EIGHTEENTH YEAR

SENATE STAYS FIRM

Knowing That It Is Constitutional Rights

IN HOISTING THE GOVERNMENT BILL.

With the Scheme Tacked on the Supply Bill All May Go Down.

Then This Would Bring the Constitutional Crisis Which Senator Miller Sees Ahead—General Belief That the Action of the Government in the House of Commons in Bringing Down a Sum in the Supplementary Estimates to Carry out the Inter-colonial Extension to Montreal is Almond at the Senate—it is Claimed That the Governor-General Was Placed in a False Position—Rights of the Senate Also Discussed—The Upper House Awaiting Explanations.

Ottawa, June 24.—(Special to The World).—A severe thunderstorm passed over the Capital at an early hour this morning and still lingered around the Senate chamber when the Upper House met at 11 o'clock. At any rate there was thunder in the air and it soon commenced to reverberate. Immediately after routine Sir Mackenzie Bowell called attention to the action of the Finance Minister in the House of Commons last evening, as reported in the newspapers. After the Senate had rejected the policy embodied in the bill containing the agreement between the Government and the Grand Trunk and Drummond Counties Railways, when the action of the Senate must have been known to the Ministers in the other House, the Minister of Finance deliberately laid on the table a message from His Excellency, submitting for the approval of Parliament an estimate for public money to be expended in precisely the manner in which it was proposed to spend public money in the bill which the Senate last night rejected. He could not possibly claim that the Governor-General would have authorized the bringing down of the estimate in view of the knowledge that the Senate had rejected the policy of the Government of which the expenditure of the money asked for formed the part. He was forced to the conclusion that the consent of His Excellency to the bringing down of the estimate was obtained before the Senate had taken action and that consent had been given by the Governor-General after the Senate had taken action on the bill containing the agreement. He did not wait until after the Government had given any explanation of this most extraordinary conduct. This explanation might give the Senate some indication of the course it should adopt.

Sir Oliver Mowat said he was not able to say when the Governor-General had given his consent to the estimate in question. He (Sir Oliver) had not been able to wait the estimate in question. He had not had time as yet to consult any of his colleagues on the subject of the estimate. He was sure that the Finance Minister last evening, but he thought it most unlikely that in doing so he was acting in violation of the duty of the Government desired to show any disrespect to the decision arrived at on this question by the Senate. The Government, he felt sure, was simply desirous of making an experiment with a view of showing that in a later period the agreement rejected by the Senate could be so amended by Parliament from the experience obtained from an actual experiment in a manner which would remove the objections urged by members of the Senate against it as it now stood. The whole matter would, he thought, be fully explained in the other House.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell thought the Minister of Justice should be provided with an explanation of the action of the Government when the House met again at 3 o'clock.

Believe Parliament.

Senator Miller said that the step taken by the House of Commons could only be justified by the bringing down the estimate in question after it was known that the Senate had refused to pass the bill authorizing the expenditure, the Government was acting in defiance of the will of Parliament. Such an action had never been known in English Parliamentary history. There was no doubt that a crisis had been reached in the constitutional history of this country. The time had come when it was necessary to find out whether the Senate was to occupy the place designed for it in the constitution of the country or whether it was to be subject to the whim of a Minister of the Crown. If the latter stand was taken, events would transpire which would shake the very constitution of the country. He did not believe that there was a member of the Senate who would not be ready to do his duty in this respect. He would not be a member of the Senate who would not be ready to do his duty in this respect. He would not be a member of the Senate who would not be ready to do his duty in this respect.

Senator Power said it was absurd to say that the Government was going to do or reason for its actions. He thought it would be much more in keeping with the dignity of the Senate to wait until the Government made an explanation of its position and actions.

Senator Macdonald (British Columbia) said the second part of the message was that the Governor-General had been asked in advance to deliberately create the will of Parliament. The

MORE RAILROAD SUBSIDIES

And of Course the Drummond Road is In.

OTTAWA-HULL BRIDGE, TOO.

The Great Northern to Have Help for Its Road and a Bridge.

