NEWSPAPER FOR VETERANS

Advocacy of This at Ontario Convention
Government Asked to Inquire Into Exodus of Canadians to United States—Series of Resolutions of Interest.

(Canadian Press.)
Petrobr, Ont., March 18.—It was suggested at the annual convention of the provincial G. W. V. A. yesterday afternoon that a newspaper be started in the interests of the G. W. V. A. and a committee of newspaper men in attendance at the convention was appointed to look into the matter and report.
One of the resolutions passed asked the federal government to investigate the reason for the exodus of Canadians to the United States and to take steps to counteract this movement. Another asked the government to "encourage the use and production of Canadian mined coal, and thereby offset American competition."
The abolition of all property qualifications in order to enable all citizens, including war veterans, to vote at municipal elections was urged. Other resolutions were passed as follows:
That the government be requested to encourage reforestation and decrease by embargo shipments of Canadian timber to the United States.
That the free treatment period for members of the C. E. F. be extended for three years.
That an effort be made to encourage trade within the empire as a means of overcoming the adverse exchange rates.
That minors who are taking, or have taken, vocational training courses be granted a similar bonus to that granted to other vocational students.
That the government restore the ban on the Hearst newspapers.
That Armistice Day be recognized by the G. W. V. A. and a theatre party last night be held on the Sunday nearest that date.
That the militia department be requested to supply gun cartridges and the necessary rifles for a funeral party to G. W. V. A. branches where suitably located.
The delegates to the convention were entertained by the "best branch" of the G. W. V. A. at a theatre party last night followed by a dance in the convention hall.

ROSS STRING FORMIDABLE

Canadian Racing Man's Bid for More Success on American Turf.

Toronto, March 18.—The Globe has the following special dispatch from New York: "Commander J. K. L. Ross, a Canadian who headed the list of winners in America last year, promises to maintain his place near the top through the coming season at local courses. In former years his strong stable has been rather weak in two year olds at the beginning of each year, but that will not be so this year.
"This season the Ross string contains more high priced youngsters than any last summer. Commander Ross paid more than $100,000 for juveniles, all of which are royally bred.
"Commander Ross set the season's record when he paid $25,000 for a colt by Sunstar-Mariou Hand. While this does not begin to compare with the purchase of a Swynford yearling that Lorrance bought at Doncaster last fall for $57,500, it is close to the record for this country.
"This year the Ross colts will be well represented in the big juvenile events in point of numbers, and quite likely in quality. He has named eleven for the rich hopeful stakes at Saratoga, nine for the United States, and nine for the grand union. Eight fillies have been named for the Spinaway, which was signed last year by Constancy carrying the Ross colors."
BRITISH PARLIAMENT
London, March 18.—(Canadian Press)—In the house of commons yesterday the minister of health announced that a committee inquiring into the rent restriction question had recommended the continuance of the present act preventing eviction and that the government would legislate on these lines, leaving details until the final report was presented.
The house afterwards dealt with the naval estimates.
The house of lords gave third reading to the local elections proportional representation bill and second reading to the bill intended to restrict the importation of plumage and plume birds or fashion purposes.

Another Messenger Disappears and $14,000 Bonds Gone

New York, March 18.—Another robbery was added yesterday to the already long list among New York brokerage houses, when John Muir & Company reported to the police that a messenger sent out on Wednesday to deliver negotiable securities valued at $14,000, disappeared. When getting a job three months ago, he gave the firm the police a false name and address.

Paying Tenders Are Opened By Council

A New Turn in the Situation Today
Motion Covering Opening of Bids Also Calls for Delay in Work Until Plebiscite Is Taken on Question—The Figures.

The paving battle which has raged in about city hall for the last few weeks took a sudden new turn this morning when the council in committee after a short breaky session decided to open the tenders for the paving of Douglas avenue, City road, marina road and Prince William street.
The matter was brought up by Commissioner Bullock who rose while the council was in committee and said he had a motion to present on the paving question. He was immediately interrupted by Commissioner Fisher who said that he had a motion to put before the council and Commissioner Bullock sat down.
After Mr. Fisher's motion to open the tenders, Mr. Bullock moved an amendment providing for the opening of the bids, but requiring the holding up of the work until a plebiscite had been taken on the question of taxing advertising property owners. It was on the amendment that the tenders were finally opened.
Mayor Heard to Drive.
Commissioner Fisher asked what the council was waiting for. Was it the bill which the seven men were preparing? If so, Mr. Fisher asked how they would get it through the council.
The mayor said that he was anxious to dispose of the matter as quickly as possible, but he was not going to be driven to it by anybody. He referred to the delegation which appeared and made threats if the tenders were opened "I may be easily led," he said, "but I am hard to drive."
Com. Fisher said that he did not believe in opening the tenders unless they would be acted upon, but he was fairly sure that if opened the council would take action so he was willing to take the chance and he moved that the tenders be opened.
Commissioner Thornton seconded the motion.
Mr. Bullock moved the following amendment which was seconded by Mr. Jones.
Whereas, there has been a persistent desire on the part of a large number of citizens that our main thoroughfares be paved to a greater extent than at present.
And whereas, the common council has decided on an extensive programme of street paving of a permanent character and the tenders for the same have been opened and referred to the commissioner of public works for his report.
That a plebiscite be taken at the next civic election in order to give the ratepayers a chance to vote for or against the advertising tax for said class of street work, and with the understanding that none of the work be proceeded with until the result of said plebiscite is known.
Mr. Fisher said the passing of the amendment might hold up the work and some of the contractors might not want to hold their prices.
Mr. Thornton characterized the amendment as a scheme to delay the work. He said that he was willing to stand or fall on this paving question. He was opposed to the advertising tax from the start. He thought that the matter of referring the tenders to the commissioner of public works was not in order. On vote the amendment was carried and the motion lost. Commissioners Thornton and Fisher voting nay to the amendment.
The tenders were then opened and referred to the commissioner of public works. The figures are as follows:
Paving in cubic yards: excavation in cubic yards and tile drain and curbing, in lineal feet.

THE REVOLUTION HAS DONE GREAT HARM TO GERMANY

Minister of Interior Says Offenders Will Be Punished
Imprisonment and Confiscation of Their Property—Says Ebert Cabinet Is Stronger Because of Crisis Passed.

Stuttgart, March 18.—Tremendous damage has been done to Germany economically by the Kapp movement, and the coal and food situations have been made more acute, Herr Koch, minister of the interior, informed the Reichstag today. The worst conditions are now centered in the Ruhr mining district, and the government is taking the necessary measures to remedy them.
The minister believed that the government's hands had been strengthened by the Kapp failure, but that there had been a serious aggravation of the food problems by the disastrous Berlin revolution. He insisted that the government was determined to deal severely with the offenders, but specified through imprisonment and confiscation of their property.
"The consequences of the Berlin uprising will be very extensive so far as economic conditions are concerned," said Herr Koch.
"So far as the food question is concerned, days have been lost in agricultural work such as sowing, and the removal of the rationing restrictions has caused an enormous amount of food to be wasted with respect to the German public for the food hoarders made excellent use of the abolition of restrictions, which means a serious food situation. The delivery of food from Holland also is interrupted, and even the pending arrangements for credits delayed.
"Yet we hope that within a short time the economic situation will again be firmly controlled."
Herr Koch referred to the widespread disturbances in many cities, with the declaration that there were some local Soviets, but expressed his hope for prompt improvement.
The national assembly, which met in extraordinary session here yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation, was presided over by its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, to meet in Berlin on Tuesday. The government decided to proceed to Berlin on Sunday.
The majority Socialist leaders here have demanded that Gustav Noske resign. Herr Noske has complied by tendering his resignation to President Ebert, but the government has not accepted a decision as to its acceptance, and will not do so until the cabinet has considered the question.

