MR. BROUGHTON'S RESIGNATION. Touching Mr. Broughton's record as general manager of the Great Western railway, the Globe has the following remarks:

Mr. F. Broughton, general manager of the Great Western railway, has tendered his resignation to the management of the Great Western railway, and it is believed that he will be succeeded by Mr. J. H. ...

UNDER CERTAIN STANDARD. There was a certain standard of railway excellence up to which the Great Western railway was brought; there was also another standard characteristic of the management of the Great Western; now the standard of the former was higher in every way than that of the latter: few accidents, regular time, speed, prompt settlement of bills, and a constant study of the public wants; what we wish to know is up to which of these standards is the fused line to be run?

THE GOOSE QUESTION. The Mail pokes fun at the Mowat government for collecting statistics of geese, turkeys and hens. It says these returns ought to be perfect and they are not perfect; they don't tell how many eggs those geese, turkeys and hens lay by the day, week and year. This is no doubt a grave omission, and it is neither the only one nor the worst. For instance, the returns do not give the statistics of the Mail's poultry yard, and this omission is all the more inexcusable for the reason that there is not in all Ontario, another poultry yard in which is heard so much gabbling of geese, gobbling of turkey-cocks, crowing of roosters and cackling of hens. But we much fear that the collectors of statistics would find themselves out on many a wild goose chase if they undertook to tell how many eggs the Mail's geese and hens lay by the day, the week or the year. You can't be too sure of finding an egg in the nest when you hear a gabble or a cackle in that yard, and when you do find one you can't be too sure that it is fresh or chilled.

THE EXHIBITION. Arrangements are now pretty fairly completed which will render this year's industrial perhaps the greatest ever held in Canada. Prominent among its chief features stand the display of electric fireworks and the exhibit of modern modes of warfare, each of which in its own sphere will prove an immense attraction. Several other novelties are on the program which will add not a little to its general tone. The agricultural products, implements and live stock promise to be unusually large. Forward the people of Ontario may look forward to a treat in the exhibition line, qualified in its details. The carrying capacity of the road for through freight had just a little before been doubled by the construction of the Air line, from Glenora (some distance west of London) eastwards to the International bridge at Buffalo. The road had actually the material capacity for doing a greatly enlarged through freight business, but as we have mentioned, directly the new short line was completed the expected large and profitable American business had disappeared and gone out of sight. In strict truth it should have been added that the old original wooden bridges on the main line were beginning to be somewhat "shaky" about the time when Mr. Broughton took charge, while other important materials of the road were also in need of reconstruction. This was also in the place by thoroughly curing the disorganization, establishing system where before there was great lack of it, and putting road and rolling stock in first-class condition besides. We are safe to say that few railway managers, either in Canada or elsewhere, have for the same space of time such a record as Mr. Broughton has of valuable and lasting improvements effected, in both the morale and the efficiency of personal service, on one hand, and the material condition of road and rolling stock on the other.

THE BUTCHER'S BILL FROM EGYPT. Whatever opinion The World may form as to the justice or injustice of the Egyptian war, there is no questioning the fact that its cost will fall heavily on the English working classes, and the burden of the fellah will in the end devolve on the English, instead of the Egyptian poor. The expense of the war will, it is calculated, amount to at least ten millions of pounds, and it is likely to greatly exceed this sum if as seems probable, the war be prolonged in a country whose most deadly weapons are the desert and the inundation. It is true Mr. Gladstone proposes to raise that sum by means of an income tax, which only effects incomes of at least £150 and therefore will seldom touch the income of a working man. But the expense will ultimately fall on the working classes. Servants will be discharged by employers, wages will be lowered in factories, and prices everywhere advanced. And this for a war which was as much undertaken to secure the neutrality of the Suez canal as the war of George III. against America in 1776 was undertaken to secure the neutrality of the Atlantic ocean! However that may be, in the proposed addition to the national debt, as in the previous history of that gigantic financial blunder, the incidence of the burden carried by nonproductive military expenditure will be on the overburdened resources of labor.

