AUTO FACTORY AT KENTVILLE

Eighty-five Hands Employed in the Manufacture of Automobiles.—Only Concern East of Ontario.—One Hundred Machines This Season's Output.

Kentville has already in operation a new Automobile Factory, the only concern of that kind east of Ontario. The Nova Scotia Carriage Company, conducted by the MacKay Bros., a concern whose reputation for enterprise and high class production, extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has added to its already extensive works, a complete plant for the manufacture of high-grade automobiles. They have installed a new boiler and engine of 100 h. p., another engine for the Auto Department of 30 h. p. and otherwise added to the facilities already existing, for the manufacturing of carriages on an increased scale with the addition of the building of automobiles. The concern employs at the present time eighty-five hands. The new auto will be known as the MacKay Penn. "Thirty". It is the intention of the Company to build a hundred or more auto cars this season, and they are already meeting with a ready sale.

A number of the cars have already been sold in Western Canada. They are listed as follows: Model M. Gentlemen's Roadster, $1,250; Model P. Five Passenger Touring Car, $1,450; Model R. Five Passenger Touring Car, $1,500; Delivery Car, $1,500 and $1,750. The entire auto-car is built in the works at Kentville, except the chassis which is built for the company by the best constructive engineers on the continent, in the great steel works, at Pittsburgh, Penn. Six types of car are being built at Kentville, two, four and six passenger car and an up-to-date delivery truck. The fine, new, illustrated catalogue just issued from the press of the Western Chronicle, says—"The MacKay Penn" "Thirty" is built by men skilled and experienced in the art and not a single detail that makes for refinement, stability, durability and practicality is overlooked.

"We will not compromise with questionable material or unskilled mechanics. We know our design is right and insist on having the best material and most careful workmanship possible to procure. Unlike so many of our 'Infant Industries' the MacKay Bros. have not asked for bounties, concessions or aid else for this new industry, but have initiated and are pushing the new enterprise on its own merits, confident of success. We are not asking the people of Ontario or British Columbia to contribute through tariff assessment, beyond what is wise and equitable to sustain and protect one of our own industries, but when we find men who have brains and enterprise enough to inaugurate and develop large industrial works, as the MacKay Brothers have done in our midst, it certainly is good policy to offer them all the encouragement which we prudently can.—W. Chronicle.

Let People Get Credit Where They Spend Cash

To the Editor of the Chronicle: Sir:—A correspondent has drawn attention to the fact that the head of a large departmental store which draws millions of dollars from Nova Scotia annually has signed the protest against the reciprocity treaty. There is no question but that this treaty will operate to the great benefit of this Province and those who oppose cannot be considered to be our friends. The fact that so much hard cash goes out of our Province to the Upper Provinces stores is a subject that demands very serious thought. I think the various Boards of Trade should take the matter up and try to stop the outflow. In the country districts it is stated that people will send their ready money to these stores and buy on credit from their country dealer. This could very easily be stopped by the storekeepers refusing to sell on credit to those who spend their cash elsewhere. This would do considerable to stop the practice. Let people get credit where they spend their cash. This is really a very serious matter and I would like the opinion of other dealers on the subject. R. MORRISON

Perils of the Deep

TERRIBLE HARDSHIP IN TWO HUNDRED-DAY PASSAGE ROUND HORN. San Diego, Cal., March 7.—The American ship Aryan, which reached port late yesterday, after being out over 200 days from Philadelphia, met on her voyage around the Horn. Forty days after clearing, a steam vessel was sighted, but since that time nothing has been heard from the ship and two months ago all hope for her safety was abandoned.

Three months ago the last of the fresh meat and vegetables was used up, and the tobacco supply also was exhausted. When the ship was brought into port, a quantity of fresh provisions and a supply of tobacco were sent aboard. The officers did not understand that the tobacco was intended for the crew, and serious trouble was narrowly averted. Order was restored when the men were given their share of tobacco.

Despite the hardship which they suffered the crew of twenty-two men and officers reached port in good physical condition, with the exception of Captain Kimmet, who is blind. Preparations are being made for his removal to his home in Essex, N. J. What caused his blindness is not known. The Aryan brought 3,000 tons of coal.

Veteran Actor

H. PRICE WEBBER WILL GIVE HIS THREE HUNDRETH PERFORMANCE IN YARMOUTH NEXT WEEK.

Says the Yarmouth Times:—For more than forty years Mr. H. Price Webber has visited Yarmouth presenting his comedies and dramas in the play houses of our town. During this long period before the public Mr. Webber has appeared in over 10,000 performances, a longer career than any actor on the stage today. The Boston Post in an interesting interview with Mr. Webber at his home in Augusta, Me., refers to him as "the grand old theatrical professional." Indeed if there were more men on the stage of the calibre of H. Price Webber it would be a great moral benefit to the profession itself. Mr. Webber's plays have always been of a healthful moral character which gives only clean and pure enjoyment to his audiences. On next Wednesday evening when he appears at the Royal Opera House he will celebrate his 300th performance in Yarmouth. His company is composed of twelve people and he will give the laughable comedy "The Homecoming." Miss Edwina Grey (Mrs. Webber) who has appeared in his company throughout his career will share the hearty welcome which is sure to greet her husband on Wednesday evening.

Change in Time Makes Interesting Law Point

All Clocks in Paris Stopped for Nine Minutes—What of Habeas Corpus and Dead in That Space? Paris, March 11.—(Canadian Press)—Starting at exactly last midnight, time was annihilated in France for the space of 9 minutes and 21 seconds. On the stroke of the hour all clocks in the republic were stopped for the time indicated in order to comply with the law making the time here the same as in all places within a radius of 10 degrees, and in which the time is regulated from Greenwich, England.

All railway trains, if on time, were held up, and those which were behind schedule were required to make up the difference.

Owing to the change in time, an interesting question has arisen. It is questionable if a child that was born and died within the elapsed time will legally have lived. The point is puzzling the legal talent.

Well-known Baptist Minister Passes Away

The death occurred on Saturday last after a brief illness of a well-known retired Baptist minister, Rev. W. H. Warren. Having been confined to the house only the day previous few knew of his illness and the news of his death shortly after noon on Saturday came with startling suddenness and with sadness to many friends here and throughout the province. From the brief opportunity afforded for diagnosis the local physicians formed the opinion that appendicitis was the cause of death, and this opinion was shared by Dr. McKay, of Halifax, who arrived shortly before death ensued. A post mortem examination, however, revealed the fact that inflammation resulting from intestinal ulcers had extended over the appendix, causing some symptoms similar to those of appendicitis, and that death was the result of perforation from ulcer.

