the sake of her sister, I shall be glad if there is really some good in Ben Dent. By the way, Nat, I've often wanted to ask you—how was it you were so certain that it was not Virtue who took the jewels?"

"I thought it was Valla," she returned, quietly.

"Valla?" I echoed, staring.

"Yes—to spite Virtue. That is what I thought."

"Well, to be sure!" I said, turning over the idea, and not finding it by any means easy of digestion. "You really believed that?"

"Yes. Valla hates Virtue—she does not know any better, poor thing!—and I thought she had taken them and hidden them somewhere, guessing the suspicion would fall as it did. She saw Virtue looking at them that night—she told me so the next morning. And they had been quarrelling again, and I thought seeing Virtue with them had put hiding them away into her head."

"And you let her do that, or thought she had done it, and never said a word or tried to recover them?"

"I don't care." "What?"

"Oh, what did I care about them then?" she returned, wearily. "Oh, to be sure! But you are glad to have them back safe, I suppose?"

"I don't care." "What?"

"Oh, what did I care about them then?" she returned, wearily. "Oh, to be sure! But you are glad to have them back safe, I suppose?"

"Oh, what did I care about them then?" she returned, wearily. "Oh, to be sure! But you are glad to have them back safe, I suppose?"

"I don't care." "What?"

"Oh, what did I care about them then?" she returned, wearily. "Oh, to be sure! But you are glad to have them back safe, I suppose?"

"I don't care." "What?"

"I don't care." "What?"

vasse diamonds into fist! Oh, I forgot, though—you won't be able to wear them when you're in the convent, of course."

"I had meant to make her laugh, but the experiment was not exactly successful, for she only turned away her face and lay with it hidden in the shadow. I bent forward to whisper presently."

"I say, Nat, do you know where I've been?"

"Yes." "Don't you want to know what he said?"

"Yes, if—Did you talk about me?"

"And did you tell him what I told you?"

"Most of it."

"And was he very angry?"

"We-el," I said, considering. "he was rather waxy of course."

"I suppose he hates me now?" she said, dolefully, heaving another pathetic resigned sigh.

"No, quite so bad as that. I think, in fact, I dare say that one of these days, when he has nothing else to do, he will come round and tell you that he has quite forgiven the whole business." I responded cheerfully.

"And he is not going to leave Whittlesford now?"

"What should he do that for?" I demanded, forgetting my role for the moment.

"You are right!" she cried, with a sudden vehemence that made me start. "Why should I influence him in the least? I am not going away for I am not worth staying for! Ned!"

"—and she sat up with suddenly flaming cheeks—"I tell you I won't let him forgive me! I say I won't! If he were to come here now—this minute—I would not look at him or speak to him. I should like to get away from here, where I have made him miserable, and hide myself in some place where he could never find me again. I should! And I will!"

And with this declaration she sunk down upon the sofa again, hiding her face in the cushions.

"Oh!" I said, thoughtfully. "Just so. Then you'd rather not see him again at all?"

"Rather not!" she echoed, in a stifled tone which suggested to me the probability of the sofa-cushions being decidedly damp presently. "Oh, Ned, I think I would die almost to see him for only five minutes, and yet I dare not! But I do wish that I could just see him, and tell him that I forgive me, and that he wasn't as miserable as I am!"

We were both silent upon that. It grew dark in the great room. I had got stiff with sitting so still, and Ned got stiff with sitting so still, and Ned was not asleep, when the door opened softly to admit Roger Yorkie. I moved from my chair to get out of his way, and he paused at the head of the couch and stood looking down at her. His footfall had made no sound on the thick carpet, and the little lady lying there with closed eyes was all unconscious of his entrance. Indeed, she must have thought it was I who stood by her, for she said, without moving:

"Ned!"

"Well," I responded, from the other side of the rug.

"Ned, when I have gone right away from Chavasse, and am shut up somewhere where it is quite certain that I shall not see him any more, if he should ever ask you, you can tell him that I do love him, won't you?"

"Oh, yes," I answered, cheerfully—"I will tell him right enough!"

"And, if I should die, Ned—you know I should die, don't you?—I don't think I am strong enough to live to be as old as old Batterbin and be so miserable—if I should die there—there it is, you know—you'll tell him the same thing, won't you? And tell him that I kept the flowers he sent me, and that they are going to be buried with me." This with a tone and manner as though the funeral ceremony were fixed for some early day in the following week.

"Well, for my part, I'd see some reasonable chance of being dead before I began to arrange my funeral. But never mind, it's quite as well to be prepared, of course! Oh, yes, I'll tell him—don't you be afraid! I'll tell him how you used to read that letter wrote you until you knew it backward and forward and crossways and upside down, and used to say it over in your sleep, and carry it about tucked under your chin. I'll tell him how you kissed those blessed flowers until it was as though you were poisoned. Oh, I won't forget anything! He shall know all about it!"

"Thank you," she said, heaving a sigh. "It won't matter then—I shall mind his knowing."

"Oh!"—and, despite the undoubted pathos of the tone of conversation, the situation was so comical that I smiled. I smiled, and she, looking at me, smiled back. "You won't tell him that I have been choking down all this time, 'You wouldn't like him to know it now, I suppose?'"

"Oh, no, no," she cried, with a start—"not now! You must not tell him a syllable!"

"Oh, dear, no—certainly not!"—and this time I laughed outright as I told her. "But if I were you, my dear, I wouldn't whisper my confidences out so loud without being quite sure first who's listening."

Ned started up with a little scream, saw Roger standing there, and forthwith proved the unflinching strength of her resolution and her unswerving consistency by throwing herself into his arms and bursting, without the least preparation in the world, into a tremendous storm of sobs and tears.

Having seen things out so far, I stopped a moment to hear what they would say. But it was not worth the trouble. They were talking to me sure, but their conversation was about the most complicated, incoherent, involved, and generally rapturous piece of business that I ever had the pleasure of listening to. I got to the door without their noticing me, and slipped away to tell Madame.

CHAPTER XLII

But to tell Madame I found was to be a more difficult task than I expected. Not that my courage failed me at the critical moment, but that when, after a search, I found her in the morning-room she was not alone. With her were Major Constable and three, as I came in abruptly, there was so odd an expression that I was conscious of receiving an uncomfortable check, and almost involuntarily asked if anything was wrong.

Yes, it appeared there was something wrong at Holmeade; although, what it was, some time before I grasped clearly. It is a hard task at all times, or should be, to speak ill of the dead, more especially when the death has been such as that of Fraser Froude; and I will put into as few words as possible the news which was now flying through the length and breadth of Whittlesford, and which the rector and Major Constable had brought to Chavasse. (To Be Continued.)

TO INDICT PACKERS FOR RAISING PRICE

Workings of Alleged Combine To Be Laid Before Federal Grand Jury in Chicago Today.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The national Government is going after the so-called meat trust, and is going after it hot and heavy.

Swift, Armour and Morris are the concerns involved, and indictments of them are to be sought before the federal grand jury, which meets next Monday at Chicago.

The change of the Government against Swift, Armour and Morris is that they have violated the Sherman anti-trust law by maintaining an illegal combination known as the National Packing Company, and thereby tending to create a monopoly and restrain trade.

Indictments are first to be asked for, and later the Government may seek to dissolve the alleged illegal combination as it has proceeded against the Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company.

Incidentally the Government expects to prove that the defendants have established a virtual monopoly, and that through this monopoly and restraint of trade they have extorted unreasonable and unjust prices from consumers of meat products.

Announcement was made at the department of justice today that after an exhaustive investigation of the so-called packers trust, the attorney-general had decided to prosecute the individual and corporate members of the accused combination.

Coming in the midst of a widespread agitation about the high prices of meats and the formation of no-meat-eating clubs throughout the country, and also at a time when, according to political gossip, the prevailing high prices of the necessities of life have been made a political issue, and threatened the defeat of the Republican party at next fall's elections, the announcement created a great sensation.

Comment is made that if the Government has a good case and can secure conviction of the defendants, particularly if it can secure some relief for the people from the high prices of meats, the political effect of the prosecution may greatly redound to the advantage of the Administration.

TORONTO RECORDS GREAT EARTHQUAKE

Toronto, Jan. 22.—A very large earthquake disturbance was registered on the seismograph at the Toronto observatory this morning at 4:02, the largest vibrations being recorded at 4:10. The boom swung across the paper. Small vibrations were noticed up to 5:30. The estimated distance of the earthquake from Toronto is about 3,500 kilometres.

