ROWAN LAD'S BODY FOUND. Remains of David Weston's Last Victim. Discovered Floating a Mile Below Where Accident Occurred and Across the River.

The body of young Stephen Hood-Rowan was found this morning just above Purdy's Point by J. D. Purdy, of this city. Mr. Purdy and his brother, W. O. and Geo. Purdy, have a summer camp on the river, a considerable distance below Waters' wharf, and this morning Mr. Purdy, in company with his brother George, had put out from shore in a small boat to board the Hampstead on her own trip.

KILLED BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS Husband Blew Her Head Off With a Gun—Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

SCRANTON, Oct. 2.—Because he pointed a gun that he did not know was loaded at his wife Irga Kienent, aged twenty-two, of Oliphant, a groom of two weeks, is a widower and a prisoner. Recently he and his seventeen-year-old bride returned from their wedding tour and began honeymooning. Yesterday he started out on a hunting trip.

JAPAN OCCUPIES COREA Her Move May Mean War—Russia Sending 50,000 More Troops to Port Arthur.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Koba, Japan, dated Oct. 1, says that Japanese troops left Port Arthur a few days ago for Korea, and more troops are expected to embark at Karatsu. At Koba, the head quarters of the twelfth division of the Japanese army, great activity prevails, and also on the Koshu railroad. A standing squadron is at Masampo, on the Korean coast. The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail learns that ten thousand Chinese laborers are building barracks at Port Arthur for 50,000 additional Russian troops and that feverish haste is being displayed in railway construction.

LORD MILNER REFUSES. (Canadian Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 2.—Premier Balfour at Sheffield this afternoon announced Lord Milner's refusal to accept the colonial secretaryship in succession to Hon. Joseph Chamberlain.

PARLIAMENT MOURNS. OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Parliament did not assemble this morning, as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Henry Cavell, M. P. The funeral took place from the parliament buildings and was attended by the leaders of both parties.

BOTH SIDES DISSATISFIED. Unfavorable Comment on Balfour's Protection Speech.

British Press Demands a Working Scheme—Balfour's Present Position Impossible.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—It is evident that Mr. Balfour's speech (see page three) has quite failed to satisfy the press of either party. The burden of all the editorial comment is that in spite of the enthusiasm evoked at Sheffield, the speech leaves the question exactly where it was left by the premier's recent pamphlet. The greatest disappointment is expressed on all sides at his failure to touch on the cabinet crisis or explain the outlines of his proposed policy.

BRITISH TROOPS CAPTURE BOSTON. BOSTON, Oct. 2.—For the first time in many years the flag of England, guarded by British musketeers, was borne through the streets of Boston today by the Honorable Artillery Company of London, as special guests of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of this city.

SIR MICHAEL'S SUCCESSOR. No Appointment of Ambassador to Washington Yet Made—No Chance For Lipton.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Associated Press is in a position to state that the foreign office has not yet considered the question of a successor to Sir Michael Herbert as British ambassador at Washington, and will not consider it for some time to come.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton smiled when told that Senator Kearns had mentioned the baronet as being an ideal successor to Sir Michael Herbert. He said: "I must say that I am not a statesman and there is no possibility in the world of my representing Great Britain at Washington."

The board of health is taking action to enforce its regulations in Fairville. Complaints of uncleanly premises will be heard before Squire Mason tomorrow. On Monday about twenty cases of violation of health ordinance in the city and Carleton will come before Judge Ritchie.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 2, 1903.

IN THE INTERESTS OF THE PARTY.

An N. B. liberal paper discussing the probable action of the senate on the Grand Trunk Pacific bill says: "We do not believe that one can be found so neglectful of the interests of his party as to play into the hands of his enemy."

"The interests of his party." There you have the whole creed of the machine Grit. What to him is the welfare of his country, what the chances of her progress, what the increase of her natural prestige, what are honor and decency and self-respect even, beside the "interests of his party," and indirectly of himself?

To him "the party" is nothing more than a well-planned machine for the acquisition and holding of power and patronage whereby he and his like may be enriched. Opinions, policy, are only the fuel to keep the machine going.