THEY BACK UP LIEUT.-COL. ELDER

McGill Undergraduates and Cote St. Paul Veterans Pass Resolutions.

(Canadian Press.)
Montreal, March 18.—The Returned Veterans Association of McGill met yesterday afternoon to discuss the situation arising from Dr. Elder's resignation. The following official statement was issued this morning:
"At a meeting of the Returned Undergraduates Association, held at the McGill Union, March 18, the following resolution was passed:
"That this association places itself on record as being in sympathy with the action taken by Lieut. Col. J. M. Elder in resigning from the faculty of medicine, and protests against the fact that the authorities are allowing the circumstances that led to Colonel Elder's resignation to continue."
The association also places itself on record as opposed to compulsory physical training for returned students. Another resolution was passed endorsing the work of the C. O. P. C.
The Cote St. Paul branch of the G. W. V. A. strongly approved of the stand taken by Dr. Elder, saying: "God help the British Empire if we have to import our professors from Germany in order to educate our young men."
FREDERICKTON M. C. A. TO OPEN AGAIN
Frederickton, March 18.—The Frederickton M. C. A., after being closed for some time, was re-opened on Thursday night. The association has been re-organized and has a large membership. His Worship Mayor Reid, who is president, formally re-opened the building.
J. L. Peck, M. P. P., for Albert, entertained sixteen normal students from Albert county at dinner in the Barker House last night.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Horobon to the Times reporter, "that the Kaiser is getting into the news again."
"Well," said the reporter, "that is true. He continues to be in the news in spite of all the things he has done. He would rather let his subjects do half the mischief than let the Kaiser do it."
"Why do you send him to Holland?" queried the reporter.
"I don't know," said Hiram, "but I think you are right. He has more kinds of cunning than the Old Boy himself. Why don't you send him to Holland?" queried the reporter.
"I don't know," said Hiram, "but I think you are right. He has more kinds of cunning than the Old Boy himself. Why don't you send him to Holland?" queried the reporter.

FATHER DROPS CHILD IN FLAMES AS HE JUMPS TO SAVE WHILE HIS HOME BURNS

Five Lives Are Lost in Fire in St. John's, Quebec
Philip Lariviere's Wife and Three Children and Man Burned to Death—Pathetic Failure of Father to Save the Life of Babe.

(Canadian Press.)
Montreal, March 18.—Five lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the home of Philip Lariviere, 82 Queen street, St. John's, Que., last night. The victims were:
Mrs. P. Lariviere, aged 29 years, Salim Bessette, her brother-in-law, aged 30.
The three Lariviere children, one aged four years, one three, and the third an infant.
The house was a double two-story tenement, and the fire started in the sleeping quarters of the Lariviere home, presumably from the explosion of an oil lamp attached to the wall.
Mr. Lariviere, who had arrived home a short time before and retired, was awakened and, seizing one child, he jumped from the window, but as he jumped he dropped the child and it fell into the blaze. The flames had made such progress that it was impossible to re-ascend the stairs. The alarm was given by a neighbor living across the street, but when the firemen arrived the whole side of the tenement was ablaze, and it was impossible to do anything to save the imprisoned family.
The Bessette family, occupying the other side of the tenement, escaped in their night clothes.
When the fire was extinguished the firemen entered. Mrs. Lariviere's body was found beside her bed. She had evidently attempted to escape.

WOMEN DRAMATIC IN HIS ADDRESS

Former Minister a Central Figure in Winnipeg Trial Yesterday

Winnipeg, March 18.—(Canadian Press.)—Walking exactly up to the label which the four lawyers for the crown cast, pointing the finger of scorn at him and accusing them with being members of the citizens' committee, William Ives, formerly a minister of the Methodist church and now editor of the Western Labor News and the Strike Bulletin, was the central figure in a dramatic scene at the trial of the seven strike leaders at last night's session.
"Four of them," he exclaimed, "look them in the eyes and tell them that I would rather be here defending myself than one of you prosecuting me."
Ives launched out in his address to the jury late in the afternoon session and, after a long and stirring speech, concluded his address at 10 o'clock. It is expected that he will speak today.
Alderman John Queen resumed his address in the morning and did not close until 9 o'clock. He was followed by Ward Holland, counsel for R. J. Johns, who spoke briefly.

MEIGHEN ON THE STUMP IN TARIFF SPEECH

Iriquois Falls, Ont., March 18.—The necessity of maintaining a tariff in Canada was the theme of an address delivered here last night by Hon. Arthur Meighen, speaking in the interests of Major E. Fuller, independent Conservative candidate in the Temiskaming by-election. The minister of the interior said the country needed a tariff if it was going to be honest and pay its debts, and he criticized the policy advanced on this subject by W. L. Mackenzie King and Hon. Mr. Cramer.

IRISH QUESTION NOT SATISFIED WITH MONTREAL

Declaration of Sympathy in Reservation Programme on Peace Treaty.

Washington, March 18.—Proceeding under forced draft to reach a final ratification vote on the peace treaty today the senate yesterday broke from control of the Republican leaders and unexpectedly swept into the republicanism of the Dominion Alliance here last night, said that a great improvement was apparent in the first two or three months, but that "today conditions in Montreal and the province could not be much more under tutelage as formerly. Drinking and drunkenness is the order of the day."
The president told of an interview with Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, who, he said, had made promises to introduce amending legislation, which promises had not been kept. He concluded by saying that if Sir Lomer's government did not show a little more disposition to comply with public opinion, a more vigorous call would be given by the temperance party of the province.
"Dr. W. F. Crafts of Washington devoted his attention to showing the failure of partial prohibition in Massachusetts a generation ago."

CAR SHORTAGE

Ottawa, March 18.—The shortage of foreign railway cars which to ship goods to the United States has become acute during the last few days. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, ready for export, is being held up here. For some weeks the shippers in this part of the province have experienced great difficulty securing cars, but the situation has been made much more serious, it is said, by an embargo on the New York Central, effective March 15, against sending cars to Canada east of Buffalo.
Railway officials announce that the shortage is bound to last for ten days at least.

BIG BRITISH CREDIT

Washington, March 18.—Great Britain has set aside a credit of $130,000,000 to finance the sale of British goods to various European countries, according to official dispatches yesterday to the department of commerce.
A special credit of $1,500,000 was made for Poland to defray transportation charges of $400,000 tons of flour from the United States.
The dispatch said that reports that Great Britain had loaned $100,000 to Poland to pay for British tonnage which the new republic planned to purchase, had not been confirmed.

DOUBLE PAY OF THE DEPUTIES

Bill Introduced in French Chamber Because of the H. C. L.

Paris, March 18.—A bill was introduced in the chamber of deputies yesterday proposing to double the salaries of deputies, raising them from 15,000 francs to 30,000 francs.

The preamble declares that the value of everything has increased, that the obligations of a parliamentarian have grown greater, that the cost of the necessities of life has tripled, that a deputy is obliged to have a residence in Paris where he can receive properly his constituents.

It adds that there are only a few of the deputies who are able to support themselves properly, owing to these increases in the cost of living, and that a majority of the deputies are likely to find the cabinet of ministers necessary to the proper direction of public affairs interested with unless their salaries are raised.

THE U. S. SENATE SEES SPECTRES

(New York Evening Post.)

If much learning can make men mad, endless debating on one subject may make them morbid. The senate has now had the treaty on its mind for nearly a year, and there are signs that its mind is giving way under the pressure. What seems to be peering now is not arguments but spectres. There is no use in statesmen like Mr. Root going to Washington to labor with senators. They require rather, mental healers, metaphysicians, experts in dealing with the victims of an obsession.

