EMBEZZLEMENT

John Stothard, a Trusted Bookkeeper Arrested

DALHOUSIE SENSATION

Detective Discovered that he had Been Appropriating Goods and Cash

A sensational arrest was made in this county on Friday last and though the facts have been kept very quiet, the story is now out. John Stothard for nineteen years bookkeeper for A. & R. Loggie, the big canning men, was arrested charged with embezzlement from his employers at Dalhousie, and is now out on bail for preliminary hearing next Friday.

The story is lifted out of the common-place by the prominence of the accused and the fact that a Montreal detective's sharp work was the means which led to the arrest.

As far back as seven months ago it is said, there were suspicions that all was not right. But to confirm the fears was the difficulty. A watch was kept, but it was not until the last four weeks or so that the company felt the time had come to act.

The detective for the past month or so has been employed ostensibly as a clerk in the Loggie concern at Dalhousie. Donning the working clothes of the everyday man of wages, he did the duties which such a position in the company's employ would demand of him. But all the time he had in mind an object—the watching of the suspected bookkeeper for evidence which might confirm what the firm suspected and account for the loss of goods and leakage in cash which have been troubling them for a long time.

It is said that between certain recent dates something more than $200 is known to have been taken and, though the detective had not made known to everyone what his time spent in the Loggie employ had resulted in his learning, it is certain that on Friday last Stothard was arrested on the premises.

Armed with a warrant another detective and a Campbellton constable called at the place where the accused was at work and, calling for him, told him that he must come along with them, as they had authority for his arrest.

It is said that he did not make any comment, but went along and was taken to Campbellton where, before a justice, he was admitted to bail in $4,000, his securities being W. S. Montgomery and Roy Moffatt, and his preliminary examination was set for Friday next.

The detective who was employed as clerk to watch matters within the company's office was known as Aiken, but of course his real name or business was not divulged. There is talk of an amount at which the alleged embezzlement is placed, but this is, so far as can be learned, but guess work. But in addition to the charge of embezzlement there is also alleged falsifying of the books and also talk that some of the business records are not to be found.

When the case comes for examination to-morrow there is expected something of a sensation even more than has already been caused by the arrest. The accused is married and has several children. He has occupied a good place in the community.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

Diplomas Presented to Graduating Class by Dr. Murray.

The closing exercises of the town schools took place Friday last. A large number of visitors were present in the various departments to witness the review of the work of the term. This was especially true of the lower grades. The blackboards in some of the rooms were covered with maps and drawings executed by the pupils, and were much admired.

After the examinations were through in the classrooms the pupils and visitors gathered in the Assembly Hall where the following programme was carried out.

Patriotic Song, Before All Lands—School.

Welcome—Douglas McNair.

Rec. The Little Word that was Lost—Enid McKenzie.

Rec. Longfellow's first Poem—Arnold Alexander.

Solo, The Hindoo Man—Jean Anderson.

Rec. Little Boys Trouble—Bernie McLatchey.

Rec. A Little Sunbeam—Gertrude McLellan.

Rec. The Freed Bird—Etta Coleman.

Song, The Summer Rain—School.

Rec. The Bride—Harold Currie.

Rec. Margery Grey—Mary Graham.

Rec. Kate Shelly—Jean McLatchey.

Chorus, Paddle Your Own Canoe—Boys in Grades V, and VI.

Orig. composition—Jessie Currie.

Selec. from the Princess—Grades " " Hamlet—X & XI.

Piano Duet—Lillian Mowat.

Song, Some Day We'll Wander Back Again—Boys in Grades X, and XI.

Song, Men of the North—School.

The recitations generally showed that much care and attention had been bestowed upon them and were heartily applauded.

Rev. Mr. Thomas who had offered a medal (at the beginning of the term) for the best essay, then presented it to Miss Eileen Stewart for an essay on The Early History of New Brunswick. The following were also deserving of honorable mention: George Connell, Mary Starr, Greta Gray, Della Currie, Jennie Carter, and Gussie Mowat.

Mrs. W. J. Duncan, on behalf of the people of Campbellton, presented Miss Barnes, one of the retiring teachers with a purse containing $175 and an address, to which Miss Barnes made a fitting reply.

Rev. Messrs. Coleman and Kierstead and Dr. Murray in their address referred to the general regret felt by the community in losing the services of Miss Barnes and Miss Mair.

The exercises then closed by singing God save the King.

It is to be regretted that the attendance of pupils was not as large as it should have been. It appears to be the practice with many parents to allow their children to stay at home as soon as the written examinations are over, unmindful of the fact that teachers have a right to require pupils to be present at the closing public examination, in order to show what work has been done during the term.

Cannot some of our public minded citizens emulate Rev. Mr.

VERDICT IS MURDER.

In the Wood Inquest at New Mills.

CONCLUDED FRIDAY.

Nothing Disclosed to Lead to the Arrest of Any Person.

The mystery surrounding the death of Alex. Wood injured at New Mills on the night of June 15th remains unchanged in spite of the large amount of work done by the coroner's jury, over forty witnesses being examined and nothing was adduced to warrant the authorities in making any arrests. The jury rendered their verdict on Friday as follows:—"The jury find that Alex. Wood came to his death by blows inflicted on the night of June 15th, 1905, by some dull weapon in the hands of some person or persons unknown."

The evidence submitted last week brought out nothing new in regard to the tragedy, but it certainly revealed a low plain of morals.

A story told by some witnesses which could not be verified is to the effect that Wood went to a certain house and asked for some beer. The woman of the house struck him and the matter ended in a row, the man of the house also taking a hand. This story, it seems could not be proved.

That murder has been committed is evident and an effort should be made to bring the guilty party or parties to justice.

Thomas' example and offer prizes for the coming school year? Some schools of the province, of the same standing as our Grammar School, have as many as eight or ten medals and prizes bestowed each year.