MR. GLADSTONE ON EGYPTIAN TROUBLES. In his great speech delivered at the Mansion house dinner on the night of August 9, Mr. Gladstone ably set forth and vindicated the policy of the government on the principal questions of the day. Referring to the Eastern difficulty he defended his course as being not only for the best interests of the British empire but also for those of every state in Europe and of the whole of the civilized world. Egypt had become a great gateway upon which the commerce of the world depends more than upon any other single point that could be marked upon the face of the globe. It is necessary for the industry and enterprise of mankind that that gateway should be kept open, and it was for this cause that England embarked upon the war, as well, also, as to rescue the Egyptian people from the oppression of a military tyrant. England had no interests in Egypt so great as that Egypt should be prosperous. He expressed his belief that England goes to Egypt with clean hands and pure purposes.

THE MORAL STATION PRINCIPLES OF J. L. F. Sir J. L. F. admits the gospel to be divine teaching. I shall be on common ground with him when I remark that the sense Christ who invited little children to him, also took a whip of small cords and chased from the temple those who made his "Father's house a house of merchandise"; and he who taught that "Whoever ye men should do to you, do even so unto them," said also, "I came not to send peace on earth, but a sword."

THE IRISH QUESTION. Sir J. L. F. has occasion to criticize certain statements of a Mr. B. Lynch respecting Professor Goldwin Smith's views of the Irish question, the former in his reply published in the Toronto World July 25th, so misquoted me as to make me as first of the two portions of columns in my letter to the Toronto World, July 22, there are two distinct paragraphs from which I have taken the statements attributed to me by overlooking the fact that a paragraph commonly begins with a capital letter and ends with a full stop. S. AXON, Aug. 21, 1882.

VICEREGAL PATRONAGE. (To the Editor of The World.) SIR: The announcement is made that the governor-general has consented to become the "patron" of a Canadian shorthand society should such an organization be the outcome of the approaching convention of shorthand writers. Why should the shorthand writers seek the "patronage" of a viceroy? It is time they should, strongly against this sort of snobbery, and as a Canadian journalist I hope that this large and important section of the profession will have sufficient manliness and democratic feeling to refrain from begging the patronage of anybody or accepting of viceregal patronage. It is time they should be the last to follow the example of snobbery sometimes set by institutions, which having no inherent vitality can only be kept alive by such influences. Why don't short-hand writers' association meet viceregal patronage to enable it to flourish, that is a sufficient evidence of its inferiority. If it can get along without it, as no doubt it can, the members should show their independent spirit by courteously refusing it. Don't be "patronized." P. T.

STREET SWEARING. (To the Editor of The World.) SIR: Although I by no means hold to the faith of those who believe in all we read in the holy bible; still it is about time that clergymen should do something tangible towards enforcing due reverence to the Deity. Are they ignorant of the fact that thousands and thousands of men, women and children of all ages and distinctions, every hour, and Sunday included, indulge more or less in blasphemy by holding in contempt, amusement and derision, the names of Jesus Christ and God, in fact making a mockery of them. Why don't Dr. Wild and our christian critics notice such public nuisance and remedy the evil if possible. Even profane jests are annoying and shocked at the dirty, indecent talk against Jesus continually ringing in their ears in all christian countries. The government ought to try and stop it, and never trouble or legislate about how people travel on Sundays for there can be no sin in that when conducted orderly. What says "Elder Protestant" to this? SHOCKED.

DR. MULVANY'S SON OF THE SABBATH. (To the Editor of The World.) SIR: Dr. Mulvany's poem on the Sabbath question gives expression in the most terse and clear style to the thoughts of revolt against Sabbatarian tyranny which has been burning so long in the minds of us Sabbath oppressed people of the queen city. Despite the facilities for filtration which form the chief attraction of most Toronto churches, I know there are plenty of educated girls who are reckoned among the devout of the Methodist and Episcopal churches who in secret despise the parson and his "prach, preach, preach," of what Dr. Mulvany truly calls "One gospel adapted to the rich, Another to the poor."

THE TORONTO FACTORY GIRL. (To the Editor of The World.) SIR: I allow me to thank you for having the courage to publish Dr. Mulvany's poem on the Sabbath question. I know this poem will give a good deal of offence to orthodox christians, but I saw the working classes of Toronto ought to thank the Dr. for so fearlessly reasoning on behalf of the right to a Sunday drive equally with rich and poor. I work here out on the World's song of the Sabbath put in our album. It just says everything we want to say, and I am sure it will be read by thousands of ourselves. We want you to help us. A TORONTO FACTORY GIRL.

