KARABURUN TAKEN; TO LESSEN THE SUBMARINE MENACE

German Undersea Boats Were Getting Close to Saloniki.

Occupation Effected Calmly and Without Incident.

London, Jan. 31.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Saloniki says: "Authoritative statements issued in explanation of the occupation of the Greek fort on the Karaburun peninsula, says it was due to the fact that a few days ago a German submarine approached to within a few miles of the entrance of the channel leading to the port of Saloniki and torpedoed a transport conveying a large number of mules. The transport was beached and a majority of mules were saved. This attack in Greek territorial waters demonstrated to the Entente naval authorities the necessity of energetic policing of the coast to guarantee full security to the numerous warships and the still more numerous transports dotting the gulf and roads leading to Saloniki, it being recognized that it was impossible to allow enemy transports to navigate with impunity under the guns of Karaburun fort and thus be in position to penetrate the roadstead of Saloniki.

Consequently, says the statement, after an agreement between the allied navies, one naval division, comprising battleships, cruisers, torpedo boats and trawlers, anchored near Karaburun point and detachments of French troops took possession of the cape, which some minutes previously had been evacuated by the Greek troops. The operations were executed with the greatest calm and without incident. "Karaburun is now occupied by French and British land forces and British, French, Russian and Italian naval detachments. General Maschopoulos, commander of the Greek army in Macedonia was informed that the decision of the allied military and naval authorities was in conformity with instructions from the Entente governments and also the circumstances which rendered the measure indispensable. Then the Greek troops forming the garrison of the fort, numbering two hundred, embarked and were brought to Saloniki.

The flags of the allied powers with the Greek colors in the centre, are now flying over the fort. LANDING AT MYTILENE Paris, Jan. 31.—A despatch from Athens to the Havas Agency, dated Sunday, says that French troops continue to land on the Island of Mytilene, according to an aeroplane flown. From there an aeroplane flew daily makes daily reconnaissances toward the coast of Asia Minor.

GERMANS USE RUSSIANS TO DO DANGEROUS WORK AGAINST ALLIES ON WESTERN FRONT

France and Belgium Honey-combed With German Spies.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 31.—Captain W. K. Couler, formerly of Toronto, was among the officers who returned yesterday on the Metagama. He went overseas with the first Canadian contingent and was transferred to the 12th Manchester Regiment and has been in the trenches with that unit ever since.

BRITISH TOO HUMANE "The British are too humane in their method of warfare," he said, when interviewed. "Shortly before I left the trenches we captured two prisoners. Our captives saw them moving about in front of our trenches and several men went into the darkness and circling around came up behind and captured them. They turned out to be Russians that had been captured by the Germans at Warsaw. They told us that the Germans had brought hundreds of Russian prisoners over from the eastern to the western front. They use these Russians for building railways, trenches and all sorts of fatigue work. Anything they don't wish their own men to do, because it may cause a great loss of life they send the Russian prisoners to execute, and do not care how many are killed. "These Russians were very happy to get once more among friends, and imparted much valuable information."

DUTCH BOAT IS DAMAGED Steamer Maasdyk Also Met With Accident, and Two Killed.

London, Jan. 31.—A Lloyd report that the Dutch steamer Thuban has been damaged and towed up the Thames, also that the Dutch steamer Maasdyk met with an accident in Rotterdam, according to the latest shipping reports available.

GERMAN GALL "France and Belgium to-day are one mass of spies from end to end, every movement is watched carefully and reported at once. The German spy system is remarkable. CONSERVATIVES OF BRANTFORD RIDING IN ANNUAL MEETING

Elect Harry Cockshutt as President and Messrs Jennings, Brewster and Hollinrake as Vice Presidents—Resolutions of Confidence Passed in the Dominion and Ontario Governments and in Lt. Col. Cockshutt—The Local Members of the Party are Full of Confidence and Splendidly Officered.

The annual meeting of the Conservative Association of the Riding of Brantford took place in the Borden club rooms Saturday night. Mr. A. L. Borden, President, in the chair. There was a good and representative attendance, not as large as in previous years, but this for the very excellent reason that more members from the Borden Club have gone to the front than from probably any other organization in this city. The gathering was characterized by an inspiring note of pride in connection with the fine record of the Ontario and Dominion Governments, and of confidence in the retention of his able services as member. The name of the new President was acclaimed amid great enthusiasm.

FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE. The treasurer's report showed a small balance on hand and the finances in good shape. Secretary N. D. Neill gave a brief resume of the work

We hope that Sir Robert Borden, whose broadminded statesmanship and integrity of purpose are acknowledged by all classes, will long be spared to occupy the position which he so pre-eminently adorns.

THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT Moved by W. S. Brewster, seconded by H. Jennings, Brantford Twp., That we desire to convey to Premier Hearst and the members of the Ontario Cabinet our appreciation of the watchful and progressive manner in which they are conducting the affairs of the Province.

LADY AUCKLAND AND SON FALL INTO SEA

While attempting to fly from West Palm Beach to Miami with his mother, Lady Auckland, of the late of Wight, as a passenger, the Honorable Frederick C. G. Eden, fell with his Curtiss flying boat into the ocean. He had gone as far as Delray, a distance of fourteen miles, when he encountered a strong northeast wind and his engine began giving trouble. He was unable to control the aeroplane and it foundered into the sea. Both were rescued with much difficulty. Lady Auckland is the daughter of the late Colonel George Morland Hulford.

SPECTACULAR BLAZE IN A COAL YARD

Charcoal Shed, With Contents, at Gibson's Yard, Went Up in Flames.

As spectacular a blaze as Brantford has witnessed in a long time, occurred last night or rather early this morning at the Gibson coal yards on Clarence street by the G.T.R. tracks, when a shed, containing from 1500 to 2000 bushels of charcoal, was burned to the ground. The alarm was turned in at a quarter to four this morning, and two trucks from the Central department rushed to the scene. The charcoal, once it took fire, burned rapidly and the flames soared high in the air, causing a vivid glow to appear in the sky and giving the impression to many that all that portion of the city must be ablaze. From the charcoal shed a runway led to the great main three-story shed, which is about a block long, and the firemen immediately set to work to try and keep the fire from spreading to this portion of the yard. The fire-fighters had to work under great difficulties. The rain was falling steadily and the yard was very muddy. Nevertheless, several streams of water were turned on and at the end of half an hour, the blaze was isolated to the charcoal shed, which was not entirely extinguished until about 7 o'clock. The loss amounted to about $400.

BOULEVARDERS KEPT COOL WHEN ZEPPELINS CAME

Paris Streets Crowded Sunday Night, But No Panic.

ZEPPELS FAILED IN THEIR PURPOSE

Weather Conditions and Good Defence Drove Them Back.

Paris, Jan. 31.—It was at 9.45 last night that an alarm was given of the approach of a Zeppelin in the direction of Paris. In a few minutes the city was plunged in darkness. Being Sunday night, the boulevards were thronged with promenaders and the theatres, moving picture houses and cinemas were crowded. The toll of death from the raid of the night before had made no impression on the cool Parisians who displayed the insatiable curiosity for which they are renowned and flocked into the streets and gazed skywards in the hope of getting a glimpse of the invader, unmoved by the possible prospect of the horrible death missiles which might fall from the gloomy sky. Nothing, however, was seen and at 11.15 the firemen's bugles announced that all danger had passed and a number of lights sufficient to enable persons homeward bound to find their way were turned on. The failure of the Zeppelin, believed to have been its purpose, a raid on Paris, was due the authorities say both to the weather conditions and the danger from the Paris air craft defence. The weather, although misty, was clearer than on Saturday night and the air destroyer flotilla, having a brighter sky, swarmed rapidly over the section of the city toward which it was reported the Zeppelin was approaching. The bodies of six more victims of the Zeppelin raid of Saturday night—two men, two women, a girl aged four and a baby of five months—which had been dug out of the debris by salvage corps, have been taken to the morgue. Two of them had been buried in the ruins of a house where two unexploded bombs, weighing 150 pounds each, were found. The search of the wreckage continues under the supervision of the prefect of police. The total dead now at the morgue number 23.