Almost a Political Crisis at the Capital over the Government's Action in Attempting to Overrule the Senate's Decision. A Conservative Caucus Declines to Await the Government's Action Before Deciding What Course to Adopt—Prognosis Possibly on Saturday—Other Notes From Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 24.—(Special.)—Further railway estimates were brought down to-night. They include a subsidy of 25 miles to the Great Northern Railway from St. Jerome, Que., to Hawkesbury, Ont. To the Drummond Counties Railway for 42.12 miles, provided, however, that the Government purchases the company's line of railway. To the Ironclad, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway for 5 miles of road. To the Great Northern Railway for construction of a bridge across the Ottawa at Hawkesbury, 15 per cent, but not to exceed $32,500. For an interprovincial bridge between Ottawa and Hull, 15 per cent, not to exceed $700,000, not to exceed $112,500.

Almost a Political Crisis. The determination of the Government to override the Senate's action in rejecting the Grand Trunk-Drummond Company deal by tacking on to the supply bill an appropriation equivalent to nine months' rental to these two companies has precipitated something like a political crisis at the capital. The Senators, as will be seen by a report elsewhere, showed much resentment this morning at the Government's action, and no one can tell yet what they will do. The appropriation of $107,500 has, of course, first to run the gauntlet of the Commons, and with regard to the action of the Lower House it is undecided, as yet, what line the Conservatives will take. Some Conservative members are for summoning the absent members of the contingent back to Ottawa and fighting the dead all summer, if need be. Others take a more reasonable view, and say that, inasmuch as the arrangement this year can only be a temporary one, and as the Government must come down to Parliament next session to give it permanency, there will be ample opportunity once more for the Conservatives to assert themselves on this question, and that, for this session at any rate, the country will concede that they have done their duty.

A caucus of the Conservative party was held this afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock, as a result of which it was decided to await the explanation of the Portsmouth, Eng., June 24.—The training brig Sea Lark, concerning whose safety on Thursday last, from Queen's Ferry, in order to take part in the naval review of Saturday next, reached Spithead safely last night. This morning the Aqueduct Power Company's bill came before the Senate Railway Committee and was further postponed, which practically kills it for this session.

A Miraculous Escape.

Alexander Ford, 15 Regent-avenue, an employe of the Hertram Engine Works, had a miraculous escape from death at 5 o'clock last night while at his work. An immense plate of steel was being hoisted by a derrick, when the chain broke, and the sheet of metal fell straight downwards, cutting the heel from the upper muscles of the foot of Ford's legs and severely crushing his toes. He was taken to the ambulance to the general hospital, where his injuries were dressed, and was afterwards removed to his home. Had he been a inch farther forward when the mishap occurred his skull would undoubtedly have been crushed in.

DINNER TO THE POOR

Was the Big Jubilee Feature in London Yesterday.

IT WAS THE PRINCESS OF WALES' DAY.

Bouquets Presented by Cripples While All Eyes Moistened.

A Message to the Banqueters from the Princess, Who Was Unable to Be Present—Seventeen Thousand Persons Dined at the Central Hall, Holborn—The Prince of Wales Was With Them and Cheers Shook the Building—The Princess and the Old Irish Woman, Who Said, "God Bless You, Dear"—Like Scenes at Clerkenwell—All the London Papers Pleasured.

London, June 24.—The Princess of Wales' Jubilee dinners to the poor to-day were very successful. About 300,000 diners of the slums were sumptuously entertained at the various centres. The Princess, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, Princess Victoria of Wales and Prince and Princess Charles of Denmark, visited the principal halls where the feasts were given. The Princess of Wales requested the Lord Mayor to deliver this message to all the diners, as follows: "Although I am unfortunately unable to be present at all the dinners for my poor, I shall be with them in spirit, hoping that they will enjoy themselves and give three cheers for their Queen."

Like scenes at Clerkenwell—All the London Papers Pleasured.

As soon as the royal party reached the platform they were greeted by a shower of bouquets of flowers to the Princess of Wales and to the Lady Mayores. The Princess was most affecting, and many of her eyes were moist. The Prince of Wales, in behalf of the Princess, expressed the pleasure which it afforded them in being able to bring some degree of happiness to the children. The members of the royal party made a tour of the hall, and before leaving the Princess of Wales took up a glass of champagne, which she emptied to the health of the children.

