FOR SAFE RIVER ROUTE

Minister Prefontaine Will Do His Duty by St. Lawrence.

Will Sail Over Bavarian Course and Then Inaugurate Rigorous Inquiry—Sailing Master of North Atlantic Squadron Asked to Act as Assessor—Day Has Gone By For An Obsolete Navigating System

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine will leave to-day for Grosse Ile. The Minister of Marine has determined that the grounding of the Bavarian shall be made the subject of a severe investigation and that the responsibility of the disaster shall be placed upon the proper shoulders. The Minister declared that if the St. Lawrence route is to be saved the most energetic steps must be taken. He declared that he would constitute the Bavarian case one to be dealt with by the court of vice-admiralty, where the inquiry will be the most rigorous.

The Minister also announced that he had requested by wire the sailing master of the North Atlantic Squadron now in New York to act as assessor. Prince Louis' squadron had been brought to Quebec and taken down the river without the aid of pilots. The charts alone had been used and the sailing master would be able to render valuable assistance in getting at the bottom of a matter in which the trade of the world was interested. The Minister and party will leave to-day, and after boarding the Druid at Quebec will go over the course followed by the Bavarian and ascertain exactly what there is in the claim that such a light was not burning when the steamer went on the rocks. The light referred to by Mr. Prefontaine is not a channel light and should have little bearing on the question. The Minister has come to the conclusion that the days are over when valuable steamers can be navigated in the St. Lawrence by a system comprising church steeples, barn doors and old trees.

When the Minister was told that business men on both sides of the Atlantic would support him in the campaign undertaken, but that he would have to look out for the politicians, he replied, "I will do my duty to the St. Lawrence route regardless of consequences."

LABRADOR EXPLORERS ALIVE.

Lillon Wallace and Mrs. Hubbard Are

New York, Nov. 10.—Dillon Wallace, at the head of the expedition now exploring Labrador, is well, and has penetrated the country which cost Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., his life. This information was received Wednesday by Caspar Whitney in this despatch from St. John, Nfld.

"Lake Michikamau, Sept. 4.—Proceeding with Eastern to Ungava. Return in winter. Richards homeward bound, bearing letters. All well. Dillon Wallace.

This despatch was sent by James Richards, a member of Wallace's party, who has returned to St. John's on his way to New York. Mr. Whitney states that the party must have reached Ungava, and that if they are to return in the winter they are probably now making the journey on snowshoes.

Mrs. Hubbard Successful. Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Hubbard, Jr., who has been exploring in Labrador, and for whose safety fears were entertained, yesterday reported her successful completion of the expedition. The following telegram signed by her, and dated Wednesday at Chateau Bay Que., was received yesterday by Herbert L. Bridgman of Brooklyn: "Successful. Will return home by the steamer King Edward."

TEACH AGRICULTURE IN SCHOOL

Secretary Wilson Favors It and So Does C. C. James of Ontario.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—The tenth annual session of the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers was begun here yesterday with an address of welcome by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

The secretary spoke enthusiastically regarding agricultural education, especially recommending the teaching of the elements of that science in the common and secondary schools. The address was replied to by C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Toronto, Ont., who responded heartily to the suggestions of the secretary regarding educational advantages.

TRIES TO ROB EXHIBIT.

French-Canadian Plots to Steal Nuggets From Canadian Pavilion.

London, Nov. 10.—(C. A. P.)—According to a Belgian newspaper there was an attempt some days ago to rob the Canadian exhibition at Liege. A French-Canadian named Hector Robert, for some time a resident in France and also an interpreter at Liege, approached an employee of the Canadian pavilion, and proposed that gold nuggets representing a value of 100,000 francs, should be abstracted. The employee agreed, but communicated with the police. A trap was laid and Hector Robert was caught in the act.

Markham Economist Gunned.

Markham, Nov. 10.—An explosion of gasoline in the office of The Markham Economist shortly after noon yesterday completely wrecked the building and caused a fire loss of $2,000. The office of The Markham Sun was last night placed at the disposal of The Economist, and the oldest county paper in York will be issued as usual.

KENT COUNTY WITHOUT J. P.'S

Commission Arrived This Morning for New Officers and Old One Ceases

List is That Formerly Published in The Planet—Notices Being Sent Out

An interesting condition exists in Kent County to-day. By the Provincial commission received by Clerk of the Peace H. D. Smith this morning the appointment of all the present Justices of the Peace is cancelled and until the new Justices are sworn in no one is authorized to act. The list of new Justices named in the commission is precisely that published in The Planet a little over a week ago—and the gentlemen then mentioned will be sworn in at once. The commission is dated November 8th, and from and after that date all old J. P.'s who are not re-appointed cannot act and all new J. P.'s cannot act until they qualify. The new Justices must qualify on or before Jan. 11, 1906, at which time their appointment will expire.

Notices were sent out by the Clerk of the Peace to-day to all appointees, and the work of swearing in will be commenced immediately.

NEW DUTIES

Principal Plewes Leaves for Toronto to Attend Initial Meeting of Educational Council

Principal J. W. Plewes, of the Central school, left this afternoon for Toronto, to attend the initial meeting of the Provincial Educational Council, of which he was recently appointed a member, called by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for to-morrow morning. The meeting is for the purpose of organizing and considering special matters to be referred to the Educational Department in connection with educational legislation and school acts to be introduced at the coming session of Parliament.

GOOD SCHOOL

Inspector Power Much Pleased With His Visit to St. Joseph's To-day

J. F. Power, Provincial Inspector of Separate Schools, is in the Maple City to-day inspecting the work at St. Joseph's Separate School.

He visited all the rooms this morning and went over the work done preparatory to making his report. In an interview with The Planet, after his inspection, Mr. Power spoke most highly of the Chatham school. "It is a good school," he said, "and the teachers are doing splendid work. I found everything most satisfactory."

Mr. Power left with Principal Plewes, of the Central School, for Toronto, this afternoon. The Inspector characterizes Mr. Plewes as one of the best educationalists in the Province.

GOOD HEALTH

Inspector Anson Mounter Says That This is a Light Year for contagious Diseases

Health Inspector Anson Mounter reports the health of the city good at present.

"This is the lightest year we have had for contagious diseases since I first assumed office," said he to The Planet.

"There are just three cases of diphtheria and two of these are almost better. There is no scarlet fever whatever in the city now. The scavengers have cleaned out all of the alleys but one, and this one will be cleaned out next week. We will then be in good shape for the winter."

"There are far less truants this term than last year, and the boys who are out of school now are all employed in helping to provide food for the families to which they belong."

SCHOOL TRUSTEES

City Clerk Merritt has issued the proclamation for elections to the Board of School Trustees to fill the vacancies created by the resignations of Messrs. Robertson, Paxton and Bensen. Nominations will take place at twelve noon in the Council Chambers, Harrison Hall, on Friday, Nov. 17th, as announced in yesterday's Planet.

A MUTINOUS OUTBREAK

3,000 Sailors and Artillerymen Rebel at Cronstadt.

Machine Guns Were Employed to Quell the Mutineers and 200 Casualties Are Estimated—Majority of Mutineers Surrender, But Several Hundred Still Hold Out in Eastern Section of the Town.

Cronstadt, Nov. 10.—The heavens reflected the glare of smoldering fires at Cronstadt last evening. However, troops and the loyal sailors apparently have the upper hand. Fighting has ceased in the streets, and the town is quiet. Last night patrols were engaged in hunting down and capturing mutineers.

The outbreak started Wednesday afternoon when the sailors of the Seventh Fort Regiment revolted and, it is rumored, killed some of their officers. They marched out of the barracks and immediately plundered four spirit shops. Craved with liquor they returned and seized their arms, and then went on a rampage, firing promiscuously upon the troops and the loyal sailors. Later they were joined by many of their comrades, and fighting continued from midnight until yesterday morning, when terror-stricken inhabitants began to flee.

Several regiments with eight machine guns from St. Petersburg and Oranienbaum were landed yesterday.

Machine Guns Gave Garry Death.

During the rioting Wednesday night machine guns were employed against the mutinous sailors, who had been joined by a battalion of artillerymen from the fortress and which raised the total number of mutineers to 3,000. It is difficult to ascertain the number of casualties, but officers place the figure at 200. The sailors say their chief grievances are poor food and clothing, and an insufficient amount of liberty from barracks.

Roughs joined in the pillage, but the workmen did not participate in it.