FIVE AEROPLANES

Five French aeroplanes engaged the Zeppelin which on Saturday night last dropped bombs on Paris, killing and wounding more than a score of persons, according to day authorities. The search of the wreckage of the Zeppelin was a machine piloted by a sergeant who was captured with the upper air. He pursued with savage energy the statements says, but soon exhausted all his stock of cartridges and was obliged to abandon the pursuit. He was captured with his machine which was damaged. The Zeppelin was next picked up by a sub-lieutenant as it flew over the suburbs westward. He went up to within 50 to 100 yards of the airship and stuck to his quarry with grim determination sometimes flying above, sometimes below and sometimes on a level in order to escape the fire from the Zeppelin's machine guns. For 53 minutes the chase continued the machine guns being fired used on both sides until finally the aeroplane's engine broke down and the sub-lieutenant was obliged to descend. Major-General Leonard Wood before the House Military Committee urged a standing army of 250,000.

Hungarians are Ill-treated By Their Austrian Brothers

Hungarian officers had been transferred to other units. The correspondent quotes Herr Urmancy as saying: "It seems to me that the Austrians intend to exterminate us by such means." The speech, according to the correspondent, created tremendous feeling in the House, but the spaces in the newspapers the following day, which were to have been devoted to it, were mostly blank, owing to the activity of the censor. Even Count Tisza, a minister, says the correspondent, "was stirred by the facts produced by the speaker, and promised to investigate them immediately."

BOULEVARDERS KEPT COOL WHEN ZEPPELINS CAME

Paris Streets Crowded Sunday Night, But No Panic.

ZEPPELS FAILED IN THEIR PURPOSE

Weather Conditions and Good Defence Drove Them Back.

Paris, Jan. 31.—It was at 9 45 last night that an alarm was given of the approach of a Zeppelin in the direction of Paris. In a few minutes the city was plunged in darkness. Being Sunday night, the boulevards were thronged with promenaders and the theatres, moving picture houses and cafes were crowded. The toll of death from the raid of the night before had made no impression on the cool Parisians who displayed the insatiable curiosity for which they are reputed and flocked into the streets and gazed skywards in the hope of getting a glimpse of the invader, unmoved by the possible prospect of the horrible death missiles which might fall from the gloomy sky. Nothing, however, was seen and at 11.15 the firemen's bugles announced that all danger had passed, and a number of lights, sufficient to enable persons homeward bound to find their way were turned on. The failure of the Zeppelin to carry out last night what is believed to have been its purpose, a raid on Paris, was due the authorities say both to the weather conditions and the danger from the Paris air craft defence. The weather, although misty, was clearer than on Saturday night and the air destroyer flotilla, having a brighter sky, swarmed rapidly over the section of the city toward which it was reported the Zeppelin was approaching.

The bodies of six more victims of the Zeppelin raid of Saturday night—two men, two women, a girl aged four and a baby five months—which had been dug out of the debris by salvage corps, have been taken to the morgue. Two of them had been buried in the ruins of a house where two unexploded bombs, weighing 150 pounds each, were found. The search of the wreckage continues under the supervision of the prefect of police. The total dead now at the morgue number 23.

FIVE AEROPLANES. Five French aeroplanes engaged the Zeppelin which on Saturday night last dropped bombs on Paris, killing and wounding more than a score of persons, according to an authoritative statement issued yesterday. The first to attack the German raider was a machine piloted by a sergeant who was occupied patrolling the upper air. He pursued with savage energy, the statement says, but soon exhausted all his stock of cartridges and was obliged to abandon the pursuit. One of two machines which were armed with cannon, had by this time managed to climb up high enough to open an intense fire on the Zeppelin which probably was hit, but not badly damaged.

The Zeppelin was next picked up by a sub-lieutenant as it flew over the suburbs westward. He went up to within 50 to 100 yards of the airship and stuck to his quarry with grim determination sometimes flying above, sometimes below and sometimes on a level in order to escape the fire from the Zeppelin's machine guns. For 53 minutes the chase continued the machine guns being freely used on both sides until finally the aeroplane's engine broke down and the sub-lieutenant was obliged to descend.

Major-General Leonard Wood before the House Military Committee urged a standing army of 220,000.

Hungarians are Ill-treated By Their Austrian Brothers

London, Jan. 31.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Budapest quotes long extracts from a speech in the Hungarian parliament, January 20, by Herr Urmanczy, leader of the Independence party, on the subject of the ill-treatment of the Hungarians by the Austrians. The speaker gave details of a dozen instances in illustrating his charge that Hungarian soldiers are being persecuted, insulted, humiliated and beaten by their Austrian officers. He says that virtually all the Hungarian regiments were now officered by Austrians, and that their

Hungarian officers had been transferred to other units. The correspondent quotes Herr Urmanczy as closing his speech with the charge: "It seems to me that the Austrians intend to exterminate us by such means."

