A SMALL PERFORMANCE

Premier Flemming Tries to do A. R. Foster Out of His Job --- But Says He is Ready to do Him Any Personal Favor.

Albion R. Foster was not more surprised than were his hundreds of friends when on Thursday last the Fredericton Gleaner—always first to give out the doings of the Flemming government—announced that he had been dismissed from the office of Provincial Constable for "CAUSE". Had Mr. Foster been dismissed because he is a Liberal no one would have been surprised. But not only the Gleaner, but the Royal Gazette, says he was dismissed for "cause," which plainly implies that either through "error of omission or commission" he had become unfit to hold the office.

The fact is that some have reason to envy Mr. Foster his unimpeachable record. This is particularly true of certain other peace officers in the county.
They wanted his scalp and Premier Flemming shows no scruples against taking what he wants for himself or for his favorite henchmen.

Mr. Foster has lost nothing, however, but he naturally resents being removed for "cause"
when no charge of any nature whatsoever has been preferred against him. He has more friends on both sides of politics than any man breathing Carleton county air today, and this small performance on the part of Premier Flemming will not weaken his standing.

Possibly Mr. Flemming sought to render Mr. Foster disqualified to continue his position with the C.P.R. But all except a few will be glad to know this is not so. On the contrary, at the instance of Supt. Dowtre, Mr.
Foster was last Thursday, before
Police Magistrate Ritchie of St.

John, sworn in as Chief Police Constable for the Atlantic Division of the C.P.R.

Previously he had been a special police officer for the company, and his promotion followed speedily on the heels of his dismissal by the Flemming coterie.
If the Premier desires to scheme
Mr. Foster out of a job he will have to adopt some other method.
On this matter the Fredericton
Mail says:

The dismissal of Albion R. Foster by the Flemming government from the office of Provincial constable is the smallest piece of low down politics that any government ever was guilty of. There is no salary attached to the office but in the case of a trustworthy and efficient peace officer such as Mr. Foster proved himself to be, it was no doubt of some assistance to him in the task of earning a livelihood.
There was no complaint against him;
he discharged his duties in a faithful and fearless manner, yet the Flemming government found it necessary to deprive him of his commission. The Royal Gazette tells us he was dismissed for "cause." The only cause that can be shown in his case is that he is a Liberal and a personal friend of F. B. Carvell, M. P. Attorney General Grimmer although a strong Conservative is also a fair-minded man and knowing him as we do, we do not believe that he would be a party to such a petty exhibition of spite as has been manifested in this case. We have too much respect for the man to believe for one moment that he had anything to do with the dismissal of Mr. Foster and readily exonerate him from all blame in the matter. The dismissal was made at the instigation of the Sanctioned Premier Flemming, who is beyond a doubt the greatest wind merchant and the smallest big man who ever held office in any government. He has some henchmen in Carleton county who have found Mr. Foster a troublesome competitor and it was to please them that he has been removed from office.
It is a pretty small piece of business and reflects no credit upon Premier Flemming or his administration.

HEAVIEST FRESHET IN YEARS.

Ice Jams Threatened Disaster All Along the River.

Excitement prevailed on Monday when the main body of ice in the St. John went out with a rush. The river is now clear from the Falls to the Bay of Fundy. Two weeks earlier than the average date, with heavier ice and higher water than for years, the freshet presented a grand spectacle, withal it was accompanied by a good deal of apprehension.

The ice began to break up last week and had formed immense jams at Muniac, Florenceville and Stickney. The water rose to record height at these points and greatest anxiety was felt for the safety of property along the banks. Two miles below Flo-renceville water flooded the railway track to a depth of two feet and delayed traffic to some extent.

On Monday forenoon the ice started at Hartland, and but for the providential jamming of a huge floe against the bridge pier, it would have swept away several buildings including occupied dwellings. As it was there was a wild scramble to save household effects and the contents of store houses and barns. Little damage was done, however, and no individual loss will exceed a few dollars and some inconvenience.
From one residence the female occupants had to be carried to safety through the water, so quickly did the flood rise.

Much anxiety was felt for the safety of the bridges but no damage worth mentioning resulted.

For an hour or more the ice
jam held against Pine island, about nine miles below, and during that time the water rose several feet in a few minutes.
But when the jam finally gave way it receded quite as rapidly as it had come up.

The freshet was by all odds
the heaviest since the big ice jam of twelve years ago, when the bridge was threatened and several buildings were carried off their foundations. On that occasion the water was four feet deep in Keith & Plummer's basement, while on Monday it did not come within a foot of reaching it.

On several other occasions in past years the water reached a higher point.

Is Headache a Blessing in Disguise?

THE better the human system is understood the more we realize the usefulness of pain as a sort of danger signal.

Headache is said to be the most beneficial of all aches and pains, because it comes as a warning with so many ailments. Rarely is the cause found in the head itself, but usually in the condition of the system.

The most persistent and most painful headaches are caused by exhausted nerves, and are of a neuralgic nature. The nerves are in a starved and wasted condition, and a little extra strain or excitement brings on an attack of sick, nervous headache.

Nervous headache is said to be the cry of starved nerves for more rich, nourishing blood. The brain is the centre of the human nervous system, and there is manufactured the nervous energy which controls the action of the members of the body.

Consequently, when nervous headache comes it is a warning that the nervous system is in a run-down condition, and must be restored if some form of paralysis is to be avoided.

It is a mistake to use powerful headache powders to relieve the pain and then neglect to remove the cause of trouble, which is of far more consequence if you value life.

You can restore and revitalize the wasted nerve cells by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment is not recommended as a relief for headache, but it does positively cure by removing the cause of trouble.

Nervous headaches will disappear only when the nervous system is nourished back to strength and vigor by use of such a restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. T. Gray, farmer's wife, Earlton, New Ont., writes: "I had nerve and heart trouble, and was very much run down. I suffered terribly from headaches, and my eyesight was so bad I could scarcely read or sew. The pain in the top of the head was almost constant. Two doctors found they could not help me, and wanted a surgical operation."

"I had heard of many being cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to try it. Altogether I used six boxes, and with the most marked benefits. They did me good in every way. It was not long until I was about and doing my own household work."

No one wants to take chances with locomotor ataxia or paralysis. And yet it is to such ailments as these that neglected nervous troubles naturally lead.

How much better it is to be warned by such symptoms as headache, sleeplessness, irritability, lack of vigor and energy, and feelings of fatigue and discouragement.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is bound to benefit you under such conditions, for by forming new, rich blood it works, hand in hand with nature, and supplies the very elements which are necessary for the restoration of health and strength. The benefits of this treatment are both thorough and lasting.

Vote of Thanks to Eric Lane.

The following article from the Lunenburg News concerns Eric Lane, who recently came to Hartland as junior clerk in the Bank:

At the meeting of the Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew of St. John's Church held on Monday last the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"Resolved that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Eric Lane for his splendid and faithful services as Secretary-Treasurer of this brotherhood during the past two years."

"That the success of the Brotherhood is due in no small measure to his efforts on their behalf, and the members wish him Godspeed on his leaving home, and express a prayerful desire for his future success in the world of business. Resolved that this be inscribed in the minutes of the Association, and that a copy be sent to Eric Lane at Hartland, N.B."

Florenceville Women's Institute.