Searchlights from warships and torpedo boats in the harbor are flashing across the waters in order to aid launches in their search for individual mutineers who are trying to escape to the mainland by boat. Though a majority of the mutineers have surrendered, several hundred are still holding out in the eastern section of the town. They have thrown up barricades, but are surrounded, and machine guns are posted at all the streets leading to their stronghold.

Trepoff Asked to Retire.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—Both Count Witte and the Emperor have made another surrender. Gen. Trepoff has been relieved from the powerful position of Governor-General of St. Petersburg and Assistant Minister of the Interior, and Russia's Premier has agreed to immediate universal suffrage. The Emperor, in agreeing to Gen. Trepoff's retirement, conferred on him the Order of Alexander Nevski in diamonds.

The Russ and other radical papers which have been campaigning against Trepoff, hail his removal with delight as being the first victory for the free Russian press.

The orthodox clergy, under the direction of the new Procurator-General, Prince Obolenski, have issued a stirring appeal to the provincial priests to aid in the restoration of peace in the country.

A World-Wide Appeal.

Odesa, Nov. 10.—The Chamber of Commerce has decided to appeal to similar chambers and exchanges throughout the world to open subscriptions to assist the sufferers from the riots at Odesa and in other towns in south Russia.

GARRISON REBELLIOUS.

Short But Exciting Mutiny at Rio de Janeiro.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 10.—The garrison of the fortress of Santa Cruz, at the entrance of the bay, has mutinied. The city is perfectly quiet. There is no revolution. Later the mutineers in the fortress surrendered to the authorities yesterday.

The mutineers prior to their surrender killed and mutilated a lieutenant. The trouble is ended and order has been restored.

Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold

IT CAN HAVE BUT ONE RESULT. IT LEAVES THE THROAT OR LUNGS, OR BOTH, AFFECTED. DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP IS THE MEDICINE YOU NEED.

It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the healing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtue by promptly eradicating the bad effects, and a persistent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be humbugged into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrups, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cts.

Mrs. Henry Seabrook, Hephworth, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in our family for the past three years and I consider it the best remedy known for the cure of colds. It has cured all my children and myself."

10,000 MILES OF EGGS

WHAT IT TAKES TO FEED LONDON EVERY YEAR.

Ten Million Sacks of Wheat, 2,500 Tons of Coffee, 65 Million Gallons of Milk, 80,000,000 Pounds of Butter, 450,000,000 Eggs, and a Great River of Beer Are Among the Startling Figures.

"Two butters, one bread," repeated the waiter, glibly, as he made a hasty hodgepodge of my bill, handed it to me with a yet more hasty "Thank you, sir—much obliged," and darted away in response to a regular customer's imperious "Albert!" The scene was a busy restaurant in the heart of London's business "city," and the time that rush-and-scramble hour when every "city man" may be found taking in food, says The Edinburgh Scotsman. All around were slatted men intent on nourishment, dashing here and there and everywhere were perspiring waiters bearing dangerous piles of dishes; much rattling of cutlery, such as a human voice. Dishes were emptied and seats vacated. A hasty flick by the waiter disposed of the last customer's crumbs; a fresh knife and fork, more bread and a clean customer filled the vacancies, and hey presto! off they go again.

I checked my bill, in spite of "Albert's" hasty figures. My bread I saw was responsible for a modest penny, my butter for two more. From what distant countries I wondered had come these two to meet through the medium of the waiter's introduction upon that city table?

Ten Million Sacks of Wheat. The supplies seemed plentiful enough, but my imagination took me to piles upon piles of butter, one for each inhabitant of that huge county, and imagination staggered. Russia, India, Canada, Hungary, the States and Austria, all aid under contribution to make penny rorts! What a capacious mouth has this London which consumes more than ten million sacks of wheat yearly. Look at it in figures—10,000,000. Is it not a portentous meal?

I would sit awhile and ponder, and so ordered coffee, of which your Londoner takes increasing quantities, while the imports for the country remain almost stationary. Anon, Albert brought me a little share of London's annual coffee—a heap—some 2,500 tons, equivalent to about 11-2 lbs. a head. I poured in the smallest drop of a dubious-looking bluish fluid—London's milk. Its annual milk pail holds some 65 million gallons of milk—no, I checked the base interrogation as to water; that is only used to make up some seven million gallons of the fluid resulting from "condensed."

Half the salmon consumed in the Metropolis is Scottish, about one-twentieth English, the remainder being supplied by the useful foreigner; good proof that I thought. The foreigner only sends about 20,000 tons of fish, but a greater portion of the 80,000 tons of potatoes. Evidently there must be more Irish in London than the census returns allow! But what a glorious meal! At I would take out of that quarter million pounds butter bill, or the £650,000 which was to pay for some 7,000,000 bushels of fruit.

Evidently the city dweller knows of the health-giving properties of fruit. Does he neglect that other healthy exercise, the cold bath? Could I be blamed for assuming that he didn't, with a water total of one hundred and twenty thousand million gallons? Surely they don't drink this, notwithstanding the infusion of 35 million pounds of tea? If tea drinking is a vice, as some people would have us believe, London must have a very bad attack!

A River of Beer. And yet so huge a mouthful of that 32d commodity, cheese, as 30,000 tons must need some washing down. But, stay, how would beer fulfill this last duty? "This a thirsty London, for it needs, according to Mr. Thomas Booth, six million barrels of beer each year to quench its thirst, and a barrel holds thirty-six gallons—seventeen hundred million "pints of beer." What a river!

The city men around me were devouring steaks, joints, fish, chops, all with a healthy disregard for digestion. The huge needs of London troubled them not so long as immediate individual necessities were satisfied. Roast beef of old England—from America; Southdown mutton—from New Zealand; "Surrey" fowls—from Russia; butchered to make a London luncheon hour.

"They served up salmon, venison, and wild boars by hundreds, by dozens, and in scores, Mutton and fatted heaves, swan and bustard"—350,000 tons of meat in short they serve us, only half of which comes from the British Empire, and none of which comes from Europe outside of these islands.

It was a pleasing picture I had conjured up: The world paying tribute in meat, meal, and malt for the hunger-satisfying of great, over-grown London. How seldom does this question of supply enter into the minds of visitors to London. How vividly does this figures bring home to us the unwieldiness of this Empire City.

But now I had wandered far away in thought from my city restaurant. I was picturing vast armies of cows, of sheep, pigs, and fowls marching on London as if to overwhelm it, and yet being devoured as fast as they arrived. Anon I pictured all London laid out as one tremendous cornfield and its five and a half million people singing the words of R. D. Blackmore:

"The corn, oh, the corn, and the yellow mellow corn,
"Thanks for the corn, with the bread upon the board";
and yet quite futilely, for the whole area of London if cultivated would only produce about one-eleventh of the amount required to feed the slingers for a year. So little spare room is there that everything capable of being imported ready for consumption is so imported. Yet commodities are cheap compared with many Continental cities.

I saw a picture of armies of butchers, bakers, milkmen, and waiters ministering to London's needs. The picture seemed to fade and finally solved itself into "Albert's" bringing me a supplemental bill for my coffee. The restaurant was nearly empty. The workers had returned to their homes. My phantom armies of cows, sheep, butchers, and bakers had disappeared, and my last coffee was cold.

"Was it indigestion, or have I slept?" I asked myself as I paid my bill.

A MAN OF THE DAY.

"A Descendant of One of William Shakespeare's Ancestors."

Mr. W. A. Hamar Bass, the present proprietor of The Era, is, it appears, "a descendant of one of William Shakespeare's ancestors," says The London Star. As everybody knows, Shakespeare's mother was an Arden—Mary Arden, the great-grandmother of Walter Arden of Park Hall, Warwickshire. Mr. Bass's father, who married Michael Thomas Bass, M. P. for Derby, in 1835, was directly descended from this Walter Arden; and their eldest son was Michael Arthur Bass, now Lord Arden, the second of the great Hamar Bass, the father of Mr. W. A. Bass. His wife, Lady Noreen Hastings, is the daughter of the thirteenth Earl of Huntingdon. The Peerage changed hands in 1819, when it was successfully claimed by Hans Francis Hastings, then a simple post-captain in the navy. The story of the claim, written under the title of "The Huntingdon Peerage," by Henry Nugent Bell, reads like an amusing romance. A nobleman in the captain's neighborhood had a favorite fox, which the sailor killed. This led to a quarrel, in which Hans challenged the nobleman, who refused to meet him on the ground of inequality of rank. On which Hans retorted that if he troubled to put in a claim he would be even higher in rank than his opponent. His friend, Henry Nugent Bell, struck by the remark, started a search after evidence, which culminated, after many droll adventures, in the discovery in Doctors' Commons of documents conclusively establishing Hans' claim, which was allowed, with the support of the great Sir Samuel Romilly, in 1818.