What kind of quality the fuel is matters not a bit to him. If the machine leaders today were to decide that it would be expedient to withdraw this railway bill almost every paper which today is exhausting its adjectives in praising the lofty statesmanship of the policy, would, without hesitation or apology, swallow its utterances and print, two columns wide in large black type, the very arguments which they are now trying to controvert.

The new road as it is proposed is unnecessary; it cannot fill the purpose for which it was ostensibly intended; it is being shamefully rushed through without a fraction of the information that should be on hand before the inception of such an enterprise; it will ruin the I. C. R. and steal from the maritime province ports the trade that belongs to them as the eastern gateway of Canada—but because the campaign fund needs Senator Cox's contribution, it must be built "in the interests of the party."

Against that phrase all the hurried arguments and protests of thinking and independent Canada are blunted. In the interests of the country let us smash this "party."

BOUQUETS FOR THE TELEGRAPH

The Telegraph is still providing material for uncomplimentary remarks from former friends. Here are a few in papers of yesterday: Moncton Transcript:—"When the St. John Telegraph has to revamp the content of court persecution of the editor of a liberal newspaper, it cannot be very well satisfied with the success of its agitation against the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway bill. There is this much to be said, however, that when the Telegraph editor goes to jail, there will be no bouquets, brass bands, processions or popular subscriptions in payment of his fines. On the contrary, the general remark will be an expression of surprise that he didn't get there before; and a general avoidance of his company."

Bathurst Courier:—"The Telegraph has lost its political influence and lost its best managers. It has also lost the sympathy and confidence of Mr. Blair. The Telegraph is beneath contempt, and in its anger makes futile efforts to spatter its liberal contemporaries with mud."

Sackville Tribune:—"The St. John Telegraph has again changed its opinion as regards the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Bill. Its recent conduct is inexcusable and in future the people of New Brunswick will pay little heed to its utterances."

Halifax Chronicle:—"In speaking of the recent gyrations of the St. John Telegraph, a New Brunswick Tory paper, takes occasion to remark that "there is a big split in the (Liberal) party. When a very small silver becomes, accidentally or otherwise, detached from a great solid piece of square timber it is usually called a splinter, not a split."

We want a competing railway bringing traffic direct from the North-west into these provinces, and the only possible way to interest a road in the maritime provinces sufficiently to prevent its diverting traffic to the United States, is to give a new railway a haulage into the maritime provinces sufficiently long as to be a natural inducement to its loyal adherence to the aims of the new Canadian Transcontinental Railway plan.—Moncton Transcript.

In the name of common sense and clear diction what does that mean? Can senators have any doubt that, if the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme were submitted to the people today they would reject it unless its worst features were eliminated? If the senate deals justly with the people it will so radically amend the bill as to remove those features which have astonished the country.—Telegraph.

Not a member of the house of commons has done better work in opposition to the G. T. P. bill than Mr. Fowler of Kings county. He has shown a knowledge of transportation matters that will make his claims to the railway portfolio after the next election a strong one.

What a great advertisement it would be for Sir Thomas if he made him British ambassador to the United States.

It is up to the senate to really see if Senator Cox can wait.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES AND ELECTIONS.

The supplementary estimates brought down yesterday indicate that the government proposes an appeal to the country before another session. This is, perhaps, the largest supplementary vote ever placed before parliament, and comes in at the eve of prorogation, when explanations are not likely to be very instructive. It would not be just to accuse the government of extravagance on the score of this list. The amount mentioned is large, and some of the appropriations are defensible. But it need not be supposed that the services will be performed or the money all paid. The election estimates of 1900 included many public works which have not yet been commenced. At the risk of damping the ardor of the military men in this town it may be mentioned that drill sheds were among the objects for which election votes were made before the last campaign, and that several of those votes were allowed to lapse.—Sun.

The appropriation of $10,000 for a drill hall in St. John is not large enough to indicate the intention of going forward with the work of construction. Probably the amount is intended for the purchase of a site. For several years militia officers and others in this city have been pressing for the erection of a drill shed and armory at some convenient and central place in the city; it was understood early this session that a promise had been obtained from Mr. Blair that something would be done this year. The former minister seems to have carried out his intention.—Sun.

