RUSSIANS AND GERMANS FIGHT DECISIVE BATTLE IN N. POLAND SUDDEN ACTION IS EXPECTED OF ITALY AND ROUMANIA

Violent Fight Under Way in North Poland

Russians South of Lower Vistula on Defensive Till Issue is Decided.

NOT TO ENDANGER PLAN
Germans Lose Two Hundred Thousand Men on Bzura in Three Weeks.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
PETROGRAD, Jan. 25.—North of the lower Vistula contacts along the whole 80-mile front continue, but not a serious conflict is reported south of the lower Vistula. There is comparative quiet, even artillery and rifle firing is not general. Attacks occasionally attempted by the Germans are dealt with by the Russian fire with ease. In fact serious acts of war appear to be in abeyance south of the lower Vistula, pending the result of a battle north of the river. Even much threatened points between Rawka and Piltwa, where a week ago a battle seemed impending, have enjoyed comparative quiet.

Orders Not to Advance.
The Russians have the strictest orders not to endanger the grand strategy plan by a premature advance anywhere, however tempting an opportunity may offer itself. These orders have been operative ever since the Germans entered Poland for the second time. A predetermined point beyond which the Germans must not on account be allowed to penetrate was plainly laid down. To that predetermined line the Russian forces which were west of it with one exception, retired fighting. A certain valiant corps held its ground against three German corps, inflicting fearful losses, but also losing heavily itself. The Germans could not with their utmost efforts dislodge this stubborn corps, and remnants still held their ground when the German attacks had been crushed.

Terrific German Losses.
The official government organ today takes exception to a statement by the London newspapers which places the losses during the second invasion of Poland at only 370,000 men, 230,000 being Germans. This is little more than half truth.

The London Post correspondent, "says the losses of three weeks of fighting exceeded half a million men. In point of fact they were semi-officially put at 400,000 over the whole front of 450 miles from the Baltic to the Rumanian frontier. The Germans lost over 200,000 on the Bzura alone in these three weeks. In one single spot on this small section of the front on a single night the Germans lost 7000 killed. This section was not over a mile in length and the losses here, perhaps, are given at the maximum, yet it must not be forgotten that we have to reckon the losses on 175 other days and nights over the whole 450 miles of front."

BRITAIN WILL SEIZE FOOD SHIP FROM U.S.
Guarantee of Germany Not Taking Provisions for Army is Worthless.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 25.—(6.20 p.m.)—Unless a positive guarantee is given that the cargo of foodstuffs on the American steamer Wilhelmina, which sailed from New York Friday for Germany, will not reach the German army, it is likely the ship will be stopped by the allies. Because of the alleged general practice of the German authorities in seizing for military use any foodstuffs, it is stated that the British officials would not regard the consignments of the food ship to some individual or firm any proof that its ultimate destination is not the army. Under the conditions that are alleged to exist in Germany, it is believed here that it is virtually impossible to guarantee that any foodstuffs destined for civilian use will reach the consignees.

WAR CAUSED NO GREAT HARDSHIP
National Savings in Russia Increased Four Hundred Per Cent. DUE TO PROHIBITION
Comptroller of Russian Treasury Addresses Douma Budget Committee.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 25.—11.55 p.m.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Co. from Petrograd says that M. Kharitonoff, comptroller of the Russian treasury, speaking before the Douma budget committee today, declared that owing to the great increase in the national savings, due to prohibition, the extraordinary outlay occasioned by the war as yet had caused no great suffering in Russia.

WOODSTOCK SOLDIERS MOBILIZE AT GUELPH
Crowds Trudged Thru the Snow to Give Men Send-Off Yesterday.

Special to The Toronto World.
WOODSTOCK, Jan. 25.—The third Oxford contingent, composed of 106 men, left today for the mobilization centre at Guelph. The men were given a hearty send-off by the citizens of Woodstock, large numbers of whom trudged thru the snow to the C.P.R. station, where the soldiers entrained for Guelph. At the armories before departing the men were presented with a case of tobacco by the Oxford Patriotic Association and listened to many words of praise and encouragement from Lieut.-Col. McMillan, Rev. R. E. Shaw and J. B. Shaw.

Head of Great German Firm Arrested for High Treason

Senator Posschl, a Millionaire, and Personal Friend of the Kaiser, is Being Court Martialed at Leipzig.

Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 25.—A despatch to The Post from Stockholm says: "A sensation has been caused in commercial circles here by the news that Senator Posschl, head of the great firm of L. Posschl and Company, has been arrested for high treason, the charge being trading with the enemy. He is being tried by court martial at Leipzig. Posschl is one of Germany's richest magnates. He is a member of the Herrschaps and a personal friend of the emperor."

BRITISH STEAMER LOST OFF IRELAND
Armored Merchant Vessel Viknor Was Sunk With All Hands. MAY HAVE STRUCK MINE
Or May Have Foundered During the Recent Heavy Storms.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 25, 9.35 p.m.—It was officially announced at the admiralty today that the British armored merchant vessel Viknor had been lost off Ireland with all hands. The vessel, it was stated, either struck a mine or foundered.

The admiralty, in its statement, says: "She has been missing for some days and must now be accepted as lost with all her officers and men. The cause of her loss is uncertain, but as some bodies and wreckage have been washed ashore on the north coast of Ireland, it is presumed that during the recent bad weather she either foundered, or being carried out of her course, struck a mine in sea where the Germans are known to have laid them."

The Viknor was formerly the Viking and was commanded by the admiral, Commander Ernest O. Ballantyne. The number of her crew cannot be ascertained.

Comptroller of Russian Treasury Addresses Douma Budget Committee.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 25.—11 p.m.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. says that the Serbian army has been reinforced by additional Cossack troops. Considerable war supplies have also been sent to Serbia from Russia.

THE TAGEBLATT DENIES HEAVY LOSSES IN EAST
Declares That Statistics Published in France and England Are Absurd.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
AMSTERDAM, Jan. 25.—The Tageblatt declares that the statistics of German losses compiled and published in France, Russia and England are absurd.