A large number of students of the High School and their friends gathered in the Assembly Hall of the Grammar school on Friday evening of last week to see the graduating exercises of the First Annual Commencement of the school.

The platform was very prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The graduating class, six in number, occupied seats on the platform, Principal Lewis presided. Revs. Thomas, Kierstead and Coleman and Dr. Murray, chairman of the school board, also occupied seats on the platform.

The following programme was then carried out:

Piano Solo—Miss Little.

Opening Address—Principal.

Essay, Education—W. G. Firth.

"Some Great Battles—Greta I. Gray.

Vocal Solo—Miss Gilker.

Essay, Modern Japan—G. Connell.

Essay, Beethoven—Gussie Mowat.

PRESENTATION

A Pleasant Affair on Monday Evening

REV MR THOMAS HONORED

By Temperance People on Eve of His Departure for Moncton

On Monday evening the members of the Campbellton Temperance Alliance and Women's Christian Temperance Union gathered at the Methodist Parsonage grounds to spend a social hour or two with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas on the eve of their departure from Campbellton. The ladies served ice cream and cake and a very pleasant time spent by all in the balmy air of a moderately warm evening.

The company then gathered in the church where an interesting part of the evening's programme was carried out. Rev J. W. Kierstead was called to the chair and after singing "Blest be the Tie that binds", all present entering into the spirit of the old familiar words of the hymn, he briefly stated the object of the gathering. They were present to offer a worthy tribute to a worthy man. Mr. Thomas was about to leave the place and it was felt that it would hardly be proper to allow him to depart without showing our appreciation of his services. He had always taken an uncompromising attitude in every moral reform and had gone whole heartedly into the temperance work, and for this merited our sympathy and confidence.

The chairman called upon Rev R. J. Coleman to address the meeting. Mr. Coleman said that it was with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure that he appeared on this occasion—regret that they were to part with Mr. Thomas and pleasure that he could simply give expression to the feelings of appreciation of Mr. Thomas' services, especially in temperance matters. He (Mr. Thomas) had brought out the latent temperance sentiment in the town in spite of many difficulties and to him we were indebted for the organization of the Campbellton Temperance Alliance.

Rev G. A. Leck of Dalhousie was the next speaker. He said he had learned to love and respect Mr. Thomas very much as a man thoroughly in earnest on Temperance reform. He believed that the results of the work already done could not be calculated. He would remind him however that there was just as great work to be done in the town to which he was going and humorously warned those present not to think the end of the world was at hand if they heard the sound of bottles and glasses breaking, borne up on the breeze from the railway town.

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and Always Helpful

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensations in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in Canada is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

DALHOUSIE SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

On Wednesday afternoon, Miss Brown, teacher of the fifth and sixth grades, held a public examination. Many of the parents and friends were assembled to hear the exercises and entertainment. All the exercises showed Miss Brown's faithfulness.

Miss Brown offered three prizes, all of which consisted of oil and water colored paintings—her own work—which was certainly of a high order. The first prize was awarded to Heloise Leck, she having made an average of 90.8%. The second prize was awarded to Adele Albert, she having made an average of 88.4%, and the third prize was divided among four boys, they having made an equal average.

Just before the school was closed an address was read by Minnie Jamieson and accompanying gifts of remembrance were given by the school to Miss Brown who fittingly replied, thanking the scholars for their kindness. The address was as follows:

Dear Teacher:—As the end of the school term is now at hand and the time for separation draws near, we naturally think of the fact that, because of your resignation of this department, our lives may become separated forever. We wish to bear testimony to the diligence and faithfulness which you have constantly displayed in seeking to promote our educational interests, and the anxiety you have manifested that we should live lives of usefulness in the world. We trust that your efforts have not been in vain and that the seed you have sown will produce a harvest of good fruit in the years to come.

Please accept the accompanying gift with our best wishes for your happiness and with the assurance that wherever your lot may be cast, you will always have the comfort and joy of those who spend their lives in doing good.

On Thursday morning again, parents and friends came to together to witness the exercises of Miss McPherson's department. First and second grades. The little tots reflected great credit on the teacher's training and showed thoroughness in work and method.

Among the exercises that were very pleasing and entertaining were the Spelling Match and Motion Song, entitled 'Here we come with our dolls'.

Short addresses were given by Revs. Geo. A. Leck and W. J. Bate and Mr. James Harquail, who expressed themselves as well pleased with the work of the department.

Miss McPherson richly deserves the reputation she has gained in this county as a teacher.

On Thursday afternoon Miss Murphy's room was well filled with visitors to hear the examination of her pupils. The visitors were at once impressed with the excellent order, and the methodical manner in which everything was done.

Among the interesting features of this examination were the Spelling Match, the dialogue—'Blue eyes and Brown eyes' and a duet called 'The New Baby.'

It was very evident that excellent work had been done in this department by Miss Murphy. Jean Mitchell made the highest average in the fourth grade viz.—89% and Laurie Leck, the highest in the third grade, having made 91%.

At the close of the examination an address was read by Muriel Bate, and presents given by the scholars to Miss Murphy who was very much affected.

The address was as follows:

Dear Teacher, We, the pupils of your department, beg leave to express to you the sorrow we feel at learning that your intention is to resign your position at the close of the present term. Our parents and friends, as well as ourselves are deeply impressed with the value of the services you have rendered.

Your faithfulness in the performance of your duties, your firmness in requiring obedience, your anxiety to make your teaching effective, your loving sympathy with your pupils, have all been promotive of the best interest of the school and will serve to make your departure all the more keenly felt. Indeed, if the decision was left to us we would oppose the severance of the relationship.

We can only say that wherever you may go you will carry with you our highest esteem and respect, and our sincere wish is, that you may have the sunshine of God's presence with you throughout your life. Asking your acceptance of the accompanying token of our regard, we sign, on behalf of the school, Yours affectionately, COMMITTEE.

