

The Morning Star.

VOLUME 1.

FREDERICTON, N. B., OCTOBER 10, 1878.

NUMBER 4.

PROSPECTUS.

The die is cast! We have launched our barque! May our voyage be a successful one! We to-day present our first-born—the MORNING STAR—to the public. May they receive it with the good wishes for us that we have for them in making the offering.

THE MORNING STAR is destined to fill a long-vacant place in the city. Everybody here must know that the CAPITAL CITY OF THE PROVINCE should not be left to the tender mercies of two weeklies. These papers never could fill that void which we now propose to fill.

No doubt much is expected of us on our first appearance, some people expect to see us flaunt in silks, while others expect to see every "item" knock somebody down. They will be disappointed. Under the ragged coat often palpitates a noble heart—excuse our appearance if we look somewhat shabby at first—and we come not to knock down, but to build up. The easy way, like the old man who commenced pelting grass, we shall try, till a desperate case compels us to give harder knocks. It is only when badly angered we will bring a millstone on a mosquito's back. Some people—of course there are busy-bodies everywhere—are itching to know what the POLITICS OF THIS PAPER ARE. Our politics, dear friends, we create for ourselves. Rest assured our paper shall not, like a cur, creep, and lick and fawn, and wag its tail or its tongue, that dame Lucre may follow. No we shall set up no man as an idol; to none shall we "crook the pregnant hinges of the knee," from Sir John Macdonald to Mr. Fraser, from Mr. Fraser to nobody. We shall not shape our policy after a flock of clamorers, be they Government or Opposition, for when these fellows' stomachs are filled, they, as a rule, subside like gormandized gulls. Our policy shall be

A POLICY ON PRINCIPLE! And we don't care who upholds that policy, we are with them. But let nobody be deluded into believing that if we stick to our party when on the road of political rectitude, we are going to follow it into every dirty slough. No. When we approach a dirty neighborhood, we act the part of the coward and return to our own broad platform.

We shall not define just now what the particulars of our policy are, but suffice it to say, that as far as the Great Disposer has given us what He has not given many of our politicians, we shall use the same towards ameliorating the people's condition, towards battering down those walls that divide one paltry clique from the other, in trying to bring discordant elements into harmony, and in trying to rout once and for ever from the field those clamoring crows whose sole object is to fill themselves.

THE MORNING STAR we hope to make an EXCELLENT FAMILY NEWSPAPER. No slang or degrading literature shall find a place in its columns; no row of rampant scribblers shall practice on its pages. It shall be devoted to choice literature, important and reliable information, and several departments we hope to make a time specially suited to

OUR YOUNG READERS. We shall have it circulated all over the Province, yes, beyond St.

Lawrence Gulf. In the woodman's hut and the farmer's cot it will be found, on summer evenings and winter nights, bringing mirth to the ocular and wholesome information to the inquiring. In the railway cars and on the steamboats, in the hamlet and in the town, the STAR will be found always full of matter to please the old or the young, the poet or the calculator. We hope to be able to afford little that the ignoramus will enjoy. Catering to this section of humanity, alas! is becoming the curse of the press, due in part to the ignorance of attaches in part to the greed and low taste of the managers.

We know pretty well what the public want and what is good for them. We shall give SPICED DISHES and varieties of food. We guarantee nothing that will take an emetic to work off, nor anything that will make a soporific. Others in the business can do that better than we.

We shall sound no notes on the Temperance or the Opium question, on Orange ascendancy or Fenian degeneracy—we weigh the two latter, observe—but should these questions at any time come up, did intimidators stand with pistols or pitchforks, money or "slobber," we shall

LAUNCH OUR BROADSIDES into the action and on the right side. During Exhibition week the MORNING STAR will be published daily—every morning—after which we shall issue a tri-weekly—always trying to keep up to the mark—on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings. On Saturday evening we shall strike off the WEEKLY STAR, a large paper, containing considerable original matter. The latter paper will be excellently adapted for people living outside the city.

And now this part of the tale is told. We hope to be long in the field, and if ever we get into a contest, we hope to show our wounds on the front. If we go down, it will not be without a hard struggle. Gnats cannot affect us, nor sneering opposition take a feather out of us. The heart, strength and respectability of the community are on our side, and we cannot but win. We have full confidence in the public, and, to be candid, no small amount of confidence in ourselves.