Whereas Russia claims 1140 German officers and 154,700 men have been made prisoners in the eastern theatre, it is officially declared, says the Tageblatt, that the German losses in East Prussia, Poland and Galicia have been scarcely 15 per cent. of this number.

It is also claimed that the total number of German soldiers killed, wounded, sick, taken prisoner or missing is not much larger than the number of the allied soldiers now held in Germany as prisoners.

RADICALS AVER ITALIANS MUST FIGHT AUSTRIA

Central Committee of Party at Rome Calls on Government for Action.

TO SATISFY DESIRES
Country Wants More Than German Promises to Assure Them Trentino.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
ROME, Jan. 25.—A London Post despatch says: "The central committee of the Radical party has unanimously adopted a motion declaring that Italy's participation in the European conflict is indispensable to the satisfaction of her aspirations and the protection of her interests. This vote emphatically disapproves the rumor that several Radicals desire to support Signor Giolitti in a strictly neutral policy. Moreover, the Giolittian organ, La Stampa, denounces the reported intention of seeking to return to office on a platform of absolute neutrality."

Radicals of Padua and the revolutionary associations of many cities represented in the congress at Milan have voted for intervention and the immediate denunciation of the triple alliance.

Reports are being circulated here that Prince Von Bülow is trying to keep on good terms with Italy by sacrificing Austria. The Germans are annoyed that they share Austria's great unpopularity in Italy, but the Italians want more than a scrap of paper in proof of Germany's desire to give them Trentino.

Belgians Irritated.
"Relations between the Belgian legation to the Holy See and the Vatican are somewhat strained, owing to the persistent suppression of the clerical newspapers, notably in the case of the Romano, which directly depends on the Vatican. This feeling has been increased by the mutilation of the Belgian official announcement of mass for the souls of Belgian priests shot by the Germans."

GERMANS TRY TO STIR UP STATES
Seeking to Save Their Merchant Vessels Which Have Taken Refuge. BREAKING BLOCKADE
Add Dacia Affair in Their Protests Regarding Marine Contraband.

Canadian Press Despatch.
PARIS, Jan. 25.—5.50 p.m.—The Temps, in its leading editorial, discussing the Dacia incident, says: "The Germans have thought to put Anglo-American relations to a new test. They have attached to their protests regarding marine contraband the Dacia affair, with the double purpose of furnishing additional support to those who, in the United States are leading the campaign against England in the name of American commerce and saving their merchant vessels which have taken refuge in transatlantic ports."

They seek at the same time by this desperate effort to guard against the effects of the blockade which is stopping the provisioning of Germany.

Futile Efforts.
"Senator Lodge will meet with the approbation of a great majority on the other side who favor the triumph of justice. Special interests always have been powerless to stifle right in that way. One can believe in all the mischievous efforts to stir up John Bull and Uncle Sam by family quarrels."

TWENTY-TWO MAJORITY CARRIED HYDRO BYLAW
Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Ont., Jan. 25.—The Village of Iderton, 10 miles north of here, decided to join the hydro-electric union today by carrying a hydro-enabling bylaw by a majority of 22. A small vote was cast.

B. C. McCann was tonight elected president of the London Canadian Club. Rev. G. O. Weger and J. Harry Fowler were elected vice-presidents.

German Wheat Stocks Seized To Safeguard Bread Supply

Government Takes Steps To Conserve Chief Article of Food Until Next Harvest Because People Do Not Economize.

Canadian Press Despatch.
BERLIN, via Amsterdam, to London, Jan. 26, 2.05 a.m.—All stocks of wheat have been seized by the German Government, according to the official statement, in order to safeguard the bread supply until the next harvest. This measure, it is said, was made necessary by the fact that the people have failed to economize. The stocks will be distributed according to the population of the various communities.

GERMANS GIVE WAY ON LOWER VISTULA
Russians Push Lines of Enemy Back to Right Bank of Stream. AUSTRIANS ON ATTACK
Attempt Made in Galicia and South Poland to Relieve Hungary.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
PETROGRAD, Jan. 25.—On the left bank of the Vistula the Germans are presenting a stubborn resistance, while on the right bank in northern Poland the Russians are pushing the German lines back. In southern Poland the Austrians are showing renewed activity, with German reinforcements strengthening their lines. A new offensive movement is looked for in this region with the object of compelling the Russians to turn their attention from Bukowina and Transylvania.

In southern Galicia the Russians are holding the passes thru the Carpathians, where cold and snow have virtually stopped all operations.

MINISTER BANQUETED BY RENFREW FRIENDS
Hon. T. W. McGarry Honored in Home Town for Elevation to Cabinet.

Canadian Press Despatch.
RENFREW, Ont., Jan. 25.—Hon. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer, was given a complimentary banquet tonight by the citizens of his home town, in recognition of his recent attainment of cabinet rank in the Ontario Government. Mayor Moore presided, and the speakers included: Hon. G. P. Graham, M.P.; Gerald White, M.P.; E. A. Dunlop, M.L.A.; A. E. Donovan, M.L.A.; Hon. Dr. Preston, ministers of the various religious denominations in the town. An illuminated address conveying the felicitations of the townspeople was presented to Mr. McGarry.

DACIA WILL NOT SAIL UNTIL PAPERS ARRIVE
Canadian Press Despatch.
GALVESTON, Jan. 25.—"A package of important papers" mailed from New York Friday afternoon is delaying the departure of the Dacia, the captain and the agent of the steamship said tonight. The papers, it was said, should arrive in Galveston Tuesday, and the Dacia will then begin her voyage to Rotterdam, carrying 11,000 bales of cotton.

HULL OBJECTIVE POINT OF GERMAN CRUISERS
Interception by British Fleet Saved Town From Immense Loss of Life and Property.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 25.—From information received here it is believed that the German fleet detected Sunday was headed for Hull, bent upon wholesale destruction.

Its smart and effective interception by the British squadron doubtless saved Hull from immense destruction such as the big German vessels are capable of giving. The British navy has, indeed, saved England from a day of genuine mourning. Half an hour's freedom in firing on Hull would doubtless mean the loss of thousands of civilians' lives.