The speech, according to the correspondent, created tremendous feeling in the house, but the spaces in the newspapers the following day, which were to have been devoted to it, were mostly blank, owing to the activity of the censor. Even Count Tisza, the premier, says the correspondent, "was stirred by the facts produced by the speaker, and promised to investigate them immediately."

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID DISEASE

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions. They affect all the organs and functions, membranes and tissues, and are directly responsible for the readiness with which some people contract disease.

For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects.

Help to Make Her Dream Come True

SHE is one of some Three Million Belgians who, since they refused to sell their honor to Germany, have lived on the brink of starvation. A thriving industrial people, used to life's comforts, they have been reduced to a state where they dream, not of luxuries or pleasures, but of having enough to eat!

True to their character as the war has unmasked it, the Germans callously refuse to help the starving. The task of feeding them has been undertaken by Belgium's Allies and Neutral Nations, through the provided by voluntary contributions and administered with wonderful economy and efficiency by a neutral Commission. Absolutely none of the supplies go to Germans, and most of the food taken into the country is paid for by Belgians who have still a little money. But to feed those who cannot pay, nearly $2,500,000 a month is needed!

Brantford Riding.

The annual meeting of the Conservative Association of this Riding was representative of the stalwarts from one end of the constituency to the other, and the election of officers resulted in a splendid selection.

The election of Harry Cocksbutt as president was received with loud applause and will be universally popular. He has long been one of the party pillars and is the possessor of exceptional executive abilities.

Associated with him as vice-presidents he has three thoroughly tried and true adherents of the cause in Messrs. H. Jennings, W. S. Brewster and Art Hollinrake, while with Mr. Neill as secretary, Mr. S. Weir as assistant and Mr. A. E. Watts as treasurer there is a filling of the head executive offices which it would be very hard indeed to beat or even equal.

The Conservatives of this riding take just pride in their cause and their member and have a feeling of warranted confidence with regard to the retention of both when the next appeal shall be made to the people.

Soldiers' Aid Commission.

There should be a large attendance of all classes at the meeting to be held in the Council Chamber tomorrow (Tuesday) night for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

Hitherto returned soldiers have been looked after by a local committee under the chairmanship of Ald. Dowling and the work has been well done. Now it is the intention to have the task accomplished as a part of the provincial organization, as it is felt that even better results can thus be secured.

The object is to look after returned soldiers, and, if they are able to do anything, to find them places of work. If they are so injured as to be unable to follow their usual avocations, then they will be afforded training enabling them to take up some other calling.

There is no need to dwell upon the importance of this thing. Hurrahs are very seemly when the boys go away, but practical help when they return is of all the greater importance. The Council Chamber ought to be filled by those anxious to do their bit in the direction named.

and proud of his statement that if it came to a case of it being conscription or losing the war, then he was a conscriptionist. Such an advanced position found a ready response in the hearts of most of them. Mr. Jones deprecated Mr. Lemieux's speech in which he said Premier Borden's attendance at the British Cabinet was "playing politics." Such a criticism did not meet the approval of the Conservative party. Premier Asquith himself had said that Canada would be represented in the Council of Peace.

MR. SANDERSON.

Mr. John Sanderson in moving the resolution of confidence in Sir Robert Borden referred briefly to the recent charges in the House of Commons concerning the Shell Commission. He stated that his private business interests often took him to Ottawa in connection with war orders, and he had never seen anything like the nature of graft. He had met many people seeking war orders, but none of them ever hinted that affairs were managed except in a straight business like way.

Mr. Sanderson stated that the prices offered for various commodities were very low. Manufacturers understood to lose on some contracts. The shoe prices only gave a few cents profit on each pair of shoes made. A great many manufacturers made nothing out of the orders, and he himself knew of those who lost money. Regarding the shells, the people of Ontario had to be started working somehow. Nobody knew anything about how to manufacture them. To spin a plant to produce ammunition costs tremendously, so manufacturers had to get a good price to be induced to enter into contracts, and he himself wanted in the process was good for nothing else.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY ALWAYS BEST.