NEPHEW OF RAMPOLLA FORGES UNCLE'S NAME

Relative of Prominent Cardinal in Serious Trouble in Italy. Rome, Jan. 23.—According to details made public today, the Roman newspaper which recently discounted at Florence bills exceeding the amount of $100,000, bearing the forged signature of Cardinal Rampolla, is the Duke of Campobello, the cardinal's nephew.

The duke resided in Rome and frequented the best society. Two years ago he parted from his wife, Princess Altieri, and subsequently he was expelled from his club, where he had been negotiating checks, purporting to have been signed by Cardinal Rampolla, but was detected. The matter was hushed up, the cardinal honoring the checks in the hope to avert scandal. The duke's father then obtained a declaration from a tribunal that his son was insane.

After this the duke went to Florence, where he discounted the forged bills of exchange.

It is also reported that he stole $6,000 from a religious institution there, and fled several prelates. His whereabouts are now unknown, but it is stated that his arrest is imminent. It is feared he may commit suicide.

Cardinal Rampolla's health, which is not good, has been affected by the scandal.

ROCHESTER GIRL SLAYER CONFESSES

U. S. Navy Prisoner Says He Killed Anna Schumacher.

Portsmouth, N.H., Jan. 24.—James Hall, the naval prisoner held at the United States prison ship, Scamery, at the navy yard, yesterday confessed to the murder of Anna Schumacher, in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery at Rochester, N.Y., on the afternoon of Aug. 1, but that the killing was an accident.

Hall's confession was to the effect that he was beating his way about the country last summer, and on the night of Aug. 6 he was in Rochester and slept in the cemetery. He hung about the vicinity of the cemetery the next day, securing food from near-by houses, and intended to sleep there that night.

Late in the afternoon he saw little Anna Schumacher enter the cemetery with a bouquet of flowers for her mother's grave, and followed her until she was in the lonely part of the cemetery where there were no graves.

He located. He approached the girl and made a repulsive proposal to her, and she shrank away from him and tried to run, but he caught her and stifled her cries while he assaulted her, not until the little girl, she being 17 years of age, had made a desperate fight for her honor. This accomplished, he cruelly murdered her, although he has his confession claims that the killing was an accident, he only intending to stun her.

MURDERED WITH FUMES.

New York, Jan. 22.—The alluring fiction that old John Ferrari, an Italian wine merchant, whose cellar lies in the heart of "Little Italy," carried his sayings in his clothes, marked him for day as another victim for the band of Italian murderers whose killings continue unchecked by a baffled police.

Old Ferrari was found today lying on the stones of his wine cellar. His feet were tied with rubber gas tubing and a big bandana bound his arms.

Pains or Cramps

"I carry Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with me all the time, and for aches and pains there is nothing equals them. I have used them for rheumatic pains, headache, and pains in side and back, and in every case they give perfect satisfaction."

HENRY COULEN, Boonton, N. J.

Pain comes from tortured nerves. It may occur in any part of the head or body where there is weakness or pressure upon the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

Relieve pain, whether it be neuralgic, rheumatic, sciatic, headache, stomachache, pleurisy or ovarian pains.

Druggists everywhere sell them. If first package fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.

MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

An empty chloroform bottle, told how the old man had been killed by its fumes.

MITCHELL TO MUZZLE ALL ITS CANINES

Those Not Wearing Muzzle Ordered Shot by Town Council.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Mitchell, Jan. 22.—At a meeting of the council last night an order was passed to muzzle every dog in the town and the police have been ordered to shoot every canine found on the streets without one. This step was taken as a result of the mad-dog scare here, the authorities deciding to take absolutely no chances. The mad dog and the others bitten by it have been destroyed.

FIGHTING OPTION BY TECHNICALITIES

Claimed That Recent Vote in Colborne Township Was Not Legal.

Goderich, Jan. 23.—Proceedings are being taken to quash the local option bylaw just carried in Colborne Township. The motion is being made by Mr. Glazier, the chairman of the council, on the following grounds:

That there were a lot of ballots not taken into consideration by the returning officers and deputies; that a large number voted without right to vote; that the bylaw was given its third reading by the council within a week after it was voted on, instead of waiting two weeks, as required by law; that the ballots were improperly printed, being printed "for bylaw" and "against bylaw" instead of "for local option" and "against local option"; that a large number voted who defaulted in paying their taxes Dec. 14; lastly, that on a proper summing up of the ballots the number lacked at least nine of being the required three-fifths.

"NERVES" CAUSE FEAR

Prevalence of Neurasthenia Among German Soldiers Serious.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—Considerable uneasiness is felt in military circles because of the just published figures respecting the increase of nervous disorders among the soldiers of the German army.

These figures show that neurasthenia is three and a half times more prevalent than it was ten years ago. Those afflicted are almost entirely among the conscripts and this accounts for the appalling increase of suicide among them. One other nervous trouble, hysteria, is about three times as common as it was in 1900.

Military men and those interested in affairs of state point out that if this is the condition of things in time of peace it is only natural to expect that should war begin the victims of these nervous ailments would become much more numerous and constitute a serious problem of weakness. It is also contended that at least some of the sufferers may have been afflicted before they joined the army. But if so, why are they not cured by the doctors?

Generally the increase in nervous disorders in the army is accredited to the conditions of life in that organization and the brutal treatment to which the recruits are too often subjected.

CONSERVATIVE FIGHT IN OTTAWA ELECTION

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The nominations for Ottawa by-election yesterday resulted in Albert Allard, Liberal, Dr. J. L. Chabot, Conservative, and J. A. Ellis, Conservative, being put up.

The Citizen, which put Mr. J. A. Ellis forward on a naval policy, now, under request from Mr. R. L. Borden, has dropped him, and supports Dr. J. L. Chabot, the straight Conservative candidate.

WHITBY VS. OSHAWA.

Oshawa, Ont., Jan. 22.—The O. H. A. Intermediate men's hockey last night between Whitby and Oshawa was a good game and practically free from roughness. The ice was poor. Whitby won 4 to 1. The score at half time was 2 to 1.

The Fight Is On

Every moment of your life, when you are at home or abroad, awake or asleep.

Between the poison germs that are in air, food and water, everywhere in fact, and the billions of your invincible friends, the blood-fighting corpuscles in your blood.

If these little soldiers are kept strong and healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, you need have no fear of disease. Begin using it at once if you are at all under the weather, or have troubles of the blood, stomach, liver or kidneys. Get it of your druggist.

FIVE KILLED IN WRECK ON BIG FOUR ROAD

Fast Chicago Express Jumps the Track While Approaching Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Jan. 24.—Five are dead and fifteen injured as the result of the wreck of the Big Four express from Chicago, which left the track two miles west of here Saturday, while running towards the city at 50 miles an hour.

The dead: Frank Stadlander, conductor, Newport, Ky.; C. W. Goldie, fireman, Indianapolis; John Sticket, Cincinnati; Fred C. Murphy, engineer, Indianapolis; Michael Lewis, brakeman, Kansas City, Kas.

Fifteen of the passengers were injured, but none seriously. Not a passenger was killed or seriously hurt, the fatalities being confined to the train crew.

While rounding a curve, the engine leaped from the track and, whirling in a great semi-circle, plunged through a coach of its own train.

Goldie was instantly killed. The four others died succumbed to their injuries later in the hospital. They were all fearfully scalded.

According to Big Four officials the accident was caused by a piece of iron dropping on one of the tracks.

EZRA KENDALL DEAD

The Famous Monologist a Victim of Apoplexy.

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—Ezra Kendall died yesterday in his home here of apoplexy. He was 68 years old at the time.

Mr. Kendall was born in 1841 on a farm in Allegheny County, N. Y. After a common school education he learned the trade of a printer. Later he worked on a New York newspaper as a reporter.

His professional debut was made in Elizabeth, N. J., in 1884, in a farce called "Rascal Patsy." He was with Lillian Cleve-Clark in "Only a Farmer's Daughter" at a salary of $4 a week and expenses. Before he died he had come to the highest stage of his career.

His first hit was made in "Wanted, a Partner," at Rankin's Third Avenue Theatre. After that he wrote and produced "The Usual Suspects," "The Usual Suspects," and "The Usual Suspects." He was the star in another play written by himself, a farce called "A Pair of Kids."

He seldom appeared in New York in plays, but was a favorite of the vaudeville stage. Kendall was one of the organizers of the White Rats, the vaudeville actors' association, and was second chief of the White Rats. Kendall was married 20 years ago to Jenny Dunn, who was once a vaudeville actress. His widow and six children are in Cleveland.

PEACE CONFERENCE OFF

Nicaraguan Rebel Chief Refuses to Recognize Madrid Government.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Jan. 23.—General Estrada, head of the troops of the provisional government, today received a telegram from President Madrid saying that he refuses to recognize the provisional government. This means that all peace negotiations are off.

