Synod

Thinks Saviour Soon To Come
Rev. R. P. McKim Expresses His
Solemn Belief—Rev. Mr. Kuhring
Opens Subject on Report of Committee on Bishop's Charge

A discussion marked by intense seriousness and deep feeling occurred at this morning's session of the Anglican synod arising from the report of the standing committee on Bishop Richardson's charge and in particular a section of the report expressing agreement with the pronouncement on the matter of Christian unity.

Rev. G. A. Kuhring started the discussion with a frank statement that while yielding fullest respect to the bishop, he could not agree with him in the matter of the exchange of pulpits with clergy of other denominations and pressed for greater liberty in this matter.

The difficulty finally was solved by the adoption of an amended proposal which did not commit the synod to agreement with the bishop's interpretation of the rules.

The business session continues this afternoon and this evening the delegates, with their hosts and hostesses will be the guests of Sir Douglas and Lady Harcourt at their home.

Rev. R. P. McKim said that the terms of the charge had caused disappointment and aroused a feeling of suspicion among these brethren in other churches.

His lordship said he had no desire for a vote of censure on certain members of the synod or a disagreement with his stand.

British Chancellor Faces Heavy
Task—New Taxes Expected in Budget

London, April 30—A statement on the government's budget was made to the House of Commons today by Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. It was his third appearance before the house in the capacity previously having outlined the budget in 1904 and 1908.

On the previous occasions the budgets were converted into tasks and there was no difficulty in making the national revenues and expenditures balance.

He appealed to the common sense of the church and referred to many precedents as existing.

Mr. Kuhring's remarks were greeted with hearty applause.

His lordship said he had no desire for a vote of censure on certain members of the synod or a disagreement with his stand.

There rested on the bishop the responsibility of deciding when the rules should be departed from; he was ready to do so when he decided that the circumstances demanded it.

Paris, April 29—(By the Associated Press)—A statement was issued tonight in commenting on the speech of Premier Orlando before the Italian parliament finds a spirit of confusion marking the address.

There is no question to which I have given more careful or anxious thought than I have given to this, because in common with all my colleagues it is my earnest desire to see the utmost justice done to Italy.

Personally I am quite willing that Italy should be accorded along the whole front of her northern frontier and wherever she comes into contact with Austrian territory, all that is necessary is a single reservation by the powers against Germany and will constitute the basis of peace with Germany.

There would be no justification, in my judgment, in including Fiume, or any part of the coast line to the south of Fiume, within the boundaries of the Italian kingdom.

FROM JAZZ TO GRAND OPERA

Bringing its message of happiness and breathing the romance and glory of fairyland, "Cinderella," a fascinating fantasy founded upon the well-known and always welcome story of little Cinderella and her glass slipper, will be the attraction at Imperial Theatre May 7 and 8. The production which will be seen here is under the direction of the noted author-manager, P. Stuart-Whyte, and is his third English pantomime offering in Canada. The story of Cinderella leads itself admirably for stage use and affords vast opportunity for lavish scenic effects and beautiful costumes. The dialogue is bright and witty, while the thirty song numbers contain most everything from jazz to grand opera.

The groom served overseas and at present is connected with the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment as accountant in Fredericton. He went overseas with the 86th Nova Scotia Highlanders and was transferred to the 18th Montreal Highlanders, with which he served eight months and was severely wounded.
The bride and groom were unattended. The bride wore blue serge and carried a bouquet of roses. The staff of the D. S. C. R. presented to the bride a silver service, and school friends at Mt. Allison and friends in the nursing service in Lowell gave silverware. She also received substantial checks. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will leave this evening on a wedding trip which will include Montreal and other Canadian cities. They will reside in Fredericton.

NO MORE HEREDITARY TITLES; PRESENT CEASE ON DEATH OF HOLDERS

Ottawa, April 30—When the special committee of the house of commons which is considering the matter of titles resumed its deliberations this morning, the minutes of the first meeting at which it was decided to recommend that no more hereditary titles be conferred and that those in existence cease with the death of the present holders of such titles, was concurred in.

