WALL PAPERS

Special Opening Display, Wednesday, March 29th.

To make our house furnishing department more complete we have added to it a magnificent collection of Wall Papers.

We have obtained for this district the sole agency of the famous Birges' Wall Papers. These papers are manufactured in Buffalo and bear the reputation of being the finest grades manufactured in America.

In addition to Birges' Papers we have purchased a large consignment of Canadian Papers in low and medium grades, so we will be able to fill your Wall Paper needs at 5c a roll or $1.50 a roll.

To give special prominence to this new department we will on Wednesday of this week have an opening display in our Carpet department, and Floor, and cordially invite you to come and see the most strictly up-to-date designs in new Wall Papers.

ADVERTISE IN THE PLANET

PEACE IN SIX WEEKS

A Change Has Come Over the Spirit of Czar's Dream.

Affirmation is Made With Such Positiveness That It is Regarded as an Indication That Russia Has Information as to Japanese Terms and That She Can Agree to Them—Progress of the Retreat.

St. Petersburg, March 26.—The information contained in these dispatches for over a week regarding the change in Emperor Nicholas' attitude concerning the advisability of making a peace proposal to Japan is fully confirmed and in high quarters peace within six weeks is regarded as certain. The positiveness with which this is affirmed would indicate that the government is already in possession of information as to the Japanese terms, which indicate a basis to which Russia can agree.

The exact situation is shrouded in mystery. The secret of what has been done and what is being done is jealously guarded. The Associated Press hears, however, from a source close to the throne that pourparlers are actually in progress in Paris, but possibly only of a preliminary character, and that Copenhagen may be the scene of the first exchanges between representatives of the two powers.

In this connection importance is being attached to the visit of M. Dismoi, Russian Minister at Copenhagen, and Baron Rosen, former Russian Minister to Japan, to M. Bompard, the French Ambassador to Russia, on Tuesday. The parties to this conference refuse to admit that significance is attached to it. In the meantime the foreign office is silent.

Progress of the Retreat.

Tokio, March 27.—The following official dispatch has been received here: "Our Singing force reports that the enemy retreated from Singing toward Haulungchow, ninety miles northeast. Another report is that one squadron of the enemy's cavalry halted at Mienhaushien, on the Kichin road, in the district between Piyouan Fomen and Changang, and in the vicinity of Taisiyet. At Kankoshi a few of the enemy's troops are appearing."

Natives report 200 of the enemy's cavalry posted at Tishienku, nine miles north of Wannassi, and 600 infantry and cavalry at Taotai, fifteen miles east of Wannassi.

Changtu reports a few troops in the district twenty miles northward of Chinchiatun, twenty-three miles northeast of Fakoman. Reports do not trace the enemy from Kungpin, thirteen miles northwest of Fakoman, but some troops from Linwang and Wopeng are twenty-five miles north of Kungpin."

Japan Repulse.

St. Petersburg, March 27.—A dispatch from Gen. Linovitch says that the Japanese are cannonading the Russians from the neighborhood of Fulinass. Another dispatch from the commander-in-chief says that the Japanese, after driving in the Russian outposts at Shemette, made a vigorous attack, but were repulsed. A third dispatch from Gen. Linovitch says: "Our cavalry forced the Japanese on our extreme left on March 23 back at Nanshentai."

Quiet Along the Line.

Gungshu Pass, March 27.—Everywhere along the front there is comparative and ominous quiet. No collisions were reported yesterday.

WAR COSTS 500,000 MEN.

Since War Began 774,554 Men Have Been Sent to Harbin.

St. Petersburg, March 27.—Russia has lost 500,000 men in the war with Japan.

This astounding secret was revealed Saturday by Gen. Sakharoff, the Minister of War, who, stung by the criticism of his conduct of the War Office, blurted out the facts in an official statement.

For his temerity in revealing to Japan and the whole world the terrible losses suffered by Russia, Sakharoff will be dismissed from his post by the Czar.

Nearly a Million Men.

Gen. Sakharoff shows that the Siberian railroad has delivered at Harbin from the date of the beginning of the war up to today 761,467 soldiers, 13,087 officers, 146,408 horses, 4,821 guns and 351,000 tons of stores.

The publication of this article has created a sensation among military men and in public circles, many of the former censuring the general staff for disclosing valuable military secrets, and that after finding from the figures a practical admission that the war has cost almost 500,000 men in killed, wounded, prisoners, and sick, as the whole effective force in the Far East is now believed not to exceed 300,000 men.

Gripenberg Relieved.

St. Petersburg, March 27.—An Imperial order relieves Gen. Gripenberg from the command of the second Manchurian army, but permits him to remain as aide de camp to the Emperor.

Paris, March 27.—The Foreign Office confirms the news of the departure of the Russian warships from French waters of Madagascar several days ago.

Third Fleet Sails.

Suez, March 27.—The whole of Vice-Admiral Negobloff's squadron has sailed southward.

Parade of 100,000 Prisoners.

Tokio, March 27.—The first of the Mukden prisoners arrived at Tokio yesterday en route to the Naresimo Barracks. They were transferred at the Omori Station, avoiding the city. There were no crowds and consequently no demonstration. The prisoners were poorly clad.

Correspondents as Prisoners.

Kobe, Japan, March 27.—Richard H. Little, of The Chicago Daily News, Francis McCullagh, of The New York Herald, M. Nadeau, of The Journal de

Paris, and Baron Kriegerstein, of The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, arrived here as prisoners of war on the Awa Maru yesterday. They will probably be kept in quarantine for some days and will be released soon. They say the battle of Mukden was a splendid affair on the Russian side, as well as on the Japanese. Several villages were taken and retaken four times. The newspaper men were surprised to learn the Russians had not asked for an armistice or made peace proposals. They say Russia's position in the field is hopeless; that Kuropatkin lost all his heavy guns and the railway line. Capt. Judson, of the American engineers, Surgeon-Colonel Harvard, also an American officer, and Capt. Byers, of the British army, who was recently attached at Vladivostok, were also captured after the battle of Mukden by the Japanese, and arrived here yesterday morning. Capt. Judson became ill when the Russians left Mukden, and Dr. Harvard did not care to leave him, hence their capture.

BOMB FOR WARSAW'S CHIEF

Baron Von Nolken Struck and Seriously But Not Fatally Wounded—Elaborate Revolutionary Conspiracy.

Warsaw, March 27.—A bomb was thrown into the carriage of Baron Von Nolken, chief of police of Warsaw, at 8 o'clock last night. He will recover. The attack on Baron Von Nolken was the result of an elaborate conspiracy of the revolutionary party. Shortly before 8 o'clock an elegantly dressed man went to the police station at Praga, a large suburb of Warsaw, on the other side of the Vistula, and threw a bomb into the room of the station where the men assembled before going on duty. Six policemen were wounded and all the furniture, as well as one wall, were destroyed. The bomb thrower in trying to escape, a policeman and shot twice, wounding the officer in the stomach. The prisoner himself was wounded and has been placed in the hospital.

A telephone message was immediately sent to Baron Von Nolken at the City Hall, informing him of the outrage. Baron Von Nolken, accompanied by a police official, took a carriage and started immediately for Praga. When passing the castle where the Governor-General resides a man standing on the pavement threw a bomb at the carriage.

Received Full Charge.

Baron Von Nolken, who was sitting on the side nearest the assailant, received the full charge of the bomb, which his companion escaped unhurt. The coachman was thrown from the box and the carriage was smashed. Baron Von Nolken was removed to the City Hall and doctors were summoned, who found he had received injuries on his head, neck, arm and leg which are believed to be serious.

Baron Von Nolken is very unpopular. He is hated by the masses of the Polish population, who hold him responsible for the sanguinary suppression of the disturbances here at the end of January. He has been here only a year, having come from St. Petersburg, where he was chief of the mounted division of the police.

Saturated With Revolt.

A revolutionary movement of considerable proportions is making itself manifest in connection with the industrial disturbances in the region around Silesia, Bielsk, Vlodavsk, Rodin and Lukov, south and southeast of Warsaw. The country has been flooded with proclamations of foreign and local origin calling for a rising in Poland and a revolutionary songs and addresses, the latter demanding the use of the Polish language in all the schools, administrative offices and courts. The population is said to be saturated with these tendencies, especially those of the United States. Troops have been despatched to the vicinity of Kolsk, southeast of Warsaw.

Policeman Shot.

Riga, March 27.—In a riot here Saturday night one policeman was shot dead and two others wounded.

Shops Pillaged.

St. Petersburg, March 27.—Disorders have broken out at Yalta, in the Crimea, where shops along the quay and in the bazaar have been pillaged.

Present Ultimatum.

Tiflis, March 27.—As a climax to a fortnight's peasant rioting in villages of the Schorapan district a band of 800 armed men presented the authorities a formidable list of demands for local reforms, declared themselves solidly with the revolutionary party, and fixed March 27 as the time limit for the satisfaction of their demands, after which they would accord themselves freedom of action. A battalion of troops has been sent to restore order.

800 Arrests.

Moscow, March 27.—An organized depot of arms and bombs was discovered recently on the premises of a rich merchant named Barassoff, and investigation disclosed a conspiracy to distribute arms. There have been over 800 arrests in connection with the affair.

Jews Alarmed.

Kishineff, March 27.—Jews here are greatly alarmed over a renewal of anti-semitic agitation. The Governor is taking energetic measures to prevent racial collisions.

Dr. Nelles Dies in London.

London, March 27.—Dr. John A. Nelles, the oldest practicing physician of the city, died very suddenly Saturday morning, at his residence in London South. He is survived by three daughters and four sons, two of the latter being in business in Montreal and another connected with the Molsons Bank.

Dr. H. H. Nelles, of this city, is a brother, the late Principal Nelles, of Victoria University, Toronto, was also a brother. Dr. Nelles was 75 years of age.

Those who would rather be right than be President will at any rate find it much easier.

Improvident people are often up in the clouds looking for some of those silver linings.

