Citizens' Meeting Held Thursday Afternoon

Addressed by Capt. L. P. D. Tilley and Lt.-Col. Mersereau—Citizens Recruiting Committee Formed

A representative meeting of the citizens of Newcastle was held in the Town Hall on Thursday afternoon, shortly after 4 o'clock, for the purpose of meeting Col. Mersereau and Capt. L. P. D. Tilley, and for organization in connection with recruiting for the North Shore Battalion. Those present were: Mayor Stothart, Aldermen G. Grant, Doyle and Ritchie; Revs. W. J. Bate, Dr. Harrison, S. J. MacArthur, Rev. P. W. Dixon and M. S. Richardson; Messrs. J. D. Creighton, A. A. Davidson, C. E. Fish, E. A. McCurdy, W. A. Park, Thos. Malby, H. Williston, Maristate J. R. Lawlor, Lieut. A. L. Berry and other Garrison officers.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Stothart who said that the citizens were called together in response to a request from Capt. Tilley who was desirous of meeting them, and having the work of organization for recruiting begun.

Capt. Tilley was then introduced. He said that he had been appointed by the Militia Department as the Chief Recruiting Officer for New Brunswick. He had received the office through the recommendation of the Citizens' Recruiting Committee of St. John. He, like many others, wanted to enlist for active service, but believing he could be of better assistance to the Empire at the present time by acting in the capacity of Chief Recruiting Officer, he had accepted the office. He would go to the front after recruiting.

Capt. Tilley said the present call was for 3000 men. There were three battalions to be filled up—the 115th, 140th and Col. Mersereau's battalion, the 122nd. The French Canadian people were most anxious to form a battalion, and their representations being very strong, he thought the prospects were good, and that before long a regiment of French-Canadians would be formed.

Capt. Tilley said he was very much delighted when he learned of Col. Mersereau's appointment to command a North Shore Battalion. Col. Mersereau, he said, was a man worthy of the trust placed in him by the Militia Department.

The best way of working out the solution of recruiting was to form a committee of active men, men who were prepared to sacrifice their time and energies to the work. There should be no place on this committee for men who would not work. The Citizens' Recruiting Committee of St. John was an active committee of men who have taken hold of the work with a right good will. That was the kind of a Committee that was wanted in Newcastle. The St. John Committee had since Sept. 2nd to Oct. 4th, recruited 727 men who could not have been secured in any other way save through their efforts.

Big Money Trapping Fur Bearers

Well-Known American Fur Dealer Gives Information on Fur-Bearing Animals

A. B. Shubert, Inc., Chicago, U. S. A., the largest House in the world, dealing exclusively in American furs, in a letter says in part as follows: Does the average farmer stop to consider the thousands and even millions of dollars that are paid out every year by the large fur houses for the skins of the "beaver" and "minks"? The mink is a menace to the chicken coop, the muskrat, weasel and other fur-bearing animals, classed as "vermin" and considered a nuisance to the crops. All have their intrinsic value and it would be a pity to forget the nuisance end of the story and look at the profit side.

The money picked up by the wise farmer by during the Fur Season, to say nothing of the professional trapper revenue, is something that would make a great many people sit up and take notice. "When the European War commenced fur was on the downward turn and it was just one year ago that it was hardly worth while to skin these small fur-bearers and ship their furs, but since the surplus carried over from the war for season of 1914-15 has been consumed and the supply and collection of 1914-15 has also been consumed, the supply at the present time equals the demand and consequently with the possible exception of mink, the prices have gone upward and trapping today is a mighty profitable occupation. One year ago 75c to $1 was good value for a skunk, $1 to $1.25 was considered a high quotation for raccoon and muskrats sold on the average from $5 to $6, and strange to say, these figures were all the day's good prices with present day values. Is it any wonder that the farmer boy finds it profitable to get out and trap these so-called "vermin"?

Speaking of his son, Major Mersereau, who was wounded, and who is now home from the front convalescing, he told of that gallant charge by the Canadians in the St. Julien woods at night when 2000 Germans were bayoneted to death by only 500 Canadians in a most gruesome fight. Col. Mersereau said he only had three sons, all in uniform, but wished he had more. The one remaining thing for him to do was to go himself.

Other speakers were Messrs. D. J. Buckley, and W. A. Park, who complimented the North Shore battalion in having Col. Mersereau for its commander, after which a motion was moved by Mr. J. D. Creighton that a nominating committee be appointed.

Mr. J. R. Lawlor suggested that the citizens present at the meeting be placed on a committee, that the meeting was representative of the town and the gentlemen present were qualified to act.

Mr. Creighton thought Mr. Lawlor's suggestion was a good one, and it was moved by Mr. A. Davidson and seconded by Mr. E. A. McCurdy that the meeting organize itself into a committee. Carried.

Capt. Tilley, in following up his suggestion of a recruiting room, further suggested that the room be kept open all day and evening, and that the room and windows be decorated with relics of the war—such as German helmets and all other trophies such as bits of exploded shells, etc.

It would also be a good plan to hold informal speakers, as had been done in St. John and which had proven to be very interesting and beneficial.