Dr. Cowan of Regina said that in connection with the debate on titles at the last session of the house the attitude of Sir Robert Borden had been misrepresented. He said that the order-in-council, the details of which the prime minister then announced, covered exactly the same ground as the recommendation decided upon by the committee in regard to hereditary titles.

Duncan Ross and other members of the committee thought that there was at least a slight distinction. The order-in-council did not specify the time at which these titles should cease and this was covered in the recommendation.

made by the committee.

Sir Herbert Ames said to cut off the giving of titles immediately and without warning at the present time would be unjust. With the war conditions a thing of the past the cutting off of titles would not matter much. Sir Herbert referred to the recently created order of the British Empire. He thought it would be unfair to prohibit Canadians from participating in these honors.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was also opposed to a continuation of the giving of titles. Making complimentary reference to Sir Herbert Ames, he declared that it did not require a title to cause him to be recognized as a great public servant.

The granting of knighthoods and distinctions in Canada, he said, reflected a spirit of funkyness. We should do as the French people did in 1789 and abolish all titles.

Dr. Michael Clark said that the French people did some other things toward the end of the eighteenth century. Nothing was to be gained by using such words as "nobility" and "funkyness." Snobbery ran through all classes. He agreed that in the past many titles had been wrongly granted, and that hereditary titles should be done away with. The committee, he said, should not stand in the way of recognition of men who have rendered fine war service.

A. B. Cepp said some men received titles who were worthy and others who were not, and the latter had debauched the whole situation.

Sir Herbert Ames held that it would be unjust for Canada to take action by itself and suggested that it be the subject for an imperial conference.

HALIFAX VOTING ON CITY GOVERNMENT.
Halifax, April 30—A plebiscite is being taken today on the question of abolishing the board of control system and reverting to the aldermanic form of city government. This morning a fairly heavy vote was reported in the south end wards, where the majority appear to favor going back to the old system. In the north end wards, reputed to be a board of control stronghold, voting was not very brisk during the forenoon.

If your wife is ever likely to become a breadwinner, you should put her in training now. Then, should the necessity arise, she will be able to produce an income sufficient to support herself—and children, if any—in some degree of comfort. There is only one other way to make sure that your wife and kiddies will not come to want after you're gone—that is, by means of adequate life insurance. Before you forget, fill out the coupon below and mail it to us. Then we'll send you an interesting booklet about Imperial Life policies.

Canon Smithers presented the report of the Governors of the advance movement was stated that the advance movement had resulted in subscriptions of $92,100 up to Dec. 31, 1918, and $36,000 had been paid in. The diocese of Fredericton was asked to give the salary of a divinity professor each year. The estimated expenditures for the current year were $16,000 and the maximum received $12,600. Reference was made to the conferring of the degree of D. C. L. upon the Archbishop of Chatham, and M. G. Fred. Canon Smithers added that since the beginning of the year a bequest of $15,000 had been received from the estate of Lady Haliburton, but not $15,000 as at first announced.

School for Girls
R. W. Hewson presented the report of the trustees of the church school for girls, Windsor, N. S., reporting the continued and growing success of the school, and eighty-two regular pupils, twenty day-boarders, and twenty by-pupils. Financially the school was in a healthy condition, the debt having been wiped out.

Sunday Schools
The report of the standing committee on Sunday schools was submitted by Rev. W. P. Dunham. The committee reviewed the work of the year and recommended that it was desirable that the Sunday school be reorganized as a department of the general church work and that the responsibility of financing the Sunday school be accepted by each parochial corporation.

Rev. G. W. Fisher suggested the establishment in this diocese of a branch of the church lantern exchange.

Rev. F. W. M. Bacon suggested that the schools might be improved by including more public school teachers to aid.