ROBERT QUICK'S CRIME

Insane Man Strangles His Younger Brother to Death.

Cutting His Brother's Hair Saturday Afternoon, He Suddenly Dropped the Scissors and Grabbed Him Round the Throat—After a Terrible Struggle the Murderer Succeeded in Strangling Alfred to Death.

Strathroy, March 27.—A tragedy which has shocked the residents of the community occurred in the Township of Carleton Place Saturday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, when Robert Quick, a young farmer, residing in the 10th Concession of Carleton, about one and a half miles south of here, killed his younger brother, Alfred, by choking him to death. The murderer is a widower with five small children. For some time previous to his marriage he was in the insane asylum, but was thought to have recovered. He and his children lived together on his farm. His brother, whom he murdered, was unmarried and the sole support of his widowed mother, with whom he resided on the homestead, a short distance away.

A Terrible Struggle.

Recently Robert has shown symptoms of insanity and Alfred, who had gone over to watch him, returned to his own home Saturday, thinking his brother better. In the afternoon he returned to his brother's for the purpose of having his hair cut. While Robert was acting as barber he suddenly dropped the scissors and grabbed his brother around the throat. A terrible struggle ensued and it appears they scuffled with one another from the kitchen until they reached the front room of the house, when Robert finally succeeded in strangling him to death.

Children Notified Neighbors.

Three of the children ran over to the neighbors, saying that their father had killed their uncle and asking them to go over to the house. Coroner Dr. A. Thompson and Chief of Police Wilson were summoned and they, with Henry Clute, went soon at the scene. Quick was brought to the jail here without trouble.

He apparently does not comprehend his position. He says he loved his brother, but had killed him, as he was influenced by a spirit to do so. He is about 45 years of age, of a quiet disposition, but somewhat of a religious fanatic. His brother was about 28 years of age. There is another brother residing at the South end of the township. Chief Wilson took the prisoner to the County Jail at London Saturday, where he will be kept until Tuesday, when an inquest will be held.

OTTAWA MAN WEDS TROUBLE.

Marries 15-Year-Old Girl, Charged With Abduction and Worse.

New York, March 27.—Within an hour after being married to Madeline Gildersleeve, a 15-year-old girl of Brooklyn, Edward W. N. Stewart, aged 32, of Ottawa, Ont., was arrested last night in Brooklyn, looked up on a charge of abduction made by the girl's mother, who objected to her daughter's marriage on account of her youth. Immediately after his arrest, Stewart was charged by T. J. Ansell, of Brooklyn, with having passed a check for $100 on the Union Bank of Brooklyn, in which he had no account. Stewart said he was connected with a furniture firm in Ottawa.

Had Wife in Canada.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—J. S. McMurray, alias Edgar M. Rugby, musician, lecturer, singing evangelist, erstwhile organist of the First Christian Church of Pasadena, pleaded guilty to bigamy before Judge B. N. Smith Saturday and was sentenced to three years in the State's prison at San Quentin. The chief of police found that he had wives in Pasadena, Cal., Belleville, Ont., Kingston, Texas, and Des Moines, Ia. The chief found that he was married to Sarah E. McCreary at Belleville, Ont. in 1877. There were three children by this marriage, and Mrs. McMurray and her three children are living at their old home yet.

Found Man Dying in Marsh.

Windsor, March 26.—While hunting muskrats near the M. C. R. bridge in the River Rouge swamp about a half mile from River street in Delray, a party of sportsmen noticed a body submerged in water nearly to the shoulders. One hand was clutching the weeds, showing that the man was trying to pull himself out. The man was still alive and breathing faintly. The man was rescued and taken to Cocotte's Clubhouse, where he seemed to revive, and while being carried upstairs gasped: "Let me catch my breath." He then became unconscious. Several hospital doctors worked over him, but it was of no avail, the man dying in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, probably of exhaustion.

Canada Tunnel Certain.

Chicago, March 27.—The Michigan Central Railroad is going to build a tunnel under the Detroit River between Windsor, Canada, and Detroit. The passage last week of a bill by the Dominion Parliament, granting the railroad permission to build the Canadian end of the tunnel, makes it certain the project will be carried out, and work will be commenced this summer.

The tunnel is to be strictly and solely the property of the Michigan Central. No other line will share the cost of the construction.

There is a streak of selfishness in every man, but some manage to keep it under subjection.

Joseph Hadley says that a year ago yesterday the Thames reached the high water mark.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE MORALITY

It has been observed time and again that men in private life may be of the most ideal disposition, kind, considerate to others, generous to their families and to their neighbors. Once in their office they are cold and as merciless as steel. Such men honestly believe that business ethics have nothing in common with personal ethics.

An article in a recent number of Leslie's Weekly portrays the personality of John D. Rockefeller in a way that is positively touching. It makes him out to be not only an exemplary but a lovable character in all his private relations. Hard as it seems to reconcile loveliness with his cruelty of his financing, it is quite possible that the article is well within the truth.

It is not in multi-millionaires alone, says an exchange, that this curious contrast is to be observed, but in a great majority of our business men. —Windsor Record.

AN IDEA IN COMPOSITION.

A teacher writing to the Montreal Star makes what to us seems a good suggestion in the way of improving composition in schools—and especially that very important subject, letter writing. There is no subject studied in school which is put to such general use after leaving school as letter writing. A letter to a stranger causes that person to form a good or a bad impression of the writer, according to the style of communication.

It is suggested that the pupils of another institution, the more remote from home the better. About the only practice pupils obtain in this subject is the writing of letters to imaginary persons, and the result is a stiff piece of composition which defeats the very object of such training. Were the teacher of the Essex county school to put herself in communication with the teacher of some school in Western Canada or the Maritime Provinces and exchange the addresses of pupils, age and standing, how much of interest would there be for the young writers to tell one another! Their surroundings would be seen in a new light and letter writing would become a wholesome pleasure.

Teachers, is not such an experiment worth trying?

"Once a week, only," answered the patient. "My wife insists on my accompanying her to church every Sunday."

RUGH CLARK HASN'T FORGOTTEN.

Kinardine Review.
One of the few election petitions filed is against the Hon. Richard Harcourt, in Monck. It was evidently filed at the last moment, which is a great injustice to the ex-minister. If he had known, it was coming he could have filed one himself in Center Brace, perhaps, and saved off.

A QUESTION OF GEOGRAPHY.

Toronto Globe.
If to us the question were one of educational policy and not of constitutional principle the Globe might give assent, as others will, to the Government's proposal. The argument from moral obligation and practical policy we readily recognize. But to us that is an argument for Regina and Edmonton, not for Ottawa. The question is not for the provincial legislatures, not for the Dominion Parliament.

TIM HEALY AS AN ORATOR.

London Saturday Review.
To read Mr. Healy's speech of the same day is to get but the ghost of a notion of Mr. Healy's really wonderful gifts of oratory. He is to-day the most brilliant speaker in the House of Commons. He has not Mr. Redmond's grace and polish; he has nothing, indeed, in the nature of either. But his attack is cruelly effective; he never spares either his nominal opponents, or his real ones sitting around him. He is the only sardonic speaker in the house. There is a grimace, a constant ring of challenge that is repellent or attractive as you are the object of his uncharitable attention or merely the delirious detached observer.

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health.—Now Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Fred Seydel.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only, a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and above all, a woman who has had more experience in treating female ills than any living person.

Over one hundred thousand cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day. Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as they have been. Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ills and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman in my own right, but I have a beautiful baby girl. I wish every suffering woman in the land would write you for advice, as you have done so much for me.

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

No other medicine in all the world has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Therefore no prudent woman will accept any substitute which a druggist may offer.

If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helpful.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

A birthday social was held in the Sunday school room of the Park street Methodist church last Friday evening and was very largely attended, $81 being realized.

In order to gain admission it was necessary to pay one cent for every birthday and it was very amusing to note the amounts paid by the different people who attended. Ex-Ald. Walter Piggott, who poses as a young man before the fair sex, was the last to come and before he came the ladies announced that they had received $80.60. Of course after Walter came they had to announce the revised receipts and they reported to the meeting that they had now received an even $81. Everyone knew where the 40 cents came from but Walter is still wondering why all the young ladies think he is 40 years old.

DISRAELI'S LAST NOVEL.

Was Composed During the Last Year of His Life.

"Of all the pretty suburbs that still adorn our metropolises, there are few that exceed in charm Clapham Common."

These are the opening words of an unfinished novel by Benjamin Disraeli, Earl of Beaconsfield, the publication of which has been commenced by The London Times. It was found amongst the many documents left by the great statesman on his death in April, 1881. It consists of nine completed chapters and a fragment of a tenth. The book was composed during the last year of his life, and the introductory words of the tenth chapter must have been amongst the last that came from his pen. The whole, we are told, is carefully written on both sides of large note paper, with few erasures or additions.

So far as can be judged from the early chapters, the novel centres round the person of a prospective statesman, to whom, even now, some have not hesitated to attach a name. "His memory was vigorous, ready and retentive, but his chief fault was his disputatious temper, and the flow of language, which, even as a child, was ever at command to express his argument—a descriptive sentence, which has found repetition, some would say, in a famous speech once delivered over the walnuts and the wine of Guildhall."

It was agreed, in due course, that Joseph Toplady Falconet should study for the bar—he having "left the great lawyer a line of glory as senior wrangler, and recognized as the unrivaled orator of his mimic Parliament."

A public meeting on the revival of the slave trade in the East, having been arranged, Mr. Joseph Toplady Falconet had the opportunity of making a speech, which literally electrified the audience.

The speech, indeed, became not only famous in the place where it was delivered; it was reported in the London papers, and leading articles were written, attesting its commanding eloquence, and announcing the advent of a new and powerful candidate for the public life. True it was that he subsequently appeared that there had been no revival of the slave trade in the Red Sea, but that the misapprehension had occurred from a mistake. In the telegraphic message which he subsequently suffered from a coup de soleil, or delirium tremens. But this did not signify, and made no difference whatever in the eloquence of Mr. Joseph Toplady Falconet, which he was able to accomplish.

