

GRAIN GROWERS NEAR BREAKING OVER POLITICS

Scenes of Wildest Confusion Follow Charges of Duplicity from the Secretary of the Grain Growers' Association.

TROUBLE OUTCROP OF PARTY PLATFORM

Division of Feeling Comes Over Question of Placing Matter of Political Activities in Hands of Committee.

Saskatoon, Sask., Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press)—At noon today, eighteen hours after 3,000 members of the Grain Growers' Association, in convention here, had declared to place the whole question of the provincial political activities of the Organized Grain Growers in the hands of a committee of five, the association unanimously rescinded their previous action, accepted the absolute resignation of the committee from its duties, and passed the work over to the Central Board in conference with the board of women's section.

Wild Excitement

Amit a scene of excitement, the like of which has never been seen in any previous convention of the association in its history. J. B. Musselman, secretary, charged the association with being the cat's paw of a clique who were out to use the organization to further their own political ends, and warned them that their attitude was playing the association into a state of absolute chaos, the situation became so warm that President Hargrave had to warn the delegates that they were permitting themselves to do things against the wishes of the majority and were in danger of splitting the association into a thousand pieces.

Clique Wins

Despite an obvious attempt on the part of some to have the whole question reopened with a view to having another vote taken on the question of immediately entering the political field provincially, some of the delegates held the convention together and put through a motion that the formation of the provincial platform be left to the central board in consultation with the board of the women's section.

Immigrants For Canada Trouble U. S. Authorities

Must be Held at Ellis Island for Inspection—Canada Taking More Precautions Than Formerly in Admitting Them.

New York, Feb. 13.—Many immigrants are arriving daily in New York for Canada, and while it rests with the steamship companies to see to it that they get through to the border by rail, the United States authorities frequently find it necessary to make inspection and to delay suspects at Ellis Island. The expense of this inspection and of escorting the Canadian-bound immigrants to the border is borne by the steamship companies, a Canadian official here today said that Canada is taking more precaution since the war than before in the matter of excluding all undesirable aliens. Agents have been sent to European ports to educate the people there upon the qualifications required to pass into the Dominion, the aim being to halt undesirable before they buy their tickets.

In spite, however, of every precaution on the other side of the water, scores of immigrants arrive daily who fail to pass and deportations have been numerous since the inflow of immigration started up following the war. There are many deportations from Canada through New York. A trainload of undesirable arrived this week from Montreal, and Ellis Island officials were asked to see that these were placed on outgoing steamers safely.

French Deny Reports of Military Alliance With Serbian Gov't

Paris, Feb. 13.—Formal denial of the accounts, emanating from newspapers in Rome, of alleged negotiations between the Serbian and French Governments on the subject of a military alliance, was made by the French Cabinet today. After a meeting of the Ministers, presided over by M. L. Hottelard, the Minister of Justice, in the absence of Premier Millerand, the following official note was issued: "The documents published in certain Italian newspapers, concerning a pretended military alliance between France and Jugo-Slavia, are forged. No negotiations for such an agreement have been agreed on."

PRESIDENT WILSON ASKS FOR THE RESIGNATION OF SEC. OF STATE LANSING

Trouble, Brewing for Some Time, Culminated When Mr. Lansing Called Several Meetings of Cabinet During President's Illness.

USURPED POWERS OF PRESIDENT

Causing Chief Executive of the United States to Become Peeved and Demand An Explanation from Secretary.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Secretary Lansing has resigned, and President Wilson has accepted his resignation. The correspondence was given out tonight by the State Department.

Under Date of February 7, the President wrote to Secretary Lansing asking him whether it was true that, during the Presidential illness, Mr. Lansing had frequently called the heads of the Executive Departments into conference.

"If it is," wrote the President, "I feel it my duty to call your attention to considerations which I do not care to dwell upon until I learn from you, yourself, that this is the fact. Under our constitutional law and practice, as developed hitherto, no one but the President has the right to summon the heads of the Executive Departments into the conference, and no one but the President and the Congress has the right to ask the views of anyone of them, on any public question. I take this matter up with you, because in the development of every constitutional system custom and precedent are of the most serious consequence, and I think we will agree in desiring not to lead in any wrong direction. I have, therefore, taken the liberty of writing you to ask you a question, and I am sure you will be glad to answer."

Lansing Replies

Replying on February 9, Mr. Lansing wrote: "Shortly after you were taken ill in October, certain members of the Cabinet, of which I was one, felt that, in view of the fact that we were denied communication with you, it was wise for us to confer informally on inter-departmental matters, and matters as to which action could not be postponed until your medical advisers permitted you to pass upon them. Accordingly, I, as the ranking member, requested the members of the Cabinet to assemble for such informal conferences, and in view of the mutual benefit derived the practice was continued."

Wilson Peeved

"On February 11 the President put the issue straight up to the Secretary for Foreign Affairs. He said he found nothing in Mr. Lansing's letter to justify your assumption of Presidential authority in such a matter."

"I have to remind you, Mr. Secretary," went on Mr. Wilson, "that no action could be taken without me by the Cabinet, and, therefore, there could have been no disadvantage in awaiting my return. I felt, and have felt increasingly ever since, that you accepted my guidance and direction on questions with regard to which I had to instruct you only with increasing reluctance, and since my return to Washington I have been struck by the number of matters in which you have apparently tried to forestall my judgment by formulating action and merely asking my approval when it was impossible for me to form an independent judgment, because I had not had opportunity to examine the circumstances with any degree of independence. I, therefore, feel that I must frankly take advantage of your kind suggestion that if I should prefer to have another to conduct our foreign affairs you are ready to relieve me of any embarrassment by placing your resignation in my hands. I would give you present office up and afford me an opportunity to select my degree of independence. I have it, true, when I thought a case demanded immediate action advised you, in my opinion, what action should be taken, at the same time stating the reasons on which my opinion was based. This, I conceived to be a function of the Secretary of State, and I have followed the practice for the last four and a half years. I confess that I have been surprised and disappointed at the frequent disapproval of my suggestions, but I have never failed to follow your decision, however difficult it made the conduct of our Foreign Affairs."

The President's final letter, dated February 13, accepts the resignation with "best wishes."

Ashton By-Election Regarded As Vindication of The Government

London, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press)—The result of the Ashton by-election is hailed by the coalitionists as an entire vindication of the Government. The demobilized soldiers vote was against the Labor candidate because of trade union regulations denying them employment.

Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons on Tuesday made an outspoken reference to the matter and Sir Walter De Freese, the successful candidate, was supported by the demobilized soldiers throughout. The anti-Government papers point out that Sir Walter secured nearly 14,000 fewer votes than Sir Albert Stanley at the last election, and ascribe his success largely to the personal popularity which his wife, Yvonne Willet, the well known vaudeville artiste, enjoyed throughout the constituency.

PROPOSED SALE OF FORMER GERMAN SHIPS BY AMERICA STARTS LIVELY CONTROVERSY

William R. Hearst Takes Hand in the Game; Alleging Secret Agreement for Sale in Which English Interests Are to Secure the Tonnage—Injunction Issued Restraining Sale Advertised for Monday—Senators and Congressmen Worked up to Talking Pitch.

Washington, Feb. 13.—A concurrent resolution directing the Shipping Board not to sell the thirty former German liners, which the Board plans to dispose of at public auction here Monday, except through regular public bidding after three months' advertising, and then only if proper offers are received, was introduced today by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona.

The resolution was offered in the midst of a debate on the sale of the ships. Senator Ashurst declared that it was a fact that the Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation intended to sell the vessels to the International Mercantile Marine for $25,000,000. He said the vessels had a present value of $154,000,000, and a present value of $300,000,000.

Chairman Jones, of the Commerce Committee, presently and told the Senate that he had no idea that a story that the ships were to be sold to the International Mercantile Marine, under a secret understanding between the Board and British interests, was true.

Hearst's Charges. The report that the Shipping Board some one whose mind would more willingly go along with mine."

Lansing Comes Back Mr. Lansing, on the 12th, tendered his resignation and at the same time a statement, which, he said, he had "prepared recently." In part this statement was:

"Ever since January, 1919, I have been conscious of the fact that you no longer were disposed to welcome my advice in matters pertaining to the negotiations in Paris, to our Foreign Service, or to international affairs in general. Holding these views, would I had consulted my personal inclination alone, have resigned as Secretary of State and as a commissioner to negotiate peace."