Rev. Mr. Warren, who was a native of P.E.I., had for many years been a resident of Bridgetown. A post mortem examination, however, revealed the fact that inflammation resulting from intestinal ulcers had extended over the appendix, causing some symptoms similar to those of appendicitis, and that death was the result of perforation from ulcer.

After the departure of Rev. E. E. Daley, Mr. Warren filled the pulpit of the church until a successor was appointed and has been engaged from time to time in pastoral work.

For two or three years past he has been active in Temperance organization for the Sons of Temperance. He took a keen interest in Olive Branch Division of this town and in the cause of temperance in general.

His early education was obtained in the school of his native province and he later took up his studies at Acadia, leading his classes and graduating with honors. He had naturally a scholarly mind and attained a culture befitting his profession. Earnestly characterized his preaching by his pastoral relations.

Besides a widow and one son, Mr. W. A. Warren, the deceased was survived by four brothers, (Charles, James, John and Samuel, one sister, Mrs. McMillan, all residing in Prince Edward Island.

The funeral service was held in the Baptist church, on Monday afternoon, after prayers at the home and was largely attended. The public schools were closed in order to allow the teachers and some of the pupils to attend the services. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McNeill, pastor of the church, and was participated in by the local ministers and Rev. E. E. Daley, of Truro, Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Paradise and Rev. H. G. Mellick, of Lawrencetown.

By a singular and touching coincidence the notes used by Mr. Warren in preaching the funeral sermon of the late Mr. I. B. Freeman on Wednesday the first inst. were left lying upon the pulpit, and Pastor McNeill incorporated a portion of them in his own address.

The church was draped in black and purple. Choice floral tributes rested upon the casket and adorned the pulpit.

The choir of the church with the congregation rendered the following hymns:—"Jesus Lover of My Soul"; "Oh, for the death of those who slumber in the Lord"; and "The Christian's Goodnight." The pallbearers were Messrs J. E. Lloyd, K. Freeman, J. Harry Hicks and Capt. J. W. Salter. Interment took place in the Bridgetown cemetery.

Advocates Mixed Farming

Mr. G. H. Vroom, of Middleton, government fruit inspector was interviewed by the Outlook a few days ago. He has followed with much interest the series of articles upon the development of the Valley, which have appeared in that journal.

His ten years experience in his present position during which he has inspected thousands of barrels of apples and judged fruit in many exhibitions convinces him that we must grow a better quality of fruit in the Valley. This can be done by learning the latest and best methods in tillage, fertilizing, spraying, pruning and thinning.

More attention should also be given to the package in which our apples are shipped. Many think that a barrel is a barrel. But there is a great difference in the barrels that go into the English market and the neat package helps to sell the contents. The material used is generally all right, but there is particularly in the West-end part of the Valley rough saving and carelessness in putting the parts together. Enough of the choicest fruit should be shipped in boxes to supply the rather limited demand for fruit in this package. This year but four thousand boxes have been shipped from Nova Scotia to England against 200,000 barrels.

But Mr. Vroom considers the development of mixed farming the most important question that has been raised in the series of interviews in this journal. There are farms in the Valley that have steadily improved in the past twenty years while others are poorer than they were a couple of decades ago, and are carrying heavy mortgages. Mr. Vroom believes that in most cases it is the farm on which mixed farming has been abandoned that has run down and become mortgaged, and he will generally be found that where the farms have improved and the owner has a bank account that mixed farming has been followed.

Mr. Vroom would like to see our abandoned farms converted into sheep ranches. Australia is sending chilled mutton to London in shiploads. We should be able to do the same if our waste lands were utilized for sheep raising.

Another matter was referred to by Mr. Vroom which is new to this discussion. Mr. Vroom has visited every steamship engaged in the fruit trade from Halifax and has been present at the loading of many cargoes. He has been impressed with the need of better accommodations for handling our apples in Halifax.

In many cases particularly in the present winter we have found that apples went on board in a partially frosted condition. He believes that the injury was sustained while the fruit stood in the cars at Halifax.

From fifty to one hundred cars of apples arrive for each large steamer. These are run in a time upon the covered siding beside the steamer and unloaded. But the cars have to stand out of doors until their turn comes. This means that some of the apples stand in cars out of doors from five to ten hours after they reach Halifax.

Mr. Vroom would like to see by the C.P.R. the governments, the city of Halifax the fruit growers, or through combination of all these a building erected at Desj Water terminus large enough to accommodate say thirty cars. This could be a cheap building just sufficient to prevent a temperature too low for the apples while standing in the cars.

This building might be used for other purposes. Perhaps a part of it might be fitted up so to be used in the warmer weather as a chilled or cool room for storing meats, butter, eggs, berries and other perishable products en route to the English market.

FRUIT INDUSTRY OF NOVA SCOTIA

A Paper Read by Capt. C. O. Allen, before the Kings County Board of Trade, March 7th, 1911.—Important Suggestions as to Shipping the Fruit.

I have been asked by the executive of your Board of Trade to give an address upon the Apple Industry of Nova Scotia. First let me congratulate the officers of the Board upon the choice of the subject before us this afternoon, for discussion.

The growing of fruit in the Annapolis Valley, a stretch of country 70 miles long and 5 to 8 wide, running down between two parallel mountain ranges, is the most important phase of livelihood in the Maritime Provinces, and if we view this industry from a sectional point, we shall find there is not such another comparative scope of country, so favorably situated, in the whole of our broad America, either climatically or geographically.

There is just enough sunshine and frost sandwiched into our climate to mature the apple at its best. Warmer climates are producing apples of a finer appearance perhaps, but lacking the luscious flavour compared with those grown in the Northern latitude.

We are told by the Secretary of Agriculture for the province of Nova Scotia, that during 1910 this Province received from her:

Fisheries.....$ 8,400,000
The Forests..... 2,480,000
The Coal Fields..... 15,000,000

An aggregate from these three important industries, less than $20,000,000 which totalled the products of the farm for last year. That is to say, there was taken from our farm lands in Nova Scotia a greater remuneration than from the combined interests of our Fisheries, Forests and Coal Fields.

While all phases of our Agricultural pursuits have their important bearing upon the wage-earner and the necessities of life, yet the growing and marketing of fruit is a hundred fold the greatest asset to the three counties of Kings, Annapolis and Hants.

Fruit growing has enabled the man with foresight, 20 to 30 years ago, to increase the value of his holdings at a greater percentage than from any other known source upon the Continent of America. There are instances in the Annapolis Valley, where land only worth $10 to $25 per acre 30 years ago, is today worth a thousand dollars. Notwithstanding the Valley has increased its apple production from merely nothing until an average year now warrants a million barrels; yet today the planting of larger orchards has a brighter prospect ahead than 25 years ago.