It is believed that the advisers of Madrid, who are practically the same men as served Zelaya in that capacity, are not eager for peace, and certainly not on the basis of the recognition of Estrada.

General Chamorro, Mena, Zelaya, Masias and Corzo, with 4,000 men are all in the hands of the revolutionists. News of a battle may be received at any time.

General Juan Reyes, former governor of the coast provinces, who was formerly one of the revolutionists, but turned traitor, and who recently sought permission from General Estrada to come to Bluefields to discuss peace terms, arrived here today and was immediately arrested.

MRS. LESPERANCE DEAD.

Tecumseh, Ont., Jan. 23.—The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Lesperance, 86 years old, took place from St. Anne's Church this morning. Mrs. Lesperance was the widow of Francois Lesperance, one of the residents of Essex County, who died about six weeks ago. She is survived by eleven children.

MANCHURIAN PROGRESS.

Tokio, Jan. 23.—Almost simultaneously with the delivery of Japan's negative reply to the United States proposal for the neutralization of the Manchurian Railway, the Emperor issued a significant rescript authorizing the South Manchurian Railway Company to borrow a sum of money equal to double its paid-in capital, but not exceeding the total capital. This means that the South Manchurian road can borrow $100,000,000. It is understood that $20,000,000 will be borrowed immediately and devoted to the rapid development of the Antung-Mukden line, and the improvement of Port Arthur as a great commercial port.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY

WHETHER SICK OR WELL, IN GOOD WEATHER OR IN STORMY,
HE IS OBLIGED TO WORK AL-WAYS.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known, old-fashioned farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system was worked quite right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed—Hamilton's Pills put me into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom of stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhose Company, Kingston, Ont.

THE RED HERRINGS IN POLITICS

Tariff Reform, German War Scare, and Other Varieties of Fins on the Tra il.

London, Jan. 24.—The malicious trail of a red herring—preferably in the condition which Mark Twain calls "overdone"—to throw bounds off the scent, furnishes politics with a useful metaphor. The people are, or should be, out after the peers in his election; but whatever things are odorous, whatever things are irrelevant, whatever things are calculated to obscure the issue, the Conservative party and the press are trailing across it in great shape.

Foremost among these "red herrings" are, of course, the tariff idea, and the German war scare, in which the party of Church and State secured the aid of Mr. Blatchford. Of course the German issue is a leading one; but the tariff idea, curiously enough, been life in that war, too, in the sense that it is being trailed across the "peers versus people" issue. It is conveyed to me that protection, colonial preference, and Mr. Chamberlain are subjects to fire the loyalty of every Canadian. Yet the truth must be told about them.

The early history of tariff reform is more than interesting. The scheme had its origin in the inspired brain of Mr. Chamberlain, when the Boer war over, a day had come for some reckoning with Lord Lansdowne's mismanagement of the war office. There was urgent need of something to divert public attention. The war upon which the Unionists had embarked so lightly—heartily over. The young lion of the opposition, Mr. Chamberlain, had been through London, and shown as the kind of man who had buffeted and struggled for a place in your contingents (they had the London Yearning, and even the regular troops, look little boys). The army was being gradually brought home. Thousands of homes were in mourning through what was to have been "six weeks' picnic" in South Africa. Trade and the stock exchange had been bled to the white to pay for the mismanagement of the war. Hundreds of large and thousands of small investors had been ruined. Gross mismanagement and some bad scandals in the matter of supplies had been revealed. Scaps were being called for. Mr. Chamberlain stepped into the breach. He was the party. One of those marvelous inspirations, which he always seems to have in stock at the right moment, he saw, in the depression of trade natural at war time, the making of a red herring, which could throw the bounds of vengeance off the scent. In his brain was conceived the massive notion of threatening our whole fiscal system with confusion.

Storm played hob with rail and wire. Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 23.—The worst blizzard of the season struck this section today, playing havoc with railroad service, crippling telegraph and telephone lines, and bringing general discomfiture and loss to the entire Thumb.

The wind attained a velocity of 50 to 60 miles an hour, and the heavy snow was driven into impassable drifts. One of these effectively blocked the passage of the Almont branch of the Pere Marquette, a train of heavy freight cars, and which could have been forced to remain over night at Capre, twenty miles from this city. One relief train sent to the rescue of the beleaguered passenger train was also stalled and forced to await relief in its turn. Officials of the road state that it will be a matter of two days before the line is opened to traffic.

Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette trains coming from the west were two to eight hours late arriving in the city.

The high velocity attained by the wind is responsible for the clearing of the ice from Lake Erie, a vast amount being forced through the channel of the St. Clair River, which is now clear for several miles below the city.

CANCER KILLED LEOPOLD

Surgeon Who Operated on King Asserts Patient Was Deceived.

Brussels, Jan. 23.—Dr. Doyen, the famous surgeon who operated on the King Leopold, has made the astounding statement in an interview that Leopold really was suffering from cancer, and that the operation he performed, says Dr. Doyen.

The statements printed in the press of the world were given out solely to hoodwink the public, and to save the king's honor. Leopold was kept in complete ignorance of his true condition. That was necessary because the king insisted on receiving personal medical attention before they were given to the reporters.

Now that Leopold is gone Dr. Doyen is willing that the truth should be known. As no autopsy was made, it is impossible to say on official authority that the king died of an embolism or of a cancer. It can only be set forth truthfully that heart failure was the immediate cause of his demise. The interview with Dr. Doyen has created a sensation in Brussels.

PARIS GIRLS STRIKE

Have No Anne Morgan, Though, and Probably Will Lose.

Paris, Jan. 24.—New York's striking shirtwaist makers have sister sufferers in Paris in a shop in the fashionable Rue de la Paix, whence all the world gets its modes. Here, however, there is no wealthy Miss Anne Morgan to come forward to aid the girls. The union workers declare they are the victims of the most unjust treatment.

The trouble began when one of the blouse makers was detected recently working on a garment not intended for sale in the shop. There was instant inquiry into the matter, and amid the excitement and pity of her fellows the seamstress was discharged.

A pretty Breton working girl, however, threw herself dauntlessly into the breach. She told the proprietor that the girl was doing work for outside customers; it was not at her own instance, but at that of the woman superintendent, who forced many girls to do this extra sewing, by which she prospered.

This outburst won the sympathy of the other girls, who manifested an intention to stick. The employer offered them no satisfaction, so forty girls walked out.

There is yet been no demonstration nor offer of help from wealthy patrons, and it looks as if the girls may be forced to return to work, as their places can be easily filled. Sewing girls are plentiful in France.

FREIGHT SHIP POOL PLANNED FOR LAKES

Boats Outside the Steel Trust
May Be Operated by a Central Head.

Detroit, Jan. 22.—The Detroit Free Press says:

Plans of great magnitude are in process of completion on the lakes, on both sides of the border line.

Men of much prominence in lake marine circles are at work on a project for the formation of a working agreement by the leading bulk freight companies outside the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, which will effect immense economies in operation, and will avoid operation of vessels at a loss or when there is a scarcity of tonnage to be moved.

Within two weeks it is confidently anticipated that the leading Canadian bulk freight lines will be included in a big merger which is nearing completion. Included in this merger will be the fleet of the Inland Navigation Company.

The plan to pool the "outside" steamship companies, those not connected with the steel trust fleet, has been proposed before, but it is conceded by big vessel owners that then no plan could be carried through. Seven or eight leading lake managers are in favor of it, and it would probably be placed in effect this spring if it were not for the receiver-ship into which the Chicago and North Western Company has been thrown. This is the largest fleet, in point of the number of vessels, outside the Pittsburgh Steamship Company.

Not an Absolute Merger.

An absolute merger is not contemplated, but a working understanding by which the vessels will be subject to the control of a central head, many of the branch offices in the various ports will be eliminated and boats will not be operated unless there is business for them. This will avoid a tendency to low rates because of too much tonnage in the market, and will effect great economies in operation and management.

Owing to the situation at present, it is not likely that the plan will be placed in operation until next year, but it is now believed that it will go through substantially as outlined.

In this connection, the withdrawal of G. Ashley Tomlinson from active service on the board of directors of the Lake Carriers' Association, is surmised to be not without significance.

Playfair Named as Head.

Plans on the Canadian side of the line contemplate a merger three or four of the leading bulk freight lines with a large capitalization and ample of financial backing.

It is understood that the Inland Navigation Company fleet will be sold out and placed in the big company to be formed. James Playfair, of Midland, Ont., is the man who will likely head the merger if it goes through as confidently expected.