THE MORAL STATION PRINCIPLES OF J. L. F. (To the Editor of The World.) SIR: While sincerely respecting this correspondent's continuous efforts through the press, to saturate the public mind with humane, and in some respects christian ideas, I feel bound again to protest against his one-sidedness—also that of "another Parent"—in the matter of cruelty to work girls.

DEATH OF DR. ALEX. HAMILTON. An Old Upper Canada Student and Graduate of Toronto School of Medicine. The Corpus Christi (Lax.) Free Press of Aug. 2 devotes a column of an obituary notice to Dr. Alex. Hamilton, son of Alex. Hamilton of Toronto, who died in that town on Aug. 1. Deceased was born on Feb. 9, 1834. His family is of Scotch-Irish descent, and is connected with the Countess of Dufferin. He received his literary education at Upper Canada college, and his medical course at the Toronto school of medicine, of which he was a graduate. During his residence in Canada, up to the year 1876, and in the practice of his profession, in which he became eminent, he acquired popularity, and attached to himself a large circle of devoted friends. He was a member of the college of physicians and surgeons of Ontario and continuing so up to the time of his decease. He was president of St. Andrew's society once. In 1876 he removed to Corpus Christi, Ohio to his wife's failing health. Here he associated himself with his brother-in-law, Dr. A. E. Spohn, and with Dr. Burke, in the practice of medicine.

British Columbia News. VICTORIA, Aug. 22.—As W. B. Wilson of Nova Scotia, and R. FACT AND FANCY.

Amber merino is a French seaside costume. How unnatural it seems, and yet some of the hardest cheeks are on the toughest heads. Victor Hugo has become so deaf that he can't hear praise. This is a terrible deprivation to the old poet. Queen Victoria's wedding present to the Duke of Westminster was a very handsome thoroughbred dray horse. An agricultural item: Cattle valued at 13,500,000 are calmly grazing in what was six years ago absolutely an Indian country. However correct the department of the rank and file, a military company never has but one orderly sergeant. A prolific State is Arkansas. Jesse Bantch, of Clark county, has twenty-three children, and Godin Deaux, of the same county, twenty-one. From the Danbury News: "Once on a time a girl named with the pretty name Raffaele de Benedetti married the owner. Last week he was arrested in Bridgeport for beating her." There is probably an exaggeration: "Several Boston women got lost up in the Catskills the other day, and in cultured phrases they called for Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil, but had failed to find it. We brought a bottle with us from Quebec, but it is nearly gone and we do not want to be without it, as my wife is troubled with a pain in the shoulder, and nothing else gives relief. Can you send us some?" A curious collection of books is contained in the library of Warrington, Ontario, in Germany. These books appear at first sight to be logs of wood, but each volume is really a complete history of the tree it represents. The book shows the bark, in which a small place is cut to write the scientific and the common name as a title. One side shows the tree trunk in its natural state, and the other is polished and varnished. Inside are shown the leaves, fruit, fibre and insect parasites, to which is added a full description of the tree and its products. Mr. W. A. Wing, Westport, writes: "I wish to inform you of the wonderful results which followed the use of Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of God Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. A cough of six months' standing had reduced me to such an extent that I was unable to breathe. I tried many remedies without effect; at last I used this Emulsion, and before three bottles were used I am glad to say I was restored to perfect health. There are about 1000 cats in the employ of the postoffice department of the United States government, and they are paid for their services with food and shelter. As simple as this matter appears, it is a government expense of $1000 per year in the maintenance of cats at all the principal postoffices and large public buildings in the country. People who read and reflect, after reading, upon the many published testimonials regarding Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Hypocretic cure, can scarcely fail to perceive that evidence so positive and concurrent could not be induced in behalf of a remedy of doubtful efficacy. The facts proven by such evidence are that it roots out impurities of the blood, restores digestion, enriches the circulation, and regulates the bowels and liver. After a cruise of a few months in the south Pacific, a French man-of-war was recently found to have specimens of living coral growing upon her hull. The interesting discovery has thrown some light on the question of the rapidity of growth of coral. The evidence tends to show that the vessel on which a reef of the Gambier Islands, against which it rubbed, had picked up a young fungus which adhered to the sheathing of the ship and grew to the size and weight it had when observed, a diameter of nine inches and a weight of two and a half pounds in nine weeks. Mr. Alexander Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Hypocretic Cure, and have been cured of dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. One day I was eating a diamond, and I was at considerable expense trying to get rid of it, but this excellent medicine was the first and only relief I received." The falling fortunes of the Romans caused them to abandon Britain in the fifth century. As soon as the legions were gone the northern barbarians began to harass the southern people. "The barbarians came into the sea; the sea throws us back on the barbarians; we have only the hard choice left us of perishing by the sword or by the waves." This fear of barbarians induced the Britons to ask the aid of the Saxons, whose coming influenced speech, manners and the entire history of England. "TO ALL STRIKERS.—Strikers would do well to consider Guiana's liberal offer before going elsewhere. They are in sympathy with the present movement, and to show that they are agree to supply from their splendid assortment—the largest in the city—of boots and shoes, trunks and valises, any goods strikers need at actual wholesale prices, which they will guarantee is 25 per cent below the retail price. We say Guiana's immense boot and shoe emporium is at 215 Yonge street, three doors south of Albert. 246