England is glowing with pleasure today over the splendid victory. German claims of having sunk a British battleship are scoffed at. The British admiralty apparently had a warning from somewhere as to the coming of the Germans and was ready.

Storms Add to Misery in Earthquake Zone
Starving Wolves Continue to Come Down From the Mountains Searching for Food.

Canadian Press Despatch.
ROME, Jan. 25, 6.10 p.m.—Storms of hail, snow and wind in the mountains and floods in the valleys are adding to the misery of the people in the earthquake zone in the Abruzzi district, while the slight shocks of earthquake that continually are being felt, are keeping them in a state of nervous expectancy. Starving wolves continue to come down out of the mountains in search of food and everywhere bands of people are endeavoring to exterminate them. In some instances the wolves have even attacked living persons.

In actual fighting there is little doing anywhere, but the new troop dispositions in various quarters seem to indicate that shortly big battles again will be waged.

Sudden Action Soon Expected from Roumania

Balkan Situation is Simmering and Big Battles Are Expected.

RUSSIANS STILL GO ON
Austrian Front Has Stiffened Suddenly in Eleventh Hour.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 25, 9.55 p.m.—The sudden stiffening of the Austrian front in the eleventh hour, to check the Russian invasion of Hungary as a natural sequence of the occupation of Bukowina, seems for the present to be the event of chief military importance. The Russians seem to recognize this and all recent despatches from Petrograd have emphasized the Austro-German offensive in the south-eastern theatre.

Second in importance, perhaps, are the Russian movements near the east and west Prussian frontiers—movements of which the German statement received by wireless today takes cognizance, at the same time insisting that no new advances into German territory are now feared.

Little Change in West.
In the western theatre there has been so little change that the British newspapers print the official communications with scant comment, preferring to feature Sunday's naval action. The facts concerning this engagement are not as detailed as might be desired and the admiralty up to tonight has added nothing to the original announcement.

With great battles still to be fought out, at her own front door, Roumania has not yet decided to join in the conflict, but it is present that the situation in the Balkans is simmering and it is believed that action will come suddenly. The Italian, Greek and Bulgarian ministers were among the callers at the foreign office today.

Reprisals Suggested.
The Swedish press is showing renewed irritation against the British contraband policy and some of the Stockholm papers suggest reprisals in the way of forbidding the transportation of goods destined for Great Britain over Swedish railways. One paper says that the country should strengthen her defences, by means of which she would be able to command respect for her neutrality.

WANT CANADIAN NICKEL REFINED IN DOMINION
Berlin Board of Trade Endorses Resolution of Owen Sound Body to This Effect.

Special to The Toronto World.
BERLIN, Ont., Jan. 25.—A resolution of the Owen Sound Board of Trade, calling on the Dominion Government to have all the nickel ore mined in Canada, refined in Canada, too, was received by the Berlin (Ont.) Board of Trade tonight. The Berlin Board strongly endorsed this resolution and it will forward the memorial to the proper authorities.

Big Success at the Princess.
"The Yellow Ticket," Michael Morton's latest big successful drama, with scenes laid in Russia, is at the Princess Theatre this week. This is one of the strongest plays of the present day and should not be missed by those who enjoy splendid acting.

Rich Persian Lamb Coats Selling at Half-Price.
Another great bargain is offered in the Dineen sale at 140 Yonge street. The ever popular, always becoming and quiet, good-looking Persian Lamb Coats in stock are being sacrificed at half-price. Full length in various quarters seem to indicate that shortly big battles again will be waged.

This is particularly true in the south-eastern theatre, in Bukowina, where the Austrians have massed large forces in endeavor to push back the Russians and in the Carpathian passes, where the troops of the dual monarchy are reported by Petrograd to be showing submission.

FIRST NIGHTS AT THE THEATRES

MIRTH ABUNDANT IN "PAIR OF SIXES"

Ralph Herz and His Inimitable Mannerism Keeps Audience Merry.

PARTNERS JEALOUS

Potash and Perlmutter Creations Recognized in Hilarious Farce.

For sheer extravagance of folly, swiftness of patter of humorous dialog and abundance of amusing situations, it would be difficult to outdistance "A Pair of Sixes"...

Ralph Herz is a comedian among comedians. His mannerisms and gestures are inimitable.

The story of the play will be recognized in part as one of those springing from the success of Potash and Perlmutter's creations of Montague Glass.

Two partners in mercantile life grow jealous of their personal responsibility for the thriving nature of the business.

Mark Smith is bracketed with Ralph Herz in the principal roles and carries off his part with a breezy fashion.

In a continuous spotlight, no more excellent bit of "servant" has been seen in a long time.

The others of the company are not lacking in any of the essentials of supporting members.

Among the most interesting stories to young and old alike to read or hear...

James McCurdy in Pleasing Skit, and Dainty Marguerite Clark on the Screen.

The combined vaudeville and picture bill at the Hippodrome this week is a very commendable one.

The feature film shows dainty Marguerite Clark, whom De Wolf Hopper discovered in "The Crucible"...

Attention is drawn to the notice in the advertising columns today...

Trained Dogs and Monkeys, Merry Minstrel Men and Play-let Included This Week.

Marguerite Farrell, the dainty song star, and comely, in a melange of songs of long ago and today heads the bill at Loew's Winter Garden Theatre...

Moore and Gardner, the merry minstrel men, sing a number of the latest rag time successes and are instrumentalists of merit.

Merlin, the talkative trickster, with his pack of cards, performed a number of new and mystifying tricks.

Dr. F. B. Gottschalk, in "Practical Electrotherapeutics" page 5, states that "investigators have demonstrated that both animal and vegetable life are due to and dependent upon electrical conditions."

Dr. J. M. Martin, in "Practical Electrotherapeutics," page 14, says: "Animate or inanimate matter cannot exist as such without the constant passage of electric currents."

"YELLOW TICKET" A GREAT DRAMA

Very Attractive Number is Sketch of New York Life Between Darkness and Dawn.

Michael Morton's Russian Play Met With Big Reception Last Night.

SPLENDID LAST ACT

One of the Masterly Achievements of American Stage Craft.