For there is no getting away from the fact that the senate has long since ceased to act like a body of reasonable men in full intellectual health. Too many of the members go about with the fixed gaze of people with fixed ideas. They cannot see any question connected with the treaty in a normal light. Everything is twisted and perverted. Words lose their natural meaning. For a phrase, phrase, senators are ready to go to the death. Consider the controversy which raged in the senate nearly all of last week. It was over the momentous question whether the reservation to Article X should say "to employ" or "by employing" or "by the employment of."

It seems incredible that grown men should let passion rise and speeches fall over such trifling disputes about the division of a verbal hair 'twixt north and northwest side. But it is only part and proof of the disordered state of mind into which the senate has unhappily fallen.

And still more unhappily, the affliction has not left the White House inmates. There, too, the prevailing Washington epidemic of unreason has penetrated. The president appears to have shut up his mind as tightly as the senators. Both he and they are making of the treaty something to exercise logic-chopping wit upon, something about which to be devilish sly in playing for party advantage, while forgetting its original great aim, the present crying need of ratifying it in any sort of workable form in order to give the country peace and help give the world stability. In all this long personal and partisan wrangle the treaty has come to stand for violent dislikes and prejudices which have finally disabled the reasoning powers of those chiefly concerned. They act like sick men.

This is the reason why business men, bankers, publicists and others who go to Washington in the interest of the treaty find themselves baffled. The matter would appear to be one for easy adjustment. A little clear thinking, a little willingness to concede something in order to win something, and all could be settled. But this is supposing that you are dealing with men capable of clear thinking. Few senators are so any longer. They are under the domination of imaginary fears. They see horrible spectres. They are afflicted by their own hallucinations. So that when Mr. Taft and Mr. Root come down in the endeavor to restore the reign of reason in the senate, they find themselves virtually confronted with the question: "Thou minister to a mind diseased!"

"FLU," GRIP, COLDS,

Pneumonia, Fevers, Hard Coughs, Tonsillitis.

Read this plain statement:
First, This whole brood of wicked enemies of health may be kept at bay, the medical authorities say, by keeping up high quality of the blood, and observing the ordinary laws relating to sanitation and health.

That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended as a preventive of "flu" and other diseases—it is the standard blood-purifier and vitalizer.

Second, for a definite case of any of the prevailing complaints, it is wise immediately to call a physician.

Third, for that weakness and prostration following the "flu" grip and other diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla by renewing the red blood corpuscles wonderfully restores health, builds up the whole system, creates an appetite and "makes food taste good." If a cathartic is needed Hood's Pills are recommended.

WHISKEY VALUED AT $100,000 HAS BEEN CAPTURED

Truck Loads Consigned to a New York Address From Maryland Seized by Prohibition Agents.

New York, March 18.—Seven motor truck loads of whiskey, valued at $100,000, were seized by federal prohibition agents on their arrival here yesterday from Rowley, Md.

The whiskey was consigned to "Henry Bradley, 806 West 40th street, New York," but the owners of a garage at that address said they knew of no one of that name.

Soon after the arrival of the seven trucks from Maryland, an eighth truck with twenty barrels of whiskey was seized at the same address. This shipment was consigned to "Dennis Carr," also unknown at those premises.

Federal agents, who accompanied the motor caravan of whiskey on the last leg of its journey here from Trenton, N. J., are guarding the shipment.

Hope is the one thing you can't buy on the average man out of.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN
Members From Albert Desert the Opposition and Vote Against Murray Government.

Fredericton, March 18.—By a majority of twenty-four to fourteen the Murray amendment to the reply to the address from the throne was voted down in the legislature this afternoon. Two opposition members, Messrs. Smith and Peck of Albert, voted with the government. Addresses were given by Mr. Smith of Carleton, for increased stumpages, and by Hon. Mr. Veniot who continued his speech of the previous day.

Dealing with references to his own department the minister of public works said he was quite willing to accept the responsibility for every dollar that had been spent in that department. The opposition leader had charged him with spending money without any good return; that would have been impossible without wrong doing and dishonesty, and he challenged Mr. Murray to present evidence of anything of that nature in the conduct of his department. He also recalled the expenditure of $175,000 in the fall of 1918 by the previous government on work of which no trace was left the next spring, but which had been charged to capital account.

MEN'S HATS LOWER IN PRICE
Although practically everything in wearing apparel is higher in price this season than ever before, men's hats are an article that can be procured at low prices. This opportunity is not universal but is to be had at the Oak Hill Hat Shop, where they have just received a large shipment from one of the best Canadian makers. These hats would sell in the regular way for $7, but Scovill Bros. have decided to give their customers an opportunity to save money on their Spring headgear by offering this entire lot at $5.95 each, figuring on a large turnover at a minimum profit. Furthermore, every one of the hats carries the Scovill Bros. name and is fully guaranteed. Many different shades are represented and only the very latest blocks. This sale will continue until Monday, but it will be a wise man who reads then hastens, as Scovill Bros. anticipate quick selling on these hats; they are so truly a real bargain.

REVIVING THE CORPSE.

The Commercial Club should label its jokes—or cease to joke about serious matters. There is published today a decision rendered by three of its members on a recent alleged "debate" on harbor commission in which three of the chosen debaters were strong advocates of the harbor commission and the fourth had an open mind. The decision of the judges is now published, and while it is as highly amusing as the "debate" there is danger that persons not fully informed might take it seriously. To have these judges describe nationalization as a "myth" in the same week in which Hon. Mr. Meighen and Hon. Dr. Pugsley publicly declared nationalization to be the government policy, must be regarded, even if intended to be a burst of humor, as bordering on the too ridiculous. The Commercial Club has a reputation to give serious thought to matters of vital interest to the future of St. John before it attempts to influence public opinion. The statements made by Hon. Mr. Meighen and others at the Union Club banquet proved the utter falsity of the proposition that harbor commission under the proposed act is necessary to influence the government. Mr. Meighen said positively that it was only a question as to how fast the government could afford to nationalize the port, and that as essential as nationalization of the railway and steamship lines using the port.

Is it not about time we heard the last of this harbor commission agitation and get down to business?

A LOCAL NEED.

Useful and necessary as are hospitals and sanatoria for persons afflicted with tuberculosis, these institutions are, says Dr. Vincent, an indictment against the city. He is right. The disease of tuberculosis can be stamped out. This cannot be done, however, without a thorough campaign of education that will enlighten the aid of all the people. It involves better housing, better living conditions, the disease there are always newcomers and among them may be incipient or advanced cases of the disease calling for treatment. Under such circumstances the citizens should be made aware of the importance of bringing every case to the notice of the health authorities, and should join in a campaign of education which would make the free dispensary and its work known in every household.

Dr. Vincent rightly asserts that health is a community matter, and that it is vital. In a democracy progress will not go faster than the average intelligence of the people. The appeal is to them and to all of them; and it is the duty of the more enlightened to make the help of health in every nook and corner of the community. Prevention should be the universal watchword. Every city needs a health centre. So far as tuberculosis is concerned there is such a centre and whatever is needed to make it a beneficial influence radiate throughout the city should be provided.

LIBERTY-COLONEL WORDEN.