A prize was offered by Mr. Leck to the eighth grade, in the Principal's room, and was awarded to Elsie Mitchell, who made the highest average.

English Temperance Workers on Public House Trusts

"The debate in the Senate on Public House Trusts, and Earl Grey's public and private utterances, are doing just what our English friends feared viz.—bringing this scheme for the control of the Drink Traffic before the Canadian people. We think the following ought to put a quietus upon any attempt to establish, on Canadian soil, such a form of license."

Just about the time Earl Grey landed in Canada "The British National Temperance Federation published" a manifesto, addressed "To the Temperance organizations of Canada." The Federation embraces thirty three temperance societies of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, and includes the large bulk of the working forces of this great reform. The President is A. Cameron Corbett M. P., and amongst the Vice-Presidents are the Countess of Carlisle (President of the English W. C. T. U.) and twenty-seven members of Parliament. Let the manifesto speak for itself.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE FEDERATION

168 Edmund Street, Birmingham England

1st December 1904
TO THE TEMPERANCE ORGANIZATIONS OF CANADA

Dear Friends, We hear with deep regret of a disposition on the part of some of our countrymen to favor the creation of a Public Liquor Monopoly, whereby philanthropic and religious people may be induced to join in the setting up of so-called "Reformed Public House Trust System" or in the creation of a State, or Municipal or other Public Monopoly in or for the sale of intoxicating drinks—whereby the entire community become implicated in the liquor traffic under the idea of improving its conditions and perhaps of applying part of its profits to countervailing agencies.

In the interests of the sacred cause of Temperance, and of the good name of your country and its influence upon the Motherland and other countries we, on behalf of the enormous hosts of Temperance people—members or the Organization named at the head of this sheet—entreat you to give no encouragement to any such idea, but to protest against and oppose it, no matter from what quarter such evil counsels may come. We had a similar agitation to face for a series of years, and the intensity of our opposition grows with our increased knowledge of its evil tendency. We enclose for your personal perusal on the question, and trust that every branch of each Temperance Organization will adopt and publish an expression of its unalterable opposition to the setting up of any State, Municipal or other Public Monopoly whereby the whole community would become a partner in the ever deadly and destructive traffic in intoxicating drinks.

The alleged successful results following the creation of a State Liquor Monopoly in Russia have been cited by the Russian National Medical Congress meeting this year in St. Petersburg has ventured to pass the following resolution of remonstrance—

"The Spirit Monopoly not only does not check alcoholism in Russia but it actually favors its growth, because of its value in filling the coffers of the State. An active and successful conflict against alcoholism, which is in Russia a social evil of the first magnitude, is only possible if we had full guarantees of liberty for our persons and words, and freedom of the press and public meetings. It is only under these conditions that it would be possible to spread widely among the people instruction as to the injury caused by alcoholism, and the real causes of its development."

For thus exposing the evil consequences of this State Liquor Monopoly at the Medical Congress, we learn from the Vienna Der Abstinenz, that many of the Scientists were promptly seized and banished to Siberia!

A year ago the great United Kingdom Alliance had its subject at a proposed Public Liquor Monopoly before them at the Annual Meeting and unanimously resolved—

"That this Council discontinue all proposals to create a municipal or public Monopoly for the common sale of intoxicants, involving as it would the implication of local communities in the carrying on of the traffic and in the drunkenness and other evils resulting therefrom; and this Council deprecates the prospect of the people especially Christian and Temperance Reformers, being led to look to the profits on the sale of liquor as a means for originating agencies to counteract the evils it creates."

This year it has unanimously reaffirmed the above, and the National Temperance Federation has also unanimously endorsed the same. We commend the same to you for endorsement and publication.

Yours in the Good Cause,

IS THIS ALL SO?

There is but one sure cure for the drinking disease or habit, and that is the simplest of all. The cure consists in eating fruits. That will cure the worst case of inebriety that ever afflicted a person. It will entirely destroy the taste for intoxicants and will make the drunkard return to the thoughts and tastes of his childhood, when he loved the luxuries nature had provided for him, and when his appetite had not become contaminated by false, cultivated tastes and attendant false desires and imaginary pleasures. No person ever saw a man or woman who liked fruit and who had an appetite for drink. No person ever saw a man or woman with an appetite for drink who liked fruit. The two tastes are at deadly enmity with each other, and there is no room for both of them in the same human constitution. One will certainly destroy the other.

HUGE STATUE OF BUDDHA.

To the eastern traveler the statue of Buddha is a familiar sight. From Colombo, in Ceylon, to Kobe, in Japan, he is everywhere greeted by the same calm, impassive and mysterious face of the eastern preceptor of perfection. But in no city in the orient do the form and face of Buddha constitute so frequent or so essential a part of the city's decoration as in Rangoon, Burma, starting place of Mr. Kipling's famous "Road to Mandalay." The stronghold of Buddhists. Notable even among the countless statues of Rangoon is the mammoth Buddha, representing the strange teacher not standing or sitting cross-legged, as in the majority of statues, but reclining on a huge raised couch, his mighty form stretched out for 200 feet, while his shoulders rival the width of that wonder of the ancient world, the Colossus of Rhodes, their titanic breadth reaching fifty feet.

But one among the wonders of Rangoon, this mighty figure rests near the famous Shway Dagon, the center of the Burmese Buddhist world, crowned by the golden pagoda, which rises 300 feet above it, its walls covered with pure gold, the gift of a prince who contributed his weight in gold to the pagoda. In the Shway Dagon there are countless other statues of Buddha, as well as relics of Gautama, the last Buddha.