Appointment of Officers
The appointment of officers then took place, which resulted as follows:

W. A. Park, Chairman.
J. R. Lawlor, Vice-Chairman.
David Ritchie, Secretary.
A committee of three consisting of Mayor Stothart, Messrs. W. A. Park and J. D. Creighton was then appointed to see about getting a suitable place as a recruiting office.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR "MECHANICAL DETECTIVE OF SUBMARINES"

The human detective is liable to blunder because he depends greatly upon his judgment. If his judgments are bad or not well founded his decision will be correspondingly at fault. A machine has not judgment, though some present day machines seem almost able to think. They act upon facts only when certain facts or conditions are absolutely established. For instance, a talking machine will not talk until his needle is accurately and exactly placed in the groove of its record; nor will a telephone transmit speech until the electric circuit is properly made. To that extent a mechanical device is far superior to the human being. That quality of a machine has been put to service by the latest scientific England in a quickly and completely crushing the German submarine. They have devised a wonderful mechanical detective based on the general principles of the telephone enclosed in a cylindrical steel casing about twelve inches long and attached to a rod about twelve feet below the surface of the water. The rod is rotatable and is extended up through the floor of a guard house and provided with a handle. A special microphone telephone receiver completes the detector. The microphone is electrically connected with the receiver, and the receiver being provided with a suitable head harness, so that it may be worn conveniently by a guard or operator.

Now every boat in passing through the water causes or "makes" a noise. This noise is picked up by the microphone and the electric circuit with the receiver, and the receiver being provided with a suitable head harness, so that it may be worn conveniently by a guard or operator.

Coincidences
And Then More
Lt.-Col. George W. Mersereau of the 132nd Has Lt.-Col. George W. Fowler of the 104th as Running Mate

Coincidences will never cease, or at least they will continue to come to the surface so long as the war keeps up. About every month some new coincidence is brought to light in the newspapers, in connection with the war, recording, with officers commanding battalions, and various other matters.

A week or so ago it was shown in the Advocate where by the formation of certain letters placed in relation to their positions in the alphabet, that the result of the figures totalled up gave the number of a battalion commanded by a certain Colonel. This led to an attempt to attach the same coincidence to the battalion now being raised by Lt.-Col. George W. Mersereau at the North Shore. The figures when totalled, however, did not happen to hit the number since given to Col. Mersereau's battalion.

This led to further attempts on the part of the Advocate's puzzle editor, and by the way by some of the officers at the Garrison, and the result obtained was as follows:

G	.....	7
E	.....	5
O	.....	15
M	.....	17
R	.....	5
S	.....	18
E	.....	19
H	.....	18
A	.....	5
U	.....	21
		132

A further coincidence in connection with the 132nd battalion and the 104th is that both battalions are commanded by Geo. W.'s, which makes them running mates for honors, etc. So far, "the boys" of the North Shore are responding nobly to the call of the 132nd.

Postage on Parcels
To Troops in France
The Department is in receipt of applications to have parcels addressed to our soldiers in France sent free or at reduced rates of postage, there evidently being an impression that the Department has control of these rates and could do as it wished, but this is not so, as the question of postage is fixed by International agreement, so that it is not within the power of the Canadian Post Office Department to undertake to carry the parcels free or at a reduced rate of postage. Under International law, provision is made for the free transmission of parcels for prisoners of war, but this privilege does not extend to parcels for troops engaged in active service, nor is it within the power of the Department to so extend it.

The rate of postage required on parcels addressed to the troops depends upon the location of the addressee. If the addressee is in England, the rate on parcels for England is as follows:

HELP HOME INDUSTRIES

Col. Mersereau said that Campbell had offered to quarter 250 men, Burchard and Chatham the same number, and with 250 here, the battalion would be taken up. He said, however, he had no objection to a battalion of 1500 men, and if recruiting warranted the quartering of 500 men here, places would be found and fixed up for them.

After other suggestions had been offered along the line of improvements needed to put the armory in shape, the meeting adjourned to meet the following Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the same place.

Fishermen Wanted

Men who live on the waters and accustomed to battle with the elements who are quick of vision and strong of arm are needed by the Empire.

The first line of defence against the Hun is the Navy.

Men are wanted and more men in the transport services in the conveyance of troops and munitions to the front and to fight when the emergency occurs.

If the Germans succeed in overpowering Britain, they will demand Canada, and our Country will suffer all the horrors that German militarism has imposed on other lands they have overrun.

Men who value their liberties must be prepared to fight for them. Slackers and cowards are not wanted. When found, they are drummed out of the service.

Good men, true men, men who recognize the danger ahead will come to the rescue promptly and enlist.

The King needs all such men at once.

The 132nd Battalion calls for you.

Last night as I lay on my pillow,
I dreamt of the flowers in bloom;
Of the sheep that were feeding around me
In that merry month of June.
And the shepherd so weary and tired
Lay down on the grass to rest.
The lambs were frisking around him
In the field they loved the best.
But when he awoke he found
That some had wandered away
And he said all he wished was
That they come back ere break of day.

A Chatham Soldier Performs Great Feat

Crawled up to a German Parapet and Presented a Few Bombs

(Chatham World)
No. 2052 Private William Mariner 2nd Battalion, The King's Royal Rifle Corps.
During a violent thunderstorm on the night of May 22, 1915, he left his trench near Cambrin and crept out through the German wire entanglements till he reached the emplacement of a German machine-gun which had been damaging our parapets and hindering our working parties. After climbing on the top of the German parapet he threw a bomb in under the roof of the gun emplacement and heard some groaning and the enemy running away. After about a quarter of an hour he heard some of them coming back again, and climbed up on the other side of the emplacement and threw another bomb among them left-handed. He then lay still while the Germans opened a heavy fire on the wire entanglement behind him, and it was only after about an hour that he was able to crawl back to his own trench. Before starting out he had requested a sergeant to open fire on the enemy's trenches as soon as he had thrown his bombs. Rifleman Mariner was out alone for one and a half hours carrying out this gallant work.