A Sad Sight in India.

No sadder sight is to be seen in India than the spectacle of "The Men With the Planks," staggering along under their burden. Here is a grimly pathetic picture of them, drawn by Sir Frederick Treves: "They are hillmen of the poorer sort who carry planks of sawn wood into the hills. Each plank is from twelve to fourteen feet in length, and two or three make up a load. The men are ill-clad, and the sun and rain have tanned them and their rags to the color of brown earth. They bear the planks across their bent backs, and the burden is grievous. They come from a place some days' journey toward the snows. They plod along from the dawn to the twilight. They seem crushed by the weight of the beams, and their gait is more the gait of a stumbling beast than the walk of a man. Their long black hair is white with dust as it hangs by each side of their bowed-down faces. The sweat among the wrinkles on their brow is hardened into lamentable clay. They walk in single file, and when the path is narrow they must needs move sideways. The path is in a solitude among bare and pitiless hills; the road is as old as the world; and in the weary dust of it many hundreds have dropped and died. Along it steals this patient line of groaning men, bending under the burden, the planks on their backs. Behind them a rosy-tinted light is falling upon the spotless snows, and it needs only the pointing figure of Dante on one of the barren peaks to complete the picture of a circle in Purgatory."

A Costly Error.

The want of punctuation in telegrams has sometimes been followed by serious complications. A notable case occurred some time back when a certain nobleman, while at his house in the west end, despatched a wire to a celebrated Edinburgh physician, the favorite doctor of his wife. Almost immediately following the despatch of this telegram another followed it stating that the doctor would not be required in the following terms: "Don't come. Too late." The telegraphist made the message: "Don't come too late." The medical man, construing this as urging him to the greatest haste, arrived in London, claimed his fee and expenses, amounting to £200, and by legal proceedings obtained that sum—London Tit-Bits.

A Wonderful Spider.

The superintendent of the London Zoological Gardens has called attention to a remarkable habit of the Australian spiders of the genus Dugesi. These spiders live in the crevices of rocks between time marks on the shore and by spinning a closely woven sheet of silk over the entrance imprison a mass of air in which they are able to live during flood tide.

MADE BAD BARGAIN.

Queen Victoria and King Edward Loss on Hereditary Revenues.

When Queen Victoria agreed to place the hereditary revenues of the Crown at the disposal of the nation Her Majesty made a bad bargain for the royal family.

King Edward did the same thing when he came to the throne, accepting a clear yearly sum of £470,000 (£2,350,000). At the present moment the nation is making a profit on the bargain. It amounted to £22,500 (£112,500) last year, and is increasing very rapidly.

Among the properties thus assigned were considerable portions of the West End, including much of Pall Mall and St. James. Rents have risen greatly there in recent years, and as leases fall in the Commissioners of Woods and Forests will naturally raise their demands.

They are doing so now with great success. One instance is the Carlton Hotel, for which the ground rent was only £763 (£3,816) per annum, but which is now £4,200 (£21,000), an enormous increase.

Several West End clubs have felt the increase in valuation of their premises. One of the most striking examples, however, is that of the land at No. 81 Portland place, which has advanced in rental from £5 (£25), to £125 (£625). A new lease cost the lessee £300 (£4,500).

Statistics prove that there are larger numbers of women compelled to till the soil in Europe than in America. In some countries of Europe women do a large part of the agricultural work.

This is thought to be degrading and showing a lack of civilization. At the same time there is no doubt that if an American woman could live more in the open air they would be stronger and healthier.

Young girls are often crowded into poorly ventilated rooms. Later in life they suffer from backache, spine-aches and headaches. They are not fitted to take up the burden of married life.

To get at the real source of her trouble, a woman should consult a good specialist in the diseases of women. Perhaps the physician who has had the widest practice in this class of disease in all the United States, is Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Javaline Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. You can get a medical opinion of your case from him free of charge, and your letter will be treated in the strictest confidence.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the drains and weaknesses of women, and the manufacturers. Used to pay $50 in advance for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial.

"I feel it my duty to write a few words that may be of help to some suffering," writes Mrs. Annie Richmond, of Howard, Mich. "For years I suffered with weakness and prostration, and after taking his medicines (three bottles of 'Pierce's') was cured. I would say to those suffering, consult Dr. Pierce; he costs but little compared with expense of other physicians, and his treatment will do more good in one month than others will do in one year."

DO SHOPPING ALONE.

Good Reasons Why You Should Not Take a Friend With You.

Don't take a friend along when you go shopping—that is, if it is important shopping. There isn't one woman in a thousand who can help advising you "for your own good" and resenting it hotly if you don't follow her advice slavishly.

Perhaps you're one of the people who think they don't know what they want. In reality, you know very well what you don't want—which is a long step in the right direction. And if you're persuaded into getting something you have the least feeling against you'll hate it unreasonably when you might so much better be having either your own indecision or the too decided opinions of your friend.

When you've almost made up your mind to a purchase—something a bit extravagant, perhaps—and need something in the nature of moral support, then is the time to get hold of that decided friend. You want to be persuaded into getting that thing, though you don't admit it, but when somebody obligingly helps you to be extravagant that you really need it, you get it in a hurry of gratitude for such helpful advice.

Asking advice upon shopping problems is delicate business, and you must be sure that it is likely to agree with your own secret desires before you venture to court it—Philadelphia North American.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS.

They Are Worth the Little Trouble It Takes to Acquire Them.

Beautiful hands are bought with eternal vigilance. Do you admire them sufficiently to pay the price? Any hand that is kept well is in a certain sense beautiful. An ungainly hand will keep passes for more than a well shaped hand neglected. But even the shape of the hand may be cultivated to taste.

While using the broom, dustpan, coal bucket and even during general straightening gloves should be worn. When it is impossible to wear gloves a free use of hard or castle soap about and under the finger nails prevents dirt settling. Health is the first requisite to pretty hands. "Cleanliness is next to godliness" in the case of the hands as in everything else.

A pinch of borax or a few drops of ammonia in the water, with the use of pure castile soap, does wonders. When the hands yield to only one good treatment a day it should be given at night. Oatmeal, cornmeal or bran soaked a few minutes in hot water is a good wash for hands that have become hard and dry. A good cream to rub them with after treatment is made of mutton tallow, honey and lemon juice melted together until of the consistency of cream.

NURSERY NOTES.

No one should allow a baby under one year to have anything but his bottle food and boiled water, well cooled, to drink.

Nervous children should never be scolded unless it is absolutely necessary, and should never, under any circumstances, be ridiculed.

Children's stockings can be reinforced by tacking a thin piece of black net or veiling on the inside of the heels and knees before wearing them.

A healthy child's head should be washed once every week in summer with soap and tepid water and in winter not so frequently. Frequent washing keeps the hair perfectly healthy and removes the dandruff.

A physician says that with delicate babies inunctions of sweet oil, lard or vaseline are invaluable. The oil should be gently and thoroughly rubbed in. A little massage over the baby's abdomen is a better cathartic than medicine.

To Butter Pans. Too few housekeepers know how to butter pans in the most approved way. A brush is a more thorough and a much neater way of applying the butter or lard to pans. A paint brush will answer the purpose, but one of the best should be chosen, as there is then not so much danger of the bristles coming out, and it lasts much longer. After thoroughly washing the brush soak it overnight in cold water. When ready to grease the pans melt the butter or lard, dip in your brush and paint your pans. By using a brush you can go into all parts of the pan, which cannot be done when a paper is used, and the fingers should not be used. When through wash the brush thoroughly in boiling water.

First Thing in the Morning.

When you awake in the morning yawn several times. It opens the throat and starts vibrations. Stretching sets a sluggish circulation into full pace. It wakes up sleepy cells and bustles out old tissue; it keeps stiffness at bay; prevents the joints from getting bent to stay. Your arms are not easily stretched out straight, perhaps. See if they hang straight down or are a little crooked at elbow, and if they are give them a vigorous stretching and relaxing.

A Footbath in Bed.

When an invalid is lying in bed a footbath may be given under the bedclothes and often proves soothing and will even induce sleep when other remedies prove of no avail. The patient, lying on the back, bends the knees up, and the feet are then immersed in the footbath up to the ankles. To dry them a towel is held above the footbath, and the feet are received in its folds while the bath is withdrawn.