Michael Morton has written a great drama in "The Yellow Ticket." The fine audience at the Princess last night gave it a splendid reception.

The story is not so repulsive in the stage presentation as it appears in the telling, or in some crude versions that have been circulated.

"The Yellow Ticket" is the license which the Russian police issue to loose women.

Very advanced women accept the license in order to enjoy the moral freedom which its possession permits.

Miss Fitzgerald is a vivacious leading lady with a good voice. Solly Ward, character comedian, would make a graven image unbend with his witty sayings and funny antics.

Count Dicoign still retains his remarkable popularity, and his levee is more than ever the resort of smart men.

The police come to Seaton's and lay bare Mary's secret, and Seaton turns her out with all her belongings.

Miss Keth Walters, as Mary, gives a splendid interpretation of the character of the shop girl.

James McCurdy, as Harry North, as Edward Gilder, also well cast.

Excellent offerings at Shea's Hippodrome.

BY-ELECTION IN SOUTH WATERLOO

R. O. McCulloch Will Not Be Conservative Candidate for Nomination.

BARRED BY CONTRACT

Soldiers Given Rousing Send-Off When Leaving for Mobilization.

Special to The Toronto World. GALT, Ont., Jan. 25.—R. O. McCulloch, secretary-treasurer of the Goldie McCulloch Company, this afternoon announced that he would not be a candidate for Conservative nomination for coming by-election in South Waterloo.

McCulloch had previously intended to seek the nomination, but McCulloch stated that owing to his firm having a large contract for National Transcontinental Railway shops at Malo, Que., he was disqualified from being a candidate by the Dominion Act.

McCulloch's withdrawal leaves only two men seeking nominations, F. S. Scott, ex-mayor of Galt, and W. G. Cowan and Company, Galt. It is generally conceded that Mr. Scott will receive the nomination at the convention to be held Wednesday at Preston.

Send Off to Troops. One hundred and sixty-one Galt men this morning left for Guelph to report at mobilization headquarters of the 4th Battalion, Third Canadian contingent. The soldiers were paraded thru the principal streets of the town with the 29th Regiment brass and bugle bands in lead and at the Grand Trunk Depot, three thousand people had gathered to bid them goodbye.

Short speeches were made by Mayor Buchanan and F. Scott, ex-mayor, and Canon Ridley offered a short prayer for safe return of the men. The detachment was in charge of Lieut. D. Northcombe and aboard the special train that conveyed the men were also Lieut.-Col. A. J. Oliver of Galt, who will command the 4th Battalion, C.E.F., Capt. J. N. MacEae, adjutant, Major J. R. Ratz, medical officer, and Lieut. W. J. Pratt, the students of the G.C.I. paraded in a body to the depot to give Will Myers of Kirkcaldy, one of their number, a send-off. They presented him with a wrist watch, sweater, purse containing $25 and a box containing a number of useful gifts.

Receiving Again. "Count Dicoign" still retains his remarkable popularity, and his levee is more than ever the resort of smart men.

THANN, IN ALSACE, SCENE OF SEVERE FIGHTING

Possession of Mountains of Hartmann-Wellerkopf Stubbornly Contested by Germans.

Canadian Press Despatch. BERNE via Paris, Jan. 25, 10.55 p.m.—In Alsace severe fighting continues around the heights of Hartmann-Wellerkopf near Thann.

The mountains are covered with snow and the fighting is being carried on under most difficult conditions.

The mountains dominate not only Thann, but also the roads to the Saint Amarin valley, and are therefore of great importance from a strategical standpoint.

ELECTRIFY YOURSELF GET BACK YOUR GLADNESS

Do you glide along life's pathway, chest out, eyes up, radiating joy and happiness? Or are you a "Gloomy Gus," seeing only the thorns and thistles instead of the birds and butterflies and flowers?

It's all a question of health and vitality. That sunny smile is present only when the human machinery is working harmoniously—it is the outward expression of inward well-being.

The smile soon "comes off" when your body is racked by pains and aches, when your food does not digest, when your nerves are weak, your back stiff, etc.

Why not smile with your friends and with the whole world? There is a way to do it—an easy, pleasant way.

Electricity the Vital Force of Life

PROMINENT physician recently remarked: "If I had my way I would use electricity on every man, woman and child just the same as I would give them food. It is just as necessary for the human body, in order that it may retain its functions and keep them in good equilibrium."

Indeed, if we believe all that has been written by the authorities, especially those who have used the galvanic current extensively, it would be almost impossible to exaggerate its merits in giving new strength and vitality to the body in general, in curing certain diseases, and in relieving symptoms of others.

Dr. F. B. Gottschalk, in "Practical Electrotherapeutics" page 5, states that "investigators have demonstrated that both animal and vegetable life are due to and dependent upon electrical conditions. In health, the nerves are in a state of vibration, due, in all probability, to the electrical currents which traverse the body in every direction. When it loses its vibratory functions, death ensues."

Dr. J. M. Martin, in "Practical Electrotherapeutics," page 14, says: "Animate or inanimate matter cannot exist as such without the constant passage of electric currents."

The most convenient method of applying electricity is through the latest improved Sanden Herculex Vitalizer. PETER'S ADVENTURES IN MATRIMONY

A "Making Up."
GLANCED at my watch. It was a little past seven. I had been tramping along the shore for two hours and more. Feeling hungry, I turned back. About a mile or so from the hotel I met Mary. Something about her beauty this morning dazzled me. The wind had been blowing her hair about her face; it had deepened her color, and with the thought that Hugh Jaynes had found her lovely, I had a flash of resentment. And, thinking back, I thanked the good Lord that my life did not smoke cigarettes or drink cocktails. I thanked Him for the clear, unwavering honesty of her gaze. I thanked Him for many things.