—Young man do not give up the ship there is still hope. Dr. E. C. West's Nerve and Brain Treatment will cure you. The Buffalo News thinks it is quite funny to read of a greenbacker declining the "honor" of a nomination for congress in a district where he could not poll ten votes out of twenty thousand. A. B. Des Rochers, Arthabaskaville, P. Q., writes: "Thirteen years ago I was seized with a severe attack of rheumatism in the head, from which I nearly constantly suffered until after having used Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil for nine days, bathing the head, etc., when I was completely cured, and have only used half a bottle." The sewer inspector of Cleveland recently opened a clogged sewer and found that the roots of a tree had grown and forced their way into a socket joint, and penetrating the sewer, completely filled it up. The roots had clasped themselves so firmly about the pipe that it took the united strength of two or three men to remove them. From the Danbury News: "Once on a time a girl named with the pretty name Raffaele de Benedetti married the owner. Last week he was arrested in Bridgeport for beating her." There is probably an exaggeration: "Several Boston women got lost up in the Catskills the other day, and in cultured phrases they called for Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil, but had failed to find it. The interesting discovery has thrown some light on the question of the rapidity of growth of coral. The evidence tends to show that the vessel on which a reef of the Gambier Islands, against which it rubbed, had picked up a young fungus which adhered to the sheathing of the ship and grew to the size and weight it had when observed, a diameter of nine inches and a weight of two and a half pounds in nine weeks. Mr. Alexander Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Hypocretic Cure, and have been cured of dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. One day I was eating a diamond, and I was at considerable expense trying to get rid of it, but this excellent medicine was the first and only relief I received." The falling fortunes of the Romans caused them to abandon Britain in the fifth century. As soon as the legions were gone the northern barbarians began to harass the southern people. "The barbarians came into the sea; the sea throws us back on the barbarians; we have only the hard choice left us of perishing by the sword or by the waves." This fear of barbarians induced the Britons to ask the aid of the Saxons, whose coming influenced speech, manners and the entire history of England. "TO ALL STRIKERS.—Strikers would do well to consider Guiana's liberal offer before going elsewhere. They are in sympathy with the present movement, and to show that they are agree to supply from their splendid assortment—the largest in the city—of boots and shoes, trunks and valises, any goods strikers need at actual wholesale prices, which they will guarantee is 25 per cent below the retail price. We say Guiana's immense boot and shoe emporium is at 215 Yonge street, three doors south of Albert. 246

SOCIETY OUT OF JOINT.

"SPECTATOR" HOLDS UP A LOOK-ING-GLASS TO SEE THE EVILS IN

The Girl at the Dance House—Giddy Ma-sons and Deceptive Sties—Degrada-tion of Franchise—When the Par-tisan Attacks—The Spectator's view on the Stockings and Humility—Denunciation of the "swell."