All, equally with the reclining Buddha, form a part of the religious rites of the Buddhists, for the essence of Buddhism consists in the struggle to become like Buddha, to attain his perfection by obeying his precepts. To do this it is necessary always to have Buddha in mind, and it is for this reason that every city in the Buddhist world is literally crowded with his images. Buddha himself is not deified. Potentially every Buddhist may attain his perfection, but only by the eternal imitation of his practice.

But, while statues such as Rangoon's huge colossus are important in Buddhist worship, of even more importance are the relics of Buddha.

It was about the Shway Dagon that the Burmese made their last fierce fight when the British came to Rangoon. A Venetian traveler of 300 years ago visiting the Shway Dagon has left a description of the Shway Dagon, conceding its claim to rivalry with his own Venice, that would serve as a contemporary description, and today, as in untold centuries past, the Burmese struggle for their religious shrine, and fruit, candles and paper flags, to lay before the huge reclining Buddha, whose hands would afford comfortable standing room for four of the worshippers and whose gigantic face wears the strange, inscrutable expression of calm which is the outward mark of spiritual Buddhism.

The Turkey's Real Name.

The original name of the turkey was oocococo, by which it was known by the native Cherokee Indians. It is supposed that our pilgrim fathers, roaming through the woods in search of game for their first Thanksgiving spread, heard the oocococo calling in the familiar tones of our domesticated fowl, "Turk, turk, turk." These first Yankee hunters, mistaking this frightened cry of the bird for its real song, immediately labeled it "turkey," and turkey it is to this day. Much more beautiful and musical was the Indian name oocococo, the notes peculiar to the flock when sunning themselves in perfect content on the river beaches.

THE DEATH DICE.

A Strange Story That Comes From the Seventeenth Century.

A notable exhibit in the Berlin Hohenzollern museum consists of the famous "death dice." About the middle of the seventeenth century a beautiful young girl was murdered, and suspicion fell on two soldiers, Ralph and

Alfred, who were rival suitors for her hand. As both prisoners denied their guilt and even torture failed to extract

a confession from either Prince Frederick William, the Kaiser's ancestor, decided to cut the Gordian knot with the dice box. The two soldiers should throw for their lives, the loser to be executed as the murderer. The event was celebrated with great pomp and solemnity, and the prince himself assisted at this appeal to divine intervention, as it was considered by everybody, including the accused themselves.

Ralph was given the first throw, and he drew sixes, the highest possible number, and no doubt felt jubilant.

The dice box was then given to Alfred, who fell on his knees and prayed aloud:

"Almighty God, thou knowest I am innocent. Protect me, I beseech thee!"

Rising to his feet, he threw the dice with such force that one of them broke in two. The unbroken one showed six, the broken one also showed six on the larger portion, and the bit that had been split off showed one, giving a total of thirteen, or one more than the throw of Ralph. The whole audience thrilled with astonishment, while the prince exclaimed, "God has spoken!"

Ralph, regarding the miracle as a sign from heaven, confessed his guilt and was sentenced to death. It is probable that Alfred ever after did not number himself among those who look upon thirteen as an unlucky number.—

Foretold in a Slumber.

A strange family story is told in the has to do with her sister Jane, married to the Londoner, eldest son of the

TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENT

We understand that the Restigouche Telephone Company has decided not to entertain the New Brunswick Telephone Company's offer for its Campbellton plant and that a meeting of the stockholders is to be held next Monday to consider the advisability of making necessary improvements to the plant and the extension of the lines to Dalhousie, Balmoral, Metapedia and Charlo.

While we regret that the company has decided not to dispose of its interests to the larger company and thus give Campbellton communication with St John and other provincial points, yet we are pleased to note that there is with in the home company a latent spirit of progression which we trust will be fanned into the flame of improvement and expansion, and that this will take place at Monday's meeting.

Campbellton today is considered as one of the most progressive towns in the province, yet in regard to communication with other provincial points, or even county points, we are many years behind the times, and even our town service is poor.

The Restigouche Company says that the extensions and improvements have been delayed because of pending negotiations for the sale of the plant, but now that it has been definitely decided not to sell, these improvements will certainly be made.

While considering the extensions would it not be well to consider the advisability of eventually extending the lines to Bathurst. If this could be done we are informed that the Gloucester and Miramichi companies would combine and extend their services to make a complete circuit of the whole north shore. In this way through communication could then be had with St John and Halifax and United States points.

We trust that "Progression" will be the watchword of the company at its meetings on Monday and future meetings.

ADVERTISING VALUES

What constitutes advertising value. This is an all important question to those who use printers' ink to increase their business.

An advertisement in order to be a paying investment must be something which will induce people to buy your wares, that will convince them that yours is the best store to patronize.

But the most important question of all is how to reach the people who buy. It is not enough that you prepare your advertisement carefully and then buy a space in a newspaper. The first consideration is to choose a paper which is read by the largest number, which has the largest bona-fide circulation, and then use it irrespective of the fact that you are obliged to pay a slightly better rate for the same space. If you stop to consider you will understand that it would be to your advantage to use a Journal with a circulation of 2000 or more in preference to our having only about 1000 even though the rate of the latter was 25 per cent cheaper. You want to reach the people.

"Events" has at present a circulation of about 1900 (guaranteed) and is the best advertising medium in Northern New Brunswick. Your advertisement should be in Events in order to reach all the people.

Mr D. C. Firth followed giving expression to his feelings of pleasure at being present on this occasion. He hoped to see the tree planted by Mr Thomas grow to its full proportions when the Scott Act as prohibition should be vigorously enforced.

Mr. Burns, who is supplying the pulpits of Tide Head and Kemps Road districts for the summer, said that he had never met Mr Thomas until that evening, but as he had gone up and down the county he had heard good reports of his work. Speaking of the need of such a worker in Moncton Mr Burns related a story told him not long ago as follows: A commercial traveller arrived at the railway town on an evening travel sore and thirsty and knowing it to be a Scott Act town naturally had misgivings as to whether he would be able to procure a drink. He timidly approached a policeman and asked to be directed to a place where he might receive the desired refreshment and he was escorted along some of the principal streets until they came to a millinery store. Here the policeman halted and pointing into the window with all the dignity of the arm of the law said "This is the only place in Moncton where you cannot obtain a glass of liquor in Moncton."