On March 11 the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Kilpatrick, Greenfield. The meeting opened by singing "O Canada." Minutes of last meeting were then read; short address by President and report of recent convention held in Fredericton by Secretary; then followed discussion on the Buffalo Bag. After roll call there was the addition of four new members, after which the National Anthem was sung and the meeting adjourned.

The ladies were then joined by their gentlemen friends, lunch was served and a musical programme was carried out. Altogether a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Next Institute meets at the home of Mrs. B. F. Smith on April 8. Prominent on that programme, will be an article on Table Setting and Serving by Mrs. E. C. Turner and a talk on Modern Kitchens by Mrs. Scott McCain.

THE PRIMITIVE BAPTISTS

Hold Quarterly Meetings at Lansdowne.

The quarterly meetings of the Primitive Baptist body were held at Lansdowne, beginning March 15. The ministers present were Charles Orser, David Brooks, L. Foster, Perley Quigg, Henry Hart, and Licentiate Earle Giberson, Thomas Stairs and Ziba Lockhart.

On account of inclement weather and bad roads the attendance at the first session, Saturday morning, was small, but the meeting was very good and helpful.

On Saturday afternoon a conference meeting was held at which there was a good attendance. It was a very spiritual meeting, a meeting of testimonies of God's children in which the Holy Spirit was manifest.

Bro. Earle Giberson preached at the evening meeting from John 17:2,3. The sermon was well received. Our brother held the attention of the congregation while he pictured the divinity and humanity of the Son of God.

At the Sunday morning service Bro. Perley Quigg preached from John 8:56. The people and ministers alike appreciated the sermon and a great number of testimonies were given.

At 2.30 Brother David Brooks preached from John 3:16, his subject being God's Love to the Human Family. While brother Brooks is in poor health, he was able to hold the attention of the people while he told of the great love of God the Father to sinful man in the gift of his Son, Jesus, for their salvation. At the close of this service several arose for prayers.

The evening service was led by Bro. L. Foster who spoke from Mark 15:16. Commands of Jesus to His disciples as he was about to leave them: "Go ye into the world and preach the Gospel." This was a scriptural discourse of the gospel and its requirements and was endorsed by the ministers and people.

A business session was held on Monday. Besides the presence of the ministers there were as delegates: Percy Tompkins, Mansfield Clark and J. Giberson. Routine business was transacted. It was decided that the report of the committee on Bro. Dulbeck be laid over until the yearly meeting. A vote of thanks was unanimously carried to be tendered to the people of Lansdowne for their warm hospitality.

Adjourned to meet in yearly session at Pembroke on the first Saturday in July.

The Middlemore Home.

The usual number of children are expected to arrive from England about June 1, at the Middlemore Home, Fairview station, Halifax. The ages of the majority will run from 5 to 12, a few 1 to 5 and a small number 12 to 18 years.

The younger boys and girls have been giving the better satisfaction. They more readily adapt themselves to their new homes. Anyone wishing one should apply at once to the manager, J. Sterling King at above address.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

And All Afflicted With Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Grippes or any Lung or Throat trouble.

WHAT A REAL TONIC WILL DO

Strikes at the Root of Disease and Gives New Health.

If you look in your dictionary you will find the word "tonic" defined as "a medicine that increases the strength and vigor of the system." That tells why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a real tonic. Thousands of men and women are ailing to-day, not sick in bed, but without strength and ambition, utterly tired out after a day's work. No one organ seems to be at fault, yet the whole system is lacking in health. They do not sleep well and are always tired and nervous, many have headaches, backaches and stomach trouble. All these people need the tonic help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The beneficial influence of this medicine reaches the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do more than relieve the symptoms, they actually remove the cause of the trouble. The case of Mrs. J. H. Sharpe, London, Ont., is one in proof of the above statements. Mrs. Sharpe says: "I was so run down and weak that life was a burden. The least exertion would exhaust me so greatly that I could hardly breathe. 'I'm going up stairs, I would have to rest several minutes when I reached the top. My heart would palpitate until I felt as if it would choke me. I was extremely nervous, in fact a complete wreck, and would sometimes have to remain in bed for a couple of days or more at a time. I found no help from medicine until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and my experience with them was that they made a complete cure. I gained in weight and my friends tell me I look younger than I did ten years ago—I know I certainly feel younger. I feel sure that what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me they will do to other women if given a fair chance."

If you are at all unwell do not fail to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and you will find new health and strength. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $3.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUDAN SELF-SUPPORTING.

Promises to Be a Great Wheat and Cotton Country.

To-day, if the history of the past ten years has not already enabled it to do so, the Sudan fully justifies its existence and the money that has been expended on its development. To-day the Sudan, the territory about which Col. Stewart, in his report, says "is a useless possession, ever was so and ever will be so," wrote that no one who has visited it can escape the reflection, "What a useless possession and what a huge encumbrance on Egypt," gives the lie direct to all the pessimistic views expressed as to the possibility of ever succeeding in converting it into a working and profit giving concern. To-day the Sudan is freed from its financial dependence for current expenses on Egypt.

A great future lies before the Sudan, greater perhaps than most people imagine even to-day. As it stands the Sudan promises in the near future to become one of the greatest cotton and wheat producing countries of the world.

Waterloo in London.

Waterloo Bridge, which has been badly damaged by a motor-bus, was pronounced by Canova the noblest bridge in the world, says the London Chronicle. He declared that if there was nothing else to see in London, the sight of Waterloo Bridge was well worth the trouble of a journey from Rome. The Marquis de Vermon, who was a contemporary of Canova, also admired the bridge, but its name grated on him. "Wherever I go in London," he writes, "the name of Waterloo greets me. Besides Waterloo Bridge (especially re-christened) to remind us of our defeat, Waterloo Road and Waterloo Street, there are Waterloo hotels, Waterloo academies, Waterloo public houses, Waterloo eating houses and Waterloo shops of all kinds and descriptions. The ladies wear Waterloo bonnets and the gentlemen Wellington boots."

SAVE THE BABY.

Baby's Own Tablets are the one safe medicine to make baby well and keep him well. They are guaranteed by a government analyst to be free from all injurious drugs and are absolutely safe to give even to the newborn babe. Concerning them Mrs. Oscar Bedard, Manseau, Que., writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have to thank them that my little one is living to-day. I know of nothing to equal them as a children's medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SIR WILLIAM, EARLY BIRD

Sir William Mackenzie may be a prince of railroading, but he has remained all his life one of the most democratic and unpretentious of men in ordinary personal relations. Nor is he anything but proud of the modest beginnings of his boyhood, when he applied his best abilities to the tasks nearest to hand. The other day Sir William was motoring to his office with an aristocratic English friend. Passing the Legislative buildings he stopped the car and ran up the steps to enter for a certain official. It was then only 8.30 a.m., and no Government employees were on hand. Sir William returned to the car a trifle disappointed. "I believe the world is sleeping later in the morning than it used to," he remarked to his companion. "When I was a young fellow I had my breakfast over every winter's morning by seven, and was ready for work."

Sir William Mackenzie.

"This was in the university?" queried the visitor.

"This was in the maple bush," corrected Sir William, with his accustomed crispness.

Chest Colds, Bronchitis Can't Be Cured By Cough Syrups

FOR THE SIMPLE REASON THAT COUGH SYRUPS GO STRAIGHT TO THE STOMACH WHICH ISN'T AFFECTED.

The direct-breathing cure, "Catarrhose," which instantly reaches all affected parts is best remedy.