If the farm lands of this valley have so greatly increased, while the fruit growers have been burdened with slow and inadequate transportation during the past, why can we not predict the great impetus rapid transportation will thrust upon us.

For a quarter of a century the bulk of the fruit has been shipped in 12, 14 and even 16 day boats between Halifax and London, while our competitive fruit growers from the Atlantic United States ports have had steamers carrying the fruit in less than half the time, and delivering the goods at Southampton, from whence it takes less time by rail than the hauling from the slow old Furness line boats, discharging in the London docks.

One very important feature of the marketing end of our apples is that within the past few years we are opening up the Northern markets of Great Britain, which is giving greater promise for our larger varieties of apples than London.

The Mail boats in the winter months are delivering the apples from Halifax to Liverpool in about half the time it takes the London boats.

That there are still great improvements in sight for the fruit growers of Nova Scotia, cannot be disputed by even the pessimist. With boats like the Canadian Northern has put on the Halifax route and the Imperial Steamship Co's proposition to run four boats from Halifax to Great Britain, and last but not least, the introduction of the C. P. R. into our Province, will give to fruit growing in Nova Scotia a greater boost than the western countries have been able to accomplish, at a tremendous cost in advertising, where land, not as productive, cannot today be bought for less than five times what is asked per acre in either of the three countries of our fruit section.

It is said that a good thing advertises itself. This is just what is bringing our fruit industries to the front.

There is no country in Eastern America that is forging ahead in the planting of orchards as the Annapolis Valley. One does not have to look far to see why the fruit sections of Ontario or New York State are not setting heavily to orchards.

It is the old axiom, "The survival of the fittest." From Ontario in the winter months the shipper has to follow his fruit for days in heated cars to tide water. From the orchards of the Annapolis Valley it is only a few hours run to the steamer side. This short rail haul to the shipping ports with rapid trains will quickly cause an increase in the value of the orchard land in the Annapolis Valley, now that we have one of the largest corporations in the world to develop it and carry our apples the four to five day journey to a country small in area, yet teeming with 71 times the population of the whole of Canada. At the present time we are only touching the fringes of the markets near us.

In Great Britain there are six cities averaging nearly one half million and seven more cities averaging one quarter million and still seven more containing between one and two hundred thousand persons.

Life On Other Planets

Whether life as human earth dwellers conceive it exists on the planets is a question on which many eminent astronomers have pronounced various opinions. Now comes a noted zoologist, Prof. Edmond Perrier, member of the French Academy of Sciences and director of the Physical Institute in Paris, who answers in a distinct affirmative.

In an article contributed in La Revue, Prof. Perrier deals with the question on a strictly scientific basis, although he is led to rather fanciful conclusions. Taking into account the physical conditions which rule the more remote planets of the solar system Prof. Perrier thinks that life as we understand it cannot exist on them.

Mercury, too, with its mean temperature of 193 degrees, he considers equally unlikely as a habitation of living things, whether animal or vegetable. In the case of Venus and Mars, Prof. Perrier reasons that conditions of gravity, light and composition of matter exist which do not essentially differ from those of this earth.

The writer assumes that on both planets there is or has been water, and that it rains or snows exactly as it does here, from which he concludes that at all events lower grade plants and animals, such as algae, fungi and certain forms of insect life must exist there. As regards Venus, its specific gravity is but little less than the earth's, and its axial inclination to its orbit is somewhat steeper than the earth's, so that despite the shorter Venus year of 224 days the difference in seasons is not very marked. This Prof. Perrier argues, is favorable to the existence of long-lived insects with slow development, such as beetles, locusts and the like.

The mean temperature of Venus being higher than ours, there would be more water vapor which would make possible the growth of ferns and similar plants of our carbon period. Reptiles and amphibious animals might exist in the earth's triassic period. In the temperate zones of Venus these animals may have multiplied exceedingly.

Prof. Perrier thinks there are no birds, mammals or human beings on Venus. As Venus has no moon, its nights are exceedingly dark, and he does not think any night animals exist there.

Entirely different is the picture the French savant presents of life on Mars, which is further away from the sun than either Venus or the earth. The axial inclination of Mars is lower, its seasons are sharply divided, and the difference between day and night is greater. Winter on Mars is very cold, and summer very hot; its northern hemisphere is warmer, having a longer summer than its southern half.

While Venus offers favorable conditions for creatures with little development, Mars is the planet for warm blooded animals, better able to withstand extremes of temperature. Mars, Prof. Perrier says, is the planet of mammals and birds. Owing to the lesser gravity, jumping and running animals would predominate. The difference in the seasons would produce quick living creatures which complete their life in one season, such as butterflies, whose metamorphosis enables them to exist through different seasons.

On Mars flowering plants would grow in abundance, and Martian flora and fauna may resemble those of the temperate and polar regions of the earth. The greater length of the Martian year, 668 days, with a proportionately longer summer, would favour living creatures and plants producing one generation to a summer. Prof. Perrier imagines intense growth and reproduction, immensely tall grasses, huge fruits, gigantic insects.

Life being a greater struggle there the writer is led to assume a high

HOW WILLIE WON THE PRIZE.

Little Willie, having only one eye, did not like to attend school. One afternoon he stayed home and his mother sent him to the store for a loaf of bread. On the way back he stopped at the school. The school examiners were there to award a prize of $5 in gold to the smartest boy or girl in the class. Just as Willie entered the teacher held up one finger. Then Willie held up two fingers. This time she held up three fingers, and Willie held up his fist. She held up an apple, and Willie held up a loaf of bread. She called him to the desk and gave him the $5.

The examiners enquired of the teacher why she awarded the prize to Willie. She replied: "I held up one finger, meaning there is One Supreme Being. He held up two, meaning the starting of the race, Adam and Eve. I held up three fingers, meaning Faith, Hope and Charity. He held up his fist, meaning in unity there is strength. I held up an apple meaning the downfall of man. He held up his fist, meaning the staff of life. Thus I gave him the prize."

When Willie's mother wanted to know where he got the money, he replied: "I stopped at the school and the teacher held up one finger, meaning I had only one eye. I held up two fingers, meaning that I could see as much with my one eye as she with her two. She held up three fingers, meaning that between the two of us we only had three eyes. This made me so mad that I shook my fist at her. She picked up an apple and was just going to throw it at me, when I held up the loaf of bread. She got scared and gave me the $5."

AN EGGS RECORD HARD TO BEAT.

Mr. Chas. A. D. Siddall's Hens Are After the World's Record.

Some weeks ago reference was made to the record which had been made by fourteen hens belonging to Mr. Charles A. D. Siddall, of this town. It will be remembered that the hens laid an average of eight eggs a day during the month of January. Well, these hens have been keeping steadily at work, with a view to coast to beating their former excellent record. During the month of January they laid 293 eggs, or an average of 10 1/2 eggs per day. On the fourth of February they fittingly laid fourteen eggs. On three different days they laid thirteen; on two days twelve, while the smallest number that these enterprising hens laid on any one day was eight.