Then followed short addresses by Mrs Benedict, Mrs Connacher, Mrs Adams, D. J. Bruce, Dr. Cates, A. G. Adams, J. C. Ferguson, J. M. McLean, G. E. Asker, M. M. Mowat and others, all endorsing what had been said regarding Mr Thomas.

The chairman Rev J. W. Keirstead, then rose and read the following address:—

Rev H E Thomas,
Campbellton, N. B.
Rev and Dear Sir—

Your many friends of Campbellton embrace this opportunity, on the eve of your departure from our midst, to express to you and Mrs Thomas the very sincere regret we feel regarding your removal.

Your social qualities and the lively interest which as a citizen you have taken in all that makes for the moral and spiritual good of the community, and your distinguished ability as a leader in temperance reform, has given you a warm place in all our hearts and will cause you to be greatly missed by the community. The untimely energy and devotion which you gave to the recent Scott Act Campaign has made the whole community your debtor. And therefore we wish in this feeble manner to express to you our appreciation of your services and our esteem for yourself as a man, and as a minister of the gospel. And though you are now removing from our midst there are many who will hope that in the triennial turning of the great "Methodist Wheel of Fortune" you may be dropped off at this town again and at no distant date. But whether this be in store for our town or not, be well assured that both yourself and Mrs Thomas, "to whose distinguished virtues" we must credit at least half of your success, will be followed by our sympathy and prayers. And now Dear Sir, please accept this accompanying gift as a further token of our esteem.

Yours in behalf of
The Campbellton Temperance Alliance
Committee
(Rev) J W Keirstead
(Rev) R. J. Coleman

The address was accompanied by a very handsome oak leather upholstered easy chair.

Rev Mr. Thomas in replying said that it were not possible for him to look only at the bright side shutting out the sad part almost entirely, it would be utterly impossible for him to attempt to make any reply. Since coming to Campbellton kindness had been heaped upon kindness towards him for which it was useless to attempt to give expressions to the gratitude both he and Mrs Thomas felt listening to all the kind things that had been said about him to-night he had begun to wonder who he was. He had simply endeavored to do his duty and if he had been used by God in any way to help them he was thankful for it.

Some persons might have thought that he was too aggressive but our best efforts fell far short of the mark and no law ever measured up to the ideal. The liquor traffic was opposed to the advancement of God's kingdom and as such he had gone out to fight against it. A rather roughly-clad man on a Mississippi boat was asked if he belonged to the boat and he replied "the boat belongs to me" "We ought to place ourselves in a similar position, believing that Canada belongs to us, and seek to build up our heritage in right principles. He would go to Moncton with a glad heart to take up his work there knowing that he had the confidence and esteem of the people here. If it became necessary for him to take a gun and go out to fight or to remain quiet while others did the work, he would endeavor to do his duty. After singing "God be With you till we Meet Again", the company dispersed.

Principal Lewis in opening stated that this new departure, viz., the holding of graduation exercises did not indicate any particular advance in the line of high school work. For the last ten years pupils of this school have gone to college. As the number of pupils and teachers gradually increased the lower grades had been removed from the high school department, and the Principal was able to give more attention to pupils in the advanced classes. In order to call the attention of the parents and public generally to the class of work done, the teacher and pupils had decided to have regular graduation exercises separate from the public school closing, and the school board had heartily concurred and had granted graduation certificates. At the close of the programme Dr. Murray presented the graduates with their diplomas, and Rev. Mr. Thomas gave the farewell address.

The proceedings were brought to a close by singing God Save The King.

The barque Telefon which arrived at Chatham on Friday had the Captain, wife, little boy and seven sailors of the schooner Minto of Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, on board, which were picked up in mid-ocean on June 4th. The weather for several days previous had been very rough and the schooner which had a cargo of coal and sundries labored heavily and finally lost her bowsprit in a gale which split the stem, starting the planks. She was put before the wind and a piece of canvas fastened over the hole, but leaked badly and had not the Telefon hove in sight another sea disaster would have been recorded. Capt. Burke and his crew launched a boat in the rough sea and were taken on board, after considerable difficulty. The Captain's wife was put into a rope chair and hauled up and the little boy was securely fastened in a sailor's kit bag and hauled on board. The little fellow was only three years old. The nearly exhausted crew were tenderly cared for and when they arrived at Chatham were none the worse for their rough experience.—Advocate.

In addition to the sleepers there are two new dining cars. These cars will run on the road between Montreal and Halifax.

Chatham mourns the death of a good citizen, Wm Lawler, who passed away Monday night after an illness of a few months. He was married to Miss Costigan, sister of the Hon. John Costigan, who with three sons and three daughters survive him. The late Rev. Father Lawler was also his son.

No wonder the show people belittled our 750 stage at our temporary opera house. The affair is a disgrace to our town when at little expense a suitable stage could be built where a large company could have proper space to give a good entertainment. That under present circumstances is impossible. We would strongly advise those who manage the rink to give this matter proper attention and have this disgraceful, inadequate affair remedied as soon as possible.

OBITUARY

Mr Malcolm Patterson, one of the pioneer residents of Campbellton, died of heart failure at his home last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The deceased gentleman was born at Glasgow eighty-five years ago. He served an apprenticeship at blacksmithing in Scotland. When nineteen years of age he came to Restigouche, landing at Fleury's Point. He later worked with the shipbuilding firm of Fergusons and others for a number of years, and from his savings bought a farm above town, erected a blacksmith shop and worked at his trade. A few years later he went into the Mercantile business on a small scale, which prospered and was enlarged. During the construction of the I. C. R. he did a very extensive business supplying the various contractors. About fifteen years ago he retired from active business, having by his business ability and thrift amassed a considerable fortune.