Of late I have retired from the bustling, noisy crowd and given myself up to a contemplation of the many phases of human life about me. In short, from being one of the throng, one of the actors of the human stage, I have retired to look on and note how each one plays his part. While so passing my time I have found a world of wealth for contemplation on the one hand and for comment upon the other rise up around me; and it is those things which are seen only in solitude that I propose to tell the readers of The World in the series of papers I have projected for them. The object is not to pry into the sanctities of ladies' chambers and to tell of the honours of the infidelities of Mrs. A. or of the Amours of Mr. B.; but to hunt down vice and folly in all their guises wherever it may be found. I shall set up a glass wherein many who look upon it shall see themselves, and this "many" I shall find in every grade of society, among the rich and the poor, the old and the young. Surely I will have conferred some profit as well as passed away some dull minutes if I can make those silly young women who tarry at the dance house late at night, yet far into the morning, see the folly of that way, and the poor young men who stay with them the while that they do. I have had my eye on matrons, too, with their sons and daughters growing up about them, whose giddy ways deserve the censure of an abler pen than mine; and I have noted the shortcomings of stern-faced men with long grey beards, accounted the most model of husbands, and the most exemplary of christians. I have seen so many more, in short, upon the body social, that I will not name them legion, but shall re-veal upon them, and convenient space to conscience upon them. Nor need I confine myself to the social side of life to find food for indignation, subject for censure—I see it everywhere. The politicians are not falling off for the moralist, mock or real; but when I see them resolving themselves into firms for the traffic and the sale of the conscience and the votes of men, there is surely enough in the political quarry to fire me if my morality were only skin deep. The films is easily cut of joint, and though I have the many-mouthed daily press, the telephone, and the "harnessed lightning," we have as many scores among us as when Science was Mystery. I am not born enough in egotism to think "I was born to set it right," but I think there is so little of the real, and so much of the sham, that I can do a little towards pointing the difference between both, my own understanding. But the audience will not be lectured from under the bushel, and may want to know who the "Spectator" is. He is simply a resident of Toronto, no better than his neighbors, but trying by all the means in his power to make himself better. He is a young man, whether married or not, who is not the affair of his readers, who has of late become disgusted with many of the politicians who have neither the gifts of nature nor the acquirements of study; who thinks that only in too many pulpits preaching has become a stife for effect and applause, and in too many quarters, where the church itself becomes a mere social institution. He thinks that while there are many pious men in the pulpit, there are a great many hypocrites, and he is disgusted in particular with some of those church dignitaries who preach "peace and good will to men," but who actually breathe discord and uncharitableness; who while enjoining one to sell that which he has, and to give to the poor, do not themselves do so; who are not less fastidious to divide according to right and to conscience. He is a young man, who follows a Jesus who was the ideal of meekness and humility, and yet in pride and arrogance trying to usurp place and authority in the church, and to be a poor father, and their ecclesiastical superiors. He sees those bishops who claim to be the "line-continued" of Peter, and who are not more than the disciple of a Man who was reputed only a "carpenter's son," bragging about their receptions by "Princes of Earth," growing eloquent on a distant shore, and shake hands, and putting more life and earnestness into a paragraph telling the honor some poor prince conferred upon them, than the figure they cut at a reception, and the hue of their silk stockings—than everything put into their sermons. He is a young man, who has seen honest men, and an elastic method of reasoning construing "the love of souls," which is part of their official equipment, as only the complement of the correlative of love of body, and kissing the pretty women of their flocks, after they have just preached of a sermon on modesty. THE CITY IN BRIEF.