THE BARGAIN. "To you who will fill up the world for me, I am only one of a score. Well, that is a bitter hearing, though But we all know best what we long for; and you shall not break my heart. I will stand by the cruel bargain. I will take my twentieth part.

"All you want of me is the touch that stirs, and the face that seems to you fair. For all that I give you with them you never were born to care. Well! love me or do not love me—there is fire in the cup I hold. I will drink it down to the shallow dregs. I will take your beads for my gold."—ALICE HERBERT.

CONVENTION CLOSED.

The closing services of the Maritime Young People's convention was held yesterday afternoon and evening in Queen square Methodist church. In the afternoon five splendid addresses were heard by a fairly large number of delegates who gathered from all parts of the province. The speakers were: Revs. W. F. Shaw, G. H. Lawson, Z. L. Fash, A. S. Morton and J. W. Falconer.

Not only was the evening service very pleasant and helpful owing to the addresses of Rev. W. J. Armitage and J. W. Falconer, but it was also very important from a business point of view. The report of the committee appointed to decide on the future policy of the convention was given. The report in full was "that owing to the many arrangements made by the several denominations represented at the convention, and looking to the unification of the several branches of the work, we, the committee appointed to report on the future policy of the convention, do not feel justified in defining a policy, but recommend that Prof. W. W. Andrews, Kierstead, W. J. Falconer, Dr. McLeod and Rev. J. C. B. Appel be asked to constitute a committee on the growth and work of the society and the good that was being accomplished by the missionaries of the society was supporting at home and abroad.

The teachers of Westmorland are in annual session here in Aberdeen school. There is a large attendance, over one hundred registered at the first session this morning. Tonight the institute listened to an able address by Prof. Scott of U. N. B. on wireless telegraphy.

FREDERICTON NEWS.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 1.—The supplementary and matriculation examinations at the university began this morning and will be concluded on Saturday. The freshman class registered to date reaches the respectable number of thirty-six. Of these a number are students in engineering, and with two exceptions are grown up men. The principal candidates are taking senior matriculation, which will be passed in the afternoon. County scholarships, which are of the value of $500 for one year, have been awarded as follows: York, Ralph Sherman, Fredericton; Carleton, Donald McCormick, Woodstock; Kings, Miss Annie B. Parks, St. John, William Woods, St. John; Westmorland, Miss Eva McCracken, Moncton; Northumberland, Walter McE. Matthews, Chatham; Albert, Joseph Wood.

Prof. Riley, lecturer in economics and philosophy, has returned. He with his mother and sister will occupy Mrs. Dever's cottage on York street. The engineering students who have been encamped at Tay Creek returned to the city today to take up lectures, which will begin on Monday.

The water in the river at this point and between here and Grand Falls is so low that in all probability no effort will be made to bring out the stranded lumber. There are about fifty millions hung up, and the corporation has decided to hold them by means of booms till next spring. They will be boomed at Grand Falls, where workmen have been erecting piers for that purpose.

The observed of all observers on the express from St. John this morning was Fred Goodspeed, who was being taken through to serve his sentence in the Dorchester penitentiary. The young man was in charge of Mr. Longley of the Boys' Industrial Home, and was most unconcerned at the curious glances of the large number who packed the platform by the car and those who crowded through to have a look at him.—Moncton Transcript.

SECOND TO NONE.

(The Song of the Coldstream Regiment—By Col. D. Sturmer.) I took the shilling at seventeen, A gallant fellow was never seen, And nothing over a partner's clean, And a trifle gone in the knee; But now I'm rather a different sight, They set me up and they taught me right, The way to drill and the way to fight, And they made a man of me!

Chorus— Then here's a health to the Regiment! And here's good luck to the Regiment! Steady and True To be and to do! What our Fathers have been, and lads have done! In peace you've cheered at the show we made! In war you've read of the part we played! We are the First of the First Brigade, We are the Second to None.

I wasn't much of a looking lad, My hair it wanted the scissors bad, A back as round as a cork I had, And a chest like a C. I. V. But now I've served for a year or more, I'm smart as any that ever bore, The belt and badge of a British corps, For they've made a man of me!