Peter Blames Himself.
Mary came on straight toward me, her pretty lips set in lines of purpose.
"Peter," she said, "I couldn't sleep, and I kept thinking—"
"I—I don't know," said Mary hurriedly, "I felt upset, and, Peter, likely it was my fault last night. I—I shouldn't have let Hugh flirt so, or dance so much with me. I'm sorry, because of Mary's and I slipped my hand over Mary's and held it very tight."
"Mary," I said, "I've been wandering up this beach thinking it was my fault, and it was. Come, let's sit down here. The sea's wonderful."
Mary sat down, but her color was high. And she astonished me very much indeed by suddenly putting her face down in her hands and crying.
Do women always comprehend the emotion that makes them cry? I don't think so. I wondered why Mary was crying. Was it because she had flirted with Jaynes, and had said she was sorry or—

What a "Tragedy" if Johnny Misses a Grade!

By WINIFRED BLACK

"Pass—pass," says the foreign gentleman who doesn't speak the language. And I, outrageous hero, that I am, felt like grasping the foreign gentleman by both hands and bidding him welcome to the very core of my heart.

Pass—pass—that's all they talk about these days—the children. Not what do you know, not how hard have you tried, not what sort of character are you building; but will you pass? Pass the boy who sat next to you who can't think of things he knows as well as you do and rattle them off as gibberish as you?

Pass the girl with twice your character and three times your brains who doesn't happen to be interested in that particular study.

Pass—pass. I wish there was so such word in the language.

"What is the Terrible Thing?"

It turns a clever, sensitive, high-strung child into something very like a nervous wreck and it makes of a stupid, plodding, conscientious child a dull automaton.

To hear a lot of public school children talking you would think that there was just one unparadise sin, and that is the sin of "passing."

It is true, the theory they seem to have in the public schools that all children are born, bred, and brought up exactly alike and that you can run them through a mold—like so many buttons—and make them all come out at the other end of the hopper—exactly the same!

Mary is dull in geography, but she's clever in arithmetic. Betsy knows every battle of the war of the Revolution backwards, and can't pass a sentence to save her life. John is a born artist; he can sing like a bird, paint, draw, add—and subtract, too—but kings and queens he abhors. Must John, therefore, be branded as a dolt because he does not fit into the mold?

The American public school is without doubt the one great and shining success in all our system. But need it be quite so much of a "system"? The Little Boy didn't sleep a wink the night he was spelling and making motions as if he were writing.

And his cheeks were flushed and his eyes were so bright and staring that I thought he was going to have a fever. In the morning at the breakfast table he kept whispering to himself—"c-a-t-c-a-t-s-o-go"—only he did it phonetically, as is the fashion now.

It was all about a test; there was going to be a test and he was so worried for fear he wouldn't pass that he couldn't eat a bite of breakfast.

Do you know what I did, heathen and breaker of images that I am? I took the Little Boy out into the country, and we picked scarlet berries and fed the squirrels and we fed the chipmunks, and that night the Little Boy slept, and in the morning he ate his breakfast. I hope he passed, for his sake.

For my own I don't care a button. The Little Boy has plenty of time ahead of him—he is just 6—and I really don't think the skies would fall if he didn't "pass" into the third grade for another year.

Isn't there enough stress and worry and anxiety and responsibility coming to those children down the road? Is it really necessary to break the habit of biting the nails. If you have the courage to apply a coating of alcohol to the outer edge of the lip it will serve you the next time you start biting them.

Keep the Lips Soft.
As long as the lips are smooth and soft you will have no desire to bite them, so to correct the habit you should be constantly applying some lotion to keep the skin soft. At this season it is well to coat the lips with a little vaseline before going into the cold air.

A good plan is to carry a stick of lip camphor mixed with a little vaseline and apply it as soon as you feel any inflammation in the lips. The lip salve, in stick form, may be purchased at any pharmacy.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why You Have Hair and Where It Came From

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

THE hair of the head, eyebrows, and skin generally is among the most interesting structures of the human and animal anatomy. There has always been a vital investigation by artists and others, physiologists as well as anatomists, as to the reason for the presence of hair on the body.

The hair at present is either ornamental or helpful in warding off temperature defects, but according to those who delve deeply into the past history of living things, hair at one time was more useful than decorative. Not only did it protect the internal organs, tissues, juices, and blood; but it also acted as a sensory organ.

In other words, the hair was as necessary at one stage of creation, as the eyes, ears, nose and tongue and muscles of the body.

Dr. E. Botezal has lately studied the great matter of hair formation and has attempted to trace its origin back to primitive structures. His conclusions are entirely different from those of other investigators.

According to the doctrine of Darwin, mammalian animals are said to have evolved from ancient reptilian stock. Most mammals have hairs, but reptiles are sleek and smooth as oil. Therefore, hairs could not have descended from snakes, lizards and such creatures.

A Few Possible Origins.
Hairs' true enough, may have descended from the scales of fish, from fragments of scales, from the tough parts of reptiles, from the strange little sense organs in amphibian animals, a chameleon, or from the pearl organs in fish. Hair may even be a direct descendant of feathers.

Dr. Botezal, after observations and experiments which seemingly cover the whole situation, finds that hair is not the result of evolution from any of these things, but a new formation upon the skin of mammals, independent of feathers and all the other integumentary structures of animals. Moreover, he has found upon plants, flowers, stalks of corn, and ears are all entirely different, and intended for a different purpose from those found on animal hair and on the human skin.

Hair, even on animals, is of two varieties, he says. There is the beautiful hair of the eyebrows and scalp, on the one hand, used to attract the opposite sex and analogous to the gaudy colors and plumage of many animals, and another type of hair with a sense of touch—tactile hairs—very prevalent in touch-tactile hairs—very prevalent in the hairy parts of the body. This last variety of hair is a sixth sense, which animals use unconsciously, thus their whiskers, he says, with this rudimentary sensation still present to feel their way along in water and in the dark.

Use, Ornament and Defence.
Once hair made its appearance in the animal skins it began to diverge in three directions. First, those sprang up the non-sensory hair type like the woolly hair, to protect the internal heat of the animal, and also to save its hide from injury. Another line of development was the tactile hairs for feeling their way about. These are the whiskers of the cat and other mammals of the brute world. Their hairs of the head and neck, independent of the hairy face, bristle up in the same way as the hairs of the cat and other mammals of the brute world. In other words, they are structures with sensation—tactile hairs—very prevalent in the hairy parts of the body.