Mr. Lansing contained: "I think, Mr. President, that I cannot permit to pass, unchallenged, the imputation that in calling this informal conference the heads of the executive departments I sought to usurp your presidential authority. I had no such intention. I believed, then, and I believe now, that the conferences which were held were for the best interests of your administration and of the Republic, and that belief was shared by others whom I consulted. I further believe that the conferences were proper and necessary under the circumstances, and that I would have been derelict in my duty if I had failed to act as I did."

"I also feel, Mr. President, that candor compels me to say that I cannot agree with your statement that I have tried to forestall your judgment in certain cases by formulating action and merely asking your approval when it was impossible for you to form an independent judgment, because you had not had opportunity to examine the circumstances with any degree of independence. I have it, true, when I thought a case demanded immediate action advised you, in my opinion, what action should be taken, at the same time stating the reasons on which my opinion was based. This, I conceived to be a function of the Secretary of State, and I have followed the practice for the last four and a half years. I confess that I have been surprised and disappointed at the frequent disapproval of my suggestions, but I have never failed to follow your decision, however difficult it made the conduct of our Foreign Affairs."

The President's final letter, dated February 13, accepts the resignation with "best wishes."

READY TO ADMIT SWITZERLAND TO NATIONS' LEAGUE

Switzerland's Admission to the League is Dependent Upon Referendum Confirming Certain Conditions.

SETTLE GERMAN COAL QUESTION

Decide Upon a List of Distinguished Men to Prepare Constitution for International Court.

London, Feb. 13.—The Council of the League of Nations concluded its session today. The next meeting of the Council was fixed for March 15 at Rome.

The Council agreed to admit Switzerland as an original member of the League of Nations, accepting the Swiss Government's conditions for maintaining Swiss neutrality and her refusal to participate in any military operations undertaken under the auspices of the League or to permit the passage of foreign troops through Swiss territory, but agreeing to participate in any pressure applied by the League, Switzerland's admission to the League, however, is dependent upon a Swiss referendum confirming these conditions.

The Council decided the vexing question of the delivery of coal by Germany, as provided in the Peace Treaty, to the Reparation Commission. It is expected that the Turkish situation will be discussed tomorrow.

The list of the distinguished men from various countries who have been invited to become members of the committee to prepare plans for the constitution of a permanent Court of International Justice was announced at this morning's session of the Council. The members named are: Lord Phillimore, of England, and Elihu Root, of the United States.

The Council appointed Sir Reginald Power, formerly British Minister to Argentina and Paraguay, as High Commissioner to the free city of Danzig. Sir Reginald received a temporary appointment to this post in October last.

Arthur J. Balfour, the British representative, who presided at the meeting, announced that a commission composed of five members of the Council would be instructed to examine a conference of the States Council to study international exchange and financial questions. Each member will be paid 100,000 francs yearly, the chairman receiving an extra 50,000 francs for entertaining.

Woodstock Fire Caused Loss Over Hundred Thousand

Destroyed One of Best Business Blocks in the City. Several Firms Out of Business—Firemen Injured.

Woodstock, N. B., Feb. 13.—The disastrous fire which hit this city at 1.45 this morning was the severest that has been recorded here in many years. Destroying one of the best business blocks in the city, entailing a loss of over $100,000 it delivered a blow that will require some time to fully recover from.

The destroyed building was made of brick and was supposed to be fire proof. It was owned by the estate of J. Albert Hayden and George W. Gibson, and includes the Hayden-Gibson theatre, operated by F. G. Spencer, St. John; the tailoring establishment of G. W. Gibson, the fruit store of P. Bradley, Jewellery establishment of J. J. Bradley, fancy goods department of Miss McDonough, drug store of Stephens Bros., as well as the Dent brick block, which was badly damaged.

During the progress of the fire three firemen, A. Niles, John Lenehan and John Brown, were hit by the falling wall and badly injured, the two former going seriously but not dangerously. Kenneth McLean, Sam Pichel, John Brough and John Brown, firemen, were in one group, but the window sill steered the falling walls past them and only Brown was injured. The night staff of the N. B. Telephone Co., in the adjoining building, was found at their post, surrounded by fire and smoke, when the local agent, V. E. Stone, came to their assistance, and their plucky efforts received much praise.

George W. Gibson had a total of about $15,000 in insurance; Stephens Bros., $16,000; including a $2,000 soda fountain installed the other day. Insurance on stock: Miss McDonough, $1,000 on stock; George Dent had only $1,000 insurance, loss $20,000. There were five streams on the buildings and an abundance of water. The town manager, R. F. Armstrong, ordered both pumps going, but one was sufficient to give the needed pressure.

Stubborn Fight Looked For In Development Of St. Lawrence Waterway

Principals in Campaign to Procure St. Lawrence Development Are Prairie Provinces of Canada, Fourteen Northwestern States, Northwestern Canadian Cities, and Port Interests on Great Lakes—Opposed Are New York State, Montreal, Eastern Railroads and Coal Interests of United States.

New York, N. Y., Feb. 13.—A stubborn fight between great opposing interests, involving a score of states, municipalities and railroad and mining corporations is promised before the International Joint Commission on Waterways over the proposed development of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Lake Ontario, it was learned when the Commission adjourned its sessions here tonight. It will again meet on March 1 in Buffalo for its first hearing on the project.

The big coal companies, selling to the executive power at its disposal in opposition to development of the tremendous unused water power along the St. Lawrence. With the estimated 2,000,000 horsepower at its disposal, Canada would be able to displace much of its present imports of fuel from the United States by the "white coal," or electric power generated along the St. Lawrence, it is claimed. The Commission decided today to draft a treaty for adoption by the United States and Canada, giving it the executive power to ask for and spend money appropriate to enforce its recommendations, of which year to insure against the pollution of international waters, particularly at Detroit and Buffalo.

The principal argument of the foes of development will be that the loss of its prestige as Canada's biggest inland Atlantic port.

U. N. B. STUDENTS ENTERTAINED THEIR FRIENDS FRI. EVE.

Over Three Hundred People Enjoyed the Hospitality of the Student Body.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 13.—Upwards of three hundred people attended the annual convalescence at the University of New Brunswick this evening. The principal social event of the college year.

Under the direction of Major Roland Barnes, M. C., as General Secretary, an efficient committee had been busy engaged in making preparations to have this the most successful "con" that has ever been held and the undergraduates, joyous over their hockey victory last night, put on the most elaborate function that has ever been held at N. U. B.

C. R. Townsend, president of the Students' Association; Ian MacLaren, president of the General Committee in charge of the function, and Miss Thurstott, vice-president, received the guests with wives of the members of the faculty, and dancing commenced at 6.30 o'clock. Bally's Orchestra of eight pieces played dancing program of 10 numbers, and there were three supper extras, Jazz features being on the program for the first time in the history of the famous social function.

The prisoner was taken to Yarmouth this afternoon.

In the County Court Judge's Criminal Court at Digby on Tuesday, Frank Comeau, of Bear Cove, Digby County, was arraigned on a charge of assault on Annie E. Comeau, occasioning bodily harm, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to a term of three years in St. Patrick's Home at Halifax.

LITTLE CAUSE FOR GENERAL ELECTION

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press)—The likelihood of a general Federal election during 1920 as indicated by the executive of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association in the call for the annual meeting to be held here next month, is discounted by several members of Parliament who have been in the capital from outside during the past few days. These are of the opinion that while the growth of the Farmer movement might lead to the Government of some of its Western supporters on such an issue as the tariff, these men would have nothing to gain by defeating the Government and thus forcing an election.

STEAMER WEBB AFIRE AT SEA

Was Bound from Philadelphia for New York.

New York, Feb. 13.—A wireless message from the United States Shipping Board steamer William Henry Webb, received here tonight stated that the steamer was on fire and in need of immediate assistance. The William Henry Webb reported early today that she was in trouble off Tucker's Beach, N. J., with a broken engine and boiler trouble.

The William Henry Webb, a freighter with a dead weight tonnage of 9,600, left Philadelphia yesterday for New York.

A wireless message from the burning ship, intercepted at the New York Navy Yard, said that if the flames were not under control by midnight the ship would be abandoned. Assistance is being rushed to the Webb.

Hungarian Delegation Objects To Mention of Hungarian Republic

Paris, Feb. 13.—In a long list of observations on the peace terms presented to Hungary, submitted yesterday to the Peace Conference by the Hungarian Peace delegation, it is remarked that the Treaty mentions "the Hungarian Republic," which, the delegation says, is premature, as the old monarchical constitution still exists. Counter proposals, claiming the retention of the historic boundaries of Hungary, are set forth in the observations. The delegation reserved the right to offer additional proposals within fifteen days.