Chorus— Then here's health, etc., etc. Their fame has followed them everywhere, On battlefield or on barrack square, No troops on earth can at all compare With the lads of whom I sing. In peace or war they are just the same, To do their best and to "play the game."

To bear with honor the noble name, Of a Soldier of the King! Chorus— Then here's health, etc., etc. How long they cheer when the bugles blow, And off at last to the front they go, To bear the brunt and to face the foe, With honor and fame in sight! When maxims rattle and mousers roar, Their hearts are glad, for they ask no more Than just to fight as they fought before, And as Britons always fight!

Chorus— Then here's a health to the Regiment! And here's good luck to the Regiment! Steady and true To be and to do! What our Fathers have been and have done! In peace you've cheered at the show we made! In war you've read of the part we played! We are the First of the First Brigade, We are the Second to None!

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

MONCTON, Oct. 1.—At today's session of the Women's Missionary Society in connection with the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist conference reports were submitted showing the work done by the society and branches during the year. The reports were of a gratifying nature. Discussions took place on matters relating to the work of the future, and papers of interest were read by prominent members of the society.

The anniversary of the society was observed tonight by a mass meeting in the Wesley Memorial church. Mrs. J. D. Chipman occupied the chair. Miss Palmer submitted the statistical report, showing that the membership of the society had increased 23 during the year. The total membership is now 414 and the total amount received by the grand treasurer was $6,950, an increase of $1,000.

Mrs. Sprague spoke on the study of missions and Mrs. Ross, president of the board of managers, gave a powerful address on the growth and work of the society and the good that was being accomplished by the missionaries of the society was supporting at home and abroad.

The teachers of Westmorland are in annual session here in Aberdeen school. There is a large attendance, over one hundred registered at the first session this morning. Tonight the institute listened to an able address by Prof. Scott of U. N. B. on wireless telegraphy.

STUDENTS REPLACE STRIKERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A despatch to the World from Minneapolis, Minn., says: The high school students of Minneapolis have been asked by their professor to go to the mills to work in place of the striking millers, and the strikers are highly incensed over the call. Thirty students from Central High School went to the mills to procure work, but were dissuaded by the strikers. Notwithstanding the threats made against the university yesterday, many students are still in the mills now, and the strikers are chagrined over their failure to induce them to leave work. Insurance companies have cancelled risks on all mill property and the millers have employed Pinkerton detectives to care for the property. A long fight is now promised.

BRAVE 8-YEAR OLD BOY.

The Halifax Chronicle tells of an eight year old boy's act of splendid bravery and presence of mind during a recent fire in that city. Albert DeLeon, aged eight, was left with his brother Percy, aged 2, locked in a house on Brunswick street, when it caught fire. When the oldest boy saw the danger he seized his little brother and ran down the stairs to the front door with him. He could not force the door open, because it was fastened on the outside, so he left Percy at the door and ran upstairs, through the burning room, and jumped through the window on to the street. Then he rushed to the door and unfastened the clasp and released his badly frightened little brother. Albert was badly shaken up by jumping. His plucky act was cause of much favorable comment.

THE RING.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 1.—Jack (Twin) Sullivan defeated Tom Carey of New York in the seventh round of what was scheduled to be a fifteen-round bout, before the Fall River Athletic Association tonight.

THE TURF.

Great Races at the Oakley Park, Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—There was some great racing at Oakley Park today. The four heats in the 220 yds were hotly contested from word to wire by Paul Mitchell and King Direct, and in the last three it took the decision of the judges to determine the winner.

The Parson took the 210 trot in two heats. He was the choice in the betting. Guy Fortune won all the conditions on the 215 trot. He took it in two heats, while the money was on the Quator and Topsy and Kent. It took three hard heats to decide the 200 paces, which was won by the favorite, Fanny Dancer, his method perfect, the first heat by a neck to Terrace Queen.

BASED BALL. Pittsburg Won the First Game of the World's Series. BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The mastery pitching of Phillipps brought about the downfall of the Boston Americans today in the first game of the world's championship series with Pittsburg, the national pennant winners.