Later, we are promised that his rapid success in Parliament will be described. Members from both sides of the House rallied round him.

Another character is a mysterious figure, of a well-known Disraelian type, who has just come to London. "I have no name," said the unknown. "His desire is 'to terminate the misery of man' by the destruction of the species." A fourth is a friend of his, a German banker and philosopher, of advanced opinions.

Curiously is only whetted by the two chapters and a half published.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Sweet Clover—March 27.
The Bonnie Brier Bush—Mar. 31.

SWEET CLOVER, AT THE GRAND TO-NIGHT!

"Sweet Clover" is one of those good, old-fashioned, wholesome plays which a man may attend with his family without fear of hearing or seeing anything that would offend the most fastidious. It is a beautiful story, graphically told and strange to say, there are no crimes or villains, and still the heart interest is intense. Abundant humor is interspersed as several of the characters are legitimately funny, without being overdrawn. The play is credited with being one of those sweet comedies that linger lovingly in the memory of the lover of really good plays. It is surely just a bit refreshing to again witness a wholesome, well-written play that does not insult the intellect, for after the maudlin, impossible melo-drama, the rough, knockabout farce-comedy and vulgar burlesque, one turns instinctively to the better class of drama and takes a moral bath. There could be no happier title than "Sweet Clover," for in itself it almost tells the story of the play.

J. H. Stoddart in "The Bonnie Brier Bush" will be the attraction at the Grand on Friday, March 31st, and an artistic treat is in store for all who see this beautiful play. The piece is well known as a dramatization of Ian MacLaren's stories of similar title and is devoted principally to the love match of Lord Hay and Flora Campbell, the misunderstanding of which results in the transformation of the father, Lachlan Campbell, from a too rigorous follower of strict Presbyterian doctrines, to a parent whose heart first throbs in union with the broader humanities after the mishap which befalls his daughter. Mr. Stoddart announces this as his fourth and last season as Lachlan Campbell, a fact that lends additional interest to the engagement.

ment, of this sterling representative of the old school actor has endeared himself to all who have seen him in this play. Associated with Mr. Stoddart, and equally prominent in the cast, is "Teuben Fax," as the Drumtochty postman, Archibald McKittrick. The associate players and scenic production are said to be on a par with those seen in previous engagements. Seats in sale to-morrow at Briscoe's.

THE DESIRE TO REFORM IS REQUIRED.

Dr. Mackay's Specific for Alcoholism will reclaim the worst case of drunkenness. Directions are simple. It is the well-known remedy of the medical profession. It requires only the desire and determination to be cured to make an unhappy home happy. Write to the Leeming, Miles Co., Ltd., 288 St. James street, Montreal, for full particulars. All communications private.

DISTRICT DOINGS

BLENHEIM

March 27.—On Friday morning last there passed away to the Great Beyond Mrs. Margaret Steward, wife of Joseph Steward. She had an attack of pneumonia from which she recovered, when other complications set in, to which she succumbed. She was a person well known and highly respected by all who knew her. Her husband, two sons and three daughters survive her. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. E. Kerr at the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, a large number being present.

Rev. R. McCosh will conduct the service in Trinity church on Wednesday evening next.

Remember the Old Time concert which takes place to-morrow evening, March 28th, in the Opera House. Mrs. A. Hodgins, of Idleron, Ont., is visiting relatives in town and vicinity.

John Mackey, Gore Line, has purchased the property corner of Hamilton and Sandys street from R. M. Thompson.

Fishing is now the order of the day, a large number taking in the spot. They report the fish as being rather small. The outlets not being open the large fish are not in the creeks.

E. J. Buzzard has rented the Bungalow at Eriau for a term of years and will operate it the coming season.

DRESDEN

March 27.—Miss Estella Steeper is visiting friends in Detroit.

Mrs. E. M. Sharpe, of Orillia, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sharpe last week, left on Thursday morning for a week's visit with relatives in Leamington.

Miss Ethel McKim, who has been confined to the house with a slight attack of appendicitis, is able to be out again.

Quite a number of Dresden ladies attended the millinery openings in Chatham last week.

Mr. Allan McDonald was a Chatham visitor Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Langford, who has had charge of the services in the Methodist church for the past six months, left this morning for a short visit at his home, after which he will resume his studies at Victoria College, Toronto.

Miss Jessie McVean entertained a number of girl friends on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The local millinery openings will be held on Friday and Saturday of this week, March 31 and April 1. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Caracallan, of Wallaceburg, were the guests of relatives in town yesterday.

Don't fail to hear the laugh producing drama, Alvin Jolin, at the Grand to-morrow, Tuesday night. This will be one of the best shows of the season, as the play is a good one, put on by a first class company.

TILBURY

March 27.—Mrs. Peter Bruneau, Tilbury East, adjoining the villa died Saturday morning, in the 74 year of her age. Deceased leaves a large family and an aged husband to mourn her loss. She was one of the first townships settlers. The funeral taken place to-day to St. Francis' R. C. Church.

P. Shaw, of Leamington, spent Sunday with relatives here. He leaves next week for Seattle, Wash.

The decision of the Provincial Government to abolish the several positions of fishery overseers, will further complicate the local political situation.

English Church services were closed last night, owing to the break in the electric light plant.

The local building situation is looking up, and several contracts are on the tapis.

Your Doctor

We wish you would ask your doctor what he thinks of Vapo-Cresolene. He will say "It's certainly the best way of reaching the throat and lungs, this inhaling method." You see, it brings the medicine right in contact with the weak places. If it's asthma, bronchitis, whooping-cough, croup, or any such trouble, the Cresolene vapor touches every inflamed place. Relief is quick, certain.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold in drug stores, or sent express prepaid on receipt of price. Vapo-Cresolene outfit including a bottle of Cresolene, complete $3.00. For free illustrated book, in English, French, or German, write to: Agents 288 St. James Street, Montreal.

CHEERFUL WOMEN.

Despondency is a thing of evil origin and evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put up a little note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, don't worry. Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.
A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles.
The nerves are to a woman's body the telegraph system, which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up.
Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent.
of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable.
$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.
They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.
Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr.
R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMEN ON NEWSPAPERS.

Faint Talk by a Woman Who Knows Their Tribulations.
There is an ever increasing army of young women coming from colleges and schools who have in them the ambition to do more than make a living.
Let them not waste time and talent on the newspaper. The first thing they will learn is that the newspaper office is not a drawing room. Men will treat them as they would another man or the office boy. They will not take the trouble to remove their pipes because a woman happens to sit in the same room with them. They will not wear coats nor remove their feet from the table.
They may even throw "spit balls" at her. But if she would be popular with the "boys" she must take all this as a matter of course. The sensible woman who can take this philosophically without becoming herself "one of the boys" will find that she is cordially liked by the men in her office. But if she persists in feeling that hats should be doctored and pipes laid by when she comes in she will not make friends.
The girl who goes to an opposite extreme and tries to make herself popular by smoking cigarettes, swinging her feet from the table and betting on the races will not achieve unbounded popularity, since it is necessary to stand well with the managing editor, but she who can retain her own refinement and good manners without surrounding herself with the air of superiority is liked by all classes. And yet let her smother her love of refinement and persuade herself to enjoy a seat in the room where cuspidors are as numerous as desks, breathing an atmosphere of mingled tobacco smoke and profanity for a few years, and her moral tone is sure to be blunted and her manner to take on a certain brusqueness not native to the delicately reared girl with college affinities. If she is honest with herself she will own this and question seriously whether the experience is worth while.—Heleen Winslow in Atlantic.

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA

JAPANESE WARRIOR LONGS FOR QUIETUDE AND PEACE.

Strongly and Heavily Built and More Powerful Looking Than the Average Japanese—Knows He is Homely and Jests About His Looks—But the Great Military Man Does Not Love War.

Field Marshal Oyama is by no means a man of prepossessing aspect, but since pictures were taken of him at the outbreak of the war with Russia, he has grown a beard, which partially covers the puckers in his face and adds something to his martial air. The photograph reproduced herewith was taken recently and gives a good idea of his appearance in the field supervising the movements of the armies which are driving the Russians back toward St.
Petersburg. He is strongly and heavily built and more powerful looking than the average Japanese. He knows

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA SEATED NEAR HIS QUARTERS.

that he is homely and jests about his looks whenever a photographer by dint of persuasion or stratagem gets him to face a camera. Like Kuroki and so many other military men, he enjoys his cigar, and when the picture was taken he had one between his fingers.
Though so great a man in the military affairs of his country, Marshal Oyama does not love war. He once said: "My idea of happiness is to dispose of everything I possess that belongs to the practice of arms and go far into the country with big boxes of books to read for the rest of my days—books that tell of happiness and progress and not of the terrible deeds of war. And I would gather about me my best old friends and little children. Then in the sunny days all would be happiness." Though not gifted with a handsome face himself, the bronzed and scarred veteran of several wars has an eye for beauty in the face of a woman.
The late Lord Curzon related that while Oyama was a judge advocate in Tokio he attended a ball one night and was standing near a doorway when a beautiful European woman swept by. So greatly did her charm impress the soldier judge that he exclaimed involuntarily:
"What a lovely woman!"
Overhearing the remark, the lady looked back over her shoulder and, recognizing the speaker, replied, "What an excellent judge!"

Some Fine Cut Facts.
Soda water is now prescribed for hunger, especially for the abnormal hunger produced by disease.
It is claimed that Costa Rica has a greater variety of animals than any other country. Of birds alone there are about 700 kinds.
One of the latest industries developed in Vienna and Berlin is the cleaning of playing cards. They are subjected to various processes and emerge looking like new cards.
Several years ago a company was formed in London which offered to all women who, for a certain time, bought half a pound of tea at their stores a pension of 19 shillings a week if they lost their husbands. The list of widows gradually reached 20,000, and the company had to suspend payment.
India has a staff of mounted army nurses. The Indian Government allows these women of the Indian nursing service 30 rupees a month for the upkeep of their horses and free conveyance of their animals to and from active service. This corps of nurses are all women of good social position, and have to undergo three years' training in a general hospital before qualifying.