Dr. Carter said that the majority of teachers aided in the Sunday schools already. One denomination now gave religious instruction in the schools after hours and he thought they might undertake something of the same nature. The school houses might be used for any worthy public purpose and he thought that no trustee board would refuse permission.

GIVE SANCTION TO MONROE DOCTRINE

British Conventions on League of Nations Provisions

Paris, April 29—(By the Associated Press)—The British delegation issued today a series of commentaries on the covenant of the League of Nations, expressing their definite views and making some changes from the official analysis issued on Sunday. With regard to the section dealing with the Monroe Doctrine, the commentaries say:

"Article 21 makes it clear that the covenant is not intended to abrogate or weaken any other agreements, so long as they are consistent with its own terms, into which members of the league may have entered or may hereafter enter for the assurance of peace. Such agreements should include special treaties for compulsory arbitration and military conventions that are genuinely defensive."

"The Monroe Doctrine and similar understandings are put in the same category. They have shown themselves in history to be, not instruments of national ambition, but guarantees of peace."

"The origin of the Monroe Doctrine is well known. It was proclaimed in 1823 to prevent America from becoming a theatre for intrigues of European absolutism. At first a principle of American foreign policy, it has become an international understanding and it is not illegitimate for the people of the United States to say that the covenant should recognize that fact. In its essence it is consistent with the spirit of the covenant and, indeed, the principles of the league as expressed in Article 10 represent the extension to the world of the principles of this doctrine; while, should any dispute as to the meaning of the latter ever arise between the American and European powers, the league is there to settle it."

It is particularly noted that the commentaries state that the Monroe Doctrine "has become an international understanding."

London, April 29—While on the whole the London morning newspapers in comment on the amended covenant of the League of Nations do not welcome it heartily, there nowhere is any condemnation of the principle.

MEXICAN "DRYS" OBJECT TO AMERICAN BREWERIES THERE

Mexico City, April 21—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—According to Senora Rosarua De Martinea, president of the Anti-Alcoholic association, that society is preparing to wage an active campaign against the establishment in Mexico of various breweries and distilleries which, it has been reported, are planning to come to this republic from the United States as a result of the recent prohibition laws.

IMMIGRATION SOLUTION OF CANADIAN PROBLEMS

Ottawa, April 29—Hon. J. A. Calder's bill to amend the immigration act came up for second reading today. Mr. Calder said that increased population offered the best solution to the problem of caring for the cost of the war and the colossal railway burden—population and production was the answer. He did not believe the time was ripe to bring immigrants from the continent of Europe but he believed that within the year thousands of British soldiers would come to Canada. In the evening the militia estimates of more than $4,000,000 were all passed.

AS INSTIGATOR OF CRIMES

To reduce overhead expenses without impairing the efficiency is the eternal problem of all employers and factory men.

by the excessive weight friction and belt slip of the metal pulley is calculated at an annual average of $8.00 for each pulley.

We refer to places where metal pulleys should be replaced by Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys. The money value of the power wasted

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 30, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE CANADIAN CLUB.

The Canadian Club has just ended what was perhaps the most successful year in its history, and with Sir Douglas Haasen as its new president enters upon another year that is full of promise.

In his acknowledgment of his election to the presidency last evening Sir Douglas Haasen made one remark that is of special interest when he alluded to the need of a community building in St. John, with facilities for banquets at which room could be found for all who desired to attend.

PETER WRIGHT

A great preacher, a man with the vision of a seer and the voice of a prophet, has been addressing meetings in St. John, Conn. Peter Wright, in his plain garb and with his blunt directness of speech, has made a profound impression upon the minds of those who heard his burning words.

BREAK DOWN THE BARRIERS

Every social service worker will welcome this plea of Bishop Richardson for co-operative Christian work. "I can see no reason why the same spirit of harmony that proved so effective in meeting the demands of the world in time of war should not prove equally effective in time of peace."