MONT BLANC AND IMO CASE BEFORE PRIVY COUNCIL

London, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press)—Arguments have been proceeding throughout the week before the Privy Council in cross appeals concerning the collision of the whaler Imo with the steamer Mont Blanc, which resulted in the Halifax explosion in December 1917, and a counter claim of two million pounds sterling. The Nova Scotia Admiralty Court found the Mont Blanc alone blameworthy, but the Supreme Court held both vessels equally responsible. Arguments will be resumed on Monday.

DEATH RESULTED FROM NATURAL CAUSES

Montreal, Que., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Q. Constant, whose dead body was found in a St. Lawrence boulevard rooming house and who, the police thought, might have been a victim of foul play, was today reported by Dr. McTaggart,

COMMERCIAL CLUB GENERAL MEETING WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

Considerable Business Transacted—Reports from Committees Received—New St. John Hotel Plan Has Outside Capital in Lead—K. I. Smith the Speaker of the Evening

The general meeting of the Commercial Club was held in the G. W. V. rooms last evening. Progress was reported in the matter of securing a permanent secretary for the Club, and the executive stated that they hoped to have the right man on the job early next week.

T. M. Bell reported for the Boy Scout Committee. The reports of various committees were read. It was announced that plans for a new hotel for St. John had been submitted by a firm of Montreal architects. The final options had been secured on several desirable sites, and outside capital had practically promised to furnish the greater part of the capital needed to construct the hotel.

A matter connected with the Club's stand on the Juvenile Court was referred back to the committee. The report of the Industrial and Transportation Committee was adopted. The executive expressed themselves in favor of reserving the Club Room for members only. The resolution was adopted.

The executive proposed holding a delegate at the next meeting on "What Shall We Do With Our Harbor?" The proposition was adopted. The following names were proposed for membership and elected: C. P. Sanford, G. McA. Blizard, I. H. Northrup, W. E. Mully, Lawrence Mulken, Chas. O. Foss, R. C. Holt, R. M. Fowler, Thomas H. Bullock, A. O. Skinner, R. W. Heine, J. Ray Bell, Henry A. Menes, Lt.-Col. C. H. McLean, G. E. Hart, F. W. Hewison.

The president introduced the speaker of the evening, K. I. Smith, of the Water Power Branch of the Department of the Interior, who delivered a most interesting lecture on "The Liquid Assets of the Maritime Provinces."

Mr. Smith said that prior to 1914 no serious investigation had been made of the water powers of the Maritime Provinces. In the spring of that year

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation.

Thus everything that enters the stomach much like earthenware sores in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

It tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effecting and further, more, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and its made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE" These words of expression having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling womb, others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, saccharine, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles down in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organ, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually gives its merits, I hereby offer to send absolutely free, a box worth $50. sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Enclosed stamps, Mrs. Lydia W. Ladd, Windsor, Ont.

SHORT OF BREATH Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weak or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nervous system.

Mr. Stephen Cruise, East Clifford, N. S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work on the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Price six a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Diet Kitchen Kept Busy With Influenza Cases

The complete list of cases of influenza registered by the local board of health, totaled 166 last evening. Officials of the board also stated that some of the early cases had been discharged as cured.

A couple of dozen beds have been set up in the Emergency Hospital on St. James street, and the building will probably be opened to receive cases today, thus relieving the congestion in those homes which the disease has visited the most severely.

It was reported that the Diet Kitchen was kept busy attending to the wants of the sick and that three dietitians were being employed to aid in the nursing throughout the city.

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY

A colored woman was before the police court yesterday charged with attempted robbery. The woman, Ada Diamond, was charged by a man of having attempted to rob him in Bond's alley, off Paradise row, between ten and eleven o'clock Thursday night. The complainant said she accosted Great Difference in Cost. Think of the difference in cost between taking a professionally prescribed medicine and taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. You know that ordinary medicine is considerable. In times like these when everybody should be economical it is well worth saving.

Hood's Sarsaparilla affords the least expensive of all treatments for the common everyday diseases or ailments of the blood, stomach, liver or kidneys. Many physicians use the same substances as its ingredients for these diseases and ailments, but these substances are better compounded in the world's wonderfully successful, and highly recommended to those who would recover health and strength with the minimum necessary outlay.

His Honor stated that as the case was now in the hands of the King, it would have to proceed, and the accused were remanded to this morning at ten o'clock.

Two witnesses were heard in the Morris case yesterday afternoon. A woman witness said she was in the house one morning early in January when Dr. Broderick made a visit to the principal witness. As she had had previous experience as a nurse she was requested by the doctor to assist him in attending his patient. She said that there was evidence of a birth having occurred during the night. She did not see the patient afterward, as she was subsequently removed to the hospital.

SUFFERED WITH BOILS LAST 5 YEARS

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All this poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood, and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleaned and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barikway, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered very much during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

which the principal witness roomed, said that she and another girl rented rooms at his home on Dorchester street from him some time in December, which were occupied by them up to January 13th, about a week previous to that he heard the woman moaning in her room. After investigation he called in Dr. Broderick, who attended her. As she was in great pain, the doctor was there about fifteen minutes, and the hour was between 11 and 12 at night.

One of the girls asked him to come down to the witness about 3 o'clock the next morning, as she was sick. He did so, and then retired. He did not see the woman again, as she removed a few days later and her companion left shortly afterwards. The case was adjourned till Wednesday at two o'clock in the afternoon.

What Will You Do If The Farmer Goes on Strike?

In the troublous period since the signing of the armistice, labor in the United States has been involved in a series of strikes, capital "has shown a disposition to strike in the sense of not seeking investments that are essential to the country," and now the Post Office Department warns us the farmers threaten to strike. "The time is very near," says one letter to the Department, "when we farmers will have to curtail production and raise only what we need for our own use, and let the other fellows look out for themselves." I have just finished figuring up what the eggs, poultry and cream that I sold last year brought me, and I will not be in the business next year," says another. Because the price of what the farmers sells is going down and the price of what he buys is going up, he is looking, it seems, with envious and resentful eyes upon the city dweller who "works only six or eight hours a day and makes two or three times as much as the farmer," whose working day is "from twelve to sixteen hours."

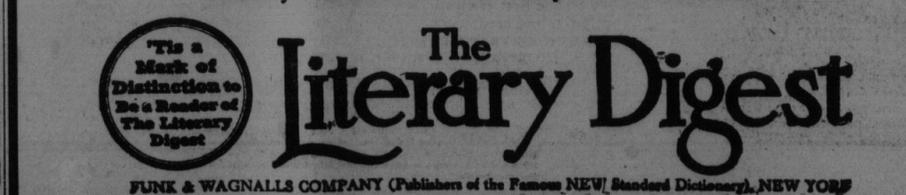

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, February 14th, presents the views of the leading farm journals upon the replies received from farmers by the Post Office Department to a questionnaire which it recently sent out to two hundred thousand agriculturists. There is information in this article that deeply concerns millions of city dwellers and the warning sounded is not to be lightly ignored.

Recommended More Money For Sleeping Car Porters

Conciliation Board, Appointed to Adjust Differences Between C. P. R. and Porters, Makes Report to Labor Dept.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press)—A majority report of the Board of Conciliation, which was appointed by the Minister of Labor to investigate the dispute between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its sleeping car porters, has been received at the Labor Department. It bears the signatures of Judge Coling Snyder, chairman of the Board, and of U. E. Gilman, who represented the Railway Company. A minority report, setting forth the views of Fred Bancroft, who represented the employees, is expected at the department, but has not yet been received.

The Board states that, though no specific reason was given for the discharge of the men, it is not prepared to recommend that the railway company should at all times refrain from acting on the terms of contract. A schedule of rules and wages is appended to the report, which recommends increases for the employees, but not approaching their demands, which included a minimum rate of $150 per month and an eight hour day for the majority of porters. The schedule recommends that sleeping and tourist porters should be paid $16 a month for the first year of employment, $20 for the second year and $25 for the third year and after. A monthly wage of $22.50 is recommended for observation, compartment and buffet sleeping car porters. It is recommended that the schedule shall go into force as from December 16 last year.

The rules provide for the subdivision of the Canadian Pacific Railway Sleeping Car Department into a number of districts, for convenience in executing the regulations suggested. They provide for the institution of seniority lists. Men with dependents should be given preference of employment, seniority and efficiency governing.