Emblem of the Red Cross.
The selection of the emblem of the Red Cross Society was a compliment to Switzerland, which country had announced her interest in humanity by officially issuing invitations to the nations of the world to meet in conference and establish rules for the government of civilized communities when engaged in warfare. The national flag of Switzerland is a white Greek cross on a red ground, and the colors of the Red Cross flag were simply reversed. By the terms of the Red Cross treaty the hospital flag of every nation must be a red Greek cross, on a white ground, and every person, ambulance, or other essential of the service must be so distinguished.

Healthiest City in Europe.
The population of Rome, Italy, on December 31, 1904, was 506,840. The census statistics show that the Eternal City is the healthiest town in Europe.
The death rate at present is 18.3, a very low percentage compared with other large centres. In 1876 the death rate was 30 per 1,000. In 1885 it had fallen to 28. The city is not naturally favorable to health, but it is now regarded as one of the healthiest cities in the world, owing to modern sanitation.

NAMES OF EXPRESS TRAINS.

Terms Terms That Impress Themselves Upon the Public.
Some time ago a railroad company offered a substantial prize for the most attractive title for its fastest train, and though none of those submitted was accepted the ingenuity of the competitors was not undeserving of praise.
Among those sent in were such titles as the Republican limited, the Narrow Path express, the Liberty express, the Yankee High Flier and many others more or less good, says the Detroit News-Tribune. Although the novel competition practically failed in its purpose, it called attention to the picturesque and ingenious names which designate many of the important high fliers which run daily over American rails.
There is no better known express in the world than the Twentieth Century limited, which runs with but a single stop between New York and Chicago in twenty hours. The title in this instance is a particularly happy one, for it not only symbolizes the century in which we live, but also the actual time occupied in the run.

Another interesting and appropriate name belongs to an express which runs daily from Philadelphia to New York and which is known as the Brides' limited. This high flier gained its name from the fact that ever since its inauguration last year it has not failed to carry at least one happy couple on a honeymoon trip daily. The Brides' limited is made up of three or four Pullman coaches, each bearing some title suggestive of its happy freight, such as Cupid, Myrmen, etc., and the train is now extremely popular with newly married couples.

The Green Mountain Flier is the famous Montreal express for New York and received its name from the beautiful green hills through which it runs on its daily journey. An equally picturesque title is that of the Sunset limited, a Southern Pacific express, which dashes daily toward that El Dorado of horticulturists—California.
Minneapolis and St. Paul are known as the Twin Cities, and so it is only natural that the train which runs from there to St. Louis should be called the Twin City limited. The exposition at St. Louis, by the way, has been the means of giving titles to many new trains, among these being the Exposition limited, over the Grand Central.

One of the most magnificent trains in the world is the High Grass limited, which runs from St. Paul to the Pacific coast, so called because in its journey it passes over much desolate prairie. This train is one of the longest for passenger express service in the country, consisting, as it does, of thirteen cars, each averaging eighty feet in length.

GRAVE DANGER

progress.

Don't experiment with cheap cough mixtures or like concoctions, for at best can only temporarily relieve, until you are forced to your bed from which you will arise frailer—the more easy victim for consumption. This is the season of the year when people are started on the rapid road to the consumptive's grave, declares
the eminent Lung Specialist.

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)
will rid the system of all tuberculous poison
and build up weak and wasted bodies with healthy tissue. "Psychine" is a tonic and it creates strength, gives you a ravenous appetite
and produces healthy flesh.
In cases of obstinate coughs, pains in the
lungs, sore throat, headache, pains in the limbs, extreme weakness, you cannot afford to be without "Psychine." It is prepared expressly for all diseases of the lungs and bronch-
tubes, and if you have the least sign of a cough, croup, cold, shivery feeling, cold feet or distress, procure "Psychine" from your druggist.
If your druggist hasn't "Psychine" in stock,

GRAVE DANGER

Observes Dr. Sloan, if a cold is allowed to run, La Grippe, Pneumonia, or Bronchitis is sure to follow if "Psychine" is not taken to prevent its progress.

Don't experiment with cheap cough mix-
tures or like concoctions, for at best can only temporarily relieve, until you are forced to your
bed from which you will arise frailer—the more easy victim for consumption. This is the season of the year when people are started on the
rapid road to the consumptive's grave, declares
the eminent Lung Specialist.

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)
will rid the system of all tuberculous poison
and build up weak and wasted bodies with
healthy tissue. "Psychine" is a tonic and it creates strength, gives you a ravenous appetite
and produces healthy flesh.
In cases of obstinate coughs, pains in the
lungs, sore throat, headache, pains in the limbs,
extreme weakness, you cannot afford to be without "Psychine." It is prepared expressly
for all diseases of the lungs and bronch-
tubes, and if you have the least sign of a cough,
croup, cold, shivery feeling, cold feet or distress, procure "Psychine" from your druggist.
If your druggist hasn't "Psychine" in stock,
write Dr. T. A. Sloan, Limited, 179 King Street West, Toronto, Canada, and a sample bottle will be sent you promptly.

YOUR EYES

Are surely worth more to you than the price of a pair of glasses.
If you value your eyes have them properly fitted at once. Delay and your eyes may become so bad that no glasses will help them, then you will regret it the rest of your days. This is true every word of it. Do not trust travelling Opticians and peddlars to fit you with glasses. They get your money and you get the experience.
This we know because it is told us by people that come to us for glasses after having bought of the Spectacle peddler. Our Optician is a graduate of the Detroit Optical college and is fully equipped with all the modern conveniences. We will examine your eyes free of charge, at the sign of the Big Clock.

The firemen had two short runs yesterday—one was at 2:35 p. m. to the residence of Miss Kingston, Thames street. The alarm came in from box 15 and the cause was a bad chimney. The other was to Radley's drug store at 9:45. The cause was again a burning chimney. No damage was done in either case. O. I. Dolsen has received a letter from Toledo conveying the sad intelligence of the death of W. H. (Harry Evans) son of the late Israel Evans, on March 17, after an illness of about ten hours. The funeral was on Tuesday, the 21st inst. at Toledo. The deceased was an old resident of this city and was well known here. He was in his 52nd year and leaves a wife and daughter.

LARGE FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Frederick William Robinson, the young son of ex-Ald. and Mrs. Henry Robinson, took place yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, Murray street, to the Maple Leaf Cemetery. It was very largely attended by the young friends of the deceased and also by older friends of the family. Rev. C. H. Cobbleback conducted the services at the house. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, testifying to the esteem in which the young lad was held and also to the sympathy which is extended to the family.

Among those who sent floral offerings were—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baxter, Mrs. Jas. Baxter, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Boyd, G. G. Taylor and daughters, the Junior Sunshine Society, Jas. Robinson—Ronald McVean, Dresden; Miss Grace Savage, Detroit; Miss McKishnie, Miss Hannah Baxter, the Park St. Sunday school, Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, schoolmates from Central school, seven boy chums, Mrs. Lucy Ryan, the Misses Thompson, Mrs. Steinboff, High school, Dr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. John Buck and family, Mrs. Wm. Douglas, Donald and Will Foreman, Messrs. Page and Goodman, Mrs. Mounteer, Mr. and Mrs. John McCoig, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Taylor, Detroit; Stewart McKeough, Mrs. Kemp, Roy Glassford, Blake McCoig, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanworth.

The pall-bearers were five of the Pinafore boys—Ross Duncan, S. McKeough, E. McDonald, W. Hoig and J. Douglas—and Harold Mounteer.

ARCHIE'S FIRST

On Thursday afternoon last, Arch. McCoig, M. P., presented a petition from the Township Council of Tilbury East to the Legislature and it was formally laid upon the table. This was Mr. McCoig's first official act as West Ken's representative in the Provincial Parliament.

MAN HURT

A young man, named Jesse Fortin, met with a serious accident on the Grand Trunk, near St. Clair, a small place seven miles from Chatham, Saturday evening. He was on his way from Windsor to St. Clair, and it is supposed he fell off the train while walking from one car to the other. The conductor missed the man when he stopped at St. Clair, and afterwards found him lying unconscious at the side of the track. He was brought to Chatham and removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. J. L. Bray, Grand Trunk surgeon, attended him. The young man is still in a semi-conscious condition. Fortin's home is in Walkerville, and he was on his way to visit a married sister at St. Clair.

POLICE COURT

John Newman was found guilty this morning of unlawfully carrying a pistol and remanded till this afternoon for sentence. Roy Johnson, of Bothwell, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a pair of skates from the Park House. He was released on suspended sentence, his uncle paying the costs, $11. Judge Houston pointed out the penalties attached to a suspended sentence. He said that a man out under suspended sentence could hold neither any municipal office nor any office under the Crown, although there was a man in Chatham on suspended sentence who was in the habit of holding such an office.

Wm. Raymo and John Johnson were tried on the charge of attempted burglary of the residence of Josie Wilkins, Queen street. Darr testified that the men were both under the influence when arrested at midnight. Judge Houston released Raymo on suspended sentence on condition that he refrain from liquor and didn't hang around at night. Crown Attorney Smith intimated that he would lay a charge of vagrancy against both men. The case was adjourned to give the Crown an opportunity to produce another witness.

Geo. West, charged with wife beating, was released on suspended sentence, the costs being paid.

Andrew Miscampbell Very Ill.
Toronto, March 25.—Andrew Miscampbell, Provincial organizer for the Conservative party, is lying at his home on Close avenue at the point of death. For the past five weeks he has been ill with typhoid fever, and yesterday took a very serious turn, which became worse as night approached. Four doctors were called in consultation during the afternoon, and the opinion prevailed that should he live until this morning the crisis would be past and there would be some slight hope for his recovery.