Plainly, from all this, there is some reason for the curious marmoset found in people and pictures with different kinds of hair. A Michelon drawing attracts every fibre of your being. Why? You were perhaps never before aware of it, but Dr. Botezal's researches show that it rests upon the artist's enticing appeal of hairy eyebrows, eyelashes and curls of hair.

The quills upon the back of the first-born porcupine, the savant says, are not in any fashion to be confused with hair. Hair is essentially defensive, pretty, or sensitive. The porcupine's quills, like the armadillo's armor, are used for offensive more than protective purposes.

Answers to Health Questions

- S. B. G. Q.—What will stop the hair from splitting?
—What will promote its growth?
—Do not cut or shave the hair. Wax the ends.
—Use this twice a day:
Resorcinol..... 15 grains
Balsam Peru..... 1/2 dram
Sulphur loli..... 4 drams
Castor oil..... 1/2 dram
Oil theobromine and three drops of Ulic oil.
- E. W. Q.—Will you please tell me what to do for gas in my stomach?
—I am nervous and cannot sleep. Will you give me some advice?
—Eat figs, apples, oranges, oatmeal, cereals, and drink two glasses of water one-half hour before each meal. Take seven grains of oxide of magnesium before meals, and six charcoal tablets after them.
—Sleep on a lower pillow, drink fresh, pure, unmedicated cod liver oil, eat eggs, cranberries, grapes, maple sugar, celery and drink milk.
- J. H. D. Q.—What am I terribly puffed with smallpox, especially on the nose. Will massaging benefit it?
—I also suffer from my nose being clogged up. Can you advise me what to use as a spray?
—Massage the nose with oil of theobromine, into each ounce of which six grains of ammoniated mercury have been incorporated, and three drops of Ulic oil.
- L. V. A. Q.—Will you give me a craving for starch, but am trying to stop it. Do you think it is harmful?
—This is not unusual. Craving for starchy foods in the form of cereals or otherwise means that you fall to eat enough meat, green vegetables and fruits at meal time. Mix your diet more at meals and stop the starch habit.
- Mrs. I. M. F. Q.—What is the cause and cure of eyes sinking back into the head?
—Loss of flesh and fat often begins in the eye sockets. Anything which will increase your weight, extra sleep, extra meals, fats, oils, sugars, sweets, butter, cream will increase it around the eyes.
- F. H. Q.—What would you recommend for cold in the head, where the sinuses of general interest. Is it a running from the nose and sneezing?
—Rub this into the nostrils:
Ammoniated mercury..... 6 grains
White vaseline..... 1/2 ounce
Take five grains each of benzoin, margarine and citrate of soda in a glassful of water every four hours.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

If You Imagine You're in Love Wait and See

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am tearfully in love with a young man a few years older than myself. I sometimes feel that I am in love with you or some other man, and then I realize that I am not. I find this a very trying situation, especially because of the love that I give my heart, but also because I am over my head. I shall be very happy if you will give me some advice as to how I might make sure of his sentiments. LOVELOORN.

LOVELOORN there's just one way for you to discover whether the man is in love with you or not, and that is wait and let him tell you about it. You can't hurry, you can't force it. Either he loves you or he doesn't, and nothing that you can do will make any difference. Heals real sentiments. If he really loves you he'll tell you of it. If he doesn't you don't want him to pretend, do you, just to please you temporarily.

Why hurry the thing up? Don't you realize that this is the pleasantest part of your acquaintance. Anne and I, the time when you are neither of you positively sure of the other? Patience, Lovelorn, patience. This is the only thing that's going to help you, because I had been willing to shoulder the blame, or—but I leave it to a better

Pass—the Battle Cry.

John hates-history. He always has hated it. "What's the use of dates?" says John. "Who cares whether William the Conqueror tripped his toe in 1066 or in 1065? But just let me trip my toe over that date and I won't pass."

John is so cross over Agincourt and the Field of Hastings that it's all we can do to live in the house with him. He is half sick over the adverbs and adjectives. She cannot tell them apart; she really cannot, and the more she tries the more it makes her cry.

But she must learn, she must know, somehow. She won't pass if she doesn't.

DIARY OF A WELL-DRESSED GIRL

By SYLVIA GERARD

SOLVING THE PROBLEM OF A PRACTICAL MID-WINTER SUIT
WHEN mother and I stepped from the train we were surprised to find "Douglas, tender and true," waiting to meet us. I never was more glad to see any one in my life, for we haven't met for seven years.

"Douglas" is Aunt Anne's nephew, and before he grew up and went away to college used to come with her to visit us.

Now he's a civil engineer and is always out of somewhere in the wilds, and only comes back to civilization once in a blue moon.

I'm somewhat in awe of him, for he's developed into such a splendid type of ambitious manhood. I just don't know how to measure up to him. I just don't know how to measure up to his absolutely unhampered manner with all the "conventions" heeding me in. I wish I could be as free and delightfully frank as he.

I wonder if he remembers the first time he visited us. We were very young, and overheard Aunt Anne and mother discussing our ancestors, some of whom were Scotch. This fact appealed to us, and we immediately began to play the role of the diana, marching over the Highlands. I selected Campbell for my clan name, so that I could sing "The Campbell's are Coming," and he said, "Then I'll be Douglas, Douglas, tender and true." I've always called him that ever since.

Today he remarked that among other things that amused him since his return were the rich colors and the fact that the jacket is cutaway in front, and gradually lengthens toward the back. An odd-shaped belt confines the fulness about the waist, and it is fastened with cloth-covered buttons. The collar and cuffs are of grey fox.

The lower portion of the skirt is cut circular, and is fastened to a yoke,

THE BIRD-BATTLE

By Vernon Merry

ONE time in the Good Old Days the birds and the animals had a terrible battle. The birds at their convention had elected Jack Wren for their captain. The animals gazed and leered at "Little Jack" until a quarrel broke out that led to war.