In seconding the resolution Mr. Thomas said he was more than pleased to hear the great charges denied by such an authoritative source as Mr. Sanderson. The Liberals were always poor prophets. The Conservative party was the best party for the country and the Empire. He was glad to see so many boys in khaki. Had not the Conservatives taken through consideration Canada to put up with the Liberal party? Would only be sending to the front isolated units and no glory would have reflected on a unit's country by their deeds.

MR. BREWSTER.

In the Ontario Government, said Mr. Brewster, we had a government which had been doing things. Not a dollar had been mis-spent in its term of office. We could be proud of Mr. Hearst. He was a strong character and an able man.

Referring to the Shell Commission charges and the insinuations that politics dictated the choosing of officers for overseas service, Mr. Brewster showed these charges to be ridiculous. In Brantford there were four firms making shells, and three of them were Liberal concerns, and the fourth Ker and Goodwin, in which he was interested, consisted of about half Liberals and half Conservatives. Mr. Carvell in the House had spoken of the Ker and Goodwin enterprise as a mushroom affair. As they all knew the establishment had been in operation in Brantford for many years. All over Canada more than half who got orders were Liberal concerns. No enormous profits had been made. The speaker next took up the absolutely false charge in connection with men offering their services for the front that only Conservatives could secure commissions. They had only to look at the Brantford record in relation to this. The first Colonel to go to the front was from here—a Liberal.

MR. REVILLE.

Mr. Reville stated that he was in close touch as anyone with Mr. Cocksbutt and knew that his duties, always numerous, had been added to by the war. He was a tremendously able representative in the House of Commons and also supervised and looked after a large amount of work at home.

MR. SCACE.

Mr. Scace said that when he had been President, he had looked after matters during an absence of Mr. Cocksbutt from the city, and he then realized for the first time the arduous nature of the duties falling upon that gentleman as representative.

AN ADVANCED STAND.

Mr. S. Alfred Jones, who also spoke added his words of appreciation. They had been thrilled by the splendid speech of Mr. Cocksbutt in the House.

Mr. A. L. Baird also spoke a few words appreciative of the worth of Lt.-Col. Cocksbutt, and then the member for South Brant, who received a fine reception, made a suitable reply.

LT. COL. COCKSHUTT.

He appreciated very much, he said, the resolution and the kind remarks made about him. The life of a member was not quite as easy as it looked. Many of our members were doing splendid work in raising battalions. There were 15 men in khaki on the Conservative side alone. But there was a great deal yet to do. Mr. Cocksbutt referred with pride to the record of the Conservative Association in sending men to the front. If all the men to the front were here this hall would be filled three times over, declared Mr. Cocksbutt. Brantford had nearly done the record for the number of men sent in proportion to population, and he had been told that by Sir Herbert Ames. Two or three cities in the West were ahead of Brantford, but considering there was a greater proportion of men there than here, it was doubtful if their record exceeded that of Brantford.

SHELL CHARGES.

Mr. Cocksbutt then referred to the recent debates in the House. There had been some nasty stuff fired off, he said. The first part of the debate proceeded nicely. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in a good mood; Dr. Clark was free from criticism and Hon. Mr. Oliver, usually a caustic opponent, did not score the Government.

Regarding the shell commission charges, Mr. Cocksbutt pointed out that the shell commission had been appointed by the Canadian Government, but it was not under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Government. He stated that unless England orders an investigation, it is not in the province of the Canadian Government to investigate. Carvell and Cugsley's charges were to be sent to London, and if the Imperial Government wanted an investigation, it could order it.

LOCAL ORERS.

Regarding the shell commission Mr. Cocksbutt stated that he had begged one firm months ago to make shells, but they did not want to touch them. Since then large orders had been undertaken here. As for Carvell's criticisms, even the Expositor was ashamed of them. He had heard him read off the names of companies which had received contracts and to his surprise only five were mentioned from Brantford. Ker and Goodwin, Mr. Carvell had called a "mushroom" concern. Every body in Brantford knew it was no such thing. For the number of shells it had turned out, and in the time it did it, it had done the best work in Canada. Mr. Cocksbutt affirmed vigorously he had not a dollar in any company making shells; the war to him meant a money loss, not a gain.