C. P. R. Trains Collide.
Montreal, March 27.—The C. P. R. train for Quebec and one from that point for Montreal crashed into one another at Louisville Saturday afternoon. As a result the engineer of the former train, Charles Lalumiere, had his legs broken and the passengers on both trains were badly shaken up. The engines of both trains were slightly damaged.

Toronto, Man. Loses a Foot.
Barrie, March 27.—John Arnold, a member of a C. P. R. surveying party, while attempting to board the 5:30 train slipped and fell between the wheels. One foot was badly crushed and had to be amputated, the other also being seriously injured. He is a young married man, his home being in Toronto.

ROUND THE WORLD.

The Four-Track News for April takes its readers on an imaginary journey from the Land of the Midnight Sun to Porto Rico; from the Thousand Islands to Portland, Oregon. This number includes also articles upon old New York, Valley Forge, Newfoundland, the Isle of Jersey, the strange little Virginian island—the Lorelei Monument, the Muskogum River, the Lubek Shipping House, the National Road, Tubby Hook, Chumbly, Old Welsh Town, the lakes of the Shawangunk Mountains, and many others, including a trip by rail to the mountain peaks of Colorado, a sketch of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, etc. Among the well-known writers who have contributed to this number are Charles Bonstreet, W. H. Richardson, Mary Catherine Crowley, Kathleen L. Greig, Minna Irving, Day Allen Wiley, Frank Yeigh, Minnie J. Reynolds, Mary E. Maule, Charles E. Fairman, Louis E. Wallach, Hugo Erichsen, Arthur Guiterman, Roy Farrell and Dennis H. Stovall. There are many strikingly beautiful illustrations, while the poems, humor and items of interest will be found especially entertaining.

The Four-Track News is one dollar a year, or ten cents a copy, and can be had of George H. Daniels, Publisher, 7 East 42d Street, New York, or at any news-stand.

OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL MILLINERY OPENING CONTINUES
WILLIAM GORDON

AN EARNEST ADDRESS

Frank E. Powell, divinity student, Huron College, London, Ont., took both services in Holy Trinity Church yesterday, the congregation being large on both occasions, it being Mr. Powell's last service. Mr. Powell is a pleasing speaker, having a slight difficulty in intonation, which, with practice, will be overcome. He has occupied the pulpit in this parish for eight Sundays, and has made many friends in both the church and Sunday school. He delivered two excellent discourses yesterday with great earnestness and power. In the evening, at the close of the sermon, he admonished his hearers to stand by their new pastor, Rev. J. W. Hodgins. He noticed in passing up the aisles that the seats were not all ticketed, but the owners were not present. It was discouraging to the speaker to talk to empty pews, as pews had very indifferent ears. He did not know whose fault it was, probably it was to him the laxity in this respect was due. The people should be loyal to their church, no matter who preached the word.

Mr. Powell announced that Mr. Hodgins would be inducted into the parish next Sunday, April 2, by Canon Hill, of St. Thomas, and that holy communion will be administered at the close of morning prayers. He also spoke in eulogistic terms of Mr. Hodgins.

The good wishes of Holy Trinity parishioners will go out to Mr. Powell wherever he may be called in the Master's vineyard.

The ladies of the church will hold a meeting on Tuesday to make preparations for the reception of Mr. and Mrs. Hodgins in the parish.

Women do not bid for compliments, but they know how to lead up to them.

HUMAN JEALOUSY.

The Difference Between the Passion
in a Man and a Woman.

The man's jealousy is a stormy sea flooding everything, tearing down and devouring everything in its path—that is strong, filling his innermost heart, absorbing all rivers of feeling and destroying his mind. The woman's jealousy is a narrow, turbulent, treacherous torrent which hides its depth and high above which rise hard and silent banks;
it heightens her sensibility and strengthens her mind.

The jealous man is a wrathful lion;
he is noble, and hunger only forces him to tear his prey to pieces. The jealous woman is an infuriated snake; she is vain, and passion only tempts her to sting. The anger of the jealous man is directed against the object of his love and interrupts his love, and that of the jealous woman is directed against her rivals, and her love is intensified by it.

Jealousy makes a fool of a man; it makes him ridiculous and lowers him in the love and esteem of the woman, but a woman gains in wit and charm by her jealousy, and makes her more attractive to the man. Jealousy is a terrible, sharp weapon which a woman uses lightly in order to cut a few sweets on which to feed her vanity; often she even wounds with it the man she loves in order to enjoy his sufferings. The man disdains this cruel thing, though, did he use it, it would rarely miss its object of awakening the dormant love of a woman, of bringing hidden love to the surface and of creating love where there was none.—From "The German of Borne."

PYGMY HIPPO AND ELAND.

Two Animals of Africa That Are Practically Unknown.

There are two animals practically unknown to the outside world. These are the pygmy or Liberian hippopotamus and the Derbian eland. The first named is just what its name implies, a pygmy hippopotamus, differing from the larger and common variety in three respects only. In the first place, it is much smaller than the common hippopotamus and inhabits, being no larger than an ordinary fair sized hog; in the second place, it differs somewhat from the common hippo in the character of its teeth, and, in the third place, instead of spending its time in the rivers and lakes in large herds it wanders about through the jungles singly or in pairs, much after the manner of swine in search of mast. Owing to the fact that it does not go in herds and is hard to distinguish against the dark background of jungle thickets it is an exceedingly difficult animal to hunt or find. If anything the legs of the dwarf Liberian hippopotamus are a trifle longer in proportion than are those of the common river hippopotamus.

Next to the Liberian hippopotamus
the Derbian eland of west Africa, which the Mandingos call "Jinke Jank-ko," is today the least known of all rare and strange animals.—Outing.

The Printer's Devil.
Aldus Manutius, a printer in Venice to the holy church and the doge, employed a negro boy to help him in his office. The boy was believed to be an imp of satan and went by the name of "the printer's devil." In order to protect him from persecution and confute a foolish superstition Manutius made a public exhibition of the boy and announced that any one who doubted him to be flesh and blood might come forward and pinch him to make sure. The mistaken impression was removed, but before this time the name "printer's devil" had been attached to the boy and was thenceforth applied generally to the boyish assistants in a printing office.

The Lawyer's Habit.
The legal formality of addressing a court sticks to many a lawyer of congressional preference. It is nothing unusual to hear an impassioned orator in the house, pausing in his argument or breaking in upon the argument of another, exclaim, "Now, if your honor please!" Of course the house always laughs the slip with a burst of loud laughter. In the senate, where there are also many lawyers, it is rarer to hear the familiar words because debate there is more sedate.

Strong Lungs.
"Popley's looking bad. What's the matter with him?"
"Lungs."
"You don't say! Weak, eh?"
"No; strong. There's a new baby at his house that keeps him awake nights."

Well Provided.
"Whew! Barnstormer must have found food for thought in the dramatic editor's article this morning."
"Food? I should say a full meal.
He got a roast and also his desserts."

Poor, but Candid.
"Are you looking for work?"
"No," answered the poor but candid man. "I'm looking for money, but I'm willing to work, because I can't get it otherwise!"—Exchange.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.
And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.
And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exciting, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables;

and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.
Liquozone goes into the stomach,
into the bowels and into the blood,
to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end, when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health.
Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Lique-zone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases.
All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Township Councils.

HOWARD COUNCIL.

The municipal council of the township of Howard met at township hall, Saturday, March 24th, 1935, as per adjournment. All members present. Minutes of previous meeting read and confirmed.

Communications.
From James Gossnell, clerk county
Kent, resolution from county council stating that they would admit Mrs.
Joseph Whitwell to the county House of Refuge on condition that if she became unruly the authorities of Howard will have her removed at the earliest convenient date.

From O. M. Arnold, barrister, Bridgetown, in reference to the condition of Brown drain, stating that he considered that at present the drain is taken out of its natural course which is a detriment to lot 1 con. 1. W. E. B. advised the council to attend to same.

From Duncan Galbraith, Harwich, stating that he received $10 from the township of Harwich as their share for use of his field during the construction of the McGregor creek bridge, and as Howard had only contributed $7.50, wished to remit the balance, $2.50.

From James R. Scott, owner of part lot 84, T. R. N., stating that he would accept the sum of $250 for all that parcel of land situated on the north side of Talbot street on the south corner of the above lot, comprising about three-quarters of an acre.

From Jenks & Dresser, Port Huron, stating that the bridge over McGregor creek, 6 and 7 sideroad, is now ready for shipment and wished advice as to same.

From the Climax Road Machine Co., Toronto, stating that they were prepared to supply all kinds of road machinery at reasonable prices.

From Thos. Seane, C. E., stating that he had inspected the east branch of Bell or Crawford drain and found some bad work done in accordance with plans and specifications.

A. D. McDiarmid, commissioner on the above drain, stated that it was given to A. St. John and completed as per report of Thos. Seane, C. E.
Diarmid, printing committee stating that they had awarded the printing of auditors report to Bowyer & Co.
for $38.75.

From Hiram McLarty and W. E.
Galbraith, committee appointed to wait on L. J. Reyraff in reference to his account, stated that they had heard Mr. Reyraff considers the account very reasonable, but is willing to allow Mr. Wilson's fee of $10 if the council think proper.

From Ralph Gardiner, poundkeeper, stating for the year 1934 he had received $1.90 for poundage fees and costs.

The following persons addressed
the council:
W. Campbell, wishing to know if the council intended to reduce his assessment on the McGregor creek drain if not he purposed taking action in the matter.

B. C. Young, M. D., in reference to the removal of Mrs. Joseph Whitwell to the House of Refuge, stating that the county was willing to accept her on certain conditions which he considered very fair, and as he had written to several other institutions for admittance but was unable to get her in as she was not a subject for those institutions.

E. Brien, county commissioner, stated that he had brought up the subject of the receiving of Mrs.
Whitwell at the House of Refuge and was pleased to say that the county agreed to take her as per resolution of council.

John Shaw and Mr. Sample in reference to changing of road divisions from con. 8 to con. 6.

William Crain, wishing his statute labor to be put all in one list not in two as formerly.