George W. Ross M. P., is at the Walker house. The Oddfellows of Owen Sound and their friends were in town on an excursion yesterday. A large number of Barrie people were in the city yesterday, which was Barrie's civic holiday. Charley Smith, late of Toronto, was fined $80 and costs at Winnipeg for running a gambling house. The licensed victuallers court at Hamilton today. They will play the Ambitious city hotel men baseball. Allan Halford leaves the city today to join Don Thompson's troupe at Farmington, Mass. Success attend you, Allan. A young son of Mr. Beatty, the Berkeley street milkman, was badly kicked by a horse yesterday, two of his ribs being broken. The galaxy of drunks last night was numerous and brilliant. It numbered a round dozen and was composed of old stagers at the following hotel. Mrs. W. Barton and her niece were severely injured by being thrown out of their carriage on Church street yesterday afternoon. Rev. D. D. Thomas, D. D., pastor chief of the Jarvis street Baptist church will occupy the pulpit of the church next Sunday. He will remove to Toronto and enter upon his pastoral duties about the first of October. Rev. W. T. Tapscott has returned with his bride. The Parliament street Baptist church will give the happy couple a formal welcome tonight. The wholesale houses of the city are lit up at night now, being busily engaged in receiving and assorting their fall importations, which are largely in excess of those of last year. Wm. H. Neil of 78 Chestnut street was disorderly at Queen and York streets last night. He was run in by Officer Armstrong (102). Alexander Tennant of 44 Alexander street found himself in disgrace vile at No. 2 station last night for assaulting his wife, Politician Jarvis executed the warrant. Jake Davis, of King street east, has in his possession a fine turtle (weighing 48 lbs) from the Tortuga Islands. It lays several eggs daily which are esteemed a great luxury by epicures in the Southern States. Yesterday afternoon a fight occurred on George street, just above Duchess, in which several men and women took part. A tall fat fellow in possession of a house for arrears of rent gave rise to the trouble. Yesterday morning a shunting car employed in hauling hops at the brewery of J. W. Davis ran over the track into the Don river. The hops were laded without much damage, but the car refused the efforts of forty men to place the car on the track. License has been granted to a grog seller at the corner of Lamley and Arthur streets against the desire of those living in that vicinity. This region is now becoming so notorious that the people are demanding either a police station nearer at hand or a few more policemen on that beat. Excursionists to New York, Montreal and the thousand islands, per steamer Rupert, will notice that the date has been changed from the 27th until Monday, August 28. The letter of thanks tendered to the agent from the party of New York excursionists who sailed by the Rupert on this excursion will be no less pleasant. Inspector Auld yesterday tested samples of milk with the following results: John Gibbs, Leslieville, 100; Samuel Trout, DeGrassie street, Don Mount, 100; Alex Gibbs, Leslieville, 100; Wm Gibson, Scadding street, 90; Mrs Murphy, 478 King street east, 90; Patrick O'Donoghue, Eastern avenue, 89; Joe La Belle, 29 Cornwall street, 88; Mrs Eazy, 402 King street east, 100; Jos Stinson, 305 Parliament street, 100; Mrs Gray, 324 King street east, 100; Jane Harris, 45 Edward street, 100; John Smith, Shaw street, 100.

Ongeode Hall exams. About 80 were up for solitor, three of whom got through without an oral. J. D. Cameron standing first. In the first intermediate nine got through without an oral.

Before the Bench. Frank Watson, the soap box fraud, was sent down for five days. On two charges of larceny, Eliza Rosenecrow was committed for trial. For assaulting an old woman she was fined $5 and costs. Samuel Cross was ordered to pay $20 and costs for an infraction of the liquor law.

The Subsidiary High Court of Canada resumed business in the Alice street hall yesterday forenoon. High chief ranger Lucas presiding. The assizes presented their report. They pointed out the desirability of keeping separate books for the endowment fund so as to have it distinct from the general fund. Attention was called to the length of time allowed to elapse between the payment of the endowment fund and the time of the first payment to the fund, and also to the arrears of dues allowed to accumulate. The number of assizes assessed is 126. The style in which the books had been kept by the secretary, Bro. Lansing, was much commended. A deficit of $92 was reported in the management of the fund of the order by Bro. Bailey. Statements of the condition of the different funds were submitted. The following amounts remained to the credit of the different funds: Endowment fund $382.85; sick and funeral fund, $382; management fund, $51.75; goods account, $150.71. The court then proceeded with the consideration of amendments to the general law, which business it was engaged in with an intermission for dinner until 4 o'clock.

The election of officers was the most important business of the afternoon. It is the custom of the order to choose officers from the place where the succeeding annual meeting will be held, and as Hamilton will be the place of the gathering next year, all the officers elect are from the ambitious city, their offices and names being: High chief ranger, J. B. Becking-ham; high sub-chief ranger, F. Walker; high chief treasurer, Chas Williams; high chief secretary, T. G. Priestland; senior woodward, James Hobbs; junior woodward, J. H. Martin; junior beadle, T. Davis. The trustees of last year Bro. Mayor McMur-rick, Ald. Hallam and John Haggall, all of Toronto, were re-elected. Bro. G. C. Jolly, London; E. C. Ryott, Woodstock, and Walter Mills, Ingersoll, were elected auditors. The installation of the officers elect takes place to-morrow.