During and since the war the Canadian Club has been admirably guided by a number of participants in the great struggle, but none of them told a story of such absorbing interest as that told by Lieut.-Colonel Worden, D. S. O., last evening. It related to the British expeditionary force of picked men sent from the European front by way of Egypt, Mesopotamia and Persia to relieve Baku on the Caspian Sea, and a later expedition by Lieut.-Colonel Worden to Siberia. It was a soldier's narrative, told in simple language, and necessarily in the time at his disposal touched only upon a few of the remarkable experiences of a most daring and dangerous expedition. When the general body then good-bye he frankly told them of the danger. It was, in a sense, he told them, a sacrificial expedition to Baku, designed to divide the Turkish forces, but not a man was the less eager to go. What they endured en route, and what they learned of the character of the Armenians, Tartars, Bolsheviks, and various tribes through whose territory they passed made up a story that should be written while it is still fresh in memory. Lieut.-Colonel Worden admired the Arabs and found the Turks great fighting men, but of the barbarism practiced by the others mentioned his story revealed a revolting picture. The heroic expedition won through to Baku only to be driven out again, but it accomplished its purpose in part, for the Turks soon after withdrew from the war, to be followed by the Bulgarians and soon after by the Austrians. The terrible march through blazing heat for a long distance after

FACTS AND THINGS.

Our treasured landmarks disappear in a surprising way; the thing that was a truth last year is but a fake today. When I was young the village doc said ailments like the flu, which give the system such a shock, to cause pain were due. We sat in draughts, or wet our feet, and went to beds of pain, and called upon the name of Peter, and that of Mike, in vain. But now the doc, in sounding terms, another platform of Mike, and all our ills are due to germs, the dangerous, nasty things. In fifteen years, or maybe less, that graft will look forlorn, and doctors then—I make the guess—will laugh our germs to scorn. The rules of health of yesterday look now like silly tales and scientists sit up to peer health of our race. The doctor of the old time had whippers long and black; he couldn't hope to earn a dime unless he had a stick. But now the doctor with a beard in deep privation squirms; the man with lambskins is feared, for they are full of germs. It is a world of piffles, friends, yet let's retain our grins; for when one streak of wisdom ends, another one begins.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.

When the United States ceased to be a British possession the citizens of that land lost the rights of fishing in the territorial waters—that is, within three miles of the British coast—out the agreement was reached between the two lands in 1818 by which Great Britain allowed the United States fishermen to fish around the Magdalen Islands and along certain parts of the coast of Newfoundland and Labrador. They had, too, the right to land at certain places and cure and dry their catch. For some years the chief complaint of the Americans was that they were not allowed to land and buy bait—a serious condition when it is recalled that the cod fisheries were mostly without the three mile limit, although the mackerel were nearer shore. Naturally the maritime fishermen were anxious that nothing should be done that would assist the trade of their American neighbors.

Friction continued to grow over the question until in 1897 the British government voted about $2,000 to arm small vessels to prevent any breach of the convention of 1818. This act led to the British enforcement of the old issue before any across the line. But in 1894 by the reciprocity act an agreement which allowed the Americans the right to take fish on any shore—except fish not from the British possessions without any restrictions as to the three mile limit. They were at liberty to land to dry their nets and cure their catches so long as they did not trespass upon private property but they must not fish in any of the rivers. But the act passed out in 1896 and then there were more long discussions of the old issue before any satisfactory settlement was effected.

"Well, that's rather a strange request," remarked the gentleman. "However, if you are in want of some money now, here's half-a-crown for you. But did you distrust me that you asked for payment now?"

"Oh, no, sorr," grinned Pat, pocketing the half-crown, "but O'm'avin' here tomorrow."

Colonel Worden carried his hearers on one of the most dangerous missions of the war. He told of the trip through France and Italy to Alexandria, through the Persian Gulf and the Garden of Eden to Baghdad. He explained the difficulties of transportation and supply. The force, 8,000 strong, landed at Baku on August 1. He told of the cruelty of the Turks and the engagements with the Bolshevik troops. After the armistice the colonel took a trip through India, China and Siberia. He said that he had lost seventy-six pounds in weight during the campaign. P. B. McCurdy, M. P., was present and expressed his appreciation of the address. The chairman heartily thanked the speaker and the meeting was concluded with the national anthem.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1920

KING'S COLLEGE

The February number of the "King's College Record" is one of much interest. The initial article by Ven. Archbishop Raymond dealing with the history of the erection of the college building so recently destroyed by fire. It must be some in mind that King's College in point of age is only surpassed by Harard, Yale, Columbia and Laval. In 1783 the Loyalist clergy of New York met and discussed the proposal of moving King's College (now Columbia) from New York to Nova Scotia, and at a subsequent meeting a plan was outlined to found a literary and religious institution in this province. Dr. Charles Inglis, afterwards the first Bishop of Nova Scotia, was among those present. King's College in Windsor came out of this gathering. In a letter written by Bishop Inglis in January, 1785, he says: "When I came to this province in 1783, the state of literature was very low. There was not even a good grammar school in the whole province, and many of the inhabitants were proposing to send their sons for education to the seminaries of the revolted colonies. . . . Anxious to avert so great an evil, I applied to the Legislature of the province, and with a promise that did them credit, granted the sum of 500 pounds currency to purchase a tract of land in Windsor, and 400 pounds sterling a year for a president and assistant, with a request that the future seminary might be called King's College. With this sum we opened an academy in 1783 and hired a house until a suitable building could be erected."

The Academy was opened November 1st, 1788, with a nephew of Bishop Inglis in charge. At this time the foundation stone of the College building had been laid by Governor Parr and the work of quarrying stone had begun. The corner stone was laid by Bishop Inglis, August 4th, 1791. The upper structure was of wood and the main frontage was 200 feet, divided into five bays with a doorway and staircase for each. The rooms were large with large fire places, a separate room for each student. From first to last there was great difficulty in getting competent workmen. In 1792 the Bishop writes: "For practical reasons the governors have judged it advisable to suspend progress in building the College this Summer. In the course of last Winter the materials, stone and lime, were brought to the spot to finish the superstructure, but in the Spring, we found that the mason we employed, thought to be the very best in the business, was not competent for the undertaking, and that we could not let him proceed without manifest hazard to the whole edifice. Through the Summer we made enquiry both in the province and in New Brunswick for more skilled workmen, but none could be found, as building with stone is not practised in either province and we could not afford to send for an architect to England. By this unlucky circumstance the governors are obliged with great reluctance to abandon their first intention of erecting a superstructure of stone, and have concluded to finish the building with wood. I feel exceedingly mortified on this occasion, but must submit to necessity. The dimensions and plan of the building are to be the same as were first proposed. Our money, including the last 1,000 pounds, will hold out to complete the shell and finish as many rooms as will accommodate the students. These are greatly wanted, and we must finish the remainder as we are able."

Wooden buildings are not much esteemed in Europe, but here, from habit and experience, they are preferred to those of brick or stone. With care they will last upwards of a century, and in neatness they have the advantage. The good Bishop's prediction regarding the instability of wooden buildings was amply fulfilled, but yet when the devoting element reduced it to ashes, it was still a useful structure—sound and whole in all its parts and capable of providing service for another century. It shows how backward and undeveloped the province was at that time when men could not be found with sufficient skill to erect a decent stone wall.

A GENTLE REMINDER.
(Fredericton Mail.)
The righteous Standard is much worried because the clerk assistant of the legislature was appointed by order-in-council, and expressed surprise that the members of the opposition did not raise an objection when the matter came before the house for confirmation. The silence of the opposition on the subject may have been due to the fact that when in power they appointed not one, but two official reporters, by order-council, thereby taking the matter out of the hands of the legislature. It was done to head off a troublesome opponent for the position, and no doubt the Standard editor will readily recall the occasion. It being impossible to drive a team over the blocked highways to take Clayton Rogers of Northfield, N. H., attacked by appendicitis, to the hospital at Franklin, half a dozen men with a pungent sleigh went over the road on snowshoes and hauled Mr. Rogers out.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Lewis Ewart was charged with stealing a trunk containing clothing and other articles, valued at $80. The chief witness for the prosecution, Eliza Peterson, says the clothes belong to her. The case seems to be rather in the nature of a family quarrel. Those interested finally agreed to give the woman all that she could identify as hers so the trunk was opened and it was found its contents belonged to her but it was said there were several other articles at 61 Waterloo street which also belongs to her. She was taken to the house to identify the goods and if the matter could be disposed of to the satisfaction of all in this way, the accused would be allowed to go.