Arrangements for the all-New Brunswick convention in St. John, June 3 and 4, are being perfected by a strong committee. It will be a notable get-together demonstration for the good of the province.

Senator Lodge is still gunning for Wilson—with an eye on the Italian vote in the United States.

PLAY AND EFFICIENCY.

In a note to the Times-Star from Rev. E. F. Smith, agent of the Social Service Council of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, who attended the meeting of the South End Improvement League on Monday evening, and heard the discussion on playgrounds, he says: "There was a day in the story of the Empire, about one hundred years ago, when it seemed as if the end had come."

A clergyman discussing a few days ago, the tendency in play that is not supervised—and very little is supervised—lamented that the chief object of boys seemed to be to win at any cost. They would do things to win that the properly trained boy would scorn to do.

Objection is taken that the term playgrounds suggests little children and the kindergarten. If it carries only that suggestion to anybody there is something wrong with them—not with the name. Play is the thing, for child and adult, and where they play is a playground.

As Hiram Sees It

When Mr. Hiram Hornbeam appeared on the scene this morning the whole Times staff rose up and bade him welcome. "Glad to see you, boys," said Hiram. "I sold a dozen eggs and a pound of butter yesterday, and the old woman sent me in to buy an ottomobed. Yes, sir, that's what been talkin' about it all winter. Silie Jones sold two pounds of butter last week and got a tourin' car. Well, he kin hev it. I jist want a little runabout'so's I kin come in an' see you fellers. The war's over an' I want a little recreation."

Hiram confessed he couldn't and didn't want to. He had brought his lunch with him. "I got all the time there is," he said, "an' I don't b'lieve I'll waste any more of it on you fellers. You'll see me agin, though. I'm jist moseyin' round a bit today lookin' at the town. Same dirty old streets—same dirty old houses—same everything. I wonder what the soldiers think about it. I heard one of 'em say up in the market that it looked as if this here reconstruction couldn't start too soon. I guess he's right. Silie I seen a bootlegger this mornin'. I guess he knowed I sold that pound of butter. What he didn't know was that the old man had more hick than his booze. He knows it now—By Hen. Oh, I'm hev'in' a great time. Well—so long, boys—see you tomorrow."

The Day He Came Home

The flags were flying, the bands were playing, the crowds were cheering and everybody tried to make it a day never-to-be-forgotten in the history of the Town. Then after they had marched up from the station and finally dispersed to their homes there followed such scenes of reunion as only come once in a lifetime.

Is such a day as that worth remembering? Will the soldier boy himself ever be likely to forget it?—Not likely we imagine.

Let us give you an idea.

We have prepared several suitable things which you can give him as a permanent reminder of his return to Canada—it will also serve to show him the respect in which he is held by his friends.

There is a Wall Plaque in bronze with his name and regimental badge—this sells for $12.00.

WERE WOMEN MURDERED?

Bones, a Hairpin and Blood At Villa in Paris Suburb

Paris, April 30—A search of the villa of Henri Landru, at Gambaix, a suburb of Paris, the disappearance of several women from which led to the arrest of Landru, has resulted in the finding of an enormous heap of cinders in the carriage house.

Among the cinders, according to the authorities, were calcined bones, a fragment of melted glass and one hairpin. It is asserted that in the cellar large bloodstains, covered with sand, were found.

At the time of Landru's arrest the police asserted that from papers found in Landru's possession they believed he had had at least ten fiancées who could not be found.

MACLEAN'S FOR MAY.

"Some 'inside' facts about the peace conference at Paris are given in MacLean's Magazine for May by J. W. Dufoe, editor of The Manitoba Free Press, who has just returned from the French capital. Mr. Dufoe speaks frankly of Canada's place among the nations of the world and tells of the relative importance given to the world leaders—Clemenceau, Woodrow Wilson and Lloyd George. Mr. Dufoe writes fascinatingly and authoritatively.