Practical Points for the Farmer on This Subject

The series of meetings held at the request of the Farmers' & Dairyman's Association by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture have had the attendance and interest of representative farmers in the various localities.

The attendance at Andover was reported at about 75—at both sessions, at Woodstock 85 at the afternoon session—at Jemseg 70 in the afternoon and 120 in the evening and at Petitcodiac the afternoon brought out 70 farmers and the evening 104.

The object of the meetings was to inform our stockraisers upon the type of animal which is in demand in draft horses, in beef cattle and the kind of cow most profitable for milk production. The object lesson plan was adopted and animals of these different types were taken to the various meetings for this purpose—A Clydesdale mare and two beef steers were procured from W. W. Black of Amherst—Two cows and a driving horse were also obtained in the same district and the lot were taken to all the meetings.

To encourage this work the Intercolonial and Canadian Pacific Railway gave reduced rates.

Duncan Anderson of Rugby Ont was the expert sent to demonstrate the horses and beef cattle and W. F. Stephen, Huntingdon Que., took up the dairy cattle.

Score cards were presented to those present, when the animals under discussion were brought into the ring, and when the speaker had gone carefully over the desirable conformation of the different points all present were asked to use their judgment and mark down what the animal before them was entitled to. The demonstrator then went carefully over the animal enquiring as to the markings of those present upon each point and discussing with them what should be the ideal development of each particular part.

An active interest was taken at each meeting, the score cards available for marking were all taken and will doubtless be kept for reference.

THE DRAFT HORSE.

In opening his remarks upon this topic Mr. Anderson expressed it as his opinion that had the farmers of New Brunswick used draft sizes of good quality instead of so many standard bred stallions they would have not only made more money out of horse raising in the past but they would now have foundation mares to raise heavy draft colts for the active demand now existent. He thought it a pity that New Brunswick should have to send away for so many heavy horses, when the rearing of these might be a profitable occupation among our farmers.

The desirable heavy horse must have both weight and quality. A dull sluggish horse is not wanted for any purpose. Too many stallions that have simply had weight and nothing else have been used and as a result we see ungainly course boned greasy legged, slow, awkward colts.

I have not suffered since taking them, and now sleep well and feel strong and vigorous."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure all diseases arising from weak heart, worn out nerve tissues, or watery blood.

THE PROFITABLE DAIRY COW

W. F. Stephen, Huntingdon, Que., Secty of the Montreal Milk Supplier's Association took up this subject. The judging of a dairy cow or a dairy bull was a much more difficult task than any other class of stock because it was largely their ability to produce and not the animals themselves that had to be judged. The question of profitable milk producing stock was an important one to the farmers of New Brunswick, the dairy products of the Province each year exceeded $2,000,000 in value and whether these were produced at a profit or not meant a great deal of money to our people.

The first thing in dairying was to get cows with ability to produce milk of good quality and in large quantities and the intelligent dairyman, no matter how his cows are bred will keep a record of the milk yield of each individual cow and have the milk tested for butter fat. This is the only way by which a man can tell what his cows are doing and which of them are best for his purpose.

In selecting a dairy bull, he said, first choose the breed you consider best adapted to your conditions and then get the bull from a heavy milking family. See his mother if possible and if she is a cow of good constitution and has a large milk record don't scruple to pay an extra dollar or two to secure the bull he is also individually good.

In judging a dairy cow, said Mr. Stephen we find the head is a fair indication of the rest of the animal—A large muzzle, a nostril open and of good length, a clear large prominent eye, a dish face, a good with and height of forehead with no coarseness nor meanness anywhere are indications of milking ability.

A long thin neck, strong prominent open jointed back bone standing high between the shoulder blades and prominent over the loin, ribs sloping away from back bone and long, giving depth of chest and barrel, breath and length of quarters and then most important of all a well developed, well balanced under with a large surface of attachment to the cows body. The udder should come well forward and then be carried up well behind. The milk veins should be large tortuous and entering the chest well forward and preferably by several openings.

These were all indications of a good cow, but no one could say absolutely what a cow would be or could do until she was tested by the scales and fat test.

The cows which were used in illustration were a Shorthorn grade and a Jersey grade and those were scored and compared by many at each meeting. While neither cow had an ideal dairy form they had both been fairly good performers. The first mentioned having given 6250 lbs milk between the 1st September 1904 and 15th June 1905 and the second having made over 200 lbs butter in a season.

Mr. Stephen also spoke at the evening meetings upon Feeding dairy cattle, strongly urging closer attention to this important matter. It would always pay to grow such crops as vetches or peas and oats and corn to help out the summer pastures and for winter there should always be roots in abundance.

In regard to the prospects for New Brunswick Agricultural, from what he had seen he was quite prepared to agree with Prof. J. W. Robertson when that gentleman stated that the opportunities for successful Agriculture were as good in New Brunswick as in any part of Canada.

Hon. L. P. Farris was present at the Jemseg and Chatham meetings and urged the stockmen present to get all the information possible from the demonstrations. He expressed his strong belief in the value of these practical methods of instruction; at the present time we were sending away out of the Province to find judges for our exhibitions, he hoped that as a result of these meetings and an increased interest in live stock that we would be able to find competent judges at home. In this connection he stated that he had placed in the estimates a sum of $300, to assist in paying the expenses of any New Brunswicker who would attend the short courses in Stock Judging, Poultry raising &c., at either Truro or Guelph Agricultural Colleges.