APPEAL AGAIN

School Trustees Will Offer for Re-Election—Their Letters to the People

To the Electors of Ward No. 2:
Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have decided to ask a renewal of your support at the forthcoming election to fill the School Board vacancy in your Ward. I am deeply grateful for the generous confidence you have extended to me in the past, and should deem me worthy of a continuance of that confidence. I shall seek to prove my appreciation of it by devoting my best energies honestly and wholeheartedly to your service as your representative on the Board.

Respectfully yours,
WM. H. BENSON.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:
Ladies and Gentlemen,—Permit me to again ask your confidence and support in the forthcoming election to fill the School Board vacancy in your Ward. In so doing I wish to express my gratitude for the past and to tender you a conscientious assurance of my best services in the future, should you be good enough to again select me as your representative.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM ROBERTSON.

To the Electors of Ward No. 2:
Ladies and Gentlemen,—In again asking your kind support in the forthcoming election for School Trustees in your ward, I desire to take this opportunity of thanking you for your past confidence—a confidence which has been much appreciated. May I hope that my actions—which have ever been, to the best of my ability, honestly and openly devoted to the interests you elected me to represent—have been such as will cause you to extend me a renewal of your confidence, for which I shall be very grateful.

Respectfully yours,
RICHARD M. PAXTON.

TWO FIRES

The firemen had two runs yesterday, both of them caused by small fires.

The first one was located at "Hotel Dago" on King street near the power house. The blaze caused considerable excitement but was put out before any damage was done.

The second alarm came in at 10.45 from box 32. The fire was located in Mr. Cornell's residence. Mr. Cornell had put some wood in the kitchen oven. The wood caught fire and filled the house with smoke. There was no damage and the only loss was a few sticks of wood in the oven.

GOOD REPORT

Provincial Inspector of Prisons Visits Maple City Institutions To-day

Dr. R. W. Bruce-Smith, Provincial Inspector of Prisons, was in the city yesterday visiting the local institutions under his jurisdiction.

He inspected the jail and court house, two hospitals and Home for the Friendless, the County House of Refuge not being within the duties of his inspectorate.

Of all he spoke highly and will submit a good report.

Severely criticizing improvements, looking to further security, are, however, suggested at the jail.

This is the first visit of Inspector Bruce-Smith to Chatham. He was appointed successor to Dr. Chamberlain, who resigned to contest a federal constituency in the Liberal interests and was defeated.

BROKE DOWN

Mother of James Pritchard Visits Him in Flint Jail—Prisoner is Calm

Flint, Mich., Nov. 10.—Mother love and a mother's heart were put to the test at the jail Saturday evening when Mrs. George Pritchard, of Chatham, Ont., stood in the corridor and gazed through tear-filled eyes at her son, James Pritchard, the young man who tried to escape the lives of the prison, by slashing the throat of Hazel Pettis and then turning the knife upon himself.

"My poor boy, I would rather you had died when you were ill than ever to have come to this," sobbed the mother. "I watched over you and prayed for you, that you might get well, and now to come here and find you this way. It is worse than death, ten thousand times worse. In all our family this is the first time that disgrace has been brought upon it. I may never see you again, so I am going to say good-bye."

The incident was one of the most pathetic ever recorded in jail in Flint. It was only by supreme effort that Mrs. Pritchard had nerve herself for the ordeal, not having had the strength to call on her boy in the forenoon when the father came to see him. In the evening she had fortified herself and with her came Mr. and Mrs. William Sager. Officers at the jail calmed Mrs. Pritchard and sought to disabuse her of the idea that she would never see her son again.

The knowledge that her son is charged with attempt at murder stifles her. Pritchard is still the same cool, calculating, mechanical individual with a countenance like stone. Today he changed facial expressions to a greater degree than at any time since his arrest. He was in the work room of the jail, washing his hands. Sheriff Zimmerman stood at the doorway and a reporter ventured the question:

"How do you feel this morning, Pritchard?"

He did not look up, his eyes remaining downward.

"Oh, fairly well. I've felt better, though, lots of times." And just the faintest sort of a smile came to his face suddenly and was gone as quickly. Not the appeals of a mother, but the tears of a mother had brought it, but a joke; a joke of his own making.

The father of Pritchard has retained as attorney Clinton Roberts, of the firm of Black & Roberts. A plea for leniency will be made, it is thought, by reason of the fact that evidence cannot be produced that the crime was premeditated on the part of Pritchard. The date of his examination has been set for November 15th, at which time he will doubtless be bound over to the circuit court. It is stated that the parents of the boy will bring certifications from their Canadian friends, who know the boy, testifying to his previous good character.

Motorman Dean Not Guilty.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—After an hour and a half the jury in the Dean case yesterday morning acquitted the motorman of the charge of manslaughter. Judge Clute, in his summing up, said the point to be decided was whether the accused had been culpably negligent. The morning was such as to cause a slippery rail, and the jury should decide whether in such a case the motorman ought not to exercise greater care, or whether in fact the nature of the circumstances overcame his efforts.

Douk Dies of Starvation.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—The Mounted Police Department has received from Inspector Genereux at Prince Albert, a report in the case of the Doukhobor named Alexi Panamareff. This man was committed to jail for wandering all over the country, deliberately starving himself to death. Food in the shape of milk, soup, a pound and a quarter of peanuts, and one apple daily were forced upon him, but he eventually died of starvation.

Passive Resistance Strike.

Vienna, Nov. 10.—The "passive resistance" strike movement became effective on the railroads yesterday at the Viennese stations. Already train delays are serious. Reports from Bohemia say the situation is serious and rapidly growing worse.

Drug Combine Wants Charter.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—D. W. Bole, M. P., Winnipeg, was here yesterday and has made application for a charter forming a new drug company, which it is understood means a merger of the existing wholesale drug business in Canada.

Canada May Participate.

London, Nov. 10.—(C. A. P.)—A Tokyo dispatch says it is officially reported that negotiations to admit Canada to the benefits of the Anglo-Japanese alliance will shortly be successfully concluded.

NEPTUNE'S PERILOUS VOYAGE.

Hudson Bay Cruiser With Major Moodie at St. John's, Nfld.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 10.—The auxiliary Canadian cruiser Neptune arrived here yesterday after a perilous voyage into Hudson Bay, which the crew entered on Oct. 3, later in the season than any other vessel is known to have done.

On board the cruiser was Major Moodie, Governor of Hudson Bay. He made the trip to supply winter stores to the remote police posts in the Hudson Bay country.

Twice the Neptune struck against rocks during the voyage and was leaking badly on arriving here. The Neptune was formerly a whaler.

Search For Magnetic Pole.

Major Moodie reports having had a communication from Captain Amundsen's Norwegian expedition in search of the north magnetic pole as recently as May 22. The sloop Gloads, with the expedition on board, spent last winter in Simpson Strait, King William Land, 400 miles north of Fullerton.

NEW YORK MAYORALTY.

Election Investigation Promises to Be of Most Thorough Description.

New York, Nov. 10.—The contest over the mayoralty election inaugurated by William Randolph Hearst, the Municipal Ownership League candidate, developed interesting and spectacular features yesterday.

For 12 hours nearly 600,000 ballots in the boxes from the 1,343 election districts choked the streets in the vicinity of the headquarters of the board of elections in Sixth avenue. There they were refused by the officers of the board of elections, to accept the ballots. The order was served promptly and the ballots were then received by the board.

Attorney General Meyer said last night, "District Attorney Jerome has placed at my disposal the machinery of his office, and will co-operate with me in every way, as I will with him, in the prosecution of offenses against the election franchise."

The investigation of the election promises to be the most thorough ever made in New York City.

McClellan Gets Marker.

Mayor McClellan yesterday engaged counsel, among them Alton B. Parker, former chief justice of the court of appeals, to represent him during the mayoralty contest.

Among the attorneys aiding Hearst is William Irvin, the Republican candidate for mayor in Tuesday's election. Mr. Irvin volunteered his services.

C. P. R. PROTESTS.

Against the Allans Getting Ten Year Ocean Mail Contract.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—A protest has been received by the Government from the Canadian Pacific against the Allans getting the ten year contract for carrying the mails. The C. P. R. say that they intend improving that service across the Atlantic, as well as across the continent, and the protest is desirable for the Government to tie itself up to a ten-year contract.

The speed on the Pacific is to be changed from 12 to 17 knots, making the time between Vancouver and Hong Kong 16 days instead of 21. The time across the continent is about from six to four days, and the Atlantic voyage will be between five and six days.

COLLATERAL RUN DOWN.

Much Security of Alleghany Bank For Loans Recovered.

Pittsburg, Nov. 10.—Receiver John B. Cunningham of the defunct Enterprise National Bank of Alleghany, announced yesterday that he had recovered a large amount of missing collateral which had mysteriously disappeared.