Just note the following chart—it clearly shows how the vapor of Catarrhose when inhaled covers all the breathing organs in the nose, throat and lungs—that is why Catarrhose always cures—it gets where the trouble really is.

"I can speak of the wonders Catarrhose did for me," writes J. P. Fernandes, an important figure in mercantile life in Georgetown. "I had all the distressing symptoms of catarrh—head was stuffed up—had a profuse discharge from the nose—I hawked and gagged and had a weak throat. My ears buzzed and I had constant pain over the eyes. Catarrhose took away that rank breath and soreness in the nose."

If you have any form of catarrh or throat trouble, cut out all experiments—use Catarrhose—its reputation is world-wide. A complete outfit with sufficient medication to last two months and an instruction book, rubber inhaler costs $1.00; smaller size with glass inhaler, 50c. and 50c. All druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

SUGAR MAY BE LOWER.

Record Crop of Beets in Europe This Year.

The high cost of living has troubled Europe almost as much as it has this country. There seems to be one ray of comfort for 1913.

The price of sugar is likely to fall. Most of the sugar in Europe is beet sugar, and the crop of sugar beets last year has been enormous. For the whole of Europe the crop exceeds by thirty-six per cent. that of last year.

In addition, the quality is extra fine; in some tests the beets were found to have seventy-one per cent. more sugar than those grown last year. Between the great yield and the superior quality the amount of sugar produced will be nearly twice as great.

Success may be a mystery, but hard work will solve it.

SHE COULD NOT HOLD CUP OF TEA

DOCTORS AGREED TORONTO NURSE HAD BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her after five years suffering—Felt a benefit after first box.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 3 (Special).—Mrs. Alberta Giffin, a nurse, living at 40 Wright Ave., this city, has been interviewed in regard to her reported cure of nervous or Kidney Trouble by Dodd's Kidney Pills. She states that the report is true in every particular.

"My sickness," Mrs. Giffin says, "was caused from a nervous breakdown and what the doctors called incurable Bright's Disease brought on by cold and long weeks of nursing. I suffered for five years."

"I was treated by three doctors and was a patient in two hospitals, but gradually got weaker. Reading the experiences of other sufferers like myself led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. At that time I was so weak and nervous I could not hold a cup of tea without spilling some of its contents."

"I felt a benefit after taking the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and eight or nine boxes cured me so completely I can now walk a mile without fatigue."

"If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills yourself almost any of your neighbors will tell you they always cure Kidney Disease in any form."

Inscriptions in complimentary copies of learned works do not always serve the graceful purpose to which one was dedicated by the celebrated Professor Wilson of Edinburgh. When the suitor for the hand of Professor Wilson's daughter had gained the young woman's approbation, she of course referred him to her father. Having stated his case, the younger gentleman was asked to bid the young lady to come to her father. Her obedience was prompt. Professor Wilson had before him for review a ponderous volume, on the fly-leaf of which was duly inscribed, "With the author's compliments." He tore this fly-leaf out, pinned it to his daughter's dress, solemnly led her to the anxious lover—and went back to his work.

Bennie, aged four, met Henry, aged five, and the following conversation ensued: "Whatev'er your head?" "Bumped it on a ceiling." "On a stepladder?" "No. I was playin' 'ith my papa on a floor an' I was sitting on his tummy." "An' nen what?" "Papa sneezed."

HAS A MIND OF HIS OWN.

King George Will Not Be Treated as a Figurehead.

Firmness of character is not conspicuous among the virtues of King George, whose love of peace, domestic and other kinds, sometimes causes him to be led by anybody who understands the virtue of tact.

However, usual duality occasionally gives way to fits of utmost stubbornness, and in such cases it is useless to attempt to make him change his mind. Some leading politicians have just found this out, for the King has suddenly refused point blank to bestow any titles on people whose only claim to such distinction lies in the fact that they have contributed generously to the political funds of the party in power.

King George has been showing his courage more and more his determination to keep a firm grip upon his own affairs.

One hears in the privacy of the Court of attempts made by Cabinet Ministers and other public personages to treat the King as a figurehead, and to expect him to sign documents without having any idea of their purport.

His Majesty's practice in these matters is as firm as that of the late Queen Victoria, who caused much surprise and no little chagrin in the early days when she refused to append her name to a document the meaning of which had not been fully explained.

It is said that on a recent occasion the King showed his sense of the fitness of things by withholding his sanction to a paper for which a statesman in a hurry sought his signature at a moment's notice.

The throne is a very real power nowadays, and its influence tends to increase rather than diminish.

DUTCH CENTENARY.

Regains Prestige in Art and Science in Past 100 Years.

This year the little kingdom of Holland celebrates a hundred years of progress, after years of despair. In 1813 Holland was a cripple.

The nation which had been one of the teachers of Europe, which despite its small size had been the cradle of the arts and sciences, which boasted great painters like Rembrandt, Hals and De Hooch, great dialecticians like Erasmus and scholars like Grotius—this nation had sunk almost to the level of a neglected province.

But in the hundred years that have gone by Holland, despite reverses, both at home and abroad, has reasserted herself, and the Dutch, though a small people hemmed in by large military Governments, hold a high place among the nations. In the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Europe has been their debtor for lessons in science, in international law, of which the Dutch were the founders; in horticulture and agriculture.

Her ancient University of Leyden has produced in the last generation De Sitter and Kamerlingh Onnes, who equaled helium, and at her northern University of Groningen the great Kapteyn sits in the chair of astronomy—whence proceeded the double drift of the stars.

It is not surprising that Holland should seize the opportunity of commemorating her hundred years of remarkable progress by holding a centenary. The chief feature of this centenary will be the inauguration of the Peace palace at The Hague.

OPERATION FOR PILES FAILED

Zam-Buk Was Then Tried and Worked a Cure.

Writing from Poplar, B.C., Mrs. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, says: "I suffered for years with bleeding piles. The pain was so bad at times that I could hardly walk, and ordinary remedies seemed utterly unable to give me any ease. Finally I decided to undergo an operation, and went to the Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane. There they performed an operation and did all they could for me. For a time I was certainly better, but within 19 months the trouble started again and the piles became as painful as ever. I tried liniments, hot poultices, various 'pile cures,' and indeed everything I could think would be likely to do any good, but still I continued to suffer, and the shooting, burning, stinging pains, the dull, aching and wretched 'worn-out' feeling that the disease causes continued as bad as ever.

"One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well, I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured. That was three years ago, and from then to the present time there has been no return of the trouble."

Telling the Bees.

The custom of "telling the bees" is often referred to by those interested in curious happenings. In some parts of England it has always been the habit to inform the bees whenever there is a death in the family, particularly when it is that of a master or mistress. Some one raps upon the board supporting the hives and says: "Mourn with us, the master (or mistress) of the house is dead." It is thought that if this duty is neglected the bees will die; and many old servants are fond of telling how the bees pine away when no one thinks to give them the sad message.

VOL. 4 APRIL 3, 1913 No. 42

DR. MACINTOSH AND ENTERPRISE

Probably Dr. L. deC. MacIntosh shows a more progressive spirit than any other resident of Hartland. It is much to be hoped that he will not grow weary in showing the way, but rather that others will arouse themselves and become active in the interest of the village. We now hear of the energetic Doctor visiting the Agricultural Society at Woodstock and suggesting that Hartland might donate land for a park and exhibition buildings.