In conclusion, Mr. Cocksbutt said he had always tried to do his best at Ottawa. He paid a warm tribute to Sir Robert Borden, Sir Sam Hughes and Sir Thomas White. Copies of the resolutions should be forwarded to the Premier and Sir Sam Hughes at Ottawa; he knew they would be received in a kindly spirit.

NEW QUARTERS.

Before the meeting adjourned, the executive was empowered to take steps to obtain more suitable quarters for the Association. Proceedings closed with the National Anthem.

RAINFALL.

The rainfall on Sunday, according to the official record at the Mohawk Institute was just a quarter of an inch.

AGAIN OPEN.

Brantford has escaped splendidly from flood damage. This is largely because the ice at this point of the Grand River broke up and cleared away before the Galt mass came down. The Cockshutt road, however, was badly flooded and some part of it damaged. It has been closed for two days but will be reopened for traffic this afternoon.

SOLDIER HONORED.

A very pleasing event took place at Messrs. Slingsby's on Friday afternoon when Pte. L. H. Cross, was made the recipient of a fountain pen from the Superintendent, who spoke a few kindly, well chosen words of advice on the occasion of his leaving to join the 125th Brant Battalion. The ladies of the finishing room also made Pte. Cross a handsome present, it being a morocco leather dressing case, and also a bill told.

CHANGES IN C.O.P.

The High Secretary of the C. O. F., Mr. A. P. vanbomeren, having been appointed the paymaster of the 12th Batt., has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted. Mr. Robt. Elliott, formerly the High Treasurer, has been appointed High Secretary, and Mr. J. A. A. Brodeur, H.V.C.R., of Montreal, takes over the duties of the High Treasurer.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of Stedman Bros. Limited, was held Saturday afternoon at the head office, George St. Mr. S. Stedman, the president, occupied the chair. Mr. George Stedman, the general manager, spoke encouragingly of the business done in 1915 and prospects for 1916. The war had at first badly affected the post card and other business, but new lines were now being taken up, and the outlook was very bright. Complimentary speeches were made by several shareholders present, and a vote of thanks was passed to the management. The usual dividend was declared.

CONVALESCENT HOME.

The Massey-Harris Company has purchased a fine old mansion near London, to be known as the "Massey-Harris Convalescent Home." The object of the institution is primarily for Canadian soldiers, the equipment and support of which would be provided to a limited extent by the Company, but chiefly by voluntary contributions from its Directors, Shareholders, and the Office, Factory and Sales Staffs in Canada. The suggestion is that subscriptions from men in the Toronto, Brantford and other shops be solicited, payable over two years if the war lasts this long, and that 50c, $1 or $2 monthly be given with the idea of reaching an average of $1 per head. The London (Eng.) branch, the Toronto and Brantford factories, and the Verity and Bain (Woodstock) companies, are participating.

REVIVAL SERVICES

In spite of the inclement weather, large congregations attended all of the services at the Riverdale Baptist church yesterday to hear Evangelist and Mrs. Torrie preach and sing the Gospel. At the Sunday school, Mr. Torrie spoke to the older scholars on "The Judgment." At the evening service a strong verile sermon was based on the words of King Jehu to Jehonadab, II. Kings, 10:15 "Is thy heart right?" It was a plain, blunt, pointed question. The king wanted to know whether Jehonadab was for him or against him, so King Jehu comes with the same question to every heart. He wants to know where each one of us stands in our relationship to Him. Mrs. Torrie sang well rendered Gospel solos at each of the services. As a result of the days' services, a number decided for the Christian life.

AT WESLEY CHURCH

Mr. Crossley began the last lap yesterday in the Evangelistic services in Wesley Church. Good congregations were in attendance and the music was splendid. The song sermon in the morning by Mr. Crossley on "From Guilt to Glory" called forth high encomiums, while his address on "Conversion" in the evening was an eye-opener. Among other statements, he said that out of 100 who are converted, only two come after they are 40 years of age; 13 between the ages of 20 and 30, while 89 out of the hundred who ever became Christians do so before they reach the age of 20. Persons who do not learn to read and write, or swim or play on any musical instrument before they are 20 years old, rarely ever do. They could but they won't. So it is in the Christian life. Habits are formed before the age of 20, that as a rule determine the subsequent life.