At the Central Hall, Holborn, 17,000 people, young and old, partook of the banquet. The Princess of Wales, who entered the hall the food was apparently forgotten, all present stood up, and cheer after cheer rang through the hall. On making a tour of the room the Princess of Wales turned to an old Irish woman, who expressed the hope that she had partaken of a good dinner. To this the old woman replied: "God bless you, dear, and patted the Princess on the shoulder. The members of the royal party frequently shook hands with and spoke encouraging words to the ragged waifs.

The Princess' Day. This has, emphatically, been the Princess of Wales' day, and the idea of giving a treat to the poor has been crowned with the greatest success. She was everywhere received with much enthusiasm. The day was very hot, and the Princess wore the simplest kind of a muslin dress with figured mauve pattern.

At the People's Palace the Princess herself made the first block of ice cream, with a patent freezer, to the delight of the children. At the various adult feasts it was at first decided not to allow beer to be served, but the Lady Mayores intervened, and all present had a "reasonable allowance."

What might have been a double fatality occurred to-night at Liberty-street and T. R. crossing. The train due from the south at 8:10 was coming around the curve, and the engine struck the car of Martin, wife of Superintendent Martin of the Hamilton Electric Light & Power Company, with an 8-month-old child in her arms, tried to cross the track in front of the incoming train. Yardmaster Moxley of the T. R. crossing yelled to her to stop, but evidently she did not hear him. The engine struck her and buried her several feet, and the baby was thrown into the gutter. Mrs. Martin was cut and bruised considerably, but no bones were broken. The baby's eye was cut and his knees badly lacerated. Dr. O'Reilly, who is attending the patients, does not fear any serious results. Both mother and child are resting quietly at midnight.

INTERCOLONIAL EXTENSION

Was the Big Topic in the House Yesterday.

PROGRAM OF GOVERNMENT

Was Announced by Sir Richard and Supplemented by Mr. Blair.

Mr. Foster was Laid Up With a Desire for Information and Put Some Very Different Questions to Both Sir Richard and the Minister of Railways—The House Wants the Papers, and Wants Them Quickly, He Says—The Early Part of the Day Was Taken Up in Discussion of an Estimate of $5000 to Hunt Smugglers.

Ottawa, June 24.—(Special.)—Nearly the whole of the morning and the greater part of the afternoon session in the House was taken up in discussing the intercolonial extension bill, in regard to the secret service fund of $5000, to be used in detecting smugglers in the Lower St. Lawrence.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that the smugglers had perfected a system of organization, with headquarters at Quebec and representatives in Montreal. Probably the loss of revenue was $800,000 a year, but what was still worse, the smuggling of liquor was demoralizing the people of whole parishes. Unless the Government prosecuted the aid of informers it would be impossible to bring home guilt to the principals, and it would be absolutely necessary to keep names secret. Not only was it desirable to reach the poor laborers engaged in this nefarious work, but also the rich traders who were at the head of the organization. Sir Richard Cartwright offered to submit the names of beneficiaries from the fund to Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. O'Reilly, Mr. Wallace, on the understanding that they would give their word of honor not to divulge the names.

Mr. Foster's Concerns.

Mr. Foster approved of the action of the Government in the extension bill, but he had given to the House the impression that he would not support the bill. He had given to the House the impression that he would not support the bill. He had given to the House the impression that he would not support the bill.

Whip yesterday said he did not.

At the opening of the afternoon sitting Mr. Sutherland quoted from the Citizen report the remarks made in the Senate by Sir Mackenzie Bowell to the effect that the Liberal whip had threatened Senators that if they voted against the bill the Government would withdraw the Crown's Next Pass Bill, the Crown's Next Pass Bill, the Crown's Next Pass Bill.

The Government Program.

Early in the day Sir Richard Cartwright announced that the Government would not proceed with the railway bill, but would proceed with the iron bounties and the Crown's Next Pass Bill, the $15,000,000 loan, and the railway resolutions.

THE DRUMMOND DEAL.

Sir Richard Cartwright said the Government wants to try the experiment.

Pretty nearly all the members in town were present in the chamber after recess to hear the Ministerial announcement. Sir Richard Cartwright said that the Minister of Trade and Commerce had said that the Government would not proceed with the railway bill, but would proceed with the iron bounties and the Crown's Next Pass Bill, the $15,000,000 loan, and the railway resolutions.