We have been in the dark long, but this issue of the MORNING STAR—bright herald—announces approaching day. The dark shadows of night flee before its piercing twinkle, and a new flood of light bursts upon us. May it ever be a true light, shewing things as they are. May we ever stick fast to our motto.

Before our pen shall Error fly,
And Truth the vacant place supply.

To Our Advertisers.
Almost every one who has handed us in an advertisement, the synonym for a favor, have requested the "head of the column." But, like Jack's monkeys, every head has a correspond tag to it, and we could not give head to all. We just ask our readers to look down the columns. Won't that do?

We want boys with good lungs and plenty of cheek to sell the STAR, and we want people with a few cents about them to buy the STAR.
For the "Star,"
SEAL FISHING.

The whole plane of ice is now one burnished mass. But see! What form is that rising to view on the horizon's rim? A ship rising as fair out of the gold burnished ice field as Venus rising from the deep. Grand and more distinct the vessel's proportions become, but why does the crew stand aghast. Is it a phantom ship they see? The very flag that flutters on their own main peak now adorned with all the living tints of the morning float on the peak of the stranger vessel. The masts, rope and tackle are, too, exactly the same. But this wonder is all yet to come.

FOR LO! THE VESSEL RISES IN THE AIR, and in a halo of light is suspended in the clouds. The novice stands awed and thinks indeed that Maryratt's story of Vanderdecken is not imagination. But that which is a wonder and a beauty is nought else than the MIRAGE.

Their own vessel has been reflected in the rare atmosphere appearing suspended in the clouds. But what is slaughter to the innocent whitecoat is now of all employments the most exciting and delightful to the sealer. The crew range the field like glouls, here kicking some tender cat— young seal—there dealing another a blow with his gaff on the head.

The seals during sunny days roam the fields in search of food, at night some smooth pan is their couch in coveys—the grey morning's dawn their signal to get up. With a cut of his huge sculping knife the sealer opens the animal back and front, bears off the pelt, goes straightway to another, strikes it with his gaff and again disposes of the blubber. The pelts are piled on an ice-cake, and the vessels flag set over them. The vessel then ploughs her way to the pan, takes the pelts on board, or the crew pull them with ropes alongside. As night drops her pall over the wide field,

PREYING CREATURES ROAM THE ICE and feast on the garbage that remains after the slaughter. One of these is the agile ice fox, fleet of limb and keen of scent. Being of the color of the ice, the unpracticed eye could scarce detect the white thing scampering over the fields. Other inhabitants are MILLIONS OF BIRDS, sitting helplessly on the ice, apparently deprived of the power of flight. Among these the sealer makes havoc, and soup and stews are rare dishes in the forecastle.

But, perhaps, the most laughable scene that occurs on the ice is when a green horn attacks a dog-hood to slay it. Imagine a monster almost twice the size of a cow, with a hood drawn over its head impenetrable almost by a musket ball. Imagine its ponderous jaws that could crunch almost a man's body with a chop, "wallowing unskillfully" over the ice. Just imagine an ambitious young snob walking out to this defiant brute with his dandy shot-gun.
A description of the unequal contest in our next.
[MORE OF IT.]

We'll do as we Please.

The very first lesson that our dear father taught us was, "My boy, try to find out the right and please yourself."

This admonition was generally followed by the story of the fellow with the donkey, who tried to please everybody and pleased nobody in the end.

We have been accosted for example by stutters and poor fellows with long noses, who say to us, "Why don't you go for these fellows?"

In future we shall make a special point, however, of giving full prominence to any individual's peculiarities who tells us to "go for them."

We refer now to the busy-bodies. But, never mind, when we have more time we will make more of a time.

The Concert.

No one in the vast throng, the fully three thousand present, was disappointed at last evening's Concert in the Rink, for it came fully up to expectations.

The Concert commenced by Miss Fannie Richards, in a solo, "Marvellous Work," and it was marvellous singing.

And then blazed forth the star of the evening, bright as the star of the morning—ourselves—Miss Kellogg, in "Recitative and Aria." How magnificent!

The rich, sweet swell of music rolled in one grand stream through the Hall, holding spell-bound every heart.

Then followed a trio, "Addio," by Miss Kellogg, Miss Holmes and Mr. Fessenden. Talk about singing, but this was the cream of sweet harmony.