The three lads charged with stealing cloth from the store of Hoffman Bros. were again brought before the court and remanded until this afternoon for decision. W. M. Ryan conducted the case for the prosecution and E. S. Ritchie, J. A. Barry and E. J. Henchery acted for the defence.

The case against Fred Mahaney and William Wilson, charged with acting as peddlars in an alley off Charlotte street, was resumed. Frank Dennison, an ice cream maker in Bond's, told of seeing two men run out of the alley on Wednesday night and later a policeman asked him if he had seen them. He said he saw two men in the alley on Saturday night and again on Monday night there were two there, one under the fire escape and another in the yard. He told of overhearing this conversation "it would be an easy matter to get through here."

He said he told the men to get out of the alley as he had orders not to allow any person in there. The accused were remanded.

Two men charged with drunkenness were remanded to jail.

IS CARRIER LIABLE FOR LOSS OF GOODS?

Appeal to King's Bench Raises Important Question of Responsibility

An Extraordinary Case—Goods Stolen From Sleigh in Shipper's Yard While the Teamster's Back Was Turned.

(Montreal Gazette.)

A question of considerable importance and wide interest, commercially as well as legally, was argued in the court of appeal yesterday, when the Canadian Northern Railway Company appealed to Chief Justice Lacombe, Justice Carroll, Pelletier, Martin and Greenawald from a judgment of the superior court, which in September last, condemned the company appellant to pay to Greenawald...

The Canadian Northern Railway Company sent a team of horses and sleigh to Greenawald's premises on Craig street to collect twelve cases of goods for shipment to Drumheller, Alberta. The sleigh was standing in the warehouse yard, and after six cases had been loaded, the teamster went into the warehouse. When he came out, the horses, sleigh and goods had disappeared.

The court of first instance ruled that the delivery of the goods to their destination, and that the theft and loss of the goods was due wholly to the negligence of the teamster in the warehouse in which he was employed and defendant was responsible therefor.

Appellants submit that there is error in the judgment, and it was argued on their behalf yesterday that as the contract was a bill of lading, had not been signed respondents had not entrusted the goods to the carrier or the company in whose employ he was; that the team and goods were on respondent's private property at the time they were stolen and in that circumstance it was respondents' duty to procure the protection necessary for the safety of the goods; that at the time the goods were stolen the carrier had been invited into the premises to assist respondent in the team and goods was due to the fault and negligence of respondents and their employees and the carrier and appellants could not be legally held responsible.

T. Blinck, K. C., argued the case for the appellants; and J. W. Cook, K. C., submitted that the judgment of the superior court should be confirmed. Judgment was reserved.

He went to Montreal to attend the annual banquet of the system. The banquet was a grand success.

GOOD HEALTH IS MAGNETIC

All Admire Strong, Robust, Healthy, Vigorous Men and Women

If You Are Weak, Run-down and Ailing, Let Vinol Enrich Your Blood and Create Strength and Vitality For You.

For the weak, run-down, anemic, over-worked, ailing men and women there is little joy in life. It is easy to drift into this condition, overwork, a neglected cold, or a severe ailment may have left in its wake, poor, thin, devitalized blood, a sluggish circulation, and a simple dragging around from day to day, getting up each morning just as tired as you went to bed.

Now, why not change all this by taking Vinol? Vinol enriches your blood, quickens your circulation and carries through and gives to every part of your body, or returns your money if it fails. Mrs. W. J. Nixon, of Vanhook Hill, Ont., says: "I was very weak, I had no appetite and could not seem to get my strength back. I told my doctor I was going to try Vinol, and he said it was fine. I found it gave me a good appetite, and I rapidly gained in strength."

Princess Mary TO TOUR EUROPE

Interesting Sketch of the "Most Popular Girl in British Isles"—Rumors of Marriage and Also of Visit to Canada.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

It is announced that Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, will shortly tour the chief European capitals. She is young enough and keen enough to enjoy the trip, for she shares that zest for enjoyment that made the Prince of Wales and his wife, the princess who visited Canada and the United States. Indeed, brother and sister are much alike, and an American correspondent said not long ago that just as certainly as the prince is the most popular young man in the British Isles, the princess is the most popular girl.

Princess Mary, who used to be called "Princess Twenty-three" because she was born on the 23rd of April, and in her brief life has been great-granddaughter, daughter, and granddaughter of a reigning British monarch. She was born at York Cottage, Sandringham, and as she was the youngest child for the throne the utmost care was taken with her education. Her governess was Miss Dussau, an American accomplished woman, and it is believed that she has taught Princess Mary more than even the hard-worked college girls acquire, besides a great many accomplishments and graces particularly desirable in a princess. She had always a great taste for out of doors, and is a sportswoman. She is a keen rider, and she is a devotee of the game of tennis. She is a keen tennis player, and she is a devotee of the game of tennis.

Rate of Exchange Disproportionate

New York Editor Advises More Considerate Treatment for Canada.

(New York Times.)

New York, March 18.—Frank J. Price, financial editor of the New York Morning Telegraph, in a leading article on the anomalous status of the Canadian dollar in American exchange, discusses the question in that newspaper, giving voice to a plea that is seldom enough noted in American publications. The article follows: It is not easy to account for the status of the Canadian dollar in American exchange as it is for the status of the English pound sterling at our doors and in our pockets. It is not a matter of course that the Canadian dollar is at a discount here, but we are struck by the fact that the discount is so large and so persistent. And this statement is made with full knowledge of the fact that Canada is burdened by an adverse balance of trade.

But the trade volume is large, very large, and our potential demands on Canada for products are great and growing. In the month of January, this year, Canada sent us products to the value of more than forty-three million dollars, whereas Canada took from us products to the value of more than twenty-four million dollars. On the luxury that commodities are paid for in commodities of concrete form, or in the value of commodities already disposed of and perhaps consumed, there is no possibility, unless there is gold being a commercial bill of Canadian exchange remaining at par in present circumstances. But commerce is not a thing of today and Canada, having American capital to invest across the border. The business resources of the Dominion offer a fruitful field for investment far more encouraging than opportunities in any of the European governments at present. Russia is hardly ripe for an invasion of foreign capital, and besides, Russia has officially closed her doors to us until we recognize the Soviet government at least as de facto and capable of carrying on international negotiations.

Canada is of nearer consequence to us than any other country. Every effort to establish more intimate relations should receive not only private but official sanction.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the present time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with head-aches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better. I was coming to despair about her back and side aches so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and does not complain any more with her back and side aches. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. Faxon, 615 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Advance In Cost Of Lumbering In New Brunswick

Table of Increases Presented at Annual Meeting of Lumbermen

Minister of Lands and Mines Forecasts Revenue of $1,000,000 From Stumpage—Improvement of Forest Services—Fire Protection.

Fredericton, N. B., March 18.—The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association was held here this afternoon at the Fredericton Board of Trade rooms. W. B. Snowball, of Cuthbert, president, and there was a general discussion of present conditions in the industry, after the president's annual report had been read.

Mr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, addressed the association on behalf of the forestry school at the university. He regretted the absence of Professor Pulling, whose illness made it impossible for him to be present, and then told of the forestry work which is being carried on at the institution.