HOSPITAL INMATES WERE ENTERTAINED

On Wednesday evening the inmates of the Provincial Hospital were given a treat in the form of a well organized concert, with some of the leading city talents taking part. Many like entertainments have been held in this institution before but none so applauded to the patients and attendants as the one held on Wednesday night. Much credit is due to Charles Tilley of the Customs House staff who was successful in arranging a well varied programme. The participants themselves who were so kind in rendering their services are worthy of the highest praise for this charitable act. The following is the programme which was carried out:

Vocal selections rendered by the following:—Miss K. Gallivan, Miss V. Roberts and Messrs. Lamon, G. Davidson, Fred Joyce, J. Kellner and A. Smith. Probably the outstanding feature of the evening was the one act playlette which lasted about thirty-five minutes, staged by the members of the St. John's Dramatic Club under the personal direction of J. J. O'Toole, the veteran director of this organization of amateurs. Not only a large amount of credit is due to Mr. O'Toole but also to the cast who put the playlette through in a most efficient manner in spite of the short time which they had for the rehearsal of this production. The following are the members of the cast who took part: Miss Alma O'Toole and Agnes Melloy, Messrs. J. J. O'Toole, Jas. G. Hennessy and Joseph McGeehan.

At the conclusion of the enjoyable entertainment those participating were tendered a most delicious spread by the nursing staff of the institution.

EXPRESS TRAIN HAD HARD TIME "BUCKING" SNOW

Required Three Weeks to Make a Run Usually Completed in Twenty-Nine Hours.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 13.—An express train on the Red Newfoundland Railway, a narrow gauge line, has arrived here after being three weeks on the way across the Island from Port Au Basques. The train was scheduled to make the 646 miles run in twenty-nine hours. Several storms were encountered and it was snowed-in frequently. Passengers reported that at some exposed points the snow drifted to a height of twenty feet. They were on scanty rations much of the time, with fish as the principal food.

Believe That Old Humbug Uric Acid! Being the Cause of Rheumatism—It's Not So!

Scientifically asserting that rheumatism sufferers have into taking wrong treatment: old and false belief that "uric acid" causes rheumatism, Professor Reed says: "Some of our highest medical authorities now know that Uric acid does not cause rheumatism, but it is a result of it. The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" made it all clear to me. I am now free from pain and misery I endured years. I believe I was the first man in the world to convert to discard the old 'Uric Acid' and what I now know to be false, for the new, scientific finding of the cause and cure of rheumatism, was like asking me to give up my religious beliefs! But I did and it was a fortunate day for me when I did so."

Announcing Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea

During our twenty-five years in business, Canada has made wonderful progress in education, refinement and wealth.

The scale of living and the tastes of the people are more luxurious than a quarter of a century ago.

Realizing this we have decided that—in addition to our well-known standard brands of Red Rose Tea, the sales of which are increasing faster than ever before—the time is opportune to introduce a tea of extra quality. It is an Orange Pekoe Tea of very fine quality under the popular Red Rose brand, and called Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea—a special tea of extra quality for people who are willing to pay a little extra price.

To ensure the quality and success of this new tea we have concentrated on it all the resources, the experience and the advantages possessed by our big organization.

The Orange Pekoe Teas we use are selected with a knowledge born of long experience in buying teas abroad.

Red Rose Orange Pekoes are grown on the best plantations;—from tested seed;—on carefully cultivated soil;—at a high elevation (mountain grown teas are very superior to low-land teas.)

They are gathered at the time of the year when the flavor is most fully developed in the leaves.

The manufacture and final preparation are carefully and skilfully done.

When brewed, Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea has all the characteristics of fine quality tea.

It has a bright, sparkling amber color in the cup.

The aroma is delicate and delightful.

After the liquid is poured off, the leaves in the pot are a greenish copper color.

The flavor is of rare charm and distinction. The more cultivated your taste the more you will appreciate it.

The strength is rich, satisfying and invigorating.

Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea is sold only in our sealed waxed board cartons which fully protect its fine quality.

Ask for it by the full name: Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea. The words "Orange Pekoe" are in orange on our new waxed board cartons.

Our well-known Red Rose package, the sale of which is increasing faster than ever before. Red Rose consists chiefly of Assam teas, the richest and strongest in the world and therefore very economical. (The Red Rose Orange Pekoe package is a little different in design.)

T. H. ESTABROOKS COMPANY, LIMITED

St. John, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, St. John's, Nfld., and Portland, Maine.

To Grocers: Our travellers are on the road taking orders for the NEW tea. If our traveller hasn't reached you, better phone or mail an order immediately to our nearest office. There is sure to be a considerable demand at once for this fine quality tea.

THE BOLSHEVIST MENACE.

Lloyd George hopes that by opening trade with Russia, the turbulent Bolshevik will settle down, go to work, and abandon their dream of world conquest. The Allies in their dealings with Bolshevism have so far seen most of their plans miscarry. Since the outbreak of the war, the Allies have been unable to settle down, go to work, and abandon their dream of world conquest. The Allies in their dealings with Bolshevism have so far seen most of their plans miscarry. Since the outbreak of the war, the Allies have been unable to settle down, go to work, and abandon their dream of world conquest.

The relative backwardness of rural development as compared with the increase in the number of consumers in the cities demanding food. As a general statement of a world condition there is something in this. In Europe the war has certainly decreased farm production; but it has been the boss of Canada and the United States that as a result of the war the production of foodstuffs has increased. In any case the records show that the chief increase in Canada's foreign trade has been due to the export of foodstuffs. Among the causes of the high price of foodstuffs the foreign demand has figured largely, while in some cases, if we may judge from the spread of prices between the producer and consumer, a poor system of distribution has been another cause; and neither of these are influenced by tariffs.

It is not likely the leaders of the Bolshevik will show any particular enthusiasm for the offer of peaceful trade made by the Allies, for they have recently captured coal, oil and grain lands in old Russia which will go far to enable them to carry on without regard to a blockade. Lenin and Trotsky are fanatics; they are more concerned to carry their blood and iron gospel against capitalist powers than to establish peace—well knowing that the Russian experiment will not by example make converts to Bolshevism. If the world has a chance to see it in operation under the conditions of peace. These adventurers now control the largest armed forces in Europe; and they will doubtless be tempted to try to exploit the unstable political situations in Hungary, Austria and Germany. Their recent offer of peace to Poland may be only intended to lull that country into a false sense of security. If they were able to launch considerable armies westward, they might start all kinds of trouble. Bolshevism has already raised its head in Roumania. Very little would inaugurate another Communist uprising in Hungary. Austria is on the verge of collapse. Even in Poland there appears to be large numbers of oppressed Jews who might become ready converts to Bolshevism. As for Germany, nobody believes the present Government can long survive, and it is freely predicted that its fall may lead to a disastrous civil war.

But there are considerations which militate against the likelihood of the Russian Bolsheviks carrying their war into Central Europe. Their power has been mainly due, it would appear, to their ability to persuade the Russian peasantry that they were fighting for their lands. With the old regime shattered, and foreign powers offering peace instead of the sword, the Russian peasantry will want to enter into possession of the lands they have conquered from their former masters. Lenin and Trotsky will have difficulty persuading them to embark upon foreign adventures, more especially as Central Europe will hardly be worth looting. Such armies as they can keep up Lenin and Trotsky may need to maintain their dictatorship in Russia.

MR. KING'S INCONSISTENCIES.

At Ottawa Hon. Mr. King said: "Anything artificial at present restricting the supply of the principal foods should be immediately removed. This brings us inevitably to a consideration of the tariff." And he went on to express his conviction that the tariff can be so reformed as to reduce the cost of living.

Great Britain is supposed to have free trade in most foodstuffs, as well as manufactures, but is nevertheless troubled by high cost of living. To attribute the high price of foodstuffs in Canada to the tariff is a far-fetched proceeding, when Canada is a great exporter of foodstuffs. If the few duties on foodstuffs from the United States were removed we would at present still have to pay a premium of 16 per cent. or more, and in any case the hope held out to the farmer by the free traders is that he would be able to get higher prices in the United States than in Canada. And if the argument addressed to the farmer has any force it is difficult to see how a stronger market abroad will enable the Canadian consumer to secure foodstuffs at lower prices.

Mr. King is apparently not convinced by his own arguments as to the reform of the tariff. At any rate he shifts his ground and tells us that the cause of the high cost of living lies in

New York would be considerable, he said, and might influence shipments by the Pacific route. He added, however, that routing traffic destined for Europe through Vancouver would depend on conditions with which the C. P. R. was not concerned.

IS THE MODEL FARMER IN NEW BRUNSWICK ATTENDING TO HIS JOB OR MAKING A NOISE IN FREDERICTON?