A rousing chorus by New Brauswick singers next almost raised the roof. It was gorgeous. Ten thousand bulls could not have made half the uproar.

But there was grand music in it for all that. What credit did it not reflect on Mr. M. S. Hall and Prof. Cadwallader.

Then we were treated to "Across the Far Blue Hills, Marie," Miss Fessenden; "He thinks I do not love him," Miss Holmes; Duett, Miss Kellogg and Miss Holmes; "The German Fairy Tales," Miss Kellogg; "O, how superb," and "Good night, beloved," by New Brauswick.

We can't describe adequately the merits of the rest so we shall allow the National Anthem to relieve us of the responsibility.

The way people bundled out of the palace after finishing, one would think that there was but one lodging house in the city. O what a place for Quinn to get persons, and what subjects for Richard's white-wash brush.

Poor John and Dick take a bag seat when Melville and Dick come up. Deo Gratias.

A LETTER THAT WOULD NOT GO INTO A FIRE ALARM BOX.—An amusing story is going the rounds about a prominent dry goods clerk of this city, but formerly of Fredericton, who, on Tuesday last endeavored to post a letter in the fire alarm box on Jeffrey's Hill.

The story runs thus: During the evening this gentleman, when walking down the hill in company with a lady, observed that he should post a letter, and on coming to the fire alarm box remarked that he would "just post that letter now," and stepping to the box endeavored to put the letter into it.

He pushed and worked with the letter and endeavored to find the opening in the box, but his labor was to no avail. A crowd soon collected at the scene, as many wondered if there was anything wrong with the fire alarm.

At last the young lady in whose company the gentleman had become impatient, and would not wait any longer, so the couple, greatly disappointed at not getting the letter posted, walked off amid the snickering and jeers of the crowd.—News.

Our contemporary the News has a keen eye to business. M. to its piercing gaze soon became a marked man. He is the hero of many a trial in this city.

Of a bright Sunday morning the past summer he had to undergo the humiliation of attending meeting in a straw hat, the lads having fraudulently extracted from a perfumed hat box a highly polished beaver.

He it was to whom the car load of variegated crocks and jars were presented as a souvenir before leaving for St. John. The bending of the bow betrayed Achilles.

A man was sitting for his photograph. The operator said, "Now, look kind of pleasant—smile a little." The man smiled, and then the operator exclaimed, "Oh, that will never do! It is too wide for the instrument."

YESTERDAY'S RACES.

From Our Special Reporter.

But that gusts of wind and slight rain showers came at intervals the weather would have been all that was desired.

Several hundred people had assembled, each one a connoisseur of horse flesh. Thorough farriers and Pratts present wanted to put up money bad, (probably they wanted to get some worse) and they found a few takers.

Very little drunkenness was noticeable on the ground, those who were very drunk, lying about the ditches, perhaps so that they couldn't get there.

There were a number of order dignitaries present whose ostensible duty it was to preserve decorum, etc., but they seemed, perhaps, as much out of the line themselves as anybody else.

On a gallery sat the press noting down everything that passed—it would have been impossible for a grasshopper to take a promenade with his mate without being noted, important things winked at every time.

The first race was for a purse of $200, two mile heats, best two in three for which there were four entries, viz., Kentucky Bill, Countess, Russ Butler and Davey Williams.

After a few misses they succeeded in getting off well together. Kentucky Bill showed mettle in the outset and outstripped his three opponents.

Next to him came Davey Williams, pressed hard by Countess, Russ Butler being uncomfortably near her heels. In this order the race was run for a mile and a half, when Countess gave sudden signs of an inclination to fall out.

She did this and the contest was now between the other three. At times it was difficult to say which would win; now one fell behind, again gained, now

"Neck by neck, stride by stride," they puzzle the naked eye or the pompous eye glass. But Russ had evidently kept a shot in the locker which the others had not, and at the home stretch stepped out right royally, coming in first, Davey Williams second, Kentucky Bill third. Time 5.02.

The second heat resembled the first perhaps as nearly as any two things can, (except two correspondents present in point of brass and ignorance), for the first mile and a half. Here Bill who was leading, forced the pace, and Davey closing with him, a side to side, neck to neck "go" was kept up for many seconds.