Jas. B. Scott, in reference to sale of gravel pit on lot 84, T. R. N.
Edward Searell, in reference to refund of dog tax, same having died shortly after being assessed.

Accounts.
Dominion, 200 copies auditors report, $27.75; Plaindealer, tax books $1.50, circulars re last notice for taxes $1.25, notices re pathmaster's fees $4.50. Thos. Seane, examining Bell and Crawford drain $4; Wm.
Simpson, care of hall from Jan. 10 to March 4 $4.10; J. Hitt, 27¢ a inch tile, $7.50; county clerk, care of inmates House of Refuge and burial of one, $84.92.

Galbraith-McDiarmid, that the accounts be paid as read and charge to their respective accounts.—Carried.

Leatherdale-Arnold, that the report of H. McLarty and W. E.
Galbraith re Mr. Reyraff's account be received.—Carried.

Arnold-Leatherdale, that the costs of L. J. Reyraff be paid less the amount of $10, being Mr. Wilson's fee which was obtained without council's consent.—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that as the House of Refuge has agreed to take Mrs. Whitwell in as an inmate, be it resolved that the necessary papers be filled up and T. Whitwell be appointed to take her over.—Carried.

Leatherdale-Arnold, that the request of Mr. John Shaw and Mr.
Sample be granted and the lots 12 and 113 in con. 7 and 8 constitute such division and that John Shaw be pathmaster for same.—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that the report of Thos. Seane and A. D. Mc-Diarmid on completion of Bell or Crawford drain be received as true and correct and the commissioner and the commissioner be paid as per by-law.

—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that the
report of H. McLarty and W. E.
Galbraith be received as true and correct and the commissioner and the commissioner be paid as per by-law.
—Carried.

Leatherdale-Arnold, that A. D. Mc-Diarmid and W. E. Galbraith be a committee to examine grave pit sites on Talbot road below Morpeth and on Jackson farm, con. 12, Div.
4, and report.—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that E.
Searell be refunded $1 dog tax dog having died during summer of 1934.—Carried.

McDiarmid-Leatherdale, that A. E.
Arnold and Reeve be instructed to look after pit protection to abutment of Duffin creek bridge.—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that the report of R. Gardiner, poundkeeper be received.

Galbraith-Arnold, that this council deem it expedient that the municipal council should be amended to as-to give municipalities power to hold their nominations on any day (allowances for Sunday or legal holidays) and election one week later. First meeting to be held first Monday after election and last meeting on the last day of December; also giving councils power to have their accounts audited and auditors report published before the nomination and distributed on that day thereby doing away with the detailed statements published on Dec. 15th. The clerk to send copy of this resolution to the reeves and mayors of the different municipalities of the riding of East Kent asking them to consent to this matter and notify our representative, P. H. Bowyer, M. P. E., to have bill passed at next session of the Legislature to the above effect.—Carried.

H. McLarty presented a by-law re-collecting of taxes for 1935, appointing one person to serve notices of taxes on ratepayers after which all taxes were to be paid either to the treasurer or to the Molsons Bank, Ridgeway.—Carried.

Galbraith-Leatherdale, that a collector be appointed with same duties as heretofore.

Moved in amendment by McLarty
—McDiarmid, that the collection of taxes be performed as specified by by-law as presented by H. McLarty.
Amendment lost and original motion carried.

By-law appointing Jas. R. Seaton collector, was read the required number of times and finally passed.

Leatherdale-Arnold, that this council adjourn to meet April 1st for general business, at 10 o'clock a.m.—Carried.

Geo. McDonald,
Clerk.

To be happy is not the purpose of our being, but to deserve happiness.

This is Dr. Goldberg's Picture. Detroit's Famous Specialist who sees all patients personally each time they call.

EACH TIME YOU WRITE IT RECEIVES HIS PERSONAL ATTENTION

Ever since locating in Detroit many years ago, I have frequently called attention to the fact that while some specialists advertise 25 or more years' experience, they do so for advertising purposes in order to mislead the public; the founders of these institutes are dead; while the present owners could buy the furniture and the right to practice under the old name, they could not buy their predecessors' brains.

How many of you have paid your hard-earned dollars to these concerns with the expectation of receiving services from specialists who have 25 or more years' experience. But when you called at their offices you were treated by some other doctor than whose picture you saw in the paper? And how many of you saw the same doctor more than once, but each time a different one? Remember, I am doing business on my own reputation and each time you call you see me personally.

NERVOUS DEBILITY
The Latest Method Treatment is a heaven-sent boon to nervous sufferers. There are scores and hundreds of persons suffering from nervous disorders resulting from overwork, hurry, worry, business and domestic cares, bereavement, diseases, dullness, restlessness, irritability, constant indigestible fear, forebodings, sleeplessness, weakness, trembling, heart palpitation, cold limbs, utter fatigue and exhaustion. In all these cases almost immediate relief is afforded by my treatment. The use of narcotics and poisonous, sleeping drugs is done away with, and permanent cure accomplished.

BLOOD POISON
If you have traces of it you are in constant danger until cured;
you cannot tell how soon the poison will reach your throat, ulcers in the mouth or tongue, blisters have you sore throat, ulcers in the mouth or tongue, copper colored patches, sores breaking out, sore bones, hair falling out, itching skin? Call and see me. I give you a written guarantee to cure you by my LATEST METHOD TREATMENT, without mercury or potassium, and remember, not one penny need be paid until you are cured.

I CURE NERVOUS DEBILITY, VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, EARLY DECAY AND WASTE OF POWER, BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES, AND ALL CHRONIC TROUBLES.

X RAY EXAMINATION, ADVICE, CONSULTATION, FREE
If it is impossible to call, write for a Question Blank for Home Treatment. I have the most perfect system of home treatment known to medicine in existence. Many are cured by mail who otherwise would be unable to take advantage of my expert skill and wonderful success in curing. Consultation free. All dealings strictly confidential. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont., all duty and transportation charges prepaid.

HE WAS LAID UP FOR OVER A YEAR

ill Do's Kidney Pills Cured Kidney Troubles.

Now He's Perfectly Healthy and Able to Work—Gives all the Credit to the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Wagella, Assu, N. W. T., March 27, (Special).—Cured of Kidney Disease that had laid him up for over a year, Mr. Geo. Bartleman, a well-known man here, is loud in his praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for to them and nothing else he claims he owes his cure.

"Yes, I had Kidney Trouble," Mr. Bartleman says, "I had pains in my back and in other parts of my body and thought the doctor did what he could for me, I grew worse till I was unable to work."

"Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I took them all winter and summer while I was unable to work. I took in all twelve boxes, and now I am perfectly healthy. My pains are all gone and I am able to work. I heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from Kidney Disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the kidneys. Healthy kidneys strain all impurities, all seeds of disease, out of the blood. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cure such a wide range of diseases, including Bright's Disease, Rheumatism and Urinary Troubles.

Evolution of the Skate.

The earliest known skates were those roughly shaped from the canon bone of a horse or cow, and Scandinavian archaeologists claim an antiquity of 1,600 years for these. The wester of these skate skates obtained speed not by a stroke of the foot, but by pushing himself along with a piked staff. Skates made entirely of wood were next introduced. These were followed by wooden ones shod with flat strips of iron. Then were gradually developed blades skates, and finally experts evolved the Fen type, Norwegian racer and figure skates of the present day.—London Standard.

PHYSICALLY EXHAUSTED.

Lacking in courage—out of joint with everything—scarcely on speaking terms with even fair health—such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fatigued, vitality so exhausted your constitution is well nigh ruined. What you need is Ferrozene, that great vitalizer, and nutritive tonic. It's by making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that Ferrozene helps; it repairs weak spots, instills new life into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Ferrozene lifts you from the old and imparts resilience and buoyancy to the depressed. The man who enters into the happy life that comes from using Ferrozene, it costs but a cent in any drug store.

DROPPED ALL OTHERS.

"I dropped all liniments but Nerviline, because I found Nerviline the quickest to relieve pain," writes E. S. Benton, of St. John's. "If my children are crampy or sick, Nerviline cures them. If a case of cramps or stomach ache turns up, Nerviline is ever ready. We use Nerviline for neuralgia, rheumatism, and all kinds of aches and pains; it's as good as any doctor." The great Canadian remedy for the past fifty years has been Polson's Nerviline—nothing better made.

Nothing can constitute good breeding that hath not good nature for its foundation.

HATS FOR MEN.

Correct Headgear for These Who Would Be in the Fashion.

Masculine headgear is the topmost feature in the scheme of apparel. In order to formalize more completely the stipulated evening dress, the tall or crush hat is decreed a component part of it. Thus, also, does the tall hat serve to individualize the semi-formal attire, of which the double-breasted frock coat is the distinguishing factor. As to correct fashions in hats for this spring: The tall hat has considerably more bell than the vogue of fall, and the curl of the brim is lighter. The derby is very shapely, with its fuller round crown and lighter curl of brim than its predecessor. There are three different heights of crown, with conforming brims. Black is dominantly acceptable, brown and nut are the shades. The square-crowned hat, espoused principally by elderly men, is likewise fuller in crown and lighter in curl of brim.

There are four new styles in soft hats. The careless knockabout of rounded crown, height of crown and slight roll brim, which is turned down in front, while the crown can be telescoped or dented according to whim. It is in black and brown, but the nut shade in this style will be by odds the most sought for. It is a style that will find immediate favor with collegians.

The sombrero, low-crowned and wide-brimmed, also light in weight and unlike—the costliest of hats—to be worn in the mountains when camping, distinctly a roughing it, outdoor hat, especially apropos when in contiguity with a bronch, larist in hand. It is in a shade of light tan.

The Alpine, in pearl shade, is an admirable newcomer as the soft crush hat to be worn with the evening sacque coat suit. It has already been preferred to the same style in black and brown, and in summer will have undisputed sway.

Then, what might be termed the utility hat is of helle-tint, low, round crown and turned up brim. It is of fine felt, so that being crushed to pocket size and then deposited, it can come forth unwrinkled. It is primarily a traveling hat, but is intended for off-clubbing as an outing hat and also worn in practice of any of the outdoor field sports.