"I found a clue," said Cunningham, "and it took but a short time to run it down, with the result that much security pledged in the bank for loans had been recovered."

Mr. Cunningham would not mention the value of the collateral found or where it had been located.

Kingsville Store Burns.

Kingsville, Nov. 10.—About midnight yesterday fire was discovered in Richard Gregory's large furniture establishment. Mr. Mayhew's harness shop was badly damaged by fire and water, but the other part of the Union Block escaped without any damage. Mr. Gregory's loss was $5,000 on building and $11,000 on stock, with insurance of about half. Mr. Mayhew's harness shop was damaged to the extent of $1,000.

The Brown Case.

Hamilton, Nov. 10.—T. Hillhouse Brown did not appear at the Police Court yesterday morning according to the program arranged. It was agreed to proceed with the case next Thursday.

Seven Firms Give in.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Seven of the firms affected by the strike of leather cutters have agreed to the demands of the union, and only half a dozen factories are now affected.

Bishop Davies Dead.

Detroit, Nov. 10.—Right Rev. Thomas F. Davies, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, died last night.

THAT SPUR

Mayor Cowan Has Returned From Toronto Where He Discussed Head Street Matter

Mayor Cowan has returned from Toronto, where he has been spending a couple of days on civic business. Mr. Cowan was authorized by the Council to obtain an opinion from outside sources on what action the city may legally take to have the Pere Marquette tracks removed from Head St.

The Mayor was successful in obtaining the services of J. S. Fullerton, K. C., counsel for Toronto, and probably one of the most prominent lawyers there being a successor to the late Christopher Robinson. It is quite likely that the opinion will be prepared by Mr. Fullerton and Mr. Chisholm, men who are considered authorities on the subject of railroads and corporations.

It is expected the opinion will be here next week. It will arrive not later than Nov. 18.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism, and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors, who lived four-score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorn.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

If you have bought a new stove, sell the old one. You can sell it without advertising, as old iron; you can sell it, through a want ad, as an old dollar.

Dr. Julius Remmonson, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspepsia should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, massaging under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

The world isn't any worse than it was when you were young. You've merely got on to it.

Successful Gathering of Chatham Presbyterian Society Celebrates 21st Anniversary

The twenty-first annual meeting of the Chatham Presbyterian Society was held in the Presbyterian church, Wallaceburg, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 7th and 8th.

The attendance was not so large as hoped for, owing, greatly, no doubt, to the disagreeable weather. Those who did attend, however, were amply repaid by good meetings, and the very kind hospitality given them by the ladies of Wallaceburg.

The convention closed with the morning session Wednesday and in the afternoon the delegates had the pleasure of visiting the Beet Sugar and Glass factories.

Tuesday morning's session was purely devotional, conducted by Mrs. Ribble, Dresden, who gave a helpful Bible reading on "Prayer." After singing there was a session of prayer by Mrs. Forbes and the auxiliary preachers.

Each session was opened by singing, reading a portion of Scripture, and prayer, in fact an outstanding feature of the whole meeting was frequent earnest prayer.

On Tuesday afternoon the society had the pleasure of listening to Mr. McCrae, Wilton Grove. She spoke of the great privilege it was to be co-workers with Christ in the great missionary efforts now being put forth, the wonderful blessing attending the efforts of these in the work, and the open doors waiting for more workers to enter and occupy.

Only one-sixth of the women of our church belong to missionary societies. What wonderful results would follow if the other five-sixths would only join in this grand work.

Mrs. McCrae has a very happy way of expressing herself, and all profited by her address.

During the afternoon greetings were received from sister societies. At the public meeting in the evening Rev. Mr. Nichol occupied the chair. In a few well chosen words he welcomed the delegates on behalf of the church and town.

The treasury report was read by Miss Munroe, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Bartlett, both showing continued, earnest work being done by the different auxiliaries.

Rev. Mr. Lindsay addressed the society on behalf of the Presbytery. The address of the evening was given by Rev. Dr. Smith, of Comber. Dr. Smith, having done missionary work in China and India, was able to tell of actual experiences in foreign fields. His words inspired to increased efforts, which, if made in Christ's name, must mean increased success.

During the evening the choir rendered two anthems, and a solo was given by Mr. Sainvol, Wallaceburg. At the afternoon session, Miss Col-well, Wallaceburg, and Mrs. Holmes, Windsor, sang solos. All of these were much appreciated by the society.

Wednesday morning was devoted principally to business. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Forbes.
 Vice Pres.—Mrs. Ribble.
 Second Vice—Mrs. Fletcher.
 Third Vice—Mrs. Munroe.
 Fourth Vice—Mrs. Young.
 Rec. Sec.—Miss S. M. McKerrall.
 Cor. Sec.—Miss F. Munroe.
 Treas.—Mrs. Bartlett.
 Mission Band Sec.—Miss Barr.
 Secretary of Supplies—Mrs. A. McKay.

The convention closed to meet next year in Chatham.

Thanksgiving services were held here on Oct. 29th, morning and evening. Messrs. Warren Martin, Ward and Putnam of Chatham, conducted the services, Mr. Martin being the chief speaker at both services. The church was beautifully decorated with the products of the fields, gardens and orchards, and autumn leaves.

On Monday evening there was a Halloween social held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, to purchase chairs for the choir. After a program of speeches, music and recitations the chairman auctioned off fruit and vegetables at small bids, which, with the price of admission, 10 cents, amounted to $10.

OUTING STYLES.

Fashions in Garb For Autumn Sport and Pleasure.

Among the paramount considerations which the autumn brings to those who ride is the thought of a new habit. There is very little feeling at this season for other than plain dark clothes, or, perhaps, pepper and salt mixtures, stripes having been but a passing whim. A skirt and coat of the season, smart and well cut, are here pictured. Slightly longer in the basque than formerly and quite close fitting, the coat with its single breasted fronts can be worn open or closed, the former aspect revealing the presence of a neat vest. In motorizing garb nothing short of leather is capable of keeping out the chill of late autumn and winter, and given a leather bodice, the coat wrap need not of necessity be the weighty affair it now so frequently proves.

For autumn shooting gowns in English style, that are not necessarily restricted to their supposed purpose, one sees a weed of snuff brown color overlaid with faint red and green lines, the hems and waistcoat of brown suede. In similar style is rough black or white frieze with facings of gray kid and a tiny collar of scarlet velvet.

J. V. WALDER.

Autumn Parasol Fads.

One of the very newest fads is the carrying of dressy parasols all through the months of September, October and even the early part of November. This year they will play a very important part in the get up of the well dressed woman, according to the New Idea Magazine. Some bewilderingly lovely parasols have been imported for late autumn wear. One lovely model, which has been sold to a fashionable New York woman to use at Lenox when wearing a dark blue chiffon cape gown, was made of four shades of blue chiffon cloth, one on top of the other, with four deep flounces around the edge. Around the stick, which was of dark blue enamel wood, was twined a piece of real Irish lace insertion. The handle was of repousse silver with a bow of Irish lace. Nearly all these autumn parasols are cut from very much darker materials, but are made to give the same stuffy effect as the lingerie parasols which have been so fashionable all summer. These new parasols are to be used in New York for driving and walking and also on all dressy occasions.

Dressing For Cabbage Salad. Cream one-fourth of a cup of butter and beat into it the yolk, then the white of an egg. Add also two teaspoonsful of sugar and a fourth of a teaspoonful each of mustard, salt and paprika. Then pour on very gradually, beating constantly, half a cup of hot vinegar. Cook over hot water until the mixture thickens a little—it should be like thick cream—and let cool before stirring into a generous pint of fine shredded cabbage. This makes an acid dressing.

A Forerunner in Furs. That fashion rather favors the short coat or bolero as a fur model is suggested in some of the advance styles. Quite a simple form, evidently designed with an eye to thorough comfort in winter, yet carrying a certain very taking smartness, is the banded bolero or cotee illustrated. It is of seal, the loose fronts falling over a high shapely belt of black cloth, hemmed with taffeta.

Leather Trimmings in Dress. Leather promises to be a noticeable garniture during the coming season, although (the leather vest excepted) it will be applied very discreetly, narrow pipings and collar facings representing the chief fancies. Black suede excellently sets off the rough ivory fizzes and blanketing cloths that appear a certainty for late autumn wear.

SURPRISE SOAP

A PURE HARD SOAP

A BOTTLE RACK.

It is Useful Either in the Pantry or Medicine Closet.