For a time it would have been difficult to say which would win. This very pretty race was kept till they reached the "turn," when Russ took a spurt and got the lead. A close race now ensued, and Butler was so hard pressed that he found no fun in it.

Doggedly he kept his place and was first in winning the race, Kentucky second, Davey William third, K. Bill taking second money.

The second on the programme was a running race, open to Maritime bred horses, for a purse of $150, mile heats, best two in three. For this race there were three starters—Sussex Lass, Countess and Jack of Trumps. Sussex Lass took the lead from the start closely followed by Countess and Jack of Trumps, and led to the finish, winning the heat in 1.52 1-2.

In the second heat Countess was drawn leaving the race to Sussex Lass and Jack of Trumps. They got off well together, Jack of Trumps taking the lead which he maintained almost to the half, where he was overtaken by the Lass and passed, the Lass increased the lead to the finish winning the race and purse.

The next on the programme was the 2.50 trot. For this five horses put in an appearance, Charlie Slipp, Little Bessie, Lady Jane, Jennie and Lookout. Charlie Slipp took the lead from the start, followed by Lookout, Bessie, Lady Jane, and Jennie, who broke very badly. Charlie Slipp maintained his lead all the way round, and won the heat very easily, Lady Jane second, Lookout third, Jennie fourth and Bessie last. Time 2.45.

The second heat was almost a repetition of the first, Slipp winning easily, Lookout second, Jennie third, Lady Jane fourth, Bessie fifth. Time 2.45 1/2.

The third heat and race was won by Charlie Slipp. Bessie was drawn this heat. Lookout was second and Lady Jane third, Jennie fourth; time 2.46.

SUMMARY: Charlie Slipp - 1 1 1 Lookout - 3 2 2 Lady Jane - 2 4 4 Jennie - 4 3 4 Bessie - 5 5 4

The next race on the programme was for 2.34 horses, for which Pocohontas Panacea, Little Maid and Nellie Thorne appeared.

1st Heat—They got off at the first attempt, Little Maid leading. She was not passed during the heat. There was a close race between Nellie Thorne and Panacea for second place which resulted in favor of Nellie Thorne, Panacea third, and Pocohontas last. Pocohontas got off very badly and looked at one time as though she would be distanced, but by good trotting was well up at the finish. Time 2.36.

The second heat was also won by Little Maid, Nellie Thorne 2nd, Panacea 3rd and Pocohontas 4th. Time 2.35.

It was getting pretty dark when the last heat was called on. Pocohontas was in this heat driven by her owner, P. McAnna, and gave the Little Maid all she could do to win this heat, but she succeeded in doing so and the race as well, Pocohontas 2nd, Panacea 3rd, Nellie Thorne 4th. Time 2.04.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Score. Little Maid, 1 1 1; Nellie Thorne, 2 2 4; Pocohontas, 4 4 2; Panacea, 3 3 3.

IN THE "STAR" CHAMBER.—BEFORE OURSELVES.—The Editor of the STAR, p. s. Julius L. Inches.—Be so good as to stand up, Mr. Inches, and answer the following questions:

1st. Did a paper owned by you and managed by the author of the "History of Canada," its Millicites, &c., publish certain Agricultural documents? Yes.

2nd. Did you order that tenders be sent in to you? Yes.

3rd. Now, will you undertake to swear that you had not the "copy" to your own office to be printed, before you received any tenders? Own up. Speak out like a man.

(Probably) Julius answers, Yes. Peccavi, and he will smite his breast. The sentence, then, will be, We adjudge that you be left to the tender mercies of the STAR newspaper published in F'ton.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAM.

[Special to Morning Star.] UNITED STATES.

The Railway Disaster—Shocking Loss of Life. Boston, Oct. 9.

One of the most shocking railroad accidents which this State has had for several years occurred last evening at 7 o'clock on the Old Colony Railroad, near Atlantic Station, in Quincy, about seven miles from this city, to an excursion train of twenty-two cars, containing about a thousand persons, returning to this city from the boat race at Silver Lake.

Five of the cars were smashed and eighteen persons killed. About twenty-five had limbs broken or received serious internal injuries, and seventy others received injuries of a less serious character.