The Inland Navigation Company fleet includes a dozen or more modern steel freighters, owned by R. O. and A. E. Mackay, of Hamilton, Ont. The company was formed two years ago, with a capitalization of more than $1,000,000. It is stated that the big steamer Shadocan, built at the Ecorse shipyard last year, will be included in the merger.

COULD NOT BITE
WITH MOUTHFUL

Snake Is Made Victim of Joke Before Tumor Is Cut Out.

New York, Jan. 23.—Rex, the king cobra who has lived a professional life for 10 years, giving daily exhibitions in the snake house at the Bronx zoo, has been rather nervous for two or three weeks and has not evinced much interest in life. The keepers and Raymond L. Dimars, curator of reptiles at the zoo, have been watching Rex closely and a day or two ago came to the conclusion that a growth at the left side of his jaw—a tumor about the size of an English walnut—was responsible for his evident third feeling. It was decided to cut away the tumor.

Charles Snyder, the head keeper, was chosen to perform the operation. He knew that it might prove fatal to himself, for Rex hasn't killed a man since he came from India and has been saving up his venom for ten years. But Snyder had a scheme and put it into operation recently. Rex eats only on Sundays. Every Sunday he has a piece of water snake for his dinner, and like Bosco, eats 'em alive. A particularly plump and tender water snake about two and a half feet long was served to Rex for his weekly meal. It was a dainty dish to set before a king and Rex lost no time in getting busy.

When he had swallowed half the snake Snyder stepped into his glass house and caught Rex by the girth of the neck. The old cobra looked reproachfully at the keeper for taking such a mean advantage, for with his mouth full of watersnake Rex could not bite. Snyder held Rex with one hand and cut away the tumor with a razor. The operation was successful, and last night Rex seemed to be feeling fine.

WHEAT

Had it For Years Until He Heard of Mi-o-na—W. T. Strong Sells It.

If you suffer from indigestion, belching of gas, lump of lead on stomach, biliousness, dizziness, foul breath, nervousness, constipation, or headache, give W. T. Strong 50 cents today for a box of Mi-o-na, the celebrated stomachic, and if it doesn't cure you he will give you your money back. It relieves painful stomach distress in five minutes. Read the following:

"For seven years I could eat but very little, as the food would ferment and sour, making gas, which caused serious heart oppression. I was in constant misery; sour gas would belch from my stomach. I was weak and had no ambition, did not feel like going anywhere or seeing anyone. There was a constant, dull pain in the pit of my stomach. I was unable to sleep, was nervous, restless. I tried Mi-o-na and soon found relief, and in less than six weeks Mi-o-na had completely cured me." Harry Dodd, of Bridge Street, Hastings, Ont.

Mi-o-na is the best prescription for stomach trouble ever written; not only does it give quick relief, but it cures permanently, because it thoroughly cleanses, renovates, builds up and puts elasticity into the stomach and bowels. Mi-o-na is put up in tablet form and is small and easy to swallow. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in London by W. T. Strong, who rigidly guarantees them.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

A GENEROUS OFFER

W. T. STRONG WILL REFUND YOUR MONEY IF PARISHIAN SAGE DOESN'T BANISH DANDRUFF.

Pretty strong talk, perhaps you'll say, but it's honest talk, every word of it, because if W. T. Strong was not absolutely certain, if he did not know from actual results obtained, he could not make such a generous offer.

Parishian Sage, which can now be obtained in every town in Canada, is also guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching scalp, delightful, rejuvenating hair dressing that makes hair grow in abundance. Parishian Sage is a prime favorite with women, because it keeps the hair brilliant and the scalp is daintily perfumed, and is not sticky or greasy.

The price for a large bottle is only 50 cents at W. T. Strong's, who guarantees it. Sold everywhere, or direct, all charges prepaid, by the Canadian makers, Giroux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont.

The Local Septette Will Meet
Simcoe in a Postponed Match.

JUNIORS AT SEAFORTH

Tuesday Evening in Another Overdue Contest—Stratford Game Thursday—The Week's Card.

Simcoe Intermediates come to London tonight to play off the match postponed from last week, and as the teams together with Ingersoll are tied with 3 wins and 1 tie, the result of the match will be interesting.

The locals are confident and will put up a fight for the lead.

The juniors lead the district, and may tie with Stratford after Thursday's game on the latter's ice.

This week's matches will be the most important of the season, and the fans should give the teams all possible support.

The line-up for tonight's game will probably be:

The juniors will come out this way: Galt, cover: Galt, point: McMillan, right: Wilson, centre: Lee, and rover, Laker.

LORD ROTHSCHILD HAS TAKEN UP FLYING GAME

Latham Will Try to Sail Over the Pyramids at the Egyptian Meeting.

Paris, Jan. 24.—Baron Henri de Rothschild is one of the latest converts to aviation. He has not yet attempted any flights, but has had built a monoplane of special design with two propellers, one at the front, and one at the rear of the biplane.

Prince Henry of Prussia is also showing keen interest in aeroplanes. He recently spent a long time on the new flying ground near Darmstadt.

A well-known aeronaut declares he knows of many well-known society people in all the European capitals who only lack the encouragement of finding a safe machine before becoming devotees of what promises to be the sport of the future. This is especially the case among men who, like Prince Henry of Prussia, are enthusiastic motorists.

The select coteries which have been largely instrumental in making ballooning so popular in society, is also taking a keen interest in the development of the aeroplane.

In this world of aviation interest is centering at the moment on the desert meeting, which is to add to the gaiety of life at Cairo early next month. It is to be held at Helopolis, which may be described as a desert suburb of Cairo, and a town which has its site on an oasis. The meeting promises to be one of exceptional interest, for a number of well-known aviators will be competing, and the conditions, both as regards climate and location, should be nearly ideal. Away in the desert there will be neither trees nor telegraph wires to bring a pang of trepidation to low-

OTTAWA TEAM TAKES LEAD IN NATIONAL

By Defeating Les Canadiens, of Montreal, Saturday—Neither Team Showed Class.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—By defeating the Les Canadiens of Montreal, the Ottawa team took the lead in the race for the championship of the National Hockey Association. About 3,000 people witnessed the match which was slow on account of the heavy ice. It was exciting at times, however, for the visitors after a long struggle, made the score 3 to 4 in the second half, Ottawa being the tenth goal about five minutes before the end, and thus clinching it. Neither team showed any class, the game being a very tame affair after their first series with Edmonton.

The teams:

Les Canadiens: Forward, goal: Laviolette, point: Pire, cover: Lalonde, rover: Delaney, centre: Bernier, right: Poulton.

Chicago Sox Will Train in California

But for the Last Time, Says Comiskey —Ball Fans Petition for the Reinstatement of Kling.

New York, Jan. 23.—The Chicago White Sox, under the leadership of their new manager, Hugh Duffy, will go to California to train again this year, but it will be for the last time, according to President Comiskey. The players, more than 25 in number, will return to Chicago about Washington's birthday, and on Feb. 25 they will leave for San Francisco.

Duffy takes a crack shortstop in Blackburn, from Providence to the Sox, which means that Fred Parent may play second base permanently, and George Davis may be a fixture at first base.

Chicago fans, by the way, want Murphy and Chance to take back Catcher Johnny Kling. They are putting their names to a petition which will be sent to the management asking for Kling's reinstatement. The fans, however, have arrived at the conclusion that the absence of Kling last year was the cause of the Sox' failure to win the championship, and for that reason they are going to force Murphy, they say, to pay Kling what he asks.

ONTARIO PRO. LEAGUE WILL START ALL OVER

Waterloo Does Not Want To Be Credited With Irving's Losses, and New Schedule Results.

Brantford, Jan. 22.—The announcement was made today that the Ontario Professional Hockey League, beginning next week, will commence a new double schedule, and that the games already played, including those this week, will not count in the league standing.

The reason for a change, which was mutually agreed upon by all the representatives at the meeting, was the withdrawal of the Waterloo club, which was actually withdrawn by Norman Irving, but which, Seagram and Herget wished to re-enter it, providing the league was reconstructed.

Waterloo's Side.

In fact, they explained their position as follows: Irving has made a failure of Waterloo; players he has loaded the club up with are, for the most part, dead ones, and if we take hold we will produce an entirely new outfit. We don't want Irving's losses credited to us, and we want a new schedule.

With this explanation, it was agreed by all to commence a double schedule, beginning next Tuesday night in Brantford, with the Galt team, which, by the way, Irving has reconstructed, and will make its initial appearance here.

The games played by Brantford with Waterloo this week will not be counted in the standing of the clubs, all of which will have a clean sheet next week. Galt team will play two games at home with each of the others. Brantford has six more home games, and six away.

The new schedule will be drawn up at Galt on Monday.

MANCHESTER ACCEPTS.