ATHLETIC. Halifax Y. M. C. A. Sports. Sanction of the Y. M. C. A. for the holding of the following events to be contested on the Y. M. C. A. grounds at Halifax on Saturday for the following events:

50 yards dash, under 15; 100 yards dash; 100 yards dash, under 16; 220 yards dash; 440 yards dash; 440 yards dash, under 18; 880 yards dash; mile run, under 25; mile relay race. Eatman got slightly the best of the broad jump, under 15; high jump; club race, team of ten.

EATMAN WINS. (Moncton) Press, Thursday. This afternoon on the M. A. A. grounds J. S. Humphrey was defeated by Eatman, the colored runner from St. John in a hundred yard dash for $100 a side. There has been considerable interest manifested in this contest and excitement was at fever heat.

THE FURNACE LINE. Str. Florence, from St. John for London, left Halifax Wednesday afternoon. Str. Gulf of Anoud sailed at 6 o'clock last evening for Halifax and Havre and London. At this port she took in a lot of deals, 1,000 barrels of apples, lobsters and other goods. At Halifax she will receive a lot of apples.

THE SCHOONER KIPLING. Sch. Kipling arrived here some days ago from Barbados with molasses, and on the way up, as previously stated in the Sun, was struck by lightning. While the cargo was being removed it was discovered that the lightning had got below the deck. It went down through the chain plates and did some damage to several of the planks. The Kipling will go over to Bridgewater to load for Madeira.

TEN MILLIONS.

Supplementary Estimates Brought Down in the House Last Night

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—In the commons supply was taken up and the main estimates were considered. On the vote of $43,000 for the wharf at Sorel a discussion resulted which filled in the whole morning. The work will cost $275,000 and can serve no good purpose. It is impossible to make the port a suitable one for ocean steamship traffic.

Mr. Borden offered a strong protest against the development of this port at such enormous cost, when there were harbors like St. John and Halifax to look after. He asked what would be done by carrying on the work on the Laurier defended the expenditure as being necessary to serve the Richelieu valley.

It was pointed out that this valley could not load one steamer a year. Mr. Kemp read a report from the chief engineer of the public works department stating that the Sorel terminals if made effective, will cost $900,000.

On the vote of $2,500,000 for intercolonial working expenses, an increase of 1,000,000 over last year's total, Mr. Fielding declared that the increase was small in comparison to the growth in earnings.

The supplementary estimates for 1903-4, brought down today, total $10,580,563. This with other estimates previously laid on the table this session, amounting to $22,480,945, brings the grand total to date up to the enormous sum of $33,071,505, or almost double the expenditure during the last year of conservative rule.

On the vote of $2,500,000 for intercolonial working expenses, an increase of 1,000,000 over last year's total, Mr. Fielding declared that the increase was small in comparison to the growth in earnings.

BALFOUR ON TOP.

The British Premier Talks on Tariff Reform to Big Crowd.

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Oct. 1.—The artillery drill hall where Premier Balfour made his tariff reform speech this afternoon was packed by an expectant audience long before eight o'clock. The hour at which Mr. Balfour was announced to begin speaking. An overflow meeting in Albert hall was also crowded, while thousands were unable to obtain seats at either meeting. Mr. Balfour had an enthusiastic reception. He announced at the outset that he intended to confine his speech to tariff reform, which, he said, had come prominently to the front owing to the growing uneasiness among men of various opinions. Mr. Chamberlain's speech in May, he added, would not have produced the effect it did if it had not fallen on ground already prepared, and the threats against Canada for granting preferences to Great Britain brought home the helplessness of this country to deal with such a situation.

This statement of the premier was greeted with prolonged cheering. Continuing, Mr. Balfour said that for fifty years England had watched in silence the building up of a wall of hostile tariffs against her. Even her colonies were building up a system of protection which, when it reached its natural conclusion, would make it as hard for the United Kingdom to export goods to her colonies as to export goods to the United States and other protected countries.

The premier said free trade was an empty name and a vain force. Cobden never dreamed of the modern trust system, built up under protection, which inflicted injury upon the capital and the workmen of the United Kingdom. For the present state of affairs, Mr. Balfour remarked, he did not know a cure. The evil had come too far; but he knew of a palliation.