QUALITY CARRIES WITH IT FIRST, HARD HOOF AND BONE, AND FEET AND LEGS OF RIGHT SHAPE—A large electric frog concave sole, flinty horn yet elastic with open coronet, a pastern moderately long and oblique—broad strong fetlocks, cannon bones with razor shaped appearance; hard and firm, silky hair, knee broad, deep and strong—hook broad with depth from front to rear free from all guminess and not too straight the muscles of arms and thighs firm and well developed—a good slope of shoulder and length of quarter. The disposition of a high quality horse must be quick and alert yet docile and the action active and vigorous. The fetlocks knees and hocks should flex well showing the shoe with every step. A good top is desirable but the all important points are the feet and legs. Such a horse weighing from 1700 lbs upwards at 4 years old is property that will bring ready cash and at a price that leaves a good profit to the breeder. To get such a colt great care must be taken to use only stallions of high quality and the mares should be free from hereditary disease and as well formed and sturdy as possible. If the mares of a district are light a stallion of medium weight and high quality should be elected. Violent crossing of extra large stallions upon light mares should be avoided. It may take two or three crosses to get the colts up to the weight which will bring the highest prices, but meantime a large number of high quality agricultural and general purposes horse will have been bred. At each meeting Mr. Anderson also spoke upon beef-raising. He thought it was a shame that so much money should be sent out of the Province for beef when the facilities were so good for stock raising here. He recommended our farmers who were not making a specialty or dairying to use good low set beefy bulls. His own practice was to use a Shorthorn bull. His Shorthorn grade cows were fairly good milkers giving him an average of over $40 each per annum for the butter he made from them. The calves were raised on the skim milk and a little grain added and at 2 years old he was able to average $50 each for them. The past spring he had sold one steer at 17 months old weighing 1250 lbs for $60 per lb. totally $72.30 and others approximating this. He took the calves from the cows at birth. For the first 2 weeks the calf gets its mother's milk, then part whole milk and part skim milk. Five seed steers are added to a jelly a little flour stirred in and just enough of it to keep the bowels right is added to the milk, which is always fed at a blood heat. Care must be taken as to the temperature of the milk, which is always fed at about blood heat. Care must be taken as to the temperature of the milk, which is always fed at a blood heat. The disposition of a high quality horse must be quick and alert yet docile and the action active and vigorous. The fetlocks knees and hocks should flex well showing the shoe with every step. A good top is desirable but the all important points are the feet and legs. Such a horse weighing from 1700 lbs upwards at 4 years old is property that will bring ready cash and at a price that leaves a good profit to the breeder. To get such a colt great care must be taken to use only stallions of high quality and the mares should be free from hereditary disease and as well formed and sturdy as possible. If the mares of a district are light a stallion of medium weight and high quality should be elected. Violent crossing of extra large stallions upon light mares should be avoided. It may take two or three crosses to get the colts up to the weight which will bring the highest prices, but meantime a large number of high quality agricultural and general purposes horse will have been bred. At each meeting Mr. Anderson also spoke upon beef-raising. He thought it was a shame that so much money should be sent out of the Province for beef when the facilities were so good for stock raising here. He recommended our farmers who were not making a specialty or dairying to use good low set beefy bulls. His own practice was to use a Shorthorn bull. His Shorthorn grade cows were fairly good milkers giving him an average of over $40 each per annum for the butter he made from them. The calves were raised on the skim milk and a little grain added and at 2 years old he was able to average $50 each for them. The past spring he had sold one steer at 17 months old weighing 1250 lbs for $60 per lb. totally $72.30 and others approximating this. He took the calves from the cows at birth. For the first 2 weeks the calf gets its mother's milk, then part whole milk and part skim milk. Five seed steers are added to a jelly a little flour stirred in and just enough of it to keep the bowels right is added to the milk, which is always fed at a blood heat. Care must be taken as to the temperature of the milk, which is always fed at about blood heat. Care must be taken as to the temperature of the milk, which is always fed at a blood heat.

THE DESIRABLE BEEF ANIMAL

THE DRAFT HORSE.

In opening his remarks upon this topic Mr. Anderson expressed it as his opinion that had the farmers of New Brunswick used draft sizes of good quality instead of so many standard bred stallions they would have not only made more money out of horse raising in the past but they would now have foundation mares to raise heavy draft colts for the active demand now existent. He thought it a pity that New Brunswick should have to send away for so many heavy horses, when the rearing of these might be a profitable occupation among our farmers.

The desirable heavy horse must have both weight and quality. A dull sluggish horse is not wanted for any purpose. Too many stallions that have simply had weight and nothing else have been used and as a result we see ungainly course boned greasy legged, slow, awkward colts.

Mr. F. W. Moyers, King St. E., Berlin, Ont., says: "I suffered for five years with palpitation, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and pain in the heart, but one box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills completely removed all these distressing symptoms. I have not suffered since taking them, and now sleep well and feel strong and vigorous."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure all diseases arising from weak heart, worn out nerve tissues, or watery blood.

THE PROFITABLE DAIRY COW

W. F. Stephen, Huntingdon, Que., Secty of the Montreal Milk Supplier's Association took up this subject. The judging of a dairy cow or a dairy bull was a much more difficult task than any other class of stock because it was largely their ability to produce and not the animals themselves that had to be judged. The question of profitable milk producing stock was an important one to the farmers of New Brunswick, the dairy products of the Province each year exceeded $2,000,000 in value and whether these were produced at a profit or not meant a great deal of money to our people.

The first thing in dairying was to get cows with ability to produce milk of good quality and in large quantities and the intelligent dairyman, no matter how his cows are bred will keep a record of the milk yield of each individual cow and have the milk tested for butter fat. This is the only way by which a man can tell what his cows are doing and which of them are best for his purpose.

In selecting a dairy bull, he said, first choose the breed you consider best adapted to your conditions and then get the bull from a heavy milking family. See his mother if possible and if she is a cow of good constitution and has a large milk record don't scruple to pay an extra dollar or two to secure the bull he is also individually good.