Boston, Jan. 22.—The Manchester Yacht Club has accepted the challenge for the Seawanhaka Cup from the Canadian Yachtmen who lost it three years ago.

The Canadians' contention that the racing crew of each yacht shall not exceed 750 pounds has been accepted. It is stated that the races will be sailed off Manchester during the week of July 24.

DETROIT AUTO SHOW
WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Automobile Dealers' Association Makes Its Annual Bow at Wayne Gardens.

GREAT RANGE IN PRICE

Cars From $500 to $7,500 Will Be Shown—Londoners Go Tomorrow.

Detroit, Jan. 24.—At the Wayne Gardens this evening the Detroit Automobile Dealers' Association will make its annual bow with the most pretentious and elaborate exhibition that has ever been shown in connection with the industry. Nothing has been left undone in the way of preparations, and the thousands who will visit the show during the week will be amply rewarded not only as a matter of pleasure but also of instruction.

Every Car Serviceable.

Giant strides have been made towards the goal of perfection in automobile construction, and this year's show will reveal the results of the industry's efforts. The fundamental principle of every car is that it must be serviceable, and this has been worked out in a multiplicity of ways. In fact, the many different designs of cars which will be seen typify the cosmopolitan character of the American people.

Great Range in Price.

First of all, this will be illustrated in the great range of prices. The utility of the automobile has made it imperative that cars be built to meet the requirements of the average man and the average purse. Necessarily there is a wide latitude which begins with the runabout, costing less than $500, and gradually ascends the scale until the big motor, costing $7,500, are reached. There will be many intermediate types to attract attention, all worthy of attention. In addition, the show this year will further demonstrate the adaptability of the automobile. One has only to look at the array of auto-delivery wagons, ambulances, and, in fact, every sort of conveyance that the horseless age is not far distant.

The "Million Dollar" Show.

More than 300 different models of cars will be shown, and the exhibition is already being referred to as the million-dollar show. General Manager Gillespie is sponsor for the statement that every car shown will be available for sale. The doors are thrown open at 7:30 o'clock this evening, at which time Mayor Brodhead and other officials will be escorted into the grounds by the members of the D. A. D. A.

Feb. 6 or 13.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—Arrangements have been completed for a Marathon race between Henri St. Yves and John D. Marsh, the Canadian runner, either on Feb. 6 or 13.

AMERICUS BEATS M'LEOD

Takes Two Falls From Canadian at Baltimore Club.

Baltimore, Jan. 22.—Gus Schoenlein, better known as Americus, successfully defended his title of light heavyweight champion tonight before the Maryland Sporting Club, when he won from Dan McLeod in two straight falls. Both men gave a skillful exhibition, but the local man was too much for the Canadian.

Americus was the upper man the greater part of the time, and a number of times had his opponent in chancery, but the visitor, who has been in the ring for some time, did not let himself get into any difficulty.

After 24 minutes of wrestling, Gus got the better of his opponent by knocking him down. McLeod was unable to break, and had his shoulders pinned to the mat. In the second round, Schoenlein did not waste any time, but went right after his man and gained the deciding fall in 9 minutes and 45 seconds with a scissors and leg hold.

BUFFALO GETS STARR.

New York, Jan. 22.—President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, today promulgated the regulations for Philadelphia to Buffalo of Charles W. Starr.

THE ASSASSIN SAYS "NO"

Men Are Burns, Lang and an Unknown and Lion's End Would Be About $40,000.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 23.—Once again Hugh McIntosh, the noted Australian promoter, has been turned down by Stanley Ketchel, McIntosh's best in the fighting, cabled Ketchel offering him three bouts that would net him close to $40,000.

One of these bouts would be with another with Bill Lang and the third with an unknown opponent.

McIntosh would have any trouble finding the Michigan boy's answer for Stanley cabled back just the word "No."

Wants to Meet Thomas.

The truth of the matter is that Ketchel wants to go to Australia to meet Burns and others who are picked out for him, but he wants to take on a few others first to lead up to this bout. At present he wants badly to meet Thomas, the undisputed middleweight champion of Great Britain.

Ketchel realizes that without defeating Thomas, his name is rightly claimed the world's champion, and his present title of middleweight champion of America.

At present a prominent New York man is negotiating with Thomas to land the bout for Ketchel in London early in June.

LISTOWEL TOWN LEAGUE

Four Hockey Teams in It—The Season Schedule.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Listowel, Jan. 23.—A town league has been organized here with four teams, and the season will begin on Saturday night. The teams are the Bankers and Clerks, the Piano Factory, the High School, and the Char Factory.

A New Rule.

A proposed change gives base-runners a right to make any bases as they can when a thrown ball hits the umpire while that official is on fair ground. The ball would remain in play, according to the amendment, just as though it hit a base-runner.

A TEXAS TEAM ENTERED FOR BOWLING CONGRESS

El Paso Five Will Travel Greatest Distance to Tourney—Dues Must Be Paid By Jan. 26.

Detroit, Jan. 24.—As the time draws near for the opening of the tenth annual congress of the American Bowling Congress in this city, Feb. 28, the interest appears to increase, particularly in faraway places. At least two dozen new city associations have been formed during the past two months, which is an indication that many new towns will be represented in the coming big pin-spilling contest. All city associations must be formed and leagues comprising same must have their dues paid not later than Jan. 26 to be eligible to enter the tournament, entries for which will be received by Secretary Langtry up to and including Feb. 11.

The team from El Paso, Texas, will have to make a "manliness" of bowling entries, and from present indications there will be about 425 five-men teams competing in the contest, which will total in the neighborhood of $30,000. The new railroad rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip will go into effect on Feb. 26, and continue until March 15.

CONFAB HELD SUNDAY

As a Preliminary to Today's Meeting.
When the Real Trouble Started.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 23.—Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn club, and Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh pennant-holding team, met at the Fort Hotel today for a little confab preliminary to the meeting here tomorrow of the joint selection committee.

The committee includes, in addition to the three National League representatives, named, President Ben Johnson, of the American League; Charles W. Somers, of Cleveland; and J. Carroll, of New York.

In today's talk among the three National League men, Barney Dreyfuss sought to convince Ebbetts and Lynch that he did not want a 168-game schedule. Whether Ebbetts was convinced, he would not say.

Drawing Up Card.

If the two leagues do not encounter any serious obstacles, the schedule making can be completed in one day, but if the National adheres to the long schedule, it will be complications that will delay the work.

The schedule committee does not make public the rubber work as each is required to report back to his own league next month and the schedules of the two leagues will be worked out by the time the rubber work is done.

Have a "Kick Coming."

The Boston Club is on the warpath, according to reports from the east, and President John Doherty and Manager Fred Lake may both come here to fight for their rights.

As Director John P. Harris already is on the ground, three should be able to hold their own in the Boston Club.

St. Louis Nationals also are reported to be complaining against the practice of making a large number of conflicting dates at St. Louis on Sunday.

It is the opinion of the committee that there was never any good reason for this at any time and absolutely none at all now.

The rules committee will also be in session here, and it is not expected that the meeting will make any change of importance in the rules.

AUTO PARTY STALLED
ON WAY TO DETROIT

Big Car Could Not Get Through the Drifts a Few Miles Out—A Column for the Motorist.

Messrs. H. P. Wayman, vice-president of the Oldbury Manufacturing Company, of Detroit; R. J. Hartway, of the Chalmers Company; and R. R. Rowlands, assistant engineer of the Chalmers works, passed through the city yesterday morning en route to Detroit, on their way home from a long tour through the east in a 30-horse-power car. The party left London shortly after 7 o'clock, but was stalled four miles out. They shovelled their way back and took the train home. The snow is drifted a couple of feet deep along the line.

AUTO PARTY STALLED

Up to the first of this year about 35,000 motor vehicles had been registered in Massachusetts. During 1909 there were 8,248 cars registered, and in 1908 the cars registered numbered 3,000. The cars registered during 1907. All of the cars now owned in the state must be registered again as the old registrations became invalid on Jan. 1, when the new motor vehicle law went into effect. The total number of cars in the state is now up to the first of this year was 9,915, and 7,265 of these licenses were issued last year.

Texas automobilists, especially the members of the Automobile Club of San Antonio and the International Club, are co-operating with the promoters of the international flag to flag endurance contest for the Waldgreen trophy, which will be held from Denver to the city of Mexico in connection with the centennial celebration of the coming summer. In addition to the endurance contest there is to be a race from Mexico City to San Antonio, local endurance events in Colorado and Texas, and there is a probability that some truck races will be held at San Antonio.

LONDON BOWLERS
WON THE DOUBLES

Also Two Games in the Team Play.
But Lost Out by 47 Pins.