The Times suggests that The Standard has been hard on the Provincial Ministers in pointing out that they have not been attending to their duties as they should have done. It points out that Mr. Tweeddale has been practically living in Fredericton. We believe Hon. Mr. Tweeddale is a better farmer than The Times supposes. The only trouble is how Hon. Mr. Tweeddale is going to square accounts with Hon. Mr. King's speech at Ottawa, in which he practically accused the farmers and their sons of neglecting their duties and being a party to high prices.

According to the Paris Press, Lloyd George on one of his visits informed Clemenceau that His Majesty's Government would like to express its thanks to Marshal Foch, Commander-in-Chief of the Allied Armies, by making him a gift equal to that voted to Lord Haig—£100,000. Clemenceau refused the offer on the ground that it was not the custom of France to honor victorious generals in that way.

Influenza is ravaging Japan. In Tokio there were 200,000 cases in one month, and nearly 2,000 deaths in one day. While the doctors there say the flu is of a milder type, it is much more infectious. Everybody is reported to be using serums and masks.

Some people take the view that the great problem at present is the exchange situation. Our manufacturers who import raw material from the United States (free of duty) now have to pay a high premium, and doubtless this is greatly retarding the development of manufacturing. Reducing the tariff will not enable the manufacturers to secure raw materials without paying a premium to the United States. Business authorities of equal weight with the Opposition Leader have said that the solution of the exchange problem lies in making Canada as self-contained a country as possible by the development of new arid industries, and new industries will at any rate require protection from the competition of the mammoth organizations of the United States.

THE HARBOR MATTER.

Members of the delegation who recently visited Ottawa on the harbor matter did not gather the impression that the only votes for St. John this year would be in connection with the works at Conception Bay. The delegation insisted strongly that steps should be taken to extend the Negro Point breakwater to Partridge Island. They were told by the Ministers that it would be the general policy of the Government not to embark upon new programmes of public works until projects underway had been completed. But the Ministers gave the delegation to understand that they considered the extension of the Negro Point breakwater an old project, inasmuch as some time previously tenders for the work had been called for. Further, the Ministers said they recognized the urgency of extending the breakwater, if only for the reason of making the newest Government pier available for shipping in any condition of wind and weather. While the Ministers gave no definite promise, some members of the St. John delegation brought back the impression that provision would be made for the extension of the breakwater as soon as possible.

As regards the construction of new piers on the West Side, the Minister of Marine appears to have told the delegation that until the question of whether the harbor was to be turned over to a Government Commission was settled his interest in the provision of further facilities on the West Side would be lukewarm. This may be an unfortunate attitude, inasmuch as it is not the interests of St. John alone but of the whole winter trade of Canada that are concerned. Apparently a strenuous effort will have to be made to break the deadlock and induce the Government to proceed with the provision of more berths on the West Side.

A NEW RIVAL OF ST. JOHN.

The Vancouver Harbor Commission has been granted $5,000,000 to inaugurate a new programme of harbor building this month. It is said that the Government in this case is simply fulfilling an old promise, and that there is no violation of its ruling not to start new public works. As the C. P. R. has just let a contract for a new pier at Vancouver, developments there will bear watching, as it is the ambition of Vancouver to become a rival of St. John in the matter of handling grain from the prairies for shipment to Europe. President Beatty during his recent visit to the West said there was nothing to prevent a considerable movement of western grain through Vancouver, and via the Panama Canal to Europe. If ocean tonnage upon the Pacific was provided in quantities sufficiently large to take care of shipments, the advantage of rates via Vancouver from the prairies over the rates to St. John, Halifax and

Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

My sister Gladdis came home this afternoon with a little white paper bag the shape of a candy bag, me seeing her come in with it and saying, Wats you got in the bag, Gladdis? Carmels, but there are only 3 left, so theres no use asking, sed Gladdis. Aw gosh, G, aw Gladdis, jest give me one, wats one out of 37 I sed.

Theres no use carrying on about it, you herd wat I sed, sed Gladdis. And she started to go up stairs, me saying, Well jest give me a half of one, then, I can chew a half a one as long as most people can chew a hole one. Dont talk nonsense, sed Gladdis. And she keep on going up, me calling after her, Wy is it nonsense? If you know so much, I bet you if you give me a half a peccol till as long to eat it as wat you take with the other 2 and a half peccos, do you want to try it?

Dont make so much noise, Gladdis called down. Aw go to the dickins, I called up. Wich jest then ma came out of the dining room, saying, Benny, stop that, wat kind of langwidge is that?

Wy, dickins aint swearing, is it, ma? I sed, and ma sed, Its practically the same as swearing, and I sed, Well how about Charles Dickins, its all rite to say Charles Dickins, aint it, ma?

Serteny, dont be foolish, sed ma. And I quick yelled up stairs, Gladdis, Gladdis, Gladdis, Wich after I had yelled it about 20 times Gladdis called down, For hevrin sake, sed that hully-balloo, wat do you want? Go to the Charles Dickins, I yelled, and quick run out before she had time to call anything back.

BOYS' CLUB HELD ENTERTAINMENT

The Jazz Boys of the S.S. Metagama Rendered Program Last Night That Made Local Youngsters Sit up and Take Notice.

A night of wonderful interest to the members of the Boys' Club and their friends occurred last night when the Jazz Band of the S. S. Metagama favored them with popular and classical selections in the Hall, Victoria Bank. The costumes worn were most attractive. The Sultan of Turkey was there, the Vampire with her long earrings, the beautiful Red Cross Nurse with her white cap, the Canadian soldier with his steel helmet, which served as a cymbal when the score called for that instrument.

The clown played a deep sounding drum, made out of a large cheese box with heavy plates, and in the centre of the platform was a magnificent Spanish Troubadour, looking every inch his part. The Frenchman made eyes, and Charlie Chaplin's cap, never forgetting to tip his hat when he felt all eyes were upon him. The Society Girl was charming except for the fact that her feet were not quite the models of beauty and daintiness praised by poets. The Director, Charles Olden who made up to impersonate a famous musical genius, knew how to draw sweet music from his violin. The possibilities of charm from such crude instruments as the mouth organ, sleigh bells and cymbals was only belittled by those who heard them. The imitation of bag pipes was especially fine and in fact every minute was enjoyed by those present. The songs were well rendered, the audience joining in the best known refrains. The programme included songs by Messrs. McCartney, A. Deane, Beards, Doran, Middleton and Thomas. A violin and banjo duet by Messrs. Olden and Collins, dance by P. Langdon and selections by the band of twenty-five members. The club are greatly indebted to Captain A. J. Mulcahy, the president, for making arrangements for this delightful concert and to the Metagama Jazz Band for giving it.

THE DOMINION LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

The Annual Report of the Dominion Life Assurance Company, published elsewhere in this issue, reveals the remarkable fact that its ratio of actual to expected mortality was only 33 p. c. A saving of 62 p. c. of the mortality provided for in its premiums, will mean very large additions to the surplus funds of this popular Canadian Company. Another remarkable feature of the Report is the great increase in its new business, the policies issued and received exceeding those of the previous year by 87 p. c. The interest rate was again high—7.4 p. c. Expenses were light in view of the large amount of business added. Reserves, from $3,569,391.00 to $4,497,788.00. Taken altogether the Report gives evidence of 1919 having been one of the best years in the history of the Dominion Life.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Maria T. Nobles. The death took place at Ottawa, Ont., on the 12th inst., of Mrs. Maria T. Nobles, widow of Israel Nobles, Hatfield's Point, at the advanced age of 81 years. Mrs. Nobles died at the house of her daughter, Mrs. A. Foster, from pneumonia. Five sons also survive, D. L. and W. F. St. John, J. W. Toronto; W. E. Edmundston, Alta. and Whitfield, Honolulu. The remains will be brought to St. John for interment, the funeral to take place today on arrival of the Montreal train.

Mrs. Hugh McNulty.

Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, of 7 Mill street, yesterday received the sad news of the death of her cousin, Mrs. Hugh McNulty, of Boston, which occurred after a week's illness with pneumonia. Mrs. McNulty was a daughter of the late James and Mary Gallagher of this city, and had been residing in Boston for the last thirty years. She is survived by her husband, four sons, Joseph, Eugene, William and Alphonso, and one daughter, Mary, all of Boston. One sister, Mrs. McCarthy, and two brothers, James and Hugh Gallagher, also reside in Boston. Many friends in St. John will regret to hear of Mrs. McNulty's death.

Mrs. H. G. Wood.