You know how it will often happen that if you go to a closet where bottles are closely packed together on a shelf one will get overturned and in falling knock down many others, and likely as not the one whose contents get spilled before you can straighten matters out will be the very one you wanted to use. Look at this little rack. It is intended particularly for the pantry, being designed to hold bottles of flavoring extracts. It is perfectly easy to make too. This one was constructed of some stuff three-eighths of an inch thick. The slots for the bottles were started with a brace and bit, but even with a knife a clever boy could do this part of the work, and the rest of it will be clear sailing. There will be not the least danger of overturning your bottles where such a rack is used. Try it.—Ladies' Home Journal.

That Stab-Like PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS

AND CAN BE CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys which are situated beneath the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys.

That is what they are for and that only. So, if you would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and herbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barling, 26 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to act directly on the kidneys, and making them strong again."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

LET ME OFF.

He may not have noticed that you are a lady and really meant no harm. Don't stare fixedly at a man in an elevator; no gentleman does this. He stares at a woman.

If you should see a young woman chewing gum don't say, "How disgusting!" in a tone of deep annoyance, but project yourself across her field of vision that she may have a chance to see the real thing. She may thus be induced to give up gum chewing and take the gentlemanly habit of smoking cigarettes.

Different Viewpoints. You've heard of the peril from over the sea.

As yellow as yellow can very well be—Or that's how it looks to a man up a tree—But how does it look to the heathen Chinese?

Watches His Pockets. "Her husband is a great detective—he never slumbers."

"That is a mean trick on his part. How in the world does she get her small change?"

That Gave Her Away. "Was any one there to give the bride away?"

"It wasn't necessary. She had forgotten to remove the 99 cent tag from her hat."

Rapid Falling Off.

"He lost five pounds of flesh in driving from the store to his house, a distance of less than a mile."

"Must have been a mighty rough road."

"No; some one stole the roast of beef out of the rig."

Practical. A primrose by the river's brink A primrose was to him and nothing more. He couldn't pawn the blossom for a drink Nor trade it for potatoes at the store.

STOP! WOMEN,

AND CONSIDER THE

ALL-IMPORTANT

FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with woman's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation: Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter. "Dear Mrs. Pinkham,—For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have ovarian and womb trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and E. Capitol Sts., Benning P. O., Washington, D.C.

Second letter. "Dear Mrs. Pinkham,—After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

CAN'T SAY ENOUGH IN THEIR FAVOR

Why Miss Gusty V. Campbell Recommends Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all Her Friends Who Have Stomach Troubles.

"I cannot say enough in favor of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," so says Miss Gusty V. Campbell, Little Shippegan, Gloucester Co., N. B. Of course Miss Campbell has reasons for making a statement like this and here they are:

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for two months and was always getting worse till advertisements led me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured me and I can honestly recommend them to anyone suffering from Dyspepsia."

The moral of this is that if you take your stomach trouble before it gets too firm a grip it is easily cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured Miss Campbell's case, stomach trouble if neglected always grows worse. In its worst stages it takes time to cure it. But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it.

A BILIOUS HEADACHE.

If you wish to please people you must begin by understanding them.—Ronde.

Is one of the meanest things in the world. To prevent biliousness use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which keep the system clean and pure, regulate the bowels, give tone to kidneys and liver. You'll never have a headache, you'll never have a sour stomach, but you will have vigorous, bracing health by taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills; 25c. per box or five boxes for one dollar.

Pinching a Pickpocket.

It happened on a race course in Russia. Among the spectators was a tall, powerfully built man, no longer young, and he was leaning back against a railing when he suddenly felt a hand slipped into his pocket in search, no doubt, of a silver snuffbox which he habitually carried. He said not a word, but raising himself up to look for a moment he sat down on top of the rail and on top of the hand in his pocket. The thief struggled in vain to release himself, while his captor showed no sign of knowing that there was anything amiss until at length the pain became too great for endurance, and the pickpocket called out in agony. Then the old gentleman got up and said as the wretched man behind him drew out a hand blue and swollen, "Another time you will keep your fingers from other people's pockets."

HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.

Ninety per cent. of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing power of resistance to fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of the bacilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there you find tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferrero's. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way it converts fat into nutriment and the appetite it gives is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs,—that's Ferrero's. If tired and weak don't put off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers.

A HELPLESS CHILD.

A weak and puny child is badly handicapped in the battle of life. It is isolated from the healthy enjoyments of its little fellow-beings. It cannot participate in their play or their study work and progress in the world; its whole life is enlivened by incapacity and weakness. Any woman who expects to become a mother ought to know what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do both for her own health and safety during her time of trial and also to insure her in bequeathing a fair measure of health and strength to the prospective little one.

CARRIED HERO TO COCKPIT.

Grandson Lives in Toronto — Grandfather Veteran of Trafalgar.

Toronto counts among her citizens the grandson of one of the men who fought with Nelson, and carried that wounded hero to the cockpit of the Victory, while the old ship flew the signal "England expects that every man this day will do his duty."

Mr. W. J. Kemish, an old navy man and a pensioner, living at 243 Brock Avenue took a keen interest in the celebrations made on Trafalgar Day. In memory of that great sea battle, fought just one hundred years ago, on the 21st of this month.

Mr. Kemish's grandfather, whose name was Thomas Hastings, during his lifetime took part in some stirring and historical sea fights. At the battle of Trafalgar First-class Petty Officer Hastings was one of the crew of the signal frigate Buryasul, Capt. Blackwood. During the battle Hastings, who was one of the crew of the captain's gig, helped row that officer aboard the Victory, and after Nelson had been shot down, assisted to carry him to the cockpit.

A few years later Mr. Hastings, having risen to the rank of a warrant officer, was aboard the Shannon during that memorable fight with the Chesapeake.

When the odds were going against the British ship, Capt. Brooke shouted to his men, "Board, my brave fellows; we shall yet win the day!" Hastings was one of the boarding party, and during the rush he had his right wrist cut in two by a blow from the enemy.

Later Mr. Hastings was appointed boatswain of the Pembroke dockyard, in Wales, and received William IV. during his visit there.

Mr. Kemish followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, and at the age of 14 was an ordinary seaman on the paddle-wheel sloop Alecta, five guns, stationed on the west coast of Africa. During his four years' service on that station Mr. Kemish saw a lot of fighting. He assisted in the capture of six slave ships, out of the Congo, and the prize money amounted to $20,000. While on the African coast a prize crew to take the captured American brigantine Woodward, with 612 slaves in her hold, to St. Helena. During the trip 188 of them died.

Upon returning from the African station Mr. Kemish was appointed to Algeria, 91 guns, attached to the Mediterranean fleet. After having spent four years on that station he was appointed to the gunnery ship Excellent at Portsmouth, and went through a first-class course in gunnery, and appointed to the corvette Fawn. Mr. Kemish was from 1864 to 1868 on the North American station. The Fawn was at Jamaica during the negro rebellion, and assisted in putting it down. Mr. Kemish was with the eighteen blacks hanged one morning before breakfast. The same vessel was also stationed at St. Andrew, N. B., during the Fenian raid, and captured two boats, loaded with rifles. Mr. Kemish has amongst his medals the given for the Fenian raid. Mr. Kemish was then appointed to the Endymion, and made a trip round the world in her under Sir John Ormsby.

Returning to England, Mr. Kemish went through yet another gunnery course, and was then appointed chief gunner's mate on the H. M. S. Vulture, doing duty as a commissioned officer. Whilst in the Vulture lying at Zanzibar the body of a famous explorer, Dr. Livingstone, was brought down the coast, and taken aboard the Vulture, and the coffin in which he was buried was made on that vessel. From 1872 to 1876 Mr. Kemish saw much service in the East Indies and the Persian Gulf. On the 4th of July, 1876, Mr. Kemish received his pension and left the service. He is also in receipt of a Greenwell Hospital pension. Mr. Kemish came to Canada in 1879, and settled in Toronto.

Lord Nelson and Canada.