The crush hat has more of height and less of bell than the silk hat. The only sanctioned version is of rep silk. The imported tans have more bell, and the derbys a rounder crown than the same type of domestic hats.

Synonymous in shape, crown drooping on downward peak, are the traveling, golf and steamer caps. The distinction is in the materials. For traveling, heavier materials are used. For golf, the clan has precedence. And for steamship, both, with decided leaning to the former.

The polo cap, surfaced with heavy white silk, gossamer-quartered and raised like a halved musketeer, pointing down at back, eyeleted on top, inside of peak faced with green cloth—it is built for service as well as sport, and bespeaks the vigor and aristocracy of the game.

The polo helmet of heavy canvas is cork-lined, has head protector inside at back and inner side of brim is faced with green cloth.

The hunting cap of master of the hunt is of felt, peaked, lined with green cloth, crown not so large, but rounder, and has smaller peak than polo cap. Caps of huntsman, similar in shape and in black silk or cloth, according to time of year.

Of blue cloth with black patent leather visor, down, 45 degrees, and of white duck, with black leather band, and similar visor, also faced with green silk.

The new automobile cap is of lightweight English buckskin, with flat top, which droops over peak, and without earflaps. Another new style of dark shade cloth has straps across the wider-than-usual top, and is made with silk.

The low, round-crowned, turned-up-brim outing hat of white canvas is one, and the same for tennis and cricket. The skating cap is a knitted toque. These of silk are most redundant of color, and therefore more in keeping with the gaily superinduced by the most exhilarating of all the sports.

Links With the Past.

Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, recently said in connection with the newspaper notice of the death of Mrs. Mary Durham Swayze at Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 4th of February, 1905, in her 98th year, that there had been removed one of the links connecting the present generation with the earliest days of the Province of Upper Canada, a hundred and fourteen years ago. Mrs. Swayze was the widow of William Swayze, son of Colonel Isaac Swayze, member for St. John's (which is now the County of Lincoln) in the first Parliament of Upper Canada, 1792-98. Col. Isaac Swayze was a member of the Legislature for no less than twenty years. He died February 11, 1828.

"There is still, as far as I know," Mr. James added, "one remaining link, Mrs. James of Port Erie, Ont., aged 88, is the daughter of Captain Benjamin Hardison, who held some position in the first Legislature at Niagara, and who was a member of the second Legislature, 1796-1800. Her father was born in 1761 and died in 1821."

"It may not be inappropriate to add that Miss Susan Greeley, who died in Hamilton Township, Northumberland County, on the 7th of December, 1904, was the niece of David McGregor Rogers, a member of the second Legislature, 1796-1800. She was in her 98th year."

The Length of a Tree's Life.

Information gathered by the German Forestry Commission assigns to the pine tree 700 years as the greatest length of life, 425 years to the silver fir, 275 to the larch, 245 to the red beech, 210 to the aspen, 200 to the birch, 170 to the ash, 145 to the elder and 130 to the elm. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. A specimen of holly has been found in Germany that is 410 years old.

A GOOD DEAL OF NON-SENSE.

ABOUT "BLOOD PURIFIERS" AND "TONICS."

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way and the idea that a medicine itself can purify the blood or supply new tissue and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack and, unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied, it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics," which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well, prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

Owing to the faulty actions of the kidneys and liver, the blood becomes filled with disease germs that imperil health. These germs cause backache, dizziness, headache and lack of vital energy. Act quickly if you would avoid the terrible ravages of chronic kidney complaint. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills to-day; they cleanse the kidneys and liver complaint for all time. No medicine relieves so promptly, nothing in the world of medicine cures more thoroughly. For good blood, clear complexion, healthy appetite, the proper treatment is Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, at all dealers.

THE ARCH-FIEND OF THE AGE.

Not war, more deadly than ever this modern butchery—but Catarrh, which leads to consumption and finally kills more than any other war combined. The doctors now successfully fight catarrh with a remedy that never fails—"Catarrhazone." It destroys every root and branch of the disease so thoroughly that a relapse need never be feared. If troubled with colds, nasal or throat catarrh, or subject to bronchitis or asthma use Catarrhazone and you'll be cured forever.

Truth is established by investigation and delay; falsehood prospers precipitancy.

The English "Society for the Prevention of Consumption" presided over by the Prince of Wales, was recently addressed by Sir William Broadbent, who stated that it was definitely known that every case of consumption began with a germ communicated from some other case. There is no such thing as inherited consumption. There may be local weakness which tends to consumption, but the germ has absolutely to be planted in that weak spot before consumption can ensue. This ought to comfort thousands of people who have "weak chests" or "weak lungs." They are not forced victims of this dread disease. All that is needed is to comfort thousands of people who have "weak chests" or "weak lungs." They are not forced victims of this dread disease. All that is needed is to strengthen the weak lungs, and build up a strong body. The answer to this is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so purifies the blood and increases the blood supply, that disease is thrown off, and the weak organs are nourished into perfect health, which defies germs of every kind. People, given up by doctors, emaciated, bleeding at the lungs with obstinate, lingering coughs, are being cured every day by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery." It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant.

HOW QUEBEC WAS SAVED.

Story of a Gallant Fight Put Up by the French Against the Iroquois Indians.

The early history of Canada tells of many struggles between the settlers and the Indians, but it is doubtful if there is on record a nobler instance of self-sacrifice than that of the band of young Frenchmen who saved Quebec from the Iroquois. The story is told in Sir Gilbert Parker's history of "Old Quebec."

Adam Daulac, or Dollard, Sieur des Ormeaux, was a young man of good family, who had come to the colony three years before at the age of 22. He had held some military rank in France, and it was not long before he set on foot a remarkable Indian enterprise. Sixteen young men caught his spirit, struck hands with him and pledged their word. They bound themselves by oath to accept no quarter, made their wills, confessed, and received the sacrament.

Descending the St. Lawrence, they entered the mouth of the Ottawa, crossed the "Lac des Montagnes," and slowly advanced against the current of the river. A few days later they reached the foot of the formidable rapid called "Long Sault," where a tumult of waters foaming among ledges and boulders barred the onward way. Besides, it was useless to go farther. The Iroquois were sure to pass the Sault, and could be fought here as well as elsewhere.

Just below the rapid stood a palisade fort, the work of an Algonquin war party of the preceding autumn. It was a mere enclosure of trunks of small trees planted in a circle, and was already ruinous. Such as it was the French took possession. They made their fires and slung their kettles on the neighboring shore. Here they were soon after joined by a small party of friendly Indians, consisting of about forty Hurons from Quebec, under their brave and witty chief, Ederon, Abenahota, and five Algonquins led by Mitumeweg. Daulac made no objection to their company, and so they bivouacked together.

In a day or two their scouts came in with tidings that two Iroquois canoes were coming down the Sault. Daulac had only time to set his men in ambush before the advance canoes of the enemy swept down the river. A few of the Iroquois, under the Frenchmen's volley, and fleeing into the forest, they reported their mischance to their main body, 200 in number, on the river above. Thereupon a fleet of canoes suddenly appeared, bounding down the rapids, filled with warriors eager for revenge. The allies had barely time to escape to their fort, leaving their kettles still slung over the fires. The Iroquois made a hasty attack, but being repulsed, they withdrew and fell to building a new sort of their own in the neighboring forest. This gave the French breathing time, and they used it for strengthening their defences. They planted a row of stakes within their palisade, to form a double fence, and filled the intervening space with earth and stones to the height of a man, leaving twenty loopholes or more, at each of which three marksmen were stationed.

The work was still unfinished when the Iroquois were upon them again. They had broken to pieces the birch canoes of the French and their allies, and kindling the bark, rushed up to pile it blazing against the palisade; and as they drew a fire most they that they recoiled, and at last gave way. Again and again, however, they came on, each time leaving many of their bravest fighters dead upon the ground. At length, their spirits dashed, the warriors drew back. A canoe was hastily sent down the river to call to their aid five hundred Iroquois, who were mustered near the mouth of the Richelieu.

On the fifth day an uproar of unearthly yells from 700 savage throats mingled with a clattering salute of musketry, told the Frenchmen that the expected reinforcement had come. Soon a crowd of warriors mustered for attack. Suddenly the advanced ranks, screaming, leaping and firing as they came on; but the French were at their posts, and every loophole darted its tongue of fire. Besides muskets, they had heavy musketoons of large calibre, which scattered scraps of lead and iron among the throng of savages, often maiming several of them at one discharge. The Iroquois, astonished at the persistent vigor of the defence, fell back discomfited. The day of the French had begun upon them with deadly effect. Three days more were away in a series of futile attacks; and during all this time, Daulac and his men, reeling with exhaustion, fought and prayed, sure of a martyr's reward.

At length the Iroquois determined upon a grand final assault. Large and heavy shields, four or five feet high, were made by lashing together three split logs with the aid of cross-bars, and covered with wet blankets, a chosen band advanced, followed by the motley throng of warriors. In spite of a brisk fire, they reached the palisade, and crouching below the range of shot, heaved furiously with their hatchets to cut their way through. Daulac had crammed a large musketoon with powder, and lighting a fuse, he tried to throw it over the barrier, to burst like a grenade among the savages without; but it struck the ragged top of one of the palisades, fell back among the Frenchmen and exploded, killing and wounding several of them.

In the confusion which followed the Iroquois got possession of the loopholes, and thrusting in their guns, fired upon those within. In a moment they had torn a breach in the palisade, then another and another. The brave Daulac was struck dead, but the survivors kept up the now hopeless fight. With sword, hatchet and knife they threw themselves a chosen band advanced, followed by the motley throng of warriors. In spite of a brisk fire, they reached the palisade, and crouching below the range of shot, heaved furiously with their hatchets to cut their way through. Daulac had crammed a large musketoon with powder, and lighting a fuse, he tried to throw it over the barrier, to burst like a grenade among the savages without; but it struck the ragged top of one of the palisades, fell back among the Frenchmen and exploded, killing and wounding several of them.