London was selected by a unanimous vote as the place for holding the annual meeting of the order. It is the intention of the secretary, Bro. J. Bedford, of the Montreal district, wrote to the effect that the prospects of his district joining the Subsidiary High Court are favorable, an intimation that was received with applause.

The local brethren have a demonstration at Victoria park, in which the annual march in procession with bands and banners to the Church street, whence they will sail for the V. P.

Charged With Manslaughter. A fortnight ago or so a child named Harold whose parents live on Louis street, was run over and killed by a horse and cart driven by Wm Spence, a colored coal trowler. Coroner's inquest was held at the time and the jury exonerated Spence from blame, the magistrate subsequently liberating him on his own bail to appear when called upon.

Local Railway Notes. The Great Trunk magnate setook themselves to Hamilton yesterday. The traffic returns of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce for the week ending August 19th comes $7,411 in excess of the estimate of $6,875 over the receipts for the corresponding period last year.

General Manager Hickson, yesterday gave orders to have two switches laid at the foot of Peter street so that the Great Western train can be run into the union station. The trackmaster with a crew of men engaged on the work which will be completed this week.

Chewing Dollar Bills. John Bartley came in from Streetsville yesterday and wanted to have a time. He fell in with his old friend William Gilding and the two of them started out. They met with John Cunningham of Melinda street who accompanied them. After hurrying around the city for some time the party found themselves at a late hour last night at Jarvis and Duke streets, where Cunningham squatted $22 out of Bartley's pocket. Bartley reported the case to Officer O'Connell (64) who arrested Cunningham on a charge of passing bills in his mouth and chewing them. The prisoner was locked up at the central station.

David Wagstaff is erecting a fine brick mansion on the Kingston road near Leslieville. A petition is in circulation to the city council asking for a sewer on Lewis street, Kingston road, city side. Ald. Davis will sign the matter through council.

Dr. Spears, Kingston road, is spoken of as being a candidate for school trustee for No. 10 section York (Riverdale). Likely J. W. Potter, E.A., will be the opposing candidate. There was a surprise party at the residence of E. Thornbeck, Scarborough, on Monday evening last. It was attended by many of his friends who took with them plenty of good cheer.

On Monday evening several lads were fined $5 each for damaging a grand trunk coach by pecking at and passing trails in the neighborhood of Logan's side line. The lads not being able to find the funds went to jail for 30 days.

American Forestry Congress. MONTEAL, Aug 22.—The American Forestry congress resumed business to-day with the preliminary session. Mr. Beattie moved that the organization of local associations be encouraged so that all parts of the North American continent may be represented in the Forestry congress. The motion was adopted. The congress then proceeded to the election of officers. Several resolutions were passed and the congress adjourned to meet at the call of the executive committee.

The Mail's Attacks on Mr. Blake. The Mail has taken to attacking Mr. Blake as a private citizen, an impertinence which we had not expected even from the gentlemen's journal under its eschastic management. It is useless to repeat

TWO BACK DOWNS.

La Minerve takes it all Back and Forfeits Retires.

The Minerve of yesterday is quite interesting. Says our esteemed contemporary: "Our readers will remember that on the 15th and 17th of June we published two articles denouncing Mr. A. E. Porfir, then liberal candidate in the county of Terrebonne, against Mr. G. A. Nantel, as a Freemason and a bad Catholic, a hypocrite and a man in open rupture with the church. To-day, after having made enquiries, we find that we have been in error as regards Mr. Porfir, that he is not a Freemason and never was one. From all we know of him we have no reason to believe that he is not a Catholic in perfect accord with all the teachings of the church." The article goes on to say that Mr. Porfir having opposed Hon. Mr. Chapleau in Terrebonne in order to re-establish his wounded reputation in the county, and acting now perfectly satisfied with the result of the Minerve, gracefully retires "without any consideration" from the contest, and in a letter to our contemporary, declares that the Hon. Mr. Chapleau is listed by acclamation.