Tremendous cheering followed the premier's last statement. A nation depriving itself of the power of bargaining, Mr. Balfour pointed out, could never make a good bargain. He asked that the government from whichever party it was drawn, be given freedom to negotiate. Mr. Balfour did not think the country was ripe for the abolition of food; but the evils of food taxation had been exaggerated beyond what reason and logic justified.

He advised the unionist party, as the best result of his reflections, that to tax food would be contrary to public opinion and not within the limits of practical politics. He had given the topic his best thoughts and he was firmly convinced that his policy harmonized with the best traditions of the party and, as leader of the party, he meant to lead it.

"You will not get the great commercial nations of the world to abandon protection," said Mr. Balfour. "I fear you will not get the great self-governing colonies to retract the steps which we without remonstrance permitted them to take. I am here, therefore, to recommend a palliation which I believe to be still possible. Cobden hoped and believed in free trade throughout the world. What in fact we have got to deal with is a world where international commercial relations are governed entirely by treaty. It is my sense that we, greatest of commercial nations, have come forward and say: 'We want to arrange treaties with you, but we have nothing to give you, nothing to withhold from you. We throw ourselves upon your mercy and consideration. Please remember how good we are to your commerce, how we throw no impediment in its way, and how we do all we can when you are making your next treaty.'"

"My fundamental and essential request to you tonight, to which the rest of my speech is subsidiary and incidental, is that the people of this country should give to its government that freedom of negotiation of which we have been deprived, not by force of circumstances or by the pressure of foreign powers, but by something I can only describe as our own pedantry and self-conceit."

At a special service held yesterday afternoon at St. John's (Stone) church, a memorial window presented by Sidney Smyth was unveiled. After the usual prayer and the singing of special Psalms (122, 127), Canon De Vabor read the lesson (John, 1-11) containing the account of the miracle of Cana in Galilee, the subject of the window.

The clergy came then down to the aisle, and Sidney Smyth, who had been sitting in the old Chancel, in a few graceful words offered his gift to the church and uncovered the window. The factor accepted the gift on behalf of the corporation, dwelling upon the legitimate power of the Holy God's house of worship, and the value of thus perpetuating the associations of a church with its former worshippers.

The lesson of the Gospel story was of deepest value to all who, while fully believing in Christ's divinity, had yet to penetrate the fulness of the doctrine of the incarnation.

After the conclusion of the service, the splendid coloring, and the characteristic energy and beauty of the figures, illustrate the Munich school and its special style, which while retaining all the solemn dignity befitting ecclesiastical work, avoids the conventional figures and attitudes of the English stained glass.

The inscription under the window is as follows: "In Memory of Henry Bowyer Smith, and Charlotte his wife; the first couple married in this church, October 1, 1828."

ANOTHER ARTISTIC SUCCESSION.

Was the Second and Final McClaskey Concert. Another fair sized audience was in attendance at the second of the McClaskey concerts at the Opera House last evening, and thoroughly enjoyed the magnificent programme provided. Mr. McClaskey was in magnificent voice and was never heard to better advantage. Mrs. DeMoss and Julian Walker, two of the best artists in America, were in splendid voice, and their several numbers were gems.

All in all these concerts are of the very best ever given in St. John, and it is deeply regrettable that Mr. McClaskey did not meet with the success he deserved, viz. crowded houses at both performances.

SUDDEN DEATH.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Henry Cargill, conservative M. P. for East Bruce, is dead.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Henry Cargill, conservative member for East Bruce, died suddenly tonight in the office of the clerk of the house, where he had been removed after a sudden attack of heart disease superinduced by a bilious attack. Mr. Cargill, who was one of the first to champion the extension of the Intercolonial to the west as opposed to the Grand Trunk Pacific, spoke in the house today on the P. E. I. railway estimates. He concluded his remarks by telling a humorous story, and shortly after leaving the chamber took a weak turn. Medical attendance was promptly summoned, but in spite of the efforts of half a dozen physicians Cargill died at 10.30 after suffering intense agony.

The deceased was one of the oldest conservative members of the house. His demise marks the third death among the members of the commons since the session opened. The others were Hon. Donald Macpherson and P. R. MacInnes. Mr. Cargill decided some time ago to retire from politics at the conclusion of the present parliament.