The London bowlers who went to Port Huron won two of the three games, but lost out by the total of 47 pins. Arthur's team gave out, and he will be unable to roll for some time. Ken Murray was injured, and was in the form, showing class in the second and third games particularly.

Currie and West won from Gerrie and Port Huron.

Johnson is Guilty of Beating Little Man

And Held for Trial in $1,000 Bail—Also Gives Lecture on Temperance.

New York, Jan. 23.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, got the worth of his encounter with Norman Finner, a former weight colored man, of 26 West Ninety-sixth street, when the two met today in the Jefferson Market court for the fourth round of their legal bout.

Johnson is charged with assaulting Finner in a saloon. Finner was in court with an eye gone bad.

"If I had kicked him with my foot I would have killed him. I never touched him. He hurt himself by falling down stairs," said Johnson to the court.

It is strange how people fall down stairs on their eyes, said the court, and find this defendant guilty, and I will hold him for trial in $1,000 bail.

Johnson Lectures.

Prior to going to court Johnson delivered a lecture on "Manliness at the colored men's branch of the Y. M. C. A. Sobriety, application and again sobriety, he said, are the requisites for success in life, with devotion to one's aged mother a close follow.

"To approach intelligently the psychology of pugilism," he said, "it is essential to grasp the distinction between the venal side and that side which makes for the upbuilding of manliness. Depth of lung, depth of assistance, is the last essential. Sobriety, application, sobriety—write those down in your notebook. Sullivan subsists by a factor in pugilism; Sharkey has passed from the domain, and Jeffries will pass. Sobriety is the touchstone of success.

Some Pug Advice.

"Learn to use your hands and not to fall over your feet, and your social success will follow."

NELSON FINISHES EDDIE LANG.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 23.—Although hopelessly outclassed, Eddie Lang, of Chicago, put up a game fight against Nathan Nelson, champion light-weight fighter, Friday night, until Nelson ended the bout with a knockout in the eighth round. From the start the advantage was all in Nelson's favor.

SOFT BOUT FOR FITZGERALD.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—Willie Fitzgerald won a hollow victory on Friday night over Billy Griffith, of Cincinnati, at a smoker given for the United Mine Workers. The fight ended in the middle of the seventh round. Griffith had to be escorted from the ring. No decision was given.

HAMILTON HOSPITAL HAD DANGEROUS FIRE
Blaze in Wing Caused Hasty Removal of Three-Score Patients.
Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 23. — Fire broke out in the east wing of the City Hospital last night, making it necessary to hastily move some three-score patients in this section of the building. Preparations were made to take the patients to hotels and the armories in the city. It was found that this was unnecessary.

SPIRITS "LIFTED" GOODS
Such Is Defence of Girl Arrested for Stealing.
New York, Jan. 23. — Accused of dishonesty, Rae Brown, 16 years old, an errand girl, of 150 South Second street, Brooklyn, was held in $500 bail for special sessions by Magistrate Kernochan in Jefferson Market court. She had been arrested in a Broadway department store, charged with stealing two pairs of silk stockings, valued at $3; three pieces of ribbon, valued at $3; and three collars, valued at $1.50. Lucille Mayer, a store detective, made the complaint.

DO YOU REALLY LOVE DOGS?
Perhaps the final test of anybody's love of dogs is willingness to permit them to make a camping ground of the bed. There is no other place in the world that suits the dog quite so well. On the bed he is safe from being stepped upon, he is out of the way of drafts; he has a commanding position from which to survey what goes on in the world, and, above all, the surface is soft and yielding to his outstretched limbs. No more man can ever be so comfortable as a dog looks.

ALLEGED GOLD BRICK SCHEME
Letter From Detroit Purposes to Tell of a Gold Mine Down the River.
AN ALLEGED CONSPIRACY
To Defraud the People of London Including the Worthy Mayor, Mr. J. H. A. Beattie.

The citizens of London have had a narrow escape from being flim-flamed, it is said.
Mayor Beattie received an alleged confession from one of the "conspirators" today, and this probably saved a large number of people from being taken in by the scheme.

ALLEGED EXPLANATION.
Today a mining engineer from Montana, who has been in Detroit lately, writes, explaining the scheme, according to his letter.
Some time ago he was approached by a man said to own a farm down the River Thames. This man unfolded to him the story that he had written to a woman in the west, who had written to him to write to Mayor Beattie, informing him of the gold mine in the river.

THE ALLEGED SCHEME.
The woman followed out her instructions, it is alleged, and wrote concerning the mine. The expert figured out that he was not going to be taken in a firm-farm game, and wrote explaining his connection with the case.

He left for Chicago on his way back to Montana, saying that he would not become connected with a skin game of this sort.
"This is a funny matter," commented his worship. "No person took the gold mine story seriously so far as I know. There was no other place in the world that suits the dog quite so well. On the bed he is safe from being stepped upon, he is out of the way of drafts; he has a commanding position from which to survey what goes on in the world, and, above all, the surface is soft and yielding to his outstretched limbs. No more man can ever be so comfortable as a dog looks."

LADY MISSIONARY DIED ON WAY TO FIELD OF LABOR IN CHINA

Cable to Rev. A. K. Birks Announces the Death of Mrs. J. L. Stewart, Who Was Married in September Last and Left With Her Husband for the Foreign Fields in October.

With many months of journeying behind, and only a week's journey before, Mrs. J. L. Stewart, who was formerly Miss Cordelia Dunkin, daughter of Mr. John Dunkin, of 219 Wortley road, laid down her life in an alien land, never having seen the field to which she was going to spend her life as a missionary.

Mr. Birks Receives News.
Chung King is the station of the General Mission, reached after months of journeying up the Yang Tze Kiang by house boat. At that place it is learned from Rev. Mr. Mortimore, a returned missionary, at present in the city, that Mrs. Stewart, one of the best women he had seen in China, and as there were several medical men in the party with which Rev. Mr. Stewart was travelling, she could not have needed medical care.

Announced in Church.
The first intimation that many of the late Mrs. Stewart's friends received of her untimely death, was when Rev. Mr. Birks spoke of it previous to the sermon yesterday morning. Laying aside the same he had prepared for the morning service, Mr. Birks spoke very feelingly of the work that Mrs. Stewart had accomplished as a member of the Askin Street Church, and during the course of his address, pleaded strongly for courage and faith in the hour of bitter bereavement.

NIAGARA POWER HERE JULY 1
So Mr. Beck Stated to the Water Commissioners on Saturday.
CITY WILL NOT BE READY

IMPROVE COUNTY JAIL
"We are vitally interested in the economical administration of the buildings," said Mayor Beattie, "if the county will grant us out of the city and county will have to bear the expense. We will be liable for 80 per cent of it, so you see we are quite interested in the affair."

INSPECTION OF LONDON JAIL.
The official visit of inspection was made at London Jail Jan. 11, 1910, when there were 21 males, 3 females, and a total of 24 prisoners. During the past year 215 prisoners were committed to this jail.

COST OF COAL.
Of the $318.11 paid for coal for the jail, the Ontario Government paid 25 per cent, or $79.52. Of the remainder the city of London paid 75 per cent, or $238.59. The cost of coal for the jail in 1908 was $318.11, and of the jail in 1909 was $318.11.

CONTRARY TO REGULATIONS.
On examining the walls I found a small shed had been erected against the jail wall on the south side. This was contrary to regulations and must be removed, and nothing in future allowed to be built against the wall.

PRISONERS' FOOD.
The prisoners are provided with wholesome food in accordance with the regulations. There were no complaints in regard to the quality of the food supplied. The cost of rations for the last quarter was .07 per ration. The supplies are obtained by contract.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE WILL GATHER TOMORROW

Second Session of Twelfth Parliament Called to Queen's Park.
Toronto, Jan. 24. — The second session of the twelfth Parliament of Ontario, which opens with all the customary ceremonial and social eclat on Tuesday, will drop at once into provincial business. The change in the financial year has enabled the Government to make material progress in the preparation of its legislation.

The speech from the throne, in which his honor communicates to the House the more important legislative proposals, promises to be an unusually interesting document, and the inaugural debate upon it will probably require the balance of the present week. It will be precipitated by the resolution of Mr. T. Herbert Lennox, member for North York, who will move a formal reply to the speech. Mr. Albert Grigg, the new member for Algoma, will second the resolution.

The vacancy caused by the death of J. H. Carnegie, chairman of the public accounts committee, is the only one to be filled.