Captain W. E. Dunham, recently returned from Siberia, in "The Canadians in Siberia," tells a number of very interesting incidents that have taken place during the occupation of a portion of Russian territory by Canadian troops. He describes the problems and difficulties that they actually have to contend with, and throws many interesting sidelights on the part we are playing in this out-of-the-way corner of the globe.

"Organizing for Peace," is the title of an article by George Pearson, in which he makes plain the aspirations and organization of the G. W. V. A. He tells just what men are behind this great veterans' movement and exactly what they are trying to do, giving reasons why every man back from France should be behind this national work.

Other contributors are W. A. Fraser, who returns to MacLean's Magazine after a month's absence, with a story entitled "Bulldog Carney's Allibi"; J. K. Munro in "Safe in the Soudan," a story of political conditions and prophecies at Ottawa; and Lloyd Osborne, in "Cornering Mr. Cobb," a delightful love story by Robert Louis Stephenson on-line. There are further instalments of Stephenson's story, "Man and Wife," and the concluding instalment of "The Transformation," a sparkling serial by Frederic S. Isham, in which readers learn exactly who "Alexander" was.

$20,000,000 MADE OUT OF 5 AND 10 CENT PIECES.

If a person were to say to the average young man of 25 years, "Young fellow, do you know that if you save your nickels and dimes, in a within your power to make $20,000,000?" he would be considered a little off. But it has been done, and the late F. W. Woolworth did it.

When Woolworth was a young man he, at one time, earned only $8.50 a week, kept a wife and child and saved $50, which, added to $250 he borrowed, bought his first stock of goods. In time he started his 5, 10 and 15 cent stores, and had about 1,070 of them when he died. He built the world's greatest office building, putting $14,000,000 into it, and died reputedly worth another $7,000,000 or $8,000,000.

It is not possible for every youth to become a Woolworth; but if Canadian young men and women save the 5 and 10 cent pieces and invest them in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, they will lay the foundation of their own financial independence.

William K. Oldham

ATION MUST UPHOLD CHRISTIANITY, SAYS PETER WRIGHT

Magnificent in the fervour of his eloquence, Peter Wright, trustee of the British Seamen's and Firemen's Union of Liverpool, England, speaking before the annual meeting of the British Seamen's and Firemen's Union of Liverpool, last evening, made a stirring appeal that in the dawn of the new era equal opportunity should be given to all individuals, the care of the child should be guarded as the first consideration and the principles of Christianity upheld by the nation and the people to the illumination of a competitive system that made a bank count the test of trust and of politics not aimed at votes but at the ultimate good of the country. Judge H. O. McInerney presided and at the close of Mr. Wright's address extended to him the thanks and deep appreciation of the club for an able, thoughtful and eloquent address and wished him a pleasant voyage and happy homecoming. Last night's address being the last to be delivered by Mr. Wright in Canada. He sails to England.

In the opening portion of his speech Mr. Wright referred to his admiration for Canada and Canadians amongst whom he had made many friends, and delivered the message of seamen that as units and as a nation ideals should be used as inspirations to prevent the possibility of another war. He spoke of the glorious part played by the British navy in saving civilization and said it was essential to world welfare that that navy should be maintained to guard the freedom of the seas.

That the student of history and all thinkers, including even Kewenick, Trotsky, and Lenin admitted that pre-war conditions would never again be possible, he stated as a fact and said further that the world itself was full of beauty except for the inhumanity of man which must be removed in the new era. He maintained that even millionaires would be happier if they could see equal opportunities given every man, woman and child to develop their hidden potentialities and their highest aspirations and if one-tenth of the population did not live as if by divine authority as was at present the state of affairs in the British when who had fought so bravely were eighty per cent. of them from the proletariat and were as all the poorer element entitled to a better deal than they had. The right to live in comfort was an equal one.

What Soldiers Say About the Y.M.C.A.