Hartland, is, to use a homely phrase, about "at the end of its tether." New and serious trade competitors will spring up that a short time ago were not reckoned with. We refer to the building of the Valley Railway and the division of the trade from the west side that must surely follow. Soon we will see our friends from the Fourth Tier and beyond no more.

Once Hartland enjoyed a genuine boom and it was known far and wide as a village with a bright future. That was before most of the present population can remember. There were, however, young and middle-aged men here who had the proper spirit of enterprise and the place showed it. One season 19 buildings were simultaneously in course of construction. Contrast that record with the present rate of one or two in as many years!

Where are the progressive ones? Many are as far from Hartland as they can go and remain on the continent. And most of them are succeeding wherever they are, for they are privileged to advance without their efforts being frowned down by ultra-conservative stick-fasts who prefer mold and moss to the winged wheels of progress.

But to return to Dr. MacIntosh. To some who have spent many years here, and especially those who once were fired with zeal for the town's welfare, it would seem that he is leading a forlorn hope, and that, like others, he will before long flee to a place where enterprise is in demand, or, like themselves, will weary and settle into a groove. The Doctor has much of the determination and grit of his Scotch ancestors, and, we believe, is not likely to either quit the village or the one-man procession to advancement. Already he has accomplished much for some local industries, and is openly criticised for having "too many irons in the fire." Not a few of his critics are wage-earners with no irons and no fire of their own and have partaken of a species of sour grapes. The Hartland Concrete Co., The Carleton Poultry Association, The Farmers' Telephone Co., the Agricultural Society, and other local enterprises would miss the services of Dr. MacIntosh were he to withdraw; and he is a very successful practitioner besides.

We have not interviewed the subject of this editorial with regard to his idea concerning a trotting park and exhibition buildings, but the last word has not been spoken. We predict the next meeting of the Agricultural Society—which will be largely attended—will have his plan unfolded before it.

Plaster Rock.

The Fraser Lumber Co have been making considerable changes in their saw mill not only in repairs but in addition to new machinery. They are under expense of $150,000. The mill will be ready for work about the first of May.

Miss Ruby Page and sister, Laura spent their Easter holidays with their mother at their home, Long Settlement.

Miss Nevers, teacher at Sisson Ridge, spent her Easter with parents in Hartland.

A good-congregation was present Sunday evening in the United Baptist church where a splendid Easter service was held. The music under the leadership of Mr. Nason, was all that could be desired. The offering was taken for missions which completed the amount asked for from the Home Mission Board. Has your church given anything for missions this year? Remember the year is slipping away.

T. B. Marston spent Sunday in Perth with his Mother.

Miss Verna Stairs, teacher at Hartfield, spent Sunday with her sister, Miss Bessie Stairs, teacher at North View. They spent Sunday afternoon and Monday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bragdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Flanders were to St. John last week where Mr. Flanders went to consult a specialist in regard to his health.

George Ridgewell spent a few hours last Tuesday at the home of Rev. Kenneth McLennan, Bath. While Mr. McLennan was pastor at Plaster Rock he boarded at the home of Mr. Ridgewell.

J. C. Young of Woodstock spent Sunday here with his brother, C. S. Young.

Mrs. Samuel Hayden and Miss Grace Plummer passed through here on their way from Waterville to Riley Brook last Monday.

Rev. Albert Leatherbourne occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday evening March 16th in the absence of our pastor who was attending the dist. conference, Upper Knoxford.

Dr. J. D. Coffin spent Tuesday in Presque Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Booker are receiving congratulations over the birth of a young daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loreine are stopping at the home George Ridgewell.

Mrs. B. Patterson spent Easter Sunday with her mother and sisters in Perth.

Jacob Brody was in Perth a few hours last week on business.

Miss Mary Boone, teacher at Foster Cove, spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Boone.

Miss Florence Grant of Nictau and Miss Mina Howard of Riley Brook were in Bath on a visit just before Easter.

Bath.

The ice in the St. John River made a start from this point Sunday afternoon and jammed just below the town. For some time grave apprehensions were feared as to the safety of the bridges over the Monquart and to several houses situated near the bank of the river, but no serious damage was done. At Upper Kent about six miles up, the ice was heavily jammed in the river to the height of 50 feet and the mill at River de Chute was nearly submerged.

The congregation of the Baptist church are very sorry to learn that their present pastor, Rev. Kenneth McLennan, has resigned his charge on this field and intends removing to New Jersey in May. Mr. McLennan is a native of Scotland and has been in N. B. about four years. His first charge was at Plaster Rock and then here. His wife who came out from the old country about a year ago has greatly endeared herself to the people and more especially the Baptist church where she has had charge of religious work.

C. E. Gallagher & Co. have begun loading their lumber of which they have the largest lot for shipment ever shipped from this place in any one season.

Harry J. Smith and family have moved back again into their own house, and their many friends are very glad to have them here once again.

F. B. Meagher, inspector of schools, made his annual visit at the village schools on Friday last, and reports he found them in a very efficient condition.

The resident teachers and normal students made a visit to their homes here. Among them were Ethel Simms and Lella Giberson from the Normal school. Bertrem Campbell also a normal school student spent his vacation here with his sister, Mrs. C. W. Parlee.

Miss Maude Stanlake, Miss Dora Barker and Miss Augusta Campbell, teachers, spent their holidays with friends here.

Mrs. Page of Long Settlement spent her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Stephen Barker.

Rev. David Brooks paid a short visit with friends here on Saturday last on his way to Fort Fairfield.

The Kent Parish S. S. convention was well attended for the time of year. Rev. Mr. Ross, the field secretary, was present at all of the sessions. A large delegation came from Bristol and Upper Kent. Ernest Carey, Bristol, was elected president and Mrs. C. W. Parlee, secretary, for the ensuing year.

Windsor.

Rev. S. W. Schurman of Hartland and Rev. Judson Corey have started a series of special meetings in this place and will probably continue for some time.

A number of the young people drove to Knowlesville last Friday night and spent the evening at the home of George Whitehouse as guests of Miss Laura Forrest. The evening was pleasantly spent. Jay Dow on behalf of the young people of Windsor presented Miss Forrest with a handsome gilt picture frame as a birthday gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orser are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a fine baby boy.

Rev. Mr. Calhoun of Glassville preached in the Windsor church last Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Corey occupied the same pulpit in the evening.

Mrs. W. A. Tedford has been spending a few days in Gordonsville, a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wasson Bridges.

Miss Hazel Britton who has been spending a week with her parents here, returned to Fredericton on Saturday where she is attending normal school.

Quite a large number of the young people of this place went to Ketchum Ridge on Saturday evening where they were very pleasantly entertained as guests of Miss May Armand.

The Windsor people regret very much that they are soon to lose from their midst Mr. and Mrs. John Glass and family. Mr. Glass has purchased the hotel formerly owned by Joseph Clowes of Hartland, and will take possession of it soon.

Miss Sadie Craig is working at the home of Frank Orser.

Miss Mabel Linder of Knowlesville spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Moody Hallett.

Circle met last week at the home of Mrs. Herbert Britton.

Misses Jennie Paget of Woodstock and Laura Orser of Simonds spent the Easter holidays at their respective homes in this place.

Smith Bros. lost a very valuable horse quite recently.

The last entertainment of the Baraca course was held on Thursday evening of last week and drew a crowded house despite the awful condition of the weather. W. H. Easton's lecture was highly interesting and full of enlightenment, while the readings by J. Barry Allen of Fredericton captivated the audience. The whole course of entertainments has been fully up to the standard promised and have filled a real want in the way of high-class amusement.