ST. LUKE'S PRIZES

Winners Were Given Books, Etc., for Results of Sunday School Examinations.
At yesterday's session of St. Luke's Sunday School, Broughton, the prize certificates awarded by the Sunday school committee of the church were read to the successful pupils. All the certificates passed well. Nina Cattle gained first-class honors, receiving 82 marks on scripture, and 80 on prayer book. Edna Naele, first-class honor certificate, 80 marks on scripture, and 80 on prayer book.

MONTELEY STOCK DEAL.
Montreal, Jan. 24. — A deal has just been consummated whereby a group of capitalists and Toronto capitalists have purchased a large block of the preferred stock of the Monteleys Railway, Light and Power Company from Messrs. G. W. White & Co., and M. W. Halsey & Co., of New York, who originally secured it in payment for the lighting plant.

THE COMPANY'S CONTROLS.
The company controls, in addition to the street railway and electric lighting, the city water and sewage systems of the city of Montreal.

THE CAPITALIZATION OF THE COMPANY.
The capitalization of the company is $1,000,000, or 5 per cent, first mortgage debenture stock, which is held almost entirely in England, $500,000 of convertible preference stock, which is now held by this deal in Montreal and Toronto, and $4,000,000 of common stock.

ON THE LOCAL STREET.
On the local street Saturday it was learned that there was no likelihood of a public offering of the preferred stock being made here and in Toronto.

Mr. Edmund Assels, New Carlisle, Que., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. I tried a doctor, but he failed to help me. I read in the R.B.B. Almanac about Doan's Kidney Pills, and began using them, and after the first box began to feel better. I only used four boxes and they completely cured me. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure, and would advise everyone suffering from kidney disease to try them."

Dr. Ross Resigns.
At a meeting of the London Township council held at St. John on Friday, Dr. C. C. Ross, who entered suit against the township at the January assizes for a bill of $2,500, withdrew his application for re-appointment as medical health officer. The council passed a resolution fixing the pay of the township health officer at $1 a day and mileage. Dr. Ross refused to consider this terms, and Dr. C. W. McNell was appointed in his place. Despite the somewhat sensational charges and counter charges made by Dr. Ross and ex-Reeve Kimball that there had been attempts at graft in connection with the doctor's account, no mention of the matter was made at the council meeting.

The Honey Boys.
George Evans and his Honey Boys entertained a large audience at the Grand Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening. It is a pity that a minstrel show of such real merit should run into storms and poor audiences. It took one hour to the good old days when there were real minstrels, and some real black face men who were funny.

George Evans, the headliner, is funny. As a laugh starter, he is the best. For the twenty minutes he holds the stage alone there is one continual roar of laughter. He had an amusing line of local references, all of which made the audience roar. Among those who delivered speeches were Mr. Louchery, W. Deacon, Dick Whittier, Joe Moran, and Mr. Geo. Parker, president of the Bar-tenders' Union.

There is plenty of excitement in the drama, but no horse play. The story is beautifully told. The atmosphere of the race track is perfectly and three thoroughbred horses take part in a most realistic race scene. The seat sale for both performances will open on Thursday.

"Our Boys."
The Western University players will give their comedy, "Our Boys," at the asylum this evening. Daily practices have been held at the university during the past week, and the performance tonight will be as it were a dress rehearsal, and good practice for the public appearance at the Auditorium on Thursday and Friday nights. There is no doubt that this year's play will surpass all previous efforts. The students are trained to the minute, having been in the company and the chorus work was of high order.

John P. Rogers is a basso of great richness of voice and his song, "An Old Port in a Storm," was capitally done. Vaughn Comfort displayed a contra-tenor voice of great richness, and his programme, winding up with the song number, "Singing Bird," was very pretty. Henry Van Fossen, Earl Benjamin and John King made hits with their songs.

Alexander and Scott had a novel act worthy of commendation. As a female impersonator Alexander is some. There were several striking dances and drills in the second part of the programme, winding up with the "Firemen's Picnic," a musical skill worth the price of admission alone. Special mention should be made of the orchestra, which was particularly good.

A bumper house should greet Evans' Honey Boys if they ever come back this way.

a rare treat in listening to the playing of that instrument by Rosamond John-and stars of "The Red Moon."

His exhibition of piano playing stamps him as a genius at the art of exploiting the beauties of that instrument.
"The Red Moon" will appear at the Grand on Tuesday.

"The House Next Door."
That J. E. Dodson, the star character actor and his present manager,
"The House Next Door" for displaying his fine art, have made a combined hit in city after city, is a pronounced fact. The reason consists in the circumstances that the play, which is by J. Bartley Munnery, possesses genuine merit. The seat sale opened this morning, and the indications are that "The House Next Door" will play to bumper crowds on Wednesday at the Grand.

"Kitty Grey" Seats Tomorrow.
"London's funniest comedian." Such is the reputation of G. P. Huntley, who heads the musical play, "Kitty Grey," which will be seen here at the Grand on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 27 and 28. For four seasons some years ago he toured the country as a member of the Kennedy's company. Then he returned to London and built up a reputation as a comedian in musical comedy. A few years ago he returned to the United States as the principal comedian in the support of Edna May in "The Three Little Maids." His greatest hit, however, has been made in "Kitty Grey." The seat sale opens tomorrow.

Bargain Matinee Saturday.
David Higgins in "His Last Dollar" will be the attraction at the Grand on Saturday, matinee and night. This play has been seen in London before.
There is plenty of excitement in the drama, but no horse play. The story is beautifully told. The atmosphere of the race track is perfectly and three thoroughbred horses

THREE LADIES ARE VOLUNTEERS

Offered Their Service to the Mission Fields in Empress Avenue Church.

Elevation of His Majesty Referred To in the Anglican Churches—Collection in St. Peter's.

In many of the local churches yesterday special reference was made to the death of Queen Victoria, and the ascension to the throne of King Edward.
Many of the Anglican churches were specially decorated in honor of the anniversary of the King's ascension.
In several of the Methodist churches special missionary services were observed, and there was a large attendance to hear the preaching of preachers who spoke along missionary lines.
The missionary service in Empress Avenue Church last night was perhaps the most enthusiastic ever witnessed there.

Missionary Volunteers.
Rev. Harold L. Stevens, of Toronto, superintendent of the Canadian branch of the Missionary Alliance, spoke of the needs of the foreign field, and when at the close of his address he asked for volunteers for missionary work, three young ladies of the congregation—
Misses Rhoda Kipp, Louise Hoath and Rebecca Kipp—came forward and offered themselves. Mr. Stevens asked the parents who were willing to allow their children to go to stand up, and many men and women stood up. The total collection for the day was the largest ever taken up, and will reach nearly $500, which will all be devoted to missions. The plate offerings totalled $425.

The Sermons.
Just nine years ago King Edward summoned his counselors and informed them officially of his mother's death," said Rev. Dean Davis, at St. James' Episcopal Church, yesterday morning. "Forward and offered themselves. Mr. Stevens asked
the parents who were willing to allow
their children to go to stand up, and many men and women stood up. The total collection for the day was the largest ever taken up, and will reach nearly $500, which will all be devoted to missions. The plate offerings totalled $425.

At the new St. James' Church yesterday morning the services were conducted by Rev. J. L. Lechard, and in the evening Rev. Peter Nichol, of the Anglican Church, preached. Large congregations were present at both services.

St. Peter's Collections.
At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning Rev. Father Aylward, the rector, congratulated the congregation on the completion of the new building, which totalled $2,075, and with the sum given at Easter, he said, reach close upon $4,000—the largest in eleven years. The statement of the "Christmas" collection was read, and the rector showed that the young men of the parish contributed close to $400, and the young women $219.50. The plate offering was $55. The contributions towards the church debt amounted to $1,125.75.

We, as Methodists, said Rev. W. L.
Armstrong, of Toronto, in speaking at the Methodist Church last night,
"have always laid emphasis on the immortality of the love of God, and maintained that no one was beyond the reach of that love. But this conception of God's love was a very narrow one,
and I believe that the responsibility for the saving of the world rests on us as Methodists more heavily than on any other denomination. We know what is God's will for the world, and we realize our responsibility, and if we can only be that we are standing between God and his desire."

The Auditorium.
The Auditorium was crowded yesterday on the occasion of Rev. Sam Small addressing the men's meeting on the subject, "From Barren to Pulpit."
The speaker graphically described the state of the world, telling of his emphatic by drink, and then of coming in a half-drunken condition to a meeting being held by Sam Jones, the great evangelist, at Cartersville, Ga., and of his conversion, and final joining with Sam Jones in his campaign of evangelism.

A special patriotic service in honor of the anniversary of King Edward's ascension to the throne was observed yesterday morning. During the service the congregation sang the National Anthem, and the special prayers of the Church of England for the King and the royal family were offered. At the evening service the choir sang the anthem,
"Long Live the King."