Can this record be beaten?—Sackville Tribune.

Do you know of all the minor ailments which are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by all dealers.

It is said that Montreal's water supply is seriously affected by the great thickness of ice.

The license commission of the city of Halifax cut down the number of licenses by fifteen. A similar reduction is contemplated next year. The fees of those remaining have been largely increased.

Psychine cures by increasing and strengthening the white corpuscles of the blood, or phagocytes.

These white corpuscles eat every disease germ that finds entrance to the body, when they're strong enough and in sufficient numbers.

And Psychine builds these white corpuscles because of certain medical herbs it contains, nature's true remedy. Which science now knows will do just that.

We go to great expense to make Psychine.

Our materials come from the ends of the earth.

They are compounded in one of the finest laboratories in apparatus that is costly in the extreme.

But costly and all as it is we know that it will do, hence the reason of our buying a 50-cent bottle from your druggist and giving it you, free.

AT DEATH'S DOOR FROM KIDNEY DISEASE

SAVED ONLY BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"
CLANRASSIE, ONT.
"Two years ago, the doctor made forty-four calls on me, and then said he had done all he could for me. I was suffering with intense kidney trouble and inflammation had set in. Two other doctors were consulted and agreed that nothing could be done to help me. On the recommendation of a neighbor, I took "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me. Today, I take "Fruit-a-tives" as my only medicine. I am in excellent health, and "Fruit-a-tives" is the medicine that cured me. It had been at death's door for months. I am glad to be able to give you this testimonial. It may benefit some other woman suffering as I suffered, as I believe that I would not be alive today had I not used "Fruit-a-tives".

Claims Murroes Cleared Half Million

Had Only One Thousand Shares of Wireless Stock, But Sold Fifty Thousand.
New York, March 9—Hundreds of bookkeeping entries were required today at the trial of George H. Murroe, the former Montreal man, alleged to have received something like $500,000 from investors in all parts of the world for wireless telegraph stock which it is alleged was never delivered. Murroe, who is on trial for alleged misuse of the mails in selling stock, represented his firm as American Agents for the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of England, according to the testimony which has been given. Walter M. Watson, Murroe's former stock transfer clerk who was examined in regard to the bookkeeping entries, today testified that at no time did Murroe have more than one thousand shares of English Marconi stock, though it is alleged by Government officials that the firm received money for upwards of fifty thousand shares. Testimony that they had sent money to Murroe for wireless stock which was never delivered was given by Robert S. Snook, of South Bend, Ind., and Lornie of Methuen, Mass.

FAVORS RECIPROCITY

Sir Donald Mann Says Farmers Will Benefit by It.
Before leaving for Toronto last night, Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the Canadian Northern Railway, who was in Montreal yesterday afternoon, expressed the opinion that the number of immigrants coming from Great Britain and Ireland this year would beat all previous records; in fact, he said there were some good settlers entering that C. N. R. had to stop looking, as they could not bring them all out. Sir Donald declared himself an imperialist, but believes Canada's farm population will derive much benefit from the opening up of the United States market with its ninety millions of people.

FEEDING WORK HORSES IN WINTER.

The problem of feeding work horses is doubtless of as wide interest as any problem in live stock management. Scours or calf cholera is a serious complaint and very difficult to overcome, writes H. G. Van Felt in the Farm and Fireside.

A well bred Shire horse is from 16 to 17 hands high, with a girth 47 inches and neck 20 inches. It is bred from the Lincolnshire and Dutch strains.

SCOURS IN CALVES.

A Serious Complaint and One Difficult to Overcome. Scours or calf cholera is a serious complaint and very difficult to overcome, writes H. G. Van Felt in the Farm and Fireside. It is an infection caused by one of two or three different specific germs which gain access to the blood of the calves through some wound or broken skin surface.

Care of Dairy Utensils.

Any dirt that has accumulated on the milk can is good evidence that the milk is not of the best quality. To guard against this trouble, it is first necessary to look to the milk can itself.

DAIRY POINTERS.

With even only two cows it pays to own a cream separator. Enough more cream is taken out to have two pounds of butter each week, worth, say, 50 cents. The gain in price is also said to be 6 cents a week and the whole gain for the year $29.12.

Dairy Cleanliness.

Great care should be taken that there is no dirt sticking to the cow's sides that will find its way into the milk pail, as every particle of dirt or filth of any kind that gets into the milk carries with it thousands of bacteria. Undesirable bacteria produces taint in milk.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1911.

The press despatches of a week ago announced that in answer to the charges that the United States army is not prepared for actual warfare the president had directed a magnificent test of the whole machinery controlling the military and naval forces. On March the sixth messages were flying all over the country ordering the assemblage of 20,000 troops in the department of Texas with headquarters at San Antonio. A formidable fleet of armored cruisers was ordered to take its place off the coast. Brigades were placed at strategic points including Mexican border towns.

It now transpires that the movement had a special significance. A week later it is announced that all of the republic of Mexico is under martial law for the protection of President Diaz against revolutionary forces, with a wall of United States troops along the border.

A despatch from Mexico City states that rebels will be summarily dealt with and any found interfering with railroad service will be shot down without trial. Details are somewhat meagre owing to interference with the telegraph lines.

South Western Buys Another Railway

Has Secured Control of the Liverpool and Milton Road.
Liverpool, March 8.—The Liverpool and Milton Railway has passed under the control of the Halifax and South-Western Railway. Fourteen years ago several of the Liverpool and Milton merchants conceived the idea of connecting these towns by tramway and built sections, some of half a mile and some a mile, until the line was completed. The engine and part of the rolling stock came to Bridgewater over the Nova Scotia Central, thence here by steamer. It operated through the principal streets of both towns for some years, until it was merged into a railway concern, with extensions on the increased water-front and a new right of way. It was a successful enterprise. In all the years of operation no fatal or serious accident ever occurred, though the amount of traffic to and from the lumber and pulp mills has been enormous. While the amount of the purchase is not made public the shareholders, who are as follows, are satisfied:—A. W. Muren, President, A. W. Hendry, James E. Bars, John F. Skilton, Chas. Firth, of Liverpool; John Harlow and Simon D. Merry, of Milton; Joe. Cushing, Caledonia; Capt. Amos Burns, Clementsport; E. C. Spiney, Yarmouth, and Engineer Hopkins, of Barrington, who laid out the original road.

TAPT SEES RECIPROcity BILL GOING THROUGH.