At the Sunday morning service Rev. N. Franchette announced that His Lordship, Bishop Richardson would spend Sunday, May 25, in Hartland, and would likely preach both morning and evening. His Lordship is considered one of the ablest preachers in Eastern Canada.

The new United Baptist at East Florenceville was dedicated on Sunday last. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Cahill, while Rev. Mr. Hurlow and Rev. E. C. Jenkins, respectively. The singing was unusually good, a solo by Mrs. R. S. Semple at the afternoon service being highly spoken of. The church was filled at each service. This new building is the result of the energy of the women of the congregation and the liberal aid of B. F. Smith. The structure cost $5000 and is completely finished with fine organ and bell. There is only the comparatively small debt of $1500 against it.

The freshet was such at Florenceville that the ice touched the chords of the highway bridge and water splashed over the flooring. Narrow escape.

Miss Ethel Boyer, daughter of Mrs. Amanda Boyer of Hartland, who is practicing the nursing profession in Vancouver, has been recently ill of appendicitis.

For any eye trouble do not fail to see H. M. Martell, graduate optician. Will be at Exchange hotel, Hartland, on Monday, April 7. All the latest styles in optical goods.

The minstrel show given on Tuesday evening by local talent in aid of the base ball team, was in all respects a huge success. The hall was packed to the doors by a highly appreciative audience. The company was comprised of 21 young men with Mrs. Harry Gillin at the piano. A. W. Kyle acted as interlocutor and the jokes and local hits were decidedly original and funny. The evening's performance was said by many to have been the most entertaining given in Hartland this winter. Parts taken by G. E. McGinley and the work of the pianist have received most praise, but taken all together the boys sprang a great surprise on the village people, most of whom had no idea that such ability was theirs. The Observer regrets that it has not the complete programme and that lack of space forbids the extended notice that the show deserves. If, as intimated, the boys decide to hold their show in other villages of this and Victoria county, they will have the goods to attract bumper houses.

THE FORD AUTOMOBILE.

Coming to Carleton Co. in Large Numbers—R. L. Phillips the Agent.

Last week we spoke of the arrival at Hartland of a carload of Ford automobiles, 1913 model, for R. L. Phillips. This is the second shipment of these cars received at Hartland this year for Mr. Phillips.

This week J. B. Daggett & Co. of Centerville are storing another carload for Mr. Phillips.

These consignments, and there are others to follow, are the largest by far ever consigned to Carleton county in one year by any manufacturer of automobiles.

In this connection we learn that there are more Ford automobiles in use than any other one make of car, indeed, every third car in America is a Ford.

Some of the advantages which account for its popularity are its ability to run from half as far again to twice as far on a gallon of gasoline as the ordinary car. On account of its light weight the tire expense is much lower than the tire expense on heavier cars. The same applies to general upkeep expense.

This years car has all the good points of last years, and in addition its general appearance has been improved until it stands today as pretty a car as there is on the market at any price.

This fine car equipped with Top, Windshield and Speedometer is sold for $785.00, all freight paid.

We understand that the following gentlemen have been appointed sub-agents by Mr. Phillips:

J. W. Montgomery, Hartland
Estey & Curtis, Hartland
J. B. Daggett & Co., Centerville
Duncan Rogers, Bristol.

Will Hartland Get This?

Woodstock, N. B., March 30—The Agricultural Society met yesterday and received the report of the committee appointed to secure exhibition grounds for the use of the society. The land wanted is the property of the town and held in trust. Two offers were made, one of $3,000 and one of $1,500 for land along Elm street. The trustees refused to sell or lease the property.

Another effort will be made to secure the lower end of the property known as Connell Park, but this also belongs to the town and is held in trust.

Some pointed speeches were made on the attitude of those in control of the property, which was dedicated to the use of the people and could be made conducive to the welfare of the people, but is seemingly held up for reasons not made public.

Dr. Macintosh, representing Hartland Agricultural Society, was present and intimated that Hartland would donate land for a park, erect exhibition buildings and carry on the county fair if the Woodstock society was held up by those in control of the land required for exhibition purposes.

RATS HEAD LIST OF PESTS

UNITED EFFORTS NEEDED TO DESTROY THEM.

Brown Rodent Is the Chief and Was Introduced From China in 1775.

Rats are found in women's head-dresses, in houses, barns, on board ships and in markets, and even the sacred halls of legislatures are not exempt from the ravages of these pests. The brown or Norway rat (Mus Norvegicus) is the worst and most common mammalian pest which inhabits this country, says Washington Post. The losses from its depredations amount to many millions of dollars yearly, and to more, probably, than those caused by all other injurious animals combined. In addition to its destructive habits, this rat is now known to be an active agent in disseminating infectious disease, a fact that renders measures for its extermination doubly important.

Introduced into this country in about 1776 from western China, the brown rat has nearly driven out its less robust relative, the black rat, and despite the incessant warfare of man, has extended its range and steadily increased in numbers. This is due in large measure to its great fecundity and its ability to adapt itself to all sorts of conditions. It destroys grain, causes disastrous conflagrations, floods houses by gnawing water pipes.

Devours Eggs and Young Poultry.

Rats have developed so much intelligence that attempts to exterminate them have rarely been successful, but the failure to get rid of them has been due not so much to lack of effective methods as to the neglect of certain precautions and the absence of concerted action. Many interesting stories are told of the feats performed by rats. Old employees at the capital take great pride in telling of the strange acts committed by them in the building. One story that is told for true is that at one time there was a big fellow who inhabited the house of a luncheon and was in the habit of making off with eggs in great numbers. This rat, according to the story, was seen one day by three people with an egg under his foreleg climbing a steam pipe which ran near a grating which admitted air to the building. It is a common story at the capital that before the doors were changed from the old type to ratproof, it was as much as a man's life was worth to venture into any of the storerooms alone when they had been closed for a long period. As soon as the door was opened, rat faces would appear from behind all possible hiding places and seemed to dare anyone to enter the premises which they held sacred to themselves.

Those days, however, are over at the capitol, and to a certain extent the rat is now kept in subjection, but it requires constant work to prevent them from taking the place and doing great damage to public documents and furniture.

Market houses are probably the worst sufferers from these pests. Authorities at Center market say the only way they can get rid of the rats is to keep after them all the time. They would consider it an easy matter to destroy them in places where there were no food stuffs and where poison could be used, but in a place like a market, where it is impossible to use poisons, the only way to keep them low is by building everything of cement and tile, and keeping a careful lookout for new traces of them. When a rat hole is discovered in the market it is dug out to the end and concrete and glass are used to fill in the hole thus made.

The miner is the rat's only friend, and if he sees a procession of them filing out of a mine he will drop everything and follow them, as he knows from experience that there is something wrong or these intelligent little animals would not be moving. Even he, their only friend, must look out or they will get to his oil and soon eat it. It is an interesting thing to watch a rat Dipping Oil From a Can with his tail and then bringing it around to his mouth and sucking the oil from it. Often two rats will work on the same can and take turns, one dipping the oil out and allowing the other to lick it from his tail.

Among the natural enemies of the rat are the larger hawks, owls, skunks, foxes, coyotes, weasels, minks and dogs. Cats and ferrets, while they hate the rat, are not very effective in driving them away, as they often grow to such a size that a cat cannot well handle them, and if ferrets are allowed to roam and increase they are soon as much a nuisance as the rat.