There are seventy students, many of them returned soldiers, who have taken special courses under the department of agriculture's civil re-education, and the suggestion was made that the lumber companies should absorb as many of these men as possible in the organizations, thus giving them the practical training needed to go with the theoretical knowledge which they would acquire through their courses. In this way capable men could be properly equipped for important positions. The new executive were authorized to take the matter up with Chancellor Jones, and it is believed that a satisfactory arrangement will be made.

Hon. J. H. Poirchill, M.P.P., discussed the proposal that operators should be responsible for having all employees wearing special courses under the department of agriculture's civil re-education, and the suggestion was made that the lumber companies should absorb as many of these men as possible in the organizations, thus giving them the practical training needed to go with the theoretical knowledge which they would acquire through their courses. In this way capable men could be properly equipped for important positions. The new executive were authorized to take the matter up with Chancellor Jones, and it is believed that a satisfactory arrangement will be made.

Mr. Snowball retired as president of the association and a resolution was passed approving the report of the president, Donald Fraser, Plaster Rock, vice-president, William Richard, Campbellton, president, R. W. McLeod, Fredericton, executive, W. B. Snowball, Chatham, F. C. Beatty, St. John, Donald Fraser, Plaster Rock, J. W. Brankley, Chatham, W. J. Richards, Campbellton, W. G. White, Fredericton, Angus McLean, Bathurst, James Robinson, Millerton and G. H. King, M.P.P., Chatham. The members of the association appeared as a delegation before the provincial government and discussed matters relating to the workmen's compensation act and the vaccination provisions of the public health act.

The president in his address urged the need of conservation and co-operation between employer and employee. The following committee was appointed: Fred Anderson, Campbellton; Angus McLean, Bathurst; Fred C. Beatty, St. John; J. W. Brankley, Chatham; Douglas Fraser, Plaster Rock; Stanley Douglas, Fredericton; and W. B. Snowball, Chatham, and discussed the following:

(A) The advisability of fixing stumpage for a period of ten years, as in Quebec.

(B) The adoption of a more equitable log scale, and suggested the present Quebec scale.

(C) The matter of fire protection being under the control of the limit holders.

(D) The question of department scaling by log and putting operators to the expense of bonding sealers and horses, when the operator adds to the unit to sworn statement of his cut.

During the last session many bills were compiled to adopt the nine-hour day. Since the last meeting death had called two members of the directorate, Daniel Edwards and J. B. Gregory.

It was the opinion of the president that the prohibition of the export of lumber would ruin the trade.

In some quarters there has been criticism of the great advance in the price of lumber and those unaware of the real reason, blame the lumbermen. It was well to be prepared to show good reasons beyond control for the advance which, however, is not as great as that of many other commodities.

Continuing the president said: "In 1918 stumpage was $1.50 and mileage $8. Today we pay $8.50 stumpage, $8 mileage and $2.00 per mile for fire protection, also we have the workmen's compensation of logging, river driving, rafting and towing with a separate rate on each and this still further adds to the cost; in addition, we have the heavy business Dominion war tax.

"In 1918 the provisions that enter into a logging operation, as compared with the present costs were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, 1918, 1919. Items include Flour, Beans, Tea, Molasses, Pork, Lard, Hay, Oats, Peas, Cross-cut saws, Oil (paraffine).

"In 1918 men's wages were $28 to $32 per month; in 1919 men's wages were $70 to $85 per month. This same condition of wages applies to the saw mills, and in addition, we have a nine-hour day, or one-third reduction in time; and in both woods and mills the labor is less efficient than before the war. Being saws and mill oils are also about double in price.

"While there is practically a hundred percent advance in the articles that enter into a logging operation, as compared with the present costs were as follows:

"Since writing the above a discussion of this subject has taken place in the legislature and a suggestion made that stumpage should be $7 per thousand and that the profit for some years have been $15 to $20 per thousand. When intelligent persons make these any violation of the logging regulations, be made for the next twenty-five years. Through the co-operation of the licensee the area selected will be logged in various ways and to different diameter limits.

"Regulations designed to eliminate as much as possible the waste in logging, such as the cutting of undergrowth trees and the injury of the young growth left standing, have been drawn up, printed attractively, and posted in all the lumber camps on the crown lands.

"An effort was made to secure an accurate count of each species, especially in regard to spruce and fir and it is interesting to note in this report that the fir does not form nearly so large a percentage of the cut as returned in former years.

Forest Fire Protection. "This was the first season that the fire protection tax of one-half cent per acre was available for expenditure on fire protection, and a genuine start has been made towards improving forest fire protection. In this work we have had the active co-operation of many of the licensees.

"The season was somewhat more severe than the preceding year, owing to a more protracted period of dry weather during May and the early part of June. A total of 409 fires occurred, which 392 were extinguished by rangers or fire wardens without extra cost, and fifty-seven required the assistance of the fire department.

"The total damage done by forest fires is estimated at $185,754. It is noted that in spite of the fact that the area was available for logging from 1918 to 1919, the area burned was 11,000 acres as compared with 19,000 acres in 1918.

"The co-operation of the road supervisors was secured through the active interest of the minister of public works in their districts to immediately take their men and equipment to extinguish the fire.

"The system of requiring a permit from a forest ranger or fire warden before setting out slash or clearing fires was started in 1918, extended in 1919, and it is expected the province will be fully organized in 1920. During the past season 2,098 fire permits were issued, and only in five instances did the fire escape and require extra assistance to extinguish. The Redwing fires, which occurred on June 12 and 13, and which caused a loss of over $100,000, were largely the result of settlers' fires set in violation of the act.

Aerial Patrol. "I, together with the advisory board, have been following closely the results of fire patrol by aerial in the United States and in parts of Canada. If reports are satisfactory there is no doubt but that this system could equally well be applied to New Brunswick. Further reports on this experiment are being awaited with interest.

Timber Sale Policy. "A timber sale was held during the year of a number of vacant limits in various parts of the province and twenty-nine berths were sold at prices varying from $5.00 per thousand to $7.75. This sale established beyond doubt the value of standing timber in the open market.

"The forest survey and classification of crown lands has proceeded with as rapidly as possible and at the time of writing approximately thirty per cent of the crown lands have been examined, estimated and mapped. A new feature of the forest survey is the running of new timber lines or retrace of old lines by deputy land surveyors in order to block out the land so that it may be more readily established and mapped and also to definitely establish the boundaries between crown land and granted lands.

"The work of classifying the soil of the crown lands into various types suitable or unsuitable for agriculture is a very important part of the forest survey and under the direction of J. C. Nunick, B.S.A., agriculturalist of the conservation commission.

Permanent Experimental Plot. "Owing to the extensive areas of dense low growing spruce in New Brunswick and the lack of knowledge of the effects on future growth of spruce by methods of logging, brush burning, etc., have caused an area of 607 acres to be set aside as a permanent experimental plot on which measurements will thoroughly try out the possibilities of the Albert shale.

Game.

Owing to the close of the war, it was predicted that many sportsmen would return to this province to enjoy the big game shooting, and in a very large measure this prediction was fulfilled. Probably in no other season were there more hunters in our woods, and more non-residents from abroad, while the weather conditions were, on the whole very satisfactory. Some 1,400 moose and 2,400 deer were killed, and visiting sportsmen were in general not only satisfied with the results of the chase but enraptured with our beautiful scenery. While all this is perhaps a subject for congratulation, are we not drawing too heavily on our big game supply? There is no doubt the larger animals are not as plentiful as in the past, neither have the heads so large a spread. All this goes to show that some restrictions must be put in force in order that the big game may be conserved. The bill providing for the establishment of a game refuge passed the legislature unanimously and has been the subject of most favorable comment. A large area, embracing 400 square miles, has been set aside in a splendid position in the interior of the province, and it is to be hoped that I am of the opinion this refuge, to a very large extent, will be the means of conserving game.