Atlanta, Ga., March 11.—(Canadian Press)—President Taft does not expect the special session of congress to attempt tariff tinkering. He made this known in a speech here yesterday. He believes that a majority of the new congress will favor reciprocity and he thinks that it will be passed regardless of party lines.

A New Farmer

Science has converted farming into a profession and the modern farmer stands well among men of enterprise and ability. This is particularly so in the West where men have adopted a new view of the farmer's possibilities. Wherever farmers have adopted the modern point of view, in these provinces as well as anywhere else, and have applied due diligence as well as men in any other calling, that used to be considered lucrative, so we have been compelled to abandon the conventional view of the farmer which was that he was destined to grub along from hand to mouth, with poverty for his inheritance. That conception was born of pioneer conditions. Not only have the methods of his calling been revised to his advantage, but he now finds himself favored by the modern business opportunity. The day has come when it is a reproach for a farmer to be found grubbing along in pioneer fashion.—M. Merchant.

We are yearly shipping thousands of barrels to South Africa, paying $2.50 a barrel freight. The steamers carrying the apples are passing a country with three times the population of our own, whose chief city has within ten thousand people of what Liverpool, England contains. This part of the world has never tasted Nova Scotia apples yet. Why? Simply because at present, there is no line of boats running from Nova Scotia. I now refer to the Brazil, which are not so far distant. All up and down that coast, are thickly populated cities capable of taking large quantities of fruit. These are the undeveloped markets that the steamers carrying apples from Halifax to South Africa are passing unnoticed. It is no idle prophecy to say that the least worry the orchardist in Nova Scotia need have is, over production of apples.

A Lighthouse Keeper's Story

From the lighthouse at Lobster Cove Head, Bonne Bay, Newfoundland, Mrs. W. Young sends an experience of Zam-Buk, which should certainly act as a true beson light, guiding all sufferers from skin disease, to a safe harbor of refuge.
Mrs. Young says: "I suffered with eczema for seven years, and to my great delight Zam-Buk has cured me. The disease started on my breast, and spread until it extended over my back. The itching and burning—especially when the affected parts were warm—was terrible, and yet when the eruption was scratched or rubbed, it turned to bad sores, and caused great pain. I went to a doctor, and tried third prescriptions, but seemed to get no benefit, so tried another doctor. Again I got no relief, so tried a third doctor, and then a fourth. Although they all did their best for me, I got no relief from my pain.
Seven years is a long time to suffer, and I had got used to the thought that I never would be cured when I saw a report in the Family Herald selling now beneficial Zam-Buk was in cases of skin disease. I thought there would be no harm in giving this a fair trial, and bought some.
Well, from the use of the very first box I saw Zam-Buk was going to do me good. I persevered with it, and the improvement it worked in my condition was really wonderful. It eased the irritation, stopped the pain and the sores began to dry up and disappear. In short, I found Zam-Buk all that was claimed for it, and within a very short time it worked a complete cure in my case.
Not only for eczema, but for ulcers, abscesses, varicose veins, bad leg, poisoned wounds, cuts, cold sores, chapped places, piles, ringworm, children's eruptions, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk will be found unequalled. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations."

Kings County Board of Trade

The Board Adopts a Resolution Favoring Reciprocity as in Best Interests of Nova Scotia.

The Kings county Board of Trade at a recent meeting at Kentville took up the question of reciprocity. By a large majority they adopted the following resolution:—

"And whereas, continuous efforts have been made since the abrogation of said treaty for its renewal along the same lines;
"And whereas, an arrangement has recently been made between representatives of the governments of Canada and the United States for the free exchange of many of the natural products of both countries;

"And whereas, under imperial preference granted by Canada to the mother-land trade has been stimulated as well as many articles of universal consumption cheapened;
"Resolved, that in the opinion of this board the best interests of Nova Scotia will be served through the adoption of said arrangement and a further extension of the imperial preference by the parliament of Canada."

An Act Relating to the Water Supply of the Town of Bridgetown

The following bill is before the legislature:—

Whereas the inhabitants of Bridgetown, in the County of Annapolis, were enabled by Chapter 107 of the Laws of Nova Scotia, for the year 1888, to supply themselves with water for domestic, fire and other purposes and to provide a system of sewerage for said town;

And whereas the said inhabitants of Bridgetown borrowed $4500.00 under the authority of said statute for the purpose of providing themselves with water and a partial system of sewerage and did provide themselves with a supply of water under and by virtue of the said statute, and issued debentures to secure the payment of the said sum in twenty years from the respective dates of the said debentures.

And whereas in 1897 the Town of Bridgetown became an incorporated Town and the said water and sewerage system is wholly within the boundaries of the said Town of Bridgetown;

And whereas, by the provisions of Chapter 75 of the Laws of Nova Scotia for the year 1898 as hereinafter amended the said water and sewerage system were invested in the said Town of Bridgetown, and the said Town of Bridgetown was made subject to all liabilities and debts entered into by the Commissioners under the said statute of 1898;

And whereas, the moneys invested on sinking fund under the provisions of the said statute were used by the authority and consent of the said inhabitants of Bridgetown to extend the said water system, and there is now no available fund from which to pay the said debentures at the maturity thereof, and it is desirable to enable the said Town of Bridgetown to borrow money to pay the said debentures;

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor, Council and Assembly, as follows:—

1. The Town of Bridgetown is hereby authorized and empowered to borrow on the credit of the said Town of Bridgetown, and of the assessable property therein, and to issue for the purpose of paying the said debentures for the said sum of $4500 for the purpose of repaying the said debentures issued under the authority of the said Chapter 107 of the Acts of 1888, which have already matured.

2. The Debentures so to be issued shall be subject to the Municipal Debentures Act 1902, and shall be for the sum of one hundred dollars each or some multiple thereof and shall be repayable in twenty-five years from the date thereof, with interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum.

3. The Town of Bridgetown shall, in some chartered Bank a sum equal to at least two and one half per cent of the amount borrowed under this Act for a sinking fund.

MATCHES MEANT CHILD'S DEATH

Three-Year Old Girl Played With Lucifer Before Others in Family Rose.

St. John, March 10.—News of a shocking tragedy comes from Perton a few miles from Debec in the central part of the province. The three-year old daughter of Ed Wright was burned to death while playing with matches. The child got out of bed early and got matches, while the other members of the family were asleep. She set fire to her night clothing. The terrified screams of the child brought the mother to her assistance, but not until it had received such burns that death resulted. The mother was also badly burned while attempting to extinguish the flames.

THE BAIL GIVEN IS ESTREAVANT

Two Halifax Business Men Must Pay $4,000 Bond on D. M. Ferguson.