Some Pointed Remarks.
Rev. Dr. Hoffman, of the Colborne Street Methodist Church, said:
"The gospel is the best revelation of God's character ever given to man. It reveals man to himself. It is the only system which elevates man to equality with man, and has all the power for the rectification of human Entertainment committee—o-ho-
Rev. Walter Moffatt, at Chalmers
Church.

"Time that is lost cannot be regained, and it is no use losing other valuable time fretting about it. Make use of the remaining time by doing the most good that you can. Time is measured duration, eternity is unmeasured duration."
Rev. A. J. Vining, at the Talbot Street Baptist Church:
"The Lord is England are strong as lions, and as men as they are strong in the manner in which they crush beneath their feet the liberties of the people, and try to force them to vote at this time."

them under peril of losing their homes and living."

Rev. J. Gibson Inkster, at the First Presbyterian Church:
"The great error of the prodigal's elder brother lay in the fact that he emphasized sin, and thought that repentance was impossible, whereas the Father says the worst man in the world may repent, and when he does He will welcome him. The father of the prodigal had identified himself with all his sons' infamies, which made him sore at heart, and so he was distressed when the elder brother begrudged the younger boy the joy of recovery."

Rev. Dr. Manning, at Dundas Centre
Church:
The apostles are the envy of all Christian workers. They founded churches, and made them grow under all sorts of adverse conditions. We should never allow our churches or our Sunday schools to be empty.
Every family should have family prayer."

Church Notes.
Rev. S. S. Hardy, who recently accepted a curacy in St. Paul's Church, Woodstock, will preach his farewell sermon in St. James' Episcopal Church on Sunday next.
Rev. F. E. Malott was in Dorchester yesterday, preaching special anniversary sermons in the Methodist Church
there.

New Story Thursday

The Advertiser will begin on Thursday of this week the publication of a new serial story,
"Half a Chance," by Frederick
S. Isham. The author starts with a big theme, the regeneration of a man, and he gives the general idea a concrete expression that is filled with great possibilities. The plot, in its rapid succession of strong and dramatic situations, reminds one somewhat of "The Right of Way."

EX-ALD. G. C. JOLLY DIED ON SUNDAY

Well-Known Businessman Passed Away After a Long Illness.

LIFE WAS A BUSY ONE

Born in England, He Came to Canada in 1874—Well-Known Manufacturer and Merchant.

Ex-Alderman George Charlwood
Jolly, one of London's well-known businessmen, died at his home, 20 Fullerton street, yesterday morning, after an illness extending over four years.
Mr. Jolly was born in London, England, in 1852, and came to this city in 1874.

For several years he was accountant for the North American Manufacturing company, and upon the failure of that concern, he started in the manufacture of wagons, binders and farm implements in the old Plummer works on Ridout street, with Mr. J. L. Patterson, under the firm name of Patterson & Jolly.

The firm was burnt out in 1897. In 1901 he purchased the wall paper and art business of the late E. N. Hunt, on Dundas street, and continued it until the 1st of January, when he was forced to retire, owing to the critical nature of his illness.

An Alderman.
Mr. Jolly was an alderman from 1893 to 1902. He was chairman of No.
12 ward in 1893, and of the hospital building committee in 1899 and 1900. He took the keenest interest in this work. He introduced the present system of constructing cement sidewalks, instead of the old board walks.
Ever since coming to London, Mr.
Jolly was a member of St. George's Church, and for fifteen years was a church warden.

In 1907 he made a trip to England in the hope of regaining his health, and returned much stronger for a time.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, E. J. Jolly, of this city, and a daughter, at home, a sister, Mrs. Robt.
Anderson, in England, and two brothers, Messrs. T. and A. B. Jolly, in England. The funeral will be of a strictly private nature.

PUMP BY ELECTRICITY
THE SPRINGBANK SUPPLY

Water Commissioners Favor the Scheme When Niagara Power Comes to City.

The pumping at Springbank will probably be done by electricity, said Engineer Sifton. "It will be necessary to run a line of poles down there, and if we intend to do this, we should take it up as soon as possible."
"It should think so," said Commissioner Darch. "We can arrange pumping hours very easily, when the peak load is not on, and we could save $7,000 worth of coal. We can save a great deal by pumping with our own power. I should commence the line to Springbank at once."

Engineer Sifton replied in answer to a question that he did not have enough poles to take the line to the park. He was instructed on motion of Commissioner Darch to prepare an estimate of the cost of the line, and report to the board.

Line to the City.
Hon. Adam Beck reported that the commission would string the wires for the high tension line at the transformer station to the city.
"We had intended placing the poles, but you have cheaper poles than we could get, so you can do that work for less than we can," he stated. "We have a close price on the material to be used, other than poles, so we can do the rest cheaper than you can. The cost will be charged up to capital account. This will not bring your total capital cost up to more than $671,000, which is your share. We will also build the line to the asylum. The power to be used there will be credited to London."

STREET RAILWAY MADE BIG FIGHT

Manager King Operated Cars All Day Sunday in Order to Keep Lines Open.

THE DRIFTS VERY HEAVY

Work of Carting the Snow Away Is Now Proceeding, and All Lines
Were Operating Today.

Sunday cars were the rule in London yesterday, and many passengers were accommodated. They were "dead-heads," of course, as no fares were charged by the company.

The cause of Sunday cars was the continuance of the heavy snowstorm that tied the street railway up on Saturday.

Snow fell on Sunday morning very heavily, and Manager King had to employ practically half of his available cars, and large gangs of men, to prevent the line from being hopelessly tied up for Monday, perhaps longer.

Even with these precautions it was no easy matter to keep the lines open,
as the snow drifted in all directions.
The snowplow was run over every line several times, followed by a work car that was rigged up to make a passage several feet wide on each side of the road. Incidentally it rid the snow mountains high along the roadside, making travelling somewhat dangerous on the streets.

Gangs of Shovelers.
Large gangs of men shovelled the tracks clear of the snow, and made communication with the suburb possible.

The result of this work was apparent this morning, when every line in the city was open for traffic. Cars are running pretty well on time and few complaints of the service were registered.

The roads are dangerous for vehicle traffic. Drifts three, four, and as much as five feet high are thrown up along every line of railway in the city, and horses and it almost impossible to make their way through them.

The street railway company have still a great deal of work to do. They must remove all this snow, and that is a task of some magnitude at this time.

As on Saturday they have a large number of men and teams at work and these will be augmented today by the work car, which will be requisitioned into this service.

Lines Open Now.
"Our lines are open now," said Manager King. "We had a difficult task to keep them open, but we have succeeded. This is one of the worst storms in our experience, and we were taken at a great disadvantage. However, we are hopeful that the worst is over."

The storm cost the company some money. On Saturday, the best day of the week, the receipts practically were lost, while they had to pay scores of workmen besides their regular employees.

Sunday made a hundred extra men on duty, and it was a very hard task to be run in order to conquer the snow king. It was an expensive fall of the beautiful.

Snowplows Out.
City Engineer Graydon kept the snowplows going on Saturday, until a late hour, and has practically covered the city.

The walking is not the best in some places, but it is much better than it was in most places on Saturday.

26TH REGIMENT NAMED COMMITTEES

At the Council Meeting Which Was Held at Stratroy.

At the annual meeting of the officers of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, held in Stratroy on Friday evening,
the following committees were struck
for the year:

Finance Committee—Capt. Angus Elliott, London; Capt. Humphries, Parkhill; Lieut. Milligan, London.
Committee of Correspondence—Major Burdon, Stratroy; Capt. J. M. Elliott, Gloucester; Capt. H. A. Stevenson, London.

Major Dunn, chairman; Major McKay, Ailsa Craig, and Capt. Stevenson, of London.

An informal dance will be held in the armories, Stratroy, shortly. The arrangements were left in the hands of the Stratroy officers.
A statement of the year's work was read and found to be most satisfactory.

MARCHESI'S PERIL

Noted Singer Had Narrow Escape
From Death in London.

London, Jan. 23.—Madame Blanche Marchesi, the well-known singer, and Mlle. Janotha, the famous pianist, had a very narrow escape from serious injury recently. They were proceeding along Queen Victoria street in a motor to the Mansion House, where they were to give a performance at the banquet given by the lord mayor, when the pole of a royal mail van crashed through the side of the car.
Shattered glass and broken fragments of the window frame were sent tearing about the car. The footman and a police constable immediately hastened to the assistance of the ladies, who were unharmed. Although suffering from shock, they were able after a short interval to proceed to the Mansion House in another car.
When the news of the accident became known to the lord mayor and his guests, Madame Blanche Marchesi and Mlle. Janotha were warmly congratulated upon their escape.