Following a brief illness of pneumonia, the death occurred, early yesterday morning, at her apartments, Germain street, of Mrs. Alice Armstrong, wife of Major Harold G. Wood. The death of Mrs. Wood comes as a shock, not only to her husband and relatives, but also to her wide circle of friends in the city. She was a daughter of A. M. Rowan, Main street, and was married in England to Major Wood in the spring of last year. She went overseas as a nurse and later was married to Major Wood, who was in command of the 13th Reserve Force at Ripon Camp, England. Both Major and Mrs. Wood are well known in the city and the sorrowing husband will have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. Besides her husband and father she is survived by her stepmother and the following stepchildren: Mrs. J. B. Blaine, Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. E. G. Knowlton, St. John; Mrs. Harold McMurray and Nursing Sister Elsie Hatheway, of Military Hospital, Fredericton. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, from her father's residence, 333 Main street.

He Could Hardly Walk To His Work

TILL HE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Now Stating That He is Completely Cured, John Richard Recommends All Sufferers from Rheumatism to Use the Dodd's Remedies. Ringwood, Ont., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—After being crippled with Rheumatism so that he could hardly walk to his work, Mr. John Richard, a well-known resident of this place, says he is again as well as ever he was in his life. He states that the credit for his cure goes to Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. "I suffered greatly from Rheumatism and Lamboago," Mr. Richard says, "in telling his story. 'I had cramps in my muscles and aches before my eyes. 'I was so bad with Rheumatism I could hardly walk to my work. 'I took six boxes each of Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and they cured me completely. 'I recommend Dodd's remedies to all who suffer.'"

FUNERALS

The funeral of Saul W. Scribner took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 3 Leinster street. Rev. D. J. MacPherson officiated and interment was in Fernhill. Burial of Mrs. Annie Arbing was made yesterday afternoon in Cedar Hill. The funeral took place from her late home, 683 Main street, with services by Rev. Nell McLaughlin.

LOCAL WOMAN COULDN'T SLEEP

To those who are troubled from causes associated with the liver, the experience of a St. John woman, Mrs. Maud Blizard, Erin street, should be of much value. If they follow her advice they will become as ardent believers in the curative powers of

"Liv-rite Tonic" as she apparently has, for she recommends it to any who are finding their system run down, who are suffering from blood impurities, dizziness, gaseous stomach, and general feeling of weariness or listlessness. "I had tried different medicines before I began to use 'Liv-rite,'" Mrs. Blizard writes. "None of them seemed to do me the slightest good. I might find relief for a day or so, but always my trouble would come back upon me. But now I feel I am safe in saying I have been cured, and I can thank 'Liv-rite' for it. I was unable to sleep, I found my appetite failing me—much of what I ate did not agree with me. Occasionally I would have dizzy spells. I began to lose weight. This went on for some months. I read in the paper about a local man who was troubled in this way and who has used 'Liv-rite,' so I thought I would do the same. I am certainly very happy that I did so, for today I can hardly recognize myself as the same woman, there is such an improvement in my health. You may use this letter if it will be any good to others who are troubled the same as I was."

MARKET REPORTS STOCKS, BONDS AND PRODUCE

SPIRITED RALLY FOLLOWED DULL MARKET OPENING Given Impetus by Easier Rate on Call Loans and Stronger Foreign Exchange Situation

New York, Feb. 13.—Stocks were subjected to additional price movements in the first half of today's very unsettled market, but rallied spiritedly later when demand loans eased to 8 1/2 per cent and foreign exchange displayed increased firmness. It was generally assumed that the further break of the morning resulted primarily from selling orders received in large volume from out of town over the holiday. Offerings of this character were more obvious than at any recent period and proceeded from greater apprehension respecting the railway brethren's stocks. Equipments and Motors also made up the greater part if not all of their losses the extent of their rebound ranging from 2 to 12 points.

Sugar, Quebec Railway and Spanish River in the One Thousand Class.

Montreal, Feb. 12.—In today's market on the local stock exchange three issues were in the thousand share class, Sugar, Quebec Railway and Spanish River Common. Sugar headed the list, opening at 87 1/2. It advanced to 89 1/2, and closed at 89 1/2, a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Quebec Railway opened at 28 1/2 and sold to 29 1/2, with close at 29 1/2, a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Spanish River dropped off from the opening 82 1/2 to 80 then rallied to 84 and closed at 83 1/2, a net gain of 1 1/2 points.

POUND STERLING LEAPING FORWARD

New York, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Demand bills on the English pound sterling were quoted just before the close of the market today at $3.41 1/2, a new high record for the present upward movement. They were quoted as low as $3.18 last week.

PRICES UP ON MID DAY RALLY

(Furnished by McDougall & Cowans) New York, Feb. 13.—The midday rally continued into the afternoon and carried prices generally above Wednesday's close. Stocks which were weakest in the morning broke naturally recovered the most in the covering movement. Even Crucible got above the previous close, recovering a dozen points from the day's low. Rails recovered with the industrials. U. S. Steel came back nearly three points from the day's low. It was perhaps the most rapid and vigorous recovery since the recent declining movement started and its very rapidity argued against it as the beginning of any extended upward movement.

TAM O' THE SCOTS

By EDGAR WALLACE

THE MAN BEHIND THE CIRCUS

There comes to every great artist a moment when a sense of the fullness of his efforts weighs upon and well-nigh crushes him. Such an oppressive moment was the reaction which followed the performance of the "The Psychologist" which, perhaps, fails to explain why this sense of emptiness so often comes before a great achievement, and why a great artist is never again the same after a great success.

"Man, A've never wanted so badly to look into Lillie's till now."

Undoubtedly there was something to hide. Young Turpin, venturing where Tam had nearly trod, was shot down by gunfire and taken prisoner. Missel, a good flyer, was outwitted by three opponents and slid home with a dead observer, limp and smiling in the fuselage.

"Tomorrow at daybreak, look for Tam amongst the stars," said that worthy young man, as he backed out of Blackie's office, "the disgusting civility of the Moon has aroused the fighting spirit of the dead-and-gone Mac-Tavishes. Every fiber in my body, including my suspenders, is tense with rage and honor."

"A cigar, Tam?"

"No, thank ye, sir," said Tam, waving aside the proffered case and extracting two cigars in one motion. "Well, perhaps A'd better. A've run out o' seggars, an' the thousand A' ordered frae ma Glasca factor has been sunk by enemy action—this is no' a bad seggar, Captain Blackie, sir. It's a verra passable smoke an' no' dear at fourpence."

"That cigar costs eight pounds a hundred," said Blackie, nettled.

"Ye'll end year days in the purgatory o' the next morning and to his amusement no particular resistance was offered. He was challenged heartily by a solitary machine, he was banged at by A-A guns, but encountered nothing of that intensity of fire which met him on his earlier visit."

And Lillie was the Lillie he knew; the three crooked boulevards, the jumble of small streets, and open space before the railway station. There was no evidence of any unusual happening—no extraordinary collection of rolling stock in the tangled streets, no gatherings of troops in the outskirts of the town.

Tam was puzzled and pushed eastward. He pursued his investigations as far as Roubaix, then swept southward toward Douai. Here he came against exactly the same kind of resistance which he had found on his first visit to Lille. There were three circles of fighting machines, the strengthened Archie batteries, the same furious eagerness to attack.

Tam went home followed by three swift fighters. He led them to within gliding distance of the Allied lines; then he turned, and this time his guns were his. He crashed one and forced one down. The third went home and told Fritz all about it.

"It's verra curious," said Tam, and Blackie agreed.

Tam went out again the following morning—but this time not alone. Six fighting machines, with Blackie leading, headed for Douai in battle formation. At Douai they met no resistance—the aerial concentration had vanished and, save for the conventional defenses, there was nothing to prevent their appearance over the town. That same afternoon Captain Sutton, R. F. C., looking for an interest in life over Menin, found it. He came back with his fuselage to chips and wet through from a smashed radiator.

"So far as I can discover," he said, "all the circuses are hovering about Menin. Von Bissing's is there and von Rheinhold's, and I could almost swear I saw von Wentz's red scouts."

"Did you get over the town?"

Sutton laughed. "I was a happy man when I reached our lines," he said. "Maybe they're trying out some new stunt," said Blackie. "Probably it is a plan of defense—a sort of divisional training—I'll send a report to G. H. Q. I don't like this concentration of circuses in our neighborhood."

Now a "circus" is a strong squadron of German airplanes attached to no particular army, but employed on those sectors where its activities will be of most value at a critical time; and its appearance is invariably a cause for rejoicing among all red-blooded adventurers.

Two days after Blackie had made his report, von Bissing's World-famous Circus was giving a performance, and on this occasion was under royal and imperial patronage.

For, drawn up by the side of the snowy-road, some miles in the rear of the line were six big motor-cars, and on a high bank near to the road was a small group of staff officers muffled from chin to heels in long gray overcoats, chubbily belted at the waist.