Lt.-Col. W. P. Furney, Dominion President, Great War Veterans' Association, Sydney, N.S. Jan. 23, 1919.

"There is no bone of contention between the G.W.V.A. and the Y.M.C.A. The Y.M.C.A. has done a work that no other institution could or would do. Speaking as president of the organization, and for our members, I wish the Y.M.C.A. God-speed in their splendid work."

Philip Gibbs, War Correspondent, London Chronicle.

"I want to pay a very big tribute, my warmest tribute to the work of the Y.M.C.A. Very quickly after each battle these men of the Y.M.C.A. brought out their tents and equipment, by means of which they could give hot cocoa, coffee and cigarettes to these men in the lines, and words cannot say what a cup of coffee meant to men plastered in white clay like those I have described. I remember seeing and marveling at the rapidity with which the Y.M.C.A. got up these tents and equipment under Vimy Ridge, within a few hours of the capture of that place."

Major General Sir David Watson, Quebec, P.Q., Commanding Officer, 4th Canadian Division.

"The Y.M.C.A. over here is doing a most noble work, and I am proud of the work that is being carried out by the Canadian Y.M.C.A."

No. 456283, Pte. F. Frieman, 21st Battalion.

"On behalf of the boys who travelled from Halifax I really take pleasure in thanking you for the splendid work done by your representative on the train. Judging by unfavorable reports, I, while in England, had been prepared for a neglected welcome of returned soldiers. But I am glad to say they are more than well looked after on the road to their homes, and in Halifax."

T. A. Hector, Regina.

"I would like to take this opportunity before finally leaving the Military Service of thanking you and the Y.M.C.A. organization, first for the many good things I enjoyed in France, and secondly for the cheerful, helpful work during the journey homeward. I voice the appreciation of many others."

Signaller L.D. Smith, Belmont, Manitoba, 43rd Battalion.

"Let no man now say anything against the Y.M.C.A. to me, or he will get what for if I catch him. It is in France we found the great need of the Y.M.C.A., and, believe me, it is a Godsend to the boys in the trenches."

Driver E. L. Milten, Vancouver, B.C., 45th Battery.

"The prices charged by the Y.M.C.A. canteens are rivaled by no other canteens, and more than that they sell Canadian goods—Canadian cigarettes, Canadian maple sugar, milk, fruit, and cereals. I cannot see anything wrong with the Y.M.C.A., and if the people at home knew its real value to the boys at the front they would give it all the support it needs."

Corporal G. Waterman, Vancouver, B.C.

Pioneer Days At St. John

Events of 50 Years Ago

(Written by Ven. Archdeacon Raymond and Dedicated To St. John Board of Trade)

At St. John in the Days of the Pioneers. Events of 150 Years Ago.

Are such events worth commemorating? This is a question for the people of St. John to answer. But first they must hear my story.

In the early spring time in the year 1767, James Simonds, then a young man of thirty-two years of age, brought to his home at Portland Point the first bride who ever honored the community with her presence. Her father, Captain Francis Peabody, had served with distinction at the siege of Quebec in 1759, and is particularly mentioned by Parkman in his book "Wolfe and Montcalm."

The name of Captain Peabody's daughters were Hannah, Elizabeth and Hepzibah. Their father, from the active part he took in settling the township of Margueriteville, as well as from his military services, his age and character, must be regarded as the most prominent and influential person on the St. John river who lived.

He died in Margueriteville in 1778, and his daughters married, respectively, James Simonds, James White and Jonathan Leavitt.

During the first year of settlement at the River St. John. To this end he went to Halifax, interviewed the Nova Scotia authorities and arranged for the laying out of the township in the year 1762.

Meanwhile James Simonds, who was born in Haverhill in 1736, had with his younger brother, Richard, visited the harbor of St. John, which they deemed a fine location for the fishery, Indian trade, manufacture of lime and lumber, and for shipbuilding, erection of mills, and raising cattle.