In judging a dairy cow, said Mr. Stephen we find the head is a fair indication of the rest of the animal—A large muzzle, a nostril open and of good length, a clear large prominent eye, a dish face, a good with and height of forehead with no coarseness nor meanness anywhere are indications of milking ability.

A long thin neck, strong prominent open jointed back bone standing high between the shoulder blades and prominent over the loin, ribs sloping away from back bone and long, giving depth of chest and barrel, breath and length of quarters and then most important of all a well developed, well balanced under with a large surface of attachment to the cows body. The udder should come well forward and then be carried up well behind. The milk veins should be large tortuous and entering the chest well forward and preferably by several openings.

These were all indications of a good cow, but no one could say absolutely what a cow would be or could do until she was tested by the scales and fat test.

The cows which were used in illustration were a Shorthorn grade and a Jersey grade and those were scored and compared by many at each meeting. While neither cow had an ideal dairy form they had both been fairly good performers. The first mentioned having given 6250 lbs milk between the 1st September 1904 and 15th June 1905 and the second having made over 200 lbs butter in a season.

Mr. Stephen also spoke at the evening meetings upon Feeding dairy cattle, strongly urging closer attention to this important matter. It would always pay to grow such crops as vetches or peas and oats and corn to help out the summer pastures and for winter there should always be roots in abundance.

In regard to the prospects for New Brunswick Agricultural, from what he had seen he was quite prepared to agree with Prof. J. W. Robertson when that gentleman stated that the opportunities for successful Agriculture were as good in New Brunswick as in any part of Canada.

Hon. L. P. Farris was present at the Jemseg and Chatham meetings and urged the stockmen present to get all the information possible from the demonstrations. He expressed his strong belief in the value of these practical methods of instruction; at the present time we were sending away out of the Province to find judges for our exhibitions, he hoped that as a result of these meetings and an increased interest in live stock that we would be able to find competent judges at home. In this connection he stated that he had placed in the estimates a sum of $300, to assist in paying the expenses of any New Brunswicker who would attend the short courses in Stock Judging, Poultry raising &c., at either Truro or Guelph Agricultural Colleges.

PRESBYTERY OF MIRAMICHI.

The regular quarterly meeting of this presbytery was held in the hall of St. James church, New-castle, on Tuesday. There were present Revs. D. Henderson, J. S. Wheeler, H. Arnott, J. Townsend, J. G. A. Colquhoun, J. M. McLeod, and E. Fraser, and Messrs. R. N. Weeks and J. Henderson; elders, Revs. J. S. Shearer, H. Hattie, W. W. Rainnie and E. Thorpe, were associated with the Presbytery.

Rev. J. Wheeler was appointed Moderator and Rev. J. M. McLeod, Clerk, for the ensuing year. Standing Committees for the year were appointed with the following conveners: Home Missions, Rev. D. Henderson; Augustinization, J. M. McLeod; Sabbath Schools, Rev. J. Y. McCurdy; Young Peoples Societies, Rev. H. Arnott; Statistics, Rev. J. Wheeler; Church Life and Work, Rev. G. Beck.

Rev. J. M. McLeod reported his attendance at the General Assembly, which met recently at Kingston.

Rev. D. Henderson gave an encouraging account of the work in Black River congregation. The future was bright with hope. He asked the Presbytery to approve of the plans of the new church about to be built there, and to sanction the site; also to recommend the congregation to the Century Fund Committee for a grant of $500 towards the building fund of the church. This was cordially agreed to, after some discussion. Shipman was also recommended to the Century Fund for an additional grant of $100.

Rev. J. G. Colquhoun introduced a scheme, which was approved by Presbytery, for the better management of the Presbytery fund. The scheme makes a complete change in the basis of assessment, and was favorably commented on by members.

Rev. D. Henderson reported for the Committee on the rearrangement of congregations. The Committee was of one mind as to the desirability of having the congregations of Douglastown and Millbank placed under the pastoral care of one minister. There was, however, one barrier in the way just at present. The committee had not yet completed its work. On the motion of the Clerk the Committee was continued and asked to submit a final report to the next meeting of Presbytery.

Mr. A. J. Fraser, who finished his course for the ministry at the Presbyterian College, Halifax, was by prayer by Rev. Mr. Shearer, duly licensed to preach.

Presbytery adjourned to meet at Chatham to receive and dispose of a call from the congregation of Loggieville.

One Dollar Saved Represents ten Dollars earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by all druggists.

CHARLO RIVER SCHOOL

After the examination of the pupils in the different branches of study, there followed dialogues, recitations and songs, in accordance with a well selected programme, all of which were well rendered and greatly appreciated by the visitors.

BATHURST NOTES

About thirty persons joined the Pilgrims here for Quebec on Monday. The train which was supposed to be here at 8.30 p.m. was somewhat ahead of time which meant a rush for the station. Owing to the large number of passengers it was found necessary to have two trains, the first went at 7.30 and the second followed shortly afterwards. Several persons desiring to go to St. Anne could not conveniently leave on the excursion but expect to go on the 18th, when arrangements to Montreal at the same rate will be made and tickets will again be issued for the same length of time. Among those who joined the Pilgrimage from here were, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Melanson, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. F. Arneau, Mrs. J. Tibadeau, Mrs. Samuel Melanson, Misses E. Power, A. Dugas, L. ## FROGLESS SWITCH

New Invention by Two Campbellton Men

Messrs W. P. Gray and George W. Smith of town have secured patents rights in Canada and United States on a new frogless railway switch invention. The invention does away with the frog at the switch, and is said to considerably lessen the danger of accident, besides being more economically workable in winter than the old style frog. By means of a crank attachment the ends of the siding rails being pointed to fit alongside the rails of main line so that flange of wheel can easily take the siding. We understand that the device will shortly be tested on the I. C. R.