The story hour subject for Tuesday will be a continuation of the story, "Partners for Fair," by Haynes, which Miss Middlemiss started last Thursday.

TO WIN SPURS

Mr. Harry Fleming, assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, was officially given a provisional rank in the 25th Brant Dragoons this morning by Colonel M. F. Muir. He will attend the next course at the Royal School of Cavalry, Stanley Barracks for his commission and spurs.

FATAL MISHAP

Victim of a fatal accident, Mr. Arthur Ramsey was killed almost instantly on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Ramsey, whose home was in Langford, had been staying for the last three weeks or so at his mother-in-law's, Mrs. Daniel Dowling, whose husband died recently. On Saturday afternoon the belt broke on the windmill which pumps water. Mr. Ramsey repaired the belt, but on putting it on again he forgot to turn off the power. While bending over adjusting the belt a screw fastened in the coat collar, and he was caught up immediately and choked to death. He was 34 years of age and leaves to mourn his loss a widow and two little boys. The funeral will take place on Wednesday to Greenwood cemetery.

COL. COLQUHOUN NOT WOUNDED

Cabled Home Yesterday That All Was Well at the Front.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Today's cables from the British West contain several items of special interest. The former report that Colonel Colquhoun of the 4th Battalion had been wounded is now corrected by an assurance that the officer is uninjured.

CABLED YESTERDAY. Yesterday Mrs. Colquhoun received a cable from Col. Colquhoun stating that all was well. These two reports should dispense of the rumors that Col. Colquhoun was in the casualty list.

GAS WAS NOT TURNED OFF

Hector Aslackson Found Dead in Bed Yesterday Morning.

On Sunday morning, at an hour approaching twelve o'clock the body of Hector Aslackson was found asphyxiated in his room at 18 Pearl street. It was found that the gas had not been turned completely off the previous night. No sounds had been heard from Mr. Aslackson's room at all on that morning and his landlady finally broke in the door to see what was the matter. It was accidental, the authorities have decided and very pathetic, for the deceased leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss in Montreal. Their home address is 20,336 Clark Street, and Mr. Aslackson lived here only when employed at the Crown Electric Co. factory.

SERVICES AT THE IMMANUEL BAPTIST

Chancellor McCrimmon of McMaster Preached Yesterday.

Rev. A. L. McCrimmon, Chancellor of McMaster University, Toronto, was anniversary preacher at Immanuel yesterday. Though the work was begun by the late Geo. Foster and others some 33 years ago, it was not till Jan. 29th, 1901, that the mission was definitely organized into a church. Dull skies, slippery side walks, and prevent people coming in large numbers, especially in the evening, to hear Dr. McCrimmon, who is a very racy and eloquent speaker. In the morning his subject was "A vision of God." He dealt with the "Being, and wisdom and love of God. Man's free will as in the present war, had caused him to run amuck, but God sits on the circle of the Heavens. Man tried to define truth and write it in capital letters, but the only embodiment and perfect conception of truth was the person of Christ. The experiential value of Christ in the human heart by His Spirit was better than oil mere definitions, though these were not to be despised. We could learn more in ten minutes from the life of a truly good man about God, than from mere parrot-like definitions. God had consecrated Himself in Christ, God robbed Heaven of its brightest jewel that He might die for our sins. The oft quoted question, "Is life worth living?" was fully answered by Christ dwell in the heart of faith. In the morning the choir sang with good effect, and Miss McCormick and Mrs. C. Lewis rendered a duet splendidly. Dr. McCrimmon read Isaiah 53 in

AT FULL STRENGTH. The final arrangements for the recruiting campaign week of the 125th Battalion were made Saturday afternoon, when the various committees met. After a detailed discussion the predominant feeling was that the battalion would be fully recruited by February 20th.

SOME CHANGES. Reginald Coulbeck and Robert Mayes, who have been laid up for a week sick, have returned to duty at the fire department. Clyde Curtis and Clifford Mains have resigned, the former leaving town, the latter to go on the police force.

ONE OUT OF SIX. Medical Officer Captain Hanna and Asst. Adj. Bunnell went to Burford yesterday to swear in and examine recruits whom Mr. Preston and his men had gathered together. Six were examined, but only one was passed, Mr. Woodyard and a few men went to St. George this morning for recruiting purposes.

set of pews looked transformed. Another pleasing item was the singing of a solo by Mr. John Howison with fine voice and effect.