In the month of May, 1762, they burnt over the "Great Marsh" to the east of the city and during the summer cut there a quantity of wild hay, intending to begin stock-raising. They were, however, disappointed in securing a vessel to bring the cattle from Massachusetts as they had planned.

They accordingly sold or gave the hay to Captain Peabody, who had just arrived and was building himself a house at Portland Point. The house had an oak frame, brought from Newburyport.

Gray Hair Becomes Dark and Beautiful. Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost.

Returned Soldiers Welcome. To the Citizens of St. John.—Your hearty co-operation is invited to give the returning soldier units the cordial welcome home, which they deserve and which is due to all the soldiers who have come back.

Business men and householders in all parts of the city are asked to display flags and bunting on the day of arrival and to illuminate their premises at night. The day to be observed as a holiday.

Shipping in the harbor is requested to decorate. Motor owners are asked to trim up their cars. Notice having been given of the approach of the returning units, patriotic citizens are asked to prepare to meet and greet the soldiers, bringing flags and banners and making a joyful noise.

The churches are requested to ring their joy-bells, the factories and steamers to blow their whistles, the boy scouts to fill the air with music of their horns. EVERYBODY TO CHEER as the boys go marching by. To prevent accidents, autos are requested to keep off the route of parade.

The C. W. V. A. are cordially invited to assist in welcoming their comrades. The civilian bands, patriotic societies and other community organizations are asked to co-operate.

At a later date this summer it is proposed to hold a Grand Field Day for all New Brunswick soldiers who have come back.

CITIZENS' RECEPTION COMMITTEE, R. T. Hayes, Mayor, Honorary Chairman. S. H. Mayes, Chairman.

arrival the women and children found shelter in the old barracks at Fort Frederick on the west side of the harbor, and there, in rude surroundings, was born that very night James Quinton, son of Hugh and Elizabeth Quinton, the first child of English-speaking parents whose birth is recorded at St. John. But few individuals had up to that time set foot on the shores of our harbor. Lemuel Cleveland had been there in 1767, at which time, he says, the remains of an old French fort were in existence at Portland Point where Mr. Simonds afterwards built his house. And here we may pause to observe that our eminent historian, Dr. W. F. Ganong, is satisfied, after careful investigation, that this is the site of the first Fort La Tour so gallantly defended against Charrisley in 1645 by Madame La Tour, the heroine of Acadia, and is therefore the spot where she witnessed the execution of her brave garrison and died herself, not long after, of a broken heart. But this is a subject we need not now pause further to discuss.

The house built by Captain Peabody in the fall of 1762 was occupied by him until he moved up the river to Margueriteville, three years later, when it became the property of James Simonds. It is later it became the home of James White. It was not an elaborate or costly building, but it had the distinction of being the first framed dwelling occupied as the home of an English-speaking family on the River St. John.

In January, 1765, young Richard Simonds lost his life in endeavoring to protect the property of the company from a band of Indian marauders.

During the first year of settlement at Portland Point, Simonds and White had to rough it in true pioneer fashion. Their partners at Newbury Port, Hazen and Jarvis, sent them some furniture and household conveniences in April, 1765, expressing the hope that such things might add to their comfort and make them feel more "gentled."

Mr. Simonds observed, with his usual dry humor, that so far as present conditions were concerned "gentling" was the question; we thank you, nevertheless, for none were ever more badly furnished than we were before. The two pioneers, however, were evidently growing tired of their mode of living.

During the passing seasons the eye of James Simonds had not failed to note the change that time had wrought in the person of little Hannah Peabody, who was now a rosy-cheeked maid of sixteen. He had moreover become satisfied of the truth of the ancient scripture, "It is not good for man to be alone."