The animals' chosen Red Fox to lead them, because of his cunning and his knowledge of the ways of the feathered tribe. Red Fox was very proud of this honor, and made a speech in which he said: "We can count upon every 'our-footed beast, but nothing more, will ever withstand us. While the fight is going on I will be in the middle of it. Just watch my bushy tail for your standard, and while that is sticking up you may know that the battle is going on."

All this time Johnny Gnat, who had been sent out as a spy by Capt. Wren, had been clinging to the under side of a burdock leaf, and made his report. "Send Bill Hornet to me," said Capt. Wren. He told the hornet that his duty was to fly to find Capt. Fox and to tell him, and whenever the fox stuck his tail to sting it.

The battle was raging fiercely when Bill Hornet first caught sight of the bushy red standard of the enemy. The animals were all barking, bellowing, growling or howling as they struck and snatched at the birds flying above them, while the birds squawked and screamed as they clawed and pecked at the animals. Then, zip! the hornet shot his stinger into the fox's tail, sending the brave warrior up into the air. In so

How to Break Your Lip-Biting Habit

By LUCREZIA BORI

THE other day a friend said to me: "Have you ever noticed how many women bite their lips?" I had to confess that I hadn't the slightest idea of the number, but that I would go on an observation tour the next time I came in contact with a roomful of women. The opportunity presented itself a few days later, and I went about among them to discover those who had contracted the habit. About 40 per cent. showed this form of nervousness, which is scarcely less disgusting than biting the nails, and far more difficult to cure.

The skin of the lips is so delicate and thin that the slightest change in temperature will cause it to dry and crack, and the irritation of this surface roughness seems to lend an irresistible impetus to the teeth.

Very soon this slight abrasion becomes raw and sore, and in winter is particularly difficult to heal. If your lips are in this condition I would first apply spirits of camphor, which is an astringent, and will dry the surface quickly and provide a natural protection. Over this place a coating of vaseline, which will allay the inflammation and help heal the skin.

To cure the lip-biting habit it is sometimes necessary to resort to the same methods that are used to break the habit of biting the nails. If you have the courage to apply a coating of alcohol to the outer edge of the lip it will serve you the next time you start biting them.

Keep the Lips Soft.
As long as the lips are smooth and soft you will have no desire to bite them, so to correct the habit you should be constantly applying some lotion to keep the skin soft. At this season it is well to coat the lips with a little vaseline before going into the cold air.

A good plan is to carry a stick of lip camphor mixed with a little vaseline and apply it as soon as you feel any inflammation in the lips. The lip salve, in stick form, may be purchased at any pharmacy.

THE BIRD-BATTLE

instant he recovered and was again yapping and snapping when the hornet's stinger was thrust into him again and again. That was too much. With his tail between his legs he sneaked for cover. The other animals, no longer seeing their standard, thought the battle was lost, and ran for their holes and dens, leaving enough tufts of hair on the field to build birds' nests for a whole season.

RAILWAY APPEAL CASE DISMISSED

This was an action by Mr. Humberstone, who lives in Newtonbrook, against the railway company...

The subject of the address was "War and Missions." Dr. Mott began his address by giving a number of vivid impressions which he had received during his recent journey in Great Britain, Germany, France and Holland...

The first death claim under the new Workmen's Compensation Act was settled yesterday by the forwarding of the first cheque.

There are now six children in the Potasso family, all under the age of 16 years.

There are now several death claims to be handed by the board, and these will probably be disposed of summarily as the facts of the accidents correspond closely with the compensation arranged for in the act.

Small Percentage Had Any Symptoms. Twenty-Three Cases of Tuberculosis Out of Seventy Thousand School Children.

A remarkable tribute to the healthfulness of Toronto's climate and the conditions prevailing in the schools is shown by the report of Dr. E. S. Munn, the specialist who was appointed to see to what extent tuberculosis existed among Toronto Public School children.

A special meeting of the school management committee has been called for Wednesday afternoon, when a final decision in regard to the pro-German charges which have been laid against Harry Lee, will be arrived at.

NEW SCHEMES TO HELP EMPLOYMENT

Eatons to Push "Made-in-Canada" Goods Without Profit.

Big Store to Throw Great Influence on Workers' Side.

War-time wages will be assured to many a factory worker by the offer of the Eaton Company to sell goods made in Canada at practically factory cost.

Amongst a comprehensive range of Canadian products included in the scope of the campaign inaugurated by Mr. J. C. Eaton the item of granite-ware kitchen utensils alone provides business for more than one Canadian factory sufficient to "turn the corner" into spring.

Accumulated stocks in granite-ware factories have been turned over to the Eaton stores to distribute absolutely without profit.

By the arrangement embodied in Mr. Eaton's offer neither party, maker or distributor, makes any profit whatever on the lines included in this made-in-Canada campaign.

Where factories have no accumulated stocks of goods on hand they have agreed to make their factories full time and turn over any surplus above regular orders for distribution in the Eaton stores at the same understanding as to the total elimination of profit.

Two spiral steel shavings lying on the deck of T. W. Gibson, deputy minister of mines for Ontario, are very much talked of in the streets because of their peculiar relation to the British victory in the North Sea on Sunday.

The reply of the United States Government is as follows: "This government has considered the note verbale of the German Government dated Nov. 30. Since consular officers are commercial and not political agents of a government, and permission for them to act within certain districts depends upon the authority which is in control of those districts, without regard to the question of legal right, and further since the consular districts referred to in the memorandum of the German Government are within territory occupied by the German military forces, this government is not disposed at this time to raise the question of right of the German Government to suspend the exequaturs of United States consular officers within the districts occupied by the German military forces."

Much discontent is prevalent among the garment workers of Toronto concerning the new contract with the war office which gives contracts to Montreal firms when the Toronto facilities are much better.

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength) add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation in the Eustachian tube, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are usually remarkably quick and effective.

TENDERED LUNCHEON

Foreign Mission Boards and Church Representatives Present.

A number of the leaders and supporters of the Foreign Mission Boards of Canada and the representatives of the different churches and colleges of Toronto gave a luncheon at the Central Y. M. C. A. yesterday to Dr. John R. Mott.