"In closing this report I wish to say I am more than ever proud of the natural resources of this province, particularly in its forest wealth. The reforms that have been inaugurated by the present administration and which are already bearing fruit, may rebound to the credit of your government and be a lasting benefit to the people of New Brunswick.

A comparative statement of the revenues of the department shows a total of $826,168 for 1919, as compared with $791,027 in 1918.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared soap or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is a pure and soft cleanser. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else. You can get this thing at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly, and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Judges Decide for Commission But Order New Trial

"It's You" the official publication of the Commercial Club, contains the following in its March 18 issue under the heading "New Trial Granted in Hearing, 'What Shall We Do With the Harbor?'"

THE FINDING: March 8th, 1920. To the Executive of the Commercial Club, St. John, N. B. Dear Sirs:—As your appointed judges in the discussion held Friday evening, February 27, on "What Shall We Do With Our Harbor?" we beg to say that we can only find for harbor commission, whereas by the handing over of the harbor to commission, the city would be in pocket some $300,000 to $500,000 a year.

Fourth—There can be no permanent development of our harbor without the aid of a large scale for the harbor and comprehensive work which can only be carried out under some form of commission, and not possible where only intermittent government appropriations are available.

Fifth—It is also presumed that our harbor receipts would naturally increase through thorough business management such as a commission and thereby warrant greater investment of government money from time to time.

Sixth—The fact of the government now owning its own shipping and the fact of proper port facilities will make it easier for a commission with definite co-ordinated plans laid out to secure government appropriations for permanent development.

Seventh—There seem to be only two alternatives either for the city to "carry on" without the capital to properly develop, as it should be, or put the harbor in hands of the government under commission.

It was further adjudged that, upon motion a new trial would be granted and allowed so that further evidence might be admitted on the part of those in favor of any other scheme than harbor commission—in which event your judges would recommend that their fees be doubled, and in the event of debate being held in temperature approaching that of former trial—that judges' fees be quadrupled.

DEDUCTION WHERE INCOME IS TAXED IN BOTH COUNTRIES

TROUBLE WITH ALIENS HELD AT FORT WAYNE

Detroit, Mich., March 19—One man was shot and several others received minor injuries yesterday when aliens held at Fort Wayne army post for deportation hearings attempted to overpower their guards. The arrival of military reinforcements restored order. Immigration officers said the attempted escape was probably due to the return to the barracks of nine prisoners who were ringleaders in a hunger strike and plans for an "insurance" in a custody of the fort.

Declaring that the St. Lawrence water powers must not be diverted by the Dominion government to private interests, even if a revolution should be necessary to prevent it, Sir Adam applied to the Ontario government to back up the hydro in fighting for the rights of the province.

Premier Drury said that the Ontario government was not in any sense unfriendly to the hydro scheme.

She—"Her car ran into a motor 'bus' and she was very serious, only the channel 'scraped off'."

He—"The face of the machine" London Ideas.

DR. VINCENT IN NOVA SCOTIA

Says Halifax Has Opportunity to Attract Universal Attention

BIG HEALTH CENTRE

Hopes Rockefeller Foundation May Be of Some Service — The Need Shown by High Death Rate.

The following are some interesting extracts from the Chronicle's report of Dr. Vincent's addresses in Halifax this week:

"He appealed to every citizen in Halifax to co-operate in advancing the cause of public health in the maritime provinces, saying nowhere else had he encountered a city which had similar opportunities to point the way in this respect to the rest of the continent. He was enthusiastic about what had already been accomplished, particularly the reconstructed North End and the great advantage which would be derived from the proximity to each other of the Victoria General Hospital, the Salvation Army Maternity Hospital and the Dalhousie Medical School; but he stressed the height of infant mortality and the death rate in Halifax.

"The infant mortality rate was twice that of New Zealand, and three times that of New Zealand. It was concrete evidence that the chance of a child surviving its first year in Halifax was twice as bad as in New Zealand. These were things which intelligent people must face. He had inquired of the death rate in Halifax upon arriving here, and had been appalled to learn that it was 20.1, whereas the rate in London was 14.6 and in New York 13.6. There was no escape from these figures, and they demanded an answer; the resources of modern public health organization made it possible to deal with the matter. He was pleased with what had been accomplished in Halifax especially the 400 new houses in the North end which he described as 'beautifully designed and grouped.' He predicted that the 450 families would be admirably housed and hoped that they would organize for a better standard of living giving the children a better chance through pure milk and water and visiting nurses also keeping statistics of what they were doing. He knew of no better opportunity for a demonstration that would attract the attention of all of North America.

"Dr. Vincent considered that the great medical centre planned for Halifax could be effected with little difficulty; the existing institutions were conveniently grouped only additions were necessary, which would bring the medical school into closer relationship for laboratory and clinical work for the students. The chief value of this centre would be the training of doctors health officials, nurses and others who were essential to the betterment of the community.

Co-operation in Halifax.

"Dr. Vincent said that splendid co-operation was being established in Halifax. He mentioned his visit to Admiralty House, and said that he had been convinced that Halifax was likely to have the first genuine, all-around, complete and functioning public health centre on the continent, which would attract the attention of innumerable authorities interested in health matters. He hoped that a centre would also be established in front of the medical college, where out-patients of the hospitals might be treated. He knew of nothing like this idea anywhere else but in Halifax.

"He also advised the citizens of Halifax to create an impeccable water supply, and have all milk from inspected dairies and under thorough supervision in delivery; it would be better to purchase one hundred instead of thirty per cent of the milk consumed in the city, thereby making it purer doubly sure. As to housing, he referred again to the excellence of new houses, but mentioned with disapproval 'shackles' which he had passed, and which, as he had been told, some 1,500 families. He insisted that every family in the city should be in a perfectly sanitary and satisfactory dwelling.

In conclusion, Dr. Vincent said that it was a bad thing to trust to luck and to family drift. There should be a community purpose and a definite programme, with all the citizens backing it to their utmost."

Addressed Legislature.

Dr. Vincent also addressed the Nova Scotia legislature, and the Chronicle reports: "In his address, Dr. Vincent disclosed the new and broader meaning of public health and said that the war had brought to the foreground the fact that so many men in each nation were exempt from military service because of physical defects. In Great Britain 1,000,000 men were rejected because of defectiveness, and in the United States thirty per cent of those called by the draft board were found unfit for service.

"Public health is an absolutely fundamental thing," Dr. Vincent said. In up-to-date application of public health, prevention and proper treatment take the place of the old-fashioned school of medicine. Public health is the burden of everyone in the community, for one sick individual is the worry of every one else. The question of public health goes into the housing conditions, the food and the mental state of every individual in the community.

Need of Institution.

"The need of an institution where proper equipment will be available and where students will be taught and tenets of up-to-date medicine and the requirements of public health will be taught, was referred to, and Dr. Vincent said that he and Dr. Pearce were in Halifax to co-operate with any movement of this sort which would be under the direct supervision of the government.

"A public health centre meant having a place where students could be trained to go out and aid conduct public health service, with the assistance of the most modern facilities and developments. There must be there a competent teaching staff keeping themselves in touch with developments by original investigation.