And so in the early spring of 1767, he repaired with the opening navigation to Newbury-Port on important business. This business was, in part, to sign new articles of co-partnership with Messrs. Hazen and Jarvis, but also to enter into another kind of partnership of a more enduring character with Miss Peabody. They were no doubt married at Newbury-Port because there was at that time no clergyman in all New Brunswick. He was in the prime of life, being thirty-two years of age, while she was "sweet sixteen," or just half that age.

Early marriages were then much more popular than in modern days. There really was not much that girls could do in the days of our grandmothers but get married. The almost innumerable avenues of service now open to women—as so splendidly exemplified during the late war—were formerly unknown. Nevertheless we can figuratively throw up our hats and cheer those grand pioneer wives and mothers of the olden time, who bore the narrowness of life at Portland Point so uncomplainingly; sought and found in the daily path of duty that which satisfied; found that children pay as they go; realize that "the consciousness of duty done makes music at midnight," and that—"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Hannah Peabody had not attained her seventeenth birthday when she married James Simonds and sailed from Newbury-Port as his bride in the company's schooner, "Eunice." The little vessel had a fine passage and arrived in St. John on the 26th day of April. Doubtless her skipper, James Stickey, was a proud man as he brought the first bride to her new home at Portland Point. He had other passengers, including Moses Coburn, Oliver Peabody, Alexr. Tapley, Stephen Hovey and, of course, the happy bridegroom, James Simonds. What a marvellous life was that of this first young matron at Portland Point. Talk of a "Golden Wedding Day." This bride of sixteen was still living with her husband at Portland Point when he died in 1830, at the age of ninety-five years, having celebrated together their sixty-third wedding anniversary. She survived, as his widow, ten years after that, and died at the age ninety. Her children numbered fourteen and included a very distinguished family—among them The Hon. Charles Simonds, speaker of the legislature and member of the government, and for many years the leading citizen of Portland; also Hon. Richard Simonds, M. P. P. and others of note; to say nothing of the female descendants, the Millidges, Gilberts, DeBury's and others, whose names have been as familiar as household words in this community for generations.

PURCHASES APPROVED BY COMMON COUNCIL

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon, chief among which was the refusal of the commissioners, on recommendation of the commissioner of public safety, to allow George Carvell to build a garage in Cliff street, but with an expression of opinion that at the next meeting the by-law relating to garages being built near places of public worship should be modified; the decision that the $13,600 appropriated for asphalt pavements in various sections of the city be left with the head of the public works department to dispose of; the adoption of the report of the commissioner of harbors by the council as a whole, previously considered in committee, recommending the purchase of a second-hand boiler in No. 3 fire house, and the granting of authority to Commissioner Jones to lay a new eight-inch case iron main in Mecklenburg street, between Wentworth and Pitt streets, at a cost of $2,500. Authority was also given to the head of the water and sewerage department for the purchase of a new emergency truck at a cost of $2,000.

In reference to the report of the town planning commission before submitted to the council, Commissioner Bullock said that the plan was not his; it came up a year ago from a report of Mr. Adams, town planning expert. It was not necessarily connected with the housing scheme. The city could continue the present policy of selling to first comers. Commissioner Bullock moved for the adoption of the plan submitted in committee. This was seconded by Commissioner Fisher.

The mayor gave notice that the usual complaints were heard around moving time relative to the transfers overcharging. He said the poor people called upon to move should be given a fair show while also the teamsters should make only a fair and honest charge.

In the Haszen murder case being tried in the circuit court before His Honor Chief Justice McKeown, Sergeant Journey gave evidence this morning as to the arrest of the three defendants, and Dr. Abrahamson gave testimony as to the examination of the stains found on the clothes of one of the defendants. Dr. Abrahamson was still on the stand when the court adjourned.

Stredger, of Halifax, and his offer has been accepted. It is the intention of the committee to have him at work by June 1st. Mr. Stredger held a similar position at Halifax for several years. He has been Assistant Boys' Work Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the maritime provinces and has had experience in all kinds of athletics.