SENATE STANDS FIRM

session, explaining the provisions item by item, and concluding by moving the second reading of the bill.

The Ministerial Bill Again.

Senator Almon called upon Sir Oliver Mowat to endorse his promise to explain the action of the Government on an important public question, which had caused so much commotion in the Senate at the early session.

Sir Oliver Mowat said he had made no promise. He had said distinctly that he could not say more than he had said until he had consulted with his colleagues. Since the morning session he had consulted with them, and it was decided that a statement on the matter should be made in the Senate on the coming day for discussion in the Lower House. He entirely agreed with that decision.

Question of Combines.

In answer to a request by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, the Secretary of State read and explained the combines clause in the tariff.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell severely criticized the action of the Government in proposing to take power to deal with the difficult question of combines formed in restraint of trade. He went into the question at length, to show the difficulty of dealing with and punishing combines. Apart from the difficulties of the question from a legal aspect, he pointed out that powers such as were conferred under the clause should never be exercised by a government. He regarded the clause as mere humbug and an effort on the part of the Government to convince the great consuming classes of the country that the Government was going to guard their interests as against combines. He knew the Government was not going to do so, and that the law into operation, and for that reason he was not going to move to strike it out of the Budget of 1897.

He thought it better to leave the clause where it was as an evidence of what non-sensical legislation could be done by a government. Speaking for himself, he did not propose to make any effort to have this clause removed from the tariff, because he knew the Government would never dare to put such a law into force.

Speaking of the preferential phase of the tariff, he complimented the Government on having stolen another plank from the Conservative platform. He thought it was when the criminal code was amended that the Government had proposed a clause punishing unscrupulous politicians who stole the political platform of the Government. He would be glad to see the Government do this, but he would be glad to see the Government do this, but he would be glad to see the Government do this.

Continuing, Mr. Blair said: "I may now move that the Government should make an arrangement with the Drummond Counties Company and the Government of the Drummond Counties Company and the Government of the Drummond Counties Company."

SYRACUSE STARS FUNKED.

After a Little Shower They Refused to Play.

NO RUNS IN FOUR INNINGS

In the Fifth Casey Was on First Base With No One Out.

Then Rain Came Down for 30 Minutes and Buckenberger Threw Up the Sponge.

"Ray, Buckenberger, your name should be Limberger, you're rotten!"

That was the chief rooster's greeting to the individual who is supposed to manage the dirty ball players from Syracuse.

The contest started promptly at 4 o'clock, and the first run was scored on either side in the fifth inning.

But no Syracuse had a trump up her sleeve and played it here.

The regular meeting of the Toronto Senior Baseball League was held in the afternoon at the Toronto Athletic Club.

A game was played at the Hall grounds yesterday afternoon between the Hill and Empire teams.

The following games are scheduled for Saturday: Orioles v. Maple Leafs, at 2 o'clock.

A Keeler clause has been annexed to the Pittsburg contract of Jimmy Donnelly.

President Davis has called a meeting of the representatives of the Toronto Athletic Club.

Now that Toronto is out of the Canadian League, Toronto Davis could easily see a "National" National.

Joe Forrester scored 81. The Rosedale Cricket Club traveled to Brampton yesterday and easily defeated the home team.

Resting the Feet. A hard mattress rests the sleeper more than a downy feather bed, because it does not press so many parts of the body at once, relieving certain bumps while the others are being lain upon.

No two pairs of shoes are exactly alike on the inside, and changing them once per day causes different portions of the feet by throwing the weight upon other parts.

Leathers should always be chosen according to the condition of the feet, as they differ materially in effect and purpose.

On every pair of "Slater Shoes" there is a tag, which tells the exact leather used, giving its peculiarities and the wear it is adapted to.

You can thus buy "Slater Shoes" intelligently and know that they're Goodyear Velted, if you see that they're stamped on the sole with the name and price—$3.00, $4.00, or $5.00.

DEERY AIDS FOR IT.

A Deputation Asks the Duke of Norfolk and Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Make It a Part of Call.

London, June 24.—A representative deputation from Londonderry, headed by M. Edmund Francis Vesey Knox, member of Parliament for the city of Londonderry, accompanied by the Duke of Abercorn, Lord Lieutenant of Donegal, has an audience today with the Canadian Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at the Hotel Cecil, in order to urge the Duke of Londonderry as a port for the increased traffic to and from the Government to make arrangements for increased train facilities, so as to make the scheme complete.