DYKEMAN'S

A Great Mill End Sale of Wrappers.

771 of them. They did not arrive in time for the great mill end sale which we held last week, but they are here now, and they are just as big a bargain as if they had been here for the commencement of that great sale. Perhaps the proper term would be "Factory End Lot" instead of "Mill End Lot," but this matters little. The story is this: This wrapper factory had the lot on hand after their orders were all filled for the Fall trade. They accepted our spot cash offer for the lot, which meant about half what they had sold the goods for. About two-thirds of them are flannelette, wrapperette and Paris cashmere cloths—the balance consisting of heavy print wrappers. Prices will run from 50c. to $1.50. The 50c. are the regular $1.00 wrappers, while those at $1.50 are the regular $2.50 wrappers. These two prices will give you a fair indication of the difference in the regular and the mill end sale price of these wrappers. The quantity is quite large, but we would advise an early selection.

The sale will begin on Saturday morning, and will last until the wrappers are all sold.

POLICE COURT.

A Medley of International Drunks.
A Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Case.

Today was a busy day in police land. A strange medley of faces, representative of many nations, stood bowed down with shame before Judge Ritchie.

There was Edward McPartland, lying drunk on Union street, with a flask of liquor in his possession. The inner man was alcoholically supplied. The flask was for further potatoes—48 or two months hard labor, without the use of the flask, was written on the report sheet.

Dr. James Macnell was reported as drunk on Union street. Arrested by Officer Finley. The doctor denied such a report. It was certainly a case of Dr. Jekyll trying to get away from Mr. Hyde, but the court could not hide the doctor's indiscretion. The fine was $5 or two months with the hard labor gang.

Wm. Landers, of Bonnie old England, was again in the toils; the second time this week. Billy had nothing to say, excepting that he would like to have a drink. It will be nothing but aqua pura with Mr. Landers for the next two months, and they won't be full moons either.

Henry Hillman, drunk on Long wharf, 7 a. m. yesterday. Harry didn't remember. Officer Cavay, who made the arrest, had a good memory. Harry was troubled with fits. He pleaded hard for a chance to leave town, but was remanded for future disposal, taking along a bottle of medicine with which Dr. Christie had furnished him.

Richard O'Connor, 68 years of age, from the green little isle, was found lying and lurking in a vacant German street house. He said that he was a gardener, but it's now past season for his work. Richard would be himself again and walk to Halifax if let go. He got just one half hour to shake the soil of St. John off his feet. If he is caught again after this, his name will be Dennis instead of Richard.

The case against Byron Brownell, who was arrested by Officer Marshall for using profane language on Mill street yesterday afternoon, and of Stanley Harwood for interference in the arrest, was up before the court and is being further ventilated this afternoon.

AGED RESIDENT DEAD.

The death occurred between four and five o'clock this morning of Stephen N. Earle, aged seventy-three years. The deceased died at the home of his son, police officer George A. Earle, 147 King street (east).

The late Mr. Earle is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Hamilton, Duke street, and Mrs. D. M. Stephenson, of Woodstock. Officer G. A. Earle is the only son. There are also relatives on the west side and in Kingston, Kings county. Deceased was a native of Kingston, Kings county. His death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of relatives and friends.

THE VILLAGE FOOL.

That is the attraction tonight at the Opera House. While new to our city, it has been winning endless praise from the larger eastern cities where it has been seen. It is said to be unusually replete with comedy, while remarkably clean and pure in tone and sentiment and with a strong and intensely interesting story of heart interest that appeals to all classes. Very early return dates seem to be a feature with this company, which speaks volumes of the popularity of the play is receiving.

A VICTORY FOR COLDSTREAMS.

Craik British Band Captures St. John.

Enthusiastic Crowds Thrilled by Glorious Music Attended Both Concerts Yesterday.

The two concerts given by the Coldstream Guards' band in the Victoria Rink yesterday afternoon and evening sustained the claims made for Britain's greatest musical aggregation.

The concert given in the afternoon was well attended and enthusiastically received. The evening concert, however, proved the drawing card, the seating capacity of the huge rink being taxed to its utmost. The music-loving portion of St. John's population was present in force and the swells of applause that rose in the vast auditorium showed unmistakably the keen delight experienced.