Mr. Justice Drysdale held court yesterday at Amherst, when the bail of D. M. Ferguson was ordered to be re-estimated. The bondsmen are two Halifax business men, and the amount is $4,000. One man is responsible for $3,500 and the other for $500. Ferguson is still a fugitive from justice and a bench warrant has been issued for his arrest.

This is the result of a prosecution of D. M. Ferguson, who was charged with arson at Amherst, where he had business as a drygoods merchant. He was accused of setting fire to his premises, the appraised value of which was $9,000 and the insurance outstanding $39,000.

The Builders of Alberta

(Prize Story in School Children's Competition, Written by Jean Ryan Gills, Calgary, formerly of Annapolis Royal.)

As the warm, scented winds of spring floated through the little village of Glenora, it carried with it all the sweetness and freshness of awakening nature.

In the meadows by the gentle flowing Medway, the slender poplar trees seemed to carry in their branches all the bewitching melody of the Pipes of Pan; and each flower seemed to lift its head and harken to the music; while the lovely English violet wafted its fragrance upon the crystal atmosphere.

At the bend of one of the beautiful country roads, there was seen a small thatched roof cottage. So secluded was it that an unobtrusive person would scarcely have known its presence. But though humble it sheltered one of the loveliest families in England. The father of this happy flock had struggled manfully to support his family; but at last had been forced to seek work in Canada, that country that offered such attractions for the farmer and rancher. Sorrowfully and with faint hope did the father take leave of the children, and for several years did those at home anxiously await a letter that would bid them come to him. At last one morning news came. As the children were playing in the meadow their mother came toward them, holding in her hand an open letter. She told them of the glad contents; and with the sunny-faced children loitering at her feet, she pictured simply to them the new life that was before them; and how in time they would grow up and place a guiding hand on the plough that was to be the making of a country.

Now the last days were occupied by packing and arranging for the transportation of their household effects; and very little time was given to the incidents of the past. The few hours that were left, however, were tinted with sadness, for they were parting from the home of their birth, to settle in a country that seemed new and strange, but it gave them a new life, their children a better future, and the vision of natural wealth and beauty.

"Hurrah for Canada! Hurrah for Sunny Alberta!" As the cry sped across the sun-drenched prairie, a boy laughed. He leaped to his feet, for the pleasure of living and for the hope of having ten summers behind him and the prospect of many tens of summers to be lived in such a glorious land. Far behind on the road he had left the wagon containing his father and mother, brothers and sisters all enjoying the newness of the country. The lad did not think of the dusty road nor the long journey, for his thoughts were continually with the flowers, the butterflies and the kophers. What a source of delight those little animals were to the children, and they never wearied of chasing them!

To the mother and father the country called forth their admiration as much as that of the children; but it was of a more serious kind. As the three but happy wives held her head against her husband's shoulder, she gazed across the land that was to be her home and her children's—and such a picture it was. For miles the level prairie stretched, baking in the midsummer sun. The road ran like a ribbon, winding and turning until lost from view.

Towards the west the foothills lay—a blot of light blue in the distance, white towering high into the ethereal blueness of the Alberta dome, the Rockies stood—the Canadian Alps, slightly veiled like a daughter of the harem; while silvery-white pinnacles were bathed in the liquid of sunset.

As the tired horses pulled the wagon to the top of a slight incline, the party saw a sight which struck the lad very much impressed.

The Indian agent told him about the agent, and when departing from the valley they turned to gaze at it once more. In a far corner, by a shallow creek, an Indian was taking his horse to water; and near a cluster of wigwams, several small children were playing. The calmness of the evening air was broken by the barking of Indian dogs—and over the various camp fires the squaws were preparing the evening meal.

Visit to the Indians, there came an event that is one of the most important in the history of ranch life. The grain that had been haunting its bright color over many miles of prairie had been undergoing a change. Week by week, month by month had each ear of wheat expanded and developed; until it stood ready for the reaper; and then the strenuous period of harvesting arrived for the farmer.

From early dawn, until twilight closed in, the whir of the machines in the wheat stalks could be heard and the placing of the bound sheaves in stacks, claimed the attention of the whole family.

Steadily had the men toiled through the heat of late summer, and in the end they were rewarded, for when the grain left for the elevators, they knew that over many parts of the world it would be shipped and that in it there rested the wealth and fame of a province—maybe even a country. For such grain firmly establishes Canada's well-earned motto, "The bread basket of the Empire."

When the plains stand grand and bare, stripped of their ravine gold; there comes one thing that is as devastating as the plague, the prairie fire.

One afternoon during a period of thirty years, a ranch hand dashed through the gate shouting, "Prairie fire! Not a moment was lost. Gazing to the west, could be seen, about three miles distant, a dense cloud of smoke rapidly approaching. The dry stubble proved an excellent fire breeder, and in a few minutes the flames advanced from the barns toward the west, ready to fight the devastator.

There is something terrible about prairie fire. The speed with which the wind-driven flames lick the grass and the feeling of awe and terror which fills one, will always be an unforgettable memory.

The next day dawned clear and calm, and as the farmer viewed the desolate land, he earnestly thanked God for preserving his home and family. Never did that family forget their first prairie fire, and in the long years that passed, they met every winter with great headwinds, and every year by year they were held by the charm of Alberta's mountains, hills, and prairies, and with the children growing up strong and healthy, they seldom looked back, but always into that veil of mystery which shrouds the future. Every sunset, spring and harvest gave them pleasure and a cause to rejoice, and had they been orators they would have spoken to the Old World, saying:

"Oh, my brothers, there is a land to the westward that is newly opened. The rivers, lakes and mountains breathe of a freedom that cannot be understood in your old land. Your country is rich with the memories of past achievements, but it shall never feel again the throbbing of youth, the buoyancy of spring or the active life that is felt on the prairie. Even the sun shines brighter and longer on the fair plains that stretch like past oceans of saffron. Oh, harken to my cry, and come with me. Here remote from all painful remembrances, your new life will open, like the flowers to the sun, your soul will blend itself with the murmur of the prairie trees and streams. You will become wrapt in the glorious future of this wonderful country of God's, yours and the world's."

"Yours is the heritage splendid, Lo! Yours is the pride of the earth; Go plough till the furrow is ended, Then take what the furrow is worth. Many the acres unbroken, And many the trails untraced; But the Voice of the Land hath spoken—The Workers win to the West."

Alfalfa Roots as Food for Man, Too

Spokane, Wash., Mar. 6.—Alfalfa roots, white and tender, will take the place of early asparagus if Louise P. Weiland, an irrigation rancher in the Spokane Valley, is successful with her plans for marketing the new vegetable in the western country. Miss Weiland, who came from Pennsylvania last spring, has broached the enterprise to members of the Spokane chamber of commerce and several have promised to assist in establishing a small cannery.