Mr. Henry J. Morgan, author of Men and Women of Canada, writes The Globe from Ottawa: In a recent issue of your paper you recall the incident of the life of a Canadian gentleman—a United Empire Loyalist, who, after an exciting and eventful career, died at York, now Toronto, where he was a landed proprietor, March 28th, 1799. Mr. Halliwell, Sr., according to Salt, was the father-in-law of another eminent Canadian, Chief Justice Elmsley, at whose house he died, and by whom his remains were interred in the old Garrison burial ground at York. I presume at the Old Fort. The Township of Halliwell, in the County of Prince Edward, was named after him. Although his distinguished son, Capt. afterwards Admiral, Halliwell, is stated by no least of the National Dictionary of National Biography, to have been born in Canada, I am otherwise led to believe that his place of birth was Boston, Massachusetts, where his father, previous to the American revolution, held office as Commissioner of Customs, with a seat in the Royal Council. The son lived, as I have said, to become an Admiral, and besides receiving the Neapolitan Order of St. Ferdinand, was decorated by his Sovereign with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. Having in his later years, succeeded to the estates of the Carews of Beddington, he assumed the name and arms of that family. He was a worthy and gallant officer, whose meritorious services in every sea entitled him to a conspicuous place in the naval annals of his country.

Quick Loading of Grain.

The barge Dakota was taken alongside the G. T. R. elevator at Coteau Landing early one day recently, when, in the record time of fifty-five minutes, it was loaded with 34,000 bushels of grain, an achievement which is unequalled in that part of Canada.

Protection Asked On Coal. Ottawa, Nov. 7.—The Dominion Coal Company will apply to the tariff commission to protect the soft coal industry against British coal, which is brought out as ballast and entered at a very low duty rate under the preference. It wants a duty of 50 cents a ton of anthracite coal dust, which is now being imported duty free specially for use in some of the large factories.

Barges Go Aground.

Sandwich, O., Nov. 7.—The tug Castle, coming into this port yesterday during a heavy gale, with the barge Melvina, Montpelier and Knapp in tow, went aground on the channel bank. The Montpelier and Knapp, both light, were blown far to the east and are aground with the water down three feet. The Melvina was held safely.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

with Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It is prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Bill Raisers Sentenced.

Kingston, Nov. 7.—Farato Antoinette was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, and Giovanna Pesticcio to three years for raising two-dollar notes to tens and passing them.

SIR JAMES WATSON'S OPINION.

He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape is Catarrh. Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catarrhazone." No case of Catarrh can exist where Catarrhazone is used; it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies fail. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catarrhazone, because it goes to the source of the trouble along with the air you breathe. Catarrhazone is free from cocaine; it leaves no bad after-effects; it is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for Catarrhazone, which alone can cure Catarrh.

An Electric System.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The meeting of the Tramway Commission on Friday may be important in results, as regards the question of introducing electric power into the operation of that railroad. Cecil B. Smith, a member of the commission, and chief engineer of the city, who has just returned from Europe, where he looked into the workings of the electric railroads there, is fully impressed with the practicability of the electric system.

NO POISON IN CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

ROYAL VISIT TO INDIA

PRINCE OF WALES GIVEN EXALTED ORDERS BEFORE STARTING.

Investment Took Place At Balmoral Castle—Earl Minto, the New Viceroy of India Was Present—Tour By Order of the King, Who Has Tasted the Pleasures and Profit of Extensive Travel.

Before the Prince and Princess of Wales sailed from England for Bombay the King appointed H.R.H. to be a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, and a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire.

At Balmoral Castle the King invested the Prince with the insignia of a PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES.

Knights Grand Cross of the two orders. The Marquis of Lintilhigo and Sir Dighton Probyn were in attendance on the Prince. The Earl of Minto was also present.

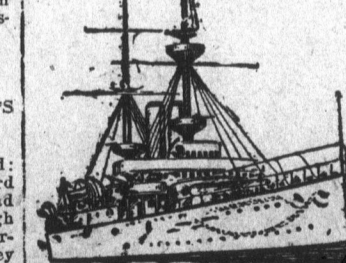

The visit to India, like the other visit that Canada remembers so well, is probably undertaken at the command of the King, who was a great traveler in his youth, and knows how important to a future King of England is a first-hand acquaintance with the lands and peoples of the Empire over whom he will one day reign. His Majesty is aware of the favorable impression the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York made upon the people of Canada, and he has seen what a profitable season was that spent in Canada for his son and heir. The Royal travelers have already seen Australia and Africa and Canada; and of the greater Empire there remains but India to be visited. Coming after several months of quarrels and misunderstandings between the highest of Indian officials, the visit of King Edward's direct representatives will have a powerful influence upon the native population.

The Prince and Princess of Wales will sail on the Renown, a man-of-war formerly used by Admiral Sir John Fisher as a flagship. The Renown was for some weeks in the hands of upholsterers and decorators, preparing for her long voyage. From the Pall Mall Gazette the following description of the Royal apartments is copied:—"Her Royal Highness' apartments open on to the promenade deck. White is the principal color used, all the paintwork and furniture being of white enamel relieved by light blue carpets and hangings; the boudoir is upholstered in white chintz covered with an all-over design of pink roses surrounded by a wreath-lattice of pale blue leaves. The fittings throughout are of silver plate, as are the swing cot, which are purposely designed and constructed to minimize the motion of the ship. All the special decorations and furnishings have been carried out by Messrs. Waring and Gillow, Limited.

The Royal suite, which number a hundred odd, will occupy cabins usually used by the ship's officers, and accommodation for the latter has been provided by the removal of the six-inch guns to make room for extra berths. A special smoker's room has been made for the use of the gentlemen of the suite."

For the tour in India a magnificent train has been built at the Lilloo Works of the East Indian Railway Company. Among the workmen employed in the construction of the Royal train are natives of Bengal, Bombay, Madras, Burma and the Punjab, besides some Chinese and Europeans. The coaches will surpass in magnificence anything that has yet been seen on the Indian railways.

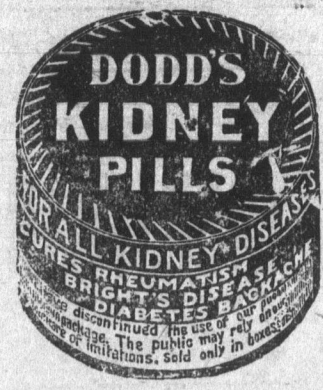

"The most interesting carriages are, of course, the two Royal saloon cars."

THE RENOWN.

riages, which are identical in arrangement, says Engineering. "Each contains a day and night apartment, a bathroom, a compartment for a personal servant, and a luggage room. The interior decoration consists of highly polished woods, the panels being of figured Spanish mahogany, bird's-eye maple, sycamore, rosewood, and teak. No paint has been used, and the natural colors of the different woods have been carefully preserved. The floors are carpeted in artistic green Axminster.

"The furniture of the Prince's day apartment is upholstered in dark green moiré, the Royal Arms being emblazoned on the chair backs, and in that of the Princess pale grey figured satin has been used. The night apartment in both saloons are equipped with furniture of polished woods in keeping with the panels. The bedrooms are of Cuban mahogany, inlaid with bird's-eye maple and rosewood moulding, the Royal Arms appearing on diamond-shaped panels at the head and foot. The train was built to the order of Lord Curzon, who took great interest in its construction, and expressed his satisfaction at the completion of so large and difficult a piece of work in India."

A number of magnificent dresses and beautiful tailor-made suits have been prepared for the Princess, the former by Mme. Frederic, the latter by A. Phillips, of Sloane Street. They are said to be among the most superb specimens of the dressmaker's art ever turned out. Even the London Times comments on one tailor-made suit of soft vicuna cloth in green and brown leaf coloring, especially woven for tiger-hunting expeditions. There is another of dark green tweed, with collar and cuffs turned back. A blue diagonal serge costume, a white alpaca, and a biscuit-colored, fancy checked cashmere are other products of the celebrated Mr. Phillips. A noticeable feature of all the tailor-made garments is the materials they are made of—British in every case.

Of the more gorgeous costumes, one can only note a ball dress of almost indescribable beauty, in the finest Brussels tulle, embroidered in flowing lines of iridescent and opalescent paillettes, some of them in a soft but vivid blue that is curiously effective. There is a soft, fine, silky crepe de Chine gown in two shades of pink, fringed and hedgerose, an English brocade satin, a pale green crepe de Chine, a white Broderie Anglaise, a superb lace dress, and another gown of pastel blue lousine. All told, there are a hundred costumes, and they comprise probably the most beautiful and extensive wardrobe of modern times.

AFTER AN EARTHQUAKE.

Ground Swells Leave Indian Railroads As In the Picture.

The condition of affairs portrayed in the cut is not at all unusual in India. In that country of frequent and severe earthquakes the railroads suffer irritating delays from occasional ground swells, which seem to do no great damage to other property, but are especially disastrous to railroad tracks. This unusual twisting of rails is one of the drawbacks to railroading in India.

A Friendly Turn.

Booth Tarkington was talking about Burns, whose poetry he admires. "In a beer hall one night," he said, "I saw a bust of Burns."