Dr. Pearce and himself were pleased to find the facilities which Halifax already offered for such a centre. There was in the group the V. G. Hospital with its pathological department, the Children's Hospital, a city hospital, a city institution near by, where many of the people were interesting problems in themselves, a maternity hospital under construction, and a building where medical study is housed. When this group is added to and properly supported it can become very complete and the new institution as a whole be of immense benefit to the whole province. It would, without doubt, require a considerable amount of support. A programme for development had Dr. Vincent understood, been prepared, and Dr. Pearce and himself came here hoping to be of service in so important a programme. All operations under such a combination require to be as one unified whole, properly supported. Then modern science and facilities, properly supported, would send out men and women trained and fitted to be of immense service to the whole province, prepared to devote their lives to the service of the whole people and the great institution—going out as modern public health functionaries to help and aid modern society."

THE NEGLECTED AND DELINQUENT

(Halifax Recorder.)

Our population is roughly divided into those who are an asset and those who are a liability to the province. Children who have respectable parents and are brought up in respectable homes generally develop into assets. Those who grow up under dissipated parents and without respectable home surroundings are a liability to the province. Until quite recently there was very little interest taken in the children of the streets, and penitentiaries were provided for them, but none considered it their duty to provide good surroundings to save them from the doom of the penal institutions. Nova Scotia has the honor of being among the first countries to take up this matter, and Ernest H. Bliss with his assistants have been the pioneers of this movement. Splendid work has been done, but much yet remains, and money is the needed thing just now. The cause of neglect and delinquency are many. Halifax in particular is suffering terribly from lack of housing accommodations, which forces whole families often to live in two rooms more or less, where no decent privacy is possible. The family circle refining in its influence is not what it used to be, in fact the old-fashioned yet blessed family circle has almost ceased to exist. There is also much moving from place to place with the result that the school term is so broken up for the children that they grow up minus any regular education; another root of delinquency. The war has been responsible for much trouble of this description also. Women left at home with their families have too often forgotten their honor, and a neglected and dependent family is the result. In fact the war has cursed the world morally even more than it has cursed it materially, the conquerors suffering with the conquered in this regard. Last but not least there has been a large number of people of other races who have come to the province and whose ideas of family life are very different from our own. All these things mean the demoralization of child life and call for much care and attention. Children are being found in foster homes, and these homes have to be watched also. Detention homes or temporary boarding places are in existence of various agencies are at work on the problem. There are two juvenile courts, one in Halifax and one in New Glasgow, and during the past year 238 children have been before them. Children's Aid Societies are found in many towns which investigate cases and help the needy child, the reports from these being very touching reading. Judge Hunt of the Halifax juvenile court has this to say regarding one cause of delinquency: "Another cause may, I think, be found in poor and neglected homes, the consequence of which are neglected children. There are scores of homes in our city where the father of a family is compelled to be away from home earning a livelihood, and where the mother, neglecting her family duties, is found too often spending her time in some of our many places of amusement. Such homes are the breeding places of crime, given good mothers we have little to fear from neglected homes and from influences that go so often to ruin the brightest lives. Incapable and incompetent mothers make home life so distasteful and repugnant to their children that the attraction of the street soon becomes stronger than the attractions of home, and as a consequence children find their amusement and their companions outside of the home amid temptations and surroundings that lead to make disorder and crime. It is hoped that some means can be devised to give advice and help under such circumstances. If we are to make progress in the right direction we must begin at the home. It is well known from times where are found good mothers there our most successful men have had their start in life."

The nation wants all those dwelling within its borders to constitute an asset and a good citizen is worth all that it costs to reclaim him.

THE MEDICAL QUARTERLY.

The Medical Quarterly, the official publication of the medical services of the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, has completed its first year. The original purpose of the quarterly was to place on record the work of the medical service of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, in the broadest interpretation of the term, including various allied phases of reconstruction work.

Contributions have been invited not only from the staff of the department, but also from medical men and others throughout Canada and abroad, who are in a position to contribute to the general subject of reconstruction medicine.

One of the special objects which it is hoped to realize, and which is new and peculiar to this publication, is the presentation of special sectional medical problems and work. Each province has medical problems and interests more or less peculiar to itself, which it is hoped to be able to present for the mutual benefit of all. While the scope of the Quarterly covers every branch of medicine, there are several departments in which it has a major interest, owing to the special types of disability with which it has been presented dealing with these most to do. Such are, for example, the subjects, departments of occupational therapy, tuberculosis, neuropsychiatry, laurable conditions and orthopaedics. During the year numerous articles

The record of the first year of the publication is an encouraging one and it is believed that it will fill a definite place in the medical literature of the country. It can only succeed, however, through the co-operation of the profession, including all members interested in the special problems concerned, and all such are invited to forward contributions.

PROPAGANDA TWIN OF SPIRITISM

Rev. Gerald C. Treacy, S. J., in Boston, Speaks of "Clouding Real Issue By Great Say-So of Great Names."

"Psychic Propaganda" and the "Wanderings of Sir Oliver Lodge Out of His Normal Sphere in Accepting Beliefs for Which He Has No Proof," were described yesterday afternoon before a large audience of lecturers and physicians at Boston College by Rev. Gerald C. Treacy, S. J., an eminent Jesuit professor and lecturer, head of the department of Journalism and Christian doctrine at Boston College, formerly editor of America, the Catholic weekly.

"Propaganda," he said, "is closely akin to advertising. It differs from advertising in this, that advertising to be successful must be grounded on truth. But with propaganda, it is different. Being a recent growth of a shell-choked civilization, it is difficult to tell whether or not it can ignore the truth, or garble truth and achieve permanent success. How far it will go only history can answer."

Propaganda Spiritism's Twin. "It is a patent fact to any one who has followed the recent movement of Spiritism, that its twin sister is propaganda. And it is scarcely an exaggeration to say that neither war policies nor peace policies in any government of the world ever received the help of the propagandist to the extent that this modern cult has received it."

"All the phenomena produced by spiritistic means are very striking; the initiate or novice in Spiritism is assured that they are the result of the activities of the dead who are striving to communicate with the living. But where is the proof that these spirits are actually the forces at work? Propaganda answers with the rejoinder: 'Sir Oliver Lodge has recognized his son speaking from the other plane as he shows you in his book. Do you recognize that he is a scientist of eminence whose keenness of intellect is universally acknowledged? Can you with your limited intellect dare to doubt that he is right?"

So the last process in propaganda is the strongest. Men and women of position in the world of thought are falling in line with the new revelation. This is propaganda's triumph. In no other way can the real issue be obscured more cleverly than by clouding it with the great say-so of great names."

"This strange movement, one of the worst byproducts of a world unhealed, must stand or fall on the strength of its message. It is the message that is the important thing. Aside from any religious belief, and discerning mind is entitled to take the very practical Missionary attitude and demand to be shown. If Spiritism can only be bolstered up on the 'Say-so' of the individual psychic, then it is an empty promise, a criminal thing, traffic in credulity, and a play on the most sacred human emotion that the human heart holds for those who have died. To draw back the veil that hides another world and places those in the 'Great

In the year preceding the war (1918), our exportation of manufactures amounted to $1,117,000,000, and in 1919, the first full peace year following the war, $3,848,000,000, or three times as much in value in 1919 as in 1918.

lowing editorial from the Wall Street Journal: "Last fall it was said by the chairman of the Canard Steamship Company that his stockholders could sell out their ships and docks and retire from business with ample provision for the rest of their lives, but that they did not intend to do so. On its book value the British Empire is not only worth all it owes us, but all the world's debts contracted in the war. But to the great benefit of the world, its civilization and its moral progress, the British Empire will stay in business."

"There is a significant paragraph in an editorial discussion of Britain's new colonial acquisitions in the New York Sun: 'In the colony over which they carry the flag is raised justice and domestic peace are assured. In the colony which flies the British flag trade prospers, development of natural resources, encouragement of production, fostering of industry, extension of trade; these are the cardinal principles of British colonial policy. Their fruit is honorable profit in which all the empire shares.'"