To the colony it proved salvation. The Iroquois had had fighting enough. If seventeen Frenchmen and a handful of Indian allies behind a picket fence could hold several hundred warriors at bay so long, what might they expect from many such, fighting behind walls of stone. For that year they thought of none of capturing Quebec and Ville Marie, but returned to their villages, dejected and amazed to howl over their losses, and nurse their dashed courage for a day of vengeance.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger. It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McNinis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of kidney disease. Price 50 cents per box, or 5 for $1.00. All dealers, or direct by mail."

FATHER THAMES BUSY

The river has kept steadily rising since Saturday, and this morning it was up to the 16 ft. mark, which is just some five feet lower than the Thames was during the flood of last year, when all previous records were broken. Those merchants who had refrained from taking their goods out of the cellar had to begin yesterday. James Massey had a stiff engagement until late into the night, but everything was taken out. This morning there was a foot of water in the cellar.

A traveller from London said the water had fallen there three feet since yesterday at noon, and that now all danger of a flood was past. It is expected that the river will begin falling here about to-night.

A little excitement was furnished the early risers on King St. near the Rankin dock. This morning a horse belonging to J. H. Barnes walked out the back door into the rushing water of the turbulent Thames. The water was up to the stable floor, and the horse decided to walk out. The stepping outside looked good. The horse started to swim down stream as soon as he struck the water. A rescue party was organized and the steed safely landed. This morning at 8 o'clock the water was across Thames St.

OCEAN LINERS COLLIDE

Albano Cuts a Hole 15 Feet Long and 4 Wide in the Parisian

Then Followed a Race With Death for Their Piers Five Miles Away.—The 900 Passengers on the Parisian and the 300 on the Albano Were Panicked—Discipline on Both Steamers Was Admirable.

Halifax, N. S., March 27.—One of the narrowest escapes from an accident which would have horrified the world took place in this harbor Saturday evening when two ocean steamers, the Parisian of the Allen Line, with 900 people on board, and the Albano, of the Hamburg-American Line, with almost 300, crashed together about five miles from their piers. Both vessels made the pier all right, but at present the Parisian is down as low in the water as it is possible for her get with her stern half cut off, and the Albano in the adjoining dock has her stern badly twisted and is making water rapidly.

Both steamers were two days before, but had met with heavy weather and made the harbor together, the Parisian slightly in the lead. She signalled the Albano to pick up pilots. The Albano kept a little more headway than the Parisian and before the officers of either ship realized their position had approached so near as to make a collision inevitable. She was going over at full speed, and the Parisian, ordered "full speed ahead," but the orders came too late, as the Albano crashed into the Parisian's starboard quarter, cutting a hole fifteen feet long and four feet wide.

A Race With Death.
The stricken boat heeled right over to port and the passengers and crew who were below it seemed as if she was going over at once. A rush was made for the deck, where the officers had their work cut out to allay their fears. Orders were given to stand by the lifeboats, and the steamer's head was at top speed. She reached her pier and in a few minutes afterwards had sunk as far as she could and was resting on the bottom.

Passengers Panicked.
As soon as the crash occurred, both vessels whistled for help. Every tug in the harbor responded, and the Parisian appeared to be in the greater danger, several ranged themselves alongside the vessel and assisted in the pumping.

Passengers on each vessel begged the tugboats to take them off, but the little vessels clung to the sides of the great liners, and did not leave their posts until they were ordered to do so. Many passengers rushed excitedly about the decks, while others knelt in prayer. The officers were unable to thoroughly reassure them, but within a few minutes the light had been restored, and the lifeboats were hoisted out ready for instant launching, in case the vessels showed signs of foundering.

The suspense of those on board the Parisian was intense. Great volumes of water were pouring from the vessel, the engines quivering with the exertion of running the numerous pumps and keeping the vessel afloat. Half way up the harbor the Parisian's stern had settled many feet, and the list to starboard had become most pronounced, but the steamer kept on, until at last the light had been restored, and the danger had passed.

The vessel ranged alongside her wharf, lines were thrown out, passengers lowered, and the thousand passengers rushed to land as the stern of the vessel touched the bottom.

Discipline Shown.
The Albano, which was behind the Parisian, had a somewhat similar experience, although her pumps were able to keep her bow compartments fairly free, so that the alarm on board was not so great.

The Albano reached her dock a short time after the Parisian, and all passengers only a few of whom were booked for this port, hurried ashore. The discipline exhibited on board both steamers following the accident was admirable.

The weather at the time of the collision was quite clear.

Repairs Will Be Costly.
It will take some weeks to repair her, and the job will be a costly one. The Albano was in charge of Capt. Kuderhold and was bound to New York. Her fore peak is full of water, a number of plates are stove in, and her stern is twisted. She, too, will have to undergo repairs here, although it may not be necessary for her to discharge the cargo of the Parisian, consisting of about 1,600 tons, is being taken out, and a large portion of it is damaged.

Cabin Passengers.
The following were cabin passengers: F. W. Ayre, Mr. Body, J. Buchanan, F. Bull, G. G. Curtis, Miss Furlong, D. A. Goodwin, Mrs. Goodwin, A. B. Green, Mr. Joslin, L. Jordan, A. B. Jordan, Dr. Kirkpatrick, S. R. Lewis, Mrs. Lewis, Mr. Lumsden, Mr. McDonald, J. Stanley McLean, C. Milne, T. Peppin, Robert Scott, A. C. Smith, G. A. Smith, Rev. J. Sturtevant, Carnegie Williams, F. J. Williams, Alex. Wilson.

"Corinthian" Succeds.
Montreal, March 27.—Great regret was felt here in trade circles over the fate of the old "Parisian" in Halifax harbor, although the "Albano" believes it will be easily doctored. The "Corinthian," now in New York, will proceed to Halifax taking the Parisian's sailing Sunday next.

Noted Theologian Aboard.
Toronto, March 27.—Dr. A. F. Kirkpatrick, professor of divinity and master of Selwyn College in Cambridge University, England, who was one of the passengers on the Parisian, is to be an early visitor to Toronto.

London, March 27.—Nina, Dowager Countess of Seafield, has joined the Salvation Army.

ANDREW MISCAMPBELL DIES.

Conservative Organizer Never Rallied From Illness After Elections.

Toronto, March 27.—After four weeks' confinement to his bed, Andrew Miscampbell died on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 at his residence, 155 Clive avenue. Death was due to a complication of ailments, chiefly stomach trouble, from which Mr. Miscampbell had suffered for nearly fifteen years. Mrs. Miscampbell was at the bedside, and, with her brother, William Spooner, of Midland.

As a legislator he did much of a progressive nature. To him is due the credit for the saving policy of the Ontario Government. He also introduced the resolution of the Province, which was passed by the Legislature, and was introduced for the church but never passed. He was an effective speaker and one of the best informed men in the party. His services were always at the call of the party, and he was called to the council of the Province. He was trained for the church but never passed. He was an effective speaker and one of the best informed men in the party. His services were always at the call of the party, and he was called to the council of the Province. He was trained for the church but never passed.

Among politicians he was known as a clean man, a man who followed his conscience in politics and who stood for principle first. Speaking of him on Saturday, A. W. White, who was identified with him in the organization of the last campaign, said: "Mr. Miscampbell was a man of very high political ideals. He never countenanced anything except absolutely straight fighting. His devotion to the party organization of the last campaign was, in my opinion, largely responsible for the illness that resulted in his death."

He represented the constituency of East Simcoe in the Legislature following the elections of 1890, 1894 and 1898, and was well known throughout the country, where he was interested in lumbering around Midland and Orillia. For two years he was manager of the Northern Navigation Co., and in 1902 went to Saint Ste. Marie, where he was appointed manager of the steamship line in connection with the Clergue industries there. He contested the constituency of Algoma in 1904 and was victorious, but his election was protested and he was defeated.

He was born in Ireland fifty-seven years ago. His family was originally Scotch, but settled in Ireland. In his father's house in Ireland was constituted the first Orange lodge ever constituted. The funeral will leave Parkdale to meet the 8.10 G. T. R. train for Barrie, where the interment will take place to the cemetery. Rev. L. A. J. A. M. will perform the last rites for their deceased brother according to the ceremonies of the order.

Premier Whitney's Tribute.
Premier Whitney said of Mr. Miscampbell: "Mr. Miscampbell was a very intelligent, brisk and capable man. He was well informed politically and took a great interest in the welfare of the Conservative party."

Mr. Whitney remembered Mr. Miscampbell's first appearance in the Legislature and noted the remarkable rapidity with which he sprang into prominence. Mr. Miscampbell was a general favorite and was much sought after for his platform services, he being a clear and convincing speaker. As an organizer he did a great service for the Conservative party and the result of the recent Provincial election bears in no small degree his contribution to the faithful work he performed.

Died While Lover Waited.

Hamilton, March 27.—While her lover waited for her to go for a walk yesterday afternoon, Miss Belle Lyne, daughter of John Lyne, grocer, corner of Wentworth and Barton streets, went upstairs and ended her life, whether by accident or design is not known positively. She was 21 years of age and had been keeping company with Police Constable Hasselhoff for about two years. He called for her yesterday afternoon and she went upstairs to get her things. She was gone so long that other members of the family were forced to see what was keeping her. They found her lying unconscious on her bed. She had drunk about two ounces of carbolic acid and was horribly burned. Though Dr. Peters was on the spot he was not able to do anything to save her life, and she died a short time after. Coroner Balfe has decided not to hold an inquest.

An Ayr Boy Shot.

Ayr, March 27.—A fatal shooting accident occurred on the C. F. R. bridge spanning the river Saturday, when Percy Babcock was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. Accompanied by two or three friends, he was out muskrat shooting, and when crossing the bridge, he remarked how easy it would be for a gun to slip through the bridge. In illustrating this, his gun was discharged, the contents entering his face, almost instantly killing him.