The cause of the accident is in doubt, some claiming that it was caused by a misplaced switch, and others that a freight car was struck by the engine. Among the killed is Patrick Reagan, who was beaten in the boat race at Silver Lake, and among the wounded is J. J. Flynn, City Councilman, and G. G. Kimball, of the Associated Press office of this city.

THE AFGHAN TROUBLE. The War Brewing—The Cloud Darkening. London, Oct. 9.

A despatch from Allahabad states that on the appearance of a strong Afghan force in a threatening attitude at Jamirood, the garrison of the latter place was re-inforced by seven infantry regiments and three batteries. General Ross, commanding at Jamirood, was preparing to clear the lower Pass and assault Ali Masjid, when he was ordered to await further reinforcements, as it was judged inadvisable to run the risk of a check. It is doubtful whether sufficient transportation can be collected to enable a column to advance from Dew Ghazi Khan as ordered.

A Calcutta despatch says that by command of the Supreme Government the troops of the Maharajah of Cashmere occupied Baroghil and Karambra Pass, leading towards the Russian dominions. St. Petersburg advices indicate that the Russian corps of observation of 20,000 will probably be stationed on the northern frontier of Afghanistan.

A Pera despatch says it is authorized to deny that the Afghan Envoy urged the Sultan to conclude an alliance with Russia. Russian officers from Central Asia declare that an understanding exists between the Ameer of Afghanistan and Russia, and an Anglo-Russian war is certain. The latter statement is purely sensational.

That Unfinished Treaty. London, Oct. 9.

A Vienna despatch says, Cavathedovi Pasha, Turkish envoy, has left Vienna.

The Politische Correspondenz reports that Prince Lobanoff, Russian ambassador, informed Safvet Pasha that Adrianople would be retained by the Russians until the Treaty of Berlin is completely fulfilled.

A Berlin despatch says the Prussian Finance Minister has remodelled the budget, largely reducing the deficiency.

Gems from Authors.—Shakespeare and—Ourselves. Even as the spade, which throws aside many a useless clod, sometimes reveals a sparkling jewel, so did many of our great writers often in a poor field, find many rich gems of thought. Some of these are applicable to every-day life in all its phases. Take, e.g., the motto of the STAR's inspired pen:

"Before our pen shall Error fly, And Truth the vacant place supply."

The next we call from is Shakespeare. He is in everybody's mouth, and yet the majority of those who clack most about him know but little about him. Hear him tell the value of "Content." He places it above all other gifts.

"My crown is in my heart, not on my head, Not set with diamonds or costly pearls— My crown is called Content: a crown it is That seldom kings enjoy."

How true! Here him speak of the fellow who is going to burst things generally, the fellow of swollen principle:

How many cowards, whose hearts are all as false As stairs of sand, wear yet upon their chins The beard of Hercules; [Thank goodness, we have none] or frowning Mars, Who inward searched, have livers white as milk!

Listen to him cutting to the bone those fellows too lazy, perhaps, to work, who go a preaching without the grace of God or divine calling:

"In religion What damned error but some sober brow Will bless it and approve it with a text, Hiding the grossness with fair ornament?"

Even to buffers he gives advice. He says: "Beware Of entrance into a quarrel, but being in, Bear it that the opposing may beware of thee."

This is what we hope to do. Immortal Shakespeare guide us.

Historical Motes. CAXTON WAS THE FIRST PRINTER IN ENGLAND.

Herodotus was the first Historian, Miss Thompson whose book is prescribed by the N. B. School Board, is the last.

Eleanor was the heroine of the crusades. When her husband the Royal Edward lay wounded from the Saracens poisoned spear, she sucked the poison and venom from the wound and saved his life. Just a hint to modern wives.

PETER THE GREAT at review of his troops before some brother sovereigns, wished to show the discipline in his army. The crowned heads stood on the brink of a beetling cliff. Five hundred feet below were jagged rocks, against which the billows beat and roared "Rock-thwarted." Peter signed to an officer of his band, who rode up and pointing over the ledge said, "jump." The officer hesitated looked at the Czar and nervously twitched his reins. "Off sir," shouted the tyrant, and with a bound, the man went into death, below. This is how the STAR will make people stand round by and bye.

When Julian the apostate was in his grasp, he took a handful of his hearts blood and throwing it at the Heavens, exclaimed, "I renounce thee O! Gallilean." He must be having a nice time now!