In England and some of the British colonies rat-killing contests for prizes are held, and clubs are formed in different localities for the extermination of the pests. From 2,000 to 10,000 rats are often killed by those participating in the contests.

This is the time of year that rats are looking for winter quarters, and careful work is being done by rat experts in the vicinity of the different public buildings of the district and the market houses where great numbers of the animals are found.

BIG FIRE LOSSES IN JAPAN

FIRE BRIGADE LIKE A TROUPE OF EQUILIBRISTS.

Fireproof Structures for Storing Valuables and Works of Art.

Wood, paper and straw—everything that fire likes best—that's what Japanese cities are made of.

For centuries the Japanese have stood exactly midway between the devil and the deep sea. They have been afraid to build of brick and stone for the devil might fly in a rage any minute and shake their houses to pieces and beat them to death with the fragments. So for centuries they have built low wooden houses, with wooden legs pivoted on round stones in such a way that a house may rock mightily and yet come back to equilibrium and not be twisted and rent apart, as a wooden house might be if made fast to a firm foundation.

The castles built of stones were made of huge blocks, with enormously thick walls, broad at the base and sloping inward after the manner of Egyptian construction, and therefore have lasted through the ages. But these are few and far between. For the most part Japanese buildings are of the flimsiest, most inflammable material.

In trying to keep out of reach of the earthquake demon, says James Gordon in Building Progress, they have placed themselves in constant danger of being swallowed bodily—figuratively and not physically speaking—in seas of flame which sweep over all the thickly populated cities with appalling frequency. Japan is lucky if a year goes by without at least

One Great Devastating Fire.

In January of 1912 Osaka, the great manufacturing centre of Japan, was visited by a fire which destroyed over 5,000 buildings and rendered 30,000 people homeless. In August of 1909 fire in Osaka destroyed over 11,000 buildings, while in Hakodate, another important city, there was a fire in 1907 which destroyed $15,000,000 worth of property. The extent of damage by these fires cannot be properly estimated by us in money because of the great difference in the value of property here and there. It must be measured by areas, number of buildings and people rendered homeless if one would have a true idea of the horror of these frequent disasters.

Many things about Japanese houses would indicate that the Japanese have come to accept frequent conflagrations as a part of the natural order of things. Against the outer wall of many country houses a ladder is fastened together with an axe and a bucket or some sort of primitive hand engine, which is supposed to be kept in working order but as a matter of fact rarely is. If an attempt is made to use one of these engines the operator is apt to be deluged in his excitement and his house burned to ashes before he is ready to work.

On the peak of some houses may be seen a small platform with a tub or bucket, likewise supposed to be kept full of water. Beside it is a long-handled brush, which in case of fire in the neighborhood is used to sprinkle water on the thatch or other inflammable roof to keep the sparks from starting fire there.

The typical Japanese fire brigade is more like a vaudeville troupe of equilibrists and acrobats than a piece of municipal machinery.

On New Year's Day they are fond of giving exhibitions, standing on their heads or hanging by their hands or their toes on any part of their ladders, and they are pretty clever at swinging an axe while their bodies are thrust at right angles to the ladder.

On hearing of the great fires of Japan one naturally wonders how their works of art have been preserved through the centuries when artists have done their work in the fire traps, and when treasures are kept by art lovers in homes differing from the humblest in degree, perhaps, but not in kind. Looking across the waste of ashes on the day after a fire, the answer is found.

For centuries past it has been the custom for people moderately well to do or more to build adjoining their houses, or perhaps with the space of a porch between, kura, or fireproof storehouses, into which they hastily carry their valuables when threatened by fire.

The simplest form of kura has walls from eighteen inches to two feet thick, made of mud plastered on a framework of great strength. The heavy beams of the framework are notched and bound with coarse fibred rope, and small bamboos are closely secured to the beams. Pieces of the rope a foot long are secured to the crossbeams and uprights—all these things being done for the purpose of holding securely the successive layers of mud.

The roofs are of immense thickness, with high ridges ornamented with designs in stucco and usually covered with tile. The Japanese artisan is usually more or less of an artist, and the ridge ornamentation is often quite a work of art. A frequent design is a conventionalized pattern of dashing waves, and this watery design on the ridge and the use of the Chinese character representing water out in the thatch of country houses below the ridge pole are thought to have originated in a superstition that their use might ward off the red peril. Windows are few and small and fitted by sliding doors or double shutters. The doors are massive, built with rabbets on the order of the door of a bank safe, made also of mud and plaster on a stout frame. In time of fire by way of additional precaution when the valuables have been placed inside and the doors and windows closed the crevices are plastered with mud, which is always on hand mixed for such an emergency. Latterly in some districts kura are made of stone and cement, and in the big cities steel doors and iron shutters are often used.

Usually after a big fire these kura are all that is left standing above the level of the vast desert of ashes and scraps of tile and pottery vessels, for Japanese houses have no chimneys, the smoke from their crude kitchen stoves going out of the hole in the wall near the roof. The owners are very cautious about opening the doors of the kura after the fire to see if their lars and penates are intact.

Occasionally living rooms are fitted up in the kura as one might fit up a room in an attic or storehouse, but their real purpose is an easily accessible storage place for valuables in time of danger.

Few of the better shops are without a kura, and of late years these have increased in size in the larger cities, and it looks odd to see here and there on the business streets a big shiny black building with ponderous doors and windows for all the world like a giant safe. They are known by foreigners as "godowns," and are the warehouses of manufacturers and other big business men, and possibly space in them is let to individuals after the custom of our storage warehouses.

Plausible.

WHAT SPEED MEANS.

Just How Good Roads Can Affect a Nation.

Speed has a distinct and measurable value in terms of money. The "mechanization" of the universe, to imitate the phraseology of the German, has greatly increased the rapidity and the volume of business transactions. The mechanical inventor, to quote a writer in the London Economist, gives us much greater returns for the same output of energy. If, in spite of this, we are busier than our forefathers, the fault rests with us. We could have more leisure if we so desired. (Since the mending of roads in England forty or fifty years ago, so Adam Smith told his class at Glasgow in 1782, "the opulence has increased enormously." Every boy can perceive that the difference between a good road and a bad one means less strain on the horses, less wear and tear for waggon and carriage, and above all, an increase in speed. It means, in short, our writer goes on to say, a saving of time and money in both goods and passenger traffic.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

Every farmer who allows an outside closet to remain on his farm is looking for trouble—disease and illness—for himself and his entire family.

It Has Been Proved

That nine out of every ten cases of illness on the farms are directly traceable to the outside closet—that horrible sink of disease and filth.

Just think! You allow this horror to remain within a few steps of your home—and force your family—your wife and daughter to use it—in all weathers—winter and summer.

Why, man, it's outrageous! Especially when you consider how little it would cost you to install a Good Health Sanitary Closet—right in your own home. Imagine how your family will appreciate its privacy and convenience. Make up your mind now to get rid of that outside privy. We will show you how.

CONCRETE watering-troughs and feeding-floors help to keep your live-stock healthy.

HORSES and cattle watered from a concrete trough are less likely to contract disease. Concrete is sanitary, easily cleaned—does not rot or leak. Once built, a concrete watering-trough will last forever. You need never waste time "patching it up." Like all concrete improvements, its first cost is its final cost.

MANY diseases of hogs are directly due to feeding from the filthy, unwholesome mud of the barn-yard. This manner of feeding is also wasteful, because the grain is trampled into the ground, in such a condition that not even a hog will eat it. Concrete feeding-floors, with concrete swill-troughs are clean, sanitary. They keep hogs in better health and save feed.