The discovery that alfalfa root is nourishing to man as it is to live stock was made by Miss Weiland several months ago, but the proper method of preparing it was not ascertained until a few days ago, when the young woman, after poring for hours in a huge tome of cookery decided to try recipes for cooking asparagus. The first dish was sampled by a neighbor's hired man, who, ignorant of what he was eating, called for a second dish. Other neighbors ate of the root and pronounced it satisfactory to the palate as well as highly nourishing. They say the favor is similar to asparagus.

DYNAMITE TO BREAK UP ICE.

Immense Thickness of Coast of Cape Breton Which Prevents Navigation.

It may be necessary to use dynamite to open Sydney harbor to navigation. The ice in the harbor is nearly sixteen inches in thickness, but the real obstacle is an ice barrier which has formed across the mouth of the harbor and which is now about sixteen feet thick. It is made of lumpy ice and snow and effectively keeps all shipping from the port. The dynamiting of this huge mass of ice is now being considered. Sea captains say that it can be removed in other ways. It would take a whole summer's work to melt it.

Very few people have any idea of the quantity and thickness of the ice on the coast. A sea captain told the Halifax Herald that in some places it was sixty feet high, been pushed tier upon tier until it reached that great height.

MOVING PICTURE MAN IN PARLIAMENT.

Took Motion Pictures of Premier and Photograph Secured His Voice.

Ottawa, March 8.—For the first time in the history of Canadian Parliament the moving picture man and the photographer man were in evidence when Sir Wilfrid spoke yesterday.

Some enterprising gentlemen placed himself in the public gallery on the north side and took motion pictures of the Premier as he was speaking, and he had an accomplice in the gallery to the south where there was a gentleman with a microphone and a photograph in which he was striving to secure the Premier's voice.

It is a new departure in Canada, but if it is successful it is possible of great development, and it is not impossible to imagine a time when a political campaign will not be complete without a moving picture-speaking picture of a great politician at work in the House of Commons.

SPRING FASHION NOTES.

Fleche effects are again seen in many dainty and very feminine looking models. Some of the flimsy are short, ending at the bust line, others are long, the folds running down to the normal waist line, and still others cross under the bust in front and pass around to the back, where they knot or are held by a girde. Pretty fleche draperies of fine muslin are laid in folds over the shoulders and drawn down to the waist line in surplice fashion, and flat collars or revers exquisitely embroidered turn back over the soft folds.

Touques of white Tuscan braid, draped with embroidered black tulle, are completed with a bunch of rose buds placed at one side.

Deep revers and cuffs of white lace are shown on some of the newest models in black satin tailored costumes from Paris. The effect is very smart. Lace is to be used extensively during the coming season.

The fancy for borders has been applied to the weaving of foulards, and these popular silks are now turned out in a variety of colors with a design along one edge. The two color foulards, such as blue and green, are also having some vogue.

The hats shown thus far this season are very wearable, much less freakish than those of last summer. Simplicity in trimming is a feature of the smartest headgear.

The fashionable coat length is about twenty-six inches, although it may vary a little as the individual figure demands. In the spring tailored suit, the coat and the skirt must match perfectly. If the skirt, for instance, is cut with a panel, back and front, the coat must show the same lines.

Some pretty jackets for early spring days are ornamented with tiny satin roses, set on in a diagonal line.

There is a preference for the smaller flowers in millinery. They are put on the larger hats in straggling garlands and wreaths, and on the smaller ones in close little bunches.

The comfortable Dutch and collarless neck will be seen on dresses and separate lingerie waists again this summer, and the three-quarter sleeve will wear except with tailored effects.

THE YOUNG HOUSEKEEPER.

A writer in the Boston "Globe" who signs herself "Experienced Housekeeper," gives the following advice:

"I wish to advocate the necessity of system and good order in housekeeping. Twice as much actual work can be done better and more easily be accomplished by systematizing and forming a detailed program of your work for a week.

"Be sure to have those things which are repeated daily always come in the same order. The work in individual households varies to such a degree that no one program would suffice for all. In the beginning get your house in order and everything in a place of its very own, and put things in their places as soon as they are done with.

"Never leave kitchen utensils unwashed any longer than you can help. While things are cooking wash up the dishes, spoons, etc., you used in mixing, and put them away. Learn to clear up as you go along, and use the ounce of prevention by not letting things stick to your saucepan.

"By these means you will economize in time, labor, and nervous energy. Such things as nervousness and hurry make one tired, but never the actual work. Outline all work in detail. Don't spend too much time on one thing when there is something else waiting to be done. Don't put off things that you know have got to be done. Always be on time, and you won't have to work overtime. Have a time for everything.

"Sew afternoons, read or write evenings. Do not waste time reading or writing, when you know your work is waiting to be done. You will never catch up if you do this. On making your final program do not fail to consider your health. Set a time aside each day for total rest and recreation, and do not use this time for anything else.

"A good housekeeper is naturally quick, but not nervous in a hurry; hence every moment accomplishes something. She knows beforehand the general trend of her work, and being resourceful can adapt herself and methods so as largely to counteract the effects of hindrances and accidents. She improves every moment until the regular work is done, then relaxes for recreation or rest."

THE LITTLE HELPER.

He was little. He was lame. He was only six years old. His mother was a poor washerwoman and they lived in a tiny room in a narrow street of a great city.

All day long he sat in his high chair looking down into the narrow street. He could see, by leaning forward, a bit of blue sky over the tall warehouse opposite. Sometimes a white cloud would drift across the blue. Sometimes it was all dull grey.

But the street was more interesting. There were people down there. In the early morning men and women were hurrying to their work. Later the children came out, and played on the sidewalk, and in the gutters. Sometimes they danced and sang, but often they were quarrelsome. In the spring came the hand-organ man, and then everybody seemed happy.

The boy's sad little face looked out all day long. Only when he saw his mother coming did he smile and wave his hand.

"I wish I could help you, mother," he said one night. "You work so hard and I can't do anything for you."

"Oh, but you do," she cried quickly. "It helps me to see your face smiling down at me from the window. It helps me to have you wave your hand. It makes my work lighter all day to think you will be there waving to me when I go home."

"Then I'll wave harder," said the little fellow.

And the next night a tired workman seeing the mother look up and answer the signal, looked up too. Such a little pinched face as he saw at the high window, but how cherry the smile was! The man laughed to himself, and waved his cap, and the boy a little shyly, returned the greeting.

So it went. The next evening the workman nudged his comrade to look up at the "poor little chap sitting so patient at the window," and again the gay smile shone out as two eyes waved in the air below.