Anothered in a Trunk. Henderson, Ky., June 24.—When an old trunk was opened in the home of Joseph Melton, near Bordley, in Union county, the father found two little girls lying in it, smothered to death—Lama, aged 7, and Jennie, 5. While their parents were absent the children had been playing "hide and seek" with three other children, while searching for a good hiding place, the two evidently thought of an old trunk in the cellar, crawled into it and closed the lid. A spring lock made it an airtight tomb.

Public School Matters. The Management Committee of the Public School Board met yesterday afternoon for the first time, but did not transact any business of importance. The manager of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition wished to set apart the first day of the Fair, this fall, as children's day, but the Management Committee, thinking it would break in on the scholars' mid-week work, recommended that Friday be the day selected.

The Lack of Equipment. Previous to breaking up camp Wednesday afternoon the Body Guards were inspected by Major Leonard, the Inspector of Cavalry. Whatever might be a commissioner's opinion of the appearance of Acting Commander Lieut. Col. Dunn's splendid corps, to a lay spectator there was a woful lack of equipment, especially in the accoutrements was painfully apparent.

Michie & Co.'s Decorations. A display which has elicited much approval from those who appreciate the harmony and good taste which characterized the session. The decorations are of a carefully selected and pretty design, and are of a most artistic character.

New Books at the Public Library. Zeller's Aristotle and the earlier epigrammatists, translated by Costello and Mairand, 2 vol.; Essays on Liberalism, by Six Oxford Men; Cyprian, His Life and Times; His Works; Archbishop Benson; Omnia's Dissertation on the Athanasian Creed; Lord's The Christian Ecclesiastical; Bickelkye, Wild Sports in Ireland; Tyler, Literary History of the American Revolution, 1763-1789; Vol. I. World's W. C. T. U. Convention. The recent meeting of the W. C. T. U. in London, England, has drawn the interest in the world's gathering of white-ribboners in Toronto for October next. Among the names of the delegates from the British Isles in addition to those already published are: Sister Lily, the leading worker in the West London Mission and the personal friend of Mrs. Hugh Price Hughes—Sister Lily has charge of the home of the Sisters of Our People—Mrs. Hughes, president of the North Wales Union, and a great worker in the Manchester W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Ramsay, of Manchester; Mrs. Dana, of Oxford; Miss Rieby, of Perth; South Wales; Miss Lutz, of Bristol; Miss Pearce, of Kent.

Captain Peter Paterson. In the list of ex-members of the Q. O. B. who attended services on Sunday the name of Captain Peter Paterson was accidentally omitted. Capt. Paterson was present, and marched in the ranks with his old companions whom he enrolled into No. 2 Company of the Queen's Own. Capt. Paterson was one of the first officers gazetted when the Queen's Own was formed, and was an officer in No. 2 Battalion, which was the beginning of the regiment before they were allowed to take the name of the Queen's Own. His commission dates back to 1859, and in 1860 he was one of the squad to receive His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales during his visit to Toronto. Capt. Paterson was the officer who received the march presented by the ladies of Toronto, and he in turn handed it over to the drum-major. There are not more than three or four of the first form living who were gazetted at the first formation of the regiment.

Cumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons as is concluded that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. Those persons are they aware that they can be rid of their heart's content if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.

The Board of Control met for over three hours yesterday afternoon. Perhaps the most important matter that came before the board was the following letter from the Mayor:

Gentlemen,—I beg to call the attention of your board to the fact that the City of Toronto is at present in a financial straits which is of a serious nature.

The amount of money already spent this year, is $1,125,000, and the balance, since the amount I have asked for is restored, is insufficient to carry on the works of the city in a proper manner and under proper supervision.

I do not think it possible to reduce the expenses of this department very much more and at the same time to carry on the works of the city efficiently.

THE HAWK BAY MINES.

The World's Commissioner Up Seine River.

LOCATION OF THE PROPERTY

A Beautiful Canoe Trip Made to Reach the Well-known Spot.