WATERING-TROUGHS and feeding-floors are only two of scores of valuable, every-day improvements that may be made of concrete. All are fully described in our 160-page, illustrated book,

MYSTERIOUS HANDLING OF PUBLIC MONEY.

Blair Says He Took Money With Knowledge of Premier Fleming; What Has Mr. Fleming to Say About these Irregularities?

(From The Carleton Sentinel.)

Fredericton, March 24, 1913.
Dear Editor: In the last days of the session of the local Legislature there were some developments, the seriousness of which is now beginning to be recognized. It has been the boast of the Hon. J. K. Fleming and his colleagues in the government that their system of accounting gave full and complete return of all moneys paid into the treasury and all moneys paid out. Answers to enquiries in the public accounts committee show that this is not the case; that instead the public moneys are handled more mysteriously than ever before and in such a way as to conceal the meaning and the cost of the transaction. Public confidence in the honesty of the government and in the righteousness of the much boasted system of audit got a rude shock when "the lid was lifted from the pot" in which the Birmingham refund moneys were manipulated. Mr. Black of Westmorland "lifted the lid," and before he put it back the public got more of a scent than they expected to get of the rottenness and dishonesty fomenting under that lid.

The Birmingham item as it appeared in the report of the public accounts was a false and misleading entry. It gave the amount paid in by Mr. Birmingham as one hundred and fifty dollars less than he paid. The money was sent, on the instructions of a clerk in the Public Works office, to H. M. Blair, (the clerk), instead of to the Receiver General, and after turning one hundred and fifty dollars into his own pocket, the clerk passed the balance over to the deputy Receiver General. The amount appropriated by Blair from these public moneys to his personal use does not appear in the accounts, and the amount paid in by Birmingham in settlement of the case is put down at $150 less than he actually paid. These are the facts brought out in the Public Accounts Committee. What has Mr. Fleming to say in answer to these? What of his boasted system of accounting which was to put an end to misleading financial statements? If Blair could handle the Birmingham moneys in that way, what is there to prevent any other clerk who might be as officious as he in any of the other departments doing the same thing? Is Mr. Fleming sure that it has not been done in the other departments? Can he guarantee the public that in the handling of the public moneys there are no other such gross irregularities as that brought to light in the Public Accounts Committee? He will not deny that Blair got the $150. He will not claim that this $150 of the public moneys appears in the Auditor General's Report in any form, although the law distinctly says that all provincial moneys shall be accounted for in the report. He cannot deny what I have set out, nor can he afford to beat around the facts. What position is he in to give public assurance that the whole system is not impregnated? There is a penalty for such irregularities as those of the character I have mentioned. Will he endeavor to satisfy the public and if possible to restore confidence by enforcing this penalty? I think not. First, Blair, the clerk, says he took the money with the knowledge of Mr. Fleming, and it was no business of his (Blair) if it was kept out of the Auditor General's Report or did not appear. Blair thus defiantly throws the responsibility upon the Premier, an unusual state of affairs, something that one does not often see in well governed families. Second, is the situation in all the other departments such that Mr. Fleming can take action without running the risk of exposing his own and the other departments to an independent investigation? I fear that things must stay as they are, even although to act is the only course left open for a government that is not hampered by departmental irregularities. The boasted system of accounting and audit is a thing of the past if it ever had an existence in fact. In getting at correct administration of the local finances we are apparently worse off, much more so, than ever.

Mr. Fleming, in his dilemma may try to hide behind the report of the Public Accounts Committee, which followed the example of all other Public Accounts committees and made the invariable report, "we find the accounts satisfactory." That committee is every year made up of a majority of members supporting the government, and their business is to make up a general report as they are told to make it. But the bald fact remains in the records that it was brought out in that committee that $150 of the Birmingham money was never accounted for in the Auditor General's Report, and that the Auditor General, who according to law must be made aware of every dollar of public moneys paid in, was never officially fully informed of the Birmingham transaction. Mr. Fleming cannot get away from that. Blair says this irregularity was worked with the knowledge, and consent of the leader of the government, and that this washes his hands clear of the business. Where is protection to the public to come in? If Mr. Fleming is unfortunately not in a position to take action, the public have a right to hear something from him on the subject of the irregularities recently exposed. There are other matters affecting the same department and the same clerk to which, with your permission, I will make reference in a future number of the Sentinel, but for the present, dare Mr. Fleming act, and if he dare act, where dare he begin?

THE CODERRE CHARGES IN CANADA'S PARLIAMENT

F. B. Carvell's Direct Statements—Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Borden Take Part.

When the Coderre case was under discussion in parliament last week, F. B. Carvell said that although the premier had declared that Emile Bourassa had never received a dollar from the government, the opposition did not claim he was, but would the prime minister say the man had not been appointed to office under the government after the charges in connection with the bye-election had been brought to Mr. Coderre's attention. The premier knew very well that the appointment was made.

Mr. Borden: "I knew nothing of the kind."

Mr. Carvell: "Give us a committee and we will prove it."

"Will the minister of marine say no letter was sent from his department notifying Bourassa of appointment to office?"

"I will say he was never appointed to office under the government," said Mr. Hazen.

"My friend is side-stepping again," said Mr. Carvell. "Again I say give us a committee and we'll prove what I have said."

Continuing Mr. Carvell urged that Hon. Mr. Coderre could not afford to lie under the imputation made against him by the charges. Nor could Hon.

H. R. NIXON

Mr. Nautel, whose name had been brought into the matter.

Amid some disorder Mr. Carvell referred to Hon. Mr. Rogers, who had been mentioned in the affidavits read by Mr. Gauthier. The minister of public works seemed, he said, to get his name mixed up with every shady election transaction. He had figured in connection with Macdonald, Richardson and Antigonish and now Hochelaga had come.

Hon. gentlemen opposite, Mr. Carvell continued, had argued that an attempt had been made to blackmail Mr. Coderre. Did an innocent man lie down under blackmail? As for the contention that the finding of a committee of the house might be looked upon as the finding of a body more or less of "titan" Mr. Carvell held that the important matter was not so much the finding itself as the production of evidence and giving that evidence publicity.

It had been argued also that no value could be attached to the evidence of men who perjured themselves by swearing to contradictory affidavits.

"Bring the man here," Mr. Carvell said, "who swears to one thing one day and after he gets a position from the government swears to another and he'll tell the truth before we get through with him."

In closing, Mr. Carvell declared that it was a singular coincidence that Mr. Gauthier had been asked to delay his charges in the house and in the meantime new affidavits and been obtained from men connected with the affair.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier at the outset of his speech took issue with the opposition statement, that Bourassa had been appointed to office. The leader of the opposition had stated that the man had been appointed to a position under the customs department, and now the member of Carleton (Mr. Carvell) said that the appointment was in another department. Mr. Pelletier was proceeding to emphasize these discrepancies of statement when he was interrupted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"This is mere quibbling," said Sir Wilfrid, "I am now prepared to state and to prove that this man was notified by an officer of one of the departments that he had been appointed to office."