Last night's audience was not, however, altogether of St. John people. Fredericton was well represented, as were many of the towns along the I. C. R.

The Coldstream band is a remarkable combination of well harmonized instruments whose working together is a revelation of symphonic union. In this band you hear nothing of that harsh brassiness which characterizes inferior bands. This is perhaps due in a measure to the quality of instruments used but is due in a still larger measure to the men who use them. They are all trained musicians whose mastery of their instruments has been acquired by a long and carefully directed tuition.

Last night's concert was indubitably a musical feast to those who heard it. The variations and embellishments of the different renderings were brought out with an easy and natural distinctiveness. Tonal variety was obtained without the smallest intrusion of a discordant note, and the insertion of vocal colorings in such pieces as the plantation sketch "Down by the Swane River" was effected without anything like a clash with the metallic notes of the instruments.

Miss Kathleen Howard, pretty and statuesque, won instant favor upon her appearance. She is a contralto of rich, imaginative voice that charms with irresistible insistence.

The opening number of last night's concert was Tschalkowsky's "Solenzelle 1812," an overture depicting Napoleon's retreat from Moscow. It was interpreted with all the required martial vigor, bringing out in clear contrast the varying national airs of Russia and France. The introduction of the "Joy Bells" of the Russian Church in the final "allegro" made a decided impression, and so rapturously was it received that the band was obliged to repeat it. It proved one of the most stirring musical pictures ever given in St. John and its rendering of last night was a musical achievement in itself.

The second number was a song concert solo "The Better Land," by Cowen, given by cornettist Hawkins and chorused by the whole band. In this the audience had an opportunity of listening to one instrument while being played along and of judging of the player's individual ability. The decision was unanimous in the Cornettist Hawkins' equal has seldom been heard here. An appreciative outburst of applause followed the rendition of this piece, and "The Lost Chord," was given as an encore. It was faultlessly rendered.

The plantation sketch "Down by the Swane River," by Myddleton, showed up the band's capabilities in light, rollicking music. The audience were noisily calling for an encore when the band went out and darkness offered a diversion. But England's talented bandmen were not in the least discomfited and struck up the lively movement of Sousa's March. The audience clapped appreciatively.

The grand fantasia "Die Walkure," by Wagner, was given with a grace and delicacy of refinement that closely held the listeners through to the finish. It was a wild and glorious work, and its weirdness of tone entranced the listener.

The fifth number was a song by Miss Kathleen Howard. With subtle persuasion she won her way to the hearts of her listeners and her rendition of the "Song of Thanksgiving" will not soon be forgotten. After its sweet cadences had died away the audience evinced its pleasure in an unmistakable way. Miss Howard returned and gave another of her deep-toned, soul-stirring renderings. Still the audience was not satisfied and clamorously called Miss Howard before them for the third time. But all they got was the most glorious of bows.

The characteristic piece "In a Clock Store," by Orth, was something altogether novel in the musical line. As an encore "The Irish Patrol" was played, and after that "The Turkish Patrol," depicting musically the characteristics of the Irishman and the Turk.

The closing number was a grand patriotic selection, giving the national airs of different countries. Those that threw the audience into a fit of enthusiasm were the Maple Leaf and Rule Britannia. Band Master Rogan bowed his thanks at the end of each number.

Two more concerts can be heard in St. John and lovers of the best music should not let the opportunity slip. It is the chance of a lifetime, and Canadians should not forget the King Edward by gracious permission has granted them, as a mark of courtesy, this particular privilege.

TYPHOID PREVALENT.

Typhoid fever is rather alarmingly prevalent in the city just now. About twenty cases are in the knowledge of the board of health, sixteen of which are in the hospital. In addition to these, there are many cases which have not been reported to the board of health, as the physicians, holding that typhoid is not contagious, believe such reports to be unnecessary. Probably in all there are about fifty cases.

The idea of some that the infection might be due to the water system is not well founded. Were this the case, the infection would be spread all over the city, while as it is, it is confined to a few localities. It is most prevalent around the lower end of Brunswick, St. Patrick and Erin streets, and is blamed by the physicians upon the insanitary conditions prevailing down there.