Jesus Christ and his sufferings arrested attention. They stood in relation to human sin. We might not be able to understand all the mystery of this, but we were forced to accept some things we did not understand. We did not know how our food was converted into different substances of the human body. The apostle attested the historicity of Christ's personality. The sinless Christ was the wonder of all time. He was borne forward on the wave of human sin right to Calvary. There were many theories of the atonement, but the most incontrovertible fact was that Jesus Christ saved the truly sinful soul. Some folks said religion was good enough for diseased and dying people, women and children, but most virtile and intellectual souls from Paul to George had been satisfied with Christ. The most prominent political leaders of to-day were humble and avowed followers of Christ. Salvation was God's big transaction and even Bible writers saw it from different angles. The sermon was cogent, convincing and a masterpiece of eloquence from the standpoint of literature and evangelical theology, and as the pastor, Rev. David Alexander, who presided said, ought to remove from the minds of any people who questioned the Orthodoxy of McMaster University doubts or questions as to the reliability of McMaster to fit young men and women for important positions in life and especially the ministry of the Gospel. Dr. McCrimmon's visit to Immanuel will long be remembered. The church with its new

A feud has existed between Colonel Arthur Stanley and his cousin, Judge Lamar Stanley, ever since the death of a diamond from the sky, found in a fallen meteorite in an American desert.

Three years later the spy mother, having had no part in this bargain, the girl being reared in secret, and her son undetected as the heir. The spy has obtained possession of the diamond from the sky, and is determined to keep it secret.

consciousness, by the crushed and cut down sailboat she drove across the course of the great white yacht. Vivian Marston chose the path of peril to gain her purpose and that purpose is her wish for the diamond from the sky.

At the first cry of danger Arthur had sprung from the sweet of the yacht and run from the bridge to the deck. Hardly had the impact of the yacht's cutterwater cleft the little sailboat and crumpled it into a shattered mass and hardly had Vivian sprung into the water, with a scream than Arthur dove overboard. There was a hurried rush to the starboard rail, the quick command of the sailing master, the hurried lowering of a boat, the casting over of life preservers, while other daring members of the crew plunged headlong into the sea to aid the gallant young owner, John Powell, in his rescue of the reckless young woman who, through foolhardy daring, had attempted to cross the bow of the swift yacht in her tiny sailboat.

Arthur in his excitement did not notice the fair face of the woman he had plunged overboard to save was a somewhat familiar one—the face of the vivacious Vivian Marston. In fact, now Arthur's encounter with Vivian had left but the slightest impression upon him. Even when he had first beheld her at the ball in Richmond with the diamond from the sky blazing upon her breast he had not thought of her save to wonder by what strange and mysterious manner the great jewel he had left in the pawnshop the day before had come to gleam upon the neck of this bold, handsome woman.

Let him be the rightful heir of Stanley, impoverished by his own prodigality and a fugitive from justice in Virginia, or let him be John Powell, the golden man, as he was known in California, returns to his native land, even as she has emmeshed his desperate kinsman, Blair Stanley. Which of these two got the diamond it mattered not to her now. Vivian felt convinced the great gem would come to her from the hands of either of them. If it came rightfully as a heritage to either she would have it. If it were to be bought for money John Powell had the means to buy it for her. She had done well, she thought, to take the path of peril to find the diamond by throwing herself in the arms of Arthur Stanley, alias John Powell.

So Vivian sighed with vague contentment and clung, seemingly unconscious, to Arthur as they were hauled into the lifeboat, and when she was borne up the companionway and into the handsomely furnished cabin of the yacht's owner who had rescued her she should have laughed aloud for sheer joy at the success of her wild plan.

In the mine the path of peril is dark and fearsome to the timid girl who is driven over it, pursued by the desperate men who will stop at nothing so long as they can get their hands on the diamond from the sky.

Arthur and Vivian go overboard. They prevent her reaching Arthur Stanley with the Stanley document that they believe she carries with her. The operation of the mine electric motor is simple enough, but when it balks in the inexperienced hands of Quimba they indeed the dangers of this path of peril grow manifold.

Where the path of peril lies upon the sea Vivian Marston floats, clinging to the mast of the yacht.

CHILD GETS SICK

CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste matter, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! It coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California