Of course the libel suit against the Minerve is withdrawn. Homeing Longfellow. LONDON, Aug. 23.—A committee is being formed to arrange for placing the bust of the poet Longfellow in Westminster abbey.

Mr. Trevelyan in Belfast. BELFAST, Aug. 23.—Mr. Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, arrived here to-day. The mayor presented him with an address of welcome. He expressed his desire to strengthen Mr. Trevelyan's hands in his onerous duties. Mr. Trevelyan said it would be idle to deny the existence of a personal danger in the task of governing Ireland. The remedy against outrages was to have a tribunal which could be trusted to do justice without fear. With such a tribunal which will give a verdict according to the evidence it will have an important effect. Those who expect the agrarian murders would suddenly cease were expecting an impossibility. The fixed policy of the government was to act between criminal and political acts. They care not to concern themselves with political meetings but against outrages they were determined to wage war. The remarks of Mr. Trevelyan were received with cheers. Mr. Trevelyan subsequently visited the iron works. Flags were hoisted on the houses and on the vessels in the harbor.

A Black Brute. On Friday afternoon last, 18th inst., says the St. Thomas Times, a burly negro named William Bush, living at Gesto, township of Colchester, attacked two married women named Don, who were engaged at the time picking berries in the woods near Sweetman's mill, and attempted to outrage them. Bush first attacked Mrs. Don, and seized a club and beat the brute over the head, causing Bush to direct his attention to her sister. She was too much for him, however, and succeeded in keeping him off. She then started for Sweetman's mill, yelling lustily for help. Bush then again attempted to outrage Mrs. Don, and succeeded in accomplishing his purpose. When Mrs. Don arrived at Sweetman's mill she presented a horrible spectacle, her clothes were covered with mud. She related her story to Mr. Watt, of St. Thomas, and others, who were at the mill at the time. A party was organized in aid of the woman, and had Bush been caught a trial would have been dispensed with. He was captured at his house near Gesto on Saturday morning, and brought before Squires Milne and Dunstan in the afternoon when he was committed to Sandwich jail for trial. Bush's victim was pregnant, and it is feared she may die from the result of the treatment received at his hands.

A Shocking Story. A girl aged about 18 years, who has been employed for eight months in a tailoring establishment in St. Thomas, where she gave the best of satisfaction, both in regard to conduct and ability, has been discovered by her employer to have been leading the life of a courtesan. She was very distant and reserved with her shop mates, and showing an interest in the party in some of their festivities declined, pleading for an excuse that she was saving her money to assist in paying off a mortgage on her father's farm. Her employer happened to meet the girl on the street one evening, when she addressed him in a very suggestive manner, and to assure himself of her identity he dragged her to a street lamp. When the girl perceived whom she had noticed she screamed and darted away. Nothing more was seen of her for some time. She was located in one of the most notorious houses in the city. Her story was telegraphed for, and he took the erring girl to her home, in the township of Howard. It is intimated that the only reason the girl was leading a life of shame was her overwhelming desire to pay off the mortgage above mentioned.

Recovering Swamp Lands. From the Chatham Daily Tribune. An interview with J. B. Pike and Surveyor McGeorge gave our reporter the following interesting facts. For some time past Mr. Pike, in company with some other gentlemen, has been cultivating a farm of six hundred acres in Dover West, which farm had to be conquered something after the fashion of the land of Holland. The experiment proving a success, Mr. Pike and his company have crossed the river and secured by purchase two thousand five hundred acres of land, and the work of reclaiming it is to be commenced immediately. The great problem to be solved is to secure the drainage, and to solve this satisfactorily and permanently they have secured the services of the government dredge, which is to commence operations on Thursday of this week; so to get the work completed by this fall. Under the drainage act the township of Raleigh is negotiating this great improvement, which, in this instance, cost about $7 per acre. The machinery ordered from Mr. Pike and Mr. McGregor, of R. Parkin-son, of Toronto, will cost $200,000. The total enterprise will be paid back by an annual assessment to extend over a period of fifteen years. The annual cost of operating the drainage apparatus is 10c per acre, which is a bagatelle. This present experiment, being the most difficult, of all that would be required in the drainage of 60,000 acres of plains in this county, will satisfy the owners of the plains as to the advisability of reducing the whole tract of land to cultivation.