"I turned to a young man and said: 'Who is that?'"

"Burns," he answered, without hesitation.

"And what," said I, "did Burns do to entitle him to a bust?"

"Why," he said, "O, he died," said the young man, yawning.

"But his companion was a Scot. This Scot, as he filled his whiskey glass sneered and said:

"Burns' death alone wouldn't have sufficed for his commemoration in bronze and marble. Burns was a poet, gentlemen. Furthermore, he was a good fellow. Let me tell you something that should endear him to such minds as yours."

"Once in Dumfries, Burns had the job of gauger. He went about from public house to public house, seeing that a good, pure grade of whiskey was served. And he was supposed, too, to keep his eye on the unlicensed houses—to see that no speak-easies, as we call them, flourished in Dumfries."

"And did he do it? Did he, indeed? There's a fond Dumfries tradition that, sneaking hurriedly in the back door of a prosperous speak-easy one afternoon, Burns whispered excitedly to the owner, a widow:

"Kate, woman, are ye mad? The supervisor and me will be raidin' ye in half an hour."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

ON KING'S BIRTHDAY

British Battleship Renown Ends Voyage at Bombay.

Prince and Princess of Wales Enthusiastically Welcomed on India's Soil—Greeted With Salutes From Fort and Warships—Town Gaily Bedecked—Notable Gathering of Native Chiefs in Glittering Uniform.

Bombay, India, Nov. 10.—The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived here yesterday on board the British battleship Renown. They were greeted with salutes from the forts and warships and were accorded an enthusiastic reception by the immense crowds lining the sea front. The city is filled with visitors from all parts of India. The town and people alike are bedecked in the gayest attire.

The Viceroy, Lord Curzon, went on board the Renown to welcome the Prince and Princess of Wales while a notable gathering of native chiefs in glittering uniforms and surrounded by their staff and escorts awaited the Royal visitors at the landing stage.

GRAND NAVAL DISPLAY.

Prince Louis' Squadron and Flower of American Navy Present.

New York, Nov. 10.—Led by the flagship Drake, with Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg on the after-bridge, the British squadron of six armored cruisers arrived in the Hudson River early yesterday and came to anchor near the U.S. warships. The combined squadrons formed a column that stretched from 42nd to 135th street.

Thousands of people lined Riverside Park and Drive to witness the arrival of the British squadron. Lined up to welcome the visitors were the twelve men-of-war of the North Atlantic fleet, the flower of the American navy, rigged out in full dress, in honor of King Edward's birthday. Flying at the fore of each man-of-war was the Stars and Stripes and at the main the Union Jack. The British ships were also dressed, flying the British flag at the fore and the American at the main.

A salute of 21 guns was fired by the Drake from her anchorage when Rear Admiral Evans, Commander in Chief of the North Atlantic fleet went over the side after paying a special call on Prince Louis to congratulate him on the occasions of the sovereign's 64th birthday.

Last night Prince Louis of Battenberg attended a dinner given by the Association of British Societies, at which the commanding officers of the British and American ships were also guests.

Congratulations to the King.
London Nov. 10.—King Edward celebrated his birthday yesterday at Sandringham.

Congratulatory telegrams poured in from all parts of the world.

Lord Mayor's Procession.

With all the time-honored ceremonies, Alderman Walter Vaughan Morgan was inaugurated lord mayor of London yesterday, in succession to Sir John Pount. The lord mayor went in state through the city streets to the law courts, where he took the oath of office. The procession, in which the various associations of the city took part, was imposing and the route, was lined by immense crowds of people. Among the floats was one typifying Peace.

Balfour Predicts Peace.

"A century ago Pitt, standing where I now stand, prophesied war; to-day I prophesy peace."

This was the text on which Premier Balfour based his speech concerning the relations of Great Britain with foreign countries at the lord mayor's banquet in the Guildhall last night, an occasion when custom makes it almost imperative for either the premier or the foreign secretary to discuss the foreign and domestic policies of the Government.

The Premier's reference to Russia was particularly happy. He said:

"Our friends in Russia are absorbing public interest by the great movement they are making in the direction, as we believe, of self-government. The task of the Emperor and his advisers is indeed not a light one. There is not a citizen in Great Britain who does not wish them every success; and I express the earnest wish that the movement may not be stained by the unnecessary effusion of blood. We hope that the movement will bring happiness to countless millions, unshuffled by a repetition of the painful and horrible events which made the initial progress so lamentable."

The banquet custom made with all the most quaint ceremonial peculiar to the occasion.

Gin Pills Will Cure Your Sick Kidneys

OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Don't you want to be rid of that nagging, biting, torturing pain across the back and through the kidneys? Don't you want to sleep through the night without being disturbed by the sick kidneys? Don't you want to feel well and be well? Here's the way:

"I suffered from pain and stiffness in the back. Sharp pains would catch me unexpectedly, which were sometimes so severe as to produce fainting spells. Rheumatism followed, and the sharp pains were so severe that I had to take to the bed for several months. I started to take Gin Pills, and in five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone now, and I have not had a return of the trouble since. And Gin Pills gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years."

"ROBT. DERRAUGH, Winnipeg, Man."

You can't honestly doubt Gin Pills after such testimony as this. Gin Pills hold out certain relief from pain. They are sold with an ironclad guarantee to cure or refund your money. See a box of boxes for $2.50. At all druggists. We will send you a trial box free if you will send us your name and address and say the paper in which you read this. Put down the paper—get a post card—and write us now before you forget it. The Boie Drug Co., Winnipeg, Man.

HEGEMAN GETS $100,000.

Comparisons in Metropolitan Life Policies—Agents Average $600.

New York, Nov. 10.—The Metropolitan Life was the subject of much inquiry yesterday. John R. Hegeman, president, who was on the stand when adjournment was taken, was the first witness, and the expenses of the company were taken up. It was brought out that Hegeman's salary is the same as that of John A. McCall, president of the New York Life, $100,000; Vice-President Beley Fiske's salary is $75,000; that of Geo. H. Gaston, second vice-president, is $37,500, and that of Frank C. Ayers, third vice-president, is $16,250. No executive officer, Mr. Hegeman said, now receives any other compensation than his salary.

Hegeman said that 35 years ago less than $250,000 would have bought out the company, while to-day $250,000,000 would not do it. He remembered when the company had to go out and borrow the money to pay a death claim, while now the company has a death claim every minute of the 24 hours, and is able to pay them.

It was brought out that the average salary of an agent in the field is $11.52 a week. An assistant superintendent's salary averages $18 a week, which, with commissions, may run to $25 weekly. The average salary of superintendents is from $25 to $50 a week.

Missouri Must Show Cause.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Notwithstanding that State Superintendent of Insurance Vandiver Wednesday night officially suspended the certificate of authority of the New York Life Insurance Co. to transact business in Missouri, it was stated at the St. Louis offices of the company that no attention was being paid to the order. Judge Adams issued a restraining order directing Vandiver to appear before the Federal Court Nov. 20 to show cause why he should not be prevented from enforcing his order, and ordering that, pending the hearing, the order be not enforced.

THE PATRONAGE QUESTION.

Three Hastings Ridings and Lennox Conservatives Pass Resolution.

Belleville, Nov. 10.—A meeting of Conservatives was held yesterday afternoon, which was attended by delegates from East, West and North Hastings, and Lennox. The attendance was large. The question of patronage was discussed by many of the speakers, and the following resolution finally passed:

"That this meeting desires to place on record its unlimited confidence in the Government of Ontario and our leader, Hon. J. P. Whitney, and in our representatives. While we do not advocate the adoption of the spoils system, yet we do respectfully urge upon the Government that when our members represent that any officeholder in their ridings has forfeited his right to retain office, that such representation should be acted upon by the Government without requiring further evidence, that the responsibility rest upon our members and ourselves."

Socialist Accuses King.

Brussels, Nov. 10.—Yesterday's session of the Chamber of Deputies was marked by violent attacks made by M. Bertrand, Socialist, on King Leopold, whom he accused of violating the constitution and seeking to force Parliament to undertake the extensive project of fortifying Antwerp. The president of the House rebuked M. Bertrand amid a scene of disorder.

Our Overcoats

It takes more cloth to cut them and more time to make them but no more money to buy them than it does the ordinary "made to sell" kinds you find in most stores.

The most popular styles are the broad shouldered, long, loose, luxurious garments, with liberal lapels and deep vents. They are made both single and double breasted, from plain Melton and fancy mixtures. If you are out for a winter coat you can't afford to miss seeing these. Dozens of styles priced from