Aloof from the group was a man of medium height, stoutly built and worn of face, whose expression was one of eager impatience. The face, caricatured a hundred thousand times, was hawklike, the eyes bright and searching, the chin out-thrust. He had a nervous trick of jerking his head sideways as though he were eavesdropping, suffering from a crick in the neck.

Now and again he raised his glasses to watch the leader as he controlled the evolutions of the twenty-five air-and seriously he viewed the lonely watcher, then:

"General," he said hastily, "it is advisable that his Majesty should go."

"Huh?"

"I can not distinguish the machine, but it looks suspicious."

"Whooom! Whooom!"

A field away two great brown geyser of earth leaped up into the air and two deafening explosions set the bare branches of the trees swaying.

Down the bank scrambled the distinguished party and in a few seconds the cars were streaking homeward.

The circus was now climbing desperately, but the watcher on high had a big margin of safety.

"Whooom?"

machine canted all the time at an angle of forty-five degrees, and lighted gently on the even surface of the field a quarter of an hour after he had crossed the line.

He descended to the ground stiff and numb, and Bertram yanked across from his own machine to make inquiries.

"Parky, Tam?"

"It's no' so parky, Mr. Bertram, sir," replied Tam cautiously.

"Roc Tam," said that youthful officer. "Why, your nose is bite!"

"Aweel," admitted Tam. "But that's no' cold, that's—will ye look at ma altitude record?"

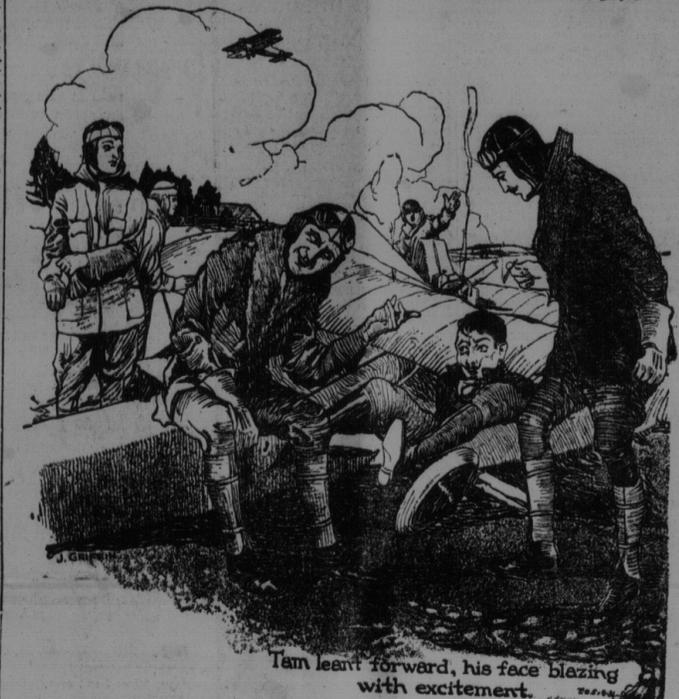

The young man climbed into the fuselage, looked and gasped.

and worked at McArdie's Shipbuilding Yard.

Thus:

Left aerodrome 8 A. M. . . . . 5
Enemy patrols encountered . . . . . 4
Ditto ditto chased . . . . . 4
Ditto ditto forced down . . . . . 2
Bombs dropped on Verrier Sta. 5
A. C. & Co.

Fortunately Tam possessed a romantic and a poetical soul, and there were rare occasions when he would offer lyrical accounts of his adventures containing more color and detail. As, for example, his account of his fight with Lieutenant Prince Zwart-Hamelyn:

"Oh, wad some power the gifte gie us Tae see oursel's as lither see us." Thus spake a high an' princely Hun As he fired at Tam wi' his Maxim gun. Thinkin', na doot, that bonnie lad Was lookin', if no' feelin', bad. But Tam he stalled his wee machine An' strafit young Zwart-Hamelyn.

It was Blackie who harnessed Tam's genius for description to the pencil of a stenographer, and thereafter, when a long report was needed by Headquarters, there would appear at Tam's quarters one Corporal Alexander Brown, Blackie's secretary, and an amiable cockney who wrote mystic characters in a notebook with great rapidity.

"It ye, Alec?" said Tam, suspending his observations to open the door of his "bun." "Come away in, man. Is it a report ye want? Sit down on the bed an' help yerseel' to the seggars. Ye'll find the whisky in the decanter." Corporal Brown sat on the bed because he knew it was there. He dived into his pocket and produced a book, a pencil and a cigarette, because he knew they had existence, too. He did not attempt to search for cigars and the whisky because he had been fooled before, and had on two separate occasions searched the bunk for these delicacies under the unsmiling eyes of Tam and aided by Tam's advice, only to find in the end that Tam was as anxious to discover such treasures as the baffled corporal himself.

"We will no proceed with the thriller's serial," said Tam, spreading his towel on the window-ledge and rolling down his shirt-sleeves. "Are ye ready, Alec?"

"Art a mo', Sergeant—have ye got a match?"

"Man, ye're a cadger of the most appalling description," said Tam severely. "A'm lookin' forwad to the day when it'll be a court-martial offense to ask yer superior officer for matches—here's one. Don't strike it till ye give me one o' yer common cigarettes."

The corporal produced a packet.

"All ask ye as a favor no't to let the men know A've descended to this low an' vulgar habit," said Tam. "All take here's one. Don't strike it till ye give me one o' yer common cigarettes."

The corporal produced a packet.

"All ask ye as a favor no't to let the men know A've descended to this low an' vulgar habit," said Tam. "All take here's one. Don't strike it till ye give me one o' yer common cigarettes."

their Great Feast of Balanclan' an' Bare-backed Riddin', Aerial Trapes an' Tight-rope Walkin', Loopin' the Loop by the death-defyin' Brothers Frits, together with many laughable an' amusing Interludes by Whimsical Walker, the Latest o' Laughter, the whole concluded with a Grand Patriotic Procession entitled Deutschland over All—or Nearly All."

"I ain't seen a circus for years," said the corporal with a sigh. "Lord, I used to love them girls in short skirts—"

"Restrain yer amorous thochts, Alec," warned Tam, "an' fix yer mind on leaterature. To proceed."

"Can it be," says our hero, 'can it be that Mr. McBlissing is doin' his stunts at ten-thirty o' clock in the cauld morn, for sheer love o' his seein' iver profession? No,' says A—'says our young hero—'no,' says he, 'he has a distinguished audience as like as not."

"Speerin' over the side an' fixin' his expensive glasses on the groon, he espied six motor-cars—"

The door was flung open and Blackie came in hurriedly. "Tam—get up," he said briefly. "All the dawn circuses are out on a strafe—and we're IT—von Bissing, von Rheinhold, and von Wentz. They're coming straight here and I think they're re for blood."

The history of that great aerial campaign has been graphically told by the special correspondents. Von Bissing's formation—dead out of luck that day—was broken up by Archie fire and forced back, von Wentz's was engaged by the Fifty-ninth Squadron (promoted fully up in strength for a strafe of their own) and turned back, but the von Rheinhold group reached its objective before the machines were shot down. Five thousand feet from the ground and there was some wild bombing.

Von Rheinhold might have unloaded his bombs and got away, but he showed deplorable judgment. To insure an absolutely successful outcome to the attack he ordered his machines to descend. Before he could recover altitude the swift little scouts were up and into the formation. The air crackled with the sound of Lewis-gun fire, machines roiled and staggered like drunken men, Tam's fighting morans dipped and dived, climbed and swerved in a wild bacchanalian dance. Air-flaming to British and German alike, fell flaming to the earth before the second in command of the enemy squadron signaled, "Retire."

A little away a battery of A-A guns waited its commander's eyes glued to a telescope.

"They're breaking off—stand by! Range 4300 yards—deflection—There they go! Commence firing."

A dozen batteries were waiting the signal. The air was filled with the shriek of speeding shells, the skies were mottled with patches of smoke, white and brown, where the charges burst.

Von Rheinhold's battered squadron rode raggedly to safety.

"Go him—whooop!" yelled a thousand voices, as from one machine there came a scatter of pieces as a high explosive shell burst under the wing canopy, the soaring bird collapsed and heels to the ground.

Von Rheinhold, that redoubtable man was half conscious when they pulled him out of the burnt and bloody wreck.

He looked round sleepily at the group about him and asked in the voice of a very tired man:

"Which—ser—you—fellows—bombed—our Kaiser?"

"Say that again, sir," he said.

Von Rheinhold looked at him through his goggles. "Tam—eh?" he whispered. "You—nearly put an empire—in mourning."