Concrete is the best building material

A BROAD statement—Yet literally true. The aim of man from the beginning has been to make his building materials as nearly like natural stone as possible. The great labor required to quarry stone led him to seek various manufactured substitutes. The only reason he ever used wood was that it was easiest to get and most convenient to use. Wood is no longer easy to get. Like most building material, its cost is increasing at an alarming rate. The cost of concrete is decreasing. So, from the standpoint of either service or economy, Concrete is the best building material. Canada's farmers are using more concrete, in proportion to their numbers, than the farmers of any other country. Why? Because they are being supplied with a cement of the highest possible quality, which insures the success of their concrete work. The secret of concrete's popularity in Canada lies in the fact that while we have been producing, by scientific methods, a cement so uniformly high in quality that the concrete made with it gives the complete satisfaction our advertisements promised. Concrete would not have been in such universal use today, had an inferior grade of cement been supplied. Insist upon getting Canada Cement. It is your best assurance of thoroughly satisfactory results from your concrete work. There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

WAKEFIELD S. S. ASSOCIATION
Met at Victoria Last Week.

The plan of holding the parish convention at this time was changed on account of the scarcity of ministers to be obtained as speakers. It was decided simply to hold a rally as our general secretary, Rev. W. A. Ross was passing through this section. This rally will serve as a forerunner of the convention which will probably be held sometime during the summer.

The service was opened at 8.10 the devotional exercises being led by Rev. W. A. Ross. Scripture reading II Chron., 17. H. W. Havens, Parish Sec., spoke briefly. He regretted very much that owing to his Sunday duties in home churches being so numerous, he, as Parish Sec., could not get around to visit the schools as he should. Among many good things he said the chief aim of the Sunday schools is the building of Christian characters; such is of more worth to a nation than armies or navies.

As a means of keeping the young in the schools he advocated giving a portion of the work to the younger element and thus creating a feeling of personal responsibility. In support of this theory he quoted from personal experience.

Rev. W. A. Ross followed, speaking along general lines, beginning with what our Sunday School Associations stands for.

Our Sunday School Association is the most wonderful organization in the world. These united forces all over the world, having some definite aim to accomplish great work.

Organization is not all, there must be men of character behind it. No nation ever became great apart from religion.

When all work together, the organized forces become stronger. The problems which confront the workers are of common interest and not denominational.

Workers and scholars must be trained in the nature and admonition of the Lord to be fitted for life's work. There are two types of evangelization. Under the influence of the first or revival type we have seasons of refreshing, and the perishing are rescued. This is helpful and holds an important place.

Our personality has an influence on those about us. In this respect all are teachers. Our responsibility is great as our thoughts and acts determine our characters.

The greatest responsibility is placed upon the parents in the home, during the early years, when the material is gathered out of which the character will be built in the years following.

The choir put forth a special effort for this occasion and the following music was rendered at intervals: Gather them in; Rescue the Perishing; and When He Cometh.

The addresses were very interesting as well as helpful. The many good thoughts were given in a pleasing manner and made impressive by illustrations, and were such as should inspire all to greater earnestness in this very important branch of Christian work.

The Old Times News.

From the "Old Times" columns in the St. John Globe, last week, we clip the following:
 At Brighton, Car. Co., at the residence of Charles H. Richardson, on the 6th of January, 1849, Geo. Sinnet, supposed to have been at least 120 years of age. He was a native of Lower Germany, and came to this country in the army of the famous General Wolfe, and was at the eventful battle of Quebec, on the 13th Sept., 1759, and stood by that famous general when he bled on the plains of Abraham; afterwards came to this province, and enlisted in the 104th Regiment, from which he was discharged about 35 years ago. He came to live with the late Joseph Richardson about thirty-four years ago, in which family he resided till his death, where he indeed found an asylum for his declining years. It is more than probable that the deceased has survived Wolfe's entire army.

Mrs. Burton Hawkins.

The sudden death of Mrs. Burton Hawkins (Miss Pearl Flanders) which occurred at the home of her brother-in-law at Centreville, was received with great sadness by her friends and relatives at Maple View, Victoria county, where she was born and lived until the time of her death. A few days before her death she removed with her husband to Centreville where she might get medical treatment, but medical aid proved of no avail and she passed peacefully away,

March 4 in the 24th. year of her age. Mrs. Hawkins was a bright, cheerful young woman and made friends wherever she went. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss a sorrowing father, William Flanders in the eighty-sixth year of his age, one brother, a husband and an infant daughter, besides a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Puffer, Alberta.

Perhaps a few items concerning our work in the far west may be interesting to the readers of your paper.

Puffer is a great farming district about 180 miles northeast of Calgary. It is a brush country and well adapted for mixed farming. The nearest railway station is twenty-two miles distant, but branch lines are being constructed which will bring a market within easy reach of the farmers.

I came to this neighbourhood, as a Baptist missionary two months ago and found quite a few Baptist families from N. B., some of them having been members of the Lower Brighton church. This field like most of the prairie, has been supplied only in the summer months by various students from the different denominational colleges, but as this was far from being adequate to the need, our friends applied to head quarters for a permanent supply. The work on the whole has been encouraging. It is not easy here for people to get to services in the winter. Sometimes the thermometer registers forty or more degrees below zero, and besides, the people are not as yet supplied with conveniences, but, "where there's a will there's a way," and the zealous souls are usually found there.

The meetings are held in public school buildings. Recently we arranged a social gathering in the Fairfield district. A splendid program was rendered with credit. The meeting was well attended and evidently much enjoyed. There is very little social life on the prairie, and many young people seek for it in the dance. It is our desire to provide them with better fare and we hope that our social helped in some manner to counteract the dancing craze.

Following is the programme:
 Singing by congregation, prayer, singing by choir. Lecture by Rev. C. C. McLaurin, "A Trip to the British Isles".

Mrs. Deborah Jones.

Mrs. Deborah Jones, relict of the late Elipheus Jones, died at her home in Avondale, Carleton Co. March 22, 1913, from the infirmities of old age, having surpassed the octogenarian period. The deceased was born in Queens Co. November 27, 1827, married and came to this county 44 years ago, settling as one of the pioneers with her late husband, who had preceded her 14 years, where they, through hard labor and economy, hewed for themselves a home in the unbroken wilderness and reared a large family, six of whom survive her: three sons, G. Calvin, Avondale; Abner, Stockholm, Me.; Thomas L. Monticello, Me.; also three daughters: Mrs. W. B. Jones, Brookville; Mrs. H. C. Efrig, Burlington, Wash.; Mrs. Leonia Shain, Seattle, Wash. From the time of her marriage until a few years previous to her death, her home was in Brookville, now owned by James Tompkins, where she removed with her son, Calvin, to Avondale, at whose home she spent the remaining days of a long, joyous Christian life. Interment was made at the Baptist cemetery at Lakeville last Sunday afternoon, services at the house, church and grave being conducted by Rev. E. Jenkins.

Mrs. Anson Boone.

Died, suddenly, at Knoxford on Thursday, March 20th, 1913, Mrs. Rhoda Sisson Boone, relict of Anson Boone, aged nearly 80 years, leaving to mourn one daughter, six grandchildren, two great grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Benjamin Burr of Millville, N. B. Mrs. Boone had had the la grippe the first of the season but for some time had been in very good health and her death was entirely unexpected. She was a woman of quiet, peaceable manner and happy disposition and highly esteemed by friends and neighbors. Rev. W. J. Hurlow preached from Hosea 2:15: "And I will give the valley of anchor for a door of hope." The pall-bearers were L. N. Beckwith, Daniel McGrath, Leonard Bartley and Geo. Lockhart with T. A. Jones as funeral conductor.