Days came and passed, and the boy had more friends. Men and women went out of their way to send a greeting to him. Life didn't seem quite so hard to them when they thought how dreary it must be for him. Sometimes a flower stopped its way to him, or a orange or a colored picture. The children stopped quarreling when they saw him watch them, and played games to amuse him. It pleased them to see how eager he was to share in their good times.

"Tell the lad we couldn't get on without him," said one of the weary laborers to the mother one night.

"It's a great thing to have a brave heart," it makes us all brave, too. Tell him that."

And you may be sure she did.—From "First Book of Religion," by Mrs. Charles A. Lane.

TO HAVE NICE HANDS.

A woman can add immensely to the attractiveness of her hands by care and attention.

Even the ravages of housecleaning, scrubbing and sweeping may be mitigated by reasonable care, and hands that must do this sort of work may still be soft, white and pleasing to the eye and touch.

Whenever possible one should wear gloves for dusting and any other form of work which is likely to soil the hands, but when this is not possible and they become very soiled, rub them with a little cream or grease before washing.

One should always use good soap and soft water and keep a slice of cut lemon and a piece of pumice stone handy so that any stains may be removed at once. If the water is hard use a little borax or oatmeal in it.

Nothing is more annoying than chapped hands. A liberal application

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

"That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

"They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

of rosewater and glycerine is the best cure for them. And if they are very badly chapped, then it should be applied in its pure state, after the hands have been washed in warm water and only half dried. This is a heroic remedy, as pure glycerine smartens the skin, but it effects a rapid cure.

DON'T DISPARAGE YOURSELF.

A girl who is always referring openly to some deficiency in herself probably thinks she deserves praise for frankness, but as a matter of fact, she deserves blame for indulging in frankness at the expense of making other people feel awkward and uncomfortable.

She wants people to know that she is not contented and that she fully realizes that this is decidedly plain or overgrown and awkward, or that her nose is too large or her skin is sallow, but since this opportunity to prove her own self-knowledge and lack of conceit involves the discomfort of others, she would do well to forgo it.

To know one's deficiencies is desirable.

To keep quiet about one's knowledge is equally so.

Improve your deficiencies when you can.

Ignore them—that is, don't think about them and don't force other people to, when you can't.

Admit your deficiencies if you are ever taxed with them, but never unnecessarily drag them into the lime light.

These seem to me pretty healthy rules to follow in this matter.—Ruth Cameron.

PITHY FASHION NOTES.

The Frock With the Old Sash is New. Skirt Styles.

Probably the most decided novelty of the season is the frock with the Japanese obi sash or girde.

There is a leaning toward skirts with few seams and those few of a rather ornamental character.

Furry slippers are decorated with rosettes, buckles, bows and butterflies.

Dull jet or enameled jewelry is invariably used in mourning. Brooch, Scarf and Mitt Set.

Widows wear the double veil, but more often veils are single and seldom measure over a yard and three-quarters, and quite frequently they are smaller.

The newest thing in overblouses or jumpers is of chiffon embroidered in beads of muted bright colors, a somewhat barbaric color scheme, but effective in small quantities.

This fancy blouse is one of the successful models of the season. It is well adapted to combinations of materials and is a good way to make over a last year's waist. The sleeves are distinctly new, and the collar can be made plain if desired.

CANADA CEMENT COMPANY LIMITED

Annual Report of the Board of Directors

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS:

Your Directors beg to present herewith the annual statement of the affairs and financial position of the Canada Cement Company, Limited, as of the 31st. December, 1910.

In presenting the Balance Sheet, we call attention to the Company's strong financial position as disclosed by the large amount of cash on hand, and other quick assets, and the comparatively small amount of current liabilities.

The consumption of cement during the past year was not as large as anticipated. Our business also suffered on account of the Railways not being able to meet our full requirements for cars during the heavy shipping season; consequently, we carry over from last year 751,116 barrels of cement.

Early in 1910 the price of our product was fixed at a lower price than cement had ever been sold for in Canada, excepting for a short period in 1909, but your Directors are pleased to state that the anticipated savings in manufacturing and distributing our products were such that they were able to still further reduce this price.

We trust, when you consider the above mentioned conditions, and also the fact that during 1910 our plants were only operated to 57.6 per cent of their capacity, the profits shown will be satisfactory to the Shareholders.

During the current year, we look for a larger natural demand, which demand will be stimulated by continuing to manufacture a strictly high grade article, and by selling it at the lowest possible price. This anticipated increase will enable us to operate our plants to better advantage than in the past, but we do not expect that the demand will be sufficient to enable us to put into operation either of the two plants which have been idle since the organization of this Company.

The Shareholders' profits will depend on the increased volume of the Company's business, the policy of the Company being the maintenance of such a stable position as will insure regular and uniform payments of interest on its bonds and dividends on its Preferred stock, and at the same time be in a position to withstand any unforeseen emergency that may arise consequent on business depression or otherwise, which condition naturally necessitates the accumulation of, and the maintenance of, a large cash reserve.

It is also the policy of the Company to equalize the price of cement throughout Canada in so far as the physical conditions make such possible, and in furtherance of this policy, your Directors have arranged to purchase a site near Winnipeg, on which they will erect, this year, a mill to grind clinker, which clinker will be shipped from one of our Eastern mills. The buildings, machinery, etc., will be planned so that, should it at any time in the future be advisable, a Burning Department can be added, and the clinker produced on the property.

And further, an agreement has been entered into whereby this Company expects to acquire, in the near future, a property at Eschaw, which, added to our Calgary plant, and the projected plant at Winnipeg, will put us in the position of anticipating any extraordinary growth in the consumption of cement in the Great West.

With the view of educating the public, and popularizing the use of cement, in addition to the ordinary advertising, the Company has published a small book illustrating some of the many uses to which cement may be put, for which book there has been a great demand, 25,000 applications for same having been received during the past six months.

For the purpose of stimulating interest in the Company on behalf of the Employees, both in efficiency and cheapening production, as well as creating a feeling of mutual goodwill, your Directors deem it expedient to introduce a system, already adopted by several large industrial corporations with beneficial results, viz., to enable employees to become the possessors of Preferred and Common Stock at prices which will be attractive to them, the employees paying a fixed amount per share per month out of their earnings, and the Company carrying the stock for them, charging a rate of 5% interest. If the plan is put into effect, all dividends will be credited to the employees applying for the stock. Said stock will be held in trust for the employee for a term of five years, excepting in exceptional cases, such as death, when his heirs will receive what benefit a deceased employee has derived from subscribing to stock.

Your Directors feel that the policy, as herein outlined, will, as nearly as possible, make the interests of the consumers, the employees, and the shareholders identical, and will insure to the most enduring and beneficial results for all concerned.

All of which is respectfully submitted. On behalf of the Board of Directors, WILLIAM C. EDWARDS, President.