The subject of the address was "War and Missions." Dr. Mott began his address by giving a number of vivid impressions which he had received during his recent journey in Great Britain, Germany, France and Holland...

On the other hand, the speaker emphasized that the war had revealed as nothing else could have done the power, the hopelessness and the necessity for unselfish missionary presence in the world...

The first death claim under the new Workmen's Compensation Act was settled yesterday by the forwarding of the first cheque.

There are now six children in the Potasso family, all under the age of 16 years.

There are now several death claims to be handed by the board, and these will probably be disposed of summarily as the facts of the accidents correspond closely with the compensation arranged for in the act.

MAKES REPLY TO NOTE NICELY SITUATED

Inquires if U. S. Consuls at Liege and Brussels Please Kaiser's Officers.

Canadian Press Despatch. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Secretary Bryan tonight made public the text of the note from Germany annulling the exequaturs or certificates of authority of neutral consuls in Belgium and issued a paraphrase of the American Government's reply.

While the German note considers the exequatur of neutral consuls to "have expired" the American Government takes the view that they merely have been suspended. In this way the Washington Government avoided the question of the sovereignty of Belgium with expired with the German military occupation.

The reply of the United States Government is as follows: "This government has considered the note verbale of the German Government dated Nov. 30. Since consular officers are commercial and not political agents of a government, and permission for them to act within certain districts depends upon the authority which is in control of those districts, without regard to the question of legal right, and further since the consular districts referred to in the memorandum of the German Government are within territory occupied by the German military forces, this government is not disposed at this time to raise the question of right of the German Government to suspend the exequaturs of United States consular officers within the districts occupied by the German military forces."

JOE KELLEY AT WORK AS YANKEES' SCOUT

Favors Columbus, Ga., as Training Camp for His Club—Baseball Gossip.

Good old Joe Kelley has gone to work as a scout for the New York Yankees, under Bill Donovan, and has written notes of thanks and adieu to his friends in Toronto.

The long drawn out negotiations over the recent sale of the New York American League club greatly retarded the spring plans, for no schedule of games may be completed until the spring camp is selected. However, says a New York writer, Bill Donovan seems to have pretty clear ideas as to what he will do in the first place. He is expected to be in a long season of conditioning. He does not intend to marshal his men until about March 1. The club cast to the new owners with practically no recruits. It will be up to Wild Bill to build through judicious purchases.

In one way, perhaps, existing conditions should relieve the new manager of a great amount of uncertainty that often hampers spring practice. The training field will not be cluttered with unnecessary bush league talent. The candidates for positions will be those veterans carried over from last year and the five new ones, Rehe, Miller and Berger—assured Messrs Rupert and Huston as part of the deal whereby they acquired the club. All five men have had experience in the fastest company and should be prepared to start their fight with assurance.

Just now the choice of the training camp for Donovan's team appears to rest between Savannah and Columbus, Ga. Donovan and Scott, Joe Kelley are to set out on a tour of inspection this week. Wild Bill has a high regard for Savannah, where the club has a long history. The Providence Grays, Kelley is more familiar with Columbus by his long career in the south. Kelley is in the south, Kelley is in the south, Kelley is in the south.

There are no short fences to help the outfielders retrieve batted balls. The gardeners on that ground naturally have to learn to handle ground balls properly or he is responsible for a home run every time the ball comes his way.

Hugh A. McKinnon, one of the leading spirits of the Federal League, has been elected to the post of president of the new league. McKinnon and his associates hope to be able to employ certain cities of the New England and Eastern Associations to swing a circuit of eight clubs. They have designs upon Hartford, Springfield, New Haven and Bridgeport of the Eastern Association and Lynn, Lowell, Lawrence and Worcester of the Federal League, which operated under protection in 1914.

BUSINESS NOT FALLING OFF

In spite of Depression, Timber Cuts in Northern Ontario Will Show Increase.

IMMENSE PULP OUTPUT

Growth in Circulation of Newspapers Demands More Pulp Than Usual.

The effect of the financial depression apparently has not yet struck the lumbering industry in the north country. Reports received by the department of lands, forests and mines indicate that lumbering operations on crown land are showing a slight increase, and estimates for large cuts in nearly all sections have been submitted.

HALF STEEL MILLS WORKING FULL TIME

Average is Little Better in Pittsburgh District—Big Pipe Line Contract.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—Steel mills in the Pittsburgh district are reported to be operating at between 50 and 60 per cent of capacity, but operations in the east have been hardly as active in lately. In the Pittsburgh district, the average is about 45 and 50 per cent, making a favorable comparison with operations in the west and December, which did not average more than 35 per cent. As the winter business has been better than expected, it is possible to maintain the present rate of production, but there can hardly be any prospect for a sharp rise in the near future.

Compelling Prices on These Women's Dresses and Coats Wednesday

Consider the smartness of these garments, and you'll wonder at the very modest Wednesday price—Third Floor.

The Dresses are an especially attractive lot, in silk and serges, suitable for street and afternoon wear; the colors are black and good shades of navy, Belgian blue, brown and reseda; smart spring styles, featuring the new wide skirt, pleated or flare, and empire waist; also some coat effects that are popular; other dressy modes have organdy or pique collar and cuffs, and vest and collar of lace; misses' and women's sizes, in adaptable styles; $7.50 values. See window display 4.95

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' COATS, $3.50

Good coats for the cold weather, the materials being heavy chinchilla, curls and blanket cloths; styles are copies of high-grade imported models; good range of colors, navy, Copenhagen, brown, gray, plaids and mixtures; sizes 16 to 42; $7.50 and $10.00 values. Wednesday 3.50

Canada, and the Empire

Across the line at the present time there is a great movement under the slogan "made in U.S.A."

This is a good policy for our neighbors, because they are not at war; they have only themselves to consider. Canada, as part of the British Empire, is now engaged in the most serious war of all time. When it is over we will be proud to hear Britain's "Well done, Canada."

Let us deserve this by our broad Imperial policy even in buying and selling.

These last days of our January Sales offer great inducements in Canadian-made goods, and wonderful values in goods made by Britain and the Allies.