An Immense Water Power at Lynx Falls which will be used to develop adjacent properties. What the Hawk Bay Mines Look Like—A Second Sketch—The Force at Work in Camp at Present—Another Sketch from F. D. L. S.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 24.—(Special.)

After, as already chronicled, visiting the working mines on the east side of Saw Bill Lake I made an excursion up the Seine River for an Island Falls, taking in the leading properties en route. Although practically unknown except to Indians, traders and miners, the Seine is one of the finest streams in the province. It rises in Lac de Mills Lake, and after a devious course through the wild lands, reaching at different stages north, south and west, empties into Rainy Lake. As the area it drains is a large one the river carries off an immense volume of water. It varies in width from a few hundred yards to a couple of miles, and throughout its length is marked by a series of little lakes, all terminating with swift running rapids and fine waterfalls.

Canoe Trip.

Leaving Saw Bill camp in a birch bark canoe with a couple of Indians I started the north shore of the lake for about five miles, passing a number of surveyed mining locations, and examining the outcrop of the Hammond reef where it dips under the water. Then, following to the left an old camping ground frequented by Chier Kababong, I turned into the Seine river, which Saw Bill Lake is a big arm, and started up stream. At this point Mr. H. M. Ironfound, P.L.S., has built himself a military log cabin in the woods, while across the water can be seen the camp of James Conmee, M.L.A., of which more in a succeeding letter. A paddle of a mile or more brings the canoe to mining location 1629, which is owned by the Messrs. Wiley, and is present under operation of the Ontario Mining Syndicate. The property contains 115 acres of land, upon which a nice quartz vein is traced for five or six hundred feet. This led to the discovery of a shaft sunk at the summit of a bluff 500 feet high, and the shaft has been driven down to a depth of 300 feet, showing up a consistent body of ore three feet across. The ore is contained between nicely defined and almost perpendicular walls. The lead runs north and south, and is composed of copper, iron, galena and zinc, and is being accompanied by two or three feet of a well-mineralized gangue.

As the shaft is being worked.

Three or four miles up the river Lynx falls was reached, where the river runs in a rocky bed, and is surrounded by rocky gorge, and a short portage has to be made to the immense water power latent in this waterfall. For several days this waterfall is developed as a series of adjacent territories, and the merit of this property really is that it is to be found almost equally well on the north and south sides of the river. The first shaft is now being worked, and in which a shaft is now being called a tunnel at night just as it runs nearer to the horizontal, than to the vertical. The shaft is now being worked in about 20 feet, with a fairly good-looking wall, and if the vein further down the shaft is as good as the one at the top, it will be a fine prospect. Hawk Bay Ore.

Messrs. Wyatt & Co. have just received the following assay of Hawk Bay ore, which was selected with a view to obtaining an accurate average as possible. The assay shows an average of 10 per cent. of copper, and shows extremely rich ore, a good deal higher than the assays were made in duplicate by Thomas Hays of this city, and every precaution was taken in getting the true average as possible.

GOLD ON A CANADIAN ISLAND

And United States Prospectors Claim the Island to be in E. S. Territory.

Duluth, Minn., June 24.—Gold has been discovered on Oak Point Island, in Rainy Lake, which will undoubtedly lead to an international boundary dispute between Great Britain and the United States. According to the maps of the Geological Survey the island is in Canadian territory, but according to the wording of the treaty of 1846 the island is a part of the State of Minnesota. Canada has issued patents on several valuable mining locations on the island, and vigorous protests are being sent to Washington by American prospectors. The miners throughout the Rainy Lake district are considerably wrought up over the matter, and the probability of trouble unless something is done. The way things now stand the United States lose entire control over her waters in Rainy Lake, according to the Geological Survey the United States cannot get a boat into Rainy Lake without first going into Canadian waters. The three hundred islands boundary dispute is of minor importance compared to this.

The above is from a photograph, by Mr. J. T. Cooke of Port Arthur, of Saw Bill Lake, taken in March last, from the shore of Saw Bill City. The water level can be seen winding away in the distance. This lake is becoming famous by reason of the many discoveries of gold deposits that have been found in its vicinity, and the wonderful showing of the mine already developed, notably the Saw Bill, Hammond Gold Reef and Hawk Bay. The lake is an arm of the Seine river, and the district, according to the opinions of experts, gives promise of being a rich gold camp in the Dominion.