Tam drew a long breath, then turned away. "Nearly!" he said bitterly. "Did A' no' tell ye, Captain Blackie, sir, that ma luck was out?"

planes which constituted the "circus."

It was a sight well worth watching. First in a great V, like a flock of wild geese, the squadron swept over the sky, every machine in its station. Then, at a signal from the leader, the V broke into three diamond-shaped formations, with the leader at the apex of the triangle which the three flights formed. Another signal and the circus broke into momentary confusion, to reform with much banking and wheeling into a straight line—again with the leader ahead. Backward and forward swept the line; changed direction and wheeled until the machines formed a perfect circle in the sky.

"Splendid!" barked the man with the jerking head.

An officer who stood a few paces to his rear, stepped up smartly, saluted, and came rigidly to attention.

"Splendid!" said the other again. "You will tell Captain Baron von Bissing that I am pleased and that I intend bestowing upon him the Order Pour la Merite. His arrangements for my protection at Lille and Douai and Menin were perfect."

"Majesty," said the officer, "your message shall be delivered."

The sightseer swept the heavens again. "I presume that the other machine is posted as a sentinel," he said. "That is a most excellent idea—it is flying at an enormous height. Who is the pilot?"

The officer turned and beckoned one of the group behind him. "His Majesty wishes to know who is the pilot of the sentinel machine?" he asked.

The officer addressed raised his face to the heavens with a little frown.

"The other machine, general?" he repeated. "There is no other machine."

He focused his glasses on the tinkest black spot in the skies. Long

Just to the rear of the last staff car fell the bomb, blowing a great hole in the paved road and scattering stones and debris over a wide area.

The cars fled onward, skidding at every turn of the road, and the bombs followed or preceded them, or also flung up the earth to the left or right.

"That's the tenth and the last, thank God!" said the sweating aide-camp. "Heaven and thunder! what an almost catastrophic escape."

In the amazing spaces of the air, a lean face, pinched and blue with the cold, peered over the fuselage and watched the ant-like procession of pinpoint dots moving slowly across the snowy road.

"That's a mar! he said, and picking up an aerial torpedo from between his feet, he dropped it over the side.

It struck the last car, which disappeared noisily into dust and splinters, while the force of the explosion overturned the car ahead.

"A bonnie shot," said Tam o' the Scots complacently and banked over as he turned for home. He shot a glance at the climbing circus and judged there was no permanent advantage to be secured from an engagement. Nevertheless he loved a drum of ammunition at the highest machine and grinned when he saw two rips appear in the wing of his machine.

By the time he passed over the German line all the Archies in the world were blazing at him, but Tam was at an almost record height—the height where men go dizzy and sick and suffer from internal bleeding. Over the German front-line trenches he dipped steeply down, but such had been his altitude that he was still ten thousand feet high when he leveled out above his aerodromes.

He descended in wide circles, his

"Dear lad!" he said, "have you been to heaven?"

"Verra near, sir," said Tam gravely; "another ten gallons o' essence an' A'd a' made it. A've been that high that A' could see the sun risin' tomorrow."

He started to walk off to his quarters but stopped and turned back. "Don't go near McBlissing's salaric," he warned; "he's feelin' sore."

Tam made a verbal report to Blackie, and Blackie got on to Headquarters by phone.

"Tam seems to have had an adventure, sir," he said, when he had induced H. Q. exchange to connect him with his general and gave the lurid details.

"It might be Hindenburg," said the general thoughtfully. "He's on the Western Front somewhere—that may explain the appearance of the circuses—or it may have been a corps general showing off the circus to a few trippers from Berlin—they are always running Reichstag members and pressmen round this front. Get Tam to make a report—his own report, not one you have edited." Blackie heard him chuckle. "I showed the last one to the army commander and he was tickled to death—hurry it along, I'm dying to see it."

If there is one task which an airman dislikes more than any other, it is report-writing. Tam was no exception, and his written accounts of the day's work were models of brevity.

In the days of his extreme youth he had been engaged in labor which did not call for the clerical qualities, and roughly his written "reports" were modeled on the "lime sheets" he was wont to render in that far-off period, when he dwelt in lodgings at Govan,

Freddie came in from school one afternoon wheeling his bicycle. Mother was busy getting the tea, but paused for a moment.

"What has happened to your bicycle?" she inquired.

"Oh, said Freddie, 'the tire is punctuated.'"

"You mean punctured, my boy," said his mother.

"Well, at any rate," said Freddie with conviction, "I came to a full stop."

She will be very greatly missed here, and especially by the members of the various societies to which she belongs.

The Misses Campbell entertained at a delightful bridge at their home Middle Sackville, on Friday evening.

They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. George Campbell, and were joined by Mrs. G. T. Morton and Mrs. Warren Copp. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Copp, Mrs. Ernest Estabrooks, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Estabrooks, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morice, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ayr, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Grey Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Baird, Col. W. Fawcett, Mr. H. V. Sullivan, Mr. Chapman, Miss L. Silker, Mrs. B. Peterson, Miss S. Brundage and Miss L. Wilbur.

Miss Milligan, of Summerside, P. E. I. was present at the meeting of Ruby Rebekah Lodge, on Thursday evening. Preliminary arrangements for the holding of the Grand Lodge here in June.

Mr. Maurice Fisher has purchased the Clements property on St. John's street from the executors of the late estate, Mr. Thos. Estabrooks, Sackville, and Mr. Thompson, Moncton.

There was a large gathering in the Presbyterian Hall, Thursday evening to bid farewell to the pastor, Rev. P. P. Mackintosh, who is leaving Sackville to take up a larger sphere of labor in the Diocese of the Maritime Province.

During his seven years' stay in Sackville Mr. Mackintosh had made many friends who will regret his departure from this community.

Mr. M. H. Smith (chairman of the meeting) told of his personal acquaintance with the pastor during the past six years, and the pleasure and profit he had received from his pulpit discourses.

One of the pleasing features of the evening's entertainment was a presentation of a box of fancy goods, containing a gold watch, valued at about $100, being a small token of the respect and esteem of the members of this congregation and the other churches of Sackville.

Mr. Mackintosh in the opportunity of taking up this work. He hoped that Mr. Mackintosh would be successful in his new work he was undertaking.

In acknowledging the kind words and presentation, Mr. Mackintosh said he appreciated the gift very much and was pleased to see such a large audience present that evening. He would always look back to his stay in Sackville with pleasure. The thing he valued most was his citizenship here—he had had lots of friends outside the Presbyterian Church, among all classes of the community. He hoped that his duties in connection with his new work would permit him to visit Sackville occasionally, as he would enjoy coming amongst his old friends once more.

Rev. Dr. Vigntis said that he felt like being separated from a very dear friend in the departure of Mr. Mackintosh. He had always found pleasure in his company, and though of different denominations often had very friendly chats together upon religion and other topics of interest. While regretting his departure from this vicinity, which would mean a loss to the church as well as the community, he congratulated him upon his new and larger sphere of work.

Rev. H. E. Thorne said that Mr. Mackintosh had a huge place in the hearts of Sackville people, and furthermore of the whole community. He was certainly beloved by the ministers of this town. The speaker said he was glad that the change meant promotion for Mr. Mackintosh. This fact gave a certain consolation.

After the speeches, refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation and a very pleasant hour was spent in social chat.

Miss Tibbitt of Digby, N. S., who has been visiting our guest at Miss Hazel Ford, left Monday for Moncton, where she will visit Mrs. Harry Tibbitt.

Mr. C. W. Fawcett left today on a business trip to St. John.

Loggieville

Loggieville, N. B., Feb. 9.—A real old-time snowstorm began about midnight on Thursday last, and by Friday at noon about eight inches of the "beautiful" had descended. The snow was followed by rain, hail and sleet, which made the travelling very hard for pedestrians. Trains were hours behind schedule, resulting in mails being greatly delayed.

The storm continued until Saturday night, but early rains on the morning of the 8th inst., upon venturing out, were met with undesirable beauty. Every branch and twig of the trees being covered with an icy armour. The travelling still continues poor, as a heavy crust has formed on the roads.

Believers in the antics of the ground-hog on February 2nd are now easy in their minds concerning the fuel situation, as the day was cloudy.

One case of diphtheria has been reported in the town, viz: Miss Mable McDonald. Her case is a mild one.

Miss Bertie Loggie, who was ill for a number of weeks, is now able to be out.

Miss Iona Landry has accepted a position in Newcastle, and is now an employe of the N. B. Telephone Co. Miss Annie McKnight has accepted a position out of town. Miss Landry and Miss McKnight's friends wish them success.
